 the body, whiche are stopp'd or fared.
 Ephraisis, ephraisis, f. g. a playn interpretation of the letter, leauyng no parte vndeclared.
 Equando, equando, at what tyme, or lo whan.
 Equis, equa, equod, vel equid, But to who,
 see who, see what.
 Equid, but what, lo what. Equis in villa est: Is there any man in the ferme?
 Equid te puder? erre thou not asham'd?
 Equid sit, (in Plautus) for quicquid sit.
 Equinam, quoniam, quodnam, vel quidnam,
 idem quod Equis.
 Ectasis, ectasis, f. g. a stonpyng, a dampe, a trap,
 a traunce, whan a man forgetteth hym selfe.
 Ectasis, ectasis, f. g. a figure, wherby the syllable naturally shorte, is produced or made longe.
 Ectipsis, where the letter M, toyned with a bowell, is not sounde.
 Ectrapeli, they whiche abhorre the common fation of nature or olde vices.
 Ectropium, whiche the nether lydde of the eye faldeth, and can not ioyne with the ouer lydd.
 Ectypum, ectypi, n. g. that whiche is made ac-cordinge to the paterne.
 Eculus, idem quod Equuleus.

E ANTE D.

E Dacitas, aus, f. m. g. vntractable feedyng, gourmandysyng.
 Edax, aus, om. gene. a great eater or consumer, a glutton, or deuourer of meate.
 Edaces muli cibi, they that ate much meate.
 Cura edaces, that doo consume a man, and make hym pine away.
 Edax, they whiche haue the orderpge of the bynges meate.

Eden, signifieth pleasure or delectacion.
 Edentatus, a, um, that hath his teethe taken or stryken out.
 Edento, aui, are, to make toothlesse, to stryke or bate out ones teethe.
 Edentulus, a, um, toothlesse, that want bityng.
 Edera, looke Hederia.
 Edeffa, a citee beyonde the riuer of Euphrates.
 Edico, xi, cere, to commaunde or ordayne, to declare or publyshe, to denounce, to proclaime.
 also to speake or pronounce alowde, withouts feare of dissimulation.
 Comitia edicere, to appoynt a conuocation.
 Edicere senatum, to ordayne a parliament to be holden.
 Edicere diem ad conueniendum, to appoynt a date to meete with one.
 Edicani seruus ne, I will commaunde them or geue charge to them.
 Edicto, aus, f. g. idem quod Edictum.
 Edicto, aui, are, to declare or pronounce often tymes.
 Edictum, i, neu. g. an ordinaunce or commaun-dement of them that be in great authoritee, a proclamation or inuocation.
 Edictum cumducere, To breake an ordy-naunce or commandement of any officer.
 Edilis, le, any thyng that is or maie be eaten.
 Edisco, didici, scire, to learne by hert, to runne withour booke.
 Linguas duas ediscere, to learne two languages.
 Edissero, serui, ere, to explaine or declare, to tell or reherse.
 Ediffere nobis fabulam hanc, tell or reherse vnto vs that tale.
 Edissero, aui, are, to tell or declare often.
 Edizio, aus, f. g. a setting forth or publyshyng of a thyng, as of booke or proclamacion.
 Edinius iudex, a iudge named and chosen of the one parte.
 Editor, aus, m. g. one that publysheth or setteth abode.
 Edius, edius, ma. ge. a publyshyng or puttynge forth of a thyng.
 Edius boum, ore dunge.
 Edius, edia, um, publyshed, sette abode, hygh.
 Edia in vulgus, publyshed abroad.
 In lucem editus, borne.
 Edia facinora, naughty actes made notable or knownen, or naughty actes committed.
 Arx edia, an hygh castell.
 Iudices editi, iudges named.
 Editus, a texten of a church. looke Aeditus.
 Ediuerso, contratywse.
 Edo, es, est, or Edo, edis, edi, ere, esum, vel estum, to eate or feede.
 Ede nasturtium, is applyed to a bulle and a grosse person And forasmuche as Nasturtium, called cresses, beynge eaten, doeth make the nose spinkle, and therby causeth the bulle spynnes to wake: thefoze by this pourcebe is met, to luche Cc in

by thy spiritus, or awake dullarde or lufke.
 Vbi efuri fumus, where shall wee breake our fast, dyne, or fuppe. &c.
 Edere pugnos, per translationem, pro percus-ti pugnis, To be buffeted.
 Edit agellos pecus, feedeth on growndes, or as wee fay, eateth vp ones ground.
 Edor, eris, edi, to be eaten.
 Edo, edidi, ere, to execute or doo a thyng, or to caufe a thyng to be doone, to byng, to deluyce in writing, to publyfhe or fet abrode.
 Edere animam, to dye.
 Edere annos, to tell what age a man is of.
 Edere authorem, to name the author.
 Edere cadem, to make a great slaughter.
 Edere cantus, to fpyge.
 Edere certamen, to fgyht valiantly.
 Edere clamorem, to crye out.
 Edere exemplum, to fhowe an example.
 Edere facinora, to dooe mischeuous dedes.
 Edere factus, to byng forth fruite.
 Edere frondem, to burge, to put forth leaues.
 Edere iudicium, to tell or diftore who were his companions in any pill dede dooing.
 Edere iudicium, to cherche or geue iudgement.
 Edere leges, to geue lawes.
 Edere librum, to sette forth a booke.
 Edere luci, to byng to lghth.
 Edere ludibrium, to moke at a thyng.
 Edere ludos & spectacula, to caufe plates and pageantes to be fhewed to the people.
 Edere mandata, to declare his message as he was commaunded.
 Edere nomen, to geue a name to one.
 Edere nomina, to byng forth names in writtyng, as we use to doo in taskes, subsidies, and musters.
 Edere operam annuam, to ferue one yere.
 Edere opera virorum fortium, to doo val-liantly, and as men of great prowesse.
 Edere oracula, belonged to god, or that whiche was taken for god, to make aunfwere to the thyng, whiche was demaunded.
 Edere ouum, to laye an egge.
 Edere patam, to be deluyced of chyldre.
 Edere postulatam, to deluyce a bylle of requeste contynnyng many thynges.
 Edere praetium, or bellum, to make warre.
 Edere pugnam, to fgyht.
 Edere rationes, to make accompte.
 Edere risus, to laugh.
 Edere scelus, to doo a mischeuous dede.
 Edere scriptam, to fhowe forth writing.
 Edere signum, to make or geue a signe or toke.
 Edere specimen, to fhowe pzoofe.
 Edere spiritum extenuum, to dye.
 Edere stragem, to make a great slaughter of men.
 Edere strepitum, to make a noyse.
 Edere testes, to byng forth witnesses.
 Edere vitam, to dye.

Edere verba, to fpeake.
 Edere voces, to crye.
 Edere vinam, to pyffe.
 Edere pugnos, to be buffeted.
 Edere feminam, they byng forth a female.
 Edere & exponat, let them utter and declare.
 Edere authorem alicuius doctrinae, to name
 the author of any learning.
 Hinnitus edere, to neie.
 Edit ouum gallina, the henne laith an egge.
 Edit quisque quod potest, Every man doeth what he can doo, or every man doeth for his parte as muche as he is able.
 Ploratum virginalem edere, to wepe bynwench of gyle.
 Victoriam edere, to atchieue the victorye.
 Edo, onis, m. g. idem quod Edax.
 Edoco, edoces, docui, ere, to instructe or informe one of a thyng, to teache diligently, to declare.
 Edocuit ratio, reason fhewed or declared: or reason taught them what was to bee doon.
 Edocebo, vt res sese habet, I will tell or declare you, howe the matter shal be.
 Edo, o, edolas, are, to heve or cut cleane of.
 smooth.
 Edom, & lau was so called, and the countrey where he reigned.
 Edomo, edomas, aui, are, to make tame, to subdue.
 Edomus, a, um, made tame, brought vnder.
 Edomus, an hille nexte vnto Pangeum in the borders of Chethaie.
 Edon, onis, m. g. a mountayne of Chace.
 Edones, a people of Septhia.
 Edoni, or Edonij, people of Chace, or in the borders of Paedonia, nere to Chace.
 Edonides, were women, whiche beynge fgyred with a diuine furour, dyd celebrate the myfteries of Bacchus.
 Edonis, idis, a citie of Acolis, and a countrey of Chace.
 Edonius, a, um, of Aedonis.
 Edonus, idem quod Edon.
 Edonus, a, um, of Chace.
 Edor, a kynde of sacrifice nowe called Ador.
 Edormio, miui, ire, to fleepe out, to fleepe soundly euen to the full.
 Edormisco, iui, miscere, idem quod Edormio.
 Edormiscere crapulam, to fleepe vntill he be fober agayne, whan one is drunke, to digeste his surfeit with fleepe.
 Edormio crapulam, to fleepe out a surfeit.
 Dum edormiscat vinum somnum, while he dooth fleepe one fleepe: or while he dooth take a nappe.
 Edri, an yle on the easte parte of Irelande.
 Educatio, onis, f. g. nouryng or byngng by of chyldren. Moilis educatio, a nyce or wanton byngng by.
 Educator, onis, mas g. one that nouryseth of bynggeth by.

 Educatix, triciis, f. g. the femine.
 Educio, iui, ere, to byng forth. also to byng out, as, Hoc dicens, eduxit corpore telum, That sayng, he drew the weapon out of his body. fometyme to crye by: as Molem educere calo, to reple or make by the hepe euen to the fpye. fometyme it fignifieth Educare, to byng by, to nouryfe.
 Educere e custodia, to byng out of prifon.
 Educere gladium, to drawe out a fwoorde.
 Educere aliquem in ius, to byng one before a iudge.
 Educere naues ex portu, to bynge the fhips
 pes out of the haven.
 Eduxit mater pro sua, my mother brought hie
 by, euen as hie owne daughter.
 Educto, educas, aui, are, to nouryfe or byng
 by from chyldhode.
 Procreare & educare, to bynge forth and nouryfe.
 Educare factum, to byng forth or be deliuer-ed also to nouryfe or byng by.
 Eductus, a, um, brought forth. also nourished, brought by.
 Dulco, aui, are, to make beate fweete.
 Edilis, le, that maie bee eaten.
 Edulum, li, neu. gene. is what so euer is fet on the table at dyner or fupper to bee eaten, fane the byrde.
 Eduro, aui, are, to make beate harde.
 Edurum, not harde, fofte.
 Edure, beate hardly.
 Edurus, a, um, beate harde.
 Edya, a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.

E ANTE E, &amp; F.

Etion, Andromaches father, that reigned at Thebes in Cilicia.
 Efari, to fpeake, but properly it pertained to byshops and Augures, whan they dedicated any place, or consecrated any thyng.
 Efabilis, le, that maie bee fspoken.
 Efauo, efarsi, ire, to fuffe or fil a thyng hard.
 Efascinato, onis, a bewitchyng.
 Efascino, aui, are, to bewithe a thyng, whereby the foure is chaunged, the thyng dyeth, or is in fome wyfe deftroied. By this woorde Solinus maketh mention, that in Africa be cer-tayne hyntredes, wherof the men and women, yf they ppare faire trees, goodly cozne, pze-tie chyldren, galant boyes and far: forthwith they die. Diuine wyrteth of fome, whiche behol-dyng any perfons ftebfastelp, with an angry countenance, they deftroie them. Alike experience hath beene feene in this realme, as credible perfons haue reported.
 Effata, were certayne prayers, whiche the diunous used to make at the ende of their diuinacion or telling the fuccesse of thynges.

 Effatus ager, a fildre nere the citee, where diumous made the pzoacers.
 Effatum, ti, n. g. a dialecticall propoficion.
 Effaxillo, aui, are, to cutte off by the arme pitte:
 or rather to put out a thyng with the arme, fo that the arme pite maie be feene.
 Effectus, a, um, dwn, difpatched, made, brought to paffe.
 Effectum dare, to byng to paffe.
 Effectum reddere, idem.
 Effectus, us, ina. g. effect or byngng of a thyng to conclusion, making of a thyng to be.
 Ad effectum vires dare alicui, to healpe one that he maie byng a thyng to paffe.
 Effector, oris, a maker, woorker, or dooer.
 Effectrix, the femine.
 Effectio, onis, fam. ge. a byngng of a thyng to effete.
 Effero, efetas, aui, are, to make ymages of wyld beastes. also to make woode, skuttifhe, or wyld, as fawage beastes are.
 Effertus, a, um, made wyld and beaftiall.
 Effertis milia animis, incennes myndes beyng made fierce and wyld with warfare.
 Efferta & immania, woode and outrageous.
 Effero, exult, efferre, to byng or carp forth, to put out, to diuulgate or tell abrode, to aduance or promote, to ouercome or fubdewe. aife to comende. fometyme to holde up, to fet forth.
 fometyme to mypthe or appaite. also to lifte
 by, to utter in language, to fpeke or pronounce.
 Efferre aliquem laudibus, to extoll one with pzaples.
 Efferre cadauer, to carpe a bodge to be burped.
 Efferre clamorem, to crye out.
 Efferre in humeros, to beare on the foulders.
 Efferre manum, to lyft up the hand.
 Efferre sese, to aduance hym felfe.
 Efferre pedem, to go out, or go forth.
 Seruare istum fultis intus ferui, ne quoquam pedem efferat, keepe hym in fpye, if ye wille, that he go forth no whither.
 Efferre se laetitia, to bee glad without mefure.
 Efferru funere, to bee carped to buryng for lompnely.
 Num quidnam effert? Doeth he byng forth any thyng?
 Efferre caput vndis, to hold by the head aboue
 the water.
 Signa efferre, To aduance fozwarde with the ftaunderdes.
 Efferre aliquem ad summum imperium, To aduance one to moft high authoritte.
 Quos fortuna exultit, whom fortune hath aduanced, promoted, sette alofte.
 Hic me magnifice effero, in this I aduance my felfe royally.
 Priusquam clandestina eorum confilia efferantur, Before they pzoime countailles be pu-blyfhed or fpyded abrode.

Quod non natura humana patiendo efferat, which the nature of man can not vantage and overcome by sufferance.
 Ager vberiores fruges efferre solet, The ground was wont to bring forth frute more abundantly.
 Non indecenter aliquid efferre, to speake of better a thyng comely.
 Efferuo, ues, or Efferuo, uis, ferui, and ferui, efferre, and efferre, to be verie hot, to boyle vehemently.
 Efferuesco, scere, idem quod efferueo, and by translation, to bee hot or chaufed, to be troubled or greatly moued: and contrary wyse, to alate or ware colde.
 Efferuescere in dicendo, to bee chauffed, or waxe angry in speaking.
 Gratulatio efferuescit, The gratulation of gladnesse waxeth lesse.
 Efferuescencia verba, hotte angry wordes.
 Effexis, for efferis.
 Efficacia, a, f. m. ge. effecte of vertue, efficacies of strengthe.
 Efficax, acis, om. g. effectually, that hath strength of power, of great force, that can doe muche.
 Efficacissima auxilia, very effectual remedies.
 Efficax vir, a strong and valiant man.
 Efficacitas, aris, f. g. idem quod efficacia.
 Efficaciter, effectually.
 Efficientia, idem quod effectus.
 Efficiens, entis, that maketh or causeth a thyng to bee.
 Efficienter, in maner of maynge or causyng a thyng to be.
 Efficio, effis, feci, ficere, to bringe to effect, to weld, to synthe, to accompyse, to make, to dooe, to proue by argument, to conclud.
 Efficere argentum alicui, to gear monie for a man by some meane or deuise.
 Efficere morbos, to ingender diseases.
 Efficere nuptias alicui, To be the cause of the marriage of any, to cause one to bee married.
 Efficere pollicita, to kepe promise, to do that one hath promised.
 Id similitudinem panis efficiebat, it serued in the steede of breade.
 Efficiam tibi, tua vti sit, I will bringe it to passe, that she shall be thyne.
 Efficere tantundem operis, to weld and to synthe as great a taske of worke.
 Assidua exercitatio peritos efficit, diligente exercisyng maketh men counnyng.
 Instituire & efficere, to enterpryse a matter, and bringe it to passe.
 Efficere cladem, to cause a murther or slaughteer. Heri effeci epistolam ad Cæsarem, yesterday I made an epistle, or I wrote a letter to Cæsar.
 Tu mandata effice, quæ recepisti, doo you, or dispatche you those thynges, whiche you tooke charge of.

Clamores efficere, to crye out.
 Efficere magna facinora, To woofe or doe some great feates.
 Officium suum efficere, to doo his dutie.
 Vicem efficiunt, They serue in the steede of place of any thyng.
 Eniri & efficere, to entreuue & bringe to passe.
 Efficitur, the impersonall.
 Effigies, ei, f. ge. a signe made to the similitude of a man or beast, shappe, lykenesse, forme.
 Effigies virtutis, the ymage of vertue.
 Effigiem alicuius rei habere, To bee lyke any thyng.
 Effigiem dei in se ostendere, to resemble god, or to shewe ones selfe to bee lyke god.
 In effigiem pelagi exundabat lacus, that lake of meere ouerflowed like to the sea, or as it had been the sea, or in maner of the sea.
 Columnæ effigie, after the forme of the pillo.
 Ad effigiem Macedonicæ chilamydis, like in fashion, &c.
 Effigia, a, f. g. idem quod effigies.
 Effigio, aui, are, to counterfaite ones ymage in principis of keruyng.
 Effilo, aui, are, to lowe.
 Effilium, ti, n. ge. that whiche is sowed or sowed on a garment, as a garde of purple.
 Effingo, sinxi, gere, to make lyke, to diuise and expresse the forme or faction of any thyng.
 Animo effingere aliquid, To dyscuss or purge a thyng in the mynde.
 Similitudinem ex vero effingere, to represent or expresse the faction of a thyng lyuely.
 Mores effingere, To represent or expresse mans maners or conditions.
 Effinxit Cicero vim Demosthenis, Cicero attempted and expressed the force and purpasse of Demosthenes eloquence.
 Effictus, a, um, represented, expressed.
 Effictio, onis, a representation or diuysyng.
 Effio, fieri, to bee dooen, to be brought to passe.
 Effragito, aui, are, to despye or aske a thyng unpromptely.
 Effragitare conuicio, with tauntyng and dyscheyng, to require a thyng.
 Require & effragitare.
 Effragitatus, a, um, required importunately.
 Effragitatio, onis, f. ge. an importune saue or requyryng of a thyng, an instant despyng.
 Effragitatus, us, m. g. idem.
 Effleo, fleui, flere, to wepe out.
 Efflere oculos, to wepe out ones eyes.
 Efflitim, excedyngly, greatly, vehemently, heartily earnestly.
 Efflitim amare, to loue ardently, to loue out of measure.
 Effligo, flexi, fligere, to tourment, to afflicte.
 Efflo, aui, are, to blowe awaie, or blowe out, to breath out.
 Efflare animam, to dye.
 Efflare colorem, to leese the colour.

Efflavit animam spes, I haue no maner of hope or trust, all my hope is past and gone.
 Efflavit extremum halitum, he gaue his last gaulpe, he set his last breath, he dyed.
 Effloresco, florui, rescere, to bloom as a floure dooth at the fyrst comyng out, to spryng: and by translation to grow, to increate, to abound, to be brought forth.
 Effluo, effluis, fluxi, ere, to flowe or renne out, as water dweth out of a fountayne, to flyde out of ones memozy, to be forgotten, to be published or spredd abrode, to passe awaie.
 Effluet, it shall bee tolde abrode, I will not kepe counsaile, all men shall knowe it.
 Effluerat, It was out of remembraunce, it was forgotten.
 Effluxit, it is quite gone.
 Effluxit æstas, the sommer is passed.
 Effluunt voluptates, pleasures dooe passe as waie lyghtly.
 Ex animo effluere, to flyde out of memozy, to bee forgotten.
 Abundare & effluere.
 Aetas effluit, age passeth awaie.
 Effluunt vires lassitudine, he waxeth seynt with weykenesse.
 Effluxit vita cum sanguine, he died bleedyng.
 Quod totum effluxit, all whiche I haue forgotten, or is gone out of my remembraunce.
 Bona præterita effluere sapienti non oportet, I wyle man muste not forget the good thynges, that haue chaunced to hym befoze tyme.
 Effluere ex animo, to be quickly forgotten.
 Desyderio alicuius effluere, to be despyous of one by pond measure.
 Mens effluit, when one forgetteth that he would be saie.
 Effluentia, a, f. g. a flowyng or rennyng out.
 Effluuium, uis, n. ge. a flowyng out, or rennyng out, an ouerflowyng.
 Effuso, aui, are, to choke or strangle.
 Effodio, effodis, fodi, dère, to dygge out, to make a dyche.
 Effodere ex terra, to dygge out of the erth.
 Effodere oculos alicui, to scratche out ones eyes.
 Effodit illius memoria pectus meum, The memozy of that man perceeth myn heart, or greueth my mynde sore.
 Effossus, a, um, digged out, scratched out.
 Effeminatus, a, um, wanton, delicate, tender, enduryng no hardnesse, womanlyke.
 Effeminatum & molle.
 Effeminatæ artes, artes, whiche effeminate and abate the malignesse of a mans mynde.
 Effeminatæ, womanly, tenderly, wantonly, nyely.
 Effemino, aui, are, to effeminate or make deliscate, to make wanton, tender, or nyce.
 Effera, the that hath lately broughte forth a chyld, also a woman passe seemyng.

Effertus, a, um, hatched, as a byrde that is come out of the shel, that hath lately brought forth, past byoodpnye, also consumed, feeble, made barrenne with ouer muche fertilitie.
 Vires corporis efferta, the strength of the body debilitate and made weake.
 Efferta gallina, an hen past byood of layyng.
 Terra efferta, lande spent of wozyne with beaspyng of muche grapne.
 Effertum corpus, a weake bodie.
 Efferte, barrenly.
 Effor, looke Effari.
 Efforo, efforas, aui, are, to boze throughe, to make holes throughe a thyng.
 Efforatus, a, um, bozed throughe, or that hath many holes throughe it.
 Effractorius, a, um, that breaketh downe or open.
 Effractor, oris, m. gen. a robber that breaketh downe places.
 Effractura, a, f. m. gen. a breakyng open or into a place.
 Effractus, a, um, broken, broken downe, broken open, consumed, made weake.
 Effractus fame, made feble for faute of meate.
 Effranatus, a, um, unbydded, unrulpe, cashe, without moderation or measure.
 Effranatus & furiosus.
 Effranatus & præceps.
 Effranatus animus, an unruly mynde.
 Proiecta & effranata cupiditas, a dissolute and unbydded appetite.
 Effranatè, proude, cashe, fiercely, unrulily, without consideration.
 Effranatio, onis, f. g. unrulynesse, cashenesse.
 Effrano, aui, are, to unbyddell.
 Effranus, a, um, unbydded, cashe in maners.
 Mors effrana, a violent deathe.
 Gens effrana, a fierce and an unruly nation.
 Effrico, effricas, aui, are, to tubbe of.
 Effringo, fregi, gere, to bryake to peeces, to burst violently.
 Effugio, effugis, fugi, ere, to escape, to flee, to eschewe or auoyde.
 Si me effugerit memoria, yf I forget, or yf my memozy faple me.
 Effugere nuptias, to auoyd or eschue marriage.
 Effugere contumeliam, to eschewe reproche.
 Si illum effugerit diem, Yf he might escape that daie.
 Effugere ex vrbe, to flee out of the citee.
 Effugere periculum, To escape or auoyde daungier.
 Vituperationem effugere, to auoyde blame.
 In quibus non dubito, quin negligentia ofensionem effugere non possum, In whiche thynges I doubt not, but that I can fynde no meanes to auoyde the blame of negligence: Or I am sure I can not choose, but be noted of negligence.
 Effugium, gij, neu. gen. flyghte, refuge, a place of succour, a place of waie, wherby one may flee flee or escape a passage.

Alias habere effugia pennarum, That other haue the meanes to flee awaye with their wynges. Qui effugia infederant, whiche kepe the passages.

Præcludere effugium alicui, to stop the passage that one can not escape.

Effulcio, ciui, cire, to shine brighte, and by translation to appere or shewe it selfe.

Effulgeo, fulsi, gère, to shyne brighte, and by translation to appere or shewe it selfe. Effundo, fudi, dere, to powre out. Sometime it signifyeth to consume, to spende or waste yotz touselp, to come forth in the great companies, to put forth, to byng forth plentifully, as the earth dooeth, to overflowe or renne over the bankes as ryuers doo.

Effundere ararium, to waste the treasure.

Effundere extremum spiritum, to die. Likewyse Effundere animam, to peld or geue up the gohoste, to bee slayne, to die.

Effundere honores in mortuum, to make for hym that is dead a sumptuous buriall, or an honourable interment.

Effundere patrimonium, to spende and consume his inheritance.

Effundere pediatum, to discomfite the foote men.

Effunduntur omnibus portis ad opem ferendam, They gathered together in great routes at euery gate, to defende the cite.

Lachrymas effundere, to weepe.

Effudit se in publicum maxima frequentia mulierum, A beaie great route of company of women came abrode.

Effundere se ciuitas dicitur, when all the people cometh forth in great numbres.

Ne effundantur ad luxuriam, periculum est, It is to bee feared, lest they geue them selfe wholly, or lesse they be wholly geuen to ryote and wantonnesse.

Effundere iram in aliquem, to bitter or declare hym selfe to bee extremely angry with one, to shewe his anger and wythe.

Effundunt herbas frugibus inimicissimas, They byng forth a great sorte of weedes, vnto eate hurtfull to the corne.

Quarelas effundere, To make great complaints.

Quorum stomachus in vomitiones effunditur, whose stomache is prone and ready to vomite.

Effusus risus, a dissolute laughter.

Effuso sinu, with his bosome open, with his quote open afore.

Effuse, effusus, effusissime, out of measure, exceedingly, abundantly, more vehemently, prodigally.

Effuse aliquam diligere, to loue a woman out of measure.

Effuse exultat animus, The mynde reioyceth exceedingly, or ouermuche.

Effuse fugere, to flee or renne awayne euery tyme.

Effusio, onis, f. ge. a pouring out. Sometime it signifyeth prodigality or outrageous spending.

Effusio aqua, a pouring out of water.

Effusio hominum ex oppidis, whā great routes or companies of men come out of townes.

Effusio animi, and contractio contrarij.

Effusus, a, um, discomfited, scattered, put out, or poured out, rennyng abrode, overflowing or rennyng over the bankes as ryuers doo, also bountifull, liberall in spending.

Effusa lachrima, exceeding ioy or myrte.

Effusus in fugam, they ranne awayne on euery side.

Effusus cursu, He that renneth with all his myght.

Effusio, effatus, tiui, tire, to speake vnadvisedly, foolishly or hastily, or that whiche shoulde bee kepte secreete.

Effutire aliquid ex tempore, to speake a thing todayntly without study or aduiscement.

Effutitus, a, um, rashly or foolishly spoken abrode or bitterd.

E Gelaste, a towne in the hygher Spayne.

Egelidor, aris, ari, to relent or dissolve, as ice that thaweth.

Egelidus, a, um, neyther hotte nor colde, but a luttell out of the colde. Sometime it is taken for beaie colde.

Egens, entis, om. g. lacking, needie, poore.

Egens est consilij, he lacketh counsaile.

Animo egens, one that hath no courage.

Egeo, egui, ere, to neede or lacke, to bee in extreme pouertee.

Egere autoritate, to be without office.

Egeo consilij, or consilio, I lacke counsaile.

I can not tell what to doo.

Eger humanitate, he hath luttell gentynesse, pitye, or mercy.

Non eger interpretatione, it is playn, it needeth no declaration.

Egetur acriter, I am in great necessitee.

Egeo tempore, I lacke tyme.

Egeria, an ybold, to whom women with childe dyd offer, supposynge that thereby they shoulde traualle easily.

Egries, ei, fac. gen. a casting out or auoyding of dunge or ordure.

Egèus, a, um, needy, or lacking somewhat, poore.

Egero, egeris, gelsi, ere, to beate or cast out, to caste out.

Egerit aquam fons, the fountayne purged with water.

Egermino, aui, are, to bodrgeyn, to sprynge, to budde out.

Egefinus, a philosopher, the schole of Euander.

Egesta, a citee in Sicile, whiche Demetrius builded.

also the daughter of Hippolyta, the Tropan, mother of Theseus.

Egestas, tatis f. g. necessitee or lacke of thynges necessary, pouertee, needynesse.

Afferre egestatem, to make one poore and needye.

Vitam in egestate degere, to leade ones life in pouertee and neede.

Egestio, onis, f. g. distribution abrode. It is also the carrying forth of ordure or dunge. also the auoyding of ordure out of the body.

Egestosus, a, um, beaie poore.

Egis, idis, looke Aegis.

Egestus, us, idem quod egestio.

Egestus, a, um, cast out, or put out.

Ego, I.

Egomel, I my selfe.

Egomel meum verberavi, I haue beaten my selfe.

Ibo egomet, I will go my selfe alone.

Eorum ego vitam mortemq; luxu aestimo, As for me truly: or truly I for my parte esteeme their lyfe and deathe to be all one.

Egomel mecum cogitabam, I thoughte with my selfe.

Nili surs pulchra est, He is fayre enough in my sight, or h. r. beautee pleaseth me well enough.

Nili quidem esurio, non tibi, In dede my selfe feelth the pynne of the hunger, and not you.

Non credebam mihi met, I dyd not beleue my selfe.

Egone: who I?

Pom' est hic taceret? P. Egone? optime, Can this fellow keepe counsaile? P. Who I am the best wyse.

Egredior, eis, gredi, to go forth, or go out.

Egredior ab ea, He cometh forth of her house.

Egredi obuiam alicui, To go forth to meete one.

Eua præscriptum egredi, to passe the boundes prescribed or limited to one.

A proposito egredi to make digression, to go from the purpose.

Terminus egredi, to passe the boundes.

Nos uos o facto nihil egredios, That we haue dooen nothyng agaynst our dutie, or otherwise than we ought to doo.

Egressus, a, um, gone forth, passed forth, set forth.

Deum egressus est ad belum, He went forth to warfare.

Egressus annuum vndeagesimum, past threescore and nine.

Egressus, us, m. g. a going forth.

Egregia, a, um, excellent.

Egregia & præclara indoles, an excellent and good towardnesse.

Egregia forma, excellent or passing goodly.

lauout.

Egregius, the comparatiue, more excellent.

Egregie, excellently. Sometime for Valde, or Nimis, greatly, passingly, beaie muche, chiefly, principally, especially.

Egregie cordatus homo, a beaie wyse and discrete persone.

Seruus egregie fidelis, a beaie faithfull and trustie seruant.

Egregie grace loqui, to speake greke excellently, and passingly well.

Quod ab eo egregie diligis, be cause he loueth you exceedingly.

Horum ille nihil egregie præter cetera studebat, He gaue hym selfe to none of these thynges specially more than other.

Egula, egula, f. ge. a kynde of byrmstone used to make woulle white.

Egurgito, aui, are, to drawe out, as lycour out of a place.

E Hem, is a woorde spoken when a man is moued with some thyng, which is newly happened.

Eheu, alas.

Eho, an interiection of calling, it signifyeth, hoc, also of one that moneth his care to here some secreete thyng: or of a troubled mynde: or when one percepueth a thyng todayntly. also of metynaplyng.

Ehodom ad me, Hoc, come hether to me.

Eho tu, hoc firma, when one calleth a man to hym, forgetting his name.

Eho, is used in asking a question, as Eho quæso, laudas, qui heros fallunt? Ah syz, or why syz, dooe ye pypse them, that begyle their masters?

Eho tu, cho tu, hoc firma firma.

E In, sometime it exhorteth. sometime it blasphemeth or correcteth one, that threatheneth or tauntyth.

Eia vero age, dic, Well go to, speake on.

Eia haud sic decet, what softe, that is not seemynge: Or, it shoulde not be for your honours sake so to dooe.

Eia vt elegans est, Ah what a mynyon it is.

Eia autem inuicos, what syz your enemies?

Eia, in principio epistola positum.

Eicular, aris, ar, or Eicculo, aui, a. e. to shoote thowme, or caste a sarte of.

Eiectio, onis, f. g. a throwyng or casting out.

Eiectamentum, n. neu. ge. pouring out of such thyng as the sea or ryuer doo cast on lande.

Eiero, cieras, aui, are, to refuse or forsake a iudge.

Eiectus, a, um, byng cast out, or that is cast out.

Eiecto,

Eiecto, aui, are, to throwe or caste out.
 Eiectus, a, um, throwen or caste out.
 Eicio, ejcis, ieci, licere, to cast out, or put out.
 Ejicere & excludere.
 Retinere & ejicere, contrary.
 Ejicere foras, to caste out of doores.
 Ejicere in exilium, To banyshe or to sende in exile.
 Ejicere ex animo memoriam alicuius, To putte out of our remembrance, to forgette one willingly.
 Ejicere dicitur mulier, subaudi partum, To trauele before the tyme.
 Ejicere suum animum de aliquo, To tourne his mynde, affection, or loue from one.
 Ejicere se in agros, to goe hastily into the fieldes.
 Eiecit se ex oppido in syluas, he flange suddenly out of the towne, and went into the wooddes.
 Ejicere urinam, to make water, to pisse.
 Ejicienda hac animi molities, I muste caste awaie this tendernes of herte.
 Eioneus, one of the prynces of Grece, whiche came to Troie: an other of Thrace, whiche added the Troians.
 Eulatio, onis, f. ge. a baying out with lamentation, a waylynge or crynge out.
 Eulatus, us, m. g. idem.
 Eulo, eulas, aui, are, to cry out, to wayle.
 Eiuro, eiuras, aui, are, to dooe besyde the lawe, to renounce, to resigne, to refuse a iudge.
 Eiurare magistratum, to resigne an office.
 Eiuratio, onis, f. g. a renouncynge, a resignation.
 Eiufmodi, & eiufcemodi, suche, like, of the same sorte or faction.
 Eiusdem farinae, of the same sorte or condicio.
 Eiusdem nota, of the same estimacio or state.
 Eiusdem modi, of the same sorte, lyke.

E ANTE L.

E Labor, eris, elapsus sum, elabi, to slippe or slide awaie, to escape, to fall out.
 E memoria elabi, to go out of memory, to be forgotten.
 Elabi de, e, or ex manibus, to slippe out of ones handes, to escape from one.
 Satis te elapsurum omni suspitione arbitrabare, You thought you shoulde escape well enough without any suspicion: or you thought you shoulde auoyde all suspicion.
 Elaboratus, a, um, perfectly or counnyngely wrought, doon exactly with study & diligence.
 Omnes apud hunc ornati elaboratique sunt versus, All the verses that he writeth, are elegant and counnyngly made.
 Elaboro, aui, are, to labour or endeavour diligently, to trauele or take payne in a thyng, to wooke counnyngly and exactly.
 Quicquid elaborari aut effici potuit, what so euer coulde bee endeouored or dooen.

 Eniti & elaborare.
 Sed in litteris certe elaboravi, But in dede in the study of good letters I haue laboured and taken payne.
 Elaborare aliquid, to wooke a thyng with great counnyng and diligence.
 In iis potissimum elaborauimus, in these thynges we haue chiefly traueled.
 Ad iudicium alterius elaborare, to indure and take payne to content and satisfie the iudgement of an other.
 Elacata, or elacatena, a kynde of selte spylke: or after some a saue used in olde tyme.
 Elactesco, scere, to tourne into mythe, or waxe white as mythe.
 Elax, a citee of Asia, an other of Itale: the people wherof bee called Eleia, or Elira. It is also a citee of Phenicia, an other of Bithynia.
 Elaxportia, a, f. ge. the prouiding or byng of oyle for a cite or common weale.
 Elaxomeli, a certayne kynde of gumme thynner than honye, thynner than rosin, fatter, and vinctuous, whiche renneth out of the brennes of olde trees, whiche growe in a countree called Palmyris in Syria.
 Elaxothesium, si, n. ge. a place where men were annoynted after bathynge or washyng.
 Elamita, be called the prynces of the Persians, of Elam the son of Sem, as Josephus saith.
 Elaxon, oyle.
 Elanguco, gu, ere, to be sycke, to languishe, to pnye awaie.
 Neque elanguit cura hominum ea mora, nepper dyd the diligence of men make of us mynyshe.
 Elanguesco, scere, to waxe feble.
 Elape, es, f. g. a kynde of serpentes.
 Elaphoboscon, an herbe, whiche some doo call Gratia dei, commonly Pabulum cerui, it is the hen of some for sage.
 Elaphos, an herte.
 Elapido, aui, are, to rydde a place of stones.
 Elapsus, a, um, escaped out of some danger.
 Elapia est spes, hope is losse.
 Elapia ex oculis hominum anguis, the adder stike awaie out of euery mans syght.
 Elargior, giris, giri, to graunt or geue bound fully or liberally.
 Elasseco, to waxe weery, to decaie.
 Elate, elates, f. m. g. after Dioscorides is that, wherin a palme or date tree bearyng fruite, is wapped. Galene taketh it for the tender and ponge bzaunche of a palme. Theophilus dooth asseme the same: some take it for a kynde of date trees.
 Elate, prouedly, lustyly, grauely, with an high style, hautely.
 Elaterium, ri, n. g. a wilde cucumbe, which hath leaues lyke unto gardepne cucumbers, but the fruite is muche lesse, lyke as it were longe as cornes, cornes, and hath a greath roote and a white.

 Some call theim Cucumeres anguini. There is also a medicine so called, made of the iuyce of theim, to purge choler and fleume vpwarde and downwarde.
 Elaine, an herbe lyke to withwind, but it hath seedes and flowers like buckwheate, it groweth among corne, rennyng buckwheate, or bynde corne.
 Elatio, onis, f. m. g. lostynesse, hautenesse: it is taken sometyne in the good parte, and sometyne in the yle. In the good parte: as, In hac elatione & magnitudine animi facilitate perituaia, & nimia cupiditas principatus inuaditur, In this highnesse of hert, and greatnesse of courage, there is bredde veraie lightly wilfull appetite, and to muche desire of great authoritee. In an yle parte: as, Parium comparatio, nec elationem habet, nec submissionem, The comparison of them that are equall, hath in it neyther arrogance, nor yet submission.
 Elatites, m. g. a kynde of stones.
 Elaro, elarus, aui, are, to barke, to speake out or aloude.
 Elatus, a, um, hyghe or aduanced, prouely in herte of courage, sometyne it significth proude or arrogant.
 Elaudo, aui, are, to name one to his praise.
 Elauo, elauas, aui, are, siue, ere, to washe cleane, to ryse clothes, to robbe or to spoyle, to ridde one of all that he hath.
 Elauare se bonis, to be cleane washed from all his gooddes, to spende all away, and leaue nothing.
 Elecebus, a citee in Fraunce, called communely Schelestade.
 Eldana, a citee in Spayne, called Duennes.
 Eldia, idem quod Dictamum.
 Elea, a citee in the countreie of Lucania.
 Eleates, a man of that citee.
 Elecebra argentaria, harlottes.
 Electio, onis, f. m. g. an election, an appoyntment, choise.
 Elesto, aui, are, to entice or allure.
 Electra, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys, she had a daughter of the same name, on whom Iupiter begat Dardanus.
 Electrion, the father of Amphitrio, and sonne of Alcus.
 Electrites, certayne ples in the sea Idriaticum.
 Electrius, a, um, of Electra.
 Electrum, i, neu. ge. that whiche is in englyshe called ambre; wherof beades be made. It is also taken for a metall, parte golde, and parte silver.
 Electus, a, um, chosen, picked out.
 Electus, us, m. g. choise.
 Elector, oris, m. g. a chooser, an electour.
 Eleemosyna, a, f. g. almeste, piete.
 Elegans, anis, om. g. elegant, freshe, gorgeous cleane, polite, minyon, tricke, pyked, syne.

 Mundus & elegans.
 Elegans formarum spectator, one veraie well scene and skilled in faire women: a deintie and syne felowe in choosynge of faire women.
 Elegans in omni iudicio, he that hath a syne and a good iudgement in all thynges.
 Elegans in cibus, fine, picked in meates.
 Eleganter, netely, finely, eloquently, deyntly, minyonly.
 Elegancia, a, f. g. elegancie, gorgeousnesse, cleannesse, beaurce in wordes, ricenesse, handsomenesse, trymnesse.
 Elegancia morum, nourtur, veraie honest behauiour.
 Elegia, a, f. m. g. lamentablenesse, a lamentable songe.
 Elegia, drum, n. g. lamentable verses.
 Elegiacus, a, um, perteynyng therunto.
 Elegidion, n. g. a lamentable verse.
 Elegiographus, plu, m. g. a writer of lamentable verses or balades.
 Elegus, elega, um, lamentable.
 Elei, people in Grece in the countreie sometyne called Deloponessus, nowe Phoea.
 Eleleus, one of the names of Bacchus.
 Eleliphacos, the herbe called sauge.
 Elementarius, a, um, perteynyng to elementes, letters or principles.
 Elementaria litera, the crosse rowe.
 Elementarius senex, an olde man that leaueh his crosse rowe.
 Elementum, i, n. ge. the first or principall matter, wherof all thynges dooe take their begynnyng, whiche bee foure in numbze, fyre, ayre, water, and earth. Also the letters, wherof syllables be made, are called Elementa.
 Elenchus, chi, m. g. an argument, reprouynge subtilly an other argument. It is also a table in a booke, to shewe the places by letter or otherwise. It is also a great pearle, or other precious stone that women went to hyge at theyr cares.
 Eleo, eui, ere, to spotte or soyle.
 Eleosclumum, ni, n. ge. an herbe, whiche of som is called smallache.
 Eleophullon, an herbe, called also Phillon.
 Eleostaphylos, a vine graffed on an oliue, and bearyng the fruite of both trees.
 Elephantographi, be called those painters, that peincte with quozie.
 Elephantia, seu Elephantiasis, a kynde of leaspric, wherin the fleshe dooth swell, and is full of spottes, it is ingendred of blacke choler.
 Elephantiacus, a leaper.
 Elephantia, be serpentes, so called, because he, whom they doo bite, falleth into the kynde of leaspric, whiche is called Elephantia.
 Elephantina, a citee of Egypte. also a certayne confection. Ioke Celsus. li. v.
 Elephantinus, a, um, perteynyng unto an olye phauit, phaunt.

Elephantini libri, amonge the Romans were booke, wherein they lawes were written, whiche concerned the nobilitie.

Elephantis, an plande in the ryuer Nilus.

Elephas, auri, ma. g. or Elephantus, ti, an olyphant, the greatest of all foure footed beastes, his forelegges bee longer than his hynder. He hath ankles in the lower parte of his hynder legges, and five toes on his feete vnderdred, his snoute or nose is so longe, and in suche forme, that it is to hym in steede of an hande, for he nether eateth nor drinketh, but by bryngyng his nose to his mouth: therewith he healeth by his mayster or keeper, therewith he ouerthroweth trees. He hath fower teethe on epyther syde of his mouth, wherwith he eateth & gryndeth his meate. He hath also twoo great tuikes, the male greater than the female, bowyng downward: his tongue is veray lictell, and so farre in his mouth, that vnto it maye be scene. Of all beastes he is the most gentle and tractable. For by many sundry wayes he is taught, and doth vnderstand, in so muche that he learneth to do due honour to a kynge, he hath a great perceyving, and excelleth in Marsperce of wyte. The female, whiche he ones seasoneth, he neuer after toucheth. The male olyphant lyueth 200. yeres, at the least. 120. yeres. The female almost as longe: but the floure of their age, is about. ix. yeres. They can not suffer wynter nor colde. He loueth ryuers, and will often go in to them vnto the nose, wherwith he bloweth and taketh wynde, but swymme he can not for the weight of his bodye. Plinius and Solinus wyte, that they vse none aduicery. yf they happen to meete with a man in wilderness bring out of any waie: gently they will go before, and bryng hym into the playne waie. In battaile toignd, they haue no small respect, for they bryng them that bee soze hurte or wery, into the middell of the hoste, to be defended. They are made tame by drynkyng the wyce of barley, they haue contriuaill waire against dragons, whiche despyze their bloude, and therefore lyng in awaite, as the Ollyphant passeth by, the dragon (beyng of an exceeding length) wyndeth his tayle about the hynder legges of the olyphant, and lettyng hym to go, thrusteth his head into the Ollyphantes nose, and exhausteth his breath, or ciles byteth hym in the eare, wherunto he can not reach wih his nose. And whan the Ollyphant wareth faynte, he falleth down on the serpent, whiche is full of bloude, & with the popple of his bodye bryaketh hym: so that his owne bloudd, with the bloudd of the Ollyphant, renneth out of hym myngled together, whiche is called Cinnaberis, in englyshe Synoper.

Elephantus, is sometyme vused for purgation, Eleues, ei, f. g. a purgation, Eleuo, eleuas, aui, are, to lyfte vp. Sometyme to take awaie, to mynstre, to extenuate with wooddes, to make lyght and of lictell value, to displaye.

Depre eleuare, quod obiectum est, Maly picaunt and preatit wooddes to extenuate that whiche is laied agaynst vs. Authoritatem eleuare, to diminish the once and thortice.

Eleuare ignominiam, To deface his ignominye, and recouer honour.

Eleuare verbis famam vrbis capite, With wooddes to mitigate the fame and bryte of a querryng the cite.

Eleus, unis, a citee of Thrace.

Eleus, the name of Bacchus.

Eleusinus, a, um, of the citee Eleusis.

Mater Eleusina, Ceres.

Eleusina sacra, ceremonies of Ceres the gods desse.

Eleusis, a citee in Grece, not farre from Athens, wher Cereus reigned.

Eleutherius, a, um, that maketh free, or deliuereth out of bondage.

Eleutheros, a ryuer by the towne of Sythos.

Elicio, elicis, elicui, or elixi, ere, elicium, or electum, to drawe out or gette out, to pryce out a thyng or a woodde, to prouoke or allure, to great a thyng.

Elicere alium, to prouoke to the scoole. Inferorum animas elicere, to reyle vp the spyttes of them that be dead.

Ex terra cauernis ferrum elicere, to myne vnder the earth for yron.

Ad eliciendum vulgi fauorem, to allure and gette the fauour of the people.

Suscitare & elicere fontem, to cause a well to springe.

Elicere ignem confictu lapidum, To styke fyre by beatyng stones together.

Elicere lacrymas, to make to wepe.

Sudorem elicere, to cast one in a sweate, to cause one to sweate.

Multa ab ipso Publio elici possunt, you may great the knowledge of many thynges by Publius hym selfe.

Elicere archana alicuius, to gette one to bryte his secrettes.

Suspicionem elicere ex re aliqua, to gather suspicion of any thyng.

Verbum ex eo nunquam elicere potui, I coulde neuer great hym to speake one wordde.

Ira eliciam verum, to say I gette out the truth.

Ad colloquium elicit, He gat hym to come to communication.

Elicere in infidias, to trayne one into an ambushment.

Elicio, to drawe out.

Elicius, a, um, that draweth or allureth out, the surname of Jupiter.

Elico, aui, are, to tourne by sette downe. Elico, lico, onis, ma. gene. he that tourneth thynges out of order.

Lido, si, ere, to hitte agaynst a thyng, to bzeke or burst out, to pryce out, to squise, to exclude, to strangle, to kyll.

Eligere ignem e silice, to beate fyre out of a styn.

Eligere sonum, to make a noyse by beatyng one thyng agaynst an other.

Eligere caput, to bzeake ones head.

Herbas elidere, to campe or powne herbes.

Eligere alicui oculos, to pull out ones eyes.

Sibulum elidere, To cause a wyppelinge or byssinge.

Eligere pactum, To bzeake a couenaunt or bargaine.

Eligere factus sues, sowes by lyng on the pyrgges, squise them to deathe.

Eligere in turba, To bee trust in a thronge of people.

Eligere agnitudinibus, to be soze vexed with sicknesses.

Ignis elicit nubes, the fyre bzeake the cloudes, it lyghtned.

Igo, eligis, legi, ere, to choose, to electe.

Populus elegit sibi in principem Octavianum, The people dyd electe or choose Octavianus to be their fourcaygne.

Ad munus aliquod eligi, to be chosen to some office or charge.

De tribus elige quem velis, Of thre, chose whiche ye will.

Lunatus a, um, filed of, polished, made smothe.

Limino, aui, are, to put or caste soothly from a place farre of, to hurle or thruste out of doores.

Dicta foras eliminare, to publyshe out of the doores what was spoken.

Limo, elimas, aui, are, to make cleane, to polyste, to make perfite. Sometyme to cut of with a file.

Linguis, gue, without a tongue.

Linguis, is, speechlesse, dumbe, that can not speake.

Linguo, aui, are, to plucke out or cutte of ones tongue.

Eluquamen, inis, n. ge. fatnesse or iupre, wryng or pressed out of the oyle of fyre. it maye bee vused for bypppyng of meate.

Eluqueco, scere, to be dissolued or melted.

Eluquo, eliquas, aui, are, to melte.

Elis, a citee of Peloponnesus, an other of Beata.

Elisa, one of the names of Dido.

Elisus, a, um, broken, bryste, pressed, squised.

Elis, icis, mas, gen. a fouroume made for water to passe.

Flum, id est, lilium seluestre.

Elux, arabice, quinta essentia.

Eluxo, aui, are, to scethe or boyle.

Eluxus, a, um, sodden, boyled.

Elleborum, a littell herbe called Epicactis.

Elleborius, the lesse centaure.

Elleborum; looks Helieborum.

Elleborus albus, an herbe called lpgewort, the roote wherof is called neesying powder.

Elleborus niger, an herbe called beares foote, or after some, terworthe.

Ellenium, ni, iohel Helenium.

Ellobia, drum, n. ge. thynges whiche were handged at the eares of women.

Elium, for ecce illum, see where he is.

Ellychnium, ij, neu. gene. the matche whiche is in the lampe, and standeth in oyle, or the wicke of the candell.

Eloco, elocas, aui, are, to caste, remoue or put a thyng out of his place, to sette to hyre, or to ferme.

Elocare fundum, To sette out a ground to ferme.

Elocare boues aut equos, to leat out oxen or hoxses to hyre.

Elocare filiam, to bestowe his daughter in marriage.

Elocutio, onis, f. ge. a pproppe fourme of wordes or sentences.

Elocutrix, that speaketh or teacheth to speake.

Elogium, ij, n. g. a testification or report in wordes of a mans praple or displaye, of honour or reproche. also a witnessyng or pronouncyng of ones owne opinion or sentence. It is somes tyme a superscription on a tombe.

Elongo, aui, are, to remoue farre of, to prolong, to deferre.

Elops, a fysh called also Acipenser.

Elops, is also the name of one of the Centaures.

Eloquens, entis, eloquent, well spoken.

Eloquentia, a, f. g. eloquence.

Eloquium, n. g. speche in a pleasant maner.

Eloquor, queris, eloqui, to speake, propriely it is whan I sette a thyng soothly in speaking, that the hearers maie vnderstande it, as I conceyue it, to speake out. Amonge oratours, to speake eloquently and aptly.

Perge eloqui, saie on, tell soothly your tale.

Eloquere vno verbo, tell it at one wordde.

Elorus, a citee of Sicilie.

Elora, among the Lacedaemonians was as much to saie as commune mynisters or seruantes. As sergantes, or such as in London they dooe call promen.

Eloius, a, um, wasshed awaie, made cleane.

Elpenor, a companion of Ulysses, whiche with other, Lirre tourned into hogges.

Elpes, the wyfe of Boetius.

Eluceo, eluces, luxi, ere, to shyne, to be bryght, to be veray manifest, to appere, to be notable.

Elucere & oculari, contraty.

Elucet animi excellentia in despiciendis opibus, there appereth an excellencie of the mynde in the contemnyng of richesse.

Spes in puero elucet, there is an hope of to wardnesse in the chyld.

Elucet ingenium in eo, there appereth to be a witte a witke in the man.

Elucesco, sci, scere, to be verat bright.
Elucido, aui, are, to thynne and make brighte outward.
Elucifico, aui, are, to depriue of light.
Eluctatus, a, um, that with wastynge or strugglyng hath escaped awaie.
Tandem eluctatus obstantia, At the length, after he had hardely and with great payne passed suche thynges, as dyd withstande and lette hym.
Eluctor, aris, ari, with strugglyng or wastelyng to haue the vpper hande, or to escape awaie, to struggle to come forth, to come forth hardely and with payne.
In ipso fornicis ore flamma eluctatur, The flame brasteth forth, or as it were, wasteth to come forth at the narrow mouth of the ouen.
Elucubro, aui, are, to wathe and write by candle light in the nyght.
Elucubror, aris, ari, deponens, idem.
Elucus, he that is speke of the dygnite of yesters due, also a louer of trifles.
Eludo, si, ere, to mocke or deceyue, also to leaue playng.
Facite eludere, to mocke feately.
Eluena, a, a tynd of ferrill vines. Collu. li. 5.
Eluges, eluges, eluxi, ere, to leaue mournyng.
Elumbus, bi, m. g. & elumbis, & hoc Elumbe, he that hath feeble loynes, and can not stande byrght.
Eluo, ui, ere, to washe out, to rynde, to make cleane, to purge.
Eluere maculas vestium, to washe out spots that bee stayned in any garmentes.
Eluere pocula, to rynde cuppes.
Eluere crimen, to purge ones selfe of a crime laded in his charge.
Eluere maculas furtorum suorum sanguine sociorum, to purge and washe awaie the infamie of ones own thestes and robberies, with the bloude of his felowes, or by puttynge his felowes wrongfully to deathe.
Eluo, aui, are, to lyue in gluttonye, or to spende superfluousely.
Elurus, looke Aelurus.
Elusa, an ple agaynst Lypres.
Elusario, a disease of the eyes, makynge that one can not see either in the nyght or in the moynynge, purblindnesse.
Elusco, aui, are, to make purblindye.
Elusis, & Elusin, a citee in the prouince of Attica, not farre from Athens.
Elusus, a, um, illuded, mocked, deceined.
Elutheria, a, f. g. freedome, gentynesse.
Eluthérius, the name of a man, and is interpreted, free, gentyll.
Elutia, orum, golde oze.
Eluto, aui, are, to suche out water, after Calaspine, but the place that he siteth out of Aergile, hath eluctabatur.

Elutrio, aui, are, to poure out of one befell into another.
Elutus, a, um, washed, rynded cleane.
Eluuius, ei, and Eluius, onis, for. ge. ordure, filthy caused of abundance of water or other lyoure, a deluge or brealyng of the erthe by a great floudde. And by translation, a pestilence of contagious thynges, corruptyng and destroying all goodnesse, as one shoulde say, a synke of mischiese.
Eluxatus, a, um, idem quod Luxatus.
Eluxuriari, to abounde, to bee ouer ranke of steele, to geue ones selfe to riot and pleasure.
Elymais, a countreie nere Persia.
Elysi campi, the same place that is called Elysium, a place of pleasure, where pocted suppose the soules of good men to dwell.
Elysius, a, um, the adiectiue.

Emaciatus, a, um, made leane.
Emacio, aui, are, to make leane.
Emacitas, aus, for. g. affection of despayne be alwaies bying of some thyng.
Emacror, aris, ari, to make leane or barayne.
Emaculo, aui, are, to take awaie the spottes of make cleane a thyng.
Emancipati, are they that are out of theyr fathers rule, or they that are made subiects to an other man.
Emancipator, onis, m. g. a scofour of all men.
Emancipatus, a, um, aliene, or geuen to an other mans possession.
Emancipo, or emancupo, aui, are, to enfranchise or make free, to sette at libertie, properly ones childerne. Sometime it is used in the contrary sense, to bynde or make bonde. It is commonly, where a man disposseth hym selfe, or putteth an other man in possession of lande.
Emancipare agrum, to disposseth hym selfe of a pcece of lande, or to put lande in an other mans hande to a certayne vse.
Emancupo me tibi, I submytte my selfe to you, or I put my selfe vnder your obediens, I geue my selfe to you.
Emaneo, emanes, si, ere, to dwell out of a place.
Emano, aui, are, to issue or flowe out, to auoide, or renne out, and by translation, to be spred, published and knowne abrode.
Emanare saniem, to auoide corrupt bludde and matter.
Emanauit fama, The bruit came abrode, or was spredde abrode.
Emanauit in vulgus, it was spredde or published abrode among the people.
Mulus enim emanauit indiciis, for it was knowne by many tokens.
Emanatio, onis, a faute among souldiours, when they tarrie long out of their campe.
Emanator, onis, m. g. he that wandreth longe, and and at the laste retourneth home, a lusher.

Emarcum, a tynde of grapes.
Emargino, aui, are, to take awaie the scurfe about the hummes of woundes or sores.
Emasculo, aui, are, to gelde, or to take awaie the courage of a man, or to abuse a man chyld in lecherie.
Emathia, a citee that is nowe called Antioche.
Emathia, a part of the roialme of Macedonid.
Emathus, a, um, of Emathia.
Ematureco, tuiui, scere, to watc tpe.
Emas, a noble citee of Palestyne, which is nowe called Nicopolis.
Emax, acis, an adiectiue, he or she that is redy to bye any thyng, a great byer.
Embamina, acis, n. g. sauce.
Embata, or Epibade, a shyppe called a barke, or a passager.
Embar, unon ius, that right that the creditour hath on the landes or gooddes of his dettour, which be layed in mortgage to hym.
Emblema, blématis, neu. gene. pictures made of wode, stone, or metall of one colour, set in wode, stone, or metall of an other colour, as we see the chesse boordes and tables called counters. It is muche used in Italye. It is of some taken generally for all smalle ymages, flowers, or other thynges, attached to any other thyng, as on cuppes of golde or syluer it is used by translation, for the figures or ornaments of oration.
Emboline, a thubbe growinge in Asia, the Juice of the leaf is good agaynst poison.
Emboissinus, mi, ma. ge. the addyng of a daye in the pcece.
Embolium, li, neu. gene. the argument or first entrie into a place or entrie.
Embolium, li, neu. gene. a barre of a doore, also to a mans pards, or rather the entrance in to a turne.
Embrion, i, neu. gen. signifieth the chyld conceived, b. for it receyvethe perfect shape of a man or woman.
Emedullo, aui, are, to take out marowe. And by translation to declare or make manifest.
Emem, olde wyters used for eundem.
Emendare, purely, without faute.
Emendatio, onis, f. g. an amendement.
Emendator, onis, mal. gen. a correctour, or an amender.
Emendatrix, icis, f. g. the feminite.
Emendatus, a, um, amended, made better.
Emendicatus, a, um, begged.
Emendico, aui, are, to aske in fourme of begging, to despayre lyke a brygger.
Emendo, aui, are, to amende, to correcte, to make better, to take awaie a thyng that is ill, to heale.
Alumcitam emedat flos Hederae, the floure of ypp stoppeth the size, or helpeth one that is latitue.

Ementus, a, um, that hath measured, or that by goyng hath passed ouer a place: or passively, that is measured, or that by goyng hath been passed ouer.
Ementior, tiris, ritus sum, iri, to make a man's selfe lye, to feigne that is not true, to counterefaite.
Illum quem ementitus es. ego sum, I am he, whom thou diddest counterefaite.
In aliquos ementiri, to make a lye vpon any persons.
Ementiri & fingere.
Ementiri auctoritatem alicuius, to take vpon hym falsely the auctoritee of any man.
Ementitus, a, um, falsely feigned.
Emercor, aris, ari, to bye.
Emereo, emeres, rui, ere, to merite, to deserue, to offende.
Emergo, eris, ere, to issue or com out of a place, where a thyng is drowned, or where it was hyd, to appere or shewe it selfe, to escape.
Delirescere & emegere, contrary.
Emergere extra aquam, to ryse and appere aboute the water.
Emergere ex mendicite, to ryse out of povertie and become ryche.
Emergere vtero puer dicitur, To come forth out of the mothers wombe.
Emergere ex iudicio peculatus, to escape the iudgement, wherein one is accused for robbing a pynce of common weale.
Cum ventus emerit, when the wynde began to ryse.
Amor emesit, the loue appereth or sheweth it selfe playne.
Emergit depressa veritas, The truthe beynge oppressed ariseth and sheweth it selfe.
Emergere, & se ad bonam frugem recipere, To aryse from lewdesse, and become thyrifte and honeste.
Ad summam emergere opes, To become verye ryche, to ryse to great rycheesse.
Emergi, the impersonall.
Emergere ex aliquo negotio, To dispatche hym selfe of a busynesse.
Emergere ex incommoda valetudine, to be recovered of a noious disease.
Emerseram commode ex Antio in Appium, I departed in good tyme from Antium vnto Appium.
Emercor, eris, eri, to deserue to the uttermost.
Emeritum, n. neu. gene. a stipende or pension that those souldiours had that were pardoned from the warres.
Emeritus, a, um, that hath deserued or serued for his duetie. Sometime complete, synghed, also that is deserued.
Emeriti milites, olde worne souldiours, which were pardoned of warres, and yet not withstanding had pensions, which were called Emeriti stipendia.

Emeritum stipendium, the laste wages that a man taketh in warres.
Emeriti senes, olde men excused from laboure by age.
Emeriti anni, the yeeres of a mans age, when he is past labour and trauayle.
Emerite apes, doores or great bees, that make no more hony.
Emeriti boues, oxen wried and ouer laboured, that drawe no more in the plough.
Emeriti a publicis functionibus, discharged by reason of age, from bearyng publicke offices, dispensed withall, exempted.
Emerita Augusta, a citee of portugall, called now Merida.
Emerisus, a, um, that appereth out of the water after it is drownded, or out of a place, where it was hydde.
Emersus ab admiratione animus, a mynd that is come to him selfe after a great wonderpynge.
Emetior, iris, enusum, i, i, to measure, and by translation, with iourneying or goyng, to passe ouer a place or wate.
Emetiri iter vehiculis, to trauaile or iourne in wagons.
Emetiri vno die ingens spacium, to trauaile or rydde a great space in one daie.
Emeto, emetis, emellui, ere, to scape corne or other thyng.
Emico, emicas, emicui, and emicani, are, to shyn forth, to hold by the synger or some other thyng, to daunce or leape, to appere higher than other, to excell, to come or issue forth sodeinly.
Multis calamis ex vno radice emicantibus, with many stemmes rising or springgng out of one roote.
Sanguis emicat per mille foramina, bloude issued or sprange out at a thousande places.
Solemicuit, the sonne arose or appered aboue the earth.
Cor meum corpit in pectus emicare, Myne herte beganne to leape in my body.
In praelio victor emicat, he appered in the filde as vanquisher or conquerour.
Emicuit longe ante omnes Eufanor, Eufanor farre excelled all other.
Emigro, emigras, aui, are, to go from one place to dwell in an other.
Emigrare e vita, to die.
Eminatio, onis, f. g. a thezatyng or manasyng.
Eminens, entis, om. g. that appereth hygher than other, that is more excellent.
Eminentia, x, f. g. excellencie.
Eminere, emines, ni, nere, to shewe or excell aboue all other, to be hygher than other.
Eminere & apparere.
Eminere extra terram, to appeere aboue the grounde.
Eminere quatuor digitos transuersos, to be higher than other the thickenesse of foure fingers.
Moles eminet aquam, the huge heape appered aboue the water, or it was higher than the water.

Eminere ira indies maior, his anger appereth dailey greater and greater.
Nemo magnopere eminebat, no man was greatly hygher aduanced than other, or of muche greater authoritee than other.
Eminere foras, to shewe hym selfe out of doores.
Eminere in re aliqua, to excell in any thyng.
Eminere ex ore crudelitas, crudeltee shewed a selfe in his countenance.
Eminere ferram per costas, went through hym, was seene on the other syde.
E minor, aris, ari, to theatten straightly.
Eminulus, a, um, a littell ryfynge in height, a luttell aboute other.
E minus, farre of.
Emiror, aris, to meruaile greatly.
Emissarium, rij, n. g. a place or place to let water out of a ponde or ryuer.
Emissarius, rij, m. g. significth sometyne hym, whiche is sente before in battaile to spy, or to spyngthe, sometyne a seruant that is attwaies at hande, ready to be sent forth. also it signifieth such a persone as is ordeyned of hym that is in authoritee or any great office, to aduance his byerie, or to herken and tell tales, also it significth an horse stalyon, whiche useth to great coltes. sometyne a caualier or false accuser, suborned by ones enemies.
Emissarius palme, a vine braunche cut of, that is bent out from his felowes.
Emissio, onis, f. g. a castyng, hurtyng, or shoyng forth.
Emissitius, a, um, that is sent or caste forth.
Emissitij oculi, collyng eyes, gasyng here and there about.
Emissus, a, um, sente out.
Emitto, emitti, ere, to sende forth, to publish, to manumise, to sette abrode.
Emittere aculeum in hominem, to thynke his stinge in one, and by translation, to shewe the extremitee of his wrath agaynst one.
A liquid dignum suo nomine emittere, to publish the of sette some thyng abroade, wryte his name.
Emittere ouum, to laie an egge.
Emittere sagittas arcu, to shoote.
Emittere saturatam, to emptye the bealy.
Emittere vocem, to speake, also to grone.
Emittere manum, amonge the lawiers to make a caution or pousio with ones owne hande.
Emittere manum, to manumise, to make free.
Emmanuel, is interpreted, God is with vs.
Emmaus, looke Emmaus.
Emmelia, x, f. g. a certayne quiet kynde of daunsyng, as it were a pation.
Emo, emi, emere, to bye, to purchase.
Care emere, to bye deere.
Bene emere, to bye good cheape.

appered

Piper pondere emitur, pepper is bought by wryght.
Emere precio alterius, to bye at an other mans price or valuing.
Emere aliquid in publicum, to bye a thyng to the intent it shulde be common.
Emere aliquem donis, To corrupte one with gyftes.
Ego spem precio non emo, I purpose not to bye hope with monie.
I will not paye out of hande, in hope of that that is to come. I will not bye a birde in the bush.
Emodulus, aris, ari, to syng in measure and proportion.
Emodus, an hyll, whiche about the borders of Indie, is diuided into boughtes.
Emolidus, a, um, soft, tender.
Emolior, iris, i, i, with retchyng to anyde out, as one dooth fleume with coughyng. also to moue or shake.
Emollio, lui, lire, to make soft or pliant, to make tender or yee.
Emolumentum, ti, n. g. profite gotten of laboz.
Emolumento esse alicui, to be profitable to one.
Emoneo, emones, ui, ere, to warne, to put one in mynd of a thyng.
Emorior, iis, of eris, emori, to dye vterly.
Emortalis, le, of ones deathe.
Emortalis dies, the daie of deathe.
Emortuus, a, um, deade.
Emotus, a, um, remoued, put awate.
Emoueo, emoues, oui, ere, to put awate, to remoue.
Empedocles, the name of a philosophet, whiche supposed all thynges to haue their beginnyng of amitee and variance.
Empetrum, empetri, neu. g. an herbe, whiche is commonly called Sampier, it groweth on the sea rocks, and is kept in salt and bypne to serue for sautes. It is medicinable agaynst the stone. It is called also Calcifraga, of some Creta marina.
Empanda, a goddess that had tucton of those thynges that are abrode.
Emphasis, emphasis, f. g. an expresse signification of that whiche is intended.
Emphrasta, thypes or barges couered.
Emphaxis, is, for. gen. the obstruction or stoppyng of the pores.
Emphyisma, a swellng of the eye ledde.
Emphyisma, a swellng of the guttes. also idem quod Emphyisma.
Emphistodes febris, a vehement heate, whiche causeth to bee in the mouth, wheales and inflammationes.
Emphystosis, f. g. the makynge of a thyng better than it was, when it was receyued or letten, as laide.
Emphyteota, tr, ma. ge. he that taketh a thyng, and promitteth or couenanteth to make it better than he receyued it.

Emphytensis, sis, f. g. a greffing or plantynge.
Empirice, es, f. g. phisike consyng in practise, or gotten by practise.
Empiricus, a, um, that practiseth, ppozely phisik.
Emplasticum, ci, n. g. a playster.
Emplastratio, onis, f. ge. a grassynge betweene the barke and the woodde, or rather a grassynge by takyn the budde of one tree, with a part of the barke, & setting it on an other stocke with a playster made of clate or ware.
Emplastro, aui, are, to grasse betwene the rynde and the woodde, looke Emplastratio.
Emplastrum, tri, neu. g. a playster or confection made of dyuers thynges.
Emplastrum in arboribus, a playster of clate or ware, to lay about the tree or grasse, where the barke is taken awate.
Empneumatosis, sis, fem. gene. a ventositee or windheste in the stomake, or an inflation, by the whiche it is puffd vp.
Emporeticus, a, um, pertainyng to marchandise.
Emporetica charta, paper, wherin marchantres or grossers doo put their warres.
Emporia, a citee of Spayne, called commonly Castellon Deimpurias.
Emporium, rij, n. g. a place wherein, is kepte a marke or sayre, a marke towne.
Emporeuma, aris, n. g. chapmanshyp.
Emprio, onis, f. g. a byng or purchasyng.
Emptionem facere, to bye.
Emptionalis, le, that haunteth sayres or markettes, or that beth to bye muche.
Empitius, a, um, that whiche is of indge be boughte.
Empitijs miles, an hyed souldiour.
Empito, aui, are, to be to bye, to bye oftentynges: it is sometyne bled to be wite Empitiae.
Empror, oris, m. g. a byer.
Empurio, empuris, iui, ire, to haue a lust or desyre to bye.
Emptus, a, um, bought, purchasd.
Emptum constupratumq; iudicium, a iudgement bought and corrupted with bybys.
Empusa, a certayne goste, which in variable edgmes appered. Demosthenes saith, that Aeschines mother was called Empusa.
Empyicos, he that specteth out matter and filth, as corrupte bludde and such like.
Empyrema, matris, n. ge. a collection of matter in the bulke of a mans body.
Empyrium celum, the heauen, that is next aboue all the seven sphæres, and significth the fyrr heauen.
Emucidus, a, um, beadie filthie, muche bithed.
Emugio, emugis, iui, ire, to bellowe or loowe out lyke a coowe: and by translation, to cry out, or speke out alowde.
Emulgeo, mulsi, gere, to mylke.
Emunctio, onis, fem. gene. a snuffynge or wpyngge of the nose.
Emunctorium, rij, neu. gene. an instrumente, wherewith

Dd ij

wherewith

wherewith the snuffe of a candell is taken away, a snuffer.

Emunctus, a, um, snuffed, made cleane. also spoyled or destroyed.

Emunctus sum auro, I am spoyled or begiled of all my monie, my monie is gotten from me by deceipte.

Emuncte naris homo, a man of a fine and exact iudgement.

Emundo, aui, are, to make cleane.

Emungo, unxi, ere, to snuffe a candell. also to make cleane a mans nose. sometime it signifyeth to despoile a man of monie, properly by craft.

Emunio, emunis, iui, ire, to fortifie or make strong, to fence.

Emunitus, a, uni, fortified, fenced.

Emusco, aui, are, to rubbe of the mosse of a tree or other thyng.

Emusitatum, made of wrought by rule.

Emutio, emutus, iui, ire, to humme or make any other sowne lyke a man that is dumme.

Emuto, aui, are, to chaunge.

E ANTE N.

EN, lo, see. En, was used of olde wyters for Eum.

Enema, a medicine of dusky colour, good to heale fescie woundes.

Enargia, a, form. gene. an euident and playne demonstration whan a thyng is so described, that it seemeth to the reader or hearer, that he beholdeth it as it were in dooynge, euidentie, perspicuite.

Enarrabilis, le, that maie be declared or shewed.

Enarratio, onis, for. ge. a playne declaration or exposition.

Enaro, aui, are, to tell a thyng at length.

Enascor, fecis, set, to growe or sprynge of a thyng, to be borne.

Enato, enatas, aui, are, to swymme out, to swymme to a place sometime to escape.

Enatus, a, um, that hath grown or spronge.

Enaugo, aui, are, to saile thorough to a place that one purposed, to escape away by saile.

Enauro, aui, are, to employe or bestowe all a mans diligence.

Operari euauant, they employe their labour with all diligence.

Enceina, a renouation or renewynge. it was amonge the Jewes the feast of dedication of their temple.

Encandus, canthidis, f. g. a disease of the eyes, when there is a little knobbe in one of the corners of the eye, so that the eye leddes can not be opened verie broade.

Encardia, a precious stone, that hath the figure of a blacke herte in it.

Encaustes, a, ma. g. he that fourmeth or facioz meth a thyng with fyre.

Encaustices, es, f. g. making of ymages with fyre.

Encausticus, and Encastus, a, um, enamelled or wrought with fyre.

Encaustica pictura, an ymage enamelled.

Encaustum, i, n. g. vermyll, enamel, or other picture, wrought with fyre.

Enceladus, a ggaunt, the sonne of Terra, whiche was streken with the lightnyng of Iupiter, and buried vnder the hill Aetna.

Enchimbomara, a kynde of garments for gyrlles of women seruantes, maidens heyles of pety cotes.

Enchirioides, a certaine herbe lyke to scorpillon, an handfull high, full of branches, and hauing a rounde leaf. it is also called Lectipes.

Enchiridion, dii, neu. g. an handell of a thyng, sometime a dagger. sometime that parte of an oze, that the water man holdeth. it is vserped for a booke of so littell a volume, that one maye alwaie carpe it with hym.

Enchinos, a beast bredde in the orient, as great as a bulle.

Enchryson, a kynde of Anchusa.

Enchironia, when the fleshe is so bzused, that bludde issueth out of the veines.

Enclasis, the holones that is made in a bodie, by dasthyng of a thyng agaynst it.

Encolpia, malc. gene. windes rising out of the sea.

Encomion, nij, n. g. a songe or balade, made in the praise of a conquerour or noble man, playste.

Encryphia, browne breade.

Enchrysta, thynne opmentes.

Enclisis, inclination.

Encyclos, & encycia, the circle of all doctryne.

Encyclopaedia, a, f. g. that learning that comprehendeth all liberall studies and sciences.

Endelechia, looke Entelechia.

Endo, a preposition for In.

Endoicium, for Initium, a begynnynge.

Endo calum, for In calum, into heauen.

Endoploro, for Imploro.

Endoprocinctu, for In procinctu.

Endromis, idis, f. g. a certain garment, whiche is heary lyke to Jysse mantelles, whiche man vset in baynes and places of exercise.

Endymion, the name of a man, whiche found the course of the moone, wherefore the poetes fygner, that the moone loued hym, and descended downe to kysse hym, while he slepte.

Eneco, enecas, ui, are, to kyll or slea.

Enectus, a, um, slayne, almost kylled.

Enectus fame, almost dead for hunger.

Energia, a, form. gene. an efficacie, or effectual operation.

Energumenus, one possessed of an yll spirite also so lunatike.

Eneruatus, a, um, made feeble or weak. also tender of nyre.

Languidus & eneruatus.

Eneruis, e, & Eneruis a, um, without strenght, without strenght, feeble, weak, effeminate, tender.

tendit.

eneruo, aui, are, to debilitate or make feeble.

Animos eneruare, to effeminate mens myndes, to make them tender and nyre.

Engaddi, a cite in Judea, from whence the pres house bawline cometh.

Engangis, idem quod Gagathes.

Enhaemon, a medicine made of a certaine gumme, that issueth out of an olive in Arabia.

Enhydros, a certayne rounde stone, smoothe and white.

Enhydridis, dridis, and Enhydrys, i, a water snake or adder.

Enim, for, forsothe. sometime it is expletive, and dooth but fill the sentence, to make it sounne wel. sometime it is a copulatiue, sometime affirmatiue, and is set in the begynnynge.

Sed enim, but for as muche.

Enim vero, forsothe.

Enim me nominat, in dede he nameth me.

At enim istuc in me cu terur faba, but in dede the perill of this will light on my necke.

Moriendum enim certe est, For certaynly we must all dye.

Certe enim scio, yea in dede, I know surcly that it is so.

Enim vero, pro ex aduerso, on the other part.

Eniochi, I sicke and wilde people of Sarmatia, nere to Pontus, whiche had their begynnyng of Rhecas and Amphistratus, the charyot men of Castor and Pollux.

Eniopeus, Hectoris chariot man, whom Dios medes slewe.

Enipeus, a ryuer of Thessaly, nere to the whiche the battayle was fought betwene Cesar and Pompeie.

Enisus, a, um, that endeouureth, labourereth, or enforseth it selfe to doo a thyng.

Eniteo entes, tui, ere, to shyne, to bee gorgeous and cleane, to appere faire & bryghte, to shewe it selfe euidently, to be famous and notable or greatly renowned.

In eobe lo & virtus & fortuna Tullij enituit, In that warre both the valpantesse and fortune of Tullie appered and shewed it selfe euidently.

Ennent Athenas cunctis gentibus, the Atheniens be famous and renowned throughe all nations.

Crassi magis enitebat oratio, Crassus style was more beautifull and eloquent.

Entesco entui, entescere, idem quod eniteo.

Entor, ens, enixus & enisus sum, enui, to endeavour or labour, to enforce ones selfe to doo a thyng, to ascende upwarde with great difficultie, also to traualle or byng forth a chyld.

Enit oua dicuntur gallina, to lay egges.

Enit & contendere.

Enit partum, & Enit puerum, to traualle and byng forth a chyld.

Enix, and Enixim, diligently, & with all force,

Enixus, a, um, that hath brought forth also trauallynge or labourynge to byng forth. also las bozous, full of traualle and payne.

Enixa opera, traualle, wherin a man employeth all his puissance.

Enixior opera, more earnest & greater labour.

Enna, a cite of Sicile, situate in an high place, and is compted to bee the veray wyddell of that countreie.

Ennam, for etiam/ne.

Enneaphonos, that hath ninte boyces.

Enneas, neadis, the number of ninc.

Enneacrunos, a fountayne in Athens, made by Pistratus.

Enneaphyllon, an herbe haupnge. ix. longe leaues, of nature burnynge, and veray holisome for diseases of the loynes and huckle bones.

Ennius, an olde latine poete, bozne at Tarentum, a cite nowe in the royaume of Naples, as some suppose in a towne called Ithudu in Italy, and was brought to the cite of Rome by Lato the Lnsour.

For his learnynge and most honest condicions, he was entirely beloued of Scipio African. wherfore he caused his ymage to be set on his sepulchre. he made many bookes in sundry kyndes of verses, but the stile that he used was veray auncient and homely, but they contened graue and substantiall sentences of great wisdom. he dyed at the age of lxx. yeres.

Enudigaus, the turname of Neptuneus.

Eno, aui, are, to swym out, to swym throughe to any place.

Enoch, a mans name in holy scripture.

Enodate, manifestly.

Enodatio, onis, f. g. an explication or declaracio.

Enodatus, a, uni, declared, made manifest.

Enodis, de, without knotte, also without difficultie or hardnesse.

Enodo, aui, are, to cut awaie the knottes, or to unknotte, by translation to declare or make manifest, to explicate or dissolue doubties.

Enoina, a cite of Dalmatia.

Enonymos, loke Anonymos.

Enope, a cite nere to Syllus.

Enorchis, a certaine stone, whiche beynge broken, is like the colons of a man.

Enormis, e, great out of measure. also out of square, or out of rule.

Enormiter, naughtily, without measure, vnmeasurably, far out of square, greatly amisse.

Enos, a great cite, nigh to the mountayne Ipebanus, before Moes floudde, wherin dwelled gygantes, whiche had dominion ouer all the worlde, from the sunne goynge downe, to the sonne rysynge.

They trustynge in the greatnesse of their bodyes, and strenght, incurred armoure and weapons, oppressed all men, and geupynge them selues to all bodily lustes, found paultions, instrumentes of musike, and all wanton pleasures.

They dyd also cate men, procured deliuerance of children befoze the syne, and prepared them in to delicate meates. They companied carnally with theyr own motheys, sisters, daughters, men, and beastes: And all mischeif they did commit, despisers of god and all religion.

Enotescio, scere, to come to knowlage, to bee knowne.

Ens, entis, beeyng.

Eniculus, li, a littell swerde or hanger.

Enifer, eniferi, that beareth a swerde.

Ensis, sis, m. g. a swerde.

Crudus entis, looke Crudus.

Habilis ensis, an handy sworde.

Accommodare ensen, & applicare ensen

Interi, to hange ones sworde by his syde.

Adigere ensen in pectus, and Condere en-sem in pectore, to thrust one to the hert with his swerde.

Districtus ensis, a swerde redy drawen.

Recondere ensen, to put up ones swerde.

Transuerbere aliquem ense, to thrust one thorough wth his swerde.

Ducere ensen, to drawe.

Entelechia, perfection, power to moue it selfe, or after Hermolaus, continuall agitation and mouyng.

Enterocela, or Enterocela, a disease when the guttes called Cacum intestinum, is fallen into to the coddies.

Enteri, certayne woormes of the earth.

Enterione, the breth that is in wodde, as the soft matter in elderne, ashe, hasell, and suche lyke.

Enterocelcus, ci, m. g. he that hath his bowels fallen into his coddies.

Entheos, full of diuine inspiration, inspired.

Enthymema, atis, n. g. an imperfect syllogisme, lacking the maiore or the m. noz.

Entomon, the herbe, called Elleborum nigrum, in Dioscorides witten Antomon.

Enubo, nupsi, eie, to mary.

Enucleare, clerely, manifestely, exquisitely.

Some tyme without difficultee or hardnesse.

Enucleatus, a, um, opened, made manifest.

Enucleo, au, are, to take out the kernell of a nutte. it is also to declare or make playne a sentence.

Enudo, au, are, to make naked. also to interprete, to expounde.

Enumeratio, onis, a numbryng or reckyng of many thynges together.

Enúmero, au, are, to numbre, to reken or cast.

Enumerare per singula, to numbre euery one after an other.

Enuntiatio, onis, f. g. a proposition.

Enuntiatus, a, um, that is pronounced or uttered.

Enuntriatrix, one that pronounceth or uttereth.

Enuntriatus, ti, n. g. a proposition.

Enuntriatus, a, um, spoken, pronounced, uttered.

Enuntio, au, are, to pronounce or speake, to declare, to signifie, to publish, to disclose, to re-uele or utter abroad.

Enuntiare consilia amicorum aduersariis, to utter or disclose the counsaile of ones frendes, to their aduersaries.

Commisissia enuntiare, to utter abroade such thynges as were tolde one in secreete.

Enuntiare apud homines, to tell abroade as mong men.

Enutrio, triui, ire, to nouryshe.

Enyo, enyus, the name of Bellona.

Enyalis, the foonne of Bellona.

EO, therfore, for as muche, vnto that.

Eo loci, in that state or condicon. also in that place, or in the same place.

Eodem loci, in the same place or state.

Nec eo fecius, and yet neuertheless.

Eo vsque, so muche, so farre, so longe.

Eousque creuit, donec &c. so longe, untill &c.

Eousque, dum anhelet, so longe as.

Eo, for in tantum, so muche.

Eo creuit, it increased and grew so muche.

Eo insolentia processit, he became so insolent and proude.

Eo, for propterea, as,

Eo ad eam admissa non sum, for that

I was not suffered to come in to hir.

Hec ad te eo pluribus scripsi, vi. &c. I haue therfore witten these thynges moze at large.

Non eo, quin tibi non cupiam quæ velis, not so, but that I would be glad to doo that you woulde haue me.

Non eo hoc dico, quin. &c. I speake not this for any suche intent, but that. &c.

Non eo dico, I speake it not therfore.

Eo magis, so muche the moze.

Annos sexaginta natus es, aut plus eo, thou arte. li. yerres olde or aboue.

Eo redacta res erat, the matter was brought into that case.

Nisi eo veniam, excepte I come thyther.

Sed vsq; eo quo opus erit, yet at the least, as farre as neede shall requyre.

Hac qua scripsi eo spectant, these thynges that I haue witten, pertaine to this end.

Hac atq; alia eodem perueniunt, these thynges and suche other lyke, pertainyng to the same ende, or spoken for the same purpose.

Eo fuerunt cariora, they were so muche the dearer.

Eo, is, iui, ire, to go, sometye to come.

Eo inficias, I denye.

Eo obuiam, I go to meete with one.

Eo venum, ire venum, to be tolde.

Celeriter isti, & iedisti, Thou dydest com and go quychely.

Ire gradibus gradibus, to go with lōg steps.

Paul

Parlamur illum ire nostris itineribus, Let vs

suffre hym to go the same waye that we haue gone befoze hym. And by translation, to kepe

the same trade in thynges, that we dyd befoze hym.

Ire nauigio, to passe ouer in a shyppe.

Ire pedibus, to go on foote.

Ire in aciem, to go to warre.

Ire in aliquem, to rushe or renne violently agaynst one.

I in cruceem, go and be hanged.

Ire in exilium, to be banysht.

Ire in fastidium, to begyn to be lothed or abhoired.

Ire in ius ad aliquem, to pleade or go to lawe befoze one styng as a iudge.

Ire in manumonium sine dote, to be married without dowrie.

Vulgabat, ire in melius valentudinem homi-nis, he published abroad, that the man began to recouer his heith, and ware better & better.

Inerum potius ibit, he will rather bee cast in prison.

Ire in possessionem, to take possession.

In iuxta non ibimus, we will not fall to thy dyng.

Ibit in seculum nomen tuum, Thy name shall be spoken of as long as the worlde standeth, or thou shalt get the a perpetuall name.

Ire in sententiam, to condescende to ones opinion, to saie as one hath saide befoze.

Ire in subsidium, to ayde or succour.

Ire consultum male aliquem, To damage or hurte one.

Ire datum operam amico, to go to healepe ones frende.

Ibam ad te, I was comyng to you.

Ire cubium, and ire dormitum, to go to bed.

Ire habitum honorem alicui, to dooe honour and worshipp to one.

Perditum ire, to befothe, to vndoo.

Iedies, the daie passeth awaie.

Irad melacrum, the vauntage is myne, or the profite cometh to me.

In exemplum ire, to be for an example vnto

other.

Ire in matrimoniu sine dote, to be married. &c.

I latus it, the river renneth.

Eunt precipites mores, honest maners fall

foze in decaye.

Incipt ire melius ire quam putaram, to goe better forward.

Eunt precipites mores, the maners of men renne headlong vnto all mischeife.

Puppis it, the shyppe saileth.

Prois ibat res, the matter proceedd or went well forward.

Is quæsum laudem tibi in mea vita? Dooest thou go about to get the laude and prayse by puttyng my life in daunger.

Iur, the impersonall.

Hon, the compasse of the eye.

Hon, quis, the tree, that the ship Argo, was made for Iason,

Hos, the morning.

Hous, the east.

Hous, i, m. g. one of the hoyses of the sonne. It is used for the daie terre.

EPacta, thynges added to.

Epagis, one of the ples called Cyclades.

Epagoge, es, f. g. a figure, when l. he argus mentes of thynges be confuted together.

Epagon, epagonis, neu. ge. a trode in a trahe of like engine, called also of Vitruvius, Ergorum, or Ergatum, after some printes.

Epaminondas, a Theban boine, (sonne of an honest genrell man called Polymnus) in suns day qualites excellent, as well of the body as of the mynde, in all kyndes of mysthe pers secretly instructed, and banded exceedingly well.

He wassted, and ranne no man better. In ars mes strange, hardye, and valiant. In martiall politic, equal to any than lypunge, woundes full well learned in philosophie, especially in that Epithagoras taught, the moste diffuse and pure doctrine, contemping most secreete and di-uine misteries, wherunto he added most noble vertues, for he was temperate, wyse, of great grauiter, vnyng tyme wyse, of courage inuinc-ible, so diligent in obseruyng trouth, that he woulde at no tyme lye, neyther in earnest nor in game. He was continent, mercysfull, won-derfull patient, suffering wronges both of the people, and of his frendes. He was secreete and trusty, so faithfull and loyng to his frendes, that when any of them were taken in warres, or any of their daughters ready to be married, and they not able to sette them forth, accord-dyng to their degrees: he woulde assemble the residue of his frendes, and exhorte them to geue vnto hym that lacked, accordyng to they powers. he hym selfe woulde liberally geue to the quantite of his substance, whiche was but littell, although he were in great authorites

(for he refused all rewardes, sayng that thanks only) when he had made a good summe of that, whiche was graunted, befoze he receyued

it, he brought hym, that shoulde haue it, vnto

the geures, that he might receyue it of them, and knowe howe muche he was bounde vnto euery of them. He often tymes refused great summes of monie and riche presentes sente to hym by Princes (all though he were poore) sayng: If the thyngs were honest, whiche he was requyred to dooe, he woulde dooe it, because it was good, without any reward: If it were yll, or not honest, all the goodnes of the worlde shoulde not make hym dooe it. If it were pros-fitable to his countreie, he was bounden and

Ed in

Ed in

redy to doo it fecely: If it were otherwise fall the richest in the worlde mought not counteruaile the loue, that he bare to his countymen. In eloquence no Chebané mought be compared vnto him, and his sentences were graue, and betraie to pendulous, whereby in countsaies he vanquished and put to rebuke great and famous orators. In bataille he ouercame the Athenienses and Lacedæmonians, and in one daie had the victorie of all Grece. At the last, in the bataille at Mantinea, betwene the Thebans and the Lacedæmonians, he was Stephen and wounded to death with a long speare, the brad remayning still in his bodie: per receyued he lyfe, whypill it was to be hym, that his hoste had the victorie. Chan said he, I haue lyued long enough, for I dye vnbauquished. The prou being drawn out of his bodie, he dyed, before the incarnation of Christ. 372. yeres. This one thyng is well to be considered (as Probus saith) the cite of Thebes, before Epaminondas was borne, and also after he was dead, was vnder the rule and in subiection of other people. But durynge the tyme that he was a gouernour in the weale publike, the cite was head and gouernour of all Grece, whereby it maie bee well perceiued, that one such noble man is more than a whole cite.

Epanadiplosis, sis, f. ge. a figure, whan a sentence begynneth with a woorde, and endeth with the same.

Epanados, a figure, whan two thynges reherced together, be spoken of afterward seuerally.

Epanalepsis, sis, f. g. a replication, or repetition.

Epanaphora, ra, f. g. a figure, whan diuers clauses begyn with one woorde, repetition.

Epanus, the sonne of Iupiter and Io, or Isis, that builded Memphis in Egypt.

Ephirodus, ti, m. ge. a pleasant felow.

Eparchia, a, f. g. a prouince.

Eparchiotes, te, one of a prouince.

Eparchus, the president of a prouince.

Epatica, an herbe called lyuer wort.

Epatarius, looke Hepatarius.

Epatius, looke Hepatius.

Epatitis, idem quod simlax.

Epauxis, is, f. m. gene. an increase, the figure Incrementum.

Epeirus, a cuntreie, which hath on the north Macedonia, on the west and south the Adriaticke, and Ionike sea: on the east Thracia. In this reigned the famous Pirrhys, it hath tyng to it the Fles Lozon, Ithaca, and Zarynthus. &c. this countreie is now vnder the Turke.

Ependiesis, a figure, whan a letter or syllable is added in the myddes of a woorde.

Epeus, the sonne of Andymon, whiche made the horse that was conueighed into Troie.

Ephelia, a, f. g. the age, wherein one entred into mans estate. xv. or xvi. yeres.

Ephibium, i, n. ge. the place where ponge strys spages exercised wastynge.

Ephelus, bi, in. gen. he that is of the age of, or xvi. yeres.

Ephedron, dri, n. ge. the herbe called also Hippuris, or equisetum, whiche bringe fode in a new earthen vessel, consumeth the Spilene.

Ephеггis, the declaration or exposition of that, whiche went before.

Ephemeris febris, a feure apte to be cured in one daie, but neglected, it cometh to be in dyuine sort of feures, and accordyng to the nature of them, continueth longer. The cause therof is somtyme of outward heates, somtyme of much labour or weynesse, somtyme of oppilation, somtyme of repletion, especially of dyuine meates & dyuines, otherwhyles of longe abstinence or watche, or of corruption of that, wherewith the bodie is nourished.

Ephemeris meridis, f. m. g. a boke, wherof is written that, which is dooen daierly, a register, or a booke of recknyng, wherof thynges laped out and receiued be writen.

Ephemerion, is that, whiche apothecaries call Harmobactilus, an extreme purger of stome. also a certayne beast that breedeth about the river Hippanis, and a certayne herbe, haunging leaues lyke a lily, called also Liliu conuulium, in englishe Aricumphantie, as some deu iudge: other thinke it to be called may lilies.

Ephestius familiaris, familiar, of the same house or familie.

Ephesiades, certayne ples, called of the latins Vulcanæ, and Acolæ.

Ephesus, ephesi, a noble auncient citee in Asia the lesse. It is intercepted by saint Hierome, my will. There remneth by it a great ruyn called Caystrus, out of whiche be deriued many other riuers. In this citee was the famous temple of Diana, nysed among the. vii. wordes of the worlde, edified by all Asia in an. lxx. yeres, and was set in a fen or mar the ground, the foundation being firste layed with roles, troden or rammed harde, than stices of wolle laid thereon, and all this was to lase it from earthquakes. The temple was in length. 425. fote, in breadth 220. In it were 127. pillours, euery of them. lx. fote high, made by kynges, the roufe was of cedar trees, and the doores of Lypyres. A lewde persone, of purpose to get a renoume in histories (becyng conuante of glory, and haunging none excellent qualitee to atteyne therunto) puttynge wylde fyre into the roufe, dyd burne this temple. His name was Herostatus (as Strabo writeth) wherof preceded a prouerbe.

Herostrati gloria, applied vnto that that is for a renoume or prayse of a mischeuous act.

Ephi, a measure conteynyng. iii. Romaine bushels, called modij, of our measure nine gallons.

Ephialtes, is, m. g. a discafe, whan one sleepynge thinketh, that a great weight lyeth vpon hym, and and taketh his wynde from hym. It is of some called the maare, whiche is none other thyng but a fumostice, rising from the Romache or herbe, vnto the hyppis, there oppressing the vertue animall.

Ephialtes, and Celus, two sonnes of Neptune, whiche as poetes doo feigne, dyd gouerne the moeth in wyther, & trauelyng to theyr length, intended to ouerthrowe heauen.

Ephippii, they that haue theyr hortes trapped with colly hatnes.

Ephippium, n. neu. g. the harness of an horse or mule, a saddle.

Ephod, a vestment, used in the ceremonies of the Jewes, of the whiche were two sort, one of white spynen lyke an aube, that other priestes be the other, whiche serued for the high priest onely, was made of golde, purple, scarlet, & dyed, and wounde like, like vnto the Tunicle, that the deacon weareth at Masse.

Ephori, were certayn men in authority amonge the Lacedæmonians, as Tribunes weramonge the Romayns, to whom men myght appeale fro the kyng, as in Rome they mought appeale fro the Consules vnto the Tribunes.

Ephorus, the name of a wyter of histories, tholar to Aristotle.

Ephydios, loke Ephedron.

Ephyræ, or Ephire, es, a towne of Achaia, whiche nowe is called Corinthus. Also a mythe, the daughter of Oceanus and Crithos.

Ephyras, adis, a woman of Corinth.

Ephyras, a woman of Laconia.

Ephra, a, a towne of Achaia, the people wherof were called Eph.

Ephialtes, a feure ingendred of colde fleume.

Ephibades, a certayne kynde of shyppe, called a bark or a passanger.

Ephibara, ra, m. g. a shuldour on the sea.

Ephibara, the ladder that goeth vnto the toppes castell of the shyppe.

Epicuma, caumatis, neu. gene. a soule toye in the eye.

Epicuridia, a, a kynde of botes or shippes.

Epicidium, verses made in commendation of a dead man.

Epicurismus, the name of an excellent philosopher of Syracuse.

Epicurisma, a, is, n. gen. an argument made in reasonyng.

Epicurista, drum, n. g. opnetynge.

Epicurys, sis, f. g. a funnell.

Epicurum, of bothe the kyndes, male & female.

Epicoma, the difference of sores, whiche rise in the eyes.

Epicrocutis, cl. n. g. a garment of cassin colour.

Epicurus, the name of a stoike philosopher.

Epicurus, and Epicurius, a, um, perteynyng to the Epicures. also voluptuous.

Epicurus, the name of hym that dyd putte the principal goodnesse in voluptuousnesse.

Epicus, epica, um, an adiectiue.

Epicus verus, an exhameter verse.

Epidamnus, a towne in the south west part of Grece on the sea syde, called also Dyrrachium.

Epidauris, or Epidaurium, a citee in Grece in the countreie called Achaia, wherin was a famous temple dedicated vnto Esculapius, to the which a great multitude of sicke people dyd resorte, and some in their sleape had shewed vnto them this medicine, whereby they shoulde be cured of their sicknesse.

Epidemetic, they that appoynt lodgings for sicke as folowes, wayte, and attende vpon synners, herbigers.

Epidemia, a, f. m. g. a pestilence or vniuersall plague of synners.

Epidicticon, demonstratiue, that perteineth to praynyng or dispraying.

Epidipnida, arum, f. m. g. banquettyng dythes, brought in at the latter ende of dyner or supper.

Epidromes, dromidis, the armyng of a netre.

Epidromon, the sayle of a shyppe.

Epigastrium, neu. gen. all the bealge, from the shoulde downe to the priue members, whiche is called also Abdomen.

Epigamia, a, f. m. ge. affinitie with other by marriage.

Epigenema, nematis, idem quod Symptoma, apud medicos.

Epigenis, the herbe Climatis.

Epigenes, a philosopher of Byzance.

Epiglossis, or Epiglossis, a small thyng in the innermost part of the tongue, lyke a netunge.

Epigoni, the surname of them that were the cause of the seconde warre of Thebes.

Epigramma, a, is, neu. gen. a superscription, an epigramme.

Epigrammarchus, ri, n. g. he that wyrteth verses called Epigrammata.

Epigraphe, es, f. g. a title or inscription.

Epigryps, pi, m. g. he that hath a crooked nose.

Epi, certayn people called after Elidenies.

Epucia, or Epices, f. ge. is that parte of iustice, called in latine Aequum & bonum, in englishe there is not any one word founden therfore, but that thereby maie be vnderstand, that equitee, whiche omitteth parte of the rigour or extremitee of a lawe that is written, or reformeth iustice to the occasion newly happened, whiche was not remembered of the makers of the lawe, applyng it to the thyng, wherof least detriment maie seeme to ensue.

Epilepsia, a, f. ge. called also Morbus comitialis, & Morbus sacer, Morbus Herculeus, & Morbus S. loannis, in englishe the fallenge sicknesse, the soule puel.

After Alexander it is an infection of the head & brygne, in the parte, wherof is conteyned vnderstandyng, the chiefe of all senses.

Galene saith, it is a colde humour, wherwith the celles of the brygne are not perfectly stopped, prohibyng the soule to execute execute his operation, but till nature have effect soones opened the naturall cunites of the bwayne, removing that humour. It happeneth (as Constantinus writeth) of one of these three causes, either of an humour dysmatike or me-lancoly, bredde in the hinder moste parte of the bwayne, or of a wynd grosse & cold, appoynted bwayne, or of humours so muche aboundynge in the stomake, so that the fume thereof ascendeth up to the bwayne by the sinues, by whose grossenesse the waies or passages of the vitall spirites are stopped.

Epilepticus, ci, m. ge. he that hath that disease.

Epiligna, na, fo. ge. a certayne base ointment, that is commonly used of all men.

Epimelas, a certayne white precious stone, somewhat durtish in the upper parte.

Epilogus, i, m. gene. a conclusion in writynge of speaking.

Epimachus, a mans name.

Epimelis, a kynde of medlar trees, the fruite whereof hath in it iii. stones.

Epimelon, & epimelida, a certayne kynde of wild dyng apples, beie flower & noxious to the head and stomake: some thinke it to be the crabbe or wilding called Vnedo, other thinke it a kynde of pearce, loke Barbar. in Coroll. de arbuto.

Epimenides, a noble philosopher in the pie of Crete: who being a pong man, and sent by his father to seeke a shepe, for werynesse and heate of the daye, went into a denne of holowe place in an hyl to rest hym where he slepte continually .47. yeres, and then being awaked, went forth to seeke his shepe, and not find-ynge hym, returned home, and fyndynge an other man dwelling in the house, whiche was his fathers, and beholding euery thyng altered, he went into the citee, wher at the laste he founde his ponger brother, being a man of great peres, of whom he knewe all that was happened, and after became a meruap'ous philosopher, and wote of the nature of thynges, and of the diuine generation, and had the gife of prophete, as some suppose. He liued (as Lartius writeth) 179 yeres: after other mēsurages 124. yeres And was before the inear-nation of Christ 147. yeres.

Epimenidium, a kynde of herbes, that hath a rounde roote lyke an onion, & is displeasante in catynge.

Epimetheus, the sonne of Lapetus, and brother of Prometheus.

Epimyctis, looke Epinyctis.

Epimythium, n, n. g. the declaration of a fable in a morall sence.

Epimicia, drum, verses conteyning p'p'ces.

Epimicium, n, neu. g. a feast or ioye made for his croy: as bonfyres, and bankettes therat.

Epinyctes, a wheate or pulke that ryseth on the thynde by nyght also a disease in the eye.

Epinyctis, is also a booke of register of thynges doone in the nyght.

Episodium, or Epicedium, dii, n. g. a songe, songe at a buriall, before the corpe be buried.

Epiphanes, a notable or famous, it was the last name of Antiochus the most cruell tyrant.

Epiphania, a, fo. g. a manifestation, it is also solemyne feast in the church.

Epiphonema, aia, neu. gene. a sentence of ad-clamation, conteyning the summe of conclusion of a thyng.

Epiphora, ra, f. g. a sickeynes of the eyes, called in the dialoques of the eyes.

Epiploocle, es, f. g. a disease, when the int'ray-les of the thynde lappynge out, that compasse
the int'rayles, fall into the robbe.

Epipomphalon, li, n. g. a disease, when the ear is of such a nature, that the guttes are lapped, by which out of the nauell.

Epipedium, dii, n. g. a waggon or carte.

Epipora, a, f. g. one of Epire.

Epiporeus, a, um, of the countre called Epira.

Epiponica mala, called also Rouunda.

Epirus, a region in the south west part of Grece, loke Epirus.

Epischidion, schidi, n. g. a wedge

Episcopatus, us, m. g. a bishopricke.

Episcopium, ph, neu. ge. a bishopps palatyn house, or a place to lye out at.

Episcopi, a, um, perteyning to epiall.
Nayes, episcopi, a wyppes sent out to rype.

Episcopus, pi, m. ge. a bishop. Sometyme and p'et: sometyme a clerke of the market.

Epispastica, a salutes of plaisters to drawe manand filth out of a wounde.

Epistalma, the commission of a prince, hauynge charge subscribed.

Epistola villica, a woman that hath the ouersight or keepynge of a ferme in the countre.

Epistates, te, mas, ge. a portour, an ouersight bailliffe, a steward of housholde.

Epistatimi, by the interpretation of Budus, archerbiggers, appoyntes of lodgings for trayn of princes, wherby o Budus denifieth a latine worde, calling them Legionatores in sionarii, or certain. But in myne opinion the grecke name maie be used well and properly.

Epistola, a, f. g. a letter sent fro one to an other.

Epistolarius, te, perteyning to epistles or letters.

Epistola is charyn, wrytynge payre.

Epistolium, li, n. g. a littell epistle.

Epistomium, n, neu. gen. a colic of sponte, flow-dyng out water fro a cundite, a tappe, or vnt like thyng.

Epistopus, a kyng of Phoris.

Epistropheus, the foremost iointe in the necke.

Epistylum, li, n. g. the chapter of a pillour, or a littell pillour sette vpon a greater.

Epitaphium, n, neu. ge. a scripture wrytten on a grave or sepulchre, an epitaph.

Epitasis, the part of a comedie wher it is most busy and troublous.

Epi

epithalamium, n, neu. g. a songe being songe at a weddinge, or verses made in the prayse of them that are married.

epithema, rhematis, n. g. a medicine laied to the region of the herte or lyuer to coole it.

epithelis, a counterfauted inscription to deceiue
a man.

epithetes, a deceptiour.

epitheton, an addition, properly applied to a thyng for some notable qualitee, whiche it si-gnifieth: as, Scenum mare, the roughe sea:

Gariula pica, the chattering ppe: Crudelis
Nero, the cruell Aero: Campi florigeri, the flourishing fieldes.

epithymia, a, f. g. concupiscence, desyre.

epithymum, the floure of the harder tyme like unto sauorie, the toppes thyn and lyghte, the balles lyke vnto heates. The difference be-twene that and the other floure of tyme, is, that this is greene, of the colour of an herbe, the other is whyte. It groweth specially in Crete.

It is hote and drye in the middell of the thirde degree, and purgeth melancolye or blacke chol-ler: or after other, it is a weede that taketh hold of the bradches of tyme, and so wyndeth about it, that it is noursished of the tyme roote, and beareth a flower lyke tyme.

epithymum, a meane to conferre oliues.

Epitogium, n, n. ge. a garmente woyn vpon a gowne. It maie be used for suche an hoodde as graduates weare in vniuersities, or elles that whiche they call their habite.

Epitome, es, or Epitoma, a, f. g. a bridgement, or breuiare.

Epimachus, gi, m. g. a certayne fish.

Epimachia, drum, the name of all maner belfels belonging to the table.

Epitrus, a foote of foure sillables, of the whiche one distreth euer from the other thre.

Epitrope, es, f. g. procuration, wardshipp.

Epitropus, id est, procurator.

Epityrum, ri, n. g. a chese cake.

Epodus, di, a kynde of verses, whiche hath the first verse longer than the second: as,
Beatus ille, qui procul negotiis,
Vtriusque morum talium.

Epolanos, olde waters used for Epulones.

Epomes, idis, a cloke, a hood, to cast on ones shoulders.

Epopa, a mountayne.

Epops, epops, idem quod Vpupa.

Eporedia, a citee of the Salatiners.

Eporedica, arum, good breakers of hoxses.

Epos, odos, a woorde or a kynde of verse of songe, whiche conteyneth thynges concernynge as well god as man.

Epoto, au, are, to drynke by all.

Epous, a, um, drunke by.

Epula, arum, meates. also a bankette made to many persons. Sometyme pasture for beastes.

Epulatio, a, um, meates. also a bankette made to many persons. Sometyme pasture for beastes.

Epulatio, a, um, meates. also a bankette made to many persons. Sometyme pasture for beastes.

Menfa epulis conquississimis extruebantur, the tables wer set of garnished with most deyntie and costly dyshes.

Profusa epula, feastes to sumptuous or costly.

Epula, a, was used of olde wyters in the singular numbze.

Epularis, re, belonging to a feast or banquet.

Epularis sermo, communicacion meete for a feast or banquet.

Epularis dies, a feast date.

Epulario, onis, f. g. feastyng.

Epulatio, a, um, apte to be eaten at a feaste or bankette.

Epulatus, a, um, that hath feasted or banketted.

Epulis, pulidis, f. ge. fleshe that groweth on the gummes about a mannes teethe.

Epulo, onis, plural. epulones, men boden to a great feast, or they whiche come vnboden to eate the reuercion. Amonge the gentiles it wee they that were called by the priestes to eate that whiche was lesse of the sacrifice, or rather to helpe to make the feast at the sacrifice.

Epulor, aris, ari, to eate at feastes or bankettes.

Epulum, epuli, n. ge. a great feast, wherunto all the people assembled, whiche amonge the olde Romayns was made euer to the honoz of som of their goddis: or at the buryng of some notable personage. It maie bee now taken for a churche feast, or feast of a brotherhead, or dy-ner made at a burpall or interment. It hath been sometyms used to bee taken for a banquette.

Equarium, an herbe called also Hippofellu- non, Olus arum, and Olus pullum, in englyshe alsaunders.

Equa, a, f. g. a mare.

Equaria, a, f. g. an hearde of hoxses and mates.

Equarius, m. g. an hoxse leache.

Equarius, a, um, perteyning to hoxses or mates.

Equarius medicus, an hoxse leache.

Eques, itis, com. gen. an hoxseman, contrarie to the foreman Somtyme it is take for a knyght.

But I suppose that amonge the Romayns, Equires were taken for them, whiche we call gentill men. It is sometyme used for iudges, because they were chosen out of that order. als
so Eques is taken in Virgil for an hoxse.

Locare eques pro cornibus, to set the hox-men in the wynges of the battayle.

Equestris, stre, perteyning to Eques, as,
Equestris ordo, The state or degree of gentill men.

Equestres copie, the numbze or compagne of hoxsemen.

Equestria, the places assigned for gentillmen, where they satte to beholde any solemne sight tes or playes.

Pes equestris, an hoxse foote.

Equestris, Aewe castell in Fraunce.

Equi

Equicervus, ui, m. g. called also Hippelaphus, a beast in the orient, hauing hoznes and a long mane to the shuldres, and a bearde vnder his chynne, and feete rounde clouen lyke an hart, and is as great as a harte.

Equidem, veraily, trulye somtyme in a sentence it signifieth nothng, but supplieth the nūbre. Equidem certē idem sum, qui semper fui. As for me trulye I am the same man, that I haue been alwayes.

Equiferus, a wylde hozse.

Equila, a littell mare.

Equile, lis, n. g. a stable for hozses.

Equimentum, ti, n. ge. the hye of the stalpon to couer a mare.

Equinus, a, um, of an hozse.

Equio, iui, ire, when a mare despyeth to be couered.

Equiria, ōrum, n. g. plu. a rennyng with hozses, a plaie dedicated vnto Mars.

Equifelis, an herbe lyke an hozse maane.

Equifessor, a man on hozsebacke.

Equifetum, i, n. g. an herbe called hozsefayle.

Equifō, ōnis, m. g. an hozse breaker. Somtyme an hozse keeper, Of olde wytes it was vled for all them that had ouersight of any thyng.

Equitabilis, le, able to bee rydden. also a place where hozses mpyght caspily walke.

Equitatio, ōnis, f. g. a rydyng.

Equitatus, us, ma. ge. an hoste of hozsemen. also the acte of rydyng. Somtyme the state of ordce of genyll men.

Equitum, ū, neu. g. the esquire or compagne of the stable, or rather a troupe of hozses.

Equitus the propre name of a man, and surname of a familie in Rome.

Equito, equitas, aui, āre, to ryde.

In orbem equitare, to ryde round about.

Equitare in arundine longa, To ryde on a staffe of reede: and by translation to playe the chylde.

Equitari, the passue, to be ridden on.

Equuleus, lei, m. g. an hozse colte. also a manner of tourment made of burnyng plates, lyke to an hozse, wherein men were tourmented.

Equulus, li, m. g. a nagge or littell hozse.

Equus, i, m. g. an hozse.

Equus carpentarius, a carte hozse, or chariotte hozse.

Generosus equus, an hozse of a ioly and lusty courage.

Equus citatus, an hozse taken by a losse.

Caspitatores equi, stumblng hozses.

Anfractus leuioris equi, the tournge of a quicke hozse nowe on the one syde, nowe on the other, a carriere.

Acer equus, a swifte hozse.

Bellator equus, a hozse of warre.

Duri oris equus, a stubburne hozse, that will not folowe the bitte.

Recentes equi, fresh hozses.

Equus intractatus, and indomitus, an hozse that is not broken.

Equum accendere stimulis, to quychen an hozse with the spures.

Admittere equum, looke Admitto.

In equum ascendere, and insilire, to leape on hozse backe, to take ones hozse.

Cadere de equo, looke Cado.

Concitare equum, to take vp his hozse with the spures.

Exhortari equum, to encourage an hozse.

Frangere equum, to byddell an hozse.

Incidere equo, and Harere in equo, to fyte on an hozse.

Insfernere equum, to trappe an hozse, or to faddell an hozse.

Equus, is also a sterre.

✱ Equus I roianus, a prouerbe, notyng the destruction of a citie to bee nourished within the same.

Velis equisque, prouerbiaily, with all spere and endeuour.

ERadico, cāui, cāre, to pluche by the rootes.

Eradicare aures alterius, to annoye a man by tellyng ouer many tales.

Erādo, si, ere, to scrape of or out of a thyng, to putte out.

Albo senatorio erasit, He put his name out of the table of Senatours.

Erant, collectors of taskes or contributions.

Erania pecunia, the money that such collectors doe gather.

Eranthemum, a kynde of camomill, haunging purple floures, loke Chamamelon.

Eranthemis, idem quod anthyllus.

Erasī, men put out of wages.

Erasinus, the name of a rpuer.

Erasistratus, a noble physiciā of the house of Antioche, who for healyng kyng Antiochus, receyued of Ptolomeus his sonne, an hundred talents, whiche dooe amount of our monie, to xi. ii. M. LXX. lxxv. li. he was before the incarnation of Christ. 243. yeres.

Erasus, a, um, rased or scraped out.

Erate, es, a nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.

Erato, the name of one of the muses, whiche had preeminence ouer louers. it is somtyme taken for Calliope.

Eratosthenes, the name of a philosophier.

Ercinia, a wouderfull great wood in Germany.

Ercisceor, scēis, scēri, to diuide or make partition of gooddes or landes betwene diuers heyyes, assignyng to euery one his porcion.

Erciscunda familia iudicium, a iudgement for the diuynng or partynng of gooddes betwene diuers heyyes.

Ercius

erius, one of the names of Jupiter.

erum, vled of olde wytes for Arctum.

erebus, a, um, of Erebus.

eribus, bi, m. g. one of the riuers of hell. Somtyme it is taken for a certayne darknesse, whiche portes feigne to be in helle.

erchites, idem quod Senecio.

erchus, a kyng of Athenes.

erchio, ōnis, f. g. an aduancynge and lpyngge vp of a thyng.

erchus, a, um, sette or raised vpreght, lpyte vp, aduanced, in a readynesse.

Erectus expectatione, attentue and readye to heare thāt it shall be spoken.

Erecti ad libertatem recuperandam, readye and glad to recouer their libertee.

Capulo erecto euolare ex aliquo loco, To runne speedily out of a place with his heare standing and standyng vpright.

In amos erectus equus, an hozse that cometh aloft, and standeth on his hynder legges.

Erectioe animo esse, To haue a moze lustye coura ge.

erembi, people in Arabia, whiche goo naked.

eremgo, aui, āre, to saple or passe ouer, to ren ouer, to rowe ouer.

eremita, a, ma. ge. an heremite, one that dwelth in wyldernesse.

eremodiciū, cū, neu. gene. defaulte of appertraunce at the daie whan one is bounde to appere: or whan sentence is geuen, one of the parties beeyng absent, whiche in the digestes Tit de minor. infra. & in codice de iudiciis, is corruptely red Heimodiciū.

eremus, mi, f. g. a deserte or solitary place.

eripo, reph, ere, to crepe vp, to clyme vp hardly with great pcyne.

eripus, a, um, taken away, deliuered. Somtyme dead.

Humanis ereptus, dead.

erichthion, ōn, of Thessaly, whiche for contēnyng Ceres was made to hungry, that he dēd ate the partes of his owne body.

erichion, ōnis, a braunche of Oliue, vled agaynst pestilence.

erenia, a famous citie of the ple Subera.

eremia, a, f. g. a kynde of Cruse.

erericanes, dogges nourished by the commandement of Apollo, whiche dēd also among othere thynges drave the plough.

eretur, a, a strete in the Sabines towne.

erendhalion, a man of huge greatnesse, whiche was slayn by Nestor.

Erga, towards, agaynst.

Erga festum natalis Christi, agaynst Christmasse. Beneuolentiam erga aliquē habere, to beare fauour or rpyght god wyll towards one.

Ergelyus, the proper name of a man.

Erga nea, a towne of Spayne.

Ergasterium, ū, n. g. a woozthhouse.

Ergastes siue ergastus, a woozke man.

Ergastularius, ū, ma. ge. the saple or keeper of a prison.

Ergastulum, li, n. ge. an house where men were compelled to woozke on stone or mettall: nowe it is taken for a prison, somtyme for the prisoners.

Ergastulus, i, ma. gen. a seruaunt of aue kepte in prison.

Ergatum, an ingine to drawe by thynges of great wyght or weight, called a craane.

Erginus, a tyranne, whom Hercules subdued and slewe. also a rpuer of Thrace.

Ergo, therfore, somtyme it is spoken by daye honestly.

Eac ergo quod lubet, than dō as the lyst. Somtyme exhozyng.

Ergo age, go to. Somtyme it signifieth because.

Illus ergō, for his sake.

Virtutis ergō, because of vertue.

Ergumenus, vered with an yll spyte.

Eribaa, the stepmother of Mercurie. also a citie of Macedonie.

Eribanthos, idem quod Cicer. loke there.

Erice, or erica, ca, for. g. an herbe, that groweth in wilde mooyes, called in englishe heath, heth hather, or ling. It is also a sythe, which is supaposed to haue a voyce.

Erica, ū, m. g. a kynde of hony, wilde honie.

Ericates, a mans name.

Erice, es, Erica, a, or Erix, icis, the swete broome whiche hath leaues lyke rosemare, but that they be somewhat pichyng.

Erichinus, a sythe of the sea called a rochet.

Erices, a towne of Liguria.

Erichtho, a woman of Thessaly.

Erichthonius, and Erichthens, the fyist kyng of Athens, whiche inuented a chariot.

Eridanus, ni, a rpuer in Italy, nowe called Padus, in Italian Po, ngye to the citie called Pataniū, so named of Eridanus, which was drowned in the same.

Erigeron, an herbe called also Senecio, groundswell.

Ergo, erigis, rexi, ere, to sit vp, to lpyte vp, to rise vp, to aduance.

Erigere scalas ad mœnia, to set vp ladders, or a ladder to the walles of a towne.

Erigere ad spem, to put in hope.

Erigite animos, lpyte vp your spirites, take courage.

Erigere ad gloriam, to aduance to honour, to make renowned.

Agari se in spem legis exerant, They that fauoured the diuision of landes, conciued a good hope, that the lawe mpyght be brought to passe.

Erigere in gradus, to make higher and higher with steppes.

Eriger afflictum, to succour and comforte one that is oppressed with misery.

Erigere animum & spem auster, to comforte one,

one,

one, and put hym in hope of a thyng.
 Erigere aures, & animum attendere, to geue eare, and hearken diligently.
 Erigere rem publicam, to succour the commune weale almost oppressed.
 Erigere in digitos, to stande on tpp toe.
 Erigone, the daughter of Icharius, sister of Ihesnelope, whiche was tourmed by the goddis into the signe called Virgo.
 Erimanthus, looke Erymanthus.
 Erinacius, looke Herinacius.
 Erineon, a wyld fygge tree also a citee in Doris.
 Erinnyes, nyos, or nyis, for. ge. the name of one of the furies of helle, sometyme it is taken for the rage of warre.
 Erinum, ni, neu. gen. a medicine, purgeynge the head by the eares.
 Erioxilon, neut. gene. the moul of the shubbe called Xylon.
 Eriphia, a, f. g. a wythe.
 Eriphyle, the wyfe of Amphiarus, and sister of Adastus, which betrayed hir housbande for an ounce of golde, at the siege of Thebes.
 Eriphyia, an plande.
 Eripio, eripis, ripui, ere, to take away by force, to plucke out, to snatche, to deliuer out of danger. Sometyme to make haste.
 Eripe fugam, flee away in haste.
 Eripuisti a me librum, Thou haste taken my booke from me.
 Eripuisti me a periculo, Thou hast deliuered me from perill.
 Eripuisti mihi pecuniam, Thou haste taken my money from me.
 Eripere aliquem domo, To pull one out of his house.
 Eripere & extorquere.
 Eripere linguam alicui, To pull out ones toungue.
 Eripere facultatem aliquid faciendi, to sette a man to dooe a thyng that he myghte ones haue dooen.
 Eripere alicui amicum, to withdawe a mans frend from hym by ill tales, or other meanes.
 Eripere alicui aspectum senatus, To banghe or forbyd one to come into the senate.
 Orationem ex ore tu mihi eripis, thou takest
 my tale out of my mouth.
 Eripere se a miseria, to deliuer and ryd hym
 selfe out of myserie.
 Eripere pudicitiam, to rauynge.
 Se ex crimine eripere, to discharge hym selfe of a crime that he is accused of.
 Eris, ris, or eridis, an herbe growynge in Egypt, and may be interpreted contention.
 Erisichthon, looke Eresichthon.
 Erisinum, ni, n. g. semeth to some phisicians to be wild mustard seede.
 Erithrodanum, wooddusse or madder.
 Erithace, looke Erythace.
 Erithacos, the bird called robben redbeck.

Erithaea, idem quod erithacos.
 Erithales, an herbe of the kynde of spynegre, housleche.
 Erithraones, a certayne birde of the kynde of geese, somewhat of blackish colour, mist with redde, they beynge kept in houses, die for anger.
 Erodius, a birde, whiche in tyme of treading sweateth bloude. It is translated of Thredozus, Ardeola. Sainct Augustin calleth Fulica: Suidas supposeth it to be Cicoma.
 After Calepine, it is the greatest foule that flyeth, and ouercometh and eateth the egge.
 Erodo, si, ere, to gnawe of, to gnawe about.
 Erogatio, onis, f. g. distribution of thynges other men, a liberall geuyng.
 Erogatus, a, um, geuen abrode, distributed.
 Erogito, aui, are, to bespce heartly.
 Ergo, erogas, aui, are, to employe or bestow on a thyng, to distribute of geue to thep aske of vs.
 Pecunias alicui erogare in rem aliquam, to deliuer moneye to one to bee bestowed on a thyng.
 Eropia, one of the ples Cyclades, called also Afis, and afterward Syphnus.
 Erösis, a, um, knawen round about.
 Erpillon, li, n. g. wilde tyme.
 Erothalles, idem quod Aizoum maius.
 Eros, loue, also a mans name.
 Eroséma, isis, neu. gene. a demaunde, an exterrogacion.
 Erotenticus, he that often demaundeth.
 Erötylos, a precious stone lyke to flint.
 Errabundus, a, um, muche wanderyng or wandbunde, straying or rennyng at rours.
 Errans, antis, cryng, wanderyng, straying abrode.
 Errans & vaga sententia, a waueryng and vncoustant opinion.
 Errantia, a, idem quod error.
 Erratica, herbes, which doo growe of theim selus without culture, ye maie call theim weedes.
 Erraticus, a, um, that creeperth here and there, as, Vitis erratica, a creeper vine that groweth out in diuers places.
 Erratica herba, a weed or herbe that groweth wyldely abrode, without sowynge.
 Erratio, onis, f. g. gen. a goynge out of the waie, wandryng, a straying abrode, a rounge.
 Erratus, a, um, that one hath wandered or strayed in.
 Petere veniam errato alicuius, to bespce pardon for a thyng that one hath dooen amide in.
 Erro, aui, are, to erre, to rounge, or wander, to straye abrode, to be deceyued. Sometyme to go to pasture.
 Inter audaces lupus errat agnos, scyth, goeth.
 Errare de verbis alicuius, to mysse understand the wordes that one speaketh.
 Varij colores saepe errant in vultu solis, when the sonne semeth to be of diuers colours.

circum villulas omnes errare, to go aboute from one maner place to an other.
 Erras, si id credis, Thou art deceyued, yf thou mynke so.
 Errare in hanc partem errare, I had rather erre to this side, than to that.
 Errare, quid errer, I perceiue well, wherein I am deceyued.
 Erras via, Thou arte cleane out of the waie, thou arte utterly deceyued.
 Errator in nomine, They hytte not of knowledge the right name.
 Error, onis, m. g. a sterter asyde, a wanderer, a pperer, a vagabunde.
 Erroneus, idem quod Error.
 Erroneus, m. g. an error, ppropely where falshode is affirmed and taken for trouthe, or trouthe for falschode. Sometyme ignoraunce.
 Erroneus, m. g. a decepte, trumpery, wanderyng.
 Mens alienata error, rauynge, madnesse.
 Eodem errore captus quo nos, deceyued in the same thyng that we bee.
 Enorem creat, looke Creo.
 Enesse mentis errore, to make madde.
 Enesse errore, to deceyue.
 Enescam, or Eripiam tibi errorem, I wyll auenge the trouth to you, or I wyll informe you of the trouth, & shewe you wherein you be deceyued.
 Ducere errore, looke Duce.
 Ab errore auellere aliquem, to withdawe a man from an error or false opinion.
 Fessus errore viarum, weery with wandryng or goynge out of the waie.
 Inducere in errorem, to deceyue, to byngne into error.
 Lapsus errore, or per errorem, deceyued by a false opinion that he had conceyued.
 In magno errore sunt, They bee in a great error, or they be greatly deceyued.
 In magno errore uisari, teneri errore, trahi errore, in errore esse, to bee deceyued, or in a false opinion.
 Rubescendus, a, um, a thyng to bee ashamed of.
 Rubescere, bui, scere, to bee ashamed, or to blashe.
 Nec erubuit ora vestra, and yet was he not ashamed to come before you.
 Rubesco loqui, I am ashamed to speake.
 Erubescere fortune, to be ashamed of that hath chaunced to one by fortune.
 Roca, a, f. g. an herbe called Rockat. Also a woorme called the canker, whiche is common ly upon colewoortes.
 Rusto, aui, are, to bealke or breake wynd out of the stomacke, & by translocation, to speake rudes-ly, and with greates despiute, to scnde or caste forthly.
 Ruderis, aui, are, to throwe out, or cary away rubbel, as moister, stones, and other like thynges of olde bygdynges decayed or pulled downe.

Erudio, erudis, iui, ire, to teache any arte or science, to instruct, to informe, to make runnyng.
 Erudire ad rationem vitam, to instruct to some maner of luyng.
 Erudire in aliqua re, to instructe one in any
 thyng.
 Erudire aliquem artes, to teache one artes or sciences.
 Erudire laboribus iuuentutem, to exerceise of byng by youth in labours.
 Erudiuit te vsus, vse hath taught you.
 Eruditio, onis, f. g. doctrine or teachynge.
 Eruditulus, li, m. g. somewhat learned.
 Erudius, a, um, learned or taught, instructed.
 Erudius graecis literis, learned in the grecke tungue.
 Erugatio, onis, f. g. a wyndlyng.
 Erugo, looke Aerugo.
 Erugo, giui, ire, to bealke or breake wynde by warde, the simple of cructo.
 Erugo, aui, are, to make wyndled.
 Erugare cutem, to make the skyn wyndled.
 Erullia, a, f. g. a graine, whiche some call tares, but I thinke it rather to be some other kinde of graine, that groweth in corne fieldes.
 Eruiangina, na, f. g. a certaine weed growynge amonge corne, and by windynge about it, killeth
 it. this weed hath a stalke a foote and an halfe high, somewhat ruddish, rough, tender, & hath a fatte or grosse leafe, either a yelow flower, or somewhat whitish, the roote a finger biggent is called also Erubanche, chokewede.
 Erulia, some do suppose to be frenche beanes.
 Erumna, looke Aerumna.
 Erumpo, rupi, ere, to brafte out, sometyme to leape forth with violence, to breake out of an holde or citee vpon enemies: and by translaon, to come abrode to the knowlage of men.
 Erumper in neruum istare fortitudo, I pro-uerbe diuersly expounded, for it may signifie,
 This courage of thine maye byngne the to an halter, or to fite by the heeles: or it maye signifie, This great strength and courage of thine wyll come vnto nothyng. Whiche prouerbe is taken of Archers, whiche ofentymes when they put forth most strength, breake the streynge of theyr bowe, and the arrowe fallerth downe at their feete, wherby the shote is lost, and commeth to nothyng.
 Quae per hoc triennium agitata sunt, in hoc tempus erumpunt, Suche thynges as haue ben pryncipally caused these thre yeres space: dooe nowe at this tyme breake forthly suddenly.
 In actum erumpere, to come to effecte.
 In occulto colloqui, quae mox in omnium perniciem erupura sunt, To commune of those thynges pryncipally, whiche in effecte er it be longe, will tourne to the utter destruction of the whole commune weale.
 Erumpunt se ex portis foras, they breake forthly or they pssed out at the gates of the cite.

Hæc, quo eruptura sint, timeo, I feare to what ende of issue these matters will come. Erumpit amens hominis furor, The fure of that bzapnelesse felowe will shewe it selfe at some tyme.

Erumpunt lachrymæ, the teares bzast out. Ne in me stomachum erumpant, That they doo not viter of shewe thepp tankred stomake of malice towarde me.

Iam ne hoc erumpere mihi gaudium licet? maie I now out with this my ioye & gladnesse. Illust'atur & erumpunt omnia, All your secretes be nowe manifest to see, & come abrode to euery mans knowlage.

Erunico, aut, are, to weede out.

Erungium, a certayne herbe, toke Eryngium.

Eruo, eruis, ui, ere, to drawe out w th force, to plucke up by the rootes, to get and come to the knowlage of thynges by labour and study.

Erure in lucem, to make manifest of knownen.

Erure ex tenebris, idem.

Aurum tera erure, To dryge golde out of the earthe.

Erure oculum, to plucke out ones eye.

Sus rostro femina eruit, The sowe rooteth by the seede with hir snoute.

Et ex his ea erure, quæ scriptores graeci prodiderunt, And to picke and gear out of them the knowlage of those thynges, which the greke authours haue put in wytyng.

Erure herbas noxias, to plucke by weedes.

Eruptio, onis, fæm. ge. is whan an hoste is cutt hastily out of a citie, campe, or fortreffe, and setteth on their enemies.

Erutus, eruta, um, pulled, picked, or weeded out.

Eryum, i, neu. gene. a kynde of pulse, called also Orobois, there is of it bothe white and redde. Some take it to be the same that Erullia is, it is greater and bitterer then a fesh.

Erycus, a mountayne in Sicile, where was a temple of Venus, of the whiche she was called Erycina.

Erymanthus, and Erymanthus, a, um, of Erymanthus.

Erymanthus, idos, Arcadie.

Erymanthus vasa, the wyfe of Ipeaon, whiche was turned into a beare.

Erymanthus, a mountayne in Archadie, where Hercules ouercame a boze, that destroyed the fieldes. There are also a wodde and a ryuer of the same name.

Eryngium, or Erynge, a kynde of thystelles, has uppe long leaues, & long stalke with a rounde knappe full of long pyppes, in the fourme of a sterre: The roote wherof, bynge condyte, and confected in honye with Dynamome & cloues, comforteth nature, and strengeth courage. It is also called Yryngium, and Centum capita, of the apothecaries corruptly Irringorum, in englishe hulner, or sea holly: for it groweth muche by the sea syde.

Erysiopelas, atis, neu. g. a certayne soze of boyles, redde round about.

Erysiopela, arum, fæm. ge. an inflammation with rednesse, wherewith is a feuer of hoynoure in the body.

Erysiopetrum, the name of diuers herbes. Dried.

Erythace, es, f. g. bees meate while they labour.

Erythacus, mascul. gene. a byrde called Redde breast.

Erythica, an yle in the sea Gaditanum, where is such temperatensse of ayre, that men liue redngly longe.

Erytheus, a kyng of Athens.

Erythra, a citie of Asia.

Erythrea, one of the Sybilles. Also the countrey, out of the whiche Hercules droue his heauey brastes.

Erythronon, ni, n. g. a kynd of Iule.

Erythros, an herbe, wherof Xenocrates sayeth, that there is no disease in the body, whiche is not hollosome agaynst.

Erythraones, birdes of the kynde of geese, which is both an excellent whitenesse, and a perfecte blacknes, and a purple colour about their eyes.

Erythrum mare, the redde sea, so called of the kyng Erythra, whiche in englishe signifieth redde. For in dedde the water of that sea is of the colour of water, as diuers great authoris, and also experience doeth affirme.

Erythrys, a ryuer, the water wherof, maketh heare to growe.

Erythys, an herbe called redde beets, as I suppose.

Eryx, cis, the name of a mountayne in Smyth, and of a citie theron bylde, wherem was founded a temple to Venus, wherof Venus is called Erycina.

Eryx, was also the sonne of Bauta and Cleone: or after some of Reptunus and Venus, which was slayne by Hercules, and gaue name to the foresaid hyl, in the whiche he was buried. Quid geminas Erycina meos sine fine dolores? Oh Venus why dooest thou continually double my sorowes.

Esaia, a prophete of the tribe of Iuda, in whom was such abundance of the spirit of prophete, that he propheted so muche of Christ, that he seemed rather to be an euangelist, than a prophete. He was of such holynesse, that (in the tyme of king Ezechias, whan a cite was besieged) by his prayer he obtained of God, that water sprange by in itell quantitie, so that the people dyd not perishe for lack of water. And whan the enemies had wonne the citie, and besieged Seloum, as often as the Jewes came for water, the water ranne out of the earthe abundantly, and they tooke water, but but the strangers, whan they came, could not fynde it. This holy man, for his libertie of speche, in rebuking the synne of the prynces and the people, and propheting of the vengeance of god vpon that countreie and people, was sette in twoo partes with a sawe, and burped vnder an oke: but afterwarde he was translated and layde by the sepulchre of kynge. He was before the incarnation of Christ. viii. c. peres.

alon, or rather Aefalon, a byrde, which breeds both crows egges, and hir byrdes be destroyed by the fore, and lyke wyse she killeth the forces wheales, yf the maie come by them.

au, the sonne of Isaac, and brother of Jacob. sca, a, fæm. gene. all maner of meate, as well for men as beastes. also a bayte to take byrdes or fowles with.

Contempulsum escæ, beaie vile meates.

Contere escas, to chaw meate.

calis, le, perrepyng to meate.

calus, a, um, perrepyng to meate.

Escamensa, a table, wherem men dooe eat meate.

Escamensa, vessels, wherem meate is serued.

Escam, a, me, to feede vpon a thyng.

Escam, a, u, n. g. meate

Escam, a, u, n. g. any thyng to be eaten, or that perrepyeth to eatyng.

Escam, a, u, n. g. such beastes as men dooe vte for theyr foode and nourishment.

Escam, a, u, n. g. vitayles to be solde.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a man with meate in his mouth.

Escam, a, u, n. g. morsels of meat that be eat.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a scul.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a certayne confection agaynst diseases of the byapie.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a ryuer in Italy, not farre from Rauenna.

Escam, a, u, n. g. are, to cate often, to vte to cate.

Escam, a, u, n. g. Exquilis, looke Exquilis.

Escam, a, u, n. g. to be one of his friendes.

Escam, a, u, n. g. of Escada, a, a wayne, a chare, or wagon.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a kynd of wilde lecture.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a char of man.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a people, whiche dooe cate these scens, whan they be deade, and dynt in the sculles of their headres.

Escam, a, u, n. g. people inhabytyng in Iudea towarde the weste, whiche dooe lyue without women, and contempne golde, syluer, and all other rechelesse. They lyue by eatyng of dates.

There reforeseth continually vnto them, by the prouidence of God, men from diuers partes, so that their company neuer faileth. But none is receyued, onelisse the merite of his vertue and chastitee, dooe auance hym.

Escam, a, u, n. g. the breepyng of any thyng.

Escam, a, u, n. g. be it.

Escam, a, u, n. g. a woman rauennoure, or deuourer.

Esuriales ferix, waake dayes, or rather frasty: uall dayes, on the whiche men dyd forbear eatyng, fastyng daies.

Esuries, ei, for. g. hunger.

Esurigo, iginis, i tem.

Esurio, onis m. g. an hungry felowe.

Esurio, esuris, iur, ire, to bee a hungryed.

Esurior, the passue.

Esuribo, for Esuriam.

Esurino, onis, idem quod Esuries.

Esuritor, onis, mascul. gene. one that is offtish budgy.

ET, and, aswell, also, bothe.

Te admittuntur & ciues & hospites, ad well the countreie men as strangers doo wonder at the, or bothe the countreie men and strangers doo wonder at the. Sometime it dooeth signifie but, by an interrogation, solus ty ne, that is to saie.

Annos natus iam sexaginta & senex, Howe le. peres olde, that is to saie, an olde man.

Sus hostis & meus, Lette myne also be an enemy.

Et, in an interrogation: as,

Et quæ tanta fuit Romanis tibi causa videndi? Et, for Nau, or Quia, as,

Non temere est, & properans veni, It is not for naught, for he cometh in haste.

Et, in the begynnyng of a sentence, as Et finit sunt partes due, And thus two partes be made an ende of.

Et ille, and than said he.

Et certe is est, and verailly it is he in dedde.

Et quod dicendum nunc sit, And that I may tell you the truth, or, And that I may saie as the thyng is in dedde.

Etearchus, a kyng of a citie of Crete.

Etenim, for, also, sembler, p, surcip, but.

Etenim nequeo solus, But I can not alohe.

Etenim quoniam summam vobis exponere non possum, Howe becaus I can not declare the whole summe to you.

Etenim quoniam, for Nam quoniam.

Etenim mulieres: And what of the women?

Eteroculion, a kynde of barley, which groweth crooked.

Etesia, arum, fæm. gene. wyndes, whiche dooe commonly blowe in sommer about the caliculus lair daies.

Etesia, a, um, perrepyng to those wyndes.

Ethale, id est, fuligo thuris.

Ethalia, an yle in the sea called Mare Ligusticum, whiche is by Itane.

Ethilion, a mans name, which was tournd into a dolphin.

Ethionion, un, n. g. the name of a certayne vessel.

Ethioles, the sonne of Oedipus & Iocasta his mother, whiche caused the warre of Thebes.

Ec Ethes

Ethicus, a moztet fozze.

Ethice, es, for. ge. the parte of philosophie persteynng to maners.

Ethicus, ethica, um, moztall.

Ethici pictores, painters, which in pictures doo picturly sette forth the maners and affections
of men.

Ethmoides, the holes of the nose, by whiche men doe smell, the nostrilles.

Ethmus, the middle bridge of the nose.

Ethnarches, the prince or ruler of any people.

Ethnarchia, principallitee.

Ethnicus, ei, m. g. an ethnicke, a gentile.

Ethologia, the feate of countrefaiteunge mennes
maners.

Ethologus, i, mascu. gene. he that with voyce, gesture and countenance, expressely the ma-ners of men.

Ethopcia, æ, fœm. gene. an imitation of other mens maners.

Ethopcius, idem quod Ethologus.

Ethuria, looke Hetruria.

Ethruscus, looke Hetruscus.

Etiā, also, moztouer, yea, yea further, yet.

Ego quoque etiā timida sum, I my self am fearefull also.

Nihil suspicans etiā malī, Deinyng none euill as yet.

Vnus scrupulus etiā restat, One doubt res-maineth yet.

Aut etiā maiores, yea or greater.

Etiā puerum inde abiens conueni Chremi, Moztouer as I went from thence I spake with Chremes seruant.

Latini, pudore etiā non misericordia solum mori, The latines beynge moued, not only with pitye, but also with verie shame.

Etiā, for quin potius, as,

Ab eo nullus authoritas imminuta est, aucta etiā, No mans authoritee was by hym diminished, but rather increased.

Etiā, an aduerbe of affirmynge, contrary to Non, as,

Sinon, quomodo tabulas conficis? Si etiā, quamobrem. &c. If ye will aunswere no, after what sorte dooe ye make your register or recknyng booke? If ye saie ye, wherfoze. &c.

Et vero etiā mihi, And to me also.

Etiā rides? why, doest thou laugh?

Etiā denuo? yea agayne?

Etiā atque etiā, greatly, diligently, carelessly.

Te prius vehementer, etiā atque etiā rogo, I desyre you verie earnestly and with all myne herte.

Etiā, hath sometyme Non solum vnder-standed in it: as,

Etiā hac me sollicitant, Not onely greater matters, but euen these small triffes do make me carefull and solicitous.

Etiā dum, yet.

Etiā ne amplius? Hane you any moze to saie yet?

Non dum etiā, not yet.

Etiā tu hic itas Parmeno? Why Parmeno doo you stande here yet?

Etiā tum, euen than, or euen to that tyme.

Etiā ne? Is it for is it enough yet?

Etiā nunc, yet, vntill than, vntill that tyme.

Etiā nunc, vntill nowe.

Etiā si, although.

Eti, ali be it, although.

Etymologia, lógia, fœ. g. true sayng, or true expofition of reason.

Etimologus, gi, m. ge. he that searcheth out the interpretation of wordes.

Etymon, etymi, neut. gene. idem quod ety-mologia.

E Vacuo, aui, are, to empye, to make vacant.

Euacuare alium, to purge the body.

Euadne, the daughter of Chebes, the wife of Esopus, and the wyfe of Lapani, was lo-called, whiche loued hir husbande to feruor lp, that whan she hearde that he was taken Chebes, she fel nere dead in a founte, and after whan his funerall was celebrated, she lepe into the fyre.

Euado, asi, ere, to escape or passe with daunge, to appeere, to elype, to deliuer, to be, to come to, to go.

Ecustodia euadere, to escape out of puden-cie.

Amem laud difficulter euasit, he passed the typer easily.

Omnes sermones malignorum euasit, he altwaies escaped the report of malicious mengers.

Vana euasit spes, our hope was vayne, or vane to naught.

Vites apprehendendo ramos, in cacumina arborum euadunt, Vines by takynge holde of the bowes, clymbe vp to the toppes of trees.

Euadere in terram, to escape to lande.

Siquando aliquod somnium verum euasit, rit, If one dreame chance to proue true at any tyme.

Euadere ad muros, pro ascendere.

Euadere ante oculos, To come in sight, to appeere.

Supras euadere ad auras, to go to heauen.

Euadere e morbo, to escape a syncke.

Perfectus Epicurus euaserat, he became a perfect Epicure.

Probum euadere, to proue an honest man.

Summus euasit, he proued an excellent man.

Quo euadas nescio, I can not telle to what purpose or intente you speake these thynges.

Videamus hoc quorsum euadat, let vs see what ende this thyng will come.

Hue euasit, The matter came to this issue or ende.

Heri semper lenitas verebar quorsum euades ret, I feared to what ende my maisters continuall gentynesse woulde come.

Euader in aliquod magnum malum, It will come in effete to some great mischefe.

Euadere ad frugem bonam, to come to good thyng, to thure, to waite honest.

Euamion, the sonne of Eurpylus, whiche came with the grekes to Troie.

Euaretus, the name of a kynge of the Lacede-monians.

Euagatio, ónis, a rounyng or straying abode, a sprayng abode.

Euagor, áris, ari, to wandre or straye, to roune abode, to spraye abode, as the boughes of trees, to renne ouer as a ryuer dooeth, whan it ouerfloweth, to make digression, to speake from the purpose.

Euagantur aquæ, the waters burste out, and spraye farther abode.

Eualeo, euales, lut, eie, idem quod Valeo, to be of power, to maie or can.

Eualesco, scere, to waite verie stronge.

Euallo, aui, are, to put out of the doozes.

Euailo, his, uallere, to make cleane come.

Euain, the name of Bacchus. Also it is an exclamation to the pryests of Bacchus, it is as muche to saie, as Bone puer, O good thyld.

Euander, or Euandrus, the propre name of Lars menis sonne, who by his mothers counsaile flewe his father, and leaupyng his owne countreie Archadia, came into Italye, and entrynge into the mouth of the Tyber, and expulsynge the inhabitautes, rest dunt he li Salutine, where he beganne to buylde the towne Palanteum.

Euandrus, a, um, of Euander.

Euaneo, & Euanesco, euāui, scere, to vanythe awaie, to perishe.

Opera eius euauerunt, his woodykes ar perishe and laste.

Extenuatur & euanesceit spes, Oure hope is decaied and vanyshed awaie.

Veuultate euanesce, by longe continuance of tyme to vanythe awaie, and come vnto naught.

Euauerunt & exauerunt amnes, the ryuers were consumed and dyed vp.

Euangelia, órum, plur. nu. sacrifices and solemne prayers made after good tydynges: also the rewardes geuen to them that brought the good tydynges.

Euangelium, li, n. ge. good tydynges, nowe it signifieth the gospell.

Euangelus, li, one that bynygeth good tydynges.

Euandus, a, um, vayne, frāple, that wyl soone perishe and vanythe awaie, vnto fruitfull.

Euanno, aui, aie, to vayne to tyme, or to vayne
thyng.

Euapelus, li, m. g. a foole of theode.

Euaporatio, ónis, f. g. a bethynge, an euaporation.

Euax, an interiection of reioyng.

Euax, iurgio vxorem tandem abegi, Decha,
I haue yet at the laste dyuen my wyfe awaie with chydynge.

Euarchus, a typer of Sythia in Europe.

Euasto, aui, are, to waite and destroe, to spoyle,

Eubora, an yle in the greke sea, and the name of the citee situated in the same, it is nowe called Pigra pont: in that is the citee Thalcis, where Aristotle died.

Euborus, and Euboricus, a, am, of Eubora.

Eubulus, the name of an history writer, and is interpreted prudente. Also a citsyn of Athens, who was ennemic to Demosthenes.

Euca'ria, æ, fœ. g. oportunitate, good occasion to dooe a thyng.

Eucarpia, a citee of Phrygia, where growe great plentie of verie sappy grapes.

Eucharistia, æ, fœm. ge. good grace, a reioyng of thankes. It is nowe taken for the sacramēt of the altar.

Euchila, órum, n. g. meates of good iure.

Euchimon, mi, n. g. a bynd of Elleborus.

Euchion, the name of Balthus.

Euclides, the name of a famous geometriician, scholar to Socrates.

Eucrates, a wyl milners name.

Eucteria, órum, places, in whiche the actes of prouintes be continued.

Eudamon, the countrey of Arabia.

Eudamidas, the sonne of Archidamus, and bios ther of Alces.

Eudora, a nymphe, Dceanus and Cethys daughter.

Eudorus, the sonne of Mercurie and Polymela.

Eudoxia, æ, f. g. good renoume or good fame.

Eudoxus, the sonne of Echynis, an excellent geometriician, astronomer and phisician, scholar to Socrates and Plato.

Euectio, ónis, f. g. car'nyng soothie.

Euectioes, power or licence graunted by the prync to vse those hortes that be appoynted for the common postes.

Euectus, us, masc. gene. cartage, conuycyng by shippe.

Euectus, a, um, carri'd out, aduanced, extolled.

Eueho, euehis, exi, eie, to carie out, sometyme it signifyeth to extoll or lyfte vp.

Virtus euehit ad aethera, Vertue bynygeth a man to heauen.

Euelatium, wponwed.

Euello, uelli, and euelui, ere, to plucke vp, to pull awaie. Mala radicitus euellere, to plucke vp naughtynesse by the rootes.

Euellere sibi scrupulum ex animo, to putte a doubte out of his mynde that he is troubl'd with.

Euellere opinionem aliquam ex mentibus hominum, To plucke an opinion or perswasion out of mens myndes.

Euellere ex complexu, to pull one oute of a mans armes, whome he embraceth. And by translation to take one from a man, whome he toucheth entirely.

Eumenius, a mannes name beate familys with Philip and his sonne great Alexander.

Eucenetus, a capitayne of the Lacedemonians, whiche with Themistocles kepte the passages of the Hellespont agaynst Xerxes.

Euenio, euenis, em, ire, to happen by chaunce, to come to passe. Somtyme to come to.

Euenit ex sententia, It came to passe as I, thou, or he wolde haue it.

Euenit prater sententiam, aut prater spem, It happened otherwyle than I, thou, or he thought or trusted.

Forte euenit, by chaunce it happened.

Si velim numerare quibus bonis male euenierit, If I wolde numbre to what good persones mischaunces haue hapned.

Prosper euenire, to chaunce well, to come well to passe, to haue prosperous successe.

Uer plerunque euenit, As it chaunceth for the moste parte.

Veror hac blanda dicta quo eueniant, I feare to what ende these saye and flatterynge wordes wyl come.

Euenit impersonall, it chaunced so.

Euenit ut moreretur ille, It chaunced hym to dye.

Euenus, a ryuer descendyng from Thrace, and dryngge Calidone. also a philosopher, whiche affirmed fyre to be the beste sauce for al meates.

Euentilo, aui, are, to wynowe, fanne, or blowe. wynde.

Euentum, ri, a thyng, whiche hapneth in conclusion.

Euentus, us, hatte, chaunce, successe. Somtyme it is taken for the ende or conclusion of a thyng, or that chaunceth or foloweth of any thyng.

Euentum pastare, to warrant all that whiche shall happen.

Non sine euentu, not without good successe.

Euentu aliquid coniectare, to coniect of a thyng by that that foloweth of it.

Ad omnem euentum paratus sum, I am redy to abyde what so euer wyl chaunce.

Prædictum est fore eodem euentus rerum qui fuerunt, It was tolde before, that the thynges would haue the same ende or conclusion, that they chaunced to haue in dede.

Varij belli euentus, dyuers and vncertayne chaunces of warre.

Euerbero, aui, are, to beate, to clappe vpon a thyng as a wynde dooeth with his wynges.

Euergetes, the surname of one of the Ptolemies.

Euergeo, ere, to sende out, to make to issue out.

Eueriator, oris, m. g. he that hath goodes of the testatour with condition, that if he persourne not his laste will, or dooe disturbe it, he shall lose all that he hath.

Euericulum, li, n. g. a sylfynge nete called dragee, and by translation, one that by extortion robbeth and spoyleth, and as it were, keepeth all thynges cleane awate with hym.

Euerro, si, ere, to swepe cleane.

Euersio, onis, f. g. destruction.

Euersor, oris, m. g. one that destroyeth and troweth all thynges by set downe.

Euerfus, a, um, destroyed.

Euerto, ti, ere, to tourne by set downe, to destroy, to abolyshe.

Euertere aliquem bonis, to spoyle a man of all that euer he hath.

Funditus euertere amicum, To destroy frendship utterly.

Totam euertere dialecticam, He confounded all the science of logike.

Euertere leges, to dissolue & abolyshe lawes.

Nauem euertere, to ouertourne a shippe.

Euertere rem publicam, to destroye and turne a whole commonweale by set downe.

Euestigio, by and by, at an instant.

Euganei, people of Greece.

Euganei montes, mountaines in Italye by shadowe.

Euganeus, a, um, of those hylls.

Euge, well doon, an interfection of prayng, & extolpyng, of agrecyng, of congratulacion.

Eugenia, a, f. g. noblenesse.

Eugenia, certayne excellent grapes.

Eugium, caro emicula inter cum symplegades.

Euhoe, a noyse, that they doo make, whiche is a great heuynesse or waylyng.

Euihas, adis, form. ge. a woman pyet of Euihus.

Euihus, the name of Bacchus.

Euibro, euibras, aui, are, to shake or brandishe.

Euiro, onis, f. g. when we conuicte one by the law, to deliuer out of his handes any thyng that he had gotten wrongfully.

Euiscus, a, um, ouertome, conuicte in iudgement, proued guilty.

Euidens, entis, om. g. euident, apparant.

Euidenter, sterety, euidently, apparantly.

Euidencia, a, f. g. euidentnesse, pers, uiter, playnesse.

Euigilo, aui, are, to wathe, to be diligente, to stande or take perces in a thyng.

Tantum euigilat in studio, He applyeth his studie so earnestly.

Confilia euigilata, countables taken with good aduysment, or well prepared.

Euigilare, somtyme for Elucubrare.

Euiileco, euiui, scere, to ware vile, of small estimation or regarde.

Euiilla, a countreie in the orient, about the whiche the ryuer Phison, whiche we call Ganges, that cometh out of Paradise, dooeth runne.

Euiocio, uinxi, ire, to bryde.

Euinco, uici, ere, to vanquyshe, to ouertome, to surmount, to obteyne by earnest labour, to conuicte one by the lawe, to render any thyng that doth belong to vs.

Instando euiocant, by theyr importune suite and labour, they obteyne.

Euiocare morbum, to ouertome a sicknesse by good diete or medicine.

Euiocatus, a, um, bounden.

Euiatio, onis, the making of a persone effeminate. also geldyng.

Euiatio pilorum, the making balde, or cutting of the heare.

Euiatus, a, um, of womanly and chyldyshe conditions. also he that lacketh his genitours.

Euiresco, scere, to become greene.

Euiro, euias, aui, are, to take awate a mans members of generation, to make effeminate, and womanlyke.

Eulceratus, a, um, bowelled, that hath the bowelles of guttes pullet out.

Eulcero, aui, are, to boowell or drawe out the guttes of any thyng.

Eulcus, or Eulcus, called also Althæa, the great or wylde mallowe, whiche hath a leafe twice so thycke as the common mallowes, and is therfore called of the apothecaries Bismalua, and Maluaniscus, of the Frenchmen Guismanes, toke Althæa.

Eulcibilis, le, that maie be auoyded or eschued.

Eulcilio, onis, form. ge. an eschuyng, auoydyng or shunning of a thyng.

Eulito, aui, are, to flee, to eschewe or beware, to auoyde or shunne.

Eulabes, he that taketh vpon hym the charge of business.

Eulogia, a, form. gene. a woorde well spoken, a ppele, a benediction, an honest and profitable reason.

Eum, olde writers vsed for Eorum.

Eumæus, the swynhearde, whiche conducted Achilles to his house, whan he returned into his countreie.

Eumeces, a kynde of hawke tree, more hygher than the other.

Eumelis, a notable Iugurian, or toothsaier.

Eumelus, the sonne of Admetus hyng of Thebes, gotten on Alcesta his wife. also the name of a Trojan.

Eumenides, furies of hell.

Emmeris, m. g. a precious stone, whiche beynge layd vnder a mans head, maketh hym to haue dreames lyke to visions.

Eumilus, a capitayne of the grekes that went to the siege of Troie.

Eumolpida, were certayne priestes or magistrates of Athens, ordeyned in the honour of hyng Eumolpus.

Eumolpus, a man of Athens, whom Suidas writeth to be the sonne of Museus the poete.

Eumoides, a mans name of Thebes.

Euneus, the sonne of Jason.

Eunica, a maydens name in Theocritus.

Eunomia, a, f. g. a iuste constitution or ordynance of lawes. also due obedience of the lawes.

Eunomius, a great heretike, of Arius secte, whiche vnto he added of his owne malice, that the son was in eury thyng vnto the father, and that the holy goste had no medlyng with the father nor the sonne. Wherouer he affirmed, that all that kepte the faulthe that he taught, shoulde bee saued, had they committed neuer so great a synne, and continued therein. He was about the yere of our Lord. 353.

Eunuchio, aui, are, to gelde men.

Eunuchus, chi, m. g. a man gelded.

Euocati, souldiours, which for some necessitee bee suddenly called out of the fieldes vnto battayle.

Euocatio, onis, f. g. a calling forth.

Euocator, oris, m. g. one that calleth forth, or that allureth to come forth.

Euocatus, a, um, called out, commaunded to appere.

Euoco, euocas, aui, are, to call out, to call forth, or call awate. Somtyme for Vocare, to call. also to allure or prouoke, to summon or commaunde to appere, to call vpon for helpe.

Euocare aliquem intus foras, To call one forth that is within.

Euocare aliquem foras verbis alicuius, To call one forth in an other mans name.

Euocate huc Sotiam, accersat Blepharonem, Call ye forth Sotia hyther, that he maie go call Blepharo.

Nostros ad pugnam euocant, They prouoke our men to fight, or badde our men come forth and fight.

Euocare aliquem accitu alterius, to call forth one at an other mans byddyng.

Euocare aliquem Roman, to call by, or to commaunde one to appere at Rome.

Euocat ad se, he commaundeth to come to hym.

Euocare aliquem literis, to will one by letters to come to hym.

Piscem elca euocare, with the baite to allure the fysh to come forth.

Euocare deos, with solemne prayers to will the goddes to come to hym.

Euocare demones, to call by puell spirites.

Euocare ad arma, to make to bee cried or prouoked, that euery man be ready in harnes, at a certayne place and houre.

Euocare animum a negotiis, To withdawe the mynde from busynesse.

Vis earum omnis euocatur in palmites, All the strength of them is drawn by in to the byaunches.

Euocare testes, to bypnyge forth withnesse.

Euohæ, a noyse of exclamation that the priestes of Bacchus made.

Euolantus, a, um, that reneth or gaddeth abrode.

Euolito, aui, are, to flee out often.

Euolo, euolas, aui, are, deriued of the nowne

Vola, to scale, to take away by stealth.

Impune aliquid euolare, to scale away a thing, and escape unpunished.

Euolo, euolas, uis, are, to flee away, to flee out, to renne out, or hie away speedily, to passe a way quickly, to scale away, or conuise hym selfe away quickly, to escape.

Euolare rus ex vrbe, to forsake the citee, and goe into the countreie.

Anima euolat ex corpore tanquam ex carceribus, The soule departeth out of the bodye, as it were out of a prison.

Euolare ex periculo, to escape out of daungier. Euolare poenam, to escape payne or punishment.

Sic euoluit oratio, his wordes wente away so roundly.

Euoluo, uolui, ere, to turne hyther and thither, to rolle or tumble out of a place, to vnfolde, to explicate or expounde, to declare or tell, to meditate, to cast in ones mynde, to tourne as one tourneth a booke, to reade ouer, to studie diligently.

Euoluere se turba, or ex turba, to wynde hym selfe out of trouble.

In mare fluuij se euoluunt, The ryuers renne into the sea.

Euoluere librum, to tourne ouer a booke as one dooth in reayding.

Euoluere poetas, to studie and reade ouer poetes diligently.

Versus euoluere, to reade verses.

Euoluere naturam rerum, to serche and fynde out the natures of thynges.

Tempus hac me euoluere coegit, the tyme hath constrained me to expounde or declare these thynges roundly.

Non possum euoluere exitum rei, I can not fynde out the ende of this matter.

Promissa somnij euoluere, to muse or thynke on those thynges that seemed to be promised in his dreame.

Euolutio, onis, f. g. rollynge or tumblyng out, a reayding of poetes or verses.

Euolutus, a, um, vnfolded, or vtrolled, tourned out.

Euolutis bonis, a man tourned out of all that euer he hath.

Euomo, euomis, uis, ere, to vomite, to caste out, to spue, to vter out, or speake maliciously, and with a cankred stomake.

Euomere iram, to wreake anger, to vter his malice spitefully.

Euomere virus, to spitte out his poyson, to saie the worst that one can saie.

Euomino, one of the ples called Aeolia.

Eupalia, a towne in Locris, whiche same calle Eupalion, and some Eupylon.

Eupatorium, or Eupatoria, an herbe called Agrimonie, looke Agrimonia. but Mesues callith that Eupatorium, that in English is naz med Maudlene.

Eupetalos, a precious stone of a frys colour.

Euphantlos, a gay imaginer of thynges.

Euphonia, a, fem. gen. good soune, a sweet pleasant noyse.

Euphorasia, a, some take for the herbe called, bright.

Euphorbia, and Euphorbium, an herbe founde out by Iuba the kynge of Libya, as called after the name of his physician. Lact. Ruellius lib. 3. capite. 53.

Euphorbus, a Troiane, the sonne of Pantha, whiche wounded Patroclus, and was slayne by Achilles. also a shepherdes name.

Euphorion, a poetes name of Lacedonia, whiche Callus dyd translate.

Euphrasia, a, fem. gen. an herbe called of fore Ophthalmitica, or Ocularia, and of the Grekes Euphrosyne, because it cleareth the eyes. In English the eye bright.

Euphrasium, syni, neu, gene. an herbe called buglosse.

Euphrates, one of the ryuers that come out of Paradise, whiche passeth thorough the citie of Babylon. also a philosophers name.

Euphrosyna, the propre name of a woman, also the name of one of the three graces called Charities.

Euphrosyne, bewrage.

Euphrosyne, a certaine swelling of the eye, or of the gumme, by the innermost cheeke.

Euphris, a lake in Fraunce Châlaine.

Eupolis, an auncient poete, whiche in his comedies sharply taxed the vices of the people.

Eupomus, a verie cunning man in arithmeticke and geometricke. Also a famous penman, whiche taught Demophilus Apelles maister.

Euporus, Caius Gracchus seruante, whiche his biddinge dyde slea hym, and after hym hym selfe.

Euprotopon, a promontorie in Phenicia.

Euprepia, comelynesse.

Eurechneumon, id est plantago.

Eureos, a precious stone lyke an olyue beere.

Eurinus, & Eurinius, a, um, belongeth to the east wynde.

Euripides, the name of a famous poet amonge the Grekes, whiche wrote tragedies most excellently.

Euripidius, the nombre of fortie in a certainedie.

Euripus, pi, mal. ge. a smalle cunditer of a great height. Also a dyche made to enclose places to plaie in, in the fiede of hedges. Some to take it for a small ponde of fwee. also an arme of the sea, or a narrowe passage betweene two places. Euripus also a parte of the sea, betwene Aulis, an haven of Beroia, and the Ile of Euboea, whiche cobbeth and floweth 7 tymes in a daie, with so swifte a streame, that it carrieth with it shippes with full saile agaynste the wynde: and yet 3 dunes euerie moneth goodspell, and moued not.

Eupodias

uracias, a certayne stone, whiche seemeth to be blake and mossy.

urodonus, a north east wynde.

urosa, the thirde parte of the world, diuided from Asia with the great seas, Hellespontus, Propontis, Bosphorus Thracius, & Pontus Euxinus, and hath the bittermost boundes in the north east, the ryuer Tanais. And from thence it is diuided by the myddell sea.

It was also the name of a fayre maide, daughter of Agenor, kynge of Phenicia, whom Jupiter (transformynge hym selfe into the forme of a bull) dyd rauyn, as poetes write: whiche of some is interpreted, that Jupiter caried hir away by force in a ship, in the decke of maister wherof was a banner or streamer, wherin was painted a bull.

Barotas, a ryuer that renneth before the towne of Lacedemonia.

Eurus, the east wynde.

Euryale, the daughter of kynge Minos. there was an other of that name, the daughter of Praxs kynge of Argiue. An other was one of the Erigons.

Euryalus, the name of one of the princes of Delopontis. Virgile feigneth a Troiane to bee so called.

Eurybates, a man of Athaca, Agamemnons seruant.

Eurybates, the name of diuers men: one was a famous robber and theefe, of whom cometh this word Eurybaticus, to scale away pryulie from them that haue hym in keepynge.

Eurybia, a nymphe.

Eurybiades, one of Perces capitaynes.

Eurycles, a soothe saier or diuynour.

Eurycia, a mayden, the daughter of Pisenoxis.

Euryclidas one of Lacedemonia.

Eurycyon, a gold smithes name.

Eurydas, a, fem. gen. a Trepane, an interpretoure of dreames.

Eurydame, was the wyfe of Leutichis kynge of Spartans.

Eurydamas, the father of Iphicra.

Eurydice, the wyfe of Orpheus.

Eurydomene, a nymphe of the sea.

Eurylochus, the kynge of Phlegia, whiche des Troyes before Ladmus buylded it.

Eurymachus, one of Peniopes wewares.

Eurymedon, the sonne of Faunus. also a riuer of Pamphilia.

Eurymides, a soothsaier amonge the Cyclops, whiche tolde to Polyphemus all that to hym hapned afterwards by Ulixes.

Eurynome, the wyfe of Orichamus, and also the daughter of Apollo.

Eurynomes, a dyuell, who as the auncient Grekes supposed, dyd eate and consume the fleshe of dead men, leauynge the bones bare, whom they painted in a terrible figure, haupynge longe steele of talles, styngynge in the shyne of a bulles late, of colour betwene blake and blew.

Euryon, the daughter of Amynta kyng of Macedonia.

Eurypylus, one of the soones of Hercules, that reigned in the yle of Eous, an other the son of Eucemo, which bothe were at the siege of Troie.

Euryteus, a kyng of Grece, ennemy to Hercules, whiche commaunded hym to doo many of his enterpryses.

Eurythmia, a, f. g. is a beautee in the true formynge of the membris, where the height accordeth with the breadthe, and the breadthe also with the length. Finally all thyng aunsweryng to his proportion, a comely gesture.

Eurythus, a kyng of Oechalia, whiche denied to geue his daughter to Hercules.

Eurytion, one of the Argonautes, an other was the sonne of Lycion.

Eusebes, bis, masc. gen. a precious stone, wherof a chape was made in the temple of Hercules at Cyre.

Eusebia, pietie, religion, godlynesse.

Eustathius, a learned man, whiche wrote a treatise from the tyme of Enneas, to Anastasius the emperour. An other was a lerned bishop of Antioche, whiche wrote agaynst Arius. An other of the same name wrote commentaries on Homere and Dionysius.

Eustaphius, a sophister of Aphrodisia.

Eustratus, a philosopher, whiche wrote commentaries vpon Aristotles Ethikes.

Euterpe, one of the muses, and is interpreted iolynde or pleasaunt.

Eutheca, a stocheuse.

Euthydemus, a philosopher of Massilia, Apollonius maister.

Euthymia, a, f. g. quietnesse, securitee, without troublous affections of mynde, heres case.

Euthymus, a famous capitayne, or a mighty champion.

Eutices, an heretike, an abbot of a monastery in Constantinople, about the yere of our lord. 450.

He affirmed, that Christ had but one onely nature, that is to saie, diuine, or of god, lyke as he was one person. This heresye was condemned in the counsaile of Ephesine, and Eutices sente into exyle.

Eutichydes, a famous image maker.

Eutrapelia, a, f. ge. gentynesse, good behaviour.

Eutrapelus, a mans name, and is interpreted gentill and pleasaunt.

Eutropius, a mans name, who perswaded Celsus to make a lawe, whereby he hym selfe perished.

Ecclesi. histor. There was an other Eutropius S. Augustins scholar.

Eualgo, uis, are, to publyshe abroad.

Eualio, onis, f. g. pluckynge vp, or drawynge out.

Eualio dentis, the drawing of a tooth.

Eualius, a, um, plucked vp or pulled away.

Euxinus portus, a part of the sea, whiche diuideth Europa from Asia.

EX, signifieth of or from.
 Ex aduersum, euen agaynst it, on the o<sup>r</sup> ther syde.
 Ex æquo, indifferently, equally.
 Ex asse, of the whole.
 Harredem fecit ex asse, he made hym heyre of the whole.
 Ex diametro opposita, so contrarie the one to the other, that they maie neuer agree.
 Ex disposito, by an order, of a purpose.
 Ex aduersum ei loco, agaynst that place.
 Ex æquo & bono, accordyng to equitee and reason.
 Ex æquo & bono facere, to doo iustly of in- differently.
 Ex animo, of good wyl, of a good courage.
 Ex ante diem nonarum Iuniarum, the seuenth daie of June.
 Ex argumento, in token therof.
 Ex composito, as it was agreed.
 Ex dignitate tua, & ex republica facis, Thou doest accordyng to thyne authoritee, and for the weale of thy countreie.
 Ex dignitate nostra, accordyng to our estate of dignitee.
 Ex dignitate tribuere, To geue accordyng to his estate.
 Ex equo pugnare, to fyght on horsbacke.
 Summa erit hæc, statues, vt ex fide, fama, rēq; mea videbitur, This shall be the whole effecte, that thou doo as it shall seme for myne honestee, accordyng to the truste that I putte in the, and for my profite.
 Ex insidiis, by treason, pryvely, as it were out of an ambushement.
 Ex more, and Ex consuetudine, accordyng to the custome, as they vse to dooe.
 Ex superabundanti, more ouer.
 Ex diuitiis iuuentutem luxuria ac auaritia in- uasere, by the meane of rycheffe, or thozough richesse, the youth became lecherous and coue- tous.
 Ex for Cum: as, Ex melle resinam vo- rato, Doo you cate rosen myrt with honey.
 Ex, for præ: as, Quod ei ex aliis Gallis ma- ximam fidem habebam, Because I trusted hym best of all the frenche men: or because I had more trust to hym than any of the fren- che men.
 Ex æquib; fertilis, euen as fertile as the other.
 Ex æquo viuere, to lyue in equall state or con- dition with other.
 Ex animo amicus, an hertie and vnfeigned frende.
 Ex animo & simulate, contrary.
 Ex animo dicere, to speake as one thynketh without any dissimulation.
 Ex animo tibi bene volo, I will you good with all myne heart.
 Ex animi sententia, euen as one thinketh, ac- cordyng to his conscience, also as one woulde haue it, or wyshe it.

Ex arte dicere, To speake eloquently, or accor- dyng to the p<sup>r</sup>ceptes of rhetorike.
 Ex autoritate pontificum, By the ordynance and commaundment of the prelates.
 Ex alio repetere, to scrche a thyng deceptly.
 Ex inuidia, by enuy.
 Ex aliis cognoscere aliquem, to knowe one by the reporte and information of others.
 Ex confesso malus, openly naught, a veray lewde felowe.
 Ex continenti, in an instant, forthwith, by and by, incontinent.
 Ex contrario, for e contrario, contrarywise.
 Ex contrario stare, to bee one agaynst an other, or one contrary to an other.
 Ex omni populo, among all the people.
 Ex consilio iurisperitorum, by the counsaile of lawyers.
 Ex destinato, purposely, of purpose.
 Ex diuerso, non tamen omnino dissimile, Dy- uers, but yet not utterly vnlyke.
 Ex pueris, and Ex ephēbis excedere, To pass chyldeys age.
 Ex eo, from thens forth.
 Ex eo die, from that daie forward.
 Ex eo sit, therby it cometh to passe.
 Ex reis aliquem eximere, to discharge a person accused because the accuser dooeth not appeere.
 Exponere ex memoria, to expound or declare by herte.
 Diem ex die expectabam, I looked wylle our daie after an other.
 Ex necessitate facere, to dooe by constrainyng, or of necessitee.
 Ex facili, easily.
 Hæres ex tertia parte, an heyre appointed to haue the thyrde parte of a mans gooddes.
 Aliud ex alio malum, one nyschyl in an others necke.
 Magnum mihi ex hac re erit malum, I that haue some great displeasure by this thyng.
 Ex hoc, for this cause, by this meanes.
 Dependit ex humeris amictus, his garmēt hang- geth on his shuldres.
 Expresa ex annulo imago, a p<sup>r</sup>int of figure made with a seale.
 Septem ex ordine menses, seuen monethes to- gether, one after an other.
 Ex parte maiore, for the more parte.
 Nisi ex præcepto domini, excepte his maisters bydde hym.
 Ex ore alicuius pendere, To harken diligently what one will saie.
 Ex propinquo præliari, to come to hande stru- kes, to fight hande to hande.
 Ex re & ex tempore, as the matter and the tyme shall require.
 Ex sententia non sum hero, I please not my mayster, or I am not to my maisters appoynt of phantasye.
 Ex sententia seruus, suche a seruant as a man woulde woulde wyshe.

 Ex se reliquit filium, after his death he leste issue male of his owne body.
 Timere ex somno, To awake or bzeake ones sleape sodeynly with a feare.
 Ex sua quicq; parte, euerp man for his part.
 Ex tempore, forthwith, without meditation.
 Ex toto, wholly, utterly, all together.
 Ex vero nomine vocor Thomas, My true name, or my right name is Thomas.
 Ex iure hesterni panem vorare, To slabber of fesse by bzeade with greuel of broth that was left the other daie before.
 Ex vultu cognoscere, to know by ones coun- tenance.
 Ex visu tuo, It is for your profite.
 Ex improviso, vnwares, sodeynly.
 Ex industria, of purpose, for the nones.
 Insanire ex inuria, to waxe madde for wrongs that is dooen to one.
 Ex insperato, vnllooked for.
 Ex integro, a freshe, a newe, eftesoones.
 Ex intimis vnus, one of my nere frendes.
 Iudicare aliquē ex aliorum ingenijs, to iudge a man by the disposition of other.
 Ex iure manu confertum vocare, a maner of supyn in the law among the auncient Romans, where the action was commenced after this sort: the plaintife and the defendāt went both into the fildes, for the whiche the contention was, and there cutte a porcion of the earth, whiche after, they broughed before the J<sup>r</sup>etor, and made clayme to it as to the whole lande. Hæde more after Exitium.
 Laborare ex pedibus, to be sicke of the goute.
 Ex lege reperere ab aliquo pecuniam, to sue one in the lawe for moneye that he oweth or des- tyneth.
 Ex longinquo venire, To come out of farre countreies.
 Ex natura aliquid gerere, to doo a thyng ac- cordyng to his nature, or as his nature ledeth hym.
 Ex me noscere potes, you may knowe by me.
 Ex longo, of long tyme, a great while.
 Ex obliquo, ouerthwart.
 Ex omni occasione, by euerp littell occasion.
 Ex omnibus sæculis, sens the world first begā.
 Ex opibus non ex veritate causa pendetur, The cause shall be wried accordyng to the ri- chesse, not after the truthe of the matter.
 Exacerbesco, scere, to waxe sharpe or soure.
 Exacerbo, aui, are, to stirre vp, to prouoke to an- ger, to make one veray angry.
 Exacerbo, exacui, escere, to waxe soure or sharp, to become egre or tarte.
 Exacinaris, onis, f. ge. when the kernels of gra- pes, or suche lyke, doe fall out.
 Exactio, onis, f. ge. a pyllyng of the pro- ple, craction.
 Exactor, onis, ma. ge. a demaunder of moncie.

some englyshe it a controuller. I take it to bee a gatherer of tolle or tare.
 Exactor supplicij, one that requiereth to haue a man punished.
 Exactum, ti, n. g. an exacte or absolute thyng.
 Exactus, a, um, passed, veray diligent, cracie, expelled, demaunded, perfectly dooen or pers- oured.
 Exacta æstate, the sommer being passed.
 Exactæ ætatis vir, a veray aged man.
 His demum exactus, whan theie thynges were dooen and paste.
 Exacti reges, hynges expoulled and dyspuch- out of theyr realmes.
 Furiis exactus, for A girus.
 Ensis exactus, a swerde thrust thzough one.
 Exactus, us, a sellynge.
 Exacuatus, a, um, made sharpe or pointed.
 Exacuo, ui, ere, to make veray sharpe, to stirre, to whette, to make a sharpe edge or pointe to a thyng, to make angry or bere.
 Exacuere dentes, to whette ones teethe.
 Exacuere mentem, to stirre vp or quicken the mynde.
 Acetum exacuiere, To make vinciger more tarte or byrryn.
 Exacuit palatum, it stereth appetite.
 Aciem oculorum exacuiere, to quychen the eie sight.
 Cohortari & exacuiere, to exhort & stirre vp.
 Exacutio, onis, f. ge. a popurtyng or makynge of a thyng sharpe.
 Exadificatio, onis, buyldyng vp, or makynge of a thyng perfutte.
 Exadifico, aui, are, to buylde perfectly, also to dyspue out of an house.
 Exadificare opus institutum, To fynishe or make an ende of a woorkie that one hath be- gunne.
 Ex æquo, quāui, quāre, to make equall, to bee euen or equall.
 Ex æquare omnia, to make all thynges of lyke balue.
 Neminem dignitate secum exæquare vult, He will haue no man to be of equall authoritee with hym.
 Exaquare facta dictis, To deserue the dees- des and actes of men, with woordes seete and conueniente.
 Exaquari bonis, To bee made equall with good men.
 Exaquari ad regulam, To make mete to the rule.
 Exaquare precio omnia iura, To esteeme noz gods lawe noz mans law more then moneye.
 Ex æquor, quāris, the deponente, idem quod Ex æquo.
 Ex æquatus, a, um, made equall.
 Ex æquatio, onis, f. ge. the makynge of a thyng equall with other.
 Ex æstuo, aui, are, to ouerflowe, to scethe ouer,

as a pottle dooth, to be verie fierie and angry.
Exaltare ira, to be verie angrie, or greatly fumed.

Exa'uo, excuini, uire, to ware gentyl or mylde.

Exaggero, aui, are, to heape vp togyther, to augmēt, to increace, to speake muche in the praife or dispraife of a thyng, with woordes to make a thyng moze than it is, to amplifie, to extolle.

Exornare & exaggerare.

Exaggerare & extenuare, contrary.

Exaggerare virtutem, to speake muche in the praife of vertue.

Verbis exaggerare beneficium, to extolle a benefite with woordes, and make it moze than it is.

Exaggerare rem familiarem, to increace a mans subsaunce.

Exaggeratus, a, um, heaped togyther, increased, amplified with woordes.

Exaggeratio, ōnis, f. g. a heappynge together, an amplifying of making of the thyng greater.

Exigito, aui, are, to bere, to anger, to moue, to chide, to shake vp with knauysh woordes.

Lenire & exagitare, contrary.

Ne meum maiorem exagitem, I shoulde make my selfe moze heauy & sorrowful.

Exagitare rem aliquam, to debate and handell a matter in reasonynge.

Exagritus, a, um, vexed, moued, robbed, debased in reasonynge, and as it were tossed hyther and thither, enuaded, muche spoken of.

Spoliari & exagitari, spoyled and shaken out of all that euer they had.

Exagritator, ōnis, m. g. one that vexeth or moueth or speaketh shrewdly by othe.

Exagoga, gae, m. g. one that carieth any thyng out of the house.

Exagoga, gae, fcm. gene. rent, reuenues, also carying out.

Exalbescio, bescere, to ware pale.

Ex albidus, a, um, somewhat white.

Exalburno, aui, are, to take out the fatte supre, that is in some woodde.

Exalto, aui, are, to mount or lyste vp. Sometime to praise verie muche.

Exaluminatus, a, um, cleere lyke alum. orient.

Examen, aminis, n. g. a swarme as well of bees, as other thynges, a great company or flocke. also the nedill or tongue in balances and scales. Sometime it signifyeth a iuste examination or tryall, diligent inquisition.

Examen infantium, a companye of softe of chyldren.

Examino, aui, are, to examine, to serche or try, to weygh.

Examo, examas, aui, are, to lone well.

Exampeus, a fountayne in Scythia.

Examirco, aui, are, to drawe oyle cleane from the mother.

Examulsim, iustely, by rule.

Exanco, aui, are, to drawe out cleane, to empty. Sometime to suffer, to vanquyshe, to make, to take great payne & muche labour, to dispayne, and byng to an ende.

Non potest hic sine tua opera exanclari clauis, This keyle can not bee made without thy helpe.

Exanguis, gue, com. g. without bloude, timorous of fearefull, pale for anger.

Exanguis atq; astutus, pale for anger, and greatly moued.

Exanimatis, le, without soule or lyfe, or that lieth away the soule and lyfe.

Exanimatio, ōnis, fcm. g. a trouble of mynde, a great feare.

Exanimatus, a, um, made greatly asfere, aduised or troubled in mynde. Sometime it signifyeth deade.

Exanimo, aui, are, to kyl, to make asfere, to trouble and make astonied.

Priusq; intus redij, exanimatus fui, ere euer I came in againe I was amazed.

Multos exanimauit rigor insolitus niuis, the vnaccustomed chyllyng of the snowe depnynd many of theyr liues.

Exanimare aliquem metu, to make one asfened for feare.

Exanimus, a, um, and Exanimis, me, deade, put in feare.

Exanio, aui, are, deriued of Sanies, ei, to squit out matter of corruption.

Exanthema, the matis, n. g. a wheale or a puste in a mannes thynne.

Exantlo, aui, are, idē quod Exanco, toke thyn.

Exaptus, a, um, verie apte & feete, well copat.

Exaideo, exarsi, dēre, to be vehemently indamed with desyre, anger, or admiration, to be verie fierie and hotte.

Grauius exarsit, he was verie angry.

Exardere ira & indignatione, to be greatly inflamed with wrathe and indignation.

Desyderio exardere, to be verie desyrous.

Exarsit in iras, he waxed verie hoite.

Exarsit admiratio, men were in a great admiraion.

Exardesco, scere, to waxe hotte, or to be verie hement.

Exareno, aui, are, to purge and trie cleane from sande and grauell.

Exarsio, fieri, to be dyed vp.

Exareo, exares, exari, rēre, to be drie, to be come dry, to pine awaie, to decay and waxe awaie, not to be so pleasaunt.

Exaruit diuturna miseria filius, my sonne is pined awaie with long and continual miserie.

Facultas orationis exaruisse dicitur, when a mans eloquence decayeth for faule of yle.

Exaresco, scere, idē quod Exareo.

Exarmo, aui, are, to make tame, to vnrme, or to take harness from a man.

Exarmare acutionem, to make the action feynt feinte or feible.

Exarnare nauem, to take awaie the tackinge from a shyppe.

Exarnare feras, to cut or bryake of the teeth, claws, or other partes of wyld beasts, whiche they vse for theyr defence.

Exarnare strigmenta, to plucke of the tagges of poppettes.

Exarnatus, a, um, vnrmed, made tame.

Exaro, exaras, aui, are, to eare well: also to write.

Exarare frumentum, by earyng to receyue as muche coine as the lande yeldeth.

Epistolam exarare, to write a letter.

Exaratus, a, um, eared, eared vp, founde in the grounde by earyng.

Exarculatio, the beinge out of iointe.

Exarulo, aui, are, to chip smoothe with an axe, as carpenters dooe after they haue roughe hewed: and by translacon to polyshe, but not finely and perfectly.

Exaspero, aui, are, to make sharpe, also to make verie angrie, to vere, to fere.

Animo exasperatus, vexed in minde, made angrie.

Exatio, aui, are, to satisfie, to fyll.

Exatio, aui, are, to fyll or satisfie an hungrie stomacke or gredie mynde.

Exactorum, souldiours or seruantes put out of wages, or dismissed of theyr seruyce.

Exactoratus, deposited or put out of offyce.

Exactoro, or Exanthoro, to put out of wages: also to dismyss from warre without any repossessing, and geue lycence to departe, to discharge them of theyr othe: Sometime to disgrace a knight, or other lyke.

Exaudio, audis, iui, ire, to here beneuolently, or perfectly.

Exaudire preces, to heare one fauourably and graunt his petition.

Exaugo, auxi, augere, to increace muche.

Exaugere animum alicuius, to increace ones courage, to make one haue a greater stomake.

Exauguro, aui, are, to make prophane the thyng that was holy, to vnhalowe with cersayne ceremonies.

Exauguratio, ōnis, f. g. the vnhalowynge of a thyng.

Exauspicio, aui, are, to dooe a thyng vnfoztunably, to haue yll lucke.

Exauspiciari ex vinculis, I haue had yll lucke lens I came out of prison.

Exanthoro, aui, are, idē, quod Exactoro.

Exalisto, aui, are, to shoote out of a crosse bowe, to trumpe off deuel.

Ego hunc communem meum atque nostrum omnium hostem exalisto lepide, I will feately deueile this myne enemye, and all ours in commune.

Exarco, aui, are, to make blynde, to put out ones eyes.

Exalceo, ceui, are, to pull of ones shooes.

Excalfacio, or Excalfacio, lefacis, fēci, cere, to make verie hotte.

Excalfactio, ōnis, f. g. a heatynge or making of a thyng verie hotte.

Excalfactorius, a, um, that hath the power and strength to make hotte.

Excalfio, factus sum, fieri, to be made hotte.

Excalpo, calpsi, calpere, to scratche or clawe, to ingraue or cut in.

Excandefacio, defacis, fēci, facere, to thaufe or make angrie, to make verie hotte.

Excandescētia, x, f. g. a sodaine anger that tarrieth not longe, or after some, the indignacion of the mynde to anger.

Excandescio, candui, scere, to be verie angrie, to waxe verie hotte.

Excanto, aui, are, to inchant, to charme, sometimes to thutte out.

Excarnificatus, a, um, torne or rent with tourmentes.

Excarnifico, aui, are, to rent and cutte in pierces, to tourment.

Excauo, excauas, aui, are, to make holow.

Excautio, ōnis, f. g. the making holow of a thyng.

Excēdo, cēsi, cedere, to departe or go forth, to passe or excede, to die.

Excessit ex ephēbis, he passed boyes age, he waxed a man.

Excedere ex pueris, to be passed boyes age.

Excedere officium, to do moze than his dutie.

Excedere e via, to go out of the waie.

Excedere vrbe, to departe out of the citte.

Excessit mihi ætas ex magisterio tuo, I am nowe passe your gouernance and correction.

In magnum certamen res excessit, the matter came to great contention.

Morbus, qui quatuordecim dies excessit, whiche hath continued moze then fortene daies.

Excessit annos decem, he is about tenne yeres olde.

Excedere de medio, or de vita, to die.

Excedere digitum transfusum ex loco, to go a fingers bryade out of a place.

Excedit magnitudinem fabæ, it is bigger than a beane.

Excessit memoria, I haue forgotten it.

Excedere modum, to passe measure.

Excedunt quatuagenos denarios libræ, they cost moze then 40.

Nota excessere, the markes be woine out.

Excessit res ad publicam quarimoniam, the matter came to the point, that the people complained of it openly.

Excedit fidem, it is not to be beleued, it is incredible.

Excessus, us, m. ge. goyng out, a dyng or departing out of lyfe, deathe.

Excellens, lentis, excellent, surmountyng.

Excellens omnibus vir, a man surmountyng all other.

Excellentia, x, f. g. excellencie.

Excel-

Excellentia & magnitudo animi, excellency and noble courage.
 Excellentia & praestantia.
 Excellenter, excellently.
 Excellio, cellui, lere, to excell, to passe, to surpass mounte.
 Excellere & praestare.
 Admirabile quantum inter omnes vnus excellat, a meruailous thyng, howe muche one amonge all other dooeth excell.
 Prater ceteros in re aliqua excellere, to be moze excellent then other in any thyng.
 Excellere opibus, to be rycher then other.
 Excellere animo, ingenio, consilio, dignitate, virtijs.
 Excellere, non nunquam in malam partem.
 Excellitas, aris, f.g. height, altitude, loftynesse, hautesse of mynde.
 Excellitas animi, the valiantnesse of heghht of courage.
 Excelse, loftily, hautly.
 Excelsus, a, um, hygh of great, losite, haute, noble.
 Magnus & excelsus homo, a noble man and of haute courage.
 Grandis & excelsus orator, an opatour that vsseth an ample and lofty stile.
 In excelsum collocare simulachrum, to sette it in an hygh place.
 Amplius & excelsus animus, a courageous and losite stomake.
 Excelsus & illustris locus, an hygh and notable place that euery man maie see.
 Exceptio, onis, f.g. an exception.
 Exceptor, aui, are, to take or drawe to.
 Exceptor, onis, m. g. he that wyterly faste that, whiche other men dooe speake.
 Exceptorius, a, um, that excepteth, or conteyneth an exception.
 Exceptus, a, um, excepted taken, receyued.
 Exceptitius, a, um, that is taken or receiued.
 Excerebro, aui, are, to beate out the braynes of any thyng.
 Excerno, creui, cernere, to sifte, to purge: properly it is to trie out the yll from the good.
 Excerniculum, li, a sieue to trie graine, lime, or other thyng.
 Excerpo, cerpsi, pere, to gather here and there the chiefe of any thyng, to pike out.
 Excerptere & Libare.
 Excetra, x, f.g. a serpent, of whom the head being cutte of, thye came vp for it. it was also called Hydra.
 Excilio, aui, are, to take ones money from him.
 Excidium, dii, n. g. the sackynge of a towne or citee, or the utter destruction thereof.
 Excido, excidis, cidi, cidere, to fall out of a thyng, to fall awate, to be forgotten, to slippe out of memorie.
 Excidit animo, it is out of my mynde.
 Excidere animo, to be forgotten.

Excidere formula, to lose his action.
 Excidit numero ciuium, he is not of the number of citifens, he is banished.
 Excidit de manibus gladius, the sword fell out of his hande.
 Tibi excidimus, thou hast forgotten be.
 Huic excidit lingua, v. opinor, this fellowe hath loste his tongue, as I thinke.
 Excidere, & elabi.
 Fulmina exciderunt caelo, it lightned.
 Mihi ista exciderant, these thynges were gone out of my memorie, I had forgotten them.
 Excidit mihi nomen, I haue forgotten his name.
 Excidit memoria huius rei, or excidit huius res e memoria.
 Excidit mihi oratio, I coulde not speake.
 Mens mihi excidit, I was asonged.
 Fortuitu excidit verbum ex ore, he spaketh the woordes by chaunce, or vnwares.
 Nullum ferox verbum excidit, in all his communication he chaunced to speake no cruel woorde.
 Vxore excidit, he is disapointed of his wife, he shall not haue the woman that he thought to haue had.
 Excidere ab aliquo, To discente or dysagre from one.
 Excido, cidi, cidere, to cutte out, to cutt downe, to destroye.
 Excidere arborem, to cutte downe a tree.
 Excidere lapides e terra, to cutte off diggethnes out of a quartie.
 Excidere malum, to take awate a mischief of yll thyng.
 Excidere & euertere vrbein, To destroy and beate downe a citee.
 Ex animo excidere, to plucke out of memorie, to make to be forgotten.
 Excidere aliquem ex numero ciuium, to banish or exile one.
 Exciet, used of olde wyters for Excutit.
 Excindo, excidi, excindere, to ouerthrowe and destroy, to cutte out.
 Numantiam excindes, thou shalt subuerse and destroy Numantia.
 Excindere linguam, to cutt out ones tongue.
 Excio, ciui, citum, cire: or Excio, ciui, citum, exciere, to come vehemently, to call out, to waken, to prouoke or stirre, to reple vp.
 Excire somno, and ex somno, to awake one out of his slepe.
 Excire foras, to call forth of doores.
 Excire lachrymas alicui, to cause one to wepe, to make the water to stande in ones eyes.
 Excire tumultum, to reple a tumultie, to make a rustlynge.
 Excire hostem ad dimicandum, To prouoke ones enemies to fyght.
 Excire aliquem ad cupiditatem discendi, with exhortation to make one desirous to learne.
 Excit

Excipio, excipis, excipi, excipere, to except, to take, to take out or receyue, to enterteine, to trie or interche, to separate, to take by craft, to gather, to hyde, to succede, to resiste without any businesse. also to take vnwares or sodenly, to hearken of here diligently.
 Excipere furem, to receyue a felon as an assassin.
 Excipere notis, to wyte in cifer, or other comendous fourme.
 Excipit hos luno, id est, eximit, Iuno taketh them out.
 Comiter excipere aliquem, to welcome a man gently at his comyng.
 Amplexu excipere aliquem, to embrace a man louingly whan he meeteth hym.
 Excipere hospicio, to enterteine, to lodge.
 Excipere benigno vultu, to welcome with a louing and frendely countenance.
 Excipere audis auribus, to here gladly.
 Quid memores, hinc excipiam, I wil stande here and hearken what he saeth.
 Labores magnos excipere, To take on hym great payne and trauayle.
 Excipere laudem ex re aliqua, to haue praise and commendation by any thyng.
 Excipere pugnam, To receyue the brunt of the battaile.
 Excipere rumores, to intende and hearken for rumours and tales.
 Extremum spiritum filiorum excipere, To be with thes chylde as thes departynge of death.
 Verba alius excipere, to hearken and note a mans woordes, as he speaketh theim.
 Se in pedes excipere, to lyght on his feete.
 Excipere incautum, to take vnwares.
 Populus fere exceptit, he selle vpon his knees.
 Excipere onera amicorum, to take on hym the charge and burdeyn of his friends matters.
 Ventris onus auro excipere, to doo his easement in a vessell of golde.
 Nominatim excipere aliquem, To excepte one by name.
 Excipere, is a woode used of physicians, whan dyuers thynges brayed or beaten in a mortar, be after tempered with some lyoure.
 Excipulus, li, mas, f. g. an instrument to take any thyng in, a wele to take fishe, a snatche.
 Excipuas, a, um, that is taken.
 Exciso, cillas, aui, are, to croke, to teate, to beate.
 Exciso, onis, and Excidio, onis, f. g. a cuttynge out, a destroyynge.
 Excisus, a, um, gelded, cutte oute, cutte downe, destroyed.
 Excito, excitas, aui, are, to stirre, procure, or encourage, to reple vp, to erect and buyde.
 A mortuis excitare, to reise from death to life.
 Excitare somno, and De, e, or ex somno, to awake one out of his slepe.

Summam hominum admirationem excitare, to make men to meyle greatly.
 Excitare alicui amorem sapientie, to make a man desyre wysedome greatly.
 Excitare aedificium, to erect or reple an house.
 Excitare ciuitatem, to reple vp and buyde a citee.
 Animum excitare, to be of good courage.
 Excitare clamorem, to make a great shout and crye.
 Dormitantem excitare, to reple vp one that is a sleepe, and by translation, to quicken a negligent persone.
 Fletum excitare, to make to wepe.
 Caspites excitare dicitur sus, when in roostynge with the shewe the casteth by the earth.
 Excitare memoriam alicui, to bypunge one in remembrance.
 Excitare risum, to make to laugh.
 Excitare varios sermones, to cause men to reise diuers tales.
 Excitare stomachum, to comfort the stomach and prouoke appetite.
 Tempestates excitare, to stirre by great businesse and rustlynge.
 Opus excitare, to further the woorde, by setting seruantes diligently to labour.
 Ignem excitare, to blow the fier.
 Foculum bucca excitare, to blow the fier with his mouth.
 Excitare metum, to put in feare.
 Sepulcrum e lapide excitare, to build or make of stone.
 Excitare, vehemently.
 Exclamatio, onis, f. g. An exclamacion, a figure of rhetorike, expresseynge sorowe, or indignacion.
 Exclamo, aui, are, to crye out, to call for alowde.
 Furiose exclamare, to crye out, as one were madde.
 Aliquem nominatim exclamare, to call one by his name alowde.
 Exclamat maximum, he cryed out alowde.
 Excludo, cludi, cludere, to shut out, to deliuer, to hatche egges, to make to appere, to reiecte and refuse, not to admytte that is required.
 Excludere ab hereditate, to kepe one from his heretage.
 Nullo loco excluditur, he is shutte out of no place.
 Excludito mihi oculum, si dederio, put out this eye of myne, yf I geue it the.
 Excluditur Cappadocia, he can not haue entrance into Cappadocia.
 Excludi tempore, to be lette from dooyng a thyng by reason of the tyme.
 Honore aliquo nominatim excludi, to be excepted by name from haupunge any office or authority.
 Excluforius, a, um, that excludeth.
 Exclufus, a, um, shutte out.

Excogito, aui, are, to fynde out inuente by thyngs byng, to thynke earnestly.
Excogitatio, ónis, f. g. inuention.
Excogitator, óris, m. g. one that inuenteth.
Excogitatus, a, um, inuented.
Excolio, excolis, colui, colere, to garnyshe of decke, to polyshe, to haue in reuerence.
Excolere officium, and Negligere officium, contrary.
Excolere animos doctrina, to garnyshe the mynde with doctrine.
Excomposito, in order appointed.
Exconsoles, & exquassores, reherfed in the code of the ciuile lawe, doo signifie them (as Alia- eus affirmeth) whiche are of haue been in the dignitee of Consul, or Quaestor, but they dyd neuer minister in those offices, nor tooke the aduantages therunto belonging. Also they, whose fathers were Consuls or Quaestors, whan they were boyne. which assertion is contrary to Petrus Crinitus, who in the xv. booke
De honesta disciplina, saith, that they were called by those names, after they had accomplished their ministracion. which sentence Al- cius sharply reproveth Dispunctionū li. 4.
Excoquo, excoquis, coxi, coquere, to boyle a thyng untill it be dyde, to boyle thourghly.
Excoquere malum alicui, to inuent or diuise some pueil for a man.
Ignis excoquit vitium metalli, doth consume or purge away.
Excório, aui, are, to plucke of the skynne or hyde of a beast.
Excois, excordis, om. g. a foole or a man heres lesse, without spirite or boldnesse.
Excreo, aui, are, to speete out with retchynge.
Excreatio, ónis, f. g. a spetting out.
Excreabilis, le, that maie be auoyded with retschynge and spetting.
Excrementa, orum, thynges of digestion expulsed, moyste or dyde, whereof there bee. x. or dure, scume, choler, melancoly, vyne, sweat, filthe of the nose, spetill, milke.
Excreresco, creui, crescere, to growe out, or to growe muche.
 In alium excreresco, to growe by hygh.
Excretus, a, um, of Excreresco, well grownen.
Excretio, ónis, f. g. is the superfluitee of excrementes, beynge in the body.
Excretum, ti. n. g. of Excerno, the refuse or of-fall of any thyng tried or syfied out.
Excribo, looke Exscribo.
Excruciabilis, le, woorthie to be tourmented.
Excrucio, aui, are, to tourment greatly.
Excruciar vicem meam, he is verate soyle for my myschaunce.
Excruciat eam animi.
Filij causa coeperam me excruciare animi, I beganne to tourment and vex me mynde for my soones sake.
Excubia, arum, fam. g. plu. nu. wathe as well

by date as by nyght.
Agere excubias, to wathe.
Habere excubias, to haue a wathe.
Excubitor, óris, m. g. he that wathech.
Excubitus, us, m. g. a wathe.
Excubo, excubas, cubui, are, to wathe, or they whiche in battayle or in the garde of a priuie persone dooe.
Excubare in muris, to wathe upon the walles.
Pro foribus excubare, to wathe at the doore.
Excubar laurus ante limina, a laurell tree planted before the gate.
Excubare animo, to be watchfull and haue an attentue mynde on a thyng.
Excubare & vigilare pro aliquo, to haue hede and shewe all diligence for a man.
Excubatio, ónis, f. g. watchynge.
Excúdo, excúdi, and after Probus, excúdi, excudere, to beate or strike out. Sometime fynde out with studie, to pynce, to harte.
Vt primum filicis scintillum excúdi adu- tes, As soone as Thates had styken fyre out of the flint.
Capras excudent apes, the bees make war.
Excudere oua, idem quod excludere oua.
Excudere opus aliquod, to make a woork,
 also to pynce a mans woork.
Excúfor, óris, ma. gene. a maker of pottes and pannes. also a pynce.
Exculco, aui, are, to treade out or wyppen out.
Exculcans, a, um, troden out. also out of vse.
Verba exculcata, woordes out of vse.
Exculpo, phi, pere, to graue or intaple images also to geat any thyng by hearyng of one.
Exculpere oculum, to thrust out ones eye.
Exculpere ex marmore, to engrave in marle.
Exculpere nidos gallinarum, to make byrds nestes in a walle.
Vix exculpsi, vt diceret, I coulde scant geat hym to tell it.
Exculpere verum, to geat out the trueth of a matter.
Excultus, a, um, garnyshe, adorned.
Excúrio, aui, are, to put out of company or count.
Apollonium ideo excuriauit, quia nihil habebat, therefore dyd he put Apollonium out of the court, because he had nothing.
Excúro, aui, are, to dyesse a thyng curiously.
Excúratas, a, um, dyessed or handled diligently.
Excúratu victus, meate curiously dyessed.
Excúratu homo, a gallarde fellowe.
Excurro, excurri, or excursuri, currere, to runne out of a place, to make inuasions, or byrache out to the enemies landes, to make an intorde, to assaulte enemies in battayle.
Excurrit oratio, whan one maketh digression.
Excurrit insula, the plande is extended.
Debetis mihi decem aureos, & quod excur-
rit, pe owe me ten crownes and odde monie.
Summa excurrans, a broken summe, wherein is odde monie.

currans in meridiem planicies, a playne extendyng towards the southe.
Excúrio, ónis, f. g. a digression in speakyng, a misme in wares.
Excursiones inuicem facere, to make skemyngs and inuasions one vpon an other.
Excútor, óris, m. g. a currouer.
Excúsus, a, um, that whiche is ouerrunne or red out.
Excúsus, us, mas. ge. a course, where one passye his boundes, a goynge from the pourpose.
Excúsis, le, that whiche maie be excused.
Excúsius, with moze pardon, moze tollerable.
Excúsa epistola, a letter of excuse.
Excúso, aui, are, to excuse.
Excúsum me volo, I woulde they shoulde lide me excused.
Excusare aliquem apud alterum, or alteri, to use one man to an other.
Excúsum habeo me, holde me excused.
Excúsalares mare, aut ambiguos flagis, You woulde late for your excuse the sea, or the vnstayne wyndes, nowe blowyng in one coste, nowe in an other.
Excúsalorum ualeudinem excusauit, He layde out his excuse that his eyes were soze.
Excúsió, ónis, f. g. an excuse.
Accipere excusationem, to admitte ones excuse.
Asseire excusationem, to laye an excuse for ones lesse.
Temporis excusatione vti, to excuse hym selfe
 by the tyme.
Non habet excusationem stulticia, foolyshe-nesse is not to be taken for any excuse.
Excútor, óris, m. g. a pynce. also a maker of pottes or pannes.
Excúsaté, tollerably, withoute faute, without offence.
Excúse, exactly.
Excússorinus, a, um, that shaketh of, or shaketh out.
Excússores equi, flinginge or gambaldynges horses.
Excússores tritici, wyndowes of cozne.
Excússorium cribrum, a rangeyng sieue. also a coarse boulder.
Excússus, a, um, shaken of, chased out, exam-ned, searched.
Excúsió, excutis, cussi, tere, to shake, to chole, to weigh or consider, to examyne, to serche or inquire diligently, to put awate.
Excútere clauum lapide, to beate out an yron pynne or nagle with a stone.
Excútere equitem dicuntur equus, whan the horse casteth a man from his backe.
Excútient tibi istam verborum iactationem,
 They will make the leaue these proude and boastyng woordes.
Excútere ignem, to styke fyre.
Excútere feras cubilibus, to chase or hunte wylde beastes out of theyr denues.

Excútere mentem, to make madde.
Excútere oculos alicui, to pull ones eyes out of his head.
Pacem excúterat orbi, He set all the world in an vproze. or he troubled the whole world with warre.
Excútere rationem, to examyne an accompt or rekenyng.
Excútere seueritatem veterem, to put away the seueritie and rigour that one hath used in tyme passed.
Genus alicuius excútere, to examine of what stocke or kyned a man is descended.
Excúti patria, to be chased or bygnen out of his countreite.
Vires hareditatis excútere, to examyne and trye out diligently the value of ones heritage.
Excútere debitorem, to value ones goodes, and to examine whether he be able to pay his deptes or no.
Excútere aliquem, to robbe one, to shake one out of his clothes, to searthe one whether he haue any thyng about hym.
Excútere iugum, to shake of the yoke.
Excútere lachrymas alicui, to make the teares come out of ones eyes, to make one wepe.
Excútere vomitum, to make one to spue.
Excússi grandine, beaten with haile stones.
Excútere cerebrum alicui, to dash the out ones braynes.
Excútiunt cerebrum tua dicta, Thy woordes dooe beate out my braynes, or trouble my wrytes.
Exdecimo, aui, are, to tythe out.
Exdoruo, aui, are, to breake the backe bone.
Excestitides, one, of whom for his immoderate goyng on pilgrymage, grew a prouerbe.
Execo, excacas, aui, are, to cut, to cut out.
Execare pestem reip. to dispatche or ridde a most pernicious membre of the common weale.
Excreabilis, le, detestable, horryble. Sometime harde.
Excreatio, ónis, f. g. an excretion or cursynge, a bowe, wherein one betaketh hym selfe to the dyuell, p' he dooe the thyng.
Excreans, and Excreandus, a, um, detestable.
Exécior, aris, ari, to curse, to detest.
Exécio, ónis, f. g. a cuttyng of.
Exécus, a, um, cut out, cut of, gelded.
Filius excécus, a chyld cut out of his mothers wombe.
Exécútió, ónis, fac. g. an exploytyng or dooyng of a thyng.
Exédó, exedis, or Exedo, exes, édi, édere, to eate as a woorme or a soze dooeth, to eate by,
 to gnaw, to consume.
Quid te futurum censet, quem assidue excé- dent, what case shalt thou be in thyngest thou, whome they shall continually eate out of house and home?

Angor illum exest, angust of mynde confus meth hgm, or maketh hgm ppe aware.
Exedra, exedra, form. ge. a place full of seates for philosophers or learned men to sitte and dispute in also a parloure, or other place, wher
a bedde standeth.
Exegemticus, a fourme of speakinge, where the poete onely speaketh.
Exegeticon, idem quod Expositium, vel enarratiuum, by the whiche one expoundeth or declareth a thyng.
Exemplar, aris, neu. g. a persone or thyng conteynng an example to folowe or eschewe, and Exemplum, is the example it selfe. As the eloquence of Cicero, is Exemplum, and Cicero hym selfe, is Exemplar. Also it is an example, wyrtten out of a copy. Sometime for Exemplum, a thyng to bee felowed or eschued. Some-tyme the one is used for the other: oftentimes they bothe doo signifie an example, where one thyng is compared with an other.
Exemplare, idem quod exemplar.
Exemplarium, rij, n. g. an example or cople.
Exemplum, pli, neu. gen. an example to folowe, eschue, or bee ware of, a cople, a paterne, a president, a counterpaine, an open execution or punishment dooen to the feare of other also a similitude, a thyng brought in for the prooffe or declaration of a matter. Also a thyng that hath been dooen afore tyme.
Sine exemplo tempora, suche tymes as neuer hath been seen afore.
Si meum esset exemplum, If I hadde geuen the example fyrst, or yf it had been dooen fyrst by me.
Quod ad exemplum est: what maner of fe-lowe is he? whom dooeth he resemble? whom is he lyke?
Capere exemplum, looke Capio.
Nullo exemplo aliquid facere, To dooe that was neuer dooen before.
Imitari exemplum alicuius, to imitate an other in his dooing.
Ad illud exemplum fit, it is done euen as dying as you say.
Nocet exemplo magis quam peccato, He doeth moze harme by geuyng an euill example to other, than by committing the offence.
Præbere exemplum, to geue an example.
Non tibi exemplo satis fuit? Waite not you take a good example by me? or am not I a sufficient example for you?
Nullo exemplo aliquid facere, to dooe a thing
so as neuer man dyd before.
Malo exemplo facio, I dooe a thyng to the euill example of other.
Vno exemplo ne omnes vitam viuerent, that all men shoulde not lyue after one soyle or fas-cion.
Exemplum testamenti, a cople of a mannes wylle.

Misad Casarem eodem exemplo litera, haue sente letters vnto Cesar after the soyle, or haueing the same renouue and efface.
Animale exemplum, a paterne taken of thyng that is aloue.
Exempla edere, or exempla facere in alijs
To punyssh any body openly, to the example of other.
Exempla edi, and exempla fieri in alij
To bee punysshd openly, to the example
of other.
In quem exempla fient? who is that, that he punysshed to the example of other?
Dij te, malis exemplis perdat, God sende
a wycked ende to the example of other.
Exempli causa, or exempli gratia, For a of this matter, or for a moze manifest de-cleration of this thyng.
Singularis exempli iuuenis, a yonge man suche vertue and towardnesse, as there is typyng agayne.
Rarissimi exempli vxor, a wife of suche
tue as be but fewe.
Futuros sub exemplo præmonere, to warn them that shall come after, by the example of them that haue been before.
Subicere aliquid in exemplum, To adde thyng for an example or declaration of matter.
Sunt inter exempla qui, &c. wyrtters haue mention of some, whiche. &c.
Est in exemplis, it is brought in of wyrtters.
Exemplis, le, that which maie bee taken away,
or taken out.
Exemptio, ônis, form. g. an exceptioun, a taking away.
Exemptor, ôris, mas. g. one that taketh away,
one that dyggeth stones out of a quarry.
Exemptus, a, um, exempte or privileged, taken away.
Exemptus est rebus humanis, He is dead.
Exemptus pœna, discharged of punishment,
escappng punishment.
Exentero, aui, are, to pull out the garter of gutes of a thyng, to drawe a splene. And by translacion, to cut or pryke ones purse.
Exenteror miser, I am tourmented with that I am.
Exeo, exiit, ire, to goe out, to issue, to hys-out, to ende, to be deliuered, to be past, to be deferred.
In memoriam exire, to bee in remembrance.
Exit in fabulam, it is made a tale.
Exit de potestate, he is helpde hym selfe, he is not able to gouerne hym selfe, he is in ward of vnder a gardian.
Exire domum, to go out of the house.
Mane dum ad te exeo, tary vntill I come foorth to you.
Ea dictio egit in, a, That worde endeth in, a.
Exire ære alieno, to come out of debte.

Vt tandem et tot miseriis exiremus, That ones we myghte bee deliuered from so many miseris.
Exire ex animo, to go out of ones mynde, to
be forgotten.
Vt in aliuindinem exeat, That they maye growe vp in hepph.
Nec dum exierat induciarum dies, The daye of the trespas was not yet as than passed.
Exire in herbam aut radicem dicitur granu,
To spryngge vp, or to growe to a roote.
Exierunt libri, bookes were published or sette abode.
Nihil non consideratum exibat ex ore, there came no woorde out of his mouthe but with great consideration and aduiseiment.
Exire in prælium, to issue forth, and geue battayle.
Exire et vita, to dye.
Nostra licet vita supra mille annos exeat, although we liue aboue a thousand yeres.
Mancipare exire sepulchris, and the dead bodies to go out of theyr graues.
In vulgus exierat cum dixisset, It was reported or published abode among the people, that he sayed.
In tertium diem probationes exierunt, The proues of the matter were deferred vnto the thirde daie.
Exire obuiam alicui, to goe forth to meete with one.
Exire tela, to eschewe and auoide dartes and quarrells that be hurled.
Quum mea fors prima exisset, when my lot was fyrst taken out.
Exequi, arum, f. g. plu. funeralles, whiche are dooen in the buriall of any person.
Carere exequiis, to be buried with out solemnity of funeralles.
Exequias celebrare, to kepe a solene funeral.
Colonefcare exequias, to bee at ones funerall or buryng.
Exequiis rite solutis, after all solemnities of the funeral were duely finished and done.
Exequialis, le, that belongeth to a funeral.
Exequio, aui, are, to execute the funeralles.
Exequor, equeris, exequi, to doo or execute, to accomplish or finish. Sometime to declare or expresse, also to punyssh.
Exequi mortem, to dye.
Exequi sermonem, to speake.
Quid primum exequar? What shall I fyrst doe, or goe in hande with?
Aternitatem exequi, to contynue for euer and euer.
Consilium alicuius exequi, To folowe ones
counsaile, to doo as one aduiseeth vs.
Exequi delicta, to punyssh offences.
Nep pro modo omnia delicta exequébatur, Nether dyd he punyssh all offences as they were woorthie.

Exequi funus, to be at ones interement.
Incepta exequi, to doe that one hath begonne.
Subtiliter numerum exequi, to cast or compte.
Exequi procuracionem, to doe the parte of a pproct.
Exequi egestatem, To susteine and abyde pouertie.
Exequi fugam, to flee.
Funus exequi, to keepe a funeral.
Exequi imperium heri, to doo his maysters commauement.
Exequi iniurias, to reuenge iniuries & wrongs
ges dooen to vs.
Iter exequi, to go a iourneie.
Laudes eius exequi longum esset, it were long to recite and numbre vp the praies and commendacions therof.
Sedulo munera sua exequentur, they shall doo theyr duties diligently.
Quæ vix verbis exequi possum, Whiche thynges I can scantely expresse and declare in woordes.
Exequi ius suum, to pursue his ryght.
Negotium exequi, to exployte a matter or bussynesse.
Exequutor, ôris, ma. gen. one that executeth or doeth a thyng.
Exequutus, a, um, executed, dooen.
Exerceo, cui, ere, to exercise, to doo, to practise, to tply, to occupie, to beke, to kepe fro ydelnesse and reste, to sette on warke, to vse, to gette or wynne. Sometime to dyspue out of the house.
Exercere ætatem, to lyue.
Exercere Bacchanal, to be drunke.
Principem exercere, to practise the office of a prince or gouernour.
Exercere discordias & similitates, to haue bas-tiance or contention.
Exercere sumptus, to get theyr expenses.
Exercere tellurem, to occupie and tply well the grounde.
Exercere cantus, to singe.
Exercere choreas, to daunce.
Arcu se exercere, to shoote.
Quadam exercere festis diebus licet, It is lawfull to doo some thynges on the holy daie.
Ad quam cõmunes exercemus amores, whiche
the woman bothe of vs doo loue.
Exercere iracundiam, to shewe his wyathe, to bse cruelte.
Exercere artem, to vse his science.
Exercere patris nomen, To vse to dooe lyke a father.
Exercere populationem, to robbe or spoile.
Exercere pugnos in aliquem, to buffet one with his fistes.
Exercere questionem, to examine.
Exercere regnum, To dooe lyke a kyng, to plaie the kyng.
Exercere vestigalia, To gether and leaue tributes.

De aliqua re exerceri, to be troubled aboute a thyng.

Exerceri ad morem philosophorum, to be exercised after the facion of maner of philosophers.

Hic me exerceo, here I am occupied, or here I exercise my selfe.

Exercio, iii, ere, to amende or repayre.

Exercitatio, ónis, f. g. exercise, vse, or custome.

Exercitator, óris, m. g. one that exerciseth.

Exercitatrix, the feminine.

Exercitio, ónis, f. g. the taking of moneys for carrying or conveying by shyppe.

Exercitatus, a, um, exercised, vexed, disquieted.

Exercitatus & agitatus curis, vexed and tossed with cares.

Exercitium, n. g. exercise or vse.

Exercito, aui, are, to exercise.

Exercitor, óris, masc. gener. one that exerciseth or tradeth by men in any feate. Also a factour, or he that hath all the profute for conveying of wares in a shippe, whether it be the owner, or one that hath hyred it.

Exercitorius, a, um, belonging to exercitor. looke there.

Exercitus, us, masc. ge. an hoste of men of warre.

Exercitum conscribere, to gather an armie.

Exercitus, a, um, exercised, used in labour, wearied, hardened, troubled, tossed in businesse.

Exercitus in re militari, of great experience, or well practised in chivalrie and warfare.

Exercitus in agendis causis, muche practised in pleadynge of matters.

Exersitus multa lectione, a man that hath read muche.

Exersitus rebus adversis, one that hath bidden muche adversities and trouble.

Exero, exersis, erui, erere, to go forth, to put forth, to drawe out, as a man will drawe out a sword. also to lyfe up.

Fulgentemq; exersit enssem, And he drew out his bright sword.

Exerere vincula, to stryke of his gyues, or to take out of prison.

Quo caput exersatur, whereby his head maie be put forth.

Exerere caput, to thrust by the head. And by translation, to aunce it selfe, to excell.

Cochleæ exerunt se domicilio, snayles creepe out of theyr shell.

Exerere linguam, to put out the tounge.

Exerere manum, to stretch out the hande.

Exerere uincula, to vnloose bondes.

Exerere mentis secreta, to tell of vnder the secret of the mynde.

Phæbe vultus exersit, the moone appereth.

Exerto, aui, are, to shewe forth abroad.

Exertus, a, um, shewed forth, put forth, taken forth.

Exertum brachium, the arme put forth, or shewed forth.

Ensis exercitus, dialune.

Exesor, óris, m. g. one that eateth or consumeth.

Exesus, a, um, eaten up, consumed, gnawen.

Exsilatus, a, um, stitched without.

Exsio, I poure of dense.

Exsitus, us, m. g. a pouring of dense.

Exsodio, exsodis, exsodi, ere, to digge out.

Exsundo, aui, are, to caste downe harde to the grounde.

Exgregius, a, um, for egregius.

Exgrumo, aui, are, to come forth of an hys locke.

Exurgito, aui, are, to take or caste out of the chanell of streame.

Exurgitare argentum domo, to spende ones monie prodigally.

Exharedatio, ónis, f. g. a disheriting.

Exharedatus, a, um, disherited.

Exharedo, aui, are, to disherite.

Exharet, edis, com. g. one that is disherited.

Exharetismus dies, the day that maketh the scape yere.

Exhalabilia, such thynges as beynge sette to the fier doe breath out an exhalacion of fume.

Exhalatio, ónis, f. g. an exhalacion of fume that issueth out of the carthe.

Exhalatus, a, um, breathed out.

Exhalo, aui, are, to puffe out, to breath out, to sende forth a breath of fume.

Animam exhalare, to die.

Lucem supremam exhalare, idem.

Exhalare crapulam, to digeste a surfet.

Vinum exhalare, idem.

Vapores exhalat terra, The earthe sendeth out vapours.

Exhaurio, aui, ire, to draw out cleane, to make empty. By translation, to spend or consume, to pille or robbe, to take from one all that he hath, to wast. Cometyne for exequi, to burye.

Exhaurire labores, to bestowe or spende labour.

Exhaurire poculum, to drynke by all that is in the cuppe.

Exhaurire xarium, to waste the common treasure.

Exhaurit agrum fluens alius, the flux confuseth.

Exhaurire aliquem, to gette all hys monie from him.

Ciuitatem exhaurire, to send or put away all the inhabitants.

Ciuitates bonis exhaurire, to pille and cleane take away.

Exhaurire dolorem, to susteyne or endure patiently.

Exhaurire heredem legatis, to bequeath to many thynges to other, that the heire hath no thyng left for him selfe.

Quam tantum laboris exhaustum sit, seeing so muche labour is spent.

Ex

Exhaurire partem laudum alicuius, To take awaye parte of a mannes commendacion or praise.

Exhaurire mandata alicuius, To accompyse and doo such thynges as one hath committed to his charge.

Sumptu prouinciam exhaurire, to burdeyne a prouince with expenses and charges.

Exhaurire sentinam furum ex vire, by translation to ridde a company of naughtye packes and lewde persons out of a citie.

Sermone exhaurire sollicitudines, with communication to put awaye carefulesse, and trouble of mynde.

Exhaurire sibi vitam, to kill hym selfe.

Exhaustum, u, n. g. that is dooen of synned.

Exhaustus, a, um, cleane emptied, pilled, spent, and rydde of all that one hath, consumed, spent, bestowed.

Opes exhaustæ, richesse consumed and spent.

Exhaustus, one that hath an empty purse, or whose goodes be cleane consumed.

Pericula exhausta, perilles that a man hath passed and gone through.

Exhaustus est sermo hominum, men haue no more to saie.

Anno exhausto, the yere being ended.

Bella exhausta, finished, ended.

Exhebenum, ni, neu. g. a stone, wherewith golde synthes doo polishe golde.

Exheda, a, f. g. looke exedra.

Exheratio, ónis, f. g. a wedding.

Exherbo, aui, are, to plucke up herbes or weeds.

Exherbandus est locus, the place muste be weeded.

Exhibeo, exhibes, hibui, ere, to proffer, to sette abroad for all men to beholde, to exhibite, to come to shewe ones selfe.

Exhibere negotium, to putte to busynesse or trouble.

Exhibere rationes, to make an accompte.

Exhibere spectaculum, To make commune places of triumph.

Exhibere alicui affectum parentis, To shewe hym selfe lyke a father to one to beare a fathers affection towards one.

Fidem ac benenolentiam exhibere, to shewe hym selfe faithfull and longynge.

Imperium exhibere, to haue the maystry, to beare a rule.

Se iudiciis hominum exhibere, to putte hym selfe to the iudgement of the people.

Iustitiam exhibere, to shewe his iustice.

Laborem difficilem exhibere, to put to great payne and traualle.

Argutias alteri exhibere, to strue against one with subtilties.

Exhibere negotium, to putte one to busines.

Exhibere molestiam, to bere or greue.

Exhibere reum, when the suitor byngeth in the man that he was bounde for personally, and discharge hym selfe.

Exhibere alterum, to represent the fourme of an other man.

Rem saluam tibi exhibebo, I will warrant you your good faulte agayne, I will make it good.

Vicem alicuius rei exhibere, to be in stede of an other thyng, to serue to the same vse.

Exhibitio, ónis, fac. ge. an exhibition, a geupng or deliuerance.

Exhibitus, a, um, exhibited, geuen, shewed.

Exhilaratio, ónis, f. g. a comfortynge.

Exhilaratus, a, um, comforted, made mery.

Exhilato, aui, are, to comforte or reioyce, to make mery.

Exhilarantur arbores, the trees be comforted.

Exhomologesis, sis, f. g. confession.

Exhorreo, and exhorresco, ui, ere, & scere, to feare horribly or with tremblng.

Exhortatio, ónis, f. g. a stomakynge.

Exhortator, óris, ma. g. is he that encourageth one that fainteth or warche backe in doyng.

Exhortatus, a, um, that exhorteth. Comptme past suety, that is encouraged.

Exhortor, áris, ari, to exhorte vehemently, to encourage or stomake, to cheeryse.

Exhortari canes, to chere the houndes.

Exhortari canes in aliquem, to sette the dogs ges on one.

Ciues exhortari in hostem, to encozage his contrap men against their encmie.

Eques exhortari, to animate, encourage, or chere up hoyses.

Exhibero, exhiberis, aui, are, to abounde, also actiuelly, to make to abounde.

Exibilo, aui, are, to whyste or byste a man out of the place.

Exiccatio, ónis, f. g. a dryng up.

Exiccatus, a, um, dyled up, thorough dyled, also without wyte, vnpleasaut.

Exicco, aui, are, to dry, to drye thoroughly.

Exilare, idem quod exhibilo.

Exigo, exigis, égi, igere, to expelle or shut out, to drye away, to put out, to chase away, some tyme for transigere, to passe, as one passeth the tyme, to expelle, to tye or proue, to measure, also for extorqueo, to take by force, to exacte, to make satisfaction, also to require, to demaunde, to inquire, to dooe.

Exigere statem, to lyue, to leade his lyf, to passe his age.

Exigere annos, idem.

Exigere uxorem matrimonio, to be diuorced, to put his wife from hym.

Exigere nomina, to copelle men to paye their debtes, to require debtes.

Exigere creditum, idem.

Exigere pecuniam, to demaunde moneys that is owynge.

Exigere supplicium ab aliquo, to punish one.

Exigere tempus, to passe forth the tyme.

Tua causa exegit virum a se, For pour sake
the hath dyggen his husbände from hir.
Vehena suctu corporibus exigere, to sucke
the venym out of mens bodies.
Exigere reges ex ciuitate, to expelle kynges out of the citee.
Exigere aliquem honoribus, to deprive one of office of authoritee, to put of expell out of office.
Exigere lassitudinem e corpore, to put away weyrenesse.
Exigere vxorem, to put ones wyfe from hym.
Cuius causa hanc erumnam exigo? For whose sake doo I suffer or susteine this payne and trouble?
Exigere noctem, to passe the nyght.
Dare & exigere, contrary.
Iura debita pollicii tui exigere verecunde.
Exigere pondus, to weygh, to trie the true weighte.
Exigere promissum, to demande and require that one hath promised.
Exigere tributa, to exacte tribute.
Necessitas exigit, necessitee requirerth.
Hanc exigam a te operam, I wyll requyre of you one thyng, and that is this.
Exigere operam, to make a seruaunt dooe his busynesse and labour, to require of a seruaunt his labour.
Exigere columnas ad perpendicularum, To prooe and try whether the pillours bee made euen with the plumbe lyne.
Exigere ab aliquo veritatem, to forze one to tell the truth.
Exigere imperatam pecuniam, to leaue moneie that men were cessed to paie.
Exigere picula, to constrain one to make satisfaction for an offence by hym committed.
Mediam dies exigit horam, it is noone.
Exigere ferrum aut gladium, to thruste a swoorde through one.
Exigere sues pastum, to dyggen out the swyne to the fildes.
Hibernum mare exigunt, they passe of tras-uell the sea in the winter.
Ad leges et instituta nostra exigere, to measure and examine &c.
Exigere stylo, to expresse in wytyng: Quintil.
Exigere interdum apud Cicer. pro Com-pensare.
Exigere de re aliqua, to reasone and dispute of a matter.
Exigui, an abuerbe, signifyinge veray littell, hardly, nygardsly, sceldersly.
Exiguus, a, um, littell, small.
Homo corporis exigui, a man of littell stature. Exiguus animi, of bafe courage.
Numerus exiguus, a small number.

Exilio, exilis, lui, lij, and lui, lire, to go out hastily, or to leape out, to leape for toie.
Exiliuit foras, he lepte quickly forth of the doores.
Exiluit e sella, he leapte out of his seate, or from his stoole.
Exilui gaudio, I leapte for toie.
Exilis, exile, scelder, small, leane, yll fedde, alio of small value.
Exilitas, a, is, f. g. sceldernesse, thynnesse,
Copia et exilitas in dicendo, contrary.
Exiliter, sceldersly, thynly.
Exilium, lij, n. g. exyle, banishment.
In exilium exigere, agere, depellere, eijcere, to banyshe, to sende in exile.
Ire et proficisci in exilium, to goe in exile of banishment.
De exilio reducere, to call from exyle, or to restore one agayne from banishment.
Exilica causa, a matter agaynst them that be in exyle.
Eximie, excellently, notably well, passngly.
Eximie utilis, meruapulous profitable.
Eximius, a, um, excellent, pyched, singular, re-table, passng good, chosen out, great.
Eximia spe adolescens, a younge man of great lent towardnesse.
Eximius odor, a great and strong sauour.
Eximia forma, a singular sauour, an excellent and meruapulous beaultie.
Eximia velocitas, notable & passing swiftnesse.
Eximo, eximis, emi, ere, to take away, to pyme to dygge out, to exrepte, to puche out of a great number, to delquer, to discharge, to pyme to kyll.
Eximere actionem, to barre one of his action.
Eximere ex ararijs, where one hath his Quiestus est in the Chesquer, or other lyke place, to discharge one bypon his accomple. Among the Romaynes it was to delquer and quere citten of the fine and penaltie set bypon hym
by the Lencour, for his myssebehaviour.
Eximere ex reis, to arguite one of an offence, or to shew that the accusation, brought agaynst
one is not to be receiued.
Eximere noxam, to release one of a trespass committed.
Eximere in libertatem, to take out of seruitude and restore to libertie.
Eximere dubitationem, to put out of doubt.
Exime mihi hunc scrupulum, Solus me huius doubte.
Eximere lassitudinem, to put away weyrenesse.
Eximere de vestigalibus, to exempte from payng tribute.
Vinculis aliquem eximere, to delquer one out of pylson.
Eximere ex culpa, to excuse, to shewe one not to be in any fault.
Eximere memoria, to put out of mynde of memoiry.

Eximere

Exime nomen de tabella delatoria, put my name out of the rolle.
Eximere ex obsidione, To deliuer from a siege.
Eximere lapides sub terra, To dygge stones out of a quarrie.
Eximere numero, to laie aparte, not to recken or numbre.
Reum eximere, to quite a person accused.
Ex improviso, looke ex.
Exin, from hensfooth. Exinde, idem. afterwarde, from thence forth.
Exinatio, exinatis, iui, ire, to emptye, to byng to naught, to voyde, to take from one all that he hath, to robbe.
Exinanire alium, to pourge the bealy.
Exinanire nauim, to vnlade a shyppe.
Exinanire vrinam, to make water.
Exinanire aliquem re, to pyle one of all that he hath.
Vastare atq; exinanire agros vestigales, To spole and robbe the landes, whereof cometh petyl reuenues to the common treasure.
Exinatio, onis, f. g. an emptyng or voydyng,
a purgng of the bealy.
Exinanitus, a, um, pylled, robbed, emptied, brought to naught.
Exinsilo, aui, are, to shewe or put forth.
Exinsperato, vnlouked for, whiche no man hoped for.
Existimatio, onis, f. g. supposell, an opinion, a iudgement that one hath conceiued of a thing.
Comptine reputation, estimation, honour.
Dignitas & existimatio.
Homo magnæ existimationis, a man of great reputation.
Colligere & parere existimationem, to come in estimation and credite.
Amittre existimationem, to lese his reputaciō.
Existimatiōi suæ consulere, to prouide and hure regarde to his honour.
Existimatiōe damnatus homo, he of whom men haue an ill opinion.
Existimatiōem suam committere alteri, to truste an other man in a matter concernng his honour of estimation.
Existimatio, onis, m. g. one that speaketh as he supposeth, and not as a master of instructour, a iudge of any matter.
Existimo, aui, are, to trowe or suppose, to descerne or iudge, to esteeme, to thynke.
De alicuius ingenio bene existimare, to haue
a good opinion of a mā's disposition or nature.
Male existimare, contrarie.
Vere existimare, to decerne or iudge truly.
Exuentu de alicuius consilio existimare, to iudge of a mans diuise or counsaile by that that foloweth of it.
Suis moribus alterum existimare, to iudge an other man by his owne maners.
Existimatur in probro, It is taken for a re-proche. Existimatu facile est, a man may easily iudge.

Existo, existi, stere, to be, to appere, to rise or come of, to bee sette by or aduanced.
Et si hodie ab inferis existat Lycurgus, And if Lycurgus shoulde this daie appere or rise from death to lyfe.
Existit ex hoc loco difficilis quæstio, there riseth out of this place an harde question.
Existat ille parumper cogitatione vestra, doe you ymagine or suppose a litle in your mindes;
that he is aliue.
Summerfus equus voraginibus non extitit,
was no moxe scene.
Existet ex hac victoria tyrannis, Of this victory and conquest, there will aryle a tyranny.
Extitabilis, le, deadely.
Extitialis, le, deadely, of that causeth deathe or mischief.
Bellum extitiale, a deadely and cruell warre.
Extitiosus, a, um, idem quod Extitialis.
Exitium, ij, neu. ge. deathe or mischiese, destruction, A pitauole of euill ende.
Esse exitium alicui, to be ones deathe or destruction.
Exitus, exitus, m. g. a going-forth, an issue, an end.
Exitus hominis, the deathe of a man.
Exitus anni, the later ende of the yere.
Exitus orationis fuit, The conclusion of his wordes was this.
Aqua exitum reperit, the water hath founde an issue.
Quem exitum res habitura sit non liquet, It is vncertayne what ende or issue the matre wyll haue.
Contigit exitus quem optamus, it is come to passe as we woulde haue it.
Imponere exitum rei, to make an ende of a
thyng.
In exitu est, it is at an issue or ende.
Ex iure manu conseruum vocare, was a forme of contention for lande in this wyse. The desmandaunt laied before the iudge to the tenant,
The lande, whiche is in S, is mine, I saie it is myne by the lawe, I require the, trie it therewith me accordng to the lawe. The tenants answered: from whens thou hast requyred me to trie with the by the lawe: then I dooe est-coones appeale. Then went they together to the place in demaunde, to the entent, that they shoulde byngge with them a tyfe of the same ground to the iudge in the citee, and in his presence to demande and answer as for the whole lande whiche was in contention.
Exiuro, aui, are, to auowe with an othe.
Exlex, legis, com. gene. he that liueth without lawe, or out of lawe, lawlesse, an outlaw.
Exloquor, cris, qui, to speake as it is, to speake
all, to speake out.
Exobsecro, aui, are, to make great desyre.
Exoculto, ptiuitly.

Ff ij

Exo

Exochē, ches, f. g. excellencie.
Exoculātus, a, um, whose eyes be put out.
Exoculatio, aui, fere, idem quod Exoculo.
Exoculo, aui, are, to put out ones eyes.
Exodia, ōrum, n. g. were wanton toyes myghte with verses in a comedie or enterlude.
Exodium, ii, n. g. a longe at the ende of a comedie or enterlude, also the ende of a mattier.
 Nullum eius rei exodium inueniebam, I founde no ende of that mattier.
Exolesco, exolui, and exui, lescere, to leaue grow pge. sometyne to growe myghly, to waxe olde, to growe out of use.
Exoluit fauor, his fauour or estimation is lost.
Instituta exolefunt, ordinaunces growe out of use, and be littell esteemed.
Exolētus, a, um, that is paste growyng. Also olde or out of use.
Verba exoleta, woordes out of use.
Authores exoleti, olde authours not used to be redde.
Reliqui domi virginem exoletam, I leste at home an olde maiden.
Exolētus, ti, m. g. a man abused against nature.
Exoluo, ui, ere, to vnbrynde, to paie all clerely, to recompence or geue in rewarde, to delyuer, to loose.
Suspitione exoluere, to deliuer from suspicio.
Exoluere religione, to discharge from bowe or conscience.
Exoluere as alienum, to paie ones dettes.
Exoluere grates, to requite a good turne.
Exoluere idem, to fulfill that one hath promysed, to kepe promysse.
Exoluere promissum, idem.
Exoluere pœnas, to be punished.
Pœnas morte exoluere, to be put to death for any trespass.
Exoluere aliquem solitudine, to delyuer one from carefullnesse and trouble of mynde.
Vota exoluere, to accomplishe and fulfill that one hath vowed.
Nodum alicuius erroris exoluere, to shewe the veray trueth of a mattier.
Exolūtus, a, um, lewced, vnbounde, vndoogen.
Exomida, æ, f. g. a garment without sleues, a taberde or chymere.
Exomphalon, that swelleth in the nauill by dis ease or inflammation.
Exonero, aui, are, to discharge, to vnburden, to vnlode.
Exonerare ventrem, to do ones easement.
Plenas colos exonerare, to spinne of all that was on the distaffe.
Exonerare aliquid in alicuius aurem, to tell one a thyng in his eare.
Exonerare aliquem metu, to put one out of feare that he is in.
Exonerare fidem, to accomplishe and fulfill ones promysse.
Exopinatio, as one looked for.

Exopolis, he that dwelleth in the suburbs of a towne or citie.
Exoptabilis, le, to be wished for or desired.
Exoptatus, a, um, earnestly wished for, greatly desired.
Exopto, aui, are, to desire feruently, or to wish.
Exorabilis, le, he that is easie to be entreated in a mattier.
 Nulli exorabilis, he that no man can intreate.
Exorabulum, li, n. g. a craftie fourme of desyringe or askyng a thyng.
Exoratus, a, um, earnestly desired, intreated.
Exorbeo, es, bui, ere, to sup up, and by transla sion to susteyne or endure.
Exorbere difficultatem, to endure or abyde great payne.
Exorbere sanguinem ciuilem, to suppe the bloude of ciuilians, to desyre in the cruell death of his countrey men.
Exorbito, aui, are, to go out of the tracke of rarte lose, or to go out of the ryght waie.
Exorbo, aui, are, to make one that he can not see.
Exorcismus, an adueration or conuysing.
Exorciso, aui, are, to adure or conuise.
Exorcista, an aduour or conuiseur.
Exordesco, looke Exordesco.
Exordine, without ceasynge, in order one after another.
Exordior, iris, iri, to begynne.
Exordini facinus, to begyn a great enterpryse.
Exordium, ii, n. g. a begynnyng.
Exordium dare, to begynne.
Ducere exordium ab aliquo, to take his begynnyng of any thyng.
Exorior, exorior, or exoreris, iri, to be borne, to appere out, to rpe as the sonne dooth, to inuade, to assaie or set upon, to be receaied.
Dies exoritur, the date appeareth.
Discordia exoritur, discorde ariseth.
Fama exoribatur, a rumour or byre byde spryng.
Exorta sunt hæc omnia a te, all these thynges beganne at you, or you beganne all these mat ters.
Exoritur illi color, he wareth ruddle.
Rex exortus est Lidyæ, he became kynge of Lidya.
Exornatio, ōnis, f. g. a deckyng or trimmyng, garnishyng or apparaylyng. Also a colom of architecture.
Exornator, ōris, m. g. he that decketh.
Exornatus, a, um, garnished, richly apparayled.
Exorno, aui, are, to garnishe or make fayne, to apparayle richly, to ordeyne, sometyne to make foule or out of apparayle.
Exornare, et deformare, contrary.
Exornare se honestis moribus, to garnishe him selfe with honest maners.
Exornare aliquem magistratu, to geue a man an office.
Exoro, aui, are, to indure or obtayne by desyre, tesire heartly, to entreate, to bring to cōfōrmitee.

Exorare veniam, to aske pardone.
Non queo lachrymam exorare, I can not geue a teare out of mine eyes by any meanes.
Exorare aliquid ab aliquo, and Exorare aliquid, to obtain of one a thyng that he desireth.
Sine te exorem illis hanc veniam, let me ob tayne this pardone for them, or forgeue them this offence for my sake.
Exorare filia patrem, to entreate the father to forgeue his daughter.
Vnum exorare vos finite nos, let vs obtayne of you this one thyng.
Mihi exorandus est, I muste entreate hym.
Exors, ōris, om. g. out of felowshipp, not part taker, sometyne excellent.
Exors culpa, faultlesse, not gyltee.
Exors amicitia, not partener of the friendes shipp or amitee.
Exors matrimonij, he that was neuer married.
Exorsa, ōrum, begynnynges.
Exorsus, a, um, that begynneth.
Exorsus, us, m. g. a begynnyng.
Exoriturus, a, um, that pertayneth to rpyng, on the east parte.
Exortus, a, um, that is rpyen, or that appeareth.
Exortus, us, m. g. a rpyng.
Exortus solis, the sonne rpyng.
Exos, ossis, om. g. without bones.
Exosatus, a, um, that hath the bones plucked out or broken.
Exosculatio, ōnis, f. g. a kysyng.
Exoscolor, aris, āri, to kysse.
Exoilo, aui, are, to bone or plucke out bones, to break the bones of any thyng. Also to pull out the string of a lammpe.
Exostopes, the superfluitee of certayne bones.
Exotus, a, um, actuely, that hateth or detesteth, passuely, that is hatred or detested.
Exoticus, a, um, strainge, that cometh or is brought out of an other countrey.
Expalleo, lul, ere, to be pale.
Expallio, aui, are, to robbe one of his garmentes, to plucke ones garment from his backe.
Expallo, aui, are, to grope out, to geue or ob tayne a thyng by fayne meanes or by flatterie.
Expanditor amnis, a riuer that floweth abrode.
Expando, di, ere, to spreade out, to open as a floure doeth, to desplaye.
Expandere dictis, To open, and declare in woordes.
Expandunt alas aues, The byrdes open and spreade abrode theyr wynges.
Expango, pangi, ere, to ordein or appoynt, to set or fasten.
Expapillo, aui, are, to make naked to the paps.
Expasus, a, um, opened, spreade abrode.
Expator, aris, āri, to wander, to walke abrode, to spreade farre abroade.
Expatriatus, a, um, that spredeth, walketh, or floweth farre abroade.

Expato, expatas, aui, are, to come abrode or in to an open place.
Expatro, expatras, aui, are, idem quod patrare.
Expauco, expaues, pau, ere, and Expauesco, scere, to be feare afraide or abashed.
Expauere nouitatem, to feare the nouelte of straungenesse of a thyng.
Ad tumultum aliquem expauere, To bee as frayd when one heareth of tumulte or ruffling.
A primo conspectu eius expauescunt, They were afraide as soone as they sawe hym.
Expectare, the aduerbe.
Expectate venis, thou comest euen as I wold haue the.
Expectatio, ōnis, f. g. desyre of thynges certayne and looked for, expectation.
Plenus sum expectatione, I greatly longe or desyre to knowe.
Contra omnium expectationem, contrary to the expectation of all men, otherwys than any man looked for.
In summam expectationem adducere, to put one in great expectation, to make one looke earnestly for a thyng.
Crebras expectationes sui facere, concitare, commouere, to make men looke oftentimes for his commyng.
Summa est expectatio tui, They doe greatly desire you, and loke for your commyng.
Dare alicui expectationem conuiuij, to make one hope or looke for. &c.
Vereor vt amicorum expectationem sustinere possem, lest I be not hable to satisfie or fulfill the expectation. &c.
Decipere expectationem alicuius, To frustrate ones expectation.
Mouere expectationem, to make desyrus.
Vincere expectationem omnium, To dooe more than any man byd looke for.
Expectatus, a, um, desired, taried & looked for.
Expectati parentes, were yll parentes & woorthy to be hated, as who saith, their death wold dailey to be desired.
Charus & expectatus.
Expectatissima littera, letters veray greatly desired.
Ante expectatum, sodenly, sooner than men looked for.
Expecto, aui, are, to tarie or abyde lookyng for, to obserue or take heede, to hope, to feare lest a thyng wyl folowe.
Expecto quid velis, I long, or I wold fayne knowe, what you wyl mynde, or pleasure is, or elles I desyre to knowe what you woulde.
Expectabo dum venis, I will tarie and loke for hym tyll he come.
Expectemus Tartesiorum regis ætatem, let vs hope to lye as long as euer byd the kynge of the Tartesians.
Diem ex die expectabam, I byd loke styll euery date.

Mortem alicuius expectare, to hope every houre for ones death.
Expectare te arbiu or, I thynke you do desyre
to knowe.
Ad mensum Ianuariu te expecto, I looke
for you at Ianuarie.
Expectoro, aui, are, to put out of the breste of stomache.
Expectulatus, he that hath nothing of his owne.
Expedio, expedis, iui, ire, to deliuer, to spede,
to cary out, to declare of shewe, to tell shortly and in fewe wordes, to ryd of dispatche, to byngne one out of trouble, sometyme to ap-poynte, to byngne shortly. Also to make preparatione of prouision, to set in a redynesse.
Expedit manus, to holde up his handes.
Expedit virgas iacet, he commandeth rods
des to be brought shortly.
Expedit se omni molestia, to dispatche and rede hym selfe of all grieve and trouble.
Aditum expedire, to make a way to entre.
Causam alicuius rei expedire, to shewe the cause of any thyng.
Merces expedire, to set abrode wares.
Nodum expedire, to vndo a knot, to dis-
solue a doubt, to dispatche an harde matter.
Pecuniam expedire, to fynde meanes to gette money.
Expedit rem suam iudicibus, to proue his matter good before the iudges.
Ad bellum expediri iubet, he commaundeth them to be in a redynesse for the warres.
Expedit rerum capita, declare the principall
poyntes of the matter.
Expedit ferrum, to draw a sworde.
Nomina alicuius expedire, to contente ones creditors, to pay his debtes.
Expedit me hinc, te rogo, I pray you dis-
patche me that I maie be gone.
Expedit panem, byngne forth bread.
Aggere et ciuitibus adiutis expediunt, they make wayes to goe to it &c.
Alimenta arcu expedire, to gette his spynge by his bowe: to kill such beastes as he will eate, with his bowe.
Expedit se ad praelium, to addresse & make hym selfe in a redynesse to battaile.
Si ita expediat, If it bee needfull of expediente to be doon.
Expedit rationes, to dispatche matters.
Expedit rem, to declare the matter plainly.
Expedit se cura, to discharge hym selfe of care. Expedi, tell on quickly.
Expedito, for Expediam.
Expedit, signif. eth also It is expedient, or necessarie. It is come to passe.
Expeditum erat, it was expedient, or rather, It was a shorte and redie waie.
Expedit, quickely, easely, without cumbrance.
Expedit navigare, to saile shortlye prosperously and with a good wynde.

Expeditio, onis, f. g. a setting forth towards battaille, an expedition, a viage.
Expeditus, a, um, deliuered, dispatched out of busynesse, redie, in a radynesse, not letted, redy, soone prouided and gotten.
Expediti milites, souldiours in light harnes,
Expeditus & paratus, one well appoynted,
and in a redynesse.
Expeditum facere, to rydde out of busynesse and trouble.
Expedita excusatio, a redie excuse.
Expeditum iter, free passage in a mans trounep without cumbrance.
Expedita legio, expeditus exercitus, Expedita subsidia, wherin be souldiours in light harnapes, and easy to be remoued.
In expedito positum, In a redynesse, ready to be doorn.
Expeditus labor, an easie labour.
Expeditio via ad honores, a moie ready
waie to honour and aduancement.
Expello, expuli, lere, to expell or put out, to driue away.
Expelle in opus, to driue out to worke.
Expelle e bonis & fortunis omnibus, to preuent from theyr gooddes and all that euery thyng
haue.
Expelle sententiam, to reiecte a sentence of opinion.
Expelle aliquem regno, to driue one out of his kyngdome.
Expedito, di, ere, to ponder or weygh, to consider, to examine streightly, to paye ready, to spende money.
Expedit scelus, To be punished ready for
his offence.
Pecunias expendere, to be purposed.
Expedit & estimare, to podye and weygh.
Expedit aurum auro, To weygh gold
with golde.
Expedit se ipsi, let theym consider theym
selues diligently.
Expensum, si, n. g. of Expensa, x, expense, of dispende, coste.
Expensum ferre, to registre in a booke what money one hath deliuered or laped shortly.
Expensum ferre, is not onely spoken of lapaping but money, but also of other wythes, as, Mentio facta est de legione ea, quam expen-sam tulit C. Caesar Pompeius, mention was made of the legion, whiche Pompeius said he had deliuered to Cesar.
Creditoris sue negligentie expensum ferre debet, The creditors ought to beare the losse, whiche is happened by their negligence.
Codex accepti & expensi, a rekenyng booke.
Ne tu expensum inane ius feras, Thou shalt not inuite or write it among your giftes.
Fortuna omnia expensum, omnia fortuna fe-runtur accepta, what so euer good or euill chaunceth, is imputed wholly to fortune, or they

they sale, that fortune is cause of it.
Expensus, a, um, weyghed, pondered, considered.
Expersfacio, gefacio, feci, facere, to awake
one out of his sleepe.
Expersfactus, a, um, waked out of sleepe by
an other.
Expersfio, factus sum, fieri, idem quod Expersfio.
Expersfio, eris, expersfactus sum, sci, to awake.
Cum sole expersfactus, he that awaketh at the sonne rysing.
Somno expersfactus, wakyng out of sleepe.
Expersgitus, a, um, waked by an other.
Expersgo, expersxi, expersgere, to waken. idem quod Expersfacio: Expersgor, the passyue.
Expersge te, awake.
Expersge te facias, idem.
Expersgo, spersi, gere, to spynke with litoure.
Expersctus, a, um, that awaketh hym selfe,
quencheth, sterred.
Expersctus, i, ientis, an adiectiue, that trieth of proueth.
Expersctissimus homo, a man of great experience, or that useth to proue of tre matters with great diligence.
Expersctum, ti, n. g. an experiment or proue.
Capere experimentum, to proue or trie.
Expersctia, x, f. g. experience.
Expersctio, is, tri, to attempt of assaie, to proue,
to trie by the lawe.
Experscti ad arborem cornua, to trie his hoznes against a tre.
Experscti in paruis, To assaie in littell matters of small value.
Experscti re ipsa, to proue the thyng in deede.
Experscti certamen, to fyght, to toyn battail, to assaie the harsarde of battaile.
Experscti fortunam, to put in aduenture and proue what wyl chauce.
Experscti, in Plautus is used for Experscti.
Experscti iure, To trie for ones ryght by the lawe.
Vires suas experscti, to assaie what he is hable to dooe.
Extrema experscti, To vse the extreme remedies
di. to put all in harsarde.
Te experscti quanti facias vxorem, I trye the how much thou dost loue thy wyfe.
Expersctum est, it is tried by experience.
Ad expersctanda viua, To assaie whether the wyne be good or no.
Expersctis, om. g. without any parte, lachyng experience, rude, ignorant.
Experscti doloris, without paine.
Experscti lucis, without light.
Experscti moris, neuer dysynge.
Experscti corporis, that hath no bodie.
Ne quis experscti tua liberauit heret, That euery man myght be partaker of your lybes valitres.

Experscti consilij, that knoweth not what to doe.
Experscti lingua græca, that hath no knowlage
in the greeke tongue.
Experscti amoris gaudi, not knowyng that his sonne was in loue.
Laboris experscti, that dooeth not labour and trauaple.
Experscti fama & fortunis, he that hath losse his credite and all his goodes.
Experscti metus, or metu, with out feare.
Expersctus, a, um, spzyng with lycour or weate.
Expersctus, a, um, attempted, taught by expersctice, that hath proued of tried.
Expersctus loquor, I speake that I haue expers-ctience of.
Sagitta expersctus, a good archer.
Experscti prodigum, wee shew thynges that be proued and tried.
Experscti industria homo, a man whose dillig-ence is well known and tried.
Expes, om. g. without hope.
Expersctus, a, um, woorthy to be despyed.
Expersctio, lere, to demaunde of despye.
Expersctio, scere, to despye vehemently.
Expersctus, a, um, despyed greatly.
Experscti, experscti, tui, or ti, ere, to despye muche or courte, to happen, to wylie, sometyme to take, to passe out. Also to pursue of indouour to gette, as,
Mirum quin tuum ius meo periculo expers-tam, it is meruaple but I shall endeuour to get thy ryght with my great daunger. It is also to redounde of tourne.
Nam deum non par videtur facere, delictum
suum, suamy culpam experscti in mortalem vi finit, it is not spyring for god to do, that he shoulde suffer his offence of faulte to redounde to a mortall persone.
Experscti alterum prae te, I will despye an other rather then the.
Audire experscto, I greatly despye to heare.
Experscti vnguentis radix aspalathi, It is greatly despyed and sought for to make opynt-mentes.
Experscti tuam iracundiam illud facere, thyne age requirereth to dooe it.
Experscti multa iniqua, many unhappy thyngs
ges chaunce.
Primum hoc abs te experscto, fynde of all I des-
pye this thing of you.
Experscti ab aliquo auxilium, to requyre one
to helpe hym.
Pecunias ab aliquo experscti, To requyre one to make satisfaction.
Experscti, le, that maie bee purged, or for the whiche satisfaction maie be made.
Expersctum, ti, neut. gene. satisfaction, or a purgation.
Expersctio, onis, f. g. a purgynge or satisfiynge.
Expersctio, onis, f. g. a robbynge or pollynge.

Morem alicuius expectare, to hope anye
houre for ones death.
Expectare te arbiuor, I thynke you do desyre
to knowe.
Ad mensum Ianuarium te expecto, I looke
for you at Ianuarie.
Expectoro, aui, are, to put out of the breste of
stomache.
Expectatus, he that hath nothyng of his owne.
Expedito, expedis, iui, ire, to deliuer, to spede,
to cary out, to declare of shewe, to tell shortly and in fewe wordes, to ryd or dispatche, to byng one out of trouble, sometyme to appointe, to byng forth. Also to make prepa-
ratione of prouision, to set in a redynesse.
Expeditur manus, to holde up his handes.
Expeditur virgas iuber, he commandeth rods
des to be brought forth.
Expeditur se omni molestia, to dispatche and ryde hym selfe of all grieve and trouble.
Aditum expedit, to make a way to entre.
Causam alicuius rei expedit, to shewe the
cause of any thyng.
Merces expedit, to set abroad waares.
Nodum expedit, to vndo a knot, to dis-
solue a doubt, to dispatche an harde matter.
Pecuniam expedit, to fynde means to geue monep.
Expedit rem suam iudicibus, to proue his matter good before the iudges.
Ad bellum expedit iuber, he commaundeth
them to be in a redynesse for the warres.
Expedit rerum capita, declare the principall
poyntes of the matter.
Expedit ferrum, to draw a sworde.
Nomina alicuius expedit, to contente ones creditors, to pay his dettes.
Expedit me hinc, te rogo, I pray you dis-
patche me that I maie be gone.
Expedit panem, byng forth bread.
Aggere et ciuitibus aditus expediunt, they make wayes to goe to it.
Alimenta arcu expedit, to gette his bypunge by his boe: to kill such beastes as he will eate, with his boe.
Expedit se ad praelium, to addresse & make hym selfe in a redynesse to battaile.
Si ita expedit, If it be needfull or expediente
so to be doen.
Expedit rationes, to dispatche matters.
Expedit rem, to declare the matter plainly.
Expedit se cura, to discharge hym selfe of care. Expedit, tell on quickly.
Expedito, for Expediam.
Expedit, signif. eth also It is expedient, or necessarie. It is come to passe.
Expeditum erat, it was expedient, or rather, It was a shote and redie waie.
Expedit, quickly, easly, without cumbrance.
Expedit nauigare, to saile forth the prosper-
ously and with a good wynde.

Expeditio, onis, f. g. a setting forth towards battaille, an expedition, a viage.
Expeditus, a, um, deliuered, dispatched out of busynesse, redie, in a redynesse, not lettered, easly, soone prouided and gotten.
Expediti milites, souldiours in light harnay,
Expeditus & paratus, one well appoynted,
and in a redynesse.
Expeditum facere, to ryde out of busynesse
and trouble.
Expedita excusatio, a redie excuse.
Expeditum iter, free passage in a mans iour-ney without cumbrance.
Expedita legio, expeditus exercitus, Expe-ditia subsidia, wherein be souldiours in light harnages, and easly to be remoued.
In expedito positum, In a redynesse, easly to be dooen.
Expeditus labor, an easie labour.
Expeditior via ad honores, a more ready
waie to honour and aduancement.
Expello, expuli, iere, to expell or put out, to driue awaie.
Expelle in opus, to driue out to worke.
Expelle e bonis & fortunis omnibus, to put men from theyr gooddes and all that euery thyng
haue.
Expellere sententiam, to reiecte a sentence of opinion.
Expellere aliquem regno, to bypue one out of
his kyngdome.
Expendo, di, ere, to ponder or wryght, to consider, to examine streightly, to paie truly, to spende monep.
Expendere scelus, To be punished iustly for
his offence.
Pennis expendere, to be punished.
Expendere & estimare, to pōdie and wright.
Expendere aurum auro, To weyghie golde
with golde.
Expendant se ipsi, let theym consider theym
selues diligently.
Expensum, si, n. g. of Expensa, x, expens, of dispende, coste.
Expensum ferre, to registre in a booke what monep one hath deliuered or layed forth.
Expensum ferre, is not onely spoken of laying out monep, but also of other workes, as, Mentio facta est de legione ea, quam expens sum tulit C. Caesar Pompeius, mention was made of the legion, whiche Pompei saide he had deducted to Cesar.
Creditoris sua negligentia expensum ferre debet, The creditors ought to beare the
losse, whiche is happened by their negligence.
Codex accepti & expensi, a rekenyng booke.
Ne tu expensum manibus feras, That you should not mittle of wite it amyg pour gyltes.
Fortuna omnia expulsa, omnia fortuna fe-runtur accepta, what to euer good or euill chaunceth, is imputed wholly to fortune, or they theyr fate, that fortune is cause of it.

Expensus, a, um, weyghed, pondered, consy-dered.
Experfacio, gefacis, feci, facere, to awake
one out of his slepe.
Experfactus, a, um, waked out of slepe by
an other.
Expergesio, factus sum, fieri, idem quod Expergisor.
Expergisor, eris, experrectus sum, sci, to awake.
Cum sole experrectus, he that awaketh at the sonne ryng.
Somno experrectus, wakyng out of slepe.
Expergitus, a, um, waked by an other.
Expergo, experrecti, expergere, to waken. idem quod Experfacio: Expergor, the passue.
Experge te, awake.
Experge te facias, idem.
Expergo, spergi, gere, to spynkle with lioure.
Experrectus, a, um, that awaketh hym selfe, quickeneth, sterred.
Experientia, ientis, an adiectiue, that trieth or proueth.
Experientissimus homo, a man of great experience, or that useth to proue or tpe matters with great diligence.
Experimentum, ti, n. g. an experiment or ppose.
Cape experimentum, to proue or tpe.
Experientia, x, f. g. experience.
Experior, is, tri, to attempt or assaie, to proue,
to tpe by the lawe.
Experiri ad arborem cornua, to tpe his hoznes against a tree.
Experiri in paruis, To assaie in litell matters of small value.
Experiri se ipsa, to proue the thyng in dede.
Experiri certamen, to fyght, to ioyne battail, to assaie the hasard of battaile.
Experiri fortunam, to put in aduerture and proue what wyl chadnce.
Experire, in Plautus is used for Experiri.
Experiri iure, To tpe for ones ryght by the lawe.
Vires suas experiri, to assaie what he is habile
to dooe.
Extrema experiri, To use the extreme remedies
di. to put all in hasard.
Te experior quanti facias uxorem, I tpe the how muche thou doest loue thy wyfe.
Experimentum est, it is tried by experience.
Ad experiunda vina, To assaie whether the wynes be good or no.
Experis, eris, om. g. without any parte, lachyng experience, rude, ignorant.
Experis doloris, without paine.
Experis lucis, without light.
Experis moris, neuer dyngre.
Experis corporis, that hath no bodie.
Ne quis experis tua liberalitatis fieret, That euer man myght be partaker of your lyber-talitete.

Experis consilii, that knoweth not what to dooe.
Experis lingue gracie, that hath no knowlage
in the greeke tongue.
Experis amoris gratia, not knowyng that his
sonne was in loue.
Laboris experis, that dooeth not labour and trauaple.
Experis fama & fortunis, he that hath losse his credite and all his goodes.
Experis metus, or metu, with out feare.
Experisus, a, um, spzyng with lytoure or weate.
Expertus, a, um, attempted, taught by experience,
that hath proued or tried.
Expertus loquor, I speake that I haue experience of.
Sagitta expertus, a good archer.
Expertus prodigum, wec we thynge that he proued and tried.
Expertus industria homo, a man whose diligence is well known and tried.
Expes, om. g. without hope.
Expensius, a, um, woorthy to be despyed.
Expetito, fere, to demaunde or despye.
Expetisco, scere, to despye vehemently.
Expetitus, a, um, despyed greatly.
Expeto, expetis, iui, or ti, ere, to despye muche or souete, to happen, to wyle, sometyme to take, to passe ouer. Also to pursue or indeuour to gette, as,
Mirum quin tuum ius meo periculo expe-tam, it is meruaple but I shall endeuour to get thy ryght with my great daunger. It is also to redounde or tourne.
Nam deum non par videtur facere, delictum
suum, suamq; culpam expetere in mortalem vi finat, it is not styng for god to do, that he should suffer his offence or faulte to redounde
to a mortall persone.
Expetam alterum prae te, I will despye an other rather then the.
Audire expeto, I greatly despye to heare.
Expetitur vnguentis radix aspalathi, It is greatly despyed and sought for to make opnt-mentes.
Expetere tuam aetatem illud facere, thynke age
requirith to dooe it.
Expetunt multa iniqua, many unhappy thyn-ges chaunten.
Primum hoc abs te expeto, fynde of all I des-
pye this thing of you.
Expetere ab aliquo auxilium, to require one
to helpe hym.
Fueras ab aliquo expetere, To require one to
make satisfaction.
Expriabilis, le, that maie bee purged, or for the whiche satisfaction maie be made.
Expriamentum, ti, neut. gene. satisfaction, or a purgation.
Expriatio, onis, f. g. a purgynge or satisfynge.
Expuluo, onis, f. g. a robbynge or pollynge.

Expilator, óris, ma. g. a robber, whiche leauech nothing behynde hym.
 Expilatus, a, um, pylled, robbed.
 Expilo, aui, are, to robbe or polle, to take by extorcion of decepte, to spolie.
 Expingo, expinxi, ere, to pynct, to pynct out.
 Expio, expias, aui, are, to pacifie god with satisfaccion of praier, whan we thynke he is displeased, to purge by sacrifice.
 Tua scelera diu immortales in nostros milites expiauerunt, god hath punished our men of armes for thyne offences.
 Expiare iniuriam, to make satisfaccion of as mendes for iniurie that is done.
 Luxum populi expiare solenebella, warres are wont to chastise and punishe the riotous luyng of the people.
 Cædem cæde expiare, with one murder to make satisfaccion for an other.
 Expiratio, ónis, f. g. a breathyng out.
 Expiro, aui, are, to breath out, to die, to geue by the gost.
 Expirare animam, to die.
 Flammæ expirare, To caste or send out great flames.
 Expirante libertate, whan the libertie began to decaye and perishe.
 Expirare auras, to cast forth exhalacions of vapours.
 Expiscor, áris, ari, to seeke for fysh, to fysh out or serche diligently, to get or wyne.
 Tandem nescio quid ab eo expiscatur, finallye I can not tell what he winneth or getteth by hym, of what he trusteth to haue of hym.
 Expisso, aui, are, to make thicke.
 Expianate, playnly, manifestly.
 Expianatio, ónis, f. g. a declaration, or makinge manifeste.
 Expianator, óris, m. g. one that interpreteth or maketh playne a thyng.
 Expianatus, a, um, declared, expounded.
 Expiano, aui, are, to make plaine, to declare, to make manifeste, to expounde.
 Expianare verba, to pronounce distinctly and playnely.
 Expianto, aui, are, to pull by that whiche is set.
 Explendescere, scere, to appere clerely, to shine, to shyne bryght.
 Expleo, cui, ere, to fill, to fyll, to fyll by.
 Also to satiate, to comforte, to make perfect, to accomplyshe, to content, sometyme to make emptye of voyde.
 Exple animum curis, put all care out of thy mynde, or fill thy mynde with cares.
 Explere aliquem scribendo, To satisfie and fyll one with wrytynge letters to hym.
 Explere animum suum, to doe his owne pleasure, to fulfill his owne mynde.
 Explere animum alicui, to cõtent ones mind.
 Explere annos ducentos, To lye full two hundred yeres.

Supremum diem expleuit, he died, he ended his laste daie.
 Susceptum munus explere, to fulfill a charge that one hath taken vpon hym.
 Numerum explere, to fyll by the numbre.
 Famem explere, To satisfie or stynte ones hunger. Iphiclype Sicim explere.
 Libidinem suam explere, To do and accomplyshe his pleasure.
 Rimas explere, to stop and fyll by chynkes.
 Quod summam talenti autici expleret, which was of the iust value of a talent.
 Explicabilis, le, that may be fylled.
 Explementum, ti, n. ge. a thyng that fylleth by.
 Explicio, ónis, f. g. a fyllinge, a makinge perfect.
 Explicus, a, um, fylled by, perfecte, accomplyshed, atchyued, finished, also replenished.
 Spectando explicus, satisfied, filled.
 Dapibus explicus, filled, replenished.
 Explicabilis, le, that may be declared.
 Explicare, playnely, manifestly.
 Explicatio, ónis, f. g. an unfoldyng, a declaration, an expounding.
 Explicator, óris, m. g. an expounder or declarer.
 Explicatrix, the feminine.
 Explicatus, us, mas. g. a declaration, an unfoldyng.
 Explicatus crurum, a castyng of the legges one from an other.
 Explicatus, a, um, declared, made manifest, unfolded, dispatched, brought to passe.
 Explico, explicas, plicui, and aui, are, to unfold, to unfold, to desplate, to declare, to tell of shewe a thyng playnely, to desplay, to rydde out of trouble, to byng to passe, to dispatche or make an ende of.
 Explicatensem, he draweth out his sword.
 Explicat & cenas vnica mensa duas, he maketh two suppers at one table.
 Explicat caudam pauo, doth sette abroade his tayle.
 Cursum explicare citatis gradibus, to retine apace.
 Explicat vinbram porticus, maketh abroade shadowe.
 Explicare prouintiam cinctam periculis, to deliuer.
 Explica astum meum, putte me out of this fantasie or doubt.
 Explicans acies, agmen, vel exercitum imperatores, whan they in an open fildesette their souldiours in araye, redy to battayle.
 Explicare alas, to spreade & open the winges.
 Explicare naues, to set shippes in an order redy to fight.
 Explicare epistolam, to open a letter.
 Iter commodè explicui, I haue prosperously atchyued and made an end of my iourney.
 Explicatum tibi rem dabo, I will dispatche the matter for you.
 Da operam, vt te explices, endeavour toge and and dispatche your selfe out of businesse.

 Explicare, & expedire negotium aliquod, to rydde and dispatch a matter.
 Explicatus, a, um, unfolded, declared, made an ende of, dispatched.
 Explicatus, the comparatiue.
 Explodo, plósi, ere, to drue out with noyse or rebukes, or clapping of handes.
 Explorate, for a suretie, for a certaintie.
 Explorato, after it was serched or tryed.
 Explorator, óris, m. g. an espie or priute sctechour.
 Exploratus, a, um, well knowne, or surely knowne.
 Exploratum est mihi, I know surely, I am sure. Exploratum habeo, idem.
 Exploro, aui, are, to bewail with exclamation, to assay, to serche out diligently, to proue by diligent serchynge, to be aduised, to dyv by, to exhaust, to espye.
 Amenta explorare in digitis, to assay, to proue, to trie &c.
 Animum alicuius explorare, to proue ones mynde, to thende to know it.
 Taurus cornua explorat in truncis, doth assay of proue his hornes. &c.
 Explorare fugam, to serch and loke for a meane to flee.
 Gustu explorare bonitatem panis, to taste, to assay &c.
 Exploratum dicere, to speake that he hath tryed to be true.
 Explosus, a, um, conuicted or relected, dyuen out of the place with clapping of handes.
 Expolio, aui, are, to spolie or robbe.
 Expolio, expolis, iui, lire, to polissh well and cleauly, to make smoothe and trymme, to make perfite.
 Expolire vnguium scabritias, to trimme and make smoothe.
 Nihil omni ex parte perfectum natura exposiuit.
 Expolitio, ónis, f. g. a polisshyng, a trymmyng.
 Expolitus, a, um, polisshed, made smoothe, cleauly and trymme.
 Expóno, sui, ere, to expounde or declare, to put a thyng out of that, wherein it is. Sometyme to caste out a thyng, to the entente that it maie perishe, to sette forth at aduerture, also to spende, to set forth to be shewed, to laye out, sometyme to paye money.
 Exponere in terram copias, to land an armie.
 Exponere scænum in sole, to laye abrode hege in the sonne.
 Exponere vasa, to set abrode plaate on cups bordes to be scene.
 Exponam vobis ex memoria, or memoriter, I will declare to you by herte.
 Verbofus exponere, to declare a thyng in many wordes.
 Expopulatio, ónis, f. g. a wastyng or spoilyng.

Expopulor áris, ari, to waste, to spolie, to rob.
 Expórrigó, exi, ere, to extende or stretch out, sometyme to prolonge.
 Expórrigere frangem, to shew a merie countenance, to be plesant and iocunde.
 Exportatio, ónis, a bearing out, a conueyng of carryng out, also exile or banishment.
 Exporto, aui, are, to beare or carie out.
 Exportauit Syraculis magnam vim mellis, he caried out of &c.
 Exposco, posci, poscere, to aske or desyre in stantly.
 Exposcere deos aliquid, to desyre a thyng in stantly of the goddes.
 Exposcere aliquem, to require one to be delgated into our handes to be punished.
 Expóstiti, childzen caste out to be perished.
 Expóstitio, ónis, f. g. an exposition or declaration of any thyng difficult or hard to be vnderstanded. also castyng out of a thyng to haue farde or daunger.
 Expóstitus, a, um, that is laped out to the intente it shoulde perishe. also set out, set abroade, open to all chaunces, in daunger, declared.
 Taurus prouincia ad prædandum, a prouince in daunger to be spoled and robbed.
 Expóstitus solibus locus, a place open vpon the sonne.
 Expóstulatio, ónis, f. g. a quarell or complaynt.
 Expóstulátor, óris, m. g. he that complayneth of wronge dooen by his frende.
 Expóstulo, aui, are, to complayne, to make a quarell, to thye with one for a thyng, to desmaunde, to requyre, to wyl.
 Cum eo ne iniuriam hanc expostulem? Is it best that I thide with hym, or take hym by for this displeasure or not?
 Minaciter expostulare, to take one by sharpsly for a thyng that he hath dooen.
 Expostulare computationem, to demande a reckenyng.
 Expótiis, a, um, idem quod Epotus.
 Expresse, manifestly, playnly.
 Expresse dicere, to speake properly and to the point.
 Expresio, ónis, f. g. a strengnyng.
 Expresus, a, um, expresse, manifest, lyeuely made, taken by force.
 Expressa senatus consulta, ordinances obtayned of the senators by force.
 Expressa sceleris vestigia, manifest and apparent tokens of the mischiefe.
 Expressa in cara imago, the lkenesse of a thyng printed in ware.
 Exprimis, expresse, mere, to presse or wryng out, to make to doe by force, to constraine, to wryng out by force, to expresse, to portray, to draw, also to resemble, to be lyke, to desriue.
 Deinde per lintea exprimuntur, Afterwards they be strengned thorough a clothe.

Eripiendum atq; exprimendum est, it muste be taken and wrenched away by force.
 Vi lachrymas exprimere, to wrest out teares violently by rubbing the eyes.
 Expresit hoc necessitas patribus, necessitie constrained the senators to doe this.
 Exprimere confessionem culpæ, To constrain one to confesse that he hath offended.
 Exprimere risum alicui, to make one to laugh whether he will or no.
 Vocem exprimere, to make speake by force.
 Exprimere & reddere aliquem, to doe like one.
 Similitudinem palatii hæc domus exprimit, is like.
 Exprimere per aures sanguinem, To make bludde come out. &c.
 Exprimere per linteam, to streine through a linnen cloth.
 Exprimere animam, To pelde the goose and dye with great difficultie.
 Exprimere effigiem alicuius, To portraye or drawe out ones picture.
 Exprimit similitudinem, it resembleth or it is like.
 Verbis exprimere, to peincte or describe in herles.
 De græcis litteris ad verbum exprimere, to translate out of greke wordes for wordes. like wise Verbum de verbo.
 Ut græci magis expriment, as the grekes do expresse or signifie more naturally.
 Exprobratio, onis, a reproche, a twittinge, an upbraidynge.
 Exprobro, exprobras, aui, are, to upbraid, to twyte. Also to late in reproche, somtyme to resecte or disallowe.
 Non exprobrandi causa dicam, I will not speake it for any reproche unto you.
 Catonis orationes exprobrant callem a prugnum, Catons orations reproche or disallowe him.
 Expromissor, oris, m. g. he that promisseth, or is suretee for an other.
 Expromitto, si, ere, to promise or undertake for an other.
 Expromo, prompsi, ere, to shew forth or open, to speake, to utter.
 Expromere nummos, to take out money.
 Audacius expromam, I will utter or speake more boldly.
 Expromitur, is shewed, or is imployed.
 Expromptus, a, um, taken out, shewed abroad.
 Opus est mihi tua exprompta memoria, I must needs haue the shewe thy good and ready witte.
 Expugnabilis, le, preignable, that maie bee wonne by assault, that maie bee vanquished.
 Expugnatio, onis, f. g. conquering or wyngnyng.
 Expugnator, oris, m. g. a conquerour.
 Expugnator pudicitie, a ruffian.

Expugnatus, a, um, conquered, won by assault, overcome.
 Expugno, aui, are, to wyne by assault or force, to conquer, to overcome, to vanquish.
 Expugnare aurum alicui, by translation, to get money from one by craft and gyle.
 Expugnare carcerem, to breake prison.
 Expugnare fortunas patrias alicuius, to thynke a man wrongfully from his heritage, and take it to hym selfe.
 Expugnare propositum alicuius frequenti expostulatione, by great suite and intreatynge to cause one to leaue his purpose.
 Expugnare pudicitiam puellæ, by gyfts and other meanes to wynn a mayden to lewdnesse.
 Expulsi, with often beatynge out.
 Expugnare pertinaciam alicuius, to overcome, to vanquish. &c.
 Expulsio, onis, f. m. gen. an expelling or puttynge forth.
 Expulso, aui, are, to meue a thyng with muche thrustynge, or to put awaie.
 Expulsor, oris, m. g. one that expelleth or putteth awaie.
 Expulsus, a, um, expelled, thrust out, put awaie.
 Expultrix, the feminine.
 Expulso, aui, are, to caste out some.
 Expuncti, were souldiours discharged or put out of wages.
 Expungo, punxi, ere, to put awaie or remove, to put out a woorde or sentence in wytyng, with pyckynge it rounde about, after the ancient maner, somtyme to pycke, to crosse out.
 Expungere nomen debitoris, To put a debtours name out of his booke, to crosse the title of his dette.
 Expungere rationes, to heare and examine an accompte.
 Stipendiis expungere militem, to put a souldiour out of wages, to crosse hym out of the rolle, wherein their names were written that receyued wages.
 Expungere nonnunquam significat pungere.
 Expungor, eris, gi, to be cancelled and put out, or rased. It is also spoken of iudges when they are put out of commission. it is also to quitte as, Munus munere expungitur, one good turne is quitte with an other.
 Expurio, onis, f. g. a spetynge forth.
 Expuro, expuis, ui, ere, to spet out, to boyste out, to cast out.
 Cum illam expueret ex animo miseria, when he woulde caste that trouble and carelesse out of his mynde.
 Expurgatio, onis, f. g. a purgynge or makinge cleane of a thyng.
 Expurgo, aui, are, to make all cleane.
 Expurgare se, to declare him selfe innocent of that whiche is laied to hym, to purge or cleane ones selfe of a fault.
 Expurgationem habere, idem.

Ex

Exputo, exputas, aui, are, to threde or loppe a tere, to cutte cleane awaie. Also to vnderstande perfectly, to connecte, to imagine or deuise in ones mynde.
 Exputesco, putui, scere, to rotte.
 Exquilar, arum, a mountayne in Rome, where warthe was kepte.
 Exquilus, or Exquilinus mons, the same mountayne.
 Exquilus, or Exquilinus, a, um, of the hyl Exquilia.
 Exquiro, exquisiui, ere, to seche or tise out, to enquire diligently, to demaunde or aske.
 Introquire, sine ira, vt ego dico, go aske within, whether it be as I saie or not.
 Quod meum consilium exquiris, in that you desyre to knowe my counsaile or aduise.
 Exquirere facta alicuius ad antiquæ religionis rationem, to examine.
 Omnia verba alicuius sententia exquirere, to examine and ponder. &c.
 Exquirere a stippe, to enquire of a matter chosen from the verbaile roote of begynnynge.
 Exquirere iudicium alicuius, to demaunde ones iudgement.
 Exquirere mores alicuius, to make enquire of ones maners.
 Precium alicuius rei exquirere, to demaunde and aske the price of a thyng.
 Exquisite, and Exquisitum, exquisitely, with muche studie and diligence.
 Exquisitus, a, um, exquisite, muche searched for, picked, singular, excellent, deintie, syne persue.
 Exquisito opus est, it muste be looked for.
 Exquisita epula, deintie meates.
 Iudicio exquisito vir, a man of exquisite and rare iudgement.
 Exquisita doctrina philosophus, of singular or excellent learnynge.
 Exquisita ingenia, excellent, fine and picked wittes.
 Extradio, aui, are, to plucke vp by the roote.
 Exrogo, exrogas, aui, are, with a newe lawe to abrogate parte of the lawe that was made before.
 Exsacrifico aui, are, to offer in sacrifice.
 Exsano, looke Exanio.
 Exsturo, aui, are, looke Exaturo.
 Exscribo, scripsi, ere, to wyte out, somtyme to represent and be verbaile like.
 Excensus, us, m. g. a clymbyng out, a comynge forth, as one cometh forth of a shippe to lande.
 Excindo, looke Excindo.
 Excitilo, looke Excitilo.
 Excisco, looke Excisco.
 Exsigna, idem quod Signare.
 Exsordesco, sordui, scere, to become spithy and dishonest.
 Expumo, looke Expumo.
 Exugo, looke Exugo.

Extā, orum, n. g. plu. the inwardes, as the hert, the liver, the longes or lyghtes, and the spleene.
 Extabesco, tabui, scere, to weare or pyne away, to become drie, to consume.
 Extrahit opinio, that opinion is to wyne away and come to naught.
 Extemplo, forthwith.
 Extemporalis, le, sodaine, bryzmeditate.
 Extemporalitas, atis, f. g. a promptnes or redinesse without meditation or musing.
 Extemporaneus, a, um, sodaine, with out musynge.
 Extemporaneus, & Extemporalis oratio, an oration of matter written without studie.
 Extendo, di, ere, to extende, to stretche out, to continue, to pprolonge, to make longer.
 Extendere in proceritatem, to stretche vp in height.
 Extendere consulum, to pprolonge ones tōsultyppe.
 Extenderem preces nisi, &c. I woulde entreate you longer, saueynge. &c.
 Ibi suam ætatem extendebat, there he byd bestowe and spende his tyme.
 Extendere se supra vires, to assaie or enter ppye more than he can dooe.
 Extenditur in maiorem partem noctis solanus, continueth or abydeh. &c.
 Extendere agros, to gette great landes, or to enlarge his landes greatly.
 Extendere famam, to make his fame be spread farther abynde.
 Extendere iter, to make a great journey.
 Extendere se magnis itineribus, to aduance and marche forwarde by great iurnes.
 Viam extendere, to pprolonge ones lyffe.
 Extensus, and Extentus, a, um, stretched longe.
 Extentus sonus, an hyghe and shrill sounne.
 Extenta iuina, great iournes.
 Extento, aui, are, to stretche often.
 Extentare vires, to thrust out strength in doynge of a thyng.
 Extenuatio, onis, f. m. g. a makinge of a thyng lesse than it is, a diminishynge.
 Extenuatus, a, um, made thynne, or slender, made lesse.
 Extenuo, aui, are, to minishe or make litle, to cleuate, to make leane.
 Extenuare & augere, contrarie.
 Extenuare in puluerem, to make in powder or duste.
 Vehementer causam extenuare, to diminish and make a matter lesse than it is.
 Extenuatur cibus dentibus, the meate is chawed with the teeth.
 Extenuatur, it wexeth lesse and lesse.
 Extenuare corpus, To make the bodie leane and slender.
 Extenuare census ciuis, in scyng to sette a titelen at a lower summe.
 Extraneus, a, um, looke Extraneus.

Ex

Extercorator, oris, m. g. one that carteth awate doange, a gounge farmer.
Extercoro, aui, are, to cleanse, to auoyde dounge or ordure.
Exterebro, aui, are, to pette through, also to in ferche curiously.
Extergeo, teisi, ere, to wypp cleane.
Extergo, teisi, ere, idem.
Exterminator, oris, m. g. one that destroyeth or casteth downe.
Exterminatus, a, um, banished, dyuen out, put awate.
Extermino, aui, are, to dyue out or pul downe,
to banyshe, to dyue awate.
Exterminare, & Reuocare, contrary.
Exterminare ex hominum communicate, to cast out of the felowshyp or companie of men.
Exterminare morbum, to put awate sickness.
Externatus, a, um, astonied, made beside him self.
Externo, aui, are, to make madde.
Externus, a, um, whiche is not of that countrey,
a stranger, an alien, outward.
De parte externa, outwardly, on the out syde.
Externa bona, outwardes wordes gooddes.
Extero, exteris, trui, ere, to beate out, also to whet of gynde, to rubbe harde.
Exterere literam, to put out a letter.
Exterere messem, to thresh tozue.
Extraneus, of an other countrey. Also bozne or brought forth befoze the tyme.
Exterreo, ui, ere, to put in feare.
Exterritus, a, um, put in a great feare.
Extans, a, um, that whiche is not of this coun-trei or place, strange, comen farre of.
Extensus, a, um, stoured, made cleane.
Extexo, teui, ere, to vntweaue.
Exulio, aui, are, to drop out.
Exullare lacrymis, to weepe, to consume with weeping.
Extimico, and Extimesco, timui, ere, and exti-mescere, to haue great feare, to dread muche.
Extimulato, oris, m. g. one that encourageth or stereth by men to a thyng.
Extimulatus, a, um, pricked, stered by.
Extimulo, aui, are, to pynke, to ster by, to encourage.
Extimus, extrema, um, the outwardmost or laste.
Extinguo, xi, ere, to put out, properly the fyre, or any thyng that bourneth or is lyght. Some-tyme it signifieth to slea or destroye, to abo-lyshe: sometyme to make a distinction, or disuerfitee betwene thynges.
Extinguere animam alicui, to kill or straine
hym to death.
Extinguere bellum, to stynte the warre.
Extinguere familiaritatem, to breake and dis-solue the loue and familiaritee that is be-twene men.
Extinguere formam, utterly to disgrace the fauour and beautee of one.

Extinguere furorem alicuius, to suppress and alate the furie of any persone.
Extinguere infamiam suam, to stynte the in-fame of yll name that goeth on hym.
Morbo extinguere, to make to dye of a sick-nesse.
Obliuione extingui, To bee forgotten and cleane out of mynde.
Leges extinguere, To abolysh and destroye lawes.
Vestigia vrbis extinguere, to to subuerse and destroye a citee, that no signe of it may remaine.
Extinctio, onis, fem. ge. a putting out, a destroying, an abolyshing.
Extincto, oris, m. g. a destroyer, one that stin-teth or maketh an ende of a thyng.
Extincto patriæ, a destroyer of his country.
Extincto coniurationis, he that suppresseth a conspiracie.
Extincto belli, one that stineth the warre, or that maketh therof an ende.
Extirpacio, onis, fem. gene. a plucking by the rootes.
Extirpo, aui, are, to plucke by the rootes.
Extirpare humanitatem ex animo, to plucke all humanitee and gentylnesse out of a mans mynde.
Extirpare vitia, to roote by vice and naughtynesse out of the common weale.
Extispex, tispicis, m. g. a soothsaier by looping in the inwardes of beastes.
Extispicium, i, n. g. the craft of soothsaing.
Extantia, æ, f. g. apperance aboute the other.
Extio, extiri, are, neut. to be, to remaine, to be apparent, to appere aboute other.
Extat capite solo ex aqua, he appereth with his head onely aboute the water.
Ita ut extra terram paululum exteat, so that they appere a littell aboute the grounde.
Extat et terra sesquipedes, it is aboute the ground
a foote and an halfe.
Extare & eminere.
Extant libri, orationes, studia &c. id est, sue-persunt. Extare & interciderere, contrary.
Extat litteris, It is left in writyng.
Non extat alius author doctrinæ eius, there is none other authour of that learning.
Dum id extabit, as long as that shal continue.
Extollo, extuli, tollere, to aduance or pre-tolle. Also to lyft by, to prolong, to magnifie.
Extollere liberos, to byng by children.
Extollere indignationem, to shewe hym selfe to be greatly displeased.
Extollar nuptias, I eat hym deserre or prolong the marriage.
Extollere onera in iumenta, to lyfte by packes on beastes backs, to lode.
Extollere in maius, to make a thing more than it is.
Quem virtus extulit, eundem inuidia demit, whom vertue hath auanced. &c.

Ex

torqueo, torfi, quere, to fynde out the trouth by tourmentes, to take awaye by force, to suche awate, to wrest from one by violence.
Also to put out of toynte.
Exorare & extorquere, contrarie.
Exprimere & extorquere.
Errorem alicui extorquere, to make one to know and hate the error that he was in.
Extorquere veritatem: to extorte the truely,
to make one to confesse the truth.
Extorsisti, vi fatear, you forced me to con-fesse it.
Extorsit articulum, he hath put a toynte out of his place.
Extoror, oris, m. g. one that taketh from men
by violence, an extortioner.
Extorris, ris, com. gen. is he that is made to pay, or that is dyuen out of his countreie. Also to one that is excommunicated.
Extortus, a, um, constrained by tourmentes.
Also wrested from one by violence.
Extra, without, except, saung.
Extra telorum iactum, out of arrowe shotte, out of gunshotte. It signifieth out of daunger, or in saftegarde.
Extra iocum, in earnest, without mockyng.
Extra precium est, it can not be valued or estymed. extra culpam esse, not to be in the faulte, to be faultlesse.
Extra modum, aboute measure.
Extra ordinem, out of order.
Extra ostium, without the doores.
Extra urbem colloqui, to commune togyther aparte, from other company.
Extra vnum, onely you excepted, saung you onely.
Extra duces paucosq; præterea, Saunge
the capitayne and a fewe other besyde.
Extra, an aduerbe: as,
Extra, simile est amigdalæ, on the vtter parte
it is lyke almondes.
Extra quam, for Nisi.
Extraquam, si quid factum sit. &c. Excepte it be so that a thyng be dooen. &c.
Extractio, onis, f. g. a drawing out.
Extractor, oris, m. g. he that draweth out.
Extractorius, a, um, that hath the power or nature to drawe out.
Extractus, a, um, drawen out by force.
Extraho, extrahis, xi, here, to drawe out, to prolonge, to deserre, also to ridde of dispatche.
Extrahere telum e corpore.
Extrahere scelus in lucem, to discover, to re-uele.
Extrahere ex animis religionem, to plucke out of ge.
Extrahere diem, to put of a matiere from date to date.
Extrahere certamen, to deserre battayle.
Extrahere iudicium, to deserre iudgement.
Quomodo me inde extraham nescio, I can not tell howe I should geat my selfe fro thens, or out of that busynesse.

Extrahere in annum rem aliquam, to prolonge or delaie a matiere a whole yere.
Extrahi rem in suum aduentum iussit, he commaunded the matiere to be prolonged vntyl his comyng.
Extraneus, a, um, strange, of an other countrey.
Extraneus hares, he that is not the very heire.
Extraordinarius, a, um, extraordinarie, contrary to the ordinance, contrarie to the order or fas-cion commonly used.
Extrarius, a, um, that is not of the same howse or kinrede.
Extrimitas, atis, f. g. the extremitie or vttermost
parte.
Ora & extremitas regionis, the frontiers and boundes of. &c.
Extremo, lastely, in the ende, finally.
Extremus, a, um, sometyme signifieth the beginnyng or the first. sometyme the ende or the last.
Sometyme the woofte. also farre of.
Extrema linia, is spoken where a man woulde signifie a thyng to be laste, and after al other.
+ Extremis digitis attingere, to touche with the synger toppes, is spoken, where it is signified, that a man hath welch touched or felte a
thyng.
Ab extremo narrare, to declare and shewe esuen from the begynnyng.
Extremus labor, the last labour.
In extremo spiritu, such to the tyme of his deathe.
Halius extremus, the last breath.
Hora extrema, the hour of death.
Extremam manum addere, to finish, to make perfecte.
Extrema nox, the latter ende of the night.
Extrema pueritia, the latter ende of his chyldhode.
Supplicium extremum, death.
Durare in extremum, to continue to the ende.
In extremo tertio libro, in the latter ende of the thirde boke.
Ad extremum, in the vbraie toppe or ende.
Also at the last, finally.
Litteræ, quibus in extremis erat subscriptum, a letter, in the ende wherof it was writen or subscribed.
Extremum tunica, the hemme of a quate.
Extrema hyeme apparuit, it appered in the latter ende of winter.
Extrico, tricas, aui, are, to deliuer or shake of a ny thyng that letteth.
Extricare se, to ryd him selfe out of busynesse.
Extricare syluestrem agrum, to ryd and bushe
a fiede from trees, thowes, and byers.
Nummos vnde vnde extricare, to gette monye from one or an other toge so cует it be.
Extingo, xi, gere, idem quod stringo.
Extrinfecus, outwarde, on the out syde, from without.

without.
 Ex tripode, when we speake of thynges, whiche are verarie true, and not to be doubted, as it were spoken of goddis owne mouth.
 Extritus, a, um, rubbed out.
 Extro, aui, are, to go out.
 Extrorsum, from without.
 Extrudo, si, ere, to thrust out, to dyue out.
 Extrudere adibus, and Extrudere foras, to thurst out at the doores.
 Quam primum fac vt extrudas, See that you sende hym forth with all speede, or as soone as you maie.
 Extrudere alicquem, To make one to departe in haaste.
 Extractio, onis, f. g. a building vp.
 Extractus, a, um, buylde, made, garnished.
 Extruo, extruis, uxi, ere, to ordeyne, to builde or set vp.
 Extruere & euertere, contrary.
 Extruere adificium in alieno, To builde a house in an other mans grounde.
 Verba in numerum extruere, to couche and place wordes in order of certayne feete.
 Focum extruere lignis, to make a fyre.
 Mensas extruere epulis, to garnish the tables with good meates.
 Extruere stramenta in acervum, To laye vp strawe together in an heape.
 Cumulum extruere, to make an heape.
 Extruere rogam, to make a great fyre.
 Exuberatio, onis, f. g. a swelling or ryleng in the body.
 Exuberare, aui, are, to swelle muche, to rylse vp lyke a botche. also actiuelly, to make to swell or rylse vp.
 Extumescere, extumes, and Extumescere, ui, scere, to swelle or rylse vp.
 Extumidus, a, um, that swelleth or rylseth vp.
 Extundo, extudi, ere, to spnde out with muche labour, to get out with payne, to obteyne by force. also with thumping to make to swell.
 Exturbatus, a, um, thurst out, pulled vp by the rootes.
 Exturbo, aui, are, to put awaie, or to put out of from a thyng by violence.
 Expellere atque exturbare.
 Exturbare homines a possessionibus, To thurst men violently from theyr goodes and possessions.
 Exturbare spem pacis, to put away the hope of peace.
 Exturbare adibus, or ex adibus, to thurst out of the house.
 Vt istam exturbes ex animo aegritudinem, That you maie put this passion out of your mynde.
 Exturbare mentem alicuius, to make one out of his wille.
 Exturbare spem pacis, to put awaie all hope of peace.

Exturbare calculos, to breake the stone in the body.
 Extussire, to cough out, to auoyde with coughinge.
 Exuberare, aui, are, to abounde, loke Exuberare.
 Exuccus, a, um, without iuyce or licour.
 Exudo, aui, are, to sende forth the lycoure, to sweate out.
 Humor exadat, the humour (sweat) out like sweate.
 Exudare laborem, to employe and bestowe labour and trauayle, to labour untill he sweate.
 Exudare causas, to pleade matters with great labour and diligence.
 Exuerrare, the sweepnges of the house.
 Exuerrare, ti, ere, to pteuente.
 Exugo, exuxi, ere, to sucke out.
 Exul, exulis, com. g. a banished man.
 Specs alunt exules, euen banished men have hope ones to retorne in to their cuntry: a proverbe, signifying, that there is yet some hope or that wee should not yet despayre, but loke for a day: for in space cometh grace.
 Mentis exul, madde, out of his wille.
 Exulceratio, onis, a soresness.
 Exulceratorius, a, um, that hath the power of nature to make soze.
 Exulceratus, a, um, vered, made worse, made soze, corrupted with rancour and grudge.
 Exulcero, aui, are, to make soze, to bere or make worse, to impaire, to corrupte with rancour and grudge.
 Exulcerare gratiam alicui, to impaire the favour that one beareth to another.
 Exulcerare animum, to displease the mynde greuously, to make very angry.
 Ex vinculis causam dicere, To pleade in ward.
 Exulo, exulas, aui, are, to be banished, to linge in exile.
 Exulare domo, to be banished from home, or from his owne house.
 Exultabundus, a, um, reioysing very muche.
 Exultanter, ioyously, as it were leaping for ioye, braggingly.
 Exultantia, a, f. g. idem quod exultatio. also a beatyng, as a soze of the pulse doeth.
 Exultatio, onis, f. g. a hopping or dauncyng.
 Exulto, aui, are, to reioyce exceedingly, to brag, or make auaunt proudly, to magnifie ones selfe, to triumphe over one cruelly, to leape out, to leape for ioy, to bubble, to boyle or playe, as the potte doeth, when it doeth sceth.
 Exultum, with leaping and hopping.
 Exultatus, a, um, that bouleth out, to rylse out fully.
 Exultulo, aui, are, to houle out, to rylse out fully.
 Exundatio, onis, f. g. an ouerflowyng, a superfluous aboundyng.
 Exundo, aui, are, to overflowe, to abounde, to be superfluous.

Exungo,

Exungo, xi, gere, to annoynt.
 Exungulo, aui, are, to cut of ones naples.
 Exuo, ui, ere, to put of, to despoyle or vncloth, to depriue, to depur, to vncouer, to shewe out.
 Exue mentem, put awaie that mynde or affection.
 Amicitiam alicuius exuere, to forsake or leaue ones frendshipp.
 Armis exuere alicquem, To take away ones harneys, to vncarme a man.
 Exuere castris hostem, to depriue the enemies out of their campe.
 Ensem vagina exuerat, he hadde drawen his sword.
 Exuere ferociam, to leaue the fiercenesse and crueltie that one hath used in tyme passed.
 Fidem exuere, to breake promise, to doo contrary to that that one hath sworn.
 Iam gratiam nouitatis exuit, Nowe it is no more pleasant or acceptable for the nouelte thereof sens that it wareth olde.
 Nonne humanitate omnem exuisses? Should not you haue declared your selfe, to haue no humilitie or gentlenesse at all?
 Exuere iugum, and Exuere se iugo, to shake of the yoke of bondage, and sette hym selfe at libertie.
 Antiquos mores exuere, To leaue his olde conditions.
 Exuere alicquem regno, To depriue one out of his realme, to put one out of his kyngdome.
 Exuere se paterno agro, to sell the lande that came to hym by his father.
 Exuere senectam, to become yong agayn.
 Exuere obsequium, To become disobediente and stubborne.
 Exuere tributa, To refuse to pay any more tribute.
 Exuperabilis, le, that may be exceeded or passed, also actiuelly, that maye excell or passe.
 Exuperantia, a, f. g. excellencie, preeminencie.
 Exuperatio, onis, f. g. idem.
 Exupero, aui, are, to excede, to passe or surmounte.
 Exuperat eius stulticia hac omnia, his folys passeth all these thynges.
 Non solum dum anima exsuperabo mea, not onely as longe as I shall lyue.
 Exurdo, aui, are, to make deafe.
 Vina feruida exurdunt palatum, Hot wyne make dulle the taste.
 Exurgo, exi, ere, to arise vp, to arise out of miserie and trouble.
 Exurgite amba a genibus, rylse vp both and sleue no more.
 Exurgere de multa nocte, To rylse late in the nyght.
 Exurgere de insidiis, to breake out of an ambush, and set vpon the enemies.

Exurgat foras, leat hym rylse and gette hym forth of the doores.
 Exuro, uisi, ere, to burne out.
 Exussito, aui, are, to sitte or rylse vp, to wake from sleape.
 Exussitare animos, to quicken and stirre vp the myndes.
 Exustio, onis, f. g. a burnyng.
 Exustus, a, um, burned, parched, dried.
 Exutus, a, um, cut of, spoiled.
 Exutus campis, dyuen out of the fildes.
 Exuuiæ, arum, f. g. plu. spoyle taken from enemies.
 Exuuiæ serpentis, an adders skinne.
 Exubaphon, phi, n. g. a salate of herbes.

Ezechiel, (a prophete of the countreie Sarezra, in Syria, of the line of bishops,) had meruailous reuelacions and visions, and by hym God shewed many great miracles. For in the tyme of a great scarstie, he by prayer obteyned of god abundance of fishe, wherby the people were sufficiently refreshed. Also when the people were oppressed, he stode and made their enemies to abashed with myracles and wonderfull sightes, that they ceased of theyr enterpryse. Weeping in the countreie of Caldrie, he tolde the people of many thynges doon in the temple of Hierusalem, he brought the people out of Caldrie to Hierusalem, to the reproche of the infidelles. He weping in Babylon, iudged the tribe of Dan and Gad, for that they had wyckedly dooen agaynst the toyde, in persecuting the hym, whiche beleued in the lawe. And he shewed vnto them a terrible token. For adders deuoured their chyldren and all their cattall. At the laste he was slayne at Babylon by the duke of the people, because he reproved hym of ydolatrie. He was buried in the fildes Haur, in the monumente of Sem and Arphaxad, progenitors of Abraham. He prophesied of the retourn of the chyldren of Israel, and also of the comyng of Christ. He lyued afore the incarnation. 617. yeres.

F VVAS VSED in olde tyme for H, as Fordeum, for Hordeum, Trafo, for traho. &c.

Faba, ie, f. g. a beane. Erasmus Lordus, a physician of our tyme, affirmeth, that the pulse, whiche we call beanes, is not Faba, whereof Dioscorides, Celsus, Galenus, and Plinius dooe wryte: For that is runde, and lasse than our beane, whereof. xviii. made a dramme, where ours be so great, that some one beane weigheth a dramme, and is somewhat longe and flatte.

✦ Faba cuderur in me, the beane shall be knotted on me, signifying the pegne of blame that lyght on me.

Faba inuersa, some do suppose to be that herbe, whiche is called Lunaria, or Solanum somnificum: reade in Solano.

Faba Pythagorica, signifieth the counsel of Pythagoras, where he biddeth we shulde not eate beanes, saying, Faba abstinet, which is by diuers men diuersly expounded. Some declare it for a bare precepte, saying: That for as muche as beanes make the sight dulle, and causeth yll dreames, as Plinius saith, or as Cullius affirmeth, prouoketh inflamed or much wynde in the body. Therefore Pythagoras forbare the eating of them. But Aristoxenus affirmeth, that Pythagoras did not eate more of any kynde of pulse than of beanes, because they easily loused the bealy. Empedocles saith, that Pythagoras comanded to absteyne fro beanes, as it wer fro the acte of lechery, because Cyamos signifieth not only a beane, but also the genitours. Plutarchus expoundeth this precepte, as yf he had saied: Absteyne fro the ministracion of a comon weale, because it is full of perilles, nor can not be without rebuke or damage. In the olde tyme the consent of people was declared by beanes, which yet doth remaine at Venice, as well in election of officers, as in iudgements & sentences: for by whyte beanes thynges are affirmed, by blacke beanes they are denied or refused.

Fabacia, ae, f. g. a beane cake.

Fabaginus, a, um, of beanes.

Fabalis, le, of a beane.

Fabale, lis, a beane stalk.

Fabalis, the refuse or of fall of beanes.

Fabaris, a tyeur in Italy, renning by the Sabins.

Fabarius, a, um, pertaining to beanes.

Fabarica calendæ, the calendes of June.

Fabella, te, f. g. a short tale.

Faber, a fische of the Spanishe sea, also called Zeus, and is in figure runde, and of a russet colour. It is lyke to be that fische, which is called a lumpe, and of late yeres was founde in the sea about Deuonshire.

Faber, bri, m. g. almost euery craftes man, that woorketh with the hande.

Faber lignarius, a carpenter.

Faber ferrarius, a smith.

Aurifaber, a goldsmith.

Faber, bra, brum, pertaining to a smith.

Faberrime, counnyngly, veray craftily or well.

Fabianus, the propre name of a man.

Fabitor, in the aunciente tyme was taken for a mainteynour.

Fabius, the surname of a noble house of the Romans, which had first that name of sowing or sowing of beanes, as Cicero of the grain called Cicer, Piso of pisen, Porcius of swine. of this name wer diuers valiant capitains & wyle counsellours: of whom one was called Fabius Maximus, who in his youth exercised both eloquence & prowesse: & therfore he after became, as well in armes as in counsaile, a capitaine most excellent: & subduyng many countreies vnto the Romans, he triumphed. v. times. Being made dictator against Annibal, he so tempered prudence with manhood or prowesse, that by detracting of battaile, and training Annibal from place to place, and at sundry aduantages chirming with hym, he minished his puissance, & persued the publike weale of his countreie, where Minutius (enmyng hym) in fightyng with Annibal, was vanquished, and had ben slayn with all his armie, had not Fabius come to his succor and rescous, who despuered his aduersarie and all his trayne, and caused Annibal to retyre: who saied then to his hoste: Why I not tell you before, that this clowde wold a the last byng vs a storme: calling Fabius a clowde because of his hovering on the hilles. This man was afore the incarnation of Christ. 200. yeres, and somewhat more.

Fabius Quintilianus, reade after in Quintilian.

Fabrateria, a towne of Lampagne.

Fabre, woorkmanly, craftily. Vrapologum facit: quam fabre? Se what a defence he maketh: howe craftily he handleth it?

Fabrefacio, brefacis, feci, ere, to woike cunningly, to bylde.

Fabrica, ae, f. g. a woorkhouse, a forge, sometime the frame or woork. also the science of a carpenter, the facture, toingnyng or setting together of a thyng, the makynge of woorkman and shyp. also a wyle or deceipt.

Fabrica ferraria, a smithes forge. Aliquam fabricam fingit, he goeth about some wyle.

Quot admodum fabricas? howe many craftes waies dyd I assaie.

Fabrico, ani, are, & Fabricor, aris, ari, to make, to build, to inuent. Fabricare naues, to build shippes. Fabricare gladiu, to make a sword.

Fabricare animum, to forge the mynde.

Fingere & fabricare.

Fabricatus, a, um, made.

Fabricator, oris, m. g. a maker.

Mundi fabricator deus, god the maker of the worlde.

Fabris

Fabricus, a, um, of or pertaining to a carpenter.

Fabrilis, le, belonging to handye craftes, as smithes and carpenters.

Fabrianus, a mans name.

Fabritius, a noble Roman, who being wounded full poore, refused a great summe of money, sent to hym by hyng Pirrhus, touchyng with his handes all his members, and sayng vnto the hynges messengers: As long as he mought rule all that, whiche he touched, he wold take nothing.

Fabula, le, form. g. a fable or tale. sometime an interlude. It is also a luttell beane.

Fabula palliata, a comedie of greke.

Fabulogata, a comedie of latine.

Fabulam incipiat, he beginneth to tel a tale.

Fabula est omni populo, he is a talkyng stocke to all the people.

Iam nos fabulari sumus, now be we a talkyng stocke for euery man: nowe be we mocked and talked of by euery man.

Fabulam arctis agere, To passe the whole course and tyme of ones lyfe.

In fabulis esse, to be babbled of abroad.

Fabula, spoken in an answer, without any other woorde. togyrd thertowh, amounteth to as muche, as yf one woulde saie, Fables, trisles, fantasies, iapes. sometime is added meræ, as meræ fabulae, veray trisles or fantasies: or as one wold saie, That whiche ye saie, is not to be regarded.

Fabularis, re, of a tale, or lyke a tale.

Fabulator, oris, m. g. a teller of fables or tales.

Fabulinus, was supposed of the paynymys to be a god, whiche had the rule ouer children, whan they began to speake.

Fabulor, aris, ari, to talke, to commune, to moche or delude, to babble foolpethly.

Moruo verba fabulare, Thou speakest to a dead man, thou labourst in vayne.

Fabulari falsum, to lye.

Fabulose, lyke a fable or lye.

Fabulositas, avis, form. ge. the inuention of fables and lyes.

Fabulosus, a, um, muche talked of, that euery man speaketh of, that whereof many thynges be saynged.

Fabulum, li, n. g. a beane.

Facessio, cessi, cessere, to go about to do a thyng, to doo, to accomplishe. sometime to go away.

Facessit hinc, geat the hense.

Facessit ubi negotium, he putteth the to busynesse and trouble.

Facessere periculū, to put in peryll & daunger.

Facere, meryly, pleasantly, playfully.

Facetia, arum, f. ge. plur. nu. merie woordes or dyes without dishonestie, merie conceites with a pleasant grace.

Acerbae facetiae, bitinge scoynes, satyrage scoyes.

Condus sale & facetiis, full of wittes and pleasant saynges.

Facetiosus, a, um, full of mirth and pleasantnes.

Facetum, u, n. g. a thyng that is pleasant & mery.

Facetus, a, um, mery, pleasant, that speaketh of doeth pleasantly to make men laugh.

Facies, ei, form. g. a face. sometime the proportion of all the body, a visage, a similitude, the figure, fourme, or faction of a thyng, the cheere or countenance.

Qua facie est homo? Of what stature is the man?

De facie hominem noui, I knowe the man by sight.

Facies arboris, the fourme or faction of a tree.

Facies honesti, the description and figure of honestie. Confusa in pulueris faciem, beatein small lyke duste.

Loci facies, the figure and faction of a place.

Alphewise Facies visibis, stagni, montis, cœli, maris.

Noua illic rerum facies, all is newe there to looke to.

Vertere se in omnes facies, To assaye all the meanes and waies that one can.

Facies, and facij, was used of olde wyters in the genuie case.

Facile, lyghtly or easly, without leat or dout, without any great greife, without paine.

Illius ciuitatis facile princeps, without controuerthe chief and principall of that citee.

Facile facere possum, si iubes, I can dooe it quickly, if you bidde me.

Propter eas, viuo facilius, By theim I geat my luyng more easly.

Facile hic plus mali est quilibet boni, without doute there is more ylle in this parte, than good in the other.

Facile carere, to be well content to lacke.

Facile parior, I am veray well content.

Facilis, le, light, easie, facile, gentle, good to be entreated, easie to be pleased, tractable, ready to forgieue, propice, fauorable, gracious, sometime obedient, peassible, easie to be ruled.

Facilis aduersarius, a weake aduersary, easie to be vanquished.

Cara facilis, costie waxe.

Deos faciles habere, fauorable.

Cibi faciles, meates easie to be gotten.

Lactura facilis, a small losse.

Faciles oculi, rolling eyes.

Facilis & plana via, an easie and playn waie.

Facilis homo, a man easie to please, contrary to Morosus.

Ministri faciles, obedient.

Facillimi mores, passible maners, and easie to away with.

Populum facilem habere, an obedient people, easie to be ruled.

Facilis ad credendum, prone & ready to beleue.

Facilitas, avis, f. g. easynesse, genuinenesse, whan one is soone contented and pleased, promptnes.

Gg ij Faci-

Facinerosus, a, um, full of mischief, wicked, ungracious.
 Facinus, facinoris, n. g. an act of dede. Sometime an ill dede, a great acte.
 Facinus indignum nepharium, tetrum, a shamefull and abhominable acte.
 Factus nobile, a noble dede of enterprise.
 Facinus admittere, cōfiscere, facere, patiare, to committe some shamefull or heynous acte.
 Facio, feci, facere, to dooe, to bee occupied, to make. also to sacrifice, to profite.
 Facere aucupium auribus, to harken as a spie.
 Aequi bonique facere, to take in good parte, or in good woorthly.
 Animum alicui facere, to geue one courage, to stomache a man.
 Facere carnicinam, to execute the office of an hangeman, in hangyng, beheadyng, or quarters yng of men.
 Facere castra, to pitche a campe, to campe.
 Facere certiores, to asserayne or aduertise one by letter of messenger.
 Facere compendium, to make short, to abydge to go a short waie to woork, to dooe a thyng the sooner.
 Facere compotem, to geue to one that thyng, whiche he despyeth.
 Facere coniecturam, to coniecte or deduce, to diuine or esteeme.
 Facere contumeliam, to doo displeasure.
 Facere conuitium, to rebuke, or put to rebuke, to cheeke.
 Capitale facere, to make it felony or death.
 Cautiorem facere, to make him wiser, to make him more ware.
 Concilia facere, to gather to gyther for couns saylyng one an other, to geue counsaile.
 Facere copiam, to geue leaue.
 Facere copiam alicuius, to leat hym take his pleasure of one.
 Facere copiam argenti, to lende monie.
 Copiam consilii sui facere, to heare them that come for counsaile, and to geue it to them.
 Facere consuetudinem, to be familiar.
 Deditionem facere, to geide by as a man banquished in warre.
 Facere delicias, to speake for pleasure, or in morage. Fac esse, admit it be so, or admit the case.
 Fac esse, quifum, ymagine that thou were as I am.
 Eruptionem facere, to breake or issue out bypon enemies.
 Facere fidem, to make one to belue hym.
 Facere frugem, to wyne gaynes.
 Facere funus, to minister funeralls.
 Gradum facere, to steppe foot the or steppe by, to wyne somewhat.
 Gratiā facere, to thanke, to release or acquite one of a thyng, to geue leaue, to pardone.
 Gratiā iusiurandi facere, to dispence with one for his othe.

Facere gratiam, to dooe pleasure to one, or to buy a mans sauour.
 Facere grauidam, to get with childe.
 Facere iacturam, to haue a losse.
 Imperium facere, to renne on a thyng with all force.
 Facere inditium, to tell or to geue warnyng of a thyng that he knoweth.
 Facere ingenium suum, to dooe accorpyng to his witte or nature.
 Facere insidias, to lie in waite to do harme to one.
 Facere iter, to go or ryde.
 Iusta alicui facere, to persourme all oblique belonging to deade men.
 Lenocinium facere, to kepe baudy.
 Facere lucrum, to wyne.
 Facere ludos, to moke or scozne. also to flye footy plaies.
 Facere magni, to esteeme muche.
 Modum facere, to kepe measure.
 Modos facere, to synge.
 Moram facere, to tary, to pprolonge, to defere.
 Morem facere, to bynge by a custome.
 Multum facere, to forsaite a pyne.
 Mutuum facere, to do one for an other, to quyte.
 Facere mecum, to make for my purpose, to hold on my syde, to take my parte.
 Facere naufragium, to renne to wreche, to haue a thyng wreke.
 Naufragium gloriæ facere, to lose his gloie and renoune.
 Facere negotium, to put one to business.
 Facere nequiter, to doo thewoldy.
 Facere nomina, to get debtors, as by lendyng as they dooe now by exchange, and in thyngs, properly called vsure, and in bargaynes of coine, cattalle, and other lyke, or lettyn of landes. it is also to bozowe monie, to name, to make renoumed and famous.
 Respondit, secum facere Syllam, he answered, that Sylla was of his opinion, or dyd thyng as he dyd.
 Obnoxium sibi aliquem facere, to bynde one to be at his commaundement.
 Facere triciū, to geue to one leysure.
 Facere palam, to tel a thyng abyode.
 Facere periculum, to proue, to assaie, to bynge in perill and danger.
 Facere plaris, to set more by.
 Facere propitium, to make him thyng of his good loide or maister.
 Facere questum, to gayne.
 Facere reducem, to byng one agayne.
 Facere rem, to geat profite or gayne by a thyng to thyng.
 Facere reum, to accuse or sewe one in a crymynall cause.
 Facere risum, to cause to lawgh.
 Facere scelus, to dooe a mischeuous dede.
 Facere sementem, to sowe gayne.
 Facere stipendia, to be in wages in the warres.
 Facere

Facere sumpum, to bestowe coste.
 Facere superbum, to flea one.
 Facere technam, to plaie a crafty pageant.
 Facere terrorem, to put in feare.
 Facere transacta omnia, to bynge all thynges to a poynte.
 Facere turbas, to make business.
 Facere vadimonium, to tap in gage of surctes, to promise to appere at a daie appointed.
 Facere verba aut verbum, to speake.
 Facere vindemiam, to gather grapes, to make wyne.
 Facere vitium, to fall in decate.
 Facere voluptatem, to satisfie myne, thyng, or his pleasure, or appetite.
 Faciam vt te plurimum amem, I will loue the muche.
 Facisse hoc oportuit, needes muste ye haue doen it.
 Facio plurimi, I make muche of.
 Floccifacio, I sette not a strawe by it.
 Facit ad difficultatem vrinar, it is holtsome for the strangullion, or for them that can not pis easily.
 Non facit ad stomachum, it is not holtsome for the stomache.
 Aes alienum facere, to bozowe monie.
 Facere ad bonos mores, to helpe or anagle to honest behauiour.
 Facere ad alicuius palatum, to bep for ones nouwe tooth.
 Caput facere, to growe to an head, as herbes doo before they beage seede.
 Facere concursum, to renne together.
 Qui cum Sertorio faciebant, whiche folowed or fauoured the parte of Sertorius.
 Facere descensionem, to lande out of a shyp or boie.
 Quamuis paucos vnā fecerimus dies, Al though we taried but fewe daies together.
 Facere dolorem, to put to paine.
 Facere errorem, to deccie.
 Exempla faciam in te, I will punyssh the to the example of other.
 Facere fauorem apud aliquem, to reconcle.
 Finem facere, to make an ende.
 Formidinem facere, to put in feare.
 Fraudem legi facere, by some craft or wyle to delude the lawe.
 Fenus facere prandio, to eate a mans diner.
 Gloriam alicui rei facere, to make a thyng great esteemed and set by.
 Hospitium facere, to entertayne or lodge.
 Hostilia facere, to thewe hym selfe to be an enemy, to doo lyke an enemy.
 Facere iudicium, to iudge, to geue iudgement.
 Facere manum, to gather a company or bande of souldiours.
 Medicinam facere, to make a confection. also to heale or cure.
 Mercaturam facere, to vse or practice the feate of marchandise.

Missum facere, to leat go.
 Missa hæc faciamus, Leat vs speake no more of these thynges.
 Momentum facere, to bee of some wepyghte or importance.
 Facere momentum annonæ, to bynge downe the price of vitaille or coine.
 Nilus rei sibi naturam faciat, Let him by long custome tourne this thyng in to his nature.
 Non possum facere, quin ad te miram, I can not choose but send to you.
 Optionem facere, to put to the choys.
 Opus facere, to labour.
 Quidam vitæ facere, to make one weete of his lyfe.
 Quia facere, to lake eggs.
 Partes facere, to diuide.
 Facere pecuniam, to geat great gaynes.
 Securitatem facere, to make carcelle.
 Facere syngrapham, to make an obligacion.
 Facere prouentum maiorem, to geide more fruite.
 Pugnam facere, to brade the fyte.
 Factus, a, um, made, dooen, wrought.
 Argentum factum, plute.
 Factio, onis, f. g. a diuision of people in sundry opinions. also an acte, a dooyng. also a company or bande of men. Sometime rhyesse, and choysite of estimation in a cite.
 Cui testamenti factio nulla est, to whom it is not permitted by the law, to make any testamēt.
 Factidum principes, the heades of rebellion or sedicion.
 Neque nos tanta factione sumus, nepther be we of so great authoritee.
 Factitius, a, um, made by couctetfai to the like of an other thyng.
 Factitius color, a counterfaiete colour.
 Factito, aut, are, to doo often tymes.
 Cāmina in aliquem factitare, to make verses agaynst one.
 Factiare medicinam, to practice physike.
 Factiosus, a, um, factious, sedicious, byaulyns, also rhye, of great authoritee.
 Factor, oris, m. g. a maker.
 Factum, ti, n. g. a dede, a thyng made.
 Factum atque transactum, dooen and brought to good passe.
 Haud muto factum, I repent me not of that I haue dooen.
 Facta, promesse and noble actes.
 Fortia facta patrum, the valiant dedes of our forefathers.
 Factura, æ, f. g. the facture or makinge of a thyng.
 Facturio, iui, ij, ire, to despye to dooe.
 Factus, us, m. g. a makinge.
 Facula, læ, f. g. a lyke, or lytell coye.
 Facularij, coye beaters.
 Facultas, atis, f. g. power to doo or speake, habilitie: Sometime rhyesse. also facultee, vertue.
 Gg iij

of strength in a thyng. also occasion, oportus nutee.
Adimere facultatem aliquid faciendi, to teat
one that he can not dooe a thyng.
Facultatem dare, to geue power of licence.
Si facultas erit, pf we maie, pf we can haue of oportunitie of licence.
Dare facultatem eligendi, To geue one the choise.
Facultas ingenii, a facultee of science that the wytte is exercised in.
Facultas dicendi, eloquence, aptnesse, or p̄opt nesse to speake in any thyng.
Facultatem in dicendo habere, to be eloquent or well langaged, to be a good orator.
Dare facultatem omnibus sui irridendi, To geue all men occasion to mocke hym.
Prætermittre facultatem alicuius rei, To omitte the oportunitie. &c.
Vitiū esset facultatis meæ, I wolde to god that my eloquence were such that I coude:
or, I wolde it were in my power to doo it.
Facultas iuniorum, Age of plentie of morie, riches.
Omnia medicamentis propriis facultates ha-bent. All medicines haue theyr propre vertues and strength.
Facultates, ratum, form. gen. plu. riches, resnences.
Facultatibus labi, to tefethey gooddes.
Facultas operæ ubi mihi erit, when I shall haue leisure, when my busynesse will suffre me.
Facunde, eloquent.
Facundia, a, f. g. eloquence or sweete and pleasant speche.
Facundissus, a, um, full of eloquence.
Facundus, a, um, eloquent, well spoken, he that prophcieth thynges to come.
Faculus, a, um, haupng tees or dregges.
Facatum vinum, wyne that dyspeth of the lyes.
Facinia vuz, grapes, whereof cometh wyne has upng muche lies.
Faculentus, a, um, full of lyes, dregges, or groundes of any licour.
Facutinus, a, um, perteynyng to dregges.
Fax, fa' cis, fae. g. lies, dregges, or groundes of any lynde of licour.
Fax ciuiatis, thei that in a citie doe lyue beasly and viciously, the dregges and rascall.
Fagus, a, um, of a beech tree.
Fagineus, and fageus, a, um, idem.
Fagus, gi, fae. g. a beech tree.
Fagural, a chapelle in Rome, wherein was a beech tree consecrated to Iupiter.
Fala, a, f. g. a towre made of symbe.
Falacium, a promontorie of Sicile, called nowe Melayo.
Falatica, a, f. g. a lynde of dartes thowen out of towres and fortreises besieged.
Falcarius, a, m. ge. he that fighteth with a bill, or he that occupieth a hooke of sieth.

Falcarius, a, um, perteynyng to a belle, hooke, or sieth.
Falcatus, a, um, hooked. also any thyng, whereon bee hookes or other lyke thynges.
Falcatus currus, cartes armed with hookes.
Falcicula, fa, f. g. a luttell hooke or byll, a spyle.
Falcidius lex, a lawe, whereby legacies were dis-cated of cutte of, where the fourth parte of the goodes were not assigned to the heppes.
Falcifer, cis, fa, um, that beareth a byll or hooke.
Falcito, aui, are, to cutte with a byll or hooke.
Falcio, aui, are, to cut of or mowe, to cut of loppe with a byll or hooke.
Falcio, onis, a hauke.
Falcones, they that haue crooked toes.
Falcula, fa, f. g. the diminutive of Fals, falsis, a spyle, a luttell hooke or byll. also falcula be crooked clawes of spores, lybides, and such lyke wild beastes. also the talons of an hauke.
Falcuna, fa, f. g. a ceraine birde, the thirde kind of swalows, and is called also Riparia, a banke martnet.
Falere, is, n. ge. a woode vfed of Marro, for a parte of an house to be vknownen.
Falerus, a, a countrey in Campania, nowe in the realme of Naples, wherein grew the best wyne of Italy, called Falernum, Mount Falcon.
Falsci, a people in Italy also a kind of pudding.
Falscus, a, um, that is stuffed like a pudding.
Fallacia, a, fae. gen. a deceitfull woode, or generally decept of crafty handlynges, a subtil or crafty deuise.
Fallaciosus, a, um, full of decepte.
Fallaciter, deceptfully, falsly.
Fallax, aei, am. g. that deceueth or begyleth.
Fallax coniectura, a coniecture that deceueth
a man in his opinion.
Herba fallaces, herbes that geide not so muche fruite as is looked for.
Fallo, fefelli, fallere, to decepue, to beguile, p̄sed p̄sely with woordes, to be p̄sue of close from,
to be vknownen. also to be hydde.
Fallunt amaritudinem edentes absynthium in fico, because they fele not the bitternesse.
Fallere, idem, to breake promise.
Iura tori fallere, to committe adulterge.
Memoria falli, to forgeat.
Nihil me fallit, I know the well enough, thou deceuest me nothyng, thou canste not go anad beyond me.
Nisi me fallit animus, excepte my iudgement
decepue me.
Nisi omnia me fallunt, excepte I bee utterly decepued. Opera fallunt, in their dooynge they decepue men.
Curam fallere somno, To put away care by sleepe, to lye downe and sleape to put away his care.
Tempus sermonibus fallere, to passe the tyme in talkyng.

Opi

Opinionem tuam fefellit ea res, that thyngge was otherwyle than thou dyd thynte.
Opinio de te multum me fefellit, I was greatly decepued in you.
Fallere promissum, not to kepe promise.
Spes fefellit, it hath chaunced otherwise than we hoped it would.
Cum saxa lubrica vestigia fallerent, Where as the slippery stones did make mens feete slide.
Tanta celeritate, vt visum fallant, so sodenly or so quickly, that it can not be sene.
Num me fefellit hoc id struere, dyd not I knowe well enough, that they went about sustaining a thyng?
Quæ mutatio Neronem non fefellit, whiche change was not vknownen to Nero, or Nero percepued well enough.
Qui per biennium fefellerat, which the space of two yere was not knownen.
Fallens, enis, that deceueth, vnconstant.
Vestigium fallens, the foote spydyng.
Fallonia, a trespass, whereby the tenant forsaileth to the lord, that whiche he holdeth.
Falsitas, m, m. g. a forger of wytynges.
Falsus, falsip.
Falsidicus, & falsiloquus, a liar or fals reporter.
Falsifico, aui, are, to forge dedes, wytynges, or scals.
Falsificus, a, um, that vseth to decepue men.
Falsitas, aui, f. g. falshood.
Falsissimus, a, um, that vseth to sweare falsely.
Falsimonia, m, n. g. a decepte or falshood.
Falsiloquus, a, um, that speaketh falsly.
Falsiparens, enis, that hath an other father, than he that is supposed.
Falso, aui, are, to forge.
Falso, falsip, without a cause, wrongfully.
Nec tu me habebis falso suspectum, Thou shalt not suspect me for naught.
Falsum, si, n. g. a falsse or vaine thyng.
Tela in falsum iacere, To cast dartes, and misse them that they hurle at.
Falsus, a, um, falsse, vaine, deceiued, countrefait.
Falsum habere, to decepue.
Haud mihi sum falsus, I knowe well.
Falsus es, you are deceiued, or it is otherwise than ye weene.
Falsum gaudium, vaine ioye.
Falsalachryma, a feigned teare.
Falsum testamentum, a countrefaite testament or will.
Vt falsus est? howe farre is he decepued?
Falsi sub imagine cerui, vnder the lyknesse of a countrefaite harte.
Vt falsus animi est? how much is he deceiued.
Nec ea res me falsum habuit, neither dydde that matier deceiue me any thyng: or I was not decepued in that matier.
Fals, falsis, fae. ge. a hooke, byll, or sieth: also an ingyn of warre, made crooked lyke a hooke.
Fals fenaria, a sieth to mowe grasse.

Adhibere frondibus falcem, to cutte of mydd boowes with an hooke or byll.
Fals arboraria or syluatica, an hodgeyng byll, a hooke.
Fals vineatica, a hooke.
Curare vitem false, to cutte a vine.
Supponere falcem arboris, to mow corne.
Fama, a, fae. gene. fame or byute of a thyngge good or yll, a rumour or a noyse brought vp of any newe thyngge: also renowne, sometymes opinion.
Prior fama, more renowned, more famous.
Famam dissipare, to sowe a byute of noyse ad-monge the people.
Fama commendatoris homo, a man that hath a good name.
Secunda fama, a good renowne or fame.
Fama incolumis, fame of a man that is not discepued.
Morta fama, heauie tydynges.
Accipere fama, to here by reposte of commu-
nyng of the people.
Dare fama, to sprende abroad.
Famam extinguere, to stynte a byute or rits
moore.
Conualescit fama, the fame or reposte beginneth to waxe great.
Fama ferebat, the reposte was.
Famam alicuius inquinare, to discepu a mans good name.
Accipere fama, to here say by reposte.
Percrebuit fama, it was commonly reported.
Lacerat famam sub Nerone, In the tyme of Nero he gatte hym an yll name: or he was yll spoken of.
Famam temeritatis subire, to be coisted rashly,
foolhardie, or vndiscrete.
Intra famam esse, not to be of suche estimation or value, as the fame goeth.
Fama vngauera, it was communed abroad.
Famam facere, to reise a fame or byute.
Vt hominum fama est, as the communynge is among the people, or as men saie commonly.
Si vera est fama, if it be true that the fame and reposte sayth.
Famigeratio, onis, fae. gene. a spreayng of fame.
Famelicofus, a, um, often hungrye.
Famel, in the mōche tongue, is a scrant.
Famelicus, a, um, hungrye, hunger stozen.
Famela, a, fae. gener. the diminutive of Fama.
Famen, minis, n. g. speche.
Fameo, mui, ere, to be hungrye.
Fames, famis, f. g. hunger, famine.
In fame, in tyme of famine or dearth.
Aurifames, couetousnesse.
Fame absumi, to be stozen for hunger.
Fame confectus, hunger stozen.
Famem explere, to satisfie and stynte ones hunger.

Leuare famem, to aſſuage ones hunger.
 Famiger, famigeri, a ſpreader of fame.
 Famigerabilis, le, famous.
 Famigerator, ōris, a teller of newes or tidyngeſ,
 or a ſpreader of fame.
 Famigeratio, onis, f. g. a ſpreading of a fame or rumour.
 Famigerulus, idem.
 Famigeratus, a, um, renowned, famed.
 Famigero, geras, am, are, to publiſhe or diuul-gate a thyng.
 Familia, æ, f. g. a houſholde, a familie, or hyn-red. it alſo ſignifieth all the ſeruautes of the houſe. ſometyme a ſecte of philoſophiers.
 Submonere aliquos familia, to put or remoue out of his houſe.
 Familiaris, re, perteynyng to houſholde: alſo familiar, of the ſame familie or houſholde. alſo a frende of longe acquaintance.
 Familiaria ſepulchra, were places of buriall for men and theſe ſeruautes.
 Familiaris Italia arbor, a tree, whiche groweth muche in Italie.
 Familiaris ſella, a chambie ſtoole.
 Negotia familiaria, houſholde affayres.
 Res familiaris, a mans propre goodes.
 Familiarior aditus, a priuie entre.
 Familiari pecunia tenui eſſe, not to be verie epche, to haue no great gooddes or ſubſtance.
 Familiaris filius, the mans ſon of the houſe.
 Familiaria veſtimenta, raymente for the houſ-holde.
 Sermones familiares conferre, to talke familiarlie.
 Familiaria ſepulchra, Sepulchres for one and for thoſe that be of his familie.
 Familiaritas, aris, f. g. cuſtome, familiaritee, ac-quaintaunce, familiar frendſhip.
 Summa familiaritate coniunctus, a verie
 nere and truſtie frende.
 Intrare in familiaritatem alicuius, to become familiar and thoroughly acquainted with one.
 Arcta familiaritate complecti, looke Com-plector.
 Conſlare familiaritatem, to geat frendſhip and acquaintance.
 Dedere ſe penitus alicuius familiaritatem, to addicte and geue hym ſelfe wholly to vſe a mans familiaritee and frendſhip.
 Intercedit inter nos familiaritas, there is familiaritee and acquaintance betwene vs.
 Illum a mea familiaritate diſiunxit, he made hym to forſake my companie, or to be no more familiar with me.
 Familiariter, familiarly, ſometyme homely, alſo greuouſly.
 Nimium familiariter me atrectas, you handle me to homely.
 Familiariter ignotum compellare, to ſpeake to one that he knoweth not, as though he were well acquainted with him.

Familiariter noſſe cauſam alicuius, to knowe ones matter ſo well as he wolde his proper and priuie affayres.
 Familiariter ferre mortem alicuius, to take ones death greuouſly.
 Familiariter aliquo viſi, to vſe one as his familiar frende.
 Familiariter aliquem diligere, to loue one he-tely, and as his truſty frende.
 Faminare, of olde writers was vſed for Dicere,
 Faminor, the olde writers vſed for Dicere, ſay, ſpeake, tell on.
 Famofus, a, am, greatly renowned, famous,
 muche ſpoken of. alſo that hath an yll name, vnhoſte, or that ſpeaketh yll by other.
 Vrbis famoſa, of great renowne.
 Famofa mulier, an harlotte.
 Famofa epigrammata, epigrammes written to the infamie of other.
 Famul, idem quod famulus.
 Famula, æ, f. g. a woman ſeruaunt.
 Famulanter, humbly, ſeruiſtable.
 Famulare, aduerbially, lyke a ſeruaunt.
 Famularis, re, that perteyneth to a ſeruaunt.
 Famularius, a, um, ſeruiſtable.
 Famulatio, onis, f. g. houſholde or meynie.
 Famulatus, us, m. g. ſeruire.
 Famulitium, ij, n. g. ſeruire. Alſo the meynie, the companie of ſeruautes.
 Famulor, aris, ari, to ſerue.
 Fortuna famulante agere aliquid, with the ayde of fortune to doe a thyng.
 Famulus, li, m. g. a houſholde ſeruaunt.
 Fanaticus, a, um, madde. In the olde tyme he ſore Chriſte expelled the diuell (whan that diuelles were honoured in Idoles) certayne per-ſons, as well men as women, were poſſeſſed with diuelles, whiche ladde them whither they lyſted, agaynſte theſe propre wyls, and cauſed them to ſpeake wonderfull thynges. ſome alſo ſodaynly and oftentimes dyd tell what ſhoulde happen. Wherefore they were thought to be inſpired with goddes. Theſe perſons were called Fanatici. Sometyme Fanaticus is taken for the keeper of the temple of the chappell, where the dyuell gaue anſweres.
 Fanatica arbor, a tree blaſted with lightninge.
 Fandi, of ſpeaking.
 Fando, in ſpeaking.
 Ne fando quidem audium eſt, neuer any man
 hearde it reported.
 Fandus, a, um, uſte to be ſpoken.
 Fanenſes, and Fanetries, people of a towne called Fana, in a countrey of Italie called Marca Anconitana, in latine Picenum.
 Fanetii people in the northe part of the world, whoſe eares be ſo great, that with them they be-uer all theſe bodics.
 Fanetris, a towne.
 Fannia lex, an honourable and vertuous lawe made by Auguſtus, the noble emperour, the conſent of all ſtates of the citee inſorteyng it, all dignities approuing it, the people gladly receyvinge it. By this lawe, the ſuperfluous charges in feaſtes, whereby the citee abounded in vices, were prohibited, and ſuch temperance therein provided, that in the great plaies of the Romans, and thoſe that were called Saturna-les, they ſhoulde not exceſſe an hundred bralle pens, whiche were ten Romaine grotes, called Denarii: and in our money nowe current, amounteth to .v. s. vi. d. ob. halfe farthyng:

 & the fourth partie of a farthyng: ten other daies.
 xxx. bralle pens, whiche is xxx. d. ob. q. and a lit-tel more. Every other daie .x. brallen pens, whiche was, vi. d. halfe penie, and the vii. part of an halfe penie. This lawe was made. xxii.
 yeres after the lawe called Lex orchia, whereby was determined the numbze of thegm that ſhoulde dyne and ſuppe together, and that the doores ſhoulde be open whyle they ſate, that men myght perceyue, if any mo came than the lawe had appointed. But this lawe was not ſo good as the other, for theſe might none come to their frendes, but ſuch as were invited or bidden.
 Fanniana, a kynde of peares.
 Fannius, the name of diuers oratours and noble men of Rome.
 Fanum, ni, n. g. a temple, where the deuill gaue
 anſweres out of an Idole.
 Fanum fortuna, a citee of Italie.
 Far, aris, n. g. ſometyme ſignifieth all maner of corne, all be it amonge auncient phiſicians it is taken for meale, as wel of wheate as of barley, properly where the corne is beaten in a moyter:
 See Columella libro. 9.
 Farcellis, le, app thyng ſtuffed.
 Farcimen, giminis, n. g. a puddynge or ſauſage.
 Farcio, ciui, ire, to ſtuſſe, alſo to franke or ſcede,
 to fatte, to cramme.
 Farcire pannum in os, to thruſte clothe into ones mouth.
 Farcire alicui centones, looke Cento.
 Farfaria, farſugium, or farſaria, an herbe, called alſo Tuſſilago, vngula equina, & Bechion, looke Bechion.
 Farſarum, fari, n. g. the popler tree.
 Farſarus, or Farſar, a ruuer of Siria.
 Farſenum, a kynde of ſhrubbes or twigges.
 Farina, æ, f. g. meale.
 Farina auenaria, ote meale.
 Cribrum decuſſa farina, ſifted meale.
 Farinarius, a, um, pertayning to meale.
 Farinarium cribrum, a ſieve to ſyſte meale.
 Fari, faus ſum, fari, to ſpeake.
 Farraceus, a, um, of meale.
 Farracea, meates made of meale.
 Farraginata, plural. meates made of dyuers grapes.
 Farrago, inis, f. g. a mixture of ſundry kyndes of grayne and corne: It is that, whiche in Cambridge ſhyre is called Wolymonger, wherein is barley, otes, and beaſon, or betches: ſomestyme it is taken for a mixture of thynges good and bad together.

 Farratia, amonge the olde Romaines were the ceremonies of matrimonic.
 Farreatio, onis, f. g. a ſacrifice made with a wheaten cake: whan the byrde was brought to church.
 Farreum, rei, n. g. a wheaten cake, alſo a barne to laye corne in.
 Farreus, a, um, of corne or wheate.
 Farreus panis, wheaten breadde.
 Farrinarium, rij, n. g. a place where wheate or meale is kepte.
 Farrinus, a, um, and Farrinaceus, a, um, pertanyng to wheate.
 Fartilis, le, that is franked or crammied.
 Fartilis anſer, a franked goole.
 Fartim, full ſtuffed or crammied.
 Fartor, ōris, m. g. a puddynge maker, or he that feedeth or crammeth geſe, capons, or other foules to fatte them.
 Fartum, ti, n. g. the ſtuffynge of a puddynge or of theſe meate.
 Fartum veſtis, the bodie.
 Fartura, æ, f. g. the craſte or maner of ſtuffynge or crammynge.
 Fas, n. g. indeclinabile, leſull before god, ſtandyng with the lawe of god.
 Fas & iura ſunt, It is permitted bothe by the lawe of god and man.
 Neq; id me facere fas exiſtimo, neyther doo I thinke it lawfull for me to doo ſo.
 Fas habebant, they thought it leſull.
 Vulgo fas habetur, it is commonly coumpted to be leſull.
 Faſcelis, a name of Diana.
 Faſcia, æ, f. g. a ſwathell, or ſwathynge bande, or other lyke thyng of linnen. ſometyme any gy-dle. ſometyme an hoſe, greaue, or buſhyng, or after ſome a garter or latchet to faſten ones greaues to his legges. ſometyme it is vſed for a cloude.
 Deuinctus erat faſcis, he was ſwathed, or he was bounde, or in bondes.
 Faſcia cretara, painted or coloured hoſe.
 Faſcia lecti, the couerynge of a bedde.
 Faſcia orbis, the circles that aſtronomers calle Zona.
 Faſcia pectoralis, the gorget that women vſed to couer theſe pappes. Alſo a mucheter that chyldzen weare for raynge theſe clothes.
 Nil faſcia nigra minatur, the blacke cloude.
 Faſciatus, a, um, ſwathed, or bounde with ſwaddell bandes.
 Faſciculus, li, m. g. a gyppe or thyng bounden together. It is alſo a noſegate, or any thyng knytte together, whiche maie bee bozne in a mans hande.
 Faſcinans, nantis, one that bewitcheth.
 Faſcinatio, onis, f. g. a bewitchynge.

Fascino, au, are, to transfigure by enchantment, or to bewitch.
Fascium, ni, neu. gen. an enchantment or bewitching, and one so enchanted is of the common people called, taken, or forspoken, or forlooked.
Fasciola, la, fem. gen. a little bande, a garter, a larchet, wherewith men vsed to fasten theyr legges harnesses.
Fascio, au, are, to swathe a childe.
Fascis, is, masc. gen. a knytc of woodde or twiggcs, or any other thing bounden together, a faggotte, a bawen, sometyne for Onus, a bourdeyne.
Fasces, rodde bounden together, and an are in the myddle, whiche were bozne before the chiefe officers of Rome, in declaring theyr authority, whereof some had vi. and some mo.
Fasces in the plurall numbze is vsed for the offices of magistrates, that the people assigned or gaue to any noble men.
Fasces stramentorum vel virgularum, a bundle of barden.
Fasces cocularius, a faggotte of dyce wood.
Fasces submittre, was a kynde of reuerence that the Romaine magistrates vsed, eker towarde the people, or some other noble personages.
Iustitiae fasces princeps submitit, whan he, leaping his princely traine, or kingly maiestee, sheweth hym selfe in any place of iustice to his subiectes more pleasantly.
Fasces sagittarum, is taken for a sheffe of arrows.
Fasculus, li, m. g. a kynde of small pulse.
Fascellus, or Fascelus, li, m. g. & f. g. a kynde of bores called a gallion.
Fasolus, loke Phasolus.
Fassus, a, um, one that hath graunted or confessed.
Fasti, orum, or Fastus, uum, plu. booke, wher in were contained certein ceremonies and causes of sundrie thynges amonge the Romaines, concerning theyr feastes and sollemnities, whiche were longe kepte from the knowlage of the common people, vntill at the laste they were deuulgate by one Caius Flavius.
Fasti dies, were certein daies, wherein onely the officer of Rome called Prætor, myghte speake these three wordes, Do, Dico, Addico: pleasurable daies: Nefasti dies, contrary.
Fastidio, fastidis, iui, ire, to contemne with disdain, to abhorre, to haue in abhominacion.
Fastidire preces, to contemne or disdain.
Fastidi mei, he doeth disdain me. Plaut.
Fastidiose, proude, disdainfully, scornfully.
Fastidiosus, a, um, full of disdain.
Fastidius, a, um, hated, abhorred, disdained.
Fastidium, ii, n. ge. hatred, properly where one abhorreth the sight or presence of any thyng, contempt, disdainfulness, to thesomencesse.
Fastidium delicatissimum, A veray nice loz-thyng or disdainyng of any thyng.

Fastidium audiendi, disdainfulness in hearing.
In fastidium adducere rem aliquam, to make a thyng lothed, hated, or disdained.
Abigere fastidium, to put away lothsomnes.
Afferre fastidium, and Creare fastidium, to make one loth or disdain a thyng or person.
Eius non possum ferre fastidium, I can not abyde his disdainfulness.
Modo ne sit fastidio, so that it wyll not loth you: or so that ye wyll not disdain.
In fastidio esse, to be lothed or hated, to be nothing esteemed.
Fastidium in eu, wherewith I disdain othe.
Fastidium in eu, whan othe disdain me.
Fastidium stomachi, lothynge of the stomache, whan one can not brooke meate.
Fastigatio, onis, fem. g. the making of a thing sharpe toward the toppe, steep wyle.
Fastigiatus, or Fastigatus, a, um, reysed by sharpe towarde the toppe.
Fastigiatus in mucrone, sharpened to point.
Fastigio, au, are, to make or reys up in height sharpe towarde the toppe.
Fastigium, gi, n. g. an altitude or the toppe or heyghe of any thyng, a ridge of an house: also the bottome of a pyte or lyke thyng, sometyne the begynnyng of a matter. Sometyne it signifyeth the estate of a person in any dignitee. Sometyne the ende of a thyng.
Summi fastigia tecti, The ridge or toppe of the howse.
Fastigium imponere, is spoken whan a man will signifie a matter of thyng to be finished or brought to a poynte.
Fastigium, idem quod genus.
Tria sunt agrorum fastigia, id est genera, the hyndes or sortes.
Fastigium tenere inter homines, To be of great authoritee or power, to be highly aduanced or in great promotion.
Fastigo, au, are, idem quod Fastigio.
Fastus, a, um, that proude disdaineth othe.
Fastus, us, m. g. hauteness of mynde, pryde, arrogancy with proude wordes.
Fatalis, le, pertaining to death, fatal: sometyne mortall.
Fataliter, deadly, by death.
Fatantur, id est, Multa fauor.
Fateor, eris, fassus sum, eri, whan a person that is culpable or faulty, doeth confesse & acknowledge his offence, in maner by confession. Also to vtter and affirme boldly without cōfessing, boldly or freely to confesse.
De se ipso laud cunctanter fassus est, as for hym selfe he confessed without delay.
Fathico, loke Fathico.
Faticinus, a, um, that telleth death.
Fatidicus, a, um, that readech or telleth death of thynges to come, a south sayr.

Faifer, ifera, uni, that bringeth death or pestilence, deadly.
Faugatio, onis, f. g. a weeping.
Faugatus, a, um, weired.
Faugatus corpore, fessus animo.
Faigo, au, are, to make weire, to trouble much, to moue, to constrain, to encourage, to beate or strike, to strike, to stre of prouoke, to restrain or let.
Faugare deum votis, to praye and call vppon god verie instantly.
Faugare vinculis & carcere, to rule & byngne to conformite and reason by imprisonment.
Spe laudum corda faigar, he doeth earnestly sollicite or encourage wih hope of prayse.
Inuicem terga faugamus hasta, Verg. id est, percutimus.
Quæ mare nunc terrasque metu exlumy faugar, id est, perturbat, commouet.
Fauoqua, a weyche.
Fauoquus, a, um, idem quod Fatidicus.
Fauko, cere, to be weire, to chynke or cleane, to open, gape, or chappe, as the earth doeth in a ditch, to wate fence or fible, to become barren, and as it were weire of bearyng, as the earth with ouer muche tilling.
Area faulcit, the flooze choppeth.
Acculatores non fauiscabant, were not weire.
Fator, a, is, ari, to speake muche.
Fauis, a, is, f. g. foolishnesse.
Faum, ti, n. ge. the ordinaunce and disposition of almyghtie god, death, goddess prouidence, sometyne death: sometyne calamitee or great mischaunce of aduersitee.
Fauo consilium fieri, To be made consill by the ordinaunce of god.
Si faum tibi est, if it be thy death.
Fau dies, the daie of ones death.
Fauo concedere, to die.
Fauo fungi, to be dead.
In his qui fau sunt functi, among them whiche be dead.
Veneno fata præcepit, he kylled hym selfe with poyson.
Fauor, a, is, ari, to plaie the foole or idiote.
Faus, a, um, that hath spoken.
Fauus, a, um, unsauety, without any maner of taste, for the, that lacketh naturall knowlage, an idiote.
Fauus, a naturall foole, without any wisedome of good fauor, or after some one that speaketh for the wordes, foolishly in wordes or saynges.
Faua dea, called also Bona dea, the name of the earth, so called, because chydren whan they be bozne, doe not vtter any voyce, before they haue touched the earth.
Fauces, ciui, f. g. plu. the chokes, the iawes, the upper parte of the throte. Also a streete entre into any place. Also the mouth of a riuier.
Fauce is sometyne redde in the singular numbze,

Immani fauces ducit hiatu, the gape of murtherous wyde.
Crucior bolum tantum mihi e faucibus eripsum, It gructh me soze, that such a good morsell, gobbez, or praye, is snatched out of my mouth.
Fauentia, a citee in Italic, called commonly, Faenza, an other of Spaine.
Fauentinus, a man of Fauentia.
Fauco, ui, ere, to fauour, to beare good wyl, to be still and kepe silence.
Fauere linguis, to kepe silence.
Fauere faucibus, fauere ore, idem.
Inuidere & fauere, contrary.
Honori alicuius fauere, to wil wel the entrest and fortheraunce of ones honour.
Male fauere alicui, To beare one little good will.
Isti sententia fauco, I like this sentence well.
Fauetur, the impersonall.
Fauani, certaine people.
Fauii, people whiche descended of Hercules.
Fauilla, a, fem. ge. a drade sparke of fyre, hottes ashes or embers extincted.
Fauiscæ, certaine cellers in the courts of the capitol at Rome, where were wont to be laied the banners of the Romaines, whiche were bozne in warres. Also therein was layed the treasure and money, whiche the priestes of the temples in the capitol, dyd employe aboute thynges necessarye to their superstition and ceremonies.
Fauna, idem quod fatua.
Fauni, were named of the poetes rusticall gods, and monstrous beastes lyke vnto men.
Faunus, an ancient kyng of the olde Latines, sonne of Picus, he was also called Fauelus, and was father of Latinus, whiche reigned in Latium, whose wyfe was called Fatua or Fauna.
Fauoniāna, ōum, n. g. pearces whiche are redde.
Fauonius, one of the wyndes called the south west wynde.
Fauor, ōris, masc. gen. fauour, good will, supportacion.
Studium & Fauor.
Facere fauorem, to get one fauour.
Emerere fauorem, to deserue ones fauour or good wyl, to get fauour.
Fauorabilis, le, fauoured of many, fauourable. Also that fauoureth.
Inuidiosus & fauoralis, contrary.
Fauorabiliter, fauourably, with good wyl or supportacion.
Fauorinus, a philosophier in the tyme of Adrian the emperour.
Fauste, prouperously, fortunately, luckely.
Faustianum vinum, wyne made of the grapes growng in the myddes of the fildes called Falerii.
Faustitas, a, is, for. gen. good fortune, good lucke, happynesse.
Faustus, the sonne of Sylla,

Faustulus, a shephearde, whiche was the nouryssh of Romulus and Remus.

Faustus, a, um, prosperous, fortunate, luckie. Fautor, oris, ma. g. one that fauoureth or suppotheth.

Faurix, icis, f. g. she that fauoureth, or suppotheth, she that susteyneth or mainteyneth.

Fauulus, a little honny combe.

Fauus, ui, m, g. a honny combe.

Fax, acis, f. g. a torch or candell, or other lyke thyng, which burnyng, geueth lyght, a chiefe autho or mouer, one that inceneth or sterceth a man to any thyng, a chiefe sterer or mouer.

Fax accusationis, the chiefe autho and furthreer of an accusation.

Faces corporis, the motions or appetites of the bodie.

Dicendi faces, a very eloquent & earnest maner of oration aboundyng with all figures of amification & other ornaments of Rhetorike.

Fax seditionis, a thyng that is a great occasion of maintenance of sedition.

Præferre faces, by translation, to shewe the way, or prouoke by his example.

Addere faces, & subdere faces alicui, to increase and encourage one forward in doyng any thyng.

Dolorum faces admoere, to geue one great occasions of sorowe and heuynesse.

Faxim, let me dooe.

Lubens faxim, I will dooe it with a ryght good will.

Verbum caue faxis, beware thou speake not one woorde.

Vinam dij ita faxint, I woulde the goddes woulde bypge it so to passe.

Faxint, let them dooe.

Faxo, I will or shall dooe.

Faxiolus, li, m. g. the fruite of a certayne tree in the realme of Zenega, in Arike, which are cedde with blacke spots.

F ANTE E

Febriçito, aui, are, to be sicke of a feuer.

Febriçula, læ, f. g. a little or easie feuer.

Habere febriçulam, to be sicke of an ague. Febriçigia, looke Centaurium, some thynke it to be one of the kyndes of the herbe, whiche is called of olde wyters Parthenyon.

Febriçilis, le, perteynyng to a feuer.

Febrio, iui, ire, to haue a feuer.

Febriç, bris, f. g. a feuer, whiche is an vnnatural heat kindred at the hert, brought from thens by the veynes and arteryes, by the meane of the spirite and veynes, into all the body, sensibly hurtynge his naturall operation.

Wherof be thre kyndes; one called Hectica, whiche is in the spirites and principall humours, and also in the firme partes of the body, and is epyer by it selfe proceeding of continuall anger, labour, famyne, excess of lycheric inflamyng and dryng the members: or for lowyng other sickeneses: sometyme vniuersal, specially in the bodie colerke or melancholicke of elles particular, as when it happeneth after the weakenesse of the spye principall members, the hert, the longes, the lyuer, the stomache, or the reynes. In other is named Ephemera, or Diaria: whiche is an inflammation of the spirites vitall, naturall, or animal. In the vitall spirites, it happeneth by wrath inflamyng, by thought or sorowe restryngyng, by hote aery chaufyng, or by colde aery styppynge. In the naturall spirites it happeneth by hunger or thyrst inflamyng, by hote meates and drynes inflamyng, by replecion oppressing, by superfluous lake of stoppyng, by accustomed exercise neglectyng, or forbearage of customeable haynes, sweate, or bloude lettynge. In the spiritus animal it happeneth by to muche beynge alone without recreation, by muche watchyng of lacke of sleape: by to muche of olde dryppynge, by a catarre or reume, by vntemperate heate or coldenesse of the aye, or by to muche labour or exercise. In other feuer called Humoralis, and also Putrida, is in the humours, the matter wherof is epyer bloude, choler, fleume, or melancholie. This feuer happeneth either by tenentnesse of the sonne or aye, or by lacke of accustomed exercise, haynes, or euacuacion, by dayly surfettes, inordinate walkyng or mealyng after meales, dymnyng muche wyne after meate, hot confessions of spices after meales. Of superfluite of meates & drynes comes cometh replecion, which stoppeth the pores of the thyngne, and the holes of the little veynes called Capillares, because they be as smal as haeres. And that stoppyng or opilation, letteth the ventyng out of the naturall heate: by reason wherof the heate of the naturall humour (nature beynge vnable to rule it) boyleth and sendeth up fumes, whiche whirlyng about cometh to the herte, and inflameth it: and passyng soothwith by the veynes and arteries into all the bodie, maketh the feuer, called Putrida, whiche accordyng to the humour, wherein it reigneth, taketh a sundry name, as ye shall reade in thes feuerall places.

Accessio, and Accessus febris, the beginning of the feuer, or the increase of the feuer.

Ardo febris, the burning of the feuer.

Horrores februm, the chyllynges or shakynge of the feuers.

Intentio febris, the increase of a feuer.

Remissio febris, contrary.

Reliquia febris, the geidgyng of a feuer, after the courtes haue lefte a man.

Vaga febris, a feuer that kepeth no certayne course.

Abigere, arcere, depellere, submouere, resolduere febre, to put away an ague.

Accessit

Accessit febris, and Desijt, contrary.

Minui febre, and intendi, contrary.

Afferre & facere febre, to bypge one in an ague.

Febris instat, incipit, augetur, consistit, finitur, decedit, repetit, reuertitur, redit.

Corripere febre, and incidere in febre, to fall into an ague.

Librare febre, to heale one of an ague.

Remittit se febris, the feuer diminisheth.

Februa, orum, plu. sacrifice, and ceremonies for purgynge of soules. Also all thynges used in sacrifice to purge and cleanse.

Februus, a, um, that which was so purged.

Februarius, ii, m. g. the moneth of Februarie.

Februo, aui, are, to purge soules by sacrifice or prayer.

Februum, i, neu. g. in the Sabyne tongue, is called purgynge or cleansing.

Februs, is also Pluto called god of hell.

Fecialis, is, m. g. a certayne officer of armes, whiche denouced warre or peace, where as was hostilitie or cause of battayle: whiche maie be now taken for an ambassadour, sent for suche a purpose.

Fecialis, le, belongyng to that officer of armes.

Fel, fellis, n. g. the galle, sometyme it is taken for grise of the mynde.

Felterra, the herbe called Centaurium, loke there.

Sales suffusi felle, tauntynge scoffes.

Felicones, men that are necessarie for nothyng, it hath an other signification, whiche for the abhominableness thereof I will not wyte:

since it is more expedient that it be unknownc.

Felis, lis, m. g. a catte, sometyme it signifieth a weasel.

Felix, icis, looke Felix.

Felleus, a, um, bitter lyke gall.

Fellico, aui, are, to sucke.

Felina, a, a citee in Italie, nowe called Bononia.

Feltrum, a towne in Italie in the countrey called Marchia Taruina.

Femen, minis, n. g. the inner part of the thigh, sometyme the prauie membre of a woman.

Feminalis, the heueryng of the thighes.

Femorialis, lium, n. g. plur. breeches.

Femur, oris, n. g. the viter and harder parte of the thigh, some englyshe it the hamme.

Femur bubulum, an herbe, holisome for the sicknesses.

Fenestella, læ, m. g. the propre name of a storie wyter, whiche floyshed in the daies of Tiberius Caesar: but Eusebius affirmeth, that he dyed in the tyme of Augustus.

Fenestella, læ, f. g. a little window.

Fenestra, a, f. g. a wyndowe, sometyme an enerie into a thyng.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make aware.

Quantam fenestram ad nequitiam patefeceris? How greete a gappe shalt thou open to naughtynesse? How great an occasion shalt thou geue to dooe lewdly.

Fenestralis, le, belongyng to a wyndowe.

Fenestras, a, um, opened.

Nulla est fenestration domus, no house is more open.

Fenestrenula, a, a little wyndowe.

Fenestro, aui, are, to open.

Ferabiles, wylde.

Fera, a, f. g. a wylde beaste.

Feracitas, aui, fruitfulnesse.

Feralia, orum, n. g. plur. a daie dedicate to the infernall goddes to pacifye them towards the soules departed. They were also sacrifices made for soules.

Feralis, le, deadly or mortall, lamentable.

Feralia officia, solemnities aboute deade bodies.

Feralia amicalia, wyndyng sheetes, and suche lyke thynges, wherin dead bodies were lapped.

Feralis culus, mournyng apparayle.

Feralis dies, the daie of buryng.

Ferax, acis, om. ge. fruchtfull, or that byngeth sooth muche fruite.

Ferax miraculorum Asia, Asia bypnyng sooth many meruailous and straunge thynges.

Ferax ingenium, a plentifull wyte.

Feraces agri, fruchtfull and fertile fieldes.

Ferax solum, a ranke soyle.

Ferax bonarum artium seculum, a tyme, in the whiche learnyng & good sciences do flourish.

Ferbec, bui, ere, to boyle or seeth.

Ferculum, li, neu. g. a dysh with meate, also a pageant caried or borne to be looked on in a triumph, as were in olde tyme, the images of the goddes, spoyle of the enemies, crownes, ingens of warre, and other lyke thynges: sometyme it signifieth the stage or place, wher in the pageant is sette.

Fere, almoeste, nyghe, well nyghe, lackyng but little, for the mooste parte.

Rure fere se continebat, he abode or tarped for the mooste parte in the countrey.

Fere in diebus paucis, shortly after within fewe daies.

Qui tum fere multis erat in ore, Whiche was than all mooste in euery mans mouthe.

Vtor fere hac veste in facis faciendis, in doyng sacrifice, I mooste commonly weare this garment.

Vt fere sit, as it chaunceth for the moost partes: or as it chaunceth almoeste in euery place.

Fere plerumque, for the mooste parte, mooste commonly.

Ferentarius, a, um, armed in lyght harnes, ready to come quickly to succours, byng to fight with a parte, woorde, or syng.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentarius amicus, a frende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentinum, a cite, which after Blisile standeth in the spise region of Italie.
 Ferentum, a cite in Apulia.
 Fercola vitis, a hynde of vynes.
 Feretrius, a name of Jupiter, geuen by Romulus.
 Feretrum, tri. neu. g. a beere of coffyn, whereon deade bodies are borne. Sometye a thyng, whereon mayes, reliques, or iewelies are borne.
 Feretris, a mounteyne, of the whiche the house of Pherece was named.
 Feria, arum, f. m. gene. plu. holy daies, daies vacant from labour.
 Feria belli, times of vacation from warres.
 Feria statuar, holy daies that come at one certayne tyme of the yere.
 Conceptiua feriar, fastes & holy daies, whiche were ordeyned yersly by the prelates and maiestates, but at no certayne tyme.
 Feria imperiar, extraordinarie holy daies commaunded suddenly by officers, for some thyng that hath chaunced.
 Feria esuriales, fastyng daies.
 Feriatus, a, um, vnoctupied or ydle.
 Feriati dies, holy daies.
 Feriatus voluntate sua a negotiis publicis, one that is not occupied or busied about the affaires of the common weale.
 Ferina, a, f. ge. venison, fleshe of a wyld beast.
 Ferina caro, idem.
 Ferinus, a, um, wyld as a beast, or pertaining to wyld beasts, or lyke to a wyld beast.
 Ferio, aui, are, and Ferior, aui, ari, the deponent, to be vacant from labour, busynesse, and studie, to make holy daie.
 Ferio, percussu, ferire, to strepke, to stablythe, to knoche.
 Ferire fœdus, to make a league or truse.
 Ferire iugulum, to flea, to hit the marke.
 Feriunt aures hominum, whan thynges that are spoken dooe pleasauntly here by men to herken to them.
 Ferire cornu, to bushe with the horne.
 Feriam fores, I wyll knoche at the doze.
 Oculos feriunt quæcunq; conspici possunt.
 Pectus ferire, to strepke or knoche ones brest.
 Pecunias ferire, to coyne money.
 Pugno ferire, to strepke with the spise.
 Calce ferire, to strepke with the hyl.
 Ferire rostro, to peche with the byll.
 Ferire securi, to cut of with an axe, to dooe execution.
 Porcum ferire, to sacrifice an hogge.
 Ferias, aui, f. g. a naturall wyldenesse, fiercenesse, crueltee.
 Ferme, almoeste, well nere, for the mooste parte.
 Haud ferme, scantly, hardly.
 Fermentesco, rescere, to puffe or rise vpp by leauenyng, & in the grounde to lye lycht and not faste to gether.

Fermento, hui, are, to medle or myxt well together, as leauen with dowe also to leauen.
 Fermentare terram, after Calpine, to make fatte the ground: but diuers places in Solismella dooe well declare, that Fermentare terram, is to resoule the earth into dust, & make it light, soluble, and lewse, and not to be sadde, faste, compact, and cloddy together.
 Fermentum, ti, n. g. leauen.
 Mea vxor tota in fermento iacet, my wyfe is verie angrie, greatly meued, all bestrewed.
 Fero, fers, tuli, ferre, to beare, to suffre, to susteine, to abyde, to leade or bynge, to escape or go awaie, to saie, to name, to shewe or tell, to repozte, to desyre, to bynge forth, to haue, to haate, to take awaie, to receiue, to obteyne, to accustom.
 Balbum vero, qui est istius rei (quemadmodum scribis) adiutor, in oculis fero, Balbus, who (as you wyte) is the helper of al this matter, I loue heretofore, & I greatly esteeme.
 Ferre acceptum, looke Acceptum ferre.
 Ferre ad calum, to extolle or praise a man exceedingly.
 Ferre in astra, idem.
 Ferre ad populum, or Ferre rogationem ad populum, to aske aduys of the people.
 Agere ferre, to take it greuouely.
 Aequo animo ferre, to take patiently.
 Ferre annos, aut vetustatem, to endure long, or beare well his age. It is properly spoken of wyne, or other lyke thyng.
 Ferre conditionem, to proffer, to put to the thoppe, to offer a condition.
 Ferre expensum, to spende, to laie out, to write expenses, to bestowe.
 Vinum ita fortunatum fuit, I woulde it had to fortune.
 Ita fama ferebat, to the bzute went.
 Fortiter ferre, to abyde or susteine constantly.
 Fructum ex aliquo ferre, to take profit by one.
 Fructum ferre, to bynge forth the fruite.
 Ferre gradum, to go forth.
 Ferre grauitat, to take a thyng greuouely.
 Fero tibi iudicem, I am contented to be iudged by such one: least hym be iudge betwene vs, or iudge the matter betwene vs.
 Fer contra manum, geue me thy hande.
 Fer me, venter with me.
 Ferre molestie, to take a thyng greuouely, or displeauntly.
 Ferre obscure aliquid, to dissemble a thyng, to kepe secret, to make as though it were not.
 Paupertatem tuam nunc obscure tulisti, you dyd thus dissemble or hyde your pouertie.
 Odium ferre pro labore, for ones labour and trauaile to be hated.
 Ferre osculum, to kysse.
 Ferre palam, to speake it abrode, to publishe a thyng secretly.
 Partum, or ventrem ferre, to be with childe.
 Pedem

Pedem ferre, to go forth, poetice.
 Personam alienam ferre, to plaie an other mans parte.
 Premium ferre, to be rewarded or recompensed.
 Precium ferre, idem.
 Primas ferre, to haue the pyze or preeminence, to be chiefe.
 Palmam ferre, idem.
 Priuilegium de aliquo ferre, whan the prince or maiestrate requirith the people to enacte a thyng in pzeudice of any particular person.
 Ferre questionem, whan the magistrates desyre the people to ordeyne iudges extraordinarie in a ppuate case.
 Si in res fert, I neede bee, if the matter so requyre.
 Repullam ferre, to be refused, or put backe in a request.
 Responsum ferre, to haue an answer.
 Matrum responsum tulere, They had an heauy answer.
 Ferre sententiam, to shewe his opinion.
 Sese obuiam ferre, to go and mete with hym.
 Signa ferre, to marche againste enemies with banners displayed.
 Ferre litum, to suffer thirte.
 Suffragia ferre, to geue voyce in election, or of ther consent.
 Ferre supplicas, to succour.
 Suffragio fero, I care not, I passe not on.
 Ferri, to be borne or caried.
 Feror, I go I wote not how like a madde man.
 Dum tempus ad eam rem tulit, whyle tyme ferred therfore, whyle it was conuenient.
 Dum res fert, while age suffereth or requirith. Tu ne hoc aliter a me argentum feras? Shalt thou haue this money of me, if thou do not?
 Quod posces, feres, what so euer you wyll requyre or aske, you shall obteyne.
 Eius se magistrum ferebat, he saied he was his maieste.
 Et veritas illa fert, and as the facion or condicion of that age is.
 Fer animus, it is my pleasure, it pleaseth me, I am disposed.
 Arma ferre aduersus patriam, to warre against his country.
 Auxilium ferre, to abyde, to helpe, to come to the rescue.
 Clam iram ferre aduersus aliquem, to beare grudge and malice againste one priuile.
 Maiori strepitu quam populi Romani fert consuetudo, with greater noyse then the custome and facion of the Romaines was.
 In fama ferebat, to the bzute or rumoze went.
 Præcipuum gloriam tulit, he had the chiefe renowne and praise.
 Immoderate, or Immodice res aduersas ferre, to take aduersities too vnpatiently.
 Impune & inulium ferre, to escape unpunished.
 Inuoluntate ferebat, he was vntoale angrie and dys-pleased with the matter.

 Laudem ferre, to haue great praise.
 Ferre laudibus, to extolle, to praise.
 Ferre lucem, to abyde the lycht.
 Fer in notitiam meam, geue me knowlage.
 Faciet, quæ feret libido, he wyll doe, what so euer his fantasie or pleasure shall leade hym to.
 Ut natura ferebat, as nature ledde hym: according to his nature and inclination.
 Natura fert, it is a thyng naturall.
 Nomen alicuius ferre, to beare the name of any person, to be called after hym.
 Neq; id occulte fert, neppher doeth he that priuile or in corners.
 Ut mea fert opinio, as I thynke, as I suppose.
 Plagas ferre, to be beaten.
 Precium ob stultitiam fero, I haue a reward for my foolysheesse.
 Ferre rem vulgo, to diuulgate or tell abrode.
 Ferre salutem alicui, to geete or salute.
 Sententiam ferre, to speake ones opinion or iudgement.
 Non feret, quin vapulet, he shall not goe as waie before he be beaten.
 Supplicium ferre, to be punished.
 Preces deo ferre, to praye.
 Victoriam ferre, to haue the victorie.
 In questionem serum ferre, to despuer a feres haunt to be examined by tozmentes.
 Via quæ ad portam fert, the streete which leadeyth to the gate.
 Fertur ad terram viris, the vyne groweth downe toward the grounde.
 Tributum ferre, to paie tribute.
 Fertur, the impersonalle, the repozte is, the bzute is.
 Ferunt dixisse, they report that he saied.
 Ferocia, a, f. m. g. fiercenesse.
 Ferocio, ciui, ire, to be fierse or cruell.
 Ferocitas, aui, f. g. in thewyngne crueltee, fiercenesse, cruelnesse, haltpnesse.
 Ferociter, fiercely, cruelly.
 Feroculus, li, m. ge. one that is somewhat fierse or arrogant.
 Feronia, the gooddesse of woddes. it was also the gooddesse of seruantes, in whose temple (the head byng hauen) they were wont to receyue a capped rappe, in token that they were in franchise. it is also a cite vnder the hyl Sozades.
 Ferox, ôcis, omni. gene. fierse, arrogant, glorious, hardy, courageous, cruell, vntactable, curst or shewed.
 Eo ne es ferox, quia habes imperium in beluas? Arte thou therfore to hasty on men, because thou arte mayster ouer bzute beasts?
 Ferox forma, prowde and gloypoule of his beaute.
 Ferramentarij, orum, ma. ge. they whiche worke in yron.
 Ferramentum, ti, neu. g. an instrument or toole of yron.

Ferramenta tonforia, barboures tooles.
Ferraria, &c, f. g. an yron myne.
Ferraria, Ferret, a citie in Italye. also a yronmō tolic in Spayne.
Ferrarius, a, um, perteynyng to yron, oꝝ of yron.
Ferrarius faber, a smythe.
Ferraria officina, a smythes forge.
Ferraria aqua, The water in the cole trough, wherein smythes vse to quenche hottē yron.
Ferratus, a, um, haupnge yron on it, oꝝ closed in yron.
Ferrous, a, um, of yron And by translation, harde to intreate, vnynde.
Durus & ferreus. Ferus & ferrens.
Ferreus scriptor, an authour that hathe an harde and crabbed stile.
Ferro, auī, are, to sette yron on.
Ferrugineus, a, um, of the colour of rusty yron,
 a blew colour.
Ferrigo, inis, f. g. ruste of yron, a murrayrou lour. some call it a sadde blew. also the frenge about a canaby oꝝ other lyke thyng.
Ferrum, ri, neu. ge. yron. sometyme a weapon.
 a swoorde.
Absumere ferro aliquem, To kille one with a swoorde.
Adegit ferrum in viscera, he thraist his swoord into his bealy.
Cernere ferro, to trie by dente of swoorde.
Ferrūmen, inis, n. g. glewe, tylse, soulder, oꝝ sus che other byndyng oꝝ cleauyng matter.
Ferruminatio, ōnis, f. g. a fowdyng with yron.
Ferrumino, auī, are, to ioygne oꝝ myxte together,
 propely metallas, to soulder.
Fertilis, le, fertile oꝝ fruitefull, rante, battie.
Fertilitas, āris, form. g. fruitefulness, fertilittee, battleness of the growund; abundance.
Fertiliter, fruitefully, abundantly.
Ferum, ti, n. ge. a cake made of sundry graynes and spices.
Feruefacio, ufacis, feci, ere, to make hot.
Feruens, entis, that is veraiie hottē, that scaldeth, fierce, feruente, chauffed, angrye, vehemente.
Feruens aqua, scaldyng hottē water.
Feruens gustu radix, vehement and bur nyng tast. Feruents hora diei, the myddaye.
Feruens ingenium, a fierce oꝝ hasty nature.
Feruenter, hotely.
Ferueo, es, ui, and Ferbui, ēre, to bee chauffed oꝝ hette, to boyle, to seethe, to bee veraiie angrye.
Ira totus feruet, he is thopoughely chauffed with anger.
Fora libus omnia feruent, All the common places of iudgements bee greatly busyed and occupped with suites and mattiers of the lawe.
Ferueo, ferbui, feruescere, to wage hottē.
Feruide, vehemently, with a great heate.
Feruidus, a, um, feruent, verie hottē, scaldyng, vehement. also diligent.
Ferula, la, f. g. a certayne herbe, haupng a stalke lyke to fenell, and, as Turnoz iudgeth, may be named tenell gant, oz herbe Sagapene. It is taken for a rodde oz sycke, wherewith chyl-drens handes be strephen in schooles, called a paultner. Also a cane oz reede, a pottle sycke.

 Sometyne a spleinte to spleinte a broken synger oz legge with.
Ferula manum subducere, To go to schoole with a maister, & to bee beaten as the other bee.
Ferulacens, a um, like the herbe called Ferula.
Ferularius, a um, lyke a cane oz reede.
Feruo, ferui, ere, to be hotte, to bee chaufed, to bee angry.
Feruit sol, the sonne is hotte.
Feruor, oris, m. ge. a greate heate oz burninge, vehemencie, great anger.
Ferus, a, um, wyld, cruell, terrible.
Fescenninum, a town of Campayne, where bet-tes longe at mariages were fyrst invented.
Fescennini versus, verses longe at wedding-ges, full of ribauldy, scoffes, and tauntes.
Festis pro feriis, aliquando dicunt antiqui,
Fessus, a, um, weerie.
Fessus via, and De via, weerie with toynceping.
Fessus vita, weery of his lyfe.
Fessus cursu, weery of rennyng.
Artus fessi, weeri lymmes.
Festinas, auris, that maketh hafte oz speche.
Festinantur, Festinate, and Festine, hastily, quickly, swiftly, speedily. Sometyne without aduiseiment.
Festinatio, oris, f. g. hafte oz speede.
Adhibere festinationem, to make speche,
Festinatio, and Otiun, contrary.
Festinato, speedily, in hafte.
Festinator, oris, m. g. one that maketh hafte.
Festinatus, a, um, hastened, dooen with speche.
Festino, aui, are, to make hafte, to be trouble, to hve apace.
 ✚ Festina lente, speche the slowly, make slow hast: soft fire maketh swete walte, it is good be merie and wise, this is. &c. spoken, where a man will signifie a thyng to be doen, neither to hastily, nother to slowly, but in a conuenient temperance. Se my booke of the gouernour in the chapter of maturitie.
 ✚ Comes festinationis penitentia, hast byn-geth repentance, hast is hastic mans wor.
Properare & festinare.
Festinat ad fratrem, he maketh hafte to goe to his brother.
Nihil festinat, he maketh no hafte.
Fugam festinare, to make hafte oz speche, to renne awaie.
Mortem in se festinauit, he hastened his owne
 deathe.
Festinant effeda, They make ready the wagggons oz chariottes with all speche.
Quid festinas? why hyst thou so faste? what is the matter that thou arte so troubled and makest suche hafte?
Festino, the passius.

Festinus, a, um, hastie, quicke.
Festive, meryly, pleasauntly, featelly, pzeatilly, iolye.
Festivitas, ais, fcm. g. merythe, pleasauntnesse, iopfulesse.
Festivo, aui, are, to keepe holy date.
Festivus, a, um, mery, pleasaunt, pzonokynge meryth, ioyous: also pzetepnyng to holy daies.
Festivum caput, a mery and pleasaunt felowe.
Festivus sermo, pleasant and mery talke:
Festra, a lytell wycket.
Festuca, a, f. gen. the ponge tender sprynge of a tree of herbe also a mote also the rodde, whiche the pzetozyled amonge the Romans, in mas hyng bondmen see.
Festucarius, a, um, pzetepnyng to Festuca, be longing to the pzetoz rodde.
Festus, a mannes name, familiar with Do mittian.
Festum, ti, n. g. a feastivall date.
Festus, a, um, feastfull or solemne.
Dies festus, an holy date.
Festa pax, a topfull peace.
O dies festus, O mery and iopfult date.
Festus clamor, a crye of thowse of men fea strug and making mery.
Conivitia festa, mery tauntes.
Culus festus, apparell vsed on holy daies.
Celebrate & agere dies festos, to solemmise and keepe holy daies.
Festula, arum, f. gen. plu. an olde citee in Tus cane, not farre from florence.
Fax, looks Fax:

Fiber, bri, m. gen. a beaſt called a beuer, called alſo Caſtor, whoſe ſtones are vſed in medicine, and are named Caſtorium: if is alſo a kinde of walrus.
Fibra, z. form. gen. the bryennes of a vner, of any other thyng. alſo Fibra are the extreme partes of the luer, the hette, the lungues, or other thynges, wherein is app diuſion. They may be called lappes. alſo ſmall thynges lyke beuers, hanginge at the rootes of herbes or trees, ſometyme the ſmall pores of the ſkinne, by the which the ſweate iſſueth. alſo in botanie congeled, thynges lyke theeredes, which are la-ken out, ere they make up drinke.
Negmih cornua fibra ety. There not to harde beuer.
Fibratus, a, um, that hath bryennes of ſmale thynges hanginge at it lyke beuers, as the beards of an onyon.
Fibrinus, a, um, of a beuer.
Fibula, z. form. gen. a buckle of a gyrdell, of other thyng lyke thereto, Attache on clasp. alſo the bylbone it is a beare, in malornie it is a crampen or cramp. Neosmih hals quadrifones together. alſo a thyng that ſurgions vſe to those wounds. sometime a littell house of sponge of brasse.

 Tigna coniuncta fibulis, The principall posses ioined strongly together with brases.
 Fibulo, aui, are, to buckle, to ioyne, or fasten together tymbre of bouders, or other like thinges.
 Ficaria, a, f. g. a fygge tree, or rather the place where fygge trees growe.
 Ficarius, a, um, that despyeth to cast figges.
 Ficatium, ti, neu. gener. the liver of a hogge of swyne.
 Ficculula, a, form. g. a hyde, whiche seedeth on fygges of grapes.
 Fictum, ti, neu. gene. a plate where fygge trees doore growe.
 Fictor, toris, maf. gen. he that loutheth or gathereth fygges.
 Ficola, a, f. g. a staffe or stake of a fygge tree.
 Ficofus, f, fulle of sores in the heade or in the beard.
 Fiste, feygnedly, with counterfaytynge, not sincerely.
 Fictile, lis, a thyng made of earthe.
 Fictilis, lc, earthen or made of earthe.
 Fictitius, a, um, feigned, or dissembled, coun-terfayted.
 Fictor, toris, ma. ge. a counterfayter, a feigner, a potter that maketh earthen vessels.
 Fictrix, icis, f. g. the feminine.
 Fictus, a, um, made to the similitude of a thyng feigned, inuented to no purpose.
 Ficulnea arbor, a figge tree.
 Ficulneus, a, um, & Ficulnus, a, um, of a fygge tree.
 Ficus, li, m. g. a littell figge.
 Ficus, secunda & quarta declinationis, fer. ge.
 a fygge, or figge tree.
 Ficus Aegyptia, called also Sycomorus, is a tree, which hath his name of a figge tree, and a mulberi tree, and therefore may be called mul-beri figge tree.
 Ficus, ci, maf. gene. a sore of scabbe, growyng in the places of a mans body, where heare is.
 sometime a fygge.
 Fidei commissarius, a scrover of truste.
 Fidei commissum, a scrovement of truste.
 Fidei commissus, a, um, that is committed to one, to be by hym disposed to a certayn use.
 Fidei committito, missi, re, to encofse.
 Fideiussor, oris, a suretie of bondowe.
 Fidelia, a, form. gene. an earthen vessel, set uppe to diuers purposes. Also a carpenters square, chaiced to marke out the euen proportion of thynges.
 De eadem fidelia duos parietes dealbare, spoke of hym that with one benefite or pleasure woulde deserue thanke of two persons.
 Fidelis, is, faithfull, toall, trusty, sure.
 Fidelitas, aris, form. gener. faithfulness, toall-ite, suretie.
 Fideliter, Fidelé, and Fide, faithfully, trusty, vrbtely.

 Fidenā, a, or fidenā, arum, a towne in Italy.
 Fidenates, people of the Sabines.
 Fidentia, a. f. g. a confidence, boldnesse, truste, credite, estimation, tuition, sauegarde.
 Fidenūeo, fidēi bes, to be suertee for an other,
 to wyl a thyng to be doone on his wa:randise.
 Fideusio, ōnis, f. g. suertethp.
 Fidens, entis, trustpge, bolde, haung a good confidence.
 Fidenter, stoutly, boldly, with a good confidence.
 Timide & fidenter, contrary.
 Fides, ei, form. gen. belse, truste, promyse, credite, estimation, tuition, sauegarde. It is a stablesse and truth in promyses and con-nantes. It is also a faithfull execution of thynges comytted or promysed, saythfulnesse, true dealing, vppghynes of conscience.
 Fides labefactata, affecta, afflicta, credence losse.
 Fides publica, assurance or warrantise made in the name of all the rulers, and people for a man to dooe or saie a thyng safely withoute peryll or hurte, saue conducte.
 Fide nulli es, thou kepest no promise.
 Fide bona, without fraude or couen.
 Fide sua, mea, tua, iubere, to undertake.
 Fidem accipere, to be beleued.
 Fidem altingere, to promyse faithfully.
 Fidem desicere, prodece, abruptere, fallere, se, frangere, mutare, to breake promise, to be fowsworne, to goe from ones woordes, to be un-constant of promise.
 Fidem habere, to beleue. a so to be beleued.
 Fidem labefactare, to lose credence.
 Fidem liberare, implere, exoluere, prestare, seruare, to discharge ones promise or honestee,
 to keepe promise.
 Fidem publicam dare, to geue assurance or warrantise, to graunt a safe conducte.
 Fide tua esse iubes, Thou dost undertake, thou dost make warrantise.
 Fidem excedere, to be incredible.
 Fide maus esse, idem.
 Fidem rei exhibere, to declare that a thyng is trewe, to shewe a true ppose of a thyng, to dooe a thyng in dede.
 Fidem dare, to promise, to plight ones trouche.
 Ad fidem veri, for the confirmation and declaration of the truth.
 Fides si pones auctorem, Zeat the first teller thereof answer for the truth.
 Fide nulla homo, or fidēi nullius, a man of no credite, a man of no honestie, of no substantiall dealing.
 Fide publica venire, to come vnder saule con-ducte.
 Fronti nulla fides, a man may not be trusted or beleued by his looke.
 Inest in verbis fides, There is in his wordes substantialnesse of truth.

Absolum fidei, not to be beleued, vnphely to be trewe.
 Haud magna cum re, sed fidei plenus, I man of no great substance, but faithfull and trusty.
 Abrogare alicui fidem, to credyte a man no
 moze.
 Bonafides, substantiall and trewe dealing,
 without gyle or craft, contrary to Dolus malus.
 Bona fide dicere, to speake as one thyng in his conscience, without leasyn.
 Bona fide emere, to bye a thyng withoute
 fraude or gyle.
 Fac hoc quod te iubemus, mea fide, Do this that we byd you on my warrantise.
 A fide alicquem abducere, to entice a man to doo agaynst his othe and conscience.
 Abhorret a fide, it is not lykely to be true.
 In fidem accipere, to take vnder obedience and protection.
 Fidem detrahare alicui, to bypnyge a man out of reputation or credite.
 Alligare fidem iuramento, to swear.
 Committre se in fidem vel fidei alicui, to put ones selfe in the tuition and protection of a man, to truste one to doo with him as he wyls hym selfe.
 Fides concidit, his credence is losse, no man
 wyls truste hym.
 Fides constitit, it is proued or tried.
 Cum fide, faithfully, trustly.
 Ex fide scribere, to wyte a thyng truly and faithfully as it is.
 Si fidem habeat, pf he myght beleue: pf he myght be in suretie, or pf he myght surely trust.
 Res habuit fidem, the thyng was beleued.
 Fidem nullam habere, They are nothyng lyke to be true.
 Imminuere fidem alicuius, to make a man of lesse credite or estimation.
 Fidem implorare, to desyre ayde or succour.
 Fidem interponere, to make warrantise, to assure.
 In fide populi Romani manere, to abyde or continue in the protection or sauegarde of the people of Rome.
 In fidem manere, & frangere fœdus, contrary.
 Reddere nunc pactam fidem, Now performe thynge you promised.
 Hoc vult curauit, ut esset mihi fides, This one thyng I haue endeuoured, that a man myght trust me at my woordes.
 In nullius fide esse, to be in the obedience and protection of no man.
 Inne parua fides mihi apudre, Doo ye trust me so lytell: or am I in so small credite with you?
 Fides militi apud hunc est, I am in good redite with this man.
 Fide alicuius sumere argentum, to borrow monete vppon an other mannes credite or warrantise.

Fidem

Fidem suam tueri, to mainteyne and defende his honestee and credite.
 Fides, dis, f. gen. the stryng of any instrument.
 Contempe an harpe or lute, or other lyke instrument with strynges.
 Conspicuous fide, famous and well known for his cunning on the harpe or lute.
 Adhibere fides epulis, to play on the harpe or lute at a fest or banquet.
 Discebāt fidibus antiqui, men of auncient tyme learned to play on the lute, harpe, or gitterne.
 Docere alicquem fidibus, to teach one to play on the harpe, lute, or gitterne.
 Iungere vocem fidibus, to singe to the lute,
 or harpe.
 Fidicen, fidicinis, m. gen. an harper, or one that playeth on an instrument with strynges.
 Fidicina, a, a woman harper or luter, a syngyng meny.
 Fidicinius, a, um, of or perteynyng to an harper, or player on a stringed instrument.
 Fidicula, a, f. gen. a rebetke or gitterne. also the name of a strere.
 Fidicula, arum, form. gen. plur. a tourment made with cordes or strynges, wherewith men be tourmented, to make theym confesse treas-sone or felonye.
 Fidiculanus, a noble senatour of Rome.
 Fidipedes, a kynde of birdes, wherof Helianus writeth.
 Fidus deus, a god among the Romans, Sonne of Jupiter.
 Fido, filus sum, fidere, to truste, to beleue, to put ones hope in a thyng.
 Fiducia, a, f. gen. truste, confidence, sometyme hope, boldnesse, most commonly in the good parte, sometyme in the yll. It is properly that truste, wherin any thyng is deliuered by one man to an other, to the intent that he shall deli-uer it whan he is required.
 Propter tuam fiduciam, for the confidence that he hath in the.
 Quā fiducia id facere audeam? Howe maye I be so bolde as to doo that?
 Fiducia in virtute alicuius, Confidence and truste that a man hath in ones constancie and vertue.
 Fiduciam etiam diligentie tibi habeo, I trust well, or I haue a good truste or confidence, that you will be so diligent. &c.
 Fiducia sui, hardynesse, confidence and trust in ones owne strength.
 Fiduciam accipere, vpon ones faith and pro-myse, to receyue possession of a thyng, whiche he must after restore to hym, of whom he receuyed it.
 Fiduciam committere, to deliuer the possession or charge of a thyng on that condicion.
 Fiduciarus, a, um, that hath the possession, charge or custodie of a thyng on condicion to restore it agayn, or elles the thyng that is so geuen or committed to ones charge.

 Fiduciarus hæres, idem quod Fideicommissarius.
 Legatus fiduciarium optinet operam, a lieutenant of a pinte hath great authoitee, but yet so that he must leaue it, whan his soueraigne commaundeth.
 Philippus Corinthum Nabidi, tanquam fiduciarium dedit, Philip deliuered Corinth to Nabid, vpon condicion that pf he returned, he shoulde restore it to hym agayn, otherwylse to kepe still the possession therof.
 Fiduciarium mancipatio, aut venditio, a state in landes made vppon confidence or truste, vpon condicion that it may bee redeemed and restored agayne, mortgage.
 Fiduciarium possessio, a possession to an other mansste, or vpon condicion.
 Fides, a, um, trustye, faithfull, sure, trewe herted.
 Figlina, a, form. gen. a potters warkehouse, or potters craffe.
 Figlinum, i, n. g. a thyng made of earth.
 Figlinus, a, um, that belongeth to a potter.
 Figlina creta, potters clate.
 Figmentum, ti, neu. gen. the woothe or wothes manshp. sometyme a lye, or a thyng feygned, a forged tale.
 Figo, xi, gère, to thruste in, to stycke in, to shoote in, to fasten to. Also to hange vp, as one hangeth a thyng by a walle. Sometyme to dyue or fasten in the earth. Sometyme to strike. also to plant or sette.
 Palum humi fixit, he dyoue the stake into the ground.
 Ipse feraces figat humo plantas, he maye sette in the grounde the fruitefull plantes.
 Figare ceruos, to hunte deere with bowes.
 Figare legem, to sette an acte of parliament or ordinance on a walle or poste, to the intent that all men maye reade it.
 Amicus parcere, aduersarios figere, to taunte his aduersaries.
 Figare carnes verubus, to spyt meate.
 Figare arma, to hange vp ones armour, and by translation, to be no moze carefull for the warre.
 Figare alicquem maledictis, to ralle or speake spitefully agaynst one.
 Figare mentem in re aliqua, to sette ones cog-itation or mynde on a thyng.
 Oculos figere in aliquo, to looke stedfastely vpon one, to eye one.
 Oscula figere, to kysse.
 Figare in poste, to fasten on a poste.
 Vestigia figere, to steppe surely, that one fall
 not. also to stop & stand stil whē one is goyng.
 Figeantur nostri diuersis telis, were stiched or thrust in.
 Figularis, re, perteynyng to a potter.
 Figularis creta, looke Figlina creta.
 Hh ij Figus

Figulina, looke figlina.
Figulus, li, m. g. a pottre.
Figura, x, f. g. a figure. also fauoure, shappe, faction, sometyme a scoffe.
 Noua figura oris, such a fauour of face as you haue not lyghtly seen.
 Species & figura humana, The fauour and shappe of man.
Figuratio, oris, f. g. a foamyng of facyonyng, sometyme an ymagynyng.
Figuratus, a, um, facyoned, fourmed.
Figuro, au, are, to make of fourme, to facion. sometyme to ymagine, to gesse.
Figurare os pueri, to facion a chyldes pronuntyation of speakyng.
Figurare orationem, to garnyshe an oracion with figures of eloquence.
Figurare tamen potestis, qui. &c. yet you may ymagine. &c.
Filiam, threde by threde.
Filia, x, f. g. a daughter.
 Adultera filia, a bastarde daughter.
 Collocare filiam, to geue his daughter in marriage.
Filiaster, tri, m. g. a sonne in lawe by an other wyfe, or an other husbunde.
Filica, idem quod mix.
Filicium, ti, n. g. a ferny grounde.
Filica a, x, f. g. a fine growyng on trees, called in greche Polypodium, in English Polypodium, or wallfene.
Filicia, x, f. g. a little daughter.
Filiolus, li, m. g. a little sonne.
Filiolum, a cuntrie that is now called Asealon.
Filius, li, m. g. a sonne. Filius etiam in brutis, a coltre, a whelp, or the yong of any beast.
Fili, sometyme dooth coneyne both sonnes and daughters.
Filius terre, a newe begun gentelman, or a gentelman of the fresshe head. After some a vile persone, of an unknowen buthe.
Filius filius, a nephewe.
Fortuna filius, a fortunate persone, whiche hath prosperous successe in all his doynge.
Iustus filius, a sonne begotten in wedlocke.
Entri filios, to byngne forth chyldren.
Filix, filicis, f. g. ferne or bzake.
Filo, au, are, to spynne or make threde.
Filum, li, n. g. a threde. sometyme the proportion or draught of a thyng. sometyme a lync, also the forme or figure of ones visage.
Filum ducere, to spynne.
Deducit aranea filum pede, spynneth.
Transcere filum in acu, to threde a nedell.
Filum orationis, a style or maner of oracion.
Fimbria, x, f. g. the flickes or hem of a garment.
Fimbriatus, a, um, that hath a hemme, purple, pleat, or wrinkle.
Fimbria, the name of a Romain, whiche was veray proude and sedicious.
Fimicium, ti, n. g. a dounge hyll.

Fimum, a bore, out of the whiche men doo caste dyce.
Fimus, mi, doung of cattall or of man.
 Reddere fimum, to styte.
Fimum, is sometyme red in the neuter gender.
Fimus columbinus, pygcons dunge.
Fimus ouillus, shepes dunge.
Finalis, le, fynall or laste.
Findo, fidi, findere, to cut, to cleane, to druide.
 Aratro calum findere, a prouerbe spoken of a thyng impossible.
Finditur cor meum, istius hominis vbi sit mentio, Myne hert bursteth, or it greuen me verie fore, as often as that man is spoken of.
Finditur illic Euphrates, at that place the ryuer Euphrates is diuided.
Fingo, xi, gere, to make, properly of earth, as potters doe, to foume, to feine, to counterfayt, to ymagine. to diuise.
Finge animo, suppose, or put the case.
Fingere mores alicui, to facion one in maners.
Vultum fingere, to make coun. enaunced not to be mery or sorowfull, where in dede he is mery or sorowfull.
Facere & fingere, Fingere & formare.
E cetera fingere, to make in ware.
Fingere animo or cogitatione, to ymagine or conceiue in ones mynde.
Qui ex sua natura ceteros fingerent, whiche dyd iudge other by thei owne natures.
Eum te esse finge, qui ego sum, I ymagyneth selfe to be as I am.
Voto aliquem fingere, to wyshe a man suche one as we would haue him.
Fingit causas, he picketh quarrells, or he feyneth lictes, excuses, or occasions.
Fingere corpora lingua, with lychynge to facion the bodies of the ponge, as beares and lions doo. Nonne ad senem aliquam fabricam fingit? Doth he not go about some wyle of craft to deceiue the olde man?
Fingere fallaciam, idem.
Falsi quippiam fingere, to forge or inuente some vntre tale or lye.
Fauos fingere, to make honny combes.
Fugam fingere, to make as one dyd runne of fce awaie. Fingere & fabricare.
Nidum fingere, to make a nest.
Fingere se ad nuntium aliorum, to facion ones selfe to the mynde or fantasy of other.
Vultus quosq; hominum fingit scelus, The vngacious bnaue canne facion the countenance of men, and make theym looke as he lusteth hym selfe: or he can counterfayt other mens looks.
Finio, iure, to finishe or ende, to accomplishe, to determin. or appoint sometyme to desine, to die.
Finire vitam inedia, to dye for hunger.
Finiri morbo, to die of a sicknesse.
Laqueo or suspendio huius vitam, to hange ones selfe.

Finire

Finire prouintiam alicui certo tempore, To finishe or prescribe a tyme, howe long one shall haue the rule of a prouince.
Finem finire, To determine or appointe a certayne date.
Finitur, the impersonall.
Finis, is, m. ge. the ende, the conclusion. also the intent or purpose, wherunto any other thyng hath relation, or is made of dooen for. sometyme death. also for Fines, the boundes, marches or bittermost borders of any countrey.
Finis, nium, plur. the boyers of marches of a countrey, boundes.
Adferre finem alicui rei, to make a thing haue an ende.
Finem maledictis fecit, he leaueth raplyng.
Finem sermoni facere, to speake no more, to holde ones peace.
Orandi iam finem facito, intrete me no more.
Implere finem vite, to finishe his lyfe.
Imponere finem bello, To make an ende of warre.
Quem ad finem? To what intente or purpose?
Finis, determinately, with a certayn measure.
Finimus, a, um, ngyh, togyng, bordering.
Bellum finitimum, warre among borderers or neyghbours.
Finis, oris, f. g. a definition.
Finior, oris, ma. g. a setter of boundes, a bounder of landes.
Finitus, a, um, finisshed, ended.
Finis, factus sum fieri, to be made, to bee, to be esteemed.
Nulla adeo ex re istud fit, nisi ex nimio otio, This cometh of nothyng elles but of to muche idleness.
Ex ea re quid fit, vide, Consyder what will folowe or come to passe by so dooyng.
Fit obuiam casu ei multitudini C. Curio, By chaunce C. Curio met with that route.
Illud fit sepe, That happeneth, or cometh to passe oftentimes.
Fit absinthium in Arabia, wormewood groweth in Arabia.
Modum fieri non video, I can not see that they vse any measure or meane.
Aliquid cibi fiet, some meate shall bee preparred or made ready.
Commodioris hio valetudinis, I ware better at ease, I begyn to ware stronge.
Qui finit hac re scrupulus? what doubte is in this matter?
Finem illum exempla, looke Exemplum.
Mihi non sit verisimile, It seemeth not to me to be lykely.
Fieri non potest quin sentiant, it can not bee shosen, but that they must nedes perceiue it.
Vbi satietas capiti fieri, whan I began to be somewhat weery.
Vbi tantos sumptus sibi cotidianos videbit fieri, whan he shall perceiue, that he shal dailie be at so great costes and charges.

Ira fit verum, So it is proued to be trewe.
Ne quam in illum vim fieri sinat, Leat hym not suffer any violence handes to be layde on hym.
Quid pecunie fiet? What shall bee doorn with the monney? better than Quid de pecunia fiet?
Tanti fit ab aliis, so muche he is esteemed of other.
Fiet, be it so.
Hoc nisi fit, except this come to passe.
Firmamen, inis, neu. gen. that holdeth of fastnes with a thyng.
Firmamentum, ti, neu. gene. a suretie or stabylitee. also that whiche is called the grounde of a cause or matter. Also the firmament of heauen visible. Firmamenta, bee sometyme taken for the sinues.
Firmamentum reipublice, the chiefe stape and vpholder of the commune weale.
Firmator, oris, m. ge. that maketh stedfast, constant, and sure.
Firmatus, a, um, stablyshed, fortified, made stronge.
Firme, and Firmiter, assuredly, stedfastly, constantly, fastly, veray diligently.
Firme respondere, to aunswere constantly and boldly.
Firmitas, atis, & Firmitudo, dinis, f. g. stableness, constance, surenesse, strength.
Firmitas vinorum, The strengthe and durableness of wyne.
Firmitudo animi, constance of mynde.
Firmo, au, are, to assure, to make stable or sure, to affirme, to saufsie, to make stronge.
Alum firmare, to bynde the deaile, or make one coshure.
Firmare corpora cibo, to strength theyr bodies with meate.
Dorem firmare, to be at a point what he will geue in mariage with his daughter.
Firmare fidem, To perfourme or make assurance of promise, to confirme that he hath promised.
Firmare agrum sepibus, To hedge a fiede about.
Firmata cibo vires, He is made stronge with good meates.
Ei rei firmasti fidem, thou haste made me beleue that thyng the more.
Prasidia firmare, to fortifie garrysons.
Ad rem aliquem firmare, with conforttable wordes to put in hope.
Firmare agrum sepibus, to fence or mounde.
Munia firmare, to fortifie.
Firmare corpora labore, to harden the bodies with labour, and exercise.
Pacem firmare, to make peace more sure and stable.

Fih ij

Vis

Vix quicquam firmare ausim, I dare scantly affirme any thyng for a suretie.
 lurreturando firmare, to vpholde a thyng with an othe.
 Firmus, a, um, stable, constaunt, well fortified, assured, stronge, in good health, lusty.
 Cibus firmus, stronge nouryng meate.
 Satis firmo corpore cum esset, whan he was stronge, lusty, and in good helth.
 Firma hæ vereor vt sint nuptiæ, I feare this marriage will not continue longe without some breach.
 Rumor firmus, a constant rumour.
 Porio firma, a porcion of drynke that nourysheth muche.
 Vina firmissima, stronge wines that continue long. Firmus ab equitatu, he that hath a strong bande of horsemen.
 Iuuenis firmus, stronge and mightie.
 Pectus firmum, constant.
 Firma valetudo, when one is not sickely of attached with diseases.
 Firmum castellum, a citie of Italy.
 Fiscæles, false accusations of those men, whiche haung parte of the forfeyte, doe bynge men in trouble.
 Fiscâlis, le, perteynyng to the kynges treasure.
 Fiscella, æ, fœm. ge. a littell basket of ewygges.
 it may be used for a fraile. also a chese fate. It to it is a thyng made with withies and halters, wherewith cattelle was so mofelled, that they might not bite any yong sprynges of buddes of trees.
 Fiscellum, li, n. g. idem.
 Fiscellus, li, a littell byll in Italye, not farre from Cyber.
 Fisci, fiscinæ, fiscellæ, great sachelles, wherein were put great summes of monie.
 Fiscina, æ, fœm. g. a great basket, a fraile. also a bagge of sachel to put money in.
 Fiscina ficorum, a fraile of figges.
 Fiscus, ci, ma. g. a bagge, whereinto monie is put. also the kynges eschequer, a kynges treas-sure. somtyme a panger of oysters bled in prestyng of oysters, or a great fraile.
 Fiscus lineus, a manner of strappers.
 Fissilis, le, that maye be cut, litte, or clouen.
 Fissio, ðnis, f. g. a cleauyng of chappynge.
 Fissura, æ, fœ. g. a cut or cleft. also the space be-twene the fyngers of toes.
 Fissus, us, and Fissum, si, n. g. idem quod fissura.
 Fissum ani, the cleft of a man betwene the buttockes.
 Fissus, a, um, clouen, chynked.
 Fistica, æ, f. g. an instrument, wherewith piles of woode be dryuen into the grounde, called a water pile sledge or a commander, and stones in a pavement, called a rammer.
 Fistucatio, ðnis, fœmi. generis, the dryynge downe of piles, or rammyng downe of stones in payng.

Fistucatus, a, um, dryuen with a commander or rammer.
 Fistuco, aui, are, to dryue downe piles into the earth with a water pile sledge, or to ramme downe stones in payng.
 Fistula, æ, fœm. gene. a flute or pipe, as well to conueigh water as an instrument of musike.
 also the weyll of throte bolle, a tappe of fountain, a dyscase of soze, whiche cometh of a pustified humour, and renneth continually, called in englishe Fistula. somtyme an yllue, by the whiche some fyfthe fetche byeth. also that whiche the apothecaries call commonly Cista fistula.
 Fistulator, ðris, m. ge. a piper, one that playeth on a flute, or lyke instrument.
 Fistulo, aui, are, to be holowe lyke a sponge.
 Fistulosus, a, um, full of holes lyke a sponge.
 Fistulosa terra, earth barrenne of nature, whiche serueth neither to tyllage nor pasture.
 Fite, the imperative of Fio.
 Fittiges, the heales of Æthiophe, of a bytowne four, haunge two pappes on the breast as a man hath. They bee not so wyde, but they may bee tamed, not so tame, but they wyll chawte those that greue them.
 Fiuere, olde wyters used for Fugere.
 Fixula, olde wyters used for Fibula.
 Fixus, a, um, fyrm, fast, stedy, constant, sure,
 that is not lightly chaunged, certayne.

Flabellifer, lifera, um, that whiche beareth a fanne.
 Flabellum, li, neu. g. an instrument, wherewith with in the heate of sommer, wynde is fanned and blownen into mens visages, to coole thym, a fanne.
 Flabellum seditionis, by translation, a mouer of stoner of sedition.
 Flabilis, le, that maye bee blownen, or of the ayre.
 Flabrum, bri, or rather flabra, ðrum, neu. ge.
 a blaste of winde, a blowyng.
 Flaccidus, a, um, wythered, feble, weake, hang-gng downewarde, lollyng or flaggyng.
 Flaccidæ aures, hanggyng eares.
 Flaccus, a, um, that hath hanggyng eares. some-tyme haused.
 Places, flacium, fœm. gene. plur. nu. the oyles of oliues.
 Flagellum, li, n. g. the small branche or twyg of a vyne, or other tree. somtyme a whyppe or scourge, a flappe, wherewith coyne is thrydded.
 Flagello, aui, are, to whyppe, to scourge, to thrydde, to blame or rebuke.
 Flagellare annonam, To bye coyne of byttle ere it come to the markette, as forshals lers dooe.
 Flagellare periculis frumentum. Plin. To thrydde coyne.

Flagi-

Flagitiose, vngraciously, mischiefully, wickedly detestably, naughtily, vnjustly.
 Flagitium, ti, n. g. an yll or mischeuous dede woorth the rebuke and punishment, an heynous offence, a detestable acte, a synfull thyng, a great trespass, an abhominable vice or naughty facion. somtyme for Dedecus, dishonour, disworship. somtyme a notable error, also perille.
 Flagitium tuum est, it is by thyne vngracious-nesse, or through thy default.
 Promptus flagitio, ready to doe mischiefe.
 Namid nobis tam flagitium est, quam illa non facere vobis, quæ modo dixi. For that is in vs as great a fault, as it is in you, not to do those thynges that ye spake of euen nowe.
 Flagitio ardere, to be conuicted of a great offence.
 Non patiar me tuis flagitiis infamem fieri, I will not suffer my selfe to renne in the sclander & obloquie of men through thyne abhominable vices and naughty facions.
 Compertus flagitiū, one conuicted of some detestable fault.
 Flagitium facimus, we goe aboute an heynous
 offence.
 Flagitium est, it is yll dooen.
 Flagitiosus, a, um, vngacious, full of mischiefe.
 Flagito, aui, are, to aske importunately, and with clamoure to exacte, to require instantly, als to accuse.
 Flagitare plus est quam postulare.
 Implorare & flagitare.
 Flagitare aliquem, to desyre of one instantly.
 Flagras me vt eloquar, you are verie instant on me, that I should utter it.
 Vt peculatorem flagitari iussit, he commanded hym to be accused as a robber or spoiler of the common weale.
 Id me flagitat, he despreth that thyng of me importunately.
 Flagrat frumentum ab Heduis, he exacted coine of grayne of the people called Hedui.
 Flagitator, ðris, m. g. he that instantly despreth or asketh.
 Te flagitatore suscepi negotium, at thy instant
 desyre I tooke on me the busynesse.
 Flagrans, aris, om. g. burnyng, stamyng, very hote, ardent, thynnyng bygyht.
 Flagranter, veraciter ardentely.
 Flagrans, æ, f. g. stamyng or burnyng, bygyht-tle, thynnyng, ardent desyre.
 Flagrantia oculorum, glisteryng brightnesse of the eyes.
 Flagrator, they whiche for monie doo suffer them selves to be beaten.
 Flagro, ðnis, f. g. a flauie used to be beaten.
 Flagro, aui, are, to bournce with a flame of fyre.
 somtyme to loue or desyre inordinately.
 Flagrare infamia, to be veray yll reported of.
 Flagrare inopia, to be in greaite necessitee of potestete.

 Flagrare inuidia, to be exceedingly hated.
 Flagrare libidinis, to be outragiously ges-uen to the desyre of filthy pleasure.
 Flagrare amentia, to bee woodde or stark
 madde.
 Flagrare amore, or ardore alicuius rei, to loue a thyng inordinately. Lychwylfe Flagrare desyderio & cupiditate.
 Flagrat bello tota Italia, warre rageth through out all Italy, of all. Italic is miserably troks bled with warre.
 Flagrant mutuo odio, They dooe hate eche other deadly, or they beare mortall hatred one towards the other.
 Rumore malo flagrare, to haue a very ill name to be verie ill reported of.
 Flagrare studiis, to bee exceedingly geuen to study and learning.
 Flagrum, gri, neu. gen. a whyppe, a rodde, or scourge.
 Flamaica, a tree bourned with lightnyng.
 Flamea, clothe of silke of yelow colour.
 Flamen, flaminis, n. g. a blast of wynde, the blast in an instrument.
 Flamen, minis, m. g. the great priest amonge
 the gentiles.
 Flameum, mei, n. g. a beyle or tippet of yelow, whiche women did weare, whan they were new married.
 Flaminia, a countreie in Italy, called also Aemilia, and commonly Romandiola, in the whiche are the cities of Bononia, Fauentia, Imola, Rauenna, and Ariminum.
 Flaminia via, an hygh waye from the citie of Rome vnto the citie of Ariminum.
 Flaminia, æ, fœm. gen. the house of the arches-priest.
 Flaminica, æ, f. g. the wyfe of the great priest called Flamen, whiche myght not be diuorced from hyr husbende for any cause. also a weddyng gowne, whiche was of yelow colour.
 Flaminium, or Flaminia, ðrum, the office of the archepriest.
 Flaminiana ostenta.
 Flaminus minister, a seruant attendyng vpon
 the hygh priest.
 Flaminus, the name of dyuers Romaynes, of whiche one beyng Consul, was ouerthrowen by Hannibal at Trasimene.
 Flamma, æ, f. g. a flame. somtyme perill. some-tyme loue.
 Flamma fumo proxima est, there is no smoke without fyre.
 Flamma concidit, the flame ceaseth.
 Concipere flammam, and Corripi flamma, to bournce, to be on a lyght fyre.
 Incidi in ipsam flammam civilis discordia. I chaunced on the verate rage of moste perillous fyre of the ciuile warres.
 Eripuit se de flamma iudicii, He rydde hym
 selfe

tette out of the perill of that iudgement.
 Flammatica arbor, blasted with lightning.
 Flammea, a, f. ge. an herbe called also Lachnis coronaria, of the frenchmen Candelaria.
 Flammecolum, li, n. g. a litle beyle of tppet.
 Flammecolus, a, um, somewhat coloured like a flame of fyre.
 Flammecarius, rij, masc. gen. he that maketh or dieth the beyles called Flammea, a dyer of ycos lowe colour.
 Flammescere, to be inflamed.
 Flammeus, a, um, burning or flaming, that is of the colour of a flame of fyre.
 Flammifer, a, um, that byngeth or causeth fyre or bournyng.
 Flammigena, a, comen of fyre.
 Flammiger, idem.
 Flammigero, aui, are, to burne in a lyght fyre, to cast out flames.
 Flammigermus, a, um, sendyng out flames.
 Flammula, a, fem. gen. a litle flame. also a certayne herbe.
 Flandria, a countrey called Flanders.
 Flator, óris, m. g. one that bloweth.
 Flaus, us, m. g. a puff or blast of wynde.
 Flauco, flauus, uere, to be lyke golde or of yelow colour.
 Flauesco, idem.
 Flauinium, a place in Italie.
 Flauus, ij, the name of a family in Rome, of the which was Vespasianus, Titus, and Domitius.
 Flauus, a, um, yelow or of the colour of golde.
 Flaua arua, when coyne is ripe.
 Flebilis, le, lamentable.
 Flebiliter, lamentabile.
 Flecto, xi, flectere, to bowe, to bende, to leade, to tourne.
 In diuersum flectere, to bowe contrary waies.
 Inde Capuam flectit iter, he turned his iourney from thens to Capua.
 Flectere animum, To attende and settle the mynde on a thyng. Also to tourne the mynde from any purpose.
 Flectere genu, To make curtsepye, to make a legge.
 Flectere in gyrum, to turne rounde.
 Flectere Leucaten, to turne his iourney to Leucate.
 Flectere aliquem oratione, to perswade or tourne one to his opinion.
 Flegma, looke Phlegma.
 Flegmen, flegminis, n. ge. to where with muche goyng the bloud issueth out of the toes.
 Fleo, fletui, flere, to weepe.
 Flere de morte alicuius, To wepe for ones death.
 Fletus, us, m. g. weepynge.
 Abstergere fletum, to wype the eyes whan one weepeth.
 Fletum ciere, exitare, mouere, to make one weepe.

Comprimeret fletus, to cease weeping, to cease weeping.
 Prosequi natos fletu, To weepe and lament the death of ones chyldren.
 Rumpere iam fletus, wepe no more.
 Flexus, a, um, lamented, bewailed.
 Flexo, one of the mouthes of the river of Rine.
 Also a towne by the same ruer.
 Flexanimus, a, um, that tourneth the mynde.
 Flexanima ardeo, an oration of speche, whiche by a mans mynde is stered to pite, receyving or other lyke affection.
 Flexibilis, le, and Flexilis, le, any thyng that maie be easily bowed, or bent. Also vnconstant, mutable.
 Flexiloquus, a, um, that speaketh thynges doubtfull and obscure.
 Flexipes, edis, that hath crooked feete.
 Flexio, ónis, fem. gen. a bendyng, bowyng or crookynge. Also the tunyng of the voyce by and downe.
 Flexumines, certayne swifte horsemen amonge the Romans.
 Flexuose, crookedly, wyndyng in and out.
 Flexuosus, a, um, that is crooked, or hath many tournynges and wyndynges in and out.
 Flexura, a, f. g. a crookynge or bowyng.
 Flexus, us, masc. gen. a bowyng, a tournyng, the chaungeyng or curvyng of the voyce in pronouncacion.
 Flexus sonus, a rebowndyng of a towne.
 Flexus ætatis, the declining of the age in the later parte of the lyfe.
 Flexus Aurumini, the later part of Autum.
 Flexus, a, um, bowed, bended, tourned, curved, curled.
 Flictus, us, masc. gen. a strykyng or balyng against a thyng.
 Fligo, xi, flum, ere, to tournet or bere, to stryke or ballye against a thyng.
 Flo, aui, are, to blowe, also to make coyn of metall.
 Simul flare & sorbere, a prouerbe signifying to dooe two contrary thynges together.
 Floccifacio, floccifacis, feci, facere, to sette naught by.
 Illum non floccifacio, I sette not a strawe, rushe or heare by hym.
 Flocci non fecit solum, He nothyng esteemed his credite or honestie.
 Flocculus, li, m. g. a fyne floche.
 Floccipendo, endere, idem quod Floccifacio.
 Floccus, i, masc. gen. a floche of the shearing of wollen clothe.
 Floccum facere, idem quod Floccifacere.
 Flores, floccum, floccibus, lyres or dyalles of wyne.
 Flora, an harlot, taken of the Romanes for a goddesse.
 Floralia, órum, neu. gen. plu. the feastes of the goddesse Flora.
 Florabilis, le, perteynyng to Flora.

Floralis

Flores ludi, plaies made in the honour of Flora the harlot, whiche haue a great treasure unto the people of Rome.
 Florens, entis, om. g. flouryng, excellent, beautifull, in great estimation.
 Florens flores ambo, bothe of them in the flour of theyr age.
 Aristus & florens, consary.
 Florentine Anquio, whyle Antonie flourished, or was in estimation of authoritie.
 Florentia, a cite in Italie called Florence.
 Flore, rui, ere, to flourish, or to haue flowers.
 Also to excell, sometime to prosper, to be renowned, to be in great authoritie, or esteem.
 Flore & vigere, to flourish, to be in great authoritie and reputation.
 Omni genere virtutis floruit Pericles, Pericles excelled in all kynde of vertue.
 Flore laude bellica, to be greatly renowned for cheualrie, or martiall prowesse.
 Flore ætate, & forma, to be in the flour of ones age and beauty.
 Flore auctoritate & gloria, to be in great authoritie and reputation.
 Floresco, scere, to surgen, to bypasse forth the flowers, to growe, to increase.
 Florens, a, um, made of flowers.
 Floridus, a, um, a litle flouryng, some what beautifull.
 Floridus, a, um, garnished with flowers, sometime feche of lustie, flouryng, iollie.
 Gelu flumina constituerunt, the ryuers be frozen ouer.
 Superare flumina, to passe ouer the ryuers.
 Florifer, florifera, um, that beareth flowers.
 Floriger, a, um, bearyng flowers.
 Florianus, an emperour of Rome.
 Florilegus, a, um, that gathereth flowers.
 Florius, a ryuer in Spaine.
 Florulentus, a, um, full of flowers.
 Flos, floris, m. g. a flower.
 Appetit florem suum arbor, the tree dooeth blossom.
 Flores carpere, decerpere, legere, delibare, to gather flowers.
 In ipso Græcia flore, whan Grece was in the flour of her age.
 Florem amittit puella, cum corrumpitur.
 Flos vini, the sauour of wyne.
 Flos ætatis, the moste flouryng tyme of ones age, lustie youth.
 Flos Italia, the flour or principall of all Italie.
 Odorus flos, a sweete flower.
 Blandi flores, faye flowers.
 Fundit humus flores, byngeth forth great abundance of flowers.
 Nectere flores, to make a garlande.
 Flos in siligine, the flower of wheate.
 Fluctifragus, a, um, that breaketh the waves of the sea.

Fluctio, ónis, f. g. the remyne of pise.
 Fluctuagus, a, um, wandryng in ryuers, waters, or in the sea.
 Fluctuans, aui, vnertaine, doubtful, lewse.
 Fluctuans, troublyd, doubtfully, lewse.
 Fluctuatio, ónis, fig. folyng, doubryng, vnertaine, wandryng.
 Fluctuatio animi, whan a man doubteth what is best to be doon, wandryng, vnconstantie of mynde.
 Fluctuatio stomachi, whan the meate stowmeth in the stomacke.
 Fluctuatus, a, um, shaken, tossed, moued.
 Fluctuo, aui, are, to waue by and downe as the water goeth. By translation it signifieth to thycke nowe one thyng, nowe an other, to be troubled or disquieted in mynde, to be in an vnertaine state of condicion.
 Fluctuat animus, my mynde wauereth, or it is nowe in one pyinion, nowe in an other.
 Fluctuare animo, to be vnertaine what one maie dooe.
 Fluctuor, idem quod Fluctuo.
 In re aliqua fluctuare, to behaue ones selfe vnconstantly in any thyng.
 Fluctuose, troublydly.
 Fluctuosus, a, um, troublouse, vnquiete, stormy.
 Fluctus, us, m. g. a floude, a waue of water stirred by tempestie, businesse or trouble of aduersitee, disquietenelle of mynde through anger, loue or care, sometime a violent course, or assault, a great multitude.
 Fluens, entis, om. g. flowing, wyde, lewse.
 Fluens buccæ, great hangyng chekes.
 Fluentia, the aunciente name of the cite called Florence in Italie.
 Fluentum, i, n. gen. a ryuer or streame.
 Fluere, to be resolued or relented.
 Fluidus, a, um, flowyng, relented, resolued, that is nothing stronge, without stiffness of strength, feeble.
 Fluida corpora, nice and tender bodies vnapt to pene or labour.
 Fluito, aui, are, to flowe continually. sometime to styte or swymme.
 Flumen, fluminis, n. g. a great ryuer. sometime the course of the water.
 Ne flumini eius riuus esset impedimento, that it myght not let the course of that ryuer.
 Aduerso flumine, against the streame.
 Increuerunt flumina, the waters were yfled.
 Nullius tantum est flumen ingenij, no man hath so abundant or plentifull a witte.
 Flumineus, a, um, of the ryuer.
 Aqua fluminea, rennyng water.
 Fluminosus, a, um, full of ryuers.
 Fluo, xi, ere, to renne as water dooeth, to pcede or come of a thyng, to growe plentifully, to sprede farre abroad, to styte or styde, to passe awaie.
 Volupias corporis fluit, pleasure of the body.

die

die palleth awate lyyhtely, or is of no conit nuance.

Tempus fluit, the tyme palleth awate.

Fluere luxu, to be viterly geuen to riotte and wantonnesse, to coume in sensualitee.

Fluit ratio a capite, reason proceedeth or cometh from the head.

Ad voluntatem nostram res prospera fluit, thinges chaunce and come to passe euen as we woulde haue them.

Qorism fluant eius rationes: what doeth he intende or purpose in his procedynges.

Fluonia, the name of Iuno.

Fluor, oris, Fluxus, us, m. g. & Fluctio, onis, f. g. a fyre.

Flustrum, i, n. g. the full tyde in the sea or other water, whiche ebbeth and floweth.

Fluta, x, for. ge. a fyre lyke to an eece called a lamprepe.

Fluuialis, le, of the ryuer.

Fluuiaticus, a, um, and Fluuiatilis, le, that whiche is in the ryuer.

Fluuiatus, a, um, laied to soke in ryuer water.

Fluuius, ij, m. g. a floude or ryuer.

Fluxu, abundantly.

Fluxio, onis, f. g. a fyre.

Fluxio sanguinis, the bloudie fite.

Fluxura, lecherie.

Fluxus, a, um, flowyng, vnsable, or that whiche dureth but for a while, large or wyde, relented, lecherouse and wanton.

Fluxi, men abandoned to all delicioussnesse or pleasures of lecherie and wanton luste.

Fluxa vestimenta, wyde garmentes, hangyng lewse about a man.

F ANTE O.

FObij, idem buod, Fabij.

Focale, is, n. g. a hercheffe, whiche men and women dyd weare about theyr chokes.

Seneca semeth to take it for a garment to sit by the fyre in. It may be taken for a muffler that women do vse, It is also an yron pynde to make the heare crispe and curle.

Focaneus, nei, m. g. a braunche of a vine, whiche groweth out of a twiste or foxhed boughe.

Focaria, x, f. g. a fyre panne. Also a concubyne that one keepeth as his wyfe.

Focarius, a, um, of or pertainyng to the herth.

Focarius panis, bread baked on the herthe.

Focillatio, onis, f. g. a nowrthyng of hepyng warme.

Focillo, aui, are, to nouryng or comfote, to hepe warme, to maynteyne.

Focilo, idem.

Focula ventris, nouryng meates.

Foculo, aui, are, to nouryng of susteine.

Foculus, i, mas. g. a little panne, wherein fyre is bozte, A little herthe.

Foculum excitare bucca, to blowe the fyre with ones mouth.

Focunites, people of the Alpes.

Focus, i, m. g. a paste of herth, wherein fyre is.

Cometina is significth fyre, sometyne pyram houses or tenementes.

Extremis lignis focum, to make a fyre, to laye wodde on the fyre.

Splendet focus, the fyre burneth.

Probris & vobis pugnares, a pownre, ap- poynting to fight and contende as well for the magnitudo of religion and noblynesse, as the saluagion of his countrey and pyra- gooddes.

Fodare, vobis & vobis, to pownre, to pownre.

Fodico, aui, are, to perse or pryke, to boze.

Fodicare dolore, to greve or myne to boze.

Fodina, x, f. g. a place where a thyng is digged, a quarrie, a myne.

Fodio, fodi, fodere, to delue, to digge, to mine.

Fodere argentum, vel metallum, to mine for silver or other metall.

Fodere ora hastis, to thurst theyr speares in mens faces.

Fodere stimulo, to pryke with a goade.

Fodere terram, to care or delue the grounde.

Fodiri, is vobis of Columella in the fourth book of iugation.

Fecundus, plentifully, abundantly.

Fecunditas, atis, f. g. fertilitie, plentie.

Experta fecunditatis femina, a barren woman.

Fecundo, aui, are, to make fruitfull or plentious.

Fecundus, a, um, plentious, abundant of fruitfull, battie, as the gronde is, full.

Fecundi calices, full cuppes.

Fecundus & vber.

Fecunda mulier, a woman with childe.

Fecundissimus melle & felle amor, loue hath both great plentie of sweetnesse, and also of so rowe, or loue is both verry sweete & very sorrow.

Fecialis, looke Fecialis.

Fecde, villanousely, shamefully, vnhonorely, filthily, cruelly.

Federatus, a, um, confederate, one that is in a league or alliance.

Federo, aui, are, to confederate.

Fedifragus, a breaker of league or trust or entre confere.

Feditas, atis, f. g. filthynesse, dishoneste, unchastite, ill fauourednesse.

Feditas odoris, the noyng of a stinkyng and popson fauour.

Feditas spectaculi, the crueltee, or horriblenesse of that sight.

Notabilis feditas vultus, notable illfaourednesse, or mishap of countenance.

Fedo, aui, are, to polute or despyse, to destroye, to rente or teare, to consume.

Ora vnguibus fedans, scratchyng or rentyng ones face with his nayles.

Fedus, fedris, n. g. a treatie of peace or league betwene betwene princis, an entrecourse, a truse after bataille. Sometyne it significth a lawe made in the tyme of warres. Also alliance betwene frendes.

Fedus facere, sancire, ferire, inire, icere, to make a league or alliance.

Panam federibus ascribere, to appoynt a penaltie for them that bzeake leagues.

Genalia federa, alliance of marriage.

Polluere fedus naturæ, to bzeake the law of nature, to doe against nature.

Fedus aliquando pro lege, vt, Aquisismo iure aut federe ciuitas.

Cauere federe de re aliqua, in confirmyng a league to make an exception or caution of any thyng.

Coire in fedus, to alie, to become federates.

Fedus frangere, violare, rumpere, to bzeake a league, contrary to, In fide manere.

Fedus, a, um, foule, deformed, cursed, or cruel, yll fauoured, lothesome to looke on, fylthy, vn- honeste, abhominable, detestable.

Fedum exemplum, a vyle and naughtie example.

Fedum in modum laceratus verberibus, scolded or beaten, that it wolde lothe a man to see it.

Fedus odor, a popson stronge fauour.

Fedissima tempestas, a verrie great or foule storme of tempeste.

Facinus fedum, a shamefull or abhominable acte, a cruell deede.

Fedum consilium, a shamefull and mischeuous counsaile or purpose.

Bellum fedissimum, a verate cruell warre, wherein is shewed no mercie nor pitie.

Felicitas, atis, f. g. felicitie, prosperitee, aboundance of all thynges.

Felicitas terræ, the fruitfulnessse of the erth, fertilitie.

Felicitier, happily, fortunately, with good lucke.

Felicio, aui, are, to make prosperouse, happy, or fortunat.

Felix, icis, om. gen. haupyng abundance of all thynges, prosperouse, happie, commodious, or profitable. Also fatte, fruitfull, plentiful, abundant, fertile, sometyne propise, fauourable of good.

Ramis felicitibus arbor, a tree haupyng bowes laded with frute.

Felix industria, industrie and labour that hath good successe.

Felices horri, frutesfull gardens.

Felix hostia, fatte. &c.

Femen, looke Femen.

Femina, x, f. gene. a woman, also in beastes, the female.

Lectissima, primaria, probatissima.

Feminas implere, by generation to make the female with yonge.

Femineus, a, um, of a woman, or of the female hynde. Feminineus amor, inordinate of this moderate loue.

Femininus, a, um, of the female hynde.

Fernarius, a, um, pertainyng to haye.

Falces fernaria, hookes of synthes for to cutte haye.

Fernebris, bre, pertainyng to vsurie, or vntreason- sonable gayne.

Fernebres leges, lawes made against vsurie.

Fernalia, orum, the date of paymēt of the money lent to vsury.

Feneratio, onis, f. gene. vsurie, or the feate of practise of vsurie.

Feneratius, a, um, that is lent or taken to vsurie, or that pertaineth to vsurie.

Fenerator, oris, ma. g. an vsurer, or lender for vntreasonable gayne.

Feneratorius, a, um, idem quod Feneratius.

Feneratus, a, um, pertainyng to vsurie.

Feneratum istum beneficium tibi pulchre dices, Thou shalt saie thy selfe, that thou hast been well recompensed, or that thou hast had good aduantage by shewyng this benefite of pleasure.

Fenero, aui, are, the actiue, whereof cometh Feneror the passyue, beyng construed with a datiu case, and sometyne with an accusatiue case, significth to lende out to vsurie.

Feneror, aris, ari, the deponent, with an ablatiue case and a preposition, to bozowe or take money lent to vsurie: with a datiu case, to lende out to vsurie.

Fenerat sol lumen suum ceteris syderibus, the soonne parteth or lendeth out his lyyght to other planetes.

Fenerari ab aliquo, To bozowe money of a man to vsurie.

Fenerari aliquid alicui, to lende out a thyng to vsurie.

Fenicularium, rij, neu. gene. after some inters pretours, a place where an armie dooeth lie. It significth properly the mowing of hay, or the tyme of hay harvest.

Feniculum, li, n. g. Fenell, or fenkel.

Fenile, lis, n. g. an haye house, an haye loste, a place where haye lyyeth.

Fenifeca, x, com. g. a mower of haye.

Fenifecium, ij, n. g. haye harueste.

Fenifex, nifecis, com. g. a mower of haye.

Fenum graecum, fenegreke.

Fenum, ni, n. g. haye.

Fenum cordum, latwardde haye.

Meta feni, a cocke of haye.

Feniculum, i, n. g. gayne by lendyng.

Fenus, fenoris, n. gen. fruit, whiche the earthe bringeth forth without any labour. Also vn- reasonable and vntreasonable gayne comyng of that thyng, whiche is lent, vsurie.

Credere fenus argenti, and dare fenori pecuniam, to lende out money to vsurie.

Fenore accipere, to bozow money by vsury.

Quum

Formóstitas, áis, fœm. gen. welſauouredneſſe, comelyneſſe.
 Formóſus, a, um, ſaype, welſauoured.
 Fórmula, x, f. gene. an inſtrument or deede in wytyng. A ſyle in wytyng, and a fourme in pleadynge. A rule or ſation.
 Formula iniuriarum, an action of treſpaſſe.
 Formula cognitionis, the maner of an exaſmination.
 Formula excidere, to be barred of his action.
 Formulam intendere, to bypyn an action.
 Formuláriuſ, rj, m. g. a practiſer of the lawe.
 Fornacalia, drum, n. ge. plu. daies dedicated to bakynge of breade, or rather bakers holydayes, when certayne ſacrifice was doone in the bakehouſe.
 Fornaciárius, ij, m. g. a baker.
 Fornáceus, a, um, made like a furnaie or oven.
 Fornácula, x, f. g. a little oven.
 Fornax, áis, fœm. gene. a chymney or oven, a furnaie.
 Fornax calcaria, a lyme hylle.
 Fornax lateraria, a brycke hylle.
 Fornicárius, rj, m. g. gene. he that hath a ſtall or booth vnder the vaultes or arches of churches or palaces, where they ſell their wares to them that paſſe by, as they do in Weſtmiñſter halles.
 Fornicárius, a, um, perteynyng to lecherie.
 Fornicatio, ónis, f. g. a vaultynge or makynge of a vault or archeruffe, alſo fornication, hoyes dome, lecherie.
 Fornicátor, oris, m. g. a lechoure.
 Fornicátus, a, um, made lyke an arche, that hath committed hoyedome.
 Forábilis, le, that maie bee perred or boyed thowowe.
 Fórnico, aui, are, to make an arche or a vault.
 Fórnico, aris, ari, to committe fornication.
 Fornix, icis, m. g. an arche or a vault. Sometyme a ſewes or byothelle houſe.
 Fornices, were alſo arches in Rome made in the memorie of any noble victorie, or triumph.
 Foro, aui, are, to perſe or boye an hole.
 Fórpices, ſpſars to clippe heare.
 Fors, ó, fors, a forte, fortune, ſometyme it is byled for Forſan, peraduenture.
 Fors fortuna, good fortune or chaunce.
 Fors ſunt, god ſende the good fortune, god ſpede the well.
 Fors viderit, I leaue that to fortune.
 Mala fors, yll fortune.
 Forſitan, & forſan, peraduenture.
 Fortaſſe, fortaiſis, idem.
 Forté, by chaunce, as hadde was, as it fortunéd, peraduenture.
 Forté fortuna, by good aduenture.
 Forte fortuna adſuit. &c. by chance, or, as fortune was &c.
 Fortefco, ſcere, to waxe or be ſtronge.
 Forticulus, a, um, a little ſtrong, ſomewhat hardie.

Fortifico, aui, are, to ſortifie or make ſtronge.
 Fortis, e, ſtronge, puſſaunt, valiaunt of courage, conſtaunt. Alſo ſaype. Sometyme epyche.
 Fortis & ignauiſ, contrary.
 Fortis familia, a epyche and ſubſtanciall ſamilie.
 Fortis equus, a couragious and ſwift horſe.
 Fortia facta, valiaunt dedes.
 Forte ac vehemens dicendi genus, a weightie and vehement maner of ſyle or oration.
 Fortes fortuna iuuat, fortune ſorteth the bolde aduenturers, nothyng venture, nothyng haue ſpare to ſpeake, ſpare to ſpede.
 Fortis & magnus animus, a valiant and noble courage.
 Fortiter, ſtrongly, valiauntly, manfully, conſtantly, myghtily.
 Fortiter ferre aliquid, to take a thyng patiently, or with a valiant ſtomake.
 Fortitudo, inis, f. g. ſtrength, valiant courage.
 Fortitudo, idem.
 Fortuitus, a, um, that happeneth by chaunce.
 Diuinum & fortuitum, contrary.
 Subita & fortuita oratio, ſpeakynge without meditation or ſtudie.
 Fortuitus euentus, a chaunce of fortune.
 Fortuna, x, f. g. fortune.
 Afflicta fortuna, aduerſe.
 Integra fortuna, proſperitee.
 Fortuna, x, or Fortunæ, arum, goodnes, good fortune, aduancement, eſtate, condition.
 Committre ſe fortunæ, to abyde the aduantage of fortune, to aduenture.
 Fortunæ filius, looke Filius.
 Ampliſſimæ fortunæ, of epyght hygge eſtate or degree.
 Poſſeſſiones & fortunæ.
 Conditio, & fortuna.
 Inſima fortuna homines, men of make vile and baſe condition.
 Fortunis omnibus euertere, To thryſte one out of all that euer he hath.
 Fortunatior fortuna, a better chance, a more luckie fortune.
 Fortunatæ inſulæ, the fortunate ples, whiche were in the great Ocean ſea, and of ſhine are named to be. vi. of Solinus. iii. of Idolome. ii. whiche he calleth alſo the ples of goddes, for the holſomenesſe of the ayre, and wyndes blowynge there. Alſo the plentie of good fruites and fertilitye of the grounde. It is thought of ſome men to be thoſe ples, whiche are nowe called Canaria, diſtant from Spaine, towards the weſte. 1200. myles, after the count of Petrus Martyr. of theſe ples are founden to be. vi. in numbze. fyrſt about the yere of our lord. 1405. a frenche man, called Betanhor, at the commaundement of Catharine, then queene of Caſtell, founde two of them, and called the one Launclotte, and the other Forte ventum. Soone after one Fernandus Peraria, and his wyfe found other two, and called the one Ferream, and the other Gomeram. After that the great Canaria was founde by Petrus de Veia, and Mychaell de Moxica. laſt of all, by commaundement of Fernando, and Elizabeth late kynge and queene of Spaine, Tenes rhyſe, and Palma, were founde by Alphonsus Lugo, So that nowe all the. vii. ples be vnder the dominion of the kynge of Spaine. For withſtandynge ſome ſuppole, that theſe be not the ples, whiche were called Fortunatæ, but rather thoſe moze ſouthe, called now of the Portugales, Inſulæ capitis viridis.
 Fortunatæ, happily, fortunatelly, proſperouſly.
 Fortunatim, idem quod fortunatè.
 fortunatus, a, um, luckie, happye, welthy.
 fortunò, aui, are, to make proſperouſe, to augment with good fortune.
 fórla, fórla, f. g. a wicket.
 fórla, a cite of Italie.
 fórla, drum, m. g. plur. hatches, wherin bookes were kepte, nowe they be taken for heuerpyngeſ of bookes.
 forum, i, neu. ge. a market, where thynges bee ſolde. Alſo a place where iudgements are practiſed, and matters in lawe pleaded.
 Forum agere, to ſpe in iudgement, to heare & determyne cauſes.
 Foro vii, to dooe accordynge to the tyme, to take the tyme while it ſeruyth.
 Forum Linij, a cite of Italie called Forli.
 Fora, beſtelles vſed in preſſynge wyne.
 Forum, whan it is taken for a markette, hath commonly an other worde iogged therewith: as Forum boarium, the market where cattail is ſolde.
 Forum olitorum, the market, where herbes be ſolde.
 Forum piſcarij, the ſpyche market.
 Forum Corneli, a towne in Italie called Finola.
 Forum Iulij, a region or countrey of Italie, whiche was ſometyme called Iapidia, nowe it is called Frioll.
 Forum Claudij, Tarentaſia in Italie.
 Foſſa, x, f. g. a dyche, or dyke, or a mote.
 Vallo & foſſa munire caſtra, to caſt a trench and dyke about a campe.
 Foſſa marianæ, a cite in the prouince of Narbonne called Aigues mortes.
 Foſſa Papyriana, a cite in Italie called Foſſo nouum.
 Foſſatim, i, n. g. a dyche or mote.
 Foſſilis, le, that whiche is or maie be digged.
 Foſſio, ónis, f. g. a diggyng or deluyng.
 Foſſinus, a, um, that is digged.
 Foſſor, oris, m. g. a digger, or dycher.
 Foſſula, le, f. g. a little dyche.
 Foſſum Sempironij, a towne in Italie called Forſenboſne. Alſo Fauentia.
 Foſſura, x, f. g. a diggyng.

Forum, us, m. g. nouryſhyng, keepynge warme and in naturall heate.
 Fórus, a, um, nouryſhed, cheeryſhed, kept warme.
 Fouea, x, f. g. a denne.
 Foueo, ui, ere, to nouryſhe, to ſuſteyne, to mainſteyne, to kepe warme, to cheriſhe, to weate or waſhe a thyng, to ordeine or ſet, to defende.
 Fouere aliquem, to kepe one his friends, or to ſauour or make muche of one.
 Fouere in pectore, to thynke priuily.
 Fouere oua, to kepe warme egges, as ſoales dooe ſpytyn on broode.
 Fouere amorem, to nouryſhe and mainteine loue.
 Caltra fouere, id eſt meri.
 Fouebam dolores meos, I byd nouryſhe and mainteine my ſorrowe and heauyneſſe.
 Fouete iudicium, quod de vobis habet, mainſteim and increaſe the good opinion that he hath of you.
 Fouere aliquam, to embrace a woman.
 Fouere vulnus aqua, to waſh a wounde with water, to ſtint the bledynge.
 Fouere os multa aqua frigida, to waſhe the mouth with muche colde water.

Forum, us, m. g. nouryſhyng, keepynge warme and in naturall heate.
 Fórus, a, um, nouryſhed, cheeryſhed, kept warme.
 Fouea, x, f. g. a denne.
 Foueo, ui, ere, to nouryſhe, to ſuſteyne, to mainſteyne, to kepe warme, to cheriſhe, to weate or waſhe a thyng, to ordeine or ſet, to defende.
 Fouere aliquem, to kepe one his friends, or to ſauour or make muche of one.
 Fouere in pectore, to thynke priuily.
 Fouere oua, to kepe warme egges, as ſoales dooe ſpytyn on broode.
 Fouere amorem, to nouryſhe and mainteine loue.
 Caltra fouere, id eſt meri.
 Fouebam dolores meos, I byd nouryſhe and mainteine my ſorrowe and heauyneſſe.
 Fouete iudicium, quod de vobis habet, mainſteim and increaſe the good opinion that he hath of you.
 Fouere aliquam, to embrace a woman.
 Fouere vulnus aqua, to waſh a wounde with water, to ſtint the bledynge.
 Fouere os multa aqua frigida, to waſhe the mouth with muche colde water.

Fraceo, cui, ere, to putrifie for age.
 Fraceſco, ſcere, idem.
 Fraces, lies of ople.
 Frácidus, a, um, moze than ripe, rotten as fruite is.
 Fractúra, x, f. g. a breakynge or bruſtyng.
 Fractus, a, um, broken, diſcouraged.
 Fracto animo & dimiſſo eſt, his courage faileth hym, his herte ſeynteth, he ſtoupeth.
 Fractæ res, riches or goodes ſpente or loſte.
 Fracti bello, were af warres.
 Fracta pronuntiatio, an eſſeminate, womanly and nyce pronuntiacion.
 Fránatus, a, um, that is bypdeled or reſtreyned of his wyll.
 Fránigerus, a, um, that ruleth the byddle.
 Ala fránigera, the wynges of hoyſe men.
 Fráno, aui, are, to byddle, to reſtreigne, to ſtop.
 Voluptates fránare, to maſter the wanton appetites or pleaſures.
 Fránare populum, to kepe vnder a ſtuburne an frowarde people.
 Iram fránare, to byddle, rule or moderate anger.
 Fránium, ni, n. g. a byddle, or the bit of a byddle.
 Fránium, morbus eſt cum glans penis ita conſecta eſt, vt nudari non poſſit.
 Frános adhibere, to reſtreigne.
 Frénos inſicere alicui, to ſet one of his pleaſures, to byddle hym that woulde not be ruled.
 Fránium mordere, to take the bit in the teeth.
 Fránium, id eſt teſte naught by.
 Accipere fránium, by a metaphoze to ſubmit, and become ſubſtete.

Compescere animum franis, To bydle the mynde.
 Da frænum, let hym haue the bydle at will, geue hym the head, leat hym doe as he list.
 Ducere frænum, contrary.
 Eget franis, he hath nede to be restrained.
 Fraga, drum, neu. gen. plur. drawe berries, the herbe is called Fragaria.
 Frages, gere, & Fragesco, scere, to braste.
 Fragilis, le, fragile, buckle, soone broken.
 Fragile & caducum.
 Fragile dentibus, That may easily be broke with the teeth.
 Fragilitas, atis, form. ge. frailtee, byoukleness, inconstancie.
 Fragiliter, weakely, inconstantly, byoukly.
 Fragitides, the two great veynes, which doe appere on either syde of the necke.
 Fragmen, inis, & Fragmentum, ti, n. g. a piece of gobbet of a thyng broken, a fragment.
 Frago, oris, m. g. the noise that is made at the falling of byulpyng of any great thyng.
 Fragofus, a, um, uncase to clime, rough, sharpe.
 Fragosa oratio, & Lenis oratio, contrary.
 Fragens, anus, om. gen. haupng great of soote sauoure.
 Fragrantia, æ, f. g. a great sauour.
 Frago, aui, are, to geue a pleasaunt sauour.
 Franea, æ, f. g. a speare of iaulcyn.
 Francones, people of Germanie.
 Frango, cgi, ere, to breake, to discourage, to vauquish, to maister, to tame and kepe vnder.
 Frangere animum, to discourage.
 Audaciam hostis frangere, to abate his cnesmes courage.
 Frangere auctoritatem veteris disciplinæ, to breake of destroye the olde rule of laudable custome.
 Fidem frangere, To bysake promyse of appointment.
 Frangere hominem, To cause one to relente from his purpose, to make hym to agre to his requeste.
 Opes inimicorum frangere, to impoueryshe his ennemis.
 Sententiam alicuius frangere, to confute ones opinion and make it of no value.
 Frangi, not to abyde patiently aduersitee for rowe of trouble.
 Frangi dolore, to be in extreme sorowe, or almost deade for sorowe of grieve.
 Frangi metu, to be almost deade for feare.
 Frangi pudore, to be exceedingly ashamed, to be out of countenance.
 Frangere in micas, to breake small, to crume.
 Fregit naem, he had a thypwache.
 Cupiditates frangere, to maister ones wanton appetites.
 Frangere & domare nationes, to vauquish and kepe vnder nations.
 Patientia aliquem frangere, To overcome

one with patience.
 Frangere molis, to grynde.
 Frangere confilia alicuius, to stop ones pyses, to let that one goeth about.
 Frangofus, a deceptuour.
 Frater, tris, m. g. a brother.
 Frater patruelis, a brothers sonne, a cosyn germane.
 Fratres gemini, two twynnes.
 Fratrui mei gnatus, my nephewe.
 Fraterculus, li, m. g. a little of yong brother.
 Fraternus, brotherly.
 Fraternitas, atis, brotherhede.
 Fraternus, a, um, of a brother.
 Fratilli, the frange of tapestrie that hangeth next the grounde.
 Fratro, aui, are, properly is said of children bestes, whan they do grow and ware imberth.
 Fratres Aruales, rede befoze in Aruales.
 Fratria, æ, f. g. a brothers wyfe.
 Fratricida, æ, form. gener. he that hath slayne his brother.
 Fratrucles, brothers chyldren, cosyn germane.
 Fraudatio, onis, f. g. a deceyving of beggylng.
 Fraudator, oris, m. g. a deceptuour.
 Fraudatus, a, um, deceyved of beggled.
 Fraudus, aui, are, to deceyue pryntly by sayngs awate that is due, to disapoynte.
 Fraudare aliquem suo testimonio, where one holdeth his peace, whan his frende is spoken of, and wyl not saie well of hym.
 Fraudare genium, not to satisfie the necessities of nature of carnall appetite.
 Fraudare se victu suo, to farse hardely for his gardedthp, to withdraue part of his owne byupng and sustinaunce.
 Fraudare stipendium, To retayne of kepe a wate wages from men.
 Fraudare, & Fallere.
 Vadimonium alicui deferere, & cum fraudare, To disapoynte one and not to appeare at the date appoynted.
 Fraudare creditores, To deceyue his credits, not to paie his debtes.
 Aliquem pecunia fraudare, to geat ones moneye from hym by some wyle of cautele.
 Fraudulenter, Deceytfully.
 Fraudulentus, a, um, full of deceipte.
 Fraus, fraudis, form. gener. decepte, fraude, a snare of trappe to beggely one, displeasure, inconvenience, hurte, damage. Also peryll daungier.
 Fraus & integritas, contrary.
 Agere aliquem in fraudem, to byngg one in to perill and daungier.
 Astruere, cogitare, nectere fraudem, to go about to deceyue.
 Facere fraudem legi, with some interpretacion of meane to delube the lawe.
 Quod sine fraude mea populi mei fiat, sayng myn own right, & the right of my people.
 Fret

Fert illi fraudem hæc res, this thyng brought hym in daungier.
 In eandem fraudem ex hac re atq; ex illa incidit, Thou shalt fall into the same trappe bothe by this meanes and by the other.
 Illicis in fraudem, Thou byngest theym to displeasure and inconuenience: Thou dost enstie of allure theym to that thyng, wherby they shall haue hurte, & thou tollest them into the snare, or into daungier.
 Modo ne cares mihi sit fraudi, So that that thyng put me to no displeasure, hurt or inconvenience.
 Sine fraude esse, To bee out of peryll of daungier.
 Fraus capitalis, a deadly offence.
 Fraus, was used of olde wyters for Perna.
 Frausum, was used of olde wyters for Fraudum.
 Fraxineus, of Fraxinus, a, um, of ashe, of ashen.
 Fraxinus, i, f. ge. an ashe.
 Fraxo, aui, are, to go about the watche.
 Fregille, a, f. ge. a brittle towne in Italy, sometye a noble citee.
 Fremebundus, a, um, that maketh an horrible and great noise.
 Fremitus, us, mas. gene. a roynge, properly of waters. Sometye a murmuring, rumble, or noise of people assembled together.
 Fremo, mui, ere, to roze or make a noise lyke great waters, or lyke a lpon, to murmure and be werye angrie or greatly mouded.
 Legiones fremebatse fraudari stipendio, the souldiers shewed theim selves greatly discontented, that they were dectued of their wages.
 Hac fremit plebs, the people murmureth and grudgeth greatly at these thynges.
 Frendens, dentis, om. gene. gnathng with the teeth.
 Frendeo, dui, dère, to grynde the teethe together for anger of pepne. Also to grunte or grone for pepne, to breake or byrse.
 Frendo, dui, frendere, idem.
 Frentani, people of Italy.
 Frenum, lobe Fracum.
 Frequens, entis, om. gener. accustomed, muche haunted. Also assembled together, abounds daunt.
 Omnibus relictis mihi frequentem operam dedisti, Leauynge all other men, ye haue often holpen me.
 Frequens auditorium, a great audience.
 Frequens cest, he cometh often.
 Frequens est cum eo, he is often tymes with hym.
 Frequentes fuimus ad ducentos, we were a great numbre about ii. hundred.
 Frequens senatus, all the senate gathered together.

Venio in senatum frequens, I come ordinarly into the senate.
 Frequens populus, muche people continually resortyng.
 Frequens vrbs, a citce full of people, a citce of great reforte, a citce of muche haunt.
 Frequens forum, the hygh strete full of people.
 Aderat ibi frequens, he was muche there a comer and goer.
 Auditor frequens, a scholar that resorteth oft ten to ones lecture.
 Frequens numerus, a great numbre.
 Via frequens & tuta, a wate muche haunted and without daungier.
 Frequens secretis, muche of ones pryue counsaile.
 Frequentes obuiam prodeunt, they goe forth in great numbre to mete with hym.
 Frequentamentum, ti, neu. gen. in myspe, it is warbylpyng.
 Frequentarius, a, um, of olde wyters used for Frequens.
 Frequentatio, onis, f. ge. an hauntyng, an assemble. also a figure of rethorike.
 Frequentia, æ, f. ge. a great haunte of company of folke.
 Domum reducebant cum maxima frequentia, with a great companie.
 Circumfusus frequentia hominum, haupng a great multitude of people about hym.
 Frequentissima ades, an house muche haunted with people.
 Frequento, aui, are, to haunt, to go together, to go muche to a place. also to make to be haunted, or muche used. Sometye for Geminare, to repete agayne.
 Frequentare aliquem, to resort much to one, to visite hym often.
 Frequentatur domus, the house is muche resorted to.
 Solitudinem alicuius loci frequentare, to make a place inhabited, whiche was before deserte.
 Frequentare templum decet, it is mete that the people shulde resort muche vnto the churche.
 Frequentare populum, to assemble the people in great numbre.
 Fressus, a, um, broken or byrised.
 Fressa faba, a beane byrised or broken.
 Fretum, ti, neu. ge. a narrowe sea betweene two landes, as Freum Herculeum, whiche is in the sea betweene Spayne and the countrey of Moores, called the straighes of Marroch.
 Fretus, was used of olde wyters in the masculin gender.
 Fretus, a, um, of Fruor, trustyng, haupng confidence in a thyng.
 De qua tamen magnam spem habemus, freti clementia collega tui, wherof not withstanding we haue god hope, trustyng on the mercy of your companion.
 Quo fretus hoc audebat? upon whose supporte perfection durste he be so bolde to doo this?

 Friabilis, le, soone broken in smalle pieces, that maie be crummed.
 Fribolus, almost woorth an halfe peny.
 Frico, fricui, and fricaui, frictum, and Fricastum, are, to rubbe.
 Frictilla, æ, fœm. gen. a friter made of flowre and batter.
 Frictus, us, m. g. Fricatio, & Frictio, ònis, f. g.
 rubbing, frication,
 Frictus, and Frixus, a, um, fœp. d.
 Frigedo, gedinis, idem quod Frigus.
 Frigefacto, gefacis, feci, ere, to coole.
 Frigefacto, aui, are, to make colde often.
 Frigefo, fieri, to bee cooled.
 Frigeo, gui, and frixi, ère, to be colde or slowe, to bee fapite or out of courage, to bee almoste blanke.
 Nimis hi homines frigenti, In faith these slowes are blanke: Or the courage of these men is gone or well abated.
 Vbi friget sermo, whan our communication ward colde: or whan there lacketh matter to talke of.
 Friget venus, lust of the bodie is colde.
 Frigero, aui, are, to coole.
 Frigefco, scere, to waxe colde.
 Frigidarius, a, um, where colde water is kept.
 Frigidaria cella, a colde barthe.
 Frigide, coldely, vnaptly, vnpleasauntly, without any grace.
 Frigiditas, àtis, f. g. coldenesse.
 Frigidulus, a, um, somewhat colde.
 Frigidus, a, um, colde, dangerous, or noyfull.
 also nothyng hotte in a matter, fapnt, slowe,
 without grace or pleasantnesse.
 Frigidum opidulum, a towne of small roste.
 Argumentum frigidum, a slender argument without force or pith.
 Frigida negotia, trifelynge matters of no
 weyght or importance.
 Frigida solatia, slender comfortes.
 Frigidum, foolyshe, that hath no grace, cui
 Facetum & plausibile opponitur.
 Frigida, used substantiue for colde water.
 Frigidam suffundere, prouerbiaily, signifieth to encourage or stee to a thing, with flatterynge and fapre wordes.
 Frigilla, æ, fœm. gen. a byrde that syngeth in the colde wether, that whiche is called a chaffinch, or a spynke.
 Fringillago, ginis, fœ. g. a little byrde called the lesse turtous.
 Frigo, xi, & frigui, frixum, and Frictum, ere,
 to fpe, to parche.
 Frigorificus, a, um, that maketh colde.
 Frigor, oris, neu. gene. colde. Sometyme feare.
 Sometyme deathe.
 Frigufculum, looke Friuculum.
 Friguro, frigatis, tui, ire, to quake for colde.
 Fringilla, idem quod Frigilla.

Frigillarius, a kynde of haukes, most lyke to be our hobbie.
 Friso, aui, are, to breake small, especially betwixt the fingers.
 Frisi, people by Hollande, wherof the country is called Friselande.
 Frit, the grapne in the toppe of the eare, whiche is lasse than a cozne.
 Fritilla, læ, f. g. a froyse or pancake.
 Fritillus, li, m. ge. a bore, out of the whiche dyes were cast on the tables.
 Friuculum, li, n. g. diffencion betwene men and theyr wyues, whiche cometh not to separation, this word is in Altpian, where some woude
 haue it redde frigusculum, some fribusculum.
 Friuola, òrum, neu. gen. plu. vrenfiles, of lye tell value.
 Friuolarius, i, m. ge. he that selleth stuf of lye tell value, a pedlar.
 Friuolus, a, um, bayne, lyghte, of no estimation or value, that wyl quickly banishe or perpe.
 Frixorium, òris, n. g. a fring panne.
 Frondarius, a, um, of leaues.
 Frondario, ònis, fœ. ge. a fpyng of leaues or bowes, lopping of trees, also byslyng.
 Frondator, òris, mas. gen. a byouler, a woodde lopper.
 Frondico, frondui, ère, & Frondesco, scere, to beare or byng footy leaues.
 Frondicus, a, um, that is of leaues.
 Frondifer, a, um, bearyng leaues.
 Frondo, dau, are, to cutte of leaues, or small bowes.
 Frondosus, a, um, full of leaues.
 Frons, frontis, fœm. gener. the forehead, the fronte or fozepart, the entrance or begynnyng of a thyng, shamefastnesse Also countenance.
 also it signifieth the fozepart of an hode. also seueritee, grauitie.
 Fronte obducta, corrugata, caperata, contracta, nubila, with an heauie, sadde, frowning, slowe or displeaunt countenance.
 Frons causæ, the begynnyng of the matter.
 Prima fronte, at the fpyte, at the entree, at the pyme face.
 Porrecta, serena, explicata fronte, with a mery countenance.
 Frontem explicare, and exporrigere, to labe
 meryly, to be mery and iocunde.
 Frontem contrahere, and Obducere, to labe sowely, to bee heauye and sadde, to labe displeasauntly.
 Frontem ferire, As spoken, where a man signifieth, that one dysdreyne an other as tremely.
 Peritilli frons, he hath lost his countenance,
 he is past shame.
 Frons virbana, confidence, boldenesse, vnmefastnesse in requeryng a thyng.
 A fronte præcipitum, a tergo lupi, 3 prouerbe, signifying a man to be in the mpy-des des between two great daunglers or myse-chices.

 A fronte & a tergo videre, 3 prouerbe, notynge a prouidence and wylsome, in considering and weyng as well thynges passe as to come.
 Sed virum fronte an mente dubitatur, But it is doubtfull or vncertaine, whether he dooe it with his herte and mynde, or with the countenance only, shewyng a fapre face.
 Frontem perfica, caste awaye all shame.
 Frontem remittere, to abate of ones seueritee, and to become more pleasant and gentill.
 Frons libri, the edge of a booke that is peinsted and coloured.
 Frons, frondis, fœ. g. the leafe of a tree with the haunthes.
 Agere frondem, to bourgein.
 Frontale, lis, n. g. the headstall of a byrdell.
 Frontatus, a, um, that is lyke a fozthead.
 Frontati lapides, stones that go thoroughe, and appere on bothe sydes of a wall, and are the chief strength of the wall. The Grekes call them Diatori, and Diatori: the Frenche men
 call them Perceins.
 Fronto, a learned man, instructoure of M. Ans-tonius.
 Fronto, ònis, m. g. that hath a brode fozthead.
 Frontosus, a, um, that hath a great fozthead, or that is not abashed.
 Fructifer, a, um, bearyng fruite.
 Fructarius, rij, mascu. gene. he that taketh the fruite or profyte of a thyng, called of our lawyers, Percout of profites.
 Fructuarius, a, um, that whiche beareth fruite, or dorth pertyne to fruite.
 Flagellum viuis fructuarii, That beareth fruite.
 Scrofa fructuaria, a sow hepte for byrde and entrase.
 Fructuosus, a, um, fruitefull, profitable.
 Fructuosissimus locus, a verie fertile and fruitefull soyle.
 Fructuositas beneficia.
 Fructus, us, tuis, & ti, fruite, vse, commoditee.
 also all profitte, or reuenues that come of the ground, or any other thyng. Sometyme meate, also the vse or pleasure of a thyng.
 Fructum capere ex aliquo, to haue profite or commoditee of a thyng.
 Alere suis fructibus exercitum, to mainteine an armie with his reuenues.
 Frugalis, le, in the positue degree, no good last-inge woorde. But in the fcede thereof the latine authours vse Frugi.
 Frugalior, Frugalissimus, more temperate,
 more temperate.
 Dedo patri me nunc ut frugalior sim quam vult, 3 puite my selfe into my fathers handes, to be more honest man and of better rule than he woude haue me,

Nequissimus & frugalissimus, contrary.
 Parcissimus & frugalissimus, a verie thyrsty felow, of great moderation and temperatnesse in luyng.
 Frugalitas, àtis, fœ. g. moderation of luyng, especially in apparayle & diete, sobre rule, thyrsty tines, frugalitee, good and honest behauiour, also sufficiencie.
 Frugaliter, tẽperately, sobrely, profitably, without reproche, excelle, or spot.
 Parce & frugaliter viuere, to leade a tẽperate or moderate lyfe, without excelle, or spotte, to liue sparingly and thyrstily.
 Fruges, or Frux, frugis, fœm. g. encrease of all those thynges, which the earthe byngeth forth, moste properly of cozne and grayne. Sometyme it signifieth rente or reuenues.
 Recipere se ad frugem bonam, of a naughtye and lyghte felow, to become thyrstye, and waxe an honest man.
 Corrigrere ad frugem, to chastise to the intent to make hym an honest man.
 Euadere ad bonam frugem, To proue in the ende a right honest man.
 Frugi, of all genders and vndeclined, temperate and meaurable in byet, or maner of luyng of ones bodie, and sometyme in apparayle and other thynges, of a good rule or moderation, moderate, profitable, necessarie, thyrstie, sobre,
 good, honeste, contrarye to Nequam.
 Frugi ædificium, an house not sumptuous.
 Frugi homo, a good man, a thyrstye man, en-dued with manhod and vertue, an honest man, temperate in expences.
 Frugi seruus, a trusty seruant, whiche looketh well to his maysters profite.
 Permodestus ac bonæ frugi homo, a verie modeste persone, and of a ryghte honeste behauiour.
 Frugies, thou arte a profitable and necessary felowe.
 Frugi corna, a moderate & temperate supper.
 Frugi victus, an honest moderate and temperate diete. Cui luxuriosus opponitur.
 Frugis, is used of Plautus in the genitiue case.
 Frugi filius opponitur luxurioso.
 Frugifer, a, um, fruitefull, that beareth fruite or cozne.
 Frugilegus, a, um, that gathereth together fruite
 or cozne.
 Fruscor, fci, to vse at libertee.
 Frumen, fruminis, n. g. the vppermoste parte of the throte, the gargyll.
 Frumentaceus, a, um, of cozne.
 Frumentarius, a, um, pertynyng to cozne.
 Res frumentaria, prouision of grayne.
 Locus frumentarius, a soyle or place where muche cozne groweth.
 Re frumentaria laborare, To labe fozrage or cozne.

Solam frumentarium, a soyle of ground apt to beate corne.
Frumentarius, rij, m. g. a forager, one that maketh prouision for corne to sell agayn to other.
Frumentarius negotiator, idem.
Frumentatio, ónis, f. ge. a takinge in of corne, haruest, forageyng, also a distribution of corne and grayne among ciueis.
Frumentator, óris, m. ge. a pouruer of corne, a forager.
Frumentor, áris, ari, to gather of puruey corne.
Frumentum, ti, n. g. all corne of pulse. it is most vsed for wheate of rye.
Frufisor, vsed of olde wryters for fruor.
Frutitus, wise in vsyng of a thyng.
Fruor, frúeris, frúus sum, fruit, to cate, to bee fedde of nouryshed, to haue the vse of profite of a thyng, to vse with delectation and profite.
Fruí ingenio suo, to dooe as he wyll, to dooe after his owne fantasy and pleasure.
Fruí otio, to bee at leysure without busynes.
Recordatione nostræ amicitie fruor, I take great pleasure in the remembrance of oure amitie and frendshipp.
Fruí sermone alicuius, to take pleasure of profite by hearyng a mans talke.
Fruí agrum, to take the profite of a piece of lande.
Aeternitate fruuntur animæ, soules lyue eternally, of soules haue fruition of euerlastyng lyfe.
Frusino, a citee of Lampayne.
Frusinum, a citee of Lampayne called Frusinona.
Frustatim, in pieces of gobbettes.
Frustillatim, piece meale.
Frustra, in vayne, without any effect or purpose.
Frustra es, Thou arte deceyued or abused.
Frustra esse, to come to none effect, to profite nothing, to doo no good.
Frustra habere aliquem, to abuse or deceyue one. Ne frustra sis, That thou bee not disappointed.
Frustra legati discessere, the embassadours departed without hauyng theyr purpose.
Frustra gaudis sum miser, I was glad for nothing, unhappy body that I am.
Frustra est homo, It is not as the man thyng keth, or he is deceyued.
Ea res frustra fuit, that thyng deceyued theyr expectation, or it came not to passe as they looked for.
Frustratio, ónis, form. gene. abusyng or deceyuyng of one.
Frustror, aui, are, & Frustror, aris, ari, a verbe common after Plinian, after other a deponent, to deceyue. Also to dooe a thyng in vayne, or vayne to employe.
Frustrari expectationem alicuius, To disappoint one of that whiche he looked for.
Frustrari expensas, To lose his costes and charges.

Imprudenter facta opera frustrantur expensas, warkes made vnaduisably make one to lose all that he hath bestowed.
Frustrari laborem, to lose his payne.
Frustrari ab aliquo, to be deceyued of one, to be defeated of his purpose.
Frustratus, a, um, that hath deceyued or begyled.
Hæc spes me fæpe frustrata est, this hope hath begyled me more than ones or twyse.
Satis adhuc tua frustrata est fides, I yetthero the trust that I haue had in the, hath miche well deceyued me.
Frustulentus, a, um, full of small pieces of gobbettes.
Frustulum, and Frustillum, li, n. g. a little gobbet.
Frustum, i, n. g. a piece of gobbet.
Frustum hominis, a litle pyete below, that is mery to be but a peere of a man.
Frustra meribunt, They drink wyne, frolic in to peeces of pye.
Frusus, a hynde of byambles, whose pyches be not hooked.
Fruetuosus, a, um, hauyng abundance of such great herbes, full of shubbes.
Fruetum, ti, seu Fruicetum, i, neu. ge. a place where groweth herbes with great stalkes of stemmes, or where shubbes growe.
Frutex, frútis, mascul. gene. a shubbe, that whiche hath a great stalk, and yet it is no tree, as fenell, callis, certayne malowes, and other lyke herbes. Sometime it is taken for the tree or stalk.
Frutex, is also a certayne tree growyng in Idyppia.
Fruticatio, ónis, f. gen. the byngyng of footes of shotes or yong spynges.
Frutico, aui, are, & Fruticor, aris, ari, to spyng in stalkes, to byng footes spynges, shotes, or shubbes.
Fruticare pluribus culmis, to spyng & byng forth many stalkes and shotes.
Fruticósus, a, um, that byngyth footes many shotes, stalkes, or stemmes.
Frutinal, a temple of Venus.
Frux, frugis, form. gen. vsed of olde wryters for corne of pulse.

Fat, for fit.
Fucatus, a, um, coloured or peincted as fow women be.
Fucatus pitor, counterfait brightnes of clere nesse. Fucata and syncera & vera, contrarie.
Fucilis, le, false coloured.
Fucinus, a lake in Italy.
Fucósus, a, um, coloured, counterfaiet.
Fuco, aui, are, to laye on a colour, to counterfaiet.
Fucus, ci, mascul. gener. a doxer or bee without spyng, which entresth into hives, and eateth up the

the honey. Fucus is also a sea herbe; lyke Acas use, good to die clothe with. also peinctyng, all false or counterfait colour. it is also vsed for decept of false hooode, or any maner colourable decepte.
Fucus gloriæ, the gloffe of renoume.
Facere fucum, to deceyue or begyle.
Sine fucis, without fraude, sincerely, plainly.
Atregit taketh fucus sometime for ware.
Fucus marinus, an herbe called also Alga marina, wherewith clothe is died.
Fufidius, the name of an oratour.
Fuga, gæ, f. g. flight, eschewyng of a thyng. sometime exile, banishment. also a swifte rase of course, swiftenesse.
Fuga honoris, a meane to eschewe an office or promotion.
Nulla fuga malefactoris meis, my naughtynesse can by no meanes escape unpunished.
Discurrere in fugam, and In fugam vertere, to discomfite, to put to flight.
Dare, consicere, conuertere, conferre se in fugam, to fle or renne awaie.
Labors fuga desidiam coarguit: eschewyng of labour is a token of slothfulness.
Fugalia, órum, a feast amonge the Romans in remembrance of druyng out of the kynges, and expelling of Tarquinus, sollemnised in the moneth of februarye.
Fugas, gæcis, om. g. that fleeth lightly. also it signifieth swifte.
Fugacia poma, appulles that will not longe continue, that wyl soone be rotten.
Fugacia, thynges that wyl perishe and vanysh awaie quickly.
Anni fugaces, which passe quickly.
Fugax contra insequentes ciocodilus, it fleeth from theym that pursue it.
Fugiens, entis, om. g. flyng or rennyng away.
Fugiens laboris, abhorryng labour or payne.
Fugiens vinum, wyne that hath lost his vertue: or wyne that will not be long kept.
Fugientes literæ, blinde letter.
Fugio, gi, gere, to fle, to ren awaie, to escape, to forget, to eschewe, to be unknowen.
Fugitaciem tenuitas, it is so smalle that one can not see it.
Fugiteratio, thou understādest not the matter.
De Casare fugerat me ad te scribere, of Cesar I had forgotten to wryte vnto you.
Nisi quæ me forte fugiunt, Except perchance I haue forgotten somewhat: or excepte there be some thynges that I know not.
Oculis aliquem fugere, to be lothe to see ene, or looke vpon him.
Non te fugit, ye be not ignoraunte, ye knowe well enough.
Si paululum quid te fugerit, If ye chaunce to forget any thyng: or ye be ouersene in any point, be it neuer so littell.
Ex manibus fugere, to escape ones handes.

Infamiam fugere, to eschewe infamy or shamed.
Fugere, is spoken either of hyppes sayyng of bydes slepyng awaie.
Fugin hinc: art thou gone in all the hastie? or wilt thou not geat the awaie quickly.
Fugitiuius, rij, m. g. one that seeketh seruantes that bee runne away, to byng them agayn.
Fugitiuus, a, um, fugitiue, not abydyng, itarsyng awaie, flytynge, that gladly and quickly renneth awaie.
Fugitiuus seruus, he that renneth frome his master, wyllyng neuer to retourn: or goeth to a place, from whence he supposeth that his master can neuer recouer him.
Fugito, aui, are, to vse to ren awaie.
Fugitare patrem, and Fugitare e conspectu patris, to kepe ones selfe oute of his fathers sight: or that his father see him not.
Fugitare questionem, to eschewe examinaciis on by tourmentes.
Fugo, aui, a, e, to dreyue away, to put to flight.
Fulcimentum, ti, n. g. a boreault, or that, wherewith a thyng is sustented, a propp, a stowe.
Fulcio, cui, circ, to supparte, to fortifie, to stay or holde by.
Beneuolencia fulcire imperium, to establishe and make stronge a kyngdome with beneuolence and gentleness.
Eius ope fulius, hauyng his good helpe and suppartation.
Fulco, a duke of angew, the fyfthe kyng of the rusaleim.
Fulcrum, cri, n. g. a beardsede.
Fulgeo, si, gere, and Fulgo, gi, gere, to shyne. sometime for Fulgurare, to make to lyghten. olde wryters vsed it for Ferire.
Auro et purpura fulgere, to be gorgeously apparelled in purple and golde.
Fulgetrum, tri, n. g. and sometime Fulgetra, træ, f. g. a belement and great lyghtnyng, a frame of lyghtnyng.
Fulgidus, a, am, byghth.
Fulgor, óris, m. g. byghtnes, shynynge. sometime lyghning, sometime great noblenesse and glozy.
Fulgur, guris, n. g. lyghtnyng.
Fulgurâlis, le, pei teyng to lyghtnyng.
Fulgurates, a people of Italy.
Fulguratio, ónis, f. g. the lyghtnyng whan it is in the clowdes.
Fulgurâtor, óris, m. g. the sender of lyghtnyng, or he that diuyneth by lyghtnyng.
Fulgurio, riui, rirc, to cast lyghtnyng.
Fulgurias, áris, f. g. lyghtnesse or byghthenesse, glysternyng.
Fulguritasunt, they are blasted or streken with lyghtnyng.
Fulguritus, striken or blasted with lyghtnyng.
Fulguro, aui, are, to sende forth lyghtnyng.
Auro fulgurat domus, The house shyneth or glystereyth all of golde.
Fulica, ex, f. g. a sea byrde, more than a culuer. a white a white semewc, with a blacke coppe. there bee diuers opinions, and diuersly this name is taken. after Gaza, it is Cepphus, of some called Larus.

Fuligo, ginis, f. g. the soote of a chimney.

Fulix, liciis, idem quod fulica.

Fullo, onis, m. g. a fullar of clothe.

Fullonica, ce, f. g. fullars crafte, of a fullars shop Fullonius, and Fullonicus, a, um, of of petteynge to a fullar.

Fullonicum, ci, n. g. idem quod Fullonica.

Fulmen, minis, n. g. lyghtning.

Ictu fulminis desagrare, to be bouened with lyghtning.

Afflare fulmine, to blast with lyghtning.

Fulmina verborum, great vehemency of wordes. Fulmina fortunæ, great mischaunces of fortune.

Fulmineus, a, um, of of belongyng to lyghtning.

Fulmino, auis, are, to lyghten, to stryke with lyghtninge.

Fulura, æ, f. g. a shoye of ppyppe, a thyng that staeth by.

Fulminates, people of Illiria.

Fuluiana, a certayne herbe.

Fuluiafter, he that imitateth the maniers of Fuluius.

Fuluis, the name of a Romaine.

Fuluus, a, um, a colour mixte of greene and red, a darke pealow. sometyme greene.

Fumaria herba, an herbe called fumitorie.

Fumarium, rij, n. g. a smoky place, where wyne was layed, to the intent that it myght the sooner wake olde. also the shanke, shafte, or tonell of a chimney.

Fumeus, a, um, smoky of of smoke.

Fumidus, a, um, smoky, that smoketh.

Fumifer, ra, rum, that bypnyeth smoke.

Fumifico, auis, are, to make smoke, to incense, to perfume.

Fumicus, a, um, makynge smoke.

Fumigo, auis, are, to perfume.

Fumo, auis, are, to smoke.

Fumosus, a, um, smoky, blacke with smoke.

Fumosa imagines, olde smoky ymages, beynge the monuments of ones auncestours.

Fumus, mi, m. g. smoke.

Fumos vendere, is the practise of them, which beynge wyghe about a prince, or in his fauour, dooe beare men in hande, that they speake for them to the prynce, whan they speake neuer a worde, & cause men to lye therby in foolles paradise.

Funale, lis, n. g. a forche. sometyme it is bled for a corde of halter.

Funalis, le, petteynge to cordes.

Funales equi, horses, whiche coupled with an halter, did go before the chariot in a triumphe.

Funalis cereus, a forche of waxe.

Funambulus, li, m. g. he that walketh on a rope.

Functio, onis, fce. g. the exercise of a weightye matte of office, an office of charge that a man hath to dooe, as in teachynge, in gouernynge a company.

Functus, a, um, dooyng of executynge.

Functimilitia, they that be past warfare.

Funda, æ, f. g. a synge. also a castynge net, a shellyl of purple lyke a nette, also a circle of golde or other metall, wherein stones be sette.

Fundamen, minis, and fundamentum, ti, n. g. a foundation, the fyrst beginning of grounde of a thyng.

Fundamenta camentitia, foundations made with stones and rubbysh.

Iniria & fundamenta.

A fundamento, euen from the grounde and fyrst beginninge.

Fundamenta iacere, and opera perficere, contrary.

Fundamenta reipublicæ iacere, to begyn to establishe and set in good order the common weale.

Causæ fundamenta iacere, to laie the grounde of a matiere.

Fundatus, a, um, founded, stablished.

Fundatilibus ciuitas, a citee stablished with good lawes and ordinaunces.

Fundatissima familia, a berate aunient and substantiall familie.

Fundibularius, rij, m. g. a synge of stones.

Funditare rem, to spende gooddes in vaine.

Funditor, oris, m. g. idem.

Fundito, auis, are, to poure out often, to speake muche and in vayne, to spende riotously and prodigally.

Funditus, aduerb. from the foundation, utterly.

Funditus me perdidisti, Thou haste utterly vndoone me.

Funditus perij, I am utterly vndoone.

Funditus euerfa ciuitas, a citee utterly destroyed and cast downe euen by the grounde.

Fundo, auis, are, to founde, to make stable, to lay the foundation of a thyng.

Fundare nauein, to make of builde a shippe.

Fundo, fudi, fundere, to pette of caste metalle, to poure out, to shede, to throwe downe, to spreade or scatter, to discomfit or banquish, to geue abundantly, to speke much, to lay downe.

Fundere exercitum, & fundere copias, to discomfite an hoste, to slea all the armie.

Fundere lachrymas, to weepe exceedingly.

Fundere verba, to speake more than needeth, to speake in vayne.

Fundere versus, to make verses sodainly.

Fundere vrinam, to pisse muche.

Fundere preces, to praye.

Fundere ex ære imaginem, to caste an ymage of brasse.

Fundere flores, to pette of byng forth flowers abundantly.

Fundere frugem, to putte oute fruite aboutly.

Fundere

Fundere corpora humi, to caste downe bodies on the grounde.

Fundere mendacia, to tell lies plentifully.

Fundere orationem incondite, to speake confusedly without pauynge, as muche as one can utter at a breath.

Funditur in Rhenum fluuius, the ryuer hath his course into the Rhyne.

Lausime fundi, to be spredde farre abroad.

Fundum, di, neu. ge. the bottome of any thyng that coneyneth licour.

Fundus, di, mascu. gene. that whiche is vled to be called lande of soyle, a plette of grounde with an house buylded on it. sometyme it is taken for a foundation. also for the chiefe authout of a thyng.

Funebris, bre, of of petteynge to funeralles or mourning for the dead.

Funebria iusta, the ceremonies dooen at the buryng or interment of one.

Funebris bellum, a cruell and deadly warre, wherein is muche slaughter.

Epulum funebre, a feast at a burfall.

Funeræ, arum, those women that are the mothers ners at a burfall, as the mothers and sisters.

Funeris, le, petteynge to funeralles.

Funereus, a, um, petteynge to the dead body, or to the funeral.

Funero, auis, are, to bury.

Funesto, auis, are, to vpolate a place with a dead body.

Functus, a, um, vpolated with dead bodies. also to mortall, bloudy: also petteynge to dead bodies or deathe, deadly, cruell.

Functa vox, a bloudy and cruell sentence.

Functa familia, a familie, wherof one of the house is dead.

Perniciosum & funestum.

Funetam, boomed or houped as some vines be.

Fungibiles res, at such thinges, which be nūdyed, wayed, or measured: as wine, oyle, coyne. &c.

Fungor, fangeris, functus sum, fungi, to ceterise an office.

Fungi officio suo, to doo his duettie of office.

Fungi fato, to be dead.

Fungi via, idem.

Funguice alicuius, or vicem alienam, to be in another mannes steede, to supply an other mannes roume.

Functus vita, he that hath synned his lyfe.

Iustitia fungatur officio, leat hym lue accoysdyng to the lawes of iustice.

Fungi munus, or officium alicuius, to doo an other mans office or charge.

Fungi munere, to geue a gyfte or present. also to ceterise an office.

Fortuna prospera fungi, to haue good fortune, to prosper.

Laboribus functus, he that hath taken paines and trauailes, and is now past them.

Functus honore, that hath ben in any office, or dignitee.

Primo loco fungi, to be the first.

Funginus, a, um, of a mousherom.

Fungositas, atis, f. g. the holownesse of a mousherom, or other lyke thyng.

Fungosus, a, um, lyke a mousherom.

Fungus, gi, ina. gen. a tadstoole, a mousherom, a snuffe of a candle. also a faute in trees as it were a kynde of blasting. also a bulle head, a bolte, a foole, an ideote, that hath no witte or vnderstandyng.

Funiculus, li, m. ge. a smalle rope, a littell corde.

Funis, nis, m. & f. g. a rope or corde.

Funipeus, idem quod funambulus.

Funus, funeris, neu. g. funeral crequies, or lossementes of buryng. sometyme it signifieth the dead corpe. sometyme deathe.

Funus facere, to cause one to dye, or to keepe a funeral.

Funus facere prandio alicuius, to eate by ones dyner.

Crudeli funere extinctus, cruell death.

Imitatum funus, vntimely death.

Soluere iusta paterno funeri, to kepe funeral obsequies at his fathers death or burfall.

Fuo, fui, fatum, to bee.

Fur, furis, com. gene. a theefe. Fur, is taken of Varro, for a doctre of great bee. of Cergile for a seruaut or slaue.

Fur furem cognoscit, one knaue knoweth an other, one theefe shaketh an other by the hand, lyke will to lyke.

Fur mihi es, thou stealest awaie my goodes.

Fur diurnus, he that robbeth in the daye tyme.

Fur nocturnus, contrary.

Furax, acis, om. g. theupsthe, a great pycker.

Furaces manus, theupsthe handes.

Furacitas, atis, f. g. thesthe.

Furaciter, theupsthe, lyke a thesthe.

Furca, ce, fce. g. a forche, or any thyng made lyke a forche, to bnderlet or ppypp by. Furca, was also a facion of galowes, made with two great forches, and a polle layde ouerthwarre.

Furcifer, ri, m. g. a seruaut, which for some light office was compelled to beare a forche on his necke, haupng both his handes bounden fast thereto, & to go through the tounne, confessyng his deffaute, & exhortyng other, that they shoulde not in lyke case offend, which was a great reproche.

It is vled for euery villayne hāgrope, or knaue.

Furcillis, lis, f. g. a doung forche.

Furcilla, le, fce. g. an hopy forche: also a galowes.

Furcula, le, f. g. a littell forche.

Furculus, li, m. g. a littell thesthe, a pycker.

Furfur, furis, m. ge. branne.

Furfures, furfurum, ma. g. plu. nu. white scurfes that falleth out of a mans head or face.

Furfureus, and furfuraceus, a, um, of branne.

Furia, æ, or furie, arum, fce. gene. the furies of helle, whiche were thre, Aleto, Tisphosne, Megera. sometyme the woome of pypne.

Full remorse of conscience, whiche horebly tourementeth the myndes of wycked persons.
Furfurōsus, a, um, full of byan or scurf, scurfy.
Furēter, lyke a mad bodie.
Furiālis, le, of or pertaining to the furies. Or that is proper of lyke to mad folkes.
Furiāter, madly, of lyke a mad body.
Furiātus, a, um, made furious of mad, rageinge.
Furibundus, a, um, woode of verie mad.
Furio, aui, are, to make madde of woode.
Furiōse, furpously, madly.
Furiōsus, a, um, madde of woode, frantpke, fu-riouse, ragepng.
Vesanus & furiōsus.
Furinus, a, um, belongpng to a thefe.
Furnaceus, a, um, baken in an oven.
Furnaria, x, f. g. bakers crafte, a woman baker.
nario a bake house.
Furnariam exercere, to vse of exercise a bakers crafte, or to sette out a bake house of oven to hye.
Furnalia, the sacrifices of the goddess Furina.
Furnarius, rij, m. g. a baker.
Furnianus, a, um, of Furnius.
Furniana vasa, certayne vesselles, whiche were invented by one Furnius.
Furnus, ni, m. g. an oven.
Furo, furis, fuere, to be woode for anger, to rage, to be mad of distraught.
Furere se simulavit, he made as though he were madde.
De aliquo furere, to be in a great rage of fury, for a thyng doone.
Furere aliquid, id est, ob aliquid.
Furor, ōris, m. g. madnesse. also furep, which is a vehement concitacion of steryng of the mynde.
Furor, ōris, ari, to steale, to attemp to a thyng
by pryue and secrete meanes.
Furtificus, a picker of pryue stealer.
Furtim, by stealthe, pryuly.
Furtiuus, a, um, that whiche is dooen by steth,
or verie pryuly, or that is stolen awaie.
Furtiuā litterā, and furtiuā scripta, letters, which no man can rede, but onely he, vnto whom they be sente, as letters in cipher.
Furtiuā excursionē, pryue rodes of thyemythes.
Furtiue, idem quod furtim, by steth, pryuly.
Furtum, ti, n. g. thefte. it is defined to be a deceyftull handpynge of vspng of any thyng, or the possession therof, to haue therby gayne or aduantage, whiche is by the lawe of nature prohibited to be suffered. it is sometyme any acte that is dooen pryuly, to the intent it shulde bee secrete, a crafty wyle to deceyue one. some-tyme auoutrie.
Furti teneri, aut obstringi, to be answerable to felonie.
Furtum facere, to steale.
Furunculus, li, m. g. a little thefe. also a beaste called a scote, that kylleth rabbits. it is also a toze called a scot, also a toze called a cat, beare, whiche breaketh out in the spngers wryth great weales, and muche peyne. sometyme a hood in a vine, lyke a warre.

Furūus, a, um, darke, blacke.
Furua hostia, sacrifices dooen to Plato and Proserpine.
Fuscina, x, f. g. a speare wryth many teeth, wher with fshers dooe take troutes or peles, by throwpge of it, a troute speare, an yele speare.
Fuscina, le, f. g. a fleshe hooke.
Fusco, aui, are, to make browne.
Fuscator, ōris, m. g. he that maketh blacke,
darke, or cloude.
Fuscus, a, um, browne of colour, not fully blacke,
lyke a moze, or one bourned in the soone.
Fusca vox, a lowe voyce, whan one speaketh in the throte, as he were halfe hoarse.
Fusc, in length, longe, abundantly, plentifully.
Fusc lateq dicere, to speake of a thyng at length.
Fusilis, le, that whiche is molten.
Fusim, abode as it were molten.
Fusio, ōnis, f. g. a melting, a founding, a pouring out, a spreading.
Fusor, ōris, m. g. a founder, a melter.
Fusorius, a, um, pertepnyng to foundyng of melpnge.
Ars fusoria, the craft of melpng of foundyng.
Vas fusorium, a melpng pottle.
Fustigatio, ōnis, f. g. a beatyng wryth a staffe.
Fustigo, aui, are, to beate wryth a staffe.
Fustis, tis, m. g. a clubbe, a staffe, a cudgell.
Caput aperire fuste, to breake ones head wryth a cudgell.
Fustuarius, rij, m. g. a minister, whiche serueth to beate men wryth staves.
Fustuarium, rij, a beatyng wryth staves.
Fusus, si, m. g. of fusum, si, n. g. a spendell.
Fusura, x, f. g. a melpng of foundyng.
Fusus agrestis, the herbe, called also Aractilis.
Fusus, a, um, molten, scattered, or spred abode
Fusus humi, stretched on the ground.
Fusi fugatio, slayne and put to flyght.
Per herbam fusi, lyngge alonge on the grasse.
Crines fusi, heares disheueled of hangynges about ones eares.
Fusa cupressus, a large & great cypresse tree.
Fusa in omnes partes vitis, a vyne tree spred abode on every syde.
Fusum corpus, a bodie playne and smooth.
Fusile, lis, a cuppe vled in the sacrifice of Ie-sa, whiche was so hyde at the mouth, and so narowe at the foote, that it coude not stande.
Fusilis, le, that whiche wil be soone poured out.
Fusilis, he that speaketh all that he knoweth wryth of vnauidedly, vayne, vnprofitable, bablyng foolpshly.
Fusilis homo, a blabbe, that can keepe no counsaile, a telle tale, one that hath a longe tongue, one in whom is no staye. Fusilis

Futiles alacrias, dissolute, or vncomey mythy, or gladnesse without cause.
Futile de causa, for a vayne and trisyng cause.
Futile, and inutiliter, foolpshly, dissolutely.
Futillas, aui, f. g. lyghnesse, foolpshnesse, foolpshly babbling.
Futis, tis, tire, to poure out, or renne out.
Futis, a vessel, wherewith water was poured in to a lauer, to hyngge water into a parlour of suppyng chambrze.
Futo, aui, are, to blame.
Futurum, for Profuturum.
Futuo, tui, tuere, to doo the acte of generation.
Futurus, a, um, that shall be hereafter.

GA B A, a towne in Galilee.
Gaba, a citee of Syria.
Gabales, a people of aquistayne in Fraunce.
Gabalum, a towne in France nygh to Narbona, where veraye good cheese was made.
Gabalus, li, m. g. a galowe tree or gybe, wheron men be hanged.
Gabalus, the name of Helio gabalus, befoze he was emperor.
Gabaon, a citee in the holy lande, nygh to Rama, where Salomon doyng sacrifice, spake with god.
Cabaonites, men of that towne.
Gabata, x, f. g. a portage detyne.
Gabbā, a citee in Syria.
Gabi, orum, a citee in Italy, whiche the Romans destroyed.
Gabinensis, and Gabinus, a, um, of the people called Gabi.
Gabinus, a Romayn imballadour, whiche restored Ptholome to his kyngedome.
Gabinus cinctus, a garment with two lappes, wherof the one caste backwarde, dyd gyde hym that dyd weare it, whiche garmente the consull ware, whan he denounced warres.
Gabriel, signifieth the puissance of myghte of god.
Gaddir, a citee of Spaine.
Gades, dium, f. g. plur. num. two ples by the further partes of Spayne beyonde Granada.
Gaderes, a citee of Syria, not far from Alalon.
Gadira, a place nere to the vtermoste boundes of Spayne: to whiche whan Hercules came, and shoulde passe no further, he sette by there his pyllours.
Caditanus, a, um, of or belongpng to the ples Gades.
Caditanum fretum, the entre out of the ocean
an sea, in to the sea called Mediterraneum, hauyng Spayne on the northe syde, and the Doozes on the southe.

Gaon, a great ruier, whiche renneth through Ethiopia and Egypt, it is now called Nilus.
Gagates, m. g. of Gages, a stone called Jente, & a ruier in Lycia, where that stone was fyrste founde.
Gagites, tis, m. g. a pzeious stone, of notable vertue, founde in the Egles nest: it is called also Aenites. if it be shaken, it semeth to haue an other stone within it.
Gaioli et lagunculi, marchepaines and othe lyke fine breade.
Galactis, idem quod thymalus.
Galactobdolon, idem quod galeopsis.
Galactites, a pzeious stone of white colour.
Galactophagus, an eater of mylke.
Galactopota, a dynker of mylke.
Galanga, x, f. g. a spice called Galingale.
Galandis, the handmayde of Alcmena, by whome crafte she brought forth Hercules, whan she was let by Juno & Lucina in despite whereof, shee was touned into a weasyl, called Gale.
Galata, an yle not farre from Melia.
Galata, or Gallograci, people of Galatia.
Galathea, a nymphe or mayden of the sea, and was daughter of Neptune and Doris.
Galatia, or Gallogracia, a countreie in the lesse Asia, ioyngpng to Thracia and Lidia.
Galaxias, a pzeious stone.
Galba, a Romayne, whiche in his tyme was be-raie eloquente.
Galba, arum, f. g. maggottes or small wooz-mes that byde in meate.
Galbanus, ni, for g. of Galbanum, ni, neu. g. a gumme of a certayne tree, whiche is muche vs-ed in plaisters. also a kynde of garmentes, whiche delicate persones vled, of a byghte whyte colour.
Galbanatus, a, um, that weareth the garmente called galbanum.
Galbanus, a, um, of the gum called Galbanus.
Galbeum, a certayne kynde of ornaments that women vled.
Galbinus, a, um, delicate, wanton, or nyce.
Galbulus, li, m. g. the cypresse nutte, or lytell rounde ball, wherin the seede is conteyned.
Gallula, le, a certayne byrde.
Gale, gales, f. g. a weasyl.
Galea, x, f. g. a helmette or saler.
Galeatus, a, um, that weareth an helmet or saler.
Galena, x, f. g. that part of the spluer ooze, that is lesse after the tyme and spluer is tryed out:
of the whiche blacke leade is made.
Galenus, a noble physicion (borne in Pargamo, sonne of Picon a great geometrician) in the arte of physike, excelled all other befoze his tyme and tene, in so muche, as in his ministra-cion, counsaile, or doctryne, he neuer had re-proche, as he him selfe wyrteth. also liuyngge, as some doo wyrt. Cr. peres (after he passed the age of .xviii. peres, vntill the tyme of his deathe

death) he was neuer bered with any sykneness, except the grudge of a feuer of one day, as he saith in his worke De sanitate tuenda,
and that happened onely by to muche labour.
He flourished in the tyme of the emperours Marcus Comodus, and Pertinax, and dyed onely for feblenesse of age, after the incarnastion of Christe, about. 160. yeres.
Galeo, aut, are, to put on a salette of helmet.
Galeola, la, a wyne pottle, somewhat facioned
lyke a salette.
Galeobdolon, idem quod Galeopsis.
Galericulum, li, n. g. an vnder bonet of rydng
cappe. also a trowke.
Galerita, x, f. g. a lake.
Galeopsis, in latine Vrica labeo, called of the aspothercaries Scrophularia maior, or after some Agripalma, an herbe haupng a vtraie strong saueur, and is muche lyke a nettill: it is called Archangel, as some dooe suppose, or blinde nettle.
Galeotes, tis, a kind of lpsardes, extreme enemye to serpentes, for they can not abyde the sight of this beast.
Galerus, ri, m. g. and Galerum, ri, n. g. a hatte.
also a piewke.
Galeus, a ryuer of Calaber, by the citee Tar-rentina.
Galeos, called of the latines Mustela, and Lams-pena, a fythe muche lyke a lamprey, or rather after some a lampreie it selfe.
Galgulus, li, m. ge. a byrde, whome yf one dooe beholde, that hath the pelowe laundise, forthwith the man becometh whole, and the byrde dyeth.
Galilea, a countreie, whiche marcheth on Syria, Arabia, and Egypt.
Galion, idem quod Galeopsis.
Galla, x, f. g. a fruite called gaulles.
Gallaria, a lamprene.
Gallia, a noble region, sette betwene Spayne and Germany, and on the easte bordereth on the mountaynes Alpes. That whiche toigneth to Germany, was called Belgica, and was con-teyned betwene the ryuers Scaldes, and Sequana. That parte, whiche marcheth to the mountaynes, was called Celica, or Lugdu-nenis, and was conteyned betwene the ryuers Seyne and Gerunde. That whiche bordereth on Spayne, called Aquitania, was bounded with the mountaynes Pyrenai. Caesar boundedeth the parte called Celica, with the ryuers Rhône and Geronde: and Aquitania with the hylles Pyrenai. and the ryuer of Geronde.
Agrippa describeth Gallia betwene the ryuer Rhene, the mountaynes Pyrenai, the ocean sea, and the mountaynes Gebenna, & Iura.
Moreouer that, whiche is nowe called Lums bardie, was called Gallia Cisalpina.
Galliamuscata, a certaine elestuarie, verie pressious and comfortable.

Gallicanus, a, um, Gallicus, a, um, and Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.
Gallica, arum, a hynde of hoers that the frenche men vset to weare in foule weather.
Gallicinium, cinij, neu. g. the tyme in the nyght,
whan the cocke croweth.
Gallina, x, f. g. an henne.
Supponere oua gallinis, To sette a henne broode.
Gallinaceus, a, um. of an henne.
Gallinaceus, a house cocke.
Gallinaceus pullus, a chycke.
Gallinago, naginis, a wood cocke.
Gallinarium, ri, neu. ge. a place where poultre is kepte, a cubbe.
Gallinarius, ri, m. g. he that keepeth poultre.
Gallipes, that hath a foote lyke a cocke.
Gallium, an herbe, lyke vnto clove, but it hath no burrer nor prickes, and groweth on stone walls.
It is called thes wurt of couerde wurt.
Gallo, aut, are, to be madde.
Gallogracia, a countreie in Asia, called Galatia, the people therof be called Gallograci.
Galloni, a, sumptuous and a volupuous pte
sone, of whome Cicero maketh mention.
Gallulo, as, and Gallulasco, to begynne to haue a bigge voyce, as yong stryplings at the change of their voyce.
Gallus, li, m. ge. a cocke, a frenche man, a pte of Lybeyes. also a ryuer in Phrygia, the waite wherof if it be drunke vnmoderately, maketh one mad.
Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.
Gamale, a towne in Iudea.
Gammurus, ri, m. g. a fythe called a topstar, or cremle of the sea.
Gammoides, an instrument that surgians vse to take matter out of woundes.
Gamos, in latine Nuptia, marriage, wedloche.
Gampasantes, a wilde people of Ethiopia, wher they can handell no maner of weapon.
Ganea, x, f. g. and Ganeum, nei, neu. gen. a brythell house, a house of baudy and ryote, also Ganea is taken for gluttony.
Ganeo, onis, m. g. a ruffian, a haunter of houses by houses, a riotour. also a rauener of chyldren meates.
Gandari, people in the eastre parte of Asia, by the ryuer Indus.
Gangaba, haues and porters that carpe burdennes among the Persians.
Gangarida, people betwene Assyria and India not farre from the ryuer Ganges.
Ganges, a great ryuer, that diuideth India, called in holy scripture Phison, one of the 4 ry-uers, whiche come out of Paradise. Iosephus dooth interpretate it Inundatio. The breadith therof (as Solin<sup>us</sup> writeth) is in the narrowest place. viii. myles. in the broadest. xx. myles. Ar-rianus writeth, that where it is narrowest, it is in bredith. 100. furlonges, whiche is viii. myles.

In many places it spredeth so wyde, that where the grounde is most playne, nor any hygh place appreth, no man maye discern any thyng on the other syde. In the shalowest place it is 100.
foote deepe. There renneth into it. xvii. great ryuers, eueri of theym able to beare a shyppe.
In this ryuer of Ganges is an yle, and therein a great citee, called Palibotra, the countreie is named Phrasia, the kyng wherof (as Pliny writeth lib. 6. cap. 19.) hath alwaie in wages 600000. foote men. 30000. horsemen, and 9000. chlypantes.
Gangeicus, a, um, of that ryuer.
Gangetica tellus, India.
Ganglion, or Ganglion, a sickenesse in the heade of a beaste, wherewith the heade becometh full of water. Ganglion, is also the wylthyng of a fiewe.
Gangrena, x, f. g. a soze called a canker.
Gangtor, a mannes name.
Gannio, niui, and nij, nire, to make a noyse lyke a fore, to barke or houle lyke a dogge. also to mutter or crie betwene the teeth, as one dooth that is beaten.
Gannius, us, m. g. backynge lyke a fore, the com-playnyng of weeping of one that is beate.
Ganimedes, a Troiane chyld, which was seigned to be rauyned of Jupiter, and made his butlar.
Ganza, x, f. g. a goose.
Garamantes, people in Arike, in the middell of Libya, whiche are blacke wooges.
Garamanticus, a, um, of the people Garamantes.
Garamantes, a certayne kyng, whose daughter Garamantis, Jupiter rauyned, and on hir begote Hierba.
Garganus, a hille in Apulia, called now Mons sancti Angeli.
Gargarus, ri, m. g. and Gargara, orum, neu. ge.
the toppe of the mountayne Ida. also a lake of Phrygia, out of the whiche issue the ryuers Scamander and Simois.
Gargarizatio, onis, f. g. a washyng of the mout-he and throte, to expelle fleume oute of the head, gargellyng.
Gargarizo, aui, are, to gargell or washe the mouthe and throte.
Gargarizans, a, um, gargaryng.
Gargarizans, us, m. g. idem quod gargarizatio.
Gargitius, the dogge, whiche kept the oren of Geryon, whom Hercules slewe, whan he stole theim.
Gario, niui, nire, to babble, to chatte or speke many woordes foolishly to no purpose, propely to chype as byrdes dooe.
Garrulus, aui, f. g. chatterynge, tanglyng, babblyng.
Garrulus, a babblar.
Garrulus, a, um, that chattereth, babbleth, or speaketh many vayne woordes.
Garrulae aues, birdes that chyrpe & syng much.

Garum, ri, n. g. sauce made with fythe salted.
Garumna, x. f. g. a ryuer in Fraunce called Gronde.
Garus, ri, a certayne fythe.
Garyophyllata, some thynke it to be the herbe called herbe Senet. some suppose it to be that, whiche Plinie nameth Gium. The roote of this herbe gathered in Marche, smelleth lyke cloues. And Plinie writeth, that Gium hath blacke rootes, which dooe smell vtrape sweetly, looke Caryophyllata.
Garyophilli, the spice called cloues.
Garyophyllus, Ruellius calleth it Garyophyllen, a glyster, nexte to the rose, the sayrest and soon-test flower. It is also the tree that beareth cloues.
Gaster, called also Gasterium, a certayne kynde of vessell.
Gastrimargia, gluttony, ingurgitacion.
Gaudeo, gaudius sum, ere, to reioyce, to be glad,
to delite or take pleasure in a thyng.
Gaudere in sinu, to reioyce by him selfe.
Triumpho & gaudeo, I triumphe & reioyce.
Hunc scio mea solide gaudium gaudia, I knowe well, that he will be ryght ioyous and gladde of my myght and gladnesse.
Gaudebis facto, Thou wilt be gladde that it hath been dooen.
Gaudeo mihi, I am glad for myne owne part.
Id gaudeo, I am glad of that.
Frustra gaudere, to be glad in vayne, to re-ioyce without a cause.
Gaudium, di, n. g. ioye, myght, an affection of the mynde, conceyued of an oppinion of a thyng good or pleasant.
Gaudium capere, compleri, and affici gaudio,
to reioyce, to be gladde or mery.
Gauia, x, a certayne byrde, which I iudge to be a sea cob, or a seagoull.
Gauisus, a, um, gladde or mery.
Gaulus, a littell rounde vate, or a paille to res-ceue mylke. Herodotus taketh it for a great shyppe.
Gaurus, an hille in Campania.
Gaufape, n. g. indeclinabile, a frise or rough garment, that souldiours vset. a mantell to cast on a bedde. also a carpet to lay on a table.
Some call it a dagwayne. Some dooe expounde it a beluer cloke. It is taken of Petrus for a longe bearde.
Gaufapina, x, idem.
Gaufapina penula, a rough garment vset to be woyn in wynter.
Gaufapina cubicularia, a rough frise frocke to weare in ones chambze.
Gaza, x, f. g. the treasure of a kyng. also a citee in Palestine.
Gazella, x, a beaste in the partes of India, of whom cometh muske. Antonius Musa writeth, that there be of theim in Arike, in figure lyke
a roe. Serapio saith, that they haue hoynes.
also

also long teeth and white, aboute .ix. ynches in length, standinge out of theiꝝ mouthes lyke a boze. This beast naturally hath a superfluous bloud congeled on his beale, and groweth lyke an impostume. And whan it is ripe, the beaste goeth to a tree or a stone, and rubbeth thereon his bealie, tyl the humoure breaketh out, lyke vnto to corrupte matter, whiche at the first synketh, but whan it hath ben haged a while in the aire, it warerh ripe: and than hath it an odoriferous saour, and is called muske. Gazella, is not a ciuet, as some suppose: for the ciuet is lyke a great rat, and the sweete humoure that cometh from hym, is lyke sweete, and is founde betwene his flankes, wherefoze vnto it is geuen a newe name, and is called Cibera.

Gazophilacium, ij, n. g. a chesse of place where treasure is kepte, a iewell house.

G ANTE E.

Gebbanitæ, a people dwellynge in Arabia deserta, by the reddie sea.

Gebenna, a citee in Sauoy, called Geneua, where, among the women specially reygnerh a disease called Bronchocale, whiche is a boylng of swellng vnder theiꝝ chinnes. Also Solinus nameth the parte of Alpes, ioyngng to Sauoy, Gebenna.

Gebuscus, the sonne of Lanaan, of whome the olde inhabitants of Hierusalem were called Gebusei.

Gedanum, a towne of Germanie, in the mouth of the ryuer visula, called now Dantz.

Gedeon, the name of a iudge in Itacell.

Gedrosia, a countreie in Asia.

Gehenna, is taken in holy scripture for hell.

Gela, a ryuer in Sicile.

Gelabilis, le, that may be frozen.

Galasco, scere, to be frozen.

Gelasinus, ni, m. g. one of the foze teeth, whiche be shewed in laughng.

Gelasinus, he that laugheth to make other men laughe.

Gelatina, næ, f. g. a kynde of sauce.

Gelatio, ðnis, f. g. a fryngng.

Gelidium, dij, n. g. a froste.

Gelide, coldely, as it were frozen.

Gelidus, a, um, colde as ice.

Gellius, a learned man, whose woꝝkes remaine at this daie.

Gello, a maydens name.

Gelo, aui, aui, to friese. Sometye actively, some tyme neutrally.

Geloi, or Gelones, a people nowe called Cartasians.

Gelon, one that attempted to poyson hyngge Pꝛꝛꝛhus.

Gelos, a poite of hauen of Laria.

Gelothophyllis, lidos, an herbe, whiche (as Plinius wyrteth) begng drunken in wine with myꝛre, maketh laughng without cessynge, except the hernds of pyne appullos myꝛre with pepper and honie, in the wyne of dates be dyngken after it. This herbe is founde about the ryuer Borysthenes, in the furthest parte of Russia, and also in the countreie Bactra.

Gelotropæus, he that maketh other folkes laugh.

Gelu, n. g. vndeclined, yre, sometye colde.

Gelus, li, m. g. was vied of olde wyꝛters.

Gemæa, a, a wyng of souldiers amonge the Macedonians.

Gemellar, a certayne vessell to put oyle in.

Gemellaria, a, f. g. an instrument, by the whiche oyle renneth out of the presse.

Gemellipera, the name of Latona.

Gemellus, a, um, lyttle or small twinnes: sometye double.

Gemella vites, bynes that beare two manes of grapes.

Gemelli, is sometye taken for two hoꝛs drauyng together in a carte.

Gemibundus, a, um, full of wailng.

Geminatio, ðnis, f. g. a doublng of reppynng.

Geminatus, a, um, doubled, reppid.

Gemino, aui, are, to double.

Geminus, a, um, the numbre of two. Sometye lyke. Also Geminus is a twinne, where many chyldren are boꝛne at one burdeyne, although they be .iii. or mo. Also it is the name of a man, whiche in Hebrue and englysh is Thomas.

Acies geminæ, the two eyes.

Gemini nominis errore seruatus est, he was saued out of danger, by reason that bothe names were not known.

Gemina audacia, lyke boldnesse of stomache.

Gemini, is also a fygne in the firmaments of Eastor and Polur.

Gemisco, gemui, scere, Idem quod gemo.

Gemite, es, f. g. a certayne precious stone, beuyng the fygure in it of handes clenched together.

Gemitus, us, m. g. a waylynge, lamentynge, or mournng, a pitefull groane or sygh.

Gemma, a, f. g. a ponge budde of a vyne, also a precious stone.

Geminasco, scere, to begyn to budde.

Gemmatus, a, um, budded. also set with precious stones.

Gemmæus, a, um, of or lyke a precious stone.

Gemmifer, a, um, that bynggeth precious stones.

Gemmo, aui, are, to budde or spyngge as a ponge graffe or vine doeth.

Gemmofus, a, um, that whiche is all of precious stones.

Gemmula, a, a littell budde of precious stone.

Gemmula, be also freshe flowers in the spyngge tyme, whiche garnishe the meadowes and fieldes as it were with precious stones.

Genio, mui, ere, to groane or waille, or to make a lamentable noyse, to be soꝛy or lamente.

Gemitymba, The bote craketh begng ouercharged.

Gemutur, the passiue.

Gemiturtur, the turtill syngeth mournngly.

gemodes, precious stones, whiche are supposed to increase and byngg foorth ponge, they ease women trauayleng of chyld.

gemonia scala, a place, from whens the bodie of perones condemned were thowen downe at Rome.

gemonide, women great with chyld.

gemusa, a, f. g. ge. a coꝛne of lyke grefe vnder the lyttell toe.

gena, a, f. g. the eye lyd as well hyꝛer as nether. it is sometye taken for the chekes, some take it for the ball of the cheke vnder the eye. some for that part of the face, where the beard becometh first to grow.

Pubentes gena, when the bearde beginneth to sprynge.

Humectare genas, to weep.

genaius, a, um, gluttonous.

genalogia, a, f. g. ge. a pedegree, a genealogie.

gener, generi, malcu. gene. he that marieth my daughter.

generabilis, le, that is easely engendred.

generalis, le, generall.

generaliter, generally.

generalco, rascere, to engender.

generatim, by euery kynde. sometye generally.

Sigillatim & generatim, contrary.

generatio, ðnis, form. ge. a generation, an engendryng.

generator, ðris, m. g. he that engendreth.

genero, aui, are, to engendre as the male doeth, to byngg foorth as the female dooeth, to spyngg as herbes doo, sometye to inuent.

generose, nobly.

Generositas, aui, f. g. nobilitie, the estate of gentill men, sometye aptnes to generation.

Generosus, a, um, of a gentyll or noble kynde, excellent, couragious.

Generosus princeps, a puissant and couragious pynce.

Generosus equus, an hoꝛse of a good case, a couragious hoꝛse.

Arbores generosa, trees which beare plente of good fruite.

Genesis, genescos, f. g. ge. generation, natiuitee, also the planette, vnder whiche one is boꝛne.

Genethia, ðrum, neu. g. plu. solemnitee of feasting at the daie of ones byꝛthe.

Genethiacus, an astronomer or other like, whiche by the sterres sette at a mans natiuitee, telleth his fortune.

Genethiacus, a, um, belongng to a mans natiuitee.

Genetur, ti, a promontory, wherein is a temple dedicated vnto Jupiter.

Geneca, a towne in Sauoy.

Genezareth, a great meere or ponde in the lande of promission, called also Mare Tyberiadis.

Genialis, le, that is geuen to voluptee and pleasure, and to make good there, full of myꝛthe and pleasure.

Genialis torus, sue lectus, a byꝛde bedde.

Genialis dies, a daie addit to voluptuousnesse and pleasure, or to be merry and iocund in.

Genialis homo, a man in his house veray liberal and fresche.

Genialiter, deynly.

Genialiter viuere, To liue delicately and merrily.

Geniana, næ, f. g. a precious stone, procuring punishment to a mans enemies.

Genia, olde verbes full of unhappynesse.

Geniculatim, ioynt by ioynt, at euery ioynte.

Genicularis, the herbe called Lychnis coronaria.

Geniculatus, a, um, that hath many ioyntes, or knottes, as the stemes of herbes or straws.

Geniculum, li, neu. gen. the ioynt of a straw, or stalke of an herbe.

Genij, men whiche do geue all theyꝝ study to casting and dyngng.

Genista, a, f. g. ge. a thubbe, whiche hath littell sedes lyke lintels, growng in coddies, and a peelow floure, whiche bees delite in: they vse it for bandes to bynd vines, and for diuers other purposes: loke Spartum.

Genimen, niminis, n. g. generation.

Genitale, lis, n. g. the membꝛe of generation.

Genitalis, le, pꝛteynng to the byꝛth or natiuitee of a man.

Genitale solum, the naturall cuntreie of place where a man is boꝛne.

Genitale semen, the seede of generation.

Genitalis dies, the daie of natiuitee.

Genitales trunci, stockes of trees that be fertile, and haue strength to beare.

Genitaliter, by generation.

Genitura, sometye generation. sometye the seede of generation.

Genitiuus, a, um, that hath power to ingender, or that whiche pꝛcedeth with generation.

Genitiua nota, markes wherwith a manne is boꝛne.

Genitor, ðris, m. g. a father.

Genitores omnium vitiorum Græci, The Greckes, fathers and begynners of all vicious lyfynng.

Genitrix, icis, f. g. a mother.

Genitura, a, f. g. ge. generation, engendryng, conception. sometye for Horoscopus, the obseruation of the tyme of ones byꝛthe. also the seede of generation.

Genitura herois, the herbe Polygonon.

Genitura Titani, the herbe Sideritis.

Genitus, a, um, begotten, engendred.

Genius, ij, ma. gene. an angell. among the paynims some supposed it to be the spirite of man. some dꝛd put two gouernours of the soule, a good and an euell, Bonus genius, & malus genius, which neuer departed from vs. Sometime it is taken for nature it selfe, or delectation moved by nature, the grace or pleasauntnesse of a thyng.

Genio dare operam, & indulgere genio, To lye voluptuously.

Genium defraudare, to absteyn from all thynges pleasaunt.

Geno, genui, genere, idem quod gigno.

Genochia, a beast lesse than a foxe, in colour a darke yellowe, full of black spottes. I suppose it to be a blacke genet, the furre wherof is in Englande esteemed aboue all other fures.

Genon, a kynde of oymons, whiche haue a sharpe taste.

Gens, entis, fœm. gen. a nation, a people. somtyme a kynrede.

Gens Aelia, a kynrede comparte of many families.

Minime gentium, in no wyse in the worlde. The latin men of olde tyme did take these wordes, as who shulde saie thus: a thyng that all the people of the worlde iudge in no maner wise to be doone.

Nusquam gentium, no where. Likewise gentium is vsed after these aduerbes, Vnde, vnde, quocumque, vbi, ubi, ubique, vbi, quo, quando, longe, and it is an expletive, added festiuatis gratia.

Sine gente, vnnoble.

Gentiana, x, f. g. an herbe called Gentian.

Genticus, a, um, of a nation or people.

More gentico, after the maner of that people.

Gentilis, a kynfman of the same name or stocke.

Sometyme it signifieth a Gentile or Paganym.

Sometyme a countreie man.

Gentilis, le, proprie or familiar to that people or kynrede, or that hath the same name.

Gentiles dominorum serui, seruantes haueing the same name that they masters haue.

Gentilias, âtis, gentilitie, the multitude of the people or familie, the frendshipp and alliance betwene men of the same stocke and kynred.

Gentilias in herbis, the fogle or place, where the herbe groweth, or the likenes of nature and propertie.

Gentilius, a, um, of the people or nation, or that a people nation or kynrede hath of long tyme vsed.

Gentilium hoc illi est, this cometh to hym of kynd: he hath this of his auncestours.

Gentilium nomen, the surname or auncient name of a mans auncestours, declaring their originall begynnyng.

Gentilia sacra, ceremonies of that countrey or people.

Gentilium est, It is a proprie vse or custome among them taken of theyr auncestours.

Genis, idis, a kyng of Illiria, called now Slauony, whiche was the first finder of the herbe called Gentian.

Genu, n. ge. in the singular numbze vnderstand, plu. genua, genuum, genibus, the knee.

Aduoluo genibus vestris supplex, I falle downe at your knees humbly intreating you.

Nixus genu, kneelynge.

Genua submittere, to knele, to make curstie.

Genu terram tangere, to make to lowe curstie, that his knee toucheth the grounde.

Genua, a great citee called Gena.

Genualia, a kynde of hofes to keuer the knee.

Genuinus, a, um, proper, peculiar, naturall.

Genuinum frangere in aliquo, & genuino rodere, to bathe wch of sclander, to speake pl of one behynde his backe.

Genuini dentes, the innermoste cheke teethe.

Genuinus sermo, The naturall speche of man thet tongue.

Genus, generis, neu. gene. is the begynnyng of every thyng, either of the person that ingendyeth it: or of the place where it was ingendyed, a kynred, a stocke, a linage, a parentage.

It is also a sort, a maner or faction.

Orestes à Tantalò ducit genus, Orestes had his begynnyng of Tantalus, or is descended lineally of Tantalus.

Plato genere Atheniensis est, Plato is of his bloude or auncestrie, an Athenian, also it is signifieth kynde.

Genus vitæ, a kynde of lyfe.

Genus mortis, a kynde of deathe.

Genus animalium, a kynde of brastes, also it signifieth that, whiche comprehendeth many sundry kyndes, as Animal comprehendeth a man, a byrde, a fische, and curstie of them is Genus to that whiche is comprehended in them. As a byrde beaste is Genus to an hofse, a lyon, a bull, a dogge. &c. a byrde is Genus to an egge, a crow, a lark, a sparowe. &c. a fische is Genus to a whale, a porpise, an haddocke, a plaice. &c.

Genere summo progenatus, descended of a noble familie or stocke.

Genere paterno ab Hercule oriundus, descended of haueing his begynnyng of Hercules on the fathers syde.

Genus humanum, or genus hominum, mans kynde.

Genus Thebanum, the nation or people of Thebes.

Est genus hominum, there is a sort of faction of men.

Generis grati est, he cometh of a kind stocke.

Eiusdem generis, of the same sort.

Vno genere pisces capere, to take but of one sort of fishes.

Geodes, a certaine stone.

Geodesia, f. ge. a science of thynges concerning sensible greatnesse and figure.

Geodares, he that hath that science, a diuider of grounde, a measurer of lande.

Geographia, x, f. g. the description of the earth.

Geomantia, x, f. ge. superstitious working in sortie, sortie, by circles and pyches in the earth.

Geometres, is, or Geometra, x, m. g. a geometician, a measurer of the earth.

Geometria, x, f. g. geometry, measuring, and proportioning of figures in the earth.

Geometrica, drum, feates or poyntes of geometry.

Geometrica, like a geometician, or accordyng to the preceptes of geometry, by demonstration.

Geometricus eruditus, lerned in the science of geometry.

Geometricus, a, um, of or belongyng to geometry.

Georgi, people of Asia, haueing that name of tpyng the earth.

Georgia, as, fœm. gene. culture and tpyng of the earth.

Georgica, drum, bookes written of husbandry.

Georgicus, a, um, belongyng to husbandry.

Geonium, nq, neu. ge. herbe Roberde, as some doe iudge: other call it Pinke nettle, or Leasnes bill.

Geanogeron, ri, neu. gene. idem.

Geanopodion, the herbe called Lachnis coronaria.

Geira, a cite of Portugall, called Caceres.

Geironia, a towne in Cypen standyng on an hygh hill.

Germania, brotherly.

Germania, a countreie called of some Ducheland, of some I. magne, it is described by Ptolomee the ii. chapter, to be bounded on the west with the ryuer of Rhene: on the north with the sea Germanicus oceanus: the south west part with the riuer Donowe, the east side is bounded with the bendyng of Donowe: vnto the byles of Sarmatia. The name of Germany extendeth nowe further: for therein are comprehended many great countreies and citces, whiche somtyme were part of Gallia Belgica, that is to saie, from the ryuer of Rhene westwarde, vnto the sea Mare Britannicum.

Germani, people of Germany, or Germanes.

Germanicus, a noble man of Rome, father to Caligula the emperour.

Germanicus, a, um, of Germany.

Germanitas, fœs, f. m. ge. brotherhood of brothers germanes.

Germanus, a substantiue, brother of one father and one mother.

Germanus, a, um, cometh of the same stocke, right and true, not counterfeit.

Germanum nomen, the proprie & right name.

Megermana patria, my braye and naturall countreie.

Germani Arici, the right and true folowers of the Aithie countreie.

Germanissimus Stoicis, verat lyke the Stoics in opinion.

Germana gentis, braye of the.

Frater cognatione patruelis, amore germanus, by nature a cousin germane, in loue, a verat brother germane.

Geremen, geminis, neu. ge. a branch of a tree or herbe, a pong spryng.

Germinalis, le, that spryngeth or brancheth.

Germinales arbores, Trees that spryng of a kernell or seede.

Germinasco, fœre, to shoote or spryng up.

Germinatio, ônis, f. g. a spryngyng, a brachyng.

Germinatus, us, m. g. idem.

Germino, aut, are, to brachyng out, to shoote out longe sprynges.

Gero, gersi, erere, to beare, to carie. somtyme it signifieth to haue, to do, to execute, to behaue.

Gerere amicitiam, to practise frendshipp, to be ones frende.

Quorum sunt de gerenda amicitia practica scripti libri, whose bookes we haue, howe to practise frendshipp, very well written.

Gerere bellum, to make warre.

Gerere honores, To be in honour or authoritie.

Gerere magistratum, to exercise an office.

Gerere morem, to obeie.

Gerere negotium, to doo his busynesse.

Patremam specie gerere, to be lyke his father.

Animo morem gessero, I will saue my mynde, I will follow myn appetite or fantasie.

Gerere pratum, to be in the office of a iudge.

Gerere pudorem, to be chaste.

Gerere rempublicam, To mynister the publicke weale.

Suum tatem cum aliquo gerere, to be at acquaintance with one.

Gerere cornua, to weare or to haue hornes.

Gerere consulum, or Consuldem, to beare the office of a consull, to be consull.

Quemadmodum nos geramus, howe we may behaue our selfe.

Animum muliebrem gerere, to haue a womanly herte or courage.

Fidem fluxam gerere, not to be faithfull and trusty of promysse.

Ingenium callidum gerere, To haue a crafty and subtil witte.

Veteres inimicitias cum Casare gerebat, There was olde grudge and malice betwene hym and Cesar.

Moulu onera gerunt, they carie their burdeins in their mouthes.

Gerere partum or vicium, to be great with chyld.

Bene rem suam gerere, to play the good husband, to doo his busynesse well and thyslyp for his owne profite.

Personam ciuitatis gerere, To represente the state or person of the holt cite or commonalte.

Reuiso quidnam hic rerum gerat, I come as gapne, to see what he is dooing here.

Sciui exitio rem de compacto geri, I perserued repued by and by, that the matter was agreed between them.

Res alias geris, The mynde is on other matters.

Gelsit se contra disciplinam meam, He hath dooen contrary to myne instruction.

Tutela ianuæ gerit, He kepeth the gate.

Gerontocomion, mī, n. g. an hospitall, wherein old men are kept, an almes house.

Gerra, x, f. ge. the name of. iii. cities: One in Syria, an other nere to Traconites, the thyrde in Arabia felix.

Gerra, arum, f. m. g. plu. nu. lattysse made with twiggess. also trilles and thynge of no valur.

Gerra scular, trilles.

Gerres, fythe of the hende of herpynges. it maye be called pylchardes.

Gerro, onis, f. gen. a talker of tridyng thynges or light matters.

Gérula, x, a mayde that kepeth a chylde, and beareth hym aboute.

Gérulus, li, m. g. a porter or a man hyed to cary burdeyns.

Gerrus, a ruuer of Scythia.

Gerunda, a citee in Spayne called Girona.

Gerundium, a gerunde, a nowne participiall.

Gerusa, a citee of Sacmatia, called nowe saint Georges.

Gerusia, x, f. m. g. a place where the counsaill was assembled at Lacedemonia, like as the senate house was at Rome.

Geryon, or Geryones, a kyng of Spayne, whom Hercules dyd slea, and toke from hym certayn bulles and hyen of notable greatnes.

Gescoréta, x, f. m. g. a kynd of boates, whiche some call profcumia.

Gesodumum, a citee of Bozrice, called Saltzbourg.

Gesum, si, neu. gene. a certayne weapon for the warre, as a swoorde or a woodknife. some take it for an halberde.

Gessampini, trees whiche beare cotten, wherof cloathes be made.

Gessoriacum, as some suppose, was the towne, whiche is nowe named Calais, Layland saireth Boloigne.

Gessus, a ruuer of Ionia.

Gesta, orum, neu. g. thynges whiche haue been doon, actes.

Gestāmen, inis, n. gen. what so euer is bozne, a burdeyn or cariage, a mace, a scepter.

Gestatio, onis, f. g. the exercise, where a man is caried or bozne on any thyng. Also a place whither men be caried either for theyr helth, or for their solace and pastyme, in maner of a gaslep or parlour.

Gestatorium, ii, n. g. that wherin any thyng is caried or bozne, a flagon, a hozelitter.

Gestatorius, a, um, that which is caried, or whers in one is caried.

Sella gestatoria, a chaire wherein one is caried, or that maie be remoued from place to place.

Gestāus, us, m. g. carieng.

Gesticularia, x, f. m. g. the feate of them that daunce with poppettes. also a dauncynge or tumbleng wenche.

Gesticularius, a, um, perteynyng to signes or tokens of mythe, with meuyng the bodye of handes.

Gesticulātor, oris, m. f. ge. he that playeth with poppettes.

Gesticulor, aris, ari, to make signes or tokens of mythe, as in dauncynge, to make muche gesture.

Carmina gesticulari, to daunce accordyng to numbze and measure of verses.

Gestiens, entis, hoppynge or thypynge.

Lactia gestiens, hopping or thypynge for ioy.

Gestio, onis, f. m. gen. an explayng or doynge of a thyng.

Gestio, iui, ire, to shewe the affections of the mynde by meuyng of the bodye of any parte therof, and maie be referred both to mythe, sorowe, or any other passion or appetite of the mynde. Sometyme it significth to delue, also to desyre gladdely.

Quid est, quod sic gestis? What is the matter that ye leape or thyppe so? or that ye fayne such gambaldes?

Gesticulōsus, a, um, full of mounge, busye in mounge.

Gestito, aui, are, to beare or weare ostentym.

Gesto, aui, are, to beare longe.

Gestar ventrem, he is with chylde.

Annulos gestare, to weare rynges.

Gestare collo, to weare about ones necke.

Gestare aliquem in sinu, to sette muche close by a man, to loue hym heartly.

Gestas animum meum, Thou knoweste my thought or mynde.

Non obrusa adeo gestamus pectora, we be not so harde hearted.

Gestus est mos, it was obeyed or doon accordyng to theyr wyll or pleasure.

Gestuosus, a, um, full of gesture.

Gestus, a, um, bozne, or don, ministred, executed.

Gestus, us, m. g. gesture of countenance with meuyng the body, demeanynge, demeanure.

Sometyme for Gestio, a doynge or explayng.

Getz, people whiche some suppose to be those, whiche are in Bozwaie and Gothia. Some saie that they be moze in the northeast in Syria, prerteynyng to Europa: some thinke that it is the people of the countreys Valachia &

Transiluania.

Gethium, the herbe called a siue, a thure or a cruet.

Getuli, a people of Afrike.

Gétulus, a, um, and Getulicus, a, um, of the people Getuli.

Geum, an herbe called in Englyshe abennet.

Glarus, a litell yle in the sea Ionium, whets vnto men condemned were exiled.

Gibber, eris, m. ge. idem quod Gibbus.

Gibber, a, um, and Gibber, eris, & hoc re, that hath a crooked backe, or a great bunche on any parte of the body. Sometyme that appereth or standeth by aboue other.

Gibbōsus, a, um, idem quod Gibber, a, um.

Gibbus, bi, m. ge. a great bounche or swellynge of the fleshe in any part of the body.

Gibbus, a, um, for conuexus, that hath the round figure of a thyng embossed.

Giganteus, a, um, of or belongyn to gigantes.

Gigantomachia, a battayle which gigantes preserued agaynst the Goddis, as Doctes feigned.

Gigas, antis, m. f. m. g. a gyaunt, a man or woman fatte excedyng the common stature of men, of whom as well holy scripture, as other credible writers do make mention. Plutar-chus writeth, that Sertorius, a Romayne capitayne, beeyng in Mauritanian, brake downe the sepulchre of Antheus, and therin was found the body of a man, of suche monstrous great-nesse, that the same Capitayne incurred with a reuerent feare, caused the monument to be redified. Plinie writeth, that in Crete, an hill fell downe, and there was founde the body of a man, in length .xlvi. cubites, whiche was supposed of some to be the body of Dion, of some the body of Etio. Sabellicus affirmeth, it was reported to hym of a credible person, that in the south part of Landie, was founde under a great tree, the head of a man as great as a wyne besell called Dolium. Howe great that beselle is at Venice, where Antonius wyate, I can not tell, with vs it is taken to be the greatest besell, whiche was sometyme a tunne. But he saith, one of the teeth of that head remagneth at Venice, of wonderfull greatnesse, by the whiche they that se it may make som gesse to the greynesse of the head. Solinus remembzeth, that in the warres, whiche the Romayns hadde

in Landie, in a great rage of water, the ground beeyng broken vp, there was found the body of presume to haue knowlage aboue any other, contemnyng all men but them selues, and suche as they fauour.

Gigeria, orum, n. ge. a meate made of garbage of pullapne and other thynges.

Signo, gēui, or gēui, gignere, to ingendert or geat. Sometyme to make, to cause.

Gignere & procreare.

Qua piper gignunt, whiche bynge foorth the pepper.

Gignere capillum, to breede heare.

Oua gignunt pisces, Fyshes breede and byng foorth spawne.

Ad has & huiusmodi fortunæ occasiones gignimur, we be bozne to abyde these and such lyke channes and aduentures of fortune.

Gilo, a citee, the people wherof be called Gilalonites.

Gillus, a man of Tarentum.

Gilus, a, um, peolow, lyke honge.

Gingiber, loke Zinziber.

Gingidium, dii, neu. gen. an herbe that groweth muche in Syria, or Cilicia, lyke to wilde tur-nepes, but moze bitter, and hath a small roote, somewhat white and pleasaunt to see to: Plin-ie and Dioscorid. saie, that it is a strange herbe: some Physicions take it for Theriacle, they are decepted, that take it for Fame &

terrie.

Gingina, ur, f. ge. the gumme of lawes, wherein the recthe bee sette.

Gingeria, idem quod Gigeria.

Gingiuula, x, f. g. a litell gumme.

Gingrina, x, f. g. a kynde of small pyppes, mkyng a noyse lyke the churkyng of byrdes.

Gingrio, grii, grii, grii, to churre or make a chirme as byrdes doo.

Ginzeriatory a piper, a mynstrell.

Gion, a great ruuer in Egypte, otherwyle called Nilus.

Girgillus, li, m. f. ge. a reele, whereon theyrede is wounden.

Giruli, fyshes, whiche I suppose to be mesnowes.

Gith, or git, neu. gen. indeclinabile, an herbe, whiche is nowe called Nigella Romana, the seede therof is blake lyke vnto onyon seede, and is verie soote. And the sauour therof ex-hauesth rumes of the head.

Githago, cockle, growynge amonge cozne that is rype.

Labella, x, f. gene. the space betwene the browes ouer the nose.

Labellus, a, um, that is bare without heare.

Glaber, a, um, smoothe without heare, pryde.

Glabreo, brère, to become naked, bare or pryde, without heare.

Glafresco, scere, to be without heare or smothē.
 Glabrētum, ti, neu. ge. a place, haupng nothng growng in it, a plot that will beare no cozne.
 Glabrières, they whiche lacke heare.
 Glābrior, ōris, the comparatiue of glaber.
 Glabro, aui, are, to make bare, pyld, or smooth, without heare or woullē.
 Glaciālis, le, where pfe is, that maie or is wont to be frozen or tourned into pfe.
 Polus glaciālis, the nozthen pole.
 Glaciātus, a, um, congeled, frozen. also for Coagularus, gathered to a curde or cecame.
 Humor glaciatus in grandines, congeled.
 Glacies, ei, f. g. pfe.
 Ignis exoluit glaciem, dissoluith, or melteth.
 Glacio, aui, are, actiuelly to freeze, or tourne to pfe. sometyne for Glacior, to bee frozen or congeled.
 Glacior, aris, ari, to bee frozen.
 Humor glaciatur in gemmas, the humour is congeled into pccious stones.
 Glacito, aui, are, to make a noyle lyke a gander.
 Gladiador, oris, m. gen. one that playeth with a swoorde. Amonge the Romaynes they were men, whiche fought vnarmed with swordes.
 Gladiatōrius, a, um, perteynyng to that manier of feghtng.
 * Gladiatorio animo, spoken prouerbiāly, whan one with a stubburne or spitefull mynde intendeth to hurt an other, thoughē it be to his owne great peryll and daunger.
 Gladiatorium, is sometyne vsed absolutely for the rewarde geuen to swoorde plaiers.
 Gladiatura, a, f. g. the acte or scate to feght or plaiue with a swoorde.
 Gladiolus, li, m. ge. a littell swoorde, a woodde knyfe. also the name of an herbe like to sedge, haupge a yealowe floure, lyke in fourme to a floure deluce.
 Gladius, ij, m. f. gene. a swoorde. also a kynd of sphe, whiche hath a bone in his forcheade lyke to a swoorde.
 Dedisti gladium, qui se occideret, you haue geuen hym an occasion to destroye or cast away hym selfe.
 Gladio nostro conficere sententiam alicuius, With our reason of persuation to confounde an other mans opinion.
 Distringere, enudare, educere gladium, To drawe out a swoorde.
 Recondere gladium, to put vp a swoorde in his scabarde.
 Suo sibi hunc iugulo gladio, I kylt hym with his owne swoorde, I confounde hym with his owne woordes.
 Gladio plumbeo iugulare, to conuince with a weake argument.
 Cinxit se gladio, he dyd put on his swoorde.
 Conficere gladio, to kill.
 Transiit seipsum gladio, he thrust hym selfe throughe.

Glandarius, a, um, that belongeth to make.
 Glandaria sylua, a wood haupng muche mast, or that is kept to beare mast.
 Glandatio, ōnis, f. g. ge. feedng of swyne with mast, called pannage.
 Glandula, a, f. m. gen. a littell acorne or mast, also that parte of a swynes necke that hath many kernelles.
 Glandomirum, a citie in Spayne, called now Mondauedo.
 Glans, glandis, or Glandis, glandis, f. g. mast growng on oaks, beeches, chestens, and other lyke. sometyne the fruit of all trees. it is also a pellet of leade, or a plommet of leade, whiche men vsed in warre for a weapon. also a breed growng betwene the skyn and the fleshe. un mozeouer the forspare of nut of a mans yarde, it is also a suppositoie.
 Glans louis, a chesten.
 Glans Aegyptia, Myrobolanos.
 Glans vnguentaria, the frute of a tree muche lyke Mirre, of the biggenes of a silberde, out of the kernell cometh a certaine humour, which is vsed to pccious oymntes.
 Glandulōsus, a, um, full of kernelles or mast.
 Glandifer, ra, rum, that whiche beareth mast.
 Glandium, dñ, n. ge. the parte of a boze next the necke, the shilde or gamonde. after some the necke of the boze.
 Glaphirus, a, um, iocunde, pleasaunt, iugrand, polpte, holowe, famous, subtil.
 Glanus, or glanis, a certayne lyke.
 Glarea, a, f. g. proppely grauell.
 Glarea & arena, grauell and sande.
 Ieiuna glarea, dyne and barene grauell.
 Glareōsus, a, um, grauell, full of grauell.
 Glareola, la, f. g. small grauelle.
 Glastum, sti, neu. g. an herbe, called also lant, in englyshe wad, wherewith woullē and woodden clothes are dyed blewē, the leaues are lyke to great sorrel, but greater and thicker. Aris wytteth, it was so communely knowne in Englande, than called Britayne, that the people, with the iuyce thereof, coloured their bodies and visages, to seeme terrible to their enemies. Of this herbe, wad is made in this wyse: They grende it with wheles of woodde, rennyng in a compasse trough, untill the iuyce bee out of the herbe, and than they make it into balles, and laye them on a boardd flooze a certayne space, untill they be putrified and dyed into poulteder. But the making therof hath remayned unknowne in Englande. 1000. yeres, and mo, untill nowe of late an honest marchant man (zelous of the common weale) hath establisht Cones noursed that herbe in his garden at London, and by the example, whiche he founde in countreies beyonde the sea, he making hous ses and mylles, to his importable charges, hath nowe experienced to make the same wad to the inestimable commodite of this realme, of a pf it bee woorthly embraced, the marchantes name is goodman, a name ryght agreeable vnto his qualitees, who deserueth to be incouraged, that by his thanke and rewarde, other maie the rather endeuoure them selues, either to iucnt by their wittes, or to attempte by the example of other countreys, to augmente the weale and honour of this realme of Englad.

 Glauca, a, f. g. the herbe Chelidonia.
 Glauco, aui, are, proppely to make a noyle lyke a whealpe.
 Glauinus, a, um, of the colour called Glaucus, looke there.
 Glauiolus, li, m. g. a hoyle with a wall eye.
 Glauium, en, n. g. is a topce of an herbe, whiche the poetes do commonly call Meinitha, whiche is vsed in medicine for diseases in the eyes.
 Glaucoma, māus, n. g. and Glacematum, ti, n. g. and Glaucoma, mē, f. g. a humour in the eyes lyke itfall, which letteth the syght.
 Glauopsis, pidis, com. gen. a man or woman with graye eyes: or after some, haupng a terryle and fere byghness in their eyes, lyke to the eyes of a lyon or an oule.
 Glauus, a, um, blew or grep as the skie is, when it hath littell speckes of grep cloudes: but Aristotylus Chelidius, in his boke of colours saith, that Ceruus color, and Glauus, is all one, sayng that glauus, is more common and descrepeth them both to haue a certayne fere byghness and ruddiness, as in the eyes of a lyon or an oule. also in the skynnes of ponge with the branches, and in chest nut shales: In hoyses he calleth it a baie, but not a byght baie.
 Glau, glucos, an owle, also an herbe, whiche is iudged to be named trifoly, very straunge in England.
 Glauus, a god of the sea. also many men wer called by that name. one, bozne in Samos, founde first the soudryng of brasse. it is also the name of a fische.
 Gleba, a, f. g. a turfe or piete of earth, a clodde: also a piete of a stone.
 Gleboior, the comparatiue of Glebosus.
 Glecon, ei, n. g. organum, or penre copall, vt quidam arbitrantur.
 Glesina, an yle in the nozthe sea, called Mare Germanicum.
 Glesum, si, n. g. cristall or berill: the frenche men call it a certayne kynde of ambre gumme.
 Gleucium, ni, n. g. ople, whiche doeth come from the olipes before they be pressed.
 Glecon, acris genus est, called also crasineum.
 Glirarium, ri, n. g. a place where fielde myfe or battes be noursed.
 Glis glis, m. g. a fiele mouse, whiche slepeth all the winter, also a bat or resemouse.
 Glis, glisis, f. g. potters clare.
 Glis, gluis, f. g. a thistle.
 Glisco, scis, scere, to growe, to was fatte, to cos uete or desyre feruently.

 Gliscite in dies seditione, The sedition increasng euery daie more and more.
 Certamen gliscit, the battaile waxeth more fierse.
 Terra gliscit, the earth waxeth fat.
 Globo, aui, are, to gather or make round together.
 Globulus, li, m. g. a littell rounde cake or pellet.
 Globosus, a, um, rounde as a boule.
 Globus, bi, m. g. a boule or other thyng veray rounde. also a multitude of men or beastes gathered rounde together.
 Globus armatorum, a company of men of warre.
 Glōcido, aui, are, to cacke as an hen doeth.
 Glocio, ciui, ire, idem.
 Glōmero, aui, are, to wynde in rounde, to gather together in an heape. also in an hoyle it is to go pleasantly.
 Fecdam glomerant tempestatem, the foule blacke cloudes gather together.
 Glomerāmen, minis, n. g. a rounde bottome. also pilles.
 Glomeramina ouis, id est, sterus ouinum.
 Glomerācio, ōnis, f. g. wyndng rounde on a bottome. also the pleasant pace or aumbynge of an hoyle.
 Glomus, mi, m. g. and glomus, mēris, n. g. a bottome of threde.
 Gloria, a, f. g. ge. the consente of good men in the praise of a man or woman, called renoume, glozp.
 Operosa gloria, gotten with great trauel.
 Placique in gloria ducunt, many thyngke it a great glozp and renoume.
 Gloria deflorata, glozp or renoume disgraced.
 Gloria & splendor.
 Gloriatio, ōnis, f. g. glozpng.
 Gloribundus, a, um, that glozieth or maketh as vaunt.
 Gloriola, a diminutiue of Gloria.
 Glorioso, glozpously, with great pryple. sometyne in the yll part, vaingloufely, proudeley, biaggngly.
 Glorioso amiciri, to be richely and gorgeously apparelled.
 Glorioso mentiri, to lie goodly.
 Glōrior, aris, ari, to glozp, to auant or bozt, to thymnt to haue praises, to extol with boztng.
 Gloriam apud aliquem, to onc, or in his persone.
 Gloriam contra aliquem, against one.
 Gloriam de re aliqua, of a thyng.
 Gloriam in re aliqua, in a thyng.
 Gloriam aliquid, to glozie or make his auantce of a thyng.
 Gloriosus, a, um, glozpious, goodly, excellent, notable, greatly esteemed or praised. sometyne in the yll part, vainglorious or boztng hym selfe.
 Praclarum & gloriosum, a thyng for the whiche one hath great renoume and glozp.
 Gloriosum in vulgus, that is esteemed for a goodly & excellent thyng of the common weale.

 Gloriosa mors, a glorious death, woorthye great p[re]p[ar]e and renoume.
 Glos, gloris, f. g. the housbandes wyfe, or bro[ther]
 thers wyfe.
 Glossa, a, f. g. a glose or expofition of darke fpeche.
 Glossema, a[ti]s, n. g. a woorde not muche v[er]sed.
 Glossematicus, he that maketh a comment on a booke.
 Glossographus, phi, m. g. he that maketh interpretation of straunge and harde woordes.
 Glossopetra, a p[re]cious stone lyke a mans tun-gue, whiche is supposed not to growe in the earth, but to fall from heauen in the wane of
 the moone.
 Gloris, gloridis, f. g. a tunge. also a certayne byrde of the kynde of quailles, which hath a long tounge.
 Glubo, bi, ere, to pulle of the barke or rinde of a tree.
 Glubere pecus, to flea the skyn of a beaste.
 Glucidam, a sweete and delectable thyng.
 Gluchon, the herbe pulegium.
 Gluma, a, f. g. the huske of wheate.
 Gluo, glui, e. to streigne or wyngye harde.
 Gluten, tinis, & glutinum, i, n. g. giewe.
 Glutamentum, u, n. g. all glewyshe matter,
 as paste, and suche lyke.
 Glutinator, oris, m. g. one that gleweth.
 Glutino, aul, are, to glew, to ioygne, to foulder.
 Glutinosus, a, um, clammy, glewyshe.
 Glutro, tui, ire, to swalowe.
 Glutro vocem, to make a noyse in the throte.
 lyke a rauen, or as one were strangled, to rauel in the throte.
 Gluro, onis, m. g. a glutton.
 Glutus, a, um, knitted, compact, beaten or thrust harde together.
 Glyceiaton, licorise.
 Glycerium, ri, f. g. a womans name in Creece.
 Glyciamedides, a kynde of delicate meate.
 Glycea, orum, forces in the nose.
 Glycis ancon, the herbe abrotonum.
 Glycon, a mannes name in Thracia. Also the physician of Panfa the Romayne, which was suspected to haue poisoned his maister.
 Glycorhiza, lykorise.
 Glycisida, a, an herbe called a pionie.

C ANTE N.

G Naphalium, an herbe, whiche is also called Chamazelon, whose leaues are so whyte and softe, that they seme to be flore. Ph. lib. 27. cap. 10.
 Gnaphalos, idem quod Gnaphalium.
 Gnaphalon, a certayne flore.
 Gnaphheus, a certayne fish, called also Fullo.
 Barb. in Loxol.
 Gnaphos, a tessile, whiche tuckers or clothe woordes hers doo vse, also idem quod Gnaphalium.

 Gnarraut, and Gnarrauise, for Narraut, and Narrauise.
 Gnare, skylfully.
 Gnarias, a[ti]s, f. g. skylfulnesse, experyence,
 knowlage.
 Gnarter, for Gnare, wyttly.
 Gnarus, a, um, skylfull, knowyng, experte. Some tyme well knowne of percieued.
 Gnarus sum loci illius, I knowe that place well.
 Armorum ac militie gnarus, experte and skilled in feates of armes, & policies of warre.
 Nulli magis gnatum quam Neroni, to no man better knowne, than to Nero.
 Gnathos, a cheeke or iawe, wherof cometh the Parasites named Gnatho.
 Gnatus, ti, m. g. a soonne.
 Gnauiter, diligently, lustily, valiantly.
 Gnaus, a, um, quicke, lustie, actyue, apte to uery thyng.
 Gnefius, sei, m. g. the ryght angle, of meane bysnes, and of colour tauine. Ph. lib. 10. cap. 3.
 Gneus, the name of certayne noble Romaines.
 Gnide, a certayne fye called Vrtica, looke there.
 Gnidius, a, um, of the citee Gnidius.
 Gnidius, a citee of Lycia.
 Gnir, Gnirus, olde wyrters v[er]sed for gignir and nixus.
 Gnoma, a, f. g. an instrumente or rule to measure landes. also a sentence, an opinion.
 Gnomon, onis, m. g. the toothe, wherby the age of an hysle is knowne. it is also that, which sheweth the howres in a clocke or diall, also a rule to knowe any thyng by.
 Gnopholon, li, n. g. of some is taken for the herbe called caddewurte.
 Gnoro, for Noro.
 Gnoso, for Noso.
 Gnosis, gnosis, a woman of the citee Gnosor.
 Gnosis, Gnosis, and Gnosis, a, um, of the citee Gnosor.
 Gnosos, a citee in Landie.
 Gnostici, detestable heretikes, who on good frydaie, aboute the sonne sette, assembled men & yonge women together, not sparyng daughters nor wyffers. After nyne monethes past, they mette agayne in the same place, and then they plucked the childe newly borne from the mothers, and cutting them in p[ar]ces, and receyving the bloude in p[ar]ces and cups, they boyled the hodie into ashes, which they dyd mixe with the bloude, and p[re]ferred it to put into the mothers meates and wyffers. They also affirmed, that neither the lawe of nature, nor lawes made by men, were good, and that the vertues were nothyng.

Obeum, a towne in Fraunce, called Le four.
 Gobio, onis, and Gobius, bi, masc. gen.
 a goyeon.
 Gobrias, a noble Persian in the tyme of Darius.
 Gocia, a, f. g. gener. a spice of witchcraft, called also Theurgia.
 Gollas, a p[er]suant kynde of the Whilistians, whom Dauid, beyng yet a chylde, slew, whan
 the Jewes were astraye to fyghte with hym man for man. His stature was, as the Bible reherfeth. vi. cubites, and a spanne, which was
 f. fect, lachyn. iii. ynches, accomptynge it with the fect of men lypynge at that tyme, whiche undoubtedly were more than they be now.
 His habergeon weyghed fye thousande sicles, whiche is. ii. M. and .500. ounces. And the p[er]on of his speare, weyghed. 600. sicles, which is. 300. ounces: wherby his greatnesse and strength maye bee coniectured, to excede any man lypynge in this tyme.
 Gomor, is a measure of the Hebrewes, and is the tenth parte of Ephraim. Wherfore it conteyneth of our standerbe measure, nyne pynnes, an halfe pynne, a quarter, & about halfe an ounce.
 It is somtyme taken for as muche coyne as one maye receyue betwene his armes.
 Gomor, after Judea and Glarian, the tenth parte of Ephraim, and Ephraim is the same measure that Amphora, Amphora is .9. galons, so that Gomor is a galon and almost a pint.
 Gomorha, & Gomorrhum, a citee in Judea, whiche was consumed for horrible synne as gapest nature.
 Gonagra, gra, the goute in the knee.
 Gongylum, of Hippocrates and Galene is v[er]sed for a pill in medicine, and for the similitude thereof, it signifieth the rape roote, whiche is rounde, or rather newe of turnepe. It is also called of some Gongyles, or Gongylis, idis.
 Gonnus, a citee in the upper part of Thessaly.
 Gonorrha, a, f. g. a disease wherby a mannes seede goeth from hym vnwyttyngly, and they,
 which haue that disease, be called Gonorrhoei.
 Gordianus, the name of thre Emperours, the father, the sonne, and the nephewe.
 Gordium, the principall citee of Phrygia.
 Gordius, a poore housbande man of Phrygia, (hauing but two yoke of oxen) in the tyme of a sedition in the countrey, was by aunswere made of an Idolle, chosen kyng there. whan he came with his wayne, where the counsaile was kept, and beyng made kyng, and caus-senger the sedition to cease: He made his yokes to bee hanged by in the Temple of Jupiter, the cordes thereof beyng made in suche knowtes, that it seemed impossible to bee vnder-stood.
 Gorgias, a famous Rhetorician in the tyme of Socrates, who inuented the craft to dispute and aunswere sodeynely to euery question or matter, that was proposed in a continuall or tion: And by teachynge Rhetorike, became so ryche, that he was the first that dyd sette an ymage of gold in the temple of Apollo at Delphos. he beyng of age. 108. yeres, surmounted almoste all men of his tyme, in bodily strengthe, perfectnesse of senses, quyknesse of wyte, and stablesse of memoire.

 Gorgones, monstrous women, whiche were vauquished by Perseus.
 Gorgoneus, a, um, perteynyng to Gorgones.
 Gorgonia, a, f. g. coralle.
 Gorgonius, the name of a neately felowe in Thracia.
 Gorgophorus, a, um, that beareth the Gorgons, the surname of Pallas, because he had the head of Medusa prented in his shield.
 Gorogiton, a Troian.
 Gortina, or Gortys, a citee of Landie.
 Gortynus, a, um, of that citee.
 Gossampinus, ni, f. g. gen. a tree, whiche beareth cotton.
 Gossipium, ij, n. g. Idem. also the cotton of the same tree. crade Idem. lib. 29. cap. 1.
 Gothia, an yle by Denmarke called Gutlande, not farre from Norwaye.
 Gothi, people, of whom the first came out of Gutlande, vnto whom reioyced a great multitude of other people as wel out of the countreies now called Prussia, Liouonia, Russia, and Tartaria, as dyuers other partes, called somtyme Scy-thia: and makynge sundry hynges, dyd depopulate and byng in subiection the more parte of Europa, and finally destroyed Rome, and inhabited the parte of Italy, nowe called Lombardie: and by thewe subdued the royalmes of Castile and Aragon.

C ANTE R.

Rab, a fistula, or disease in the eye.
 Grabatus, bati, masc. generis, a poore mans couche. also a bed that men v[er]sed in the old tyme to take their ease vpon at after noone.
 Gracanus, a, um, of Gracchus.
 Gracchus, a citee of Italy.
 Gracchus, the name of a noble familie or house in Rome.
 Gracile, scelerdly.
 Gracilis, entis, idem quod Gracilis.
 Gracileco, scere, to wape or becom leane, then,
 or scelerdly.
 Gracilis, le, and Gracilentus, a, um, leane, sceler-der, thynne, small, p[re]cise.
 Gracilis liber, a thyn booke, that hath not muche paper.
 Gracilitas, a[ti]s, f. g. gen. leanness, scelerdnesse, softenesse.
 Gracilitudo, dinis, f. g. idem.
 Kk iij Gra-

Gracus, ci, & graculus, li, m. ge. a byrde called of some a Jape: but Erasmus in his adagies, so often as this worde Κολοι, doeth come in vs, both still translate it Graculus, and Aristotle maketh, iii. kindes of those birdes, whiche he calleth Κολοι, the description of the first, agreeth in all poyntes vnto the cornithe chough: the description of the second vnto our chough, properly called monedula, the third I know not: by the descriptions of Aristotle, I thinke nothinge lesse true, then that the Jape shulde be any of the three kindes of those birdes, whiche be called Graculi.

Graculo cum fidibus nihil, The Jape hath naught to doe with the harpe, spoken of theim, whiche lacking eloquence of good letters, dooe choise theim that haue good learnynge. And Graculus inter musas, an vnlearned amonge learned men, a chydishes talker amonge eloquent men.

Semper graculus asidet graculo, One knaue will kepe an other companie, one pratteler will be with an other, like will to like.

Gradarius, a, um, that aumblith.

Gradarij equi, aumblinyng horses.

Gradatim, in order, or by course, a lyttell and a lyttell, by litle, by degrees of steps.

Gradatim & pederentim.

Minutim & gradatim interrogare, To demaunde in diuers shorte questions, descendyng to the purpose by lyttell and lyttell.

Gradatim amicos habet, he hath diuers sortes of frendes, some that he letteth moze by than other some.

Gradatio, onis, form. gener. a fourme of speakhynge, whan of the first sentence spyngeth the seconde, of the seconde, the thyrde, and so forth.

Gradator, oris, m. ge. a great goer.

Gradatus, a, um, made with greces or steppes.

Gradiucola, one that worshippeth Mars.

Gradius, one of the names of Mars.

Gradior, gradioris, gradi, to goe by steppes, or to steppe, to walke.

Gratus, us, m. gen. a grieve or steppe, a degree in consanguinitie, a degree of estate of honour, or promotion, sometime an occasion of meane, a pace in goyng, a rounde in a ladder.

De gradu deici, To be caste downe from his place: wherby is signified to be abased or moued from constancie of mynde.

Deturbari gradu, hath the same significacion.

Gradu dimoueri, To be putte out of estimacion or authoritee.

Gradu moueri, to cause one to steppe backe, to make to recule or geue backe.

Pleno gradu tendere, to goe or marche forth a great pace.

Accelerare gradum, to go apace.

Ve adderent gradum, that they woulde make spede forwarde.

Adiuuare gradum baculo, to walke with a staffe.

Modico gradu ire, to go softly.

Facere gradum, to steppe also to make a meane or waie to any thyng.

Inferre gradum, to auance forward and to byppon enemies.

Gradum facere ad aliquam rem, To make an entree, waie, or begynnynge to a thyng.

Omni gradu amplissimo dignus, woorthye in alle hygh honour and aduancement.

Militia gradu deicere, to putte one out of the route that he is in, and make hym a common souldiour.

Gracianus, a, um, come out of Grece.

Græce, in greke.

Græce loqui, to speake greke.

Græcia, æ, form. gener. (the fountayne of science and doctrine, and nourse of eloquence) a great and famous cuntrye, conteynyng these noble regions, Epirus, Acarnania, Aetolia, Phocis, Locris, Achaia, Messenia, Laconia, Argos, Megaris, Attica, Boeotia, Doris, Phthia, Thessalia, Magnesia, Macedonia, & Thracia, All the whiche of late yeres were vnder the poke of Christis religion, and nowe alas, to the great discomfote of all pfecte christen men, are vnder the moste cruell subiection and seruitude of the great tyrant the Turke, and become barbarouse, leuyng in the beastly superstition of the fals prophet Mahomete.

Græciensis, se, of Grece, or comyng out of Grece.

Græcillo, are, to folowe the grekes.

Græcor, aris, ari, to ryotte in bankettyng and rybaudry.

Græcostasis, a place where ambassadours stode tyll they were sent forth into the senate.

Græculus, a, um, a diminutiue of Gracus.

Græcula rosa, a certayne rose, no bigger then a violet. Plin. li. 21. ca. 4.

Græcus, ci, m. g. a man boyme in Grece.

Græcus, a, um, of Grece.

Græca salix, redde willowe.

Ad Calendas græcas, a prouerbe, signifyng neuer.

Græuigena, æ, com. g. a greke.

Grælle, arum, crouches, styles, or staches.

Grællor, oris, m. gen. he that goeth on styles or staches.

Grællorior, a, um, the adiectiue.

Grællorior gradus, a great or longe stride, suche as one taketh that goeth on styles.

Gramen, graminis, neut. gener. grasse. Comes tyne all herbes together, the swarthe. also an herbe called Sanguinaria, Dactylon, of some Dens canis, of Dioscorides, Coronopus, that is to saie, crowes foote. It spredeth and groweth by knottes, and is moze pleasant to beastes, than any other herbe of grasse: some take take ditchwoort for the true grasse, but they are deceiued.

Gramia, æ, f. g. a fleume in the eyne.

Gramios oculi, eyes that be sore of that disease.

Gramma, ætis, n. g. a letter, also idem quod scrupulum vel scrupulum, a scruple, the xxiii. part of an ounce.

Gramineus, a, um, of grasse.

Graminifolius, a, um, growen with grasse or herbes.

Grammateus, trisyllabum, a chauncellour.

Grammatias, a, pæciouse stone, of the kynde of iaspis, hauing a rounde white circle about it.

Grammatica, æ, of Grammatices, es, fæ. gen. grammar.

Grammatica, orum, the studie or science of grammar.

Grammaticæ, an aduerbe, lyke a grammarian.

Grammaticæ loqui, to speake congruely.

Grammaticus, mal. ge. he that teacheth grammar, or expoundeth authoys, a profounde grammarian.

Grammaticus, a, um, perteynyng to grammar.

Grammatista, a, a smatterer in grammar, a meane grammarian.

Grammatocypion, phi, n. g. he that wyrteth on his knee.

Grammatophylacium, cii, n. g. a place where the records or common wyrtynnes be kepte.

Gramme, a length, without breadthe.

Grammum, ri, neu. gen. a gramme, wherein corn is kepte.

Granata, a roialme and citie in Spayne, ioyng bynge to the sea called Mare mediterraneum, whiche was vnder the subiection of the Moores yppre hundred yeres. At the last, by the great wyrtisme, polycie, and prowesse of Fernandis, and Elisabeth, of famous memoire, late bynge and queene of Spayne, was effectuously restored vnto Christendome, and the Moores expelled.

Granatum, i, n. g. a pomegranarde.

Granatus, a, um, that hath many cogues or kernels.

Malum granatum, a pome granarde.

Gradedale, arum, f. g. heares in the arme holes.

Grædatus, iust. g. great age, aunciente.

Grædatus, a, um, veray olde, aunciente.

Grædesco, scere, to waxe great, to growe.

Grædulus, a, diminutiue of Grædis.

Grædus, aui. are, to go away apace.

Grædiloquentia, æ, f. g. a stately eloquence.

Grædilocus, a, um, eloquent, he that speaketh as it were with a greatte magnificence in woordes.

Grædinatus, a, um, hurt or wounded with haile.

Grædino, aui. are, to haile, actuely.

Grædinofolius, a, um, full of haile.

Grædio, i, ire, to make great.

Grædis, de, auncient or great, of great value.

Grædis natu, well styken in yeres.

Græde as alienum, great debte.

Græde gaudium, great ioye and myght.

Grædis a tas, aunciente.

Grædis littera, a great capitall letter.

Genus dicendi grædus, a moze lofty and ample style.

Grædi pecunia mercari, to bye for a great summe of monie, to bye brayn deere.

Grædis natu, a veray aunciente or aged persone.

Grædior virgo, a maide of a good bigge stature.

Grædior homo, a well aged man.

Græditas, ætis, f. g. aboundaunce of yeres, aunciente.

Græditas verborum, amplenesse of woordes, bygh and lofty speakhynge.

Græditusculus, a, um, somewhat great, of a good stature or age.

Grædo, ius, f. g. haile.

Grænicus, ci, m. g. a ruier of Bithynia, at the whiche great Alexander ouerthrewe and put to flyght the power of Darius.

Grænum, i, n. g. graine or corne. also the. 506. parte of an ounce.

Græphædium, i, n. g. a case, wherein pensels were kept. it may be called a pennar.

Græphæia theca, idem.

Græphæ, es, f. g. caruyng in box, or other lyke thyng.

Græphæce, properly, well and cunnynge.

Græphicus, a, um, cunnynge, or perfectly wrought.

Græphicus homo, a proper man.

Græphis, græphidis, fæ. gen. the arte of portraiture, after Budeus, the description or desygnacon, or drawyng out of a woorde that is to be made.

Græphium, i, n. g. a penfell, wherewith men doe wyte in tables.

Græssatio, onis, robbynge.

Græssator, oris, m. g. he that by hygh waies lyeth in a wayte to robbe or sea men also an exhortacon.

Græssatura, æ, f. g. idem quod græssatio.

Græssonæ, stynkyng sauours about a bodie.

Græssor, aris, ari, to robbe or sea men passyng by the hygh waies. also to go or come on with a violent rage. Wherefore in a sodayn and violent pestilence, it is saied, Morbus græssatur, the sickness hyllith men in great numbres suddenly: and it is taken in the pill parte, or els in the good parte, and signifieth to goe earnestly to a thyng.

Ve in re hac uia græssaremur, that we myght also sayle the, or sette vpon the this way, or after this facion.

Ad gloriam virtutis uia græssatur, he contenteth to come to glory by vertue.

Græssari, sometime taken in the good parte for Procedere. Aut se iure græssari non videt, it, procedere, sometime to walke.

Gratunbus, a, um, and Gratus, antis, om.
g. geupng thanks, thankfull.
Grate, kyndely, thankfull, gratefully.
Grates, f. g. plur. thanks.
Agere grates alicui, to geue one thanks.
Gratia, a, f. g. grace, fauour, sometyme it signifieth thanks, a benefite, a rewarde, peace, or loue, cause of respecte, prayse, authoritee, fauour.
Mala gratia, signifieth displeasure.
Mea, tua, velleus gratia, for myne, thyne, or his sake.
Gratiam habere, to thanke, to bee myndefull of a benefite, to haue mynde to requyte a benefite.
Gratiam inire, to get thanke.
Ab eo gratiam hanc imbo, I will geat this thanke of him.
Gratiam referre aut reddere, to requyte or doe one good tourne for an other, or one displeasure for an other.
Ad gratiam, for fauour, or to please.
Si quid benefacias, leuior pluma est gratia, If ye doe theyn any pleasure, they haue lyttell or no consideration at all.
Componere gratiam, to make at one, to reconcile.
Gratiam facere delicti, to pardone an offence, to forgeue.
Petere gratiam ab aliquo, to aske pardon or forgeuenesse of one.
Petere gratiam alicuius, to desyre to haue or nes fauour and good will.
Apud Lentulum ponam te in gratiam, I will bynge you in fauour with Lentulus, or I will reconcile you to Lentulus, or make you at one with Lentulus.
Recipere in gratiam, to loue and take one into fauour agayne after some byrthe or disparoure.
Redire in gratiam, to bee at one, to be reconciled, to come agayne in fauour.
Restituere in gratiam, to byng in fauour agayne, to reconcile.
Redigere in gratiam aliquos, idem.
Remere, or tenere gratiam alicuius, to kepe ones selfe in a mans fauour, to kepe one his frende.
Gratias scribere, to geue thanks to one in wrytyng.
Cum illo magna est mihi gratia, He and I be grete frendes, or we bee nowe throughe reconciled.
Cum illo nulla est mihi gratia, He and I be not frendes, or he and I neuer loued together.
Tibi gratia est, I thanke you.
Ea gratia, for that cause.
Cupio gratiam tuam, I desyre to haue your fauour and good will.
Negligere gratiam alicuius, Not to passe whether he haue ones good will or not.

Insiurandi gratiam facere, to discharge or geue one of his othe.
Gratia, the graces, looke Charites.
Gratidia, the name of a woman of Naples in Voyages.
Gratificor, aris, ari, to gratify or dooe a thyng thankfull: or to confere a benefite, or to do a good tourne, to make one bounde to hym by dooing some pleasure.
Gratiam gratificari, to doo a pleasure.
Gratificatio, onis, f. g. a gratifying.
Gratioso, for fauour, cut opponitur Sordide, for bypocrites.
Gratiosus, a, um, verate thankfull. also in fauour of credite with the people, gentill, pleasant.
Gratiosa amissio, a bypocrite to departe, perished by vnlausfull fauour.
Apud omnes ordines gratiosus, in fauour, or well esteemed with all sortes of men.
Gratis, an aduerbe, betokenynge without rewarde, without desert, for nothyng.
Habitare gratis in alieno, to dwelle on an others mans ground without payng rent.
Seruire gratis, to serue without wages.
Gratis diligere virtutes, To loue vertues for theyr owne sakes, not for any aduantage or profite.
Gratuler, thankfull.
Gratitudo, dinis, f. g. kyndenesse.
Grator, aris, ari, to geue thanks to god without bynges. also to reioyce of good fortune. allowe speake a thyng thankfull.
Gratuito an aduerbe, signifyinge of good will, without benefite, freely.
Gratuitus, a, um, without rewarde, or bynged.
Gratuita amicitia est, frende shipp is a thyng that shoulde be without hope of recompence.
Innata est homini probitas quaedam gratia, There is ingendred in man, a certayne goodnesse or honestee, which is neyther allured with pleasures, nor byged with profite, but is free onely for the loue of vertue it selfe.
Mercenarius & gratuitus, contrary.
Gratulabundus, a, um, that dooeth reioyce or geue thanks.
Gratulatio, onis, f. g. sometyme it signifieth a reioyng of some good fortune happened to hym selfe, or to an other man. sometyme a geupng of thanks.
Gratulor, aris, ari, to make ioye, and to laie and testifie in wordes, that thou art gladd of the good fortune, either of an other man, or of thy selfe, to be glad of reioyce on ones behalfe.
Gratulor tibi, quod tam. &c. I am glad, that you. &c.
Gratulor mihi, cui hoc saculo. &c. I am glad on myne owne behalfe. &c.
Gratulor tibi istum magistratum, I am glad that you haue that office. A phewse, Gratulor tibi ob istum magistratum, and De isto magistratu. loui, ceterisque dijs gratulatum, to geue geue deuoute thanks vnto Jupiter and the other gods.

Tibi de hac tua felicitate gratulor, I am ioyous on thy behalfe of this prosperite that thou art in. Sometyme it signifieth to geue thanks vnto god, to praise or dooe our deuotion to god.
Aduentum gratulatur, They sated I was welcome, or that they were gladd of my comynge.
Gratulor tibi hanc rem, or Gratulor tibi in hoc, I am glad that this hath chaunced to you.
Gratus, a, um, that remembreth of recompence a good turne, agreeable, delectable, kynde, thankfull, pleasant, acceptable, taken in the good parte, in good grece.
Memor & gratus.
Gratum se prabere, to shewe ones selfe thanks full and kynde.
Gratissimum mihi feceris, you shall dooe me a great pleasure.
Gratum & optatum.
Gratum in cibo, fauour or pleasant in meate.
Gratum iucundo odore, pleasant with a delectable and sweete saueur.
Grato animo esse, to haue a thankfull and kynde mynde.
Gratullus, an auncient father.
Graue, & grauatum, greuouely, displeantly, peynfully, hardely, with an euill will.
Quam graue pater dedit, With what an euill will did my father geue it.
Id graue concessum est, That was hardely graued, and with an euill will.
Grauius, a, um, greued, boudreyned, troubled with the murre or distillation in the head. also he that doeth a thyng, as it were halfe agaynst his will.
Grauius somno, drousy for sleape, that he can scant holde up his head.
Grauius vulneribus, he that hath many sores or greuouous woundes.
Grauedinus, a, um, that hath an heauy heade, heauy or vnusy, disposed to do nothyng, that hath the murre or pose, or that causeth it.
Graudo, uclinis, f. g. heauynesse, greffe, distaste, also the murre or icume of the head.
Grauoleis, lentis, that hath a very yll saueur.
Grauoleia, a, f. g. gen. synche or synhyngge souore.
Onis grauolentia, a stynkyng breath.
Grauelo, scere, to be loded or boudreyned, to be heauy.
Indies valerudo grauescit, he is euery daye sicker and sicker, he waxeth euery daie worse and worse.
Nal's publicis indies grauescentibus, The great puelis and mischours in the commune weale wryng daely more and more.
Grauicors, cordis, he that hath a great herte.
Grauidus, aris, f. g. greauesse with chylde, or with young.

Grauido, aris, are, to geat a woman with childe.
Grauidus, a, um, great with childe, or with young.
Grauida mulier, a woman with a childe.
Grauidam facere mulierem, to geat a woman with childe.
Grauida est Pamphilo, she is great with childe by Pamphilo.
Grauiloquus, he that speaketh grauely and feris outely.
Grautonarium, a citee in Almayne called Wansbergh.
Grauis, heauy, greuouous, peynfull, sore. sometyme substantiall, weightie, of great wright or importance, graue, or haupnge grautee, sage, discrete, contrary to lichte or wanton. also great or puissant. sometyme olde or aged, sure or constant, plentifulle or full also stynhyngge, haupnge a stronge fauour or ple aspe, sometyme difficile and harde.
Terra grauis, lande loded with cothe.
Grauis nuncius, One that byngeth heauy by bynges.
Graue precium, an high pryce.
Grauis annis miles, an aunciente and aged souldiour.
Grauis senecta, impotent for age.
Graui teste priuatus sum amoris erga te meli, I haue lost a substantiall witness of my loue towards the.
Grauis Marte, great with chylde by Mars.
Morbo grauis, feeble and sapte with the sickness.
Quanto tuus est animus nau grauior, tanto sitignoscatur, The more graue, sage, and discrete your wysdome is, by reason of your age, so much the more ready let the same bee, to forgeue and pardon.
Grauis vinctis, laded with yrons and fetters.
Grauis somno, so heauy and drousy, that he can scant holde up his head for sleape.
Grauis vulneribus, sore wounded.
Grauis vicio, great with chylde.
Graue absinthium, wormewood betay bitter, and vnpleasant in taste.
Grauis aduersarius, a sore and dreadfull enemy.
Aes graue, wedges or ingottes of golde or syluer.
Grauis annona, dearth of corne.
Grauis armatura, a complet harness, contrary to Lewis armatura.
Grauis author, a substantiall autho of good authoritee.
Grauis halitus, a strong or stynkyng breathe.
Imperium graue & stabile, a pryce or durable rule of imperie.
Grauis manus, a hande, full of money, or some other thyng.
Grauis paupertas, great neede, extreme pouertes.
Graues remis, great and mighty oyes.
Grauis senectus, peynfull olde age.
Grauis supellex, goodlye and ryche stuffe of houles householde.

Veretor, ne tibi sim grauis, I feare least I trow ble you.Grauius-erituum vnum verbum quam centum mea, You shall doo more with one worde, than I shall with an hundred: Or one worde of your mouth shall more p[er]cuaye, than an hundred of myne.Hac dum incipias, grauia sunt, These thynges be harde tyll a man hath ones begun them.Grauissimum anni tempus, the most daungesrous and perillous tyme of the yere.Non dum audisti, quod est grauissimum, you haue not yet heard the greatest matter, or that is mosste heynous or greuouse.

Grauis odor, a stronge sauour.

Oratio grauis, graue or discrete wordes.

Grauis sonus, a base or lowe sowne.

Grauissima sunt, ad. &c. they are of veraye great efficacie, to &c.

Grauiscæ, a castell of the Tuscans.

Grauitas, âtis, f. g. grauitce, authoritee, sageneffe, discretenesse of mynde, w[is]domynesse, heauynesse, also the greuousenesse or greatenesse of a thyng.

Grauitas odoris, the strongnesse of sauour.

Grauitas doloris, the greatenesse of sorowe or payne.Grauitas audiendi, auditus, & aurium, dulnesse in hearyng.

Grauitas cœli, the vnpleasantesse of the ayre.

Grauitas oris, a styngyng breath.

Grauter, & graue, greuousely, painfully, heauyly, substantially, muche w[is]ely, sabbely.

Grauter accipere, to take dyspleasantly.

Grauissime agrotare, to be veraye sore sicke.

Grauter crepuerunt fores, the doores made a great creakyng of noyse.Nimis grauter cruciat adolescentulum, He bereth the pooze ponge man to soze.Grauter in aiquem dicere, to speake sharpe-ly and rygorously agaynst one.Grauter aliquid facere, to dooe a thyng dis-cretely and w[is]ely.

Grauter increpare, to chide or rebuke sharply.

Grauter irasci, to be veraye angry.

Grauter &amp; acutè sonare, contrary.

Grauter dissentiant inter se, they are at great disorde and varpaunce betwene them selues.

Grauter spirare, to haue a stronge sauour.

Grauisculus, a, um, the diminutiue of grauis.

Grauo, aui, are, to greue or burdeine, to lode.

Grauor, âris, ari, to be greued, or to take grees nouely, to be lothe to dooe a thyng.Quæ si quis grauibitur, whiche thyng if any man be discontented or displeased with.Gregalis, le, of the same flocke or company, of the common sorte.

Gregales iui, thy companions.

Gregarius, a, um, of the common flocke or sorte.

Gregarius canis, a curie dogge.

Gregarius miles, a souldiour taken at a bemature, not chosen, a common souldiour, of small estimation.Gregarius pastor, the cheif shep[er]de, whiche hath the charge of the hole flocke.

Gregatim, in sundry flockes or companies.

Gremiale, lis, n. g. an apron.

Gremium, i, n. g. the space betwene the two thighes, specially of a woman.

Gressibile, lis, n. g. apte to goe.

Gressus, us, m. g. a steppe or goyng.

Superbus gressus, a proude or stately manere in goyng.

Gressus, a, um, that goeth.

Grex, egis, m. g. a flocke, a route or company, a bende of men.

Grex hominum, a companie of men.

Dux gregis, a bull.

Grex equarum, a herde of maaces.

Grillus, looke Gryllus.

Griphus, i, m. g. a nette, a riddle, an intricate or darke sentence, harde to be adioled.

Gronii, people of Spayne.

Grossapina, a, f. g. cotton.

Grossulus, li, mal. gen. a lyttell fygge, that is not rype.

Grossus, i, m. g. a greene fygge.

Grossus, a, um, great, grosse.

Graua, n[is], f. g. herbe Robert.

Gruma, a, f. g. a mydde place, from whence goe the waies. Also a thyng, wherewith grounde is measured.

Grumulus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Grumus.

Grumus, i, m. g. a barrowe or hillocke.

Grundio, and grunnio, iut, nii, ire, to grunte lyke
swyne.

Grunnius, us, m. g. a gruntyng of a swyne.

Gruo, grui, ere, to cpe lyke a crane.

Gruis, m. g. a crane.

Grillus, i, m. g. a beate more than a grasshop, whiche desitropeth cozne, Grillus, is also Xesnophons sonne.

Gryneus, a, um, of Grynia.

Grynia, a towne of Aetolia, in the borders of Thonia.Gryps, gryphis, or Gryphus, phi, m. g. a gresse or gryphon.Grypus, i, m. g. he that hath an hooked nose lyke an haukes byll.

Guaiacum, a tree growyng in the p[ar]- tiewe founden, the one called Cortezan, the other Hispaniola, whiche be not far from the equinoctiall lyne, whiche tree is in the toppes full of branches, the leaues beare small, and mercuriallous grene: it beareth fruite of the quantitee of a sylberde nut, haunge with in it a kernell, and withoute a thynne shale.
There is of this tree thre kyndes. The wood

wood of the one is hard & heuy, with in blacke, without pale coloured, haung lyne somewhat rustie. The other is somewhat whiter without, but blacke within, not in so great a compass. The thyrde is white within and without, haung beare small lyne. This wood boyled in water hath beene founde an excellent remedy agaynst the frenche poches, and also the goute.

Gubernaculum, li, n. gene. the sterne or rother of a shyppe, and by transacion the gouernance of a common weale.

Gubernacula reipublicæ tenere, to haue the rule or gouernance of the common weale.

Accedere ad gubernacula reipublicæ, to comto beare a rule in the common weale.

Deicere senatum a gubernaculis reipublicæ, to put the senate from the gouernance of the common weale.

Sedere omni tempore ad gubernacula reipu-blicæ, to be alwaies occupied in the gouernance of the common weale.

Gubernatio, ônis, f. g. the gouernyng of a shyp,
the rulyng of a common weale.

Gubernator, ôris, m. gene. a mapster of a shyp,
also a gouernour of a countreie, a ruler.

Gubernatrix, icis, the feminine.

Guberno, aui, are, to gouerne, to rule.

Gueffell, beastes lyke to muse, whiche haue their dong as swete as muske.

Gula, a, f. gene. the gullette or wep[er]lande, some-tyme gluttonye.

Gula folis, the nose of the bellows, where the wynde cometh out.

Gulocæ, the greene shales of walnattes.

Gulose, gluttonously.

Gulosis, a, um, gluttonous.

Gulosis lector, one that hath redde muche.

Guminatus, a, um, dyed with gum or rosen.

Gummatæ arbores, trees that byng footye gumme.

Gummi, neu. gene. vndeclined, gumme whiche dyppeth from trees.

Gumminum, oyle made of gumme.

Gummitio, ônis, f. g. annoynting with gumme.

Gummolus, a, um, that hath muche gumme.

Gardi, orum, foolcs.

Gurges, ius, m. ge. a swalowe or depe pitte in a waier, or a goulfe. sometyme the streame. some-tyme the perillous daunger of the sea. By traslation, a nauyghy and wycked person, haung in hym as it were an hole sea of mischefe.

Gurges caruleus, the sea.

Gurgio, aui, are, to swalowe or deuoure.

Gurgilio, ônis, m. ge. the gullie or gargill of the throte bolle. It is also a woyme that bydereth in garner, and eateth by cozne.

Gurgustolum, li, n. g. a littell cabyn or cotage.

Gurgustium, i, n. gen. a darke and vile habitas-tion, a cabyn or cotage.

Gustatorium, i, neu. gener. a place where men were wonte to banquet.

Gustatus, us, m. ge. taste.

Gusto, aui, are, to taste, to haue a lyttell knowl-lage or experience in a thyng.Primis labris gustare, to tast or wete the lippes a littell, to haue a littell smache or sauour of a thyng.Gustare eius sermonem volo, I will heate
what he will saie.

Gustus, us, m. ge. taste.

Veræ laudis gustum non habent, They haue no smache or taste of trewe p[re]p[ar]e and com-mendacion.

Gutta, a, f. ge. a droppe.

Guttatim, by droppes, one by one after an other.

Guttatus, a, um, that hath as it wer drops in it.

Guttans, âtis, om. ge. that droppeeth awaie.

Guttulus, li, m. ge. a littell cruet or lyke thyng.

Guttur, âris, n. ge. the throte.

Gutturulus, a, um, that hath a swollen throte.

Gutturium, nij, n. ge. a lauer or pewer.

Guttus, i, m. ge. a cruet or other lyke thyng, out of the whiche lyoure is poured dypping. also an oyle vessell.

Gyarus, i, or Gyara, a, looke Giarus.

Gyas, the name of a Troiane.

Gygæus, a lake of Lydie.

Gygæmonius, a littell hyl not far from Chersaly.

Gyges, the sonne of Dactylus, one of the seruau-tes of Landaules, kyng of Lydia (as Herodotus writeth) or his companion (as Croesus reherceth) was also kyng of Lydia, by this meanes. Landaules had a wyfe, whom for the inozdinate loue he bare to hir, he suppoled to be the fayrest woman luyng. On a tyme he prapled his wyces beautesse vnto Gyges, ad-dyng therto, that he moughte the better beleue hym, he would cause hym to see hir naked. But Gyges refused, dissuadyng as muche as he could Landaules fro that folly, with right wise exhortacions. But Landaules obstinately per-sistyng in his follye fantasie, dyd set Gyges in a secreete place, where he behelde his wyfe naked goyng to bedde. And as Gyges departed, the lady behelde hym. And finally the mattie disclosed vnto hir by hir husbände, she wended to be reuenged. For in that countrey it was an intollicrable reproche to a man or woman, to bee seene naked. wherfore calling vnto hir such of hir seruantes, as she specially trusted, she sent for Gyges: who beyng come, she purposed vnto hym this elccion, cyther he hym selfe to be slayne, or elles to prompse to slea Landaules, and take hir to his wyfe, and the realme with
hir. whiche he abhorryng, and a good whyle resistyng, with sundry p[er]suasions, at the laste he chose, rather than to dye hym selfe, to slea Landaules, as he dyd lypg in his bed, by the meanes of the queene, whom he tooke to his wyfe.

A, an interfection of chaff syng of warping, that thyng should not be done.
Habena, a, f. g. the rayne of a byddell, somer tyme
significth power of rule.
Habenas adducere, to holde streite the byddell.

Habenas remittere, to slacke the byddell.
Laxissimas habere habenas, to haue the byddell at wille.

Tradere habenas alicui, to committe to one the authoryte to rule or gouerne.

Rerum habena traduntur Hadrubali, the gouernance of rule of the commune weale, was committed to Hadruball.

Habenuia, a, f. g. a littell rayne of a byddell.

Habenuia, a, f. g. was used of olde wyters, for the haupng of a thyng.

Habeo, es, ui, ere, to haue, to holde, to possesse, to occupie, to esteeme or suppose, to alle, to dwelle, to handell or intreate well or yll, cruelly or gently. Also for seruare, to kepe diligently.

Habere, is often tymes used with aduerbes, whiche beynge spoken by a nowne substantiue, shoulde be the datiu case. As Negligenter habere parentes, for Neglectui, to be the parentes negligently. So Humaniter habere, for Humaniter tractare. Communiter res habere, for Rerum communionem habere. Habere, for Inuenisse. Spero me habere, qui hunc meo extruciem modo, I thinke I haue found a waie to bere him and anger euery bygne in his herte, euen as I will my selfe.

Habeo audire, I can here, or rather I must here. Habeo policeri, I can promise, or I must promise.

Haberi aliquo numero, to be had in some estimation.

Clodij animum perspectum habeo, I knowe of I perceiue ryght well what Clodius intendeth. Habere bene seu male, to do of prosperously well or yll, to be in good health.

Bene habet, it is well.

Male me habet, it greuethe me.

Habere concionem, to preache, to declare a thyng to the people.

Habere eum arcte, he kepeth hym thort of from libertee, he holdeth hym streite.

Fortunas suas venales habuit, he solde all his gooddes.

Frustra habere, to be deceyved.

Habere frustra, he is disappoynted.

Habere gratiam, to thanke. It is properly in the mynde, when we remembre suche benefices as we haue receyued, and haue a good will to requite the same agayne.

Sat habeo, I desyre no more.

In custodijs haberi, to be kepte in prison.

Habere obuia, to encounter or meete with one.

Pensui habere, to take hede.

Prorsus

wife, and was kyng of Lybia. Plato lib. 2. de iusto, telleth, that Gyges had a ryng, of such vertue, that when the broder parte therof was tourned to the palme of his hâde, he was scene of no man, but he myght see all thynges: And when he tourned the ring on the contrary parte, he was hym selfe scene openly. by the means wherof he slewe Ladaules, and committed adultery with his wife. There was also an other Gyges, a great gyant, & brother of Briareus. Gymnas, adis, f. g. exercise. Gymnasiarchus, i, o, Gymnasiarcha, a, m. g. the chiefe master of a schoule or place of exercise, the principall of a hall, & head of a hall or colledge. Gymnasium, i, j, neu g. a place where is common exercise of the body. somtyme a schoole house, a colledge or hall, suche as be in the vniuersities. Gymnastes, he that teacheth chylderne to exercise them in wastlyng, or other lyke. Gymnasticus, o, Gymnicus, a, um, belonging to exercise. Gymnastium, the acte of exercise. Gymnisti ludi, plaies exercised naked. Gymnos, signifieth naked. Gynosophista, philosophers of Inde, whiche went alwaies naked. Gymnus, a beast, whiche cometh of an hofse and an asse mare. Gyndes, a great riuer of Agypta, which Lyxus caused to be diuided into xlii. chanelles or streames. Gynaconis, that parte of the house, whiche serueth onely for women. Gynaconomus, the grekes called hym, that in olde tyme had the charge, to ouersee the number of guesstes at feastes. Gynaprius, i, m. ge. a great louer of women, an amorous person. Gynacanthé, vitis alba. Gynacarij, they, whiche beynge in a house together with women, after cloath is made, doe cleense it, and cut of the knottes of the thynges. Gynacéum, a nourcery, or secreete place, where women onely doo abyde. Gypsatus, a, um, plastered. Gypsate inanus, in Ciceros epistle of his tenth booke to Trebatius, is taken after some interpretours for white handes, or after some for deceiptfull or crafty handes. Gypso, aui, are, to plaster. Gypsum, i, n. g. plaster. Gyraus, turned rounde. Gyrius, i, m. g. a tadpole. Gyro, aui, are, to compass, or go in circuite. Gyros, i, m. g. a circuite of compass. Agere gyros, to turne rounde, or to renne rounde, as a hofse doth in a carriere. Ducere in gyrum rationis, to bypunge with in the compass of reason. Gytheum, a towne, whiche Hercules and Apollo buylded together, and the inhabitants of the same towne be called Gythicates.

Prorsus neque facere, neque dicere quicquam pensui habebat, he cared not what he did, nor what he spake.

Principatum habere, to be more excellent.

Habere questum rempublicam, to minister the weale publicke for his owne profite.

Habere delectum, to muster, and take vp men for the warre.

Habere rationem, to haue regarde of consyderation.

Habere rationem cum terra, to labour the earth, so to bee occupied in manuring and tilling of the grounde.

Res ita se habet, the thyng is at this poynt, the matter is in this case.

Habere rem cum muliere, to meddell with a woman.

Habere rem cum aduersario, to contende.

Semunditer habere, to bee cleanly.

Sermonem habere, to common or deuise.

Habeo tibi fidem, I beleue the, I trust the.

Nunquam secus habui illam, atque si me ex natura esset, I neuer intreated hit otherwyle, than yf she had been myne owne naturall daughter.

Parce ac duriter se habere, to lye spatynge and hardely.

Nimium te habui delicatum, I haue brought the to to soft, I haue made to muche of the.

Agere habet, he is displeased or discontented.

Habere eos commus, they are a flea, e.

Habere in tenebris, to kepe in a darke house.

Hic habet, he dwelleth here.

Habeo dicere, I can saie somewhat.

Hechabui de amicitia dicenda, This muche I had to saie concerning amitee and frendship.

Sicut plerumq mortaliu habentur, as it chaunceth most commonly amongst men.

Respondendum habeo, I must answer. Lphee Precipiendum habeo, I must answer. Lphee Precipiendum, tolerandum, dicendum habeo. Deporatum habere, to haue caried away.

Acerbum habuimus Curionem, Curio was verye sore agaynst vs.

Habere admissionem, The thyng is wont to be fult.

Habere statem, to leade ones lyfe. Also to bee of good age.

Bene habere statem, to lye pleasantly.

Bonum habere animum, bee of good chere.

Habere in animo, to thynke, to intende, to purpose, to be mynded.

Dicebat se nigra habere annos, He saied he was thynke of olde.

Anxium habere, This thyng vereth or troubleth me, or maketh me carefull & pensive.

Quos nos atomos habent, which thynges make us atomed.

Quos auctores habet, whiche authoures he hath folowe.

Belle habere se, to be merce and in good helthe.

Bonum ciuem illum semper habuit, he founde hym alway a ryght good citizen.

Bonum caelum locus habet, the place standeth in an holosome ayre.

Habere castra, to campe.

Nullam mei cogitationem habuit, He neuer thought on me, he had no regarde to me at all.

Compertum habere, to knowe surely, to haue sure pfoofe of a thyng.

Habere consilium, to consult, to hold a counsell.

Ne quem consilium suorum haberet, that none of his companions should knowe it.

Vt intrantium exequiumque conspectum habere, that he maie see them that go in and out.

Certa non habere cum aliquo, to contende or strue with one. Likewise Habere controuersiam and contentionem.

Constitutum habere, to haue throughtly deteremined.

Conuiuium habere, to kepe a fcaste.

Meam culpam habeto, Blame me, laye the faute on me.

Curā rem aliquam habere, to take good hede of a thyng.

Cursum secundum naues habuere, the shippes had prosperous sayling.

In delitijs habere, to loue one tenderly, to make one his desyng, to bypunge vp wantonly.

Derelictu habere, to neglecte, to take no hede of a thyng.

Despicatum, and despectui habere, to despise, to contemne, to sette naught by.

De Casare satis hoc tempore habeo dictum, I haue spoken sufficiently of Cesar, for this tyme.

Dignum me habuit, he thought me worthy.

Habeat me ipsum sibi documentum, Acet hym take me for an example, or let hym take an example of me.

Habet dolorem capitis, His head aketh, he hath the head ache.

Pro haud dubio habitum est, it was thought for a suretee, or they thought surely.

Habet effigiem, he is lyke.

Expertem consiliorum omnium illum habebat, He made hym priue to nothyng: or he keppe secreete from hym all that euer he intended or wente aboute.

Habui excusationem, I clered, or I excused my selfe. Habere fidem apud aliquem, to be in credite with one.

Habere fidem alicui, to beleue, to truste.

Gratissimum habent, They delecte greatly, they haue a great pleasure.

Quod apud alios gratiam habet, whiche thyng to some is acceptable and pleasaunt, or pleascly some well.

Habere honorem alicui, to honoz, to reuerence one. Habere honorem, he hath attenyed the office or adauncement.

Hebere honore, for In honore, to haue in estimation or reuerence.

Infestum habere, to vere, to trouble.

Immunitatem omnium rerum habent, they be shara charged with nothing.

Impune habere, to escape quite.

Iter hac habui, my iourneye late this waie.

Nullo loco habere, to set naught by.

Vthodie diem luculente habeamus, That we maie this daie be mery and make good chere.

Habere ludibrio, to mocke, to thorne.

In magno negotio habuit, he endeouored of las-toured earnestly.

Ad manum habere, to haue in a redynesse.

In manibus, and sub manu habere, to haue in hande.

In matrimonio habere, to marie.

Sit ita me habeam, if I were in that case.

Hoc male habet virum, this greuethe the man, of gryeth hym by the stomache.

Quæ te nunc habet sollicitudo? what is it that maketh you so heauy or carefull?

Nulum momentum habere, to be of no weyght or importance, to helpe nothing to the purpose.

Habeo hunc morem, of hoc moris, this is my fas-cion or custome.

Eius naturam habet, he is of his nature, he is lyke to him.

Notam impudentiæ habere, to be noted for an impudent persone.

Habui numerum sedulo, I remembred well the numbre.

Offensionem habet, it dooth displease.

Odium in aliquem habere, and odio habere as liquem, to hate.

In ore habere, to speake ostentymen, or muche of a thyng or persone.

Habere religioni, to make conscience, to make scrupulous.

Scis quo modo tibi res habet? wilt thou knowe howe the matier standeth with ther? doost thou knowe howe thou shalt be handled?

Parum habuit hoc fecere, he thoughte it but a small thyng or lyght matier this to doo.

Nihil secretum alter ab altero habebant, They kepte nothing secreete the one from the other.

Sic habeto, perswade your mynde thus, bee pos-sure of this, or knowe you this for a surete.

Sic habet sine, put the case, or suppose it so to be.

Sub signo habere, to kepe safe, as it were vnder locke and keie.

Omnes sollicitos habui, I had all my householdes or meyn, as busy as coude be.

Studiò ne id tibi habet? doost he that of purpose
doe for the nones?

Hoc tu tecum tacito habeto, keepe this secreete to thy selfe, and tell it to no man.

Habeo tibi res solutas, I haue paid the.

Habe tibi, take it to the.

Vacationem mihi habere, to make a respite of warre.

Bene habent tibi principia, thou hast a good begynnyng, thy begynnyng goeth well forwarde.

Habesit, of olde wyrters wryd for Habcat, Habessus, a citee of Aycia.

Habilis, le, fete, apte, handfom, nefe, conuenient.
Habilis ensis, an handsome sword.

Habilis locus pandendis rebus, a fete place to lape or spreade their nettes in.

Habilis frumentis terra, a grounde of foyle
apte to beare corne.

Habile cundendo ferrum, yron meete to be beaten and knocked with an hamer, as when it is well bet in the forge.

Habilior, the comparatyue, more able or mite,
Habilis, ætis, f. g. ablenesse, fittenesse, apte-nesse, handfomenesse.

Habitabilis, le, that maie be inhabited.

Habitaculum, it. n. g. and Habitarium, oris, f. g.
a dwelling place of habitation.

Habitior, oris, more coporate, in better plyght or lyghng, more full of fleshe, rounder, more plumme.

Est paulo habitior, he is somewhat fat, rounder or in good lyghng.

Habitatio, oris, f. g. habytacion, dwellingng.

Habitator, oris, m. g. a dweller and byder in a place, an inhabitante.

Habitio, aut, are, to dwell.

Grauius increpuit tanti censorem habitare,
he blamed sharply, that a censoure shoulde dwell in to coostly an house, or in an house of so great rent.

Triginta aureis dixisti eum habitare, You said that the house, wherein he dwelleth, costeth
xxx. crownes: or that he payeth. xxx. crownes for his house rent.

Bene habitare, to dwell in a comodious place.

Habitare laxè & magnificè, to dwell in a sumptuous and great house.

Qui in foro habitant, whyche doo none other thyng, but continually pleade matters in the common place.

Tecum habita, dwell at home, lyue at thyne owne coste or charge.

Habitare ad occasum, to dwell towards the weste.

Quorum in vultu habitant oculi mei, whose countenances I doo continually beholde.

Habitus, rudinis, f. g. the state, plyght, or lyghng of a body.

Habitus corporis, the plyght or lyghng of the body.

Gracilis habitus, the slender state of the be-
dy. Tenuis habitus, spare or leane state.

Quæ habitus est corporis? howe rounde or state, or in howe good state or lyghng is my body?

Habitus, us, m. g. the fourme or state or disposition of the bodie. Sometyme of other thynges, also apparayle, the facion of countenance of
a man.

Lugubri habitu venerat, he came arrayed in mourning apparayle. Also it signifieth a pios pyete or qualite, which a man hath conserued by education, longe exercise or custome.

Habitus

Habitus loci, the situation of a place.

Habitus verborum, the garnysshng of wordes.

Habitu aliquo se augustinorem facere, to make hym selfe more honorable with some kynde of apparayle or ornamente.

Permutare habitum cum aliquo, to chaunge apparell with one.

Residere in malum habitum, to fall or turne to an ill state or disposition of the bodie.

Habitus, a, um, had, rompted.

Habita est semper eius soror, she was alwaies taken to be her sister.

Vipatrem tuum vidi esse habitum, As farre as I coude perceyue by the facion of your father.

Habitus est tibi hic honor, Thou hast this rewarde or promotion geuen the.

Duro imperio habitus, ouer roughly or cruelly handled.

Habitus magnæ autoritatis, greatly esteemed, or in great reputation.

Abraham, is interpreted father of many byuers people.

Hac, byher: sometyne by this place, this way.

Ita nunc hac, an illac eam, sum incerta consilii, Now whether I maie goe this waie or that waie, I am uncertayne.

Hac non alia successit aggrediamur via, this way it cometh not to passe, leat vs nowe assaye an other facion.

Haciter est, my iourneie lyeth this waie.

Hactenus, byhereto, so muche, to this tyme.

Sed hac hactenus, but this much haue we spoken of the matier.

Hadamitani, people of Sicilie.

Hadria, a, f. g. a citee of Italy on the sea syde, by the which the sea betwene Italye and Sla-uonie, was named Mare Hadriaticum.

Hadria, a, m. ge. a bosome or gulfe of the sea, or the sea it selfe, called Hadriaticum.

Hadrianopolis, a citee of Thracia.

Hadrianus, a noble emperour, in all sciences excellently learned, he was after Christis incars-nation. lxx. yeres, and reigned. xxi. yeres.

Hadrobolum, li, n. g. a kynde of sweete smellyng gumme that groweth in Media.

Habudes, are fine ples beyonde Scotlande. it.
dates saylyng.

Hadera, looke Hedera.

Hederatus, a, um, looke Hederatus.

Hedile, or Hædile, li, neu. g. a stable, wherein hiddes be kepte.

Hædillus, li, m. g. a littell hidde.

Hædinus, a, um, of a hidde.

Hædina caro, hiddes fleshe.

Hædii, people of Fraunce, whyche bee now called Burgonions, and Burbonoffes.

Hædulus, li, m. g. a littell hidde.

Hædus, or Hædus, i, m. g. a hidde.

Hædi, be also certayne sterres.

Hæholæ, a kynde of excellent grapes, of colour

betwene purple and blacke.

Hamogogon, the Dionie.

Hæmacæres, a stone of a bluddy colour.

Hæmanthinum vitrum, a kynde of glasse.

Hæmarites, a, m. gen. the sanguinarie or bloud stone, whyche beeyng rubbed, will bleede.

Hæmodes, an hyll of Aycia.

Hæmon, a Thiebane.

Hæmonia, the countreie called Thessalia.

Hæmorragia, a discaise muche lyke the Emor-roides, but somewhat differing from it.

Hæmorrhoia, a, f. g. idem quod Hæmorrhois.

Hæmorrhois, roidis, f. m. gen. a discaise in the fundement, like teates or wartes, out of the whyche issueth bloude called Emorroides or pis-les. also a serpent, of whom if a man be stry-ken, he bleedeth to death.

Hæmus, looke Aemus.

Harba, looke Herba.

Harbaceus, a, um, looke Herbaceus.

Harbarius, looke Herbarius.

Harbesco, scere, looke Herbesco,

Hærbidus, a, um, & Harbosus, a, um, looke

Herbidus, & Herbosus.

Hæredium, dioli, neut. gene. a diminutiue of Hæredium.

Hæredipeta, dipeta, m. g. a crauer of gooddes, flatteryn men to be their hepye.

Hæreditarius, a, um, pertynyng to inheritance, or that cometh by inheritance.

Bona hæreditaria, gooddis whyche doo come by inheritance.

Hæreditarium nomen, comyng by succession.

Hæreditas, ætis, f. m. gen. inheritance or succession.

Hæreditas caduca, lande fallen by exchete to the lord, of whom it is holden.

Hærediatem adire, to take possession of his inheritance.

Hærediatem auertere, auferre, eiipere, de-torquere, To geat ones inheritance wyong-fully from hym.

Hæredium, dii, n. ge. lande, wherein a man hath a state of inheritance, or rather a littell ferme, manour, or piece of grounde.

Hæreo, si, ère, to cleaue or sticke to a thyng. som-tyme to doubt, to stoppe or bee at a staye, to styeke in the bypers, wha one can not dispatche or rydde hym selfe of a busynesse.

Hæret in te omnis culpa, All the blame is put in the: or all the blame is layed on thy necke, or resteth in the.

Peri, lingua hæret metu, Blas that euet I was boyn, my tounge is tyed; or I can not speake for feare. likewise Vox faucibus hæret.

In complexu alicuius hære, to hange vpon
one imbracyng hym.

Hære in equo, to spt on the horsebacke.

Pugnis in mala hæreat, Leat thy fyt lyghte on his cheke, or geue hym a boie on the eare.

Hærens in terga Romanus, The Romayne sould

Souldiours pursuynge theym harde at theyr backes.
Sed illud nobis hæreat, But lent vs haue this alwaie in mynde.
Peccatum hæret in eo, the faute of blame res
teth in hym.
Hæret Gneo Pompeio, he cleaueth to Cneius Pompeius parte.
Hæret in salebra oratio, by transaction whan one stoppeth and can go no further.
Hæret apud meretricem, to loue an harlotte so inordinately, that he can not bee out of hie company.
Vthaream in aliqua parte apud illam, That I maie be an hanger on in one parte of other with hir.
Hæreat nebulo, The knaue was in doubte, and coulde not tell what to saie.
Hæret hæc res, this matter is in a perplexi tee, of stycketh in the byres.
Hæres, edis, com. ge. an heppe, of he that succes deth one in his landes of gooddes.
Hæredem scribere, to make one heppe by tes tament.
Hæredes secundi, heppes in remainder.
Hæredem instituire ex deunce, to make one heppe of a leuen partes of his gooddes.
Hæresco, scere, to stycke faste, of be thyust in.
Hæresiarhes, an archheretike.
Hæresis, is, for. ge. a sect, an heresy, a fygine opi nion either in good or ill.
Hæreticus, ci, m. g. an heretike.
Hæsitatio, onis, f. g. doubt.
Hæsitantia, æ, f. g. idem.
Hæsitantia lingua, stuttyng.
Hæsitator, oris, in. ge. he that doubteth of wot
teth not what to dooe.
Hæsitico, aui, are, to stycke in, to doubt, to feare, to gagger.
Hæsitare lingua, to stammer or stutte.
Hæsitare inter latinā & grecā, to wauer, of to be in aammering betwene gladnesse & feare.
Hæsitare & cunctari.
In eodem ludo hæsitās, prouerbially, thou art in the same daungier that I am, of thou art as much troubled of wrappd in the byres as I am.
In eo maxime hæsitabat, he sticke moste in this pointe.
Hagiographa, holy scripture.
Hagiographus, a wyter of holy scripture.
Hagios, holy.
Hagnos, pure, cleane.
Halacômene, of Halalcomenæ, a towne of Beonia.
Halcyon græce, and (as Varro saith) Halcedo laine, the daughter of Neptuneus, and wife of Ceyx, whom she behelding to be drowned, for sorrowe drowned hir selfe. wherefore the poe tes write, that they were bothe transfourmed into byrdes, and called Halcyones, reade be fore in Alcyones, reade the Description of the byrdes. Idit. lib. 10. cap. 52.

Halcyoncum, ei, a certayne medicine, whiche is made of the nestes of the byrdes Halcyones.
Halcyoneus, a, um, of Halcyon.
Halcyonei dies, looke Alcyon.
Halec, halécis, n. & f. ge. a fythe called an her ryng, also a sauce made of fythe.
Halécula, æ, f. ge. a littell hearryng, a pithard.
Hales achne, the herbe called Spuma salis.
Halesina, a citee of Sicilie.
Halesina regio, a countreie, wherein is a well, the water wherof beeyng alwaies quiet & playne, of one standyng by it dooe plaie on a shaulme, of other lyke pype, the water in the well will ryse as it daunced, in so muche that at the lade it will mounte and renne ouer the byrme of the well: and the pype ceasynge, the water will foorth with fall and become quiete.
Halesus, a ryuer and hill not farre from Actina.
Halia, a nymphe of the sea.
Haliacmon, a ryuer of Macedonie.
Haliæctus, a kynde of egles that haunteth about the sea. It is taken of som for a faulton, of some for a gossehaue: but I take it to be rather that wee call an osprey, whiche byrde, when he hor nereth ouer a fishe pwe, all the fishe turneth by their belces: and he taketh his pray: and thys foze is verie hurtfull to fishe pooles.
Halia, looke Alica.
Halicacabus, an herbe called of the apothecaries.
Alkekengi, the french me name is Coqueret.
Halicallios, called also Dorion strichinus, and erichros, an herbe holleome agaynst all diseases of the bodie, as Xenocrates affirmed.
Halicastrum, tri, neu. ge. a kynde of fide, reade
Sol. lib. 2. cap. 6.
Halicarnassus, a citee of Caria, whiche was some tyme chiefe of all the countreie.
Halicutica, orum, n. ge. bookes conteynyng the propertees of fythes.
Halimon, mi, neu. gene. a thezme lyke to a whyle thozne, growyng by the sea syde, and hath lea ues lyke to an olyue tree, but they be broder.
other describe it thus, to be a shubbe, apte to hedge with, somewhat lyke to the byrme, cal led Rhamnus, without pzielles, haupng a hard leafe, but somewhat byonde, and groweth in hedges and places nere the sea. of this herbe speaketh Diosco. lib. 1. Theophrastus, lib. 4 & f. de causis. Paulus lib. 1.
Halipleumon, a fythe of the sea.
Halimon, ni, oyle of Almons.
Haliphæos, a tree, haupng so bitter frute, that no beast but swine will touche it.
Halipleumon, a certayne fythe.
Halito, aui, are, to vapour out, to sende out a breathe.
Halitosa, those thynges, which may be avoidd
by the pores.
Halitus, us, m. g. breathe of vapour.

Eflare

Eflare extremum halitum, to dye, to geue the laste gaulte.
Noxius terra halitus, an vnholseome vapour that ryseth out of the earthe.
Halios, idios, ferm. gene. a certayne small ship of bore.
Halicones, people of Daphlagonia, so called be cause they are murthered about with the sea.
Halimor, aris, ari, to be in a dzeame, to be des ceyued, to erre, of to take a matter wronge, to take one thing for an other. loke Allucinor.
Halus, li, m. g. of Hallux, acis, m. g. the great toe, whiche lyeth ouer the next toe.
Halladas, bee olyue bearies, condite in hzine, as Macellus affirmeth, who saith, that Colym bades bee they, whiche doo swymme in theyr owne oyle, all be it (as he saith) men doo cons traunde the one name with the other.
Hallus, the herbe Polygonon.
Hallus, a kynde of colwooztes, crispe and des licie to cate.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme
happeth to be about the moone, in maner
of a rounde circle.
Hallonesos, an yle in the sea Begeum, nere to Thracia.
Hallus, aui, are, to sende forth sauer, to breath.
Hallus, ferm. ge. a myste, whiche sometyme happeth to be about the telens of Athens.

 Harmodorus, a poete.
 Harmonia, a, f. g. harmonie or melody.
 Harmonicus, a, um, perteynyng to harmonie or melody.
 Harmonides, a Troiane carpenter, whiche made the shippes that brought Paris into Grece.
 Harmosini, certayne magistrates in Sparta, which chastised the forwardnesse of women towarde theyr husbendes.
 Harpaction, a kynde of bymstone.
 Harpagium, the towne, where (as the Greeces feigne) Sammedes was taken awaie.
 Harpago, ui, are, to take by violence.
 Harpago, onis, m. g. a grapple of a shippe. also a coupers instrument, wherewith he dyueth on houres, an addise. also a hooke of instrument, wherewith they take by thynges fallen into welles or ryuers, a dragge.
 Harpalice, a womans name, the daughter of Harpalus, kyng of Thrace, and queene of Amazones.
 Harpalus, a traptour, whiche forsooke Alexander, and fledde to Athens.
 Harpasa, a towne of Al a.
 Harpastum, i, n. g. a facion of great balles lyke to a foote balles.
 Harpax, acis, m. g. a graplynge yron for to claspe shippes together. Also a polle with an hooke on the ende, that shippe men vse.
 Harpax, agis, ma. ge. idem puod Verticillum, a wherue.
 Harpes, f. g. a swerde lyke to a sythe, suche one as the poetes feigne Mercurie to cutte of Argus heade with all, and Hercules the head of Medusa.
 Harpocrates, the god of silence.
 Harpocratem reddere, to put one to silence.
 Harpocratis meminisse, to kepe silence.
 Harpyia, monstrous byrdes, hauynge maidens vilages, and talons of a mercuriouse capacitee. wherefore menne that bee rauinous and great gatherers of gooddes, be named Sometyme Harpyia.
 Haruga, a sacrifice.
 Haruspex, icis, m. g. a diuinatour, or teller of thynges to come, by lookynge in beastes bowelles. Also he that obserueth tymes in dogynge of thynges.
 Haruspica, a, the feminine of Haruspex.
 Haruspicina, a, f. g. the arte of hym that is a diuinatour.
 Haruspicius, a, um, perteynyng to diuination.
 Haruspicium, ij, n. g. the diuination or tellynge of thynges to come by lookynge in beastes bowelles.
 Hasdrubal, a noble capitayne of Carthage.
 Haspis, idis, the bowynge made lyke a circle in the rounses of houses, or of a wheele.
 Hasta, a, f. g. a speare: Sometyme it is taken for open sale of gooddes, because a speare was pitched where suche sale was made.

 Hastam abijcere, significth to leaue faste, to dispayre of the matter in variacion, to mistrust his matter and geue ouer.
 Hasta pura, were without yron, and in the olde tyme were geuen for a pyper to them that vanquished first in battayle.
 Subire sub hasta, to be solde.
 Hastrium, ij, sellynge vnder the standerde.
 Hastus, a, um, that vserh or beareth a speare.
 Hastati milites, speare men in the fore fronte of the battayle.
 Hasticus ludus, rennyng at the tilt with speares.
 Hastile, lis, n. g. a speare staffe.
 Hastula, a, f. g. a littell speare, a faucyn.
 Hastula regia, an herbe called also Asphodelus, and Albucius, looke there.
 Hau, an interfection of the minde being troubled.
 Haud, in no wyse.
 Haud ab re, not without a cause.
 Et haud comodi est, it profiteth hym nothing.
 Haud consuetudine hoc facis, you were not wont to doo this.
 Haud dubie, without doubte.
 Haud dudum, not longe fens.
 Haud ferre inuenias, a man can scanty find.
 Haud ita decet, it is not seemly.
 Haud mora, immediately, withoute delay, forthwith.
 Haud immerito, not without a cause.
 Haud perinde, not so muche.
 Haud stulte sapis, ye are no small foole.
 Haud procul absum, it lacked but littell.
 Haud secus, none other wyse.
 Haud quaque, no, not.
 Haud inuito, wyllyngly.
 Haud nihil, some thyng.
 Haurio, si, iui, rij, rire, to drawe or take out, to here, to see, to take a thyng greidly, to wold, to fatigue or make wrie, to make empty, to consume, to endure or suffer, to drynke, to swallowe, to let out, as in woundynge to make one bleede.
 Haurit cœlum, he began to take breath.
 Haurit corda pauor, feare made theyr courages faunte.
 Haurit dolorem acerbissimum, I toke or consumed beate great heuynesse.
 Haurire supplicia, to suffer punishment or paynes.
 Haurire artes, to learne good sciences.
 Calamitatem haurire, to endure or suffer miserie and trouble.
 Haurire cibos, to eat and swallowe downe meate greidly.
 Flamma aut incendium multos haurit, The fyre consumed and deuoured many.
 Auribus gaudium haurire, to heare glad and ioyfull tydynges.
 Latus alicuius haurire, to geue one a great wounde in his syde.

Laude

Laude haurire, to geue or wyne prayse.
 Haurire lucem, to be bozne.
 Poculum haurire, to drynke by.
 Vt solidos hauriant tauros, That they coude swallowe downe whole bulles.
 Hauritorium, ij, neu. gene. a whele of a well, or a bucket, or any thyng, wherby water is drawen out of a well.
 Haurtrum, i, n. gen. a whele of a well to drawe water with.
 Haurtus, us, maf. gen. a draught in drynkyng, a supping, a drawynge by of water.
 Haurtam facere, to drynke.
 Exiguus haurtibus bibere, to drynke a littell at ones.
 Haurtus, a, um, drawen, taken out, swallowed, brownd, supped, or drynke by.
 Haurta mari naues, shippes sunken or drownd in the sea.

Hana, na, fam. g. a foundacion, also baselayn of a shippe.
 Heautontimorimenos, the name of one of the comedies of Terence, which is as muche to saye, as tourmentynge hym selfe.
 Hebdomas, domatis, or Hebdomada, a, f. gen. a weeke, also the numbze of seuen in dayes, peres, or other tyme.
 Hebe, hebes, the daughter of Juno, who was bulke to Jupiter before the rauynynge of Ganymedes, and she was called of the Painims the goddesse of youthe.
 Hebenomichon, the herbe called Capillus verneris.
 Hebenus, i, for. gen. or Hebenum, i, neu. gen. a tree, wherof the woodde is blacke as gearc withyn, & it beareth neyther leaues nor fruite, looke Ebenus.
 Hebeo, ui, ere, to bee dull.
 Hebes, hebetis, om. gen. slowe, dulle.
 Hebetiores aures, eares somewhat dulle of hearynge. A the wyse Oculi hebetes.
 Hebes ac radis.
 Hebetem reddere aliquem, to make one slow, heauy, or dull to doe any thyng.
 Gustus hebes, that is not quicke in taste.
 Hebes atque pecus, as dull as a beast.
 Dolor hebes, that greueth not foze.
 Hebelco, scere, to make more dull or slowe.
 Hebelcitas auctoritatis, his authoritee decayeth for lacke of vfe.
 Heberatio, onis, f. g. a dullynge.
 Oculorum heberatio, the dūlnes of the sight.
 Heberatrix, tris, fam. gen. that maketh dulle of dull.
 Hebetesco, seu Hebetasco, scere, belongeth properly to the eyes, to bee dull in syght, also as the edge of a knife is dull.
 Hebeo, ui, ere, to make dull or blunte, some tyme for Hebeo, to bee dull or faint, as the stomake whan it is discaled.

 Hebeudo, tudinis, f. g. dūlnesse or dūshynesse.
 Hebriones, of men in olde tyme were called wyre folkes.
 Hebrai, Jewes whiche came of Abraham.
 Hebraicus, a, um, an hebrewian, or of hebrew.
 Hebron, a village by Hierusalem.
 Hebrus, a ryuer in Thrace, into the which Diapheus head was caste: It is now called Mariza.
 Hecale, the name of a verie poore woman.
 Hecamede, the daughter of Admetus, whiche was geuen to Hecetor for a gifte.
 Hecate, a name of Diana, Juno, or Proserpina. It is also the name of the daughter of Peres, a woman of notable crueltie, whiche paynted hir owne father. An other Hecate was daughter to Perseus and Asteria.
 Hecatombe, bes, fer, g. a sacrifice, wherin were kyllen an hundred bestes.
 Hecatompilos, the thicke citee of Parthia, whiche had an hundred gates.
 Hecatompolis, lis, fer. ge. a cuntreie hauynge an hundred cities therein.
 Hecatompus, pi, ma. gene. he that hath an hundred feete.
 Hecaton, an hundred.
 Hecatonchion, os, ij, m. gen. he that hath an hundred handes.
 Hecatonarchus, tarchi, maf. gene. a capitayne of an hundred men, a centurion, or peire capitayne.
 Hecata, a, fam. gene. the perynge of a man also a littell puffe, whiche ryseth in bread, whan it is bake. Sometyme it significth a trifle, a thyng of no value.
 Hic homo hecā me facit, This man setteth nothing by me, or esteemeth me nothing.
 Hectice, es, or Hectica, a, f. gen. the feuer that consumeth.
 Hector, oris, the sonne of Priamus, the most noble and valiant of all the Troians.
 Hecuba, the wyfe of Priamus kyng of Troie, daughter of Lysus kyng of Thracia, a woman of noble courage and moste unhappy fortune. For hauynge all hir soones & husbende slayne, hir sayre daughter Polyxena kyllen upon the graue of Achilles, hir other daughter Cassandra taken prisoner, beholdynge the noble citee of Troie bourned, hir selfe in captiuitie, hir yongest soonne Polydorus kyllen: she finally waxed madde, and dyd byte and styke all men that the met, wherfore she was called dogge, and at the last was hir selfe kyllen with stones by the Greeces.
 Hecubæ sepulchrum, a promontory of Thrace.
 Hecyra, a mother in lawe, and the name of a comedie in Terence.
 Hederia, a, f. g. pyre.
 Hederaceus, a, um, of or belongynge to pyre.

Hederalis herba, the herbe pule.
 Hederiger, a, rum, that beareth pype.
 Hederius, a, um, full of pype.
 Hedicrum, cri, n. g. a perfume of sweete ople, whiche maketh one to haue a pleasaunte and fayne colour.
 Hediostrum, a mynte.
 Hediostrum, mi, in, g. an herbe called a mynte,
 or speremint.
 Hedonius, expence in volaptruous thynges.
 Hedra, a seate, vnde cathedra.
 Hedui, people in Fraunce, now called Burgo-nions, looke Hædui.
 Hedyppnois, in Plinie semeth to be dentibelyon, or priestetowne.
 Hedyssmata, um, n. g. sweete saues.
 Hegesias, a philosophie of the secte called Cires-naica, who with his eloquence dyd so vehemently forsooth the incommodities of mans lyfe, that many, whiche hearde hym, kyled thepm selves.
 Hegesipile, the daughter of Olorus, kynge of Thrace.
 Hegesippus, a storie writer.
 Hegestratus, one of Ephesus.
 Heguinaria, a cite of Germanie called Enitz.
 Heheu, an interfection of sorowe.
 Hei, an interfection of sorowynge or wailynge,
 sometime of exhortynge.
 Hei mihi, alas for me that euer I was borne.
 Heiolo, aui, are, to waille cryng out.
 Heibunion, m, neu. gene. idem quod Distasmum.
 Helcarius, ii, ma. ge. a mypman that draweth thynges of great weyght into a myppe with ropes, or one that draweth the myp to the thozz, or from the thozz.
 Helcium, ii, neu. gen. the harnes of earthozes,
 wherby they drawe.
 Helcysma, aus, n. g. the refuse of stomme of sit-ur after it is tryed out.
 Helei, a famousse people of Deloponesus, whiche had the rule of the plaies called Olympici.
 Helena, x, or Helene, es (the daughter of Iupit-er and Leda, wyfe of Cindarus kynge of Lacedemonie) for hir wonderfull beautee, was wyfe rauished. Firste at the age of nyne peres by Theseus: afterwarde by Paris the Troi-ane, than byng wyfe vnto Menelaus, whiche was the onely occasion of the tenne peres siege, and fynaill destruction of the most famousse citee of Troie, with the deathe and losse of most noble princes, and of people innumerable.
 looke more in Troia.
 Helenium, m, n. g. an herbe commonly called Enula campana, in englyshe Helicampagne.
 Helenus, a Troiane.
 Heliades the daughters and the sonne of Neas-ra, that is to say Phaetusa, Lampetia, and Lampetusa, whiche lamented so muche the death of thepp brother Phaeton, that they with they dyed, and were transfourmed (as poete seigne) into trees, out of the whiche renneth the gumme called Electrum, in englyshe am-bre, wherof beades be made.

 Helias, the prophete of Thelbis of the countrey of Arabie, a leuite of the tpye of Aaron. He dwelt in Gilad: for Thelbis was an habitacon dedicated vnto pyckes: in the tpye of his byeth, his father Sobac dyd see in a vision, that men apparailled in white dyd cal the childe, thzewe hym into the fyre, and gaue to hym a flame of fyre to eate. The father espynged wente to Jerusalem, and shewed his vision to the priestes: and he that gaue aunswere, sayd vnto hym: beware thou disclose it not. The bytacion of this childe shall bee lycht, and his woerde a demonstration, and shall iudge Israell in the swoorde and fyre. This is that Elias, that brought fyre thyrle out of heuen, and bare rayne in his tongue, and was taken vp into heauen in a fyre storme. That whiche is wyrtten more of Elias in the Bible, maie bee
 there redde.
 Helice, a cite of Achaia, swallowed vpp of the sea.
 Helicon, a mountayne in Scotia, dedicate to the muses.
 Helictes, and Helice, rynges and hoopes, that menne and woomen vsed to hang at theyr eares.
 Helicaminus, ini, m. g. a collar set in a sunnie place, where the heate of the sunne may be received, whiche was vsed in the olde tyme.
 Heliochrysis, the name of a nymphe.
 Heliochrysis, an herbe, haupnge a pelowe flower:
 a marygolde, or rather that herbe, whiche is called Chrysanthemum.
 Heliodorus, a famousse Rhetorician of the Grekes.
 Heliogabalus, supposed to bee the bastarde son of Antonius Caracalla, emperoure of Rome, and (as Lampridius writeth in his life) of Semiamitra: or as Egnatius writeth, of Scentides, his cosen: he was made emperour after Macrinus, and Diadumenus, beyng but a boye of xvi. peres olde. He so muche exasperated in detestable lechery, and promiscuous of vyle persones, and rybaldes: that finally he was hated of all men, and at laste slayne and drawen thozough the cite of Rome, and thzowen into the ruer of Tybre. Albeit he was warned afore of astronomers, that he shoulde dye a violent death: and therefore had ppyouided ropes of sythe (yf he were informed) hym selfe, twozdes of golde to kyll hym selfe, stronge poysons in Facinates and Emerauldes to poyson hym selfe, yf he were informed. Howeouer he made a veray hygh towre, haupnge the flooze of boozdes heuured with plaies of golde, and bozdered with peryousse stoncs, frome the whiche, he woulde thzowe hym
 selfe

selfe downe, whan he were poysoned. But all this noughte avayled, for he was slayne by knyues. Hoze of hym maye you reade in the lyfe of Alexander Suerus, which I dyd translate into Englyshe, and called it the pwyge of gouernance.
 Heliohyton, ii, n. g. the herbe similar.
 Helipos, pi, mascu. gene. the herbe Helitro-pium magnum.
 Heliotas, es, f. g. idem quod ebulus.
 Helipolis, a cite in Grecia, called also Corhin-thus. In other in Egypte, an other in Sicilie, where Chysippus was borne.
 Helioscopium, a litel tree lyke a fygge tree, with leaues lyke a plane, but greater and blacher.
 After Plinie it is a kynde of spurge, haupnge leaues lyke pourseiane, wherin culuers greas-lyd lye.
 Helioselinum, ni, n. g. an herbe lyke to smallage, whiche groweth in watry groundes, and hath but one leafe. Plin. li. 19. cap. 8. but some thinke it to be smallage it selfe.
 Helioropium, called also Herba solaris, because the flower of it turneth away with the sonne. both at his risinge and goynge downe:
 per although the day be cloudy. Plin. & Mar.
 Helis, toke Elis.
 Helisus, the prophete of Bethmuth, of the lande of Babylonia: whan he was borne in Galgalis, the towre of golde in Belom cryed so loude, that the wis heard at Hierusalem. And the priest said, that it signified, that a prophete was borne that daye, whiche shoulde dissolue and breake in pieces, images herued and cast of mettall. Whas my meruailes almighty god shewed by hym, whiche ye maie reade in the Bible.
 Helius, a mans name. also the sonne.
 Helius, a certayne kynd of the offall of flower of brasse, when it is molten. Diosc.
 Helix, icis, f. ge. of some is taken for a kynde of wylow tree, of some for Iune.
 Heliodices, x, m. ge. the iudge in any game or contention.
 Helias, adis, a riuier & countreie of Achaia: Grece was so called of Hellen, Deucalions sonne.
 Helle, the daughter of Athamas kynge of Thebans, whiche was drownded with hir brother Phryxus in the sea by Hyrcane.
 Helleborus, a, um, he that hath receyued or taken to muche of the herbe called Helleborum.
 Helleborum, i, n. ge. of Helleborus, i, m. gen.
 an herbe, the roote wherof pouergeth melancoly.
 looke in Elleborus.
 Helleborus albus, nesyng powder.
 Helleborus niger, sette woze.
 Helleborum edere, is a poyuerbe spoken to men, which are veray melancolye, or bee wylde byapped.
 Hellen, the son of Deucalion, of whom the Grekes were named Hellenes.
 Hellepontus, is the fyft part of the sea, whiche diuiderth Europa from Asia, and is in breadth

 but. vii. furlonges, whiche lacketh one furlong of a myle. It is now called Brachium sancti Georgii.
 Helminthobolane, the herbe Abrotonon, good to kill wozmes.
 Heloi, in hebreu signifieth god almyghy.
 Helops, opis, masc. gen. a certayne fytte, idem quod Accipenser.
 Helorus, a ryuer in Sicilie. also the sonne of the rpuer Aster, slayne by Aiar.
 Heluati, rauencous eaters.
 Heluatia, a, f. g. a garment, whiche was vsed in Lydia, and was of the colour of a cowes hyde.
 Heluatio, onis, f. g. gourmandysyng of ryot-tous eatynge.
 Heluella, arum, f. g. small wooztes or herbes.
 Helucolus, looke Heluolus.
 Heluani, people called Switzers, or Quiches, by despye of warres, enemies to all mankynd, subiectes neyther to god nor to prince, as res-die for money, to serue as wel Turkes as christian princes.
 Heluo, onis, m. gen. he that in eatynge and drynkyng, spendeth all his substance, a reuelar, sometime a glutton only.
 Heluo libroni, an insatiabie reader of booke.
 Heluo patia, a vicious persone, that deuour-eth the common treasure, and destroyeth his countreie.
 Heluor, aus, ai, to eate rauencously, to rauene,
 to deuoure, to consume.
 Garges, arque heluo.
 Heluolum vinum, claret wyne.
 Heluus color, betwene red and white, like the colour of clothe, called frenche tauyn.
 Heluolus, a, um, Adiectiuum, of that colour.
 Heluola vix, grapes of that colour.
 Helixine, xines, f. ge. an herbe called pelitozpe of the wall. also the woode called withwind.
 Helymus, and Panopes, the companions of Achaia kynge of Sicilie.
 Hem, an interfection of blamyng, disdeignynge, meruayling, or shewynge, exclamation or cry-yng to.
 Hem serua, howe take heed.
 Hem, for Ecce, as,
 Hem libero, loe, I deliuer the.
 Hem Daum tibi, Se ponder is Datus.
 Hem, is vsed also in pityng, as. tan Chrysis?
 hem. As Chrysis diade in dedde: alas for pi-tie. Also in aunsweryng: as,
 Hem, quid est? howe what is the matter?
 Hem Nimo, Oh maister Nimo.
 Hem, in ritypynge, and significth, hydate, or some suche lyke thyng.
 Hem astutas, Oh subtilly deuyse, Ironice.
 Hemerichos, that dureth but one day. also a tis-ble, whiche Pamphilus, Apelles maister, printted in one daie.
 Hemeridion, whiche dureth but one daie.
 L1 in

Hemeris, a kynde of trees, whiche beareth masse.
Hemerobius, one daies sustinace. Also a wozme of flie, whiche lyveth but one daie.
Hemerocallis, liliū sylvestre. Dios. li. 3.
Hemerodromus, a m. gene. a courtour, which runneth many myles in one daie.
Hemicadra, vessels called a pyerre, halfe an hogges heade.
Hemichorium, rij, n. g. halfe a daunce.
Hemicrana, a, f. g. a peyne in halfe the heade called the migrim.
Hemicranicus, i, mascu. gene. he that hath the migrim.
Hemicyclus, i, maf. gene. a compasse chape, or halfe a circle.
Hemidrachmum, mij, neu. gene. idem quod Triobulum.
Hemina, hemina, f. g. a measure, which is halfe Sexarius, tenne ounces of measure, which lacketh ii. ounces of our halfe pnt, and conteyneth in weyght of oyle. ix. ounces, of wine. x. ounces, and of hony. xv. ounces.
Hemina, idem quod Coryla, take there.
Heminarius, a, um, that is of the measure called Hemina.
Hemiplexia, idem quod Paralisis, pause in halfe the bodie.
Hemimeron, a kynde of faulte fische, called also Pelses, & saperda Cosacinus.
Hemionos, Mandragora magice.
Hemiola, la, f. g. gayne of all and half as much, As p. of. iii. s. be gotten. vi. s.
Hemiolus, li, m. g. a proportion in arithmetike, conteynynge the whole numbre and halfe that numbre, as. iii. to. i. xv. to. x.
Hemionium, n, n. ge. or Hemionitus, nitidos, f. g. the herbe, whiche is commonly called Martes tunge, as Leoniceus supposeth. it is good agaynst all pexes.
Hemis, halfe.
Hemisphericum, ij, n. g. halfe the compasse of the visible heauen or firmament, halfe a circle.
Hemistichium, ij, n. g. halfe a verse.
Hemitogium, gij, n. g. halfe a gowne.
Hemitritius, an halfe tercian feuce, whose course is euery. xxi. houres, of which hath the course of a tercian.
Hemitritichon, a kynd of salte fische.
Hemodes, certayne ples in the douches sea.
Hemorrhoids, take Emorrhoids.
Hemus, a great mountayne in Thace, nyghe to the sea Propontis, whiche is fyve myles in height.
Hendecasyllabus, a verse of. xi. syllables.
Hendiadys, take Endiadys.
Heneria, was sometyme used for Venetia.
Heniuchi, take Entochi.
Hénula, a, f. g. a lyttell chapell.
Hco, an interfection, hoe in calling one.
Hepar, hépatis, n. gen. laune dicitur Iecur, the liver. also a certayne fyche.

Hepatarius, a, um, pertainyng to the liver.
Hepatica, an herbe called Lyncur, reade after in Lichen.
Hepaticus, a, um, of the liver, or that is diseased in the liver.
Heparies, a precious stone of the figure of the liver.
Hepatitis, the herbe called Eupatorie.
Hephestites, a, m. g. a stone, which representeth images, a myrrour of glasse dooth.
Hepiolus, li, m. g. a fyne lyke a butterflye, whiche flyeth at nyght into the leame of a candell.
Hepsema, muste boyled to the thyde parte.
Hepa, seuen.
Heptagonia, the name of a place.
Heptapachys, the measure of. vii. cubites.
Heptaphillon, an herbe called tormentyll.
Heptaphones, a certayne haucn, or rather a walling place, of place of exercise at Olympiall that seuen voyces.
Heptaphicuron, ij, n. g. an herbe called Platan.
Heptapolis, lis, was sometyme the name of Egypte, by reason of seuen ciues that were tyed in it.
Heptaporus, a ryuer by Crope.
Heptapyllos, that hath seuen gates.
Heptemimeres, where a syllable naturally dooth is made longe in a ver'e, whiche dooth happen in the begynnyng of the first foot.
Hepieres, a gallie haupng. seuen rowes of oars.
Hera, ra, f. g. the name of Juno. It is also the maiestie of a familie or householde. It is also an herbe called Clarie.
Heraclea, a towne in the confines of Europe, an other in Italy, an other in Sicile, an other of Ponte, called nowe Naxio portus. It is also a citee of Lydia, wherof the touchstone is called Heraclius lapis.
Heracleon, or Heracion, an herbe lyke to Origanum, It groweth in watrye places, and hath a flower lyke a lily, and when the flower is fallen, it hath an head lyke a porge. It is also an other herbe growyn in pastures, haupng a lyttell stalkie, whiche exceedeth not foure fingers hygh, haupng a red flower and leaues lyke Zozander. This herbe healeth all woundes, yf it be layd vnto them. Heracleon, is the stone Magnes.
Heracleo, a notable thefe or robber.
Heracleotici, a kynde of crabbe fish.
Heracleon, a grammarian of Egypt, which wrote commentaries on Homere and other.
Heracleopolis, the name of three ciues, one in Egypte, an other not farre from Pelusium, the thyde not farre from the mouth of Nilus.
Heracleotus, a, one of Heraclea.
Heracleoticus, & Heraclius, a, um, of Heraclea.
Heracleonica nux, a walnutte.
Heraculus lapis, the lode stone, & also the touchstone. It is used pauerbially for one that hath a fyne witte, and an exacte iudgement.
 Hera

Heracleus, the name of dyuers emperours.
Heracles, a, f. g. a kynde of the water lily, called Nenuphar, haupng a whyte flower.
Heracles, the name of a philosopher of Pontus, a sophister of Licia, a grammarian of Sicile, and of a famous painter of Macedonie.
Heracitus, a philosopher, which alwaies wepte when he behelde the people, considering how busy they were to gather treasure, and how negligent in the well byngynge vp of thetyr thynges. His warres of a purpose were obscure and harde to be understande. An other of that name was an excellent renner.
Herba, a, f. g. gen. an herbe. also generally all thynges that groweth on the earth, not beyng woodde. sometyme a weede. sometyme grasse.
Proetus in viridi herba, layd alonge in the greene grasse.
Herbam dare, aut porrigere, where a man peldeth hym, or conselseth hym to be vauquished.
Seges in herba est, the cozne is bladed or new shot vp aboute the grounde.
Herba paralytis, the small dapsle.
Arsherbaria, the knowlage of the simples.
Herbaceus, a, um, of herbes or grasse, that groweth or spryngeth vp lyke an herbe.
Herbare, to byngge forth herbes.
Herbarius, and Herbaria, he or she that dooth gather herbes for physicians. also he which knoweth the proprietres of herbes, and maketh medicines of them.
Herbarius, a, um, pertainyng to herbes.
Herbasco, or Herbesco, scere, to make herbes or wodes to growe, or waxe into an herbe.
Herbidus, a, um, full of herbes or grasse.
Herbidus color, the colour of herbes, greene.
Herbifer, ra, um, that beareth or bynggeth forth herbes or grasse.
Herbigrada, a, f. g. gen. a snayle that goeth on the grasse.
Herbilis, le, that belongeth to herbes, or that is fedde with herbes or grasse.
Herbilis anser, a grased goose.
Herbosus, a, um, full of herbes or grasse.
Herbita, a citee of Sicile, called saint Nicolaus.
Herbula, a, f. g. a litle herbe.
Herbulum, the herbe Erigeron.
Herceus, a, um, one of the turnages of Jupitree.
Herclina, a great woodde in Germanie, the which is in bredth nyne dayes iournepe, and in length forty dayes iournepe, as Cesar writeth. Homponius Mela affirmeth it to be forty dayes iournepe in length.
Herisceor, sceris, sci, or Erisceor, sci, to make partition betwene coheyses, and to assigne to eche of them thetyr porcion. Therof cometh Familia heriscunda, a title in the digestes of the lawe ciuile. looke Erisceor.
Hercle, or Hercule, a woorde used to ornatt a sentence in maner of an othe, as god helpe me, truly, in saythe,

Mea quidem hercle certe in dubio vita est, Withoute doubt my lyfe is in daungier in dede.
Herculanum, a towne of Campaine.
Herculanus, or Herculeus, a, um, of Hercules.
Herculanus morbus, the falling synkenesse.
Herculanus nodus, a certayne knotte harde to bee vndoode, whereby a subtyll question or subtiltous maie be signyfyed. Festus Dompeius writeth, that in olde tyme the custome was, that when the newe married byde wente to bed, she shoulde be gyfte with a woullett gyrdell, knyt with Hercules knot, whiche the householde for good lucke shoulde vndoode in the bedde, that he myghte bee fortunat in gettyng of chyldren. For Hercules is reported to haue. 72. soones, and one daughter, as Aristotelle writeth De natura animalium, lib. 7. cap. 6.
Herculeana pars, & Herculeus quassus, It was the custome of men in olde tyme, to auowe the tenth part of thetyr goodes vnto Hercules, and that tenth part was called Herculeana pars.
Herculea, an herbe commonly called Millium for lis, of Dioscorides, Lithospermion.
Herculee, valiantly, myghtyly, strongly, lyke Hercules.
Herculeus, a Romaine, whiche fauoured the parte of Maris.
Hercules, seemeth to bee a generall name giuen to man extellyng in strengthe, all other of their tyme. Cicero De natura deorum, writeth, that amongst auncient wyrters were founde sixe Hercules. Varro affirmeth, there were thre and forty. Iynally there is no notable mention made but of two, the one called Hercules Aegyptius, or Libyus, whiche is supposed to bee Olyns, of whom is written hereafter. The other (long after hym) was sonne of Jupiter & Alcmena, called Alcides by his propre name. And for his incomparable strengthe and labours (taken for the common profit of man's kynde) he was named also Hercules. All be it Herodotus affirmeth Hercules to bee the sonne of Ospis, and kynde of Egypte, and was called Hercules Libyus, because he conquered Libya. Saynet Hierome on the tenth chapter of Genesis writeth, that this Hercules perfourmed the twelue notable labours, which poetes wyte of, and not Alcides, soonne of Alcmena. The first labour (as Diodorus writeth) was the sleayng of a Lyon in the woodde Bemea, that farre exceedeth all other Lyons in greatnesse, whiche moughte not be slayne with mettall, nor stone, wherfore he was constrained to slea hym with his handes. The seconde labour was the kyllynge of Hydra the monster, in the fennes of Lerna, whiche had a hundred neckes with serpentine heades. And when one was stryken of, there dyd aryse euefoones two other heades. The thyrd labour was the taking of the great wilde boze of Ermanthus, whiche wasted the countrey of Arcadia, and all people dradde him. But finally Hercules tooke hym a lyne, and bearynge hym on his shoulders, brought hym vnto kynge Euristheus. The fourth last boze was the battayle, whiche he had alone with the great nombre of men called Centaurs, that were of great strength, and swifte as hofes. All theyn he slewe, when they assauleth hym. The fyfth was the takinge of the great harte in rennyng, whiche for his swiftenesse had his hooves gylted. The sixte was the destruction of the hydes Stymphalides, whiche consumed the frutes and grayne of the countreies adioyngynge. The seuenthe was the makinge cleane of the halle of Augeus, beyng full of dounge, the whiche Hercules persourmed by wysdome, byngynge the ruere Pygnio throughte out the hall. Which by the swifte course of the streame in one daye, carped awaye the dounge, without any reproche vnto Hercules. The eght was the byngynge of a bull from Creta into Grece, drawynge hym as longe the sea. The nyth was the takinge of Diomedes kynge of Thracia, and calyng hym to his hofes, who ledyng them with mannes fleshe, was hym selfe of them deuoured. And after Hercules breakynge those wyld hofes, and makinge them gentyll, broughte theym to Euristheus. The tenth labour was his voyage into Spayne, and slepyng of Gerion and his soones, and calyng the great hyne, whiche he gaue to a kyng in that countrey, who continually after warde, dyd perely offer in sacrifice, to the honoure of Hercules, one of the bulles, that came of those hyne. The eleuenth, was his goyng into hell, and fetchyng thens Chelus and Perithous, and byngynge with him in a chayne Cerberus, the dogge of hell, haunyng three heades. The twelfth and last labour was the takinge of the golden apples, out of the gardenes Hesperides, & sleapyng the terrible dragon, whiche continually watchyng kepte those apples, which were called golden for the beaute of them. Some saie they were sheepe, whose flesces were of the coloure of golde, and the dragon signifieth the diligence and strength of the shepherde, whiche kepte them. These were the twelue labours of Hercules, where of grewe this prouerbe, + Herculei labores, where the labours doo seme impossible to be atchived.

 + Herculis cothurnos, was bled for a prouerbe, wherein a thyng of litle importance was set footthe with great eloquence or other thyng, solemne, more apte for a greater matter. as one shoulde put Hercules hosen on a chyldes legges. Wherewith accorded the sayng of the wyse kyng Agestilaus, whan one commended to hym a rhetorician, which by his crafty eloquence made trilles and small thynges to seme great. The kyng answered, That sower deserveth no praise, which putteth a great shoe on a veray lyttel foote, meanynge thereby, that the wordes shoulde well accorde with the matter, as the garment with the persone. This is so common a vice nowe a dayes amonge students of eloquence, that in wyppynge and speakynge, they seeme to prepare the hofe before they knowe the measure of the legges, whercon they will put it.

Hercules Gallus, as Lucianus wyrteth, was in the olde tyme in Fraunce, an Image made lyke an olde man, with a balde head, and vnkempte, his heare veray whyte, the thyne of his face rpyelled, and as it were bourned with the soonne, wearyng on him a lyons skynne, and bearyng in his ryght hande a great clubbe, in his left hande a bowe, a quier at his backe, drawynge after hym a multitude of people, tyed by theyr eares, with a litle chayne wrought with aumbe and goide, but they were so easily tyed, that laughyng and with good chere they willingly folowed, and as it seemed, woulde not bee loused: and the other ende of the chayne was tyed at Hercules tuncur, who looked for wardes theym with a laughyng countenance. This ymage signified eloquence, whiche for the pynsaunce thereof, resembled rather Hercules than Mercury. And his age betokened, that for the most parte eloquence is substanciall and bechemente. That Hercules, or rather eloquence draweth men by the eares tyed to his tounge, signifieth the affinitie betwene the tounge and the eare: and theyr glad and voluntary folowynge, signifieth with what delectacion eloquence draweth men vnto hir perswasions and exhortacions.

Herculis genitura, the herbe called myrtus sylvestris.

Herculis sanguis, id est, crocus.

Herculis farina, id est, Irion.

Herculis portus, a citee of the Massilians, called nowe Villa Franca.

Herculis turris, a citee of Lyrene called Zimara.

Herculeus, a, um, puissant or myghtie.

Herculeus morbus, the fallynge sickenesse.

Hercynia, looke Hercinia.

Herē, for heri, yesterday.

Herebus, the deepest place in Helle. Looke Erebus.

Heri, yesterday.

Hericus, ij, m. g. an ychyn or hedghogge.

Herilis, le, perteynyng to the lord of maister.

Herilis filius, for Filius heri.

Herifuga, a, m. g. one that renneth awaie from his mayster.

Herillus, a philosopher of Calidonic, the scholar of Zeno, whiche put the chiefe goodnesse in science and knowlage.

Herenaceus, cei, and Herix, icis, mal. gen. an hedghogge.

Herilinus, one of the Centaures.

Herma, a, m. g. an ymage of Mercury. It is taken also for a firmamente or establisshynge. Sometyme cometyne the balasse of a myppe. It is also an ymage, the head whereof may be chaunged. Herma, be also ymages sette of layde on sepulchres.

Hermia, after Philometer, the uttermost citee of the leste Asye. After Mela, a promontory of Mercurie, called Cabo de Nubia.

Hermaphrodinus, the soonne of Mercurie and Venus. Also he that is bothe man and woman.

Hermagoras, a famous rhetorician of Colia.

Hermathena, was twoo ymages togyther of Mercurie and Minerva.

Hermias, a famous capitayne vnder Antiochus magnus.

Hermann, a people by Colchos.

Hermerotes, rum, small ymages, properly of litle chyldren with wynges.

Hermes, mis, or meris, Mercurie.

Hermes trimegistus, the name of a famous philosopher of Egypte.

Hermasia, a consecration made by the Persians with honey, myrre, casson, the wyne of iuyce of dates, the kernelles of pyne apples, whiche beyng taken of a man with mylke, and of women after they be conceiued, shall byng forth chyldren in personage and witte very excellent. Democritus wyrteth of a lyke medicine, by the whiche chyldren, faire, good, and fortunat, shall be begotten.

Hermiona, a towne of Grece.

Hermione, the daughter of Menelaus and Desdemone, beyng a chyld, was by Tindarus, the father of Menelaus, in his absence affianced to Drestes, the soonne of Agamemnon: but afterwards she was married by hir father vnto Pyrrhus, soonne of Achilles, whome Drestes dyde slea, wedded Hermione, and had by hir the soones, Cessamenes, Cozinchus, and Drestes, the younger. There was an other, Hermione, daughter of Mars & Venus, and wyfe of Admus, whome the poetes feigned to bee (with hir husbande) tourned into a serpent.

Hermiones, people in the uttermost borders of Germany, called nowe Pomerani.

Hermippus, a poete of Athens, also a philosopher in the tyme of Socras.

Hemocrates, a famous sophister vnder the emperour Scaurus.

Hermodytylus, ij, m. g. is supposed to be that, which of Aetius and Paulus is called Ephemeron. Actuarius maketh mention of two knynges called Hermodytyli, which are as much to saie, as Mercurij digiti, in englyshe Mercuries fingers, for the similitude that they haue with fingers, wherof the one is white, the other redde. Whiche Ruellius supposed to be that, whiche the Arabians call Been rubeum, and Been album.

Hermodorus, a philosopher of Ephesus, whiche caused the pyntables to be made, also a philosopher of Sicile, the scholar of Plato.

Hermogenes, the propre name of a famous rhetorician.

Hermoglyphus, phi, m. g. a grauer of ymages.

Hermolaus, a grammarian of Constantinople.

an other of the same name conspired agaynst Alexander.

Hermion, a litle hyll that standeth on Jordan.

Hermopolis, the name of a citee that Hercules buyled.

Hermopolium, a place where ymages were set out to sell.

Hermupoa, an herbe called Mercurie.

Hermupotanon, idem.

Hermus, a ryuer, which in the middes parteth the fieldes of Smirne, and falleth from the hyll Dorylio, and deuideth Phrygia from Laria, wherbyn Virgile supposed to be golden sande.

Hernia, a, fac. gen. the discaie, wherof men bee called brysten, for that theyr bowels or other matter is fallen into theyr codces.

Hernici, people of Campania.

Hernion, nij, n. g. the herbe Eriogon.

Herniosus, a, um, he that is brysten.

Herodes, the soonne of Antipater, whiche in the tenth yere of Augustus, was of the Romaynes declared kynge of the Jewes: and he reygnd. 37. yeres. Of that name were dyuers other knynges, of whom Iosephus wyrteth abundantly.

Herodianus, a noble historiographer, whych in Grecke wrote most eloquently and truly the lues of the emperours, from Marcus philosophus, to Gordianus the ponger, whych boke is moste eloquently translated into latyne, by Angelus Politianus.

Herodius, a birde named a faulcon. Theodosius calleth it Ardeola, sainte Augustine Fulica: Suidas Ciconia.

Herodorus, was a noble historian, bozne in the citee of Halycarnassus in Asia. He wrote moste eloquently a general historie of the actes doorn in Europa, and Asia, by the space of LXX. and xl. yeres, vntill the warres among the greckes, called Belum Peloponeiacum, which Thucydides, with an equall style wrote and persoues med. He flourished before the incarnation of Christ, two hundred yeres.

Heroica, a, um, noble or perteynyng to noblenesse.

Heroica aras, a tyme wherin are many noblemen.

Heroica personæ, noble personages.

Hérois, roidis, fac. g. a noble woman. Herois, a, idem.

Heron, an ozatour of Athens.

Heros, herois, an halfe god, or he whiche for the loue of vertue, susteyneth great labours and perilles. also he that excelleth in any facultie or science.

Herodotus, a poore folyshe man, who to haue a perpetuall fame, bourned the moste famous temple temple of Diana at Ephesus, & after detected him selfe, and was put to deathe.

 Herpacantha, idem quod acantha.
 Herpes, a soze rising of to muche abundance of Melancholie. also a certaine beaste. Pli. li. 30.
 Herpeta, or herpeti, a tetter.
 Herilia, the wyfe of Romulus the fyrst kynge of Romayne.
 Herus, i. m. g. a lord or maister.
 Hesichius, a learned man in the tyme of Anastasius the Emperour, whiche wrote an historie, as well of the Romayne emperours, as of other nations.
 Hesione, was daughter of Laomedon kynge of Troie, and sister to Polydorus, whom Hercules at the fyrste destruction of Troie gaue in marriage to Chelamon, a noble prince of the Greckes.
 Hesiodus, an aunciente poete of the Greckes, whiche fyrst wrote of husbandry, whom Virgile folowed in his georgikes.
 Hesperia, Italp.
 Hesperia ultima, Spayne.
 Hesperides, the three daughters of Atlas, whiche kepte the gardens, wherein grewe the golden appuls, that were taken awaye by Hercules.
 Hesperidum horti, the gardens, wherein were the golden appuls nowe called oranges.
 Hesperis, ris, f. g. an herbe, whiche smelleth moze in the nyght than in the daye tyme.
 Hesperum, a promontory in Africke.
 Hesperus, i. m. g. the weste sterre, that foloweth the sonne goinge downe, the evening sterre.
 Hesiens, people of Palestine, which would neuer eate pigeons.
 Hesternus, a, um, of yesterdaies, or of the daye before.
 Hesternapotatione hestantes, yanyng and gapping of the reuel that they kepte the day before.
 Hestia, is a parte of Thessaly, saith Strabo and Ptholomee, and in Homere it is a towne of Cuboca, Stephanus saith, it is a citee in Aetarnania.
 Heterocliton, ti, n. g. that is excepted out of the common maner of declining or varyng.
 Heterocranea, nex, f. g. a disease in the head, when it abeth and swelleth, and hath litell rounde pusses and sores rysing in it.
 Heterogenius, a, um, of an other kynde.
 Heteromachala, and Heteromalla, orum, n. g. garments that be frised onely on one syde. It is sometyne taken for velvet.
 Heteronimon, that hath an other name.
 Hetruria, the countrey of Tuscan, wherein is the citee of Florence.
 Hethburgum, gi, Edenbrough in In Scotland.
 Hetrusca, a, um, of the countrey called Hetruria.
 Hetrusca disciplina, a certayn doctryne taught in Tuscan, concernynge the interpretation of lyghtnynges, tokens in the firmamente, and chynge monstrous, whiche was of luche este mation among the auncient Romayns, that it was decreed by an ordinaunce of the Senate, that into sixe partes of that countrey, should be sente sixe soones of noble men, to learne that arte.

 Heu, alas, it is construed with a nominative, a datyue, and an accusative case.
 Heu mihi, alas that euer I was bozne.
 Heus, an aduerb of calling. sometyne of sorowyn.
 Hexaclinum, clini, n. g. a parlour, wherein sita persones maie suppe, or rather a place, wherein be. vi. suppyng beddes, as they used in olde tyme.
 Hexagonum, ni, n. g. sixe cornerde.
 Hexameron, of sixe daies.
 Hexameter, i, m. g. a verse of. vi. fete.
 Hexapeda, a measure called a fathom.
 Hexaphorum, i, n. g. a litter or chaire to be borne by sixe men.
 Hexaplum, uel Hexapla, an example.
 Hexalticum, i, n. g. a kynde of barlepe, the case wherof hath. vi. reues of coyne. also. vi. verses together.
 Hexeconalithos, thi, n. g. a little pprecious stone, whiche hath dyuers colours.
 Hexeres, shppes with sixe orders of oars, or hatyng sixe oars in one seate.

HYacinthus, the herbe Delphinion.
 Hians, diuis, om. g. gappinge, openinge, chappinge, desyrng or lokyng geidly for a thyng.
 Hians oratio, a style that is not well compacte: but by reason of meetyng of bowels together, foundeth unpleasantly.
 Hiabas, the soonne of Jupiter, which was kynge of the Getulians, and made warre agaynst the dooene of Carthage.
 Hiasco, scere, to gape, to open by hym selfe, or sprede as flowers dooen.
 Hiato, aui, are, to gape, to open.
 Hiatura, looke Chama.
 Hiatus, us, m. gen. a gapping or openinge of the mouthe.
 Hiatus terrae, the gapping or chynge of the grounde.
 Hiberia, and Hiberus, looke Iberia.
 Hibericum, ci, n. g. an herbe, whiche (as Dioscorides saith) is called of some Androsamo, of some corion: se his description apud Dioscoridem lib. 3. cap. 146.
 Hiberis, looke Feris.
 Hibernia, the isle called Irelande. Betwene England and Spaine in the Ocean sea, on the east it hath England with in one daies sayling: on the south it hath France: Spaine on the west distant thre daies sayling: on the north the maine ocean sea. it is not farre from Scotlande.
 Hibiscus, sci, m. g. and Hibiscum, sci, n. g. an herbe herbe, whiche Galenus calleth wilde malowe. it is also called Althea. Parthe malow. or wasce malow. Ruellius saith, that it is the same that the apothecaries call Bismalua, or Maiu-niscus, whiche is the double malow: it is named the marsh malow. But Virgile in Alexi, seemeth to take it for a kynde of bulle rushes, or ponge mootes or twygges.

 Hyla, looke Hybla.
 Hibris, libidinis, a wilde hogge, engendred betwene a wilde boze and a tame sowe.
 Hic, hac, hoc, a pronowne, this or that.
 Hic amor, hoc studium, that is your desyre, the labour you god.
 Hic quis est, who is this?
 Hic somnus est mihi, This is my maner of slepyng.
 Vna hac spes est, There is no hope but this.
 Hac, is used of Creuce in the feminine gender, plurall numbrye.
 Hac re, for this cause, also by this meanes.
 Hic legibus, on this condition.
 Ne comparandus hic quidem ad illum est, This fellow is not to be compared to the other.
 Hic, an aduerbe, here in this place. sometyne in this matter or busynesse. also in this state or condition. Hic is sometyne taken for Tum.
 Hic illi fientes, rogare atque orare coeperant, When they blouderyng and weepynge began to desyre and praye.
 Tuli hic sis, aliter sentias, yf thou were I, or as I am, thou wouldest thinke otherwise.
 Hicce, hacce, hocce, for hic, hac, hoc.
 Hiccine, hacine, hocine, for hic ne, hac ne, hoc ne.
 Hiccine est Simo? Is this Simo? sometyne it is taken doubtfully, as, Haud nihil ambigam hiccine fuerit Ascanius, an maior quam hoc, I doubt somewhat whether this were Ascanius, or an other elder than he.
 Hiduntum, a towne of Calaber, called commonly Oronito.
 Hiena, looke Hyena.
 Hiera, An yle betwene Sicile and Lparis, dedicated to Vulcane. Also the name of a waape, and of a woman, the wyfe of Chelaphus kynge of Asia, whiche in beautee was supposed to exceede Helena.
 Hiera, a confection.
 Hieracites, a, m. g. a certayne pprecious stone.
 Hieracium, An herbe, which some do suppose to be southwylke. But by Fuchsius, it appeereth not to be the same, but somewhat like, and therefoze is called Sonchites, And Laetia sylvestris, in Englyshe of some dent de l'yon, but other wel expert in the nature of herbes, take it to be an other herbe.
 Hieracopodion, the herbe called Lychnis agria.
 Hieranosos, morbus sacer.
 Hieranthemis, the flowre of the herbe Camomill.

Hierapiera, cra, form. gen. a medicine to purge fraume and choler, and sometyne it is called onely Hiera. It is of sundrye spices confectioned in a powdre.
 Hierapolis, a citee in Asia.
 Hierarchia, a, f. gen. the holye gouernaunce or principallitee.
 Hieratica, a, f. g. spye paper.
 Hieremias, a prophete, bozne (as Epiphanius writeth) at Anathothus, and slayne by his prospleat Taphias in Egpyt. But afterwarde the Egypcians had hym in great honour, and buried hym in the place, where Pharaos palaice stode. For he dyau theses serpentes and scrocodiles. This prophete before the alteration of the temple, toke the arch or holy coffre, and that which was in it, and caused a stone to swallowe it by, sayng to the priestes and auncient men, that were present, Our lord is departed from Syria to heauen, and shall retourne with an holy puissance, and this shall be the signe of his comyng, when all peple shall honour a tree, he said moze vnto them, Forcet man shall open this arke, neither priest nor prophete, excepte Whosles the electe of god. The rabies within it, no man shall vnfolde, excepte Aaron. And at the resurrection fyre this arke shall ryse, and shall come out of the stone, and shall be sette in mount Sina, and all saintes shall resorte thereunto, there to receyue the lord, and shall flee from the enemy, whiche woulde haue destroyed them. And he sealed the stone, wrytyng thereon the name of our lord. The signe was like as it were grauen in yron, and a cloude than covered the stone, but no man knoweth that place.
 Hieri, people beyonde Sauromas, whiche be balde and stacte nosed, euen from the nauis. They are veray iuste people, and neuer warre one on an other.
 Hieris, id est, consecratiu.
 Hero, onis, a kyng of Sicile, whiche was lyke a priuate persone, veray rude and homely, and of his nature intractable and fierse. But after he became sicke, and creased from busynesse (the feuer nowe and than takyn hym) he became a man of good maners and honorable. And in the meane tyme that he was not vexed with the feuer, he fell to learnyng. Wherfore beyng recovered, he used the companye of Symonides, Pindarus, & Bacil des. mozte excellent poetes at that tyme lypynge: who in their wrytynge broughte his name in an honourable remembrance. An other of that name of Athens, was familar frende and scholar with Arias.
 Hieroborane, es, f. g. An herbe called Hieruen.
 Hierobryneas, a kynd of the herbe Geranium.
 Hieroceps, an yle in Epyrus nere to Daphus.
 Hierocömion, mij, n. g. a latherhouse.
 Hieroduli, ministers in temples and churches.
 Hieroglyphica, misticall or enigmatcail letters or Pyphers among the Egyptians, which were images signifying holy sentences.

Hieron, vel Hieron, a chappell.

Hieromyrtos, idem quod rufus.

Hieronimus, ci. m. gene. he that is victour in the games called Sacra certamina.

Hieronymus, the most noble & famous interpreter of holy scripture. He was after the incarnation of Christe about .387. yeres, as he hym selfe writeth. He was borne in a towne called Strido, which was in the confines of Hungarie and Dalmatia. His fathers name was Eusebius. There was an historiographer and a philosopher of Rhodes of this name. Also a ty-ran of Sicilie, the sonne of Hiero.

Hierophanta, ex. m. g. the declarer of misteries of holy scripture.

Hyerophylax, idem quod Aedituus.

Hyerofarchus, the chiefe priest.

Hierosolyma, a, and Hierosolyma, orum, or after the Hebrues Hierusalem, the chiefe cite of Iudæa (as Eusebius writeth) in compas about .vi. milles, and an halfe. And as the same author saith, lib. 9. præparationis euangelicæ, cap. vltimo, it was called Hieron Solomonis, that is to saye, Salomons temple. And after, by corruption of speche, was called Hierusalem and Hierosolyma. But Lyranus on the xxviii. chap. of Genes. writeth, that it was first builded by Melchisedech, and by hym called Salem, that is to saye peaceable. For as much as he was kynge of peace and iustice. also that it was called Solyma, Luza, also Bethel, Hie-rus, Hierosolyma, & Aelia. Albert Iosephus de bello Iudaico, lib. 7. cap. 26. affirmeth, that the first builder thereof, was Chanam, whiche made there a temple, and called it Hierosolyma, where before it was called Solyma. He come de locis Aetorum apostolorum, saith, that the cite was called Aelia, of Aelius A-drianus the emperour, whiche eftsoones repaired it, after that it was destroyed by Citus, and made it larger. It was fūe tymes wasted, and laste destroyed by Citus, after the incarnation of Christe. 73. yeres.

Hierosolymarius, the surname of Pompeie for conquering of Hierusalem.

Hierothens, the propre name of a man.

Higra, a roote of pepper.

Hila, a small gutte or a gutte.

Hilare, merly, ioyously.

Hilaresco, scere, to be merry.

Hilaria, plur. the vii. calendes of Aprille, when the daye and night haue equali houres, and the daye beynneth to increase.

Hilaris, re, and Hilarus, a, um, merly or ioyous, pleasaunt.

Hilarem hunc sumamus diem, Leat vs spend this daye merly.

Hilarem in modum, merly.

Hilara vita, a mery and pleasant lyfe,

Hildritas, atis, form. ge. meryth, pleasauntly, iocundenesse.

Hilaritatem asserre, to make mery or iocunde.

Hilaritate conspergere, idem.

Hilarus, used of Plautus for Hilariter.

Hilarus, the propre name of a man.

Hilaro, aui, are, to make one mery or ioyous.

Hilarodus, di, ma. gen. a synger of wanton and delicate songes.

Hilaror, atis, aui, to be mery.

Hilarulus, a, um, mery and pleasaunt.

Hilla, læ, or Hilla, orum, idem quod Hila.

Hilius, the sonne of Hercules by Deianira.

Hilum, i, n. ge. the littell blacke, whiche is in the ende of a beane. It is sometime taken for nosthyng or nought, or beate littell.

Himera, a ryuer in Sicile, diuided in to two part-tes, the one frethe water, the other salte.

Hin, is a measure of the Hebrues, whiche after the accompte of Senalis, is of our measure one gaton, and a pynte, and receyued in people of wyne. xvi. li. di, and two ounces: of oyle. xv.
 li. of honny. xxv. li.

Hinc, an aduerbe, signifying from hens. Some tyme for that cause.

Hinc illæ lachrymæ, for that cause were the teares, or that was the matter wherefore he wepte.

Hinc loci mei, from my countreie or towne that I cam fro.

Hinc scibo iam vbi fieri, I will wytte of hym now where he is.

Hinc illinc, here and there.

Hinc & illinc, on euery syde.

Hinc inde, idem.

Hinc illinc venit, He cometh I knowe not from whence.

Hinc ciuis est, She is a citizen of this cite.

Hinc, for Ex hac parte.

Hinc inde, euery where, rounde about.

Hinnio, iui, ire, to nere lyke an hysse.

Hinnius, us, m. g. nelyng.

Hinnulus, i, m. g. a faune or hynde calfe.

Hinnulus leonem, there is to be vnderstande capir, vict, or prouocat. The hyd of faune tooke, vanquished, or prouoked the lyon to battayle. A prouerbe applyed to a person feble or ignorant, whiche by any meane hath vanquished hym, whiche is more puaunt than he: or prouoketh to battayle, or contendeth with hym, whiche is wiser or better learned than he hym selfe.

Hinnus, hinna, & hinnulus, la, a mule engusdyed betwene an hysse and a she asse.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hiant flores, the flowers doo spreade.

Hiauit humus, the ground chapped or opened.

Hiare vocalibus sermo dicitur, when wordes mete vnpleasantly in an oracion.

Semper ad spem futuri hiat, he looketh gre-dilge,

dilge, or he gapeth alwaie for that, that is to come.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

Hio, aui, are, to gape, to chappe, to open, to
 cleane. also to wonder or meruaile.

childeth and proueth Hippias to bee an arrde-gant and ignorant foole, forasmuch as prai-syng beautee, he wiste not what beautee was,
 and boasting that he b. fore any other man, coulde dectene a lyce from a trewe man, he coulde not make of them a distinction. By this it appereth, howe muche the common iudges mente of men varpeth, and is inferiour to the iudgement of a perfecte wyse man, as Socras tes was.

Hippairus, i, m. g. an hysse leache.

Hippice, ces, f. g. an herbe, whiche if a man beate in his mouth, he shall neuer feeble hunger nor thirst. Plin. lib. 25. cap. 8.

Hippius Tyrius, was he that firste made Hippoc, whiche serue onely for bourdeyn, called in lastine Naues oneraria.

Hippo, m. g. the name of ii. citees in Affrike, of one of them saucte Augustyne was bishop.

Hippicum, ci, n. g. a measure of grounde, con-tainyng eight miles.

Hippobotos, a fether of hysse, a hyssecarde.

Hippocampa, & Hippocampi, fishes lyke hys-ses on the foze parte.

Hippocampus, a, um, of those fishes.

Hippocentauri, were a people in Thessalia by the mounte Pelias, whiche were also called Centauri, the which were the fyste that were sene in Grece rydyng vpon hysse, whereof came the fable, that Centauri were halfe men and halfe hysse.

Hippocomus, i, m. g. an hysse cosser.

Hippocrates, the name of a physicion most excellent.

Hippocrene, a fountayne in Beotia dedicated to Apollo, and the Artemides.

Hippodamia, or Hippodame, the daughter of Demonaus, kynge of Arcadia, vnto whome it was tolde by the soothsaier, that when his daughter dyd marie, he shoulde d e. Therefore, when she came to the yeres of marriage: he ordeyned a pyce of reynyng with chariottes, and caused to be prouoked, that who so euer dyd vanquish hym therein, shuld haue his daughter to wyfe: and he that was vanquished by hym, shoulde dye. Many of the wooers were slayne. At last Pelops, despyryng to haue the said mayden, promysed priuilege to Hippilus, whiche droue the hysse chariot, that yf he dyd wnn the pyce, Hippilus shuld be wyfe to Hippodamia the fyste nyght: vpon the wh ch couenaunt Hippilus made the ayletree of ware, by occasion wherof the chariot fell downe and was broken. wherefore Demonaus slewe hym selfe, and Pelops enioyed the lady and the toir-alme. When Hippilus aied that whiche was promysed hym: Pelops threwe him into the sea next adioynyng, whiche thereof was cure after called Mare Myrtoum. There was an other la-dye called Hippodamia, whiche was wyfe to Perithous, for whom the battaile was betwene the

the people called Centauri, and them whiche were named Lapythæ.
Hippodamus, mi, m. g. A breaker of horses. It is the name of a learned man of Miletia, whiche wrote fynde of the good state and gouernance of a citee.
Hippodorus, A prince of Athens, which to seeme gentle to the people, used great severity towards his owne chyldren and hysnfolke.
Hippodromus, mi, m. g. a hynde waye, wherein many horses may renne together.
Hippoglossion, ti, n. g. the herbe, whiche some call Daphnitis, some carpophyllon.
Hippoglossa, fa, fem. ge. an herbe like an horse tongue, whiche Ruellius supposeth to be that whiche is called Lanus Alexandrina, it hath a leafe like a tongue.
Hippolipathum, i, n. g. an herbe called paciſce.
Hippolochus, Bellerophons sonne, father of Glaucus. an other of the same name was the sonne of Antimachus the Troiane.
Hippolyte, the wyfe of Acastus kynge of Mænesia. An other was queene of Amazonas, whom Hercules vanquished, and gaue hir to Theseus.
Hippolytus, the sonne of Theseus, who at the complaynte of Phedra his stepmother, was pursued by his father, and he in a charyotte, sleepeing, was ouerthrowen among the stony stones, & rente all to peeces. Afterwarde Theseus reuined & restored hym to lyfe. wherfore he woulde be called Virbius, that is to saye, twice a mā, for as muche as he had twice lyfed.
Hippomachia, a, f. g. a tourneyng and iustynge on horse backe.
Hippomachus, the name of a famous minstrel.
Hippomanes, n. ge. an herbe, wherof if horses doe eate, they forthwith renne madde. It is also a venemouse humoure, rennyng out of the Chape of a mare, whiche if a man hap to receiue inward, he shalbe mad. Plinie saith, that it is a little fleshe in the forehead of a colte when he is new foled, blacke and as bygge as a date, whiche the mare plucketh awaye with hir teethe, as sone as she hath foled. And if any man do take it awaye before hir, she will neuer after loue hir foie.
Hippomanes, the herbe, called also Apocynon.
Hippomathrum, thi, n. g. wilde fencill.
Hippomenes, the nephew of Neptune, whiche ouercame Sibilanta in rennyng.
Hippona, a goddesse, whom horsekeepers dyd worship.
Hipponax, a greke poet borne in Ephesus, who was deformed in visage, but in spye sharpe and behemish, in so muche as when a cunnyng peynter, named Bubalus, had peynted his pill fauoured face, to make men laugh at it: Hipponax made against hym suche vengeable verses, that for anger & shame he caused him to hange him selfe in his house.

Hipponomus, an herbe or herpe of horses.
Hippopæia, ra, f. g. a male or bouger.
Hippophaes, the herbe called tasyll. It is also called Labrum veneris, and Vinga pastoris.
Hippophyes, idem.
Hippoplanus, he that breepleth in sellynge of horses.
Hippopodes, people in the Seythick ocean, whiche haue feete lyke horses.
Hippopotamus, mi, m. g. a beast lypynge in the riuer of Nile, hauinge feete like an ore, but barke & mane like an horse, and nereth like an horse, a wyndyng taile, and eufard like a boie.
Hippos, an horse.
Hippopon, matter in the eye.
Hipporibus, bi, m. gen. an horse herbe, or one that fedeth horses.
Hippocelinon, ni, n. g. some suppose it to be the herbe called smillage, or marcke. It is also called olus atrum.
Hippocela, la, f. g. a sole of an asse.
Hippotoxora, toxora, maf. gen. an archer on horsebacke.
Hippuris, ris, f. g. an herbe called in latyn Equisetum, or Cauda equina, in english horse-tayle, but it is commonly called cattes tayle.
Hippus, a ryuer in Asia rennyng into Phasis.
Hiphratea, the wyfe of Amphidates.
Hir, hiris, f. g. the palme of the hande.
Hira, a citee by the sea side, not far from Phasis, also the gut, whiche is called leinum.
Hircinus, a, um, gotyshe, or of a gote.
Hircipilus, li, m. g. a man that is hearie.
Hircus, a, um, that synketh like a gote.
Hirquus, i, m. gen. the corner of the eye. Also he that is goggle eyede.
Hirculus, li, m. g. a kynde of spikenarde.
Hircus, i, m. g. a gote bucke. it is also the rank sauour, whiche issueth out of the arme holes.
Hirnea, a, f. g. a certayne vessell.
Hires, idem quod gnaphalion.
Hirpa, certayn families not farre from Rome, whiche doynge sacrifice to Apollo, went vpon the spye, and were not hurt therewith.
Hirquinus, a, um, idem quod Hircinus.
Hirquitalus, i, ma. gene. a chyld, whiche passeth the age of xiiii. yeres, and beginneth to be beset with lecherie.
Hirquitalire, to enter into that age of aptnesse to lecherie.
Hirrio, iui, ire, to nare lyke a madde dogge.
Hirsuta, a, fem. ge. the roughnesse of heares of beasts.
Hirsutus, a, um, rough, heary, full of byrds, mosy, and by a metaphoric austere, vnplesant.
Hirius, a, consul of Rome, whiche was vanquished in battayle by Autone.
Hirtus, a, um, idem quod Hirsutus.
Saxa hirta dumis, rocks full of bushes and bryambles.
Hirta sepes, hedges made of thozers & bryes.

Hirido,

Hirido, ridinis, f. g. an horse leathe or bloude sacke.
Hirido ararij, by translation, one that wasteth or consumeth the common treasure.
Hirundinaria, idem quod Chelidonia, take there.
Hirundinus, a, um, or rather hirundinus, a, um, of or belongynge to a swallowe.
Hirundo, inis, f. g. a swallowe.
Hiscacus, ci, m. g. he that galpeth muche.
Hisco, sci, scere, to gaulpe as one dooth for flugs, giffenelle after sleepe, or for lacke of sleepe.
Hiscere, it is to proffer to speake, or open the mouth to speake, to mutter, to be astonied, amased, or in doubt what to doo. also to chappe or bee opened.
Hismachia, a, a saratin.
Hispalis, uel Hispalum, a citee in Spayne nowe called Sibiha, or Siutele.
Hispania, a countrey in the west part of Europa called Spayne, somtyme called Iberia, and Hesperia. It is inuironed on the southe parte with the sea Mare Mediterraneum, whiche diuident Europa from Africa, on the north part with the sea Mare Cantabricum, on the weste with the great ocean sea: On the east with the mountaynes Pyrenæi, and the parte of the roialme of France called Aquitania, & Narbonensis. This countrey is diuided by Idylloz into three regions, Bethica, wherein is Granada, Suil, Co daba. &c. Lucitania, wherein is Portugal, Galicia &c. Taracensis, wherein is Castile, Lyons, and Aragon. In this tyme it conteyneth fower royalmes, Granada on the southe parte towards Afrike: Portugal, on the west: Galitia and Biscaie on the north, Aragon on the east, Castile and Lyons in the middle. Muche of the west parte by reason of rocks, fozelles, and lacke of water, is not fertile nor well inhabited. The north parte by reason of muche colde is not plentuous. The south parte is wonderfull fruitefull. It is in lengthe (as Strabo writeth) 6000. furlonges, wiche is 850. myles. In breadth 5000. furlonges, which is 625. myles. Plinius (nexte unto Italy) extollet it in fertilitye, aboute at othere countreys. Solinus comparerh it with the best countreys in plenty of grayne, wyne, oyle, syluer, golde and Iron. Statius & Claudius, do no lesse commend it.
Hispantenis, se, that was borne or bred in othere contris, and lyueth in Spayne.
Hispans, a, um, that is borne or bred in Spaine.
Hispiditas, a, um, full of byrds.
Hispidus, a, um, bristled, or rough heared.
Hister, i, m. g. a player or tumbler.
Histia, a, a citee in Cæcia.
Histris, a, a prau of Miletia. Erasmus saith, it was a very wyse and subtile man of the yle of Samos, a friende of Democritus, of whose newe inuention of letters sendynge, Au. Gell. writeth lib. 17. cap. 9. Noct. Atticæ.

Histonium, a towne in Italic, not farre from the mount Garganus.
Historia, a, f. g. an historie.
Historice, es, f. g. a declaration of an authoer in maner of an historie.
Historialis, le, and Historicus, a, um, of or pertaining to histories, historie wise.
Historicus, ci, m. g. a wyter of histories.
Histricus, a, um, pertaining to plaiers.
Histrion, onis, com. g. a plaiier in enterludes, or stage playes.
Histrionia, a, f. g. and Histrionica, a, the feate or science of stage playes.
Histrionicus, a, um, and Histrionalis, le, idem.
Histris, histris, f. g. a beaste hauynge sharpe pnykes on his backe, called a porke pnye.
Hiuice, as it were with chappes or gappes.
Hiuice, aut, are, to make to gape or chynke, to cleaue.
Hiuicus, a, um, gappinge or chynnyng, as the grounde is in a great drythe.
Hiuica gens, a cunctuous and deceitfull people.

Hoc, is used for tanto. when quo or quod followeth.
Hoc uide, a forme of latine speche, used in Terence and Plautus, synnyng that wee saie in english, See I praye you.
Hoc, this or that.
Crede hoc mea fidei, beleue this thyng on my warentise.
Quid hoc hominis? what felowe is this.
Hoc litterarum, this shorte letter or litle epistle.
Hoc mentis, this mynde. lykwise Hoc morbi, sceleris, noctis, lucis, &c.
Hoc est, quod ille &cet. this is the cause why he. &c.
Huius non facio, I set not this much by hym.
Hodie, to daye, nowe, at this tyme, in these daies, in this age.
Hodie mane, to day in the mornynge early.
Nunquam hodie, no tyme to daye.
Non facies hodie? Non dices hodie? and such lyke as spoken for a vehemence to enforce one the more.
Hodiernus, a, um, of this daye.
Hodierno die, to daye, nowe at this presente tyme.
Hodierno mane, idem quod Hodie mane.
Hodardocus, ci, m. g. a robber by the hyzhe waie.
Hodaporicum a booke to carie a journey, which maye be called a iournall: or a booke, wherein iourneies from place to place be described.
Hodaporus, ri, m. g. a traupler by the waie.
Hodus, looke hodus.
Harmonopodis, a, a byrde, whiche by plinies description, I thinke to be our redwauke.
Harichius,

Hærichius, a Greeke, very cunning in ymage making.
Hoi, an exclamation of one that wepeth.
Holcus, a certayne herbe.
Holmus, a mortar, a cuppe made like a hoze.
Holocaustum, i. n. g. properly the beast, whiche haung his bowels taken out, is layed whole on the altare, and burned.
Holobrix vestes, garmentes all of pure golde.
Holobore vestes, garmentes whiche be heauie and stiffe, with golde that is wrought in them.
Holographum, pli. n. g. a testament all written with the hande of the testator.
Hololampus, all in a flame.
Holophanta, looke Halophanta.
Holor, oris, m. ge. a swanne.
Holoserica vestis, a garment all of sylke.
Holopechion, a hole cubite.
Holoitea, a certayne herbe.
Holus, looke Olus.
Holus, alias Homolus, an hyll of Thessaly.
Homelium, li. n. g. a certayne facion of cappes.
Homerius, a, um, of Homere.
Homeromastix, tigris, m. ge. the reprocher of Homere. Generally Homeromastices, be taken for all reprochers and false detractours of learned men.
Homêrus, the chiefe of all poetes, whose proper name was Melesigenes. But because he was blynde, he was called Homêrus, whiche in the tongue called Ionica, signifieth blynde. Cicero, Tuscul. 5. saith, It is written, that Homere was blynde, yet se we his picture and not his poeme. For what cuntrey, what marches, what host, what naue, what motions of myndes, as well of men as of beastes, are expressed in suche wyse, that he maketh vs to see that he sawe not & Plutarchus in the boke whiche he wrote of hym saith, that in his two warkes he comprehendeth bothe the partes of man. For in Illiade he described strength and valiantnesse of the bodie, In Odyseea he dooth sette forth a perfecte paterne of the mynde. Not withstanding for his indiscrete fabling of goddes and goddesses, Plato excluded hym out of his weale publike.
Homicida, a, com. gene. a murtherer, a mans killer.
Homicidium, i. n. g. murder or manslaughter.
Homilia, lia. f. g. a sermon.
Homo, inis, m. gen. as saith Phoca, the excellent grammarian, but the common rules teache it to be the common gender, a lyuing creature haung capacitee of reason, subiect to death, a man woman or childe.
Homo bulla, a man is but a buble, a prouerbe signifieng the shortnesse and vncertaine of mans lyfe, resembleng it to a buble of water, whiche shortly ysseth, shortly bangyeth, and colleth to nothyng.

Homo homini deus, Man is mans god, applied to him, whiche with any singular benefite, helpeth a man about his expectation.
Homo trium literarum, signifieth sometyme in mockage a man of a noble linage, because noble men wrote their fornames, their names and surnames with thre letters, as P. Cor. Scipio. C. I. Caesar. It is sometyme taken for a thefe, because Fur, hath in it but thre letters, A fini homines, fooles, asses.
Ansaus Homo, a man with his armes a bene bowe.
Nemo homo est, there is no man.
Homo sum, I am a man, I may be deceived.
Homo es, thou shewest thy selfe like a man, thou playest the man.
Nihil minus hominis videtur, There seemeth nothyng to me further from mans nature, or more vnsimely for a man.
Sic homo est, such is his facion, or this is the facion of the man.
Homo, and Quisquam, bee elegantly ioyned to gether, not with standing that Quisquam alone, signifieth as much as Homo quisquam.
Homocapnus, ni. m. g. a man that spyteth away in the smoke, or by the fyre.
Homocomeria, lybenelle of partes.
Homeoptoton, ti. neu. g. a figure, when diuers members of a sentence haue like fall of cases.
Homocosis, a similitude.
Homocoteleuton, a figure, when clauses of a sentence ende like.
Homogalactus, ti. m. g. a foster brother.
Homogenes, nis, com. gen. of one kynde.
Homoglossus, of the same tongue or language.
Homole, an hyll of Magnesia.
Homoleum, a cap of the olde facion.
Homolium, a towne of Magnesia.
Homologia, a, for. gene. a confession, consent, or cōuenaunt.
Homoloti, a people.
Homographia, like wrytyng or peinctinge.
Homologare, to consent.
Homophônos, of one soune.
Homophylus, of one kind or tribe.
Homophylus, of one minde.
Homozoa, the propre name of a woman, whiche by is signified concorde.
Homonymon, mi. n. gen. where many thynges haue one name, but diuers in effect: as a man, whiche is alpe or prented, diuided by this addicion, a vetric man, a prented man.
Homospyi, they whiche sleape together vnder one rouse.
Homouios, si. m. g. of lyke substance.
Homulus, Homuncio, & Homunculus, a little man, or of small reputation, a dwarfish fellow.
Honestamentum, i. n. g. a thyng that commeth deth of setteyth forth.
Honestas, atis, f. g. honestie, dignitie, woorthip.

Honestas

Honestas & turpido vire, contrarie.
Dignitas & honestas.
Honeste, honestly.
Honesto, aui, are, to rewarde with honour, to make more honorable, to make more esteemed, to commend or set forth.
Honestum, i. n. g. honestie.
Honestus, a, um, honeste, of good behauiour, of good reputation, comely, sayre, beautiful, well fauoured.
Dies honestissimus alicui, a day on the which a man hath great honour shewed hym.
Homines honore honesti, men aduanced to honour and dignitie.
Honesta oratio est, his wordes of sayng is reasonabill. Ille erat honesta facie ac liberali, he hadde a good and well fauoured face, or he was bothe sayre and well fauoured.
Honestus conuentus, an assemble of woorthipfull and honourable persons.
Honesto loco natus, descended of an honest and substantiall kyndred of familie.
Honestissimum testamentum, a wyll discreetly and wysely made.
Honor, or Honos, oris, m. g. honour, dignitie, sometyme beaultie, also reuerence, honestie, sometyme a sacrifice, a rewarde geuen to a man, also funerall obsequie.
Honorem præsari, is where one shall speake of any thyng that is not honeste, than to saie, saung your reuerence.
Quo honore est in what office or dignitie is he, or in what reputation is he, or howe is he esteemed.
Afflicere aliquem honore, habere honorem alicui, and in honore habere aliquem, to doe honour to one, to haue in reuerence.
Honore augeri, to be aduanced to hygher honour and dignitie.
Honore florere, to bee in great honour and estimation.
Honorem congerere, deferre, dare, to promote, to geue office or dignitie to one.
Perfunctus honoribus amplissimis, he that hath been in great dignitie and authortie in the common weale.
In honore esse apud aliquem, to be in reuerence with one, to be muche esteemed and set by.
Honoribus vi, to beare office, to bee in authortie.
Honori habere consilium suum, to entende to great honour and reputation by ministeryng his consail.
Honore summo ei fuit, it was great woorthip and honour to hym.
Honorabilis, le, honourable, woorthy honour.
Honoraria, plaice made at Rome, to the honour of Sacerdus.
Honorarium, ri. n. g. a present geuen to princes, ambassadours, great officers, and iustices at their first comyng, or executyng of their authortie.

estes. Also a custome, that the Decuriones paid for their admission into the court.
Honorarius, a, um, perteynyng to honour.
Honorarius arbiter, a woorthyfull man appointed by the Pretor, to be an indifferent iudge betwene two parties.
Honorarius tumulus, a monument or hearse set vp to the honour of any person, where the bodie is not present.
Honorate, honourably, woorthyfully.
Honoratus, a, um, that is in honour, estimation and reuerence, woorthyfull, honourable.
Honoratus vir, a woorthyfull personage.
Honorificentissime, in a very honorable forme or maner, very honorable.
Honorifico, aui, are, to doe honour, or to honoz.
Honorifice, idem quod honorate.
Honorifice appellare, to name one after a bearty woorthyfull and honorable facion.
Honoriſicus, a, um, that byngyth honour, honorable, woorthyfull, done or spoken to a mans honour or woorthip.
Honoro, aui, are, to honour, to doe reuerence.
Honorus, a, um, that is with honor, honorable.
Hora, an houre, also tyme of an houre, a daie or a yere.
Craftina hora, to morowe.
In horas, every houre.
Omnium horarum homo, a fellowe at all assaies.
Dum hæc dicit, abite hora, while he spake these thynges, a whole houre passed awaye, or the tyme passed.
Horæum, ræi, neu. gener. sammit honny. it is also a saute made of sylke.
Horarius, a, um, that is the space of an houre.
Horarium, ri. n. g. the space of an houre.
Horatius, a famous poet, bozne at Venusium, a man excellent in sharpnesse of witte, & quicknesse of sentence: he was addit to Epicures secte, somewhat wanton in nianers, though he liberally note the vices of other men in his bectes called Saryri, in balades to syng to the harpe (whiche were in. xliii. sondre kyndes of verses) he passed all other that wrote in latine. He was in good fauour with the emperor Augustus, by the means of Mæcenas thempers foris minion, who roke in hym for his mirth and witte muche delectation: to whom, and to Augustus, he wrote diuerse epistels in verse, comprehendng great wisdomes in compendious sentences: and died whan he was .57. yeres olde, as Eusebius writeth. he was after the incarnation of Christe about .x. yeres. Of his name were diuers notable Romayns.
Horatium, olde writers vsed for Bonum.
Horða, a, f. g. a cowe great with calfe.
Hordeaceus, a, um, of barley.
Hordearij, they whiche dooc lyue with eatynge barley.
Hordearius, a, um, perteynyng to barley.

Mm

Hor

Hordearium, money given to souldiers to buy coine.
 Hordearia pruna, plumes of the colour of barley, when barley is ripe.
 Hordeum, dei, n. g. barley.
 Hordeum murinum, called also of Plinie Phœnicia, is wall barley, that groweth on muddy walles.
 Horia, a fishers bote.
 Horiola, a littell fishers bote.
 Horizon, zōnis, neu. gen. a circle diuidyng the halfe sphere of ouer parte of the firmament, from the other halfe, where to our sight, it seemeth, that the heauen toucheth the earth.
 Hormesion, a precious stone of fire colour.
 Horminōde, es, m. g. a greene stone, compassed with a circle of the colour of golde.
 Horminum, ai, neut. gener. an herbe, called of the frenchemen Tour bonne. looke Orzminum.
 Horno, an aduerbe, significyng, this pere.
 Hornotinus, a, um, of this pere, of one peres growyng.
 Frumentum hornotinum.
 Hornus, a, um, of this peres, of one peres contynuanse.
 Agnus hornus, this peres lambe.
 Horna fruges, this peres grayne.
 Horologium, gn, n. g. a diall of a clocke.
 Horologium solarium, a diall.
 Horomades, amonge the Caldees was named the good god.
 Horontes, loke Orontes.
 Horosco, aui, are, to marke the house.
 Horoscopus, the diligent markyng of the tyme of the birthe of a childe.
 Horoscopus, pi, m. gen. that part of the firmament, whiche euery houre riseth from the east: astronomers call it the ascendent.
 Horoscopus, a, um, euery thyng, wherein houres be marked.
 Horrearius, ri, m. g. the keeper of the barne.
 Horreo, rui, rere, whan a man thynketh that his heare dooeth rise, also to quake for colde or feare. sometyme to feare muche, to be astonied or to wonder, to be rough, as fieldes vntilled or out of culture.
 Horrent agri, the fieldes are vnplesant and vnfruitefull.
 Omnium conspectum horreo, I am aferde to come in any mannes sight.
 Horrere alicui, to feare lest some harme will chauce to a man.
 Horrere minas alicuius, to feare a mannes thynnynges.
 Horrendus, a, um, dreadfull, horrible, terrible.
 Horrens, entis, horrible, that setteth vp the hys stils, as a lion, or dogge.
 Horresco, scere, whan a man feleth within hym great colde or tremblyng to begynne, as in a feare, or in a great feare: sometyme to quake, to feare, also to make as coigne doeth with the wynde.

 Horreum, rei, n. gen. a garner, a barne, wherewith coigne is laied. Sometyme a store house, wherewith any other thyng is kepte.
 Horribilis, le, horrible or terrible, fearefull.
 Horrificus, a, um, idem.
 Horride, without any good fashion or pleasure.
 Horriditas, aris, idem quod Horror.
 Horridulus, la, lum, timorous, somewhat vnplesant, rough, rude.
 Horridus, a, um, hideous, terrible, or he that quaketh for colde, or feare, stiff for colde, enough, out of culture, nothyng cleanly, handsome, or trymme.
 Horrida & inculca vita, a rude & homely life.
 Deformis atque horridus homo, an ill fauored and foule persone, lothsome to beholde.
 Inculca & horrida scripta, wytynges without grace or elegancy.
 Horrifer, rifiera, rum, that bypnyeth colde weather.
 Horrifico, aui, are, to make aferde, to make to quier or tremble.
 Horrilo, aui, aui, to grow rough.
 Horrisonus, a, um, haupyng a terrible towne or voyce.
 Horrō, oris, ma. gen. a shewyng of quakynge for colde or feare. Sometyme the cruellness or terriblest of ones loke. also a religious or reuerende feare.
 Horrore perfundi, To be in such feare, that one quaketh or sheweth.
 Horsum, hither, or hitherwarde, an aduerbe.
 Hortatio, oris, f. g. Hortamen, minis, & Hortamentum, ti, n. g. idem quod Hortatus.
 Hortator, oris, m. gen. one that counsaileth or moueth to a thyng.
 Hortatrix, the feminine.
 Hortatius, a, um, that belongeth to exhortacion or monyng.
 Hortatus, us, masc. gen. an exhortacion or monyng.
 Hortensia, æ, f. g. the daughter of Hortensius, a woman most eloquent.
 Hortensius, an excellent oratour of Rome, of a wonderfull memoie.
 Hortensis, se, pertynyng to a garden, or of a garbyne, or that groweth in a garden.
 Hortensius, a, um, idem.
 Hortor, aris, ari, to exhort, to counsaile or moue to a thyng.
 Hortari canes, to chere the houndes. likewise.
 Horrari equos.
 Hoc te iam diu hortor, cum duobus accus.
 Hortari vt capiat.
 Hortari ad perficiendum.
 Iisdem de rebus hortor.
 Hortari alicquem de pace. &c.
 Hortus, ti, m. ge. a knotte garden, or a garden for pleasure, or an orcheyarde.

Hori

Horpensiles, gardenes made in the toppes of houses.
 Horti, in the plurall numbre, is moste comons ly used for an orcharde or garden of pleasure.
 Hortus, was used of olde wyters, for Villa.
 Horulus, li, m. g. a littel garden.
 Horula, a littell house.
 Hous, an Egyptian, whiche wyte and declared the secreet maner of wytyng, whiche the Egyptians used, called Hieroglyphica. Horus was also the soonne of Isis.
 Hosa, a river of Tuscan, called now Martha.
 Hostamicus, sickely.
 Hospes, hospitius, com. g. an host that receiueth straungers or gueses into his house also a gese, whiche lodgeth in an other mans house. also a stranger, or a man inhabuyng out of the countrey.
 Hospita terra, a countrey, whereby a man may peacably passe.
 Hospes vrbis, a stranger that knoweth not what is done in the cite.
 Hospes in re aliqua, one that is ignorant in a thyng, or knoweth not what belongeth to it.
 Hospes in voluntatibus suorum ciuium, one that knoweth not the mynde or wyll of his ciuitians or countrey men.
 Hospita, tr, a strange woman.
 Hospitalia, lodgynges in an house, which serue onely for strangers.
 Hospitilis, le, bypnyng a gentill enterteynement, or gladly receiuyng a stranger: or that belongeth to an host or gues, or to enterteynement of strangers.
 Hospitalis iupiter, so called because strangers or gueses when they were ill intreated in thepp lodgynges, called hym to wyntesse, despyng began to reuenge them.
 Hospitaliter, lyke a gese.
 Hospitalitas, aris, f. g. hospitalitee, enterteynement of frendes or gueses.
 Hospitalolum, i, a diminutiue of Hospitium.
 Hospitium, n, n. g. an house alway redie to receiue frendes. sometyme a lodgyng. also an hospital. sometyme frendship shewed in hospitalitee, frendly familiaritee betwene persones, whan one man cometh boldly to the others house, enterteynement.
 Renuntiare hospitium alicui, to forsake ones house, where he hath ben intreated.
 Excipere aliquem hospitio, to lodge or interteyne one in his house.
 Pro hospitio, quod mihi cum illo est, for the familiaritee that is betwene him and me.
 Liberale hospitium, a liberall enterteynement of frendes or strangers.
 Hospitium & amicitia.
 Hospior, aris, ari, to receiue frendly into his house. also to lodge in a place as a gese or stranger.
 Hospitatur aqua in eo loco, the water resteth in that place.

 Hospitus, a, um, straunge, also that guesteth or receiueth gueses.
 Hospita aquora, id est, Vicina.
 Hospita flumina, riuers that may be passed in a bote or hypppe.
 Hosimi, they that be bozne without nofethylls.
 Hostia, æ, f. g. an host of sacrifice offered to atterpe victorie of enemies.
 Hostiatus, a, um, that is laied with sacrifices.
 Hosticus, a, um, hostile or enemy.
 Hostilis, le, pertynyng to an enemy.
 Hostiliter, lyke an enemy.
 Hostilitas, aris, f. g. hostilitie, enmittee.
 Hostimentum, i, n. g. recompence, one for an other.
 Hostio, iui, ire, forecompence, to assuage or abate, to offende, to strike.
 Hostis, is, com. gen. an enemy.
 Hostium, i, n. g. a measure of an hundred and forty buischels also a doore.
 Hostorium, i, n. g. the straffe, wherewith all measures be made euen, a strike.
 Hostus, i, the quantitee of oyle, that the oliues geide at euery pressyng.

H Vber, hūberis, n. g. a pappe or bdder.
 Huber, hūberis, om. g. fruitefull, plentifulous, abundant.
 Huber aqua, plente of water, muche water.
 Ferax & huber.
 Huber & fecundus author, an authour that is plentifulous and full of good matter.
 Huberior spes, greater hope.
 Edictum huberrimum, an ample and large commaundement.
 Huberrimus fructus, great plente of fruite.
 Hubero, aui, are, to make plentifulous or fruitefull, also to be abundant.
 Huberrime, verare plentifulously.
 Hubertas, aris, f. g. plentie, abundance, fruitefulness, fertilitye.
 Hubertas mammaram, abundance of mylke in the brastes.
 Hubertas soli, fruitefulness or fertilitye of the ground.
 Hubertas virtutis, the great fruitefulness of vertue.
 Hubertim, plentifulously.
 Hubertus, a, um, abundant or plentifulous.
 Huc, hither.
 Huc abh cum illo, I came from thens hither with hym.
 Huc coram adducam, I wyll bypnyng hym hither before you.
 Huc prouiso, I come hither to see.
 Ego huc redde, than restoe it hither to me as gapne.
 Omnia hæc verba huc redeant, All theese woordes come to this ende, or bee spoken to this

Mm ij

this

this intente.
Rem huc deduxi, I brought this matter to this poynte.
Huc & huc, now on the one syde, now on the other; now to the one syde, now to the tother.
Huc illic, hyther and thither.
Hui, an interfection of wonderpynge, sometyme of scornynge.
Hui meam sororem? Ho my sister?
Hui tam cito? Ho, ho, so shortly, so soone?
Hudum, for Sudum.
Huic, to that place. also to hym or hyr.
Huiscce, the genitive case of Hic, hac, hoc, compounded with ce.
Huiusmodi, & huiuscemodi, suche, of that sorte.
Hulula, la, f. g. a shrike oule.
Hululo, aui, are, to howle.
Humanitas, itis, fcc. g. humanitee, of nature of man, hyndeneffe. also doctrine, perteynynge to man, learnynge, liberall knowlage, gentynesse, mekenesse, curtesie, gentil behauiour, civillitee, pleasauntnesse in maniers.
Humanitas & modestia.
Immanitas & humanitas, contrary.
Comprehendere aliquem humanitate, To shew gentlenesse towards.
Politior humanitas, good learnynge.
Vir humanitate politus, a man adowyned with cleane learnynge.
Humaniter & humane, gentlyll, curtesely, meekely.
Humanitus, aduer. of men, after the facio of me.
Humanus, a, um, gentyll, tractable, courteous, meekesull, frendely, humane, learned, counsnyng.
Si quid mihi humanum contigerit, If I chaunce to dye.
Hocce humanum est? Is this a gentyll touche?
Humanus calculus, The stone ingendred in a mans body.
Humanum genus, and Humana gens, mans kynde.
Humana specie & figura esse, To haue the shappe and figure of a man.
Humatio, onis, f. g. an interment or buriall, a putting in to the grounde.
Humator, oris, m. ge. one that burieth.
Humatus, a, um, buried, layde in the earth.
Humeatus, a, um, made moyste or weete.
Humeo, aui, are, to make moyste, to weate.
Humeus, a, um, moyste or weete.
Humeo, mul, ere, to bee moyste or weete.
Humerus, i, m. g. the shoulder.
Ab humero pendebant sagittæ, his arrowes hanged at his shoulders.
Extollere in humeros, To take vpon his shoulders.
Humeris rempublicam sustinere, by translatiō to susteyne & beare vp the comune weale, as it were vpon his shoulders.

Humeri in bobus.
Humeri in gallinaceis.
Humeralis, lis, neu. gen. a thyng to weate on the shoulders.
Humersus, a, um, that hath great shoulders.
Humesco, scere, to ware weete, to bee weete.
Humescens oculi, eyes wet with weeping.
Humidulus, a, um, somewhat moyste or weete.
Humidus, i, n. g. moysture, weatnesse.
Humidus, a, um, moyst, weate.
Humifer, misera, rum, that bringeth moysture or humour.
Humificus, a, um, that maketh moysture.
Humigatus, a, um, moysted.
Humilis, aui, are, to make lowe, poore, or abiecte.
Humilis, le, bafe, lowe, also simple or poore, abiecte, vile, humble, of lowe conditiō.
Humilis & excelsa Luna, contrary.
Humilis vitis, a, vigne kepte lowe by the grounde.
Humilis & abiectus.
Humilis animus aque demissus, a lowe and bafe courage.
Humilis sepultura, simple or of small coste.
Angusta mens & humilis, idem.
Humilis as, a vyle crasse, lytell esteemed.
Humili atque obscuro loco natus, descended of a bafe or unknowne stocke.
Oratio humilis & abiecta, cui contraria Alta & excelsa.
Preces humiles, humble prayers.
Humiles habitare casas, to dwelle in small cottages.
Humilis statura, a dwarfyshe or lowe stature.
Humilitas, aus, f. g. basenesse or lownesse.
Humilitas generis, a basenesse of ones stocke or kynde.
Humil, alowe, or on the grounde.
Fusus humi, lying alonge vpon the grounde.
Humiliter, lowely, humbly.
Humifer, a, um, that beareth the grounde.
Humo, aui, are, to bury or hyde.
Humor, oris, m. ge. humour or moysture, water or lycour.
Euocare corruptum humorem, to draw out the corrupt humour.
Humus, i, fcc. m. ge. carthe beeyng moyste, the grounde.
Tollere se humo, to rype from the grounde.
Hungaria, reade after in Pannonia.
Hunni, people, whiche came out of Scythia, and inhabited Hungarie.

HYacinthia festa, were solempne ceremonies dooen in the nyght.
Hyacinthinus, a, um, of violet colour.
Hyacinthizontes, the fourth kynde of the stone smaragdo.

Hys

Hyacinthus, called also Vacinium, hath leaues lyke poppet, an hande bredthe in heygth, lesse than a maydens lytell finger, greene of colour, the topp lyng downe full of purple floures, and the roote rounde. The flower spryngeth out in spryng tyme, with the violet, and before the rose. Of this flower were feigned two sundry fables. One, that it was a boy that Apollo loued, whom by myffortune he slew, wherfore he touned hym into this flower. An other fable is, that it sprang of the bloude of Iar, the valgaunt Greeke, and that certayne veynes of the flower, seme to expresse the figure of these two letters A I. that hebe, whiche is commonly called Hyacinthus, is named in Englyshe Crowtoes. It is also a precious stone of the coloure of golde, called a iacint, whiche hath a fourtayne vertue agaynst the common plague, specially if it be to woyn, that it doo touche the veyne that cometh from the herte.
Hyades, are. vii. sterres, whose names are Ambrosia, Eudora, Pasichoe, Coronis, Plexaura, Pytho, & Tyche. They bee troublouse, and eate sorowes and wyndes. They goe doone the fourtenthe Calendes of Maie. Poetes name them the daughters of Atlas, & Aethiopia, wherfore they been also called Atlantes. But because in lamentynge they brother Hyas (slayne by a lyoness) they woyned away and dyed, and therfore translated by Jupiter in to the firmament: They were afterwarde called Hyades, by the name of they brother. Some saye, that they were the nourses of Bacchus, and were called Dodonides Nymphæ, of a town and forest called Dodona. The Romayns called them Succulæ. Also Paraliciū.
Hyna, looke Hena.
Hyalargus, gi, m. g. a glaspe.
Hyalæ, a nymphæ, one of the companions of Diana.
Hyalinus, alina, um, glasse, or of the colour of glasse.
Calices hyalini, bypnhyng glasses.
Hyalus, i, m. g. glasse. It is sometyme taken for greene colour.
Hyantius, and Hyanteus, a, um, of Boeotia.
Hyas, aus, one that was gouernour of Boeotia, of whom they were called Hyantes.
Hyas, hyadis, loke Hyades.
Hyarbas, loke Hyarbas.
Hyberia, a region in Asia togyng to Armenia, enuironed with the mountayn Caucasus. It is also the olde name of Spayne.
Hyberna, norum, n. g. plu. places where men of warre do reste them in wynter.
Hybernaculum, i, neu. ge. a place prepared for men of warre to wynter in.
Hybernia, x, f. g. Irelande.
Hybernicus, a, um, of Irelande.
Hyberno, aui, are, to make abode in wynter.

Hybernus, a, um, perteynynge to wynter.
Hybernium cubiculum, a wynter chaubert.
Hyberni agni, lambes eated in wynter.
Hybernium tempus, wynter season.
Hyberus, a great ryuer in Spayne, ngyhe to Tarrhacon.
Hyblæus, a, um, of the mountayne or citee Hyble.
Hyble, es, or Hybla, x, a citee in Sicilie, and a mountayne ngyh to it, whercon groweth plenty of tyme. And therfore the honge that is there, is of all other mooste pleasant.
Hybræas, an oratour.
Hybrida, swyne halfe wyld.
Hybris, hybridis, fcc. m. gen. a dogge engendred betwene an hounde and a mastyue, called a spimmer, or a mungrell. Also a kynd of haukes, whiche scidome is seene in the daye, but seeth his pail in the nyght.
Hyccæ, a great fythe, whiche Hermolaus Barbarus taketh for a sturgeon.
Hydarnes, or Hydarnus, a noble man of Persia.
Hydaspes, a greatte ryuer in Indie. Looke Idaspes.
Hyderos, ri, m. gen. a disease whan the shynne is spiled with water.
Hydra, dræ, fcc. m. gen. a water serpent. It was also a monstre, with whom Hercules fought, and as soone as he hadde striken of one heade of the monstre, an other sprang vpon immediatly.
Hydræ secare, to meddle with an endlesse matter, or where one mischief happeneth after an other.
Hydor, hydas, or hydros, idem quod aqua.
Hydragógus, gi, m. ge. he that bringeth water to a place by furrowes or trenches.
Hydragyrum, ri, neu. gen. a certayne thyng wherwith siluer is gylte in the seade of quicke syluer.
Hydræleon, water mixte with oyle.
Hydrastina, næ, f. g. wilde hempe.
Hydraulax, laxis, m. g. a water forowe.
Hydraulicus, a, um, perteynynge to organes, or to an instrument made to drawe vp water.
Hydræulis, lis, m. g. an organ pipe.
Hydæulus, i, m. g. an instrument to puse out the water by violence, or rather to drawe vp water out of a depe place. Also a pyce of organes.
Hydria, x, f. g. a water pottle.
Hydrocèle, hydrocèles, a disease whan a man is bursten, or when the humour fallith into one of the stones.
Hydrocélus, ci, m. g. he that is bursten.
Hydrolápathon, thi, u. g. a water docke.
Hydromantia, tia, f. g. diuination in callynge of spirites to appeare in water.
Hydrómeli, n. ge. vndeclinable, water and honge sodden together.
Hydromphalon, a beade humour gathered about the nauell.

M m iij

Hys

Hydronterocoele, the disease of burstynge.
 Hydrophobia, x, f. g. a disease, when the patient feareth water exceedingly.
 Hydrophobus, bi, m. g. he that is a fearde of water, or hateth water.
 Hydropycus, a, um, that hath the dropic.
 Hydropiper, semeth to be the herbe, wh. ch the Apothecaries commonly call Eupatorie.
 Hydrophis, sis, f. g. idem quod Hydrops.
 Hydropora, he that dygneth alwaie water.
 Hydrops, dropis, the dropic. It is a sicknesse (as Trallianus wyrteth) whiche cometh of the lyuer, made so colde, that it maie not sufficiently boyle the meate that is receiued, and conuerthe it into the substance of pure bloude, but turneth it into a watry substance, wynd or steume. By occasion wherof (as Galenus and Paulus saie) the lyuer beynge feeble, the colde matter, whiche aboundeth, is sente into other membres, wherof cometh yll habyte and fygure of the body. It procedeth of .iii. causes: of a primatpue cause, as by muche colde drinke immediately after labour, barynge, goynge longe in the sonne, or drynyng muche fastyng. Of a porydyng cause: as of an yll complexion, hotte or colde, or oppilation, wherby good humours are let to be ingendred, and yll humours to be exculsed. Of a ioynt cause: as of water or wynde possedyng eithe all the membres, or onely them whiche serue for nourishment of the bodye: of this sicknesse bee thre kyndes, Tympanises, Astizes, Hypofarcha, Reade more of them in thes places.
 Hydus, druntis, or Hydruntum, i, a citee in Calabria, by the sea syde.
 Hydus, i, m. g. a water serpente. idem quod Natrix.
 Hydrusa, a citee in the countrey of Athens. Also an Ilande called Andros.
 Hyela, a citee in the countrey of Ocnotria.
 Hyemalis, le, of wynter.
 Hyemalis dies, a wynters date.
 Hyematis vis, sharpnesse of wynter.
 Hyemalis locus, a colde countrey.
 Hyematio, onis, f. g. a wynteryng.
 Hyemo, aui, are, to reste in the wynter tyme, to wynter, to make colde wether.
 Hyematus, a, um, frofen.
 Hyems, emis, fcm. gen. wynter, tempest, great wethering, sometyme aper.
 Magnitudo hyemis, great wethering in the tyme of wynter.
 A dulta hyems, the myddle parte of wynter.
 Affecta hyems, wynter almost ended.
 Subcasum hyemis, a litle before the ende of wynter.
 Matura hyems, a tyme of wynter, cui apponitur tardas hyems, a latewarde wynter.
 Hyems iam precipitauerat, it was towards the later ende of wynter.

Hyena, nae, f. g. a beaste lyke a wolfe, which hath a mane lyke an horse ouer all his backe & necke, but the heares be longer and harder.
 Hygris, a citee of Sarmatia, called commonly Casbardy.
 Hygremplastrum, moist plaster.
 Hygromyrra, orum, moiste ointement.
 Hygrotes, in trees is the gumme or moisture that droppeth out.
 Hyla, æ, or Hylas, le, the companion of Hercules, whom he losse in the borders of Ionia.
 Hylæa, a countrey, after whiche a parte of the sea is called Hylæum.
 Hilæus, a Centaure, whose incontinence was cause of the warres betwene the Lapites, and the Centaures.
 Hylas, a lake of Bithynia, in the whiche (as some suppose) Hyla, Hercules companion was drowned.
 Hyllus, the sonne of Hercules by Deianira.
 Hyllonome, a woman of the centaures, which after her housebände was deade, slewe hir selfe with his swoorde.
 Hymantopodes, a lame people in Ethiopie, which haue clubbed or croked feete.
 Himella, a riuer.
 Hymen, minis, neu. gen. a suite in the secreete place of a mayden, whiche when she is deflowered, is broken. Also a songe, songen at weddinges.
 Hymeneus, xi, ma, ge, the god of marriage, his sometyme taken for marriage, also a songe of verses songe at marriages.
 Hymera, the name of a ruere.
 Hymettus, an hill by Athens, where was honie of all other most precious.
 Hymettus, a, um, of the hill Hymettus.
 Hymnus, ni, masc. gene. a praise in a songe, hymne.
 Hyoscyaminus, a, um, of henbane.
 Hyoscyamos, an herbe called henbane.
 Hyosiris, a certayne herbe lyke dentdelion, which beynge bruised, is verie holisome for woundes.
 Hypacaris, a ruere of Scythia.
 Hypæra, a citee where were mercuriuous sayge men.
 Hypæthrium, or Hypæthrum, i, n. g. an alaine a garden, or gallery without any coueryng.
 Hypagogeus, gei, m. g. an instrument, wherewith stones are polished.
 Hypagum, gi, n. g. a certayne instrumente used longynge to a shyppe, as some supposed: but it is rather the same that hypagus is, looke there.
 Hypallage, es, a figure, whan woordes be vnderstande contrary wyse.
 Hyppanis, a ruere in Scythia. Vitruuius sayth, li. 8. cap. 3. it is in Pontus. M. Tull. Tusc. quest. lib. 1. sayth, that Hyppanis, from a parte of Europe, renneth into Pontus.
 Hypera, a toyde, tied to the ende of the sayle garde.
 Hipparchus, a philosopher that wrote of the planetes and tymes of the yere.
 Hyppis, or as some doo write, Hypanis, Arrianus calleth it Hyphasis, a great ruere, whiche renneth out of the mountaynes of Scythia, into Indie, and cometh into the famous ruere of Ganges, and is in breadth vii. furlonges, as Diodorus wyrteth lib. xvi. The streame therof is so swifte, that no man may passe ouer it by the space of .v. daies sayling. The water is fresh. After that it cometh within iii. daies saylinge of the sea, it is wonderfull better, by reason of a bitter foue. tapne, whiche renneth into it. At this ruere the great Alexander shiped his iourney, and went no further into Indie, but dyd there sette vp. xii. altars of stone, euer of them fifty cubites in greatnesse.
 Hypania, a citee of Thessaly.
 Hypania, a woman of Alexandria excellently learned in Astronomie, and diuers other sciences.
 Hypanus, ti, m. g. a conflu.
 Hypanus, a ruere of Phoenicia.
 Hyphenium, mi, n. g. an egge, whiche proueth not vnder an hene or other byrde.
 Hypelæus, a kynde of Laurell.
 Hypocoon, a weede growing among cozne, having leaues lyke rue.
 Hypocor, a Troian, whom Diomedes slewe.
 Hyper, in latine Saper, aboue.
 Hyperaspites, sis, vel ita, m. g. a protectour, a defender, a great shield.
 Hyperbæus, or Hyperbaron, a figure, whan a woode is transposed from the playne order of construction, to make the oration more pleasant, as, in duas distium esse partes.
 Hyperbore, es, f. gen. excede in aduancement or depentynge, as, 3 ygher than heauen, whiche than in we, swifter than lightynge, slower than a snayle, woorse than the dyuell.
 Hyperbolicus, or Hyperbolicæ, the aduerbe, Gods exceddently, eith in augmentynge or diminysynge.
 Hyperbolicus, a, um, exceddyng credence.
 Hyperborei, people dwelling in the furthest part of the north. And as some suppose, vnder the north pole called Polus Arcticus. Pomp. Melapiereth, that the countrey is but litle, hanging the sunne ouer them, and is feruile of it selfe, the people verie iuste, lyping longer, and more pleasantly than other men, alwaie without busynesse or labour, knowynge neyther warre nor debate. Lyke to this dothe the Plinie wyte, lib. 4. cap. xii. Solinus saith, that some men dooe appoint them rather to Asia, than to Europa. Other dooe sette them meane betwene the sonne goyng downe with the Antipodes (whiche are people hauyng their feete agaynst ours) and the sonne rising with vs. Finally he saith they bee in Europa, where they haue. vi. monethes continually daie, and. vi. other monethes continually nyght. the Hyperborei there be alwaies holisome. they knowe neyther sicknesse nor vniquietnesse. wherfore Strabo wyrteth lib. xv. that some men ascribeme, that they dyd lyue a thousande yeres. Festus Pompeius wyrteth, that they exceded the lyfe of man, lyping aboue. 100. yeres. And therfore were they called Hyperborei, as it were exceddyng the common terme of mannes lyfe. And whan they bee weerde and redous of their lyfe, as Hela and Solinus wyte, making good chere with their neyghbours, and haupnge garlandes on their heades, they throw theyn selues from a certayn roche into the depe sea, esteemynge that to bee the beste death and fourme of buryng.

Hipparchus

 Hypercatalecticum metrum, where abundeth one syllable or two.
 Hyperichius, a grammarian of Alexandria.
 Hypericon, ci, neu. gene. an herbe called saint Johns wort.
 Hyperides, one of the ten orators of Athens, whose tounge was cutte out by Annapater.
 Hyperion, some calle the brother of Saturne, whiche gouerneth the course of the planettes, and therfore is named father of the Moone, the Moone, and the mozowe. Sometime it is putte for the sunne.
 Hypermetra, one of the fiftie daughters of Danaus, whiche saued her husbände Linus of Linceus.
 Hypermeter, or Hypermetrus, i, a syllable as boundynge in a verse.
 Hyperthyron, a trantumpt of haunce.
 Hyperthyrum, that which is nexte ouer the brow of a man.
 Hyphear, a kynd of glan melicme.
 Hyphen, where dpuces woordes bee pronounced vnder one accente: as, Quandoquidem, vityng &c.
 Hypnæles, addres, whiche styngynge a man, he dyeth sleppynge.
 Hypocaustum, sti, neu. gene. a hotte howse or stowe.
 Hypochyma, a grape humour, coueryng the eye, called also Glaucoma.
 Hypochondrium, diu, neu. gene. the inward parte of the body aboue the nauill, and vnder the stomaque.
 Hypocritis, sis, f. ge. dissimulation, feigned hypocrisie, hypocrite.
 Hypocrita, æ, m. g. an hypocrite.
 Hypocimpes, bowes of Pirche tree.
 Hypodosis, or Hypodemia, atis, n. g. a shoe.
 Hypodistole, idem quod subdistinctio.
 Hypodidascalus, an hyscher or substitute in teaching.
 Hypoglossis, the litle fleshe that fasteneth the tounge to the nether parte of the mouth.
 Hypogeum, ei, n. ge. a place vnder the ground.
 Hypogeson, idem quod Aizoum.
 Hypoglossida, litle rounde thynges made by

Alm iij phitike

Alm iij phitike

philike to lye vnder ones tounge, whiche is dis-sealed with reines of grece in the throte.
 Hypolapathum, thi, n. g. an herbe lyke to docke, named patience, and is a hynde of fozell.
 Hypomnema, aus, and Hypomnematum, ti, n.
 g. an exposition of comment.
 Hypomnema oua, eggs that birdes bryng forth when they be troden of other the byrdes, or females, whiche be vnprofitable, & wyl not be hatched.
 Hypomnematographi, wynters of commentaries.
 Hypofelinum, ni, idem quod olus arum,
 loke there.
 Hypopodion, dii, n. g. a foote stoole.
 Hypopyon, where matter renneth out of the eyes.
 Hypostes, an inner garment.
 Hypofarcha, one of the kyndes of dropsy, wher-by all the body bolneth of swelth. it cometh by the encreasynge of bloude colde, thyn, and was-ter, infused into all the members, in the default of the thyrde digestion, caused by the weakesnesse of the stomacke and lyuer, the waies wher-of beynge stopped, the power whereby superflui-ties are separate and expulsed, is made feeble, whereby the body gathereth vicious iuyce and wyndes.
 Hypophagma, where the skynne of the eye by some stroke is so hurt, that the blouddie sobem-ty spreadeth ouer the eye.
 Hypotasis, scos, fec. gen. substance. It is also that whiche dooth ryle in brine, where there is good digestion, if the residue be white, light and risynge in facion lyke a pearce the small ende bpwarde.
 Hypotheca, a pledge also a doctrine.
 Hypothesis, an argumente, matter, or cause,
 wherupon one should argue, dispute, or speake.
 Hypothicos, a linnen rochet.
 Hypothyra, seu Hypothyrides, the dooze, or rather the place open, where the dooze is, the dooze rounne.
 Hypothyron, a groundfill or thresholde.
 Hypozeuxis, a figure contrary to Zeugma, whan euery clause hath his propre verbe.
 Hypozigia, all drawynge cattell.
 Hypochoriais, a disease in horses eyes, risynge of a humour, that cometh out of the heade.
 Hypia, a riuer of Spaine.
 Hepsea, a blinde womans name in Dorace.
 Hypenor, the soune of Dolopio, whiche was slayne by Euripilus at the siege of Troie.
 Hypicratea, the wyfe of kynge Mithridates, whis-che followed hym in all his warres, beynge armed lyke a knyght.
 Hypsipyle, the daughter of Thoas kynge of Lemnos, whiche whan the women there, by a common consent, had slayne all the men of that countre in one nyght, caused hir father. After whan Jason gorynge towarde the conqueste of the golden fleece, came vnto Lemnos, the deyng in loue with hym, conceiued by hym two children wyppnes, and whan they were boyn, the women of the countrey woulde haue put hir to deathe, for the slaying of hir father: but the in Aegyng was taken by pyrates, and geyue to Aegyngs kynge of Aemea, whose sonne the noursyshed. But whan the Argues wente to destroye Thebes, Hypsipyle, whyle the wente to shewe to the Argues a fountayne, lesse the chyldre lyng on the grasse, who was slayne by a serpente. Wherefore whan the fas-ther of the chyldre woulde haue put hir to deathe, the kynge of the Argues defended and saued hir. Some other wytte, that Hypsipyle (whan the percerpud Jason did not retourne to hir as gayne, accordyng to his promysse) threwe hir selfe into the sea, and was drownded.

 Hyrcania, a countrey in Asia.
 Hyrcanius, a, um, of Hyrcania.
 Hyrcanum mare, the sea now called Mare Abas-cuk, or Mare de Sala.
 Hyrium, a citee of Apulia, called commonly Les-sina.
 Hyrtacus, a Crotane, father of Apulus, Aeneas companion.
 Hyginum, a colour lyke scarlet.
 Hylophites, a, m. g. and spguratly, n. g. a wine made with hysope.
 Hyssopus, pi, m. g. or Hyssopum, pi, n. g. an herbe called hysope.
 Hysteralgia, pegne of the bealy.
 Hystorologia, & Hysteron proteron, a maner of spekyng, where the last is set before the first,
 and as it is saied, the carte before the horse.

I ANTE A.

OF OLDE wynters was used for V, as Maritum for Maritimum.
 I, is the imparatue moode of Eo, and dooth signifie, go thou. It is also a fourme of speakeynge, whan we dooe correcte, exhorte, or mocke any man.

Inunc, & rebus nimium confide secundis,
 Go to and put all thy trust in prosperitee.

Inunc, & dormientem exita, Go thy way and awake hym.

Is, was the ponger daughter of Atlas, and foundeth as muche as a voyce.

Iacchus, one of the names of Bacchus, called god of wynges.

Iacea nigra, is (as Brunfelsius supposeth) the herbe, which is called Morfus diaboli.

Iaceo, cui, ere, to lye, to extende out, or bee of length somtyme to be, to be yde, to ly vnknewe, to bee vnable, to be dead, to bee condemned or naught

naught set by, to be yde, and of no price.
 In medio campus iacet, In the myddes is a feld.
 Ille iacet, he is dead.
 Maximas vero virtutes iacere necesse est, vos lupate dominante, Carnall delictatione sus-tynge, nedes must excellent vertues be nothyng sette by.
 Iacent, they are without vertue, courage, or estimation.
 Iacent virtutes, vertue is naught set by.
 Iacent precia, they are of a lowe price.
 Iacet grauitas, he lieth sicke.
 Iacet oratio, the oracion is without any grace of spirite, or hath no lyfe or quickenesse.
 Iacens animus, a desperate mynde, or out of courage.
 Iacente te, thou beynge sicke.
 Iacere aliter ad pedes, to lye at ones feete, humbly entreayng hym.
 Iacere prostratum, to lye alonge.
 Iacere in obliuione & silencio, to bee forgotten and - othyng spoken of.
 Iacere in occulto, to be nothyng renoumed or famous.
 In laetis alicuius iacere, to lye clipped in ones armes.
 Iacere inultum, to remaine unpunished, or to bee without reuengement.
 Iacere in maiore, to remayne in great heauyn-
 nesse.
 Iacere in fardibus, to lye as a desperate persone, that passeth not what becommeth of hym
 selfe.
 Rationes iacent. I can not tell what to saie.
 Iacent studia, studie and learyng is nothyng regarded.
 Iacent his testibus, they are confounded with theire witness.
 Iacere, to be deade.
 Iacens, lyng, beynge situate, also slow, sicke.
 Segnis & iacens.
 Iacio, ieci, iacere, to throwe, to caste, to hurle, to shoote somtyme to set or lay, to make, to tel,
 to speake, to publyshe abroad.
 Iacere fundamentum, to set or laie a foundation: by translation to geue an occasion, or to make awate to any thyng.
 Praecepta seic in agros, We ranne headlonge into the fieldes.
 Iacere aggerem, to make a bulwache or cons-trement.
 Edicta in populum iacere, to publyshe or set abroad proclamations.
 Gradum or aditum iacere, to make awate or entrance to a thyng.
 Odorem iaciant, they sende out a greet sauour.
 Contumelias & probra in aliquem iacere, to scyle or speake ill of one.
 Iacere minas, to threaten or manace.
 Quarrelas & quarumoniis iacere, to consplayne.

 Iacere ridiculum, to speake of byngge footy a mery geste, to be laughed at.
 Iacere sermones, to common of talke.
 Significationes iacere, to shewe by tokens and signes, to signifie.
 Iacob, a patriarche, soonne of Isaac.
 Iacobus, a propre name, in englyshe James.
 Iactans, anus, castynge, booyng, crabbyng, auauntynge.
 Iactantior gestus, proude or statelie gesture, a bragge.
 Iactanter, booyngly, braggyngly, proude.
 Iactatio, onis, f. g. auerpyng or troublpyng, a tosespng of shakynge, a moupyng of gesturynge, a cas-tynge, a booyng, crabbyng or auauntynge.
 Iactatio corporis, the moupyng of the bodie.
 Insolentiam & iactationem hominum ferre, insolencie and braggyng.
 Temporum nostrorum iactatio, the trouble.
 Iactantia, idem.
 Iactator, onis, masc. gen. a craker or booster, a glorious persone, hat maketh auaunte of his owne pryse.
 Iactans, a, um, tossed hyther and thither, dyspuen-from quosse to quosse.
 Iactatus, us, masc. gen. a tossynge, a castynge, a moupyng.
 Iactito, aui, are, to beate often.
 Iacto, aui, are, to throwe, to reuolue, to caste or tosse in the mynde, to vete, to throwe downe, & beate, to auaunte and glory, to speake vanyly, to set forth, to tosse, to cast out.
 Iactare brachium, to wagge of swynge the arme.
 Iactare caput, to caste the heade nowe on the one syde, nowe on the other.
 Iactare oculos, to gaze about, now on one syde, nowe on an other.
 Iactare pectore curas, to caste and reuolue in ones mynde diuers serious matters.
 Iactari febri, to bee tourmented with a feuer or ague.
 Iactare dicta iocosa, to bryngge forth mery scofs or geses.
 Iactari sermonibus, to be communed or talked of abroad.
 Iactatur hoc vulgo, this is commonly talked abroad.
 Iactare se magnificensissime, to prayse and aduaunte ones selfe about the moone.
 Ventis iactamur, we be driuen and tossed nowe into one quoss, now into an other.
 Iactari viuis, to be spuefully spoken of, to be called agaynst.
 Iactuose, and lactuosus, are redde in no good au-thour.
 Iactura, a, f. g. losse, damage, propely thynges cast out of a thypppe in tyme of tempest.
 Iactus, a, um, caste, laped.
 Iactus, us, m. gen. a throwe, a hurle, a caste, a draught

Daught with a nette in fpyng.
 Iaculabilis, le, that maye be hurled oʒ caste.
 Iaculatio, onis, f. ge. Iaculamen, & Iaculamentum, ri, a shotte oʒ cast with a darte oʒ iaculyn.
 Iaculator, oris, m. ge. he that hurleth a darte oʒ iaculyn, oʒ one that shooteth.
 Iaculatorius, a, um, that pettepnyeth to shootyng oʒ castyng of dartes.
 Iaculatrix, tris, f. g. the feminine.
 Iaculo, aui, aie, is sometyne read.
 Iaculor, aris, ari, to shote oʒ caste farre.
 Iaculum, li, neu. gene. any thyng that maye bee shotte oʒ caste farre, moſte commonly a darte oʒ lpyght iaculyn.
 Iaculus, li, ma. gene. a serpente that lyeth vnder trees, and todaynt with a meruailous violensce, percereth any beaste, which happeneth to passe by hym.
 Iadera, a towne of Ilyricum.
 Ialyſos, a citee of Rhodes.
 Iam, now, yet, mozeouer, ouer and besydes this, furthermore, also incontinent, oʒ forthwith, immediately, by and by, ere it bee long, now at the length sometyne for Tunc, than.
 Iam ne imus, why tarpe we? shall we not go nowe?
 Iam diu, longe agone, a great while, long tene.
 Iam dudum, nowe late, but a while tene.
 Iam dudum, is spoken of a shote tyme, as of one, two, thre, oʒ foure houres, and is moſt commonly ioynted with verbes of the presente tense, and signifieth the acte to contynue still.
 Iam dudum, a ptey wyle tene and yet still.
 Iam dudum hic adsum, I haue been here a good wyle.
 Iam dudum animus est in patinis, my mynde is on my dyner, and hath been a good wyle.
 Iam dudum, sometyne for Iam primum.
 Iam iam, euen nowe, by and by, streight waye.
 Iam inde, incontinent after.
 Iam olim, a great wyle agone, also in tyme passe.
 Iam pridem, a lyttell wyle passe, but late, sometyne forthwith, also a good wyle agone, long tene. Iam pridem, is spoken of somewhat longer tyme than Iam dudum, as of tene oʒ fixe monthes oʒ yeres, oʒ moze, oʒ lesse, as the thyng requireth: and is ioynted with the pteſent tense, as Iam dudum is.
 Iam tum, for that tyme, euen than, oʒ euent at that tyme.
 Iam, already, er this, by this tyme.
 Iam rediſſe oportuit, Thou shouldest haue been here agayne by this tyme.
 Iam, for Amplius, as,
 Neque iam lactantes appellantur, Neither be they any moze called suckyng pygges.
 Iam, for post hac, as,
 Vestrum iam consilium est, Now hereafter it is your parte to consule oʒ take hede herof.
 Iam biennium est cum mecu ille rem cepit,

It is now fully two yeres tene he beganne.
 Iam a pueris, euen of lyttell babes oʒ chyldren.
 Plus iam anno scio, It is moze than a yere sence I knowe it.
 Iam diu est, quod ventri victum non datis, Ye haue not found my bely meate and dynte many a date.
 Iam diu factum est, postquam bibimus, It is a great wyle tene we dranke.
 Iam iamq, quickly, speedily, by and by, also from hente forth.
 Iam inde ab adolescentia, Euen from his young age.
 Iam indeſque a pueritia, continually, euen sence he was a lyttell chyld.
 Iam nunc, euen nowe.
 Iam pridem est mihi amicissimus, He is a great frend of myne, & hath been many a daye.
 Iam primum, nowe fyrst of all, now and more befoze, also firste and foremost.
 Iambris, that is of the foote in meeter called Iambus.
 Iamblicus, a philosopher of Pythagoras secte, scholar of Porphyrius.
 Iambus, a foote in meter, haung the first sillable shotte, and the other longe.
 Iameſa, a creke of the Witayne sea.
 Iamno, a towne of the people called Salerni.
 Iana, the name of Diana.
 Ianaſſa, a nymphe.
 Ianiculum, li, neu. gen. a parte of Rome, and a mountayn in it, also a gate of the same name.
 Ianira, the daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.
 Ianitor, oris, masc. gene. a porter oʒ keeper of a gate.
 Ianitor carceris, a keeper of a pylson.
 Ianitrix, the feminine.
 Ianitricēs, bee also the wyues of two brethren.
 Iancha, a daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.
 Ianthinus, a, um, violet colour, oʒ purple.
 Ianialis, le, of Ianus.
 Ianua, x, form. ge. a gate, sometyne a dooze: by translation, a waie oʒ cutre to a thyng.
 A Ianua quærere aliquem, to aske for oner at the gate oʒ dooze.
 Quamquam qua nolui ianua sum ingressus in causam, Although I haue entred into my matter by that occasion that I would not haue entred by my good will.
 Ianuarius, the moneth of Ianuer.
 Ianual, n. g. a kind of cakes consecrated to Ianus.
 Ianus, some suppose to be Saturne, some to be Iaphet, one of the soones of Noe: Cicero calleth hym the superiour worlde oʒ heauen. He was made haung two faces oʒ visages, either becauſe the heauen turnyng, the yere turneth where it began: oʒ elles becauſe it knoweth what is passed, and foreseeth what shall happen.
 Ianus claudere, in old tyme signified to make vniuersall peace. For in the temple of Ianus at Rome, were two doozes, whiche wer opened when the Romanes made warre: and when warre was finished, and all thynges in quiete, than were they shut. Ianus was also a place in Rome, whither vsurers resorted.

 Iapetus, the father of Prometheus, soonne of Caelum & Terra.
 Iapigia, a countrey in the realme of Naples, called Calabria.
 Iapigium, a promontory in Iapigia.
 Iapis, the propre name of Aetolus.
 Iapix, Iapigis, the soonne of Dedalus, kyng of Calabria, whiche of hym was called Iapigia.
 Also a welkeme wynde, whiche cometh out of the partes of Apulia.
 Iarbas, looke Iarbas.
 Iarchas, the chief of the philosophers of Inde.
 Iaron, ri, n. g. idem quod Dracontum maius.
 Iasides, the soonne oʒ newewe of Iasius.
 Iasis, Adalanta, the daughter of Iasius.
 Iasius, the brother of Dardanus, and soonne of Electra, also Iasius is the father of Palinurus.
 Iasminum, a tree, & little floure called Iasemine.
 Iason, Iasonis, he that fyrst conquered the golden fleece, and made the notable expedition in to Choloos, the sonne of Aeson and Alimede.
 Iasionum, a promontory of Cappadocia, called S. Thomas.
 Iaspideus, a, um, of the colour of Jasper stone.
 Iaspis, idis, a stone called iasper.
 Iaspoxis, nicis, m. g. a pzeiousse stone as white as snowe.
 Iasum, an yle of Caria, lyng towards the maine lande.
 Iatraléptes, x, m. g. a physician oʒ surgion, which cureth with ointementes.
 Iatraléptice, ces, f. g. curyng by ointementes.
 Iatronice, a booke of phisike.
 Iatros, a physician.
 Iaua, a citee in Spaine called Lara.
 Iaxamata, people about Theotis.
 Iaxartes, a ryuer of Scythia in Asia.
 Iaxes, a ryuer of Scythia.
 Iaziges, people of Metanasta in Europe, on the south parte of Germany, called nowe Septem castra, commonly Sibenburgh, it hath on the north, Armata: on the west and south, Germanie & Pannonie inferioz: on the east Dacia.

Bernia, looke Hibernia.
 Iberia, the aunciente name of Spayne. also an other countrey ngyh to Armenia. It is of some written with H.
 Iberi, & Ibres, Spaniards, oʒ men of the other Iberia.
 Iberica, x, f. g. an herbe, called of olde wyrters Spartum.
 Ibérís, oʒ Hiberis, an herbe lyke to cresses, but muche greater, the stalke is a lyttell cubite of height: In sommer it beareth a whyte flowze, and hath a lytell seede, whiche groweth about all the stalke. Hermolus doeth interpretate it wyld cresses. Manardus wyrteth, that some men call it Lepidium: Aetius calleth it Cardamina, whiche in latin is Nasturtium, in englysh cresses. wherfore I thynke it to be a kynde of cresses.

 Ibericus, a, um, of Iberia.
 Iberus, a ryuer in Spayne.
 Ibi, there, than, when that was dooen.
 Ibi vbi est, there as he is.
 Duxi uxorem, quam ibi miseriam vidi? I marged a wyfe, what miserie and wretchednesse dyd I perceyue to be therein?
 Ibi homo me cepit obsecrare, Than he began to entreate me.
 Imo & ibi nunc sum, Yes mary, and thereas bout I am, oʒ therbyon I thynke oʒ muse.
 Ibidem, there, oʒ in the same place. Sometyne in the same thyng.
 Ibidem mihi adnata, he becked to me out of the same place where he was.
 Ibidem loci res erit, the matter wyl be in the same case.
 Ibius, a pteſent name of Regium in Italy.
 Ibis, ibis, vel bidis, f. g. a foule oʒ byrde of Egypt, whiche is high, and hath spere legges, and a longe bill. Thei pzeſe muche to the countre in kylling and eatyng of serpentes, which out of Libya, be caryed into Egypte, with a southern wynde. Also it is taken for an enuious person. Ioh. 14. li. 8. cap. 27.

Cadius, a notable robber.
 Icaria, an yle in the sea Icarium, whiche is also called Icaros.
 Icaris patronymicum, of Icarus.
 Icarus oʒ Icarius, the father of the chaste Penelope. There was an other Icarus, the soonne of Dedalus, who haung wynges, with his fader, flew out of the yle of Crete: But when he flew hygher than his fader comanded: the wyre, wherwith the fethers of his wynges were glewed, melted with the heate of the soonne: And the fethers fallynge of, Icarus was constrained to fall into the sea, afterward called Mare Icarium. Also Icarus is a mounteyne in the region of Athens.
 Ichneumon, neumonius, m. g. a beaſt of Egypt, whiche is now called a mouſe of Inde, of the great nesſe of a cate, and is facioned lyke a mouſe, who creepeth into the body of a crocodell, when he gapeth, and eatynge his bowelles, sleaeth hym. it is also a kynde of waspes.
 Ichneura, idem quod Ichneumon.
 Ichreafinus, the herbe maioram.
 Ichnographia, x, f. g. is a yot concernyng bulldynge, wherin is onely conteyned the place, wheron the bulldynge shall stande, haung light by described with rule and compasse, the fourme and facion of euery court quadrant, and floore therein comprehended, also an instrument like a compasse, wherewith are made the descriptions of the sonne.

Ichthyocusa, the ple called Icaros.

Ichthyolobolus, li, m. g. a fysher.

Ichthyocolla, a fythe, of whose skynne water glewe is made: And the same glewe is called also Ichthyocolla.

Ichthya, a, form. ge. an instrument, wherewith a chyldre beynge deade in the mothers wombe, is cutte forth.

Ichthyophagi, people by south Indie, which doe eat onely fythe, and also theyr cattell is fedde therewith. They weare garments of fythe skynnes. Also (as Strabo writeth) theyr houses be made with whales bones and oyster shelles. The rybbes of the fishes make the beames and rafters, of the iawes are made the doores, of the backebones are made moztors, wherin the fythe is pounned, and dried at the sonne, and thereof they make breadde myngled with a litle wheate. Arrianus, lib. 8. wyrteth, that the rybbes of whales (scene there, by the capitains of kynge Alexander) were about xxxvii. foote. vii. longe, wherewith their houses were builded.

Ichthyopola, la, ma. gene. a fyshmonger, a seller of fythe.

Ichthyopolion, polii, n. g. a fythe market.

Ichthyotrophium, plii, n. g. a powde of stewe, wherin fythe is nourished or fedde.

Ichthys, a promontory in Acaia.

Ico, ici, ere, ictum, to stryke.

Icere foedus, to make a league or truce.

Icon, iconis, f. g. an ymage.

Iconicus, a, um, so painted or fourmed, that in euery membe the very similitude is exprest.

Iconcula, a litle ymage.

Iconismos, mi, m. g. a description.

Iconium, a towne in the countrey of Sicile: an other in Asia the lasse. it is also a mans owne image like him selfe.

Icosium, a towne in Mauritania Casariensis, buylded by the companions of Hercules.

Ictericus, he that is diseased with the iaudise.

Icterus, icteri, m. g. a byrde, which if a man sycke of the iaudise doe see, he shall be healed.

Icteros, a sykenesse called the iaudise.

Ictis, idis, a white weallill, whiche destroyeth bee Calles, and eateth the honny. After Crastinus it is a frett. For he saith, the latines call it Vi-uerra. looke the prouerbe, I modo venare le-porem, where he correcteth a place in Plautus.

Ictus, a, um, stricken.

Ictus, us, m. g. a stripe or stroke, a blowe.

Ictus fulminis, a blastynge with lychtynng.

Ictus serpenis, the styngynge of a serpent.

Languidus ictus pullum, a feeble beatynge of the poult.

Declinare ictum, to auoyde a blowe.

Icti, is sometyme red in the gentiue case. Ictus, a famous wyrtlar of Tarentine, whiche to be the stronger, absteined from women all his lyfe.

Id, that, looke Is.

Id quod res est, which is trouthe, as the matter is in dedde, as the trithe is.

Id aetatis, of that age.

Id curat scilicet, he careth much therfore, whiche is spoken, as who saith, he careth nothing for it.

Id locorum, for Id.

Id temporis, at that tyme, or suche a tyme.

Id temporis est, the tyme is such.

Ida, a, form. gene. a mountayne, whiche lychtynge Troge.

Idai dactili, people called also Coribantes, also a precious stone lyke a mans thombe, wherby be many founde in Landie.

Idaus, a, um, of the mountayn Ida.

Idallium, a mountayne and cite in the Ile of Cyprus dedicated vnto Venus.

Idallius, a, um, of that mountayne, or of Venus.

Idanthyrus, a famous kynge of Syria, whiche subdued a great parte of Asia.

Idas, a, the husbnde of Marpissa, a man of excellent saunour and beautes.

Idapes, a ryuer rennyng by Parthia and Indr, and at last falleth into the great riuer called Indus. In this ryuer is founde muche golde and precious stones.

Idcirco, or Icirco, therfore, for that cause.

Idea, the figure conceyued in imagination, as were a substance perpetuelle. and lyke as of one scale proceedeth many pyntes, so of one Idea of a man, procede many thousandes of men. and semblable of other Ideas, pprode thynges innumerable. So that Idear, be as were externall examplis, wherby al other thynges be created. and this is Idea, wherof Plato speaketh.

Idem, the same thyng, or the same man. alioquin or semblable.

Idem es qui soles, Thou arte the same man that thou were wont to be.

In eisdem illis locis, in the verate selfe same places.

Idem dicere semper, to bee alwaies in one mynde of opinion.

Vno & eodem tempore, at the verate selfe same tyme.

Alter idem, one as lyke as it were the selfe same persone.

Animus erga te idem est ac fuit, My mynde or affection towardes you is as it hath bene afore tyme.

Idem aetatis, for eiusdem aetatis.

Magis eadem, more lyke the same woman.

Diānam & Lunam eandem esse putant, they thynke thyne Diana and the moone to be all one.

Idem valet ac si pater iudicaret, It is all one as if your father shold iudge the matter.

Idemdem, cōfessiones, nowe and than amonge, cur nowe and than, often of dyuers tymes, with a certayne space betweene.

Idem, for that cause.

Idem, a, um, of the mountayne Ida.

Idiographum literar, a private letter.

Idiographum, plii, n. g. a private wyrtynge.

Idiomata, n. g. a propre fourme of speech.

Idiopathia, a, f. g. the propre facion of a disease.

Idia, a, com. ge. a man or woman vnlearned.

Idium, the same thyng, or one thyng.

Idmon, a footpacer, the soonne of Apollo and Dieria.

Idmon, li, n. g. a littell Idolle.

Idolatra, a, m. g. a woozshipper of ymages, an ydolater.

Idolatria, tria, f. g. ydolatrie, woozshipynge of ydols.

Idolothrum, ti, neu. g. that whiche is offered vnto ydolles.

Idolothria, a, offering to ymages.

Idolum, li, n. g. an ydoll, an ymage.

Idoneus, a kynge of Landie, whiche came with the Grekes to Troie. In his returne beynge troubled with tempestes, he vowed, that if he returned saule into his realme, he would offer for what so euer he mette fyfte.

Wherefore when he would haue offered his soonne, who had mette hym at his landynge: the people aske agaynst hym, and draue hym out of the countrey.

Then sayled he into Apulia, and builded a cite, whiche he called Peulia, on the mountayne Salentinum in Calabze.

Idone, aply, conueniently, fely.

Idoneus, a, um, apt, meete, propre, conuenient: also able, sufficient, profitable.

Idoneus author, a substantiall and sufficiente author.

Idoneum tempus, a conueniente tyme.

Aptus & Idoneus.

Idonea, dnan, n. g. plu. meete and apte places.

Idonea, the daughter of Idreus kynge of Argos.

Idolothria, f. g. a sheepe that was offered euey Iudas vnto Iupiter.

Idumaea, a region in Syria ioynyng to Egypt, and bordereth vpon Palestine.

Idumea, a cite in the countrey called Idumaea, as beareth the whiche are abundance of palme or date trees.

Idus, idum, plu. tantum, the Ides of monthes, whiche doo diuide Nonas from Calendas.

Idia, the wyfe of Acaia, kynge of Colchis.

Iecinorosi, men syke in the luer.

Iecoraria, a, f. g. an herbe called luerwoort.

Iecur, iccoris, & iecinoris, n. g. the luer of a man or other thyng luyng.

Iecusculum, li, n. g. a litle luer.

Ieiune, barely, basely, coldely, slenderly.

Ieiunium, ni, neu. g. fastynge, or the tyme that men doo faste, fastynge daie.

Ieiunitas, aetis, f. g. barenesse, basenesse, or Silens dernesse of style.

Ieiuno, au, are, to faste or absteyne.

Ieiunum, i, n. g. the gutte, whiche goeth downe to the foundement.

Ieiunus, a, um, fastynge, that fasteth. And by a metaphore, greedy, hungry, bare or bareyne, sterile. Ieiunum solum, a bareyne grounde.

Ieiunus stilus, a bare or bare stile, that is not thyng encreped with weighty and philp sencers.

Ieiuni penates, an house of small there, or colde roste.

Ieiuna auditas, a greedy appetite to meate.

Ieiuna salua, fastynge spittle.

Ieiunus animus, a base mynde of small capacitee.

Iens, euntis, goynge.

Ientaculum, li, n. g. a breakfast.

Iento, au, are, to cate meate afore diner, to break ones faste.

Ierna, a ryuer of Spayne.

Ierusalem, the chiefe cite of Judea.

Ies, eis, a cite of Acaia, situate vpon a promontory of the same name.

Iesus, the soonne of god, and of the moste pure virgine Mary, although in the common translation of the Bible in latine, it seemeth there were dyuers other Iewes so named: yet in the hebreue tynge, as Acutline writeth, in his boke De verbo mistico, there was some diuersitee in the letters of the name of our sauour, from them that were in the other called Iesus.

For in his glorious and wonderful name were the vowels called I tetragrammaton, with one consonant, called Schin, whiche is one S of the hebreues, wherin was a mysticall or hyd signification of his diuinitee, although the whole name be interpreted Sauour who beynge equal in diuinitee with god the father, begotten of hym before the worlde was created, and without tyme, wyrtynge for the redemption of man, descended in to the body of the blessed virgine, and was conceyued in hir by the holy gost, the thyrde persone in godhead, and of hir borne the 3962. yere after the creation of the worlde: and beynge god and man, lyued here .32. yeres in fourme of pouertee, and than beynge betrayed by his owne disciple, was by the Jewes (his owne people) most cruelly nailed on the Crosse, the yere after the creation of the worlde 3994.

Ignis, therefore, from thence forth, afterward, than.

Quid igitur faciam? Than what shall I dooe?

Ignarus, a, um, ignorant, not knowyng.

Ignarus es morum meorum, thou knowest not my facions.

Ignarus philosophia, one that hath no skill in philosophie.

Ignarus docendi, he that knoweth not the wate to instructe or teache.

Ignarum lentes uarum lachrymarum esse me, you thinke that I knowe not why you weepe.

Ignatius, an holy byshop of Antioche, the thyrde after saint Peter, disciple to saint John the Evangelist. In the tyme of Traian he was condemned to be deuoured of beastes, and as he was ledde towarde Rome with tenne men of warre, whom for their crueltie, he called Leopardes, he by the waye confirmed all christen men in the faith, as well by prayers as by letters, sayng in this wyse: So that I maie finde Christe and inbrace hym, I woulde there shoulde come vnto me fyre, gybbettes, beastes, crabs, thyngs of bones, remyng of all the bodie, and all the tourmentes of the dyuill. When he harde the roynge of yrons, whiche shoulde deuoure him: he ioyously saied: I am the wheate of Christe, let me be grounde with beastes teeth, that I may be founde to be pure and fyne manchet. He was martyred after the incarnation aboute .xxx. yeres.

Ignauē, cowardly, slowly, with a false herte.

Ignauia, x, f. g. cowardenesse: also lacke of courage, lythernesse.

Ignauit, he made hym a foole.

Ignauiter, idem quod ignauē.

Ignauus, a, um, cowarde, lyther, vnmanly, false herted, that taketh away the strength or courage of a thyng. also vnprofitable, good to no use, of no strength or force, slouthfull.

Ignauus, i, a slouth, a luste, a lubber, a lurdene, one that wyl doo no labour, one that loueth to doo nothing but eat, dypnke, and scape.

Ignauus dolor, sorrow that maketh one sluggy, slouthfull, or vnlust.

Succus ignauus, a iuyce that hath no force nor vertue.

Igneco, es, ere, to bee on fyre, to tourne to fyre, to burne.

Ignescere, idem quod igneco.

Ignescuntur, id est, accenduntur.

Igneus, a, um, that is bygyght, or thyneth lyke fyre, fyre.

Ignia, certayne fautes, whiche earthen pottes haue in the nealyng.

Igniarius, n, n. g. any thyng, out of the whiche fyre may be stricken. also woodde that taketh and kendleth fyre quickly. It may be vled for a fyre boxe.

Igniarius lapis, a spyt stone, out of the whiche fyre is stricken.

Igniculus, li, m. g. a sparke of fyre. It is also an inscription that a man naturally hath to vertue and honestee.

Virilis igniculus, a sparke of manly courage or vertue.

Igniculus desiderij, the motion or inclination of ones desyre or appetite.

Ignifario, feci, ere, to sette on fyre.

Ignifer, a, um, that beareth fyre.

Ignifluus, a, um, that floweth with fyre.

Ignio, iui, ire, to inflame.

Ignipes, ignipedis, that hath a fyre foot.

Ignispicium, cii, n. g. diuination by fyre.

Ignipotens, one of the surnames of Vulcanus.

Ignis, is, mascu. gene. fyre. Somtyme it is taken for an harlotte. Somtyme for loue. Somtyme for lighnyng.

Ignis sacer, a soze, wherein is an excedyng inflammation and bournyng.

Ignis sancti Antonij, a discafe, whiche doth moyste and corrupte the membze.

Adiuuare ignem, loke Adiuuo.

Debachatur ignis, the fyre rageth.

Ignem elicere, or excutere, to strike fyre.

Subncere ignem, to put fyre vnder a thyng, and by translation to minister matter of enuy or hatredte.

Facere ignem, to make a fire.

Astrorum ignes, the sterres.

Ignitabulum, li, n. g. a fyre panne.

Ignitus, a, um, fyre, beate hotte.

Ignitum vinum, beate hotte of strong wyne.

Igniuomus, a, um, he that spitteth fyre, the sunne is somtyme so called.

Ignobilis, le, vnnoble, vnknewen, foolyshe, of none estimation.

Ignobilis & inglorius.

Surdæ & ignobiles herbe, herbes that be not knowen, or any thyng spoken of.

Ignobile gramen, a vile weede that groweth euery where.

Ignobili de loco natus, of a base or vnknewen stocke or kyned.

Ignobilitas, atis, fcm. gene. basenes of byth, vnnoblenes.

Ignominia, x, f. g. reproche, infamie, slander, rebuke, diswoozthp.

Concilius ignominias, spitefully slandered with yll reportes.

Ignominia est, it is taken for a great rebuke or diswoozthp.

Ignominia notari, to be defamed.

Afficere ignominia, to defame, to slander, to put to dishonour.

Ignominatus, a, um, defamed. I woode out of vse.

Ignominiosus, a, um, infamous, slanderous, reprochefull, dishonourable.

Ignominis, ne, without renoume, not famous, of no of no estimation.

ignorantia, x, f. g. ignorance, lacke of knowlage, and is referred to the wytte of a person.

ignoratio, onis, lacke to be knowen, and perteyneth to the thyng or arte.

Non negligentia, sed ignoracione rerum omnium factum est, It chaunced not through my negligence, but by meane I dyd knowe no thyng, or by reason that all thynges were to me vnknewen.

Ignoratio sui, when one for pryde dooeth not knowe hym selfe.

ignoro, aui, are, not to knowe, to be ignorant.

Ne quid huius rei ignores, That you maye not be ignorant in any poynt of this matter.

Ignoras me, you knowe not what a felowe I am, or what maner of man I am.

Ignorans nomen suum, he hath forgotten his owne name.

Ignoratur, the passive.

ignoscibilis, le, tollerable, to be pardoned.

ignoscens, entis, that quickly forgueeth or pardoneth.

ignoscencia, x, f. g. pardonynge, forgyuynge.

ignoscencior, the comparatiue of ignoscens, id est, propensior ad ignoscendum, moze redy to forgyue or pardon.

ignosco, noui, scere, to learne and knowe perfectly, also to forgyue, to pardon, to haue excused, not to knowe or be ignorant.

A me quæ feram ignoscite, Doo you knowe or learne of me diligently suche thynges as I will tell you.

Ignosco, is somtyme a verbe actiue, and transitiue, and gouerneth an accusatiue and a dative case: as, Ignoscas mihi hoc vnum delictum, pardone me this one faute.

Ignoratus, a, um, vnknewen. also ignorant. Somtyme Ignoratus, is vled for Ignobilis.

Obscurus & ignotus.

Pondus auri ignotum, an vnknewen substance of golde and monete.

Terra ignota, an vnknewen countreite.

Ila, le, for. g. the least porcion of a thyng that may be imagined, also the stuffyng of a pudgyng or other lyke thyng.

Ilba, or Ilua, an pland in the Tuscan sea, where is great plentie of cozne.

Ille, lis, n. g. plu. Ilia, lium, the guttes.

Ileos, vel Ileus, lei, m. g. the colyke.

Ilex, ilicis, fcm. ge. a tree called of some holme, whereof one hynde beareth grapne, whiche the Arabians call lacemes.

Ilia, lium, n. g. great guttes.

Ilacus dolor, the frettyng of the guttes.

Ilacus, a, um, of Croia.

Ilas, adis, the warke of Homers of the siege of Troie.

Illas malorum, a prouerbe vled when many great mischieses & misfortunes happeth to a man.

Ilorda, a citee of Spayne called Leyda.

Ilberis, a citee in the prouince of Marbon.

Illicet, quasi ire licet, a woorde, whereby it was notified to the iudges, that they myght departe when they woulde. As one would saie, goe wha ye luste, or ye maie depart when ye will, ye may goe shake your cares, and signifyeth the mattie to be ended. Also by and by quickly, incontinent. Somtyme it is an aduerbe of affirmyng.

Illicium, ti, n. ge. a place where holme groweth.

Illicus, a, um, of holme.

Illico, looke Illico.

Illices, auncient people of the yle Corfica.

Iligneus, or Ilignus, a, um, idem quod illicus.

Ilione, the proper name of a daughter of Priamus.

Ilioneus, the proper name of a Troian.

Ilissus, the name of a ryuer in the prouince of Athens.

Ilithyia, a name of Diana.

Ilum, the palace of Priamus. It is taken for Troie.

Ilus, a, um, of Troie.

Illabefactus, a, um, that was neuer made weake or feeble.

Illabor, eris, abi, to fyde or fyppen in, to renne or flowe in, to fall in, to enter in.

Illabi animos, to fall or fyde into the myndes of men.

Mediæ illabitur vrbi, it fydeth forth into the myddes of the citee.

Illaboratus, a, um, that whiche is made or done without labour.

Ilac, on that fyde.

Hac atque illic persuasus, I renne out or leake on euery fyde.

Illacerabilis, le, that can not be tozne or rent.

Illacesitus, a, um, vntried, vntroued.

Illachrymabilis, le, vnnereyfull, that will not bee moued with pitee.

Illachrymo, aui, are, to weepe or lament vchemently. Somtyme to sweate or sende forth a moyste humour.

Illachrymare mortem alicuius, To weepe or lament for ones deathe.

Ilado, lasti, xdere, to violate or breake.

Legem illadere, to breake a lawe.

Ilacus, a, um, not hurte.

Ilatabilis, le, without myrthe, or sackyng myrthe or pleasure, sorrowfull.

Ilapsus, us, m. g. a fyddyng or fallyn in.

Ilaqueo, aui, are, to tye or bynde, to snare, or entangle.

Ilatebro, aui, are, to hyde in corners.

Illaudabilis, le, and Illaudatus, a, um, not worthy to be named, woorthye no pypse or commendation, woorthye no honest report.

Ille, he: Somtyme for Aliquis, some man. It is often vled Emphasis graua.

Ille Cato, that same my frende Cato, that is so renowned and known.
Ego ille, euen if the beaue same person, that is. Apheops Ipse ille, Noster ille, Ille iste, Ille alter, bee elegantly ioined together for a more expresse nonisping of the thing or persone.
Ne illum talem præcipiat ubi, Lett the shuld begyle the of suche a toly felowe as he is: or of hym, beyng a man of so great price and worthynesse.
Illece, for illa hæc.
Illecebræ, thynges delectable, that draweth and allureth the mynde to imbrace it, a flakerynge enticement, a lure.
Illecebrose, wantonly, with a wanton intysping or allurping.
Illecebrōsus, a, um, that whiche pleasauntly allureth one to fauour it.
Illecestemum, i, neu. ge. a lure, a prouocation,
an inticement.
Illecto, aui, are, to drawe pleasantly.
Illectum, a thyng vured.
Illectus, us, m. ge. an intysping or allurping.
Illectus, a, um, pleasauntly stirred or prouoked, inticed, allured, tolled.
Illegitime, vnlawfully.
Illegitimi, vnlawfully begotten, bastarides.
Illepide, vnpleasantly, without grace.
Illepidus, a, um, without delectacion or grace, vnpleasant.
Illex, illicis, o. g. that enticeth or allureth, wātō.
Illex oculus, a wanton eye.
Illex, egis, om g. lawlesse.
Illic, for illic, or ibi, there.
Illicatus, a, um, vntouchyd, vntasted, pure, vnt corrupted.
Illiciter, le, vngentyll, without hyndnesse or curtesy, vn honest, nothyng liberall.
Illiciter labor, a secrete labour.
Illiciter facinus, an vncurteys pageant, an vn honest acte.
Illiciteras, atis, f. g. nygardshyp.
Illiciteras, vngentilly, credyngly yll, mischeuously, vncurteysly, vn honestly.
Illiciteris, a citee of Barbon, after Pomponius:
after Ptolomee, the chiefe citee of Granada in Spayne.
Illic, there. also for Ille, he.
Illicet, nowe go to, incontinent, toke Illicet.
Illicio, illicis, exi, ere, to prouoke or styre pleasauntly, to allure, to entice, to tolle.
Is me hac illicet fraude, he tolled or inticed me
by this crafty meane.
Illicere in fraudem, loke Fraus.
Illicite, vnlawfully.
Illicitus, a, um, vnlawfull, vn honest, vncomely.
Illicium, i, neu. ge. a prouocation, a thyng that allureth or inticeth.
Illico, anon, by and by, in all the hast. sometyme in the same place.
Illico, si, dere, to dyspue or beate to a thyng, to bathe, to strike vehemently.

Iludere dentes alicui rei, to thrust ones teeth into a thyng, to bite Fluctus littori illiduntur, the waues beate of dasthe agaynst the bankes.
Iludere manus, to clappe the hande together.
Dentes illudere labellis, to bite his lippes.
Illigatus, a, um, intangled, knutte, or fastned.
Illigatus alicui amicitia, coupled with ones friendship.
Illigo, illigas, aui, are, to bynde, knytte, or fasten to, to entangle.
Illigare alicui bello gentem aliquam, to entale a countreie or people to take parte with them in a warre that they haue agaynst any other.
Illigari Romano bello noluit, He would not bee intangled, or he would not medle or haue any thyng to doo in the Romayn warres.
Sic illigat sententiā verbis, he doeth to knutte or compacte the sentence with wordes.
Illimis, me, without mudde or dyne.
Illinc, from that place, from that parte. Countreie for Ab illa, from that woman.
Hinc illinc, I can not tell from whens.
Illino, illinis, iui, ire, to annoynt one.
Illino, illinis, lini, leui, liui, ere, to annoynt
harde, to spotte or toyle.
Tectis aurum illinire, to gylte theyr houses.
Illinere chartis aliquid, to put in wytyng.
Illipula, an hylle in Spayne called commonly Iliipa, or Ilipa.
Illisus, a, um, dyspued or beate to, dashed agaynst, or that dasteth or beatech agaynst a thyng.
Illisus, us, mascu. gene. a beateynge or dastynge agaynst a thyng.
Illiquefacio, quefacis, feci, ere, to molte or make liquide.
Illiteratus, a, um, vnlearned.
Illiteratum & insulsum.
Illitus, illitus, m. g. an annoyntynge or smeryng.
Illitus, illita, um, noynted, smered.
Illitum veneno donum, a presente infected with popson, spoken whan a thyng is geuen for a mischeuous intent.
Illitus fucus, pelincted with a false colour.
Illiusmodi, of that soze, or of that facion, such.
Illo, to that place, thither.
Illocabilis, le, that can not be lette out.
Illocabilis virgo, a mayden that can not bee marryed.
Illoctus, a, um, foule, vnwashed, flubbered.
Illoctis manibus rem aggredi, to ge about a great thyng without reuerence, or dishonestly to handell a thyng of great estimation.
Illoctis pedibus, fere idē. Also without a Illoc, thither, to that place. also for Illic, th thyng. Huc acue illoc, thither and thither.
Illico, lūces, xi, ere, & Illicesco, seere, to be lyght of clere, to shyne, to appere or shew it selfe.
Vbi illuxit, whan it was daie.
Ea nocte, cui illuxit dies cardis, On the night before

before the daie that he was murdered or slain.
Comitas in maximis ingenijs maxime illucet, Curtesy of gentylnesse in moste noble natures doeth moste of all appeere and shewe it selfe.
Iluctor, aris, ari, to strue or wastle, to struggle.
Iludo, si, ere, to moche, to hurte in iappunge or playng, to laugh to scozne.
Iludere corpori mulieris, to dooe vylany to a woman. Penē illusi vitam filia, I haue almost cast away my daughter.
Iludo in teas, Idonei in quibus sic illudatis?
whom you shoulde moche after this facion?
Iludens in Albutium, scoffing at Albutius, or mocking Albutium.
Dignum me putas quem illudas? Dost thou thyng me a merte man for the to moche?
Non impune in nos illuseris, Thou shalt not laughe vs to scozne, and escape free thy selfe.
Illuminare, plagnely, clerely, eloquently.
Illumino, aui, are, to geue lyght, to make playn,
to make moze beayful.
Illuminus, a, um, without lyght.
Illinis, ne, darke whan the mone doth not shine.
Illuso, onis, f. g. a mocking or scozng.
Iluro, a citee of Spaine.
Ilustramentum, i, n. g. that maketh moze beaustiful, manifeste or playne, that dooeth commend or sette forth a thyng.
Ilustratio, onis, f. ge. a beautifying, a makynge of a thyng manifeste and playne.
Ilustratus, a, um, made lyghtsome, made famouse or known, declared, also manifestly proued.
Ilustris, stre, famouse, cleare, noble in renoume, excellent, well known, lyghtsome.
Nocte illustri, in a fayre cleare nyght.
Nihil illustrius dicere possum, I can saie no thyng moze noble or excellent.
Obscurum & illustre, contrary.
Nihil est ad gloriam illustrius, quā calami-tas ipsa, nothyng byngeth greater renoume or playe than calamite and trouble it selfe.
Ilustris & lata via, a fayre broade waie.
Ilustro, aui, are, to make lyght or cleare, to make famouse or well knowne, to sette forth by which is byd, to declare, to make manifest or playne.
Ilustrant team amplitudinem, it commended pore noblenesse, and made it moze famouse and known.
Parefacere & illustrare.
Ilustus, a, um, mocked to scozne.
Vestes illuse auro, wrought here and there with theddes of golde.
Ilubilis, le, that which can not be washed away,
or purged from spliche.
Ilucis, ei, feci, g. vnclannesse, fylthynesse in man or garment.
Cultus & illucis, contrary.
Illyberis, a citee of Brounce.
Illyria, illyris, or Illyrium, a countreie which hath on the north both the countreis Pannonia superior and inferior, on the west Histria, on the east Myssam Superiorem, on the south the sea Hadriaticum. that countreie is nowe called Sclauonie, or wendlandie.

Ilirica, æ, idem quod Iris.
Illyricus, a, um, of Illyria.
Illoei, a towne.
Ilua, an Ilande by Tuscan, loke Ilba.
Ilurcis, a citee of Iberia.
Ilus, the hyng of Croianes sonne, that buyld ded Ilium.

Imaginarij, beater of baners, wherein be imag-
ges peynted.
Imaginaris, a, um, doon for a fourme or fas-cion, and not in effectte, that is onely imagin-ued and conceiued in the mynde, and can not be in dedde.
Imaginaria emptio, a byng, that is only for a facion to kepe a custome.
Imaginaris miles, a, a souldiour only by name that neuer was in the warres.
Imaginatio, onis, f. g. an imagination.
Imaginatus, a, um, figured or fourmed into an image.
Imagino, aui, are, to make images, or to coun-terfeyte.
Imagino, aris, ari, to imagine, to conceue.
Imaginōsus, a, um, full of images.
Imago, imaginis, f. g. an image, a similitude, a representation of a thyng, a tykenesse, a coun-terfeyte, a paterne, an example, the propozcion, the resemblance.
Imago rei mihi ob oculos obuertatur, me
thyngeth I see it.
Imago prisca frugalitatis, an example.
Liberalitatis imago, a similitude of liberalitee,
but not verp liberalitee.
Vita imago, an example or paterne to liue after.
Nocturnæ imagines, visions or sightes in the nyght.
Super hac imagine cognitionis, vnder this colour or pretence of triall or examination.
Imago expressa, a typt image.
Concipere animo imaginem alicuius rei, to conceue the facion of a thyng in ones mynde.
Imagines maiorum, a petigree, the lyne of ones auncestre. It is often taken for the no-bilenesse of ones auncesters, and was among the Romaynes, as the armes of noble men be amonge vs.
Imagines subitæ, nobilitate lately rysen. As of them whose fathers or grandfathers were ad-uanted to hygh the authoritie, onely by the fa-uour of princes.
Imaguncula, a little image.
Imans, a mountayne in India.
Imantopodes, a people of Ethiopie, whiche haue croked legges.

Imbecillis, le, & Imbecillus, a, um, feeble, weak.
 Imbecillis medicina, a medicine of yttell strength or vertue.
 Imbecillitas, atis, fce. ge. feblenesse, weakenesse,
 imbecillitee.
 Imbecilliter, feibly, weakely, feyntely.
 Imbellia, a, f. g. cowardlyse.
 Imbellis, le, vnapt to warre, cowarde or weak, nothing manly, timorouse, fearefull, without courage, womanlyke.
 Annum imbellum agere, To passe with out
 warre.
 Dies imbellis, a daie wheron no battaile is foughte, nor other manly worke or enterpryse dooen.
 Imber, bris, m. g. a showre, rayne, water, euery
 watie humour, sometime wepyng.
 Imberbis, be, beardlesse.
 Imbibio, imbibis; imbibiti, ere, to drynke in, to receyue in.
 Malam opinionem de aliquo imbibere, To conceyue an ill opinion of one.
 Imbrex, imbricis, m. g. or f. g. a gutter made of tyle, by the whiche rayne is conueyghed from the house. It is also the gutter of russe tyle, whiche is croked and halfe rounde.
 Imbricatum, lyke the tpyng of an house, with russe tyle.
 Imbricatus, a, um, layde with croked tyle. Also rough lyke the iogynng of tyles on an house, or lyke a tyle.
 Imbricati vngues simia, halfe rounde.
 Imbricata sementa, layde one vpon an other lyke tyles.
 Imbricium, ij, neu. ge. the coueryng or euepyng of the house, with russe or croked tyle. also idem quod Imbrex.
 Imbrico, imbricas, aui, are, to make like a croked
 tyle, to couer with tyle, or other like thyng.
 Imbricosus, a, um, full of gutters, or full of russe tyles.
 Imbricus, imbrica, um, rayne, or that byngeth raynye wether.
 Imbridus, a, um, stormy, rayny.
 Imbrifer, a, um, idem quod Imbricus.
 Imbrius, a, um, of the towne or Ilande, called Imbrus.
 Imbrus, an Ilande of Thrace, and a towne in the same is so called.
 Imbubino, aui, are, to defyle with menstruose fyre.
 Imbulbito, aui, are, to defile with chyldernes dyte.
 Imbuo, imbuis, bui, ere, to dye clothe or sylke, to infecte, to steygne, to moyste or weate, to instructe, to teache as one teacheth his pzentice.
 Imbuere gladium scelere, To committe some naughty and detestable murder.
 Imbuere, & instituire.
 Imbuere ingenium artibus, To instructe and adozne the mynde with good sciences.

Imbuere animos errore, to infect mynde des with error.
 Vt cum his imbuis opinionibus, That you wold put these opinions in his mynde: or that you wold instruct hym with those opinions.
 Imbui castrensis stipendiis, to take wages in the warre.
 Imbutus, a, um, dyed, infected, stayned, intru-sed, seasoned, nousted, mupsted, deped.
 Vestis imbuta sanguine, be rayed with bloude.
 Imbutus praeceptis philosophiae, nousted in the preceptes of philosophie.
 Imbutus liberibus scientiis, furnisshed with liberal sciences.
 Sacramento imbutus, He that hath taken
 an othe.
 Litteris graecis imbutus, learned in the greke tongue.
 Bellum odio imbutum, a warre full of haterde, spite and malice.
 Imitabilis, le, that maie bee folowed.
 Imitamen, inis, neu. g. Imitamentum, a counterfalte, a folowng.
 Tristitia imitamenta, simulation of sadnesse, feigned or counterfalted heauynesse.
 Imitatio, onis, imitation, folowng.
 Imitator, oris, mas. gene. one that foloweth the example of a thyng.
 Imitatrix, the femmine.
 Imitatus, a, um, folowed, imitated, counterfalted.
 Imitor, aris, ari, to folowe the example of an other, to counterfalte, to imitate, to be lyke in facion.
 Folium alas auium imitatur, the leafe is lyke to a byrdes wynges.
 Imitari chirographum alterius, to counter-faite an other mans hande or wytyng.
 Imitatur sermones hominum, it endeuoreth to speake like a man.
 Mactitiam imitari, to feygne sadnesse or heauynesse.
 Immadeo, immades, madii, ere, to bee mooued or weete.
 Immanis, ne, cruell, outrageous, fierce, huge,
 great, horrible.
 Immane & mansuetum, contrary.
 Importuna & immanis natura, an outrageous and fiers nature.
 Quæstus immanis, vnrasonable luerce and gayne. Ferus & immanis hostis, a fierce and a cruell enemy.
 Immanis numerus, a wonderful or exceedyng great numbre.
 Immanis moles, a huge heape.
 Venera immania, horrible great woundes.
 Immane, wonderful, incredible, meruayllous to bee spoken.
 Immanitas, atis, f. g. crueltie, greatnesse, outragednesse.
 Immanitas precij, the vnrasonable greatnesse of the pryce of any thyng.

Immanus, a, um, vngentill, vnpleasant, vnrtractable, cruell, wyde.
 Immarcesco, cui, celsere, to corrupt, putrefie, or rotte.
 Immarere, before the tyme or season.
 Immaritas, atis, f. g. vnppensse, to muche hast in doyng a thyng before the tyme.
 Immaritas sponfarum, when maydens bee not able to be married.
 Immaritus, a, um, that is not tyme, out of seas-son, that is taken or dooen before the tyme.
 Immaritum consilium, to hasty counsaile.
 Filius immaturus obiit, His soonne a ponge man dyed before his tyme.
 Immatura mors, deathe that pueneteth the natural tyme.
 Immediatè, immediately, forthwith, by and by,
 without taryng.
 Immedicabilis, le, that can not be healed or cured.
 Immemor, oris, om. g. forgetfull, he that doeth not remembre.
 Immemor es discipuli? Hast thou forgotten a scholar of thyne owne teacyng?
 Immemorabilis, le, vnwoorthy remembrance, somepny exceedyng great, that can not be remembered.
 Immensus, a, um, of suche greatnesse, that it can not be measured, passyng all measure, vnmeas-urable, exceedyng.
 Labor immensus, exceedyng great labour.
 Opes immenses, exceedyng great, and innumerable rychesse.
 Euphrates immensum auollitur, the ryuer Euphrates is ryfen by exceedyngly or passyng all measure.
 Immensio plus, moze beyonde all measure.
 Gula immanis, vnreasonable gluttony.
 Immensum iter, a wonderful great iourneye.
 Immensitas, atis, f. g. exceedyng greatnesse.
 Immeo, aui, are, to goe in, to enter in.
 Immerens, entis, om. g. that hath not deserued.
 Immerenter, vnderfuerdly, without a cause.
 Immergo, meis, gere, to drowne or to plunge a thyng in the water, to diepe.
 Immergere se in consuetudinem, to enter into deepe familiaritee or acquaintance.
 Immergit se in ganeum, He is gotten into a tasuerne, or he hath thrust hym selfe into a tauerne or byrthels house.
 Vbi iter amnis immergitur, where the ryuer
 After falleth into the sea.
 Immergere se in voluptates, to drowne ones selfe in pleasure.
 Immerito and immeritisimò, an aduerbe, without deseruyng, without cause.
 Immeritus, a, um, idem quod immerens.
 Immerita gratia, thankes or fauour not deser-ued. Immerito meo, without my deserte.
 Immeritabilis, le, that can not be dyowned.
 Immetatus, a, um, y is not bounded or mesured.

Immigro, immigras, aui, are, to go dwell in a place, to enter in.
 Immigraui in ingenium meum, I came to myne owne rule, or to bee ruled by myne owne wytte.
 Immigrauit auaritia in rempublicam, couestousnesse entred into the common weale.
 Imminens, entis, om. g. that is at hande, or lyke to come to passe ere it be longe.
 Imminens ingenium, a tennynng witte.
 Imminens Dario, willng to assaile Darius.
 Gestus imminens, an earnest & spely gesture.
 Immineo, nui, nere, to hange or houet ouer a thyng as it wold fall, to be at hande, to bee lyke to come to passe ere it be longe, to take hede or espye. also to be nygh. Sometime to stand by.
 Mors proper incertos casus quotidie immi-ner, Death throughe vnertaine chaunces, is e-uery day nygh, or at hande, or hangeth euery daie ouer our heades.
 Bellum imminet ab Tarquinis. It is at the popyt to haue warre with the Tarquines.
 Imminet exitio alterius, he is readye to slea the
 other.
 Imminent in fortunas nostras, They are at hande and ready to robbe vs of our goodes, or seeke or espye an occasion to robbe vs.
 Impendere & imminere.
 Instare & imminere.
 Imminebat in occasionem, he was ready lo-kyng for some oportunitie or occasion.
 Imminere animis in propinquam spem,
 They had a good hope that the thyng woulde come to passe ere it were longe: or they looked es-uery daie that it shoulde come to passe.
 Imminent duo reges toti Asia, two kyniges seeke meanes and occasions to bypnyge all Asia vnder theyr dominon.
 Imminere rebus, to espye or seeke occasion, to geat the imperiall dominon.
 Qui deditur imminere, whiche did seeke and espye oportunitie to pseyde by the tyme.
 Imminuo, minui, uere, to diminish, to make lesse, to abate, to cut of.
 Imminuere caput alteri, to byeate ones head.
 Imminuere ius, to defalcate or minishe the aus-thoritee or state of a persone.
 Amplificare & imminuere, contrary.
 Imminuere summam, to abate of a summe, to dimynishe.
 Imminuere maiestatem, to commyt treason.
 Imminuere pudicitiam virginis, to defoure a maiden.
 Imminutio, onis, a diminution, a makynge of a thyng lesse, or moze slender.
 Imminutus, a, um, made lesse, diminysed, decayed Immiscio, scui, scere, to mingle together, to put in a mozt to licour or pouder, to pouder.
 Immiscere se alicui bello, to meddle or take parte in any warre.
 Immiscere se colloquijs, to begynne to talke Na ij or fall

or fall in communication with other.
 Immiscere se rei alieni, to meddle in an other mannes matter.
 Immiserabilis, le, that no man dooeth pitee, help,
 or succour.
 Immisericordia, x, f. g. vnnmercifullnesse, lacke
 of pitee.
 Immisericorditer, without pitee, vnnmercifully,
 cruelly, rigorously.
 Immisericors, ordis, om. g. vnnmercifull, without pitee.
 Immissio, onis, a sendyng or puttyng in, a sets-tyng, a grassyng.
 Immissum, lapsu in to abyde, as a beanie into an house or other ythe thyng.
 Immissus, a, um, sent in, cast in, put in, laped in,
 suborned, sent priuily, let slyppe, also longe.
 Immissa barba, a longe bearde.
 Canes immisi ceruis, the dogges let slippe at hares.
 Immitis, te, om. g. cruel, without pitee, rigorous, vngentyl.
 Immitia poma, appuls which are not yet ripe.
 Aphepse Vna immitis, a soure or hard grape.
 Immitte & turbatum calum, a tempestuous &
 troublous wether, a verat vnplesant agre.
 Immitte pectus, a cruel and hard herte.
 Immitte Pelagus, a troublous sea.
 Immitto, misi, ere, to sende in, to suborne or byng in craftly, to cast in. Sometyme it signifiesh to let growe in length.
 Neque barbam immiseris istam, Nether leat
 this bearde growe in length.
 Respicimus. d. ra illius immissaque barba, we behelde, & what an horrible aspect, & a bearde growen in length. also to bynge or sende on the contrary parte.
 Hoc futurum esse dixerunt, vt post breue tempus immitteret deus regem, qui expugnaret ludæos. It should come to passe (saied they) that god should sende to the contrary parte a thyng, which should vanquish the Jewes.
 Alii Tarquinium a Cicerone immissum aies-bant, ne Crassus suscepto malorum patrocinio, rempublicam quibaret, some sayed that Tarquine was suborned, or caused by Cicero priuily to doone, lest Crassus in takyng on hym the defence of misdoers, shoulde thereby cause trouble or sedition in the weate publike.
 Immittere ruderes, to let goe & ropes or cables.
 In medios hostes se immisit, he thast hym selfe into the myddes of his enemies.
 Aliquos in bona alterius immittere, to sende men to robbe, spoile, and take once goods from him. Aphepse immittere in rempublicam.
 Immittere se in voluantes, to drowne hym selfe in yotte and pleasure.
 Immittere iniuriam in aliquem, to do iniurie
 or wronge to one.
 Ne in aures immittas tuas, Dooe not geue
 eare to it, dooe not heare it.

Immo, or rather Imo, but rather, yea rather, yea
 but. Sometyme naie, naie rather.
 Immo pernegat, naie he denieth it vnterly.
 Immo optima causa est, yea marg, it is a better rightfull and good cause.
 Immo certe, without doubt.
 Immo aliud, naie it is not that, it is an other
 thyng.
 Immo etiam, naie or yea, but that more is.
 Immo vero, Immo enim, Immo certe.
 Immobiles, le, vnnouable.
 Immobilebus oculis contueri solem.
 Immoderate, immoderate, vnnmesurable, vns-temperately, to beyonde measure.
 Immoderate ferre res secundas, in prosperitee to be proude or loslie.
 Immoderate ferre res aduersas, contrary.
 Immoderatio, onis, f. g. immoderate, vnn-tyne.
 Immoderatus, a, um, immoderate, vntemperate,
 without meane or measure, out of rule, vnsuly, wylde.
 Immodeste, out of measure, also to much saunt,
 vnnmanely, malapertely.
 Immodestia, x, malapertenesse, saucinesse, vnnmodestie, vnsobrenesse.
 Immodestus, a, um, without temperance or mo-destie, wylde, vnsuly, vnsobye, vnnmanely, mallaperte, saucie.
 Immodesti mores, malaperte behauiour.
 Immodestum iocandi genus, an vnnmanely or to saucie a facion in scoffyng or iestyng.
 Immodice, to muche, out of measure, excessiue-
 ly, immoderately, to beyonde measure.
 Immodice ferre, idē quod Immoderate ferre.
 Immodici, many.
 Immodicus, a, um, great or muche, vnnmeasurable, vnreasonable, to muche, excessiue, some-tyme to mang.
 Immodica oratio, to longe.
 Labor immodicus, excessiue labour.
 Immodulatus, a, um, not scanned or song in measure, vnplesant, without melodie proposition or measure.
 Immolatio, onis, f. g. a sacrificyng.
 Immolator, oris, m. g. one that offereth in sacrificie.
 Immolatus, a, um, builded, erected.
 Immolo, immolas, aui, are, to offer in sacrificie.
 Immolior, immori, to dye on a thyng.
 Ferro immori, to die on a swoorde pointe.
 Studis immori, to be continually in studie.
 Immorior, aris, ari, to abyde or continue in a thing.
 Immorari honestis cogitationibus, to bestow
 muche tyme in musyng and thyngyng on honest
 thynges.
 Immortalis, le, immortall, that lyueth euer, that shall neuer decay, or faple.
 Immortalia facinora, actes that will neuer be forgotten.
 Herba immortalis, a weede that will neuer be kylled.

Immor-

immortalitas, aris, for. g. a perpetuall lyfe, im-mortalitee, euertastingnes, euertasting name,
 perpetuall memorie.
 Mihi immortalitas parca est, I am nowe in heauen.
 Commendare immortalitati, and Reddere immortalē alicuius memoriam, To make one remembred and spoken of so longe as the worlde standeth.
 Immortaliter, immortally, perpetually.
 Immortale, for Immortaliter.
 Immortus, a, um, that is not moued or stirred,
 stedfast, immouable, firme, constant, & varieth not.
 Fides immota, firme, constant.
 Lumina immota tenere, to loke stedfastly.
 Immulco, mulsi, or mulxi, gēre, to mylke, or
 mylke in.
 Habere infantium labris immulgere, To mylke in to the chyldes mouth.
 Immugio, mugis, giui, or gi, gire, to lowe, to roye, to make a great noyse as the sea dooth.
 Immundus, a, um, foule, vnclenly, filthy, surly, neaste.
 Immunis, ne, exempt, without office or charge,
 free, that payeth no tribute.
 Virtus immunis non est, Vertue is neuer ydel, but dooyng somewhat.
 Immunis & vestigalis, contrary.
 Immunis huius mali, nothyng suspected of
 this offence.
 Immunis militia, exempt from goyng to war.
 Immunitas, aris, f. g. franchises or libertee.
 Dare immunitatem, To graunte libertee, to exempt.
 Immuniticus, a, um, that beareth no office nor charge.
 Immunitus, a, um, not defended, not fortified,
 vnseced.
 Immurmuro, aui, are, to murmure within one,
 to make a great noyse.
 Syluis immurmurae Auster, maketh a great noyse.
 Immurmurare palato, To make a mumblng in the roufe of the mouth.
 Immistulus, Immisculus, or Immistulus, li, m. g.
 after Festus it is a hynde of egles, but not so strong as the Egles, and appereth only in the spring tyme (Plinie writeth, that some tooke it for a yong Vulture, and Massarius, for a yong eagle, before his tale waxeth white.
 Immutabilis, le, vnchangeable, that can not bee changed, constant.
 Immutabilitas, aris, for. g. immutabilitee, vns-changeablenesse, constancie.
 Immutatio, onis, f. g. a changeyng or alteryng.
 Immutatus, a, um, changed, altered, also vn-changed.
 Immutesco, mutui, scere, to be dumbe, to kepe
 silence, not to haue a worde to say.
 Immutio, aui, are, to change, to alter. Sometyme not to change one thyng for an other.

Adeo homines immutari? Is it possible for men to bee so chaunged or altered?
 Immutare se in re aliqua, to change or alter
 his mynde in a matter.
 Alienare a se aliquem, & se illi immutare,
 To change his mynde toward hym, and of a frend to become a foe.
 Immutare aliquid de institutis, to alter.
 Immutare vultum, to change countenance.
 Immo, loke Immo.
 Imola, imola, a citie of Italy, sometyme called Forum Corneli.
 Impacatus, a, um, not pacified, not appeased.
 Impactio, onis, for. g. a strikng or dashyng together of two thynges.
 Impactus, a, um, dashed or beaten agaynst a
 thyng.
 Impactus in carcerem, cast in prison.
 Impages, impagis, for. g. a tenon, whiche is put into the mortays. also a pyne that is dyuen into tymbre, to make it toygne and abyde.
 Impalleo, lui, lere, to ware pale.
 Impanco, aui, are, to inuade or go into a place.
 Impar, imparis, om. gene. not equal, not sufficient, vnlyke, odd.
 Impar certamen, in contention, or in games
 nyng, where is an vnequall matche.
 Imparatus, a, um, vnready, vnpoarued, vn-prepared.
 Imparatum a militibus, tum a pecunia, not haupng in a redinesse either souldiers or money: or vnpoarued both of souldiers and also of money.
 Imparens, ennis, om. g. disobedient.
 Impariter, vnlykely, vnequally, vnconely.
 Impartio, loke Impertio.
 Impasco, aui, scere, or Impascor, impascaris,
 idem quod pasco, or pascor.
 Impastus, a, um, vnfed, vnpastured, hungry.
 Impatibilis, le, that whiche can not bee suffered or susteyned, vtollerable.
 Impatibilis cruciatus, intollerable tourment.
 Impatiens, ennis, om. g. vnpatient, that can not suffre or abyde a thyng.
 Impatiens vetustatis, that will not endure
 longe.
 Laboris impatiens, that can not abyde
 labour.
 Impatiens hyemis, that can not abyde the sharpenesse of winter.
 Impatenter, impatiently, hardely, with great pcyne.
 Impatiētia, x, f. g. impacience, vn sufferablenesse, whan one can not endure or suffer a thyng, as,
 Impatiētia frigorū.
 Impauide, boldly, stoutely, without feare, with
 a hardy stomake.
 Impaudus, a, um, that feareth not, bold, stout,
 without dreade.
 Impeccabilis, le, that can not offende or dooe
 amysse.

or fall in communication with other.
 Immiscere se rei alieni, to meddle in an other
 mannes matter.
 Immiserabilis, le, that no man dooeth pitee, help,
 or succour.
 Immisericordia, x, f. g. vnnmercifullnesse, lacke
 of pitee.
 Immisericorditer, without pitee, vnnmercifully,
 cruelly, rigorously.
 Immisericors, ordis, om. g. vnnmercifull, without pitee.
 Immisio, onis, a sendyng or puttyng in, a sets-tyng, a graftyng.
 Immisum, lapid in to abyde, as a beame into an house of other lyke thyng.
 Immisus, a, um, sent in, cast in, put in, laped in,
 suborned, sent pryly, let styppes. also longe.
 Immista barba, a longe bearde.
 Canes immisi ceruis, the dogges let slippe at hares.
 Immitis, te, om. g. cruell, without pitee, rigorous, vngentyll.
 Immitia poma, appulls which are not yet ripe.
 Aphetysse Vna immitis, a soure of hard grape.
 Immitie & turbatum calum, a tempestuous &
 troublous wether, a verat vnplesant ayre.
 Immitte pectus, a cruell and hard herte.
 Immitte Pelagus, a troublous sea.
 Immitto, misi, ere, to sende in, to suborne or byng in craftyly, to cast in. Sometime it signifith to let growe in length.
 Neque barbam immiseris istam, Nether leat
 this bearde growe in length.
 Respicimus. d. ra illuies immissaque barba,
 we behelde, What an horrible apperance, & a bearde growen in length. also to byng or sende on the contrary part.
 Hoc futurum esse dixerunt, vt post breue
 tempus immitteret deus regem, qui expugnasret ludæos, It should come to passe (saide they)
 that god should sende to the contrary parte a kyng, which should vanquish the Jewes.
 Alij Tarquinium a Cicerone immisum aies-bant, ne Crassus suscepto malorum patre
 o, rempublicam quibaret, some sayed that Tarquine was suborned, or caused by Cicero pry-uily to dooe, lest Crassus in takinge on hym the defence of misdoers, should thereby cause trouble or sedition in the weate publike.
 Immittere ruderes, to let goe y ropes of cables.
 In medios hostes se immisit, he thurst hym selfe
 into the myddes of his enemies.
 Aliquos in bona alterius immittere, to sende men to robbe, spoile, and take ones goods from
 hym. Aphetysse Immittere in rempublicam.
 Immittere se in voluptates, to drowne hym selfe in ryotte and pleasure.
 Immittere iniuriam in aliquem, to do iniurie
 or wronge to one.
 Ne in aures immittas tuas, Dooe not geue
 eare to it, dooe not heare it.

Immo, or rather Imo, but rather, yea rather, yea
 but. Sometime naie, naie rather.
 Immo pernegat, naie he denieth it utterly.
 Immo optima causa est, yea warg, it is a better rightfull and good cause.
 Immo certe, without doubt.
 Immo aliud, naie it is not that, it is an other
 thyng.
 Immo etiam, naie or yea, but that more is.
 Immo vero, Immo enim, Immo certe.
 Immobiles, le, vnmouable.
 Immobilebus oculis contueri solem.
 Immoderate, immoderate, vnnmesurably, vnn-temperately, to beyonde measure.
 Immoderate ferre res secundas, in prosperi-
 tee to be prouide of losse.
 Immoderate ferre res aduersas, contrary.
 Immoderatio, onis, f. g. immoderate, vnn-temperate.
 Immoderatus, a, um, immoderate, vntemperate,
 without meane of measure, out of rule, vnruly, wyde.
 Immodeste, out of measure, also to much saucie,
 vnnmanerly, malapertely.
 Immodestia, x, malapertenesse, saucinesse, vnnmodestie, vnsobriety.
 Immodestus, a, um, without temperance or mo-destie, wyde, vnruly, vnsobry, vnnmanerly, maslaperte, saucie.
 Immodesti mores, malaperte behauiour.
 Immodestum iocandi genus, an vnnmanerly
 or to saucie a facion in scoffyng or iestyng.
 Immodice, to muche, out of measure, excessiue-
 ly, immoderately, to beyonde measure.
 Immodice ferre, idē quod Immoderate ferre.
 Immodici, many.
 Immodicus, a, um, great of muche, vnnmeasurable, vnreasonable, to muche, excessiue, some-tyme to many.
 Immodica oratio, to longe.
 Labor immodicus, excessiue labour.
 Immodulitas, a, um, not scanned or song in measure, vnplesant, without melodie proportion of measure.
 Immolatio, onis, f. g. a sacrificyng.
 Immolator, oris, m. g. one y offereth in sacrifice.
 Immolatus, a, um, builded, erected.
 Immolo, immolas, aui, are, to offer in sacrifice.
 Immorior, immori, to dye on a thyng.
 Ferro immori, to die on a swordes pointe.
 Studis immori, to be continually in studie.
 Immoror, aris, arl, to abyde or continu in a thyng.
 Immorari honestis cogitationibus, to bestow
 muche tyme in musyng and thynkyng on honest
 thynges.
 Immortalis, le, immortal, that lyueth euer, that shall neuer decay, or faple.
 Immortalia facinora, actes that wyll neuer be forgotten.
 Herba immortalis, a weede that wyll neuer be kylled.

Immor-

immortalitas, actis, f. g. a perpetuall lyfe, im-mortalitee, euerlastynesse, euerlasting name,
 perpetuall memorie.
 Mhi immortalitas parca est, I am nowe in heauen.
 Commendare immortalitati, and Reddere
 immortalē alicuius memoriam, To make one remembred and spoken of so longe as the worlde standeth.
 Immortaliter, immortally, perpetually.
 Immortale, for immortaliter.
 Immotus, a, um, that is not moued or stirred,
 stedfast, immouable, firme, constant, y varieth not.
 Fides immota, firme, constant.
 Lumina immota tenere, to loke stedfastly.
 Immulco, mulsi, or mulxi, gēre, to mylke, or
 mylke in.
 Hubeia infantium labris immulgere, To
 mylke in to the chyldes mouth.
 Immolco, mugiis, giui, or giij, gire, to lowe, to
 roye, to make a great noyse as the sea dooth.
 Immundus, a, um, foule, vncleanly, filthy, dirt-ty, vncast.
 Immunis, ne, exempt, without office or charge,
 free, that payeth no tribute.
 Virtus immunis non est, Vertue is neuer ydell, but dooyng somewhat.
 Immunis & vestigalis, contrary.
 Immunis latus mali, nothyng suspected of
 this offence.
 Immunis militia, exempt from goyng to war.
 Immunitas, actis, f. g. franchises or libertee.
 Dare immunitatem, To graunte libertee, to exempt.
 Immuniticus, a, um, that beareth no office nor charge.
 Immunitus, a, um, not defended, not fortified,
 vnsted.
 Immurmuro, aui, are, to murmure within one,
 to make a great noyse.
 Syllus immurmurat Auster, maketh a great noyse.
 Immurmurare palato, To make a mumbleng in the roufe of the mouthe.
 Immistulus, Immisculus, or Immistulus, li, m. g.
 after festus it is a kynde of egles, but not so strong as the Eagles, and appereth only in the spring tyme. Idine wyrteth, that some tooke it for a pong Culture, and Massarius, for a pong egle, before this tyme wareth white.
 Immutabilis, le, vunchangeable, that can not bee chaunged, constant.
 Immutabilis, actis, f. g. ge. immutabilitee, vnn-changeablenesse, constancie.
 Immutatio, onis, f. g. a chaungeyng or alteryng.
 Immutatus, a, um, chaunged altered. also vn-
 changed.
 Immutesco, mutui, scere, to be dumbe, to kepe
 silence, not to haue a worde to say.
 Immutio, aui, are, to chaunge, to alter. Sometime not to chaunge one thyng for an other.

Adeo homines immutari? Is it possible for men to bee so chaunged or altered?
 Immutare se in re aliqua, to chaunge or altere
 his mynde in a matter.
 Alienare a se aliquem, & se illi immutare,
 To chaunge his mynde towardes hym, and of a freind to become a foe.
 Immutare aliquid de institutis, to alter.
 Immutare vultum, to chaunge countenance.
 Imo, loke Immo.
 Imola, imola, a citie of Italy, sometime called Forum Corneli.
 Impacatus, a, um, not pacified, not appeased.
 Impactio, onis, f. g. a strikynge or dasyng tog-
 gether of two thynges.
 Impactus, a, um, dasyed or beaten agaynst a
 thyng.
 Impactus in carcerem, cast in prison.
 Impages, impagis, f. g. a tenon, whiche is put into the moztays, also a pyne that is dryuen into tymbre, to make it togyne and abyde.
 Impalleo, lui, lere, to wate pale.
 Impanco, aui, are, to inuade or go into a place.
 Impar, imparis, om. gene. not equall, not sufficient, vnlyke, oddde.
 Impar certamen, in contention, or in games
 nyng, where is an vnequall matche.
 Imparatus, a, um, vnready, vnpreparred, vn-
 prepared.
 Imparatum a militibus, tum a pecunia, not hauyng in a readinesse either souldiers or money: or vnprouided both of souldiers and also of money.
 Imparens, entis, om. g. disobedient.
 Impariter, vnlykely, vnequally, vneuenly.
 Impartio, loke Impertio.
 Impasco, aui, scere, or Impascor, impascoris,
 idem quod pasco, or pascor.
 Impastus, a, um, vnfed, vnpastured, hungry.
 Impatibilis, le, that whiche can not bee suffered or susteyned, vntolerable.
 Impatibilis cruciatus, intollerable tourmentes.
 Impatiens, entis, om. g. vnpatient, that can not suffre or abyde a thyng.
 Impatiens vetustatis, that will not endure
 longe.
 Laboris impatiens, that can not abyde
 labour.
 Impatiens hyemis, that can not abyde the
 sharpenesse of winter.
 Impatienter, impatiently, hardely, with great pyne.
 Impatencia, x, f. g. impacience, vn sufferablenesse,
 whan one can not endure or suffer a thyng, as,
 Impatencia frigorū.
 Impauide, boldly, stoutely, without feare, with
 a hardy stomake.
 Impaudus, a, um, that feareth not, bold, stout,
 without dreade.
 Impeccabilis, le, that can not offende or dooe
 amysse.

Impedatus, a, um, underfet, propped vp.

Vitis impedata.

Impedimentum, ti, n. g. lette, impediment.

Impedimenta, is the cartage and other thynges necessary, that goeth with an hoste.

Nisi quid impedimenti in via passus est, If he had any lette by the waie.

Impedimento esse, to lette.

Superabat impedimenta naturæ, he byd ouer come the lettes and incommodities of nature.

Inferre impedimentum, to lette.

Pari impedimentum, to be lette.

Impedio, impedis, diui, ire, to lette, to staye, to cumber, to disturbe, to intangle, to bypnyng in the byers.

Impedire se & implicare, to intangle or wryap hym selfe in busynesse.

Impedire, and Expedire, contrary.

Impediri & alligari in re aliqua, To be cumbered or intangled in a matter.

Impedire iter, to stoppe ones iourneye, and make that he can not haue free passage.

Nihil impedio, I lette you not. also I passe not, I care not.

Frangis impediantur equi, The horses be bybled.

Pudore impediatur, I can not for shame.

Impedio, diuis, fœm. g. a leatnyng, byndnyng, or cumbernyng.

Impeditus, a, um, propelye he that hath his feete so bounde, that he can not goe, lette, cumbered, entangled, brought in the byers, shakled, popstercd.

Iter impeditum, a troublous or combous iourneye.

Viden me tuis consiliis impeditum? Dooest thou not see, that thorough thy counsaile I am brought in the byers?

Impedo, impedas, aui, are, to underfet, to prop vp, to staie vp with a foxhe or other thyng.

Impello, impuli, etc, to perswade instantly, to inforce, to thrust violently, to byue forwarde, to plucke downe, to enfeeble.

Impulit vt crederem, he perswaded me to beleeue it: or he forced me with reasons to beleue hym, whether I woulde or no.

In fraudem impelli, To be perswaded to a thing that will bee to his hurt and daunger.

In fugam impelli, to be putte to flight.

Ad iram impellere, to fire to anger.

Impellere in spem, to put in hope.

Impellere atque hortari, to perswade and exhort to a thyng.

Impelli, atque incendi ad aliquid faciendum, to be bypnyng and incited to dooe a thyng.

Impellere mugibus auras, to moue the ayre with his loude cpyng.

Impendo, impendes, di, dère, to hange ouer ones head, as it were readie to fall, to be lyke to chaunce or happen within thoyte space, to be nere at hand.

Tanta tibi impendent mala, So great mischieses hange ouer thy head, or bee lyke to fall or chaunce to the ere it bee longe.

Impendete & imminere.

Impendet procella reipublicæ, Some great storme of trouble or busynesse wyl chaunce to the common weale ere it bee longe.

Impendebat mons altissimus, There bydde bende ouer a veraie high mountayne.

Impendens mali neicius, not knowyng of the great mischieses that was at hande.

Impendent mala. Terrent. mischieses hangeth ouer thy heade.

Impendio, verate multe or moze, excedyngly, moze and moze.

Impendio magis animus gaudebat mihi, my heart was meruaylous ioyfull and glad with moze and moze.

Sed loquatur impendio & promptior, but very talkatiue, to full of wordes and meruaylous redy thereto.

Ille impedio magis odit Senatū, he to to much hateth the Senate, or the nobles of the citee.

Ille minus minisque impendio curare, he set by me still lesse and lesse by a great waie.

Impendiosus, a, um, that spendeth moze than needeth, to liberall.

Impendium, ij, n. g. expence or coste. Sometyme gayne by vsurp.

Ad assem impendium reddere, to paye one euery farthyng of his costes & charges agayne.

Rationem impendium poscere, to demaunde a rekenyng of that is layde out.

Conferre impendia in educationem, to bestow some coste vpon ones bynging vp.

Impendo, di, dère, to spend or laie out money, to bestowe, to employe.

Impendere de suo, To bestowe of his owne coste.

Biennium impendere, to bestowe the space of two yerres. Alphewyse Operam, curam, studium, sumptum, laborem, tempus, viam impendere.

Impenetrabilis, le, that can not be perced or entred into, impenetrable.

Pudicitia impenetrabilis, of chastitee of honestie vncorruptible.

Impenitralis, liis, neu. g. that, wherof the innermost parte can not be entred into.

Impensa, benefices.

Impensa, x, fœm. gene. expence, coste, charge. Sometyme a benefice.

Officiorum impensam facere, To shewe dyuers friendly pleasures and good courtesies to one.

Impensas agere in rem aliquam, to bestowe coste.

Parcere impensa, to spare coste.

Leuis impensa, lyght coste.

Ingentes impensa, contrary.

Impense, greatly, excedyngly, passingly aboue other.

Est

Est impense improbus, he is a very yll man.

Impenie doctus, veray well lerned.

Impensibilis, le, without consideration.

Impensius, excedyngly, moze greuouse or displeasant; moze earnestly, excedyngly much.

Impensius, a, um, bestowed, laied out. Also eythe, abundant, vehement, great. Sometyme intolerable, greuouse, painfull.

Impensa voluntas, for propensa.

Impensa libido, excedyng great.

Impense preces, great or vehement prayers.

Ingrato homine nihil impensius, moze vntolerable.

Cura impensior, greater care.

Imperator, oris, m. g. the chiefe capytayne in warres, nowe the emperour.

Imperator vitæ & necis, that hath in his power both lyfe and death.

Imperatorius, a, um, belongyng to an emperour or great capytayne.

Imperatoris, icis, f. g. the emperesse.

Imperatus, a, um, commaunded, bydden.

Imperata facere, to doe that one is commaunded.

Imperceptus, a, um, that can not be taken or perscued.

Impercussus, a, um, vnstriken.

Pedes imperculos mouere, to moue the feete without noyse.

Impeditus, a, um, that was neuer lost or destroyed.

Imperfectus, a, um, vnperfecte.

Imperforatus, a, u, that is not digged or thrust thorow.

Imperiosè, stately, rygorously, proude.

Imperiosus, i, um, imperiouse, lordely, stately, full of commaundementes.

Imperiosus vir, a maisterly man, rygorous, or cruel in gouernance.

Imperiosus sui, he that maystereth the passions and affections of his owne mynde.

Imperiosa Dictatura, of great authoritee.

Imperius, vnperfectly, vnlearnedly.

Imperitia, x, f. g. lacke of knowlage, ignorance, vnskillfulnesse.

Imperito, aui, are, to rule or gouerne.

Imperitus, a, um, not experie, easy to be deceiued, vnlearned, rude, ignorant, vnskillfull.

Imperitus & callidus, contrary.

Imperitum vulgus, the rude and ignorant people.

Imperita multiudo, the simple people.

Imperitus rerum, haupng no experie of the world, not knowyng the world.

Imperium, ij, n. g. a solemne commaundement, a preeminence in gouernance, authoritee roiall, power, dominon, empire.

Ambiter imperi, gouernour of the empire.

Imperium exequi, to dooe that is commaunded.

Satis pro imperio quisquis es, stately or vnperiously spoken what so euer thou be.

Facile est imperium in bonis, it is an easye thyng to gouerne honest men.

Siquid imperij est in te mihi, If I haue any authoritee to commaunde the.

Imperium tuum est apud nos, we remembre well that you commaunded vs.

Accipere imperium, and abnuere & Detrecare imperium, contrary.

Imperium tuum demutat, he docth agaynst your commaundement.

Habere imperium, to be maister or gouernour.

Duro imperio habitus, gouerned cruelly or rygorously.

Proferre imperium suum, to shewe his authoritee or power. also to enlarge his feignorie or dominion.

Cum imperio esse, to be in authoritee, to beare a rule, to be in some great rule or office.

Omnes imperium esse Publio Scipioni in Hispaniam iusserunt, All commaunded that Scipio should haue the gouernance of Spaine.

Imperitatus, a, um, that is neuer sworn by.

Impero, imperas, aui, are, to commaunde, to commaunde with authoritee, to enioyne, to haue the maistrice and lordshipp ouer other, to rule.

Imperare cupiditibus, to rule the desyres or appetites of the mynde.

Imperare animo nequiu, quin &c. I coulde not chouse, I could not rule my mynde.

Imperare dolori, to ouercome sorow, and take it patiently.

Imperare sibi silentium, to scettle hym selfe not to speke.

Imperare tributum, to craete or require tribute or payement of money.

Equites imperare ciuitatibus, to commaund and ordyne cities, to set forth the hoistmen or men of armes.

Oblides imperare, to commaund or require hostages or pledges for assurance of peace.

Impeior, the passiue.

Imperissus, a, um, vnassull, that is not persmytted.

Imperionalis, le, that hath no perones.

Imperitatus, a, um, nothyng abashed or affraid, stouie, hardy.

Imperio, iui, rive, & Imperior, tiris, tiri, to participate with one, to geue parte of that, whiche he hath, to communicate.

Imperire salute aliquem, and aliam salutem, to salute.

Imperitur, parte is geuen.

Imperit tibi multum salutaris, he saluteth you heartely. Studium philosophiæ imperire, to be stowe parte of ones study in philosophie.

Huc re aliquid temporis imperias, bestowe sometyme vpon this matter.

Imperire aliquem osculo, to kysse one.

Dolorem suum alium imperire, to communicate his sorow with one, or to tell him of it.

Sed cesso heram hoc malo imperire, to tell my maistrice of this mischieses.

Colega meo laus impartitur, part of the praise is given to my companion in office.
 Impertire alterum rem aequam, and alteri de re aliqua, to make an other part taker of a thyng to geue hym part of it.
 Imperturbatus, a, um, not disturbed, not troubled, nothing abashed.
 Imperturbata lux, a clere and calme day without wynd or cloudes.
 Impetratus, a, um, that can not be passed or gone thorowly.
 Impesco, scere, to put a beast into a good pasture to fede.
 Impetigo, ginis, f. g. a ryng of woodme.
 Impetor, impetus, tui, tere, to invade, to assaile or set vpon.
 Impetrabilis, le, that may be gotten by desyre.
 Impetrabilis dies, a daye, in the which a man easily obteyneth his desyre.
 Impetrabilis orator, an orator that easily obteyneth that he would haue.
 Impetratio, onis, f. g. an obteynynge by prayer.
 Impetratus, a, um, obteyned by desyre.
 Impetratio, trasi, there, to get by desyre or instance.
 Impetratus, a, um, infixed, mortayfed, as it were in a stone.
 Impetro, impetras, aui, are, to obteyne by request.
 Impetrare & exorare.
 Impetrare cum gratia, and voluntate impetrare, to obteyne with ones good will.
 Ex penitencia veniam impetrauit, he brynged for that he had don, obteyned forgiveness.
 Impetuosis, a, um, violent or hasty in wrath.
 Impetus, impetus, & impes, petis, m. g. violence, an inuasion, a vehemency, a brynde, a bryunt, a race of fere in rennyng.
 Impetus animi, vehemencie of the mynde.
 Impetum dare vel facere, to invade, to renne with a great randon on any thyng.
 Primo impetu, at the first assaite, at the first bryunt. Impetum excipere, to receiue or abide the bryunt. Impetus repentinus, a sodain brynde Feruntur omni impetu, they renne with all their violence and force.
 Capere or sumere impetum, to fetch his feate, and renne with all his myght.
 Vno impetu, one after an other without taryng. Impetum facere in bona & fortunas alius, to invade and take awaie wrongfully by force a mannes gooddes and possessions.
 Impexus, a, um, vnkembed, vndecked, vntrimsed.
 Impico, impicas, aui, are, to pitche or couer with pitche.
 Impiatus, not pouged of synne, contaminate, defiled.
 Impie, wickedly, cruelly, mischeuouesly.
 Impietas, aui, f. g. hatred of god, crueltee, wickednesse, impietee.

Impiger, gra, grum, diligent, not slowe, balyant, quicke.
 In scribendo impiger, diligent in wytyng.
 Vir ad labores belli impiger, a diligent man and meete to abyde the paynes and trauaile of warfare.
 Impiger, diligently, without slouth, quickly.
 Impigritas, aris, f. g. diligence, quicknesse, balyantnesse.
 Impingo, pēgi, pingere, to hytte one in thyng some thyng at hym, to thowse agaynst a thyng, to beate or dash.
 Dicam tibi impingam grandem, I will lay a wepyght matter to thy charge.
 Impinges me in magnam litem, thou wylt cast me.
 Impingere fustem alicui, to geue one a knoche with a cougell.
 Caput parietis impingere, to knoche ones head agaynst the walles.
 Impingere compedes, to put on gnyres.
 Impingere culpam in aliquem, to laye the blame on one.
 Impingere nauem, to renne the shyppe on a roche, or to bryue hym on lande, or to renne the shyp on grounde.
 Impingere alicui epistolam, to sende a letter to one. Impinge pugnam si mutauerit, geue hym a bore on the eare, yf he speake one word, yf he ones whysper.
 Venenum impingere, to poyson.
 Vultus impingere, to wounde.
 Impingi, sometyme for impelli.
 Impinguo, aui, are, to make fatte.
 Impio, aui, are, to desite, to dystayne ones selfe with a dishonestie or foule dedde, specially agaynst god or his parentes.
 Impius, a, um, cruel, hatynge god and good men, wicked, that careth not for god, an vngacious man, a mischeuous man.
 Implacabilis, le, that can not be pleased, pacified, appeased, or reconciled.
 Implacatus, a, u, that is not pleased or contented.
 Implacidus, a, um, idem.
 Implacabiliter, after that sorte that he can not be pleased or reconciled.
 Implano, aui, are, to deceiue.
 Impleo, eui, ere, to fyll, to fyll, to accomplish, to put in execution.
 Implere vicem alterius, and Vices implere pro alio, to take in hande an other mannes charge, to exercise an other mannes office, to do an other mannes dutie.
 Implet vias hominum quatuor, it is fully two saythomes about.
 Canes implentur vno coitu, Wyches are with whelpes with ones lynnynge.
 Religionis iusta implent, he made them be next folowers of honest religion.
 Adolescentem suae temeritatis impleuit.
 Impleuit centum annos, he was fully an hundred died peres olde.

 Amaritudinem inimici impleuit, he shewed hym selfe as rigorous and sharpe as if he had ben his ennemye.
 Diem sermonibus implere, to passe the date in talke tyme.
 Aduentantis auxilii hostes impleuerunt: they had spred the rumor or brynde ouer all theyr enemies, that, &c.
 Aures implere sermonibus, to fyll ones eares with babbyng.
 Formidinis implere, to put in a great feare.
 Officium suum implere, to do his dutie.
 Promissum implere, to kepe promise, to fyll his promyse.
 Extemplo spei impleuit, by and by he put hym in great hope: or made hym conceiue a great hope.
 Implere superstitione, to make verate superstitions. Vides, cuius debes implere vestigia, Thou seest, whose steppes thou shouldest folow.
 Cursum vite implere, to leade the hole course of ones lyfe.
 Numeros principis implere, to doe in all pointes as a prince shoulde doe.
 Raro modis grani noui, xvi. libras implet, it is seldom that a Roman bushel of cozne doth not weigh xvi. pounce.
 Implexus, a, um, wounde in, folded in. sometyme for Complexus, sometyme for implicitus.
 Implicitus, a, um, wrapped or tyed fast togyther, platted or brynded, intangled.
 Implicitus morbo, attached or deteigned with sickness.
 Misera implicitus, wrapped in miserie.
 Implicitus suspicionibus, suspected of dyuers matters.
 Colligatum atque implicitum, knit and platted togyther.
 Implectio, onis, f. g. a plattynge, bryndynge, or intanglynge one within an other, a wrappynge one within an other.
 Implecti, obscurely, intricately.
 Implico, implicas, aui, are, to wrappe in, to folde in, to platte, to brynde, to set one within an other, to tye fast, to deteine, to lette.
 Implacat speculum caput, the bounde by hys head at a glasse.
 Implicatus ad seueritatem videbatur, he seemed to be bent and geuen to seueritee.
 Implicari familiaritate alicuius, to be alped or fouated with one.
 Implicari teneri legibus, to be wrapped in the penalties of the lawe.
 Implicari occupationibus, to be greatly occupied and busied with diuers matters.
 Collo implicitus brachia, she clapped hym about the necke.
 Crines implicat auro, she platted or bryndeth her haire with golde.
 Impedire & implicare se, to let and entangle.

Implicata res controuersia, the matter is wrapped in many controuersies.
 Implicari, to be inuironed and beset with enemies.
 Imploro, aui, are, to desyre lamentably, to aske helpe and abyde with teares and weepynge.
 Implorare & obtestari.
 Implorare & supplicare.
 Imploratio, onis, f. g. a lamentable desyryng of a thyng.
 Implumis, me, without feathers.
 Impluo, implui, or implui, pluiere, to rayne in. Ne malum impluat mihi, that the mischefe maye not fall on me, or light on my necke.
 Implutus, a, um, wette in the raine.
 Impluita, a, f. g. a clothe to weare in the rayne.
 Impluiatus, a, um, coloured as it were wette in the rayne.
 Impluuiata, garmettes of that coloure.
 Impluuium, uii, n. g. a place or little coure in the house, wherby they used to receiue rayne water.
 Impolita, a, f. g. negligence about the weale publique, also rudenesse, vncleanlynesse.
 Impolite, grosely, rudely, without polisyng, homely.
 Impolitus, a, um, not polished, rude, or rough.
 Impollutus, a, um, vndefiled, not distained.
 Impomenta, thynges set on the table after supper.
 Impono, sui, ere, to put one thyng on an other, to put in, to set vpon, to appoynt, to bobbye, to deceiue, to blynde ones eyes: also to geue, to intorgne, to laie to ones charge.
 Imponere alicui, to abuse or deceiue one.
 Calculum imponere, to cast accompt.
 Imponere clauas alias portis, to chaunge the keyes of the gates.
 Clausulam disputationi imponere, to conclude or make an ende of the disputation.
 Imposuit exercitum Brundisii, he layed his host in garison at Brundisium.
 Iniuriam alicui imponere, to doo wronge to one. In stipendium a gentium imponere, to assest what men or towne shys shall paie to the soudiours wages.
 Laborem imponere, to appoint hym busynesse.
 Imponere sibi laborem, to charge hym selfe with great peyne and trauaile.
 Imponere legem, to set a lawe on a thyng.
 Imponere legem alicui, to appoint a man what he shall dooe.
 Imponere summam manum, to atcheue the thyng that a man goeth about.
 Imponere fastigium, idem.
 Manum imponere, to begynne.
 Modum imponere prospera pugna, to hold a meane, or to vse temperance, where the battaile is prosperous.
 Imponere malitiam, to set a payne, as iudged dooe.
 Necessitatem imponere, to constrainne.
 Onus imponere, to geue in charge, to charge, to boun, to bourdeyne.

 Impone re praedidum ciuitati, to set a garris-son in a citie.
 Impone re precium, to set a price.
 Silentium impone re, to commaund silence.
 Impone re nomen, to geue a name.
 Speciosaque nomina culpa impone re Medea rae, and Medea thou geast an honest name to thy misdoynge.
 Mihi imposuit, he blynded myne eie.
 Impone re aliquid alicui cum fide, to committe a thyng into ones handes, trustyng that he wyl dooe it feithfully.
 Consulere impone re, to appoynt and ordeine
 a consull.
 Dominum aliquibus impone re, to set a maister or ruler ouer any people, and make theym subiecte.
 Impone re exitum, or finem, to atchieue, to make an ende.
 Quidis oneris impone, laye what burdein so euer ye will upon me.
 Imporcatus, a, um, couered in the ridge.
 Imporco, aui, are, to make a balke in earynge of lande, or rather to make a ridge.
 Imporcor, or imporcator, oris, m. ge. he that maketh balles in earynge.
 Importo, aui, are, to cary, byyng, or conueigh in.
 Importare fecunditatem, to make fructeful or apt to beare chyldren.
 Importare adiumenta, to byyng ayde, helpe,
 or succour.
 Contagionem importare, to infect, to byyng infection into a place.
 Periculum importare, to bringe daungier.
 Importatus, a, um, brought, caryed, or coueyd in.
 Importune, importunately, without reason. also out of season.
 Importunitas, tatis, for. gen. importunitate, whiche hath no commodite of tyme nor of place, vncasonableness, crueltie, outrageousnes. also to vncasonable and immoderate incōtinency.
 Sometye a detestable acte agaynst all honestie and reason.
 Importunus, a, um, out of season, vncōuenient, that hath no regarde of person, place, or tyme, importunate, vncasonable, vrgent, cruell, outrageous. also without succour, helpe, or quiete. Sometye vncōuenient.
 Ille fuit senex importunus temper, That olde folde was alwaie vncōuenient.
 Importunum tempus, no conuenient tyme.
 Importunum ingenium, a lycht and foolishe witte.
 Corda importuna domare, cruell, outrageous.
 Importunus & crudelis.
 Immanus & importuna natura, a cruell and outrageous nature.
 Importunus & amens tyrannus, an outragious and wodde tyrann.
 Importuolus, a, um, without porte or haue,

Impos, impotis, om. g. vnable, without power.
 Impos animi, one besyde hym selfe, one that can not rule hym selfe, wyld, vnculy.
 Impossibilis, le, vnposible.
 Impositus, a, um, set on, lated on, put on.
 Nomen impositum, a name geuen to a thyng.
 Impositus, us, m. g. idem quod impositio.
 Impositio, onis, f. g. a puttyng of setting on a
 thyng.
 Impositus, a, um, that is put, set or geuen to a thyng, vnnaturall.
 Impostor, oris, m. g. he that deceiveth with piosunces, or felleth false ware for good. also a con-iurer, a iugglar, a deceiver.
 Impostura, e, f. g. fraude, gyle, ligger, deuyne,
 trumpery, deceit in byyng and sellyng.
 Impostum facere, to deceiue in maner as a faid.
 Impotens, entis, om. g. he that can not resist his appetites or affections, wyld, outrageous, vns-able to rule hym selfe, wyllful, one that hath no staye of hym selfe, mischeuous, wicked. Somes tyme it is vsurped, for puissant, or that hath to great power. also weak, feeble, impotent, ha-ble to doe nothyng.
 Adeo impotenti esse animo: Quid he be so farr out of reason?
 Impotentissimus tyrannus, a tyrann of very great puissance and dominion.
 Impotentissimus homo, a vncase naughtie and wicked felow.
 Impotens homo, hable to doe nothyng.
 Impotens amor, immoderate loue.
 Impotenti est animo, he is of an outrageous wyllfull stomache or appetite: or he can not master, subdue, reffraigne, withstande, or rule the passions of his mynde.
 Impotens dominatus, a proude, cruel, or wil-full dominion and power.
 Fortuna superba & impotens, that maketh vnstuly or wyllfull.
 Impotens in a, not able to moderate his wyll, Impotenter, wyldly, wyllfully, outragiously, also so naughtily, vniustly, cruelly.
 Impotentia, e, f. g. debilitate, infirmitate, also vnsfuinesse, vnculynesse. Sometye immoderate power. also vnable to resist.
 Impotentia animi, when he is not hable to rule his affections.
 Impreseniarum, at this tyme, or for this present tyme.
 Impransus, a, um, that hath not dined, fastyng.
 Imprecor, aris, ari, to desyre, to wythe, to curse.
 Impressio, onis, f. g. a violent assaulte, a pyn-tyng or markyng.
 Impressionem facere, and Dare, to assaulte and set vpon fierly.
 Vtique impressione euertere, to ouerthrowe with force and violence.
 Impressio vocum explanata, a plaine and distincte pronounciation, when one speaketh as he would would make euery worde.

 Imprimis, chiefly, specially, first of all.
 Imprimo, imprimis, pressi, primere, to pynthe,
 to seale, to marke.
 Signum imprimere pecori, to marke cattal.
 Imprimere vestigium, to set ones fote, to step.
 Imprimere vulnus, to wounde, to cutte.
 Imprimi in animu, to be pynthe in the mynd.
 Imprimere sigilla annulo, to seale with a ryng.
 Dedecus reipublice imprimere, to do dishonor to the comun weale.
 Imprimere vnguem, to pinche.
 Imprimere maculam laudibus alicuius, to distaine once praple.
 Improbabilis, le, that can not be proued.
 Improbatio, onis, facin. gen. a disallowyng, a repprouyng.
 Improbe, yll, naughtily, vnhappily.
 Improbitas, tatis, for. g. dishoneste, vnthypocrisie, wantonnesse, obstinacie, malapertnesse, rauenynesse, wylynnesse.
 Improbo, improbas, aui, are, to disallowe, to dispraple, to condemne.
 Improbus, improba, um, an yll man, a cattife, dishonest, obstinate, wanton, malapert, wily, vnfamable, vnthamfast, impudent, cruell, yll fauoured.
 Improba facies, an yll fauoured face.
 Facinus improbum, a shewde tourne.
 Labor improbus, great trauayle.
 Improbamex, vnlesfull marchandise, or of smalle profite, naughtie ware.
 Improbum os, a lewde or mischeuous tung.
 Improbi postes, rotten postes, or being in any wyse vnsufficient.
 Improbiorum faciem non vidi, a more lewde face, or il fauored.
 Improbus anser, vnfastable, hurtful.
 Improbata carmina, wanton, lasciuious.
 Diuitiae improbae, yll gotten. also great.
 Improbum testamentum, a testament vnsufficient, lackyng the circumstance of fourme.
 Nulli alia rei est improbus, He geueth hym selfe to none other naughtynesse, or he dooeth not amisse in any other thyng.
 Improbro, aui, are, to dispraple, to rebuke.
 Improcerus, a, um, lowe, not hygh, not talle.
 Improfessus, a, um, not professed.
 Improbis vel impolus, he whiche is not yet a cutesyn.
 Impromiscuus, a, um, vnmynghed, not confute,
 or intecate.
 Impromptus, a, um, nothyng prompt or redy.
 Improperatus, a, um, that is not hastened.
 Improperium, ri, n. g. imbraydyng of a default.
 Impropero, aui, are, to imbrayde a man with some default. also to make haste in.
 Improprius, a, um, vnproprie.
 Improprie, vnproprie, not feastly, not conue-niently, vnnaturally.
 Improspere, not prosperously.

Improtectus, a, um, not defended.
 Improvidus, he that prouideth not for the tyme comynge.
 Improvidus, a, um, that whiche cometh sodeynsly, and vnlooked for.
 Improvida tela, passively, darteres or arrowes that one seeth not, or is not ware of.
 Pectora improvida, vnshailfull mindes, not forseyng daungier, or simple and true meas-uryng herkes.
 Improvide, without any forseyght, rashly, vns-circumspectly.
 Improvisé, & improviso, vnthought on, or vns-looked for, sodeynly, vnwares.
 Improvisus, a, um, sodeyn, vnwares, that was not forseyen and taken heede of.
 Improvisior, the comparatiue.
 Imprudens, dentis, om. gen. vnware. also not circumspecte, foolishe, ignorant, vnwittinge, vnkowynge.
 Imprudens, id est, incogitans, vnware, vnbudsuised for faute of remembrance or confidenc-ration.
 Imprudens harum rerum, not knowynge of those matters.
 Dolet dictum imprudenti adolescenti, This sayyng greued the foolishe yong man.
 Imprudentem opprimere, to take one sodeynly ere he be ware.
 Non imprudens aduersabar, I was not asgaynst it without a cause.
 Imprudenter, vnwisely, vnadvisedly, foolishely, by ignorance, vnwittingly, rashly.
 Imprudentia, e, f. gen. lacke of foresight, that it was not thought on, ignorance.
 Per imprudentiam, vnware.
 Impubes, pubis, vel impubis, be, & impuber, puberis, om. g. a man chylde before the age of riit. yeres, a mayden before. riit.
 Impudens, entis, om. g. shamelesse, ouer bolde, impudente.
 Impudenter, vnshamefastly, without shame, dishonestly, vnadvisedly, wantonly, impudently.
 Impudentia, e, f. ge. impudencie, vnshamefastnesse, sawynnesse.
 Impudicitia, e, facin. ge. vnclennesse of lyuyns, wantonnesse.
 Impudicus, a, um, stuprated.
 Impudicus, a, um, vnchast, vnclane in lyuyns,
 lewde, wanton. also saucy, malapert.
 Impugnatus, a, um, resysted, struguen agaynst, ouercome.
 Impugnatio, onis, facin. ge. a fightyng agaynst,
 a resistyng.
 Impugno, aui, are, to resist, to fyght agaynst, to strue agaynst, to impugn.
 Terga hostium impugnare, To fyght at the enemies backes.
 Impugnare morbum, to dreyne away a sickness.
 Impulso, aui, are, to persuaide often.
 Impulsus, a, um, persuaided, prouoked, informed.
 Imp

I ANTE M.

Impulsum bellum, a warre almost finished.
Impulsus, us, m. ge. a vehement motion or perswasion, an inforcyng.
Impulsu suo, tuo, veltro, by thyne, his, or your perswasyon.
Impulsu primo, at the first motion.
Impulsiō, ōis, f. g. a motion, a perswasion to dooe a thyng.
Impulsor, ōis, masc. gene. he that persuadeth vehemently, he that inforceth or moueth to dooe a thyng.
Impune, without damage, without punishment or grece, without danger.
Haud impune in nos illuseris, thou shalt not laugh vs to scorn, and escape quite thy selfe.
Credin te impune habiturum, or abiturum? Dooest thou thynke to escape unpunished?
Siquidem istuc habueris impune, yf thou escape quite with this.
Impune ferre, to scape quite.
Quia impune illis fuerunt, because they were not punished for it.
Impunius id se facturum putauit, he thought he might doe it with lesse dangier.
Impānis, ne, unpunished, without pegg, unhurt.
Impūnis, with lesse danger.
Impunissime, without any danger at all.
Impunissime licet facere, You maie dooe it without any danger at all, or no man sayng blacke is your etc.
Impūnis, tuis, form. gene. lacke of punishment, libertie without punishment, pardon of punishment.
Impunitas & licentia.
Spes impunitatis hope to escape unpunished.
Veniam & impunitatem dandam puto, I thynke good, that thy p be pardoned & forgiven.
Impūnis, a, um, unpunished, quite, forgiven his faulte.
Impūnis, a, um, idem quod impurus.
Impure, dishonestly, vilely, naughtily, lewdly.
Impūritas, ātis, f. g. infamie, dishonestie, naughtynesse, filthy and vnclene behauiour.
Impūrus, a, um, dishoneste, vile, reprocheable, dirty, naughtily, lewde.
Homo impurus, a naughty felowe.
Haud impurus, an honest man.
Impūritas, a, um, vnclutte, or neuer cutte.
Imputator, ōis, ma. gen. a reprocher, one that laith thynges to other mens charges.
Imputo, impuras, āui, āre, to impute or ascribe, to lay the blame or defaute, also to reckon one thyng with an other, or to accompt one summe with an other. Sometyme to tesse a certayne summe of monie to bee paid, to pretende of laye a thyng for excuse.
Imputresco, putui, trēscere, to rotte, to rotte within a thyng.
Imus, a, um, the lowest or moſte low, the depest.
Ima auris, the nether parte of the eare, whiche is laste.

I ANTE N.

Imus pes, the sole of the foote.
Imus sonus, the base in songe.
Imo a pectore, from the bottom of the hert.
Ab imis radicibus erigere, to plucke by hard by the rootes, to plucke by rootes and all.
Sensibus imis reponere, To keepe surely in mynde or remembraunce.
Imae radices montis, The vcrain bottom of the hylle.
Summus & imus, contrary.

I ANTE N.

IN, signifieth, In.
In, in composition sometyme is voyde, as, Inaudio, for Audio, Inimicus, for Micus.
Sometyme it increaseth, as Inuios, Inuias, auis, are, Sometyme it signifieth In, as, Inundo.
Sometyme Super, as, Insuper, id est, superius. Sometyme it is priuative: as, Inauditus, vnhearde.
In aduersum, on the contrary parte.
In annum, for one yere, or for a yeres space.
In bonis, amonge good men.
In cenam, for supper.
In conspectum aspicere, looke before the.
In diem addicere, to sell vpon condition, that a thyng bee dooen by a daye.
In diem viuere, to lyue without charge for to morowe.
In dies singulos, date by date.
In horam, for an houre.
In horas, from houre to houre. also ofen tyme.
In lucem, vntyll date.
In magno munere, for a great rewarde.
In manu vel manibus est, It is in his power, at hande, or casy, or in hande.
In mahum dari, to bee geuen aparte of ones rally. In meam partem, on, or for my parte.
In medium afferre, to byngg forth to a common vse or commoditee.
In mentem venire, to come to mynde or remembraunce, to bee considered.
In nauem ingrediatur, he went into the ship, he tooke shipping.
In noctem, vnto nyght.
In numero habere, ready or at hande.
In numerum ludere, to daunce by measure.
In ordinem ducere vel cogere, To byngg downe from authoritie, to myngg the estimation or power.
In ore est omni populo, all the people speake of it, it is in euery mans mouth.
In partem, for thy parte.
Age sis tu in partem nunc iam hunc delude, atq; amplexare hac, Go to now for thy parte, deceyue hym hardly, and take hir vnto the.
In partem dimidiam decoquere, to boyle it to the halfe deale.
In paucos dies, for a littell whyle.
In pedem, for euery foote.

I ANTE N.

In se ternis nummis in pedem recurrit transgisse dicebat, he saied, that he bargained with the for three pence a foote, or for euery foote. in pence.
In pendendum, after to morowe, or two daies hence. In portum sum, I am saue.
In posterum, finally, in conclusion, from hence forth, hereafter.
In potestatem esse, vnder the rule, or at the pleasure of one.
In presentia, at this tyme.
In praesens, idem.
In primis, chiefly, specialllye, aboue all other thynges.
In priuato & publico, at home and abroad.
In proclui est, it is casy to dooe, or to byngg to passe.
In promptu est, it is casy to know, it is apparant.
In propatulo, before all men.
Iam in propinquo certamen erat, Nowe was the battayle at hande, or the daie of the battayle was come.
In proximo, at hande.
In publicum redigere, to confiscate, to take for a forsaite.
In re ipsa, by experience, in dede.
In re tua, for thy profite.
In re presenti, in a playne and euident matter.
In rem nostram, it is for our profite.
In rem praesentem excurrere, to come on the bande whiche is in demaunde.
In rem praesentem perducere, to byngg the matter to light, to expresse the thyng perfectly, to declare the matter so iquely, that one may perceyue it, as well as though he sawe it.
In rem praesentem venire, where the landes in debate dooe come in viewe by the assignement of iudges, vnto them whiche be called viewers, whiche shall see the boundes and quantitee of the landes in variance.
In serum, vntyll nyght.
In speciem, by dissimulation, for a countenance, or a face.
Ducenos paucos in speciem captiuos, feignyng that they caried a fewe prisoners with them.
Præclara classis in speciem, It seemed a large and great nauy.
In spem venire, to begyn to hope.
In tempore, in reason, oportunatly.
In uitium eduxit legiones, He brought his army out of daungier into a sure place.
In viros diuidere, to geue to euery man.
In vniuersum, generally.
In vtraque partem, of the one syde and other, for bothe parties.
In ægritudine has ædes emit, he bought this house agens his wyl.
In animo est, it pleaseth me, or I purpose or intend.
In breue, briefly.
Denarius collatus in capita, Euery man payng a penny.

I ANTE N.

In cogitando, whyle I thynke.
In commune consulas, Look on the matter in differently for vs bothe.
In crastinum vocare, to bydde one come to morowe.
In culpam dicere, to speake to ones rebuke.
In animis nostris es, Thou hast woonne our hartes.
In diem, for a great whyle hereafter. also for one daies space.
In hoc factum est, It was dooen for this cause or for this intent.
In incerto res mihi sita est, I am vnccertayne what to dooe.
In insidiis esse, to lye in an ambuſhe, to lye in a wayte to deceyue.
In integro res nobis erit, Our matter shall be in as good case as curt it was.
In itinere, whyle we went by the waye.
In itinere est, he is comyng.
In manibus habere, to fauour, to set much by.
Mater virginis in medio est, The maydens mother is here before you.
In militem, in capita, in naues, id est, pro quo libet milite, pro singulis capitibus, pro singulis nauibus.
In modum seruilem, after a scruple faction.
In modum amici, lyke a frende.
In more est, the faction is.
In morem, after the faction.
In orbem, one after an other by course round aboute.
In pedes me conieci, I ranne away.
Ego fui illic in re presenti, I was there present at the dede dooyns.
In ridiculo habere, to make a laughyng stocke.
In summa, briefly.
In superuacuum, in bayne.
In suspensio relinquere, to leaue vnccertayne.
In tantum, so muche.
In omne tempus, for euery.
In totum, vnterly, all togyther.
In transitu, and in transitu, by the waye, insidently.
In vniuersis habent rebus, They compt it as vile a thyng as can be in the worlde.
In vicem, in stede, in place.
In vulgus gratum, acceptable to the common people.
In abruptus, a, um, not violated, not broken, or that can not be broken.
Inaccessa, an Ilande in Egypte, to the whiche is no comyng.
Inaccessus, a, um, that no man doorth or can come to, or that is not lawfull for any man to come to.
Inachia, the countreie of Peloponessus.
Inachides, the soonne or newwe of Inachus.
Sometyme one of Ægius.
Inachis, the daughter or nece of Inachus.
Inachus, the first kyng of Ægius.

Inad-

Inaduersum, on the tother parte.
 Inadulabilis, le, that wylt not be flattered by any means.
 Inadifico, aui, are, to builde in a place, to build by together with other thynges. also to destroy that is builded.
 Inaequabilis, le, idem quod inaequalis.
 Inaequaliter, idem quod inaequaliter.
 Inaequalis, le, vnequal, not euen.
 Inaequaliter, vnequally.
 Inaquo, aui, are, to make playne or euen.
 Inestimabilis, le, vnestimable, that can not be valued.
 Inestuo, aui, are, to boyle, to boyle vehemently, to be veray hotte.
 Inaffectatus, a, um, not affectate, not curpous.
 Inalbescio, scere, to waxe pale or white.
 Inalgesco, scere, to become colde or chilly.
 Inalpinei, the people that dwell upon the Alpes.
 Inamabilis, le, not amiable, that hath no grace nor pleasantnesse worthy to be beloued.
 Inamarefco, scere, to waxe bitter or vnpleasent.
 Inambitiosus, a, um, seckynge no preferremente, not ambitious, not sumptuous, not gorgeous.
 Inambulatio, onis, a walkege by and downe in a place.
 Inambulo, aui, are, to walke by and downe in a place.
 Inamamus, a, um, vnpleasant.
 Inanimatus, a, um, idem quod inanimus.
 Inanescere, to be vayne, and of no estimation.
 Inania, arum, voyde, voyde and empty thynges.
 Inaniloquus, a, um, a babler, that speeth vayne wordes.
 Inanimus, a, um, without soule.
 Inanio, iui, ire, to make emptye, to emptye.
 Inanis, ne, emptye, vacant, voyde, vayne, vnconstant, poore, that hath nothing, ydle, light in estimation, vnprofitable.
 Inanis accedit, he cometh without bringyng any thyng with hym.
 Mensa inanis, emptye table.
 Inanis equus, a, um, a vacant or leare horse that beareth nothing.
 Inanissimus prudentia, vtterly without all wysedome.
 Inane crimen, a, um, a lyght accusation.
 Inane, substantiuely, great emptynesse, a voyde place. Sometime the wyte.
 Inanitas, aris, & Inanitio, onis, f. g. emptynesse, voydenesse, vanitee.
 Inaniter, vayne, also for Frustra, in vayne.
 Inapparatio, onis, f. g. lacke of preparation or prouision.
 Inapertus, a, um, not open, euident of playne, secreete, priue.
 Inardeo, aui, dēre, & Inardesco, scere, to burne, to be on fyre, to be exceeding hotte, to be more and more inflamed.
 Inarefactus, a, um, made dry or dyed to powder.
 Inareico, inarui, scere, to dry by, to waxe dryer and dryer.

 Inargentatus, a, um, not covered or inclosed in syluer.
 Inargute, vnwittily, without subtiltee.
 Inarime, an yle in the Eufiane sea. Also a mountayne.
 Inaro, inaras, aui, are, to tye or husbande dyly gently.
 Inartificialiter, without crafte or counnyng, not artificially.
 Inascensus, us, m. g. the ascendyng into a place.
 Inassatus, a, um, idem quod Assatus.
 Inaspectus, a, um, not scene.
 Inasuetus, a, um, not accustomed, vnwont.
 Inattenuatus, a, um, that is not made more silens der, thyng of lesse, not diminished.
 Inaudax, acis, fearefull, without stomache or courage, cowardly.
 Inaudio, iui, ire, to heare, to heare speake, to heare playncly.
 Inaudiuncula, ae, a subtilt knaue or quiddite that one hath not heard of.
 Inauditus, a, um, neuer heard of, strange to heare. Inauditus in omni memoria, That was neuer heard of, sens the world first began.
 Inaudium damnare, to condemne a person, not hearyng his cause, or what he can say for hym selfe.
 Magnitudo inaudita, an incredible greatnesse.
 Inaudium damnari, to be condemned and neuer come to his answer.
 Inauguro, aui, are, to aske counsaile of the Augures, what shall folowe. also to dedicate, to consecrate.
 Inauguratio, the aduerbe, takyng the aduise or counsaile of Augures, or soothsayers.
 Inauratus, a, um, gilted, covered with golde.
 Inauris, ris, f. g. a ryng or other lyke thyng hangyng at the eare.
 Inauitus, a, um, without eares.
 Inauro, aui, are, to make ryche, also to gylte.
 Inauspicatus, a, um, vn lucky, vnfortunate, that was not doct by counsaile of the Augures.
 Inauspicato, vn luckily, without counsaile of the Augures or soothsayers.
 Inausus, a, um, that no man dareth entrepise to doo.
 Incaduus, a, um, not used to be cut.
 Incero, aui, are, looke Incero,
 Incalisco, iui, scere, to be of waxe very hotte.
 Incalfacio, calfacis, feci, facere, to make hotte.
 Incallide, vnwittily, nothing subtilly.
 Incallidus, a, um, simple, without crafte, of subtiltee, nothing wysse.
 Incalo, incalas, aui, are, to calle.
 Incandescio, dui, scere, to be very hotte angry, to be greatly inflamed, to be all fyre, to be as fyre.
 Incanescio, scere, to waxe hoze or wyte headed.
 Incantatio, onis, f. g. & Incantamentum, i, n. g. a charme, an enchantment.
 Incanto,

incanto, aui, are, to charme, to enchaunt.
 Incanus, a, um, very hoze for age.
 Incapstro, aui, are, to halter, to bynde with an halter.
 Incastigatus, a, um, not chastised, vncorrected.
 Incassum, in vayne.
 Incerte, vnwysely, without takyng hede.
 Incantus, a, um, vnware, that hath no foresight, vnexpected, that taketh no hede, vnprudente, also that is not forescene and taken hede of.
 Non incantus futuri, that seeth or taketh hede of that is lyke to come.
 Incavo, incauas, aui, are, to make holow.
 Incedo, celsi, cedere, to go or walke, to go with a stately pace, to shewe great grauite or maiestee in goyng, as princies dooe, to goe lyke great estates, to sette lyke a lord. also for Venire or Accedere, to come.
 Incedere magnifice per ora hominum, to sette lyke lordes through the stretes that men may see them.
 Incidit incedere video, I see I darer not comyng or settyng lyke a lord.
 Incidit incedere, to go with a nyce, tender, delicate, or gyngely pace.
 Incidit pedes, he goth on foote.
 Inclebus, bre, not haunted or resorted to, no thyng famous.
 Incendarius, ij, a naughty persone, that setteth houses or cities on fyre, to the intent to robbe or spoyle, or for some other mischefe.
 Incendum, di, n. g. a light fier burnyng a house or other thyng. Sometime enuy.
 Incendia vires posuere, the fier is allwaged.
 Incendo, di, ere, to inflame, to set fyre on a thyng, to incense, to animate or geue courage, to make beate angry, to beate, to moue, to chaufe, to inflame in loue, to make beate despyous.
 Incendi a, amore, desyderio, dolore, to be inflamed with anger. &c.
 Incendere in se odia, to get the yll wylls of men towards hym, to set by hatred toward hym selfe.
 Incendere odores, to bourne parfumes.
 Incensuarium, ri, n. g. the name of the Inner treasure in the temple of Saturne i Rome, where treasure was kepte against extreme necessitee & daunger. it was called also Cimilarchium.
 Incensio, onis, f. g. and incendium, ij, n. ge. a burnyng, a lyght fyre that bourne an house or other thyng. Sometime enuy.
 Incensio, onis, f. ge. harmonie or melodie of instruments, or of men syngyng together. also a charme or enchantment.
 Incensus, a, um, of Incendo, set on fyre, inflamed, haupyng a great desyre or courage.
 Incensus, a, um, of Censur, not registred in the numbyng of Quincens, or one that woulde not be registred or inrolled.
 Incensius, a, um, that pricketh, stretteth, or incenseth to a thyng.

Inceps, olde wyters used for Deinceps.
 Incepit, for Incepit.
 Incepto, aui, are, to begyn, to go about, and is referred to great, bold, and hardy enterpryses.
 Video quod inceptet facinus, I see what he begyneeth to doo, or I perceyue wher about he goth, or what a pranke he is about to play.
 Quid inceperas? what mynde you to enterpryse? Quo iter inceperas? whether art thou about to goe?
 Inceptor, oris, m. g. a begynner.
 Inceptum, i, n. ge. and Inceptio, onis, f. ge. a begynnyng, an enterpryse.
 Inceptus, a, um, begunne.
 Inceratus, a, um, covered with ware, eared.
 Incervicula, li, n. g. a rangeyng sicke, wherby corne is clenched, ere it be ground. also a sarce.
 Incerno, creui, nere, to lytte, to lyft in, to try by spyng.
 Incero, inceras, aui, are, to couer with ware.
 Incerto, aui, are, to make doubtfull or vnertain.
 Incertum, ti, n. ge. substantiuely, doubtfulnesse.
 Incertus, a, um, vnertaine or doubtful, vnconstant, waueryng.
 Incit animi vt incertus foret, he brought hym in the case that he was vnertain what to do.
 Incertus sum, Incertum est mihi, and Incertum est, absolutely, I can not tell, I know not.
 Aua quauis incertior, more inconstant than the wynde.
 Nihil est incertius vulgo, more vnconstant, lesse to be trusted.
 Incerto me, vnknowyng to me.
 Incertus sententia, he that can not tell what to saye in a matter.
 Incerto scio, for Clam me est, I knowe not, I can not tell.
 Incello, celsi, or iui, nere, to come, to approche, to be at hande, to invade, to set vpon, to assault, to beate, to tarre, to make angry, to doo displeasure to one, to accuse.
 Incellere hostes iaculis, to cast dartes or laues lyons at the enemies, to assault or set vpon ones mys with dartes.
 Incellit ambos inopia, bothe of them are vexed with pouertee.
 Cupido eum incellit, there toke hym a desyre, there came a fantasie vnto hym.
 Is incellit mos, they haue taken such a custom.
 Cum Autumnus incellere, whan Autumne cometh or approacheth.
 Timor patres incellit, The senators or counsailours began to dreade and feare.
 Incellit homines admiratio, men began to meruaile.
 Verbis amaris incellere, to rate with churlythe and vnkynde wordes.
 Incellere aliquem dolis, to go about to deceyue by some crafty means.
 Ipsum ingens cupido incellere, He hadde a great mynde, desyre, or fantasie.
 Noua

Noua religio in te istac incessit, This holy ness, superstition, or scrupulosity of conscience, is come vpon the but late.
Seditio incessit, there rose a sedition.
Tenebrae incessunt, The nyght approacheth, it wareth darke.

Valeudo eum incessit, he fell sycke.

Incesse, pollutedly, fylthily.

Incestificus, a, um, that poluteth or defyleth.

Incesto, aui, are, to polute, to defile by incest.

Incestuosus, a, um, he that doeth often polute.

Incestus, a, um, poluted, defyled.

Incesto flagitio pollueret, to pollute by incest.

Incestus sermo, fylthie and vile talke.

Incestus, us, m. g. or incestum, i, n. g. lecherie committed with one that is nygh of hyne or alliance to hym that committeth it. also it sig-nifieth all maner of polucion.

Inchoatus, a, um, begon, vnperfecte.

Inchoo, inchoas, aui, are, to begyn. also to pers-forme.

Inchoare & perficere, contrarp.

Spem longam inchoare, to pzo longe hope.

Incido, cidi, ere, to cut, to graue, to hure, to cut-table, to cutte off, to cut away.

Incidi marmori, to bee graued in marble.

Incidere in as, and in as, to graue in copper or brasse.

Leges incidere ligno, to carue lawes in tables of woodde.

Incidere sermonem, to breake communication. Incisa, lost.

Spe incisa priusquam praedicta dies adesset, hope begyn loste ere euer the saied daye was comen.

Lingua inciditur, the tonge is cutte.

Ludum incidere, to breake of game.

Sermonem incidere, to leue of talke.

Singulus verba incidunt, he could not speake for lobbynge.

Incidere neruos, to diminish the ones power.

Incidens, enis, that falleth downe, that chauncceth. Incidens portis exercitus, an army after the discomfiture rennyng in at the gates of the citee.

Incido, incidis, di, ere, to happen, to fall soden-ly, to come by chaunce, to chaunce sodenly vpon a thyng.

Incidi in latrones, I chaunced to mete with theeves.

Incidere in as alienum, to fall in debte.

Incides in eandem fraudem, Thou shalt fall into the same snare.

Iocularium in malum insciens pene incidi,
I had vnwares almoste fallen into a shewde sportyng matter.

In eorum mentionem incidi, I chaunced to speake of them, or to mention them.

Incidi mihi in mentem, it fell into my minde,
it came to my remembrance.

Aliud ex alio incidit, one thyng ryseth of an other, or one thyng cometh to mynde by reason of an other.

Incidunt saepe causa, dyuers chaunces often tymes doo falle.

Incidentio de Philippo, They chaunced to speake or make mention of Philip.

Qui istac tibi incidit suspensio? Howe came it vpon you to suspect this?

Inciduus, a, um, that is not laufull to be cut, or that is not wont to bee cutte. Sylua incidu-a, a woman nygh hir tyme in trauagile of chylde.

Incile, lis, n. g. a gappe, a trenche or dyche.

Inciles, trenches to conuey water from a ryuer into a medowe or other lowe grounde.

Inciles canales, gutters in streets or places paued.

Incilia, gutters, trenches, or dyches.

Incilo, aui, are, to blame or reprove, to rebuke.

Incinctus, a, um, garded, inuironed, compassed in.

Incingo, cingi, cingere, to garte, to gyrd about,
to inuiron, to compass in, for cingere.

Vrbem incingere moribus, to walle the citie
about.

Incino, incinis, nui, ere, to syng, properly to scine a small breast, to soune pleasantly, and with melody.

Incipio, incipis, co'pi, ere, to begynne.

Facinus incipis, Thou goest about to doe a naughtie acte.

Incile, idem quod incisum.

Incisum, peere meale, gobbet meale, by thort tences and members.

Incisio, onis, f. g. incision or cuttyng. also a thort poynting of a sentence.

Incisura, a, f. ge. a cutte or garte. also Incisura, be the lynes in the palme of the hande.

Incisum, i, n. g. a thort membre of a sentence.

Incisus, a, um, cut, graued, or carued in.

Incisus, us, m. g. idem quod Incisio.

Incitabulum, li, Incitamen, and Incitamentum,
neu. ge. a prouocation, a stirryng or mouyng,
a thyng that encourageth.

Incita, incitas, f. g. pouertee, necessitie.

Incitate, with a certapn mouyng, quyetnesse, or behemency.

Incitatio, onis, f. g. an instigation, a mouyng or stirryng.

Incitatus, a, um, moued, stirred, encouraged, also so behement, troubled.

Incitega, a thyng whereon great bestelles of wyne are couched.

Incito, incitas, aui, are, to prouoke, to moue, to stirre, to encourage, to excite.

Incitare ad scribendum, to moue or prouoke one to wyte.

Incitare currentem, To encourage one to a thyng that he is prone vnto, or well entered all ready.

Incitare auditatem, At prouoketh appetite so eate.

Inci-

Incitare milites in aliquem, to encourage his souldiours agaynst one.

Incitare equum, To galloppe with his horse: to make his horse renne a mayne.

Incitus, us, m. g. idem quod Incitatio.

Incitus, ex In & Citus, swyfte.

Inclamo, aui, are, to call vpon often.

Inclamo, aui, are, to call for one, or crye out on one rebukfully, to call in, to thype, to rayle, to scold at one.

Inclamare aliquem magna voce, To call for one aloude.

Inclamare nomine, to call by name.

Seruus, o' seruis inclamauit, he called vpon his seruantes: or he chidde or scolded with his seruantes.

Inclamo, inclares, clarui, rere, or Inclaresco, scere, to be knowne of all men, to bee notable or famous.

Inclamo, entis, om. ge. vngentil, vnchristie, churche, rygourous, mercilesse, voyde of pitye.

Inclament, without mercy, cruelly, sharply, rygourously, vngentilly.

Inclament dicere, to speake churlyshly, cruelly, or rygourously.

Inclamentia, a, f. g. crudelte, lacke of mercey, rygoure.

Inclinatus, a, um, inclined, bended, prone, somewhat decayed, wavyng toward the ende.

Inclinatus morbus, a syknesse begynnyng to weare awaie.

Inclinatio ad pacem animus, a mynde more prone or inclined to peace.

Inclinatus, us, m. g. for Declinatio, a declining,
after the grammarians.

Inclinatio, onis, f. g. an inclination or bowyng.

Inclinationes rerum & temporum, the mutations or alterations of matters and tymes in the common weale.

Inclinationem, ti, neu. g. a declination or destination.

Inclino, aui, are, to incline, to bowe downe, to decay, to appayze, to weare wyse.

Hec animus inclinans, these thynges somewhat bende my mynde.

Hos vt sequar inclinat animus, My mynde somewhat inclineth to folowe these men.

Inclinacities, whan the hoste dooth recule.

In vnum inclinare, to begyn to be naught.

Inclinare opes ad Sabinos, rege inde sumpto videbantur, The chiefe substance and power semed to turne to the Sabinos, after that a king was made of theyr people.

Cum omne culpam in collegam inclinat, he had laped all the blame to his felowe.

Inclinata res publica, the publicke weale decayed.

Inclinante se fortuna ad causam plebis, while fortune byd somewhat bend or leane toward the quarell of the people.

Inclinant sententia, he thought thus, or was of this opinion,

Inclinant eo sententia, the most parte were of that opinion, or the more parte bent that wate.

Inclinare in fugam, to be redy to flee.

Inclinant se soli, it was past noone.

Phalereus eloquentiam prius inclinauerat, was the first that began to corrupte eloquence:
or to make it appayze and decaye.

Inclinare in fugam, to begyn to flee.

Inclodo, si, ere, to include or shutte in, to close in.

Includi in periculum legis, To bee vnder the penaltee of the lawe.

Includere se domi, to kepe hym selfe at home
in his house.

Illigare & includere aliquid in scyphis aureis, to engrauel likewise, includere & insculpere gemmain, to enhaile or graue.

Includere viam, for pracludere, to stop the passage or waye.

Includere in carcerem, and in carcere.

Includere aliquem in dialogum, to make one a speaker in a dialogue.

Admiratio includit vocem, He was so astonished or astonished at the matter, that he coude not speake.

Dolor includit vocem, He can not speake for sorrowe.

Dolor includit lachrymas, he coude not wepe for sorrowe.

Inclusa, a, f. g. a garment that the Romans vsed, and may be called a petticoate.

Inclusio, onis, f. g. a shutting or closing in.

Inclusus, a, um, inclosed, shut in.

Inclutus, inclutus, um, glorious, famous, of great renoume, excellent.

Incoactus, a, um, volentarie, not constrained.

Incoctile, lis, n. g. a pot, wherin meate is sodden.
also a brassen or copper vessel tyuned withm.

Incoctilis, le, that is sodden in a thyng. also that is tyuned, splured, or gylded.

Incoctus, a, um, vnboyled or rawe. also boyled together with any other thyng.

Incoctae mulieres, women whiche doo trym theyr heares to muche.

Inconatus, a, um, not haung supped.

It inconatus cubitum, he goeth to bedde sup-perlesse.

Inconatus, ne, without supper.

Inconatus, aui, are, not to suppe, to go supperlesse.

Incepto, aui, are, Inceptum, i, Inceptor, onis, Inceptio, onis, lookt Incepto &c.

Incogitabilis, le, and Incogitatus, a, um, idem quod incogitans.

Incogitans, antis, om. g. rashe, foolyshe, vnad-vised, without consyderation.

Incogitantia, a, f. g. inconsiderancie, vnaduis-ednesse, rashnesse.

Incognitus, a, um, unknowne.

Incolubescere, scere, not to restraine.

Incohibilis, le, that can not bee sette or myngled together, I woode out of use.

Incola, incolae, com. ge. one that dwelleth in an other

other countreie than that he was borne in.
Incola arbor, a tree brought out of an other countreie, and planted with vs.
encolae orientis, the inhabitantes of the east partes of the worlde.
Incolitus, dwelling in a straunge countreie.
Incolo, incolis, ut, ere, to dwell in a place, to inhabite.
Incolitum vitam inopem, he leadeth a pooze life.
Incoli locus dictus, to bee inhabited.
Incolumis, e, holle, safe, without sykenesse, lacking no reparation of amendment.
Post hac incolumem fac scio fore me, I know right well I shall be well enough: or out of all daunger from henseforth.
Incolumem se ad suos recepit, he returned safe home to his frendes or company.
Gratulor incolumitibi, I am glad that you be in good helthe.
Incolumis status, helthe, prosperitee.
Aedes incolumes, an house that needeth no reparation.
Incoluitas, tatis, f. g. helthyneffe, safetee.
Incomes, ins, that hath no companyon or fellow, unaccompanied.
Incomitas, itis, f. g. the beeyng without company, after Lapeine, but the place of Warro, wherof he gathereth it, hath Incomitatis, the dative case plural of Incomitatus.
Incomitatus, a, um, beeyng without companie, alone, idem quod incomes.
Incomitio, aui, are, to commit such an offence, for the whiche one must be brought before the convocation or assemble of people, an olde woorde out of vse.
Incommendatus, a, um, not commended.
Incommode, uncommodiosely, yll favouredly, unprofitably, ungaynely, nothing to ones paine or appetite, unhandsomely, vncasely.
Incommoditas, atis, and Incommodatio, onis,
 f. g. Incommoditee, damage, displeasuntneffe.
Incommodo, aui, are, to hurte, to doo displeasure, to hynder, to dispytise.
Incommodium, di, n. ge. damage, hurt, displeasure, daunger.
Incommoda ferre alicui, to hurte, to doo displeasure.
Navigare incommodum est, It is an yll or dangerous thyng to sayle or be on the sea.
Incommodus, a, um, Incommodious, damageous, hurtful, noysom, ungayne, unhandsom, vncasely.
Nisi tibi incommodum est, except it be trouble or lette to you.
Incommune, equally, indifferently for al partes.
Incompactum, unioyned, or yll ioyned.
Incomparabilis, le, incomparable.
Incompertus, a, um, unknownen, not proued,
 not tryed.
Incompertum est, it is unknownen or vn-certyne, we can not tell.
Incompertu habeo, I know not for a surtee.

Incompositus, without order or arae.
Incompositus, a, um, without order of arae, out of facion, nothing prap.
Incomprehensibilis, le, that can not be compres-hendid or numbred.
Incomprehensus, a, um, not comprehended.
Incomptus, a, um, not decked or trimmed.
Inconcessus, a, um, denied, not graunted.
Inconciat, yll, unadvisedly.
Ne inconciat quid nos postules, That thou maiest require nothing of vs, wherfore we shoulde owe the displeasure, or be thyngs frendes.
Inconciho, aui, are, to trouble, to sette at discorde or variance.
Inconciare sibi aliquem, To make one his enemye.
Inconciat, nothing prapely or fearly.
Inconciatus, a, um, vnmette, yll proportioned, vnapte, nothing fyre or pyrie.
Inconciatus, a, um, stable, that can not be shaken.
Incondit, aduerbium, without facion, or wyse out order.
Inconditus, a, um, out of order or facion, rude, also wearythe. Sometime vnburied.
Corpora incondita, bodies vnburied.
Inconditus turbidusque clamor, a confuse clamoure or noyse of many voyces myngled together.
Orator inconditus, That disposeth not his woordes will.
Inconditus motus, a leaping, daunting, or moving without facion or order.
Inconditus, a, um, vnmade, vnbuilded.
Inconfessus, a, um, not confessed.
Incongelabilis, le, that can not be frozen.
Incongruens, entis, om. gen. incongruent, not consonant or agreing, absurde.
Inconciens, entis, om. ge. that moueth not the eye liddes, that twinkleth not with the eyes.
Inconsci, a, um, not knowyng nor wytyng.
Inconsequentia, e, f. g. a conclusion of ends.
Inconsequencia, lwe Inconsequencia.
Inconfolabilis, le, that can not bee comforted.
Inconspetus, a, um, not dyspited or contented.
Inconstans, antis, om. ge. vnconstant, lyght, waueryng, now in one mynde, now in an other, not agreing with it selfe.
Inconstanter, vnconstantly.
Inconstancia, e, f. g. Inconstancie, lyghtenly, waueryng.
Inconferus, a, um, vnaccustomed, vnwont.
Inconsulte, without counsaile, or vnadvisedly, vnwysely.
Inconsultus, us, m. g. not demaundyng of counsaile, not geuyng of counsaile.
Inconsultu meo, without my counsaile.
Inconsultus, a, um, lackyng aduise or consideration, he that wyl not aske counsaile, rather, forlythe. also one that is not affeetd with counsaile of som-tyme he that hath no counsaile geuen hym.

Inconsultum consilium, vnwyse counsaile, for lythe counsaile geuen without aduysment.
Inconsumptus, a, um, not consumed.
Inconsultus, le, without any seame.
Inconsultus, a, um, vnsworn.
Inconsiderantia, e, f. g. lacke of consideration,
 vnadvisednesse, rashnesse.
Inconsiderate, vnadvisedly, rashly.
Inconsideratus, a, um, and Inconsyderans, and is, without consideration or aduysment, rash, foolyshe.
Incontaminatus, a, um, vndefyled, not spotted or blynd.
Incontenus, a, um, not stretched out, not wrested by, slacke.
Inconmens, entis, he that is not chaste, or kees peth hym not to one woman, that can not res-freigne and rule hym selfe.
Incontinenter, incontinently.
Incontinentia, e, f. g. Incontinencie.
Incontinentia vixit, the rennyng of ones was-ter from hym whether he wyl or no.
Inconueniens, entis, vnconuenient, vnseemly, myslyng, also that doeth not agree.
Inconquies, in quoquis, xi, ere, to seeth or boyle in a thyng, to seethe or boile together. also to uer with spluer, tyne, or leade.
Inconquies sole, to be tyed in the sunne.
Incordio, aui, are, to put into a mans herte, to pteuade hym.
Incorporalis, le, that hath no body.
Incorporeus, a, um, without a body.
Incorpore, aui, are, to imprynte or set vpon ones bodye.
Incorrecus, a, um, vncorrected.
Incorrupte, vncorrectly, purely.
Incorruptus, vncorrected, pure, cleane, sincere.
Incorro, aui, are, to sit as women of taylers dooe, without a stoole.
Increatus, a, um, neuer created.
Increbresco, increbui, or bui, scere, to waxe, to be gynde or much knownen.
Increbuit rumor, the rumour or bzute increased or went abroade.
Increbuit res prouerbio, it was commonly saiden up for a prouerbe, or it grew to a prouerbe.
Auster increbuit, the southwynde waxed bygger.
Vnde magis increbescunt, the sea waxeth more troublous.
Incredibilis, le, incredible, not to be beleued, meruapous.
Incredibilis sum, no man wyl beleue me.
Incredibiliter, incredibly.
Incredulus, a, um, that wyl beleue nothing.
Incredulitas, atis, f. g. Incredulitee, lacke of beleefe.
Incrementum, i, n. g. increase.
Incrementum suum, the ryng of a tyner.
Increpo, aui, are, to blame or rebuke often.
Increptus, a, um, thydden, blamed, rebuked.

Increpo, increpas, ui, are, to cowne or make noyse, to creake also to rebuke, to rate, to blame, to chide, to pteuoke.
Increpare aliquem auaritia, to blame one of couetousnesse.
Simul atque increpat suspitio tumultus, By and by as soone as there was heard any suspitio of tumult or ruffling.
Hec in eum increpatur, these thynges bee layde to his charge, or he is blamed for these thynges.
Stimulo tardos increpuisse boues, to prick with a goade.
Lyran increpare digitis, to play on the harpe.
Inresco, cui, scere, to growe muche, or more and more.
Incruentatus, a, um, not dynted with bludshed.
Incruentus, a, u, without bloud shed, not bloudy.
Incrustatio, onis, f. g. a pargettyng or couerpyng with harde matter lyke a cruiste.
Incrusto, aui, are, to pargette or make harde or in a cruiste.
Incubatio, onis, Incubatio, onis, f. g. Incubitus, us, & Incubatus, us, m. g. lying in, sitting to hatche egges, sitting abroode.
Incubo, bonis, m. g. he that setteyth all his studie on treasure.
Incubo, incubas, cubui, and cubui, bare, to lye in or vpon, to cleaue to, to sit ouer a thyng, to sytte on egges as an hen dooth, to occupie, to possede, to inhabite, to nourshe, to dwell in, to care. also to lye and cleaue, to the intent to haue some vision or answere of the ydoles, as they used in olde tyme, to be veray muche in a place,
 and is taken in the yll parte.
Alicui pecunie incubare spe atque animo, to be veray grydy and desyrous of monie, and set ones whole mynde and trust vpon it.
Nox ponto incubat, it was as darke as nyght vpon the sea.
Incubare oua, or ouis, to sytte a broode vpon egges.
Incubare thesauris, to keepe monie locked vp,
 and as it were to syt abroode on it.
Incubare thesauris publicis, to vsurpe & kepe
 the common treasure as his owne by force.
Incubator, onis, m. g. one that is muche in a place.
Incubito, aui, are, the frequentatye of Incubo.
Incubitus, dextri lateris, lying on the ryght syde.
Incubus incubi, a spiritus, whiche assumyng the forme of a man, medleth with a woman. also that which is called the mare, wherewith men ben oppressed in thep sleepe.
Incudo, onis, m. g. he that worketh on an anuill.
Inculco, aui, are, to poze in, and by translation, to repete a thyng often, and as it were to beate or poze in to ones memory. also to make one to take whether he wyl or no.
Inculcare munus, plusquam offere, to offer a charge to one whether he wyl or no.
Inculcatus, a, um, pozed in, often repeted, beate ten into the memoire.

Canis rabiosi moribus inculcata, ported into the bytynge of madde dogges.

Tradita atque inculcata libertas, lybertee whiche men had of theyr aunccestours, and haue continually ben brought vp in.

Inculpatus, a, um, blamelesse, not faultie.

Vita inculcata, a lyfe that can not be blamed in any poynt: a perfect honest lyfe.

Inculcatus, rudely, without eloquence.

Inculus, a, um, unhusbanded or untitled, rude, nothing eloquent.

Inculus, us, m. g. vncleanly apparayling, contrary to Cultus, negligence in apparayling.

Incumbas, ba, f. g. a parte of a pillour in making of arches, wherevpon the arche specially resteth.

Incumbo, cubui, cubere, to endeavour, to take in hande, to happe, to leane vpon, or fall on a thyng. also to be inclined to some thyng, to geue all diligence and studie, to synke downe vpon a thyng.

Incumbo ad or in studia, I geue my mynde wholly to studie and learning.

Ad salutem reipublice, or in rempublicam incumbere, to traualle about the common weale, to endeavour with all study and diligence to help the common weale.

In causam incumbere, to mainteine that parte.

Incumbere gladium, or in gladium, to synke downe on a swordes poynt, and slea hym selfe.

Incumbunt recta centenis columnis, The roof is bozne by with an hundred pillours.

Sed mihi incumbunt, But the bouderne of these thynges charge or ouerlade me, or lye heauy on my necke.

Qui in se ipsum incubuerunt, whiche are fallen or thowen on theyr necke.

Baculo incumbens, leaning on a staffe.

Incumbere ad bellum omni studio, to geue all ones care and studie to the mayntenaunce of warre.

In eam curam incumbere, Geue all your care or study to this, or endeavour this with all diligence. Incumbere toto pectore ad laudem, Geue or apply all your whole mynde and courage, to great pfecte.

Incumbere ad, or in perniciem alicuius, to go about with all diligence, to purchase ones deathe or destruction.

Ad voluntatem perferenda legis incubuerat, He woulde haue had that lawe made.

Ad lenitatem nimiam incumbunt mores, The manners of men be bente or inclined to to muche gentleness.

Incunabula, orum, n. g. plu. all that longeth to the swathelpnge of a chyld, thynges pertainynge to infancie, it is also taken for the begynnynge of thynges. Also for the place where one was bozne, or the fyrst begynnynge of ones stocke or hyspde.

Ab incunabilis, eua from our infancie.

Incunabula & rudimenta.

Incunabulum, li. n. g. a cradell.

Incuratus, a, um, vncured, vnhaleed.

Incuria, a, f. g. negligence, yll husbandry, carelesse.

Incuriose, negligently, without care.

Incuriosus, a, um, carelesse, negligent.

Incuriosus proximorum, that is not careful for those thynges that folow next.

Incurro, incurri, re, to renne agaynst one, to intre, to renne, to meete with one by chance.

In tenebris incurere, in the darke to meete or een agaynst a thyng.

Incurrere & incidere.

Incurrit ager in agrum, one fiede extendeth heth within an other.

Incurrere in aliquem verbis, to inuicthe agaynst one with wordes.

Incurrere in loca, to make inrodes or inuasions. In aliquem incurere, to renne violently agaynst one.

Indurrere in oculos, to come in ones syght that looketh not for it, or would not see it.

Quae in odia hominum incurram, whiche thynges be hated of men.

Incurrere in voces maleuolorum, to be slandered or yll spoken of, by malicious persones, or suche as do not fauour vs.

Incurrere circensibus, to fall on the same day that the plates called Circences are hepte.

In quem diem incurram nescio, I can not tell vpon what date it falleth.

In varias reprehensiones incurere, to be blamed for dyuers thynges.

In vrbaniatem hominum incurere, to be mocked or scoffed at.

Incurritur, the impersonall.

Incurio, onis, f. g. inuasion of enemies aint rode, a iutting or metynge of thynges together.

Incurionem facere, to inuade or make an inuade or fozteie vpon enemies.

Incurionibus vastari, to be ouer runne, spoiled and wasted by enemies.

Incurians, antis, om. g. that iutteth or hepteth agaynst a thyng fodeply.

Incurso, auis, are, the frequentatue of incurio.

Incurro, auis, are, to ren agaynst a thyng, to intre vpon a thyng, to make inrodes and inuasions vpon enemies.

Incurfare aduersis cornibus, to iutte or runne together as rammes dooe.

In fortunam hominum incurfare, to inuade mens possessions and gooddes, and by extort power to take theym awate.

Pugnis aliquem incurfare, to renne on one to thumpe and beate him with his fistes.

Incurfus, us, m. g. idem quod incurio.

Vis & incurfus pluuiarum, the force and bethment of rayne.

Incurresco, scere, to bow downe, or be croked.

curuo, auis, are, to make crooked.

curuus, a, um, crooked.

curus, adis, f. g. an anuyll.

Eandem incudem tundere, to labour alway about one thyng, to repte one thyng continually to harpe alwaie vpon one stryng.

Incudi reddere, by translation to correpte, to pollyte, to amende.

incusatio, onis, f. g. a blampng.

incuso, auis, are, to accuse, to blame, to synde faulte with.

Quid me incusas? why blamest thou me? or why lapest thou blame or faulte in me?

Qualiterum incusat probri, he that laeteth a faulte to an other mans charge.

incultodius, a, um, not kepte.

incusus, a, um, copped or dented in.

incuno, incuris, cusi, etc, to strike or dash.

Incute scipione in caput alicuius, to rappe one on the pate with his walkyng staffe.

Incute pedem terrae, to stampe on the ground with his foote.

Incute colaphum, to geue a blowe.

Desiderium ciuitatis incutere, To make one despyous of the citee.

Incute errorem, to decepe, to bypge in an error of false opinion.

Meum incutere, to make aspayde.

Morum incutere, to make speke.

Incute alicui nuntium, to bypge one tydynge fodeply.

Pudore incutere, to make ashamed or abashed.

Indagare, diligenter, with great sercheing.

Indagatio, onis, f. g. gen. a diligente sercheing or sercheing out.

Indagator, oris, ma. gene. a diligent sercher or sercher out.

Indagatrix, the feminine.

Indago, auis, are, to seeke or serche, to bente, to seke out as an hounde dooth.

Indagare & odorari, to seke and smell out.

Omnibus vestigiis indagare, to serch out diligently by all signes and tokens that maie be.

Indago, inis, f. g. a serche, also the setting vp of a tople or nettes about a parke or fozte, to take dace or wylde beastes.

Et iulus vastatq; feras indagine claudit.

Inde, from thens, there, from thense forth, afterwards, from that man or woman. Sometyne for ob id, for that thyng.

Vxorem duxit, nati filij duo, inde ego hunc maiorem optui mihi, he rooke a wyfe, & had by hym ii. fornes, from hym I toke this, whiche is the elder, and made hym myn here.

Inde ab initio, from the fyrst begynnynge.

Inde est, thence it comyth.

Inde ab incunte arate, euen from his youth.

Indebuit, an aduerbe, where a man ought not to haue done.

Indebuit, i. n. g. a thyng that is not due.

Indebuit, a, um, not due, not owen,

Indecens, entis, om. gen. vnseetynge, vnconuenient, vnseemynge.

Indecenter, vnseemely, vncomely.

Indecet, it misbecometh.

Indeclinabilis, le, that can not be eschewed or auoyded, also vndeclined. Sometyne constant, that will not bende.

Indeclinabilis animus, a constant and immutable mynde.

Indecor, oris, not regarded, not seemely.

Indecore, vnseemely, vnconueniently, vncomely.

Indecoris, re, idem quod indecor.

Indecorus, a, um, vnseemynge, vncomely, vnseemely.

Indefangibilis, le, that can not be worried or tired.

Indefensus, a, um, without defence.

Indefessus, a, um, that can not be worried or tired.

Indefinitus, a, um, not determined or discussed, obscure, darke.

Indefinitus, a, um, that is not lamented or wayyled for.

Indeflexus, a, um, not bowed, not tourned.

Indiectus, a, um, that is not cast downe or ouerthrowen.

Indelebilis, le, that can not be put or rased out.

Indehabitus, a, um, that is whole, vntouched, not diminished.

Indemnatus, a, um, agaynst whom no sentence is pronounced of the iudge, or agaynst whom no iudgement is geuen.

Indemnus, ne, adiect. without hurte or harme, without damage defended.

Indemnitas, aus, f. g. g. eschuyng of damage, escaping without hurte.

Existimans indemnitati suae consuli posse, thynkynge that he mought eschewe damage or danger.

Indeploatus, a, um, not bewailed or lamented.

Indepiautus, a, um, not depaured or corrupted.

Indeprecabilis, le, that will not be intreated, or that will not forgeue.

Pena indeprecabilis, punishment without remission.

Indepus, a, um, gotten, or that hath gotten.

Indefertus, a, um, not deferre.

Indefes, desidis, not sluggish, quicke, diligent.

Indefinenter, alwaies, continually.

Indetonsus, a, um, not shauen or notted.

Indeuorio, onis, f. g. slackeneste in dooyngs of thynges godly and honest.

Index, indicis, om. g. he that accuseth or appeareth an other man. also he that to escape punishment, or for some reward, discloseth the conspiracie, wherinto he was made partie. It is also the forsyngere, a touchstone to try golde. also the table of a boke, wherby certayn capytters or notes be founde.

Leonum animi index cauda, sicut & equorum aures, that whiche sheweth their courage.

India, a great speche countreie, called in englishe Indie, lying on the southe caste partes of the worlde; whiche as Ptolomus writeth, is in two partes. The one is called Inde within the ryuer of Ganges, whiche on the west is bound with Aracolia & Gedrosia, on the east with the great ryuer called Ganges, on the north with the hill called Imaus: On the south and west, with part of the Indian sea. The other part of Inde without Ganges, is bound on the west with the sayde ryuer Ganges, on the north with parte of Scythia and Serica: on the east with the region called Sinarum, on the south with the Indian sea. Ptolemy, great Alexanders admirall, affirmed (as Ptolemy writeth) that it was four monethes journey by the playnes of Indie. Megasthenes saied, that the breadth of Indie from the east to the west, cōteyneth. 16000. furlonges, whiche is. 2100. miles. The length from the north to the south. 22000. furlonges, whiche is. 2850. miles. Ctesias affirmeth it to be as muche as the residue of Asia. But Onesicritus, whiche wrote the actes of Alexander, demeth it to bee the thyrde parte of Asia. There is alwaye two summers, and frutes and grayne twyse gathered. The wyndes be alwaye temperate, the beastes and foules muche greater than in other countreys, and of moxe dyuers kyndes. The names of the countreies and cities there, bee nowe otherwyse than they were in the tyme of the ancient writers. They whiche bee nowe known, shall be declared in theyr places, with the mountaynes and ryuers, whiche are great aboute all other.

Indicatio, onis, and Indicatura, x, f. g. the pryncipal of testyng the price of a thyng. Indicatio is sometyne an affirmyng or auowynge.

Indicatus, a, um, shewed, declared, accused, also so prynced.

Indicium, ij, neu. gen. is where one, whiche was participatour in an offence, dooeth discover the actes and diuises of his companions. also a sygne, a token.

Indicio esse, to be token of declare, to notify by a signe or token, to be a signe or token.

Quale ingenium haberes, indicio fuit oratio, your communication well notified of what disposition you were.

Indicium profiteri, voluntarily to disclose ones selfe, and all his companions.

Ex indicio nihil periculi est, there is no leopere die, or danger in disclosing the matter.

Indico, indicas, aui, are, to disclose, to manifest, to make openly known, to demonstrate, to appeache, to accuse, to set or telle the price, to despyre in possession that whiche is bought, to dessect, to shewe, to tell, to declare.

Num color pudoris signum vsquam indicat? Dooeth his colour shewe any maner token of shamefastnesse?

Indicare in vulgus, to telle abroad.

Res ipsa indicat, the thyng it selfe declareth.

Indico, xi, ere, to denounce, to declare solemnly, and for a great cause, as bataille, fastinges, funeralles, counsailes, triumphes, and other great thynges. also to sette a tribute or tase, and to appoynt or commaunde.

Indicere consilia, to call or commaunde a counsell. Indicere iustitiam, to commaunde a vacation, or as we vse to saie, to keepe no terme.

Indicere pecuniam populo, to sette a tase or subsidie on the people.

Bellum indicere voluptari, to streue and resce against our voluptie and pleasure.

Sibi bellum indicere, to torment or bereave selfe. Conam indicere, to commaunde a supper to be prepared, to bespeake a supper.

Bellum indicere ventri, to fast.

Inimicitias indicere, to declare and notify ones selfe to bee an enemy.

Indicere sibi legem innocentie, to bynd hym selfe to lyue vpryghtly.

Indictio, onis, f. g. the space of. xv. yeres. also a tase graunted by the people.

Indictus, a, um, that whiche is declared or expoynted, that is denounced.

Indictus, a, um, declared or denounced selfe, also not spoken, not defended, nor declared.

Indicta causa, the cause or matter not known, declared or defended.

Indiculum, a diminutive of Indictum.

Indidem, from thence, from the same place, forth with, the same.

Indies, daily, from daie to daie.

Crescente indies multitudinem, the multitude or numbre daie by daie increasynge.

Indiferens, entis, om. g. indifferent, that is not ouer rigorouse or cruel. also that doth not differ.

Indiferens homo, that pryncipally no difference betwene thynges.

Indiferenter, indifferently.

Indiferenter ferre, to take the matter indifferently, not to be greatly displeased.

Indiferentia, x, indifference. also lykenesse, or greablenesse.

Indifficilis, le, verate harde or difficile.

Indigena, x, om. gene. of the same countrey or towne bozne and bredde.

Indigenitalis, le, idem quod indigena, a wyse out of vse.

Indigentia, x, f. g. nede, necessitee, lacke.

Indigere, indiges, digui, ere, to lacke, to haue neede.

Hoc bellum indiget celeritatis, This warre nedeth speede and haste.

Quasi tu huius indigeas parisi, As though thou haddest any nede of me thy father.

Malo virum pecunia, quam pecuniam viro indigentem, I had liefer haue a man that lacketh money, than money that lacketh a man.

Indigeo addicere, I had nede to learne.

Indigeste, without order.

Indigestio, onis, yll digestion.

Indiges, indigeris, a god made of mostall men. Some take it for a priuate god, pryncipally to praye particular places.

digestus, a, um, without order or disposition. digumenta, orum, bookes conteynyng the names of goddis, and the mysticall signification of them.

digito, aui, are, to name, to call by name, to signify, as it were to shew with ones finger.

ignabundus, a, um, angry, shewynge his indignation or wrath.

ignatio, onis, f. g. angre, wrath, indignation.

ignus, vnworthly, vnholynesse, cruelly, wickedly, villanously.

Indigne ferre or pati, to disdeigne, to be discontent, to take greuoussly.

Indignissime interierunt, They dyed most miserably or wretchedly.

indignus, aui, f. g. indignitee, vnworthynesse, vnholynesse, dishonnestee, crueltie, sometyne vilenesse or basenesse of condicion.

indignor, aui, are, to disdeigne, to fume, to fret, to chafe, to thinke crozue, to be madde angry, to be stampyng and stampyng wood.

indignus, a, um, vnworthly, miserable, vnholynesse, shamefull, cruell, impious, horrible, detestable.

Tu indignus qui faceres tamen, yet pe were no more man to doo it.

Indigna homine dubitatio est, Of that mattis it is no honnestee for a man to doubt.

Indignum facinus, a shamefull or vnholynesse acte, indignum illi facis, thou doest not well by hym, he hath not deserued it.

Indignum in modum, after a cruell or vnholynesse sorte or faction.

indigus, indiga, um, nedy or lackynge.

Nihil indigus ensis, haupnge no nede of a sworde at all.

indilgens, entis, om. g. negligent, nothyng diligent or laboriouse.

Indilgens hortus, a gardyne that is not well trimmed or husbanded, negligently kepte.

Indiligentia, x, f. g. negligence. Vni indiligentis a negligentie intercheyng the truth.

Indiliger, negligently, with no diligence.

Indipiscor, scire, & indipiscor, eris, sci, to obtrype to vsurpe, to geat, to ouertake.

Indipisci pugnam, to obtrype victorie.

Mulum in cogitando dolorem indipiscor, By mulyng or thynkyng on diuers matters, I fall into great sorowe and heuynesse.

Indipisci animo, to runne by herte, to holde in remembrance.

Nunquam pol indipiscer postea, Truly he shall neuer attayne to it, or geat it after.

Indiscutus, a, um, not seuered, not separated, onetogether, also lyke, not differynge.

Indiscere similitudinis res, thynges of lykenesse that can not be discerned.

Indiscriminatum, indifferently, without diuersitee.

Indiscere, without eloquence.

Indiscursus, a, um, without eloquence, not well languaged.

Indispositus, without order, disposition, or array.

Indissolubilis, le, that can not be dissolued.

Indissolatus, a, um, not dissolued, knit together.

Indistincte, vndistinctly.

Indistinctus, a, um, not distincte, confuse.

Indistinctus, a, um, not hurte.

Inditus, a, um, put or set in.

Individuus, a, um, that may not be diuided or separated.

Indivisus, a, um, not diuided or separated.

Indo, indidi, ere, to put or set in, to geue.

Indere catenas captiuis, to put chaynes vpon captiues and prisoners.

Indere nome alicui, to geue a name to a thyng.

Indere titulum, to set a title on a thyng.

Indocilis, le, a dullard that can not be taught, vnapt to be taught. Also naturalle, that is of nature without instruction.

Indocilis & lardus.

Indocte, vnlearnedly.

Indoctus, a, um, vnlearned, vntaught.

Indolentia, x, f. g. lacke of ppyne.

Indoleo, indoles, lui, ere, and indolesco, scere, to be sorry.

Indoles, indolis, f. g. towardnesse and dispositi on to vertue in chyldren, in men taken of vertue. also veray nobilitie or honour, aptnesse to good or puell.

Specimen indolis dare, when in yowthe one sheweth a lykephode of towardnesse to vertue.

Socrates proxime videtur accedere ad Lacedaemone, to resemble the vyrgyne of the Lacedaemonians.

Lata indolis adolescens, a ponge man of a mery and pleasant nature.

Tanta indoles in Launina erat, So good or beu tuous a nature there was in Launina.

Equorum indoles, the rage of hoxes.

Fructuum indoles, the terrage, bardure, or sent of frutes.

Frugum indoles, the good growthe and fulnesse of grayne.

Homines in quibus est virtutis indoles, men, in home appereth a manifest token of vertu and honnestee.

Cum hac indole virtutum ac vitiorum, shewynge these tokens of the good and yll inclinacion that was in hym.

Indomabilis, le, that may not be made tame.

Indomitus, a, um, wylde, vnbroken, vnruled.

Indomitus equus, an horse vnbroken.

Indormio, miui, i. e. to geue to muche study to a thyng. also to sleape in dogynge a thyng, to bee slowe or slacke.

Desidia indormire, to sleape in slothfulness, to become verate slothfull and ybell.

Indormire causam, to be negligent and slowe in a matter.

Indotus, a, um, not indowed with any gyftes, that hath no dowry geuen.

Indubitabilis, le, idem quod indubitatus.

Indubitanter, undoubtedly.

Indubite, without doubt.

Indubitatus, a, um, undoubtedly, certayne.

Indubito, aui, are, nor to doubt.

Inducia, arum, f. g. plur. truce of peace for a certayne tyme.

Inducia exierant, The truce was past.

Inducias facere & inire, to make truce.

Pacta inducia, truce made.

Induco, xi, ere, to induce, to brynge in, to perswade, to allure, to incline, to deceiue, to cause, to ease of strike out, to defecte, to put on, properlye hosen of shoen, to infixe of stablysh, to souer of caste ouer.

Ira induxi in animum, I haue so infixed of stablyshed in my mynde, I haue so perswaded my selfe. In errore inducere, to brynge into a fals opinion. In memoriam inducere, to brynge in to mynde of remembrance.

In spe inducere, to brynge in hope of truste.

Inducere morem, to brynge in a custome.

Inducere seditionem in ciuitatem, to raise a sedition. Inducere colorem pictura, to laie colour on a picture.

Inducere parietes, to pargette walles.

Inducere scuta pellibus, to couer.

Inducere exordium, to begin.

Inducere cuti nitorem, to make the skin beautifull and fayne.

Senectus inducit rugas, Olde age maketh men wrinkled and ryueld.

Ne illis animum inducas credere, Let it not speke into your mynde to beleue theym.

Inducere animum ad meretricem, to cast ones loue vpon an harlotte.

Promissis aliquem inducere, to induce or perswade one to do a thyng with faire promyses.

Ad misericordiam inducere, to moue to pitye or mercy. Senatus consultum inducere, to raise out of sojdoo a decree made by the senate.

Inducere nouercam filia, to mary an other wyfe whyle his daughter is alpye.

Inducere calcem alicui, to put on ones shoe.

Inducere rotam, to tourne or rolle a whele.

Inducere scuta pellibus, to couer tergates with thynges.

Aliquem inducere, to deceiue one.

Inducere fructum dicuntur arbores, to brynge forth the fruite.

Inductio, onis, f. g. a forme of argument, proceeding from the particulars vnto the vniuersalles. Also an argument, whiche by gettinge the assent in thynges not doubtfull, proueth the thyng whiche is intended. Sometyme a cancellyng of raising out.

Inductio animi, a persuasion.

Inductio aquarum, a conueyng of water.

Inductus, us, m. g. a persuasion or inducynge.

Inductus, a, um, brought in, induced, perswaded, moued, ledde, raised, stricken out, laied vpon in stede of an other thyng, caste ouer, smered or anoynted.

Quaque sub inducta latuit sinilla fauilla, iudged ouer it.

Inducula, a, f. g. a litlell garment.

Indugredi, for ingredi.

Indulco, aui, are, & Indulcoro, aui, are, to make sweete.

Indulgens, entis, gentpli, that suffereth one to haue his wyll and pleasure. Sometyme he, to whom gentynesse is shewed.

Indulgenter, fauorabil, without rigour, to gentilly. Indulgenter aliquem habere, to handle or intreate fauorably and gentilly.

Indulgentia, a, & Indulgitas, aui, gentillitatem sufferance, rockeryng, also mercie.

Nimia indulgentia, inordinate and to much tendernesse.

Indulgeo, dult, ere, to graunt lightly, to consent to a requeste, also to geue respite, to be gentyll and mercifull, to pardon, to least one haue his wyll, to coker of make to much of one, to geue licence, to permitte, also to geue his mynde or studie to a thyng.

Indulge valetudini tua, Take heede to thy helth, cherishe or make muche of your selfe, serued your helthe.

Nimium illi indulges, Thou art to tender on hym, thou letteth him haue to muche of the byp dill, or to muche of his owne wyll.

Indulget balneum fieri, He graunted lightly, that a bayne should be made.

Indulgere lusibus, to addicte and geue hym selfe to fantasies, pastymes or trilles.

Indulgere abdomini, to geue hym selfe to bradly chere, to fede and cherishe the carthyng to muche. Indulgere nouis amicis, to make muche of newe frendes.

Indulgere desiderio alicuius, to graunt that one desyreth or would fayne haue.

Quid ego Indulgeo dolori? why doe I geue my selfe to sorowe and heauynesse?

Luxuria indulgere, to abandon ons selfe to pleasure and wantonnesse.

Nimis me of mihi indulgeo, I folowe mine owne appetitte to muche.

Lachrymis indulgit, he wepte muche.

Abolitionem publice indulgere, to permitte openly, to graunte.

Qui malis moribus nomen oratoris indulsit, whiche permitte and graunt, that they, whiche huc ill, may be called ozatours.

Peccatis amici indulgere, to suffer and pardon the mysdoynge of ones frende.

Indulges silio vestitu nimio, you suffer your soonne to haue to sumptuous or costly apparell.

Indumentum, i, n. g. a garment.

Induo, dui, ere, to put on a garmente of other lyke thyng, to transforme or translat, to cast in, to annoynt.

Inducere personam alterius, to speake in the name of stede of an other man.

Induo, dui, ere, to put on a garmente of other lyke thyng, to transforme or translat, to cast in, to annoynt.

Inducere personam alterius, to speake in the name of stede of an other man.

Inducere personam alterius, to speake in the name of stede of an other man.

Inducere personam alterius, to speake in the name of stede of an other man.

Induo hanc vestem and hac veste, I haue on this garment.

Inducere personam iudicis, to present or do the office of a iudge.

Inducere postes pice, to laye on pitche on the postes. Inducere sibi ingenium nouum, to change his nature. Speciem latronis inducere, to vse the facion of a theefe.

Vestustatem inducere, to become olde.

Indui fructu, to bee charged or laded with fruite. Indui sua confessione, to be taken by his owne confession.

Indui se in florem, to blossometh.

Quid erat induta? what garment had she on?

Inducere sibi vestem, and se veste.

Inducere anulum digito, to put a ryng on his fpynger.

Induitur etiam pedibus aurum, he weareth golde on his feete also.

Arma induere, to put on harness.

Soleas equo induere, to shoe an horse.

Terra tantis segetibus inducitur, the ground was laded with so muche cozne.

Inducere sibi nomen, to geue hym selfe a name, to take on hym a name.

Falsam sibi scientia persuasionem induerunt, They haue perswaded them selues to be lerned, and be not in deede.

Simulationem reialicius inducere, to counserfapre of feigne.

Videte in quot laqueos se induerit, See you into how many snares he hath brought him selfe, or in how many snares he hath intangled and wrapped hym selfe.

In idipsum se induit, quod timebat, he hath brought him selfe into the same inconuenience, that he feared.

Inducere se re aliqua, to entangle ones selfe in a matter.

Vultus feueros induere, to looke sabbely and grauely.

Impedior for Impedior.

Induperator, oris, m. g. for Imperator.

Indureo, indures, rui, ere, and Induresco, scere, to bee harde or waxe harde.

Induro, aui, are, to harden, to make harde.

Indus, i, m. g. a noble ryuer, that cometh from the great mountayne Taurus, and indoleth Andree on the west, and renneth into the Indus ansea. Into this ryuer ren. xix. great and famous ryuers, the least of theym more than the great ryuer of Danowe, where he is broadest.

Drabo caith, that they, whiche do wyple most moderately of Indus, do aspyre, that he is in breadth fiftie furlonges, whiche is twelue myles and an halfe. The water therof causeth great fertilitie, when it ouerfloweth, and therof many fundys pleasant and holisome frutes doo springe without labour.

Industrius, i, m. g. a maner of petticoates.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industria, a, f. g. Idem quod Indusium.

Industrius, a, um, cladde in a petticoate.

Indusium, i, n. g. a petticoate, or rather a thyppe.

Industria, a, f. g. a vertue, comprehending both study and diligence, industrie. also trauayle of labour.

De industria aliquid facere, to doo a thyng of purpose or for the nones.

Industria, idem quod de industria.

Ob eam industriam hodie ducam scortum ad cenam, Because thou doest spyte and wache so diligently what I dooe. a c.

Industrie, wittely, with diligence, with industry.

Industrius, a, um, that is witty and actiue, diliget, laborious, glad to trauayle or take pain in a thyng.

Indutus, us, m. g. arayng or apparaylyng, the putting on of a garment.

Induta, apparaple.

Induuium, ui, n. g. the barke of a tree.

Inebra aues, byrdes whiche in the diuination of the Augures forbyd any thyng to be dooen.

Inebrio, aui, are, to make drunken, to be drunken.

Inedia, a, f. g. hunger, famyne.

Ineditus, a, um, not put abrode or declared, not published.

Ineffabilis, le, that can not bee spoken or pronounced.

Inefficax, acis, om. gen. of no force, vertue, or strength.

Ineffigatus, a, um, unfacioned, without good proportion, without facion of fourme.

Inelaboratus, not counnyngly wrought or done.

Inelegans, antis, om. g. without eloquence, nothyng pretie or feate.

Inelegantie, nothyng preatylie.

Ineluctabilis, le, that can be overcome or passed with no labour or trauaile.

Inemendabilis, le, that can not be amended.

Inemptus, a, um, not bought.

Inenarrabilis, le, meruaylous, that can not be declared or vittered.

Inenarratus, a, um, not declared or expounded.

Inenodabilis, le, that can not be dissolued.

Ineo, iui, ire, to begyn to go in, to enter in, to deferue, to get, to wynte, to obtaine, to treat.

Inire, is sometyme where the male leape the female, as the horse couereth the mare. also to consider and vnderstande.

Inire cursum, to begyn his course.

Inire forus, to make a league or treatie of pce.

Inire fugam, to flee as men do in battayle.

Grauiam inire, to get thanke of frendshyppe with doyng some pleasure for a man.

Grauiam ab vel cum aliquo & apud aliquem inire.

Inire magistratum, to enter into an office.

Inire pacem, to make pce.

Inire bellum, to make watre.

Inire uiam, to fynde a waie.

Rationem inire, to seeke meane, or to consiler how a thyng maie bee dooen, to consult, to secken.

recken, to make an accompte.
 Inire societatem, to fall in fellowship with one.
 Inire sufragia, to assemble people for an election, or to consent to any matter.
 Inira subductaque ratione, all thynges reckned or well accompted.
 Ineunte aetate, in yowthe.
 Ineunte vere, at the beginning of the springe of the yere.
 Cauere falsam gratiam studias inire, Beware that thou desyre not to haue or ppeke a thanke of me vnderfused, or that thou goe not about to make me thanke the for nothing.
 Inijte vnuquam febris? Dyd the feuer euer take you? or were you euer sicke of the ague?
 Consilium cum aliquo inire, to consult or take counsaile with one.
 Conuiuium inire, to go to a feast.
 Inire imperia alicuius, to serue or to become subiecte to one.
 Nexum inibant, they were cast in prison, they were layed in chaynes.
 Inire numerum, to numbre.
 Inire praelium, or pugnam, to begynne battaile, to geue the onfette.
 Ratio de integro incunda est mihi, I must be sayne to begyn my reckenyng of accompte all newe agayne.
 Cubile alterius inire, to lye with an other mans wyfe.
 Ineor, iris, iri, the passyue.
 Ineptus, foolyshe, fondely, vnwysely, without good purpose, not to the purpose.
 Ineptia, vnaptensse, fondenesse, folly, trysyng.
 Ineptio, iui, ire, to trifle, to do or speake a thyng vnmeeete for the purpose.
 Ineptus, a, um, vnapte, foolyshe, vncouenient, vnmete, fonde.
 Labor ineptus, vayne & vnprofitable labour.
 Ineptalenuas, foolyshe and fonde gentylnesse out of tyme and place.
 Causa inepta, a folyshe excuse.
 Ineptum est, it is a vcraine folge, or a thyng vncouenient.
 Via inepta, an yll and troublous waie.
 Ineptus, a trifter, vsyng nothyng in order, vnapt to the purpose.
 Inequitabilis, le, that can not be rydde throughe.
 Inermis, me, vnarmed, a man volder.
 Inermo, aui, are, to vnrarme, to take ones hars neys from him.
 Inermis, a, um, idem quod inermis.
 Inerrans, annus, that moueth not, or goeth not from place to place.
 Inerrantes stelle, fixed sterres.
 Inerro, aut, are, idem quod erro.
 Iners, eris, omnis. gen. without any science or crafte, ydell, slouthfull, not occupied, nothyng spely, folyshe or dull, without corage or sprite, not able to helpe it selfe. also vnprofitable. some tyme barrayne.

Iners, & ignauus.
 Aetas iners, olde age.
 Iners membris, not able to helpe it selfe with the parties of the body.
 Ad repugnandum iners, not able to resist.
 Gleba inertes, barrayne cloddes.
 Aqua iners, standyng water.
 Admissarius iners in venerem, not desirous to leape the mares.
 Caro iners, vnauory flesh, nothyng quicke of fast.
 Inertes querela, vnprofitable.
 Sal iners, without quickenesse of sauour.
 Tempus abibit iners, shall passe away without doynge of any thyng.
 Inertia, a, f. ge. lacke of crafte, ydelnesse, negligence, slackenesse, vnassiduous.
 Inetula vitis, a vine, whercof the wyne is so good, that none yuell proceedeth therof, or rather the wyne that neuer maketh one drunke.
 Inerudit, vnlearned, without knowlage.
 Ineruditus, a, um, vnlearned.
 Inesco, scis, scere, to lay a bapte, also to deuine.
 Ineuitalis, le, that can not be eschewed.
 Inexaurabilis, le, that can not be faciate or filled.
 Inexcogitatus, a, um, not inuented, not ppeueditatus.
 Inexcultus, a, um, rude, not trimmed, not hys banded.
 Inexcusabilis, le, vnexcusable.
 Inexercitus, a, um, not exercised, vnoccupied.
 Inexercitatus, a, um, idem.
 Inexhaustus, a, um, neuer filled of faciat. also that can neuer be consumed or spent.
 Inexorabilis, le, that can not be intreated.
 Inexpectatus, a, um, not looked for.
 Inexpertus, a, um, not yroued or assayed. also vnspely not experie.
 Inexpiables, le, that can not be pouged, that can not be appeased.
 Inexplanatus, a, um, that is not made playne.
 Inexplanata lingua, a tongue that is halfe tyed, and can not well pronounce.
 Inexplabilis, le, that can not be filled, vnfaciate.
 Inexpletus, a, um, that is not complete, or made perfecte.
 Inexplicabilis, le, that can not be declared or expounded. also intricate, that can not be vnfolded. I thyng, out of the whiche a man can not ridde him selfe.
 Inexplicius, a, um, intricate, obscure.
 Inexploratus, or Inexploratus, without serche.
 Inexploratus, a, um, not sought or tried before.
 Inexpugnabilis, le, vnpreignable, that can not be wonne or ouercome by any assaute.
 Inexputabilis, le, that may not be noumbered, that can not be compted or reckened.
 Inextinctus, a, um, that is not extint or quenched.
 Inextirpabilis, le, that can not be rooted or digged out.
 Inextricabilis, that can not be shaken of or dissolued.

solued, a thyng that one can not rydde hym selfe of.
 Inexuperabilis, le, that can not be passed or overcome.
 Infabris, vnconynge, vncreastly, yll fauoredly.
 Infabricatus, a, um, not wrought.
 Infacetus, a, um, vnpleasunt.
 Infancia, a, f. g. lacke of eloquence.
 Infancundus, a, um, not eloquent.
 Infamia, a, f. gen. infamie, sleaunders, yll name, yll repute, obloquie.
 Inurere infamiam alicui, To make one haue a thyng name, that he shall neuer after putte awaye.
 Infamis, me, infamed, sleaunders, yll reposed of, that hath an yll name.
 Infamis digitus, the myddell fynger.
 Infamem heri, To be in infamie and obloquie of men, to renne in sleaunders of men.
 Infame os, a sleaunders tongue, or that blith bile of filth communication.
 Frigoribus infames Alpes, the Alpes muche spoken of for the horrible cold that is on them.
 Likewise Infamis annus pestilentia.
 Cauti ne ea res sibi infamiae esset, He tooke herte, that that thing should not hurt his name, or byng hym in any obloquy or yll name.
 Infamo, aui, are, to infame or yll repute, to sleaunders, to make to haue an yll name. Sometime to telle abrode.
 Infandum, to great that it maie not be vttered: or to horrible and nought, that it maie not be spoken. Infandum, as one should saie, A horrible chaunce, not to be spoken or mentioned.
 Infans, annus, om. gen. a chyld that can not yet speake. also euery thyng that is vcraine yong also it signifieth not eloquente. Sometime an ydote that can not speake, or that lacketh bitterance.
 Remouere infantem, to weane a chyld.
 Pullus infans, a yong chyld.
 Infantaria, a, f. ge. a woman tyng in chyld bed.
 Infancia, a, f. g. chyldhode, infancie, babeshyp.
 Also foolysheenesse, lacke of bitterance, lacke of eloquence.
 Infancilis, le, perteynyng to chyldhode.
 Infarcio, f. ire, to infarce or stuffe, to fylle, to poynt in.
 Infarcire verba, when one blith wordes out of order and place to fill up hys style.
 Infaugibilis, le, that can not be weryed or tired.
 Infatus, aui, are, to make foolyshe.
 Infatus, a, um, vnlych, vnfortunate.
 Infector, oris, m. g. a dyer of colours.
 Infectus, us, m. g. dyng or steynyng.
 Infectus, a, um, infected, dyed, stepped, poysoned.
 Infectus, a, um, of in, and Factus, vndoed, not made, not synished.
 Infecta pace, without any peace made.
 Infectum reddere, To vndoe that whiche is dooen.
 Infectum argentum, monie not copued,

Damni infecti promittere, to promise, if any damage come by our faute, that wee will pay for it, or make it good.
 Omnia infecta sunt, suppose nothyng were doone.
 Infecta dona facere, to reuoke or call agayn that one hath geuen.
 Infectum fieri non potest, it can not be vndone.
 Infelix, lwe infelix.
 Infero, aui, are, to vcr, to trouble.
 Inferus, a, um, displeased, moued with anger or hate towards an other, that beareth malice.
 Inferus & inimicus.
 Infer, for Infra, an olde woorde.
 Inferi, they that be vnder other, that ar in hell.
 Inferia, arum, f. g. plu. sacrifice dooen to infernal goddis, or them whiche be deade.
 Inferior, us, lower, inferiour, more base, of lesse reputation, the comparatiue of Inferus.
 Infernalis, le, infernal.
 Infernas, aris, om. ge. that is belowe, benethe, or in the nether part.
 Inferre, alowe, or benethe.
 Infernus, hell.
 Infernus, a, um, lowe, nethermoste, deepest.
 Dii inferni, infernal goddis.
 Rex infernus, Pluto.
 Infero, tuli, ferre, to byng in, to cary or beate in, to throw in, to adde to, to cast in, to conclude.
 Inferre arma, to make warre vpon.
 Bellum inferre, idem.
 Inferre crimen alicui, to late to ones charge.
 Inferre sermonem, to talke.
 Stuprum inferre, to commytte auoutrie or fornication with a kynsewoman.
 Inferre pecuniam, to paye monie.
 Inferre se in vrbem, to go or remoue hym selfe into a cite.
 Inferre in ignem, to caste into the fyre.
 Inferre se, to inuade, to rushe on, to entre with violence. also to iette or go byngynge into a place.
 Per medios inferre se, he rushed or entered with violence into the myddes of them.
 Ad hunc modum me intuli, I went in byngynge after this sozte.
 Abortus inferunt, they cause abozion or trasuaplyng before the tyme.
 Cacitatem inferre, to make blynde.
 Caritatem annonae intulere, They brought or caused derthe of vitayle.
 Causam inferre, to lay an excuse for hym selfe, to shewe a reason why.
 Faces tectis inferre, to sette houses on fyre.
 Gradum inferre, to marche towarde.
 Inferre se in periculum capitis, to put hym selfe in daunger of his lyfe.
 Inferre manus alicui, To late violent handes on one.
 Inferre mentionem, To make mention or speake of.

Mortem inferre, to kill.
 Inferre oculos, to looke, to regarde.
 Inferre pedem, to steppe in, to goe in, to enter vpon.
 Signa inferre, to aduance forward the standerdes, to march forward with banners displayed.
 Sumptum inferre ciuibus, to put the citizens to cosse of charge.
 Inferre vulnus, to wounde.
 Calamitatem ciuitati inferre, to be the cause of the destruction of the citee.
 Cladem inferre, to geue an ouerthrowe, to discomfite of flea.
 Inisuriam inferre, to dooe iniurie of displeasure, to doo wronge.
 Litem capit in aliquem inferre, to commence an action concerning lyfe & deeth agaynst one.
 Inferus, infera, um, lowe, benethe.
 Aetas inferior, the age of tyme before.
 Inferius maiestate sua rati, thynkyng it not seemely for their maiestee.
 Inferum mare, the Tuscan sea.
 Inferuo, bui, uere, and Inferuesco, scere, to be scaldyng hotte, or to seethe.
 Inferuefactio, feci, facere, to make hotte.
 Infeste, maliciousely.
 Infestius, a, um, vnmete for disport, vnpleasant.
 Infesto, aui, are, to doo displeasure with sundry incursions of rodes.
 Infestus, a, um, that geneth all studie and diligence to do displeasure, malicious. also dangerous. Sometime that is vexed of in lecherdy, or that hath deadly and mortall enemies.
 Infesta signa, standerdes of banners displayed in battaile agaynst enemies.
 Infestus, a mortall ennemie.
 Infestus ager, a dangerous countreie to passe through.
 Infestus animus, a malicious mynde.
 Habere mare infestum, to robbe and do mischief on the sea, to make it dangerous to passe.
 Infesta fortuna, aduersitee.
 Infesta salus alicuius, Cui multi sunt inimici.
 Infestus & inimicus.
 Itinera infesta, waies dangerous to passe, by reason of theues or enemies.
 Infibulo, aui, lare, to claspe together.
 Inficere, to make, to put fauorably, or defozmedly.
 Inficialis, le, that pertaineth to denyng.
 Inficias ire, to double of denie, to goe from a thyng in woordes.
 Inficiario, onis, f. g. a deniall.
 Inficiator, onis, m. g. he that denieth det, or that is layd to his charge.
 Inficio, inficis, feci, ere, to dye clothe, to staine of infect, to corrupte, to colour.
 Inficere pocula veneno, to poison the drynke, to put poison in the cuppe.
 Inficere prauis moribus, to infecte and corrupt with ill maners.

Inficior, aris, ari, to denye of disaffirme, to goe from a thyng in woordes.
 Infidelis, le, vnfaithfull, not keepynge promise.
 Infidelitas, atis, f. ge. vntrueth, vnfaithfulness, infidelitee.
 Infidus, a, um, vnfaithfull, not to be trusted, trayterous.
 Infigo, fixi, ere, to fasten of stycke in.
 Infimates, the base people.
 Infimus, infima, um, the lowest of moste base, moste vile, of least reputation.
 Infimo loco natus, descended of a very base stocke of kynred.
 Infimis precibus aliquid petere, most humbly and lowely to beseech a thyng.
 Infindo, idem quod Findo.
 Infinite, infinitely, continually, alwaies. sometime without measure of reason.
 Infinitus, a, um, infinite, that hath none ende.
 Infinita altitudine spelunca, deepe beyond measure.
 Infinitum imperium, exceedyng large, with out bowndes.
 Infinitior, the comparatiue.
 Infinitio, onis, Infinitas, atis, and Infinitudo, inis, f. g. infinitenesse, generalitee.
 Infirmitas, onis, f. g. a constitution.
 Infirmitas, a, um, made weak of feeble.
 Infirme, weakely, feebly, not firmly.
 Infirmitas, atis, f. ge. vnstabilenesse, weakenesse, sickenesse, infirmitie.
 Virum infirmitas, lacke of strength of puissance.
 Valetudinis infirmitas, feeblenesse, sicknesse.
 Infimo, aui, are, to make weake of feeble. also to dissolve.
 Infirmare veritatem, to speake agaynst the truth.
 Infirmitas, a, um, feeble, weak, feeble. also vnstable, vnconstant.
 Infirma nuptia, marriages not lyke to continue.
 Infirmi saporis vinum, wyne not quicke of sharpe in taste, that drinketh not of the verbe.
 Infirmitas animus, an vnconstant mynde.
 Infir, he saied, he beganne.
 Infusus, a, um, fastened, or that sticketh in.
 Inflammo, aui, are, to inflame of set on fyre.
 Inflammare & incendere.
 Inflammari, to be in a great loue of desyre of a thyng.
 Non feci inflammandi tui causa, I dydde it not to the intent to stee by your mynde, or to make you the more earnest of hot in the matter.
 Inflammare inuidia, to increase enuy of malice.
 Inflatio, onis, f. g. inflation, exceedyng of wynde in the body.
 Inflatus, a, um, blowen of puffd by, poudre.
 Inflatus, us, m. gen. a blowing of puffynge in, a blowing in an instrument.
 Inflatus diuinus, a diuine inspiration.
 Infecto, xi, ere, to boowe of plye, to crooke, to tourne.

Infer

Infectere genu, to make curteisie, to make a kysse.
 Vestigium cursus sui infectere, to tourne of steppe out of his course of rase.
 Infectere ius gratia, to bende of wyesse the law for fauour.
 In orbem infectere, to bende rounde.
 In nodum infectere, to knitte on a knotte.
 Infexibilis, le, that can not be bended of bowed.
 Infexibilis obstinatio, vnuly stubbornesse.
 Inflexio, onis, f. g. a bowynge of bendyng.
 Inflexus, a, um, bowed, bent, crooked, tourned.
 Inflexa in se cornua, hornes crooked inward.
 Infigo, xi, gere, to cast violently, to stycke.
 Infigere poenam, to punish.
 Infigere grauius vsuras, to make to paye greater blurie.
 Infigere colaphum, to geue a blowe.
 Infigere vulnus, to wounde.
 Turpitudinem sibi infigere, to distaine his owne honestee.
 Inlo, aui, are, to blowe in, to puffe by, to blowe in an instrument.
 Inflare buccinam, to blowe a trumpet.
 Inflare sonum, to make a sowne with a pypp, to blowe an instrument.
 Inflare ambas buccas, to puffe by bothe the cheekes, spoken pouerbielly of angry persons.
 Inflare spem alicuius, to entreate ones hope.
 Inflare animos rumor, the rumoure made them more couragious, or puffd by theyr mynde and made them more proude.
 Influo, infuis, xi, ere, to renne into a thyng, as water or other lyquor dooeth, to flow in: and by translation, to enter in in great number.
 Influre in animos hominum, to fall in the fauour of loue of men. also to synke of enter into mens myndes.
 Bona omnia nobis influunt, all wealth happeneth to vs with out trauaile.
 Infodio, infodis, infodi, infodere, to digge in.
 Infocunditas, atis, f. g. bareynnesse.
 Infocundus, a, um, baraine, vnfruitfull.
 Infelicias, atis, f. g. aduersitee, misfortune.
 Infelicitate, vnhappyly, vnfortunately.
 Infelicio, aui, are, to make vnfortunate of vnhappy.
 Infelix, leis, om. ge. vnhappy, vnfortunate, barayne, vnpossitable, vnfruitfull.
 Infelix fama, a rumoure bringyng ill tidynge.
 Infelix ingenium, a naughty wytt, a naughty nature.
 Arbor infelix, vnfruitfull.
 Informatio, onis, f. g. information, a knowlage naturall impressed in the mynde of man.
 Informatus, a, um, begun to be facioned.
 Informis, me, without facion of forme, rude.
 Exius repentinus et informis, sodayne and villanous.
 Informo, aui, are, to shape of forme, to informe, to instructe of teache good maners, to begyn to wooyke a thyng, as a caruer to make an ymage, to drawe out the facion of a thyng, to facion, to instructe.

 Areas informare, to draw out plottes in a garden.
 Informare deum coniectura, to ymagyne in our myndes, what maner thyng god is.
 Inforo, inforas, aui, are, to declare at the barre in a place of iudgement, to pleade. also to perswade of make an hole in.
 Infortunatus, a, um, vnfortunate, vnhappy, vnhappy.
 Infortunium, nij, n. g. ill chauce, misfortune, calamity, mischief, misadventure, ill happe.
 Infortunus, a, um, dygged in.
 Infra, a preposicion, vnderneath, in number it signifieth laste of fewer.
 Infra, an aduerbe, benethe.
 Me infra xatam huius posuit, he saied I was sent to olde as his soone.
 Multo infra, of muche lesse value.
 Infra se ducere aliquid, to esteeme a thyng not to be woorthy of seemely for hym to doo.
 Infractio, onis, f. g. breakyng.
 Infractio animi, a bashment of discouragynge of the mynde.
 Infractus, a, um, vnbroken, sure. also broken all to pieces.
 Infractus animi, styffe of courage. Sometime it signifieth discouraged, decayed.
 Loquela blanda & infracta, suche talk as nurses vse to littell infantes, leaueyng out halfe woordes and sentences.
 Infracta fortuna homines, id est, concussa.
 Infractus, a, um, not bydeled.
 Infracti equites, horsemen that haue no byddels on their horse heades.
 Infrano, aui, are, to bydele, to refrayne.
 Infrangere nauigia anchoris, to stay the shippes with anchoris.
 Infrangere, & domare.
 Infractus, a, um, that hath no byddle, vnuly.
 Infragilis, le, not byttle, that can not be soone broken, or discouraged.
 Infrangibilis, le, that can not be broken of discouraged.
 Infrmo, infremis, iij, ere, to make a great noyse of murmuring.
 Infrendo, infrendui, ere, to craue the teeth together for angre.
 Infrendes, frendium, com. ge. chyldren lacyng teeth.
 Infræquens, entis, om. ge. not greatly haunted of resorted to. also that resorteth of comely felidome to a place.
 Sum Romæ infrequens, I vse not to come muche at Rome: or I am but seldom in Rome.
 Infrequens sum vocationum latinarum, Gel. I vse the laryng tonge but seldom.
 Infrequentia, æ, f. g. a small assemble, where as be but fewe persons, contrary to Frequentia.
 Infris

Infricatus, a, um, frosted or rubbed.
Infrico, infricas, aui, or cui, are, to rubbe in, to rubbe vpon.
Infrigo, infrigis, frixi, ere, to frepe together.
Infringo, egi, ere, to breake to pieces, to abate, to diminishe, to discourage.
Infringere aliquem, to abate ones courage, to make hym slowe or bowe.
Infringere animos, to discourage.
Infringere colaphum, to geue a blowe.
Conatus aduersariorum infringere, to stop or let the enterprises or endeuore of our ennemis.
es, to disappoynte them of that they go about.
Spem infringere, to put out of hope.
Infracta, broke into small crummes, or powder.
Infriso, aui, are, to breake of crumbe in small.
Infructuosus, a, um, vnfruitfull.
Infructuosa preces, prayers that nothinge asuaile.
Infrunitus, a, um, foolishe, that knoweth not howe to vse a thyng. also foolishe byssyns, vayne gloriouse.
Infucatus, a, um, coloured or painted, couered or hpd, to the intent to deceiue.
Infuco, aui, are, to couer a thyng, intendynge deceite, to paynte, to colour.
Infula, infulae, f.g. the labell that dyd hange on es uery syde of a myter. It was in the olde tyme the attire, that priestes dyd weare on thrye heades. They were also tappetes of lynnyn, wherewith temples were hanged.
Infulcio, iui, ire, for Ingerere, to put in often.
Infulgens, entis, idem quod fulgens.
Infumibulum, buli, n.g. the thanke or tunnell of a chymney.
Infumo, infumas, aui, are, to dye in the smoke.
Infundibulum, li, n.g. a tunnell, wherinto liquor is poured, whan vessels are fylled. also a hopper of a mill, or rather the place, wherinto they powre the coine.
Infundo, f. di, ere, to powre in, to hylle on.
Infundere vitia in ciuitatem, to spreade vice and naughtynesse in the citee.
Infurnibulum, li, n.g. a picle, wherewith breade is set into the oven.
Infuscatus, a, um, made darke or obscure, or dusky.
Aqua infuscata, the water being troubled, or thicke with mudd, infuscatus maleuolentia, corrupted or disceyned with malice or euill will.
Infusco, aui, are, to make duske or darke.
Infuscare unum merum, to alaye wyne with water.
Infuscare saporem, to corrupte the taste, and make it woofse.
Infuscata aqua, water that is troubled or muddie.
Infuscari barbarie, to be corrupted.
Infuscus, a, um, idem quod fuscus.

Infusa, some vse it for Infusus.
Infusus, a, um, poured in, or poured vpon.
Infusus, us, m. g. and Infusio, onis, f. g. a pouring in or vpon.
Ingemino, aui, are, to double, to repte often, sometyme neutrally, as Auster ingeminal.
Ingemisco, scere, idem quod Ingemo.
Ingemo, ingemis, iui, ere, to lament, to bewaile muche, to grieve.
Ingenero, aui, are, to ingender, to make.
Ingeniculus, aris, ari, to bowe the knee or make curtesie.
Ingeniculus, a figure amonge the sterres called nowe Hercules.
Ingeniose, wittely.
Ingeniosus, a, um, wittly, haupng a very goodd pleasant witte.
Ingenitus, a, um, begotten, ingendred in, or of nature, geuen of nature.
Ingenium, ii, n.g. propriety the nature, inclination, disposition or propriety of a thyng. also wytte.
Suo uiuere ingenio capis, he began to speake for his owne nature of fantasie.
Vena benigna ingenij, a pleasant borne of witte.
Acuere ingenium, to sharpen the witte.
Ad ingenium redit, he cometh to his nature as gygne.
Ira mihi ingentia sunt, my wytt is to dysuere.
Ingenium soli aut terra, The nature of the grounde.
Ingenium cornu, the counnyng diuysynge and preparynge of bancketynge dysces and subtilties.
Ingenium patris habet quod sapit, he lyke his father in wysdome.
Mobilissimus ingenio, a verate vnconstant persone.
Socrates patria quidem Atheniensis, ingenio vero Spartanus, Socrates was of Athens in countrey, but in condicions a Lacedemonian.
Ingens, entis, wonderfull great.
Ingens animus, a great courage.
Ingentis spiritus vir, a man of a veray lofty and make of great courage.
Pecunia ingens, a great summe of monie.
Gratias ingentes agere, to geue breate hartie thankes.
Iras ingentes concepit, he was verate angry.
Ingeniatus, ta, tum, comen of an honeste booke, or kynde, that hath an honeste and liberrall nature.
Ingenue, frely, frankly.
Ingenue educatus, brought by lke a gentyll man.
Ingenitas, aui, f.g. freedome, honestee, noblesse or gentynesse, in persones of free and liberrall nature.
Ingenius, a free man bozne, a gentyll man.
Ingenus, a, um, naturall, free bozne.
Ingenia facta, noble actis.

Ingen

Ingenue artes, liberrall artes or sciences.
Ingenui mores, gentylmanly manners.
Facies ingenua, an honest and comely face.
Ingero, ingeris, gelsi, erere, to byng in, to put in, to powre in, to throwe downe on.
Ingerere cibum, to geue one meate.
Ingerere dicta in aliquem, to chyde with one, to saye pille of one, to rastle at one.
Ingerere malum, to dooe displeasure.
Omnia mala ingererat, he dyd the woofse that he coulde.
Osculum ingerere, to kysse one passynge by.
Ingerere pugnos in ventrem alicuius, To thumpe one on the bealy with his fystes.
Se ingerere, to auauce hym selfe in compass, or to be malapert, to put forth hym selfe in dooynge of thynges.
Ingerere aquam, to poure in water.
Distia in dolum perusum ingerere, piously, to speake in vayne, to lose labour.
Ingeram mala multa, I wyl geue hym many shrowde woordes.
Saxa ingerere in subeantes, to caste downe stones on them that go vnderneath.
Scimen solo ingerere, to sowe seede.
Vulnera ingerere, to geue many woundes.
Vela ingerere, to throwe or caste darters at enemies.
Scelus sceleri ingerere, to heape mischif vpon mischif.
Ingestibilis, le, that can not be bozne.
Ingestus, a, um, bozne in, poured in, profered to one whether he will or no.
Inigno, genui, gignere, to engender within.
Inguis, aui, f.g. pouter, after Perottus.
Inglomeratio, aui, are, idem quod Glomero.
Inglorius, a, um, of no renoume or fame.
Honoratus & Inglorius, contrary.
Ingluies, ei, m. gen. gluttonye, rauenyng. also the craie or gorge in bydes.
Ingluuiosus, a, um, gluttonous, rauenous.
Ingrandesco, grandui, scere, to waxe great.
Ingrate, ingrately, vnthankfully, agaynst ones will.
Ingratus, the ablatiue case, maugre one.
Vobis inuitis atque amborum ingratiis.
Tuis ingratiis, maugre thy heade.
Ingratificus, a, um, idem quod Ingratus.
Ingratus, agaynst my will or our will, without my loue and my leaue, with an euill will.
Libenter & ingratus, contrary.
Ingratitudo, dinis, vnkyndnesse, vnthankfulness, vngratitudo.
Ingratus, a, um, vnthankfull, vnpleasant, not acceptable, constrained, or agaynst a mans will, also vnkynde, and not reuembryng frendshipp or beneuolence.
Ingratus sapor, an vnpleasant taste.
Ingratus ut dormiam, That I maie scape whether I will or no.
Ingrauesco, scere, to waxe moze heuy or weyghy

tie, to waxe moze pepnfull, to become woofse and woofse.
Ingrauescit in dies malum, the mischif increaseth dailey, and waxeth woofse and woofse.
Ingrauescere furor, to entcrease in furie moze and moze.
Releuari & ingravescere, contrary.
Ingrauescit ammona, vnpley rplyth still to an hygher price.
Ingrauo, ingrauas, aui, are, to make heaup or greuous, to make woofse.
Ingredior, eris, gredi, to enter in, to goe in, to walke, to begynne.
Ingredi iter pedibus, to begynne to go a foze nere on foote.
Ingredi mare pedibus, to wade in the sea.
Quoniam ingressus essem dicere, although I had begunne or was about to shewe or tell.
Hi qui ingrediuntur ad studium, They whiche begynne to learne or to geue them selues to studie.
In spem libertatis ingressus sum, I began to hope for libertee.
Vestigiis patris ingredi, to folowe his fathers stppes.
Ingredi in vitam, to bee bozne.
Ingredi in conspectum populi, to shew hym selfe in the syght of the people.
Quam vitam ingrediar definias, declare to me what kynde of lyfe I should begynne to leade.
Orationem ingredi, to begyn to speake.
Ingressio, onis, f.g. an entreng or goynge in.
Ingressus, us, a walkynge, a maner of goynge, also a begynnyng.
Ingruo, ingruis, iui, ere, to inuade, to assaile with violence and puissance, to be imminent, piously spoken of battaile or tempest.
Ingruente estate, sommer being nere come or at hande.
Ingruens periculum, a daunger nere at hande.
Ingruit frigus, there wylle bee a greate colde woofly.
Nostri contra ingruunt, our men on the other side assaile them with great force and violence.
In agrestes ingruant morbi, inuaded or came sodenly vpon them.
Inguen, inguinis, n.g. the parte about the pyppie membre of a man or woman.
Inguinaria, a, f.g. an herbe, whiche cureth the diseases in priuie membes, some thynke it to be aigrimonie.
Inguinium, a citee in Liguria, ancient and riche.
Inurgito, aui, are, to deuoure gluttonously, to gourmandise, to caste in as it were in to a great streame or bottomlesse pitte, where it is lyke to bee swallowed.
Inurgitare se in flagitia, To geue hym selfe to all naughtynesse and myschiese without measure.
Inurgitare se in philosophiam, to geue hym selfe to muche to the study of philosophie.
Inurge.

Inurgitare se in copias alicuius, to spogge a man of his rycheffe.
 In se merum ingurgitare, to ouer charge hym selfe with wyne, to luffet with drynkynge.
 Ingustabilis, le, that can not be tasted, that no thyng can abide to tast.
 Ingustatus, a, um, not tasted.
 Inhabilis, le, vnapt, vnable, vnmete.
 Inhabilis magnitudinis nauis, a ship that by reason of the biggnesse is vnwilde.
 Inhabibilis, le, inhabitable.
 Inhabito, aui, are, to dwell in a place.
 Inhareo, inhass, ere, to cleave or sticke to.
 Inherebat oculis memoria imaginis, He thought I dyd alwaies see that ymage, Or that ymage was alwaies in myn eyes.
 Inharelco, scere, to speche faste. idem quod inhareo.
 Inhilo, aui, are, to breath vpon one.
 Inhibeo, inhibes, bui, ere, to forbydde, to lette, to stoppe.
 Inhibere alium, to stynt or stoppe the laske.
 Inhibere, & incitare auaritatem, contrary: to take awaie ones stomache, and to make one haue an appetite.
 Nauciam inhibere, to stynt vomityng.
 Inhibere frenos, to plucke backe the byddell, to rayne the hoxse.
 Inhibere quo minus aliquid fiat, to leat that a thyng bee not dooen.
 Inhibere remos, to casse rowynge.
 Manum eius inhibuit, he helde his hande as he was about to strike.
 Inhibere imperium, To manace or threaten, that he wyl vse his authoritee or power.
 Inhibere nauem, to caste anchor, or to stape a shyppe whiche is vnder sayle, that the sayle not a full course.
 Imperia inhibita vltro citroque, They menaced to vse their power or auctoritee one agaynst an other.
 Inhibere supplicia alicui, to threten punysshement.
 Inhibitio, onis form. ge. an inhibition, a forbyddynge a stoppyng.
 Inhibitio remigum, The stoppyng of the ryp or boie with oyes, as they dooe when they tourne it.
 Inilio, aui, are, to gape. also to couete muche.
 Bona mea iniliant, they gape after my goodes.
 Illum iniliant omnes, they all luke greedily for his compynge.
 Inhoneste, dishonestly.
 Inhonesto, aui, are, to dishonest.
 Inhonestus, a, um, dishonest, yll fauoured.
 Inhonoratus, a, um, lackynge honour, contrary to Honoratus.
 Inhonorus, a, um, without honour.
 Inhorreo, horru, rere, and Inhorresco, scere, to abhorre, to quake for feare, to tremble.
 Inhospes, he that will lodge no man.

Inhospitalis, le, vnapt for lodgyng or intrectynge.
 Inhospitalitas, aris, f. g. contrary to hospitalitas when one will lodge or intertayne no man.
 Inhospitalis, a, um, not meete, apte, or comodious to intertayne, barbarous, rude, dangerous.
 Inhospitalitesta, houses where no man may lodge.
 Inhumane, vngentilly, vncourteysly, cruelly.
 Inhumaniter, idem.
 Inhumanitas, tatis, f. g. inhumanitee, vngentylnesse, vncourtesie.
 Inhumanus, a, um, cruel, vncourteys, vngentilly, without all humanitee.
 Non adeo sum inhumano ingenio, I am not of so vngentill a nature or faction.
 Inhumatus, a, um, vnburied, not layed in the earth.
 Inhumo, inhumas, aui, are, to putte into the grounde, to interre, to laie in the earth.
 Inibi, euen there, anon, among them.
 Inieccio, onis, f. g. a castynge in.
 Manus inieccio, a leasure of lande.
 Iniectus, a, um, caste in.
 Iniectus, us, m. g. a castynge in or vpon.
 Iniecto, aui, are, to cast or put in often.
 Injicio, injicis, icci, icere, to cast or throwe in, to cast at some thyng, to throwe with violence, to put on.
 Injicere manum, to seyse or take possession of a thyng.
 Injicere manus in aliquem, to apprchende or attache one, to arrest one.
 Injicere scrupulum alicui, to put one in doubt.
 Injicere studium alicui, to stee, to prouoke, to encourage, to make despyous.
 Tantum iniecit ardoris, he made them haue suche a courage, he put them in suche a heate or to inflamed them.
 Beneficium injicere, to doo a pleasure to one proudly and contemptuously.
 Carenas & vincula injicere, To laye thynge or pions on one, to bynd.
 Certamen aliquibus injicere, to geue occasion of contention or strepe.
 Cunctationem injicere, to cause a matter to be prolonged.
 Curam alicui injicere, To make sollicitous or carefull.
 Injicere fugam inimicis, to putte enemies to flight.
 Injicio illud quod &c. I adde or saye that moze teouer. &c.
 Cum mihi in sermone inieciisset, when he had signified or made mention to me as wee talked together.
 Injicere mentem alicui, to put one in a fantasie or mynde to doo a thyng.
 Injicere metum, to make aserbe.
 Injicere spem, to make one to cōceyue an hope.
 Iniecta mihi est spes, I haue an hope.
 Injicere tumultum ciuitati, to raise a tumult.

He busynesse or rufflyng in a cite.
 Inieci se in medios hostes, he entred & rushed into the myddes of his enemies.
 Cogitationem alicui injicere, to make one to thynke or muse on a thing, or to haue a fantasie.
 Frans furoris injicere, To refreigne or stop ones furie.
 Inimice, lyke an enemy.
 Inimicus, a, f. g. hostiler, contrary to amitter, enmitte. Inimicitia sunt inter eos, They are fallen at variance.
 Inimico, aui, are, to make enemies.
 Inimicor, aris, ari, to practise hostilities.
 Inimicus, i, m. g. an enemy.
 Inimicus, a, um, not friendly, of or perteynyng to an enemy, hurtfull, noisum.
 Vultus inimicus, no friendly countenance.
 Inimicus oculis, hurtfull or noisom to the eyes.
 Inimitabilis, le, that no man can imitate or followe.
 Ininde, from thence, out of that place.
 Inique, mischeuously, or vniustly, vnequally, not indifferently.
 Inique facis, it is yll doone of you.
 Inique iniurius, that dooeth wrong without a cause.
 Iniquitas, aris, f. g. partialitee, contrary to iusticie, vnequalitee.
 Iniquitas loci, when one hath the vpper hande or better grounde of the other.
 Iniquitas temporis, the streite or dangerous condition of any tyme.
 Iniquus, a, um, not euen or playne. also not indifferent or iuste, vnequall, angry, that beareth yll wyl. somtyme great, also strait or narrow.
 Iniqua conditio, no indifferent, equall, or reasonable condition.
 Iniqui sermones, detraction, yll wordes.
 Iniquo animo ferre, To be discontented or sorrowfull, to take greuoulsly.
 Inis, orum, n. g. plu. nu. sacrifice dooen vnto Lites. Initorum dies, daies on the whiche thoir sacrifices were kept.
 Inuamenta, orum, n. g. plu. the first instructiōs in any kynd of religion, science, or knowlage.
 Inuitus, a, um, instructed or entred into rules concernynge religion.
 Inuito, aui, are, to instruct a thyng concernynge religion, to geue orders. also to begyn to doo a thyng.
 Initor, aris, ari, to be weaned as chyldren bee.
 Initium, i, n. g. begynnyng.
 Initiū capere, sumere, facere, ponere, to begyn.
 Inito, inuas, aui, are, to walke in.
 Initor, onis, m. g. a station.
 Initus, inuas, m. g. the leapyng or coueryng of a mare by an hoxse.
 Initus, a, um, begunne, entred.
 Initum verbis beneficium comprobare, To accomplishe in dedde a pleasure begunne in wordes.

Iniuicunditas, aris, f. g. vnpleasauntnesse.
 Iniuicunde, vnpleasauntly.
 Iniuicundus, a, um, vnpleasaunt.
 Inuidicatus, a, um, not iudged.
 Iniuges, cattell neuer yoked or broken, whiche were somtyme sacrificed.
 Iniungo, xi, ere, to enioyne, to commaunde, to appoynt, to laie on as a man wyl adde to a great burdeyne.
 Iniunxit cum eo amicitiam, for Coniunxit.
 Ne quod detrimentum reipublice iniungant, That they maie dooe no harme to the common weale.
 Iniungere iniuriam, to dooe iniury or displeasure. Necessitatem iniungere alicui, to constraigne one.
 Munus iniungere alicui, To geue to one the charge or office to doo a thyng.
 Ne tibi tantum laboris infungas, Doe you not put your selfe to take so muche paynes.
 Iniuratus, a, um, vnswoyne, that sweareth not, that hath not swoyne.
 Iniuria, a, form. gen. wrong, iniurie, reproche, damage, displeasure, offence, vnyght: taken as an aduerbe, it signifieth without cause, without defecte.
 Ab iniuria obliuionis se asserere, to make his name immortal, to bynge his name in perpetual memorie.
 Iniuria ciuium, wronges doon to the citisens.
 Obuiam ire iniuria, to pteuent and leat iniurie, hurte, or wronge.
 Soluere iniuriam, to reuenge wronge or iniurie dooen.
 Neg iniuria, And not without a cause.
 Non iniuria illud tibi accidit, That chaunced not to the without thy deseryng, or thou dydest deserue so muche.
 Offerre iniuriam immerenti, to doo wronge to one that dooeth not deserue it.
 Iniuria tua, through thy defaulte.
 Iniurior, aris, ari, deponent, to doo wronge, iniurie, ha me, or displeasure.
 Iniuriōse, wrongfully, inuiously.
 Iniuriōsus, a, um, that dooeth wrong, that hurteth or endamageth an other.
 Iniurius, a, um, wrogfull, he that doeth any thing agaynst the lawe of reason, vnrasonable.
 Iniurium est, for iniquum est.
 Ipsus sibi iniurius videtur, he maye seme to hym selfe to be vnreasonable.
 Iniustus, us, m. g. vnbiddynge.
 Iniustus imperatoris, without the emperours commaundement.
 Iniustus, a, um, not commanded or bydden.
 Inuisa virefunt gramina, without sowynge or husbandynge.
 Iniuste, vniustly, wrongfully.
 Iniustitia, a, f. g. iniustice, wronge.
 Iniustus, a, um, vniuste. also excedynge iuste measure.

Innabilis, le, that can not be swimmied in.
 Innascor, ceris, sci, to be ingendred in one. Some-tyme idem quod Nasci.
 Innato, innatas, aui, are, to swymme in a place.
 Innare aquis, and aquam, to swymme in the water.
 Innatus, a, um, ingendred.
 Id vitium omnibus innatum est, That vyce of faulte is naturally in all men, of all men haue it of nature.
 Innatus, and Aduentitus, contrary.
 Innatus his disciplinis animus, a mynde frasmed of nature to these learnynge.
 Non mihi auaricia vnuquam innata est, it was neuer my nature to be couctous.
 Innauigibilis, le, that can not be sayled in.
 Innecto, xui, ere, to knytte, tye, or bynde.
 Innitor, eris, inniti, to assaye, to endeuoure, to leane upon.
 Innititur hasta, he leaneth on his speare.
 Cubito innixa, leaping on his elbow.
 Inno, aui, are, to swymme in.
 Innocens, entis, om. gene. vnharmedfull, innocent, harmeless.
 Innocenter, innocently.
 Innocentia, æ, f. gene. integritie, true intent, innocence.
 Innocuus, a, um, vnharmedfull, he that doeth no harme, or he to whom no harme is dooen, not hurted.
 Innosco, tui, scire, to be known.
 Innouo, innouas, aui, are, to make newe, to reneue.
 Innóxius, a, um, wherin is no damage, that can doo no harme, harmeless, blameles. Somtyme that hath no harme dooen to it, that is not hurted.
 Vixit innoxius ab iniuria pecorum, That he bee not hurte of the cattail.
 Innúba, æ, f. g. the that was neuer married.
 Innúbilo, aui, are, to make obscure, darke, or cloudye.
 Innúbilus, a, um, sayre & clere, without cloudes.
 Innúbis, be, idem.
 Dies innúbis, a sayre day without cloudes.
 Innúbo, nupsi, nubere, to be married or brought home to a mans house.
 Innúbus, bi, m. g. he that was neuer married.
 Innumerabilis, le, innumerable.
 Innumerabilitas, átis, f. g. where bee so many that they can not be numbred.
 Innumerabiliter, without numbre.
 Innumerato, in a readynesse.
 Innúmerus, a, um, and Innumerósus, a, um,
 idem quod innumerabilis.
 Innuo, innuis, nui, ere, to graue or assent wth nodding of the head, to geue tokening of a thyng.
 Innuptus, a, um, unmarried.
 Innutrio, nutris, trui, ire, to nouryche, or byng vypp together.
 Innutritus, a, um, nourished, brought up, fostered,

trayned in a thyng.
 Ino, huius inus, the daughter of Cadmus, wyfe of Athamas kynge of Threbe, whiche (hyr hous-sebande beynge madde, and Learchus hyr sonne slayne) threwe hyr selfe into the sea.
 Inous, a, um, of Ino.
 Inoblitus, a, um, myndfull, that forgetteth not.
 Inobrutus, a, um, not ouerwhelmed or drowned.
 Inobscuro, aui, are, to make vnknewen, or of no fame or memorie.
 Inobsequens, entis, om. ge. disobedient, disobedient.
 Inobseruabilis, le, that can not be obserued or marked.
 Inobseruatus, a, um, not obserued.
 Inoccidus, a, um, that neuer vseth to fall.
 Inocco, aui, are, to harrowe in, to court with earthe.
 Inoculatio, ónis, f. m. gene. graffynge, when a bud of one tree is cut of rounde with a parte of the barke, and sette on an other: or when an hole is boored in a tree and a kernell put in with a little lome.
 Inoculator, óris, m. f. ge. he that vseth to graffe on that wyse.
 Inodoro, aui, are, to make a sauour, to perfume.
 Inodorus, a, um, without sauour.
 Inoffense, without stoppe or stay.
 Inoffensus, a, um, vnhurt, against the which a man hath no hurte, that doeth not offend, displease, or hurt.
 Inoffensa via, an easie and plaine waie, that one dooeth not hurte hym selfe in.
 Inoffensa tempora a valetudine viuere, To lyue all ones lyfe without sykkenesse.
 Inofficiósus, a, um, that dooeth against honestie and reason, or that doeth no good turne or pleasure to his frende.
 Inofficiosum testamentum, where the father by testament geueth awaye from his sonne, his landes or goodes without cause.
 Inolesco, lui, & leui, scire, to waxe great, to growe bygge, and somtyme actiuelly, to make to grow in.
 Inominatus, a, um, vnhappye, forspoken.
 Inopaco, aui, are, to shadowe, to make darke,
 as trees in a wood dooe vnder theym.
 Inopia, æ, f. ge. pouertee, lacke of thynges necessarie, neede, scarcitee.
 Inopia argenti, lacke of money.
 Inopia recti, lacke of an house to dwell in.
 Inopinabilis, le, that no man woulde euer haue thought.
 Inopinans, antis, om. g. not thinking, vnware.
 Inopinanter, suddenly, vnwares.
 Inopinate, and Inopinato, vnthought on, otherwyse than one looked or hoped.
 Inopinatus, a, um, vnthought on or vlooked for.
 Verba inopinata, woordes that escape a mans vnwares.
 Inopinatum & insperatum, Inopinus, a, um, idem quod Inopinabilis.

 Inopiosus, a, um, needie, without all helpe or succour. In olde woordes.
 Inopportunus, a, um, vnmeet, out of season,
 inconuenient.
 Inops, inopis, om. g. pooze, needie, lackynge helpe.
 Inso vnburied.
 Inops ab amicis, dispuerued of frendes, without frendes.
 Inops amicorum, idem.
 Auxiliu inops, that hath no ayde or helpe.
 Verbis inops, that lacketh woordes.
 Inora, beastes without mouthes.
 Inoratus, a, um, not expounded, or declared.
 Re inorata reuerterunt, they retourned againe without declaring or openynge the matter to them that they were sent to.
 Inordinatus, a, um, out of order or array.
 Inorior, eris, in, idem quod orior.
 Inornate, without eloquence.
 Inornatus, a, um, that is not decked or trimmed.
 Inquam, I saye, or dyd saie.
 Inquantum, in as muche, or for as muche.
 Inquantum potest plurimum, as muche as can be possible.
 Inquantumcunque magnitudine creuerunt, how muche so euer they haue growen or increased in bygges.
 Inquiet, eris, and Inquietus, a, um, vnrestfull, vnquiete.
 Inquiete nox, an vnquiete nyght, in the which men take no rest.
 Inquieti ingenia, vnquiete natures, desirynge sedition and busynesse.
 Inquiet, eris, f. g. care, vnquiethesse, watche, lacke of rest.
 Inquietatio, ónis, and Inquietudo, ónis, f. ge.
 disquietynge, trouble, vnreste.
 Inquieto, aui, are, to vnquiete or trouble.
 Inquinio, aui, are, to dwell in a strange place.
 Inquinus, ni, m. g. he that dwelleth in a place, where neyther he nor his ancestors were bozne,
 he that dwelleth in an other mans house.
 Inquinamentum, i, n. g. fylthe that disceynereth or pollureth.
 Inquinare, filthily, dishonestly.
 Inquinatus, a, um, defyled, disteined.
 Inquinio, inquinatus, aui, are, to defyle or pollute, to stayne, to die, to distaine.
 Inquinare famam aluius, to disteigne a mans fame or good name.
 Inquo, inquis, inquit, I saye, thou sayest, he saith. Ecum me inque, here I am say thou.
 Aliquis inquit, some man would saie.
 Inquiro, siui, tere, to inquire, to make inquisition on, to seeke, to aske, to demande.
 Inquisitio, ónis, f. g. inquisition, seeke.
 Incaue inquisitioni ne mihi sis, See that thou bee not from home, & cause me to seeke the abyode Inquisitor, óris, m. g. he that maketh inquisition or seeke for a thyng.

Inquisitus, a, um, searched or inquired for.
 Insalubris, bre, vnholysome.
 Insanabilis, le, incurable, that can not be healed.
 Insanabile ingenium, a witte or nature that ca-not be reformed, amended, or brought to reason by any good meanes.
 Insane, madly, with a fury or rage.
 Insania, æ, f. g. madness, peuisynesse, dotage, frowardnesse.
 Insania villarum, exesse or great sumptuousnes in building of houses or manours.
 Insanio, iui, ire, to be madde or peuishe, to dote, to doo vnadvisedly. Somtyme to make verses.
 Nisi ego insanio, excepte I be a veray foole, and utterly deceiued.
 Insanitas, átis, f. g. idem quod insania.
 Insanus, a, um, madde, peuishe, dotynge, regar-dyng no counsaile, frowarde, vntractable.
 Somtyme great. Sometime for valde sanus, very sage & prudent: as, Perf. Insano multum lau-danda magistro.
 Insani fluctus, great waues exceedynge troubles.
 Insane substructiones, meruaylous great buildynges or bulwarkes.
 Insane vites, vyues bearyng fruite beyonde
 measure.
 Insanum, aduerbialiter, wounderfull great,
 greatly.
 Insatiabilis, le, vnfaciable, somtyme that doeth not faciate or fyl.
 Insatiabiliter, vnfaciably.
 Insatiatus, a, um, vnfaciate.
 Insatiatus, a, um, that is not planted, geassed, or sowed.
 Insaturabilis, le, vnfaciate, that can not be filled.
 Insaturabiliter, vnfaciably.
 Inscendo, di, dere, to go up, or to clymbe.
 Inscendere currum, to go into the the chariot or waggon.
 Inscendere in arborem, to clymbe by into a tree.
 Inscendor, the passyue, to be clymed or leaped by on.
 Insciens, entis, vnwittynge, also not thynkynge on that he dooth, foolyshe, fonde.
 Non insciente te, nor without your knowlage,
 you not beynge ignorant in the matter.
 Insciens feci, I dyd it vnwares, or not witt-yng Me absente atque insciente, whyle I was absent, and not knowynge of the matter.
 Abi sis insciens, awake for or foole that thou arte. Inscientem atque imprudentem dicere ac facere omnia, to consider and regarde not thyng that he dooeth, or to dooe and saie all thynges vnknowynge and vnadvised.
 Inscienter, ignorantly, by ignorance, for lacke of knowlage.
 Insciencia, æ, f. g. ignorance.
 Inscire, nothyng prettily or handsomly, foolyshe.
 Inscitia, æ, f. g. ignorance, folly, foolyshe, foolnesse, lacke of knowlage, vnhelpfullnesse.
 Pp ij Prop

Propter lini vsus infisciam, because they knew not the vse of linnen of flax.
 Infiscia confidentiam parit, none is more bolde than blynde baparde.
 Infiscus, infiscia, um, nothyng seate of pteatie, dyspleasent, foolpthe.
 Quid est infiscus? what is more foolpthe?
 Infiscus, infiscia, um, ignorant, not knowyng.
 Inscibo, scriptis, scribere, to wypte in or vppon, the name of intiele.
 In fronte inscribere, to wypte in ones forehead.
 Monumento se medicum inscripsit, he caused to be grauen on his tumber that he was a phisician.
 Inscibitur Panathenaicus, It is intituled Panathenaicus.
 Aedes inscribere, to wypte on the dooze that the house is to be solde of let.
 Corpus inscribere, to rente, to mangle, or make scarres and signes of woundes on ones bodye.
 Pulvis inscribitur hasta, the dust was raised with the speare.
 Inscipuo, onis, f. g. an inscription, a tyle, a note, a marke.
 Inscriptiones frontis, markes bourned in ones forehead with a hor pson.
 Inscriptum, ti, n. g. a superscription, also a lytelle byllet or letter, such as marchantes haue out of the custome house.
 Inscriptus, a, um, vnwyitten, wyitten vpon, named or entituled.
 Inscripta epistola patri, the letter was wyitten to his father.
 A lia est scripta, alia inscripta.
 Insculpo, sculpsi, sculpeie, to ingraue, carue or entayle.
 Insculptum in animo, prynted or fastened in ones mynde.
 Inseco, insecas, insecui, are, to cut in.
 Insecabilis, le, that can not be cut.
 Insectatio, onis, a raylyng or speakyng agaynst one with al the pl wordes that a man can diuile.
 Insecto, aui, are, is sometyme read in the actyue voyce.
 Insector, aris, ari, to pursue or renne after.
 Insectari aliquem hasta, to pursue one with his speare.
 Insectari lapidibus, to renne after one, and hurle stones at hym.
 Insectari aliquem maledictis, to cople, to speake all the puel that a man can diuile agaynst one.
 Insectus, a, um, cut in.
 Insecta animalia, be all flies and woormes that be diuiled in thei bodies, the head and breast from the bealy and tayle, as bees, waspes, es motes or pismers, and such lyke.
 Insecutus, a, um, that foloweth immediatly.
 Insedabilis, le, that can not be quieted or made saulme.

Insedabiliter, so that it can not be quieted or made saulme.
 Insedatus, a, um, vnquiet, or not quiet, troublous.
 Insemino, aui, are, to sowe in.
 Insenesco, senui, scere, to continue longe, and as it were to spende all ones lyfe in a thynge.
 Insensibilis, le, and insensilis, le, vnseensible.
 Insepuius, a, um, not buried.
 Insequens, entis, that ensueth or foloweth immediately.
 Insequens annus, the nexte yere folowynge.
 Insequor, aris, qui, to folowe, to ensue, to pursue, to st. the vnfriendly agaynst one.
 Insequi contumelia, to rale of chye.
 Inserens, a, um, cloude, not fapye of clere.
 Insero, inseris, ferui, rere, insertum, to set in, toigne, to put in, to cast in, to entermyngle.
 Manum in sinum inserere, to put ones hande in his bosome.
 Quod admirandis suis inseruit, whiche thynge he dyd put or wypte amonge his wondres.
 Bellis civilibus se inserere, to meddle or take parte in ciuile warres.
 Collum in laqueo inserere, to put ones necke in the halter.
 Insero, inseris, infcui, infctum, inserere, to end plant, to engraft, to instill, to sow in or among.
 Inserere frumentum arboribus, to sow corne among trees.
 Inserere hortos, to sow of plant.
 Inserpo, Idem quod Serpo.
 Inseto, aui, are, to set to, to put in often.
 Incertorium, rij, n. g. the bond of thong, wherewith a tregat or bucklar is hangd on a mans arme.
 Inseruio, uiui, ire, to serue, to do pleasure or service to one gladly and voluntarily.
 Inseruire suis commodis, to prouyde of doo all that one can for his owne aduantage.
 Inseruire honoribus, to geue all his diligence to purchase honour and aduancement.
 Inserui valetudini tuæ, cherpthe pour helthe, of dooe as it shall be most conuenient for your health.
 Plebi summa ope inseruium est, they endeuoured with al diligence to please the peple.
 Insihilo, aui, are, idem quod Sibilo.
 Insecutus, a, um, dyed.
 Insidens, the participle of insido.
 Insidens, entis, sytyng on or in, chauncyng.
 Equo insidens, sitting on his horse.
 Insidet, insit, sed, fidere, to sitte on, to sitte in, or be in, to besiege, to abyde in a place.
 Insidere equo, to sytte on horsebacke.
 Insidere in sella, to syt on a stiole.
 Insider pedibus dolor, The pegne resteth in the fete.
 Si tibi penitus insedisset ista suspicio, if this suspition had been so vterly setled or rooted in your mynde.
 Quod non in memoria mea penitus insedel derit, whiche dydde not sticke fast in my med moipe.

 Insidere itinera, To lye in wayte in the waies that men muste passe by.
 Quingentis milibus arcem insederat he kept the garrison with fise hundred souldiours.
 Insideri, the pastue.
 Insidat, arum, f. g. plu. nu. wyles to intrapye a man ere he be ware, an ambusse, a conspircie.
 Demidius nihil agendum putat, he thynketh it mete that nothyng shoulde be dooen deccitfully and craftily.
 Ex insidis aucupari, to lye in awayt, to spy.
 Consergere ex insidis, To bypake out of an ambusse.
 Parare insidias vitæ alicuius, To conspire a mans deathe.
 Insidiator, oris, m. gen. he that layeth wayte to deceyue.
 Insidiator, aris, ari, to praetise wyles, to entrappe or betraie a man, to laye awayt to deceyue.
 Insidiose wylly, craftily, deceptfully, falsely.
 Insidiosus, a, um, full of wyles or deceptfulness, false.
 Insido, insidis, sedi, ere, to enter to the intent to abyde, to synke into a thynge, to scale in a thynge.
 Insidere memoria, to speke or settle in ones memoire.
 Insidor, the pastue.
 Apes variis insidunt floribus, light downe and lute vpon.
 Insigne, nis, n. g. a notable signe or token.
 Quod erat insigne, whiche was an euident token.
 Ad memoriam insigne, a thynge wothe remembrance.
 Insigne regium, the habite and estate roiall.
 Insignia, al thynge notable and manifest.
 Insignia, orum, signes or tokens of honoure, wherby euery estate or great authorite is known, as robes, inaces, swordes borne vpright, rappes of maintenance, and othe lyke thynge. also tokens of doctrine and verue, as statutes tpyed with spluer, whiche beadyles beare before our oure, hoodes furro, crownes of laurell. It maye be also taken for the armes or badges of genyll men.
 Insigno, iui, ire, to note with some signe, also to double knyghtes.
 Insignare aliquem, to marke one.
 Insignare annum cladibus, to make a yere notable by great murder and slaughter.
 Insignis, ne, notable, whether it be in good or pte: as, insignis virtute, and insignis virtus. also excellent, marked with some speciall token to be knownen. euident, apparant, manifest, sometyme great.
 Insignis ad deformitatem puer, a chyld very pte fauoured and myde shapen.
 Res insignis ad decus & ad gloriam, a thynge notable to gette honoure and glorie.
 Insignis auro & purpura, gorgeously appar ailed in golde and purple, & thereby the more notable.

 Cum aliquo insigni iudicio, meæ erga te bes neuoletia, with some euident and apparant token of my good will towards you.
 Insigne odium, manifest and apparant hatred.
 Insigniter, and insigniter, notably, excellently, greatly.
 Homo insigniter malus, a veraiue naughtye person, notably knownen to euery man.
 Insigniter facta magna est iniuria, great wroge is dooen to hym veraiue euidently.
 Insigne, nis, n. g. the treadle of a wraute loome.
 Insilio, insilui, insilui, or insili, ire, to leape in or vpon.
 Teigo alicuius insilire, to leape on ones backe, insilire in equum, to leape to horsebacke.
 Insimul, together, a woide selborne vscd.
 Insimulatio, oris, f. g. an accusation or appeal.
 Insimulo, aui, are, to accuse, to detecte, to lay to ones charge, properly a crime that is not true, but a forged matter. also to feigne or dissimble, to make semblaunce to doo a thynge.
 Quod illum insimulat datum, id non est, where as he accuseth hym, or layeth to his charge, that he is hard of heart, it is not so.
 Insimulare aliquem auaritia, to laye to ones charge that he is covetous.
 Insinuatio, oris, f. g. a colourable & crafty begynnyng of an oration, dissimplyng some thynge, where the matter maye not be fauourably herd.
 Insinuatus, a, um, an aduicte.
 Insinuo, aui, are, to put in ones bosom, to byng into, to conioigne, to put in a mans mynde secretly and craftily.
 Aliquem aliter insinuare, to byng one in fauour with an othe.
 In causam insinuare se, to considre the ground of a matter.
 Insinua se, by craftye meanes by littell and littell, to creepe into fauour or credence.
 Insinuare se in consuetudinem, to enter in acquaintance, or be come familiar with one.
 Insinuare se in sermonem aliquorum, to entreteine communicat on with them, whiche be all ready talkyng of a matter.
 Insinuare se mala, cupis and mischies creepe and enter in by littell and littell.
 Insinuare se in quam maxime familia: vsu, To offer ones selfe to doo all the pleasure and service that is possible for a man.
 Insinuat, for insinuat.
 Insinuatis manibus, the handes clasped one within an othe.
 Insipidus, a, um, vnfauour.
 Insipiens, entis, without discretion, foolpthe, vnwyse.
 Insipo, aui, are, to cast, a woode out of vse.
 Insipienter, vnwisely, without wisdom, and discretion.
 Insipientia, æ, f. gen. folp, foolshenesse, lacke of wisdom.

Insisto, stici, sistere, to sette fast and firmly, to endeavour, to prouoke or solcite. Sometime to assiste, to persiste, to continue, to inforce, to laste earnestly, to pursue a matter diligently, to rest, to stop or stande still, to pause as one would speake no more. Sometime to leane vpon. Insistebat in manu Cereris dextera simulachrum pulcherrime factum victoriae, There was in the right hand of Ceres an image of victorie most pleasantly wroughte.

Aliquod negotium insistere, To goe about some affayre or busynesse.

Hastra insistere, to leane on a speare.

Mente & animo insistere in rem aliquam, to employe all wytte and mynde on some thyng.

Omnes itinera insistant sua, leat euery man goe his owne waye.

Quam insistam viam? what way shall I kepe? Vestigis alienis insistere, To folowe other mens doynge.

Insistere vestigiis laudum suarum, to continue in his well dooynge.

Vis insistere, aut ingredi, to tary by the way, or to go forth.

Vno crure insistere, to stande stedfastly on one legge. Ne insistas credere huic, Doo you not beleue this fellowe.

Si in singulis insistere velim, if I would abide and speake at length of euery one of them.

Insistere digitiis, to stande on ones toes.

Insitio, onis, f. g. graftynge.

Insitium, a, neu. gen. that is grafted or set in, not variue.

Insitius, a, um, straunge, not naturall, that is sette in by arte.

Insitius sermo, Cui patrius opponitur.

Insitium, i, n. g. a grafted sette in the stocke.

Insitium, a legot or other lyke meate, stuffed with egges and fleshe chopped or mynced.

Insitius, a, um, that is grafted or putte in, not naturall.

Insitor, oris, m. ge. a grafter.

Insitus, insitus, m. g. idem quod Insitio.

Insitus, a, um, ingendred in a thyng naturally, grafted in.

Insociabilis, le, that can not be soigned or myngled together, or brought in one compaigne or fellowshipp.

Insolabiliter, without comfort, so that he coule not be comforted, desperately.

Insolatio, onis, f. g. a sunnynge.

Insolatus, a, um, sunned.

Insolati dies, sunny daies.

Insolens, entis, om. g. not wont or accustomed, haue, arrogant, presumptuous, not taryng it as he hath dooen.

Insolens infamia, not wont to haue an ylle name or slander.

Bellorum insolens, not wont to haue warre.

Insolens verbum, a woorde not used of good authours.

Lætitia insolens, immoderate ioye.

Insolens ostentatio, a proude auauntynge or boastyng.

Insolenter, arrogantly, seldome, not accusator medijs. Superbe & insolenter.

Insolentia, a, f. g. seldome use of vñe in any thing, vnhynging of a place. also presumption, wanton pryde, newe founde lordshippes, late taryng state vpon one, presumptuous vanityng, arrogancie, insolencie.

Insolite, not as it was wonte.

Insolitus, a, um, not wonte, not accustomed, not used, straunge.

Ratio dicendi insolita, a maner of speakyng not used.

Insolitus ad laborem exercitus, an army not accustomed to trauayle.

Insolitus rerum bellicarum, not accustomed of brought vp in warefare.

Insolo, au, are, to dye in the sunne, to lye out in the sunne, to bleache.

Insolubilis, le, that can not be leasde, vnbounde, or vnloosen, or that can not be recompensed.

Insolubile beneficium, a benefite, that can not be requered.

Insoluitus, a, um, not paid.

Insomnia, a, f. g. lacke of power to sleepe.

Insomnis, ne, without sleape, that watcheth alwaye.

Noctes insomnes, nyghtes without sleepe.

Noctem insomnem ducere, not to sleape all nyght longe.

Insomniōsus, a, um, troubled or vexed with dreames, that dreameth muche in sleapyng.

Insomnium, ni, n. g. a vayne dreame.

Insono, insonas, ui, are, to sowne.

Insons, ontis, com. ge. innocent, or not guilty, without faute.

Insonus, insona, num, without noyse, an olde woorde.

Insopitus, a, um, watchefulle, not drowly or sleapyng.

Inspectatio, onis, f. g. a beholding, a looking on.

Inspectio, onis, f. g. a beholding, an ouersight, a looking on, a contollement, a viewynge or consyderynge, a seynge.

Inspectionem alicuius rei habere, to haue the charge to viewe and consyder a thyng.

Inspecto, au, are, to beholde attentively, to wayte on, to looke in or vpon.

Inspector, oris, m. g. an ouerser, a controller, one that hath the charge to see & allowe wares or chaffer that is commonly sold.

Insuperabilis, le, that no man would hope or looke for, past all hope.

Insuperans, antis, that hopeth not for a thyng.

Insuperans, a, um, not hoped for, todaye, not looked for.

Ex insperato, othertwyse than one hoped or looked for.

Inspergo, spersi, gere, to spraye or cast vpon.

Inspecto, inspici, exi, spicere, to beholde, to ouerser, to contollet, to consyder a thyng thoroughly, to viewe, to se. che.

Vis ne inspiciamus a puero? wylt thou that we should consyder what maner of fellowe thou hast bene euen from thy chyldhod?

Inspicere sententiam alicuius, Diligently to attende and consyder what one meaneth.

Inspicere hominem propius, to viewe or beholde a man, to consyder more earnestly what maner of fellowe one is.

Inspicere aliquem experimentis, to assay and proue what maner of man one is.

Insipio, au, are, to make a thyng small or sharp lyke to a wheate care, whā it shooteth out of the holt.

Insipio, au, are, to inspyre, to blowe in.

Gianaria aquilonibus inspiantur, Leat the graniers be so made, that the north wyndes may blow in.

Inspirare aliquid oculo per fistulam, to blowe in a thyng in to the eye.

Alicuius inspirare, for Aspiracionem prapondere.

Insoluitus, a, um, not robbed or spoiled.

Insipio, inspui, spui, ere, and Insputo, au, are, to spette on.

Insipio, au, are, to spette on one.

Instabilis, le, vnstable, vnconstante, lyghte, that can not tarye or abyde in one place, or in one state.

Vultus instabilis, a wylde or chyttyr looke.

Instabilitas, atis, f. g. vnconstancie, instabilitee.

Instans, antis, an instaunce, the least parte of tyme.

Instanter, instantly.

Instantia, thynge, that be present.

Instantia, a, f. g. earnest and continuall diligence, earnest bechmentie of oracion.

Instar, n, g. vnclayned, as it were of lyke, and is referred to measure, quantitee, or lykenesse.

Simulacrum instar quatuor digitorum erit, so soone as it shall be foure fngers longe.

Instar quinque modiorum, to the measure of five bushelles.

Duum instar legionum, about the numbre of two legions.

Vitis instar, as it were a tisee, or lyke a tisee.

Instar refectionis existimas mutationem laboris, pou esteeme the change of labour to be a refreshynge.

Instar voluminis erat epistola, The epistle was great lyke a booke or volume.

In quo instar omnium auxiliorum erat, which could dooe as muche as all the other ayders or helpes.

Insta, is sometime used for Exemplar.

Si proponatur instar quoddam operis, id est Exemplar, a platte, a paterne.

Ad instar exercitus, for Ad similitudinem exercitus.

Instat, It is nygh, it is come, it is euen at hande. Cæsar vbi se diutius duci intellexit, & diem instare, qua die frumentum milibus macti oportebat, When Cæsar perceyued, that he was delayed, and the daye was nygh come, that he must nedes deliuer coine to his men of warre.

Instatio, onis, f. g. the appteynge of a thyng.

Instauratio, onis, f. g. rededynge, reparyng, resnewynge.

Instauratiuus, a, um, that pteyneth to reuynng or reparyng.

Instauro, au, are, to newe make or begyn agayne any thyng. Sometime to reueue, or refoyme, to rededifie, to reparye.

Instaurare bellum, to make warre estones, to reueue the warre.

Instaurare tunicam aduersus hyemem, to prouyde or make a coate agaynst the colde of wynter.

Instaurare acies, to reparye an army that is dyscompted.

Instaurare cadem, to commit a newe murder.

Epulas instaurare, to reueue a feaste or banquet with m. d. p. ches, to vrynge in an other course.

also to begyn a banquet agayne.

Insterno st. au, are, to couer, to sprede vpon, to late abyde vpon.

Terra insterni, to be buried.

Equus regio instratus ornatu, an hofse roially attapped.

Instigans, gantis, om. g. styrynge, mouynge, perswadyng.

Instigante te, Thorough thy perswasion or motion.

Instigatio, onis, f. g. a motion, or pryckynge forwarde.

Instigator, oris, m. g. a motioner, one that prycketh and moueth a man to a thyng.

Instigatus, us, m. g. an instigation, motion, or pryckynge forwarde.

Instigo, au, are, to moue, styre or prycke forwarde.

Instillatio, onis, f. g. infusion or powrynge in by lytell and lytell.

Instillo, au, are, to put or powre in by lytell and lytell, to let in by droppe meale, to sal in droppe by droppe.

Instimulo, au, are, to prycke, to styre, or to motion to a thyng.

Instincto, oris, m. g. a motioner or mouer, a perswader.

Instinctus, us, m. g. an inward motion, an inspiation, an instigation or perswasion.

Instinctu alicuius facere, to doe a thyng by a mans perswasion or motion.

Instinctus, a, um, inwardly moued.

Instingo, inxi, gere, to moue inwardly, a word out of vse.

Instipulator, aris, ari, to demaunde or require of one, whether he wyl geue or dooe a thyng for hym, and he answereth, yea, Q to couenaunt by demaunding and promysing.

Instita, instita, f. g. a purse, a garde.
Instito, au, ai, e, to repugne or withstande.
Institor, toris, m. g. a chapman, a mercer. Also he that selleth apparayle and fyne stuffe, goyng aboute therewith. Also a merchautes factour.
The sygne named the seven sterres, is sometyme called institor velis.
Institor eloquentia, a vaunter and setter foorth of eloquence, a marchaunte of eloquence.
Institorius, a, um, petteynynge vnto chapmans
shyppe.
Actio institoria, an action agaynst the mayster for the acte of the factoure.
Institorix, icis, f. g. a woman seruaunt that selleth warres for her maistresse.
Instiuo, tui, ere, to institute, to begynne, to institute or teache, to trayne, to breake or haue the fyre breakeyng, to ordeyne or appoint, to purpose or aduise, to enter, to prepare, to furnish or make in a readinesse.
Aueo scire, quarum rerum rationem instituat, I would fayne knowe whereabout he goeth, or what he intendeth to dooe.
Senex institui lyranon erubescere, beyng an olde man, he was not ashamed to be taughte to playe on the harpe.
Instituere sibi amicos, to purchase and geat friends.
Animum ad cogitandum instituere, to set-tyle or apply the mynde, to thynke or muse on a shyppe.
Cursum cum instituere, whan thou haste once begunne thy course to renne.
Haredem instituere, to appoynte or ordein an heire.
Instituere in animo, to purpose, to intende.
Naues instituere, to prouyde and furnyshe shyppes.
Nauem instituere, to cause a shyppe to be made.
Negotium instituere, To goe about a busyn-esse.
Oracionem cum aliquo instituere, to tourne or bende his communication to one.
Vitem instituere, to plante a vine.
Ita ut facere instituit, As he hath begunne to dooe.
Argumenta in corde institui, I haue heaped by reasons and argumentes in my mynde.
Accusationem instituere, to commence an action, or make a complaint by byll.
Astutiam instituere, To inuente a craftye
meane.
Cepamen sibi instituere cum aliquo, to purpose to be at variance with one.
Collegium instituere, to founde a colledge.
Consuetudinem instituere, to enter into fasshion. Also to institute amicitiam cum aliquo.

Defectum militum instituere, to rapte or muster men for the warres.
Quæstum sibi instituere, to begyn a way to haue gayne or profite by it.
Vitam sapienter instituere, he appointed his lyfe,
or prepared hym selfe wylfully.
Instituta, orum, n. g. plur. ancient maners and customes. also ordinaunces.
Institutio, onis, f. g. instruction, doctrine, teachyng, also a purpose to declare or teache.
Institutio & disciplina.
Institutum, ti, n. g. an ordinaunce, a decree, a lawe,
a good maner or custome, taken by reason and aduiselement. sometyme a purpose or intente. also a beginnyng.
Pro meo instituto, for my purpose.
Instituto Platonis, after Platos schoole or
lawe.
Abduci a suis institutis, to bee withdrawen from thes purposes, or from thes accustomed maner.
Meo instituto vsus sum, I did after myne accustomed facion.
Constitutione atque instituto maiorum, After the custome and maner of our forefathers.
Institutum vitæ capiendum, some maner or trade of lyuynge must be chosen.
Institutus, a, um, appoynted, ordeyned, instructed, taught, trapped, begon, entered.
Insto, institi, are, to require instantly, to be earnest on one to doe a thyng, to sollicite, to strike to, to resiste, to perseute, to preale on, to come on or immediately, to follow, to enforce, to pers-sue and folowe strenghtly, to auouchy or as-syrme earnestly, also to be nygh.
Vestigijs alicuius instare, to folowe one foot-by foote, also to imitate or folowe ones dooynges.
Instat, it is now.
Periculum instat, daungier is at hande.
Instans me tibi bona, I am at the poynt to do the good.
Quod nunc instat agamus, Let vs dooe that is now moste necessary.
Instare operi, to hasten a worke forwarde instantly.
Rectam instas viam, It is euen as thou saist, thou art in the ryght waie.
Hac an illac iter instituit, went he this waie or
that waie.
Ille instat factum, He auowed or saied earnestly by that it was so.
Instare ad deum, id est, perseuerat.
Instabat certo vultu index, The accusor auouch-ed it with an earnest countenaunce, or did stande earnestly in it.
Instragulum, li, n. g. idem quod Stragulum.
Instratum, i, n. g. a counterpoynte. also it signifieth all tapestry, whiche serueth to cover any thyng, also the trapper of the apparayle of an horse,

horse, an horse clothe.
Instratus, a, um, couered, trapped.
Instruenus, a, um, not valiaunt and hardy, not diligent prompte and hardy to do thynges, vnsnoble, vnholys.
Animus non instruenus, a noble and gentyll
courage.
Instrupo, instrapis, pui, pere, to make a trashyng, crashyng, or noyse.
Instringo, strinxigere, idem quod Stringo, To bynde or streyne harde. After some to vn-bynde.
Instructio, onis, f. g. a setting in aray or order,
a teachyng or instructyng.
Instructio exercitus, setting of an armie in array.
Instructor, oris, m. g. he that maketh preparation or furnissheth.
Instructus, us, masc. gener. furnished, appa-rable.
Instructus, a, um, instructed, taught, furnished,
garnished, appointed with all necessaries.
Instructiores peditum copie, The footes minne were in better order and better appointed.
Vir instructissimus, a man furnished with all maner of thynges necessarie or conuenient.
Quam instructus ad perniciem sit? How well appoynted he is to vndooe or rasse awaye a man?
Instrumentum, ti, neu. gen. an instrumente or toole. Also ordinaunce of warre, vessel, and all necessaries of householde and housebandy.
Sometyme it signifieth a dede or charter concernyng lande, dettes, or couenaunces. Also that serueth for an ayde or helpe to dooe or to attayne a thyng.
Instrumentum regni, a wytyngge or instrumente, concernyng the state royall.
Instrumentum venatorium, all thynges belon-gynge to huntynge.
Instruo, instruis, uxi, ere, to set in order or aray, to arme, to instruct, to furnissh with all thynges necessary, to prepare.
Domum instruere, to garnyshe an house with all thynges necessary.
Epulas instruere, to prouyde for a feast or banquette.
Insidias instruere, to prepare thynges to intrap or deceiue one.
Instruenda fraudi aliquanto intentior, somewhat busy in deuysing how to deceiue.
Instruere accusationem, to prouide wytynges, letters, witnesses, and all thynges necessarie for an accusation.
Instruere aciem, to set an army in order of battyle.
Menfas instruere epulis, to furnishe the tables with muche meate of many dishes.
Instruere nauigia, to furnishe shyppes with all abilimentes and takelnynges.

Instruamus qua in oratione, Let vs teache it what maner of oracion.
Instupens, enus, om. g. beyng astonied, that is without sence or feeling.
Insulsum, si, n. g. a hynde of pelow or tawnte cos-lour, as that hath, whiche is hanged in the smoke.
Insulanis, ue, vnsweete, sower, styngynge, vnspleasant.
Insubide, rashely, without aduiselement.
Insubidus, a, um, rash.
Insubres, Ambardes, properly men of the duchie of Guelayne.
Insubtiliter, not subtilly.
Non insubtiliter, wittily, craftily.
Insuccandus, a, um, that must be moisted with licour.
Insucco, au, are, to make moist with licour, Insuefactus, a, um, accustomed, taught, brought in bre.
Insuesco, suai, scere, to be wonte, to vse for a custome, to practise.
Insuescere corpori meretricis, id est, consue-tudinem stupri habere.
Insuevit pater optimus hoc me, my father did accustome me to this.
Insuesci, the passyue.
Sic insuesci debent, ut in &c.
Insuetus, insueti, um, not vsed, not accustomed, not wont. Insuetus nauigandi, not vsed to be on the sea.
Insuetum iter, a waie that hath not ben accustomed to be gone in, a waie vnhaunted.
Insuetus mos, a facion that hath not been vsed.
Insuetus moribus Romanis, not accustomed to the maner or behauiour of the Romanys.
Insuetus laboris, not wonte or vsed to laboure.
Insuetus vera audire, not wonte to here the trithe of matters.
Insuefacio, feci, facere, to accustome, to byng in bre.
Insula, læ, f. g. an yle mutronned with water. It is also an house in a towne, haupng none other house ioyned to it, but streetes on euery syde of it.
Insularis, re, belongyng to an yle.
Insularius, rij, m. g. he that kepeth a noble mans house or manour.
Insularius, a, um, most vile, properly men banys-hed into ples to dygge mettall.
Insulatus, a, um, made an yle.
Insulse, vnwylfully, foolyshe.
Insulsius, ratis, form. gener. foolyshe, vnssauourynesse, lacke of grace, or pleasantnesse.
Insulsus, a, um, without smache of salte, vnsauo-rie, foolyshe, without wylfedom, that hath no grace, that hath no quicknesse or lustynesse, that hath no pleasant facion neither in woordes nor lecture, nor otherwyle in his behauiour, and conter

consequently verie foolish, and such as no man hath any pleasure in.
 Edagatio infamia, a foolish request.
 Insultatio, onis, f. g. a leaping vp, outrageous mocking or scornage, a reproching of one in wordes, a bragging agaynst a man, as though he had overcome him.
 Insulto, aui, are, to leape vp, to leape for toyce or to scoone, to speake or doo in the reproche of a man, to mocke.
 Insultare fores calcibus, to knocke or beate ones heeles agaynst the doore.
 Insultura, ræ, fæ. gen. leapinge vp or into a thynge.
 Insimul, ines, fui, to be in some thynge.
 Seueritas inest in vultu, There is in his face, or countenance, sagesse and grauitie.
 Quicquid hic inest, what so euer is here with in.
 Is mihi candor inest, I am of that gentynesse or curtesie.
 Inest nobis spes, we haue a hope.
 Insimmo, aui, are, to fynishe.
 Insimo, pli, meic, to spende or laie out money, to bestowe, also to take to hym.
 Operam frustra insimere, to bestow labour in vayne.
 Sumptus in rem aliquam insimere, to bestow coste.
 Mentis insimere dignas captis, take to you courages, &c.
 Insuo, insui, insuere, to sowe in, and by translation, to toppe in, or to thier.
 Insuper, furthermore, moreover, also above, or vnder, vpon, from above.
 Insuper quam, for præterquam.
 Insuper his, more ouer than this, ouer and besides these thynge.
 Duos insuper consulatus gessit, he was twice Consul together.
 Insuperabilis, le, that can not be overcome or brought vnder.
 Insurgo insurxi, ere, to ryse vp agaynst a thynge.
 Insuluro, aui, are, to whisper, to make a hum mynge.
 Insultare alteri, or in aurem alterius, To whisper in ones eare.
 Insusceptus, a, um, not receyued or taken.
 Insyncerus, a, um, not pure, corrupte.
 Intabesco, idem quod I abesco.
 Intactilis, le, that can not be touched, or that wyl not be touched.
 Intactus, a, um, not touched, not corrupted, not defiled, not deflowered, not violated, not hurte.
 Intacti religione animi vir, a man that hath no remorse or scrupulosities of conscience, or without all religion or feare of god.
 Intactus a sibilo, neuer hissed at.
 Intactus infamia, haung his good name neuer dyspnyed.

Intaminatus, a, um, not defyled or dyspnyed.
 In tantum, so muche.
 Integer, integra, um, if it bee spoken of age, it signifyeth yonge and lusty. if it be spoken of a man, it signifyeth honest in all poyntes and qualities. In a thynge it signifyeth entier and whole.
 Alfo false, sounde, not broken, or werryed with labour, vncorrupted, pure, not deflowered. Some tyme sobye.
 Integer aui, lusty of age.
 Integer ab labore, not werryed.
 Integrum se seruare, to kepe hym selfe indifferente, and meddle with neyther of the parties.
 Mulier ætate integra, a woman beyng in her best yeres, or beyng in the flower of her tyme or nothyng broken with age.
 Exercitus integer, an army whole and sounde, in the which no man hath perished or myssed.
 Integra res and perdita, contrary.
 Integer sanguis, pure and vncorrupted blood.
 Integra valetudo, perfect good helth.
 Ab integro, a fresh, a newe.
 Homo integer & sanctus, a perfecte honest man.
 Omnia integra principi relinquere, to meddle with nothyng in any matter, but to reserue all whole to the prince.
 Integri, cum onusti vino & cibo opponuntur, sober, not accursed or out of temper through festynge.
 Vt integri defessis succedant, that the fresh & lusty men shoulde come in theyr places that be werryed.
 Integra æstimation, a mans estimation whole and sounde, or not dyspnyed or diminished.
 Cum tibi in integro tota res esset, when the whole matter was in your handes, or in that case that ye myght haue doen as ye lysted.
 Non est integrum, it is past remedy, it can not be holpen.
 Integrum esse, to be at a mans libertie, or in his power.
 Non est integrum Cn. Pompeio, consilio iam vii tuo, It is not now in Pompeys power to dooe after your counsaile.
 Ego si mihi esset integrum, susciperem hoc crimen, if I were at my libertie, I would take that blame vpon me.
 Constituent quid agant, quibus integrum est, they which yet haue doen nothyng, that they may take hede what they doo.
 Si mihi esset integrum, if it were in my power, or if it were to dooe that I haue done.
 In integrum restituere, to byngge it to the first estate, to restore it to the poynte that it was at.
 In integro esse, is spoken, where in any matter or affayre, there is nothyng done, but that euery man may dooe as it lyeth in hym.
 Sed quoniam hæc iam neque in integro esse possunt, But for as muche as there is no remedy, or that these thynge may not be holpe, or may not bee in as good case as they were.

 Integro, integis, texti, tegere, to couer, to thetche.
 Integrasco, scere, to bee renewed.
 Integre, truely and diligently, sincerely, purely.
 Integritas, aris, f. ge. honestie, without corruption, innocencie, integritie.
 Corporis integritas, good disposition of the body, helthynesse of the body.
 Fraus & integritas, contrarie.
 Integro, integras, aui, are, to begynne agayne, to renewe.
 Integumentum, ti, n. g. a coueryng.
 Integumenta flagitiorum, clothes or couerynges of naughtynesse.
 Intellectualis, le, of vnderstandynge.
 Intellectus, us, m. g. vnderstandynge, knowlage, intelligence, sometyme the signification of a woode.
 Intellectus saporum, tastynge, or the iudgement of tastes.
 Intellectum consequi, to attein to the knowlage or vnderstandynge of a thynge.
 Intellectus disciplinarum, knowlage, learning, science.
 Cuius intellectum acrimonia, without any perceyving or feelyng of eigneisse.
 Habere duplicem intellectum, to haue twoo significacions.
 Intellectus, a, um, vnderstanded, perceyued, known.
 Intelligens, entis, om. g. vnderstandynge, wyse, rannynge.
 Intelligens iudicium, a learned and substantiall iudgemente, that procedeth of a great knowlage.
 Intelligens principis, he that perceleth the princis nature and inclination.
 Intelligenter, playnely, so that it may be easily vnderstanded.
 Intelligencia, æ, fæ. ge. the perceyvinge of the mynde, vnderstandynge, intelligence.
 Intelligibile, that may be vnderstanded.
 Intelligo, and sometymes Intellego, lexi, ligere, or legere, to vnderstande, to perceue.
 Intelligere animum aluius, to knowe and perceue ones mynde.
 Non satis intelligo, I doo not well perceue.
 Intelligo de gestu, quid responderas, I perceue by the gesture or mouynge of thy bodye, what thou woldest answer.
 Male intelligere, not to vnderstande or perceue well, to take a thynge amisse.
 Non intelligitur quando obrepit senectus, No man feeleth or perceueth when olde age creepeth vpon hym.
 Inemerata, perfecte sacrifices, all thynge obtruded.
 Inemerandus, a, um, holy, consecrat, that may not be prophaned.

Intemeratus, a, um, vnderstanded, vncorrupted, not troubled, not violat.
 Intemerata fides, credence or faithfulness not dyspnyed.
 Intemperans, anis, om. g. he that dooth euery thynge without order or measure, vntemperate, he that is not maister of his owne appetites.
 Intemperans sum in rei cupiditate, quam non sit, I couete or dyspyre that thing that ye wot of, beyonde all measure.
 Intemperantia, æ, f. g. intemperantie, when one can not rule or moderate his appetites & lustes. vntulnesse of mynde, seruage to pleasure.
 Intemperantia risus, when one can not reserue gne laughynge.
 Loci intemperantia, immoderate gestynge, when one can not forbear.
 Intemperanter, vntemperately, vnmoderately.
 Intemperatè, proudly.
 Intemperatus, a, um, vntemperate, without measure or moderation.
 Intempericia, arum, f. g. plu. nu. goddesses, haungynge power to doo harme, the fury or trouble of mynde by remouing of conscience, that suffreth a man to haue no quiete.
 Quæ intempericia nostra agent familiam? what furie dysquieteth &c.
 Intemperies, ei, f. g. vntemperatnesse.
 Intemperies cæli, vntemperatnesse of the ayre.
 Intemperies amici, The furie or folp of ones frende.
 Intempestus, a, um, quiete, without noyse or trouble.
 Intemesta nox, mydnyght, when all thynge is in silence.
 Grauiora intemesta, id est, pestilentes & sine temperie.
 Intemestas, atis, f. g. idem quod Intemperies.
 Intemestas cæli, yll withering.
 Intemestiuè, vntem. ly, out of due tyme or order, out of season.
 Intemestius, a, um, a thynge out of due tyme or season.
 Intemestiuæ epistola, a letter that cometh out of season.
 Intendo, di, dère, to bende, to stretche or recthe as a man dooth the stryng of a bowe or lute, to streigne. also to loke diligently on a thynge, to knite or tie, to inforce with myght, to endeuour or go about, to intende, to thynke, to increase or augment. also to laie abrode, or to sette nettes: and by translation, to pretende, to pursue.
 Intendere animum, to sette or fixe the mynde.
 Intendere formulam, to byngge an action agaynst one.
 Animum or ingenium intendere, or intendere nervos animi & ingenii, To holde the mynde greatly busied or occupied on a thynge, to streigne the mynde or wytte, that is, to geue verie exacte aduertisment, and to proue them to the

to the uttermost.

Intendere arcum, to bende a bowe.

Aciem aciem in omnes partes intendere, to looke diligently about on euery syde.

Intendi acies longius non potest, a man can see no further.

Quo animus intēdat facile perspicio, I perspeue right well, what he doeth intend, or what his intent or meaning is.

In regnum Adherbalis animum intendit, he gaue or sette his mynde to obteyne Adherbals kyngdome.

Intendere actionem, to commence an action.

Mitigare & intendere leges, contrary, to diminish the and to augment the rigor of the lawes.

Animo intendere, To purpose or intende in ones mynde.

Totum in Annibalem intendebant bellum, They dyd bende the whole pursuance of the warre agaynst Anniball.

Hi in quos crimen intēdebarur, they whiche were accused, or to whose charge the matiere was layde.

Curam alicui rei intendere, To take verie good heede of a thyng.

Intendenda in senem fallacia, I muste synde some wyle to deceyue the olde man: or I must streigne a sinew or striche a vyne, to begyle this olde man.

Intendere vocem, to streigne the voyce, or to speake as loude as one can teache.

Intendere dū manus, to holde up the handes to the goddis.

Gloriam intendit, i. auxit, it increased his glory.

Iter capum in Italiam intendere, to continue his iourneie into Italye.

Nervos intendere, to stretch the sinewes.

Periculum intendere alicui, to threaten to do one a displeasure.

Qui se intenderant aduersarios, whiche had declared them selues to be cunnies.

Intendere (sive adiecto) for Contendere, Hanc se intendit esse, she goth about to scine, that she is that woman.

Quo nunc primum intēdam? whither shal I nowe fynde go?

Officia intendebant, They dyd theyr duties to the uttermost.

Intendere vincula, to bynde.

Intensio, or intēctio, ōnis, a streingynge, a stretchynge, a bendynge, diligence, a myll, a meanynge, the mynde, the fantasie, the intencion, the aduertisement or earnest consideration of the mynde, the bendyn, or setting of the mynde on a thyng, among orators the proposition that laich the fault to ones charge.

Intensio vocis, a baying or a streingynge of the voyce, speaking a loude.

Intentio & remissio animi, contrary.

Intēctio operis, id est, propositio, deliberatio. Notatur id intēctioe diligent, that was dis-ligerly marked or obserued.

Perdere intentionem, To leese his actione future in the law.

Intensus, a, um, or Intentus, a, um, sette or stretched, diligently bent or sette to a thyng. also stretched, rectified, bended, streined, increased or augmented, set forth or proued to the uttermost.

Intentus arcus, a bow bended.

Intentior custodia, a more diligent keeping.

Intentus oculis contemplari, To beholde ouerstedfastly.

Intentus alimentorum precii, the price of the staple being inhaunced or augmented.

Intentior sermo, earnest and vehement speaking with a loude voyce.

Intentiō, ōnis, a menacing with the hande.

Intentiōis, a, um, not affraid.

Intenti gladij, menacing one another with their two swords drawn.

Intentatus & nouus amicus, a newe friend, that was neuer proued nor tried.

Intente, diligently, with earnest consideration.

Intentio, aui, are, to menace, to stretch out often, to put out as one dooth his hand.

Intente imperium Romanum, to denounce or menace punishment by the Romayne.

Intente manus in aliquem, To put out ones hande toward a man, as we do in the mynne.

Intente manus alicui, to lay handes on one.

Intente & minari, To make signe of threaten to strike with ones dagger.

Crimen inuicem intente, they laye eche to others charge.

Intensus, us, n. g. a stretchynge or stretchynge.

Intensus palmarum, a stretchynge out of the handes agaynst one, where many men doe threaten some one person.

Intensus, a, um, loke Intensus.

Intepo, intēpes, repui, tepere, and Intepo, scere, to wake luke warme.

Inter, betwene, among.

Inter cenam, for in cena, at supper tyme.

Inter nos amamus, wee loue together one another.

Inter opus, whyles he was busy.

Inter paucos dies, in a short tyme.

Inter pœnam, being in tourment.

Inter sacrum & saxum, in the popyt to promise and be vterly losse.

Inter vias, on the waie rydynge or gornge.

Inter omnes potentissimus odor, The most strongest sauour of all other.

Est inter causas timoris, It is one of the causes of our feare.

Inter conuentum, for in conuentu, in an assemblye or company gathered together.

Qui inter tot annos ne appellaret quidē. &c. whiche in so many yeres space. &c. Likewise Inter tot dies.

Inter

Inter hæc, pro Interca, in the meane space, while this was in doynge.

Inter illud gaudium, while he was in that ioye or gladnesse.

Inter initia principatus, whan he was fyrst created prince of made ruler.

Inter manus auferri, to be caried out betwene men.

Inter sese fabulantur, They talke one with another.

Inter se amplexari, to embrace one another.

Inter vina, as they were drynkyng.

Quum inter homines esset, whan he liued here in the worlde.

Inter nos sordemus alteri, one of vs displeaseth or ipseth not another.

Inter se distantes ternis pedibus, being .iii. foote a sunder, or one from another.

Inter omne tempus, all the while.

Bene inter vos dicatis, Say well one of an other. Bonus inter bonos necessaria amicitia est, friendship is of necessity betwene good mē.

Inter alba, aui, are, to incline somewhat to the colour of white.

Interamina, a uice in Italy.

Interanea, ōrum, n. g. plur. the inwardes of a man or beaste.

Interaneus, a, um, that whiche is within.

Interaresco, scere, to be dried up, to wake drye.

Interbibo, bibi, bere, to drynke all out.

Interbibo, aui, are, an olde word for Interuenio.

Intercalaris, re, and Intercalarius, a, um, put or set betwene.

Intercalaris dies, the date of the leape yere.

Intercalaris mensis, the moneth, in the whiche certayne daies were sette, that lacked to make the yere complete, whiche moneth is Februarie.

Inter abundantiam heros in Solino and Sparotio, whiche would be tedious to write in this glosse, specially in this Dictionarie.

Intercala is versus, a singular verse often repeated amonge other verses. Some doe call it in englysh balades and songes, the foote or refrete of a dute.

Intercalarius annus, the leape yere.

Intercalio aui, are, to sit or put betwene, as a mē putteth a daie, moneth, or yere. Sometime to deferre.

Intercapedo, pēdinis, f. g. a space or pause, a space of tyme or place that is betwene two.

Post intercapedonem temporis. &c.

In eorum vita nulla est intercapedo molestie.

Intercedo, cessi, cedere, to make intercession, also to go betwene, or be betwene, and is referred as well to tyme and place, as any other thyng.

also to leat or prohibite.

Quadringerorum remigum obsequio contra se intercedit, that letteth that .400 water men, whiche rowed, dyd not obey hym.

Veteres militū necessitudines cum his omnis

Inter hæc, pro Interca, in the meane space, while this was in doynge.

Inter illud gaudium, while he was in that ioye or gladnesse.

Inter initia principatus, whan he was fyrst created prince of made ruler.

Inter manus auferri, to be caried out betwene men.

Inter sese fabulantur, They talke one with another.

Inter se amplexari, to embrace one another.

Inter vina, as they were drynkyng.

Quum inter homines esset, whan he liued here in the worlde.

Inter nos sordemus alteri, one of vs displeaseth or ipseth not another.

Inter se distantes ternis pedibus, being .iii. foote a sunder, or one from another.

Inter omne tempus, all the while.

Bene inter vos dicatis, Say well one of an other.

Bonus inter bonos necessaria amicitia est, friendship is of necessity betwene good mē.

Inter alba, aui, are, to incline somewhat to the colour of white.

Interamina, a uice in Italy.

Interanea, ōrum, n. g. plur. the inwardes of a man or beaste.

Interaneus, a, um, that whiche is within.

Interaresco, scere, to be dried up, to wake drye.

Interbibo, bibi, bere, to drynke all out.

Interbibo, aui, are, an olde word for Interuenio.

Intercalaris, re, and Intercalarius, a, um, put or set betwene.

Intercalaris dies, the date of the leape yere.

Intercalaris mensis, the moneth, in the whiche certayne daies were sette, that lacked to make the yere complete, whiche moneth is Februarie.

Inter abundantiam heros in Solino and Sparotio, whiche would be tedious to write in this glosse, specially in this Dictionarie.

Intercala is versus, a singular verse often repeated amonge other verses. Some doe call it in englysh balades and songes, the foote or refrete of a dute.

Intercalarius annus, the leape yere.

Intercalio aui, are, to sit or put betwene, as a mē putteth a daie, moneth, or yere. Sometime to deferre.

Intercapedo, pēdinis, f. g. a space or pause, a space of tyme or place that is betwene two.

Post intercapedonem temporis. &c.

In eorum vita nulla est intercapedo molestie.

Intercedo, cessi, cedere, to make intercession, also to go betwene, or be betwene, and is referred as well to tyme and place, as any other thyng.

also to leat or prohibite.

Quadringerorum remigum obsequio contra se intercedit, that letteth that .400 water men, whiche rowed, dyd not obey hym.

Veteres militū necessitudines cum his omnis bus intercedunt, There is great amitie of a longe tyme betwene vs.

Tribuni intercesserunt, the Tribunes dyd leat or prohibite.

Intercedit mihi tecum amicitia, There is amitie betwene the and me.

Pro alio intercedere, to answer for another man, to make p̄mptse, or be suretee for an other.

Intercessere pauci dies, in a fewe dayes after, a littell while after.

Quæ ratio tibi cum illo intercesserat? what aequip̄ntance haddest thou with hym? Or what haddest thou to dooe with hym?

Dies non dum decem intercesserant, ten dayes were not yet come and gone.

Si nulla agritudo huic gaudio intercesserit, If no heauinesse be myrte with this ioye.

Non quia intercedēdum putem imaginibus, not because I woulde demie p̄mages to be hadde.

Senatus autoritas grauissima intercessit, id est exitit.

Cum genere humano quasi ciuile ius intercedit, All men in the worlde be as it were the citizens of one citee, whiche be subiect to certayne common ordinaunces and lawes.

Si dissentio intercesserit, if there chaunce to come any sedicion in the meane tyme.

Intercessio, ōnis, f. g. a prohibition, a withstanding, a gapensaying, whan one steppeth in and letteth a matter, that it proceedeth not.

Intercessioni cedere, to geue ouer, and not to p̄cedde in a matter because of the prohibition.

Intercessio Tribunalium, a let or prohibition of the Tribunes agaynst the authoritee of other officers.

Intercessor, ōris, m. g. he that letteth a matter, that it maie not goe forwarde. also an intercessour or mediator.

Abicere intercessorem, with a vehement perswasion to repelle hym that withstandeth or gapensaieth any matter.

Interceptus, a, um, prevented, taken up before, taken up by the way.

Interceptus mortalitate, prevented with death.

Interceptio, ōnis, f. g. a taking up of a thyng before or by the waie, a p̄tēntynge.

Interceptor, ōris, m. g. he that p̄tēnteth an other in taking of a thyng.

Intercido, cidi, cidi, to cut a sunder in the middes, to defalcate, to cut downe or of in the meane tyme.

Intercido, cidi, ere, intercāsum, to debate or p̄s̄p̄se betwene this and that.

Apud quem graua beneficiū intercedit, whiche geneth no thanke for a good tourne.

Perire & intercedere.

Exiāre atque intercedere, contrary.

Intercedit memoria beneficii, the benefite is forgotten.

Quod

Quod si intercederit tibi aliquid, If thou haue forgotten any thyng.
 Intercedere, sometimes for Cadere.
 Memoria ille intercedit, he is forgotten, he is out of mynde or memory.
 Interclusus, a, um, interlaced.
 Intercono, cinus, nere, to syng betwene or in the myddell of a thyng, as in comedies or interludes, whyles newe personages be in preparation.
 Interccio, intercipis, cēpi, cipere, to preuent or apprehende one vnware, to take vp before, to take vp by the waye, to take in the middes or in the meane whyle. Sometime to take all.
 Intercepere iter, to kepe or inclose a waye, that men may not passe.
 Ne qua interceperet obliuio, that it myght not be forgotten.
 Intercepere literas, to take letters on the waye from hym that carieth them.
 Intercepere sermonem, to interrupte a mans tale or purpose, as he is speaking.
 Quod nos capere oportet, hic intercipit, the profite that we shoulde haue, this man taketh vp before.
 Intercci morbo, to be attached with some disease, or to fall sycke as one is about to dooe a thyng.
 Regnum intercipit, he tooke on hym the gouernance of the kyngdome in the meane whyle.
 Interceffe, by choppes or cuttes, as it were cut in gobettes and moxelles.
 Interccio, ōnis, f. g. a cutting of in the myddes.
 Interccio stomachi, a gnawynge or bytynge of the stomache.
 Interccisus, a, um, cut of in the myddes.
 Interccis dies, were daies diuided, parte holy daies, part woorkie daies: certayne daies, in the which some hures it was lesul to geue iudgement on matters, and in some not, we may vse it for thyng, which we call halfe holy daies.
 Interccise pactiōnes, couenantes or agrementes dissolued and broken.
 Interclūdo, clasi, cludere, to shutte in, to stoppe ones iourney, to let, to stop the passage before one come.
 Intercludere corporibus suis aduentum inimicorum, to bee them selues in the warre to lette theyr enemies to enter with theyr own bodie.
 Dolo intercludi, id est, impediri, to be leat through fowle and heuynesse.
 Fugam intercludere, to kepe the passages that they escape not.
 Libertatem intercludere, to leat theym that they can not go in and out at theyr pleasure.
 Spem commeatum intercludere, to put theym from hope to haue vittayles.
 Commeatum inimicis, and Inimicos commeatibus intercludere, to keepe or stoppe the passages, that vittayles can not come to theyr enemies.

Aditum intercludere, to lette that one can not enter.
 Animam intercludere, to stricke or strangle.
 Interclusio, ōnis, f. g. a stoppyng or lettynge, a thyng in of a thyng with an other.
 Parenthesis interclusio, the two halfe circles notynge the parenthesis.
 Intercolūmiū, ni, n. g. the space betwene pillars.
 Interconcilio, aui, are, to wyne the fauoure or loue of men.
 Intercollo, aui, are, to treade downe harde toppes ther with the feete, to stampe.
 Intercurro, curri, currere, to renne betwene, to go betwene.
 Intercurfus, us, m. g. a comynge betwene men to pacifie them, intercession, a rennyng betwene or amonge.
 Intercurso, aui, are, to renne betwene often.
 Intercus, intercuis, a disease betwene the thing & the fleshe: whan it is an adiectiue, it signifyeth inwarde.
 Intercubus vitij madentes, ouer weat with inwarde vices.
 Interdatus, a, um, distributed, digested, or put betwene.
 Interdico, dixi, cere, to prohibite greuously, to resist or leat, to forbydde.
 Interdico alicui aqua & igni, was a condempnation in Rome, whereby one was deppriued of the vse of water and fyre, whereby he was constrained to departe out of the limittes of the empire of Rome.
 Interdicere de vi hominibus armatis, to saydeyne that he, by whose meanes one supposeth, that he is put out of possession with fyre, shall let hym esteepones in possession.
 Vestigijs interdicere, to forbyd one, that he shall not go vpon a certayne place or ground.
 Nihil interdico, I wyl not let the, I care not for it.
 Interdico tibi domo mea, I forbydde the my house.
 Prisco Italia interdictum est. Priscus was banished Italie, or forbydden to tary in Italie.
 Cui nemo interdicare possit, whom no man can let or resist.
 Interdixit fieri, he forbad it to be doon, or commanded that it should not be doon.
 Interdixi tibi de medicis, I forbad, or I commaunded you, that ye shoulde not vse the counsaile of physicians.
 Interdixit, sometimes for Edixit. the pastiue is vsed with an ablatiue: as, interdico aqua & igni: or with a datiu: as, Aqua & ignis interdiciuntur mihi.
 Interdictum, ti, n. g. a prohibition, a menace, sometimes a determinatio of the possession of a thyng in debate.
 Interdictus, a, um, forbydden, prohibited.
 Interdictio, ōnis, f. g. a prohibition, a forbyddens.

interdictus, us, mas. gene. a space betwene full sentences.
 Interdiu, in the date tyme.
 Interdius, was vsed of olde writers.
 Interdum, and Iteratim, was vsed of olde writers for Interdum and Iterim.
 Interdum, sometimes.
 Interdu, in the meane while, in the meane season, also neuertheless.
 Interdu, in the meane space.
 Interdu dum is venit, In the meane season while he cometh.
 Quum interdu, for Quum tamen.
 Interdu, interis, interui, or rii, rre, to dye betwene, to perishe. Sometime to be slaine.
 Interdu fame, to perishe or dye for hunger.
 Interdu naufragio, to perishe or be drowned in a shippe wrecke.
 Nihil valentius est, a quo interdu, There is nothyng of greater power, by the whiche it maye perishe or bee extincte, dissolued, or brought to nought.
 Interdu, alas I am but dead.
 Interdu, rēritus, mas. gene. death, destruction, ruine, bitter decay.
 Interdu, aui, are, to ryde betwene.
 Interdu, ab Inter & esse, to be present.
 Publicis consilijs interfuimus, we were present at the common counsaile. also to bee betwene.
 Triduum non interest aetatis, vter maior sit, there is thre dayes difference betwene them in their age.
 Interest inter duos annes.
 Interesse nobis dicitur deus, pro adesse.
 Nostro sermoni interfuit, he was presente at our communication.
 In conuiuij interesse, to bee at a feast.
 Id morari victoriam rati, quod interest amnis, supposyng that the cause why, that they had not forthwith the victory, was for asmuche as the ryuer was betwene them.
 Triginta firme interfuerunt anni, there were also thirtie yeres betwene them.
 Interest, ab in, re, est, it is profitable, it is beehouable, it belongeth, it pertaineth, it maketh matter, and maye be ioyned to these ablatiue cases, Mea, tua, sua, nostra, vestra, whether it be personall, or impersonall.
 Si nihil interest regis, peto, vt dum dico, vinculis liberer, if it be no matter to the kyng, I praye you, whyles I dooe speake, lette me be without gyues.
 Nihil interest tui, it is no matter to the.
 Magni sua putabant interesse, They thoughte that it made muche for the purpose, or for their profite.
 Nihil interest eius, It maketh no matter to hym.
 Interest eius, it is his parte, or it is for his profite.

Quid ergo interest, proferantur necne? what maketh it matter, whether they be brought forth or no?
 Nec interest discentium, quibus quidque nominibus appellatur, it maketh no matter to them that dooe learne, by what names any thyng is called.
 Permagnum interest, It maketh muche of the matter.
 Inter hominem & beluam hoc maxime interest, This is the moste diuersitee betwene a man and a beast.
 Quod interest, tenent Arabes, That that lieth betwene them, the Arabians possesse.
 Interesse, to differre, and is commonly ioyned with the preposition Inter.
 Interesse & differre.
 Interest in infinitum, there is a wonderfull great difference.
 Hoc interest, this difference there is.
 Stulto intelligens quid interest? what difference is betwene a wylse man and a foole?
 Vt vidit tua interesse, as soone as he sawe it to bee for your profite.
 Nostra nihil interest, it maketh no matter to vs.
 Magni mea interest, it is greatly for my profite: or it is verate behouefull for me.
 Interest, is vsed with these genitiue cases, Magni, plurimi, tanti, quanti, and with these aduerbes, Facile, multum, plurimum, plus, parum, Numquid, minus, minime. &c.
 Tantum interest, so muche matter it maketh.
 Vtriusque nostrum permagni interest, it is verate behouable for vs bothe, or verate greatly for our profite.
 Ostendam, quantum salutis communis interfir, I wyl shewe you, how greatly it shall be for the profite of the common weale.
 Interest, sine casu, it is profitable.
 Non interest, quid faciat morbum, it maketh no matter what causeth the sykenesse.
 Nihil ad rem interest, it maketh nothyng to the matter.
 Interfacio, interfacis, feci, facere, to sette hande to the woike that is in dooynge.
 Interfaciendo muro, while the wall was in makinge.
 Interfari, fatur, fari, to interrupte one as he is speakinge, to speake while an other man speaketh.
 Interfatio, ōnis, fœm. gene. an interruption of ones tale.
 Interficio, interficis, feci, ficere, to slea, to kyll, to murder.
 Vita interficere aliquem, for vita priuare.
 Interficere menses, id est, perdere & cremare.
 Interfectus, a, um, kyled, slayne, murdered.
 Interfectus omni supplicio, cruelly slayne.
 Interfector, ōnis, mas. gene. one that kyleth, a murderer.
 Interfici, to perishe, to be consumed.

Interfluo, fluxi, fluere, to flow betwene.
 Interfluus, a, um, that floweth betwene.
 Interfamineum, a womans priuie tooken, wher
 by she is knowne from a man.
 Interfringo, frēgi, fringere, idem quod In-fringo, to breake or buste.
 Interfundo, fūdi, fundere, to potyre betwene.
 Interfuro, fure, to be in a fure or rage, to bee woode.
 Interfusus, a, um, spilled or shed betwene twain of by the waie. also that floweth betwene.
 Intergerinus paries, a walle added to an olde foundation of wall, to susteyn it: or rather a partition wall to diuide mens groundes.
 Intergero, gēsi, gerere, to carpe or beare bees twene.
 Interi, they that be within.
 Interiaco, interiaccs, iacui, cēre, to lye or bee
 betwene.
 Spacium quod fulcis interiaccet, the space that is betwene the fozwers.
 Interiaccet Capuam & Capuā.
 Quā inter Capuam Tipharamque interiaccet, whiche lye betwene Capua and Tiphara.
 Interibi, in the myddle of that place. also for Interia.
 Interiectus, a, um, put or cast betwene, lated or beynge betwene.
 Interiecta collibus valles, valleyes lyege be-twene the hilles.
 Interiecti inter philosophos, & eos qui rem
 pub. administrant, whiche be neyther philosophers, nor yet ministers of a comon weale, but meane betwene them both or participatorys of the one and the other.
 Interiectum tempus, the meane tyme.
 Singula singulis faxis interiectis, euery one chauping a stone laied betwene it and the next.
 Interiectus inter mare & calum, placid be-twene the water and the firmament.
 Inter horum atates interiectus Cato. Cato beynge betwene them both, after the one and before the other.
 Paucis interiectis diebus, after a litle while.
 Interiectus, us, mās, g. a sayng, sayng, or say-yng betwene.
 Interiectio, ōnis, f. g. a puttyng betwene.
 Interiectio, interiectis, ieci, icere, to caste or put betwene or amonge.
 Interim, in the meane space of tyme, in the meane season. also sometyme sodenly, otherwhyle, among all other matters.
 Interim scit, interim nescit, sometyme he knos weth, sometyme he dooth not.
 Interim mis modis odisse cepit, sodenly
 he began to hate hym wonderfully.
 Quam interim, for Quam sauiem.
 Interim-o, ēmi, imere, to hyl.
 Vitam quam interimam, an olde fasion of speakyng.
 Interim veneno, to bee poysoned.

Interimere & conseruare, contrary.
 Interimit me hac oratio, these woordes byll
 myne herte, or greue me verate soze.
 Interemptio, ōnis, f. g. a bylling or slaying.
 Interior, & interior, the inner.
 In interiore epistola scribis, you write in the myddle of your letter.
 Interitus, us, m. g. death, destruction, ruine.
 Interiungo, iunxi, gere, to tary, to rest.
 Interiungere equos, To vnterme the hofes,
 that they maie rest.
 Interiungere dextras, to take one an other by the hande.
 Interior, more inward.
 Interlino, lini, lina, or lēni, nēre, to strepe out with a penne, to blotte out.
 Dele e & interlinere, to case and blotte out.
 Interloquor, eris, terloqui, to speake in a many tale, to interupte.
 Interlocutio, ōnis, f. ge. a speakyng betwene.
 Interlucos, lūces, lūxi, lucēre, to shyne betwene or in the myddes: sometyme to appere or be seen in the myddes.
 Interlūco, aui, are, to make a glade in the myd-dle of a woodde, to loppe or cut awaie bowes, where they leat the lyght.
 Interlucatio, ōnis, f. g. fache a cuttyng of lops pyng of trees.
 Interlunium, nij, n. ge. the space of tyme, in the whiche neyther the olde moone doth appere, nor the new moone is scene.
 Interlūo, relui, ere, to flow betwene, to walke betwene meales, or other actes.
 Interliere manus, to walke the handes be-twene two actes or dedes dooynge.
 Interluies, ei, f. g. a brooke or riuer that runneth
 betwene.
 Intermaeo, tēmanes, mansi, manēre, to tary in the myddes of a thyng or place, or to abide among.
 Intermedius, a, um, in the myddle, that lyeth is betwene two.
 Intermentarius, a, um, idem quod Intermentis.
 Intermeo, aui, are, to go or flowe betwene.
 Intermentis, uum, strui, n. g. the tyme when the moone is at the poynte to chaunge, the coniuction of the soonne and the moone.
 Intermentis, stric, belonging to the space be-twene the olde moone and the newe.
 Intermentis luna, the coniuention of the moone and soonne, when the moone is not scene.
 Intermico, micui, are, to shyne in the myddle of
 among.
 Interminor, aris, ari, to thytten soze, to charge
 vpon a payne.
 Interminatus sum, ne faceres? dydde not I charge the strepit, or vpon a great payne, that thou shouldst not dooe it?
 Viro suo interminatur vitam, the thyng that hyl his housebende.
 Interminatus, a, um, and Interminus, a, um, that that hath no bonde nor ende.

 Intermitteo, miscui, scere, to mingle with other.
 Intermitto, misi, mittere, to leaue or put of for a tyme, to discontinue, to deferre, to be slacke in doynge.
 Obides dare intermiserant, they were slacke in geuyng hostages or pledges.
 Intermittere & retinere, To leat passe for a while, and to receyue or holde still.
 Non intermittere, id est, continuare, not to cease.
 Non vnum intermitit diem, quin veniat, he sayleth not one daie, but that he cometh, he cometh euery daie duely.
 Iter non intermittere, to continue on his iour-ney still.
 Tui mentionem intermitui non sinit, he speaketh of you alwaie, or he will not suffre you to
 be forgotten.
 Opus intermittere, to leaue of or geue ouer ones worke for a while.
 Non intermitit calum nitescere, the weather is alwaie fayne and clere.
 Neq diem neq noctem intermitit, he ceaseth
 seith or resteth neyther daie nor nyght.
 Consuetudinem intermittere, to forbare fas-tuitate or resorte.
 Officium intermittere, to be slacke in dooynge ones duety.
 Intermissus, a, um, leat passe for a tyme.
 Intermissa ucta, houses standyng a sunder, or one from an other.
 Intermissus, us, in ge. a lettynge passe, a pausyng.
 Intermissio, ōnis, f. g. a ceassynge, a disconti-nuyng, a pausyng, a vacation fro a worke or labour for a tyme.
 Sine vlla intermissione, without ceassynge Intermissionem facere are aliqua, To ceasse from a thyng, or to geue it ouer for a while.
 Intermissio literarum, when one ceaseth for a certaine space, and writeth no letters.
 Intermonui, mortuus sum, intermori, to pes-sepe or die utterly, to die as a thyng is dooynge.
 Sometyme to be losse, caste awaie, or nothyng esteemed.
 Intermonui officia, friendly pleases be losse, or utterly forgotten.
 Intermonui conciones, id est, languide, without sperte of lyfe, half dead.
 Intermonui in memoriam renouare, To res-ture the memorie of one that was utterly forgotten.
 Intermonui mores, corrupte and naughtie maneres.
 Intermonui a, um, as it were halfe deade halfe
 alpye, at the poynte to die, passe hope of lyfe.
 Intermundum, di, of Inter, and mundus: as,
 Inter columnum of Inter and Columna.
 Interimurals, le, that is betwene two walles.
 Interinasor, nascis, nasci, to growe or sprynge
 by amonge of betwene.

Internatus, a, um, that is growen or spronge by amonge of betwene.
 Internecinus, a, um, perteynyng to the slaughter or destruction of a great meyn.
 Bellum internecinum, a moxall warre to the utter destruction of one of the parties.
 Internecio and Internecio, ōnis, f. g. an vniuersal slaughter, a bylling, a slaying.
 Ad internecionem casu, well neere all slayne,
 fewe lefte alpye.
 Interneco, aui, are, to slea all at ones, to hyl a great multitude together.
 Internecto, nexui, necere, to knytte or tie together.
 Internidifico, aui, are, to make the nest betwene or amonge.
 Internigrans, antis, byng somewhat blacke.
 Interniteo, internites, iuiui, nitere, to shyne or be byght among or betwene.
 Internodius, di, neu. gene. and sometyme Internodius, di, masc. gene. a ioynte in a mans synger or legge, the space betwene two ioynts or knottes.
 Internosco, noui, scere, to knowe a thyng amōg other thynges, to discern from other.
 Fides internoscere non possunt, they can not deterne theues from other men.
 Internuncio, aui, are, to go in message betwene.
 Internunciatus, en, m. g. a messenger or meane be-twene two persones beynge at variante, or that goeth in messages betwene two.
 Internus, a, um, that is within, or inward.
 Interio, interis, intrui, intēre, to crumme in,
 to grate in or with other thynges.
 Tute hoc intrui, omne excedendum est, selfe doe, selfe haue, hote suppe hote swallow.
 Interordinum, ni, n. ge. a space betwene two thynges, that be in a rowe or ordie.
 Interpellatio, ōnis, f. ge. a leat in a mans bunesse, a disturbance, and interruption, a calling on one, when he is speakyng or dooynge.
 Interpellator, ōnis, in ge. a disturbour or letter of other, that they maie not dooe theyr busynesse, an interrupter.
 Interpello, aui, are, to interrupt or let one that is speakyng or dooynge any thyng, to disturbe.
 a so to requyre, to aske or demande.
 Si interpellas. ego tacebo, if thou interrupte me, I will holde my peace.
 Interpellare debitorem, id est, appellare, to requyre or demande his debt, to entre an action agaynst his debtour.
 Interpellare partem victoriam, id est, impedire, to hynde or leat.
 Interpellare stuprum, To leat an aduourtie that was intended.
 Res interpellata, a matter disturbed and by-ken by.
 Interpelatus, a, um, interrupted, disturbed, discontinued, sometyme despyed or intreated.
 Interpenitua, certayne pices of symber, clouen by

Bouderes, of somtyme stones, whiche are set frō the corners of the wall, to the endes of the rafters, to conueygh rayne water into the spoutes.
Interpensisui parietes, wallles, whiche rpe vpon an other wall, of flowre, and haue no foundation in the ground.

Interplicio, plicui, plicare, to folde by betweene.
Interpolatio, ōnis, f. ge. newe dresyng of polshyng of thynges.

Vestimenta interpolata, garmentes newe dresed.

Interpolator, ōris, m. gene. and Interpolatrix, tris, f. he or she that refresseth or dreseth olde thynges, and doeth make them seeme new.

Interpolis, le, and Interpolus, la, lum, renewed, refressed, new dresed, new scoured or polished
Vestimenta interpola, Garmentes newe dresed.

Interpolo, aui, are, to renewe or refresshe any thyng, to polsh the trimme of decke, as it were made newe, to make freshe, as they do that sell olde stufte in steede of newe, to dresse newe, as fullars dooe, to newe pericte or whitelyme, to pepnet newe where as olde pepnetynge hath bene before. somtyme to purge of trie, as franshyence is whan it is made.

Interpono, sui, nere, to put of sette betweene, to resiste, to intermeddell, to myngle, to suborne.
Interponere fidem publicam, to promyse vpon the credence and consent of all the people, to geue a faulte conducte.

Quid interponerem tux audacie? what shuld I set to leat thy presumption or boldnesse?
Interponere aquam, To myngle water with wyne.

Autoritatem interponere, by his authoritee to commaunde a thyng to be downe or not to be dooen.

Accusatore interponere, to suborne and set by an accuser.

In aliquam rem fidem suam interponere, to promyse and bynde hym selfe vpon his faith and credite for the assurance of a thyng.

Suum iudicium interponere, To speake of geue his iudgement in a matter.

Iussurandum interponere, To auowe with an othe.

Moram interponere, To deferre, to delate, to prolonge, to dnye of a matter.

Nomen alicuius in re aliqua interponere, To set ones name in a thyng for a colour or fraud.

Interponere postulatam, To make requeste, or to proffre conditions of peace, to the entent, that his ennemys shoulde not prepare agaynst hym.

Se interponere, to intermeddill.

Me nihil interpono, I meddill nothyng in the matter.

Operam suam pro aliquo interponere, To traualle or dooe the best he can for a man.

Interpositus, a, um, sette or put betweene, also myngled.

Diebus aliquot interpositis, after a littell whyle.

Interpositus, us, ma. gen. a puttynge of settyng betweene.

Interpositio, ōnis, f. ge. a puttynge betweene, an interlynyng.

Interpremo, pressi, premere, to stop or closein.

Interpres, presis, om. gene. an interpreter, an expounder, a translator. also a Richlar betwene two, whiche are at variaunce, a mediator, a meane, a truche man. somtyme a Southelane or diuinour.

Interpretamentum, ti, n. ge. and Interpretatio, ōnis, f. ge. an interpretation of translation. somtyme a coniecture of iudgment.

Interpretatus, a, um, expounded, declared, interpreted.

Interpretor, jaris, ari, to interpret, to expound, to declare, to translate. also to iudge of effime.

Virutem ex consuetudine vite interpretor, mur, leat vs iudge the vertue of the persone by his custome of lyfynge.

In bonam partem interpretari, To take it in good parte.

Peruerse interpretari, to meane shewdly: or rather to take a thyng yll.

Interpretari somnium, to expounde a dreame.

Quum huius verba interpretor, as farr as I can gather by this mans wordes.

Interpunctus, a, um, distincted with popnetes.

Interpunctum, ti, n. g. a pointe, a distinction.

Interpunctio, ōnis, f. g. idem.

Interpurgo, aui, are, to purge.

Interputo, aui, are, to cutte betweene, to cutte of rounde, to prune trees.

Interquiesco, quicui, escere, to reste of paulum doeyng a thyng.

Inter rādo, rāsi rādere, to scrape about: also to polsh, to fyle.

Inter rābile, that whiche is plaine betwixte two partes, grauen or imbofed.

Inter rāilis, le, straped, polshed, fyled.

Inter rex, regis, masc. gene. he that ruleth in the meane tyme betweene the reasyng of the authoritee of one principal gouernour, by death of other wyse, vntill an other be elected into the same office.

Interregnum, ni, n. gene. the said meane tyme of gouernaunce or rule.

Inire interregnum, to take vpon hym the rule of gouernaunce after the death of a prince, vntill an other be chosen.

Inter rritus, a, um, not feared, not abashed.

Interrogo, aui, are, to demaunde a question, to aske: somtyme to accuse, to appeale.

Interrogari legibus, to be tried by examinasid, that they had offended agaynst the lawes.

Interrogatio, ōnis, f. g. a question or demaunde.

Interrogariuncula, la, f. g. the diminutue.

Interrumpo, rūpi, rūmpere, to breake in the mid des, to interrupte or leat one that is speakyng.

Ordinem interrumpere, to confounde.

Colloquia interrumpere, to interrupte men that be talkyng.

Interruptus, a, um, disturbed, broken in the middell, interrupted, letted. also discontinued.

Longis intervalis interrupta consuetudo, fas miliaritee discontinued a longe space.

Interruptis vocibus loqui, to speake as one dooeth that sobbeth of weperth.

Interruptum & continuatum, contrary.

Interrupit, by stoppes.

Inter scallium, mij, n. g. the space betweene the oyes in a bote of galey.

Inter scapulum, lij, n. g. the space betweene the shoulders vnder the necke.

Inter scindo, inter scidi, dere, to cut in the myddes.

Inter scribo, scripsi scribere, to write betweene, to interline.

Inter seco, aui, are, to cut in the middell, to stop in speakyng, as one did cut of his wordes.

Inter sectio, ōnis, form. gen. a cuttyng of in the middell.

Inter sepio, inter sepi, sepsi, pire, to diuide in the middell with some closure.

Inter septa, the gristyll, whiche maketh partition betweene the nosethilles.

Inter sepius, a, um, stopped, closed, shutte.

Inter interceptum, a, waie stopped.

Inter sero, serui, serere, to put betweene, to minigle.

Inter sero, seui, serere, to sowe, sette, plante of grasse betweene, or in the middes.

Inter sono, ūi, are, to make a noyse in the middes of betweene.

Inter spiro, aui, are, to breathe betweene, to bent.

Inter spiratio, ōnis, f. g. a breathyng betweene, a beneyng.

Sine inter spiratione, with out fetchyng of breath.

Inter sterno, strāui, stērnere, to strawe betweene, or throwe thynges betweene.

Inter stringo, strinxi, stringere, to quenche out.

Inter distinctus, a, um, distincte, diuided, marked here and there, peincted in diuers places.

Interstitium, ti, n. g. a distance of space betweene.

Interstitium lunæ, the space betweene the olde moone and the new.

Interstitio, ōnis, f. g. a ceasyng, a vacation, a pausyng.

Inter strepo, strepiui, strepere, to make a noyse among other.

Inter stringo, strinxi, stringere, idem quod stringo.

Inter sum, looke Inter est.

Inter textus, a, um, wouen or wrought betweene, or tinseld, as cloth of tinsell or baudchyn.

Inter tignium, ni, n. g. the space betweene two rafters of two other beanes or plakes in building.

Inter tingo, tinx, tingere, to dy here and there.

Interstruo, struxi, struere, to soigne diuers thynges together.

Intertrahio, traxi, trahere, to drawe out.

Intertrigo, gnis, f. g. gallyng in a man or beaste by long goyng, ridyng, or rubbyng of one thing agaynst an other.

Intertrimentum, ti, n. g. the wast or losse of a thyng by wearyng or occupyng, losse to both partes: also the refuse of golde or spuer, that is lost in the tryng.

Inter tritura, a, f. g. idem.

Inter turbo, aui, are, to trouble excedyngly, to disturbe, to interrupte.

Interurbatio, ōnis, f. g. a disturbing.

Interuaco, aui, are, to be vacant of voyde betweene.

Interuallum, li, n. g. the space betweene the stades in makyng of trenches: and therof euery distance of tyme and place.

Annum interuallum regni, the space of a yere whan there is no kyng.

Dare alicui interuallum soluendi, to geue one a respit of leysure to paie.

Interualla requietis habere, to haue dyuers tymes, wherein he maie reste, or bee at quiete and take ease.

Longo interuallo, after a longe space of tyme that a thyng hath not bene.

Interuallis moueri, to bee moued at sundrye tymes with pause betweene.

Cur ex tanto interuallo rem desuetam vsurparent: why shoulde they vsurpe a thyng, that hath not ben accustomed so longe tyme?

Ne interuallo quidem facto, makyng no deslaie, without any taryng.

Interuallatus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Interuallata febris, a feuer that leaueth a man, and cometh after agayne.

Interuello, velli, or uulsi, vellere, to plucke by here and there.

Interuenio, interuenis, ueni, uenire, to come in the meane whyle, to be present amonge other, to come vpon one suddenly as he is doying a thyng, to make meane to one for a man.

Ira interueniunt, variaunce and debate falleth now and than betweene them.

Interuentus, us, m. g. a comyng betweene, a comyng suddenly vpon men, as they be doying of speakyng.

Interuentor, ōris, m. g. he that cometh suddenly vpon men, and letteth theyn. somtyme a suretee.

Interueniens, enis, that cometh betweene. Comes tyme that floweth of renneth betweene. Comes tyme that lyeth or is situate betweene.

Interuenium, ni, n. g. the space betweene the beynes in the earth.

Interuerto, uerti, uertere, to take awaie craftily, to conueygh awaie falsly that was lent to one, or committed into his handes. somtyme for

Subuertere, or Euertere, to toune by sette

Downe, to abolyshe, to destroe. sometyme for Decoquere, to consume and spende riottously.
Interuere aliquem, Interuere aliquem re aliqua, and Interuere rem aliquam.
Interuigilo, aui, are, to lie wakyng nowe and than.
Interuircio, tēuircs, uircere, to be greene among other colours.
Interuiso, uisū, uisere, to visite amonge, oꝝ nowe and than.
Interula, lē, f. g. a myt oꝝ smocke.
Interundo, aui, are, to districte a thyng, as it were with waues of water.
Interuomo, uōmū, uōmere, to poure oꝝ caste out among other thynges.
Interuſurium, ū, n. ge the vsē oꝝ commoditee of a thyng in the meane tyme, oꝝ viciue that riseth in the meane tyme.
Intestibilis, lē, that by the lawe can make no testament, oꝝ that can not bee taken for a witness.
also infamous, not to be beleued. sometyme it signifieth detestable.
Intestato, the aduerbe, without makinge of testament.
Intestatus, a, um, that dieth without makinge any testament, intestate. also that dieth makinge none here by testamēt. also one out of credēce, whom no man will take for a witness: some-tyme not conuicte with witnesses.
Intestina, ōrum, n. gen. th: bowels, oꝝ inwarde part of man, oꝝ other thing liuyng, the entrailes.
Intestinus, a, um, that belongeth to the inwarde partes, oꝝ that is all within.
Intestinum bellum, where people dooe warre within theiꝝ owne realme.
Intestinum odium, hate with heart and mind, mortal hatred, priue and secret grudge, great and spirefull malice longe boꝝne in mynde.
Intestinum opus, the inwarde buildinge of tymber and parget, helpyng with wainescott, toppyng wooꝝke.
Intestina pestis, a great and dangerous conspiracie.
Intestina discordia, a civile discorde.
Intestinum, nī, n. g. oꝝ Intestinus, nī, m. f. gen.
a bowell, a gutte.
Intexo, texui, texere, to entrelace, to weave in,
to knitte in, to folde in, to platte with other thynges.
Intextere aliquem in dialogum, To bypge in one speakyng in a dialogue.
Intimus, intima, um, most inwarde, most secrete,
also he whom a man moste specially fauoureth.
Intimus illi sum, I am one of his hert frēdes.
Intimus est eorum consiliis, he is chiefe of their counsaile, oꝝ he is of theiꝝ priue and secrete counsaile.
Odium intimum, malice oꝝ grudge deeply rooted in ones stomake, mortall hate.
Intime, verate inwardly, from the bottome of the herte, verate affectually.

Intimo, intimas, aui, are, to shewe, to signifie, to denounce.
Intinari, sometyme for Ingredi, to enter in.
Intinctus, us, m. g. sauce.
Intingo, xi, ere, to depe as one dooeth his finger into lycoure.
Intingere calamus, to put his penne in to the ink.
Intolerabilis, lē, intollerable, that can not be suffered oꝝ boꝝne.
Intolerabiliter, intollerabilis.
Intolerandus, a, um, idem quod Intolerabilis.
Intolerans, anis, vnpatient, that can not suffer
oꝝ beare, impotent.
Intolerantissima laboris corpora, bodies that can suffer no labour oꝝ hardnesse.
Intoleranter, vnpatiently, so that no man can abide it.
Intolerantia, a, f. g. impatience.
Intondeo, tondi, dere, to clyp oꝝ sheere rounde
about.
Intono, intonas, tonui, are, to thunder, to make a rōblyng, And by translation, to speake vehēmently with great spersenesse and stomache.
Intonsus, a, um, not shorne, not clypped, not notted.
Intorqueo, intorques, si, quēre, to thynke in by thyngs of a parte, oꝝ other lyke thyng. Also to rōuere oꝝ wynde in, to folde oꝝ wynd rounde about a thyng.
Intorquere mentum, To wynde oꝝ wynde the chynne.
Intorquere telum in aliquem, to hysle a dart
at one.
Intortus, a, um, tourned oꝝ wynded in, wynded led, crooked, wypped about. sometyme obscure, ambiguousse, intricate.
Intorti capilli, curled heare.
Intorta cauda, a crooked oꝝ wyndled tale.
Oratio intorta, a darke manner of oracion, a crabbed oꝝ obscure style.
Intorum bruscum, id est crispum.
Intra, within, sometyme amonge.
Intra famiam, lesse than the opinion that men
haue.
Intra modum, lesse than a meane, hoꝝte of a meane.
Intra cubiculum, id est in cubiculo.
Intra calendas, id est in calendis.
Intra quatuor annos, within lesse than the space of. iiii. yeres.
Intra legem epulari, To bestowe lesse vpon a banquet, than is permitted by the lawe.
In interiori epistola scribis, you wyte in the
myddle of your letter.
Intractabilis, lē, intractable, vnruely.
Intractatus, a, um, not handled, not tamed, not broke, wynde.
Intrarius, a, um, idem quod intimus.
Intrarius amicus, a speciall frende.
Intratus, a, um, entred into. Rarum. Intramo,

Intramo, intramis, ui, ere, to tremble greatly, to feare.
Intramico, miscere, idem.
Intrepide, boldely, without feare.
Intrepidus, a, um, nothyng afearde, nothyng abashed.
Intributio, ōnis, f. g. a contribution.
Intrico, aui, are, to wyappe.
Intrinfecus, within, on the inner parte, on the inyside.
Intritus, a, um, byaped in a mortar.
Intrita panis, breade byaped with other thyngs.
Aqua intrita facta, breade oꝝ other thyng byaped with water.
Intrita, a, f. g. oꝝ Intritum, intriti, n. g. garlyke oꝝ other meate stamped oꝝ byaped in a mortar, spye mortar. sometyme earthe that bypke oꝝ tyle is made of. It is taken of Marro, for the some oꝝ claye that men graffe with. And after Geroaldus, for the dyegges of wyne.
Intro, into a place.
Intro ad nos, into our house.
Intro spectare, to looke in.
Intro, aui, are, to enter oꝝ goe in.
Intrare in familiaritatem, to enter into familiaritee.
Aedem & in aedem intrare.
Intrare in affectionem, to enter oꝝ syncke into the affection oꝝ mynde.
Introclido, si, ere, to shutte in.
Introdo, dedi, āre, to enter oꝝ please in, oꝝ to cast in.
Introduco, duxi, ere, to bypge oꝝ leade in, to mainteyne oꝝ holde an opinton in teachyng, to bypge in an affection oꝝ doctrine.
Praesidium in oppidum introducere. Introducere ambitionem in senatum, id est Inducere.
Introducere consuetudinem, To bypge in a custome.
Introductio, ōnis, f. g. a bypgyng in. Also an introduction oꝝ begynnyng of any thyng.
Introeo, introis, iui, ire, to goe in.
Introire in vitam, to be boꝝne, to enter into life.
Introire ad aliquem, to go into the hous to one.
Introfero, trōcui, ferre, to beare in.
Introgredior, eris, intrōgredi, to go in.
Introitus, us, m. g. a goyng in, an entraunce.
Introitus in causam, a begynnyng oꝝ entreyng into a mattier.
Intromitto, misi, ere, to leat in.
Intromittere mares ad feminas, to putte the males to the females.
Introsus, oꝝ Introsus, into, within, on the inner parte.
Intrompso, rūpi, rūmpere, to byeake in, to enter in by violence.
Introspectio, nōspicis, spexi, spicere, to loke in, to see diligently, to view, to consider ernestly.
Introsoco, aui, are, to call in.
Introdo, trōi, ere, to thynke in violently.
Intubum, oꝝ Intubus, loke Intybum,

Intusor, eris, intus sum, eri, to beholde, to loke
vpon, to take heed.
Intento animo aliquid intueri, to consyder a thyng in ones mynde attentively.
Intueri aliquem, and in aliquem. Intueri in summos homines. To beholde and consyder the lyfe and maners of the most noble persons.
Scipsum intueri, To looke vpon his owne fautes.
Intuitus, us, m. g. a beholding oꝝ lokyng vpon.
Intumeo, intumes, tumui, tumere, and Intume-sco, mescere, to swell, to ryse vp, to be puffed vp, to bee somewhat hyghe, to swell for anger.
Intumescere alicui, id est, irasci.
Intumescens locus, a place somewhat rysyng in hegght.
Intumulatus, a, um, not buryed, not layed in grauē.
Intuor, eris, intus, oꝝ intuitus sum, intui, to see, to beholde, antiquum.
Inturbatus, a, um, not disturbed, not troubled.
Inturbidus, a, um, not troublous oꝝ busy.
Inturis, idem quod Capparis.
Intus, in a place, sometyme from within.
Dic me rogare, ut aliquis intus prodeat, sate that I desyre one to come forth to me.
Intus euocabo aliquem foras, I will call one forth.
Intus domum nostram, for Intra.
Intus in crumena, in my purse.
Hic intus, here within.
Intus domus, at home and within the doores.
Intus sibi cauere, prouerbialiter, spoken of theym that studie onely for theiꝝ owne vsē.
Intus, sometyme for Intro.
Intutium, idem quod Inducium.
Intutus, a, um, vnure, not in safegarde, not out of daunger, not kepte, not defended.
Quouly cunctando rempublicam intutam patiemini? howe long yelongyng the tyme wyll you suffer the common weale in reoperty?
Intybaceus, a, um, oꝝ Intubaceus, of rikozie oꝝ endpue.
Intybum, intybi, n. g. oꝝ Intybus, bi, m. g. oꝝ f. g. semeth to be the generall name of all kyndes of endpue and Sukozie. Yet Dioscorides diuideth it into. ii. kyndes, the one wynde, the other, whiche is sowen, and of that also he maketh. ii.
soꝝ. o, the one with a broad leafe, whiche I take to bee the endpue, the other with a narrow leafe, whiche I take for the commune garden rikozie. that whiche is wilde, hath also. ii. kyndes, the one called Sukozie oꝝ harde wais, and the other Dent de leon.
Inuado, si, ere, to inuade, to enter, to appzehend, to assaile.
Cum ferro in aliquē inuadere, to renne vpon
one with a sword.
Consulatum inuadere, To take vpon hym a consulshipp by vnlawfull power oꝝ violence.
In fortunās hominum inuadere, to take mens goodes wrongfully from them, to robbe, to pill, to vse extortion, and rauen.

 Biduo tria milia stadioum inuadit, he goeth.
 Capillos alicuius inuadere, To leape to one and pull hym by the heare.
 Inuade viam, go on thy waye.
 Tantra libido inuaserat, suche a fantasie came in thepp braynes, or suche a desyre came vpon them, or they were so despyrouse.
 Eum morbus inuasit grauis, he was attached with a greuouse sykenesse.
 Bellum inuadere, id est, incipere.
 Inuadere collum alicuius, To leape in ones necke.
 Ea inuasit homines habendi cupido, suche a couetousnesse fell or began to reigne among men, or entred into the hertes of men.
 Tantus terror inuaserat, so great a feare came vpon them.
 In arcem causā inuadere, To enter into the chyeffe popnet of the matter, and there as the effecte of the matter resteth.
 Inualco, inuales, lui, lere, and Inualesco, scere, to waxe strong, to bee confirmed or stablished, to growe in vse. Comēto to become weake, to growe out of vse.
 Inualuit consuetudo, it grew to a custome or vse, or a custome is taken by or growen in vse.
 Inualentia, x. f. g. idem quod Inualitudo.
 Inualitudo, inis, f. g. feblenesse, weakenesse, sykenesse.
 Inualidus, a, um, feble, weake, impotent, of litteell force or vertue, nor valiaunt and stronge.
 Inuēctio, ōnis, f. g. a bynggng or conuegghing in. Also inuegghng or speagng vehemently agaynst a thyng.
 Inuēctius, a, um, inuēctine, that belongeth to inuegghng, or speagng agaynst.
 Inuēctius, a, um, idem.
 Inuēctiū orationes, oracions made agaynst one, reprovgng his maners and spayng.
 Inuēctus, us, mascu. gene. a bynggng or conuegghng in.
 Inuēctus, a, um, caried or brought in.
 Inueho, inuehis, uexi, here, to carie in a thyng, to carie a thyng into a place.
 Inuehant se hostes, the enemies pteased in vpon them.
 Inuehor, ēris, inuehi, depon. to rebuke one vehemently, to rate, to rale, and with violence and soze woordes to inuegh agaynst one.
 Equo inuehi, to be on horse backe to ryde.
 Flumine inuehi, to rowe or sayle.
 Inuēctus portum, for in portum.
 Inuenditus, a, um, not solde.
 Inuēntio, inuenis, uēni, ire, to fynde a thyng which a man seeketh for, to inuent or imagine, to knowe or trie out, to get, to obteyne.
 Inuenitur apud authores, & in authoribus, it is redde in authours, or it is founde witten in authours.

Inuenire aditum, to fynde the meane to enter or haue access.
 Certum inueniri non poterat, the certaintie or trueth coulde be knowen by no means.
 Quod labore inuenierit, id est parauerit, that he hath gotten by his labour and trauaile.
 Nomen inuenire nouum, to get a new name.
 Nomen latinum non inuenit, it neuer hadde name in latine.
 Obrectatores inuenire, To be pill spoken of by naughtie tongues.
 Salutem fuga inuenire, By flight to escape false.
 Inuenieris, ex me quidem nunq̄ fies certior, enquire or aske of whom thou wylt, thou shalt neuer knowe it of me as long as thou lyest.
 Hoc mali non pridem inueni, id est, intellexi, sensi, It is not long sens that I haue perceived this displeasure.
 Inueni quod agam, I haue inuēd, or I haue bethought me what to dooe.
 Finem non inuenit, It was not atchieued or ended. Laudem inuenire, to geue praise or commendation.
 Inuenias vbi habitet, enquire out where he dwelleth. Viam inuenire, to fynde a waye or meane.
 Inuentarium, rij, n. g. an inuentorie.
 Inuēntio, ōnis, f. g. an inuencion, a fyndng.
 Inuentiuncula, x, f. g. an inuencion.
 Inuentor, ōris, m. g. a fynder out, an inuētore, or fynd author.
 Inuentrix, triciis, f. g. the feminine.
 Inuentum, i, n. g. an inuencion or deulle.
 Inuentus, us, m. g. idem quod Inuēntio.
 Inuentus, a, um, founde out.
 Inuentum reddere, to fynde out.
 Inuentio est opus, it must be founde out.
 Inuenuste, vnpleasantly.
 Inuēntus, a, um, vnpleasant, without grace.
 In verba iurare, to bee swozne as princis count saylours and seruantes be swozne vnto them, also to doo fealtie.
 Inuerecundus, a, um, vnchast, without shame, impudent. Inuerecunda frons, id est, perfricta, without shame.
 Inuergo, verxi, ere, to encline, to poure in.
 Inuērio, ōnis, f. g. a toungng in and out, toungng of the wrong syde forwarde.
 Inuersum, in numbre and order.
 Inuersus, a, um, tourned in and out, tourned backwarde.
 Inuersa verba, woordes tourned backwarde, as Vola, for Lauo.
 Consuetudo inuersa, a custome chaunged cleane contrary.
 Inuerto, ti, tere, to tourne in, to tourne by syde downe, to tourne in and out after the vulgar speeche, & toppely to tourne euery thyng contrary to the ryght fourme and facion.
 Inuertere verba, to byngng out woordes, to turne wee speake one thyng for an other.

 In locum annulum inuertere, To turne the ringe againe in to his place.
 Nego iam a liquod inuertere, To disturbe a matter, and tourne it vpside downe.
 Inuertere ordinem, to dooe or late a thyng backwarde.
 Inuertere scrobes oleis, To dygge places to plant olyues in.
 Quam se cito inuertit, Howe quickly hath he tourned or changed hym selfe.
 Inuēspicere, to ware nyght.
 Inuēstis, stium, m. gen. ponge thypden without heare, or after some, they that be vnarmed.
 Inuēstibilis, le, that maie not bee founde with sekyng.
 Inuēstigio, ōnis, f. g. a seckepng or sekyng out, a tracepng.
 Inuēstigator, tōris, m. ge. one that maketh diligent seckhe or enquire for or of a thyng.
 Inuēstigo, aui, a, e, to secke or fynde out by the steeple and print of the fete, as hunters doo, to trace And by translation, to make diligente seckhe or of for a thyng, to enquire.
 Inuēstigem, where maie I fynde whiche way he went.
 Quarendo inuestigari possit, By diligente seckhepge and seckpng, it may be found out.
 Diligenter de aliquo inuestigare, to make diligent seckhe and enquire for one.
 Inuēstio, iui, ire, to adorne or garnyshe a thyng, to trimme.
 Inuēstis, ste, that hath no heare or bearde, idem quod impubis.
 Inueterasco, scere, to ware of force or strength, to bee confirmed by long vse, to growe in custome also woyme out, almost consumed. Comēto to be longe in a place.
 Inueterai, olde shewes or vnchastee, men was reuolde in vnchastise luyng.
 Inueteratio, ōnis, f. g. the growyng of a thyng in vse by long custome.
 Inueteratus, a, um, confirmed by long vse, growen in custome, olde, auncient.
 Inuetero, aui, a, e, to kepe till it be olde or stale, to growe in vse, or be established by long custome.
 Inueterait hac opinio, This opinio hath been long in mens myndes.
 Inueterait consuetudo, a custome is taken by or growen in vse.
 Quorum nomen inueterait hominum famæ & sermonibus, whose name hath bene of long tyme renowned, & of reputation among men.
 Inuicem, together, one the other. also for per vi. ne after an other, by course somtyme for he was a, or econario, agayne on the other name shawne for thy parte or my parte.
 Inuicem inuicem, they loue one an other.
 Inuicem inuicem, inuicem rusticas scribe, and thame by knowest the assages of the curre, for thy parte agayne, wryte what is dooen in the countreie.

 Inuicem crimen intentare, To lape one to an others charge.
 Inuicem obstant, They leat one an other.
 Loquamur inuicem, leat vs speake one after an other by course.
 Inuictus, a, um, valiant, myghty, that can not be ouertome or vanquished.
 Inuictum se a labore prestare, not to be ouercome with labour and peyn, not to be wetered.
 Inuidētia, x, f. ge. grefe to beholde or here that an other man prospereth.
 Inuideo, inuides, uidi, ēre, to haue enuy at an others prosperite, to hate, somtyme to disdaine, also to see inwardly or through a thyng. somtyme to denie a thyng to one: as, Natura inuidit oleum Africæ.
 Inuideo tibi doctrinam, I haue enuy at thy learnyng.
 Inuidebant omnes mihi, euerpe one hadde grudge and enuy at me.
 Honorem alicui, and honori alicuius inuidere, To be greued with the honour and advancement of an other.
 In eo, cui inuidetur, the impersonall.
 Inuideor, the passiue.
 Inuidetur, the impersonall.
 Inuidia, x, f. gen. enuy, hatredte, pill wylle, grudgepng, the pill brute or opinion that the people haue of one, despite.
 Inuidia facti sui, The displeasure of his acte or attemptate, or the deede wherof he was enuied or hated.
 Inuidiam concitare alicui, to byngng one in hatred or pill opinion.
 Facere inuidiam, idem.
 Inuidia temporum, id est inuria, malignitas.
 Quare inuidiam in aliquem, to secke meannes to byngng one in hatred and pill wylle.
 Inuidiam regie largitionis, for hatred and despite of the hynge prodigalitee.
 Cumulare sibi inuidiam, To purchase hatred and displeasure.
 Habere inuidiam, to bee hated or enuyed, to be odious or displeaunt.
 In inuidia esse, idem.
 Rapere, trahere, adducere in inuidiam, To make one hated and maligne, or to haue the pill will and displeasure of men.
 Vertere inuidiam alicuius rei in alterum, To tourne the blame, hate, or displeasure of a thyng to an other.
 Conferre inuidiam mortis alicuius in alterū, to make one hated for the deathe of a man.
 Fragare, or conflagrare inuidia, to be greued by spited or hated.
 Inuidia crudelitate ex re aliqua colligere, to be noted & taken for a cruell persone for doyng of a thyng. to bee hated or haue pill wylle or displeasure of men for his crudeltee in any thyng.

Inuidia esse alicui, to cause that one is hated or enuied.
 Inuidiola, a, f. g. a littell enuy or hatred.
 Inuidiose, enuiously, odiouly, spitefully.
 Inuidiosus, a, um, enuious. Sometyne enuied, or dious, hated, spited.
 Inuidiosa res, a thyng that bredeth enuy or hatred. Inuidiosum iudicium, a iudgemente of opinion, wherof men haue an ill opinion, or wherwith men be displeased or discontented.
 Inuidiosum nomen, an odious name.
 Inuidiosum ad bonos, or apud bonos, That is odious to good men, that men of honestie dooe hate.
 Parabant absentis damnationem multo inuidiosior emfore, they thought that his condemnation wold be muche more odious and displeasing, because it was in his absence.
 Inuidus, inuida, um, that hath enuie, that enuieyth, enuious.
 Inuigilo, aut, are, to haue watche of a thyng, or to late watche, to watche diligently, to care, to take good herde.
 Inuiuius, a, um, that neuer drinketh wyne.
 Inuolabilis, le, that can not be violated or brydken.
 Inuolante, pu. clp, vncozruptely.
 Inuolatus, a, um, nor violated, not corrupted, pure, not hurte.
 Inuolatus, a, um, not visited.
 Inuiso, uisi, sere, to goe to see, to visite.
 Ad eum inuiso, I go to hym to see.
 Domum alicuius inuisere, to visite, to come to ones house to see hym.
 Inuisus, a, um, neuer seene, also hated or odious, that we can not abyde to see.
 Inuisus deo, hated of god.
 Inuisor, and Inuisusimus.
 Inuitabilis, le, delectable, iocunde, pleasant.
 Inuitatio, onis, f. g. and Inuitamentum, i, u. g. idem quod inuitatus.
 Inuitatus, us, m. g. a bidding or desyring, an aluring or prouoking.
 Inuitatus, a, um, bidden as to a feast or banquet, desyred to come, allured, induced.
 Inuito, aut, are, to bydde, to calle, to desyre to come, to allure, to entice, also to delite to fill the belly.
 Inuitare & alleciare.
 Inuitare animos uisui, to deelyte and recreate mens myndes by seeyng it.
 Inuitare ad carnem, to byd or desyre to come to sup. per.
 Domum aliquem inuitare, to desyre one to come home to his house.
 Inuitare ad legendam, to allure.
 Gloria inuitantur p̄aclarā ingenia, excellent wittes be assured with glorie.
 Inuitare in hospitium, and hospitio, to desyre one to come to his house, and take suche fare and lodgyng as he hath.

Inuitat genialis hyems, helpeth.
 Inuitare aliquem poculis, to drynke to one.
 Inuitare se in corna, to drynke or quaffe largely.
 Inuitare in pradam, to entice one to a great pray.
 Vocationes inuitare, to prouoke homite
 Inuit, inuitus, usque, agapst ones will, but willingly.
 Inuitus, a, um, vnwilling, or agapst ones will, by constraint, agapst herte and mynde.
 Inuita Minerva aliquid facere, to do a thyng agapst nature.
 Inuitis omnibus, in spite of all theyr tethes, manage theyr brades.
 Inuitus facio, I dooe it agapst my stomache.
 Inuitis huius solutionis, not willing that this should be paid.
 Non inuitus, with a good will.
 Inuius, inuia, um, lacking a wale, or where no thyng can passe.
 Inuia, places that can not be passed by.
 Inuia, inuia, f. g. called Eleniu. Helenacampa.
 Inuitus, a, um, that is not punished. Sometyne without reuerdie, without hurt or danger.
 Inumbro, uis, a, e, to make shadowe. Sometyne it signifyth to desende.
 Inuoco, aut, are, to cathe as it were with an hoke.
 Inundatio, onis, f. g. a floudde, a deluge.
 Inundo, aut, are, to ouerflowe or surrounde.
 Sanguine inundare, to ouerflowe in bloude, to be all full of bloude.
 Inunctio, onis, f. g. an annoynting.
 Inungo, unxi, ungere, to annoynt.
 Inunguem to the point, perfectly.
 Inuocatus, a, um, not called, not bydden.
 Inuoco, inuocas, aut, are, to calle in, to call for helpe, also not to calle.
 Inuocare subsidium, to desyre aide or succour.
 In auxilium aliquem inuocare, to desyre or call upon one to helpe hym.
 Inuolito, aut, are, the frequentatyr of Inuolo.
 Inuolo, inuolas, laui, lare, to scale away in ones hande, to late violent handes on one, to take in ones hande, to flee in, to enter in quickly.
 Inuolare intro, to flee in.
 Inuolare in aliquem, to scape of tenne violent by on one.
 Vix me contineo, quin inuolem in capillum, I can vneth rekeigne my selfe from sleepe by t on hym, to pulle hym by the heare.
 Inuolare in possessionem, to take possession of a thyng hastily.
 Inuolucris, cris, a barbour clothe cast aboute a mans necke in shawp.
 Inuolucris, cre, and Inuolucer, cris, cre, that can not flee, not ready to flee.
 Inuolucrum, i, u. g. curty thyng which one by the couer or wrape an other thyng in, or the bulker thyng.
 Inuolucris simulacronum regi, thyngs of crafty couerpynges of dissimulation.
 Inuoluo, uolui, ere, to wrape, to dresse, to thye ner. Sometyne to platte. Sometyne to put in.

 Inuoluere se liceris, to geue hym selfe wholly to study. Apycwise Otio se inuoluere.
 Inuoluolus, i, m. g. & Inuoluola, a, f. g. a wooyne lyke a canker, whiche is on vynes, and when he is taken of, he wrappeth hym selfe rounde to gyther.
 Inuolutus, a, um, wrapped, folded in, couered.
 Inuolutum beilum, warre, cloked vnder the name of peace.
 Inurbane, vnurteply, rudely, homely, after no rule of gentyl softe.
 Inurbanus, a, um, vnurteple, rude, homely in manere, without honest ciuilitie.
 Inungo, es, uisi, gere, to thrust, to force.
 Inuino, aut, are, to plunge and washe theym selfes in water as geese and duckes dooe.
 Inuro, uisi, ere, to marke a thyng with an hotte yron, to enamele or woork with fyre.
 Inuere alicui notam censoriam, to bynne to one a notable reproche, to put to a notable rebuke.
 Inuere infamiam alicui, to bynne by a sclands on one, whiche will neuer be laied.
 Leges inuere, to make lawes to the perpetus all dishonour of a weale publike.
 Inuere dolorem, to put to great payne and sorowe.
 Inuere famam superbia, to make one to bee noted for a proude persone.
 Inuolare, and Inuolare, strangely, not after the accustomed facion.
 Inuolatus, a, um, not wonte, newe, strange.
 Inustus, a, um, bourned in, marked with an hot yron.
 Inuichis, le, vnprofitable.
 Inuichas, asis, i. g. vnprofitableness.
 Inuoluer, vnprofitable.
 Inuinium, a town in Almayne, called Inu sprough.
 Inuolueratus, a, um, not wounded.
 Inuus, is the rustall god of the Panyms, called also Pan.

O, an interfection, signifyng sometyne grece, as in tribulo. Viorio, Wh. I burne. Sometyne excessiue gladnesse, as in Ouidio. Dicitur, the daughter of Inachus.
 Locinialis, the herbe called also Onobrychis.
 Ioannes, a propre name of hebreue, and signifyeth the grace of god.
 Ioannes baptista, sonne of Zacharias, and Chilas bech, of the trybe of Leui, was sanctified before he was borne, & declared by an angel, that his name should be John. And because his father byd not forthwith breue it, he was spechelesse thre dayes after the birth of the childe, and that he had written in tables, his name is John: than was his mouth opened, & he spake glorifying god, & made ths psalme: Benedictus dominus deus israel. This John was of suche perfection & holinesse, that our Sauoure Christe testified of hym, that he went in the spirit and trouche of Isaias the prophete: but yet was he more than a prophete, and the messiasger, promysed by the prophete Malactias, that god wold sende, which shoulde prepare the way before hym. Semblably John testified of Christ, that he was the true light that lyghteth euery man, that cometh into the worlde, and that he was in the worlde, and the worlde was made by hym, and that he bare recorde, that he was the sonne of God. John lyued in wylde verne, his garment was of camelles haire, his gyrdell of a skyn about his loynes, his meate Locusts and honny of the wooddes. He baptised onely in water, teachyng repentance and the appoynting of the byngedome of heauen. But because he said that he rode, it was not les full for hym to haue his brothers wyfe, he was by hym put in prison, and finally at the petition of the daughter of Herodiades, who daunted before hym (by the perswasion of Herodiades, who was his brothers wyfe) his head was stricken of, and in a dish brought by the maids vnto hir mother in open banket. Iosephus antiquarium li. 18. calleth hym a very good man, who commanded the Jewes to labour to geat herue, to obserue Justice amonge them selfes, to keepe true religion towardes God. & by hys tyme to ioyne together in one. Also he saith, that many men thought, that in the battayle betweene Herod and Archela, by the iust vengeance of god, for puttynge John Baptiste to death, the hoste of Herode was utterly destroyed. He was borne before Christ carnally monethes, and was put to death before Christ suffred his passion, one yere.

 Ioannes, apostle and Euangelist, sonne of Zebedeus, brother of James the apostle, called the more, was of Christ moste tenderly beloued, and in tyme of the emperour Domitian, was exiled into Pathmos, where he wrote the Apocalypsis. After the death of Domitian, in the tyme of Hecmat, he returned to Ephesus, and there remainyng vnto the tyme of Traian, he rapyd many churches, byd set them in order, and bynne of great age, dyed. Irbui. peeres after the passion of Christe, as Sophronius writeth, and was buried at Ephesus.
 Polperates, an ancient and holy byshop in Asia, in hys epistle to Metro, byshop of Rome, writeth in this wyse: Also John, whiche layde his head vpon our lordes breast, who was the chiefe priest, and ware the pontifical plate or table, martyr and doctour of the church, Ape at Ephesus. He wrote his gospell last of all the Euangelistes in the last ende of his lyfe, wherin he declareth the diuinite of our sauour, more more than any of the other, whiche by the holy gost was reserved unto hym.

Iocasta, was daughter of Creon, and firste wife of Laius kynge of Thebes, after whose death she being ignorant, married Oedipus hir natural sonne. After that hir sonnes Polynices & Eteocles, whiche she had by Oedipus had one dayne the other in battayle, she also killed hir selfe.

Iocatio, onis, f. g. a merry iestyng, a thyng spoken in bourde.

Iocans, antis, om. g. that speaketh a thyng merrily, iestyng, boozdyng.

Iochabella, the name of Moyses mother.

Ioco, and iocose, in spoite, merrily, in game, in ieste, in bourde.

Nescio, hac ioco an serio dicat, I can not tell whether he speaketh these thynges in game or in earnest.

Iocor, aris, ari, to speake merrily or in dispoite, to speake in ieste, to boozde.

Iocofus, a, um, & iocularis, re, mery, sportfull, prouolyng merrily.

Iocosus homo, a pleasant and mery man full of iestes.

Iocularius, a, um, that is spoken in ieste, a sportyng matter.

Iocularium malum, a meryd sportyng matter.

Ioculariter, merrily, in ieste, in waye of spoite and bourdyng.

Ioculator, oris, m. ge. a iester, one that speaketh merrily and in boozde.

Ioculans, antis, idem quod iocans.

Ioculus, li, m. g. a lytell spoite or merrily.

locus, ci, m. g. plu. ioci, or ioca, a mery word, dispoite, ieste in wordes.

Iohel, a prophete bozne in Bethon, in the lande of Rubim, he prophesied muche of Hierusalem, and finall conclusion of Gentiles.

Iol, a citee of Numidia.

Iolaus, the sonne of Epheclus, of whom the people of Sardinia were named iolenfes.

Iolcos, a towne of Thessaly.

Iole, the daughter of Euritus, kynge of Betolia, whom Hercules loued so muche, that he serued hir in a womans apparayle, and spanne on a distaffe.

Ion, a tone of violet colour, also the name of a grecke poete.

Ion porphirion, the blew violet.

Ionas, a prophete of the countreie of Eariathas maum, not farre from Abotus, a citee of the Grecques, nigh to the sea in Syria, in the tyme of Helias, and was the sonne of the poore wyrdome, and him dyd Helias restore vnto lyfe for the hospitalitee of his mother. whan he came to full age, he was by almighty God sente to the great citee of Ninive in Assyria, & as he would haue fledde from the lord, and haue turned his iourney vnto Charlos, he was deuoured of a whale, and beyng at the last cast vp into the lande out of the whales mouth, whan he had been thre daies in his belly, he went forth and preached in Ninive in such wyse, that the people by penance rekeigned the twoorde of god, whiche was ready to streke them. After ward Jonas, bered with heuynesse of mynde, returned to his countreie, not there long abyedynge, takynge with hym his mother, went to the lande of Sur, and as he haunted the lande of Saar, he there dyed, and was buried in the graue of Amzeus the Judge. He prophesied, that whan men shoulde see in Hierusalem the people come from the west partes of the world, than shuld the citee be destroyed vnto the hard earthe. Jonas, in hebreu signifieth a culuer, or a destroyer of people.

Ionis, a region in Greece of Asia, wherein were the citees of Ephesus, Miletus, Priene, and other, and the people thereof be called Ionics, and the tounge Ionica, and the sea iogynge to it Mare Ionicum.

Ionicus, ca, um, & Ionius, a, um, and Ioniacus, a, um, of Ionis.

Ionhi, waxes or little pimples in the face.

Iopas, a kynge of Africke, one of Didos woers.

Ioppe, es, f. g. a citee of the countreie of Palestina, not farre from Hierusalem, standynge by the sea, some men doo suppose it to be the hauen, whiche is called Porte Jaffe.

Iordanis, a fayne ryuer in Iudaea, whiche diuideth Galilee from the residue of Iudaea, and falleth into the dead sea.

Ios, an ple where Homerus was buried.

Ioseph, the son of Jacob the patriarche, was thos rough enuy solde by his brytherne vnto a macediant, who brought hym into Egypt, and gaue hym to Putiphar, great maister of householdes with kynge Pharao, whose wyfe bournynge in concupiscence, because Ioseph woulde not cōmyt adultery with hir, caused him to be cast into prison, wher he declaring to the kynge cupbearer the signification of his dreame, was after ward by the same cupbearer remembred vnto kynge Pharao, when he had dreamed a dreame, whiche he wold haue expounded. And he expounding the kynge's dreame, was made high steward of his roialme. So that by his most excellent wysedome such aboundance of grayne was brought into the kynge's barnes, and there kepte durynge the vii. plentifulous yeres, that the fewen scarce yeres next ensuyng, it sufficed not onely to releue all the people of Egypt, but also refreshed other countreies, and made the kynge exceedingly riche. Wherefore the brytherne of Ioseph, beyng sente by Jacob thepp father to bye coyne in Egypt, not knowynge thepp brother Ioseph, were by hym sandepp mes apprehended, and compelled to fetch thepp yonger brother Beniamyn, and at the laste Ioseph discoueryng hym self vnto thepp, caused them to fetch his and their father into Egypt, with all his familie, where they were honourably enterayned of kynge Pharao and Ioseph. And Ioseph had there x. i. countreies, Efram and Manasse, and lyled a hundred and ten yeres. Ioseph signifieth increase, or a great officer. he dyed before the incarnation about. 1652. yeres.

Iosephus, the sonne of Mattathias, a priest of Hierusalem, wate in Greece the battayle of the Jewes, and destruction of the Citie by Vespasian and Citus, wherent he hym selfe was present. He wate also of the antiquitee of the Jewes. He was amonge the Romayns had in such reuerence and honoure, that his ymage was sette up in the citie. He had the spirit of prophetic, and beyng prisoner, tolde vnto Vespasian, that he shoulde be emperor of Rome. Also in his booke of antiquities he writeth in this wyse. At this tyme was Jesus a wise man, yf he lesull to call hym a man, he was a doer of wonderfull workes, and a teacher of those men, whiche wyllyn. ly dooe here thynges that be true, he iouged vnto hym many Jewes and also Gentiles, this man was Christ. Whan Pyllare, by the enuy of the chief men of our nation had iudged hym to be put on the crosse, he forsooke not them, whom from the beginnyng he loued, but appered to them the third day, after soones alure, accordyng as the prophetes by diuine inspiration spake before of hym, and that innumerable myracles shuld be done by hym. Iulio wate Iosephus. wherby appereth his excellent wysedome, and speciall grace, whiche he had receiued: and it repugneth not muche, that in his herte he embraced the faith of Christe. He was asiet the incarnation of Christ lxvi. yeres.

Iota the name of a grecke letter.

Iotapata, a citee in Syria.

Iouianus Pontanus, a poete.

Iouiani, were men of armes so called of Martian the emperor, whiche dyd valiantly in the countreie of Allyria.

Iouis glans, the chistnutte.

Iouis, the genuine case of Iupiter, or after Pisican of the nomi. Iouis.

Iouis, compositum ex Ioue & Iuste.

Iphianassa, the wyfe of Delampos, whom for hir beautee Iuno turned into furie or madnesse.

Iphiclus, son of Almena, bozne with Hercules at one birth, but Hercules was gotten by Iupiter & Iphiclus by Amphitrio. And whan two settes came to the crabble of Iphiclus, and lew hym, after whan they came to Hercules, he tooke in curry of his handes one, and lew them. There was an other Iphiclus, the sonne of Iphiclus & Clymene, who Hesiodus saith, was so lyght and swyfte, that he ranne vpon the eares of wheate as they grewe, and dyd not hurtle them, also that he ranne on the water as well as on the lande. Reade Caelium Lectio num antiq. lib. 2. ca. 5.

Iphicrates, a noble man of Athenes.

Iphidamas, the sonne of Antenor.

Iphimedia, the wyfe of Alorus.

Iphigenia, the daughter of kynge Agamemnon, whom he offered in sacrifice goyng to Troie.

Iphianassa, idem quod Iphianassa.

Iphinous, one of the Centauris.

Iphitus, the sonne of Pharionidis, which fyrst ordeyned the solenne plaies called Olympiada, also an other of Troie.

Ipmion, id est, muscus.

Ips, ipos, a littell worme bicedynge in hoznes and vines. Erasmus saith, hurtfull to hoznes and vines.

Ips, ipsa, ipsum, he, she, that same, by demonstra-tyng or shewyng the person or thyng spoken of.
Ips egomet, I my selfe.

Rem ipsam dic, tell hym the verai mattier.

Ipsior, ipsissimus.

Idem hoc ipsum, the verai selfe same thyng.

Res ipsa indicat, the matter it selfe declareth.

In ipsis nuptiis, at the verai poynt of the marriage.

Eo ipso die, on the verai same date.

Ipsmet, he, hym selfe.

Ipsippe, to hym and to none other.

Ipsuices, plaies imposed lyke to figures or ymages of men or women.

IR, the holownesse of the hande. sometyme is signifieth the hole hande.

Ira, r, f. ge. wrath, anger, an appetite to pus-nythe hym of whom we be offended.

Accensus in iram, inflamed with anger.

Concitare iam alicui, to make angry.

Nunc meum cor cumulat iram, now dooe
I wate muche more angry.

Iram euomere in aliquem, to utter his wrath or anger towards one.

Facere aliquid per iram, to dooe a thyng in his anger.

Ira sunt inter eos, they be fallen out.

Recanduit ira, he waxed angry agayne.

Frana ponere iram, to moderate anger.

Iracunde, angerly, with a stomache, & rously.

Iracundia, a, f. g. anger quickely moued and for a lyght cause, displeasure agaynst one, a des-yre to be reuenged.

Iracundiam collibere, continere, reprimere.

Omitte tuam istam iracundiam, quite pour selfe, appeale your selfe.

Iracundus, a, um, moztly or soone angry, hasty, inclined naturally to anger, quickely moued
and

and for a lyght cause, quickly displeased.
 Iracundus est, he is as angre as a waspe.
 Irascor, eis, irasci, to be angre, to be moued, to be displeased.
 Irascor tibi illud dictum, I am displeased with the for so sayng.
 Irasci vicem alicuius, id est dolere.
 Irasci & stomachari.
 Irascuntur admonitioni, they be angre with them that doe monishe or tell them of any thyng.
 Irate, angerly.
 Iratus, a, um, angre, troubled, greatly moued.
 Iratum habere aliquem, to haue once displeasure of yll wyll.
 Iratum mare, the tempestuous or troublous.
 Iratior, iratissimus.
 Irceus, a kynde of puddynge.
 Ircepes, an harrowe.
 Ire, and Iri, looke Eo.
 Irenarches, & Irenarcha, m. gen. he whiche is in authoritee to see peace kepte in a countreie or citee. whiche among vs maie bee called a Justice of the peace.
 Iria flauia, a citee of Spayne.
 Irium, oyle of Yreos.
 Irinus, irina, num, that is made of the flower deluce.
 Iris, iridis, f. m. ge. the rayne bowe. It is also a flower deluce, the cite wherof is vntre sote, and is commonly called Yreos. it is also a certayne precious stone.
 Irio, named in Greke Ericimon, in Englishe winter cresses, it groweth about townes and water sides.
 Iris syluestris, viola est purpurea.
 Irnella, x, f. m. gene. a certayne vessel used in sacrifice.
 Ironia, x, f. m. g. a figure in speaking, when a man speaketh othertwise than he thyketh, as in scoffynge or bourdynge, calling that faire whiche is foule in dede, that good, which is yll, that eloquente, whiche is barbarous, semblably, reasonyng contrarie to that I thynke, to the intent to mocke hym, with whom I reason or dispute.
 Ironice, mockyshe, scoffynge.
 Ironicus, he that vsyth that faction in speaking.
 Irpices, takes with yron teeth, wherewith they dweye by weedes, some take it for an harrow.
 Irpini, certayne people.
 Irradio, aui, are, to shyne vpon, to cast his beames vpon, as the sonne dooth, to lyghten.
 Irrasus, a, um, vnshauen, vnshaved, rough. that is not polished.
 Irrationalis, le, vnreasonable, without reason.
 Irrauesco, irauci, scere, idem quod iraucio.
 Ircauo, irauci, ire, to be hoarse.
 Irrediuus, a, um, that can not be repayed or repayed.
 Irredux, reducis, om. g. from the which one can not retourne safe agayne.

 Irreligarus, a, um, vnbounde, scuse.
 Irreligiōsus, a, um, vngodly, not religious, not deuoute, without feare of god.
 Irremediabilis, le, that, from the which one can not come agayne.
 Irremediabilis, le, that can not be holpen with any remedy, that can not be remedied.
 Irremunerabilis, le, that maye not be rewarded or recompensed.
 Irreparabilis, le, that maie not be repayed or redressed to the first estate.
 Irreperitus, a, um, not founde.
 Irrepro, pti, ere, to crepe in, to enter in by stealth, or pitiuily by littell and littell.
 Irrepere in tabellas publicas, to bee written or inscolled in the commune registers pitiuily by stealth.
 Irrepere in hominum mentes, to enter into mens myndes by littell and littell.
 Irreprehensus, a, um, that can not be repoynd, without fault, not blamed.
 Irrequietus, a, um, without reste or quiete, distyrng, curd doeyng, busye, aduise, full of trouble.
 Irrefectus, a, um, not cut, not parced.
 Irrefolatus, a, um, neuer lette hache, or lused.
 Irreio, irretis, iui, ire, to take or holde in as it were in a nette, to entangle, to snare, to alsure, to tolle.
 Irreius, a, um, taken, lapt in with craft or fayne promyses, snared, allured.
 Irretortus, a, um, streyght, not crooked or bent awpye.
 Irreuerenter, vnreuerently.
 Irreuerentia, x, f. g. vnreuerence.
 Irreuocabilis, le, that can not be removed or recalled agayne.
 Irreuocabilis constantia, constantie that can not be chaunged by any meanes, immutable.
 Irreuoatus, a, um, not called agayne.
 Irrideo, rides, irrisi, dēre, to mocke, to laugh to scozne. sometye to laugh.
 Irridicūle, not meryly, vnpleasantly.
 Non irridente, meryly.
 Irrigatio, ōnis, f. g. a waterynge.
 Irrigatus, a, um, watered.
 Irrigatus plagis homo, one beaten vntill he bleede.
 Irrigo, irrigas, aui, are, to water grounde, to byng water into the fieldes out of a ryuer.
 Irrigare aquam in locum aliquem, to coueigh water into a place.
 Irriguus, a, um, the ground or fieldes that may be easily watered. sometye the water that maie be easily deriued into the fieldes.
 Irigua fontibus terra, a ground haung many welles or fountaynes.
 Fons irriguus, a fountayne that watereth any place.
 Irripio, ere, to plucke in.
 Irrisio, ōnis, f. m. gen. a mockyng, a delugyng, a laughyng a laughyng to scozne.

 Irrisor, ōris, m. g. one that mocketh or laugheth to scozne.
 Irrius, us, masc. gene. a mockyng, or laughynge to scozne.
 Irriui esse, to be laughed to scozne.
 Irrius, a, um, laughed to scozne.
 Irruabilis, le, quickly made angre or moued.
 Irruam, inis, or Irruamētum, ei, neu. gene. a thyng that steryth or prouoketh.
 Irruatio ōnis, f. m. gene. a stirryng, incensyng, or prouokynge. sometye for cupiditas, an appetite of desire.
 Irruatus, a, um, prouoked, stirred, moued to anger, angre.
 Irruo, irruas, aui, are, to make voyde, and of none effect.
 Irruo, as, re, haung the last syllable sayng one longe, to prouoke, to kendle wrath, to styre by, to incense.
 Irruus, irrua, um, voyde, of none effecte or force.
 Oua irrua, egges that proue not vnder an henne or other byrde.
 Irruus spei, disapointed of that he looked for.
 Preces irruas, vayne prayes that be not herd.
 Ad irruum cadis spes, Our hope is vayne and cometh to nothyng.
 Quod modo erat ratum irruum est, that was even nowe ratified and allowed, is now voyde and of none effecte.
 Irroboro, rauo, rare, to make stronger, or of more force, to confirme.
 Irrogatio, ōnis, f. g. a setting or imposyng of a tribute, penaltie, or lyke thyng.
 Multa irrogatio, a condemnynge to pay a cosaire.
 Irrogatus, a, um, imposed, sette vpon.
 Irrogo, irrogas, aui, are, to impose or sette vpon, to ordeyne.
 Irrogare leges, to make lawes.
 Irrogare pacem, to pynthe.
 Tributum irrogare, to sette a tribute or payement.
 Irrogare multam, to sette a payne or cosaire.
 Irroto, aui, are, to sprinkle or wete with dewe or moisture, to cask a dewe vpon.
 Irubeo, irruces, bui, bēre, and irubescō, scere, to be redde, to waxe redde.
 Iructo, aui, are, to belche, to belche out.
 Irrugio, irrugis, giui, ire, to brate out.
 Irrugo, aui, are, to make wrinkled.
 Irrumo, aui, are, to croke in.
 Irrumpens, breakyng in violently.
 Irrumpo, rupi, ere, to breake in or enter with force. sometye to breake a sunder.
 Irrumpere oppidum, to breake into a towne by force.
 In castra irrumpere, to assaile ennemyes in the campe.
 Irro, irruis, irruui, ere, to renne halpily or furiously into battayle, or vpon any thyng.

Sometye to fall in or caste in, to rushe in.
 Irruit in medium aciem, he russhed into the myddell of the army.
 Irruere in odium alicuius, To caste hym selfe wylfully without any consideration into the displeasure or hatred of a man.
 In mala irruiere, To renne wyllyngely in to nauyghynesse.
 Iriola, x, f. g. a kynde of vines.
 Irus, i, m. g. a beggar, of whom Homere maketh mention, who was great and feeble, and byng in Athara, the countreie of Wylles (he beyng absent) consumed his vitayles with the towres of Denelope. wherfore Wylles at his returne home, fawne hym with his wyfe.
 Iro pauperior, as beate a beggar as pūch, as poore as Job, in extreme necessitee.

Is, a ritte eight dayes iournepe from Babylon.
 Is, ea, id, a pronowne, whiche signifieth he, she, that, sometye such.
 Is fuit, such a man he was.
 Iam ea aetate sum, I am nowe of such age.
 Ea re, therfore.
 Iibus, for iis.
 Eapla, for ea ipsa.
 Id, for ob id.
 Nunc id prodeo, nowe I come forth for that cause or therfore.
 Id, for Hoc.
 Id modo dic, Saye this onely.
 Id, for per id.
 Vt id ostenderem, that I myght declare by the by that meanes.
 Id araris, of that age.
 Id diei, on that daie.
 Id honoris, of such honour or estimation.
 Ad id locorum, to that place, also to that time.
 Id temporis, at that tyme, in those daies.
 Nec id nobis virium erat, we were not of such puissance or strenght.
 Id genus hominum, that sorte of men.
 Isaca, the ryuer in Englande called Ece.
 Isaus, a famous Rhetorician, whiche inuented to make euery matier compendious.
 Isagoge, ges, f. g. an introduction.
 Isagogicon, a waye to introduce or begynne to teache.
 Isagora, a mans name.
 Isandrus, the footne of Bellerophon.
 Isapis, a ryuer nigh to Cereinth.
 Isara, a ryuer cōsynge out of the ryuer of Rhone, where the byt cathed Cemenas, is iolad into the Rhone, and so renneth by Voluentia into the gulf of France.
 Isaria, an ple agaynst Melin, called also Denotris.
 Isauris, f. g. a mounte made before in Cladium.
 Isauria, a region of Asia byng to Cilicia, some doe take it to be partie of Cilicia.
 Isau.

Isaurum, a citee in the countrey of Pamphilia.
 Isca, a citee in Devonshyre called Greter.
 Iscalis, a towne in Somerset shyre called Ischester.
 Ischia, a, for. g. the huckle bone. It is sometyms taken for the ache in the faced bone, which buldgar physicians doo call Sciatrica.
 Ischiadicus, vel Ischiacus, a, um, that hath the ache in the huppe, commonly called Sciatrica.
 Ischias, chiadis, f. g. the ache in the huckle bone.
 Ischiros, idem quod fortis, stronge.
 Ischomache, the name of Hippodamia.
 Iscia, idem quod Isatia.
 Isopolis, a citee of Capadocie called Tripolie.
 Iliacus, i, the priest of the goddesse Ilio.
 Iliu, a certaine plaster, holisome against melancolie.
 Iliu, called also Ili, one of the harlottes of Jupiter, whom he turned into a cowe for feare of Juno his wyfe.
 Ilium, uij. n. ge. a certayne puddyng, some call it an plynge.
 Ilimael, was the sonne of Abraham by Agar his wyues mayden, of whom the Sarazens be called Ilimaelites, as they be called also Agareni.
 Ilimarus, i, m. g. plur. Ilimaria, orum, a mountayne in Thracia.
 Ilimene, the daughter of Medipus.
 Ilinenias, the name of an excellent mynstrell, whiche played on the shaulmes.
 Ilimenides, the women of Thyres.
 Ilimenus, a ryuer in the countrey of Beroitia, named of Ilimerus, the sonne of Delatagus.
 Ilocinnamon, mi, neu. gen. an herbe called also Daphnois.
 Ilocolon, where two sentences are in like length.
 Ilocrates, the name of a famous orator, of whom derfull eloquence, out of whose schoole spronged the most excellent orators of Grece.
 Ilocodomon, a founne of puddyng, where euery thyng is equally streyght.
 Ilocomia, a, for. g. equalitie of lawes, as where they bee indifferente to all manner of persons.
 Ilocopleuros, thre edged.
 Ilocopyron, ri, neu. gen. an herbe called of some Phaselium, and hath leaues lyke annise.
 Ilocostachinos, a confection against the cough.
 Ilopalis, a citee in Spayne called nowe Simile.
 Ilopolium, a citee of the Alumbrians, called nowe Ilopellum.
 Ilorael, signifieth a man sayng god, also the name of Jacob the patriarche, and the people of the Jewes were called by that name. Howe be it sometyms it was attributed onely to ten tribes, the tribes of Iuda and Benjamin, being separated from them.
 Iloia, an Ile in the Venetian sea, forgyngge to Slauonie.
 Iloius, a citee in Sicile, and a tyme of Syria.
 Iloite, Iloia, Ilostud, this or that.
 Iloia ipsa de re, of the verye same matter, c

Istac, this waite.
 Iter, a, a great ryuer called Danubius, in Dutch Donowe. It cometh out of an hyl in Germanie, called of Plinie Roba, of Ptolomee Rhobna, of Tacitus Arbona. It receyvet into it thre scoe ryuers, wherof the moxe part be nasygible, and renneth by Swaue, Sauer, Danube, Hungarie, Alachia, and so throught Europa, and falleth into the sea called Pontus in seken sundry places, as Solinus and Mela write. But Plinius and Tacitus affirme but fyve. Herodotus, Treianus and othre but fyve. while it is in Germanie, it is called Danubius, and when it cometh into a parte of Thracia called Istria, where it is brodest, it is then called Iter.
 Isthmus, mi, m. ge. a narrow parte of the countrey, where two seas are but a small distance asunder, enclosing the lande on bothe sydes. In such a place is sette the citee of Corinthus in Grece. There be diuers suche places in Thracia, and of them were certayne places called Isthmia.
 Istic, there where thou arte.
 Istic, istac, istoc, for iste hic, ista hac, istud hoc.
 Istac res est, the matter is euen as you saie.
 Istinc, from that place, from thence.
 Istio, thither.
 Istoc, out of this place.
 Istonium, a towne of Italy called Gnado.
 Istorum, thitherwarde.
 Istria, a, a parte of Italie, marchyng on Istria, called nowe Slauonie.
 Istuc, for Istud.
 Iltus, the sonne of Priamus.

IT A, an aduerbe of aunterpyng or aunterpyng, and sometyms signifieth yea, sometyms so, so muche.
 Ita est, euen so it is.
 Ita loquor, yea so I saie, yea I assure you that it is so.
 Ita aiunt, so men saie.
 Ita me deus amet, so god lone or helpe me.
 Ita uenit, but is it for or is it as thou saiest? also it signifieth a note of disdigne.
 Itane conuenior abs te? Seest thou to well by me?
 Itane beatus quidem est? Is he therfore than happy?
 Ita negotium est? so the case requyret, so the busynesse requyret.
 Ita opus est facto, so muste it be doon.
 Ita sane, yea truly.
 Ita ut erat, as it was in dede.
 Ita uisus, as it happeneth.
 Dum rus eo, copii egomet mecum inter uia.
 Ita uisus, ubi quid in animo est molestia aliam ex alia cogitare, when I went downe into the countrey, by the waite, as it hapneth often tymes, when any displeasure cometh to my mynde, I bethought me of one thynge and othre.

 Ita est homo, suche is the mans nature, suche is his facion. Likewise, Ita ingenium eius fuit.
 Ita animatus fui, I was in the mynde, I was so mynded.
 Ita enim uero, yea veraiely.
 Ita inquam, I tell you.
 Ita ueltra est benignitas, so benigne and gentle it be.
 Ita ingenio sumus omnes, wee bet all of this nature.
 Ita erat res, the matter stode so, suche was the case.
 Ita nunc uiget mos, so the facion is nowe.
 Non ita multi fuerunt, there was not such a great numbere.
 Non ita ualde, not so greatly.
 Non ita dissimili sunt argumenta, the argument and summe of them bothe is not muche dissimile.
 Non ita multo post, shortly after, a lyttell while after.
 Ita subito est, it is so sodrenely.
 Ita prorsum oblitus sum mei, Iam so cleane before my selfe.
 Ita uisus esset filia, euen as though she had ben myne owne daughter.
 Ita uisus sumus, we be so bozne, or we be bozne to that, or to that ende.
 Ita, sometyms for Igitur, or Itaque.
 Ita, penul. cor. wherfore than, and therfore.
 Italia, a noble countrey, whiche is inuironned on the weste with the mountaynes Alpes, on the north with the sea Adriaticum: on the east and the southe with the sea Mediterraneum, and Fretum Siculum: it also conteineth these regions, Liguria, Etruria, Umbria, Flaminia, Latium, Apurium, Campania, Apulia, Venetia, Picenum, Gallia Cisalpina, called Lombardie, the length therof (after Plinie) is 1020 miles: the breadth in some place betwene the two seas. 410. miles. it was sometyms named Magna Græcia, because it was inhabited with Grekes, as Myrsilius writeth. Solinus resemblith the figure therof to an oker leafe, extendyng moxe in length than in breadth, toward the ende beyng diuyned, as it were into two hornes, wherof the one lyeth toward the sea Ionium: the other tokech to the narrow sea of Sicile, called Fretum Siculum: in the narrowest place it passeth not in breadth xx. myles.
 Italica, a citee in Italia, whiche by an other name is called Coninium. There is an other in Spain, where Silus Italicus was bozne.
 Italcensis, a citsin of Italicus.
 Italicus, a, um, of Italicus.

Italus, an Italian.
 Itrea, called also Salix, the kindes of willow.
 Item, in lyke maner, so, also, euen as, afterward.
 Iter, iteris, or itineris, neu. ge. a iourney, also a waite, a goynge. Sometyms an intente, entere pry'e, or pourpose.
 Iter habeo ad Casarem, I take my iourney to the emperour.
 Iter conficere, to perfourme a iourney, to go or ryde a iourney.
 Iter facere, to go a iourney.
 Iter dici, a daies iourney.
 Iter deuium, a die waie.
 Accelerare iter, To make speede forwarde on his iourney.
 Longum iter agere, to make a great boiage, to go a longe iourney.
 Supremum iter carpere, to die.
 Iter necessarium eo die illi erat Lanuuium, nedes he must goe that day. &c.
 Iter aquaium, id est, meatus, conductes.
 Comparare se ad iter, to prepare hym selfe to go out of towne.
 Iter eo contuli, I went thither.
 Conficere iter pedibus, to iourney or goe on foote.
 Iter habet Capuam, he wyll goe to Capua.
 Nobis iter est, we muste goe.
 Esse in itinere, to be on the waite iourneyng.
 Ingredi iter equo, to iourney, or take his iourneys on horse backe.
 Iusta itinera, whole iourneys.
 Iter prouum ad honores, an easie or redie waie or meane to honour.
 Ire nostris itineribus, to go the waite that we haue gone, to folowe our facion or trade.
 Itinera loci alicuius, holes or causes in any place.
 Iteratio, onis, for. g. a repetition, a reuoluyng, a begynnynge agayne also the seconde carpyng or castyng vp of the grounde. Sometyms the seconde pressyng of Oliues, and the ople that cometh of the seconde pressyng.
 Itero, iteras, aui, are, to dooe a thyng est soones, to go backe agayne, to reuolue, to repete, to dooe or saie agayne, to begyn a frethe, to iterate. Sometyms to goe.
 Aequor iterare, to saile agayne, to make a new biage on the sea.
 Iterare uerba, to repete woordes agayne.
 Sape iterando eadem, with often repetyng one thyng.
 Iterare campum, terram, agrum, pro iterum profcindere, aiaie, To till or caste by the grounde agayne.
 Iterum, este soones or agayn, the second tyme.
 Iterum ac tertium nominauit, I named hym twice or thise.
 Iterum consul, consull the second tyme.
 Iterum & sapius, moxe than ones or twyse, oftentymes.
 Ithaca,

Ichaca, an yle, lyngge before Athasis, & was Aliss ses countrey, therof called Ichacus.

Ichaceus, a, um, of Ichaca.

Ichome, a towne in Deloponeso, an other in Thessalie.

Ithonea, or Ithonia, a citee of Boetia, of the whiche Dallas was called Ithonia.

Ithyphallus, the name of Ithapus, the moste dishonest and abhominable idoll. Also ithyphalli, were dishonest persons, whiche in honouring theyr idoll Bacchus, daunced, haupng betwene theyr legges members of horrible greatnesse.

Ithyra, a towne in the mountayne of Caucasus towards Parthia.

Ithyreus, a, um, of Ithyra: countrey of Parthia.

Ithyrea sagitta, arrowes of the Parthians.

Ithytherion, Iule.

Iriadendros, the herbe Hippuris.

Iudem, so Iphewyse, after the same sort of fastion, semblably.

Vt hoc tibi doleretis idem, vt mihi dolet, that this thyng dyd greue you as muche as it grees ueth me.

Iudem vt cognata si sit, euen as though the were my kyns woman.

Itinerarium, ri, n. ge. a comentarie or booke of remembraunce, cōteynng thynges committed in iourneys. Also it is a calender of myles in the distauce of places, with the tyme of abode in euery place, lyke to testes of princes.

Itio, onis, f. ge. a goyng, a comyng.

Obuiam itio, a meetyng.

Ito, aui, are, to go muche or often.

Ition, tri, sweete talkyng.

Iturisa, a citee of Spayne.

Iturca, a region in Arabia or Syria, of which the people are called Iturzi.

Itus, us, m. g. idem quod Itio, onis.

Quid noster ius & reditus? what our goyng and comyng?

Itymoneus, a valiant man, the sonne of Ithys perchus.

Itys, the sonne of Tereus and Prognos, who (as poetes seygne) was tourned into a pheasant.
Erasmus saith, Itys is a hynde, called Phasiasnus of Ithaside, a ruier of Scythia.

I ANTE V.

Ivba, the name of a beast. also the name of a kyng of Mauritania.

Iuba, ba, f. m. ge. the maane of a horse or other beaste.

Iuba gallinaceorum, The soft feathers in a cockes necke lyke a maane, whan he holdeth vp his heade.

Iubar, iubaris, n. g. a sterre, whiche is also called Vesperus and Lucifer. it is sometyne taken for brightnesse, a soonne beame. sometyne the noblesse of a prince or great man.

Iubatus, a, um, that hath a maane.

I ANTE V.

Iubeo, iussi, iubere, to commaunde, to desyre, to wythe, to exhort, to decree, to ordeyne, to ap-poynte.

Iubeo te saluere, god saue you, I wyll the well to fate.

Dionysium iube saluere, commaunde me to be salue, salute Denys in my name.

Iubeto habere animu bonum, bidde hym haue
a good hert: or byd hym be of god chere.

Iube matrem sperare, bidde my mother haue
a good hope in the matter.

Iubilo, aui, are, to declare in the voyce the ioye and gladnesse of the herte, whiche maie not be expresed with wordes.

Iubilatio, us, m. g. a crying out, a shout.

Iubilum, li, n. ge. ioye and gladnesse in voyce, or with a shout, not expresed in wordes.

Iucunde, merily, gladly, pleasauntly, deliciously, sweetely.

Iucunditas, atis, f. m. ge. delectation, pleasure,
reioysyng.

Dare te iucunditati, to geue hym selfe to pleasure mythe or ioyfull.

Iucundor, aris, ari, to be ioyous and mery.

Iucundus, a, um, that whiche is the cause that an other reioysyth, delectable, pleasaunt to se or here. also louyng.

Odor iucundus, a pleasaunt and delectable saour.

Iucundi agri, goodly and pleasaunt fieldes, that delite a man to beholde them.

Iudaea, a countrey in Asia, which hath on the west Mare Cyprium: on the north Phoenicia and Syria: on the east Arabia: on the southe the lande of Egypte. it receyued that name of Iudas, the sonne of Jacob the patriarche, where before it was called Chanaan of Chanaanus, the fourth sonne of Cham.

Iudæi emplastrum, a salve layde to a sope heade.

Iudæi, not onely the people of Iudaea, but also they be so called, whiche dooe obserue theyr iusperdition. They were expelled out of this realm of Englands in the tyme of kynge Ricchard the fyrst, for theyr crueltie in slaying of christen children, lyke as they haue ben out of France and Spaine: and nowe of late out of Portugall: which now be suffered etie soones to repaire hither, and here to inhabite vnder a counterfalte colour of fapthe, whereby no lytell corruption is happened in our religion by their secrete woorkyng, many of theym beynge phisicians of the body, but priuie murderers of christen mens soules, as it wyll ones more plainly appere, to our no lytell perill, shame and dishonour, excepte god wyll shortly put into the hertes of gouernours to remembre what moze fall and naturall hatred the killers of our sa-uiour, and his obstinate ennemies and blasphem-ours haue bozne alwaie towards vs: praiyng in theyr Synagoges for our destruction: after

I ANTE V.

credence ones gotten, vnder the cloke of phis-icke, wilfully and ioyously kylleth vs.

daicus, a, um, of Iudaea.

daicus lapis, called also Cerolithos, a stone founde in Iudaea, whiche is of the quantite and figure of an akorne, or of an oliue (as Solinus writeth) white and fapge, with an orde of lines so correspondente, that they seme to be wrought with the hande and coure. Albers tus mineralium, libr. i. calleth it Cargolites.

index iudicis, com. g. a iudge.

Index ordinarius, he that hath authoritee of his propre iurisdiction, to sitte in iudgement without commission, as the chiefe iustice of Eng-lande, the maye of a citee incorporate, and a coroner.

Index delegatus, he that sitteth by commission,
as all other iudges and iustices.

Index obnoxius gratia, that will be partiall.
Sedere iudicem in aliquem, To be iudge in ones cause.

Constituere iudicem, to appoynt a iudge, to examine or trie a matter.

iudicatus, a, um, iudged.

Homo iudicatus, a man condemned.

iudicatio, onis, f. m. gener. the question come in iudgement. sometyne iudgynge or sentence geuyng.

iudicatio, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth with a iudgement or consyderation.

iudicatum, ti, neu. gener. the thing iudged or betermined.

iudicatum facere, to obey the sentence or iudgement.

iudicatus, us, mas. gener. iudgement, authoritee to iudge.

iudicialis, le, of a iudge, or perteynyng to iudgement.

iudiciarius, a, um, perteynyng to a iudge, or that whiche is to be iudged.

iudiciaria controuersia, where the iudges dooe not agree in one opinion.

Lex iudiciaria, a lawe made for iudges and iudgementes.

Quæstus iudiciarius, gayne that the iudge hath by sellyng of his sentence, bybes.

iudicium, cij, n. gener. iudgement, examination,
saie, also a sentence or opinion.

iudicia legitima, iudgementes geuen accordyng to the determyned lawe wyten, or by auncient custome approued.

iudicia publica, iudgementes geuen by them, whiche be called iudges, and haue places cer-tayne, and dooe not reueue theyr commission, as the iudges of the kynges bench and come-mon place.

iudicium capitis, iudgemēt in causes criminall.

iudicium dare, to graunt a commission to here and determine a matter.

iudicium rescindere, to reuerse a iudgement.

iudicium habere de aliquo, to haue an opinio

I ANTE V.

of one. Also iudicium habere, to haue respecte, consyderation or regarde of a thyng.

iudicio perfundere, to byng one to the point to be condemned.

iudicium accipere, to take on hym to defende
ones cause.

Adicere in iudicium, to accuse, to byng bes-fore a iudge.

iudicium agi dicitur, whan the iudge is exasmyng the matter.

Deferre iudiciu a subfelliis in rostra, to byng a matter from the iudges to the people.

Exercere iudicium, To sit in iudgement and examination of matters.

Pronuntiare iudicium, to pronounce his sentence or opinion.

iudicium non reddere, whan the magistrate wyl not receiue a mas suite or proceste, or wyl not here his cause.

Meum iudicium fuit, myne opinion was, I thought this.

Si flexerit iudicium suum, if he become uncon-stant and chaunge his opinion.

Limatum & politum iudicium, an exacte and fyned iudgement.

Suum iudicium interponere, to geue his iudgement, to tell his aduise.

Constitare iudicio, to contende or sue one an other in the lawe.

iudico, aui, are, to iudge, to beeme, to suppose, to geue sentence, to condemne.

iudicauit animo meo, I thought in my mynd.

iudicare & perpendere.

Ex aliorum ingenio me iudicat, he iudgeth me by the nature or disposition of other.

Pecunie iudicatus, condemned in a certayne summe of money, or in a forfaiture.

Sub formula iudicare, to minstre iudgement accordyng to the rigour of the lawe.

iudicasset, for iudicauerit.

Iuernia, Irelande.

Iugalis, le, that is yoked.

Iugale vinculum, the bonde of matrimonic, wedlocke.

Iura iugalia, lawes of matrimonic.

Iugales, horses coupled together.

Iugamentum, ti, n. ge. A thyng that fasteneth or coupleth lyke a yoke.

Iugatus, a, um, yoked, topnged, coupled.

Iugata vitis, a vine cōnyng on a frame.

Iugatinus deus, was among Paynims the god, whom they supposed to haue authoritee ouer
the ridges of hylles.

Iugatus, ri, ma. gen. he that driueth a ploughe with oxen, or a waine. also a strete in Rome, where was an auliar of Iuno, at the whiche, if any were wedded, they supposed that matrimonie to be most surely topnged.

Iugatio, onis, f. g. a certayne rent payed for euery acre of ground: from whiche payment none can be quitted, but by the prince.

Rr Iuga-

Iugatorius, a, um, that is poked to dawe.
Iugeratim, by sundry furlonges.
Iugere, to drie lyke a hyte.
Iugerum, iugeri, vel iugeri, a nominatiuo Iuger, datiuo iugero, accusatiuo, & vocatiuo iugerum, ablat. iugero, & iugere, plur. nom. accus. & voca. iugera, gen. iugerum, dati. & ablat. iugeri vel iugerbis, as muche ground as one poke of oxen wyll care in a daie. Iolus, mella faeth it contepneth in length, 240. fote, in breadth, 120. whiche multiplied one with the other, contepneth, 28800. feete. It may be vied for our acre, which containeth muche moze, as in breadth fower perches, that is. 66. fote: in length, 40. perches, that is. 640. fote, whiche multiplied eith to. 43560. fote.
Iuges, oxen lyke in greatnesse, called pokes or payres.
Iugis, continuall.
Fons aquæ iugis, a well that alwaie springeth, that is neuer drie, likewise Iugis puteus.
Iugiter, continually, alwaie.
Iuglans, andis, f. g. a wall nutte.
Iugo, aui, are, to poke or couple together.
Iugosus, a, um, ridged, full of ridges.
Iugula, læ, f. g. a celestiaall signe called Orion.
Iugulo, aui, are, to sea, not onely with weapon, but also with lykenesse.
Transfertus ad inanimita: Scelus est iugulare falernum: Marti.
Quartana neminem iugulat, the feuer quartaine sleeth no man.
Iugulare mortuos, to hyl dead men: a proverbe applied to them, whiche dooe speake or write to the rebuke of men that are deade, or (as Erasmus) doeth thynke it moze apte) it maye bee said by them, that impugne a booke, whiche is of all men condemed: or reasoneth against a sentence of all men reiectet: or dyspreyseth a thyng, whiche is of all men abhoyred.
Hominem suis verbis iugulare, to cathe and confute one in his owne wordes.
Iugulare suo gladio, idem.
Iugulare plumbeo gladio, to conuince with a weake argument.
Iugulario, ðnis, f. g. a slepyng or hyllyng.
Iugulum, li, neu. gen. or Iugulus, li, m. ge. the foze parte of the necke, whiche is diuided into two great sinewes, Dexter & sinister.
Iugulum ferire, to sea, properly in the necke.
Iugulum perere, whan an ozatour of a man of lawe toucheth vehemently the poynte of the matter: and with manifest and foze arguments and reasons, semeth to assaite and oppresse the contrary parte, as it were with sharpe weapons.
Dare iugulum, to offere the necke.
Offertare iugulum, pro capite alicuius, to put his lyfe in daunger for ones safegarde.
Iugum, gi, n. ge. a poke, a couple of oxen poked together, also the ridge of an hyll or banke, also the bedme, wheron weauers dooe tourne their webbe: Also a thyng lyke to a galowes, vnder the whiche in sygne of reproche, they that were vanquished, were constrynged to ceepe, whiche was made with two speares standyng, and one speare ouerthwart. also a frame, wheron vines are toppned: also a beame, wheron balances doo hange: also the syde beames in a shyppe, in the whiche the transomes are fastened: or rather the scates, wheron the rowers do sitte. it is also a rolle of tymber, wheron the imbroytherer or woozker of carpettes dooth colle vp the thyng, that he woozeth on. It is also the sygne called Libra. Somtyme as muche ground as two oxen can care in one daie: by translatiõ it is taken, for seruitude & bondage.

Iugo subdere, to poke.
Iugum subire, to be poked.
Iugum aquilarum, a couple of egles.
Iugum impiõrum, a couple of naughty payres confederet together.
Demere iuga fatigatis bobus, To bypke werre oxen.
Cruentis iugum deicere a ceruicibus, to set at libertee.
Pari iugo niti, whan two labourer willyngly together with lyke paynes and diligence.
Iugum accipere, to take the labour of bondes depne, to be in subiection vnder one.
Iugurtha, a kyng of Numidia.
Iugurthinus, a, um, of Iugurtha.
Iulep, a clarified poyon.
Iuli, are the mosynesse of softe heares, which doo growe on the beardes and visages of yong men, before they be shauen. Somtyme it is gnyfeth the same yong men.
Iulia, a kynrede, whiche pceded from Ascanius, soonne of Aeneas called Iulus. also a towne in Sales in the countrey of Spayne.
Iulianus, a, um, and Iulius, a, um, and Iulius, a, um, of Iulius, of the moneth of Iuly.
Iuliani milites, id est, Cesariani. lykewise Lian anni, and Iuliana Vestigalia.
Iulex voces, pleasaunt and swete voyces.
Iulibona, a house in Fraunce.
Iulioßriga, a towne in Spayne called Logroino.
Iulioßmagus, Angiers in Fraunce.
Iulis, a citee in the ile of Exa, the countrey of ðo monides the poete. also a kynde of fybe.
Iulium Carnicum, a citee in the dukedome of Austrie.
Iulius, the moneth of Iuly, which toke his name of Iulius Cesar.
Iulus, as Ætælius writeth, is that, whiche clea deth fast to a hysyll nutte or silberd, clustewise in a compact hardnesse, and as it were a beate longe sinewe hangyng by one stalke.
Iulus, othertwise named Ascanius, the sonne of Aeneas. Iulus is also a lyttell woozme with many feete, bydyng in vines and otes, whiche is also called Conuoluolus, Anuololus, and Vol

Voluola: it is also the mosynesse of the out ward part of frutes. also the yong fruite immediately after that the floures bee fallen. Iulus is also a fysh, whiche is guyde vnto whales, whiche also is called Ægæter. It is moze ouer a longe dedicate to Diana.
Iumentum, ti, n. g. euery beaste that draweth or beareth boarderps. also a lyttell carre.
Iumentarius, a, um, that belongeth to cattell.
Mola iumentaria, a horse mylle.
Iuncidus, a, um, thyn, slender lyke a bulle rushe.
Iuncinus, a, um, of a bulle rushe.
Iuncus, a, um, that is made of bulle rusches. also thynne and slender, and lyke the facion of a bull rushe.
Iuncum, ti, neu. gen. a place where bulle rusches growe.
Iunco, ðnis, f. g. a byrd, called a redde sparrow, some what lesse thyn a sparrow, with a lōg taile, a blacke heade, and the residue duskie.
Iuncosus, a, um, full of bull rusches.
Iunctim, iopntly.
Iunctio, ðnis, f. g. a ioyngyng.
Iunctura, æ, f. g. a ioyngyng or couplyng together.
Iunctus, a, um, iungned, coupled.
Iuncti matrimonio, married together.
Quinto iunctus hospitio, verae familiar with Quintus, by reason that he was often lodged in his house.
Iuncti, meates called iunkettes. Also a fresshe cheere made on rusches, called a iackeman.
Iuncus, ci, m. g. a bull rushe.
Iuncus odoratus, is of two sortes: one is of Plinie called Triangularis: of Dioscorides Ingulofus: of Theophrastus Hyperus: the stalke is luttell and red, and if it bee bruised, it smel lyke to a rose: the best groweth in Arabia and Abathia: the worst groweth in Africa.
In other sorte is rounde, and hath floures, whiche be medicynable: and it is of the apothecaries called Squinantum. Reade in Schano, in englishe Squinant.
Iungani, people in the countrey of Liguria.
Iungo, iunxi, gere, to ioygne, to couple, to poke.
Iungere vulpes, To poke or couple foxes: a proverbe signifying to dooe a thyng, whiche is importunt, or without any reason.
Affinitus iungere, to make alliance by marriage: one with an other.
Iungere equos ad currum, to put the horse in the carre.
Arma Rutulis iunxit, he ioygned his power, or he toke parte with the Rutulians.
Fœdera iungere, to make a leage or alliance.
Oscula iunxerunt, they kyssed ech other.
Iuniculus, li, mascu. gene. a longe twygge of a vine, whiche dooth shoute out of length, and wolde be lated on a frame, it is othertwise called Draco.
Iunior, the comparatiue of Iuuenis, yonger.
Iuniperus, ri, f. g. a swete bush called Iuniper.

Iunix, nicis, f. g. a yonge coowe or heffar.
Iunius, a propre name of the Romans, as Iunius Brutus, Iunius Columella. It is also a moneth called June. For whan Romulus had first diuided the people into olde men & yong, called in latine Maiores & Minores, he honoured them with two moneths, calling the one Maius, or Maiestas the other Iunius, of yong men called in latine Iuuenes.
Iuno, was daughter of Saturnus and Opis, sister and wyfe of Jupiter, called also Hera.
Iuno moneta, come after that kynges were expelled out of Rome, there was a great earth quake at whiche tyme there was hearde in the Lapis toll, out of the chapell of Iuno, a voyce, warning them, that they shulde make a full pacification of hir wyathe, and so doyng the earth quake ceased. Of that warning, whiche in last tyme is Monitio, she was called Iuno Moneta: and to the honour of hir was made one chapell in the Capitoll by Camillus, an other on the hyll called Euentinus, wherin was set hir idoll brought from the citee called Veia, destroyed by the Romans: bothe these chapelles were called Aedes Iunonis Moneta.
Iunonius, a, um, of Iuno.
Iunonicola, the surname of the Phaliscians.
Iunonigena, the surname of Aulus.
Iunonia, one of the isles called Insula Fortunata.
Iupiter, Iupitris, or Iupiteris, after Pisiclan, not Iouis, whiche cometh of the nominatiue case Iouis: the sonne of Saturnus & Opis, king of Eretria, who draue his father out of his realme, and was a man valpant and wyfe, but exceedingly genen to lechery, in desouryng as well maydens as wyues. Not withstanding for his prowesse and wyte, after his deathe, he was of all the grekes honoured for a god, and called father and kyng of goddes. His name was in such estimation amonge the gentyles or paynims, that they gaue to hym soueraintee in all thynges: In so muche as they also named hym god of Hospitalitee. And therefore whan any thyng was violatet, eyther by the good man of the house, or by his guesse, they called on Iupiter Xenius: whan truste in frendshyp was broken, they called to take vengeance Iupiter Philius: whan companions betrayed one an other, Iupiter Heterius, whan kyns men, Iupiter Homoginus: whan they whiche were in leage together deceyued ech other, than cried they Iupiter Enhorcius.
Iura, a mountayne in Fraunce, whiche dyuideth bygh the Burgon from Switzerlande.
Iuramentum, ti, n. g. an othe.
Iuratus, a, um, that hath sworn.
Iurandum, di, n. g. idem quod Iusiurandum.
Iuraco, with an othe.
Iuratus est mihi, id est, iurauit.
Iurissimus author, a learned wyter of good credence.

Rr ij Iure

Iuraturare, idem quod iurare.
iurator, ōis, m. gen. one that sweareth, he that witnesseth a thyng to be true with an othe.
iurgiosus, a, um, bzaulyng, full of contention.
iurgium, gn, neu. g. a bzaulyng of a small contention.
iurgo, aii, are, to bzaule of chydre.
iurgor, āris, āri, idem.
iuridicialis, ie, belongyng to the lawe.
iuridicus, a, um, accordyng to the lawe, of belongyng to the lawe.
iuriconsultus, ti, m. g. a lawier, an interpreter of the lawe.
iurisdicō, ōis, f. gen. iurisdiction, power, of authoritee to ministrate and execute lawes, as diuers cities and countreys haue by the grantes of emperours and kynges.
iurisperitus, ti, m. g. idem quod iuriconsultus.
iuro, aii, are, to swear.
iurare aras, poetice, for aris tactis iurare.
iurare in leges alterius, to sweare to keepe the lawes of ordinaunces of an other.
iurare in verba alterius, to dooe fealtee, of to be swozne a subiecte to one.
Conceptus verbis iurare, To take a solemne othe, the wordes thereof beyng recited to him that sweareth, by an other.
iurare alicui, to sweare to be true to one.
In aliquem iurare, to conspire a mans destruction of vndooyng.
iuravit inter se, they conspired.
In hac verba iuraple ad idem iusiurandum adigit Afranium, he swoze after this forme and maner. &c.
iurulentus, a, um, full of iype, licour, of broth, also foddren in portage of brothe.
Cibus iurulentus, stued meate.
Ius, iuris, neu. gen. lawe, as well of nature as civile and of custome, authoritee, libertee, power, ryght: sometyme the place, where the lawe is ministred.
Ius annulorum donare, was among the olde Romaines the same almoste, that is now to make knyghtes.
Ius municipale, a priuate law of custome, whiche a citie or towne hath with in it selfe for the good ordre of theyr common weale.
Ius moribus constitutum, ryghte made of custome.
Iudicare, to geue iudgement, to ministrate iustice.
Ius dicis, thou speakest reason.
Ius bonum dicis, your request is reasonable. It is reason that ye saie, ye speake reason.
Iure, with good cause.
Iure vel iniuria, by ryght or wyngre.
De iure meo, tuo, suo decedere, to omittle some parte of the rigour of extremitee of the lawe, of of that a man maie lafully dooe.
Summo iure agere, To take the extremitee of the lawe.

Ius est facere, it is lefull so to dooe.
Summum ius, the rigour of the lawe.
Iuris sui esse, to bee subiecte of bounde to one man, to be at libertee.
Tametsi meo iure possum, although I maie by good ryght and authoritee, and no man saie me naie.
Ius suum obtinere non potest, he can not obtayne his ryght, he can not haue iustice and reason in his assaye.
Siculi hoc iure sunt, the Sicilians haue this maner of lawe, of ministeryng of iustice.
Ius naturale, a lawe of ordinaunce pcedyng of nature.
Ius gentium, a common lawe among all men, agreeyng to naturall reason.
Nundinatio iuris, sellyng of ryght and iustice for money, bybrie amonge iudges and magistrates.
Ius honorarium, of Prætorium, ordinaunces added by the Prætor, eether for the correction of makyng perfecte of the lawe civile.
Ius singulare, a speciall of particular lawe in any certayne case.
Ius priuatum, a priuate lawe concernyng the vtilitee of one persone.
Ius facere, to doe ryght. Also to bee of the force of a lawe, of to be obeyed as a lawe.
Concedere in ius, dictionemq; alicuius, to bes come obedient and subiect to one.
Ius reddere, to ministrate iustice.
Pari iure esse cum aliis, to bee subiecte to the lawe even as other be, and to haue no moze priuileges than other haue.
Ius petere ab aliquo, to bee vnder ones iurisdiction.
Ius petis, fateor, it is reason and ryght that you requyre, I graunt.
Optimo iure prædia, manours of sermes, that haue verate good priuileges of franchises, and bounds to nothyng.
Meo iure agere, to doe that I maie by my lawe full authoritee, and no man saie me naie.
Ius, iuris, n. g. portage, licour, brothe, greuell.
Ius condicium, portage well seasoned.
Iusculum, li, n. gen. brothe, wherein meate hath bene foddren.
Iusulentum, ti, neu. gen. foddren in portage of brothe.
Iusiurandum, di, n. g. a solemne othe or pmyse made to god.
Iusiurandum dare, to sweare, to make an othe.
Iusiurandum offerre, to poffere to take an othe for the confirmation of a thyng.
Exigere iusiurandi, to requyre one to sweare, to cause one to take an othe.
Interponere iusiurandum, and firmare iure iurando, to sweare, to confirme with an othe.
Iustus, a, um, commaunded.
Iustus, us, m. gen. plural, iusta, orum, a commaundement.

Iustum, si, n. g. a commaundement.
Iusta exequi, to dooe ones commaundement.
Iusta, orum, n. g. plu. sacrifices dooen for dead men: now it maie be vsed for funerrall exequies.
Iusto ordinaunces of customes, meete, conuenient, of necessarie to be dooen.
Iusta solvere, facere, peragere, is ppropely in funerrall obsequies, to dooe and perfourme all thynges therunto necessarie, of belongyng.
Iustus exequiarum carere, to be buried without accustomed solenitees, of funerrall pompe.
Iusta reddere, to yelde of dooe his accustomed labour of taske.
Iusta operum peragere, idem.
Iusta exigere, to vse extremitee, to requyre the bittermost, to constrayne one to do his taske to the bittermoste.
Ad iusta perducere, to byngre by lyttell and lyttell to his ordinarie and accustomed labour and taske.
Percipere iusta, to receyue our due, of that that is appoynted and ordeyned for vs.
Iuste, iustely, lafully, ryghtfully.
Iusto, idem.
Longius iusto, longer than neede is, of than is meete.
Iustificus, a, um, that maketh iustyce.
Iustinus, an emperour, comen of a poore kynrede (his mothers brother Iustinus emperour before hym beyng but a swyne hircde) succeeded his vnckle at the age of .xiiii. yeres in the empire, and gouerned it nobly the space of .xl. yeres, augmentyng it honourable. He caused the lawes civile, dispersed in infinite volumes, to be reduced into .so. bookes (called the Digestes) and .iiii. bookes of Institutes to be made, and likewyse the Code, contenyng the decrees of emperours, although he hym selfe knewe no letters. An excellent pynce, if he had not bene corrupted with auarice, and the heresie of Eutichianus: he was after the incarnation of Christe. 570. yeres.
Iusticia, a, f. g. iustyce, a perfecte vertue (as Aristotle saith) referred to a seconde person, and therefore chiefe of all vertues, moze wonderfull than the bygght sterres Hesperus and Lucifer, comprehendyng in it all the partes of vertue: this is called Iustice vniuersall. But there is a moze particular Iustice, whiche in the lawe civile is despynd to be a constant and perpetuall will, geuyng to euery man that belongeth to hym, whiche is called his ryght. moze abundantly hereof shall ye fynde in my woork called the Gouernour.
Iustitium, ti, neu. ge. a ceassyng for a tyme from ministracion of lawes in places iudiciall, a vacation.
Iustitium edicere, to pronounce a vacation of ceassyng from the ministracion of the lawes.
Iustitium remittere, to ende the vacation, to begynne the tyme.

Iustus, a, um, equall, meane betweene two extremittees, ryght, lafull: sometyme fauourable, good, tractable. sometyme it signifieth great, full, perfecte.
Iustus, a iuste of righteous man, an bygght and true meanyng man. It is taken ofte tymes, in holy scripture for a vertuous man of a god mā.
Iusta pars, the great parte, the full of lafull parte. sometyme it signifieth amonge lawiers, true of verate.
Iustus filius, his verate sonne, of he that hath the whole of perfect ryght and tye of a naturall sonne.
Iusta magnitudo, neither great nor little, meane of indifferent biggnes.
Dies iusti, a delaie & tyme of .xxx. daies, geuen by the lawe to them that were condemned, eether by wytyng, or their owne confession, that they myght make redie their payemēt. Also .xxx. daies continuall that a baner of redde dyd hange in the toppe of the castell, whyle an armie was gathered and warre indited.
Iusta seruitus, seruice without rygour.
Iustæ inimicitie, great hostilitie.
Iusti honores, honours due.
Iusto labore, with great labour.
Iustum testamentum, a lafull testament.
Iustus exercitus, a full of great armie, an armie roiall.
Iustum prælium, a stronge and great conflict, meete to be called a battayle.
Iustus hæres, a ryghteous and lafull heire.
Iusta classis, a full and perfect nauie.
Iustus dominus, the ryghtfull possessor, master or owner.
Iustus vas, a sufficient suretie.
Iustamaterfamilias and Pellex, contrary.
Iustum operam reddere, To woork his full taske.
Iuturna, the syster of Turnus.
Iuuenāmen, minis, n. g. helpe.
Iuuenalia, playes bowed for the helth of yong mē.
Iuuenālis, le, perteynyng to youth.
Iuuenalis dies, a daie celebrated to youthe.
Iuuenalis, is also the name of a poete, whiche wrote Satyras.
Iuuenari, idem quod Iuuenescere, to playe youthefully partes.
Iuuenicus, & Iuuenca, younge, not onely men but also beastes, a stier or heffer. And Iuueniculus a diminutive of Iuuenicus.
Iuuenesco, scere, to ware of be younge.
Iuuenilis, le, yonge, perteynyng to youthe.
Ætas iuuenilis, youthe, of after the facton of younge folkes.
Iuueniliter, younge, lyke a younge man, child dyshep.
Iuuenis, a younge man.
Iuuenis, ne, an adiectiue. sometyme for Iuuenilis.
Iuuenes anni, younge yeres.
Iuuentia, a, f. g. youthe, idem quod Iuuenus.

Iuuenas, the goddesse of yowthe.

Iuuentus, iūvis, f. ge. yowthe. Sometyme a multitude of yonge men. also the goddesse of youth. Iuerna, the olde name of Irelande called of some Iuerna, & Hibernia.

Iuuo, iuuī, āre, to heale, to ayde, in the thyrd person, to delyre, to please.

Iuat mihi, it dooeth me good. It is a pleasure to me.

Nec vnquam quicquam me iuuat, quod edo domi, that whiche I eat at home, dooeth me no good, or reioyseth me nothyng.

Iuuit me, hoc tibi profuisse, I was verie to yowse, that that thyng dyd profyte the.

Iuare dolorem, to ease the griefe.

Iuare auxilio, to helpe, to ayde.

Quando ita tibi iuuat, when that it dooeth so please you, seying you be so disposed.

Valde me iuuat, it greatly delpteth me.

Iuxta, a preposition, ngye, by, neere to, some tyme for simul or Coniunctim. Sometyme for secundum or Post.

Iuxta Marcum Varroem doctissimus, excepte Varro, or nexte Varro, of all other most excellently learned.

Iuxta, an aduerbe, euen lyke, accordyng, aswel, as well one as the other.

Nunc vero quo in loco res nostrae sint, iuxta mecum omnes intelligitis, nowe howe the matter standeth: ye all knowe as well as I. or els, in what case our busynesse is: ye vnderstand all as muche as I dooe.

Iuxta boni maligni, strenui & imbecilles, euen lyke the good and the badde, the valiant and the vnwarlike.

Iuxta hyeme atq; estate bella gerere, to make warre as well in wynter as in sommer.

Spem ac metum iuxta grauatus, troubled as well with hope as feare, or bothe with hope and feare.

Femina iuxta ac mares, as well males as females.

Iuxta ac si frater esset, euen as muche as though he had bene my brother.

Iuxta magnis difficilium, no lesse difficile or harde to achyue, than matters of great weyght and importaunce.

Iuxta esse, to be familiar.

Iuxta cum ignarissimis, as lyttle as they that knowe lesse.

Iuxtim, nyght to, nere by.

I ANTE X.

IXia, a certayne herbe called of some James lion.

Ixion, a kyng of Thessalia, who falsely brake promise with his wyfes father, and threwe hym into a pyre of fyre. He also called by Jupyter vnto a feast, byed Juno to committe adultery, whiche Jupyter perceyving, made a cloude lyke vnto Juno, and delpyered hym hym, on whom he begate the people called Centaurs. But when he aduauced, that he had copanied with Juno: he was driven downe into hell, and there bound to a wheele alwaies tounyng and full of serpentes, as poetes seynge.

Ixioneus, a, um, of Ixion.

Ixionides Perithous, the sonne of Ixion.

Ixon, a great whyte byrd of the kynd of rauen.

Ixos, called in latine Viscum, in englyshe mistletoe, or mistledene.

I ANTE Y.

IYnx, lyngis, for. gen. a byrde, called of some Torquilla, whiche hath a speckled necke, and a tongue lyke a serpent, aspergy, or a hylwop.

L ANTE A.

AB ASCO, scere, & Labascor, ēris, to faple or decaye, to be redie to falle, to fapnte, to begyne to geue ouer. Labascit, victus vno verbo, he fapnteth or geueth ouer, and is ouertome with one poore woorde. Labatus, a mannes name, often mentioned of Plutarche.

Labdacus, a kyng of Thebes, father of Laius, who was father of Oedipus or Edippus.

Labecula, la, f. g. a littell spotte or blemyshe.

Labefacio, labefacis, feci, facere, to breake or destroye, to make weake, or feeble.

Labefacere aliquem, To feare one from his purpose, to make one chaunge his mynde.

Labefacere fidem suam, to lese his credite.

Labefactio, ōnis, scem. gene. a makyng to falle downe or out.

Labefacto, aui, are, to make feeble or weake, to apayre, to subuerie, to corrupte, to destroye, to vndooe, to caste downe.

Labefactare fidem alicuius precio, to corrupte with bribery.

Labefactare & euertere rem publicam, to destroye and subuerie the common weale.

Labefactare aliquem, idem quod Labefacere aliquem.

Labellum, li, n. g. a lyppe. Also a caudyon, a manner of lyttle fate or lyke vscell.

Labeo, a mans name.

Labeo, ōnis, m. ge. a man haupng great lyppes. also a nettle called a bynde nettle.

Labconia, a, f. g. the herbe Marrubium.

Laberius, a poete, a gentylman of Rome.

Labes, bis, for. g. a great violence of water, tempest of hayle, or an horrible quare or gapynge of the erth. Also a spot which sodenly hapneth to thynges that are smothe, and by transacion, a faulte, a vice, a destruction.

Labes conscientia, remoyse or grudge of conscience.

Innocentia labes, corruption of honestie.

Labes reipublicae, destruction, or confusion of the common weale.

Inferre labem alicui, To defpayne ones honestie, to defame.

Labia, a, f. g. idem quod labium, after Nonius.

Labicanum, a towne in Italy.

Labici, the inhabitants of that towne.

Labienus, a noble man of Rome, capitayn vnder Cesar in Fraunce.

Labicus, was the name of the son of Minos, who was named also Glaurus.

Labilis, le, vnstable, whiche wille soone falle, spyperpe.

Labina, na, f. g. idem quod Labium, after Nonius.

Labio, is a speche, which I suppose to be in englysh called Labbe with great lippes. It was also the surname of a Romayn.

Labium, bi, n. g. a lyppe.

Labo, aui, are, to fall downe sodenly, to feynt.

Dentes labant, the teethe fall out.

Genua labant, his knees falter vnderneath hym.

Sermone labare, to speake vnconstantly and as one were asfode.

Labant animi, theyr hertes faile theim.

Memoria labat, The memoize fapleth or decayeth.

Vitalabat, id est non recta est & integra.

Labor, ēris, lapsus sum, labi, to slide, to dpe, to fall, to fall downe by lyttell and lyttell, to decaye, to fall in pouertee, to erre, to offend, to spu, to doo amysse, to crepe or goe, as a snake doth, to tynymme, as an eyle of lambrey. Sometyme to floe.

Tempora labuntur, tyme passeth awaye by lyttell and lyttell.

Pennis labitur, he flyeth.

Lababar longius nisi me retinuissem, I was about to make further digression, or to go furth from the purpose. Lapsus, deceyved of that he hoped for.

Labii imprudentia, To offende or dooe amysse by vnwares.

Labii mente, to falle madde.

Labior, ōris, m. g. labour or trauayle, and often in portes, perill, daunger, calamitee, trouble.

Frangere se laboribus, to hurt hym selfe with labour.

Luna labores, the chypse.

Imponere laborem alicui, to charge one with labour.

Infumere magnum laborem, To bestowe great labour or trauayle.

Labori esse, to put to paynes or labour, to trouaile.

Laborem impendere, to bestow labour.

Primos lucinae experta labores, hatyngg trauayled of her first childe.

Laboratus, a, um, made with payne, stude, and trauayle.

Laboria, the name of a countreie in Italy, vnto garly called Terra laboris, the land of labour.

Laborifer, a, um, that sufferyneth labour.

Laborinus, a feld in Lampania, where the stubble of coine is so great, that the people doe bourn it in stede of woodde.

Laboriosus, a, um, laborious, paynfull, fulle of labour, difficile, that can not be brought to passe without great labour.

Laboriosus homo, a paynfull man.

Laboriosum opus, a woork that can not be brought to passe without great labour and trauayle.

Laboriosa deambulatio, a walkyng that wearyeth the body.

Laboriosa exercitationes, paynfull exercises.

Laboriose, paynfully, hardly, with great payne.

Laboro, aui, are, to labour, to bee in heynesse or grief, to be fyche or faurie, to be in danger.

Animo laborare, to be carefull.

Ex renibus laborare, To haue payne in the reynes.

Fame laborare, to dpe for hunger.

Fenore laborare, to bee in debte by reason of vnture.

Laborare frigore, to be almost dead for colde.

Ingenio laborare, to be troubled in witte.

Laborare iniuria, to suffre wronge.

Laborare morbo, to be fyche.

Nihil laboro, I care not, I passe not on it.

Non laboro, idem.

Odio apud hostes laborare, & contempni inter socios, To be hated of his enemies, and not regarded of his frendes.

Laborare podagra, to haue the goute.

Vitiis laborare, to be vicious.

Laboratur vehementer, they studie diligently to byngg a matter to passe.

Nomen infamiae laborare, to haue an yll name.

Esse in labore, to labour.

Laborare in aliquo, to loue one ardently.

Laborare vtero, to trauayle of chylde.

Ac mundi moles operosa laborat, shuld trauayle or be in daunger of perisshyng: or shuld haue muche adoo to escape perisshyng.

Nec quarta loqui persona laborer, leat hym not be to busy.

Arma laborare, id est, laborando conficere.

Laborari amari ab eo, I trauayled or ended myght earnestly to wyne his fauour.

Laborat dolore, the labourerth of chylde.

Laborat dolore capitis, he is sicke of disease with payne in the head.

Laborare ex desiderio, to be verie desyrous.

Laborare ex inuidia, to be enuied or hated.

Ut is, cuius cornu in actie laboraret, that he, whose wyng of the battayle was the weaker,

Rr iij or that or that first dyd seynt or begyn to reculle.

Si causa laboramus, yf our part in the mattice be the woofe: or if our cause or quarrel be odious or nothing pleasant or fauourable.
Hostibus externis laborare, to be greatly troubled, vexed, or cumbered with fozeyne enes mies.

Opinione arrogantia laborare, to be compted a poudie and arrogant persone.

Re frumentaria laborare, to haue scarfitee of cozne and grayne.

Nihil est quod labores, there is no cause why ye should be carefull, anxious, or troubled in mynde. Valde laboro, I am verie carefull and solicitous.

Quali de verbo, non de re laboretur, As though the controuersie or contention wer for the woofde, and not for the thyng selfe.

Pestilentia laboratum est, There was a great pestilence.

Labrax, braxis, m. g. a certayne fische, with a wyde pangyn mouth. Aristotle nombryth hym among them that tye by pize and rauynng. His tongue is bonie and cleaueth fast: his herte triangle. About Miletum, a citee of Asia, are many of these fishes very great. This fish deliteth in freshe water. Some thynke it that fische, whiche in latine is called Lupus.

Labrosus, a, um, that whiche hath a bozder, brymme or byrke.

Labrum, bri, n. g. a lyppe. also the brymme or byrke of a ruier or fountayne. also a bat or lyke vessell to be baged in. Sometime a bat for wyne after it is pressed. It maie be used for a skele bat, wherinto ale or biere is put. also a celserne that recepeth water rennyng out of the rockes of cundites.

Labris primoribus attingere, to taste or saie.

Labrum superius, the upper lippe.

Labrum Veneris, is taken for salill, although Dioscorides dooeth not remembre, that it serueth to the vse of toukars, but assigneth that rather to other two herbes, the one called Hippophias, or Hippophyes, and the other Hippophastos.

Labrusca, a, f. g. a wilde vine.

Laburnum, a tree growinge on the mountaynes called Alpes, the wood wherof is white and hard, and hath a flower a rubite in length, whiche no bee will touche, he groweth but in drye places, and hath water.

Labyrinthus, a place made in such wyse, that who so euer came into it, could not pssue out without a verie perfect guyde, or without a threde leadyng hym, wherof the bottome or clewe should be leste at the entree. Of this name were three principall places: One in Egypte (by the paterne wherof the other wer made) described by Herodotus (who writeth that he saw it) sayng, that it was about the great poole called Myrios, toward the citee of Crocodiles.

Strabo in his. xviij. booke collecteth the said poole or mere Muris. Herodotus in Euterpe saith, that first there were. xiiij. halles covered, fise toward the north, & vi. toward the south, all inclosed with one wall. within the wall were houses in two diuers sortez: one sorte vnder ground, an other aboue ground ouer them, as uery sozt beyng in numbze. 3500. The ouermost (as he saith) he beheld, the nethermost he mought not be suffered to see: but as he herde by repute of them, whiche saw it, he wrote. The ouermoste, whiche he didde beholde, excelled all woofkes of mens handes, for he wente from a hall into parlours, from parlours into chambers, from chambers into other solars, and from parlours into other halles. The brame, whiche bare the floozes, was of stone, wrought with imagee, euery halte inuention with pillers of white stone. In the ende of that Labysrinthus standeth a stone, large benethe, and smalle on the toppes, called Pyramis, whiche is of length. xi. paces, in the whiche are wrought great images, and therat is the entrie vnder ground to the other Labyrinthus. In other Labyrinthus, was in Crete, made by Dedalus, by the commandement of Minos for a prison:
but it was muche lasse than the other. But by diuers doozes, enterynges and issuynges out, it deceiued them, whiche came into it. The threde was in Italy by a town called Clusium, made by hyng Dozenna: and (as Plinie and Varro write) was of square stone, the sides. 30. fute broad, in height. 50. fete. Into the which who so euer wente, without a clewe or bottome of threde, could neuer retourne. On this place stoode. v. pyramides or steeples, one at euery corner, & one in the middle, eueryche of them 150. fute high: on the toppes of them great bolles of bzasse, and thereon hofes with wynges, from whiche dyd hang chaynes, haungge belles at them, whiche mowed with wynde, re-mied a sharpe sounde. also vpon the foure bolles of bzasse stoode foure other pyramides of Sharpe pillers, of an hundred fute high, and on that whiche was on the myddel, stode one Sharpe pillour, whose height Varro durst not reherse, because it semed a thyng incredible. All these thynges were made by great hinges, whiche the haungge abundance of treasure, and lackyng learnyng, dyd set their delite in such bayne ostentation.

Labynetus, the sonne of Pictocoris, quene of Basbylon.

Lac, lactis, n. g. milke: and in Plautus somtyme
Lacte in the nominatiue case.

Lac gallinaceum, the mylke of a henne, appouerbe applied to them, whiche lacke nothing:
or to thynges, whiche for the scarfitee of them,
be verie precious.

Lactis coagulatio, Turnyng of milke to cruddes.

Lactis

Lactis abundantia, copia, fecunditas, plentie of milke in womens brestes.

Bubulum lac, coow milke.

Humanum lac, womans milke.

Lacana, a kynde of appraile. also a woman of Lacedemonie.

Lacenus, a, um, of Lacedemonie.

Lacca, a certayne gumme.

Lacabriga, a citee of Spayne.

Laccia, a, f. g. a fyme called a cheyn.

Lacedemon, a noble citee in Grece, called also Sparta, in the region of Achaia, the countreie is called Laconia.

Lacedamonijs, a, um, of Lacedemonie.

Lacer, & lacerus, a, um, to rne or rent, magled in pieces, dismembred, that hath som part of the body rne or rent. Of olde writers Lacer was used for hym that had his eares pulled of.

Laceras gentes colligere, id est, sparsas.

Laceratio, onis, f. m. ge. a rentyng or tearyng,
a manglyng.

Lacerna, a, f. gen. a facion of clokes, seruyng as well for men and women, pooze and riche, as for soldiours in warfare. The Romans used them on their gownes to kepe them warme, whan they sat long in beholdyng plaies.

Lacernatus, a, um, cloked, or cladde in such a maner cloke.

Lacero, aui, are, to rent in pieces, to mangle and cut in pieces, to teare, to dismembze, to tour-ment.

Lacerare diem, to lose the date, to spende the tyme about nought, to spend the day in vayne.

Comas, capillos, ora, vestem lacerare.

Lacerare vnguis, to scratche.

Lacerare rem suam, To spende his gooddes spottoulsy.

Lacerare famam alicuius, To speake and res-pote ill of a man, to hurte and dispeyne his good name.

Lacerari dolore, to be greuously tourmented with sorowe and payne.

Lacerare homines male suadendo, to byng men in pouerter with ill counsaile.

Lacerare optimum virum incesto ore, with a naughtie and villanous tounge to speake ill of a verie honest man.

Lacerta, a, f. g. or Lacertus, ti, m. g. a lizarde, an euet. also a certayn kynde of fische.

Lacerosus, a, um, haungge great bzannes and strong sinewes.

Lacertus, ti, m. ge. the arme from the elbowe to the wyeste of the hande, properly the bzawne and sinewes of the arme.

Lacesso, fui, & celsi, sere, to rente, or go about to rent the good renoume of a man. Also to prouoke, stirre, or egge a man to wrathe, displeasure, or contention, with woordes, wyngyng, or acte, and is taken bothe in the good parte and the ill: to raple on a man, to pziche a man with som ill language or acte. Sometime to despye instantly. also to tynge as a mans boddy dooeth.

Stimulo iuuenium lacessere, to pziche an ope with a goade, and make hym draw.

Ciere & lacessere.

Lacessere ad pugnam, to prouoke to battail.

Lacessere maledictis, To tarre or prouoke to wrathe with ill woordes.

Sermones lacessere, id est, excitare, to raple bruite or communication.

Vah quibus illum lacerarem modis, Oh, how
I would dismembze hym.

Sponsione lacessere, to prouoke one to sticke to the trial of a mattice, by laynge downe a gage or paune.

Lacessor, siri, siri, the passiue.

Lacessitus, a, um, prouoked, stirred, egged.

Lachanizo, ani, are, to be feble, weake, or feyne.

Lachanum, ni, n. g. all kynde of herbes, whiche serue for the pottic called woxes: or after some a kynde of fryters made with herbes.

Lachanopoles, a seller of herbes.

Lachanopolium, the herbe market.

Lachesis, one of the thre ladies called Parca, whiche poetes dyd feigne to haue the rule and continuance of mans lyfe.

Lachryma, mæ, f. g. a teare in weppng.

Lachrymas afferre, mouere, ciere, to make or cause one to wepe.

Lachrymas tenere, compescere, cohibere, comprimere, continere, To cease and leaue weppng, to wepe no moze.

Dare lachrymas, to wepe.

Implere verba lachrymis, to wepe as he speeketh, to wepe at euery woorde.

Hinc illa lachryma, This is the cause of his weppng, or that moued hym to wepe, and posuerbially, this is the cause why he doeth it, or why he dooth complayne.

Lachryma arborum, the moisture that dytilleth out of trees, and tourneth to gumme.

Lachrymabundus, a, um, weppng, readye to wepe, weppng rype.

Lachrymabilis, le, lamentable, to be bewailed.

Lachrymatio, onis, f. g. weppng.

Lachrymationum saluæ, gumme that distilleth out of trees.

Lachrymationes oculorum, A disease whan the water standeth alwayes in ones eyes, as though he dyd wepe.

Lachrymans, antis, om. g. weppng.

Lachrymo, aui, are, and Lachrymor, aris, ari, to wepe.

Lachrymare ex habitu amici, To wepe for his friendes departyng.

Num id lachrymat virgo? Dooeth the maid den wepe for that, or therfoze?

Lachrymosus, a, um, full of teares, that prouo-keth to wepe, also that that distilleth out moze steepe lyke teares.

Fumus lachrymosus, Smoke that maketh a man

man

man to wepe.
 Lachrymose, as though one dyd wepe.
 Lachrymula, a, f. g. a little teare.
 Laciburgium, a citee in Germany, called Ros stoilum.
 Lacides, garments that be rent.
 Lacinia, a, f. g. a redde mustherow, whiche spynz geth at the foot of a chesken tree.
 Lacinia, a, f. g. a garding of a garment, pros priety where the shyppes be cut in sundry facions, a hemme, a fringe.
 In lacinias, in pieces, in tagges.
 In lacinias distribui, to bee sundryed of sette a parte, as cattell be whan some be infected.
 Laciniaus, a, um, that is garded, hemmed, or playted.
 Laciniaum, disperpled abroad.
 Laciniosus, a, um, cutte in sundry facions, wynn dyng and tournynge diuers wayes, tagged, full of plaies.
 Lacinium, an elbowe of lande lying betweene the sea called Adriaticum, and the sea Ionium.
 Lacinus, a, um, of or belonging to that pro montorie.
 Lacio, lacul, & lexi, lacere, to byng into a snare,
 or to wynde one in, to deceyue hym.
 Laciippo, a citee of Spayne.
 Lacon, onis, a man of Lacedemone.
 Laconia, the countrey where Lacedemone
 standeth.
 Laconicus, a, um, of the countrey Laconia.
 Laconicum, ci, n. ge. a hottie house of dry bayne.
 Laconismus, mi, n. ge. a thoyte fourme of spee kyng, conteynynge muche sentence in a fewe woordes.
 Lactans, us, m. g. geuyng sucke or mylke.
 Lactans, anis, om. gene. that hath mylke in the breaistes or dugges.
 Lactantia, is bled of Lelus for all maner of meates made of mylke.
 Lactarius, a, um, that maketh meate of mylke, that is made of mylke, and that bynggeth forth
 mylke of it selfe.
 Lacteo, tere, to sucke mylke.
 Lactes, lactium, f. m. ge. plu. places within the ribbes of a man benethe the nauille, so tender, that it maie not suffre any wounde or stroke, as Probos saith. Some saye that they bee enuiles, wherein the small bowelles dooe lye.
 After other, the small guttes, by the whiche the meate passeth.
 Lactesco, scere, to be tourned into mylke, or to be filled with milke.
 Lacteus, a, um, of mylke or lyke mylke. also that whiche is nourished with mylke.
 Lacteus porcus, a suckynge pygge.
 Collum lacteum, a neck as white as mylke.
 Lactinia, orum, neu. gen. white meates made of mylke.
 Lactidiaci, they that be stryken about the nauill.
 Lacto, aui, are, to geue sucke, to feede with milke,

also to deceyue with fayre woordes, to allure with fayre promyses.
 Lactoris, a certayne herbe, whiche is full of mylke.
 reade Holin. li. 24. cap. 13.
 Lactuca, ca, f. g. an herbe called lettuce.
 Lactucini, the surname of certayn Romaynes.
 Lactucula, la, f. g. a litle lettuce.
 Lactuna, a, f. ge. a dyche, wherein water standeth.
 also a trench, wherby fieldes are dryged. some englyshe it a synke, in payng a hole lower than any other place.
 Lacuna, in wytyng, is whan any thyng leat heth, as mendum, is that, whiche is corrupte or faultie.
 Lacuna fama, a blemishe in ones good name,
 infamie.
 Vide, ne qua lacuna sit in auro, Se that there be nothyng of the monie lackynge.
 Lacunam explere, to fill a dyche.
 Lacunam rei familiaris explere, To repaire and restore agayne a mans substance that was consumed and spent.
 Laculis, idem quod filix.
 Lacunatus, a, um, that hath ditches or litle holes.
 Lacunar, aris, n. ge. a beame. also such a thyng as dooth yet hang in marchantes houses ouerly warr theyr halles, wherom be set a great num bre of candels.
 Lacino, aui, are, to make ditches or holes.
 Lacunofus, a, um, full of ditches or holes, not eat.
 Lacusculus, li, m. f. gene. a litle dyche or hole, a beame or planke.
 Lacus, cus, or ci, m. gene. a poole or deepe place alwaie full of water, whiche is deuied into brookes and ryuers. also the vessel, whiche res ceueth wyne whan the grapes are pressed. also the principall beame, that goeth ouerthwart
 the house. Sometime a planke.
 Lacus Lemanus, a lake in Idemountayne.
 Lacuturres, great cabages.
 Lacydes, a philosophier of Cyrene.
 Lada, the herbe, wherof Ladanum is made.
 Ladas, a man, who ranne so swifely, that on the sande he left no print of his foote.
 Ladanum, a gumme, whiche renneth from an herbe called Lada, or Ledum, whiche is com monly called Labdanum, and is moste used in pomaunders.
 Ladon, a ryuer in Arcadia. also one of Atrions dogges.
 Laander, a yong man, which for the seruente lous that he bare to a fayre mayden called Eros, byng to swym from Atrion to Scythos, ouer the sea called Hellespontus, at the lake was drowned, whom Eros beholdeinge to be dead, threwe hir selfe into the sea from a hygh towre:
 of whom Musaeus and Ouidius, in his epylles doo wyte.
 Lado, laci, dere, to hurte or doo displeasure.
 Ladere famam, to hurte ones good name, to slander, to backbite.

Fidem ledere, to breake promise, to doo con trary to league and agreement.
 Ladere maiestatem, To derogate any thyng of the kynges authoritie or prerogative, to com mitte treason.
 Ladere religionis culpa, heresy or lollardy, con tempt of religion or ceremonies.
 Ladere aliquem iniuria, to doo one iniurie or wronge.
 Ludibrio ledere, to laugh to scozne.
 Nulli os ledere, to speake ill of no man in his presence.
 Ferro ledere, to cutte.
 Ladi odore, to be annotated or offended with an ill sauour.
 Lalius, the familiar frende of Scipio African.
 Lamagia, a, f. g. gluttony.
 Lamagus, gi, m. g. a glutton, a smell feast.
 Lamulchaton, ti, neu. ge. the rewarde geuen to hym that banquished at playng or fightynge with weapons.
 Lana, a, f. ge. a garment lnyed, whiche the diu nous, called Augures, did weare. also a cloke that fouldours dyd weare vppermost.
 Laertes, a citee in Sicilia.
 Laertes, the father of Ulysses.
 Laertades, the name of Ulysses.
 Laertius, a, um, of Laertes.
 Laertius, the name of one, whiche wroate the liues of philosophers.
 Lastrigones, were people in the confines of La ponia, whiche doo eate mans fleshe.
 Laus, a, um, hurte, offended, violated.
 Laus talis, perished with weapons.
 Lausio, onis, f. g. hurtynge, harmynge, annoyng.
 Lausibilis, le, gladdie or ioyfull.
 Laetamen, looke Laetamen.
 Laet, ioyously, gladly, merrily, also plentifully, fruitfully, abundantly.
 Lausico, aui, are, to make gladdie.
 Lausicare terram fimo, to dounge the ground,
 to make the ground fatte with dounge.
 Lausicor, aris, ari, to be made ioyous or gladdie.
 Lausicus, a, um, that maketh gladdie.
 Lausico, scere, to be gladdie, a woerde out of vse.
 Lausius, a, f. g. gladdesse, reioycynge of the mynde, whiche dooth appeere also outwardely.
 Lausiam facere, and dare, to make glad.
 Lausiam apertissime iulinius omnes, all we shewed our selfe to be veray glad and ioyous.
 Lausido, dms, idem quod lausitia.
 Laus, aui, are, to make gladdie. an olde woerde out of vse.
 Laus, aris, ari, to be gladdie, or to reioyce with outward signes.
 Laus virum, I am glad for bothe of those thynges.
 Laus, a, um, ioyous and gladdie. also luckye, fortunate, fertile.
 Laus prodigium, luckie.
 Laus homo, a gladdie man,

Lata ouis, a good sheepe.
 Lata seges, & latum legumen, plentiful toyne and grayne. All other thynges not has ungye lyfe, beyng called Lata, doo signifie des lectable to beholde, or that dooe please the eye of the beholde.
 Latus audere aliquid, to venter or enterpryse to doo a thyng merrily.
 Alterum intrasse latum est, to haue entred in to the one is a token of good fortune.
 Latum solum, a fruitfull grounde.
 Lata indoles, a pleasant and mery nature.
 Latus, a, f. ge. the left hande.
 Ad lauum, on the left hande.
 Leua perentibus, to them that go on the left hande.
 Lauatus, a, um, made smoothe.
 Leue, absolure, a smoothe thyng.
 Lauigo, aui, are, to plane or make playne, or to polyste, to make smoothe or lyke.
 Leuis, leue, smoothe or playne, lyght.
 Ora leuia, facis that be smoothe with out beards.
 Leuitas, tatis, form. gen. playnnesse or smoothes
 nesse, lyghtnesse.
 Leuitas intestinorum, slippernes of the guttes.
 Leuo, aui, are, to make smoothe, idem quod Leuigo.
 Lauor, oris, m. g. smoothenesse.
 Leuorium, towarde the left hande.
 Leuus, a, um, leste, on the left syde. also lyght,
 by translacon, foolyshe, loke Leuus.
 Tempore lauo, id est importuno, out of seas son, vnconuenient.
 Lumen lauum, id est, noxium, noyous.
 Leuus homo, an ouerthwart & foolishe felow.
 Laganum, ni, n. g. a then cake made with flour and water, wherunto was put fat broth, pep per, fasson, & tymamom, a fritter, a pancake.
 Lagari verus, verus, whiche dooe halte in the myddes of the foote.
 Lagaron, is the parte of the body fro the stomake to the nauill, called also Hypochondrium.
 Lagena, a, f. ge. a flagon or bottell. also a meas sure conteynynge eight cotulas, or 4. sextarios.
 Lagéos, a kynde of grapes, called in latine Le poraria.
 Lagia, one of the names of the yle of Delos.
 Lagois, a kynde of fyssh, whiche maie be called the hare fyssh. also a byrde, whose fleshe is lyke a hare.
 Lagonon, the frettyng of the guttes.
 Lagophthalmos, mi, he that hath eyes lyke a hare, or in whom the ouer liddes of the eyes dooe not meue downward.
 Lagopus, gopodis, f. m. gene. an herbe of the kynde of trefopies, called trinitie graspe. some calle it hare cummine. Some suppose it to be Dentelion: Other Garyophyllacium, among the Germanes it is called Harefoote, and so physicians name it among vs. It is also a bird.
 Leena

scene moſte commonly in the Alpes, and hath his ſecte rough as it were with the heare of a hare or conie, the reſidue all white: it neuer ſereth but in the place where it was bred, and neuer will be made tame. Pli.

Lagorophia, α, form. gen. a warren or parke of haeres.

Laguncula, la, f. g. a little flagon or bottell.

Lagyges, people in Sarmatia.

Lagrya, a citee of Cherſoneſus.

Laicus, ci, m. g. a laic man.

Laicus, a, um, prophane, not conſecrate.

Lais, a common harlotte in Grece, who was of ſuche excellent beautee, and therewith ſo pleaſant, that vnto hir out of al Grece, there cam to Coſinthus, where ſhe dwelled, men noble and riche in great numbre, to company with hir. On a tyme cam to hir Demosthenes, the great eſt orator of Grece, and deſyred to lye with hir: of whom ſhe asked for one nyght a thouſande Dracmas, whiche amounted to the rate of our monie at this preſente tyme, to. xlii. li. xix. s. x. d. the whiche Demosthenes heyrng, departed, ſaying in this wyſe, I will not repent me at that price, or I will not bye repentance to bere. ſome write, that ſhe demanded. 10000. dracmas, whiche was a talent.

Laius, a kynge of Thebes, & father of Oedipus, whom Oedipus vniuers ſue in battail, and wedded his wyſe, whiche was alſo Oedipus mother called Jocasta. reſide after in Oedipus.

Laletania, a countrey in Spayne, the people wherof be called Laletani.

Laliſio, onis, m. g. a colte of a wylde aſſe.

Lallo, au, are, to ſpeake like a baby: in the which worde the greke dooth appoche nerer to the engliſhe than to the latin, as Babazin, whiche made a latin worde, is babare. it may be traſſferred to the nouriſe, that babbleth with hir chyld, whan ſhe geueth it the dugges.

Lama, ma, f. g. the raggedneſſe of rockes: after Jeſtus, it is the gathering together of waters.

Lambito, au, are, to lycke or lappe.

Lambo, bi, bere, to liche with the tounge, to lap, alſo to touche, to ſtove or renne ſoftely.

Lambous, a ryuer of Aethie.

Lambrus, a ryuer in Italy, whiche meeteth with the ryuer of Po, called Padus.

Lambrani, people dwelling about the ſaid ryuer of Lambrus.

Lamella, α, f. g. a diminutiue of Lamina, a litle tell thynne plate.

Lamentabilis, le, lamentable.

Lamentarius, a, um, that cauſeth lamentation.

Lamentatio, onis, for. g. lamenting or wailing, wailmenting.

Lamentatus, a, um, lamented, bewayled.

Lamentor, aris, ari, to lament or bewaple.

Lamentum, ti, neu. gen. a bewayling or lamenting.

Lamia, a beaſte, whiche hath a womans face, and the ſecte of a hoſte. It was alſo the ſurname of a noble Romagn, and alſo of a famous harlot. Lamia, be women, whiche beholding children, or geuyng to them gyftes, doo alter the ſorture of them: whiche children be afterwarde called elſes, or taken with the ſayre, and ſome ſuche women will ſucke the bloud from children. They be alſo thoſe, whiche be called ladies of the ſayre, whiche doo allure yong men to company carnally with them: and after that they be conſumed in the acte of lechery, they com to deuoure themſelues.

Lamina, α, f. g. a plate of mettall.

Lamirus, one of the ſonnes of Hercules.

Lamna, for lamina.

Lamium, mij, n. g. archangel, or deade nettle.

Lampada, da, idem quod Lampas.

Lampas, lampadis, form. gen. a leame of ſyre or bygheneſſe of the ſon, moſte uſed for a lampe, alſo a torch.

Lampetia, the daughter of the Sunne by Nexra, whiche with hir ſyſter Phaetusa, hepte theyre in Sicile.

Lampetra, a ſyſte called a lamprey.

Lampetus, the ſyſter of Phaeton.

Lampeus, an hyll in Creacie.

Lampia, a ryuer in Creacie.

Lampon, the name of an hoſte. alſo of a tooth ſaper, that vſed to ſware by a gooſe: wherof grew a prouerbe, Lampon iurat per anserem, loke there.

Lampſacius, the ſonne of Cilis.

Lampſacum, a towne on the ſea ſide called Hellespontus, in the ſyde of Aſia, where Priapus was honoured.

Lampſacenus, a, um, of Lampſacum.

Lampſana, loke Lupſana.

Lampyrus, pȳrios, f. g. a gloe worme, or a worme called a gloe beaſt, whiche thyneth by nyght.

Lamyrus, a kynde of liſardes, or cucies, alſo one of Hercules ſonnes.

Lana, α, f. g. woull.

De lana caprina rixari, to contende for a litle ſlyng matter.

Lana facta, parne.

Lana infecta, woull that is not ſpunne.

Lana peſſima, carded.

Ducere lanam, to ſpinne, to ſpinne woull.

Trahere lanam, idem.

Lana leporina, the ſofte heare of an hare.

Lanaria, an herbe, whiche fullers doo vſe, whan they ſcoure clothes. ſome ſay it is that, whiche apothecaries doo call Condiſi.

Lanaris, re, that beareth or hath woull.

Lanare pecus, beaſtes hauyng woull.

Lanarius, rij, m. g. a woull man, or he that occu- pieth or ſellith woull, alſo a woullinder.

Lanatus, a, um, cladded or wrapped in woull.

Lanata vites, a kynde of vines, whiche hath a certayn moſynneſſe like woull.

Lanatus lupus, a ſyſte, ſo called for his whiten- neſſe neſſe and ſoftneſſe.

Lanatore canitie, with more rotten.

Lancearius, rij, m. g. he that beareth a ſauclyn.

Lancea, α, form. gen. a Spaniſhe ſauclyn with a byode head.

Lanceus, a, um, armed with a ſauclyn. alſo wounded with a ſauclyn.

Lancino, au, are, to ſtryke, to rente with the teethe, to thruſt through.

Lanea, α, f. g. idem quod Laniena.

Lanenum, a garment made of vndyed woull.

Laneus, a, um, woull, or made of woull.

Laneum laſculum, a ſide as ſofte as woull.

Laneus lupus, a ſyſte white and ſoft.

Langa, gr, form. gen. a beaſt, whiche is found about the ryuer of Po.

Langua, a fountayne in Aſemen, a countrey of Aſia, where the hoſte of Regius was reſtred, whan they went agaynſt Thebes.

Languo, langui, giere, to languyſhe, to bee ſpke, to be ſeynt, to be aſerde, to be ydell, to decaie, to diminyſhe.

Languere e via, to be wepy of iourneyng.

Languico, ſcere, idem.

Languidus, a, um, ſeynt, ſpke, aſerde, ydell.

Languidus pulſus, a ſeynt poultre, that ſtryketh feebly.

Languidior, ſomewhat ſlacke in dooeyng a thyng.

Autoritas languida facta eſt, the authoritee is diminyſhed or decaied.

Languide, ſerchly, ſeyntly, negligently, ydelly, without quykeneſſe of ſpuryte.

Languidulus, la, lumi, the diminutiue of Languidus.

Languor, oris, maſ. gene. languor, ſaylunge of ſtrength, and naturall moſture, languyſhe, febleneſſe, ſeynteneſſe. Sometyme weeryneſſe.

Languurum, rij, n. g. languettes of ambre, like to longe beaded ſtones.

Laniena, α, f. g. the fleſhe ſhambles, or ſhoppe, where fleſhe is ſolde, the ſlaughter houſe. ſometyme it ſignifieth diſmembryng.

Lanicum, ci, n. g. clothynge, or the craft of maſ- hyng woullens clothe.

Lanifer, ra, rum, that beareth woull.

Laniger, ra, rum, idem.

Lanifex, idem quod lanificus.

Lanificum, ci, n. g. cardynge or ſpynnyng of woull, woodyng of woull.

Lanificus, ci, m. g. he that dooth worke woull to make it mete for the clothier. it may be called alſo a woull wynder.

Lanio, au, are, to cutte lyke a boucher, to teare or rent in peeces or gobettes, to quarter.

Laniare dentibus, to teare with the teeth.

Laniatus, a, um, rent, tozne, cutte in peeces.

Laniatus, us, m. gen. a tearing, a quarteryng, a cutting in peeces.

Laniatum, ij, n. g. boucherye,

Lanionius, a, um, pertainyng to bouchers traſſy.

Laniſta, α, m. g. he that had the rule ouer ſwoyrd platers, and cauſed them to be taught, and after ſolde them. alſo that ordeined birdes to fight, it may be taken for a maſter of fence.

Lanionius, a, um, woullens of woull.

Lanium carnarium, a ſlaughter houſe.

Lanius, nij, or Lanio, onis, m. g. a boucher.

Laniuum, or Laniuum, a citee in Italy, belon- gyng to the Romayns.

Lano, au, are, to put in woull, or to dyſſe with woull.

Lanoculus, li, m. g. he that couereth the blemiſhe in his eye with woull, or he that weareth a cloth before his eye.

Lanofus, a, um, full of woull, or hauyng muſ- che woull.

Lanubium, a citee of the Latines.

Lanuginofus, a, um, moſy.

Lanugo, ginis, form. gen. the ſofte heates or moſ- ſynneſſe in the viſages of children and women. alſo on fruites called peaches, and ſome here- bes, as long woyle, clary, and ſuche other. alſo the down feathers in byrdes. it is alſo the ſawe duſt or other powder, whiche cometh of wood whan it is perced.

Lanula, la, f. g. a diminutiue of Lana.

Lanuuii, the ſtones couered with ſofte heare.

Lanuuium, loke Laniuium.

Lanx, ci, f. g. a dyſhe, whiche of ſome is called a portwyng. alſo a balance.

Laocon, the ſonne of Phiamus.

Laodamas, one of the ſonnes of kynge Hicmonus.

Laodamia, the wyfe of Phothecilaus. alſo the daughter of Bellerophon.

Laodicea, a citee in Aſia.

Laodice, or after ſome Laodoe, one of Phias mus daughters, whiche was maried to the ſonne of Antenor, kynge of Thrace.

Laodocus, the ſonne of Antenor the Troian.

Laomedon, ontis, the father of Phiamus.

Laomedonticus, a, um, and Laomedontius, a, um, of Laomedon.

Lapathum, thi, n. g. called alſo Rumex, the ge- nerall name of all ſozell, as Oxylapathum, or Lapathum acutum, ſozrell, as well wylde as of the garden. Hippolapathum, a great ſozell lyke a docke, but hauyng the taſt of ſozell, and is called Patience. this worde Lapathum, of ſome is vſed for the docke.

Lapathos, a citee in Egypte.

Lapicida, α, maſc. gene. a pygget of ſtones in a quarrye.

Lapidina, α, f. g. a quarry of ſtones.

Lapidator, onis, for. gen. a ſtonyng, a hurlyng of ſtones.

Lapidarius, a, um, pertainyng to ſtones.

Lapidator, oris, m. gen. a hurler of ſtones, one that hurteſh men with ſtones.

Lapideſco, ſcere, to be made or tourned into a ſtone, to waue harde as a ſtone.

Lapido, aui, are, to styke with stones. also to styke sometyme without stones. sometyme to rayne stones.

Lapidatum est, it rayned stones.

Lapillus, li, maf. gene. a litell stone. also a ptesious stone.

Lapio, pui, pire, to make harde as a stone, an olde woorde.

Lapis, lapidis, maf. gene. a stone, but lesse than that, whiche is called Saxum. Sometyme it is taken for a myle. sometyme an hille. by translation a negligent persone, that bestyreteth hym not in dooing a thyng.

Ad tertium aut quartum lapide, At the thynde or the fourthe myle, because in olde tyme myles were noted by stones.

De lapide empti, staves of bondeme. A proverbe, signifying persons of most vile condicion, which were bought in the markette place, standing upon a stone.

Lapidem verberare, proverbiially to labour in wayne.

Quid stas lapis? why standest thou still thou dead stone?

Lapis incus, a stone pecked and dyessed for a myll.

Appetere lapidibus, To assaile or sette upon with stones.

Lapideus, a, um, of stone, or harde lyke a stone.

Lapideus murus, a stone walle.

Lapideus sum, I am as heauy as a stone.

Lapideus imbris pluit, it rayneth stones.

Lapidosus, a, um, stonge, full of stones, harde lyke a stone.

Lapithæ, people of Thessaly, of whom Perithous was kynge.

Lapidicus, or Lapidicus, a, um, of the Lapidices.

Lappa, æ, fœ. gen. the generall name of all burres growyng on herbes, whiche wylle styke to any thyng.

Lappaceus, a, um, of or lyke a burre.

Lappago, ginis, f. g. an herbe like to Anagallis, sayng that it hath no leaues.

Lapsana, Plinius and Theophrastus doe write, that they were called of the Arcadians wylde Colewoorde, and of the physicians (as Theophrastus saith) Cera. with the rootes herof, boyled in mylke, all the hoste of Julius Cesar dyed at Dirrachium, a longe tyme, whereof came the proverbe, Lapsana viuere, where men do lye upgardly and wretchedly, this herbe is named in Englishe wylde cole, or Carloke.

Lapsio, ðnis, f. g. a fall, a slydyng or slippyng.

Lapsio, aui, are, to fall often.

Lapsus, us, m. gen. a fall, a slydyng, also a small offense doone by negligence, an oversight.

Lapsus lingua, trippyng of the tonge.

Lapsus memoria, fayling of the memory.

Lapsus, a, um, fallen, sliden, that hath offended or erred.

Lapis paucis diebus, after a fewe daies.

Lapsus serpentum, the slydyng of a serpent.

Lapsus fluminis, the rennyng of rivers.

Laqueare, laquear, ris, & Laquearium, ri, n. g. the russe of a chambrer, whiche is embowd or fretted, also a playn beame in a russe.

Laqueatus, a, um, haltered, snarled, tied, or bounde faste, sometyme it signifyeth holow of boowyng.

Laqueata ecta, embowd roofes.

Laqueatum auro templum, a church having the beames of the russe gylted.

Laqueus, laquei, m. g. an halter, any thyng, that one is snared or intangled in, a ginne.

Laquei legum ac iudiciorum, The snares of lawes. &c.

Lar, the singlar nombre of Lares, loke there, it is taken for an house, sometyme the inner parte of an house, also for a chimney and the fire.

Lara, vel Larunda, a mayden, whiche shewed to Juno the wanton pastimes of Jupiter with women, for the whiche Jupiter did cut out his tongue, and commended Mercurius to byng hir to hell: who begotte on hir two sonnes, whiche were called Lares.

Laranda, a citee of Aysaonia.

Lararium, ri, n. g. a priuate chapell or closet in a mans house.

Larus, a, panne, wherein coles be caried.

Lardum, di, n. g. larde, the fatte of bacon.

Larentia, a famous harlot, whiche because she made the people of Rome hir here, they named hir a goddesse, and called hir Flora.

Lares, goddes, whiche the painpnes did suppose euery person had belongyng vnto hym: they were also called Penates: both the which wordes be also taken for priuate dwellynge of houses. Mei lares, mei penates, My house of dwellynge place.

Large, abundantly, liberally, bountifull.

Vino largius epulas celebrare, to dyne with verie largely at a feast.

Largior, largiris, giri, to geue liberally, also to graunte, sometyme to permitte.

Beneficium ex facili largiri, to doo a pleasure quickly.

Si tempus non largitur, if the time suffice not.

Largiri Ciuitatem, to make one a citie.

Largiri se vltro, to offre hym selfe willingly.

Largitor de tuo puer, geue liberally of that is thine owne, thou sauy boye.

Largitas, ætis, f. g. largesse, or liberalitee.

Largitio, ðnis, fœ. ge. liberall expence to winne a mans purpose, largesse, prodigalitee.

Largifluus, a, um, that floweth abundantly.

Largiloquus, qui, he that hath many woordes.

Largiter, idem quod large.

Vapularis largiter, thou shalt be well beate.

Largiter peccasti, Thou haste doone a great offence.

Largitor, ðris, m. ge. a liberall spender, a prodigal.

gall persone, bounteous in geuyng.

Largius, fœ. Largiter.

Largus, a, um, large of verte great, also free of expence, bountious, liberall, prodigall.

Dar nemo largius, he geueth no man moze liberally.

Largus opum, riche.

Animo largus, of great courage.

Lux larga, great lycht.

Largus opera sua, that is no spater of his labour.

Largus lachrymarum, that wepeth muche.

Vinolargiore vii, to dyne moze than one is commonly accustomed.

Imber largus, a great thowze of rayne.

Largus opes, great riches.

Lardum, vel Lardum, laarde, of the fatte of an hogge. Sometyme swynes fleshe salted.

Larina, the name of a famous woman of Italy.

Larine, a fountayne in Sicilia.

Larice, a citee of Sicilia.

Larissa, a towne of Scythia.

Larissa, the name of diuers citiees, one in Thessalia, wherof Achilles was called Larissæus: an other in Asia, wherof Jupiter was called Larissæus, the thynde in Italye, an other in Crete.

Larius, a brooke of a great poole by the citee of Comum.

Larix, laricis, form. ge. a great tree, whiche hath leaues lyke a pine appull, the woodde long and apte for buyldeyng of inward woordes, it hath in it a thynde rosen of the colour of hony of Aspheres, it perpyeth not, neyther by rottyng, nor by eatyng of woormes, nor wyl burne in a flame, nor be brought vnto coles, but by a long space of tyme be consumed, also it will not swymme on the water as other trees doo, and therefore be they epyther caried in shippes, or els laide on fyre trees pinned together, this tree maie be called in englishe the Larch tree. The gumme, whiche cometh from this tree, is called Laricea resinosa, whiche is vsed in the stede of Cerebinthine, ne that is discommended of Aetius.

Larodij, people in Scythia.

Larus, æ, f. g. and Larus, arum, plur. a spyrte, whiche appereth in the nyght tyme. Some call it a hegge. Some a goblyn. Some a gosse of an elfe.

also a masker, or he that weareth a visour. also the visour it selfe.

Laruale, an ymage deformed, pale, leane, and horrible to beholde.

Larus, a, um, that is feared with a spyrte, and is become madde. it sometyme signifyeth a masker, one wearyng a visour, disguised.

Larus, called in greke Cephus, a certayne bird of the kynd of seamewes: of this sozte there is a little bird, haupng many feathers, whiche at the tyme that the byngeth forth ponge, crieth out. She liueth by eatyng the some of salt wasp, of hir sam the proverbe, Larus parturit, Larus doeth laye, applied to theim, whiche promyse muche, and great thynges, and fynally dooe geue or byng forth no thyng, in regard of that whiche they promysed. I thynke this bird is called in englishe a sterne. In the proverbe Larus hians, Erasmus saith, Larus is a gredy deuouryng bird.

Lasanum, ni, n. g. a chambrer potte of stoule.

Lasciuia, æ, f. g. wantonnesse.

Lasciuio, sciuis, sciuiui, uire, to bee wanton: also to growe or spyng rankely.

Lasciuus, a, um, lecherous bothe in lypyn and wrydes, waton in behauiour or with women, dishonest, that speaketh of dooeth thynges fowlyshly, without regard of vertue and honestie.

Pagina lasciuia, a wrytyng conteynyng wanton thynges.

Laser, laseris, neu. g. a gumme or iuice cethyng out of a tree, whiche is taken of the best wryters to be that, whiche is called of the apothecaries Asa foetida.

Lacer, is the iuice of gumme, that cometh of the shabbe of herbe called Lacerpitium: the french men call this gumme, Benioin.

Laserpitium, ri, n. g. is of Antonius Musa supposed to be the sweete rosen called Welschewyne, or Beugewyne: some suppose it to be the tree, of whiche cometh that rosen of gumme.

Laserpitium Gallicum, the herbe called Pellis tope of spayne.

Laserpitius, a, um, that is tempered or mixed with the iuice of Laserpitium.

Lasibus, olde wryters bled for Laribus.

Lassatus, a, um, weried, tired.

Lasseco, lassus sum, scere, to become weried.

Lasia, an ile in the sea Egeum, it was also called Andros.

Lassitudo, dinis, f. g. weriness.

Lasso, aui, are, to werie, to tire.

Lassulus, a, um, the diminutiu of Lassus.

Lassus, a, um, weried, tired.

Lassus de via, werie with goyng or turneing.

Rebus lassis, in aduersitee. Lassa terra.

Lathenia, a woman, whiche was Platos schoolar, comyng alwaie in to his schoole in man's apparaple.

Lastaurus, i. hirsutus circa virilia.

Latus, a man in the tyme of Marius, that wrote first of musphe.

Larace, ccs, f. g. an herbe, whiche the kynges of Persia were wont to geue to ambassadours, wherin they hadde this superstitious beleue, that bearyng about theym that herbe, where so euer they were, they shoulde haue plentie of all thynges, and shoulde not perpye for hunger or thurst. The fygure of this herbe I coulde neuer fynde in any authour.

Late, abroade in many places, farre abroade. Sometyme for Diuturnus, longe.

Latus loqui, To speake moze largely vpon a thyng.

Lare pater, it belongeth to many.
 Late longeum diffusum, spreade abroade well
 neere in all quostis of the worlde.
 Fama laius confulere, to prouide that his res
 nowme mate continue longe tyme.
 Latebra, æ, & Latebra, arum, f. g. plu. a pryue place, where men dooe hyde theyn. Sometyne it signifieth an excuse.
 Latebras querentes, hydelynge.
 Latebra ferarum, couert for bere, or dennes for wylde beastes.
 Latebram habere, to haue an excuse or pryue
 tence to clothe the matter.
 Ex latebris erumpere, to cumme abroade.
 Latebram periurio querere, to sweare wylly vnder a colour, to the entente to deceyue a man.
 Latebricola, la, f. g. gene. one that dwelleth in a pryue place.
 Latebrose, priuily, secretly, as it wer in a corner.
 Latebrosus, a, um, that is full of dennes to hide or lurke in.
 Latebrosus locus, where as bee many pryue places.
 Lateo, tut, tere, to be hydde, to be secreete, to be unknowen.
 Nec lateerunt eum doli, he knewe they des cepte full well.
 Latet mihi causa, I know it not.
 Res latuit patrem, he knew it not.
 Latet plerisque, it is unknowen to the moste
 parte.
 Latet in herba, it lyeth hyd in the grasse.
 Latuit ad hanc aetatem, it was unknowen euen to these daies.
 Latenter, priuily, secretly.
 Lateralis, le, belonngng to the syde.
 Later, lateris, m. g. byche, tyle.
 + Laterem lauas, thou wasthest a tyle. + proues be, signifiyng, thou labourst in bayne.
 + Laterem elixas, a prouerbe, haung the same signification.
 Laterani, pomen of the garde.
 Lateranus, the name of a consull of Rome, of whose house was made a churche in the citee of Rome of sainte John, whiche is nowe called Lateranensis.
 Laterania, æ, form. gene. a place, where byche or tyle is made.
 Latereculus, li, m. g. a littell byche or tyle.
 Crudi laterculi, byche before it is baked.
 Latericius, a, um, made of tyle or byche.
 Latericius paries, a byche wall.
 Laterna, nã, f. g. a lanternne.
 Laternarius, rij, m. g. a lanternne bearer.
 Laterones, pomen of the garde.
 Lateruncularius, a, um, of or belonging to chesse.
 Lateruncularia tabula, a chesse board.
 Latex, laticis, masc. gene. all maner of licour or iugge, but it is most commonly taken for water or wyne.
 Latex scythicus, rayne water.

Lathyrus, f. g. an herbe of the kynde of spurge, called commonly Cataputia.
 Latiâlis, le, and Latiaris, re, of latin, of that part of Italie, whiche was called Latium.
 Latiâlis sermo, the latine tongue.
 Latibulo, aui, are, to be hyd.
 Latibulum, li, n. g. a denne or burg, where beas tes dooe hyde theyn. Sometyne it is used for a secreete place, or caue, wherein men be hydde.
 Laticlauium, iij, n. g. the garment of a senator, sometyne it signifieth the dignitee of a senator and Laticlauij, is taken for the Senators.
 Latifolium, li, n. g. and Latifolia, æ, f. g. that whiche hath brode leaues.
 Latifundium, di, neu. ge. a great or large fiede, great and large possessions, also that hath a great or large fiede, or large and great posses sions.
 Larina, narum, sacrifices to Jupiter, named of the Latines, who fyrst dyd ordeyne theyn.
 Latine, in the fourme of latine, after the fason of latine, in latine.
 Latine scire, to be skilled in the latine tongue.
 Latinitas, âtis, f. g. latine speache.
 Latiniensis, se, idem quod Latinus, a, um.
 Latinus, a, um, latine or of the people called Lat ines.
 Latine consuetudini tradere, to translate into to latine.
 Vertere in latinum, idem.
 Latini, people of Latium in Italie.
 Latinus, ni, the propre name of the father in lawe to Menas.
 Latio, ônis, of Fero, fers, a bearing.
 Legum latio, an ordeynng and publiygng of lawes.
 Latio suffragij, a geuyng of voyce or sentence in assignng or choosng of any magistrate.
 Lausco, to ware brode.
 Latio, aui, are, to hyde often, to lurke, also to appere whan one is sommored to appere in the lawe.
 Latitatio, ônis, f. g. a hydyng, or lushing.
 Latitudo, dinis, byrdth, largenesse, latitude.
 Latitudo possessionum, largenesse of posses sions, great possessions in landes.
 Latium, tij, n. g. a parte of Italie, betwene the river of Tybris and Aris, wherein standeth the citee of Rome.
 Latus, a, um, of that countrey.
 Latmius, is a mountaine of Laria, and Latmius a mountaine in Ionia, where postes late the moone bydd Endymion.
 Lato, latescere, to be broade.
 Latomix, or Latuma, arum, plu. was a strep tuous in the citee of Syracusa in Sicilia: as other in Sparta. It is also a quarry, out of the whiche stones are digged.
 Ad latonias damnari, To be condemned to worke in the quarres or mines alyue.
 Latomus, mi, m. ge. a mason, one that cutteth diggeth stones out of a quarry.

 Latonia, the mother of Apollo and Diana.
 Latonia, called also Diana, and is also taken for
 the moone.
 Latonius, a, um, of Latonia.
 Latonigena di, Apollo and Diana.
 Latous, Apollo.
 Lator, ônis, m. g. a bearer, a carier, one that ges
 ueth or maketh lawes.
 Latorius, us, m. ge. a barkyng or baing of dogs
 ges. also a vehement speakyng agaynst one.
 Remugit nemus latorum, the woodde ringeth with the crye or noyse of the houndes.
 Lator, ônis, m. g. he that barketh, a barker.
 Lator, a feruant.
 Latoria, f. g. the honour and scrupce, wherewith god onely is woorthyped.
 Latoria, æ, f. g. a synke. also a siege or takes.
 Lator, aui, are, to bathe as a dogge doeth: and by translatiō to crye out and baie at one like a dogge whan he barketh.
 Stomachum latrantem lenire, a curlyng stō make despying meate.
 Lator, âris, ari, the passiue.
 Latrocinium, cinij, n. gen. thefte, robbery. Also warfare.
 Agitare latrocinia, to vse robberyng.
 Latrocinor, âris, ari, to robbe by the hygh way.
 also to serue in warres.
 Lator, ônis, com. gener. a robber by the hygh way. also a souldiour retyred. Amonge the Romans, it wote those, whiche were alwaie as bout the emperours persone, as the garde is aboute the kynge. Also Latrones, seu Latroni culi be thefemen. Lator is also used of poetes for an hunter.
 Prælia latronum ludere, to play at thefte.
 Latrocinario, ônis, f. g. a robberyng.
 Latroculus, li, m. gen. a lyttell thefe or robber,
 also a thefeman.
 Latroculator, ônis, m. ge. a iustyce of gayle des luerie, or any iustyce, whiche doeth geue sen tence on theues. also a prouost marshall.
 Latumix, arum, plural. quarres, where stones are digged.
 Latus, a, um, of fero, fers, bozne. Also geuen, ordeped, published.
 Latus, lator, lausimus, broade, ample, large,
 conteynyng agreat rowme.
 Lata culpa, a grosse negligence, whan a man petyeneth not that thyng that euery man vnder
 standeth.
 Latesculum, li, n. g. a lyttle syde.
 Latus, lateris, neu. g. a side. it is often tymes tak en for the strength and durableness of the voyce and breath in speakyng.
 Adungere aliquem lateri filij, to appoynte
 one to kepe his soonne companie alyue.
 Homines a latere, men that are herat famis har and in great faupor with princes.
 Accommodare ensem lateri, To putte on a swerde.

 Cingere latus ense, idem.
 Latus ense peregit, he thrust hym through the syde with a sworde.
 Latus campi, the syde of any fild.
 Latus clauus, a senators robe or garment. It is put sometyne for the dignitee of a senator.
 Laudacrum, cii, n. g. a bathe or bayne: it is nowe taken for a fonte.
 Lauatio, ônis, a washyng, a bayne or bathe.
 Lauatrina, nã, form. ge. a synke, wherinto foule water is caste or swepte, wherby pauementes are made cleane.
 Lauce, an ile in the sea called Pontus.
 Laudabilis, le, laudable, commendable.
 Laudare alterum ad aliquem.
 Laudatio, ônis, form. gen. a prayse or commen dation.
 Laudo, aui, are, to prayse, to commende. also to cite or name.
 Laudo testem, I take to witnesse.
 Cum exceptione laudari, To be praised in all thyng sayng one, to be praised with a but.
 Laudare auctorem, to cite or name the authoure of the persone, of whom he had the thyng.
 Laudatus, a, um, praised, commended.
 Laudator, ônis, m. ge. one that prayseth or com mendeth.
 Laudatrix, tris, f. g. the feminine.
 Laudabiliter, commendably, woorthy praise.
 Laudacius, a, um, that prayseth.
 Laudicrius, ni, m. g. he that is hyed for a sup per to prayse a man: or for a supper promysed, dooeth prayse a man.
 Lauer, laueris, neu. ge. and sometyne f. g. an herbe growyng in the water, like to Bilsander, but haung less leaues: some dooe call it bil
 ders, or Belleragges: some name it pealow was ter tree.
 Lauerna, a goddesse, vnder whose protection
 theues were in Rome.
 Lauinia, the daughter of kynge Latinus, for whom Menas and Turnus fought together.
 Lauinium, a citee in Italie called also Lauricum.
 Lauo, laui, are, and Lauo, ui, ere, to washe.
 Lauare peccatum suum, to purge hym selfe of that is laied to his charge.
 Laura, such a place of pleasure at Samios, as Thron was at Sardis.
 Lauren, æ, f. gene. a lease of laurell or baie tree.
 Sometime a garlande made of laurell. Sometime a laurell or baie tree it selfe.
 Laureatus, a, um, crowned with laurell, wearyng
 a garlande of laurell.
 Laurens, entis, or Laurentis, te, of the towne called Laurentum.
 Laurencia, æ, f. g. the wife of Faustulus, whiche nourysed Remus and Romulus.
 Laurentalia, certayne feastes dedicated to Lau rentia.
 Laurentum, a citee in Italie, called also Lauini.
 S s Laurco,

Laureo, aui, are, to put on a garlande of laurel.
 Laureola, a, f. g. a crowne of garlande that vic tories were in theyr triumphe.
 Laureolis, aslimes, that come of the triynge of sil uer in golde smithes forges.
 Lauretum, ti, n. gen. a place, wherin dooe growe laurelles or baie trees.
 Laureum, a place in the countreie of Grece, cal led Attica.
 Laureus, a, um, of laurell.
 Laurices, a kynde of Vares.
 Laurifer, and Lauriger, ra, rum, that weareth a garlande of laurell.
 Laurinum, ni, n. g. oyle of laurell or baies.
 Laurinus, a, um, of laurell or lyke to laurell.
 Laurion, a place in Attica, where syluer was dygged.
 Lauro laurinum, a citee in Italy by Laurentum.
 Laurus, ti, o; Laurus, us, f. m. gen. a laurell or baie tree.
 Lausus, the soonne of Mezentius.
 Laus, laudis, f. m. gen. prayse, commendacion, re
 nowme, glorie, euery mans good report.
 Armata laudes, martiali renoume.
 Dicere laudem alicuius rei, to prayse of sette footthe the commendacion of a thyng.
 Ei laudi datum est, it was compted a praise to hym: o; he was praysed of commended for it.
 Efferre laudibus, to extolle.
 Habere laudes de aliquo, To prayse one, to speake in commendacion of one.
 Laudem non habet, it is not to be commended:
 it is not praysed nor esteemed.
 Laudem inuenire, To geat prayse and com
 mendacion.
 Sperauit magna laudi fore, he hoped that it woulde be great prayse to hym.
 Tua laus fuerit, The prayse shall redounde to you: o; you shall be praysed for it.
 Latine loqui, est in magna laude ponendum,
 It is a thyng greatly to be praysed and este med to speake latine well.
 Laude afficere, to prayse.
 Laute, elegantly, mimonily, trimly, gaily.
 Laute vestitus, mimonily apparayled.
 Laute diuersari, to be honourably lodged, to be well intertyened.
 Laute loqui, to speake eloquently.
 Laute munus administrasti tuum, Ye haue dooen your offyce of duette honourably, o; to your geat prayse.
 Lauria, drum, neu. g. plur. presentes, whiche the Romans did send to ambassadours of other realmes.
 Lautia, is somtyme bled in the feminine gēdye.
 Lautia, a, f. m. g. magnificence and netenesse in diners and banquettes.
 Lautrices, the wyues of two byetherne.
 Lautula, weate baynes.
 Lautus, a, um, & Lotus, a, um, washed. also nete
 o; cleane, elegant, riche, minion, tricke, hāsome,

Lautus homo, a minion, proppre, o; nete per sone.
 Lauti ciuitas, a riche and noble citee.
 Lax, discepte, gyle: a wooyde out of bte.
 Laxatus, a, um, lewse, set at his lyberte.
 Laxamentum, ti, n. g. release, recreation, liberte tee, release thyng.
 Laxamentum & veniam non habent leges,
 lawes remitte and perdone no punishment.
 Laxamentum dari legi, to enlarge a lawe that it be not so rigoous.
 Laxamentum dare, to geue rest and recreation from labour.
 Laxitas, Aris, f. gen. release, pardone, lousness, lyberte.
 Laxitas domus, largenesse of an house, great renoume.
 Laxe, lowfely, largely.
 Habitare laxe & magnifice, to dwell in a great large house nobly.
 Anguste & laxe, contrarie.
 Laxissime ambulare, to haue a berie large roome to walke in.
 Laxe distare, to be far a sundre.
 Laxo, aui, are, to louse o; set at lyberte, to re lease, to open, to make larger.
 Laxare manipulos, was in battayle, whan the sundrye bandes of companies of fere men were set in a rage, one man a conuenient distance from an other, that they mought fight the moze at their lyberte.
 Laxare & astringere, contrary.
 Annona laud multum laxauerat, the pryce of vittayle was fallen littell o; nothyng.
 Tempus laxare, to extende & prologe the tyme.
 Laxare animum a laboribus, To recreate the minde from labour, to be at quite.
 Laxare animum molestiis, idem.
 Laxum, an aduerbe, significth wyde.
 Laxus, a, um, louse, large, wyde, softte, weakte.
 Funes laxi, cordes not stretchyd out.
 Laxas dare habernas, to geue byddell at wyll.
 Laxe opes, great tythes.
 Laxum tempus, and Laxa dies, a longe tyme
 o; tyme.
 Cum ipse alium diem laxiorem dederim, whan that I my self haue prolonged the tyme,
 o; geuen a longer date o; tyme.
 Ager laxus, a byode o; wide fildie, Angustus
 contrary.
 Arcus laxus, a bowe vnbenet.
 Calceus laxus, a wide shoo.
 Domus laxa, a great house with muche roome.

L Ea, lea, and Learna, a, f. g. a lionesse.
 Lea, is also a kynde of colewoytes.
 Lex, an blande by Epyrenia, a region of Affrike.

Learna,

Lexna, a lionesse: it was also the name of a com mon woman at Athenes: who (after that Iphar modius and Aristogiton had slayn Hipparchus the tyran) being turmented in sundrie facions, to the entent he shoulde discouer the confeder rates of that murder, spake not one word, but being in sunder hit tonge, she spitte it in the face of Iphias the tyran, who caused hit to be turmented.
 Leander, the name of a man.
 Leachus, the sonne of Athamas and Ino, whom the father being madde, slewe in the stede of an herte.
 Lebadia, a citee of Scotia.
 Lebedus, a citee.
 Leberis, ridis, a serpentes huske o; hale, o; olde dyesthynne, whiche he casteth of.
 Lebes, beitis, m. g. a caudion to boyle in.
 Lebynthos, one of the isles called Eyclades.
 Lecanomaticus, a certayne kynde of south sailers, that bled their diuination with bas sons of water.
 Lecanomania, a, f. m. gen. a kynde of diuis nacion by water in a basin, whiche the rustycall people in the olde tyme vsed among the Assy rians. They filled a basin full of water, in to the whiche, after certayne wooydes spoken, spi rites entred, whereby was hearde a littell sowne o; whisperynge: by the whiche the in chaunters percepued thynges to come, and made aunsweres accordynge. Ioannes Zeses, in his comment on the Illiados of Homere, maketh mencion of two kyndes of Lecano mania: one olde was, whiche the Assyres vsed: an other newe founde, whiche was by water in a depe basin, into the whiche was put golde, sil uer, amber, copper, and stones, wherat myght be no women, o; they whiche had offended with women. But this vayne science is forboden as mong christen men, lyke as Necromancie and Geomancie is.
 Lechia, a, f. g. a sp he, whiche some haue taken to be Cynp, for the similitude of thepyn.
 Leclia, a, f. g. a thyng lyke to a bedde, wherin riche and noble men were bozne by six serua ntes maie be taken for a litter.
 Lecliarin, they whiche bare Leclia.
 Lecliarola, the that attendeth on a litter bearer.
 Leclacula, a littell chairs o; licters caried betwene
 men.
 Leclio, onis, f. m. g. readyng, a lesson, choyse,
 a gatherynge.
 Leclipes, an herbe.
 Lecliterniator, onis, m. g. a chamberlajn, o; he that maketh the beddes.
 Lecliternium, a solemnitee amonge the pais nims, whan in the honour of theyr gods, Jus piter, Juno, and Minerva, beddes were spreadde in the temples, in the whiche faste the idoles were laied, in the residue as many as mought lie and eate.

 Lectio, aui, are, to reade often. Also to gather often.
 Lecton, one of the toppes of the mountayne cal led Ida.
 Lectrum, a parte of Asia lyng into the sea.
 Lector, onis, m. g. a reader.
 Lectus, us, m. g. a choyse.
 Lectus, a, um, read, also chosen, picked, selected.
 Lecturio, ire, to desyre to reade.
 Lectus, ti, m. g. a beedde. it is vsed somtyme for a table, because they vsed in olde tyme to eate theyr meate sittyn on beddes.
 Lectulus, li, m. g. a lyttell bedde.
 Lecythus, thi, mascul. & f. m. gen. a potte of earthe, whiche serued onely for oyle, an oyle glasse o; vialle.
 Leda, the wyfe of Endarus hynde of Laco na, with whom (as pottes dooe fable) Jupis ter in the forme of a swanne dyde companie, and she brought forth the two egges, of the one came Pollux and Helena, whiche was rauyn sed by Paris: of the other came Castor and Clytemnestra: Pollux and Castor bee called Ledei.
 Legea, one of the nymphes.
 Legalis, le, belongynge to the lawe.
 Legarium, ri, n. g. idein quod Legumen.
 Legatarius, ri, ma. gene. he to whom any thyng is bequeithyd.
 Legataria prouincia, a prouince appoynted to one.
 Legatio, onis, f. m. g. an ambassade o; office of an ambassadour.
 Accipere legationem, To take on hym the charge of a Legacie.
 Gerere legationem, and fungi legatione, to be an ambassadour.
 Legatio libera, a legacy o; lieutenantshyppe purchaseth by fauour, to the entent that one maie with moze authoritee prosecute his owne priuate matters in the countrey whither he is sente.
 Vorius legatio, whan one purchaseth the title of an ambassadour o; lieutenant, & he maie the more honourably perfourme a bowe that he hath made.
 Legatium, ui, neut. gener. that is geuen to the ambassadour for his expence, his dietes, his al lowaunce.
 Legatius, a, um, perteynyng to legacies.
 Legator, onis, ma. gene. he that bequeitheth any thyng, the testatour.
 Legatum, ti, n. g. a legacy o; bequest.
 Legatus, ti, ma. gen. an ambassadour, that hath commission to treate of matters. He that is sent onely to salute o; congratulate, is called Oratour. It is also a lieutenant o; generall cap pitayne of an armie.
 Legerda, a citee in great Armenie.
 Legibilis, le, legible, that maie be redde,

Légifer, idem quod Legislator.

Legio, ónis, f. g. a companie of men of warre, containing commonly 6000. foote men. 712. horsemen: of after Varro. 12500. menne of warre: But it is manifest in Liui, that the nombre of a legion is vncertaine. It is also a towne in Cornwall, now called Lelhard.

Legion, the chefe citie of Castile called Lion.

Legionarius, a, um, of or pertaining to a legion.

Legirupa, x, m. g. a breaker of lawes.

Legislátor, óris, maf. gen. a maker of geuer of lawes.

Legitímé, lausfully, accordyng to the lawe.

Legitimus, a, um, accordyng to the lawe, laus full, ryght, conuenient, meete, iust.

Legitimi dies, daies in banke before ordinarie iudges; whan the partie shoulde appeere or pleade: or els it maie be daies of retorne in the kyngs benche or chauncerie.

Legitima iudicia, iudgements confirmed by lawes wrytten of auncient custome.

Legitimo functionis tempore expleto, the ordinarie tyme of his ministeryng being expired.

Legiuncula, lx, f. g. a small legion.

Lego, aui, are, to sende as an ambassadour, or as a legate, or depute, to committe or appoint, to bequeeth, also to assigne or impute. Calsium sibi legauit, he toke Cassius to bee his lieutenant.

Famulum legare aliquo, to send his seruant any whither.

Legare negotiam alicui, to commit a charge or busynesse to one.

Legare fortunæ, to assigne or impute to fortune, to blame or laie the fault on fortune.

Consulem legare ad id bellum placuit, their pleasure was, that the consull shoulde be sent as chiefe capitayne to that warres.

Legare aliquid alicui, to geue a thyng to one by testamente.

Lego, legi, gere, to gather, to rede, to passe by, to chouse, to strike, sometyne to steale.

Legere sermonem alterius, to hearken what one saith.

Legere vestigia, to folowe one steppe by step.

Legens oram Italia, saylyng along by the sea coast of Italie.

Legula, lx, f. g. a fillette.

Leguleius, lei, mafcu. ge. a lawier, a student of the lawe.

Legulus li m. g. a gatherer of small thynges, as grapes or oliues.

Legúnen, minis, n. g. all maner of pulse, as beanes, peason, vetches, tares. &c.

Legumentum, ti, and Legarium, rij, neu. gene. the same.

Leleges, or Lelegæ, people, whiche were at waie wanderyng: and inhabited sometyne in Chethalie.

Leitus, one of the. b. capitaynes of Beroia, that went to Troie.

Lelaps, lelapis, one of Ateons dogges.

Lema, x, f. g. a teate congeled. Erasmus saith, that Lema is a congeled humour in the ere, that hurteth the sight.

Lemānus, a poole, into the whiche the ryuer of Rhone renneth, called in frenche Lanfane.

Lembunculus, li, a diminutue of Lembus,

Lembus, bi, m. g. a swifte lurrell wyppre, whiche maie be called a barke.

Lemma, mātis, n. g. an argument.

Lemnia terra, that whiche is now called Terna sigillara.

Lemnisci, órum, m. g. plu. labelles hanginge downe from garlandes. also iesses belonging to an hauke.

Lemniscatus, a, um, that hath suche labelles, or iesses hanginge downe.

Lemnias, a, um, of Lemnos.

Lemnos, one of the Isles called Cyclades, wher in Vulcan was nourished. The women of this le begyn in a furie, that their husbendes were longe absent in warres, whan they came home (conspiring together) slew them all in one nyght, excepte Hippisphie the kynges daughter, saued and conueighed by father, Reade in Hippisphie.

Lemonium, nij, n. g. an herbe.

Lemosi, they that werpe lightly.

Lemouices, Lymosin in Fraunce.

Lémures, murum, m. g. plur. spiritres, whiche do walke by nyght with horrible fygures.

Lemuria, órum, neu. ge. plu. feastes dedicated to those spiritres.

Lenæum, a holy daie kept at Athens.

Lenæus, one of the names of Bacchus.

Lena, nx, f. g. a woman baude.

Leñdiginosus, a, um, full of nitres.

Lené, idem quod leniter.

Lenimentum, ti, and Lenimen, minis, n. g. that maketh pleasaunt or sweete, that taketh away the sharpnesse of eigneresse of a thyng.

Lenio, iui, ire, to pacifie, to moderate, to appease, to treatte gently, to make playne or smooth, to comfort. Quo illam mihi lenient miseriam, that they myght ease me of the sorowe of care that I was in.

Lenire tempestates, to appease the tempestes.

Lenis, ne, not soone angrie, soone contented or pleased, full of sufferance, that whiche hath no roughnes, meke, tractable, soft of condicions, gently, modest, mylde, pleasaunt in taste, contrary to eiger and tart.

Lené & asperum, contrary.

Venenum lené, an easy popson, that killeth a man without payne.

Vinum lené, delicious and pleasaunt wyne.

Ingensio leniesse, to haue a gently nature.

Lenes cibi and acres, contrary.

Lénitas, tātis, and Lenitudo, dinis, f. g. meeknesse, gentleness, easynesse to please, smoothnesse.

smoothnesse. Also pleasauntnesse in taste, fastourablenesse.

Leniter, softly, sweetely, moderately, gently.

Leno, ónis, com. gener. a baude, a marchaunte of hoopes.

Lenobates, a treader of grapes.

Lenocinium, nij, n. gen. the practise of baudrie.

Sometyne immoderate & requisite cleynnesse or elegancy to sterre a man to vice, a vicious pleasauntnesse, a pleasaunt inticement or lure.

Lenocinor, a, is, ari, to practise baudrie. Also to speake faire or allure one with wordes, and other pleasaunt thynges. Sometyne to gette fastuon, to make a thyng to haue the more grace.

Lenonius, a, um, pertaining to baudes.

Lens, lendis, f. g. a nitte.

Lens, lenis, farn. gene. a kynde of pulse, called lentilles.

Ante lentem augere ollam, to vse to muche hast, to fish before the nette.

A leisure vnguentum, a pouerbe, signifying the thyng to be absurde: as farre from the purpose as Magnificat from mattens: as mete for th matter as swete oyle in potage.

Lens palustris, duckes meate of water lintels, whiche in standyng waters lich houerpyng.

Lené, easly, softly, slowly.

Lené ferre, to suffer or take patiently.

Lené agere, to dooe a thyng slowly, and negligently.

Lené ac fastidiosum aliquem probare, to proue by litle and lytle in longe continuance.

Lenissime mandere, to eate veraye slowly and leysly.

Lené, ui, tere, to be soft, tendre, to be pliant.

Lenesco, scere, to be smother or redde, to become clammyp like glew, pitch, or birde lime.

Lenicula, lx, f. g. a pulse called chittes.

Lenicula, a manner of vessell, out of the whiche hynges and prynces were anoynted. A Chyris maioré also a rounde redde thyng like a lynx tell in mens visages.

Lenicularis, re, lyke a chitte or farche.

Lenigmosus, he that hath in his face or body many litle redde markes like lentilles.

Lenigo, uiginis, f. g. a thyng lyke a litle warte in the face, redde or blacke.

Leniscus, a litle tree, out of the whiche cometh a sweete gumme called Mastix, mastix tree. of this tree they make toohy pitches: and fyne dust to coure the teethe.

Leniscum madit, spoken prouerbielly of one that trimmeth hym selfe to curiosely.

Leniscus, a, um, made of the tree Leniscus.

Lenisciferus, a, um, that beareth these trees.

Le. nua, x, f. g. softnesse, pliantnesse.

Lenitudo, dinis, f. g. slownesse, negligence.

Lenotari, re, to dooe a thyng softly, easly, or slowly, also to make pliant or flexible.

Lenor, óris, maf. gen. a clammyp and glewpye humour.

Lentulus, a citsyn of Rome.

Lentulus, a, um, a diminutue of Lentus.

Lentus, a, um, soft, gentle, tendre, pliant, that booweth easly, easie, slowe, remisse, fertie, carelesse, at rest, idell, chaupng, or clammie, longe in doyng a thyng. Sometyne colde. also that continueth long.

Lento gradu ire, to go slowly or a soft pace.

Lentus ignis, a soft fyre.

Lenior pugna, a slacke bataile with out fiercenesse.

Tellus lenta, clammie.

Lentus humor, a colde humour.

Lenta viuacitas, whan one is long in doyng.

Lenta mora, longe taryng, lpyngyng.

Lenulus, a, lytle or ponge baude.

Lenunculus, li, maf. gen. idem. also a litle fyre Mars bote.

Leo, a mans name of Spzaunce.

Leo, les, leui, lere, to anoynt or smere ouer.

Leo, ónis, m. g. a lion. also a well fysh called a loplar. also a signe in the firmament.

Leonem ex vnguibus estimare, to esteeme the lion by his talons: A prouerbe, signifying, to perceue by a litle what the whole matter meaneth: or by a piece of a thyng what the whole is.

Leonem radere, spoken wher one attempteth a thyng dangerous and all most impossible.

Leo miti, a prouerbe, teachyng them, whiche be slowe of countyaunce, fyerce, and vncourteple.

Leochares, the name of an excellent grauer.

Leodamas, the propre name of a philosopher.

Leon, a philosopher.

Leonides, a kyng of the Lacedemonians, whiche dydde incredible feates of warre agaynst Perres kyng of Persia: and finally was slayne in defendyng Grece, with 4800 grekes on ly, agaynst xvii. hundred thousande of the hoste of Perres. There was also another Leonides, whiche was tuteur to kyng Alexander, whan he was a childe.

Leonius, a, um, of a lion.

Leonina, nx, fe. ge. an herbe, whiche groweth on hilles, whose floures are lyke to a lions mouth, whan he gapeth.

Leontice, ces, f. g. an herbe, called also Latalia, and hath litle leedes lyke to a margarete, and is called of the apothecaries Canuagreste.

Leontini, prople of Sicilie.

Leontios, a kynde of precious stones.

Leontopetalon, li, n. g. an herbe, haupng leaues like to colewortes, the stalks haue a soft hygh, the seede in bushes as great as small peason, the roote like a rabe roote, greate and blacke, whiche helpeth agaynst the spynnyng and bytting of all maner of serpentes.

Leontophonon, a litle woorme, whiche if the lion do byte, the lpon dieth incontinent.

Leontophona, nx, f. gen. a litle beaste, whose heade is turned into ashes, wherwith men doe mixte fleshe and cast it into the waies, wherby lions dooe passe, wherof if they dooe cate, they die incontinent.

Leontopodium, dij, neu. gene. an herbe called Pse de leon, whiche hath floures lyke roses vnspredde.

Leontopodium, an herbe, which some do saie is lyke to that, whiche is called Marigouldes, some suppose it to be the herbe, which is called Dent de lion.

Leopardus, di, m. g. a leoparde.

Lepadula, the yle of Sicilie.

Lepide, pleasauntly, pteatily, with a grace, honestly.

Lepide memoras, this is well saied of you.

Lepide stratus lectus, munitly, trimmely.

Vin tu lepide facere? will ye doe well?

Lepidium, an herbe, whiche Virgilius Marcellus supposeth to be that, whiche the apothecaries dooe call Serrat. Ruellius describeth it to haue leaues whan they be yong, lyke to laurell, but they be softer. Finally it is lyke a twoorde blade rebated: the stalk riseth in height a cubite, and hath a great roote with a thicke rind, and a pithe lyke to woodde. Some phisicians doe call it Cittandor. Dioscorides affirmeth Lepidium and Gingidium, to be all one, whiche the Gingidium some doe call cheruile.

Lepidotes, ris, f. ge. a precious stone, lyke to the scales of fishes.

Lepidotes, ris, f. ge. a precious stone, lyke to the scales of fishes.

Lepidote, the diminutive of Lepide.

Lepidula, a, um, note, polite, pleasaunt, as well in speache as in gesture, that hath a good grace, pteatie, mery.

Mores lepidi, pleasaunt manners.

Lepida occasio, a good occasion.

Lepidum nuncium, mery tpynges.

O capitulum lepidissimum, a luttell pteatie feat goll poll.

Lepista, ra, f. ge. a luttell potte of viole.

Lepor, and Lepos, oris, m. ge. purenesse of netenes in speche. Also the good grace and delectableness in speche, gesture, or doocynge a thynge, pleasauntnesse.

Leporatum, rij, n. ge. an inclosure, or place inclosed, wherin are kept any beastes for pleasure, or hunting, a park, a cunnygar.

Leporinus, a, um, of an hare.

Leporis palatium, an herbe called Sowthistle, in greke Sonchus.

Lepros, pra, f. g. lepro.

Leprium, a cite of Achata, an other in Arcadia.

Leptenacra, a promontorie of Indie.

Lepris, the name of two cities in Affrike the laste.

Leproludix, blache fygges.

Lepton, an herbe of the hynde of Centaurie.

Leprophillon, li, n. ge. a hynde of Spurge that hath brode leaues.

Lepus, the wegght of a harat and an halfe,

Indreas Alciatus in tres posteriores libros saith, a harat is the thyrde parte of Obolus, whiche is halfe a scrupull.

Lepus, leporis, m. g. an hare.

* Duos simul inaequor lepores, I fiske after two thynges at once, and am like to le both: betwene two stooles my taylor is like to goe to the ground.

Lepusculus, li, maff. g. a leucet or ponge hare.

Lepus, a certayne fische, whiche is popson to a man, and a man to hym.

Leria, one of the yles called Sporades: the people thereof are called Leri, of whose manners grew a proverbe, Leri mali.

Lerna, or Lerna, a lake or a fenne in Achata about Argos, and a fenne, in the whiche was the les per Hydra with many heades as portes figne.

Into this lake the people of the cities of Argos and Mycene dyd throw all the ordure and sweepynges of the streets and houses, wherof came the proverbe, * Lerna malorum, wherby was signified an heape of mischies: or any person, in whom is all vice and abhominacion.

Lerneus, a, um, of Lerna.

Leros, an ilande in the sea Icarie.

Lebeda, a cite of Spaine, called now Tortosa.

Lesbos, an ile in the sea called Egeum, wherin was the cite Mytilene.

Lesbius, a, um, of the ile of Lesbos.

Lesbia regula, is spoken, where as reason is applied to the acte, and not the acte to reason: where the law is accomodate to maners, and not maners to the lawe. Hereof speaketh 3. is stole Moral. lib. v. of that, which is infinite, the rule is infinite like the laden rule of Lesbos, which serueth for building, and is chaunged to the facion of the stone.

Lessus, us, m. ge. a lamentable voyce used in the burying of men, as we doo saie, alas, Lestorum, a region of Indie.

Lestrygonos, a people in the extreme part of Ite lie, whiche dyd cate the companions of Odysseus roasting them on byoches.

Lestrygonus, a, um, of that people.

Letalis, le, mortall, deadely.

Letaliter, mortally, deadely.

Letra corpora, bodies of them that be layne.

Letatus, a, um, layne.

Letamen, muis, n. g. compasse, dong, or muche, laied in the felides to make cozne and grasse to growe plentifully.

Letania, or Liania, a supplication of common prayer.

Letargia, or Lethargus, whiche of som is called Verenus, is (as Paulus Aegineta writeth) a disease in that parte of the heade, in the whiche the power of reason is coimced, possyng the same place that phrensy dooeth, that is to saie the bryne: but the cause and matter be sonitray. For in this is continuall necessite of slepe, of slepe, harde to be awaked, the matter being a moyste and viciat colde humout, washing the bryne, and compelling one to slepe. Alexander Trallianus addeth thereto, that therein is such a forgetfulness, that he which is like, can not remembre what he wolde speake. Constaninus saith, that whete somtyme they dooe gape, they doo forget to close thei mouths. It is somtyme called Vera, and then is it of a pure colde matter. and somtyme it is called Non vera, and than is it of a colde matter mixt with a litle bloude or choler: selbome it happeneth of Melancholy. somtyme it foloweth an other sickness, as a fleumaticke feuer, or the sickness of the longes called Peripneumonia. In these diseases by heate the fleume is made subtil, and is plucked vpe to the bryne, where a catarrhe feuer and that bee together: somtyme the feuer departeth in the space of fewen dayes, and leaueth behinde that sickness.

Leucargilus, ci, m. gen. he that hath the slepyng or forgetfull sickness.

Leucargia, looke Letara.

Leche, a river of helle, the water whereof as soon as it is drunke, causeth a man to forgette all thing that is passed. It is also a river in Affrike.

Lecheus, a, um, of that river.

Lecher, ra, rum, deadely, byngng of causyng death.

Lechericus, a, um, causyng death.

Lecho, aui, are, to slea.

Leum, of Lethum, ti, n. g. death.

Leito interire, to bee slayne.

Eripere se letho, to saile his owne life.

Leua manus, the lefte hande.

Leuamen, minis, and Leuamentum, ti, n. g. for lace, comfort, consolation, that diminisheth uell or sorowe, and maketh it moze tollerable.

Leuatio, onis, f. gen. a consolation, an easing, a diminishing of pyne or sorowe.

Leuatus, a, um, lifted vp.

Leuca, a promontorie of elbowe of lande, nyghe to Corinthus.

Leucachates, tis, ma. gene. a precious stone that is white.

Leucadia, an ile by the bosome of the sea called Ambracium.

Leucacantha, is (as Jo. Agricola affirmeth) a thornie bush the compng vypp in hedges and dyches, haupng white sote floures: or els a hynde of square thistils, full of prickes. Manardus supposeth it to bee that, whiche the Arabians call Bedeguar. Ruellius affirmeth it to bee that, whiche Dioscorides calleth Rahamnus: the Romayns Albam spinam, white thorne, growng in hedges, haupng streight vypp bzauns the full of prickes, lttell leaues, somewhat longe, fatty and softe. Some is whiter than other, the darker coloured hath broder leaues, and somewhat ruddy, the twigges be in length almost fye subtles, the fruite white, brode, thyne, factoned like a rodde. Some haue yf the sundie descriptions of the great lerned men of this tyme: diuine what Leucacantha is: for so diuers opinions I can not fynde one vnglyste, except I shoulde call it white byer. this Leucacantha is comonly after some mens opynion named Carduus S. Mariae, our ladie thistle.

Leucanthemis, an herbe, which phisicians of late daies call Camomill, loke Chamamelon.

Leucathropes, a people of Affrike.

Leucargilion, li, n. g. white clate.

Leucas, cadis, scem. gen. a towne in the countrey of Leucadie.

Leucaspis, a Troian, whiche sailed with Aeneas into Italie.

Leucates, a mountayne in Epiro. also an yle.

Leuce, a hynde of morpheu.

Leuce, a luttell towne, not farre from Smyrna, also an herbe lyke Mercurie, haupng a white line in the middle of the leafe. Leucocrodis.

Leucippus, a philosopher.

Leucocryfos, a precious stone.

Leucogea, a precious stone.

Leucogei, certayne hills in Italie by Naples.

Leucolion, leucolij, n. g. the generall name of all hyndes of violettes: not withstanding it is properly taken for the winter gilofe, whiche is a kind of violettes.

Leucola, an ile by Epyres.

Leucoma, matis, n. g. the webbe in the eye whan it is rooted. also the white of an egge. also the table, wherin the names of iudges or officers be writen, and the actes of euery yere reges freed, called also Album.

Leucon, a kyng of Pontus, slayne of his brother Oxilocus for adultery. A houthand man of the same name.

Leuconium, nij, or Leuconicum, ci, neu. genei white cotton.

Leucopetalos, a white precious stone with strakes of golde.

Leucopetra, a promontorie of Sicilie.

Leucophras, phari, ma. gen. a browne or russet colour.

Leucophæatus, a, um, that weareth a russet garment.

Leucophlegmantia, a white dyspse.

Leucophlegmatia, or Leucophlegmatias hyderos, one hynde of dyspse, wherin all the body swelleth vnequally.

Leucophorum, ri, n. gen. that they shoulde golde with boras.

Leucophthalmos, a precious stone lyke a white eye.

Leucopus, white of naturall colour.

Leucosia, an ile agaynst Pestanum, in the sea Thyrrenum.

Leucosia, a countrey, whiche is nowe called Cappadocia.

Leucosydorum cubitus, a place in Cappadocia.

Leucostictos, a stone that hath white spots in it.

95 iij Leu

Leucothæa, the goddesse, whiche was called Mas-tara and Aurora.
Leucothæa, the daughter of Orcamus of Babyllon, whom (beyng gotten with childe by Phes-bus) his father dydde burie alive but Phæbus (as poetes seigne) dyd transfigure him into a tree, out of the whiche renneth frankincense.
Leucocuta, a beaste in Indie, as great as an ass, haupng legges lyke an herte, the heade, necke, eyle, and breast of a geate or badger, the foor clouen, a wide gaping mouth by to the eares: it feede of reeth, one hole bone, in his voyce he will resemble the speche of a mā. Plinie saith, this beastes head is of the facion of Melis, and Melis is the beaste called Taxo, whiche is a geate or a badger. Solinus saith, he hath the head of a camell, whiche prechaunce was the faute of the wyter of printer, whiche unto Meli, added Ca, and made it Cameli.
Leuctra, plur. and Leuctrum, or Leuctra, singu.
a towne of Boeotia.
Leuctricus, a, um, of Leuctra.
Leui, one of the sonnes of Jacob the patriarche.
Leuiathan, a dragon of the sea. It is taken in holy Scripture for the dyuell.
Leuculus, a, um, somewhat light, also wanton.
Leuidentia, a, for. g. a garmente made of coarse clothe, such as men used in old tyme to geue to guestes of their acquaintance.
Leuidentia mutus, spoken prouerbielly of a simple gifte and of small value.
Leuifidus, a, um, of light or small credence or truste.
Leuipes, uipedis, om. g. swift, light of foote.
Leui, leui, m. g. the husbandes brother.
Leuis, leue, lyght, liger, easy, vnconstant, small,
vile, of littell value, of small reputation.
Leuia vana, small wyndes.
Leuis armaturæ milites, lyght souldiours.
Leuis armaturæ excursio in oratione, lyght argumentes, that men byng before they come to the pythe of the matter.
Leuis autor, of no authoritee.
Leuis homo, an vnconstant man, also a vile person of small estimation.
Leuia hæc sunt, these are but trifelyng & lyght thynges, or matters of small importance.
Leui brachio aliquid agere, to doo a thyng sleightly, or negligently.
Dolor leuis, id est paruus.
Impensa leuis, small coste or charge.
Precium leuis, a moze easy pyce.
Reprehensio leuis, a small rebuke.
Leuis labor, a lyght and easy labour.
Leuita, among the Jewes was a minister in their ceremonies vnder their prestes, a decon.
Leuitas, raris, f. g. lightnesse, inconstancie.
Leuiter, lightly, vnconstantly, smally, meanely, easily, patiently.
Leuiter agnoscere, to haue a littell knowlage
of a thyng.

Leuiter and ge studia, to be a student but a litle while, to haue but meane leaueing.
Leuiter inter se dissident, there is a litle variance betweene them.
Leuiter erudius homo, a man of small leauynge, or meanly learned.
Leuiter asperius laudibus, to be a litle
Leuiter ferre, to take patiently.
Leuiter amicum, a littell boowd.
Leuissime dicam, to speake most gently, or that I maye not speake the extremitee.
Leuissimelafus, hard beey litle.
Leuiter aliquid tangere, to touche of speche of a thyng basely, or in a fewe wordes.
Bene volumus leuiter lenonibus, we wyl
haude but small fauour.
Leuis ledit, it hurteth litle.
Leui somnus, a, um, that so slepeth, that it wyl lyghtly or soone awake.
Leuo, aui, ate, to lyfte vp, sometyme to take ad-uayse, to abate, to mynthe, or mitigate, to make easy of lyght, to helpe, to babourden.
Leuare aliquem onere, to dyscharge one of his burdene.
Leuare animum, to recreate the spites.
Leuare annonam, to mynthe the pyce of by-tapes.
Leuare tributum alicuius agri, to take by the rente for a certayne plotte of grounde or pyce of lande.
Leuare facinus alicuius, to excuse one of a mis-cheuous dede.
Leuare ictum serpentis, to heale out bounges with an adder.
Leuare laborem alicui, to ease one of his labour, or to put hym out of payne.
Leuare metum alicui, to put one out of feare.
Leuare morbum alicui, to make his sickness
moze easy.
Leuare populum frumento, to helpe the people with vyne in tyme of scarstitee.
Leuare suam autoritatem, to mynthe his authoritee.
Leuare amicitias remissione vsus, to leane of frendshipp by littell and litle.
Calamitatem innocentium leuare, to helpe them that be troubled wrongfully, to deliuer them out of trouble.
Leuare dentes penna, to picke the teeth with a quille.
Paupertatem alicui leuare, to heale one that is in pouertee and nede.
Promissa multa fidem leuant, he that promysseth many thynges, is not lyghtly beleued.
Leuare sese are alieno, to paie his debtes.
Sumptum leuare, to diminish the onces charges,
to make that he spende not so muche.
Leuare vincula, to slacke the bondes that one is tyed with.
Leuare plagam, in grassyng after the Roche is sawed, to pare the heade smythe with a knyfe.
Leuare,

Leuus, or rather Lauius, a, um, lyfte, also when it is spoken of worldly thynges, it signifieth lyfte, unhappy contrarie, when it is referred to celestiall thynges, it betokeneth right & happynesse, prosperous. For that whiche to be is the lyfte lynde, to them whiche are aboue, and doo looke towarde vs, is the right hande, looke Lauius.
Leuphana, a citee of Germanie, called commonly Magister.
Leutychnides, a kynge of Lacedæmonie.
Lex, legis, for. g. lawe, also a statute or decret, rule to folowe, a couenant or condicion.
Lex municipalis, the peculiar lawe, whiche euery cite hath.
Lex orcia, a lawe, whiche assigned, howe many persons shoulde be boden to supper, and that men shoulde suppe at their doores, to the intent that it myght appeere, how the lawe was obeyed.
Lex plagiarum, wherby men were whippid.
Leges Cæmuriæ, lawes made by thassemblies called Comitia Cæmuriæ, rede Comitia.
Leges Curiatæ, lawes made in the assenblye called Curiatæ comitia, whiche were called by wches.
Leges Tribunitiæ, lawes made by all the mon people, whiche wer also called Plebiscita.
Legagere, to sue in the lawe: also, to put the law in execution.
Legibus soluiere, to dispense or graunt a plas-tarde to one, to doo any thyng contrarie to a lawe made.
Sancire leges, to ordeyn and stablish the lawes.
Hac lege, on this condicion.
Astringi legibus, to be subject to the lawes.
Legere vendere, when the lawe geneth anthorize to selle.
Hanc ad legem formanda vobis oratio est,
after this rule. &c.
Leges perlege, rede the condicions.
Abrogare lege, legi, and legem, to abrogate parte of a lawe.
Lexis, lexeos, f. g. a woorde.
Lexipyræ, medicines, whiche doo heale men of feares.
Lexouij, or Lexuij, people in hygh France as bout Burbon.

L ANTE I.

La, one of the wyues of Jacob the patriarche.
Lia, he holes in the toppe of a mast, whiche doo receue the halsters or ropes.
Liba, an ple in the Indian sea.
Libadion, an herbe called the lesse Centoze.
Libāmen, bāminis, Libamentum, ti, n. ge. and Libatio, ōnis, fœm. gen. a taste or saie taken, proppely in sacrifice.
Libanius, the name of a great rhetorician.
Libanicus, a, um, of frankincense.

Libanocnes, a precious stone like to frankincense.
Libanos, a tree growynge in Arabia, out of the whiche renneth frankincense, whiche of Eua-ripides is called Libanos, and the tree Libanotos, contrarie wyse of Sophocles and Gad-lenus; that tree is called Libanos, and the gum
Libanotos.
Libanotis, raris, f. g. an herbe called Rosemary.
Libanotus, a wynde, whiche bloweth out of the northwast.
Libanus, a mountayn betwene Arabia and Phænicia. It is also a tree, whiche byngeth foorth incense.
Libarius, raris, m. g. he that selleth cakes.
Libatus, a, um, tasted, assayed, sacrificed, taken out of an other thyng, loke Libo.
Liburnum, or Libarna, a citee of Aliguria.
Libella, læ, f. g. the diminutive of Libra, it was also a small coigne, and of them were twoo foytes: one was worthe the tenth part of Ses-tercius, the other the tenth part of Denarius, idem quod As, alsis. It is also the line and compassmetre of a mason or carpenter.
Libellaticus, ci, m. g. he that for feare of punishment is content to haue his name registered as among the poll woordespyppers.
Libellio, ōnis, m. ge. a writer of bookes, also a carter of letters.
Libellulus, li, m. g. a verie littell booke.
Libellus, li, m. gen. a littell booke. Sometyme an epistoll, a supplication, a libell or declaration in the lawe, of debte, trespass, couenant, and other lyke, a citation, a rolle conteynyng notes made for memorie, a letter sette by on a poste or wall. Sometyme a poynt of article, a byll of complaynt, also a certayne measure.
Libelli supplices, supplications made to great
men.
Libellus memorialis, a littell register, scrow, or table made for memorie.
Libellorū præfecti, masters of the requestes, whiche doo receiue billes of supplication, beyng put by to the kynge or pryncie.
Libellos agere, to be master of the requestes.
Libellos signare, to aunswere to the billes of request.
A libellis, master of the requestes.
Libens, entis, om. g. wyllyng, gladdie.
Libenti animo, gladly.
Me libente, with my good will.
Libentissimis omnibus, with euery mannes ryght good will.
Libens, for Libenter.
Libenter, wyllyngly, gladly.
Bene libenter victuras, thou louest to fare wel,
and make good chere.
Libentia, a, f. g. a dilectation, a pleasure.
Libentina, one of the names of Venus, or Isis Serpina.
Liber, liberi, the finder of wine, called also Bacchus and Dionysius. it is sometyme put for wyne.

Libere, sometyne for the sonne, Libri, libri, m. gen. a booke of warke written, the inner rynde of a tree. sometyne a register, an Inuentorie.
Liber, libera, erum, free, at libertee, not bounden, large or great, holde of franke, also without businesse of lette, not subiect.
Liber ad re viueri, to lyue in open apye.
Liter libera, letters, wherein one spareth not to shew his mynd freely and frankly.
Tempus liberum, a vacant tyme, or during whiche season one may doo what he listeth.
Liber ab irrisione, not mocked.
Liber a legibus, not subiecte to lawes.
Liber religionis animus, a mynde without all religion of feare of god.
Liberum est mihi, I maie, it is in my power or choyse.
Liber corde fabulari, to common his mynd boldly.
Liber lectulus, whan one lyeth alone without a bedde slowe.
Liber locus, a place, where one maie doo his pleasure without feare of correction.
Liborum liber, that labourereth not.
Relinquere liberum alicui, To leaue to ones choyse, to doo of thyngke what he listeth.
Liberalia, orum, n. g. a solemne or festiuall day dedicate to Bacchus.
Liberalis, le, liberall, comely, well fauoured, full of largesse, full of liberalitee.
Liberales artes, the liberall sciences, or sciences belonging to a free man.
Liberalis forma, a good fauour.
Liberalis ingenium, a free courage, an honest nature or disposition.
Liberalis iudicium, & liberalis causa, where a man contendeth for his libertee.
Liberales ioci, iestes & merie sayngis mete for honest men.
Liberalis, and Auidus, contrary.
Liberalis facies, a well fauoured & good face, a face of fauour shewynge tokens of honestee and grace, honest.
Liberalis coniugium, honeste wedlocke betwene two persons free borne.
Liberalitas, tatis, f. g. liberalitee, bountie, honeste treatynge or dealynge, freeness in geuyng or bestowynge.
Liberaliter, liberally, abundantly, largely, frely, honestly, lyke an honest body.
Exercitum quem in Asia ductauerat, luxuriose, nimisque liberaliter habuerat, The army, whiche he had with hym in Asia, he let them haue to muche their pleasure.
Liberaliter eruditus, well taught, brought vp in honest learnynge.
Liberaliter viuere, to lyue without bile occupacion.
Liberaliter tractare, to interteyn liberally.
Liberaliter polliceri, to promyse largely.

Seruire liberaliter, to dooe ones duettie in his seruice honestly.
Liberator, oris, m. g. he that deliuereth.
Libratio, oris, f. g. a festynge at libertee.
Liber, frankly, liberally, without consuetud of let, boldly, freely, without feare.
Libere viuere, to lyue at pleasure.
Educari libere, to bee brought up honestly lyke a gentill man.
Libere loqui, to speake freely and boldly, freynge no daunger.
Liberi, orum, m. g. plu. chyldren as well women as men, and sometyne it is spoken of one.
Auctus liberis, he that hath a chyld borne.
Liberides, conges.
Libero, aui, are, to deliuer, to set at libertee, to bypynge out of bondage.
Libere creditorem, To contente of falsitie hym, of whom money is borrowed, to paye debtes.
Culpae aliquem liberare, to discharge one, to shew hym to be blamelesse.
Liberatus sum tua opera, I am rydde out of daunger by thy helpe.
Liberare se a re alieno, to paie his debte.
Liberare aliquem metu, to putte one out of feare.
Liberare fidem suam, to doe that he promised.
Libertas, tatis, f. g. libertee taken well nere alwaie in the good parte.
Dare libertatem alicui, to make one free.
Recipere libertatem, to receyue agayne thye franchyse of libertee.
Vindicare in libertatem, To deliuer out of bondage, to sette at libertee.
Libertinus, a, um, that is manumysed of made free, also borne of one that was a seruant.
Libertus, and Liberta, he or she that of a bonde man or woman is manumysed of enfranchysed, a late seruant.
Librum arbitrium, free wyll.
Libet, it liketh or contenteth, it pleaseth.
Libuit, it was my pleasure so to dooe, I was disposed, it was my phantasie, lust, or appetyte.
Cetera quae cuius libuissent, whiche libid euerie man in his owne phantasie.
Quoniam libitum est vobis, because it hath pleased you.
Si libitum fuerit, yf it come in his head.
Libethra, a cause, wherein was a well called Libethros, where the Muses begyn conuersant, were therfore called Libethrides.
Libethrides, the Muses or lades of sciences.
Libethrin, a people of Persia, utterly rude and vnlearned.
Libethrus, a mountayne in Macedonia, where the Muses dyd dwell.
Libidinarius, an haunter of lechery.
Libidinofus, a, um, lecherous, wyllful, pleasant.
Libidinofa dapes, curious and exquisite fare.

Libidus

Libidinosus, lecherously, wyllfull, after ones owne appetyte.
Libidinor, aris, ari, to plaie the lechour.
Libido, bidinis, f. m. gen. sensualitee, vnlesfull appetyte of luste. sometyne it signifyeth onely appetyte of wyll.
Libina, a, f. m. ge. a goddesse, in whose temple were solde all thynges perteynyng to sepulture or funeralles. sometyne for buryng, or festynge of such thynges as appetyne to buryng, also the charge and expence at buryng, also for deathe, or the beere, wheron dead bodies are carryed.
Libinarius, iij, m. g. he that hath the sarucynge and charge about burynges.
Libo, bonis, a citsyn of Rome.
Libo, aui, are, to taste any thyng. sometyne to touche, sometyne to sacrifice, sometyne to take or ppe out in readynge of authours that which theyth one.
Libare gustu potum, to taste or say the drinke.
Oculus libavit natam, he kyssed his daughter.
Cibum libare digitis, to touch.
Cibi libari ore alicuius, fasted.
Thura libare diis, to sacrifice.
Libora, a citee in Spayn, called sometyne Elborra, nowe commonly Calcuera.
Libra, bra, f. g. a pounce, wherof be thye soytes, one called Troiana or Publica, conteynng 16. ounces: whiche all occupiers in weighynge doe vse commonly: In other is called Romana, conteynng 12. ounces, whiche the Romans were wonte to vse, and this doe our poticaries vse: and of this pounce doe all the ancient wryters speake. The thirde pounce is called Marca, Ostonaria, or Nummularia, whiche conteyneth but .viij. ounces, that is, halfe so muche as the common pounce: by this pounce they doe weigh money, also a measure of lye, four conteynng 12. ounces. Sometyne a payre of balaces, it is also one of the 12. signes, sometyne a carpenters lyne, a masons rule.
Libra Romana, after some, was equall with our pounce sterlyng: but moze truly, it is twyfe so muche. For Libra conteyneth 100. denarios, and euery denarius is in value a grote sterlyng.
Libra antica, reade in Mina.
Libralis, le, that is a pounce weight or measure.
Libranentum, ti, n. ge. equall pople or weight, the tongue of the balance.
Libramenta tormentorum, strynges, thonges, and cordes, belongynge to ingins of warre.
Libramenta plumbi, great weightes of leade put into the ingin called Aris.
Libramen, braminis, n. gen. the castynge or hurtyng of a dart.
Libraria, a, f. m. g. a librarie, or a woman that weigheth out woull or flaxe.
Libraria taberna, a booke sellers shoppe.
Librarium atramentum, pynters inke.

Librarius, rij, m. ge. a seruener, a bookebinder, one that kepeth a librarie, also he that weicth out flaxe, woull, or parne.
Librarius, a, um, perteynyng to booke, balances, or of a pounce weight.
Libraria frusta, powndestones, or thynges weighynge a pounce.
Librarium, rij, n. g. a grosse register.
Librator, toris, m. g. a conuigher of water from well springes to cundites, considering the les uell of the places.
Libratores, hurters of stones in warres.
Librile, lis, the hangynge equally of the balance, the beame of the balance.
Librilla, or libella, stones tyed by strynges, or thonges, to hurle at men, used in olde tyme in the warres.
Libripens, dis, m. g. he that holdeth the balance in his hande, and weigheth, a weigher.
Libro, aui, are, to weygh, to paye, to make weighte, to houer, to leuell, to counterpoise, sometyne to diuide equally.
Librare tela, to cast dartes with great violence.
Librat sese ex alto Aquila, The eagle houereth or soareth on high.
Libs, bis, m. g. a wynde, the whiche bloweth out of the southe.
Libam, bi, n. g. a cake.
Liburni, people of the countreie called Liburnia, also common messangers.
Liburnia, a parte of Dalmatia or Slaunthe, now called Croatia.
Liburnum, ni, n. g. Liburna, na, and Liburnica, a, f. m. ge. a lychte and swifte shyppe, a foppe.
Liburnus, a, um, of Liburnia.
Libya, was amonge the Greekes, the generall name of all Africa: For withstanding it is of the Romaynes taken onely for that parte of Africa, whiche is from Egypte to the west ocean, conteynyng Cyrenaica, Africa minor, Numidia, and Mauritania: The Spaniardes doe commonly call them all Moories.
Libya interior, is bounded on the north with the two countreis called Mauritanie, with Aethiopia the lesse, and Cyrenaica: on the east with Aethiopia: on the south with Aethiopia the further: on the west with the Ocean sea. In this countrey be the Garamantes and Gerules.
Libycinus, a, um, of Libya.
Libycis, cidis, a towne in Iudea on the east parte of the ryuer of Jordan.
Libycones, stones, whiche are not very cleere.
Libycus, a, um, of Libya.
Libyophanices, people in Africa.
Libys, and Libysa, a man and woman of Libya.
Libysa, a citee of Bithynia, called commonly Dolmen.
Libystinus, the surname of Apollo.
Lica, lica, the name of one of Hercules compassyons, Licame

Licambes, a ritee of Lacedemonia.

Licenter, licentiousely, ouer freely, with to muche libertie, to boldely or rashly.

Licentia, a, f. g. licence, vnlesfull or immoderate libertie, power to doo a thyng.

Licentia temporum, a tyme whan euery man vsyth great libertie, and almoste dooeth what he lysteth.

Licentior, licentius, ouer liberall or free, dissolute.

Licentior epistola, a letter, wherein one writeth his mynde freely.

Licentior vita, a dissolute and an vnruely lyfe.

Licentiosus, a, um, rash, vsyng vnlesfull libertie, licentious, dissolute.

Liceo, licui, cere, u. pass. to be pased, or set at a price, or for howe muche it shall be solde.

Liceor, ceris, ceri, dep. to sette the price hygher, to shewe for how muche a man will selle it. also to cheapen, to offere a certayne price.

Licer, it is lesfull. Sometime it is vfed for maie.

Mihi licet, I maie. Tibi licet, thou mayest.

Sometime be it so, adimite it.

Licui esse ocioso Themistocli, Themistocles mough: haue been without trade.

Nobis non licet esse tam disertis, we can not be so well spoken or eloquent.

Per me vel scietas licet, Thou maiest scape for me vnthill thou rourest: or I will geue the leaue to route.

Licer mihi id de te discere, I maie learne this of you.

Licer, the aduerbe, be it, although.

Lichas, a measure, whiche exceedeth not foure fpyngers.

Lichen, lichénis, m. g. or Lichene, nes, f. g. a foule breaking out, whiche begynneth about the chynde: and therefore is called Mentagra.

Some doo take it for the frenche poxke. but it semeth not so to be. also an herbe called lycherworte.

Lichnis agrestis, called also Trigonaton, and Anthirrhinos, an herbe lyke to lyne seede, hayng almost no roote, and a blue floure, with seedes lyke a calves snoute. It groweth among corne in some countreies.

Licianus, a poete in the tyme of Martiail.

Licitorum, tori, n. g. a weauers wyrtrell, or a sphe womans tauell, wheron sphe or threde beeyng wounden, is thotte through the webbe or loome.

Licuius, anis, he that cheapeneth, or he that inhauntheth the price.

Liciratio, ónis, f. g. a cheapenyng, a ppylyng, a setting of the price, an open sale.

Licium, en, n. g. and Licia, órum, neu. g. plur. thredes, whiche sphe women dooe weaue in lyntels or stooles.

Licina, a, f. g. a kynde of oliue trees.

Licitor, áris, ári, to cheapen, to bydde a certayne price for a thyng, to ppyse, to set the price hygher, also to fyght, to deale blowes.

Licitor, óris, m. gen. one that inhauntheth the price, one that in cheapnyng pproferech more, a chepner, a chapman. Sometime it significeth a broker.

Licitorum apponere, to suboynne one, to ppyse or bydde more for a thyng.

Licite, lesfully.

Licito, idem.

Licitus, a, um, lausfull.

Licoctonia, an herbe, whiche maie be called woulfe baine.

Lictor, óris, m. g. a sergant, or other lyke minister to execute corporall punishment. Consul of Rome had. xii. other head officers had vi. whiche bare euery one in their handes rodde and axe bounden together, to dooe with them execution, as they wer commanded.

Lictorius, a, um, pptynyng to sergantes and other lyke officers.

Lidron, a title, in length one foote and an halfe, in bredth one foote.

Lien, énis, or liénis, lienis, m. gen. the spleen, the milke.

Lienicus, and lienósus, a, um, that is lyke in the spleen.

Lienósum cor, an herte that sweeteth.

Lienteria, a, f. g. gen. appytenesse of the guttes, the fire.

Lientericus, a, um, that hath the fire.

Ligamen, gáminis, n. g. a bonde.

Ligamentum, ti, n. g. and ligatura, a, f. g. idem.

Ligarius, a Romayne.

Ligellum, li, n. g. a little house or cottage.

Ligeon, a certayne tree. also an hybe.

Ligilium, an herbe mentioned in Columella.

Liger, ligeris, m. g. a riuier in France called Loire.

Lignarius, a, um, of woodde, of that gentry for woodde.

Lignarius faber, a carpenter.

Lignator, óris, m. gen. a carper of woodde, one that maketh pposition for woodde, a woodsmonger.

Lignatio, ónis, f. g. a hewyng, bearyng, feryng or purcutyng of woodde. Sometime a groue, where is muche woodde.

Ligneus, a, um, of woodde, trine.

Lignicolis, a, um, a little thyng made of woodde.

Lignile, lis, n. g. fuel, or a woodde heate.

Lignor, áris, ári, to go to cary woodde, to go to purcuigh wood, as souldiours doo in an army.

Lignósus, a, um, as hard as woodde, harde lyke woodde.

Lignum, ni, n. g. woodde.

Ligo, aui, are, to bynde.

In catenas ligare, to bynde in chaynes.

Ligatus, a, um, bounden.

Ligo, ónis, m. g. a spade.

Ligographi, common registers, or auditors.

Ligula, la, f. g. a littell tongue, a latcher, it is also so a spoone called Cochlear, which in measure conteyneth, iii. dragma, & one scruple.

Liguria, a part of Italy, from the hille called Apenninus, vnto the sea called Tuscum, also f. s. the ryuer of Marus, vnto the ryuer called Marcia. In it be the citres Genua, Sauona, Nauolum, Albigena.

Ligurinus, called also spinus and acanthis, a berbe that fedeth much upon thistles, and hath a naturall hatred against the asse, and singeth pleasantly: it is supposed to be a grene finche, yet some haue taken it to be the nightingall, as Serenus writeth.

Ligurio, ligúris, liguriui, or liguri, rite, to eate hypocritely, or to deuoure sweete or deynitie meates. also to eate of pike morsels deintly or curiously.

Furra ligurire, to eate stolen meate.

Liguire lucra, by littell and littell to robbe a man with ppylyng and polleng.

Liguire re aliquá, to desire or couete a thyng greedily, to the intent to fare the better by it.

Ligurius, ónis, f. g. gen. greedynesse, immoderate appetite.

Ligus, liguris, of the countreie of Liguria, a Januene, of Janeware.

Ligisticum, or after som Ligustinum mare, the sea that is by Feane.

Ligusticum, or after som Libysticum, an herbe growng commonly in the hilles of Liguria, it is called of the apothecaries Leusticum, Lombardie louage.

Ligusticus, a, um, of Liguria.

Ligustum, tri, n. g. a tree, haupng leaues lyke an olyue tree, but they bee tynder and softer, and more grene of colour, whiche doeth beate white floures and soote, whereof is made an oyle called Oleum Ciprinum. And this tree dooeth growe in watrye places, as willowes and salowes dooe, and beareth a blackie fruite lyke to an elder tree. They which doo take it for the bushe called Pruet, be much deceiued.

This is master Eliotes sentence, whose iudgement I will not suppress, because certayne thynges in Plinies description seemeth to conserme his opinió, as that ligustrum groweth only in watrye places: and also that the same tree is commonly taken to be Lyppos, whereas suchus denieth it and sayeth, it is not Lyppos: howe be it by the description of Ruellius, and certayne iudgement of most physicians this Ligustrum is called Pruet or pumprunt. It is also an herbe, whiche some men doo call Maior, and groweth by hedges.

Lygies, are people of Asia, which with Xerxes warred agaynst the Grekes.

Lygillus, the sonne of Phaeton, of whome Atlas was named.

Liliaceus, a, um, of lilyes.

Lilicium, ti, n. g. a place where many lilyes do growe.

Lilium, lij, n. g. a lilye.

Lilium conuallium, the herbe liche to a lillie called Ancumfante.

Lilybeum, a towne of Symontorie in Sicile, where one of the Sybilles lieth buried.

Lima, a, f. g. a sphe.

Vltima lima defuit meis scriptis, the last correction, emendation or castigation, whiche is as it were a filp of polishing.

Vui lima mordacius, to correcte, or mende a wytyng to rigorously or harshly.

Liber rarus lima, a booke corrected.

Limaria, the sphe called Cuny, whan it dooeth not excede one foote in length.

Limatus, a, um, filed, polished, also trymme, pure, nete, elegant. Terisus & limatus.

Limatus oratione, That hath a pure and closequent style.

Limatulus, a, um, a lillie styled, pure, nete, subtil.

Limatura, a, f. g. powder, whiche cometh of splyng.

Limax, mácis, masc. gene. a snayle, also a man, whiche ppyeth or seketh for some thyng, to consume or steale it.

Limbolarius, rij, m. gene. a maker of gardes or purples.

Limbus, bi, m. ge. a purple, a garde, a hemme of a garment.

Limen, liminis, n. g. significeth not only the thresholde of a doore, but also the haunce. Sometime it significeth the entree of the doore some tyme frendshipp, after the exposition of Seruus. also the place where one standeth.

Ad limina feruus, a poete.

Limen cubiculi, the entrance into the chābre.

Limina imperij, the frontiers of the realme.

Limen, ménis, a poete or haunc.

Limenarcha, cha, m. g. the warren of the postes.

Limes, limitis, m. g. a trosse pathe or waie, also a bonde or buttyn in fieldes.

Limeum, an herbe, called of the frenchemen Venenum ceruarium.

Limiofaleum, a citee of Germany, called commonly Gnisna.

Limitatio, ónis, f. g. a boundyng.

Limitaneus, a, um, belongyng to the marches or boundes.

Limitanei agri, fieldes lyng in the extreme marches of a countreie.

Limitanei milites, souldiours, which were appointed to kepe and defende the marches of the empire.

Limni, an yle on the east part of Irelande.

Limitatus, a, um, bounded, limited.

Limio, aui, are, and Limior, áris, ári, to bounde or limite, howe farre a thyng dooeth extend, to diuide or departe.

Limitophi fundi, landes, the possessors whereof are bounde to sende the corne that cometh of those landes to find the souldiers, that kept the boundes of the empire.

Limio, aui, are, to fyle, to polyste, to trymme, to take take awaie that is superfluous, to diminish.

 Limare commodum aliquid, To pare awaie parte of ones profites.
 Ornare & limare.
 Politus limare aliquid opus, To amende a worke more exactly.
 Limones, num, form. gen. fruite called limons, whereof no mention is made of ancient authors, except it be among them, which are called Citra.
 Limonia, x, for. gen. a kynde of the herbe called Anemone.
 Limonium, nij, n. ge. an herbe growng in medowses or moorthe groundes, haung leaves lyke to beetes, but lesse and more weake, and hath a stalle lyke a lily, full of leaves, and a redde seede, wintergrene.
 Limonium, a towne of Poitiers in France.
 Limosus, a, um, full of styne or muddie, muddie.
 Limpha, x, f. g. water.
 Limpidus, a, um, clere, pure, byght.
 Limpidus, dinis, f. g. cleerenesse.
 Limuici, or Limouices, Limosin in Poitiers.
 Limulus, a, um, somewhat a skew or awy.
 Limus, m, mafe. gene. a vesture from the bealy downwarde. Also muddie or styne, cley, whiche is in the water.
 Limus, a, um, crooked, awy, askew.
 Limis oculis spectare, To looke wantonlye on the one syde, to caste a wanton eye, to looke a skewe.
 Linamentum, ti, neu. g. linnen, threede, that is made of flaxe. also linte.
 Linarius, rij, m. g. a worke of linnen, that oc-cupieth or selleth flaxe or lyne.
 Lindos, a citee of Rhodes.
 Lindum, a citee in Englands, whiche some doo suppose to be Lincoln, some Lynne.
 Linea, x, f. g. a carpenters lyne or corde. it signifieth also euery lyne generally, either made or imagined to be. also a degree of hynde.
 Linea margaritarum, a long row of pebles on a threede.
 Lineam ducere, to make a lyne, to rule a boke.
 Lineamentum, ti, n. g. the faction or proportion of a body or visage drawen out.
 Linearis, re, perteyning to a lyne.
 Lineo, aut, are, to drawe lines, to drawe out the figure of a thyng with lines.
 Lingo, xi, gere, to lyche with the tongue. also to sucke downe by littell and littell.
 Linctus, us, ma. ge. lychyng or suckyng downe, lapping.
 Lingones, people of France in the countreie called Langres.
 Lingua, gua, for. gene. a tongue. also a language.
 also an instrumēt, wherewith men do take medicines or salues out of a bore. it is sometye taken for rapyng or slander. also a promys soie or hyle.
 Bisulca lingua, a forked tungue,

Commercia lingua, communication.
 Deerat lingua palato, I coulde not speake.
 Properante lingua legere, to reade false.
 Trubante lingua loqui, to stutte.
 Linguas scire, to be shyled in the tungues.
 Egeltas lingua, the lacke in any tounge, when it hath not fite wordes to expresse any thyng.
 Lingua hestare, to stutte.
 Linguas hominum effugere, to escape betra-ction or slander.
 Lingua bula, an herbe called Lang de brofe.
 Linguax, acis, om. gen. a great speaker, full of wordes, a babblar, a iangler, long tunded.
 Lingula, x, for. ge. a littell tungue. also a litle of lynchell. also Lingula, & Lingula, dooe some-tyme signifie a spoone, or a large instrumēt lyke a spoone, that apothecaries vse. also a faction of swooydes made lyke a tungue. It ser-meth also to signifie a long trough of lymbe of stone, wherein wyne or water dooeth renne.
 Lingula edolara, a littell tenon to putte in a moyreys.
 Lingulaca, a wooman full of wordes. also a sythe called a sole. also a certayne herbe, whiche groweth about well springes. also a byde called in Greke υλδτιη. because it hath a longe tonge. Arist.
 Lingulatus, a, um, that hath a tungue.
 Lingiger, ra, rum, that beareth lyne or flaxe.
 Lintio, lui, nire, to annoynte, to rubbe upon softly.
 Lineo, aut, are, to make lynes, to drawe out the proportion of a thyng.
 Lino, lini, lui, or leut, linere, to annoynte or laye on some thyng that is sicke, to smere or rubbe, sometye to laye oymtment or other moillure on a thyng.
 Linostrophon, phri, n. ge. an herbe, whiche is also called Marubium, Μορηουδον.
 Linozotis, stis, f. g. an herbe called Περικυρ.
 Linquē, liqui, linquere, to leaue.
 Linqui animo, to swoonde, to feint.
 Linquentem reuocare animum, To reuile from swoynge.
 Linetarius, rij, m. ge. a mercer of linnen, a lynnnen draper.
 Linetatus, a, um, that weareth a roschet, surplis,
 or other linnen vesture.
 Linteo, onis, m. g. a linnen weauer.
 Lintecolum, li, n. gen. a peece of linnen clothe, a linnen ragge or cloute.
 Linteus, a, um, of linnen.
 Lintei libri, bookes made of linte.
 Linternum, a towne in Campania, where Scipio Africanus dyed, and is buried.
 Linternus, a, um, of Linternum.
 Linternus, a, repuer in Campania.
 Lintum, rei, n. g. a sheete. it is also taken for a linnen clothe. sometye for a saple.
 Linter, linteris, m. and f. g. a littell bore made of a holowe tree.

Linum,

num, ni, n. g. lyne or flaxe. sometye a threede.
 also a cable or rope in a shyppe. sometye a casting nette or dragge.
 na, plu. nettes, haies, that beastes be taken in.
 nus, the most ancient poet, a Theban, whom Virgilius calleth the son of Apollo and Trasnis, one of the 12. muses.
 nx, or rather Lynx, a beast, whiche hath the face of a lyon, the body spotted lyke a Panther, and is of the greatnesse of a doe, whose vyne is so depnly touned into a stone.
 para, ra, form. gene. an yle by Grece. also a softe playster.
 paris, a ruie in Cilicia. also a kynd of lissardes.
 pophilia, x, for. ge. a swoondyng, where one seemeth to be dead.
 ppio, lui, ire, to be pozebynd or sandbynde,
 or dymme of sight.
 ppitir, the imperionall.
 ppitudo, dinis, f. g. the blednesse of the eles.
 ppus, a, um, bleare eyed, haungyng droppynge eyes.
 plana, drum, scrappes or leaunge of vitaples,
 or other thynges.
 quamen, quaminis, n. gen. greace or tallowe,
 molten fetter, larde, dyping.
 quefacio, quefacis, feci, facere, to melte.
 quefactus, a, um, melted, made liquide.
 Congula liquefacta lacte, grene chese.
 queho, liquefis, to be made liquide.
 queo, licui, liquere, to bee liquide or softe,
 as oyle.
 quentia, a ruie in Lombardy.
 queco, scere, to relent, to melte, to become softe or liquide.
 Liquefere voluptate, to bee wanton, delicate,
 and all geuen to pleasure.
 liquet, it appereth, it is sure, it is cleere, it is manyfest, it is apparant or well proued.
 Liquet inter nos, we be sure, or we know certainly.
 Non liquere dixerunt, They saied the matter was not sufficiently or manifestly proued.
 Liquet mihi deierare, I maye boldly sweare without spotte of conscience.
 liquido, plagnely, apparantly, purely, cleerely, manifestly, without spotte of conscience, of certaintee.
 liquido, idem quod liquido.
 liquidus, a, um, liquide, renning and softe. some-tyme pure, clere, without dregges, groundes, or mud.
 Liquidus venter, a bealy that hath the flaxe.
 Liquidus animus & tranquillius, a mynd with out care or heuynesse.
 Liquidum auspiciū, id est, optimum.
 Liquidum, substantiue, water.
 Ligo, aut, are, to melte.
 liquor, liqueris, liqui, to bee dissolved, to bee melted.
 liquor, oris, m. g. humour, lyroure.
 Lira, x, f. g. a ridge of lande, whiche is ouer the furrowe. sometye it signifieth an harpe.

 Lira, be trifles or iapes. Lira in latine (saith Erasmus) are Sulci, in englishe furrowes.
 Liracim, in ridges, ridge by ridge.
 Lirimiris, a citee of Germanie.
 Lirinus, a, um, of lilyes.
 Lirion, ni, n. g. oyle of lilyes.
 Liris, a ruie in Italse, by the towne called Minturne.
 Liro, aut, are, to make ridges.
 Lis, liris, f. gene. debate, variance, controuersy.
 Lites, propriety stryung in wordes.
 Litem aestimare, to asseste damages and costes for the plaintiffe in an action.
 Litem contestari, I suppose doeth signifie as muche as that, whiche our lawiers doo saie, to interpleade, when one, whiche is not par-tie to the action, cometh in, or is called in, to pleade with the other, to thentent to saue his title, or interest, whiche is supposed, that he hath with them.
 Litem capitis in aliquem inferre, to accuse one of a matter concernyng life and death.
 Litem habere cum aliquo, to haue suite in the law with one, to be at variance with one.
 Intendere litem aliqui, To sue out a proceste against one.
 Litem perdere, and Lite cadere, to lose his action.
 Componere lites inter aliquos, to set men at one that be at variance.
 Litem suam facere, where one medleth in an other mans matter, as it were his owne: or so to pleade or defende a matter, that he semeth to speake in his owne cause, and not in an other mans.
 Instrumentum litis, that one byngeth in to iustifie his cause.
 Lissus, a ruie in Thracia, which Herodotus witteth, was drunke by by the arme that Peres hyng of Persia ledde into Grece.
 Lissus, a citee of Dalmatia.
 Litato, the aduerbe, by pleasynge of god with sacrifice.
 Litatio, onis, form. gen. a pleasynge of god with sacrifice.
 Litatum, geuen to god.
 Litera, x, for. g. a letter, a wytyng. sometye a byll or scrowe.
 Litera salutaris, was in the olde tyme A, as betokenyng absoluyng. Litera tristis, B, as si-gnifyng condemnynge.
 Litera fugientes, bynde letters, whiche cyther in default of the pnye, or of the parchment, or for auncienter maie not bee redde.
 Litera, arum, plur. tantum, a letter or an epistle sent to one. also an ordinaunce or commandement of a pryncie or magistrate. also letters, wy-tynges, deedes, sciences, knowlage, lernynge.
 Literam longam facere, to be hangyd.
 Trium literarum homo, a thefe.

Ad

Ad literam, letter by letter, euery letter.
 Ad similitudinem tuar literar, lyke to thy hand of wrytynge.
 Literis mandare, to write.
 Nullam literam scripsi, I wryte nothyng.
 Litera publicæ, common registers, wrytynge of dedes.
 Literas attingere, to studye.
 Abdere se literis, to geue hym selfe wholly to studie.
 Literarius, a, um, pertainyng to letters or sciēces.
 Literatē, lyke a lerned man, cunningly, lernedly.
 Literarius latine loqui, moze cunningly.
 Literator, oris, m. ge. a grammarian, or a mat-ster of grammer.
 Literatura, æ, f. g. grammer, learning, wrytynge, counnyng.
 Literatus, a, um, counnyng, lerned, also that hath letters graued in it.
 Literatum otium, tyme that one applyeth wholly to studie.
 Literosus, a, um, greatly lerned.
 Litēula, læ, f. g. a litle letter, a throw or bill. Literula, sometyme studie of good lernyng.
 Lithargyrium, ri, n. g. litarge or white leade.
 Lithargyros, idem.
 Lithiasis, sis, f. g. the grese of the stone.
 Lithocolla, læ, f. g. a cement, wherewith stones are ioined together.
 Lithoglyphus, phi, m. g. a grauer in stones.
 Lithologema, gemas, n. ge. a heape of stones.
 Lithos, a stone.
 Lithospermon, called commonly Milium solis, an herbe, whiche hath scdes lyke stones, and groweth amonge corne, it cureth the stone of the bladder. Some suppose it to bee grummell or gras myle.
 Lithostrotus, ri, m. g. and Lithostrotum, ti, n. g.
 a place paved with square stones.
 Lithotomia, æ, f. m. ge. a masons warkhouse or quarry.
 Lithotomus, mi, m. g. a mason.
 Lucen, ticinis, m. g. a blower of a smal trumpet.
 Lutigator, oris, m. g. a striuer.
 Lutigatrix, the feminine.
 Lugiōsus, a, um, full of strepe or contention, a wrangler.
 Lugiūm, gi, n. g. debate or variance.
 Lirigo, aui, are, to varpe, to strepe, to sue one an other.
 Lito, aui, are, to please god with sacrifice, and to obteyne ones desyre. Somtyme for Sacrificare, to sacrifice.
 Litoreus, a, um, and Litorālis, le, of the sea side.
 Literosus, a, um, belongynge or lyke to the sea
 syde or banks.
 Lituania, a countrey, which is part of Sarmatia, called Luten, and ioyneeth to Polonia on the north, and is vnder the hynde of Poole.
 Litua, æ, f. g. a blowyng or strike throug that,
 whiche is wryten, cancelling.

Lituro, aui, are, to blotte or strepe throughe, to canceller.
 Litus, or litus, oris, n. ge. the banks as well of the sea, as of a great ryuer. Somtyme lande bustynge on the sea, called the sea syde.
 Litus, ta, tum, enoynted, spotted, smered.
 Lituus, tui, m. g. a crooked staffe, whiche the disuinours, called Augures, helde in theyr hands, when they apoynted places in theyr diuination. also a scepter and a trumpet.
 Patiur lituos equus, The horse abideth the noise of the trumpet.
 Strepunt litui, the trumpettes sowne.
 Lileo, uere, to be blache and blew, to canke,
 Lileuco, scere, idem.
 Liudus, a, um, blache and blew with beatyng of strepyng, enuyng, spitefull, malicious.
 Liurus, the prince of latine historiens.
 Liuius Andronicus, the first latine poete, whiche wryte comedies or tragedies in latine: about the seconde warres of Carthage. also he wryte
 xxi. bookes of the pectrely actes of the Ro-mayns, whiche were called Annales.
 Liuania, a parte of Sarmatia, beyonde Luten northward, haupyng on the west the sea called Germanicum.
 Liur, liuris, m. ge. the colour, whiche is sette on the skynne, after beatyng of whippes, called commonly blache and blew, a leddyge colour. Somtyme it is taken for enuy or spite.
 Liur edax tibi cuncta negat, The gnawynge enuy denieth the all thynges.
 Rabiem liuris acerbi, nulla potest placare quies, No quiete can content the rageyng of bitter enuy.
 Liuorem contrahere, to waxe blache.
 Lix, lici, f. g. ashes.
 Lixa, æ, f. m. gen. or Lixa, arum, plur. a shute lpon, whiche carryeth woodde or water in an hoke, or to the ketchyn, dyddges and boats that folowe the army.
 Lixabundus, a, um, that for a small reward doeth mozte vile seruice.
 Lixiuum, ui, n. ge. or Lixiua, æ, f. g. lye made of ashes to washe the clothes cleane.
 Lixiuus, a, um, of lye.
 Lixo, aui, are, to seeche.
 Lixos, a towne and ryuer in Afrika.
 Lixus, a, um, sodde.

LOba, æ, f. m. gene. a hynde of the grayne called Milium, whiche hath great stalkes beset with foote hygh. It is also the leafe, whiche groweth nexte the grounde in euery kinde of grapue.
 Lobos, the lappe of the care.
 Locarium, ri, n. g. the hire of a house or lodgyng.
 Locatarius, ri, m. gen. he that letteth a house or lande, a lessour.

Locatio, oris, a lettynge to hyre, a lettynge out, or takynge of worke by great.
 Locator, oris, m. ge. he that letteth a house or lande, a lessour. also he that letteth foorth worke: or he that taketh worke by great.
 Locellus, li, m. g. a litle place.
 Locio, aui, are, the frequentatiue of Loco.
 Loco, aui, are, to place, to set or laie, as a house is sette in a place, a foundation is laied: also to laie vp, as a thyng is to be kepte: also to let a thyng to hyre, or rent, to make a lease, to put out a thyng to be dooen or wrought. Somtyme to geue in mariage.
 Locare filiam, to bestowe his daughter in marriage.
 Locare agrum fodiendum, to bargayne with one a great to delue his grounde.
 Locare argentum, to laye out his money on a
 thyng.
 Argentum locare scenori, to lende money for a playe.
 Pro cornibus equites locare, to sette or place
 the horsemen in the wynges.
 Faciendum locare, to put foorth to be made.
 In numero veterum locare, to numbre among the auncientes.
 Insidias alicui locare, to goe about to deceiue
 one.
 Operam suam locare, to take vpon hym to doo a thyng for wages.
 Locare beneficium apud gratos, to doo a pleasure or benefyte for hynde and thankfull persons.
 Locare fundamentum, to laye the foundation.
 Locasti optime operam, thou hast well besto-red thy labour.
 Lorinum, a cite of Germanye, called nowe Lutonia, commonly Forcheim.
 Loris, cridos, a countrey in Grece.
 Lores, and Locri, people of Locrus, there were also people so named in Grece.
 Lorus, a cite in the uttermoste parte of Italie, whiche was named Magna Grecia.
 Loculamentum, ti, neu. ge. a place made with boardes, wherein tame culuers, and other bresdes or conies are kepte to byede, a doore cote.
 Also a coffyn to put a booke in.
 Loculus, a, um, deuised into fundrie places.
 Loculus, a, um, that hath many holes or places.
 Loculus, li, m. g. a litle place. also a purse, a bagge to kepe money in, an almshouse, a litle coffer, a bier, wherewith dead bodies are borne to be buried.
 Locuples, pleis, om. g. ryche, aboundaunt, sufficient.
 Locuples fideiussor, a sufficient suretee.
 Locuples oratio, a copious and plentifull suite. Locuples testis, a sufficient witness.
 Locuples author, a substantiall authour of good credence.
 Locuples tabellarius, a sure and trusty carter.

Locuplato, aui, are, to make ryche of perylous aduēces, to meryche with landes and possessions. Locuplatare eloquentiam, to make his eloquence moze copious.
 Locus, ci, m. g. Pluraliter hi loci, & hæc loca, a place. also a case, condicion, or state, occasion, oportunitie, leysure: somtyme loue, cōmacion or fauour that one is in. Somtyme a familie or kynrede. also steede: as, Locoparis te habeo, I take the in steede of my father.
 Locus oburgandi, occasion to chide.
 Ex loco inferiore agere, looke Ex.
 Priore loco causam dicere, to pleade fyrst, to speake in his defence before the thyng be layed to his charge.
 Nullo loco deesse, id est, nunquam.
 Secundo loco, for Præterea, furthermoze, moze ouer.
 In eum locum res redijt, the matter is come to that state or poynte.
 Loco meliore, in better condicion or state.
 Eodem loco stare, to abyde in the same state.
 Difficili loco res est, the matter is in a harde case. Esse magno loco apud regem, to be in great fauour with the kynge.
 Quem locum apud Cæsarem teneret, in what estimation or fauoure he is with Cæsar.
 Obscuro loco positus, littell esteemed, no thyng famous.
 Tenere principem locum, to be in great estimacion and authorite.
 Eodem se loco habiturum, that they wolde haue theym in lyke estimation and fauour.
 Nullo loco numerat, he setteth nothyng by it, or he esteemeth it nothyng.
 Te in germani fratris dilexi loco, I haue losued you euen as my naturall brother.
 In eorum locum succedere, to come in theyr steede or place.
 In locum alterius consulatū petere, to labour to be made consull in an other mans place.
 Si in istoc essem loco, if I were in that place.
 Loco aliquid querere, to aske or inquire a thyng in tyme and place conuenient.
 Litera non loco reddita, letters geuen or deliuered out of season.
 In loco, in season. also somtyme, in some case.
 Locum dare aliquid faciendi, to geue tyme and space to dooe a thyng.
 Dare locum rationi, to geue place to reason,
 to vse reason.
 Dare locum alicui oratori, to heere an oratour speake, to geue hym audience.
 Nihil loci est segnitie, there is no tyme nor leysure to be negligent.
 Nihil est precii loci relictum, none interatie wylt serue.
 Respirandi non est locus, he hath no leysure to fette breathe.
 Nullum locum prætermisso, I let passe none thing.

oration.
De summo loco adolescens, a yonge gentyl man of a noble stocke or linage.
Locī, plu. nu. the secreete partes of a woman.
Locusta, re, a ste with longe hynder legges, whiche bourneth cozne with touchynge of it, and deuoureth the residue. In India be of theym thre foote of length, whiche the people of that cuntry dooe cate. It is also a sea fishe lyke to a creuis, called a lopster.
Locutor, oris, m. g. he that speaketh muche.
Loculeus, lei, m. g. a plater or a tanglar.
Locutus, or Loquutus, a, um, that hath spoken.
Locutio, or Loquutio, oris, f. g. a speaking, a sayng, a woorde.
Lodacula, a, f. g. a little chete.
Lodix, icis, f. g. a chete.
Lædoria, a brynging taunte.
Lælaps, a blast of wynde turned from the erth upwarde.
Log, is the same measure of the Hebrewes, that Sextarius atticus is amonge the Grekes, rede more in Sextarius.
Logarion, ri, n. g. a rekenynge boke.
Logica, a, or Logice, es, f. g. logyke, one of the liberall sciences, the crafte of reasonynge or ar-guyng.
Logion, gi, n. g. a place where iudges geue sentence. also a gatherynge of rent, or other reue-nues.
Logistoricum, ci, n. g. a booke containynge the declaration of notable saynges.
Logoda' dalus, li, m. g. a vayne talker, whiche vseth eloquente woordes, without quicknesse of sence: or dooth more studie for the aptnesse of an oration, than for the graunte of the sentence.
Logographi, orum, n. g. they that write bookes of accompte.
Logomachia, a, f. g. a contention with woordes, or an undescrete altercation.
Logos, a woorde, a sayng. Logi, plu. trifyng woordes, or vayne language.
Logotheca,
Lohos, a thycke sirupe.
Loligo, liginis, f. gen. a fyfthe, whiche hath his heade betwene his feete and his bealy: and hath also two bones, one lyke a knyfe, the other lyke a penne.
Loliguncula, a diminutiue of Loligo.
Lolarius, a, um, belongynge to tores.
Lolium, li, n. g. a vicious grayne, called rate or darnell, whiche commonly groweth amonge wheate: and if it be eaten in whorte breadde, it maketh y head gydder, as if a mā were drunke.
Lombricus, ci, m. g. a lamprey.
Lomentum, ti, n. g. beane meale.
Lonchitis, the herbe called Xiphion.
Londinum, the noble cite of London. Erasmus on the prouerbe, Rhodii sacrificium, writeth, that Londinum is deduced of Rhodus, a cite of Rhodes, whiche Stephanus calleth Lindos nium.

Longa Alba, a citee in Italie.
Longauius, a, um, longe lured, of many yeres continuance, auncient.
Longanimis, me, he that suffereth longe.
Longanion, nōnis, m. g. or as some write it, Longgauo, a gutte, out of the whiche oydure issueth.
Longe, an aduerbe, signifyeth longe, farre, some-tyme muche, and is ioynd with the comparatiue: sometye exceedynge, greatly, with a farperlatiue, and other nounes, verbes and ad-uerbes.
Longe lateq; dispersum, sprade farre abode.
Longe aberam, I was gone a good waie passe.
Longe gentium abest, it is verie farre hence.
Longe prospicere, to foise matters.
Longe melior, muche better.
Longe doctissimus, excellently well learned.
Longe ceteris artibus antecedit, it farre exceth all other sciences.
Longe aliter est amicus, & amator, a friende and a loue differ verie muche.
Res aliter longe euenit, the matter hath chaunced farre other wyse.
Longe nihil alia mens est, I am farre of an other opinion.
Longe princeps, farre more excellent than
other.
Longe vsque illic in Campis habitare, he dwelleth a great waie hence in the fieldes.
Longe principes habentur Hedui, the people called Hedui, be in farre greater estimation and honoure than any of the other.
Longe primus ciuitatis est, he farre excelleth
all other of that citee.
Longe plurimi, verie many.
Eius iudicium longe antepono, I preferre his iudgement verie muche.
Ab his longe dissentimus, we be farre of an other opinion than they, or we agree not with theym in any wyse.
Longe errat, he is greatly deceived.
Non aberit longius, it will not be veray longe ere he come.
Longissime abest a vero, he is verie farre from the truth of the matter, he is farre wrong.
Quid longissime meministi? what is the furthest
thyng, that thou canst remember?
Longinquitas, tātis, f. g. either longe distancie of place, or length of tyme.
Longinquus, a, um, farre of, strange, that induceth longe.
Morbus longinquus, a sickness that hath longe continuance.
Longinqua linia, a longe line.
Sermo longinquus, a long communication.
Longinqui, they that dwelle farre of.
Ex longinquo, venire, to come out of farre countreys.

Longi

Longinquis bellis obrui, To be ouer charged with longe and continuall warres.
Longinquum loqui, to make a longe pprocess.
Longipes, gipedis, om. gene. that hath a long foote.
Longico, scere, to be longe: or after some to briake.
Longitudo, dinis, f. ge. length as well of tyme,
place, as other thynges.
Consulere in Longitudinem, to prouide for the tyme to come, or a great while hereafter.
Longisculus, a, um, somewhat longe.
Longulus, a, um, idem.
Longule, somewhat farre, somewhat longe.
Haud longule, not verie farre.
Longobardi, Lombardes.
Longobardia, a region of Italie, called Lunbardye.
Longum, a longe tyme.
Longurio, oris, a longe symme.
Longurus, ri, m. g. a longe polle ouerthwarte in hegedes.
Longus, a, um, longe.
Longiorum quam tu, I am taller man than thou.
Longum pede, a foote longe.
Nimium longi sumus in rebus apertissimis,
we make to longe a pprocess, or to many wodes in matters that be verie playne and eu-dent.
Longior esse nolo, I will not speake many woordes, or I will not tarie long in the matter.
Haud longum est id quod orat, It is for no longe tyme that he dooth intreate you.
Atque adeo longum est nos illum expectare, dum exeat, and it would be to longe for vs to tarie vntill he come forth.
Longum est, it were a longe matter to tell.
Ne longum faciam, that I maie tell you in fewe woordes or briefely.
Nihil mihi longius est, nothing is to me more pynfull, or there is nothing that I more despise, or would be more sayne.
Longum vale, fare well for euer and a daie.
Lopas, lopadis, f. g. a shell fyfthe.
Loquacitas, tātis, f. g. babbling.
Loquaciter, babblingly, with many woordes.
Loquaculus, a, um, that hath many woordes, a great talker.
Loquacito, aui, arc, to babble or sprake muche.
Loquax, acis, om. g. full of woordes, to muche talkatiue.
Loquela, la, f. g. speache.
Loquentia, a, f. g. speaking.
Loquor, aris, ari, to speake muche or often.
Loqui, loqueris, loqui, to speake, to saie.
Ad voluntatem loqui, to speake at pleasure
what men list.
Loqui ad voluptatem, to speake to delite and please the audiente.
Loqui potteriore fronte, to speake boldly.

Loqui in eandem sententiam, To speake the same thyng, to be of the same opinion.
Pergin' hero absenti male loqui? doest thou so speake ill, or rayle agaynst my master in his absence?
Loquere mihi nomen tuum, tel me thy name.
Loqui ore duarum & viginti gentium, To speake xxi. diuers languages.
Quid tu tecum loquere? what doest thou mutter to thy selfe?
Loquuntur Annales, loquuntur historia, id
est, referunt.
Loquitur res ipsa, the matter it selfe is manyfeste, and needeth no spoken man.
Loquitur fama, the bruit is, the rumoure sheweth.
Sapius ista loquemur inter nos, we will commune of these thynges oftener betwene our selves.
Loquuntur vulgo, they talke abroad comonly.
Lora, re, or Lorca, a, f. g. a dyptic made of grapes after that they be pressed, called seconde.
Loramentum, ti, n. g. a thonge, a bonde, a corde.
Lorarius, ri, m. ge. a seruant, whiche serued to hynde men, or to beate them, whan they were by theyr masters commaunded.
Loreus, a, um, of thonges or bondes.
Lorica, a, f. ge. a cote of fence, a cote of maile, a brigantine, an haberton, the defence or man-tion of euer thyng, agaynst that whiche maie hurt or perple the it. also the copping of a walle.
also Lorica is in makynge of floores, the vpper course or cruste made with marbre beaten, lyme, and sande. it is also the walle plate before that moyle is laide on it.
Loricatio, oris, f. g. harneysynge with an habergeon, cote of fence, or such lyke.
Loricatus, a, um, armed with an haberton, a byz-gantine, a cote of fence or other lyke.
Loricion, a mantell.
Lorico, aui, arc, to put on an haberton, cote of fence, or other hynde of harneys.
Loricula, la, f. g. a diminutiue of Lorica, in war fare it is a munimēt of fortification, that the besiegers of a citee doe make, betwene their campe and the citee, also a place made vpon walles, lyke an open galerie, with grates of tymber or yurdele, to hepe men from falling.
Loripes, ripedis, com. ge. whose feete are as if they were bounden or gydded.
Lorum, ri, n. ge. a thonge of iche, or a colar, or other lyke thyng, wherewith beastes are bound-den or tyed. Sometye a whippe, or wherewith a man or beaste is whipped. Also the rayne of a bydell.
Cadere loris, to whippe.
Loringia, a countrey beyonde Picardie and Normandie.
Lothoringia, a countrey called Lozayne.
Lōtio, oris, f. g. of Lauo lauas, a washyng.
Lōtium, ti, n. g. byrne of pisse.

Tt ij

Loto

Lotometra, a kynde of breade.
Lotophagi, people in Affrike, whiche doe live by eating onely of a fruite called Lotos.
Lotus urbana, an herbe, garden Clauer.
Lotus sylvestris, of this kynde are the herbes called here melilotos.
Lotos, ridis, and Lotus, ti, for. g. a notable tree in Affrike of herbe, of whose fruite if a stranger dooe eat, he doeth incontinently forget his owne countrey.
Lotos, lotidis, a nymphe, the daughter of Neptune, whiche sleeping from Iapetus, was turned into a tree of that name.
Lotura, ra, f. g. a walshyng, a rynshyng.
Lotus, a, um, walshed, rynsed.
Loxa, a river in Englande called Firth.
Loxias, one of the names of Apollo.

L ANTE V.

Lubens, entis, om. g. that doeth any thyng with a good will or gladly.
Lubente me facies, you shall doe it with my good will, or I am ryght well contente, that ye dooe it.
Lubent animo, with a good wyl.
Lubens, and Lubenter, gladly.
Lubentia, a, f. g. myrthe, pleasauntnesse, grace,
 most pryncely in woordes.
Lubet, it pleaseth, it pleaseth.
Lubet quicquid facias, it pleaseth me what so ever ye dooe.
Lubido, pro libido, sensuall appetite.
Lubido est observare quid agat, I have a des-yre to espye what he dooeth.
Lid lubido est scire, I wolde fayne knowe that.
Lubricus, aui, are, to make slipper.
Lubricus, a, um, slipper, waueryng, mutable, variable, deceitful, sometime rebd to slippe or slide.
Oculi lubrici, whiche be always stirring.
Lubricus locus, a slipperie place. Also a daungerous & harde matter to intreate or speake of.
Lubrica adolescentia, youth, wherein one maie quickly offende or doe anyse.
Lubricus, daungerously, perillously, doubtfully, waueryngly, unconstantly.
Lubricum, ci, n. g. slippernesse.
Luca, a citee in Italic, of whiche the inhabitaun-tes are called Lucenses.
Luca boues, were taken of the olde latines for elephants.
Lucani, people of the countrey of Lucania.
Lucania, a countrey belongyng to the royaume of Naples, betwene Ioyle and Calaber.
Lucanica, ca, f. gen. a puddyng made of porke,
 a sausage.
Lucanus, a famous poete, whiche wrote the battle betwene Cesar and Pompei.
Lucar, money bestowed in wooddes, dedicate to goddes called Luci.
Lucaria festa, feastes, whiche the Romayns made in holy wooddes.

Lucellum, li, neut. gene. a litle gaine, a small market.
Lucens, centis, om. g. that whiche hath his light of an other thyng, shynyng bright.
Lucenia, a citee of Spayne.
Lucenum, a citee of Spayne called Susana.
Luceo, luxi, lucere, to shyne.
Lucescit, it wareth daie.
Lucet, it is daie. Focus lucet igne, the fire burneth in the chymney.
Luceres, the thirde part of the people of Rome, distributed by Caius and Romulus.
Luceria, a citee of Apulia.
Lucerus, a kyng of Iudea, whiche holpe Romanus against Caius.
Lucerna, a, f. g. a lampe, a candill, a lyght.
Lucerna simplex, a lampe with one marche.
Lucerna eadem scripti, I wrote it by the same candell: or I wrote it at the same tyme.
Nisi me lucerna desereret, excepte the lampe hadde gone out, excepte my candill hadde gone out.
Lucernula, a scone, a litle lampe or candill.
Lucesco, scere, to be byght or clere as daie.
Lucetta, one of the names of Juno.
Lucetius, a name of Jupiter.
Luci, by daie, in the morning.
Lucibile, that, whiche is lyght of it selfe.
Lucido, aui, are, to make clere, or to geue lyght.
Lucidus, a, um, clere, byght, lyght.
Lucifer, ri, m. g. the daie sterre.
Luciferus, ra, rum, that bringeth lyght.
Lucifico, aui, are, idem quod Lucido.
Lucifugus, a, um, that fleeth from lyght, and deslygeth in darkenesse.
Lucigena, ingendred of lyght.
Lucilus, the name of an olde poete.
Lucina, one of the names of the moone, called the goddess of byrthe.
Lucinia, idem quod Lucina.
Lucini, they whiche haue litle eyes, and small lyght.
Lucius, a mans name.
Lucius, a fische.
Lucumones, certayne men.
Lucetia, a noble woman of Rome.
Lucetilis, an hill in the countrey of the Sabines.
Lucetius, a latine poete.
Lucrificabilis, le, that bringeth gayne or profite.
Lucrifacio, feci, facere, to wyne of get a vau-tage or profite.
Lucrifacere nomen, to get a name.
Lucrifacere iniuriam, to dooe wronge and escape quite.
Lucrifactus, a, um, wonne, gayned.
Lucrifacio, factus sum, fieri, to be wonne or gotten in aduantage.
Lucrifuga, he that fleeth from lucre or gaynes.
Lucrinum, a towne of Apulia.
Lucrinus, a mere of great water in Campania.
Lucurio, onis, a couetous man, an inordinate gainer.
Lucror, aris, ari, to gayne or to wyne.
Lucrosus, a, um, full of gayne or lucre.
Lucum, cri, n. g. lucre or gayne.
Quid mihi lucri est te fallere? what profite or wyning shoulde I haue to deceyue you?
Lucta, a, f. g. a wrestlyng.
Luctamen, minis, n. g. Luctatus, us, m. g. and
Luctatio, onis, f. g. a wrestlyng, a strugglyng.
Luctator, oris, m. g. a wrestler.
Luctator, ra, rum, cause of waylyng.
Luctificus, a, um, idem.
Luctior, tari, to wastie este.
Lucto, idem, quod Luctor.
Luctor, aris, ari, to wrestle, to struggle, to ender-uoir, to take great payne, to contende.
Luctari complexu, to wastie by the middle.
Luctantes veni, wyndes whurlyng one against an other.
Luctuosus, a, um, lamentable, also that causeth heauynesse and mournyng.
Luctus, us, ma. gen. wepyng and waylyng, the habite of mournyng, lamentacion.
Squalor & Luctus.
Luctum operire, to hyde or dyssemble ones waylyng.
Lucubratio, onis, f. g. studyng by candill lyght, or a worke studied and made by candill lyght.
Lucubratorius, a, um, belongyng to studie or studyng of a woork by candill lyght.
Lucubro, aui, are, to make any thyng by candill
 lyght.
Luculent, clerely.
Luculenter vendere, to sell at a hygh price.
Luculenter, genitly, properly.
Luculenter scribere, to write honestly, gentily, and playnly.
Luculentus, a, um, full of lyght, clere, faire, beautifull.
Luculenta femina, a very fayre woman.
Luculenta plaga, a great wounde.
Luculenta diuitia, abundant riches.
Luculentus author, he that writeth in a gentle style.
Luculentus homo, a famous man.
Facinus luculentum, a notable acte.
Oratio luculenta, a pleasaunt and easy stile.
Luculenta condicio, a fayre offre.
Luculenta familia, a ryche house, familie or hennede.
Luculenta forma, id est, egregia, præclara, insignis, goodly fauour.
Luculentitas, tatis, f. gen. beautifullnesse, lyghtsomenesse, goodlynesse.
Lucullus, the name of a noble Romayne.
Lucumo, a mans name, of whom the Tuscians were called Lucumedi.
Lucus, ci, m. ge. a hygge and thyrche woodde, a groue. Sometime it signifyeth light, whan it is of the fourth declination. It is also a citee in Spayne by Compostella, whiche is now called Lucensis, also a promontorie of Hetruria, called commonly Petra sancta.

Lucus Augusti, a citee in Spain called Oluca.
Ludia, a, f. gen. a dauncyng or mery wenche full of spozte.
Ludibrium, brii, n. g. a mocke, or any thyng that is mocked, a vayne and tryfing thyng to be laughed at.
Habere ludibrio, To mocke, to laughe, to laughe to scozne.
Ludibrio esse, to be mocked, to be a laughing or tryfing stocke.
Ludibrio erant minæ Tribuni, the menaces of the Tribune were mocked and tested at.
Ludibrio lesum in aliquo, To be mocked or scozned of one.
Ludibundus, a, um, playng or full of plaie.
Ludicum, cri, n. g. any playe or pastyme, or an interlude.
Ludicrus, or Ludicer, cra, cram, perteynyng to plaie or mirth, also lyght, mockyng.
Meum cor cepit facere artem ludicra, myne herte beganne to leape in my body.
Ludificabilis, le, that maketh spozte or pastime, mockyng.
Ludificatio, onis, decepyng, mockyng.
Ludificatus, a, um, mockyng, that mocketh or decepereth. Also that is mocked or deceiued.
Ludifico, aui, are, to mocke, to deceyue.
Ludi, & Ludiones, players in enterludes or stage plaies.
Ludimagister, a schoole maister.
Ludio, onis, m. gen. and Ludius, dii, m. gene.
 a player in enterludes.
Ludo, lusi, ludere, to plaie, to mocke or deceiue in game, to laughe to scozne, to ueste, to make dispozte, to daise, to fynde or make pastyme, to spozte, to plaie as one doeth on instrumentes, to write verses.
Ludere in numerum, to daunce measure.
Ludere operam, to lose his labour, to spende labour in vayne.
Ludere otium, to passe the tyme.
Ludere aleam, and alea, to playe at dyce.
Consumilem luserat lusum, he had played a like pageant.
Ludere par impar, to plaie at euen and odde.
Ludere dolis aliquem, To deceyue one by crafty meanes.
Ludus, di, masc. gene. plaie in actes, mirth in wooddes, a spozte, a game, a pastyme. also a schoole of place of exercise, where any arte or feate is learned.
Ludos aliquem facere, to mocke one.
Ludum aperire, To teache, to begyn to keepe a schoole.
Quos mihi ludos reddere? what prantes or pageantes woulde he plaie me?
Operam ludos facere, to lose his labour.
 Tr ij Ludō,

Ludo, in sporte.

Ludus est illa perdiscere, It is a pastyme of sporte to learne those thynges.
Vt ludos facit, howe he is disposed to moche, teche, or daie.

Ludi, in the plurall numbze bee taken for those thynges, whiche we call spghtes: as the pageantes at London on Whitsome nght. Sometyme for suche triumphes as be made by hnges, with iustyn and turneyng.

Ludi Circenses, was rennyng with chariottes, in the great compassed place at Rome called Circus.

Ludi compitalitij, called also Ludi liberales, were plates made in high waies to the honour of Bacchus, called also Liber.

Ludi Florales, were abominable plaies used at Rome in the presence of all the people, in the whiche onely common women played all naked in wanton woordes and morions, satysfying the peoples detestable appetites.

Ludi gladiatorij, were farre from all humanitie, and a spectacle of crueltie. For in them men without quarrell and harness fought in great numbres with weapon, eche couetyns to kill other: and to shewe all poyntes of bestialtye crueltie, diuers of them haunge nettes made of cordes, to drawe vnto them their aduersaries.

Ludi gymnici, were exercises in rennyng, leaping, throwynge of the darte or stone, and wastlyng.

Ludi lupercales, wherein gentyll mens sons, beyng naked, and haupng lyttell whippes in their hādes, ran about beatyns euery man that they mette, laughyns vpon them.

Ludi Megalenses, were plaies made to the honour of hie, whiche was called mother of goddesses.

Lucentium, Howes landes in wales.

Lues, luis, for. g. pestilence in men, murrayne in bestes, a great and comon destruction.

Lugdunum, ni, neu. g. a citee in Fraunce called Lyons.

Lugdunensis Gallia, the thirde parte of France, called nowe the countreie of Lyons. it hath on the north, the English sea, on the west partly the Ocean, partly the countreie Guyan, on the east the riuer Soyn: on the south Rhodon.

Lugeo, luxi, lugere, to mourne, to lament.

Lugetur, the impersonall.

Lugodinum, called also Traiectum, a citee in Hollande named Vtrecht.

Lugubris, bre, perteynyng to mournyns.

Vestis lugubris, a mournyns garment.

Lugubris etulatio, a lamentable cry or wailing.

Lugubre, and Lugubriter, lamentably.

Luma, mæ, f. g. a kynde of Byemles.

Lumbago, ginis, fæm. gene. febleness of the loynes.

Lumbare, bzyches of hosen.

Lumbricus, ci, ma. gen. a woorme byedde in the earthe, or in the body of a man or beast. also Lumbrici, are lytle spghtes taken in small reuers, whiche are lyke to lampurnes, but they be muche lesse, and somewhat peolowe, and are called in Wythire pydes.

Lumbifragium, ij, breaking of the loynes.

Lumbulus, li, m. g. a diminutive of Lumbus.

Lumbus, bi, m. g. the loyne, the haunch.

Lumaria falces, hedgyns byles of hokes, wherewith they cut downe byambles.

Lumen, inis, lyght, also a daie, an eie. Sometyme an exposition or interpretation.

Lumina præferre, to inspyre.

Luminibus obstruere, to stoppe by the lyght, to lette that the lyght maie not come into an house. And by translacon, to obscure the bynde of glozie of an other.

Secundo lumine, for Secundo die.

Cassus lumine, deade.

Acies luminum, the eie spght.

Orbus luminis, blynde.

Alterum luminum cruit, he plucked out one of his eies.

Lumina ciuitatis, the most notable persons of a citee.

Lumen probitatis prospicere in aliquo, to perceyue great vertue and honestie in a man.

Sine lumine animi, without knowlege of letters and sciences.

Lumera, places full of byambles.

Luminare, ris, neut. gener. that whiche geneth lyght, a lyght. And by translacon a noble and famous man.

Lumino, aui, are, to lyght, to geue lyght.

Luminosus, a, um, full of lyght.

Luna, æ, f. g. the moone.

Luna vicesima, The twentie daie after the chaunge of the moone.

Luna, a towne of the Aggurians. Also a promontorie in Portugal.

Lunaria minor, an herbe supposed of some to be that whiche is called morris herba.

Lunaris, re, perteynyng to the moone.

Lunarium, a promontorie, called nowe, Mont Iouis. Schala Annibalis, and Mouini.

Lunaticus, he that is madde of syche at a certayne tyme of the moone.

Lunatus, a, um, lyke a moone.

Lunensis, thise.

Luno, aui, are, to bende or crooke lyke the newe moone.

Lunula, æ, f. g. a lyttell ryng.

Lutitio, onis, a payng of raunsome.

Luo, lui, ere, to paie, to satisfie, to purge, to suffer punishment of death.

Luere capite, to haue the heade streyn of, to suffer death.

Luere maculas sanguine, to poure or wathe awate the infamie of naughtie actes, by the wyngesful death of other.

Luere

Luere peccata, to suffer punishment for offences. Quomodo ergo hoc lues? than how wilt thou satisfie for this? Supplicia crucibus luerat, he was hanged.

Luere, to paie raunsome.

Lupa, æ, f. g. a female woulfe. also an harlot.

Lupanar, aris, n. g. a brothels house.

Lupanaris, re, perteynyng to a brothels house.

Lupanarium, ri, n. g. an harlots house.

Lupurdum, a citee in Germanie called now Missa, vulgarly Meissen.

Luparius, a hunter of woulfes.

Luparium, ti, n. g. and Lupatus, ti, m. g. an harde bytte.

Lupercal, a place dedicate to Pan the god of shepherdes.

Lupercalia, sacrifices and plaies made to Pan.

Luperci, ministers of that solemnitee.

Lupia, a riuer in Germany called Neccharum.

Lupinus, pini, & frequentius neutr. gene. Lupinus, ni, m. g. a kynde of poulse coine, haupng one stalk, the leafe in fyue diuisions, the codde creuiled about, haupng in it fyue or fyre graynes, harde, broade and redde. They be comyn in Fraunce and Italy, but here vnneth knowne.

Lupinus, a, um, of a woulfe.

Lupor, aris, aris, to meddle with common harlots.

Lupulus, & Lupus salictarius, an herbe called hoppel, wherewith bere is bzued.

Lupus, i, m. g. a woulfe, also a bytte for an horse.

also an hooke to drawe by thynges out of a pyte. Also a kynde of spiders. Also a fythe, whiche some men take to bee a pyte.

Lupus est in fabula, a prouerbe whan he cometh that is spoken of.

Lupum auribus tenere, a prouerbe in thyns that be daungerous, epyer to receyue or to let goe.

Lura, æ, the mouthe of a bottell or lether bagge.

Lurco, aui, are, and Lurcor, aris, to eate raunsome.

Lurco, onis, m. g. a deuouret of his owne substance, a gully gutte.

Luridus, a, um, veray pale, wanne of colour.

Luridus sol, the soonne whan it shineth pale.

Luror, oris, m. g. paleness, wannesse.

Luscina, æ, f. g. a nyghtryngale.

Luscinda, æ, f. g. a lyttell nyghtryngale.

Lusciosus, or Lusciosus, a, um, poreblynde, that seeth lytle in the nyght or in the moynynge.

Or after some, he that seeth better in the nyght, than at myddaie or by candle lyght.

Luscitio, onis, the fated disease.

Luscus, a, um, poreblynde. Sometyme a man haupng but one eie.

Lusio, onis, f. g. a playng.

Lustania, the realme called Portugal.

Lustro, aui, are, to paie often.

Lusius, a ryuer of Aradie.

Lusor, oris, masc. gen. a plaier, also one that deceiueth.

Lusorius, a, um, perteynyng to plaie.

Lusoria fulmina, lyghthynges that hurte no thyng.

Lusorium nomen, a debte or tytell of debte onely ymaged to be.

Luspiræ, a citee of Calaber called commonly Leccio Lazo.

Lustralis, le, perteynyng to riotte and lecherie. Sometyme a thyng dooen euery fyfte yere. also perteynyng to the solemnitee called Lustra.

Lustratio, onis, and Lustramen, inis, a purgyns by sacrifice, a goyns about or circuite.

Lustrici dies, the daie whan a childe is firste named, whiche in men children was the nygthe daie, in women children it was the epyghte day.

It maie nowe be used for the daie of christenyns of children.

Lustrificus, a, um, idem quod Lustralis.

Lustro, aui, are, to goe about in circuite. It was also amonge the olde Romaines, to leade about an armie, a shepe, a cowe, and thre bulles, thynkyns that thereby the host was purged of suche greuous offences as had ben committed agaynst the gods. Also to conserue in the mynde, to shadowe, to beholde, to looke about.

Araua lustrare, to go about the feedes.

Lustrare exercitum, to muster an armie.

Lustrare animo, to consider in the mynde.

Lustrare oculus, to beholde or looke rounde aboute.

Lustrare urbem, to purge the citee by sacrifies.

Lustrare lampade, to geue lyght.

Lustror, the passyue, to be purged.

Lustror, aris, ari, the deponent, to haunte brothelles houses or stues.

Lustrum, i, n. g. a denre or caue of wilde bestes in wooddes, an hyd place and byle, an house where gluttony and lecherie is haunted. Also the haupng of the same vices. Sometyme it signifieth the space of fyue yeres. also the geneall purgation of the citee by sacrifice euery fyfte yere.

Clareanus, in his Chronologia writeth, that Lustrum amonge the Romaines, is as much as Olympias amonge the Grekes, whiche is the space of. iiii. yeres: And so Macro expoundeth this place of hysace, Fortuna lustro prospera tercio, &c.

Lusus, us, m. g. a plaie. or sporte, without any arte, it is proppely in children. Also dalyng, pastyme, recreation.

Lutamentum, ti, n. g. any thyng made with some or moister.

Lutarius, a, um, that lyueth in mudde.

Luteola, æ, a lytle floure of the colour of pelow, in greatnesse and sauour not muche vnyke a violet, also a lytle birde, not muche vnyke a goldebynche called a fish.

Lutens, a ryuer of Aradie.

L ANTE I.

Lutenis, f. c. that is nourished with claye, mud, or durt.
Luteolus, a, um, somewhat pelowe.
Luter, eris, m. g. a cuppe, wherein wyne is delated with water.
Lutesco, scere, to be tounred into clate, or to bee thicke like clate.
Lutetia, the citee of Paris in Fraunce.
Luteum oui, the yolke of an egge.
Luteus, of Lutea, a byrde, whiche some iudge to be our pelow ham, or pelowring.
Luteus, a, um, pelowe.
Vulcanus luteus, the fyre, or the flame of the fyre. Luteus color, the colour of pelowe appoynted toward redder, of the colour of the yolke of an egge, or of ware newe made.
Luteus, a, um, of Lutum, that is made of clate, some, or moister.
Vasa lutea, earthen vessell.
Luteus homo, a byle rascall of no estimation.
Lutea meretrix, a felthy and byle harlotte.
Luto, aui, are, to clay, sometyme to spotte or spile.
Lura, x, f. g. a beuer, or a beaste muche lyke to it, whiche gnaweth trees a sunder, and doeth haunt great waters, and lyuely lyke an otter.
Lutum, i, n. g. clate.
In medio luto esse, by translation, to be entangled or wapped in a matter, to be in daunger.
Lutum, i, n. g. priore longa, a pelowe flour.
Lux, ucis, f. g. lyght, daie, sometyme byghynesse, or clerenesse, sometyme an cie.
Luce clarius, as manifest as can be.
Luce vicesima, the .xx. daie.
Luce & palam, openly & in euery mans sight.
Luce, in the daie tyme.
Luce prima, early in the mornynge.
Finis huius lucis, the ende of this lyfe.
Lucis vforam dare alicui, to suffer one to liue.
Luce clara, whan it was byghyt daie.
In luce, a broode in the syght of men.
Lucus, olde wyters used for Lux.
Primo lucu, perly in the mornynge.
Luxatus, a, um, out of ioynt, put out of place.
Luxo, aui, are, to lose or make lose, to put out of ioynt.
Luxuria, looke Luxus.
Diffuere luxuria, to renne at rours, to riotte.
Luxurio, aui, are, to excede, to abounde more than necessarie, in the bodie or personage, to be wanton or gyuen to riotte, to spyng, to growe to plentifully or rankely.
Luxurior, aris, ari, to abounde excessuely in thynges concernyng the mynde or goodes.
Also to be wanton with to muche welthe or prosperitee.
Luxuriose, riotously, to aboundantly, to rankely.
Luxuriosus, to prosperous, or spynge into muche pleasure.

L ANTE O.

Luxuriosus, a, um, riotous, of ill rule, excedyng in aboundance, that groweth or spyngeth to rankely.
Luxuriosus cultus, excessue and to sumptuous apparayling.
Nimis luxuriosa fuicilla lxtitia, that gladdenesse was to muche or excedyng.
Luxuriosa vitis, a vyne that sheweth out branches to rankely.
Luxus, us, m. ge. luxuria, & luxuries, ei, f. ge. all superfluitee or excess, as well in carnal pleasures as in sumptuous fare, apparayle, or buildyng, riotte.

L ANTE Y.

Yacus, one of the names of Bacchus, called god of wyne.
Lyæus, a, um, of Bacchus or of wyne.
Lyæum, looke Lyceum.
Lyæus, or Lyceus, a mountayne in the countrey of Archadia.
Lycambes, a Thebane, whom Achilocus eatyng with verbes, caused to hange hym selfe.
Lycaon, aonis, the hynde of Archadis, whom Jupiter tounred into a woulfe.
Lycaones, people of Asia the lesse, were to Lycia, as wryteth Ptholome. Also woulfes with mannes.
Lycaonia, a countrey in Asia. after some wryters, it is a parte of Arcadia.
Lycaste, one of the daughters of Priamus.
Lycastus, a citee of Candie.
Lyceum, Aristotles schoole in Athens. also a schoole of Ciceros in his place at Tusculum.
Lyceus, a mountaine in Arcadie, dedicate was to Pan.
Lychas, Hercules seruauant.
Lychnis, nidis, f. g. an herbe, whose floure dryneth by nyghte, and first springeth, and last gett dureth: whiche in drinke, helpeth them that be stungen with the scorpion.
Lychnites, white marble.
Lychnobij, they whiche dooe tounre the nyght into daie, and daie into nyght.
Lychnuchus, i, m. g. idem quod Lychnus, also a braunche, haupng many candletykes or lampes, with candles and lyghtes in them.
Lychnus, i, m. g. a matche of a candle, sometyme the selfe candle.
Lycia, a countrey in Asia the lesse, betwene Pamphilia and Caria, in the whiche are two great citees, Patara and Myra. Sometyme there were .70. citees.
Lycidas, the name of a Centaure, & of a Shepherde in Virgyle.
Lycimnius, the brother of Astiochia.
Lycion, a thyng made with the rugge of an herbe, wherewith soe eyes be cured.
Lycisca, a dogge comen of a woulfe & a dogge.
Lyciscus, a boyes name in Epictate.

Lycis

L ANTE A.

lycium, Idem quod Lyceum, also a medicine made of a hynde of byrdes.
lycius, one of the names of Apollo.
lycostones, a venemouse herbe, called also Aconitum.
lycophron, a grammarian and wyter of tragedies of Calcedonie.
lycophthalmos, a precious stone that hath foure diuers colours.
lycopolis, a citee of Egypte.
lycopus, pi, mother worthe.
lycopis, after Dioscorides description, semeth to be the herbe called boundes tonge.
lycorias, the name of a nymphe.
lycormas, a ryuer rennyng out of Actolia.
lycos, a hynde of spiders.
lyconia, a citee of Crete.
lyctus, a citee of Crete, named of Lyctus, the sonne of Lycaon.
lycurgus, a hynde of the Lacedemonians, whiche gaue to them their first lawes.
lycus, a ryuer in the countrey of Cesaria. also the name of diuers men.
lydda, a citee of Iudea, called Bhamah.
lydia, a countrey in Asia, on the easte forgyngge to Phrygia. On the northe to Mysia, on the southe vpon part of Caria. In this region is the bylle called Tmolus, out of the whiche cometh the ryuer called Pactolus. Reade of them in their owne places.
Lydimali, post hos Aegyptij, a prouerbe applyed where two puell persons bee compared together, and the one byng founde better or ingratefull: the other dysprueth the lesse dysprueth.
lydius, a, um, of Lydia.
Lydius lapis, a touche stone, wherewith the synneste and courtesse of golde is tryed. It is also used sometyme for a prouerbe, applyed to them that haue an exacte and quicke iudgement.
lydus, a, um, of the countrey of Lydia. Also Lydus, is the sonne of Hercules. In other the sonne of Athys, and brother of Cyrrhenus, of whom Lydia was named. Lydus, the sonne of Cyges.
lycneria, or Lienteria. For I fynde it wrytten sometyme with Y, and sometyme with L, is a fyre of meate vndigested, sent forth in the same qualites, that they were receyued, without alteration in colour, spoure, or sauour. Of this synneste bee two byndes. The one (as Paulus wryteth) cometh of the exulceration of the bowelles, that is to saye, woundes or sores in them. Or of other dyspillations or reumes. The other cometh of debilitye of the powers, whiche shoulde retyne in the stomacke, that shoulde serue for nourishment. Causes of this synneste be twelue. The quantitee of the meate receyued, the quantitee of that whiche annogeth, oppressing the stomacke, and infeeblinge his vertue retentive, muche effulson of melancolie to the mouth of the stomacke, muche and laborious spyrng, immediately after meales, the stomacke beyng fulle, muche dyspne with meate or after, causyng the meate to renne downe to hastyly, lacke of order in eatyng, rewine descende into the stomacke, muche flume gathered in the stomacke and bowelles, feeblesse in dysgestion, and the vertue retentive in the stomacke, debilitye in the vertue attractyue in the lyuer, by reason of opilations and inwards sores, by the touchyng wherof the meate spyth awaye, by closenesse of the pores and passages of the bodie, wherby all superfluitees be tounred inwards.
Lygdamum, the name of a towne.
Lygdamus, a Sicilian of the citee of Syracusa, a pusant wrestler, whose bones after his deathe were founde to haue no marowe.
Lymira, a ryuer and a citee in Lycia.
Lympha, a, f. g. water.
Lymphaticus, a, um, madde, furiose, fallen out of his wytte, by seepyng some thyng in the water.
Lymphaticus pauor, a feare that putteth a man out of his wittes.
Lymphatus, phata, atum, Idem quod Lymphaticus.
Lympho, aui, are, to trouble, to make madde.
Lymphor, aris, ari, to be madde or out of ones wytte.
Lymphidus, da, dum, cleere, smoothe. Looke Limpidus.
lyncestius, a, um, of the water that maketh men drunke lyke wyne.
lyncestus, a water, which maketh men drunke lyke wyne.
lynceus, a, um, of the beaste called Lynx. also that seeth verie sharply.
lynceus, dissyllabum, a man, who (as Varro wryteth) coulde see thynnes on the sea, a hundred and thretye myles from hym, and bydde numbre them. Some wryte, that he coulde see thorough a walle. and therefore, they that haue verie sharpe syghtes, bee sayed to haue Lynceus oculos, the eyes of Lynceus.
lynceus, a mans name, that first founde out the mettall mynes of byasse, spluce, and golde.
lyncurium, curij, n. g. a precious stone congeled of the vyne of the beaste called Lynx.
lynCUS, a hynde of Serpithia.
Lyndus, a citee in the yle of Rhodes, where they byd sacrifice to Hercules with reppoyes and curfies.
lynter, tris, a cocke bote.
lynx, lyncis, m. g. or f. g. a beaste lyke to a woulfe, haupng many spottes, whose syght dooeth perle all thynges. It is also a byrde, which hath a tunge lyke a serpent.
Lyra, x, f. g. an harpe.

Lyrle

Lyriceu, ricinis, com. g. an harper.
Lyriceus, a, um, pertaining to an harper.
Lyrictis, tis, com. g. idem quod Lyriceu.
Lyriceus, a well, out of the whiche issueth the rpuer of Inachus.
Lyris, a rpuer of Lampayne.
Lyriceus, one of the citee of Trope.
Lysander, kynge of Iacedemonia, Whan it was layed vnto hym for a reproche, that he dydde more by subtiltee, than by prowesse: He dyd aunswere in this wyse, where the ypon shyn doth not auayle, a man must sowe oʒ tye a foʒes thynne vnto it. Not withstandinge, that practise is seldome commended in any noble man.
Lysanias, an oratour of Grece.
Lysides, a philosopher of Athens.
Lysias, an oratour most pleasaunt, of whome Quintilianus speaketh.
Lysicrates, a man whiche in his olde age dyed his whyle heares blacke, that he myght seeme yonge.
Lysimachia, a citee in Donto, whiche fell downe with an earthquake.
Lysimachium, chij, n. g. is thoughte of Mainardus, to bee the herbe, whiche we call marigolds. Aconitum taketh it to be that, whiche dyers dooe occupie, and is called also Lurca & corneola, wherunto Ruellius accoʒdeth and saith, it is that, wherewith clothes are dyed greene. By this description it seemeth to be the weede called wooddewaren, growyng in pastures, somewhat lyke vnto bzoome, with smal yelow flowers, whiche is so bitter, that no beaste wyl eate of it. but other take this Lysimachia to be an herbe named Lookstrife, oʒ herbe yelow, wherof be two kindes, one that hath a yelow flower, the other a purple.
Lysimachus, a noble man of Macedonie, the scholar of Alisthenes, and one of the moste valiant capitaynes of Alexander.
Lysipe, one of the daughters of Petus kyng of Argues.
Lysippus, an excellent harper.
Lysis, tis, f. g. a colucion oʒ leusyng, a chynkyng oʒ opening of a walle.
Lysistratus, the brother of Lysippus.
Lysius, a rpuer of Arabie.
Lyta, ta, fœm. gener. a woozme in a dogges tongue, whiche is taken oute, while he is younge, lest afterwarde he shoulde be madde.
Lys, a rpuer of the lesse Alia.

A C A E, people of Arabia fax.

Macareus, the sonne of Acolus, whiche deslourd his sister Eanaces.
Macaria, the daughter of Hercules, also a fœm of marriage in Maraton.

Macarismos, mi, maf. ge. idem quod beatitudo.

Macarius, the name of a man, in latine it signifieth blessed.

Macedo, onis, a man oʒ woman of Macedonie, also the sonne of Miris, of whom Macedonie was named.

Macedonia, a, fœ. gen. a royaume in Grece, fyrst called Emathia. On the north, it boundeth (as Ptholomeus writeth) vpon the spres of Dalmatia, Mesia superior, & Thracia. On the weste it stretcheth to the sea Ionium. Plins describeth it to ioygne south and west to Chazacia, and that the southe spde lpech on the backes of Chesalia and Magnetia, the north on Pronia, and Paphlagonia. That it hath also on the southe Epirus, on the north Alpiria: whiche varieth not muche from Solinus, who saith, that it is diuided from Chazacia with the riuer Sirmon. It is now vnder the Turke.
Macedonicus, ca, cum, and Macedonius, of Macedonie.

Macellarius, a, um, that belongeth to the same bulles.

Macellaria taberna, a bouchers shoppe, a vlt tailyng house.

Macellarius, ij, m. g. a vitapour oʒ seller of all maner of vitayle.

Macellota, a, f. g. a gardeyne dooze.

Macellum, macelli, neut. gener. a place wher all maner of vitayles is solde, a Market.

Macellus, a, um, somewhat leane.
Maceo, cui, & Macesco, scere, to be leane, to become leane.

Macer, cra, crum, leane, thynne, barapne.

Macer Aemilius, an olde poete, whiche was in Duides tyme, who (as he saith) wrote of byrdes in verbes also of the vertues of herbes. But it was not that Macer, whose workes we nowe haue, of the vertues of herbes, but rather he, whom the yonger Plins prouoketh to write some thynge lyke vnto his vntle. Finally, that Ipitell booke of herbes, is righte prouydeable in byrdes places to be coned by herbe of a yonge scholar, whiche delpreth in that matter. Not withstandinge the fyrst Macer, wrote more eloquently, and is commended therefore of Quintilian. He wrote also of the battayle of Troie, and of venemous beastes.

Macer oʒ Macis, oʒ Macir, is nowe in doubt, whether it bee the Epyce, commonly called Macis.

Macis, whiche is an huske oʒ rynde, about the nutmygge, for as muche as Dioscorides writeth of Macer, where he neuer made mention of nutmygge. And Plinie saith, that Macer is the rynde of a certayne roote of a tree of the same name. Dioscorides also saith, that it is a thynne rynde, muche strepyng the tongue, whiche taste is not perceived in our macis, and they are also beate thynne. Salene casteth them dyne in the thynne degree, and equal in heat and colde, but wee fynde them hotte in taste. Suicene affirmeth them to bee hotte and dyne in the seconde degree, whiche is confirmed by Constantine, who saith, they be ryndes of the boughes of the trees that beare nutmygges.

Maceratus, a, um, made leane, watered, soaked, oʒ made soft with lying in the water.

Maceresco, scere, to be made oʒ become soft with lying longe in ypour.

Maceria, a, & Maceries, ei, fœ. gen. a wall of stone without moyst, made in the stede of an hedge, also leanne.

Macero, aui, are, spoken of the bode, signifieth to make leane oʒ thynne, oʒ soft, by strepyng in ypour, to soke in the water, to water fyre.

Maceret to the mynde, it signifieth to bere oʒ inquiet, to hurte with care oʒ inquietesse.

Noli te macerare, hurte not your selfe with care oʒ sorowe.

Salamenta hac macerentur probe, leat these salt fyres be well watered.

Oua aceto macerata, Egges layed to soke in bynegre.

Macetho, idem quod mentha.

Machabæus, the fyrst of that name was Judas, the thynne sonne of Mathathias the Jewe, a valyaunt man in his saphe, and of an inuincible courage. In so muche, that with thre thousande men, he vauquished Lysias, the lieutenant of kyng Antiochus, and his sonne, and with them xl. thousande footemen, and vii. thousande horsemen, and slewe of them fyue thousand. Afterwarde in Galilea, he slewe of the hoste of Timotheus (an other of the kynges Capitaynes) fyrst thre thousande, and afterwarde epyght thousand. After that by a vilage called Adashis, he with a thousand faught with Arianor, a capitayne of kyng Demetrius and nyne thousande with hym. At the whiche battayle, Arianor was slayne, and of the nyne thousande almoste none escaped. Finally, in muche trustyng to his prosperitee in warres, in goeyng agaynst Bacchis (a capitayne of kyng Demetrius, who hadde a great hoste) and tazyng with hym but ii. thousande, of the which at the last remained with hym but onely. viii. hundred. He faughte yll it was nyght, and made a wonderfull slaughter of ennemies. But whyles he inforced hym selfe to come to Bacchis, the whiche was on the ryghte wyng of the battayle: he faughte so nobly, that he scattered that wyng, slaying many about hym. Finally, beyng enuygned with the lesse wyng, and streken with many woundes, was slayne with muche difficultee. Afoʒe the incarnation of Christe about. 305. yeres.

Machara, a woozde, a dagger, a knyfe.

Macharonion, idem quod Xiphion.

Macharophorus, phori, m. g. a woozde bearet.

Macharopios, ij, m. g. a cutlar, oʒ a bladesmyth.

Machon, the sonne of Esculapius, an excellent surgion.

Machina, a, fœ. g. a thynge craftily inuented, oʒ a crafty inuention. a subtille deuise, an instrument, an ingine.

Vt omnes adhibeam machinas, that I may assay all the meanes possible.

Machinas post bellum adfers, when the stede is stollen, thou stealest the stable doze.

Mundi machina, the composition and worke manshipp of this worlde.

Dolum ad aliquem machinamve commoliri, to worke deuite oʒ crafte agaynst one.

Machinalis, le, belongyng to ingins oʒ instrumentes of warre.

Machinamentum, ti, n. g. idem quod Machina.

Machinarius, ij, one that syngeth oʒ casteth with an ingine of warre.

Machinarius, a, um, belongyng to instrumentes oʒ ingins of warre.

Machinatio, onis, fœm. gene. a subtille inuention oʒ deuise, a crafty endeavour, an ingine oʒ instrument.

Machinator, toris, an inuentour, a diuysor, an authour, a maker of instrumentes oʒ ingines.

Machinor, naris, nari, to inuente craftily, to deuise, to imagine, to goe about disceipfully.

Macia Romana, the herbe called Anagallis purpurea. Diosc.

Macidos, a citee of Chazacia.

Macies, ei, fœ. gen. leanne.

Macilentus, a, um, leane.

Macio, aui, are, to make leane.

Macis, looke Macer.

Machomacha, a citee.

Macra, a rpuer, whiche renneth betweene the mountaynes of Aiguria.

Macreo, macrui, macrere, to be leane.

Macresco, scere, to wake leane.

Macrimdo, tudinis, f. g. leanne.

Macro, aui, are, to make leane.

Macrobij, people in Africa, the whiche of Domponius be also called Mareni. They countreie is enuygned with the rpuer of Ailus, lyke an Alande. They lyue halfe as muche longer as men dooe here. and bee fayre and goodly personages, reuerende and louers of beetyne. There is more golde than in Persia, and therefore that whiche is lesse precious, they doe more esteeme, deckyng them selues with ornaments of copper and brasse, and makyng gyues of golde. They dooe lyue commonly a hundred and and twenty pates, and dooe waske thetym feld ues in a fountayne, whiche causeth they bo dyes to smelle lyke violettes.

Macrobis, the name of a great learned man.
Macrochara, ra, fem. ge. a garment with long sleeues, loke Chirodota.
Macrochur, he that hath long handes.
Macrocatelctos, a wordy ending in a longe syllable.
Macroceani, mountaynes by the ryuer of Aiter.
Macrocephali, people by Hophozus.
Macrocollum, li, n. g. paper royall.
Macrocosmus, id est, Longus mundus.
Macror, oris, m. g. leanneffe.
Mactator, totis, a killer, a cleare, a murderere.
Mactatus, a, um, flayne, sacrificed.
Mactatus, us, maf. gen. a kyllyng of a thyng, to sacrifice.
Mactea, or Mattya, a delicate sauce of meate, of the which all delicate meates are called Mactea.
Macticus, he whiche hath great chelyes, and a gar pyng mouth.
Mactio, aut, are, to slea or kyll, also to beate, to hurte, to doo displeasure, to handell pille, to cast downe headlonge. somtyme to honour. also to entreate.
Ferunt laudibus, mactant honoribus, They extolte with prayfing, they increase in honour.
Mactare deos, for Mactare diis.
Mactare Oco, to doo sacrifice with one to Dauto, the god of hell.
Mactare supplicio, to punish.
Mactare damno aut malo, to hurte, to doo displeasure.
Mactia, a, fem. g. an hutch, wherein bzeade is put. Some doo call it a bzake, wherewith dowe is wrought, or rather it is the kneadyng trough or tubbe.
Mactus, a, um, more encreased, augmented. And is used most commonly in the vocatiue case.
Macte amare, id est maxime.
Macte animi, bee of good courage.
Macte virtutis & virtute, or Macte virtute esto, pproceede in vertue, goe footyly and doo well.
Macti ingenio, men of excellent wyttes.
Mactus cito hoc sacrificio, Whan one speak lyng to god sayeth, Pleaseth it you to take this sacrifice in good parte, or that this sacrifice maie please you.
Iuberem macte virtute esse, I would byd him encrease and goe forwarde in this vertue and towardnesse that appereth in hym.
Macula, a, f. gen. a spotte, a blempe, a marke or token, wherby a thyng is known. also infam ye or reproche. somtyme the masse of a nette or hole betweene the thynges. also a nette.
Eluere maculam, to putte away an infampe or sclander.
Imbutus macula sceleris, to be disained with some foule and dishonest acte.

Inurere aternas maculas, To dysproue for euer.
Maculo, aui, are, to spotte or make foule, to dis file, to soyle, to dishonest, to dysproue.
Maculare nomen alicuius crimine, To dis fame.
Maculosus, a, um, speckled, spotty, full of spots
tes, vncleane or foule, dishonest.
Maculosus homo, a man greatly dysproued with infamye.
Macyberna, a citee of Sithonia.
Madagastar, an yle beyonde the furthest parte of Ethiophe, southe, founden by the Portugallie, in the tyme of Emanuell, kynge of Portugall.
This yle is in circuite. 4000. myles, and is verie riche. Therein be great ollyphantes, lyons, panthers, and suche other beastes. The inhabitantes be of Mahomettes secte.
Madaurense, a citee in Aethiopia.
Madesco, defacis, feci, ere, to weate, to wash,
to bapne.
Madesco, factus sum, fieri, to bee mofsted or made weate.
Madesco, dui, ere, to be weate or washed.
Madesco vino, to bee drunken.
Madesco metu, to sweate for feare.
Madesco, defcere, to sweate or bee thoryough weate.
Madian, a citee beyonde Arabia, on the southe parte, in the deserte of the Saracins, agaynst
the east parte of the redde sea.
Madido, aui, are, to make weate.
Madidus, a, um, weate or washed with hyoure,
somtyme drunken. also imbued.
Maditico, aui, are, to make weate.
Madon, a certayne kynde of white vines.
Madonais, that whiche is called of the poetras caries Nenuphar.
Mador, oris, m. g. mofsture. Somtyme sweate.
Madusa, a, m. gen. a drunkenarde, he that hath a swilled soule. it is also red. Madusa, without L.
Mander, a ryuer of the countrey of Phygia.
Erasmus sayth of Lydia, whiche hath many turnynges and windynges, and of that all cross ed and subtille tournyng waies, meanes, and diuises be called Mandri. There is also of that name a mountayne in India. Mander, is also a picture made with tournynges and windynges lyke a Labrynth.
Mandri more, crookedly, windyng in and out subtilly.
Madia, a citee in the royaume of Ethiopia.
Mae, a kynde of great crabbes of the sea.
Mamacteticon, the moneth of September.
Mamoe, the herbe Illecebra.
Marna, a, a sea fythe, called of Etenians Ma nela, to be unknown, some take it either for heeryng or a kynd of them.
Marnades, furiose women, whiche serued in the sacrifice of Bacchus.
Manala, neu. g. plur. or after some, Manalum, sing.

Mag, an high mountayne in Arcadie.
Manalius, for Arcadicus, therfore Manalium carmen, is taken for an inchauntment.
Manalius aper, a boze of Arcadia.
Manalius, a, um, of the mountayne Manala.
Menapij, Cellars, or people of Cellarlande.
also clues.
Marnoles, one of the names of Bacchus.
Menomenon, ni, neu. g. a kynde of honye that maketh men madde.
Menule, pitcherdes.
Mronia, a countrey in Asia the lesse, called also Lydia.
Mronius, a, um, of Mronia. Homer the excel lent poete was called Mronius, eyther because he was borne in that countrey: or elles that his fathers name was Mron.
Mronida, men of Lydia.
Mronis, a woman of Lydia.
Mrona, a people of Scythia.
Mronis, oridis, or ridos, a great meere in the countrey of Scythia, which is alwaies frozen.
Mronidis paludes, fennes, wherunto the saied ryuer of mere runneth.
Mro, Maror, Mastitia, & mastitudo, Ma ro, & Mastifico, are, Mestus, a, um, loke as trin in Mro, Maror, &c.
Magalia, or Magaria, orum, n. g. plu. villages.
Magas, magadis, an instrument of musike.
Magi, among the Caldees and Persians, were men of excellent knowlage in philosophie na turall and mathematicall, and knewe the hyd berties and operacions of thynges. The son nes of the kynges of Persia were taught by them to gouerne and minister their publike weale, accordyng to the fourme of the vniuers fall order & gouernance of the celestiall worlde.
Suche were Magi, or the thye kynges that sought Christ, and offred to hym golde, myrrre, and frankincense, adaptyng their presente vn to the double nature of hym, vnto whom they saue it, who was both god and man, kyng and pyncle. Howe is that name impropely used for a wythe, an inchaunter, a woozker with yll spirites, which maie bee better called Venefica, Nicomanticus, Incantator, or other names,
as before and after bee rehearsed.
Magia, a, f. ge. magike, whiche is in two sortes.
One is the secreete knowlage of the naturall qualites and hyd operacions & causes of thyn ges, and that is called Magia naturalis, natu rall magike. In other is superstitious and des uyllyshe, called wythecrafte, sozterpe, or other lyke detestable names, which is vnclefull by the lawes of god and man.
Magice, es, f. ge. the art of wythecrafte or magike.
Magicus, a, um, perteynyng to magike.
Magida, a kynde of bzeade.
Magida, kytchen bourses or instrumentes per teynyng to the kytchen,

Magidaphori, they whiche accompanie and goe with the maister of the game.
Magirus, ri, m. g. a cooke.
Maginor, aris, aris, to goe slowly about
a thyng.
Magistrum, ij, n. g. a littell cooke.
Magis, idis, fem. g. a kneadyng trouge. also a platter or charger, somtyme a round bourde.
Magis, more, rather.
Magis lubet quam perdere, I had lietter than to lose it.
Vbi molestus magis est, whan he beganne to be somewhat busy with me, or to disquiete or bere me.
Magis ex vlu, more for your profite, more pro fitable.
Magge, for Magis.
Magis ac magis, more & more, oftener tymes.
Magister, tri, maf. gen. a maister or teacher of sciences. Also he that is ordeyned by an officer to sell a debtors gooddes.
Magister populi, the chief ruler of the people, by the whiche name the Dictator among the Romaynes was called.
Magister scriuorum, an officer lyke to the mayster of his Rolles.
Magister scriptura, seemeth to be a generall Scribe, or he that hath the lettynge out of pastures.
Magister ludi, a schoule mayster.
Magistri morum, the Censors.
Magister nauis, a shyppe mayster.
Magister pecoris, an hearde, a pastoure, a gratpat.
Magister morum, a Censor, that hath the charge to correcte yll maners.
Magistellus, stelli, the diminutiue of Magister.
Magisterium, rij, neu. g. the dignitee or office of a mayster.
Magistra, the femintine of Magister, the may stresse or teacher.
Magistratus, us, m. gen. a great officer, a man haupng a: hozytee in gouernance of people, all be it that some haue more authoritee by the lawes, and some lesse. Also the power, offyce, authoritee, or dignitee of a ruler. In head of fyer among the people.
Abire magistratu, to leaue his office, to goe out of office.
Gerere magistratum, to beare office, to be in authoritee.
Magistratum imminuere, to diminyshe the au
thoritee or priuilege of an office or dignitee.
Magistratum habere, to be an officer or ruler,
to be in authoritee.
Mandare magistratum, to assigne or appoynt an office.
Magistro, aui, are, to rule.
Magma, aus, n. ge. a confection made of diuers sweete spices in paste, onely for the sauour, as pomaunders and washyngs balles, somtyme

it is taken for the dregges of swete Magma croci oyles.
Magmentum, ti, neu. gene. a great increase of ayde.
Magna Græcia, the parte of Italy from Laurentum to Cumas.
Magnalia, great thynges to be wondred at.
Magnanimitas, âtis, form. ge. valpauentesse of courage of herte, noblenesse of stomake, magnanimitie.
Magnanimus, a, um, that hath a valpant herte of courage, that whiche hath a noble and lofty stomake.
Magnarius, a great marchaunt.
Magnus, âtis, & Magnatus, m. g. a noble man, a man of great estimation.
Magnata, a citee of Irelande.
Magnes, âtis, m. ge. the lode stone, that hath the vertue to drawe yron vnto hym. Whiche vnsproppely, we vse to call adamant, where Adamas, is the diamond, as is afoze declared.
Magnes, a poete of Athens.
Magnesia, a parte of Macedonia.
Magnesia, Hippolite the wife of Theseus kynge of Magnesia.
Magnetes, tum, head officers among the Macedonians.
Magnetes, of Magnesi, people of Magnesia.
Magnifice, nobly, honourably, royally.
Magnifice accipere, to entertayn honourably.
Magnifice compellare aliquem, To speake to one with verite honourable and reuerend wordes.
Hic me magnifice effero, Herin I aduance my selfe royally.
Magnifice incedere, To goe lyke a great lord of gentylman, to goe with a solemne maiestee.
Magnifice vtiles, verite profitable.
Magnifice loqui, to speake with a grauitie of maiestee.
Magnifice viuere, To lyue nobly and lyke a gentyl man.
Magnificencia, a, f. g. a disposition and administration in dwelinge of making of great thynges and sumptuous, magnificence.
Magnifico, aui, are, to extolle, to exalte, hyghly to pryse and commend.
Magnificus, a, um, that dooeth great thynges, great, noble, honourable, sumptuous.
Magnifica verba, hygh and bragging wordes, full of ostentation.
Succus magnificus in vsu, a iuyce greatly vsed.
Magnificus apparatus, great and sumptuous prouision.
Magniloquentia, a, f. g. a lofty and hygh stile or maner in speaking.
Magniloquus, qui, he that speaketh lofty and proude wordes, of that hath a lofty stile.
Magnipendo, magnipendi, ere, to haue in great estimation, to sette muche by.

Magnitas, magnitatis, vfed of olde wyrters for magnitudo.
Magnitudo, inis, f. g. greatnesse, amplenesse, largenesse.
Magnitudo animi, excellencie of noblenesse of herte of courage.
Magnopere, greatly, verite muche.
Non magnopere laboro, I care not muche.
Quid magnopere posuit facere, what great thyng coulde he doe?
Nec magnopere visum, little seene.
Magnopere censeo, I thynke verite good and expedient that ye do so.
Magnum, the herbe named Wallote, of Pararubium.
Magnus, a, um, great, large.
Haud magni precij, of no great value.
Pueri magni, great mens chyldern.
Magno animo vir, a man of great courage.
Magno natu vir, an auncient man, a man of great age.
Maiores natu, elder.
Maiores quadraginta annis erat, He was about xl. yeres olde.
Magnum fecit, he dyd a great thyng.
Magnum esset, it were a great labour, it were a great matter.
Magna ex parte, for the moze parte, most commonly, almoste, well nere all.
Magnam partem in his occupati sunt, They were occupied most parte about these thynges.
Magno vendidit, He tolde it deere, of at a great price.
Magni erunt mihi, I wyl set muche by them.
Magnum, for valde.
Magnum clamat, he crieth out aloud.
Maiores morbus, id est comitialis.
Maiores in modum, greatly, as muche as I can.
Magna pars Arabie, The moze parte of Arabie.
Magnus socer, my wyues grandfather.
Maiores socer, my wyues great grandfather.
Maiores paruos, my grandfathers vnckle.
Maiores magistratus, the Consul.
Magnus portus, the haven called Portsmouth in Englande.
Mago, the name of diuers men.
Magog, the sonne of Japhet.
Maguderis, of Magideris, form. ge. a hynde of the herbe named Lacerpitium, after some only the stalke of that herbe: after other the roote of it.
Magus, i, m. g. loke Magi.
Mahumethes, of Mahumetha, was borne in Arabia (as the moze parte doe wyte) of a poore house of familie, and first was a byar and seller of Camels. Afterwarde he fell acquainted with a munke called Sergius, whiche was an heretike, by whose meanes he declared hym selfe to bee a prophete, and tooke on hym to reforme fourme as well the olde lawe as the newe, and made other lawes, the whiche for theyr pleasantnesse, allured vnto theym muche people: So, gathering vnto hym a great hoste, fyrste he waled Syria, & wan Damascus, the chiefe citee therof. And haupng in his ayde the Arabians called Scenitar, a valpauente people (who had displeasure agaynst the Emperour Heraclius, because he payed them not theyr wages) he wanne other great Royalmes, and at the age of forty yeres, dyed (as some doe suppose) of the fallynge syckenesse, which he longe tyme dydde dyssemble, fepynge, that the angelle Gabriell was than sente vnto hym in message, whose brightnesse he myght not susteyne. he was buried at Medina. iii. daies iourney from the redden sea, an hundred myles from Medra, where is now the chiefe temple of his law. He was after the Incarnation of Christ, fyre hundred yeres.

Maia, a hynde of crabbeshe.
Maia, the mother of Mercury. Also one of the sterres called Pleiades.
Maialis, his, m. g. a barowe hogge.
Maistas, âtis, f. gen. maiestee, the greatnesse, dignitee, or excellent estimation of honour of a kynge, pynce, emperour, or greute manne.
Amonge the olde Romaynes it was the power and authoritee of the people of Rome, vnto whom Appellation, called Prouocatio, was from all other dignitees. The dignitee of the Senate was called the authoritee of the Senate.
Tantus autem consensus municipiorum coloniarumque provincie Gallie, vt omnes ad autoritatem huius ordinis, maiestatemque populi Romani defendendam, conspirasse videantur, There is nowe such agreement of wylls, of the townes confederate and subiecte vnto vs in the partes of Fraunce, governed by vs, that all men there, dooe seeme to conspyre, howe they maye defende the authoritee of this Senate, and the Maistee of the people of Rome.
Maistas imminuta, is where any man goeth aboute to derogate any thyng of the kynges authoritee royall, as also of the empyre and hygh power of the people of Rome. It maye bee taken for treason.
Si maistas est ampliudo ac dignitas ciuitatis, is, eam minuit, qui exercitum hostibus populi Romani tradidit, If Maistee bee the honoure and authoritee of this citee, he goeth aboute to appaie it, whiche hath deliuered the hoste to the ennemys of the people of Rome.
Maistas est in Imperij atque populi Romani dignitate, quam minuit is, qui per vim, multitudinem ad seditionem vocauit, Maistee is in the authoritee of the Empyre and people of Rome: Agaynst whom, he playnely com myteth treason, who so euer he bee, that basely prouoketh people to a sedition.

For the woorde Minuere maiestatem, the laster wyrters dyd vse, Ledere maiestatem.
Maistatis crimen, is treason agaynst a kynge.
It was amonge the Romaynes conspiracie agaynst the Senate and people, whiche was also called Perduellio, and of Historians is named Coniuratio. And it is moze than Maistas imminuta, for therein onely they dooe derogate of take awaye some parte of the royall authoritee of honoure due to the persone of citee. In the other they endeavour to destroye them bitwyl, or to bynng them in subiection.
Maistatem conseruare, To haue or receyue still the dignitee of an Emperour of kynge of people, in one lyke honoure and reuerence.
Maistatem constituere, to preserue authoritee that it decape not, but to receyue still the estimation therof.
Maistatem soluere, to bynng his maistee or authoritee in lesse estimation.
Retinere maiestatem, to keepe his authoritee or dignitee.
Maistas in oratione, maistee of grauitie in speakinge.
Maiores, ôris, greater, looke Magnus.
Maioresana, na, f. g. an herbe called maioran.
Maiores, auncetours, progenitours.
Maioresana, a hynde of olyues, the whiche be not ripe befoze the fyfte Idus of Februarie.
Maialium, in, n. g. of certayne late wyrters is taken for lettuse.
Maius, Maij, m. g. the moneth of Maye.
Maiusculus, a, um, somewhat bygger, of good stature of age.
Mala, la, f. g. the balle of the cheke.
Malabarrum, a certayne leafe, whiche in Indee swimmeth in pooles and dyches, without a roote. of it is made the swete oyle called Malabathrinum: looke Diosc. it is named of the Mauritanes Cerebull.
Malabathrinum, ni, is called vnguentum foliatum, a pleasant opyntment.
Malaca, a citee in Spayne.
Malache, ches, f. g. a hynde of malowes, the stalke wherof dooeth growe into the greatnesse of a tree.
Malachites, a stone of a darke greene coloure.
Malachia, a, f. g. caulme of the sea: also greffe of the stomake, not susteyninge meate, abhorring all thyng, as a womā with chyld. Some dooe calle it abhominacion of the stomache. But it is moze truly the longynge of women with chyld, and ouercastynge of theyr stomache, if they haue not that they longe for.
Malacisso, aui, are, to kneade or make softe.
Malachra, called also Maldacon, a tree growynge in Bactria, as bygge as an olyue, haupng leaues lyke an olyue, and fruite lyke pygges. out of this tree cometh the gumme called Adellium.
 Malag

it is taken for the dregges of swete Magma croci oples.
Magnamentum, ti, neu. gene. a great increase of apde.
Magna Græcia, the parte of Italy from Laurentum to Cumas.
Magnalia, great thynges to be wondred at.
Magnanimitas, âtis, fem. ge. valpauntnesse of courage of herte, noblenesse of stomake, magnanimitie.
Magnanimus, a, um, that hath a valpant herte of courage, that whiche hath a noble and lofty stomake.
Magnarius, a great marchaunt.
Magnas, âtis, & Magnatus, m. g. a noble man, a man of great estimation.
Magnus, a citee of Irelande.
Magnes, âtis, m. ge. the lode stone, that hath the vertue to drawe ppon unto hym. Whiche vnzpropely, we vse to call adamant, where Adamas, is the diamond, as is afoze declared.
Magnes, a poete of Athens.
Magnesia, a parte of Macedonia.
Magnesia, Hippolyte the wife of Trastus kynge of Magnesia.
Magnetes, tum, head officers among the Macedonians.
Magnetes, or Magnesi, people of Magnesia.
Magnifice, nobly, honourably, royally.
Magnifice accipere, to entertayn honourably.
Magnifice compellare aliquem, to speake to one with verie honourable and reuerend wordes.
Hic me magnifice effero, Herin I aduance my selfe royally.
Magnifice incedere, to goe lyke a great lord of gentylman, to goe with a solemne maiestee.
Magnifice vtiles, verie profitable.
Magnifice loqui, to speake with a grauttee of maiestee.
Manifice vire, to lyue noble and lyke a gentyl man.
Magnificencia, a, f. g. a disposicion and administration in dwelinge of making of great thynges and sumptuous, magnificence.
Magnifico, aui, are, to extolle, to exalte, hyghly to pryse and commend.
Magnificus, a, um, that dooeth great thynges, great, noble, honourable, sumptuous.
Magnifica verba, hygh and bragging wordes, full of ostentation.
Succus magnificus in vsu, a iuyce greatly vsed.
Magnificus apparatus, great and sumptuous prouision.
Magniloquentia, a, f. g. a lofty and hygh stile or maner in speaking.
Magniloquus, qui, he that speaketh lofty and proude wordes, or that hath a lofty stile.
Magnipendo, magnipendi, ere, to haue in great estimation, to sette muche by.

Magnitas, magnitâis, vsed of olde wyters for magnitudo.
Magnitudo, inis, f. g. greatnesse, amplenesse, largenesse.
Magnitudo animi, excellencie of noblenesse of herte of courage.
Magnopere, greatly, verie muche.
Non magnopere laboro, I care not muche.
Quid magnopere potuit facere, what great thyng coulde he doe?
Nec magnopere visum, little seene.
Magnopere censeo, I thynke verie good and expedient that ye do so.
Magnum, the herbe named Wallote, or Spars rubium.
Magnus, a, um, great, large.
Haud magni precij, of no great value.
Pueri magni, great mens chylbern.
Magno animo vir, a man of great courage.
Magno natu vir, an auncient man, a man of great age.
Maiores natu, elder.
Maiores quadraginta annis erat, he was about xl. yeres olde.
Magnum fecit, he dyd a great thyng.
Magnum esset, it were a great labour, it were a great matter.
Magna ex parte, for the more parte, most commonly, almoste, well nere all.
Magnam partem in his occupati sunt, they were occupied most parte about these thynges.
Magno vendidit, he solde it deere, or at a great pryce.
Magni erunt mihi, I wyl set muche by them.
Magnum, for valde.
Magnum clamat, he crieth out slowde.
Maiores morbus, id est comitialis.
Maiores in modum, greatly, as muche as I can.
Magna pars Arabie, the more parte of Arabie.
Magnus focer, my wyues grandfather.
Maiores focer, my wyues great grandfather.
Maiores paruos, my grandfathers byns.
Maiores magistratus, the Consul.
Magnus portus, the haven called Portsmouth in Englande.
Mago, the name of diuers men.
Magog, the sonne of Japhet.
Maguderis, or Magideris, f. g. a hynde of the herbe named Lacerpitium, after some only the stalke of that herbe: after other the roote of it.
Magus, i, m. g. looke Magi.
Mahumethes, or Mahumetha, was borne in Arabia (as the more parte doe wyte) of a poore house or familie, and first was a byar and seller of Camels. Afterwarde he fell acquainted with a munke called Sergius, whiche was an heretike, by whose meanes he declared hym selfe to bee a prophete, and tooke on hym to eate fourme as well the olde lawe as the newe, and made other lawes, the whiche for theyr pleasauntnesse, allured vnto theym muche people: So, gatheringe vnto hym a great hoste, fyrste he waiked Syria, & wan Damascus, the chiefe citee therof. And haupng in his apde the Bra- bians called Scenitar, a valpaunte people (who had dispicature agaynst the Emperour Heracles ne, because he payed them not theyr wages) he wanne other great Ropalmes, and at the age of forty yeres, dyed (as some doe suppose) of the fallynge sykenesse, whiche he longe tyme dydde bysemble, feygnyng, that the angelle Gabriel was than sente vnto hym in message, whose brightnesse he myght not susteyne. he was buried at Medina. iii. daies iourney from the redde sea, an hundred myles from Medina, where is now the chiefe temple of his law. He was after the Incarnation of Christe, fyre hundred yeres.

Maia, a hynde of crabbeshe.
Maia, the mother of Mercurius. Also one of the sterres called Pleiades.
Maialis, is, m. g. a barowe hogge.
Maistas, âtis, f. g. gen. maiestee, the greatenesse, dignitee, or excellent estimation of honour of a kynge, prynce, emperour, or greate manne.
Amonge the olde Romaynes it was the power and authoritee of the people of Rome, vnto whom appellation, called Prouocatio, was from all other dignitees. The dignitee of the Senate was called the authoritee of the Senatus.
Tantus autem consensus municipiorum coloniarumque prouinciarum Gallie, vt omnes ad autoritatem huius ordinis, maiestatemque populi Romani defendendam, conspirasse videntur, There is nowe suche agreement of wylls, of the townes confederate and subiecte vnto vs in the partes of Fraunce, gouerned by vs, that all men there, dooe seeme to conspyre, howe they maye defende the authoritee of this Senate, and the Maiestee of the people of Rome.
Maistas imminuta, is where any man goeth aboute to derogate any thyng of the kynges authoritee royall, as also of the empyre and hygh power of the people of Rome. It maye bee taken for treason.
Si maistas est amplitudo ac dignitas ciuitatis, is, cam minuit, qui exercitum hostibus populi Romani tradidit, If Maiestee bee the honour and authoritee of this citee, he goeth aboute to appayze it, whiche hath deliqued the hoste to the enemies of the people of Rome.
Maistas est in Imperij atque populi Romani dignitate, quam minuit is, qui per vim, multitudinem ad seditionem vocauit, Maiestee is in the authoritee of the Empyre and people of Rome: Agaynst whom, he playnely com-mytteth treason, who so euer he bee, that blasphemously prouoketh people to a sedition.

For the woorde Minure maiestatem, the laster wyters dyd vse, Ladere maiestatem.
Maiestatis crimen, is treason agaynst a kynge.
It was amonge the Romaynes conspiracie agaynst the Senate and people, whiche was also called Perduellio, and of Historians is named Coniuratio. And it is more than Maiestas imminuta, for therein onely they dooe derogate or take away some parte of the roys all authoritee of honoure due to the persone or citee. In the other they endeavour to destroy the very vitall, or to byngne them in subiection.
Maiestatem conseruare, To haue or receyue still the dignitee of an Emperour or kynge of people, in one lyke honoure and reuerence.
Maiestatem constituere, to preserue authoritee that it decape not, but to receyue still the estimation therof.
Maiestatem soluere, to byngne his maiestee or authoritee in lesse estimation.
Retinere maiestatem, to keepe his authoritee or dignitee.
Maiestas in oratione, maiestee or grauttee in speakinge.
Maiores, âtis, greater, looke Magnus.
Maiores, na, f. g. an herbe called maioram.
Maiores, auncetours, progenitours.
Maiores, a hynde of olpues, the whiche be not epte befoze the fyre Idus of Februarie.
Malulium, in, n. g. of certayne laie wyters is taken for lettuce.
Maius, Maij, m. g. the moneth of Maye.
Maiusculus, a, um, somewhat bygger, of good stature or age.
Mala, la, f. g. the balle of the cheke.
Malabathrum, a certayne leafe, whiche in Indle swimmeth in pooles and dyches, without a roote. of it is made the swete oyle called Mala- bathrinum: looke Diosc. it is named of the Mauretanians Cerebull.
Malabathrinum, ni, is called unguentum folia- tum, a pleasaunt oymtmente.
Malaca, a citee in Spayne.
Malache, ches, f. g. a hynde of malowes, the stalke wherof dooeth growe into the greatnesse of a tree.
Malachites, a stone of a darke greene coloure.
Malachia, a, f. g. caulme of the sea. also grese of the stomacke, not susteynyng meate, abhorring all thyng, as a woma with chylde. Some dooe calle it abhominacion of the stomacke. But it is more truly the longynge of women with childe, and ouercastynge of theyr stomacke, if they haue not that they longe for.
Malacisso, aui, are, to kneade or make softe.
Malachra, called also Maldacon, a tree growyng in Bactria, as bygge as an olpue, haupng leaues lyke an oke, and fruite lyke ppyges. our of this tree ismeth the gumme called Edellium.
Malag

Malacostrachia, softe as fyfthe without shelles.
 Malacocraneus, idem quod mollicepe.
 Malacus, a, um, softe.
 Malchus, an historiographer.
 Malococcifus, an herbe with a small stalke, and a leafe lyke to Jute, and winderth about euerie thyng that it standeth nye. it is called of some sigillum Marie.
 Malagma, aris, neu. ge. a mollifynge plaister, wherby hard impostumes be made soft or ripe.
 Malasso, aui, are, to make softe or rype. Also to exercise.
 Male, pll, vnhappyly, vncommodiously, mis-cheuoufly.
 Male exceptus, pll intreated, pll handled,
 shewdly welcomed.
 Male accipere, to intreat one pll.
 Male accipere verbis, to geue pll language to one. Male audire, to see pll reported of, to haue an pll name.
 Male cadere, to chaunce pll.
 Male cogitare de aliquo, to haue an pll opint on of one.
 Male conciliatus, he on whome a man hath softe all that euer he hath bestowed.
 Fugitive prodi, male conciliate, Come forth mygher, on whom I haue softe all that euer thou costest me.
 Male formido, I am pll or fore affrayed.
 Male maceror, I am pll bered, I am pll at ease.
 Male me habeo, I am syche, bered, or disquieted in mynde.
 Male me habet hac res, I am soip or pll as paid for that matter, or that matter grees uth me fore.
 Male mereri, to doo displeasure to one, to desserue displeasure.
 Male meritis est de me, he hath pll intreated me, or hath down me displeasure.
 Male memo, I am pll ascarde.
 Male moratus, pll manerde.
 Male morigerus, disobedient or frowarde.
 Male odi, I hate deadly.
 Male optare, to curse.
 Male precari, to aske a vengeance.
 Male suadus, or male suada, he of the that geneth shewde counsaile.
 Male verat illi, God sende hym pll lucke ther-of, pll maye he brooke it.
 Male animatus erga aliquem, he that beareth little good will towarde one.
 Male sibi consulere, to dooc pll, or to take an pll waie for his owne parte.
 Male credere, to trust one that is lyke to descepe hym.
 Male dicis? Doest thou threaten me?
 Male docet te mea lenitas multa, my gentilnesse, or my fauourable facion my teacheth the many thynges, or geueth the occasion to dooc pll in many thynges.

Hoc male habet virum, This greueth hym, or byteth hym by the stomache.
 Male mulctari, to be beaten, punished, or plly handied.
 Male viuere, to lyue poorly.
 Male vestitus, pll apparailled.
 Malca, a pyromonozie or hille lying into the sea
 by Atonia, whiche is daungerous for shippes to passe by.
 Maledice, sclanderously, reprochfully.
 Maledicentia, a, f. g. detraction, pll reposit.
 Maledico, maledicis, xi, ere, to curse, to rage,
 to checke, to speake pll to.
 Maledictio, onis, f. g. sclander, pll speyng.
 Maledictum, ti, neu. ge. a checke, a rebuke, a shewde woorde, an pll reposit.
 Conferre, congerere, conuicere maledictum in aliquem, and insectari aliquem maledictus, to speake pll or mytrepote of, to rage at one,
 to checke.
 Maledicus, a, um, pll tongued, that speaketh pll of men, that raplyth.
 Maledicentior, maledicentius, Maledicens tissimus, a, um.
 Malefacio, malefacis, feci, facere, to doo pll.
 Malefactum, ti, n. g. a shewde tourne, an pll dede, a displeasure.
 Maleficia, a witch, whiche with sorcery doeth
 hurte to men or bestes.
 Maleficientia, a, f. g. mydoocynge idem quod maleficium.
 Malefice, mycheuoufly, harmefully.
 Maleficiose, idem.
 Maleficium, ii, n, g. damage, wonge, displasure, hurte, a mischeuous derde, an pll aui, a shewde tourne.
 Maleficus, a, um, hurtefull, noysome, that doo-eth hurte.
 Maleloqui, & Maledicere, to curse.
 Maleuentum, i, n. g. a citee in Campania called nowe Beneuentum.
 Maleuolens, ennis, idem quod Maleuolus.
 Maleuolentia, a, f. g. malice, pll wyll.
 Maleuolus, a, um, malicious, that beareth pll wyll, that beareth grudge.
 Maleus, a mountayne in India.
 Maliaca, a citee in Spayne called nowe Malagado.
 Maliacum mare, the sea about Cheshaly.
 Malicorium, ii, neu. ge. the rynde of a pome-granade.
 Malia, a citee in Cheshaly.
 Maligne, enuiously, disdegnfully, maliceously.
 Malignitas, aris, f. g. wickednesse, malignitee, enuy, malice, pll wyll, vnprofitableness, the vice contrarie to liberalitee, nygardypp.
 Fortuna malignitas, the frowardnesse of fortune.
 Malignor, & Maligno, to beare malice, to beharefull.

Malign

alignus, a, um, wicked, cruell, enuious, coueroute, sparyng, to muche a niggarde.
 A diuis maligni, straight entrees.
 Maligna via, an pll waie.
 Maligna lux, a dymme light.
 Nec malignus, nec effusus, not to byrke nor to longe; not to litle nor to much.
 Malignus ager, grounde that is pll to bee bough: to tyeche.
 alimnus, an hille of Sicilia.
 alinadhalla, a plante growynge in Egypte.
 alinus, a, um, of or made of an appull tree.
 alina, a, f. g. knauery, naughtynesse, contrary to bettie and goodnesse. Sometyme it signifis eth subtilitee with decepte, referrynge al thyn-ges to his owne profite.
 Malicia cali, the vnhollofomnesse of the apye.
 Malua soli, the naughtynesse of the grounde.
 aliose, subtilly, craftely, wylely, decepteful ly, spytfully, with an intent to beguyle.
 aliosus, a, um, craftye, subtille, deceptefull, pll.
 alium Rom. the herbe called also Anthes mis: looke there.
 alileator, oris, m. g. he that wooryeth with a hammer, mallet, or becpill.
 alieatus, a, um, hammered.
 alio, aui, are, to woorye with an hammer or mallette.
 alieolaris, re, as a twygge or bough.
 alieolaris virga, idem quod malleolus.
 alius, i, m. g. a litle hammer. it is also a sort of bough or twygge of a vyne, whynge out of the stalk. Also Malleoli, be sometyme taken generally for smalle stiches. They bee sometyme taken for the bones of the ancle.
 alius, ci, mal. gene. an hammer, a mallet,
 mallette.
 alius, a citee of Sicilia.
 alium, ii, neu. gene. & Malluia, arum,
 f. g. gene. a baten, wherein men dooc walthe theyr handes.
 alio, I had kiffer or rather, maui, mauult.
 Quidus iam malo quam. &c. I will rather suffre nowe any misadventure in the worlde, than se.
 alobathum, thri, n. g. a sweete herbe growynge in Indie vpon waters without roote.
 Also a sweete oymnt, wherewith men were wont to walthe theyr heare. Some wyte it Mas-labadrum.
 aloso, the herbe called also Lichnis corozmaria.
 alogramatum, a pome granate.
 alio, aui, are, to couer with the same or clay called mald a.
 alia, tha, f. g. a claie, whiche touchynge as ny other matter or substance, setteth it on fire, rede in Asphalum, & Bitumen.
 alia, a, f. g. gen. an herbe called malowes, or heliothos, which is named to be one kynd of malowes.

 Maluaceus, a, um, perteynyng to malowes, or lyke malowes.
 Maluaticum, ci, neut. gene. of some is vsed for malice.
 Maluauiscus, reade in Althea.
 Malum, li, n. g. an apple.
 Malum punicum, a pomegranate.
 Malum terra, reade Aristolochia.
 Malum medicum, citrum, Hespericum, Assy-rium, aureum, an orange or tyson.
 Malum Coroneum, vel Cydonicum, a quince Malum epiroticum, Romanis orbicularum, pome paradise.
 Mala struthia, mustea, melimela, certayne
 kyndes of quinces.
 Malum caninum, the mandrake.
 Malum terrestre, idem.
 Malum, substantiue, an pll thyng, a shewde tourne, a mischief. Also labour, vexation, sicknesse, griefe, payne, beatynge, punishment.
 Dare malum, to dooc a shewde tourne or displeasure, to hurte.
 Cauere malum, to beware and take hede of a mischief.
 Non potest ad salutem conuerti hoc malum, this mischief can neuer bee recouered or eas-sed.
 Malum habere, to haue a shewde displeasure.
 Malum pondus, a false weight.
 Vitare malum, to eschewe an pll mischief.
 Malum, byng an interfection, significth with a mischief, or lyke thyng.
 Quid vos malum ergo me sic ludificamini?
 than wherfore with a mischief do you thus mocke me?
 Quid tua (malum) id refert? what with a mis-chiefe reckest thou therfore, or haste thou therewith to dooc?
 Malus, a, um, pll, contrary to good.
 Non vides quantum mali ex ea re excites? doest thou not perceue, howe muche inconuenience thou stirrest by therby?
 Malus fidei possessor, he that wittingly possesseth an other mans landes and goodes wrogefully.
 Malus, li, m. g. the masse of a shippe.
 Malus, li, f. g. an apple tree.
 Malus Assyrica vel medica, an orange tree.
 Malus Persica, a peach tree.
 Malus coronea, a quince tree.
 Malus Punica, a pomegranat tree.
 Malus armeniaca, the fruite whiche some doe
 call an Ebyroke.
 Mamerus, a byshoppe of Vienna, whiche first ordeyned the rogacion or procession weke. 444.
 peres after Christe.
 Mamer, in the Dike tongue, the name of Mars.
 Mameres, one of Lozinthe.

Vv

Mamer

Mamertini, people in Campania.
 Mamiras, a roote, hauing dyces rounde bunches, which is good to take away scarres. Ruellius thinketh it that, whiche is called Doronicum Romanum.
 Mamilla, a, f. g. a litle dugge of pappe.
 Mamillare, ris, n. ge. a hercheffe, wherewith women dooe couer their pappes.
 Mamma, a, f. g. a dunge of pappe. Sometime it is taken for the mothe or nurse. Also a graunde mother. Sometime the budde of a tree before it be spronge out.
 Primam mammam dare, to geue fyrst sucke.
 Mammare, To geue the dugge or breste to a chyld.
 Mammeata, a woman with great dugges of brestes.
 Mammeatus, and mammosus, a, um, hauinge great dugges.
 Mammōna, a, f. ge. in the language of Syria, woildely substance, ryches.
 Mammothreptus, ti, m. g. the chyld that sucketh long, so is it interpreted by saint Augustyn in his exposition vpon the psalmes. Not withstanding Erasmus in ratione concionandi, interpreteth it a chyld wantonly brought vp.
 Mammula, a, a litle teate or dugge.
 Mamolaria, idem quod Acanthium.
 Mamolaria, the herbe Acanthia.
 Mamphula, a, f. ge. a certayne breadde used in Syria, whiche ere it bee throughe baken, falleth into coles.
 Mamphur, phuris, a rounde peece of tymber, that reueres bfe.
 Mamurius, a notable smith or engrauer, in the tyme of Numa.
 Mamuria, a gentylman of Rome.
 Mana, in the olde tyme was taken for Bona, good.
 Manālis, le, that, out of the which spoure alwaie renneth.
 Manalis fons, a welle that alwaie springeth.
 Manalis lapis, the deore of hell, by the whiche soules ascende to heauen. Also a stone by the temple of Mars, whiche whan the Romayns in a drought brought into the citie, there folowed alwaie rayne.
 Manans, artis, rennyng.
 Manantia vlcera, rennyng sores, or sores that encrease and were more and more.
 Manapia, a towne in Ireland called waterford.
 Manceps, mancipis, m. ge. a fermee that byeth or byeth a thyng of the people, one that byeth or byeth by thynges a great, and after letteth or letteth them at a greater price, for his owne aduantage. Also one that letteth a thyng on warranty. Sometime any other craftes man or huester.
 Mancipes conducti, they that take on them to dooe a thyng of great for money.
 Mancinati, persons condemned.

Mancipatus, a, um, bonde, brought in seruage.
 Mancipatus, us, a selling with warranty.
 In mancipatum venire, to be solde solemnly before witness with warranty.
 Mancipatio, ōnis, f. g. the assurance by hyure and possession.
 Mancipi, or Mancupi, indeclinable, the interest or right of a thyng.
 Mancupi emptio, the solemn forme of maner of bying any thyng before witness, by hyure and seylon, or possession takinge, with other thynges executed, requisite for the assurance of the bargayne and sale.
 Mancipi res, all thynges that maie be agreed from our possession to others. Also those thynges that be in our full and propre possession.
 Mancipium, or Mancupium, ti, n. g. that whiche is solemnly bought before witnesses, the contracte or bargayne of a thyng solde with warranty. Also a mans propre goodes or cattell. Sometime a bondman, a prisoner, a captiue.
 Fortuna nihil dat mancipio, Fortune geueth nothing to a man to possesse for euer.
 Mancipij sui esse, to bee his owne man, and none other mans subiect or seruant.
 Mancipio, or Mancupio accipere, to take possession of hyure and seylon, to take a thyng with warranty of hym that geueth or letteth it.
 Mancipio, or Mancupio dare, to deliuer possession referuynge a rente, to geue of sell a thyng with warranty.
 Vita mancipio nulli datur, Ife is geuen to no man as his owne propre possession.
 Mancipo, aui, are, to deliuer in bondage, to deliuer possession, to make hyure or seylon, to dispossesse our selfe, and geue possession to another. Also for Vendere, to sell.
 Mancupes, the principall takers of launde of other thyng, wherof groweth yearly reuenues. Also they that dooe take on them to performe any woork in great.
 Mancus, a, um, lackyng one hande. Also generally, that whiche lacketh any thyng necessarye, maymed, vnperfecte, weak.
 Manca cognitio, vnperfecte knowlage, wher some thyng lacketh.
 Fortuna manca, weak, of no puaunce.
 Mandane, Astiages daughter, mother to hyure Cyrus.
 Mandararius, he to whom a commaundement is geuen.
 Mandator, ōnis, m. gen. he that willeteth or chargeth one to dooe a thyng. he that suborneth a teltale or false accuser.
 Mandator cordis, he that suborneth or promoueth one to committe a murther.
 Mandatum, ti, neu. g. a commission, also a commaundement, a charge.
 Mandata conficere, perficere, exequi, facere, To doo the thynges that one is commaunded or charged.

Dare

Dare mandata alicui ad aliquem, To wyl of charge one to dooe certayne thynges by an other that goeth as messenger betwene.
 Fallere mandata alicuius, To deceiue one, and not to dooe that a man wylleth or chargeth hym to dooe.
 Habere mandata ab aliquo, To haue commission, commaundement or charge of one, to dooe or saie a thyng.
 Mandata addere, to geue in charge or commission moreouer.
 Mandatus, us, m. gen. a byddyng, chargeyng, or commaundyng.
 Mandatus, a, um, geuen in charge or committed to one to dooe.
 Mandela, a bylage of the Sabynes.
 Mandibula, a, f. m. gen. a iawbone, wherin the teeth be sette.
 Mando, ōnis, in. gen. a great eater, or he that is alwaie eatyng.
 Mando, di, ere, to chewe meate or grynde it with the teeth.
 Lenissime mandere, to chewe meate softly.
 Mando, aui, are, to comyn, to charge, to commaunde, to bydde, to geue in charge.
 Memoria mandare, To remembre, to put in remembrance, to leaue in memorie or for a memoriall, to putte in writyng. Also to comyn by herte.
 Mandare æternitati, to write a thyng, to the intent it shoulde be in perpetuall remembrance.
 Mandare curam, to leaue the charge vnto one.
 Mandare fidei alicuius, To put a man in trust with a thyng.
 Mandare litteris, To put in writyng or memoriall.
 Mandare monumentis, to put the acte of any man in perpetuall remembrance.
 Mandare se fugæ, to renne awaie.
 Mandare terræ semina, to put seede into the grounde, to sowe grapne or seedes.
 Sain hoc mandatum est tibi: is this byddyng enoughe for the?
 Mandare in ultimas terras, To banyshe or sende to the bittermost partes or ende of the worlde.
 Dona nostra hac tuæ mando fidei, I comitt all these my gooddes to your fidelitee.
 Mi puto esse in truste, with all these my gooddes.
 Humo mandare aliquem, to burie one.
 Versibus mandare, to write in verses.
 Honores mandare, To geue offres or dignities to one. Likewise Mandare magistratum.
 Mandonius, a spagyricke capitayne.
 Mandra, a, f. g. an houell or other lyke place, wherin cattell dooe saue them selves from the beate of the soonne, or from tempestes, a beasens stall.
 Mandragora, a, f. g. mandrake, an herbe which Dioscorides saith was of som called Circea, because it was fetted, that Circe the great sorceresse, used the roote thereof in hir amorous bynynges. The iuice of the roote, or wyne wher in the roote is boyled, will cause one to slepe a deade slepe. wherfore surgeons dooe vse to geue it to them, whom they wyl cutte. It is also used for other purposes in physyke. of this herbe be two kyndes, the male and the female.
 Mandrabulus, a man that founde a great treasure: on whom goeth a pource.
 Mandro, a poore shypman, which throughe prosperous fortune, grew at length to bee a great capitayne.
 Manduces, images caried about in paganes with great chekes, wyde mouthes, and makynge a great soun with their teeth.
 Manduco, aui, are, and manducor, aris, ari, in olde wyttis, to chewe meate, to cate.
 Manduco, ōnis, m. g. a great eater.
 Manducus, ci, idem.
 Mane, yearly, also in the moynyng.
 Mane & mani, dixerunt veteres.
 Hodie mane, to date in the moynyng yetly.
 Tam mane, so yearly in the moynyng.
 Dormire totum mane, to slepe all the moynyng. A mane diei, euen from the moynyng.
 Multo mane, and bene mane, beate yearly.
 Nimis mane, very yearly or to yearly.
 Manco, manū, ēre, to abyde, to tarie, to stande still, to remayne, to continue, to perseue, to happen hereafter, to be lyke to chaunce hereafter. Sometime for expectare, to abyde long for.
 Manere promissis, to kepe promysse, to sticke to ones promysse.
 Manere ad exercitum, to tarie with the army.
 Manere aliquem, to abyde lokyng for one.
 Quicunque te manent casus, what channes so euer bee like to fall to you, or shall come to you hereafter.
 Manet te bonum, some good fortune wyl chaunce to the.
 Periculum ingens manet, nisi. &c. there will great daunger ensue or folowe, except. &c.
 Manit Silius postea omnibus cognomen, qui Alba regnauerunt. All that reigned after at Alba were surnamed Silii, or had this surname Silius.
 Lex manet, cui opponitur abrogata est.
 In officio manere, To dooe his duetie dilligently.
 Si sententia tua manet, if you bee still in that opinion.
 Manent causæ, the same causes or leasens be still.
 Id mihi manet, that tarteth with me, or I haue that still.
 Manere in conditione, to sticke to the offer that he hath made.
 Manere in fide, to be true.

V v ij

Mane

Manebitur, the impersonall.
 Manedum, tartie a whyte.
 Manes, manium, plu. tan. m. g. the good and badde aungell: sometymes they bee taken for duelles, sometyme for goddes, sometyme for spirites or soules not purged of synne. Some tyme for the peynes, whiche soules doe suffer.
 Manes, an heretike, whiche affirmed him selfe sometyme to be lyke Christe, sometyme to bee the comfortour that was promysed to come.
 Manethus Mendes, a priest of Egypte.
 Mango, onis, com. g. was taken for a seller of boyes to abhominable vices, whiche accustomed to printe and deche them, to sell them the better. It is taken also for such a one as poseth and printeth a thyng with a false colour, to sell it the deerer. It is sometyme taken for a seller of boyes, a hofe coser that pampareth by his boyes to make them seeme laye.
 Mangonicus, a, um, perteynyng to that craft.
 Mangonium, n, u. g. the craft to make thynges saleable.
 Mangonicus, a, um, tymmed, polished, pyncted, pampered or porred by, to bee the better solde.
 Mangonizo, aui, are, to polysth, pyncte, or trim a thyng, to make it more vendible, or to be better solde.
 Mania, a, f. g. madnesse, ecade in Phrenitis.
 Mania, a citee of Persia.
 Mania, was also amonge the gentyls a goddesse called the mother of them, whiche were called Lares, or Larui, unto the whiche goddesse they vsed a while to offer mens heades in sacrifice. But after by meanes of Jun. Brutus, which was consull, they chaunged y sacrifice into garlyche heades, and the kinoppes of popies. It was also that, wherewith nourices byd put childe in feare whan they cryed, whiche women vse to calle the bugge, or the goblin.
 Mania, arum, f. g. plu. defourmed personages.
 Manica, arum, plur. manacles to tie the handes together: also gauntlettis and splintes: also mittaynes and longe gloves.
 Manica, a, f. g. a sleue of a garment.
 Manicatus, a, um, sleued or hangyng sleues.
 Manicava vestis, a garment with sleues.
 Mauchai, a secte of heretikes, so named of an arche heretike called Manes.
 Manicon, an herbe called also furialis.
 Manicula, la, f. g. a little hande.
 Manicus, ci, m. g. a madde man.
 Manifestarius, a, um, clere, euident, openly known, notozious.
 Manifestaria res est, the thyng is very euydent and notably known.
 Manifestarius fur, a thefe notably known.
 Manifeste, clerely, manifestely, euydentely, playnely.
 Manifesto, an aduerbe, clerely, playnly.
 Manifesto, aui, are, to manifest or make aparynt.

Manifestus, a, um, manifeste, clere, euidente, playne.
 Manifestum habere, to knowe surely.
 Manifestus mendacii, proued a lyar. Iste wyle manifestus vauitatis, flagiti, ambicionis, delicti.
 Manifestum facere, to declare playnely.
 Manilius, the name of a noble house amonge the Romaynes.
 Manimoria, thynges that dooe abyde in remembrance.
 Maniola, ples agaynst Indie, beyonde the ryuer of Ganges, where as bee rockes of Adamant stones, which dooe drawe vnto them thynges that haue yron naples. Maniola were also little puppettes made of dowe, geuen to childe.
 Manipularis, & Manipularis, a capitayne of a bande of men. A standerde bearer.
 Manipularis, re, of or belongyng to a bande of men.
 Manipulatio, by bandes or companies of men.
 Manipulus, li, mas, gen. an handfull, a gyspe, a bande of men, properly of. r. coulours.
 Manipulus feni, a bottell of hye.
 Manius, the name of certayne Romaynes.
 Manliana, a citee of Portugale, an other of Tuscane.
 Manliana imperia, cruell gouernaunce, or rule without any mercy.
 Manlius, the name of dyuers noble romaynes.
 Manna, in holy scripture was a certayne delicate thyng, whiche god rained to the Jewes, beyng in wyldernes, whiche laye on the grounde whyte, and lyke to the seede of Colander, and was wonderfull pleasaunt in eating, and by lykelhode holsome, as engendryng no putrefaction. Nowe, we dooe commonly name it aungelles foodde. Manna vied in phisike, is in .ii. sortes. One is a dewe congealed on trees in certayne places, and falleth as meldeu dooth here in Englaunde, & is gatherd red and solde vraye deare for a medicine to purge choler easlye: some supposed it to be that, whiche Dioscorides calleth Eleacomeli: some, that which he calleth Saccharum. But manardus and Musca, dooe affirme the contrarye. Not withstandinge that, whiche Galen in his worke de alimentorum facultatibus, calleth Mel rois, seemeth to be this Manna. But Asnerois putteth it amonge those thynges, whiche were founde after Galens tyme. In another Manna, called Manna duris, is the crumbe of fragments of franchentse, whiche with the rynde of the tree, falleth in the gathering of franchentse. The first is temperate betwene hote and colde without any degree, this other is of the temperature of incense, but that it is more byndyng.
 Mannor, aris, ari, to scate.
 Mannulus, li, and Mannus, i, m. g. a nagge, a lute lytell hofe.

 Mannus, the soonne of Teuton, of whom the Almagres descended.
 Manto, aui, are, to renne out, as lycour dooth.
 Manto to droppe out, to appere out as sweate out of the pores. Also to descende, to procede, to goe abroade, to speade abroade.
 Manatona vrbe ruinor, the buyte therof was speade and towne throughe the citee.
 Mananna vlcera, sores that dooe waie more and more.
 Lachryma manauere genis, the teares tryed hied downe his cheekes.
 Manat picem hanc arbor, pittche renneth out of this tree, or this tree sweateth or sendeth out pittche.
 Gelidus toto manabat corpore sudor, all his bodie was in a colde sweate.
 Manat sudore, he sweateth.
 Manabat omnibus gaudio lachryma, they all wepte for ioy.
 Laus manabit hanc oratio, this kynde of oration wyl serue to many other thynges, or be vied in many other thynges.
 Manabat indies latius, it dailely encreased and went further abroade.
 Manababuli, wet darters wrought with leade, also they whiche vied to beare them.
 Manio, onis, f. g. the abydyng or taryng in a place, lodgyng or bairnyng. Sometyme it signifyth a daies iourney. But amonge auncient writers it signified the place where an host byd rest in iourney. Also the places, where coursers of men ridyng in poste, dooe change theyr hofes or waggons, were called Manionnes. The space of the fyft, after the accompte of olde capitaynes, was. 150. furlonges, whiche is. 18. miles, a halfe myle, and a quarter of a myle.
 Manisterna, a pitchar pottle.
 Manio, aui, are, to abyde longe. Also to chaw or chew often.
 Manus, stollen.
 Manufacio, efacio, feci, facere, to make gentyl or tractable, to make taame.
 Manufactus, a, um, made gentill or taame.
 Manus, for Manufectus.
 Manufeco, scere, to waie taame or gentyl.
 Sometyme for Manufecere.
 Manufectarius, rij, m. ge. a he that breaketh an hofe, or maketh any other brast taame.
 Manufectido, dinis, f. g. meekenesse, gentylnesse, a moderate temperaunce betwene pryde and simplicitie.
 Manufectus, meekely, gentilly, famely.
 Manufectus, a, um, mecke, gentill, taame.
 Hac ego putabam omnia esse humani ingenij, manufectique animi officia, I thought all these to be the partes of a gentyll nature, and of a tendre herte.
 Manum, si, neu, gen. meate, whiche the nuyres dooth chewe, and after geue it to the chyld, putting it into his mouth.

 Manus, a, um, of Mando, mandi, chetwed.
 Manusius, a gouernaundour of great eater.
 Mantelium, li, mantelium, li, and mantele, lis, n. g. a towell or naphya, wherewith men dooe wipe their handes, whan they haue washed. also a cloke.
 Mantelium mendacii, a cloke or couer to hide ones lies.
 Mantes, tis, m. g. a diuinour or coniectour of thynges to come.
 Mantem, rei, n. g. a place, where dyuelles in idollis gaue aunswers.
 Mantia, a, f. g. diuination. also the bushe called rubus: looke there.
 Mantice, tices, f. g. the arte of diuination.
 Mantica, ca, f. g. a bagge. sometyme a cloke, a wallet.
 Mantiora, a beaste, whiche is in India, in bodie lyke to a lyon, but more rough, haunge a face lyke to a man, and in his mouthe two reues of sette of teeth, the tangle of a scorpion, and the voyce of a small trumpet, and is of coloure rebde, and will neuer be made taame.
 Mantacula, la, feni. gener. a little bagge or purse.
 Manticularia, towells or other lyke thynges, wherewith men dooe wipe theyr handes.
 Manticularius, rij, m. g. a stealer of nappye, also a picke purse or cut purse.
 Mantulatio, onis, f. g. signesse, decepte.
 Mantulor, aris, ari, to dooe a thyng slepy, as to picke a purse.
 Mantile, lis, idem quod Mantelium.
 Mantinea, a citee in Grece.
 Mantis, idem quod Mantis.
 Mantiscinor, aris, ari, to steale or picke craftily.
 Mantissa, a, f. g. the addition in wryght, sometimes what ouer.
 Mansius, the soonne of Melampus.
 Manto, the soonne of Cretas the Theban prophet, who led his father, whiche was blinde.
 Manto, aui, are, the most auncient writers vied for frequenter manere, to tartie often tymes.
 Mantua, a noble citee in Lombardie, where Virgil the excellent poete was borne.
 Mantuanus, a, um, of Mantua.
 Mantuarie tunica, sleued iackettes.
 Manualis, le, of the hande, or that fillethe the hande, or that is holden in the hande.
 Manualis, idem quod iuncus marinus.
 Manuarius, a, um, manuali, that belongeth to the hande.
 Manubia, arum, f. g. pl. the prae take of enimies, the bootie: after some, the capitaynes parte of the prae. Also a spoye taken of some noble person that geldeth. also money, for the whiche the prae was solde.
 Manubialis, la, perteynyng to a prae or bootie.
 Manubialis pecunia, money that the prae is solde for.

 Manubinaris, a, um, parte taker of a praye or booty.
 Manubriolum, li, n. g. a little hafte or handyll.
 Manubrium, bri, n. g. the hylte or handill of a weapon or instrument.
 Oſtea manubria, bonie haftes.
 Manui, amonge the olde Romayns in their ſonges called Salutaris, ſignified good or honeſte men.
 Manuleatus, a, um, haupnge longe ſleues, or that weareth a garment with longe ſleues: and by tranſlation, a nice, tendre, & delicate perſon.
 Manuleata tunica, a cote with longe ſleues, ſooke Chirodota.
 Manulearius, rij, m. g. he that maketh garments with longe ſleues.
 Manuin, clere, wherof cometh Mané, the mozt nypnge.
 Manumifſio, onis, f, g. an infranchiſement of a bonde man.
 Manumifſus, a, um, infranchiſed, manumifed.
 Manumitto, miſi, mittere, to manumife or infranchise a bonde man.
 Manuſtus, a, um, made with hande.
 Manuor, idem quod Furor.
 Manuprecium, ch, n. g. the rewarde of wages for woorkemanſhippe.
 Manuria, a cote with ſleues.
 Manus, us, f, g. a hande, a mans hande in wyppng, a wyppng, a ſubſcription with ones owne hande. alſo a grapill to faſten ſhyppes together. ſometyme it ſignifieth a multitude of men in the apde of one: ſometyme power. alſo the noſe or ſnout of an olifante.
 Manus iniection, attachment. alſo ſeaſon or ſeſure of a thyng, wherunto we make title.
 Manum injicere, to ſeſe or take poſſeſſion.
 Mittere manus ad rem aliquam, to ſeſe or take poſſeſſion of a thyng to ſome uſe.
 Manu conſertum ex iure vocare, to chalenge ryght or propriete in a thyng, and offre to trie it by the lawe. Reade Gell. li. ix. Cicer. pro Murena, and De oratore, lib. i.
 Manum conſerere, to ſpyghte hande to hande.
 Manum ſerula ſubducere, to ſuffre to be corrected in learning, to be contente to be taught, to be learned, ones to haue gone to ſchoole, and now to be paſt teaching.
 Manum non venterim, I wyll neuer go about it, I wyll not turne my hande for it, I paſſe not muche, I care not.
 Manum habere ſub pallio, to be ydell, to be nothinge lyuely or ſteeryng.
 Manus pedibusque, with all myght and maine, with hande and foote, with toothe and nyle, as muche as in hym lieth, at that euer he maye right buſily.
 Manus pedibusque ire in ſententiam, is in a parliament, great counſaile, or other great aſſembly, to haue the conſente of many men, where I greater parte conſenting to one mans opinion or ſentence, dooe goe towards hym, holdyng by theſe handes, in token that they therunto agreed.

 Mittere manum, in dice playng to pardon one that caſteth the thowwe, wherby he leſeth all.
 Manum de tabula, a prouerbe, ſignifyinge, leaue whyles it is well.
 Manum & mentum, was an olde prouerbe, wherby men were warned of chaunces, whiche happened ſodeinly, and in ſo ſhorte a tyme as a man myght byngge his hande to his chin. Ipe to the ſame is an other prouerbe of the grekes, Multa quidem cadunt inter calicem ſupremaeque labra: reade that in, M. ante. V.
 Compreſſa in pugnum manus, the ſpke.
 Manus oculata, handes lookynge alwaie to receyue that was promyſed.
 Mea manu ſcripta littera, letters of myne owne wytyngge.
 Plena manu, lyberally, boſtintfully, coppy ouſly.
 Aquis manibus abſcedere, ſo to departe fro battayle, that neyther can tell whiche hath the better hand, to departe on euen hande.
 Afferre manus, to kyll.
 Inter manus accipere aliquem, to take one by aſte, and carie out betwene men.
 Manu capere, to wyn in war by ſtrong hande.
 Collidere manus, to clappe the handes together. Vix continet manus, he dooeth ſcantly holde his handes.
 Dedere manus, to yeſde.
 Viſtas dare manus, idem.
 Manu docere, to teache playnly.
 Manibus praelium facere, to ioygne battayle, to ſpyght hande to hande.
 Habere ad manum, to haue in a readineſſe.
 Imponere ſummam manum, to make an ende of a thyng, to make perfecte.
 Intentare manus in aliquem, to laſe handes upon one.
 Manus multas poſcit hoc opus, this woork requereth the helpe of many.
 Pulſare vtraque manu, to thump with bothe the ſides.
 Hoc ſuccedit ſub manibus negotium, this thyng cometh well to paſſe, or hath good ſuccede.
 Eſſe manus alicuius, to helpe one.
 In manibus veſtris habetis, it is in your power. Eſt in manibus liber, the boke is abyode in euery mans hande.
 Plus illi in manu eſt, he is rycher, he hath greater ſubſtaunce.
 In manus ſumere, to take in hande.
 Tendere manus, to holde by the handes as men doe in playng and deſirynge.
 Tollere manus, to caſt by the handes for ioy.
 Longa manu dare, to ppoſe and promyſe a thyng, but not to geue it out of hande.
 Breui manu dare, to geue ſoothe with that one one promyſeth.

 Res ad manus veniebat, it came to that poynt that they fought for the matter.
 Inter manus verſari, to be abroade in mens handes.
 Per manus, and De manu in manum, frome hande to hande, from one to an other.
 Pra manu pecuniam dare, to geue money beſe for hande.
 Quod mihi fuit pra manibus, that I had in my handes.
 Sub manu, at hande.
 Pro manus, precio aliquid dare, to geue any thyng for the woorkemanſhippe.
 Manzanion, of Actius is taken for the roote of Colocasia.
 Napala, dium, neu. gen. plu. cotages buyled rounde lyke ouerns.
 Napeta, a cite of Sarmatia, called commonly Lopa.
 Nappa, a, f, g. a table clothe.
 Naramus, is a kynde of the feuer called Heſtica, in the whiche the moſture of the ſubſtance of the bodye is exhauſte or dried by, and the ſelfe reſolued. wherfore Galeſus reſorteth the phyſician, not to go about to cure hym, whom this ſickneſſe hath attached. For although he dooe extinguiſhe the heate, yet wyl the dyſpenſe, that is leſte, lyke vnto age, conſume the patiente. The cauſes thereof be the ſame, whiche are of Heſtica, the one and the other is called in engliſhe a conſumption feuer: but this maye be called a moztall conſumption, becauſe it is incurable.
 Naramus, idem quod Hippomathon.
 Marathon, a towne & a field in the countrey of Aethieſſe, diſtant from theſe .x. mile, where Chaceus ſlew a terrible bull, and Philciades vanquiſhed the Perſians.
 Maragritus, a kynde of wyne, haupnge ſnell in ſauor, good for the eye ſpyght.
 Marachia, an ite, wherin is abundance of ſeſnell, and it is alſo called Clazemenia.
 Maradrum, thi, n. g. idem quod ſenichlum, ſnell, whiche is hotte and drye in the ſeconde degree.
 Marcella, a womans name.
 Marcellus, a propre name.
 Marceo, cui, cere, to corrupte, to be rotten.
 Mancere vino, to be conſumed with dyonkenneſſe.
 Marcet animus, his courage ſaplethe hym, his mynde is ſlouthfull and heauie, he is without courage or lyſe.
 Marceo, cere idem quod Marceo, to waſe rotten or corrupted, to become vniuſte.
 Marceſcere orio vel deſidia, to be loſte with ſlowneſſe and ſlouth.
 Marceſcente adhuc ſtomacho pridiani cibi onere, the ſtomacke beynge yet oppreſſed and feeble with the meate that he hadde eaten the daie before.

Marchaſita, idem quod Pyrites, as Georg. Aſgricola teſtifieth.
 Marchia, a countrey in baſe Germanie.
 Marchlas, a notable robber in the woodde Dodonia.
 Marculus, li. m. g. a hammer, or other lyke inſtrumente, that a copper ſmith dooeth uſe.
 Marcidus, a, um, rotten, feeble, vniuſte.
 Marcida aures, hangyng cares.
 Marcidus ſomno, vniuſte with to much ſleepe.
 Marcipanes, a kynde of bread named of the inuentour marcheſaine.
 Marcipor, marciporis, ma. gen. the ſeruant of Marcus.
 Marcomani, people in Germanie, whiche are now ſuppoſed to be cyther of Boheme, or of Moravia.
 Marcor, oris, m. g. corruption or putrefaction, ſuggardie.
 Mardi, a people adioynyng to Perſia.
 Mardonius, one of Perſes capitaynes.
 Mare, ris, n. g. the ſea. it is ſometyme putte for any great water.
 Mare calo miſcere, to trouble all the worlde.
 Mare Mediterraneum, the ſea, whiche cometh from the weſte ocean, and entreth by the ſtreites of Harroche, and paſſeth beſe the ſpaine and Barbarie, diuidyng Caropa from Africa, and entreth into Aſia, to kyngge not withſtandyng dreyes particular names: as Balearicum, Ligutiſticum, Tիրիշ num, Carpathium, Aegeum. &c.
 Infeſtum mare habere, to trouble the ſea.
 Mari terraque quere, to ſeke currey where, bothe by ſea and by lande.
 Mare rubrum, the redde ſea, betwene Egypt and Paleſtine.
 Marcotis, otidis, a poole or meere in Egypte, alſo a parte of Libya, and a parte of Egiptus.
 Marga, a certayne fountayne.
 Marioides, grapes of the countrey of Marcotis.
 Marga, a, f, g. a kynde of earthe called marle, whiche is a fatte clare and chalte myngled.
 Margarida, ſmall dates, rounde and whyte.
 Margaris, margaridis, ſoc. gen. a kynde of date trees.
 Margarita, a, f, g. and Margaritum, ti. ne. ge. a perle: a margarite. ſometyme generally all precious ſtones are called Margaritae. ſometyme a date.
 Margaritarius, rij, m. g. a ſeller of perles.
 Margariteſer, ra, rum, that whiche bynggeth ſoothe or hath plenty of perles.
 Margiana, a region in Aſia.
 Margites, the name of a very ſoole, after whom all notable ſooles be ſo called.
 Margo, marginis, com. g. the brymme or edge of any thyng, the margent.
 Margines imperij, the boundes or marches of the empyre.
 Marginatus, a, um, that hath a bryde margent.

Margino, aui, are, to make bynnes, bymnes or margentes.
Margus, a river in Asia.
Mara, a, f. g. a proper name.
Mariaba, the chiefe cite in Saba.
Mariandini, people of Bithunia.
Mariandinum, a countrey in Asia, where Hercules ouercame Cerberus.
Marianus, a hylle in Spayne.
Marica radix, the herbe called also Iris.
Marica, a goddess.
Maridunum, the towne of Laice Marthen in wales.
Marinus, a, um, of the sea.
Marina aqua, salt water of the sea.
Marinus color, id est, varius color.
Marionus, Lunemburgh in Almayne.
Maris, a ruere rennyng into Jylter.
Maritica, vntauey figges, wyde fygges, fygges whiche dooe open that the seedes dooe appere.
Also great piles of hemoproides in the sundement.
Mariscus, ci, m. g. or Mariscum, ci, n. g. a kynde of bull rushess.
Muita, a, f. g. a wedded woman, a wyfe.
Maritalis, le, perteynyng to wedlocke.
Capitulum maritale, the bonde of wedlocke.
Maritigenus, a, um, come of the kynd of Mars.
Marimms, a, um, of the sea syde, of the sea coast.
Marito, aui, are, to wedde: and is spoken also of trees, as to set vines to elmes or other trees.
Maritari, to be made great with ponge.
Maritus, ti, m. g. a wedded man, an housebade.
sometyme it is taken for a cocke, sometyme for the bucke gode, or the male in any couple.
Marius, the proper name of a noble Romayn.
Marmarica, a countrey in Aethiopia, betwene Egypte, Libya, and Egypte, hauyng on the north the Egeyppien sea.
Marmaride, people of Aethiopia, marcheving to Egypte.
Marmaritis, tidis, f. g. an herbe, supposed of Dioscorides to bee Jumpyrie.
Marmor, onis, n. g. marble stone.
Marmorarius, ri, m. gene. he that woorketh in marble, a marbler.
Marmoratio, onis, f. g. buyldyng with marble.
Marmoratus, a, um, wrought with marble, that is couered with marble.
Marmorata laudes, images of marble, set vp for the memorie of any man.
Marmoratum, ti, n. g. a thyng made of marble.
Marmoreus, a, um, of marble.
Marmorosus, a, um, harde like marble.
Maro, ronis, the name of the most excellent poete Virgil.
Maronia, a cite of the Liconias, where is beate god wyne, and after some so strong, that if twentie tymes so muche water bee put to, it keepeth his strength still. also the herbe censaure.

Maronius, a, um, of Maronia.
Marpesius, an hill in the yle called Parus.
Marpesius, a, um, of the same hill.
Marpissa, the daughter of Euenus, and wyfe of Idas.
Marplacidæ, thyppes or barges used in Media.
Mara, a, f. g. a mattocke to pare awate weeds.
Marubium, bi, n. g. an herbe called hoyehoude:
it is hott and drie in the second degree.
Marrucini, people in Italie.
Mars, martis, called the god of battayle. sometime it is taken for battayle.
Mars communis, the vniuersall chaunce of warre.
Marte suo, of his owne proper witte without any counsaile.
Mars capivulum, the herbe Eriogonum.
Mars sanguis, the herbe Asarum.
Marticola, a wordwypper of Mars.
Mars, people in Scythia.
Marspiter, the father of Mars.
Marsia, a countrey in Italie. it is also a ruere rennyng by Spamea.
Marsus, and Mariscus, a, um, of Marsia.
Marsupium, pi, n. g. a pouche or purse.
Marsyas, the name of a famous historigrapher, of certayne other men. also a ruere of Phry-gia named of one Marsyas, a minstrel.
Marsia, Catos ponger daughter.
Marsia, a, f. g. a water in Rome, beate holleome and excellent.
Marsica, wages geuen to souldiours.
Marsiacus, a, um, belongyng to warres.
Martialis, le, bozne under the plant of Mars.
Martianus, a, um, of Mars.
Martialis, the name of a poete, who wrote Episgrammes.
Marsius, the name of dyuers Romaynes.
Martius, a, um, perteynyng to Mars.
Martius Campus, a feld at Rome dedicate to Mars, where the yong men of Rome dyd erect ephe them self. Also there were their assemblies, for the election of their great officers.
Martius mensis, the month called Marche.
Martyr, martyris, com. ge. a martyr, a witness.
Martyrium, martyrdome.
Marulium, vide maiulium, lettuce.
Marullus, the name of a Romayne, ennemy to Cesar. Also of a poete, and of a grammarian.
Marum, ri, an herbe, whiche Salen saith, is like maioram, but of greater saueur.
Maruda, a certayne measure, containyng two of the measures called Cotyla.
Mas, mavis, the male of curre kynde.
Masalia, a river of Crete.
Maschala, an ungin, wherewith the fardels bee hoysted in and out of thyppes, such as wee call a Crane.
Maschalion, after some is a basket, made of a date tree, because a twigge of the date tree is called Maschale. some take it for a rope.

Masculesco, scere, to be manly, great or wise, to be comen of the male kynde.
Masculerum, ti, n. ge. a place where male vines dooe growe.
Masculinus, a, um, masculine, that is of the male kynde.
Masculo, aui, are, to make manly or stronge.
Masculus, a, um, manly, great, wyse, stronge, hardye.
Masculus, li, m. g. a man.
Mardoranus, a mountayne, which diuideth Parthia from Armenia.
Masiniia, loke Malsinissa.
Masperum, ti, n. ge. the leafe of an herbe, of the whiche cometh Veniowynce, or after some the scalbe of that herbe.
Masa, a, m. g. a ruere in Libya.
Masa, a, f. g. paaste, a lump of any thyng.
Masa auri, a wedge of golde.
Masa ferri, a barre of iron.
Masageta, a people in Asia, whiche rennyng on horse backe through desartes, dooe drinke their horse bloude mixt with mylke: they also dooe eate their parentes, if they die for age: but if they be sicke, they cast them to wyde beastes, to be deuoured.
Masica, a countrey in the southe parte of Spain.
Masieum, ci, neu. gen. wyne of the mountayne Masieus.
Masieus, a mountayne in Campania, where is very good wyne.
Masilia, a cite in hygh France, called Marfiles.
Masiliensis, le, Malsilianus, and Malsilioni-cus, a, um, of Marfiles.
Masiniia, a kyng of Numidia, and great friend to the Romayns.
Masyla, a countrey in Aethiopia amonge the western doores.
Masylus, Masylus, and Masyleus, a, um, of Masyla.
Maslo, aui, are, to make in paast, to make thicke.
Maslicos, reuerende, honourable.
Masliche, ches, f. g. gene. a soote gumme called Maslix.
Masigia, a, f. ge. and Mastigeus, gei, m. gen.
a knave woorthy to be beaten.
Mastigophorus, ri, a felowe woorthy to be whipped. also a certayne minister, which with whip-pes remoued the people wher there was muche pleafe.
Mastix, tigus, m. g. a whippe, a scourge.
Mastos, a teate of a cesterne, wherby water
doeth renne out by a cocke or spoute.
Mastruca, ca, f. gen. a garment, whiche men of Sardinia used to weare.
Mastrucatus, a, um, that weareth such a garment.
Mastrupari, to touche dishonestly the priuie members of a man.
Maturus, the name of a famous lawier, whiche wrote on the lawes ciuile.

Masytipos, idem quod anagallis purpurea.
Matella, la, f. g. an vnnall or other bevell seruynge to that purpose, a water pottle.
Matellio, onis, m. g. idem.
Mateotechnia, the vanitee, whiche is in a science or craft.
Mateola, la, a lyttle betyll or mallet.
Mater, matris, f. gene. a mother, a dame. some-tyme a source.
Matrem gerere, to doe the parte of a mother,
to execute the office and dutie of a mother.
Mater Sylux, of some is taken for Ioue.
Matercula, a, f. g. a lyttle mother.
Materfamilias, genitiuo, matrisfamilias, f. g.
an housewyfe, god wyfe of the house, she that hath gouernance of other women, bee she maryed or vnmaryed: sometyme a wyfe.
Matremmatrima, she that hath a mother tyuynge.
Maternus, a, um, motherly, of a mother, on the mothers syde.
Materia, a, and Materies, ei, f. g. matter, wher-of any thyng is made, be it mettall, woodde, stone, erthe, or any thyng els. It is often taken for all maner of tymber or wood. also the body of the tree vnder the barke. also occasion.
Materies dicitur etiam de equis.
Materia libri, the matter, argument, or preposition, wherof a booke treateth.
Materialis, le, that whiche is of some matter.
Materialius, ri, m. g. a carpenter.
Materialius, a, um, of tymber, or belongyng to tymber.
Materialia fabrica, carpenters craft, or a carpenters shop.
Materialio, onis, f. g. and Materialura, ra, f. g.
tymbrynge.
Materialus, a, um, tymbred, made of some matter.
Aedes male materialia, ill tymbred.
Matior, aris, ari, to warke in tymbre.
Materiali, idem quod Lignari.
Matris, ris, f. g. a frenche speare or iavelyn.
Matrera, a, f. g. an aunt or mothers syster.
Mathematicus, ci, m. gen. he that is cunnyng in aulgrym, musike, geometric, and astronomie.
Mathesis, sis, f. g. and Mathema, thematis, n. g.
lernyng by demonstration.
Matinus, a hylle of Calabrie.
Matralia, n. ge. plur. the solenne feastes of Matuta, called the mother of goddis.
Matresco, scere, to bee lyke a mother, to wape mother lyke.
Matricida, a, m. g. he that killeth his mother.
Matricaria, idem quod Amaracus.
Matricidium, di, neu. gene. murtheryng of ones
mother.
Matrimonium, ni, n. g. wedlocke, matrimony.
Matrimus, mi, m. g. whose mother yet lyueth.
Matrix, tris, f. g. the mother or matrice in a woman, in the whiche the chyld is conceived.
in herbes or shrubbes it is the pith. Also matrix,

rix, is any female hynde, that conceyeth and beareth. Also the cruce in a countrey where as the archbishops see is called Matrix vrbs, whiche in greke is called Metropolis. It is alſo the pythe of a tree.

Matrix arbor, a tree that bringeth good graffes. Matrōna, a, f. ge. a wyfe, a matrone. alſo the name of a ryuer in Burbon.

Matronalis le, pertynyng to a wyfe.

Matruelis, lis, f. g. my mothers brother ſonne.

Matra, ra, f. g. a matre.

Mattea, idem quod Matya.

Matricea pile, ſope balles.

Mattyacum, a towne in Germanie.

Maucici, men with great cheecks and broad mouthes.

Marya, orum, n. g. a deyntie dythe, coſtely and pꛛecious meate.

Maryolicus, a coſtly feeder, a glutton.

Matala, le, f. g. a water poire, an vynall. alſo a timorous and fearefull ſclowe.

Maturatus, a, um, made rype. alſo haſtened.

Maturata concoctio, id eſt, perfectia.

Maturato opus eſt, it muſt bee dooen with ſpede, he muſt make ſpede.

Maturatio, onis, f. g. making ſpede or haſte.

Maturate, haſtely, quickly.

Inbe maturate illam exire huc, byd hir come forth quickly.

Mature, tymely, noz to ſoone, noz to late, in ſeaſon, in good tyme, in a good houre alſo betymes, carely, quickly, with the ſoonest.

Mature mittere, to ſende in due tyme.

Maturime, and maturiſſime, the ſuperlative.

Matureſco, maturui, ſcere, to bee rype.

Maturitas, tatis, f. g. rypeneſſe in all thyng, and as it were perfection, maturitee, oportunitie good ſeaſon, tyme conuenient.

Nondum eſt maturitas illud faciendi, it is not yet tyme conuenient. &c.

Maturo, aui, are, to make rype or perfect, to doo a thyng perfectly in due tyme and meaſure. ſometye to dooe a thyng ſpedyly or quickly, to hpe, to make haſte, to make ſpede.

Id vt maturent, that they would make haſte with all, or done it ſpedyly.

Cepta maturare, to make ſpede to atchieue thynges that one hath enterpryſed.

Mortem maturare, to haſten ones death.

Ni maturatum ab eo eſſet, excepte he had made good ſpede.

Maturare & properare.

Maturor, aris, ari, idem quod Matureſco.

Maturus, a, um, rype, perfecte. ſometye it ſignifieth aged. alſo quickly dooen or with ſpede.

Matura tas, full or perfecte age.

Maturus homo, an aged man.

Maturus cibo, meete or ready to be eaten.

Cum multo maturius ſurrexiſſet, when that he roſe farre moze early.

Maturior facultas dicendi, moze rype, perfect, or pleaſant eloquence.

Maturain ſenectutem reddit, it maketh one ſoone olde.

Tempus maturius, a moze due or conuenient tyme, a better oportunitie.

Matura cibo olea, ripe to eate.

Annis maturus, aged.

Militia maturus, of age meete or hable for warre.

Tempus maturum vino, a tyme meete to geue the ſicke man wine.

Matura viro virgo, a mayden that is marryng able.

Maturum facere, to diſpatch a thyng quickly.

Matuta, ra, f. g. the moynng or moſowe.

Marutinus, a, um, of the moſowe, or moynng.

Tempus maurinum, the moynng.

Matutinum, ni, n. g. the moynng.

Maurino, in the moynng.

Maurinis omnibus, euery moynng.

Mauoris, oris, Mauris, ſometye battayle.

Mauortius, a, um, pertynyng to Mauris, or to battayle.

Mauri, people called Moorers.

Mauritania, the countrey nowe called Morico, or of Moyses, lyng on the weſt parte of Africa, betwene the ſea called Mare Mediterraneum, on the north, and Libya on the South. Martianus ſaith, that in length it is ten tymes eight and thirty myles, whiche is three hundred and foure ſcore myles: and in bredth toward the ſouth. iii. hundred thre ſcore and vii. myles. It is diuided in to two countreis, Tingitana, and Caſarienſis. Tingitana hath on the weſt, the Ocean ſea: on the north the ſtreite of Marroche, called Fretum Herc. vnto the riuer Rhaina: on the eaſt Caſarienſis hath on the ſouth Scutle and Lybia. Caſarienſis hath on the weſt Tingitanam, on the north the ſea Sarcodum, vnto the riuer Ampſagus: on the ſouth the mountaines of Lybia, and the countrey of Getulie.

Maurus, a, um, and Maurusius, a, um, of Mauritania.

Mauſoleum, ſolei, n. gen. a ſepulchre or tombe, whiche Arthemisia made for hir huſband Mauſolus, whiche for the excellent woozhemans myp, was accompiſhed for one of the vii. mees uaples of the worlde: and for the famousneſſe thereof, euery great and notable ſepulchre is called Mauſoleum.

Mauſolus, the kyng of a realme called Caria.

Maxilla, le, f. ge. the cheke bone, the iawe bone, ſometye the chynne.

Maxillaris, re, belonging to the iawe bone.

Dens maxillaris, the cheke toothe.

Maximates, the greateſt men in authoritie.

Maxime, verac much, verac greatly, moſt of all, alſo chiefly, eſpecially. ſometye yes truly, yea verily, without any doubt.

Si cognata eſſet maxime, if ſhe were the neceſſeſt hynſewoman that I haue in the worlde.

Maxime indigere, to haue verie great nede.

Maximopere, verp greatly, verp earnestly.

Maximius, tatis, f. g. auient wryters vſed for greateſſe.

Maximus, a, um, greateſt or moſte in eſtymation.

Maximus, a counnyng pꛛynter.

Maxima veſſalis, the abbeſſe.

Maza, a, f. g. idem quod Maſſa.

Maza, ſaith Crasmus, is a thing made of milke and flower, that vplandishe men vſed in ſtede of breadde.

Mazaca, a citee in Cappadocia, vnder the hyll called Ergesus, nowe called Ceſaria.

Mazara, a kynde of daeres vſed in warre.

Mazax, a people in Brita.

Mazeres, a ryuer in the mouth of the ſea, called Mare Hircanum.

Mazeres, a ſouldiour of kyng Lyrus.

Mazonomum, ni, n. gen. a platter or charger, wherein meate is caried.

ME, the accuſative caſe of Ego, vſed of olde wryters alſo for mihi.

Meabilis, le, that ſloweth or renneth eaſily.

Meander, a ryuer in Phrygia, whiche by ſandpye wyndynges, at the laſte falleth into a creeke, whiche diuideth Miletum and Priena in Grece.

Meapte, myne owne.

Mearus, a riuer of Spayne.

Meatus, aus, m. gen. a paſſage or waye. alſo the pores of the body, out of the whiche doe come ſweate and vapours.

Meatus ſyderum, the courſe and moyng of the planettes.

Meaſtor, a fourme of ſwearyng, as who ſhulde ſaie, ſo Caſtor helpe me.

Mechanica ars, an handy craſte.

Mechanicus, ci, m. ſcu. gener. an handy craſtes man.

Mecistus, one of the companions of Ajax Te-lamonius.

Mecium Aegyptis, anagallis eſt.

Mecenas, ais, minyon to Auguſtus the emperour, & becauſe he was the ſupporter of great learned men, all fauourers and ſuccourers of learned men bee ſo called.

Mecon, in greke, is Poppy in engliſhe.

Mecon agrum, gith.

Mecon roias, wild poppie.

Mecon ceratius, poppie that is horned.

Mecon emeros, poppie of the gardeine.

Meconium, the iuce of the leaues and heades of poppie, whiche ſome doo vſe in the ſtede of Opium.

Meconium, in Dioſ. idem quod Enemone.

Mecum, with me, with my ſelfe,

Mecum facit, it maketh for my purpoſe.

Mecum ſentit, he is of myne opinion.

Mecum vna ſimul, together with me.

Meci, idem quod anagallis.

Mecyberna, a towne of Macedonia.

Meda, a citee of Cheſaly.

Medarga, for Erga me, towarde me.

Medara, idem quod Marrubium.

Medea, wyfe vnto Jaſon, a wyche, a cruell woman, ſhe was daughter ofetes kyng of Colchos, and Hipſica his wyfe, whoſe hystorie is knowne ſufficiently in all tungues.

Medeis, Medeides, patronymicum ſceminum, of Medea.

Medela, la, f. g. remedy by medicine.

Medera, ra, f. g. an Iſlande in the Ocean ſea, ſituate from Spayne ſouthweſt, beeyng diſtant from the poynt of the land of Spayne, called Caput ſancti Vincentij, almoſt. 100. miles.

Medeor, eris, eri, to heale or cure, to remedy.

Quas minus mederi poſſis, whiche you can not cure or remedy.

Mederi frumentarie inopia, to remedy, to helpe.

Arſ medendi, phiſicke.

Contra ſerpentum iſtus medetur, It healeth the ſpyngyns of ſerpentes.

Mederi reipublice, to helpe and ſuccour the common weale.

Mederi alicui, To ayde one and delpyer hym out of trouble.

Medecialtes, the baſtarde daughter of Priamus.

Media, a countrey in Asia, haupng on the north the ſea called Hircanum, on the weſte Armes nie the moze, and Aſſyria, on the ſouth Perſia, on the eaſt Hircania, and Parthia.

Medianum, looke Meſenterion.

Madianus, a, um, that whiche is in the myddle.

Mediaſtinus, ſina, um, the myddelmoſte.

Mediaſtinus, i, m. g. a dudge or lubber, whiche doeth all maner of vyle ſeruite in the houſe, as to ſweepe or clene the houſe, carye woodde to the kyche, and other lyke dudgeyrye.

Mediaſtrinus, ni, m. g. the ſeruant that hath the rule of the houſe vnder his maiſter.

Medibilis, le, in ſtate to bee healed, curable.

Medica, ca, an herbe, whiche hath leaues like clauer, & codex wythen in againe like a water ſnail, and therfore may be called horned clauer, for I know no other engliſhe name. Of other it is thus deſcriued, an herbe haupng the leaues alway greene, verie good meate for hozes: beeyng ones ſowen, it continueth. x. yeres.

Medica malus, an orange tree.

Medica mala, Diengens.

Medicabilis, le, curable, ſometye medicinale.

Medicamentarius, ri, m. g. a phyſician

Medicamentarius, a, um, pertynyng to medicine or phyſike.

Medicamen, inis, & Medicamentum, i, n. gen.
like Medicina.
Pecunia praesens medicamen est praesentia
neum, redie money, redie medicine.
Medicamentosus, a, um, that is medicinable, that cureth, that healeth.
Medicatio, onis, f. g. healyng, curenge, minis-tryng of physike.
Medicatus, a, um, myxte in drugges of medecine.
Also medicinable, haupng vertue of strength.
Medicatus sapor, an holosome and medicinable sauour.
Res medicatissima, a thyng veraiie holosome and medicinable.
Medicata pocula, physicall potions.
Languida permulcens medicata lumina virga, with his rodde of vertue, Loquens de Mercurij caducea.
Medicina, a, f. m. gene. physike, a medicine, a remedy, an healyng of curenge. Sometyne posson.
Medicinam facere, to cure, to minister phisyke.
Medicinam adhibere reipublica, To agde of furcous the common weale beyng in decay.
Medicinae faciendae locus non erit, It will be impossible to remedy it.
Medicinae, narum, potteries thoppes, places where potteries of physiciens dwelle.
Medicinalis, le, medicinable.
Medico, aui, are, & Medicor, aris, ari, to heale or cure, to helpe.
Medicus, i, m. g. a physicion.
Medicus, a, um, perteynyng to physike, or of Medica.
Medicines, idem quod Meridies, not vsed.
Medietas, aris, f. g. medietee, the veraiie myddell betwene two.
Medimnus, i, m. gen. or Medimnum, i, ne. ge.
A measure of the Greckes, wherof were twoo foztes. One was called Atticus, and conteyned of our measure sixe gallons, one pottell, and one quarte. An other was called Georgi-cus, whiche was of our measure, one bushell, a pecke, and one pynte. It receyued. xlviii.
Choraces.
Medimnus, after Budei, containeth two of the measures called Amphora, euerie Amphora, thre modios; euerie modius. 16. Sexta-rios, and Sextarius of our measure is a pinte and an halfe, whiche accompted proueth, that Medimnus is of our measure. xlviii. galons.
wherfoze they are decreued, whiche affirmen,
Medimnum and Modium, to be one measure.
Mediocris, mediocre, measurable, in a meane,
moderate, not to great, not to litlell.
Mediocritas, aris, f. g. a meane.
Intra vel citra mediocritatem, Of the basest fozte.
Ultra vel supra mediocritatem, Above the meane fozte.

Mediocriter, meanlye, measurablye, compes-tently, with a meane and moderation, reas-sonably well.
Mediocriter ne desistas, Doth it not greatly deylet vs?
Non mediocriter ferre, to bee greatly moued with a matter, to take it verpe displeasuntly.
Mediolanum, a cite of towne in Engleterre, in Leicester shyre, called Spanchester.
Mediolanum, the cite of Spilance in France.
Also a cite in Westphalia in Almanie, called Spanster: Whiche (for as much as the prople thereof were infected with the hereticke of the Anabaptistes, and other detestable crimes) was destroyed by the pynnis of Almanie, about the yere of our lord god, a thousande,
siue hundred, thirty and nyne.
Mediolanum, the chiefe cite of Lombardie, called Myllane.
Mediolum, a towne in Spayne.
Mediomatrics, Whistright in Spabant.
Medioximus, a, um, meane, or in the myddes.
Medioximi dii, meane goddis.
Medipontus, an instrument, wherewith ropes be made.
Mediobundus, a, um, carefull, studious.
Meditamentum, mentis, idem quod Meditatio.
Meditate, studiously, perfectly, on the thyngs endes, with meditation and study.
Meditatio, onis, f. g. a thyngkyng or dialyng in thought, studye, inuysyng, meditation. Also an exercise as well of mynde as of bodye.
Meditatorius, a, um, that whiche belongeth to meditation.
Meditatus, a, um, that hath mused or bethought it selfe what to doe or saye, also that whiche hath been studyed, mused, or thought on.
Venit medicatus alicunde ex solo loco, He cometh from some place, where he hath been alone, and bethought hym, or studyed, mused or prouided what he will saie.
Mediterraneus, a, um, in the myddell of the lande, and furthest from the sea.
Meditereus, a, um, idem.
Meditor, aris, ari, to thynke deeplye, & in thyng kyng to fynde out, to studye or muse on a thyng in ones mynde, to recorde, to prynciple & assaye howe well one can doo, to pourpoise, to laye snares, to syng or playe sweetely.
Meditari sagam, to thinke to see.
Meditari se, to exercise hym selfe.
Meditari dolum ceruis, to hunt hartes.
Meditrina, the goddess of physike.
Meditrinalia, orum, neu. g. ceremonies vsed by thetw, whiche dranke muske or newe wyne.
Meditullum, ij, n. g. the myddle.
Medium, a certayne herbe.
Medius, a, um, the myddes, equally distant from the extremities. Sometyne meane, nygher to be praysed or dyspraysed. Sometyne manifest.
Medium commune, among all.

Medio

Medio vel de medio tollere, to kyl.
Medius amicus, a friende of two that be at variance, and taketh parte with neyther of bothe.
Media vocabula, woordes, whiche maye be spoken in a god or pl part. As Tempestas, sizgnifyeth tempeste and tyme. Facinus, A notable dede, god or euill. Valerudo, healthy or sykenesse, and other lyke.
Dies medius, the mydde date.
Plus media parte, more than halfe.
Medium arripere, to take one by the myddle.
Medium mulierem complectitur, He imbracted the woman about the myddell.
Medium responsum, id est dubium.
Assere in medium, to byng abrode to a comon vse or pposite.
In medio consulere, for In commune.
E medio excedere, to dye.
Pellere e medio, to thrust awaie.
In medio relinquam, I will define nothyng,
I will leaue it in doubt, vncertayne, or to the iudgement of other.
Medio tempore, for Interea, In the meane season.
Venire in medium, to come in.
Medio actu, In the myddell of the day whan
it was most hott.
Media mulieris aras, The flowre of a womans age.
In media portione exclamat, In the middes of his draught he cried out.
Medium tenere, to kepe a meane.
In medio positum est, It is common and easy for every man to haue.
In medium consulere, To proude or doo for a common profite.
E medio discedere, to departe out of a place.
Medium vulgus, the people.
In media vrbis, in the herte of the citee.
Ex media morte rapere, To take out of deasthes mouth of dooze.
Mediusfidius, an othe, whiche although some-tyme it hadde an other signification, yet may it now in a commune fourme of speaking, bee vsed in this wyse. By the fath of my bodye.
Sens Dns for Iupiter, and Fidijs for Filius, be nome out of vse.
Medix, an high magistrate amonge the people called Ofci.
Medo, onis, mulse, or water and honie.
Medod, one of the Centaures.
Medon, the bastarde soonne of Oileus. Also one of Penelopes towres.
Medua, an hauen in Italy.
Meduacus, a riuer about Venice, called nowe Brent.
Medulla, la, f. g. marowe, which is in bones, in herbes and thubbes it is the pyth.
Melis medulla, spoken prouerbiaily of a thyng veraiie pleasaunt and sweete.

Medullina, a mayden of Rome, whiche beyng rasuished by hir father, killed hym in sacrifice.
Medullitus, inwardly, into the marowe, deeply,
effectiuously, euen from the herte.
Medullo, aui, are, to take out marowe. Sometyne to expresse utterly.
Narra iam rem nobis omnem atq; emedulla,
Tell and expresse utterly vnto vs all the whole matter.
Medusa, the herbe Lonchitis. Diofo.
Medusa, a lady, of whom fables doe report, that by Minerva her heares were turned into adders, and they, which behelde her, were tour-ned into stones, whom Perseus afterwarde slew. She is sometyne taken for one of the furies of hell.
Mefasilium, a certayne weapon to thow.
Mega, a promontorie of Mauritania, called commonly Dne, or Due.
Megabizi, or Megalobici, pyckes of Diana, whiche alwaies were gelded, and are taken for weake and effeminate persones.
Megara, a fury or tourmentour of hell, whom Dapnyms dyd suppose to prouoke and decre-men to woodnesse.
Megalenses, and Megalesia, playes to the hoznour of Cibell.
Megalesia, the festiuall daie dedicate to Cibe-le, called the mother of goddis among Dapnyms.
Megalium, li, n. g. a sweete oymtent.
Megaloprepia, an honourable facion, in gyupng or imployng of great thynges, which be-semeth a man of great courage.
Megalopolis, a great cite of Arcadie.
Megaloprepes, he that dweth great thynges according to his dignitee.
Megara, a cite belongyng to Athens. It was also the name of one of Hercules wyues. Also an hpyll in Sicilie, where is great plentie of bees.
Megareus, Megarcus, Megarius, and Mega-rus, a, um, of Megara.
Megaris, idis, a countre in Acaia.
Meges, one of the pynnis of Grece, that went to Troie.
Megistanes, bee they, whom we do call nobles or peeres of a roialme.
Mehercule, an othe, sworne by Hercules.
Me Hercules, idem.
Meio, minxi, ere, to pyffe.
Mel, mellis, n. g. honny.
Mel meum, my sweetyng, my honie one.
Melabathrum, idem quod Pardenium.
Melana, the ple Dorcyra.
Melene, a towne in Arcadie.
Melamirum, a fishe, haupng his name of a blacke taile.
Melampelos, Helxine. Diofo.
Melampyenos, idem quod Melampyrum.
Melamphillum, an ple in Asia.
Melamphillum, i, a hynde of the herbe called Acanthus, loke there.

Melam-

Melamphyllis, an ple in Samothrace, and Salmos is also called Melamphyllis.
 Melampodium, a hynde of the blacke Helleborus, so named of Melampode the poete of Shepherde, toke Helleborus.
 Melampus, a mans name. also one of Ateons dogges.
 Melampyrgus, a reuenger, he that redresseth thynges. Hercules was so surnamed, by reason his tounte was blacke and all heary.
 Melampyrum, or Myagros, an herbe full of branches, of the foote high, and a fede lyke fengreke.
 Melancolia, a, f. ge. melancoly, blacke choler. sometyme mabneffe.
 Melancolicus, a, um, melancoly.
 Melancoryphus, phi, m. g. called also Ficedula and Atracappila, toke ther.
 Melandria, the leane partes of the fythe called Cunny.
 Melandrium, drii, neu. gene. a certayne herbe, growing among coine, and in meadowes, with a whyte flowre, after Joline: other take it for the pith of an oke. some for a kind of oke.
 Melanion, the purple violet.
 Melanes, a mountaine in Arabia deserta, called nowe Mons Sinai, and Mons S. Catharina, of the Hebrewes Sur desertum.
 Melaneria, inke or blacke.
 Melanthia, the daughter of Deucalion, by Pyrrha his wyfe.
 Melanthenon, id est, Anthemis.
 Melanthium, thii, neu. gen. an herbe, called also Nigella Romana, Gith.
 Melanthius, the name of a Troian, and of diuers other men.
 Melanchus, one of them that Barchus tourned into Delphus.
 Melanurus, nuri, m. gen. a hynde of pearches, called ruffes.
 Melappium, a kind of Apples.
 Melas, the name of dyuers ryuers.
 Melas, anos, m. g. a kind of morphewe.
 Melicium, li, n. ge. a wanton woide, spoken by louers vnto their paramours, my little hony.
 Mele, the nominatiue pluralle, songes or ballades.
 Meleager, or Meleagrus, the sonne of Oeneus, kynge of Calydon.
 Meleagrea, the citee called Caledon.
 Meleagrides, byrdes, whiche we doo call hennes of Genny, or Turkie hennes.
 Melagina, an ple in the Venecian sea.
 Meleta, Diplacus.
 Melenerus, a hynde of Faucons beate lyttell of body, blacke and pyffant, whiche haunteth mountaynes, and secureth her byrdes alone, a merlyan, as I suppose.
 Meles, etis, a ryuer by Smyrna.
 Meligenes, the propre name of Homere.
 Melicius, a byshop in Egypte of Arius sect.

Melirugum, an herbe that groweth alwayes among coine, named white melilote.
 Melgemelia, a kind of aples.
 Melt, honie.
 Melibæa, a citee in Theffaly.
 Melia, a tree, bringynge forth a berie pleasant frute.
 Meliboides, a certaine stone in Diofco.
 Melica gallina, a hynde of those, whiche we call Turkie hennes.
 Melibæus, a shepards name.
 Melicæris, idis, or Melicæria, a, f. ge. a foie or skatill in the head like an hony combe, out of the whiche cometh an humour lyke honny.
 Melicera, the son of Athamas and Ino, whom the Gentiles dyd honour for one of the goddis of the sea, called also Halcyon.
 Melichros, chiri, m. g. a stone, sometyme blacke, sometyme yeolowe.
 Melichrysis, a precious stone in India.
 Melicraon, ti, neu. gene. wyne and honny taken together.
 Melicus, ci, m. g. a musician.
 Meligene, the ple Melites.
 Melilorus, ti, m. g. an herbe called Melilote.
 Melimeli, melimelis, n. gen. the syrupe of quinces, condite in hony.
 Melimelum, li, n. g. a sweete apple.
 Melina, a sweete Gualme.
 Melina, a, f. g. a certayne garmente.
 Meline, the herbe called milium after Varro: but in Diofco. it is panicum.
 Melinum, melini, n. g. the herbe called Baulme, also oyle of the blossomes of appuls. Also an opyntment, and a beate whyte colour.
 Melinus, a, um, a beate whyte colour, or after some, whyte russete, or gynger colour. Melinus color in Diofco. is taken for Luteus.
 Melior, the comparatiue of Bonus, better.
 Melioresco, scere, to waxe better.
 Melipesta, meates made with hony.
 Melion aqueum, the second kind of Satirion.
 Meliphyllon, the herbe called Baulme.
 Melipontus, idem quod Melipontus.
 Melis, lis, f. g. a beate called a gray, a byrde, or a badger.
 Melissa, a woman, who with hir sister Amalthea, nourished Iuppiter. It is also an herbe commonly called Baulme.
 Melissophyllon, looke Apiastrum.
 Melissus, the name of hymn, which first dydde sacrifice vnto ydols. also the name of an auncient philosopher.
 Melita, siue Melite, an ple lying betwene Sicile and Irefte, after Joline, li. f. ca. vii. it lieth betwene Corcyra nigra, and Illyricum, wher in is plenty of hony, and is nowe called Malta, Where at this tyme the company of the knyghtes Hospitellers dooe inhabyte as they dyd at the Rhodes.
 Melitæon, idem quod Melissophyllon.

Meli.

Meliteri canes, & Melitenfes, were preaty lyttell boundes, in the whiche laddes toke pleasure and delite, whiche were broughte out of the sayde yle of Melite.
 Melites, a precious stone of the coloure of an orange.
 Melitres, tis, a drynke made of hony and muste, or new wyne. also a precious stone.
 Melitron, onis, m. ge. a place where bees bee nourished.
 Melius, the name of him that accused Socrates.
 Melius, the comparatiue of Bene.
 Accipit hominem nemo melius, id est laudus, better, or moze deintily, or with better there.
 Meliuscule, somewhat better.
 Meliusculus, a, um, somewhat better, a littell amended.
 Melizandrus, he that wrote the storie of the warres betwene the Lapithes and the Centaures.
 Mella, a ryuer of Fraunce.
 Mellarum, ri, n. g. substant. the place where the bees that make hony bee nourished.
 Meliarum, ri, m. g. an hony man, or seller of hony.
 Mellarius, a, um, of hony.
 Mellario, onis, f. g. the tyme of dryuynge of hyucs, whan hony is taken out.
 Mellatum, ti, n. g. newe muste, wherein honye is sodden.
 Melene, a citee in Arcadia.
 Melles, a, um, of honie. also sweete.
 Vox mellea, a sweete voyce.
 Mellica, a hynde of pulse, of the coloure of red, of the foume of Mill.
 Meliceris, looke Meliceris.
 Melliculum, idem quod Meliculum.
 Mellicario, onis, f. g. making of hony.
 Mellicium, ti, n. g. idem.
 Mellino, aut, are, to make hony.
 Mellifer, ri, rum, idem quod Mellificus.
 Mellinarius, a, um, sweete as honye, that out of whiche hony floweth.
 Mellificus, a, um, and Mellifer, that maketh honye.
 Meligenus, a, um, that is of the same kynde that hony is.
 Melinum, idem quod Melinum.
 Meligo, lignis, f. g. a mell dewe, whiche falleth on the leaues of trees, and sometyme on coine.
 Melilla, my hony, my sweetynge, a woode of wanton dallers.
 Melliloquus, a sweete speaker.
 Mellifones, they whiche doo practyse dryssynge of hony.
 Mellitones, a place where bees be nourished.
 Mellurgus, gi, m. g. a woother or maker of hony.
 Melitius, a, um, mixte with hony, condite in hony.

nye. also sweete, pleasant, delectable.
 Mellium, lii, n. g. a dogges collar.
 Melizonum, a confection made with hony clarified.
 Melo, a ryuer called also Geon and Nilus.
 Melobosis, a nymph.
 Melocabus, a citee in Germanie.
 Melodes, dis, m. g. he that syngeth counnyngely and sweetly.
 Melodia, dia, f. g. melody, swete syngynge.
 Meloessa, an yle by Sicile, in the whiche was great plenty of shepe.
 Melophilion, milfoile.
 Melomeli, n. g. idem quod Melimeli.
 Melones, mellons, pompons.
 Melosmos, the herbe polium.
 Melonia, a goddesse among the Romayns.
 Melos, one of the Isles called Cyclades.
 Melos, odis, n. g. melodie, harmonie.
 Melopepones, melons.
 Melora, a, f. g. a shepes fell or skynne.
 Melorhus, a certaine herbe or shrubbe, vitis alba.
 Melpomene, one of the ix. Muses.
 Melus, a towne of Theffalie, besieged and wonne by Alcias the athenien Capitayne, nauncy by famine, wherof grew the prouerbe, Meliaa fames.
 Membrana, a, f. g. parchemente or belume, wherin men doo wyte. Also the vppermoste skynne of any thyng. Sometyme it is taken of Lucretius for the figure of proportion of thynges.
 Directa plumbo membrana, ruled parchemente.
 Membrana ligni, the thyn skyn betwene the barke and the woodde of a tree.
 Membranaceus, a, um, lyke parchement.
 Membraneus, a, um, of parchement or belyme.
 Membranula, a, f. g. a little rolle or scrolle of parchement.
 Membrane, to fourme membres.
 Membratim, by euery membre, membre by membre.
 Incise & membratim, to speake in shorte clauses or membres, and not to vse iust perodes.
 Membratura, a, f. g. the settinge or order of membres or partes.
 Membrifus, a, um, hauing a great membre.
 Membrum, bri, n. g. a membre, a part of onces body, the fleshe that couereth the sinues, veins and bones of any parte of the body. In ozation, a shorte sentence.
 Abalienata membra, partes of the body be noummed.
 Muliebribus membris puer, a tender chyld.
 Dormitorium membrum, a slepyng chambr, a part of the house appointed to sleape in.
 Memerylus, a littell tree lyke a citron tre.
 Memet, my selfe.
 Memini, I remembre.
 Memini videre, I remembre that I sawe it.

Hoc

Hoc me memini dicere, I remembre wel that I said this.

Memineris meminisse, see that you remembre.

De quibus plurimi meminerunt, Of which things veray many haue made mention.
Omnia quæ curant meminerunt, They remembre all thynges that they set theyr myndes vpon.

Memnius, a citizen of Rome.

Memnon, the sonne of Thiron, whiche came to the ayde of the Trojans.

Memnonius, a, um, of Memnon.

Memnonia aues, byrdes whiche were supposed to growe of the ashes of Memnon.

Memor, ôis, om. g. that remembreth, myndfull. Sometime that is remembered.

Memorabilis, le, woorthy remembrance, woorthy to be reported, to be spoken.

Erit mihi hoc factum mortuo memorabile, this acte shall be had in memorie, when I am dead and rotten.

Memorabiles duces, capitaynes of woorthy memorie.

Memorandus, a, um, to be remembred or spoken of.
Memorator, ôis, m. g. he that speaketh, reporteth or maketh mention of a thyng.

Memoratus, us, m. g. a remembryng.

Memoria, æ, f. g. memorie, remembraunce.

Patrum memoria, in our fathers daies.

Post hominum memoriam, sens men were men.

Ex omni memoria ætatum, In all cronicles and stories that a man can reade.

Omnis memoria facile princeps, withoute controuersie, the noblest persôe that euer man can remembre.

In omni memoria inauditum est, it was neuer herd of any tyme, or sens any man coulde remembre.

Vixit ad hanc memoriam, euen to these days, euen to this present tyme.

Vixit memoria est, as farre as I remembre.
Ab recenti memoria perfidia, because they had freshly in memorie, they late vnturthe of forghende.

Memoria falli, to forgette.

Memoria prodium, or vntiditum est, It is lesse in writinge, it is written.

In memoriam redigere, Reducere in memoriam, Reducere animos ad memoriam, to call to remembraunce, to cause to remembre.
Memoria tradit, it is written.

Redeo in memoriam mortuorum, I remembre them that be dead.

In memoriam redire quæso, I praye you remembre, or call to remembrance.

Princeps huius memorie philosophorum, the chiefe philosopher of this age.

Superiori memoria, in tyme past.

Tanta multitudo, quanta mea memoria nû-quam fuit, So great a multitude as neuer was sens I coulde remembre, or in my tyme.

Memoria teneo, I remembre.

Memoriale, a thyng whiche shoulde be remembred, a memoriall.

Memorialis, le, belonging to the memorie.

Memoriola, æ, f. g. a littell remembrance.

Memoriolus, a, um, he that hath a good memorie.

Memoriter, perfectly by herte, or with good remembrance, redily.

Memoriter cognoscere, to knowe perfectly by herte.

Memoriter respondere, to answer promptly.

Mémoro, aui, rare, to remembre, to tell of a pounde, to report, to saie, to make mention, to recite, to rehearse.

Memorant, men saie, tell, or report.

Verbum est verum quod memoratur, It is true that is commonly saied.

Nomen tuum memora mihi, tell me thy name.

Incredibili memoratu est, it is a thyng incredible to report.

Memphi, people of Memphis.

Memphites, paronymicum, m. g.

Memphitis, paronymicum, fem. g.

Memphis, a great and famous cite in Egypt.

Memphiticus, a, um, of that cite.

Memphicus, a hynde of Egypt, whiche slue his brother Phalis.

Mena, næ, f. g. a littell fyre, blacke or blew in sommer, and white in winter. Theodorus Gaza doeth translate Menides, calling them sometime Aleces, whiche we call hearynges: and Menidia, he translateth parus Aleculas, littell hearynges called pylchardes.

Menachini, the name of a comdie in Plautus.

Menachmus, a philosopher of Platos secte, whiche wrote vpon his booke De republica. also an historiographer, that wrote the historie of Alexander Magnus.

Menalcas, a shephardes name.

Menalippe, the sister of Antiope queene of Thebes, whom Hercules banquished.

Menalippides, the name of .ii. poetes.

Menalippus, he that slue Tydeus. an other of that name was brother of Tydeus.

Menapij, people of the countreie called Gellars lande, or Sylberlande, and Cleue.

Menander, a famous poete, a writer of comedies. also a notable heretike, whiche followed Simon Magus.

Menaria, an Ile in the sea betwene Carthage and Sicile.

Menceps, he or she that is out of theyr wille.

Menda, æ, f. g. & mendum, di, neu. ge. an error, a fault or vice in writinge. If it be applyed by a metaphore to the body, it is a fault or blemyshe.

Mendacium, ij, n. g. a lye, a lyege, a false iurment.

invention, a false tale.

Componere & confutare mendacium, to invent or make a lye.

Mendaculum, & mendaciunculum, li, n. ge. a lye tell lyeing.

Mendax, ætis, com, g. a lye.

Mendaci loquus, a, um, that telleth lyes.

Mendecium, one of the mouthes of Pilus.

Mendecium, a certayne omentment.

Mendicabulum, li, n. g. beggynge.

Mendicatio, ônis, a beggynge.

Mendicans, a, um, begged.

Mendicitas, ætis, f. g. & mendicimonium, nij, beggery.

Mendico, aui, are, to begge.

Mendicare sibi malum, to purchase hym selfe a mischefe.

Mendicula, æ, for. gen. a certayne besture or garment.

Mendiculus, li, m. g. a diminutive of mendicus.

Mendicus, a, um, that goeth on beggynge, a beggar, poore, neddy.

Mendix, an office amonge the olde Italians called Osci.

Mendose, vnconsciously, with fautes.

Mendosus, a, um, fautive, full of fautes, or errors.

Mores mendosi, manners naughty and vicious.

Mendruta, idem quod Limonium.

Mendum, idem quod menda.

Menecus, the son of Leon, hynde of Thebes.

Menecina, a citie in Oenotria.

Menecis, the bittermost citie of Phosis, towards the weste.

Meneceus, was an arrogant and proude phisician, who because he chaunced to heale sundry persones, of whose heathen men dyd despayre, and therefore in commendynge hym, called hym Jupiter: he after that named hym selfe Meneceus Iupiter.

Menedemus, the name of diuers philosophers.

Menelaus, was hynde of Lacedemonia, brother to Agamemnon, and housebando to the fayre Helena, for whom Troie was destroyed.

Meneletus, ij, m. ge. a byrde lyke to a small eagle, and of the kynde of Eagles.

Meneleus, trissyllabum, one of the Centaures. also one of Ateons dogges.

Menes, the fyrt that reigned ouer Egypt.

Menechmus, was duke of Athens, sonne of Theseus & Phedra. Also Diomedes tharpyr man.

Menechmus, the sonne of Prithous and Philomela.

Menechio, one of the nymphes.

Mensina, ôrum, n. ge. buildynges outward in prospectes or galleries, properly when they be builded after such fashion, that the edifice iusteth out a good length from the pillar or other part of the house, wheron the buildyng especially resteth.

Meniances, the herbe trifolium.

Meninges, the risme, wherein the braine is inclosed.

Meninx, an yle against the lesse Isthme.

Menion, the pionic.

Menippus Phœnix, a philosophice. Also Menippus is the name of diuers other learned men, of whiche one was Lucros mayster.

Menis, idem quod Mena.

Menius, the sonne of Lycoan, who cursyng Jupiter, was stricken with lychingynge.

Menlana, a citie of Spayne, called commonly Marcia.

Mennonia, a certayne white precious stone.

Menotius, Patroclus father.

Menoles, the name of Dionysius.

Menophilus, an eunuche, to whom Mithridates (begyn ouercome by Pompeius) committed his daughter to kepe.

Menosigada, a citie in Germanye called nowe Egra.

Mens, entis, fem. gener. the highest and chiefe part of the soule. Sometime it signifieth the mynd, wille, intent, or memorie. Sometime aduise of counsaile.

Mente capus, a madde man.

Mentis compos, of whole mynd or perfect remembrance.

Vna mens omnibus, They had all one mynd or will.

Abderitica mens, id est stupida.

Nostram accipe mentem, Heare our counsaile or aduise.

Sua mentis esse, to bee in his ryght wittes.

Hæc mihi in mentem veniebat, these thynges came into my mynd or remembrance, or I remembred these thynges.

Cum Dolobella venit in mentem, when I remembred Dolobella.

Mensa, æ, fem. gene. a table or bourde to cate on. Sometime dynet or supper. also a dyshe or trencher. also a counter or table that bankers doo vse.

Astare mensa domini, to stande waityng on his maysters table.

Angusta mensa, a skilder supper, of small cost.

Secunda mensa, bankettyng dylshes after supper.

Est in mensa, he is at diner or supper.

De mensa mittere, to make a dyshe and sende from the table to one.

Mensarius ij, m. gen. the banker or exchaunger, of whom men doo borrowe money vpon gayne, called exchaunge.

Menfes, in plurali, idem quod menstrua.

Mensio, ônis, f. g. a measurynge.

Mensiflora, a certayne herbe, called in Greke Menanthos.

Mensis, sis, m. g. a moneth. Sometime for Menstrua, the naturall purgation of women.

Mensis sextilis, Auguste.

Menfor, ôis, maf. gene. he that dooth lay out the boundes of lande, betwene man and man, or towne and towne. Also he that meafureth out the grounde, where the armie shall ppyche theyr campe.

Mentium, drum, n. g. plur. a womans naturall purgacion called floures.

Mentruatus, le, perteyning to the monethe, or of the space of a monethe, or durynge the tyme of a moneth.

Mentruatus, a, um, that whiche hath floures lyke to women.

Mentruum, pcurfion, vitaple of wages geuen to fouldiours for a moneth space.

Mentruus, a, um, that whiche happenethe euer monethly, or is doen monethly.

Mentrua aduersaria, rolles or registers for a moneth space.

Mensurarij, idem qui mensarij.

Mensura, a, f. g. a measure.

Mensurans, a, um, monethly, after Calcepine.

But the place that he citheth out of Lucro, hath Menstrui.

Mensus, a, um, meafured.

Menta, & Mentula, le, f. g. the priuie membyres of a man.

Menta, re, f. g. an herbe called mynt.

Menta hortensis, speremint.

Mentagra, a, f. g. gen. a disease that couereth the face which a foule shabbe. It was called of the Greeces Lichen. Some suppose it to bee the same disease that is now called the French the poches.

Mentalium, i, n. g. wylde mynt.

Mentercola, a citee of Spayne.

Mentibor, for Mentiar, I shall make a lye.

Mentigo, inis, f. g. the scabbe, which is among the poches, called the poches.

Mentio, onis, f. g. mention.

Facere mentionem, to make mention.

Incidere in mentionem, to chaunce to speake of. In mentionem terræ dicitur, It shall bee declared whan we shall speake of the earth.

Mentior, tuis, uri, to lye, to feigne, to countere-fayte.

Mentiri se esse aliquem, to feigne to be an other persone.

Mentiri se exum muliebri motu, to feigne hym selfe to bee a woman, to make semblance in gesture as though he were a woman.

In aliquem mentiri, to make a lye vpon one.

Colorem fuso mentiri, to make a fayre coloure with paynting.

Mentiri, to write false.

Mentius, a, um, feigned, counterfayte. also that hath lye.

Mentula, a citee of Spayne, called communely Jaen.

Mentuchias, an plande in the southe parte of the woylde, called Madagascar, or Insula sancti Georgii, the inhabitauntes wherof folowe Mahumet.

Mentons, the famous ruer, whiche is now called Danubius.

Mentor, oris, an excellent grauer of bestell.

Mentum, i, n. g. a thynne.

Menus, a typer in Germanie. Also a man's name, whiche loured exceedingly Colatrinelle.

Meo, aui, are, to go, to flowe.

Meonia, a countrey of the lesse Asia, called also ter Lydia.

Meonides, a man of Meonia.

Meopie ingenio, by myne owne wyette, of myne owne nature.

Mephisticus, a, um, styngyng.

Mephisus, tis, f. g. a stynche, or ill sauour, which procedeth of corrupte water or spoure, myete with earthe.

Meracus, rāca, um, pure, without any myxture.

Vinum meracum, wyne without any water.

Miraculus, a, um, a diminutiue of Meracus.

Minaculum vinum, wyne but a litle alaid.

Mercalis, le, vendible, or that whiche maie bee boughte.

Mercans, anris, he that byeth.

Mercatio, onis, f. g. a byng.

Mercatura, a, f. g. gen. the state of merchandys dyse.

Mercaturam facere, to ppartye the state of merchaundyse.

Mercator, oris, m. g. euery byer, a merchaunte byng and sellenge.

Mercatus, us, m. g. byng, a marke, a fayre, a market place, a place where wares are solde.

Indicere mercatum, to pportagme that a marke of faire shall be.

Mercatus, a, um, bought.

Mercédula, a, f. g. a diminutiue of Merces.

Mercenarius, a, um, that serueth for hyer or wages.

Merces, edis, f. gen. wages, the rewarde of labour or seruice, rent, reuenues. Some tyme mage or hurte that foloweth of a thyng.

Prædiorum merces, reuenues of lande.

Mercimonium, nij, n. g. that whiche is tourned in byng and selleng, ware.

Mercor, aris, ari, to bie, to bye to sell for gaigne.

Mercari alicui, to bye for one.

Mercari ad certam summam, to bye at a certeyn gayne pryce.

Mercari græca fide, to bye with redie money.

Mercari præsentii pecunia, idem.

Mercurialis, lis, form. gene. an herbe, called Mercurie, of whiche bee two sortes, male and female.

Mercurialis, le, of Mercurie.

Mercuriales viri, learned men.

Mercuriales, a, collodge or companie of men, instituted to the honour of Mercurie.

Mercurius, was of the painims called god of eloquence, and messenger of Jupiter. It is the name of one of the vii. planetes.

Mercurij dies, wengdaie.

Mer

Mercurij basis, of the magiciens is taken for the herbe called Halimum.

Mercurij genitura, the herbe Bupthalmos.

Mercurij sanguis, eadem quæ Verbenaca.

Mercurij semen, dull.

Merda, a, f. g. the excrement or ordure of a man or beaste.

Merdo, aui, are, to expell ordure, to shyte.

Merenda, a, f. g. meate eaten at after noone, a colacion, a noone meate, a boiuer.

Mereo, melui, ére, & Méreo, éris, éri, to desserue, to merite, to gette, also to take wages, to serue for wages, to dooe a pleasure or good tourne, to exercise a vyle occupation. also to serue in warres.

Merere stipendia, To take wages as a fouldiour, or to be a fouldiour.

Merere alicui, to dooe seruice to one.

Merere equo, to be a man of Armes, or to serue on horsebacke in warres.

Merere pedibus, to be a footeman in warres.

Mereor bene de te, I doe somewhat for the.

I desrue to haue the my friende, or to haue thy sauour, I do the pleasure.

Male mereor de te, I do the displeasure, I doe ill deserue thy sauour.

Quid merearis, vt te dicas. &c. what aduan-tage can you haue to saie. &c.

Quid meriar, quamobrem meriti? what aduantage or rewarde shulde I haue to lye?

Nonisima exempla meriti, they that haue desserued extreme punishment.

Quid de te merui? what offence or displeasure
haue I dooen you?

Neque re, neque verbis merui de te vt faceres
quod facis, I neuer byd nor saied any thyng, wherfore you shoulde dooe by me as ye dooe.

Offensam mereri, to wyne or get displeasure or ill wyll.

Meré, purely.

Meretricie, whozethly, lyke an harlotte.

Meretricium, h, n. g. whozedom, or whozethrie.

Meretricius, a, um, pertaynyng to whozethrie or whozedom.

Meretricor, aris, ari, to lye in whozethrie, to plae the harlotte.

Meretricula, a, f. g. a diminutiue of Meretrix.

Meretrix, icis, form. gene. an harlot, a whozether, an hoze.

Merga, a, f. g. a ppychepoke, for to take vp sheaues, also merle or white earthe lyke chailke, wherwith ground is made fatte or fertile.

Mergo, the herbe Clymenon.

Merges, mergilis, f. g. a gripe of rogne, or so much of hee or rogne as one taketh vp with a pyche forke at ones.

Mergo, si, gere, to droune in the water, to depe, sometyne to ouerwhelme.

Mergere vitium supplicii, to put to extreme punishment.

Mersus secundis rebus, ouerwhelmed with

Prosperece, drowned in welthe.

Mergulus, an instrument, wherin the matche of a lampe is conteyned.

Mergus, oris, m. g. a bucket to drawe vp water.

Meigus, i, m. g. a foule of the sea lyke to a gull, whiche diueth vnder the water to take fische, and by often dypynge percepueth sygnes of tēpest comyng, and than sodagnely with a great crye, flyeth out of the middell of the water, to the lande, a cozmozant.

Mergus, gi, a vyne or other small tree, whiche is bowed, and hath the toppes bowewyse, turned and set in the grounde.

Meridianus, a, um, perteynyng to noone.

Meridiano, at noone tyme.

Meridiani, is used for twoorde players.

Meridiano, onis, f. g. gen. noone rest.

Meridies, ei, m. g. myddaye, noone tyme.

Meridio, aui, are, and Meridior, aui, ari, To dync, to cate meate at noone, to slepe at noone.

Meridionalis, le, of the southe.

Meriones, a noble man of the Greeces.

Meris, idem quod tripolium.

Merismorion, the melystophillon.

Merismos, a figure called also Distributio, wher-by the oracion is distributed into sundrie sentences.

Merito, woorthly, with good cause.

Meritisimo, the superlatiue.

Merito, aui, are, to gayne, to bee woorthly, also to serue in warres.

Meritorius, a, um, that whiche is leat or set for aduantage.

Meritoria taberna, an house, wherinto a man is receyued for his money.

Meritorium conaculum, a chambze set out to hyer.

Meritorium, an house or thop set out to hyer.

Meritum, ti, n. g. a benefite or pleasure, a good tourne, sometyne a rewarde.

Meritum est meum, it is my defaute.

Meritum est tuum, you haue deserued that I shoulde dooe you this pleasure.

Merito meo, woorthly, rightously, as I haue deserued.

Pro merito, as one hath deserued.

Merito vestro maximas gratias agere debemus, you bee woorthly great thankes, or you haue deserued of vs great thankes.

Meritus, a, um, deserued, due, conuenient, also that hath deserued.

Meritus, a mountayn in the thynde parte of Europe, beyonde Grece.

Mero, was in soyme the name of Ciberius Nero, because he was so great a dyncer of wyne.

Merobibus, a, um, that dynceth wyne without water.

Merocetes, m. g. a littell stone of the coloure of lekes, whiche sweateth a spoure lyke to mylke.

Meroc, an Ile in the great riuer of Nilus in Egypte.

Merope, Phoenicia the wyfe of Sisyphus.
 Merops, men of diuers languages.
 Merops, micropis, m. ge. a byrde, whiche doeth eate bees, and whose nature it is to kepe the parents, whiche neuer cumme abroade, and to noyde them as them selfe were noyded being yong. Phine.
 Meropus, a mountayne in Grece by Theffaly.
 Meros, an hyl of India, at the foote whereof is the cite called Nisa.
 Mertha, a place, where Popes, by castinge in woodde, made the pestilent and bitter waters holisome.
 Merseon, of the Egyptians is taken for ambrosia.
 Meriso, au, are, to drowne or putre vnder the water of en tymes, to dippe in often.
 Meriso, au, are, to drowne often, to depe in often.
 Merro, au, are, idem.
 Merrix, the second kind of Geranium.
 Merula, a, f. ge. a byrde called a blake make or owself, with a yelow beake. Also a fythe called meeryng or whirring. Also the name of diuers men: one in Vairo de re rustica.
 Merum, i, n. ge. wyne unalayed, without water.
 Merus, i, m. g. the thyghe. Also an hyl in India dedicated vnto Bacchus.
 Meruopium, of the Egyptians is used for Serpillum.
 Merus, a, um, soole, mere, pure.
 Nuga mera, verate tridres.
 Scelera mera loquuntur, they speake of no thyng but mischiefe.
 Meri bellatores, verate warriours.
 Merum vinum, pure wyne, not alayed with water.
 Mera spes, onely hope and nothyng els.
 Merx, ercis, f. g. any bynde of marchaundyse, chaffer, ware that is bought and solde.
 Esculentæ merces, vitayles solde to eate.
 Esse in merce, to be solde.
 Mes, in the Arabian tongue is a pease of the Grekes (as Manardus writeth) libro. 1. Episto 3. Serapio saith, that it is a grapne, haung in it a fygure of an eye, with the apple thereof verate blake.
 Mesa, the myddle partes of a house or building.
 Mesa, a riuer that tenneth by Brabant, the lande of Luke and Gellar, called the Mase.
 Mesapia, a countrey called also Apulia.
 Mesapus, the sonne of Neptune, of whom that countrey was so named.
 Mesarcia venæ, certayne beynes, called also Meseraica.
 Mese, a certayne wynde.
 Mesembria, a towne belongyng to the Megareses.
 Mesauli, entrees betwene the halle and the parlour, or other comes in a house.
 Mesenterica venæ, are veynes, whiche lyke to rootes of trees, dooe receiue nourishment from the stomache and bowelles, disposing it into all the bodie.

 Mesenterion, rij, n. ge. is a bowel, ioynged with the myddle and vnto the backe, whiche letteth that the iuyce of meates be not sucked to halfly or vnpreforbable, by the other bowelles. Julius Dollus writeth, that Mesenterion, is a thynne compacte of veynes and sinewes ioyngyng to the regnes and stomake, sendyng nourishment vnto the liver. Galenus, in Auro saith, that it is sette in the myddes of the bowelles, and is also called Mesarchon, because he wraps peth and enloseth all the veynes, whiche dooe come from the liver vnto him, with also the arteries adioynyng vnto hym. it is also called in latine Medianum.
 Mesia, a countrey, ioyngyng to Hungary, Phis.
 Mesochorus, ri, m. ge. he that playeth on a flute or other pipe in the myddes of the dauncers.
 Mesocraneum, the crowne of the heade.
 Mesoleucos, ci, m. ge. a pretious stone, blake, haunging a whyle strake in the myddes. Also a certayne herbe lyke Mercurie.
 Melomelas, a kynde of precious stones, called Achates, whiche beynge white, is diuided with a blake lyne.
 Melon, was one whiche first inuented to byng into comedies, seruantes and cookes. wherof it is supposed that in olde tyme, the cookes of cities and townes, were called Melones, as strange cookes were called Teuiges. Celsus, antiq. lect. 3. Melon was also a certayne Astronomer.
 Mesonanta, ra, a dredge in a shyppe, or a shyppe page, whiche doeth all vile seruice in the shyp.
 Mesonyxion, mydnyght.
 Mesopotamia, a countrie in the orient, lyng betwene the two noble ryuers Tigris and Euphrates, and hath on the south Babylon, and on the north the great mountayne called Caucasus.
 Mespilus, li, f. m. ge. a medlar tree, or open arse tree.
 Mespilum, li, n. g. a fruite called a medlar.
 Messala Corvinus, a noble senator of Rome, of whom Cullie in his booke of oratours, called Bzurus, writeth in this wyse: I may not omit to speake of the excellencie of Messala. Scuare, doe not thynke; that any is lyke vnto hym in constance, care, and study about the weale publicke, also in eloquence, wherein he woundred fully dooeth excell. And not withstanding, beeyng suche a man, two yeres before he died, he so losse his remembraunce, that he forgate his owne name. whiche hath hapned to diuers other men of great wisdom and learning. He liued in the tyme of Julius Cesar and Augustus emperours.
 Messalina, wyfe to the emperor Claudius, a woman of insatiable lechery.
 Messana, a cite in Sicilie.
 Messapia, a parte of the countrie of Apulia. Mes

Messene, a cite in Grece.
 Messenij, the people of that cite.
 Messenia, a region in Achaia, haung. xviii. mostaynes, in the whiche was a cite called Messene.
 Messias, Christe.
 Messis, sis, f. g. haruest. Sometime it signifieth the tyme, of the grapes new mowen or gathered.
 Messibus, & per messes, in the haruest tyme.
 Messio, onis, f. g. a reappng.
 Messor, oris, m. g. a reaper, a haruest man.
 Messorius, a, um, pertainyng to reappng.
 Falces messoriae, sicthes or reappng hookes.
 Messus, a, um, reaped.
 Metes, one of the captaines that came to ayde the Trojanes.
 Metium, a town in Germany called Maidburg.
 Met, a syllable added to a pronowne.
 Metax, f. g. a but or prycke to shoote at, properly made brode beneth and sharpe toward the toppe lyke a sugar lose, sometime a marke or gol in the fildes, wherunto men or hoxes do renne. Sometime a bounde in landes. also a rieke or cothe, of cozne or heie. also the lower stone of a mylle.
 Meta frani, a cocke of hee.
 Meta lastis, a chese made lyke a sugar lose.
 Meta distillatoria, a stillatorie.
 Metabasis, sis, f. g. a passage.
 Metabole, change.
 Mengoniam, a promontorie or mountayne lyng into the sea, whiche diuideth Africa from Sumidia.
 Metalepis, a figure, wherby a woorde is put from his common signification.
 Metalli, hied foundiers.
 Metallici, they whiche dooe dygge and woork the metall out of the mynes, wherin mettalle is founde.
 Metallicus, a, um, belongyng to metall.
 Metallifer, ra, rum, that ingendreth metall.
 Metallum, li, n. g. metall.
 Metamorphosis, leos, f. g. a transfozmacion or chaungeyng of figure.
 Metaphora, a translation of woordes from their propre signification.
 Metaphrænum, ni, neu. ge. that parte of the backe, whiche is against the herte, the spleene, the lunges and the liver.
 Metaphisica, orum, thynges supernaturall and the science of them.
 Metapyschosis, a passing from one bodie to an other.
 Metaplasinus, mi, a figure called transfozmacion. it is a translatyng of woordes, beynge in prose. into a foueme of meter, either for necessitee, or for to augment the elegancie.
 Metapontum, a cite in the realme of Naples.
 Metapontini, people of that cite.
 Metatio, onis, f. g. a disposition.
 Metator, oris, m. g. he that disposeth or setteth trees in ordie in a vineyard or any other place.

 Metathesis, where one letter is transposed from one place in a woorde into an other, as Timber, tymbre.
 Metaurus & Metaurum, a riuer of Umbria, whiche tenneth into Flaminia.
 Metellus, the propre name of diuers noble Romanes.
 Metempsychosis, sis, f. g. the transposyng of soules, after the opinion of Pythagoras, out of one body into an other.
 Meteora, are booke of Aristotle, wherein he treateth of sterres, and suche other celestia thynges.
 Meteorion, speculation in hygh thynges.
 Meteorologus, gi, m. g. he that is studious in suche speculation.
 Meteoros, hygh.
 Meteoroscopus, pi, m. g. a beholder of hygh thynges.
 Methrion, looke Chamedaphne.
 Methodus, di, f. g. a compendious or redy way or a rule certayne to learne any science by.
 Methone, a cite of Sceloponensis, called now Modona.
 Methymna, a cite in the yle of Lesbos.
 Methymnaus, a, um, of that cite.
 Meticulofus, a, um, timorous or fearfull.
 Meticulus, a, um, fearfull.
 Metriocus, the sonne of Philias of Athens.
 Metior, tiris, ture, to mete or measure, to geue by measure, to passe or go ouer, to esteeme, to iudge. Summum bonum honestate metiri, to esteeme the chief goodnesse to be in honestie, or perfect felicity to consiste in honestie.
 Omnia, quæ ad beatam vitam pertinent, venter metiri, to iudge felicity to reside in nothyng but in bankettyng and makyng there, or in eating and drynkynge.
 Mihi istic nec feritur, nec metitur, that belongeth nothyng to me.
 Metis, one of the daughters of Oceanus and Tethis.
 Metiscus, Curnus chatiot man.
 Metius Suffertus (a capitayn of the people called Albani) was of Tullus Hostilius, kyng of Romains called to battayle agaynst the people Fidenates. He came, but abydyng which hoste shuld haue the victorie, he absteyned to fight. wherfore Cullus, after that he had vanquished his enemies, caused Metias to be tied to sundry hoxes, & to be drawn in peeces. also Metius is the name of diuers other.
 Metro, messui, metere, to scape.
 Metecus, was he, whiche came out of one countie or cite, and dwelled in an other. Suche were wont to paye certayne head speler, whiche was named Metecium, & was the value of. xii. dragmas.
 Metro, au, are, is sometime redde for metor.
 Metona, looke Methone.

Metonymia, a figure called denomination: as Bacchus, for wyne: Venus, for lychery: Cupido, for loue.

Metopiscopus, pi, m. g. he that considereth a mans face, and thereby iudgeth his conditions or afflictions.

Metopion, pi, n. g. oyle of almondes. also a tree in Africk, whiche distillith downe gumme lyke rosen.

Metor, aris, ari, to sette boundes, to measure lande, to dispose.

Caltra metari, to pitche a campe.

Metata etiam pascue dicitur.

Merra, a famous harlotte, the daughter of Eristichion.

Metrera, a certayne measure, wherof bee twoo sortes: the one is called Attica, and conteyneth of wyne a hundred poundes, of oyle. 90. pounde, of hony a. 150. poundes, and is of our measure. vi. gallons, one pottell, and one quarte: and so it receiveth. xii. Choas atticis. The other is called Georgica, but it is of esquall measure with Attica.

Metreca (as Dioscorides saith) conteyneth ten congios: that is of our measure. x. galons. x. pintes, whiche is a leauen galon and a quarte. In all these comptes of measures you must vnderstande, I take sextarius, by whiche all other is tried, to be .24. ounces, that is a pinte and an halfe. if it be but .18. or .20. ounces: then is it easely cast accordyng to that rate.

Metricus, a, um, perteynyng to measure.

Metrodorus, a philosophers name, a folowere of Epicure. also the name of certayne other philosophers.

Metropolis, lis, f. g. the chiefe citee.

Metropolitani, a, um, of that citee.

Metropolites, the byshop of the chiefe citee.

Metrum, tri, n. g. a measure, a verse.

Metuens, entis, om. g. that feareth.

Metuo, metui, metuere, to feare or drede with tremblinge.

Metuere ab aliquo, to feare lest one wil harme me. Metuo mihi, I feare lest I shall haue harme. Metuere de aliquo, to feare lest he shalde haue harme.

Male metuo, I feare shewdly.

Metuo crimen, I feare it will bee layed to my charge.

Metuo fratrem, ne intus sit, I feare my broz ther lest he be within.

Metuo tibi, I feare lest some harme will come to you. Haud metuo, I feare not, I passe not.

Metuo meo amori moram, I feare he will pzo longe or deferre my marriage.

Ab Annibale metuens, fearyng Hanniball, lest he woulde woorkhe them some mischiche.

A me insidias metuunt, They feare lest I wil betraye them.

Metuo reipublica malum ab eo, I feare he woul woorkhe the common wraile some harme.

Metuit de vita, he feareth that he shal dye, or that it will cost hym his lyfe.

Metuo quid agam, I can not tell what to doe.

Iam metuo, patres quot facere, Howe I know not how many fathers there were.

Metuo vt subster, I feare he will not be able to holde his owne.

Metus, us, m. g. feare, drede. Sometyme religio. A moto metu, all feare layed apart.

Facere metum alicui, to make one afeard, to put one in feare.

Incutere metum, idem.

Liberare aliquem metu, to put one out of fear.

Ponere aliquid in metu, to feare.

Sum in metu, I feare.

Inanem metuebat metum, he feared in vaine, he has woyle aferd then hurte, he was afeard of his owne shadowe.

Metutus, a, um, feared.

Meys, the refuse of wage.

Meu, an herbe, haupnge a stalhe and leaues like to anise.

Meum, a certayne herbe seldome in Englande, it is talled Meu or Duch dill.

Meuania, a citee in the parte of Italy called Umbria, wherin Propertius the poete was boyn.

Meuda, looke Limonium.

Meueia, a citee in wales, called saint Dauid.

Meuius, a foolyshe poete, ennemie to Vergile and Horace.

Meus, a, um, myne.

Mea quidem sententia, in myne opinion.

Meo nomine, for my cause, on my behalf, for my sake.

Meum est, it is my dutie or my parte, or myne inuention.

Meus sum, I am myne owne man, or sobiecte to no man, or in no mans daunger.

Non est mentiri meum, It is not my nature or propertie to lye.

Si hoc esset meum, if it were in me to doe this.

De meo nihil addo, I adde nothyng of myne owne inuention.

Meus and tuus, bee sometyme vied as substantiues.

Mea manu scripta littera, letters of myne owne hande wrytynge.

Mezentius, father of Lausus, a wicked person, contemnyng the goddis.

MI, to me: it is also the vocatyue case of Meus.

Mica, ex, f. g. a beaite small portion of any thyng, as a crum of breade, or of glass.

Cande, or mettall being fyled.

Mica salis, a coyne of salte.

Miaspho, of the magicians is vied for Cyclus.

Micans, thyngs, glisteryns.

Michale, a foxcote among the Centaures.

Mico, au, are, to glyste or shyne.

Micant gladij, the twoo dyes doo byandyshe.

Micant venar, the veynes doo beate.

Dignus, qui cum in tenebris mices, is applied to one, whiche is reputed to bee an honest man and a trusty, whiche will keepe touche and dectue no man. It maie be in this wyse translated, in a comon forme of speakyng: He is one, with whom thou maiest assuredly bargayne. also Micare digitis, a certayne plaic, that yet is vied in Italie, it is to holde by nowe one finger, now tow, as men doo whan they teate or bargayne together by signes.

Auribus micat equus, the horse moueth his eares.

Cor nemore micat, my hearte panteth for feare.

Crebris micat ignib<sup>9</sup> ether, it lighteneth ofid.

Micat animus, the herte leapeth.

Miconis, a kynd of wild lettuce.

Miconium, an herbe called Dopy.

Micocosmus, mi, m. g. a lictell woyle.

Micrologia, x, f. g. ge. curiosities about thynges of no nature.

Micrologus, gi, m. g. a littell communication.

Microphichia, x, f. g. ge. feble courage, feynnesse of hert.

Microphichi, they whiche haue saynt hertes.

Microio, riui, riue, to pisse, or to haue wyle to pisse.

Microis, poore folkes pottage.

Micropla, a kyng of Numidia.

Midas, a woosome bycedyng in beanes, also a certayne cast of the dice.

Midas, a kyng of Phrygia, who excelled all other in rychece, who fowlsly preferred Pan befoze Apollo in syngyng.

Auriculas alini Midas habet, spoken prouers brail of foolles, and of them that haue grosse and corrupt iudgements.

Midion, di, n. g. a certayne thyppe.

Mieza, a towne in Macedonia.

Migratio, onis, f. g. a remouyng in iournele.

Migro, au, are, to remoue from one place to dwell in an other.

Migrare in mucronem, to be pointed.

Migrasit, for migrauerit.

Migare de, or ex vita, to dye.

Mihi, sometyme it signifieth to me. Sometyme agaynst me.

Si quid peccat Demea, mihi peccat, De mea what so euer it is that he hath dooen amysse, it is agaynst me, it is my harme, and none others.

Sometyme it signifieth of me, or by me. Syrus est prahendendus, atque adhorandus mihi, Syrus must be gotten and counsayled by me: or I muste exhozte or counsaile Syrus.

Me mihi quaro nunc rectius sapit, quam ego met mihi: Howe muche wylse is he nowe in this case for my behofe and profitte, than I am for myne owne.

Mihi, is often added Festiuitatis gratia.

Mihimet ipsi, to me my selfe.

Mihupte, Eato vied for mihi ipsi.

Milax, the herbe called also Volucium, and Glymenon.

Milades, a noble capitayne of the Athenienses, who with 11000. Grekes vauquished. 600000. Persians in the fildes of Marathon. Afterwarde, by the people of Athens, he was condemned and caste into prison, where he died, and mought not be suffered to be buried, vntill his soonne had taken vpon hym the greues, whiche his father dyd weare.

Miles, militis, com. gener. a man of warre, a souldiour.

Miles, is sometyme vied in the feminine gender.

Milites, be sometyme vied for sergeantes, beas dyls, or sommers, belongyng to magistrates and iudges.

Milenus, a citee in Fonia, an other in Ecetra, an other in the ple of Lesbos. Milerus is also the sonne of Sol and Paliphac, whiche builded that citee in Fonia.

Milesius, a, um, of that citee.

Miletum, a citee in the countreie of Athens.

Miliaia, an herbe, whiche windyng about the graine, called millet, killeth it: it is good also against the goutte in beastes.

Miliaria, a bird that eateth milium.

Miliaris, a serpent.

Miliaria, x, f. g. the litle bird called a linet.

Militaris, re, belongyng to warfare.

Militaris homo, a man of warre.

Militaris via, the high waie.

Militaris, the herw, called also Coniza, toke there, also it is the same, whiche is called Lactoris, it is verie medicinable to greene woundes.

Militarius, a, um, idem quod miliaris.

Militariter, warrelly, lyke a souldiour.

Militia, x, f. gen. warre, warfare, the exerceise of warre.

Dare nomen militiae, to offere hym selfe to be bidde to go to warre.

Militia vacare, to bee exempte from goyng to warre.

Militia, the genitiue case, aduerbially in the warre, or at warfare.

Milito, au, are, to goe on warfare, or to bee in warres.

Milium, li, neu. ge. a small graine called millet or hirse.

Milium indicum, wheat of Turke.

Militius, a, um, of or perteynyng to mille, or that is fedde with mille.

Mille adiectiuum, plur. tantum, indeclin. a thousande.

Mille passus, a myle.

Mille, neu. gene. substantiuum, plur. millia, a thousande.

Mille annorum, a thousande yeres.

Milli, is redde in auncient wyters in the ablas true case singular.
Milleſimus, a, um, the thouſande.
Milleſima pars, the thouſande parte.
Millefolium, or Millefolia, an herbe called milſe fogle, parrowe, or noſeblede.
Millepeda, a, ſc. m. g. a woozme hauyng a great numbre of feete.
Milleſies, a thouſande tymes.
Milliarius, a, um, of a thouſande weyght.
Milliarius grex, a ſtocke of a thouſande.
Milliarius, ri, n. ge. and Milliare, ri, n. gen. a myle, alſo a caudon. alſo a pillar in Rome, wherin was grauen all the waies of Italy.
Millies, a thouſande tymes, verie often tymes.
Millum, li, n. g. and Millus, li, m. g. a maſtiues colar, made of leather with naples.
Milo, Ionis, the name of one, whiche at the game of Olympus, with his bare hand ſlew a bulle, and afterwarde caried hym a furlong, and the ſame day eate hym euery moſſelle. It was alſo a noble Romayne, for whom Cullie made an oration, conteynng incomparable eloquence.
Milo, is alſo an hille in India.
Miliades, idem quod Mileades.
Milina tibia, a cornet of ſmalle ſhaultme.
Milius, un, or Milvus, ui, m. g. a hyte, and by tranſlation, a rauenyng pollyng man. There is alſo a ſyche and a ſterre of the ſame name.
Miluius, a, um, of a hyte, or lyke a hyte.
Miluius pullus, a ponge hyte.
Miluius pes, an herbe called Ritefote.
Milyas, a place in Aſia.
Mina, a, ſc. g. a tumblyng or danſyng wenche, that counterſaith the geſtures and ſacions of other.
Mimalon, a yong man that loued Athalanta of Arcadie.
Mimallis, an plande.
Mimallones, or Mimallonides, dum, ſc. m. ge. women ſeruyng Bacchus.
Mimas, a mountayne in the leſſe Aſia, of the whiche the foreſaid women were named.
Mimicis, ſis, f. g. a figure called imitation, counterſaithyng other mens woozdes and geſture.
Mimmerus, ni, m. ge. a wyter of verſes befoze the ſpme of the. vii. wiſe men.
Mimula, la, f. g. a diminutiue of Mima.
Mimus, mi, m. ge. a boozder, or a rapler, whiche in mockyng other men in geſture and countenance, deth ſooloweth them, feignyng to be the ſame perſones, whom they dooe reproue.
Mimi, be verſes counterſaithyng muche wantonneſſe without any reuerence, hauyng not withſtandynge ſome wyſe ſentences myngled therewith.
Mimicus, a, um, of ſuche wanton ſacion.
Mimographus, phi, maſ. gen. a wyter of ſuche wanton matters.
Mina, na, ſc. m. g. after ſome is the value of our poundeſterlyng; but moze truly it is the ſame amonge the Grekes, that libra is amonge the Romans. x. crownes frenche. xl. s. ſterlyng. It alſo amonge the grekes ſometyme ſignified a poſſe, or weight. ſometyme a coyn. The poſſe was of the ſortes: one was called Mina antea, whiche weighed. xii. ounces, and an halfe, whiche was moze than the Romane pounde by iii. drammes: for the Romane libra, contained but 96. drammas, and the Athenes pounde contained an hundred. Mina medica weighed. vi. ounces: Mina Alexandrina weighed. vi. ounces. whan it ſignified coyne, there was of it alſo two ſortes, one called Mina, or Mina antea Solonis, whiche conteyned a hundred drammas: of our monce now current. xliii. s. iii. d. In other was Mina, or Mina vetus, whiche was lxxv. Drammas, xlv. s. iii. d. q. Hudeus clyeth meth Minam Anticam, at x. crownes frenche: of our money, after Conſtall. xl. s. or as I thinke. xxxii. s. iii. d. if we take Denarium to be a groate ſterlyng, as Conſtall teacheth, and as it is moſt true. for in euery Mina is. lxxv. Denarij. Mina, is alſo a meaſure of grounde, conteynyng. 122. fote in lengthe, and as muche in breadth.

Mina Italica, as Diodorus ſaith, was a pond weight, and. iiii. drammes.
Decem mina, or mina, be of our money xliii. li. x. s. ii. d. or to accompte after Conſtallus, xx. l. ſterlyng.
Centum mina, or mina, be. 239. li. xi. s. viii. d. or after the computation of Iudei and Conſtall. 200. l. ſterlyng.
Mina ouis, a ſheepc pylde vnder the bealy.
Minacia, arum, ſc. gen. plur. vſed of Plantas for Mina.
Minax, arum, f. g. plu. thretynges, menacynges, epyth in woozdes of ſignes. alſo baſilmentes of walles, or lyttell pinnacles.
Minas iactare, to threthen.
Clamore ac minis aliquem inſequi, to crye out vpon one and threthen hym.
Minax, acis, om. g. full of thretynges.
Minaciter, thretyngly with thretyng and threpy woozdes, ſaſpyngly.
Minario, ri, ri, ſc. to trouble lyke a dooe of pigeon.
Minas, the name of a gysant.
Minatio, onis, f. g. a thretyng.
Minanter, thretyngly.
Minax, people of Arabia, nyghe to the red ſea, where frankyncenſe chiefly groweth, and is of that place called Minaxum.
Mincius, a ryuer of Italy, whiche compaſſeth the citee of Manua, and renneth in to the great ryuer of Po, called Padus.
Minera, & Mineralia, are of ſome vſed for mines, out of the whiche metall is dygged.
Minerva, ua, f. ge. the goddeſſe of doctrine and wyſedome, whiche was alſo named Pallas.
Sometyme Minerva is vſed for nature, wyte or craft.

Crassa Minerua, vel pingui Minerua, groſſeſt, rudely.
Iuuita Minerua, agaynſt nature.
Sus Mineruam, pꝛocurbially ſpoken, where an ybete or ſoule teacheth a wyſe & learned man.
Minerva ſanguis, the herbe Chamæpitis.
Nineo, aui, are, to dye redde, to colour with redde leade.
Minerva, a promontorye of Campayne, called commonly Capo Minerua.
Mineral, and Mineruale, lis, n. ge. a rewarde geuen ſometyme by ſcholars vnto theyr mayſters, in meate or dygnite.
Minco, a ryuer.
Minus, a Cheban, whoſe daughters were turned into battes or terempe.
Mingo, minxi, gere, to make water, to poſſe.
Minarius, a, um, of ſynople or of redde leade.
Miniacus, a, um, made of red leade or ſynople.
Minaria, a, ſc. m. ge. the place where ſynople is dygged.
Minatus, or Miniatulus, a, um, lyke ſynople, or of the colour of ſynople, or vermillion.
Minuati libri, lymned bookes, hauyng letters of dyuers colours.
Minatula cera, redde ware.
Minatula cera notare, to note a thyng to bee amended or corrected.
Minus, an hylle in Theſſaly, called after Orichomenus.
Minime, leaſt, alſo no, in no wyſe.
Minime gentium, leaſt in all mens opinions, no in any wyſe.
Minime doctus, vnlearned.
Minime ſapiens, vnwyſe.
Minime mirum, little meruayle.
Minime feceris, doe it not.
Minime, ſometime muche leſſe, alſo at the leaſt.
Minime grauium ſpectaculum, no pleaſant ſpyght.
Minime omnium, no in any wyſe.
Minime tribus diebus, at the leaſt thre daies.
Minime multi, fewe.
Minimus, a, um, leaſt, ſmalleſt.
Minimus nati, the pongeſt.
Minimus digitus, the lyttell fynger.
Minimo emit, he bought it almoſt for naught.
Minimo precij homo, a vile perſone, of no eſtimation.
Minima quidem ex parte, lyttell or nothyng at all.
Minimum, an aduerbe, at the leaſt.
Minimum, a ſubſtantiu, a very ſmall thyng, the leaſt thyng in the woꝛlde.
Minimopere, veray lyttell.
Minuſcitur, for reminuſcitur.
Minuſter, ſtri, m. g. a ſeruaunt, a miniſter.
Minuſter, ſtra, ſtrum, that ſeructh or miniſtreth.
Minuſterium, ſterij, neu. ge. ſeruite. ſometyme generally, all woozde, ſometyme miniſteria,

See ſeruaunt.
Minuſtra, ſtra, a woman ſeruaunt.
Minuſtrator, onis, m. gen. he that myniſtreth or ſeructh.
Minuſtratrix, the feminine.
Minuſtratorius, a, um, perteynyng to miniſtration of ſeruite.
Minuſtro, aui, are, to ſerue, to geue a thyng in dooyng ſeruite, to poſſer to, to deliuer to, to myniſter.
Minuſtrare poculum, to ſerue one of dygnite, to waite on his cuppe.
Minuſtrare victum, To ſynde, to geue meate and dygnite.
Minuſtabilitate, idem quod minaciter.
Minuſtabundus, a, um, thretyng ſore.
Minutans, antis, om. g. thretyng.
Minuto, aui, are, and minutor, aris, ari, to thretyſſen ſore, to menace.
Minutari ferrum & flammam, to thretyſſen to ſea and to bourne.
Minutare malum, to thretyſſen to dooe one a ſhewde tourne or diſpleaſure.
Mino, aui, are, to leade.
Minium, nij, neu. g. ſynople, redde leade, or vermillion.
Minus, a ryuer in Spayne.
Minoa, a citee in Sicilie, an other in the yle called Imozgos by Sicilie.
Minon, the herbe mandragoras.
Minor, aris, ari, to thretyſſen, to menace. alſo to ſtande out further than other.
Minatur mortem illi, he thretyneth to ſlea hym.
Minor, onis, the comparatiue of Paruus, leſſe, ſmaller, ponger.
Minor nati, the ponger.
Minoris dimidio, leſſe by halfe.
Minor filius, the ponger ſonne.
Quaſi ſit minor mea res agatur, quam tua, as though this belonged not to me, as muche as to you: or as though this concerned not as muche my proſite as yours.
Minos, Minois, a kyng of Crete, that fyrſt gaue theyn lawes, whom paynyms for his excellent iuſtice, ſuppoſed to be chief iudge of hell.
Minouis, and Minous, a, um, of Minos.
Minois, noidis, patronymicum femininum, of Minois.
Minotaurus, ri, a monſter in Crete, whom the poetes feigne to bee borne of Paſyphæ, the wyfe of kyng Minos, beynge part lyke a man, part lyke a bulle, which beynge incloſed in the place called Labyrinthus, was fedde with mannes fleſhe. He was ſlayne by Theſeus, with the helpe of Ariadna daughter of Minos.
Mintha, an hylle, named of Mintha Plutus harlotte.
Minthos, dunge or ozdure.
Minurna, a citee in Campana.
Minuo, minui, minuere, to myniſſe, to make leſſe.

Minuere as alienum, To paye parte of ones debtes.
 Vt aliqua pars laboris minuatur mihi, That some parte of my labour maye be cutte of, or that I maie haue somewhat the lesse payne.
 Minuere, absolutely, somtyme for Decreascere. Ne minueris hanc quæ facis, continue and doe as ye dooe still.
 Minuere controuersiam, to appease or finish a controuersie or variance.
 Minuere imperium matris, To dooe agaynst his mothers commaundement.
 Minue iram, quiete your selfe, appease your selfe, be not so angry.
 Maiestatem per vim minuere, To rebelle, to make a commocion.
 Minurizo, aui, are, to syng small, or to feigne in synging.
 Minus, lesse. somtyme for Non.
 Minus intellexi, I byd not vnderstande it.
 Minus audacter, not so boldely or stoutly.
 Minus credere, not to beleue.
 Minus memini, I doo not remembre.
 Minus venit, he cometh seldom.
 Minus minusque obtemperat, he obeyeth me lesse and lesse.
 Minus duo millia hominum effugerunt, they escaped not two thousande.
 Amicorum hic habens minus, hauyng fewer frendes here than you haue.
 Quo fiant minus, That they maye not bee brought to passe.
 Minus quinquennium est quod. &c. It is not fyue yeres, sens. &c.
 Nunquam nix minus quatuor pedes alta iacuit, The snowe was there neuer lesse, than foure fote depe.
 Minusculus, a, um, littell, preatie.
 Minuscula epistola, a littell epistoll.
 Dignus minusculus, the littell synger.
 Minutal, talis, neu. g. a meate made with herbes and other thynges chopped together, a russell.
 Minutarius, a fellar of trices or smalle haberdashe ware.
 Minutatum, peete meale, in gobbettes. also by littell and lytell, leperly, with lepure.
 Minutatum interrogare, to aske by diuers and sundry questions.
 Minute, the aduerbe, smally.
 Minutum, in littell peetes or morselles.
 Minuta, æ, f. g. the smallest thyng that may be sene. it is also the name of a virgin Vestall.
 Minutio, onis, f. g. a mynyng.
 Minutulus, a, um, littell, preatie.
 Minutum, idem quod Lepa.
 Minutus, a, um, mynyshed, small, littell.
 Minutus animus, a feble courage, a feint herte.
 Fruges minutæ, coyne, grayne, differynge from paille.
 Quæstionculæ minutæ, littell questions.
 Minutæ literæ, smalle letters.

Minya, people of Thessalia.
 Minyeus, a ruere runnyng out of Thessaly.
 Mion, the herbe, called also Hippomaradum.
 Mira, wondrous or meruayles.
 Mirabilis, le, meruapulous, wonderfull, to bee wondrous at.
 Mirabilis suauitate, wonderfull pleasant and sweete.
 Mirabilem in modum, meruapulously.
 Mirabiliter, meruapulously, wonderfull, greatly, exceedingly.
 Mirabiliter multa, verate many thynges.
 Mirabiliter lator, I am wonderfully or much dyngly gladde.
 Mirabilitas, atis, f. g. wonderynge, meruaplyng.
 Mirabundus, a, um, that meruaplyth of wondrous dereth.
 Miraculum, li, n. g. a miracle, a thyng exceeding nature or commune reason, a wondrous thyng.
 Mirandus, a, um, to bee woundyed of meruaplyd at, meruapulous.
 Mirandum in modum, wonderfully, exceedingly.
 Miratio, onis, f. g. meruaplyng, wonderynge.
 Mirator, oris, m. g. a wonderer, a meruapler, one that esteemeth a thyng muche.
 Miratrix, tridis, the feminine.
 Miratus, a, um, meruaplyng.
 Miratus, us, m. g. a meruaplyng.
 Mirè, wonderfully, meruapulously, exceedingly.
 Mirus, the comparatiue.
 Mirifice, idem quod mire.
 Mirifico, aut, are, to make wonderfull.
 Mirificus, a, um, wonderfully done, meruapulous.
 Miriones, men hauyng wry mouthes.
 Mirius, a hyll of Thessaly.
 Mirmecia, wertes in the pyrate partes.
 Mirmillones, challengers at fightynge with twoydes.
 Miro, aui, are, is somtyme founde in olde wyters for miror.
 Miror, aris, ari, to meruaple, to lyke a thyng, to wonder at, to be in loue with, to beholde with great delectacion & pleasure, to esteeme greatly.
 Mirarise, to please hym selfe well, to be verry gloriouse.
 Mirari aliquem, to haue one in great admiration, to esteeme hym muche.
 Mirus, a, um, meruapulous, wonderfull.
 Mirum in modum, in a meruapulous facion.
 Mirum, aduerbialiter, in answerynge, as one shoulde saye, a wonderfull thyng.
 Ne cui sit vestrum mirum, meruapulous none of you.
 Mira sunt nisi. &c. It is great meruapulous that. &c.
 Mirum nimis est, It is a thyng greatly to be meruaplyd at.
 Non mirum facis, you doo no new or strange thyng, or nothyng to be meruaplyd at.

Miris modis, meruapulously.
 Mis, the gentile case of Ego.
 Misanthropus, he that hateth the compaigne of men.
 Miscellaneous, a, um, that is myrte togyther with out order.
 Miscellanea, thynges myrte togyther, or a woode conteynyng diuers thattiers myrte togyther.
 Miscellus, a, um, myrte or myngled of dyuers thynges.
 Miscellæ vites, vines that may bee myngled with any other, or may be planted in any place indifferently.
 Miscellæ vix, grapes that smalle wyne is made of for seruauantes.
 Miscellum, a hynde of culuers.
 Misce, scut, scere, to myrte or myngle togyther, to temper togyther, to confounde togyther, to trouble, and make greatte confusion of thynges, to dooe a thyng oute of order or reason.
 Somtyme it signifyeth to serue one of drynke.
 Misere tumultum, to set men in a roye, to make a commocion.
 Misere uinum aqua, and aqua vino, To temper or alaie wyne with water.
 Ita istæc tua miscero, ne me admisceas, Syngye in, or meddle of thyne owne matters, in such wyse, that thou byngye not me in amonge them: or that thou make not me parte taker of them.
 Omnia miscere, to trouble and confounde all thynges.
 Miscere uenenum, to temper popson for men to drynke.
 Miscere ceramina, to stepe in and fyght amonge other.
 Miscellus, a, um, a diminutiue of Miser.
 Misenum, a promontorie by Cumæ.
 Misenus, the sonne of Æolus, Æneas trumettouere.
 Miser, misera, erum, wretched, miserable, pitifull, in thysal dome and trouble, heauye, somtyme sick, somtyme innocent.
 Miserrimus fui fugitando, ne quis me cognosceret, I was veraylle troubled, encumbred and bered, or (as we saie) in a pecke of troubles, with rennyng oute of the way, that no man myght knowe me. Or I was wretched, tyred, and fapnt with rennyng. &c.
 Nemo est inferior me, no man is moze miserable, or in worse case than I.
 Miseram me, Th wretched woman that I am.
 Me miserum, alas, that euer I was bozne.
 Miseris modis, pitiously, that it would pitee one to see it.
 Miser animi, animo, ex animo, he that hath great heauynesse and sorowe of herte.
 Quem minus miserum credere est? whome shoulde a man beleue to bee in better case or condicion?

Perij miser, alas I am vndoyn wretched man that I am.
 Miserum, an interiection of sorowynge, as one wolde say, a pitifull thyng to remembre.
 Miserabile, for Miserabiliter.
 Miserabilis, le, miserable, wretched, lamentable, to be pitied.
 Miserabiliter, miserably, lamentably, wretchedly.
 Miserandus, a, um, to be pitied. idem quod miserabilis.
 Miseranter, idem quod Miserabiliter.
 Misericordia, onis, f. g. pitee, mercy, compassion.
 Misericors, oris, m. g. he that dooth an acte of charitee on hym, whom he piteeth.
 Misere, miserably, wretchedly, pitifully, vnfortunately, greatly, veraylle muche, exceedingly, desperately.
 Vt istæc ac misere omnes sumus religiosæ, As all we women be foolyshe, and perillous full of supersticion.
 Misere amat, he loueth exceedingly, he is veray depe in loue, or loueth desperately.
 Misericors, ordis, om. g. mercifull, piteefull, that hath pitee and compassion, that is soze for an other mans yll, tender herted.
 Misereor, eris, eri, and somtyme Misereo, miseres, to haue pitee, to pitee, to be soze for ones distresse or mysferte.
 Mei miseret nemo, no man piteeth me.
 Miseret, the impersonall, it piteeth.
 Miseret me vicem tuam, I haue ptece of your ylle chaunce, or I am soze for your misfortune.
 Miseret me, I haue pitee.
 Miseretur, I am moued with pitee.
 Misertum, vel miserum est, men haue compassiue or pitee.
 Misereco, scere, to be moued with pitee.
 Miséria, æ, f. g. mysfere, wretchednesse, infelicitee, distresse, misfortune, aduersitee.
 Misericordia, æ, f. g. pitee, mercy, compassion, that one hath on an other miserie.
 Misericordior, the comparatiue of Misericors.
 Misericorditer, piteefully.
 Miseriter, mysferebly.
 Miseritudo, inis, idem quod Miséria.
 Miseror, aris, ari, to haue ptece and compassiue for ones mysferte, to lamente ones mysfortune.
 Misocali, they whiche hate all hynde of learnynge or honest knowlage.
 Misodolon, li, n. g. the herbe called Ocimum.
 Misopathos, the herbe called also Ocimaltrum.
 Misoponus, he that hateth labour.
 Misogynia, an hate of women.
 Misenus, an hyll in Campania.
 Misiculo, aui, are, to sende often.
 Missile, lis, a dart, stone, or other thyng that is thowen.

Misilis, le, that mate be thowen, caste, or hurt led.
Misiles res, thynges that be scattered or thowwen among children.
Misilia, thynges, whiche the auncient emperours were wonte to caste amonge the people, as breadde, cakes, sweete oynmentes and suche lyke, whiche was dooen in the Theater, in the feast called Saturnalia.
Missio, ōnis, f. g. a sendynge awaye, a message,
also leaue to departe.
Missio, aut, are, to sende often.
Misus, a, um, sent awaye, caste, hurled, thotte foorth, lette passe.
Missum facere, to ompt or passe ouer a thyng,
also to geue leaue to departe.
Misum facere vxorem, to caste of and for-take ones wyfe.
Missa istac facito, leat these thynges passe.
Missa facio, I leat you dooe what you will.
Nos missos fac, speake no moze to vs of the matter, trouble vs no moze with the matter, leat vs alone.
Misum facere vadimonium, not to appeere at the daie appoynted.
Misso conuiuium, after the table was take by.
Misso officio, leaueing apart honestie, or that one is bonde to dooe by honestie and reason.
Misus us, m. g. a casting, a hurlyng, a sendyng, a course, whan one thyng cometh in a distance after an other, a turne, a course in seruice at the table.
Mistura, a, f. g. a mixture, a temperance.
Mistus, and Mixtus, a, um, mingled tempered.
Misy, is that whiche the apothecaries dooe call Mistiole.
Mitella, a, f. g. a littell miter.
Mite, gently, myldely, paciently.
Mitescere, scere, to waxe tame, to become gentyll or tractable, to waxe cauline, or quiet. some-tyme to waxe rype or mellowe.
Mitescere hyeme, towarde the ende of wynter, whan the tyme waxeth moze warme and pleasaunt.
Mare mitescit, the sea waxeth cauline.
Mitescit discordia, the discorde of variance is appeased or allayed.
Mithra, the Persians do call the soonne, and also to the chiefe priest of the soonne.
Mithriaca, ōrum, n. gen. plur. ceremonies of the sunne.
Mithridates, a puissaunte hyng of Ponthus in Asia.
Mithridaticum, i. n. g. a medicine lyke to Cieracle, called Mithridate.
Mithridation, an herbe, haupnge two leaues com-pyng out from the roote lyke Acanthus, and in the myddes a stalke bearyng a rebde flower.
Mitifico, aut, are, to pacifie or make quiete, some-tyme to concorde or digest.
Mitigatio, ōnis, f. g. an appeasynge, an asswage geyng, a makynge of a thyng moze quiete, gentyll, or easy.

Mitigatorius, a, um, that hath strenght to myt-gate or asswage.
Mitigo, aut, are, to mitigate, to swage, to appease, to make ripe or mellowe.
Irasci & mitigari, contrary.
Cibum mitigare, to scethe meate.
Mitigare dolorem, to asswage ones sorow.
Irasci mitigare, to appease ones anger.
Febrem mitigare, to make a feuer moze easy or lesse peynfull.
Mitis, te, mecke, symple, mylde, gentyll, soft, tractable, not sterpyng, cauline, quiete, without surges or waues. also rype, mellowe.
Mitis & mansuetus, and Ferus & Immanis,
contrary.
Mores mitissimi, beate gentyll and pleassaunt behauiour, beate easy to away with.
Mitiorum in partem interpretari, to interpret a thyng gentilly.
Nihil poterat illo fieri mitius, There coulde no man in the worlde be moze gentyll than he.
Mitia poma, rype and mellowe appuls.
Mite stagnum, a standyng water, a quiet was-ter, without waues or surges.
Mitra, a, f. g. a mitre. It was also a tye of men and womens heades amonge the Scythians.
it may also be used for such a tye as younge maidens and damoysles vse to wear.
Mitras, a stone of the colour of a rose, but against the soonne it is chaungeable.
Miterin, an ple, sixe daies saylynge out of End
glande, wherein is great plentie of myne.
Mitula, a diminutue of mitra.
Mitto, missi, mittere, to sende, to leaue of laye parte, to lette passe, not to speake of, to geue, to caste, to hurle, to hyngge foorth, to putte foorth, as a tree dooth leaues or fruite.
Mittere sanguinem, to leat bloude.
Obuiam mittere, to sende to meete.
Præcipitem mittere, to cast hedlonge.
Salutem mittere, to salute by an other, to sende greetynge or commendacions.
Subsidium, and subsidiu mittere, to sende aide or succour.
Vocem mittere, to speake, to crye.
Mittere vocem contra aliquem, to speake ad-gains one.
Voces furiales mittere, to speake racyngly lyke a mad man without ryme or reason.
Mittere folia, to hyngge foorth leaues.
Mitte lachrymas, leaue weepynge, weep no
moze.
Mitte male loqui, leaue your pille language.
Pro nobis mitte precari, intercate no moze for vs.
Sed mitto de illo, But I wylle speake no moze of hym.
Mitte id quod scio, dic quod rogo, Let passe that I knowe, and tell me that I aske the.

Mitte me, let me goe, lette me alone, trouble me no moze with the matter.
Mitilegatos se venturum, He sent woord by ambassadors that he would come.
Mittere in seruitutem, to put in bondage and subiection.
Mittere sub iugum, To make to go vnder the galowes in signe of reproche.
lacere & mittere ridiculum, to speake a mery thyng to be laughed at.
Mitte ambages, leaue these long circumstaunces, and telle the thyng in a fewe woordes.
Mitto iam osculari & amplexari, I wylle not speake now of kysynge and clyppynge.
In possessionem mittere, Whan the magistrate for the frowarde contempte of none ap-pearaunce of the partie sendeth the demaunders to take possession of his house & good-des: Whan that the demandaunt to sprenced, sendeth his scruautes to take possession and seison.
Mittere ad nomen, to sende to the musters, to be biled for the warre.
Manus mittere, to seple, to take possession.
Mittere signum, to signifie, to geue a token.
In ora populi mittere, to make one to be talkid or communed of among the people.
Mittere in consilium, to leat the Judges debate, to geue sentence after that the orator hath fynished his oration, or the lawyer his plea.
Mitte hanc noxam, forgeue me this fault.
Mitte hunc ire, leat hym goe.
Mittas fratrium affectibus, Byddell thyne affections.
Mitylene, es, & Mitylenæ, arum, a citee in the isle of Lesbos.
Mina, is an Arabike worde, & signifieth the iupce of frutes, boyled vntyl it be as thicke as honey. It is now onely taken for a syrupe made with the iupce of quynces, wyne, and sugar or hony, as it was in olde tyme.
Mixtarius, a cuppe, wherein wyne is alayed with water.
Mixtus, a, um, loke Mistus.

Mina, idem quod Mina.
Minas, the name of a pyrate in the tyme of Pompey.
Mnasea, a poete.
Mnamone, in latine are called modiparatores.
Mnashum, a certaine herbe growynge in Egypte.
Mnemónica, ōrum, n. gen. plur. pceptes for memozie.
Mnemōsync, es, f. g. the mother of the ix. Mus
ses, and is interpreted memozie.
Mnemōsynon, ni, n. g. a monument, token, or pledge lette with a mans friende for the me-moriall of any thyng.

Mnesarcus, a famous philosopher.
Mnesichenn, the herbe Buphthalmos, also Iu- nipera parua.
Mnestera, woares.
Mnestheus, the name of a Troiane.

MOAB, a citee of Arabia. also the name of one of the sonnes of Loth, of whom the people are called Moabites.
Mobilis, le, mouable, soone moued, vnconstant, mutable, waueryng.
Mobilia ingenia, waueryng wittes.
Mobili animo esse, to haue an vnconstaunte and waueryng mynde.
Mobilitas, ōnis, f. g. mouableness, waggynge, in-constancie, lyghtheesse.
Mobiliter, mouablye, with mouynge, vncon-stauntly.
Mobilito, aut, are, to moue.
Mocontracium, or Mogunnia, the citee of Wentz
in Almayne.
Moderabilis, le, measurable, moderate.
Moderamen, raminis, n. gen. and Moderatio,
ōnis, f. g. moderation, temperance, modestie, guydynge, gouernaunce.
Moderanter, moderately, temperatly.
Moderate, moderately, meanly, with moderac-tion and reason.
Moderatē ferre, to take paciencyly.
Moderatim, leysurely, by littell and littell.
Moderator, tōris, ma. g. a gouernoure, a ruler,
a master.
Moderatrix, triciis, f. g. the feminine, a gouernesse, a Regent.
Moderatus, a, um, moderate, temperate.
Nihil habere moderati, to haue no modestie or honest temperance in thynges.
Moderō, aut, are, to measure, to put a meane.
Moderor, ōris, ari, to gouerne, to rule, to set a measure in thynges, to moderate.
Ex sua libidine nos moderantur, They rule, measure, and order vs, by theyr owne wylfull appetite.
Lingua moderandum mihi est, I muste res-trayne and rule my tounge, I must kepe silence.
Modeste, temperately, soblyely, aduisedly.
Modestia, a, f. g. modestie, temperance, softesnesse, humilitie, humbleness.
Modestus, a, um, temperate, well aduised, mo-deste, that vseth a meane in all his dooynge.
Modestus vultu, demure.
Modialis, le, that whiche conteyneth a bushell.
Modiatio, ōnis, idem quod modius.
Modice, meanelly, measurably, reasonably, moderately, temperately, with a meane, not to much nor to littell, nor to many nor to fewe.
also by itselfe.
Modice ab humo extantia, a littell aboute the grounde.

Ea res modice me tangit, It grently me but litle, or I passe but litle for it.
 De re pauca ac modice loquutus est, he spake of the matter in fewe woordes, and briefly.
 Modice hoc faciam, I wlll dooe this meas-surably.
 Modice ferre, To take patiently and modes-tately.
 Modice spernere, To contemne measurably,
 and not to muche.
 Modicellus, a diminutive of Modicus.
 Modicum, i, n. g. a littell or small thyng.
 Modicum, an aduerbe, a littell.
 Modicus, a, um, that exceedeth not, measurable,
 littell, small, fewe.
 Modicus cultu, meanely apparayled.
 Modici sumus ea in re, we were but bzief in that matter.
 Originis modicus, of a base or meane stocke.
 Modico gradu ire, to go a sotte pace.
 Eques modicus, a meane gentylman, not excedyng in riches.
 Facultatibus modicus, not very riche.
 Modicus animus, a moderate mynde, content with fewe thynges.
 Modicum iudicium, a meane iudgement.
 Modificatio, ónis, f. m. g. measurynge or byynge
 pyng in measure.
 Modificor, áris, ári, to take the measure of a thyng, to measure.
 Modiolus, li, m. ge. a littell butshell. also a butkette, wherewith water is drawen out of a well, or a pottle fastened to a wheele, whiche byn-geth by water, and poureth it out. Also a littell bynkyng cuppe lyke a goblet, and an instrument that surgions vse.
 Modiolus in rota, the naue of the whele.
 Modiparatores, men ordeigned to see measure kepte.
 Modius, ij, m. gen. and sometyme Modium, dij,
 neu. ge. a butshell. It was proppely a measure of dry thynges, whiche conteyned xvi. Sexta-rios, of our measure, one galone, one pottelle, and one quarte, sauing four ounces measure.
 It Modius Romanus doe contene. 16. Sextarios, and euery Sextarius be. 24. ounces, as 2budei proueth, then is modius of our measure. 16. pintes, and. 16. halfe pintes, whiche is iuste. iii. galons. It meane of wine measure, but if Sextarius be. 18. ounces, as physicians doe take it, then is Modius but. ii. galons and one quarte. if Sextarius be. 20. ounces, then is it accordyng to that rate. Poline faith, Modius doth comonly weigh. 16. pound, and then it differeth not muche from our pecke.
 Vide postea in Sextario.
 Modius agri, grounde conteynyng euery way an hundred fete.
 Modo, nowe, nowe late, of late, whyle ere, a littell whyle agoe, proppely it signifyeth a tyme very littell past: but sometyme it signifyeth tyme present or instant. Sometyme it signifyeth that.

 Non refert modo id faciat, it maketh no matter to that he doo it.
 Id modo dic, saie this onely.
 Modone id demum sensisti Pamphile? per-ceuest thou not it bynyll nowe Pamphilus?
 or haste thou found that out nowe at the last,
 and neuer before?
 Modo ago, nowe I doo it.
 Modo veni, I came but late.
 Modo introi, I went in but euen nowe.
 Modo faciam, I will dooe it by and by.
 Modo ait, modo negat, sometwyle he saith yea, some while he saith naie.
 Modo non, id est propemodum.
 Modo vt, for Dummodo, so that.
 Modo, for Saltem, at the least twyle.
 Modo, is sometyme vled for: Quidem, and tamen.
 Modo, for Interdum, sometymes.
 Modulámen, láminis, neut. gene. láem quod Modulatio.
 Moduláté, aptely with measure.
 Modulatio, ónis, f. m. ge. measure, modulation, pleasaunt tune.
 Modulátor, óris, m. g. he that sengerth or tuneth
 a thyng in measure.
 Modulátus, a, um, don or song by measure, tuned.
 Modulátus, us, m. g. tunyng, singyng in measure.
 Modulor, áris, ári, to make or dooe a thyng by munnre or measure. also to syng, to speke with pleasaunt tune and accent.
 Modulari vocem, To measure and tune the voyce.
 Modulús, li, m. gene. the measure of a thyng, a songe, modulation, the tyme in syngyng. also a measure that carpenters vse.
 Modus, i, m. g. maner, measure, meane, forme, facion, waye, quantitee, ende, the use of a thyng,
 also tyme or measure in musike.
 Omnium par modus sit, That there bee lyke proportion of measure of all these thynges.
 Est nihil scriptum, nisi de modo agri, although he wrote nothyng but of the quantitee of the fildes.
 Modus vini maior, To muche vse of drynkyng of wyne, or more vse of wyne than one was wont.
 Modo nostro, after our facion, as we wille
 our selues.
 Modum habere, to kepe a rule or order in any
 thyng.
 Modum statuere, to geue a rule.
 Sumere iustum modum cibi, to make a full and perfect meale.
 Scias posse habere iam ipsum suum vitæ modum, Wete you wel, that he may haue the rule and gouernance of his owne lyfe.
 Omni modo differre, so to varie that one is lyke an other in nothyng.

More

More modoque, after the maner and facion.
 Omni modo laborare, to labour or endeuour with all meanes possible.
 Modum constituere, idem quod Statuere modum.
 Modum adhibere alicui rei, to dooe a thyng
 after a certayne maner and meane.
 Salutare ad tibicinis modos, to daunce after the mynstrelles playng of tunes.
 Modus agri, measure of lande.
 Modum facere, habere, seruare, to keepe a measure or meane.
 Hoc modo, after this facion in this wyse.
 Adhuc modum, idem.
 Neo modo, as I wlll my selfe.
 Bono modo fiat, Let it bee dooen after an honest wyse.
 Nilus modis, id est vehementer, greatly,
 earnestly.
 Extra modum, beyonde all measure.
 In modum pilæ, after the facion of a balle.
 Pacis modo, as it were in the tyme of peace.
 In modum amici, lyke a frende.
 Nisi tibi aliquem vitæ modum constitueris,
 If you take not some certayne maner or trade of lypynge.
 Nullus mentiendi modus est, They dooe no thyng but lye.
 Lupis natura maiorem modum dedit, Nature hath made woulues bygger or greater.
 Non facere modum lugendi, neuer to ceasse or make an ende of weepynge and wailynge.
 Nullo modo, without measure or ende.
 Statuere modum inimicitiarum, to hate with measure.
 Statuere modum imperij diuturnitatis, To presyre a tyme howe longe the Authoritee of an office or gouernance shal continue, and whan it shal ende.
 Archissus, aui, are, to commit auoutrie, to play the lecherour.
 Archor, áris, ári, to committe auoutrie.
 Archus, li, m. g. an auoutrer, a lecherour.
 Amagus, a towne of Fraunce called Nes-mours.
 Ania, nium, n. ge. plur. walles of a towne or castell.
 Cingere mœnibus, to walle aboute.
 Circundatus mœnibus, walled aboute.
 Meniana, idem quod Meniana.
 Menis, a ryuer in Germanie that renneth into Rhene.
 Menicus, a, um, walled about.
 Merens, entis, sadde, lamentyng, mournyng.
 Vultus merens, a sadde and heauye countenance.
 Merco, mœstus sum, & olim mœrui, ére, to be sorowfull and sadde, to be heauy in hert, to lament, to mouerne.
 Mœreo calum huiusmodi, I am sorowfully that it should so come to passe.

Filij mortem mœrere, to lament the death of his soonne, to be sorowfull for the death of his soonne.
 Mœri, rorum, idem quod Muri.
 Mœris, a forer.
 Mœro, aui, are, to make one sadde and heauy,
 an olde woode.
 Mœror, óris, m. g. sorow and heuynesse of hert, sadnesse.
 Lacer in mœrore meus frater, my brother is in great sorowe and heuynesse of hert, or he is all a mozte.
 Mœsia, a prouince in Athens, nygh to Pontus.
 Mœste, sorowfully, sadly, heauyly.
 Mœstiter, heauyly, sorowfully.
 Mœstitia, æ, f. g. idem quod Mœror.
 Flectere os in mœstítiam, to make semblance of sorow or sadnesse.
 Inferre mœstítiam, to make heuy and sadde.
 Incessit mœstítia animos, They selle into a great sadnesse or dümpe.
 Tanta in mœstítia fui, I was so heauy, sadde, or sorowfull.
 Mœstítudo, údinis, f. g. idem quod Mœstítia.
 Mœsto, aui, are, & Mœstifico, aui, are, to make sorowfull.
 Mœstus, a, um, sorow or sorowfull, sadde, heauy full of lamentyng and mournyng.
 Mœsta aræ, sacrificis to the infernall goddis.
 Timor mœstus, feare, makynge men heauy and sorowfull.
 Moga, a countrey in Asia, called nowe Casaria.
 Moguntia, a noble citee in Germany, called Mentz.
 Mola, æ, f. g. a mll. It is also a great peice of fleshe without shap, growen in a woman, whiche causeth theym sometyme to thynke that they be with chyld. It is also a cake made of meale and saite.
 Mola truscales, or versatiles, hande mylles.
 Mola asinaria, mylles tourned with asses.
 Mola operam dare, to geat his lypynge by tournyng the mll.
 Molâris, ris, m. g. the cheeke toothe, also a peice of a broken myllstone.
 Molâris, re, & Molârius, a, um, perteynyng to a mll, or wherof a mll is made.
 Molarius equus, an horse whiche bypucth as bout a malte mll.
 Molendinarius, a, um, idem quod Molaris, re,
 Molendinarius, ij, a myller.
 Moles, lis, f. g. a thyng that is verate great and weyghtie, greatnesse, a great pyle, heape, or dam made in a riuier, or in the sea to stoppe the water. Sometyme the mounpge of any great thyng. Sometyme it is taken for difficultee.
 Tarda mole se ferre homines crassi & magni dicuntur, to go a sotte pace.
 Molibus ferarum mirabilis, meruapious for the huge great wyld beastes that be therein.
 Tanta molis erat, so harde or great a thyng
 it was.

it was.
Inimici molis sustinere, to abyde and susteyn the great iniurie of wronge, that one doth to hym.

Molestie, greuouesly, peynfully.

Molestie ferre, to take greuouesly, to be ylle content, to be displeased.

Molestia, a, f. g. grece, peyne, trouble, disquiet tyng.

Sine molestia, without any trouble or busynesse.

Molestiam addere, to put to moze peyne and grece.

Molestiam exhibere, aspergere alicui, and Molestia aspicere alicui, to trouble, to disquiete, to put to peyne.

Ne nausea molestiam suscipias aeger, Leste you hepyng sycke, shuld trouble your stomache, and cause your selfe to vomite.

Molesto, au, are, to greue, to offend, to doo displeasure to one, to trouble, to put to peyne.

Molestus, a, um, that whiche greueth, offenderly, or discontented, greuou, peynfull, troublous, that vexeth or disquieteth, some tyme for Difficilis, harde, difficulte.

Molesta tunica, a garment, whiche was mixt with some matter, that gathereth fyre, put on some persons, whiche shoud suffer deathe.

Vbi molestum non erit, whan it shall bee no disease to you.

Mulum molestus ei fuero, I wylt bere euery peyne in his herte.

Vbi molestus mihi est, whan he began to bee somewhat busy with me, or whan he disquieted or vexed me, or woulde not suffer me to bee in rest.

Nisi forte molesti interuenimus, If our coming doo not trouble or disease you.

Molerrina, na, f. g. gener. a moztet or quene, wherein any thyng maye bee grounde with hande. It was in olde tyme vsed for a bakes house. It may bee nowe taken for a mylle.

Molilagi, thci whiche haue an yll pronounciation.

Molile, lis, neu. gen. an instrumente that was sette on the shoulder of a man, horse, or asse, to drawe the myll.

Molimen, lminis, n. g. the force or endeouore in dooing a thyng.

Molimentum, i, n. g. idem.

Molior, iris, iri, to moue, to remoue, to force and streigne hym selfe to dooe a thyng, to be uppe of miente, to goe aboute to dooe a thyng, to make of worke, to be caried of let.

Moliri classem, to prepare a nauie.

Moliri iter, to goe a iourneie.

Moliri habenas, to lute.

Moliri insidias, to laie snares, to laie in a wayte.

Moliri arcem, to buylde a fortreffe.

Moliri bellum, to make warre.

Dum moliantur, dum conuuant, annus est, Whyle they sette forwarde, and whyle they attyre, pyke, and tynne theyn selues, it is a whole yeere.

Minoribus aratris moliantur, they woofe of labour with smaller plowes.

Bipennem moliri in vites, to cut the vines,

Moliri fugam, to seeke a meane to flee.

Fulmina moliri, to lychten, to make of saule lychtning, actually.

Locum moliri, to prepare the place.

Opera moliri, to labour, to woofke.

Viam moliri, to seeke out the waye with great peyne.

Moliri corruptelam iudicii, to go about of indeuour to corrupte the iudges.

Moliri terram, to labour the earth.

Moliri in alicui locum, to endeuour to go or come to a place.

Moliri iacula, to hurle dartes.

Moliri moram, to tary.

Molito, onis, f. g. endeuour of goeing about a thyng.

Agrorum molitio, the labouryng of the earth.

Molitor, oris, m. g. a myllar.

Molitor, oris, mal. gen. he that endeuoreth goeth about a thyng, he that enforseth of stryngth hym selfe to dooe a thyng, also a waylar, a maker, an author.

Molirix, icis, the feminine.

Molirix tricus, the feminine of Molitor, a woman myller.

Molitura, a, f. g. geyndyng.

Mollesco, scere, to waxe softe, to bee pacified from wyathe, to be thoughtly softe.

Molestra, a, f. g. a thepes fell.

Mollicina, a, f. g. a fine clothe of sylke.

Mollicellus, a, um, or Molliculus, tender, briscale, wanton, womanly, somewhat softe.

Mollicept, a bird, no bigger then a thymble, but that he hath a head very big for the proportion of his bodie, some thinke he is called a thymble, a ynn murder.

Mollicio, to make softe or tender.

Molimentum, ti, n. g. a swageryng of casyng.

Mollio, lui, ire, to make soft or tender, to pacify or appeale, to make wanton, nyce or delicate.

Animos molliare, to make the myndes of men gentill and quiete. also to effeminate, to make tender and delicate.

Molliare impetum, To repress the vehemence or rage of a thyng or persone.

Mare molliare, To make the sea calme or quiete.

Molliare hominem, To pacifye, to appeale, to tourne ones mynde, and induce hym to dooe that he is despyd.

Mollipe, lipedis, that hath a softe foote.

Mollis, le, softe, tender, comely, somewhat pleasant, easy to be pleased, rype.

Molle ingenium, a wyt which lychtly taketh.

Mollis homo, a man effeminate or womanly, not hardy or constant of wyte, inuolued in wanton pleasures and sensuall appetite.

Animus mollis, in the good parte, a softe and gentill mynde easy to be pleased.

Castanea molles, rype chestens.

Collis mollis, an hylle nothyng stepe, easy to goe and downe on.

Hyems mollis, a mylde and gentyll wynter, nothyng rough of sharpe.

Mollissimus odor, a verate pleasaunt sauour, nothyng stronge or ranke.

Verius molles, verses of loue, wanton and amorous verses.

Vinum molle, a pleasaunt wyne that is not ryge and sharpe in drynkyng.

Molles sententia, fauorable sentences with out seueritee.

Molles amplexus, amorous embracynge.

Mollis lex, a gentill lawe nothyng rigozous.

Mollis cultus, delicate and nyce apparayle.

Mollis oratio, gentill and pleasant woordes.

Mollicies, ei, & Mollicia, a, f. g. softnesse, tendernes, delicatensse, womanlynesse.

Mollicies maris, the cautlenesse and quietnesse of the sea.

Ejciunda hac mollicies animi, This tendernes of nyrenesse of hearte muste bee putte awaye.

Mollier, gentilly, with good wyll, easly, delcately, patiently, sofly, womanly, nyrely. Mollier se curare, to lye delcately, to chespe the ones selfe nyrely.

Mollier sustine nunc me, Softe man, be not to sharpe or rigozous with me.

Ferre mollier, to take patiently.

Molliudo, dinis, f. g. softnesse and gentylnesse. idem quod Mollicies.

Mollius, a, um, made softe, tender, or delicate.

Mollusca, a, f. g. ge. a nutte with a softe shale, a sylberde.

Molluscum, i, n. gen. the wenne or bunche of the tree called Acer.

Molorchus, a shepherde in the woodde Bemea, whiche receyued Hercules whan he cam thither to kyll the Ipon.

Molossia, a parte of Eptre.

Molossus, a, um, of Molossia.

Molus, a mans name in Homere.

Molo, lui, molere, to geynde.

Nipurges & molas non comedes, Doe labour no profite: gape tell thou be fedde, and thou halt famish for hunger.

Moloch, was an ydol of the Ammonites, signifying in hebreue a gouernour or counsaillour. It was also called Molchom, somtyme Milchom.

Moloch, the great malowe or holibothe: some call it beyonde sea rose.

Molochinus, ni, m. g. a colour lyke to the floures of malowes, somewhat purple.

Molochinarius, rij, masc. gene, he that dyeth the faled colour.

Molorthus, i, m. gen. a plumetle, suche as masons and carpenters doo occupie in squaryng of stone and tymber.

Molossia gens, people in the part of Grece, called Epirus, they were also called Molossi.

Molossus, a mastiue dogge. It is also a foote in meter.

Molothros, a hynde of white vines.

Molocrum, cri, n. ge. a square piece of tymber, whereon the painyngs dyd sacrifice. It is also the trendell of a myll. Also the swelling of a womans scalp, whiche dweth happe as well to maydens as to wyues.

Moluris, a locuste, whiche destroyeth corne, the Germanes call it a Cournewibell.

Moly, molyos, n. ge. an herbe of all other most praised of Homere, whiche thinketh it to haue that name of the goddess: it is saide to be inuented of Mercury, & to haue great vertu against witchcraft: loke for the description in Dioscor. li. 3. cap. 52. and in the commentaries of Barbarus, and Vergilius on the same place.

Molybdena, a, f. g. a veyne of leade or spluer. It is also one of the hyndes of the herbe called Persicaria.

Molybditis, tis, f. g. the spume or some of leade.

Momar, a foote, in the Sicilian tonge.

Momen, inis, n. g. idem quod momentum.

Momentaneus, a, um, that which dureth but for a whyle, or shortly altereth.

Momentarius, a, um, that whiche is dooen in a littell space.

Momentosus, a, um, that is of some weyghte or value.

Momentum, i, neu. gen. the least part of tyme, whiche can not be assigned, a moment. It is also a portion moze or lesse of any thyng or matter. also the estimation of value of a thyng, also to a weyghte or poyle.

Nullus est moment, It is of no weyghte or value. also it is of no strength or vertue.

Pari momento fors, it is one chaunce of lyke value or effecte.

Momento, aduerbially, in a moment, quickly, incontinent.

Momento temporis, or hora, quickly, at one tyme or houre.

Ne minimi momenti esse ad. &c. to bee of none effecte, vertue, or force, to helpe nothyng to a thyng.

Paulo momento, easly, with the least thyng in the world.

Afferre momentum, to helpe or profite to a thyng.

Permagni momenti est, It is of great value, force, or strength, or it helpeth much.

Perleui momento fortuna, with the least chaunge of fortune that can be.

Nullum habet momentum, It helpeth or serueth nothyng.

Momus, mi, m. g. a god of reprehension. And of him all curious reprehenders bee called Momi. Momo faciliacere, to contende hym, whom al moſte no man can pleaſe.

Momo iudice decetare, to contende afore a rigorous and extreme iudge, of hym that will ſynde a faulte quickly.

Mona, called of the grekes Mōna, is an ple nygh to Wytanyn, puiſſaunt of people in the tyme of Cornelius Tacitus, where they that fled from the Romayns were ſuccoured, I ſuppoſe it to bee the Ile nowe called Man, and not Angleſey, for as muche as that is togyed to Wytanyn. There is alſo an other Ile of that name in the ryuer of Rhene, nygh to Fryſelande, and not onely nygh to Wytanyn.

Monarda, and alſo Monarina, the ple of Man, by the eaſt parte of Irelande.

Monachis, a mountayne in Acadia.

Monachus, i, m. ge. a ſolitarie perſone. all be it that it is uſed for a monke.

Monas, a kyng of Parthia.

Monarcha, a, m. ge. a prince that ruleth alone without peere or companion.

Monarchia, a, f. m. gen. the rule of one, a monarchy.

Monas, monadis, f. g. the numbze of one, vnities.

Monasterium, ri, n. g. a place ſolitarie.

Monaulos, a pype, a recorder.

Monedula, a, f. m. ge. a byrde called a thoughe or cadelle.

Moneo, iiii, ere, to warne, to put in remembrance, to put in mynde, to aduertise, to counſaile, to bydde one to dyner or ſupper.

Monere, and Admonere, is to tell a man his faulte, with a certayne correction or chiding.

Nisi ipſa res moneat, Excepte the thyng ſelfe byd byd me of geue me occaſion.

Habeo pro illa re illum quod moneam probe, I knowe what to tell hym in his eare for that well ynough: Of I haue to put hym in mynde for that thyng well ynough.

Moneta, a, f. g. monete, alſo the name of Juno. Proferre aliquid ex noſtra moneta, to inuent ſomewhat of our owne wit, to byng on ſome what of our owne deuſe and inuention.

Monetalis, le, perteynyng to monete.

Monetarius, ri, m. f. gen. a maker of moneys, a coper.

Monile, li, n. ge. a colar or bee that women uſe to weare about their neckes, an outche. It is alſo a poitrell of an hoſe.

Monimentum, i, n. g. a ſigne, a token, a tombe. I ſaie moze in Monumentum.

Monitio, ōis, f. g. a warnyng, a chydng, a rebukynge, an aduertifyng.

Monitor, ōis, m. ge. he that warneth a man or putteth hym in remembrance, a prompter, an aduertifier, a monyſher. He that promptly playeth in an enterlude or comedie.

Monitorius, a, um, that whiche dooth warne or exhorte.

Monitum, i, neu. ge. a monition, a warnyng, an aduertisement, a cherke, a rebuke, a pteipite, a leſſon, a counſaile.

Monitus, us, m. g. idem quod monitio.

Monitus, a, um, monitiſed, warned, aduertified, Monna, I ſaie Mona.

Monobeli, they which haue a long thyng lyke to ſpittes. alſo they that bee berate byghe in ſtature, & aboue other. Lampridius in via Alex.

Monoceros, ōis, m. g. an vnycorne.

Monochordium, dii, neu. g. an inſtrument haſyng many ſtrynges of one ſoune, ſayng that with ſmall pieces of clothe, the ſounes bee diſtincte, as Claupcydes bee, and for that reaſon, ſome thinke it may be uſed for the clauicydes.

Monochromateus, a, um, belongyng to poſtrales tures of one colour.

Monochromatos, a, poſtrature of one colour.

Monoculus, li, m. g. a man haupng but one cie.

Monodia, a, f. gen. a lamentable of mournyng ſong, ſuche as is ſonge in funerals.

Monoclonos, the herbe Bittemila.

Monogenion, the pionie.

Monodos, the ſonne of Phuſia, who in ſtreof teeth had but one bone, lyke as kyngs Phythus had.

Monochus, an haucn of Agurſia.

Monogamus, iiii, m. ge. he that neuer had but one wyfe.

Monogrammi, men leane and ylle coloured.

Monogrammus, a picture onely drawen with a lyne.

Monologium, gij, n. g. a lōg tale of one matter.

Monomachia, a, f. ge. a battaile, wherein onely two men doo fyghe.

Monomachus, chi, m. g. he that fygheith alone without helpe of any other man.

Monomeri, people in the eaſt part of the world, whiche haue but one legge, wherewith they go by leapes moze ſwiftly than any beaſt.

Monophagia, a, f. g. a meale of one onely meale or wyfe.

Monophthalmus, idem quod monocidus.

Monopodium, ij, neu. gen. a ſtable ſette on one foote or treſpyll.

Monopolium, lii, neut. gener. where one man engroſſeth thynges, to haue all in his owne hande, that no man maye gayne but he onely.

It may be alſo one countree or market, that taketh awaye the gaynes from other countrees or markettes.

Monops, a beaſt in Mæonia, of the ſigne of a bull, whiche ſting from the hunters, racteth out a certaine ſierie extremēt, which if the hunters touch, it diſtroyeth them.

Monoprotion, a woode haupng but one caſe.

Monofceli, men in Indie, whiche haue but one legge, ſo great, that therewith they couer them ſelfe from the ſunne.

Mo-

Monostylon, li, n. g. where as is but one pylle. Monotropos, pi, m. f. gen. ſolitarie, of one faſion alwaies.

Monoxylon, li, n. gen. a bote made of one piece of timber.

Mons, ōis, m. gen. a mountayne or hylle. alſo an heape of thynges, or any other thyng in the ſourne of an hylle.

Præruptus aquæ mons, a gret waue of water.

Mons frumenti, a great rike or heape of cozn.

Montes aureos policeri, pꝛouerbially ſpoken of them that make large pꝛomiſes.

Mons feratus, a countree in Italy.

Monſtrabilis, le, that maye be ſhewed.

Monſtratio, ōis, f. g. a ſhewing of declaring.

Monſtrator, ōis, m. g. one that ſheweth, declarer, telleth, or teacheth.

Monſtratus, us, m. f. gen. a demonstration or declaring.

Monſtrific, monſtrouſely, ſtraungely.

Monſtrificus, and monſtrifer, a, um, monſtrous, that hath ſome figure contrary to nature.

Monſtro, aui, are, to ſhewe, to declare, to telle, to teache, to pꝛoue.

Monſtroſe, monſtrouſely, ſtraungely, contrary to nature.

Monſtroſus, a, um, monſtrous.

Monſtrum, tri, n. ge. a monſter, that whiche eſteth or lacketh in naturall ſourne or order.

alſo any thyng that is doben agaynſt the comynne courſe of nature, in what kynde of thyng ſouer it be, a token or ſhewing, any thyng that in ſignifying an other thyng, dooth ſhewe it ſomeſyme for monſtratio.

Monſtrum hominis, non dicturus: thou myſt ſwepen knaue, wylt thou not ſpeake & tell me?

Monſtra deum refero, I make relatiō of thoſe thynges to you, that goddis haue ſhewed me.

Monſtra narrare, to ſhewe verie ſtraunge thynges contrary to nature.

Montanus, the name of a poete.

Montapium, n. g. idem quod horioſelinum.

Montanus, a, um, of a mountayne.

Montana nunc ſunt omnia, It is hylly or full of hylles nowe in euery place.

Monticula, a, com. gene. he that inhabiteth or dwelleth upon hylles.

Monticulus, li, m. g. a littell hylle.

Monſtrigilla, a birde named a bꝛamling.

Montigena, borne on an hylle.

Montuagus, a, um, wanderyng by hylles.

Montolus, a, um, full of hylles, hyllye.

Monumentum, i, n. ge. a remembrance of ſome notable acte, as ſepulchres, ymagēs, pylles, great ſtones, inſcriptions, bookes, & other lyke: wherby any thyng excellent concernyng great wyſes, cunning, enterpriſe in armes, puiſſaunce, or richthe is remembred, a memorieall.

Monumentum, wytynges, hiſtoꝛies, tokens, coſtlynces, armes, and ſuche lyke.

Monycha, a, the name of ſaincte Agustiſtes

mother.

Monychus, a gꝛgant, one of the Centaures.

Monyma, the wyfe of kyng Mithrydate, whiche after that hir huſbande was vanquyſhed, killd hir ſelfe.

Monymus, a mans name.

Mopſopia, the countree of Athens.

Mopſus, the name of a poete. it is alſo a ſheepes herdes name.

Mora, a, f. g. tariyng, leſſure, delaie, pꝛolongaing, ſlackneſſe, ſlowneſſe. alſo a ſtaye that ſuragions uſe in ſpilytyng of foze legges.

Moram creare, to pꝛolong the tyme, to delaye.

Afferre moram, and Moram facere, idem.

Per hunc nulla eſt mora, he letteth it not.

Nec mora vlla eſt quin eam vxorem ducam, There is no lette but that I maye wedde hir.

Faxo haud quicquam ſit moræ, I wyl ſee that there ſhall be no delaye or tariyng.

Inſerere moram & religionem iudicandi iudicibus, to make the iudges aſerde of ſcrupulous, and to deferre iudgement.

Quid ergo erat moræ, & tergiverſationis? Than what was the lette, and that he went not farther in the matter?

Dimoue vocis moras, tell byſely.

Nullam moram dare, To geue no delaye or leſſure.

Vt non habeat aliquid moræ, That it haue no lette.

Nullam moram interponere, to make no delaye. Hoc mihi mora eſt, This letteth me or cauſeth me to tary.

Ne in mora cum opus ſit ſies, Let vs not tary on you, whan neede ſhall be.

Neque iſtic neque alibi vlla erit in me mora, Neither in this matter, nor in any thyng els you ſhall haue any lette or tariyng in me, or you ſhall not tarye on me, or I am ready to doo as you wyl haue me.

Sine mora, without delaie or tariyng, quickly, incontinent.

Nulla eſt in nobis mora, we be ready, there is no lette in vs.

Ne in mora meis nuptiis egomet ſiem, That I my ſelfe pꝛolonge not or hynder not myne owne marriage.

Moram afferre ſupplicij, To cauſe ones pꝛynement to be deferred.

Moras quærere, to make delays.

Moralis, le, perteynyng to maners, morall.

Moramentum, ri, n. g. tariyng, abode, lette.

Morator, ōis, m. g. a tarier, a letter, a hindꝛer.

Moratorius, a, um, belongyng to tariyng or delaie makinge.

Moratoria cautio, a determinaciō of a iudge or magiſtrate, to paye at a daie appointed, which one hath in reſpite.

Moratus, a, um, that hath maners good or yll, that is well or yll manered.

Ira nunc adoleſcentes morati ſunt, Of ſuche naught conditions bee younge men nowe a dages.

 Morata oratio, an oration that representeth
 the maners and facions of hym that speaketh.
 Moratus bene, well manered.
 Bene morata ciuitates, citices in good faction and order, and well gouerned.
 Moratus, a, um, of Moror, that hath tarted or abydden.
 Morbidus, a, um, speke of shabbed.
 Morbificus, a, um, that whiche causeth discafe of sicknesse.
 Morbōsus, a, um, full of sicknesse, sickely.
 Morbus, bi, m. g. sicknesse, a discafe, a soze.
 Morbo affici, to be syche.
 In morbo esse, idem.
 In morbum delabi, to fall sicke.
 Morbo laborare, to be syche.
 Ex morbo conualescere, assurgere, euadere, to be recouered from sicknesse.
 Morbus arcuatus, the iaundise.
 Morbus animæ, a vice inueterate and harde to be cured, as ambition, auarice, &c.
 Morbus animi, trouble or vexacion of spirite.
 Morbus regius, the yelow iaundise.
 Absumi morbo, to be soze broken and woꝛne with sicknesse.
 Afflicti morbo, to be greuouely syche.
 Confirmata valetudo a morbo, health fully recouered after sicknesse.
 Contrahere morbum, to geat a discafe.
 Cruescit morbus, the sicknesse cometh a newe or waxeth freshe agayne.
 Depellere morbum, to put awate a discafe.
 Facere morbum, to breed or cause a discafe of sicknesse.
 Iactari morbo, to be longe sicke.
 Inuasic morbus, the sicknesse toke hym.
 Leuari morbo, to be eased of his sicknesse.
 Tentari morbo, to be attached with sick-nesse or discafe.
 Mordacitas, atis, f. ge. a bytyng.
 Mordax, acis, om. g. he that dooeth byte, be it with the teeth or with language.
 Mordax folium, a leafe that biteth the tonge with the sharpenesse of his taste.
 Mordeo, momordi, ere, to byte, to detracte or rebuke vehemently, to greue.
 Mordere frænum, to gnawe on the byddell, whiche is spoken, where it signifieth one to repugn agaynst feruitude and bondage.
 Mordere clanculum, to speake pll of one behynde his backe.
 Iniquo dente mordere, to speake pll of one for malice without a cause.
 Dente inuido mordeor, I am enuouely sclaundered.
 Si hoc te mordet, if this thyng greue you or byte you by the stomache.
 Mordicibus, for Morcibus, with bytynges.
 Mordico, aui, are, to hurte with bytyng.

Mordicus, an aduerbe, bytyng harde and fast,
 as a man holdeth a thyng fast with his teeth.
 Mordicus tenere, to holde faste, to persist obstinately in an opinion or sentence.
 Abripere nasum mordicus, To byte of ones nose.
 Morētum, ti, n. gen. a kynde of cakes made of mylke, wyne, cheese, and herbes.
 Moria, æ, f. g. in greke, is in englysh foliynge of folp.
 Moribundus, a, um, dyng.
 Morigeratio, onis, f. g. obeigyn.
 Morigeror, aris, ari, and Cometyne Morigero, aui, are, to obey, to doo as a man biddith, to conforne his maners to an other mans will.
 Morigerus, and Morigeratus, a, um, obedient.
 Morini, people in fraunce dwellinge aboute Curwane.
 Mōrio, onis, m. g. a foole.
 Morion, rij, n. g. a certayne pterions stone. also the male mandrake.
 Morior, moriris, vel mōreris, moriri, vel mori
 ri, to dye.
 Moriar, a maner of an othe, signifyinge, I woulde I shoulde dye, or I praye god I dye.
 Fama beneficiorum moritur, Benefices bee forgotten or out of memoꝛie.
 Certum est moriri, quam. &c. I had liffce dye, than. &c.
 Moror, aris, ari, to tary, to abyde, to dwell continue or reste in a place, to leat or cause to tary, to esteeme or passe on a thyng, sometyne Morari, passiuely, is to be madde.
 Non moror, I wil not let, there is no let in me.
 Dextram moratur manum, He stopped of
 helde his right hande.
 Egomet conuiuas moror, I my selfe cause my gastes to tary.
 Quid moraris abeuntem? wherfoze dooe ye holde and kepe hym backe still? why doo ye cause hym to tary that wolde be gone?
 Moros, ri, m. g. a foole.
 Morōse, waywardely, frowardely.
 Morōfitas, atis, fæm. gen. waywardnesse, frowwardnesse.
 Morōsus, a, um, waywarde, frowarde, ouerthwarte, dyuers in conditions, whom no man can please, moze curiouse than nedeth.
 Arbor morosa natu, a tree that doth scarcely proue or growe in a place, or that is dangerous to grow.
 Morōtis, & Morosis, a madnesse or frensie,
 where a man loseth his memoꝛie.
 Morpheus, dissyllabum, the sonne of seruant of the god Somnus.
 Morphina, idem quod Planga.
 Mors, ōrtis, fæ. g. deathe. Mortes, is sometyne read in the plurall numbre.
 Absumi morte, to dye.
 Accersere mortem, and cōfiscere sibi mortē,
 To procure his owne deathe, to kyl hym selfe.
 A.F.

Afficere morte, and Afficere mortem, to put to deathe.
 Morti dare aliquem, to put to death, to kyl.
 Eripere aliquem morti, to saue ones lyfe.
 Minari mortem, to threaten death, to threat-ten to kyl one.
 Multari morte, to bee put to deathe.
 Mortem obire, and occumbere morti, morstem, and morte, to dye.
 Morti aliquem obicere, to put one in daungis er of his lyfe.
 Moriscitum, bytyng one an other.
 Moriscūcula, æ, f. g. a littell bytte or snatche, a taunte of chiche.
 Morfus, us, m. g. a bytte with the teeth, a taunte in speaking, also greefe, pegne, sorowe, slander. also the fastnyng or bucklyng of harnes.
 Vnci morfus, whan the anko fastneth or tasketh holde in the grounde.
 Morfus, a, um, bitten.
 Mortalis, le, mortall, deadly, & is subiect to death.
 Mortales leges, lawes that wyl not contynue
 but for a tyme.
 Mortalior, the comparatyue.
 Mortalis, lis, the substantiue, a man.
 Mortalitas, aris, f. g. mortalitee: sometyne it is taken for mortall men.
 Mortarium, ij, n. g. a moyster, wherein thynges are brayed or grounden. It is also the place where lyne and sande be myngled togyther, to make moyster.
 Morticini, coꝛnes whiche bee on mens feete.
 Morticinus, a, um, dead, or of that whiche is dead, corrupt, carraigne.
 Morticina caro, murrayne fleshe, whiche dys-eth by it selfe, carraigne.
 Mortifer, a, um, whiche causeth any thyng to dye, deadly.
 Mortiferum bellum, deadly warre.
 Mortalis, le, pertainyng to dead men.
 Mortuus, a, um, dead, without courage or spirite.
 Mortuum mare, a great mere in Syria, wherein no heauy thynges may synke.
 Mortuo verba facere, to speake to a dead
 mā, prouerbially signifying to speake in vaine.
 Mortuetum, a citee in Spayne, where Saguna um in olde tyme dyd stande.
 Morula, læ, f. g. a little taryng.
 Morum, ri, n. g. a mulbery or blacke berie.
 Morus, i, fæ. g. a mulbery tree, and a byemble that beareth blackberies.
 Morus Aegyptia, called also Sicomorus.
 Morus vaticana, the bramble or blacke berie
 tree.
 Mos, moris, m. g. a maner, a condicion, cus-tome, a faction, a guise.
 Morem gerere, to obie.
 Moris antiqui homo, an honeste man of the olde faction.
 Adumbrare morē alicuius, to folowe an other mans maners.

Mos est, the faction is.
 Non est moris, it is not the faction.
 Omnium more, as all men be wont.
 Ferarum more, the beastes.
 Meo more, as I am wont, as my faction, manner and custome is to doo, as I will my selfe.
 Nouo more aliquid facere, to dooe a thyng
 as it was neuer doen befoze.
 In morem fluminis, as it were a ryuer, lyke a ryuer.
 Conformare mores, to faction his maners.
 More magis hæc scribo, quam quo te monēdum putem, I wypte this rather after myne accustomed faction & maner, than that I thynke it nedefull to admonysh you.
 In patris est moribus, Our auncestours were wont.
 Decedere de suo more, not to dooe as he was wont, to leaue his olde wont.
 Morem gerere animo, to dooe his pleasure.
 Moribus, accordyng to the maner and custome.
 Mos bonus, a good faction.
 Incessit mos, loke Incessit.
 Pacis morem imponere populis, to geue lawes of peace to the people.
 Manet mos antiquus, the olde faction taryeth still.
 Perducere aliquid in morem, To bypge a thyng in custome or vse.
 Morem antiquum referre, to bypge agayne
 the olde faction of maner.
 Morem tenere, seruare, retinere, to kepe a fastion, maner or custome.
 Ad cōli mores, folig ingenia, accordyng to the qualitee of the ayre & nature of the grounde.
 Mos nunquam illi fuit, it was neuer his faction
 he was neuer wont.
 More hominum euenit, It hath happened after the commune course of the worlde.
 Mosa fluuius, a ryuer whiche is called the Maye, and renneth betwene the duchie of Spabant,
 and the lande of Luke.
 Mosca, a ryuer in Moscouta.
 Moscatula, peares, which do sauer like muske.
 Moschata, Moschomyra, Moschelea, certayne confectiōes of oymntes in Aetius.
 Moschea, æ, fæ. ge. a temple, wherin the people, whiche worshipped idoles, haue recourse to praye in, namely the temple of the Turkes and other Mahumetanes.
 Moschenon, a certayne rose, that hath a stalke like a mallow.
 Moscouia, a great countreie in the north part of the worlde, beyonde Polonia, which conspyneth in length. 400. myles and aboue. The people therof bee called Moscouita, in englyshe Mos-couites. They haue a great duke, who nameth hym selfe emperour of Russie. They bee chrystened, and dooe obserue the rites of the Grekes.
 Their language is the tongue of Slaouonie, whiche is also vsed in Boheme and Pole.
 Y y ij Moscu,

Mosca, is the chiefe citee of that countrey, throughte the whiche the sayde ruier of Mosca doeth renne.
 Moschocaryon, called also nux vnguentaria, or myristica, a nutmygge.
 Moschum, chii, n. g. muske.
 Mosculus, a cause, also an herbe.
 Moscus, a region in Asia, nyghe to the ruier of Euphrates, deuyded into thre partes. In the one dooe dwell people called Colchi, in the seconde Hiberas, in the thyrde Armenij.
 Moses, loke Moyse.
 Mosillus, a diminutive of Mos.
 Mocinaca, or rather Mosinasi, people in the northe parte of Asia.
 Morabilis, le, alwaie mounyng.
 Moracilla, le, f. g. a byrde called a wagge tayle.
 Moruus, a, um, mounyng, not abydyng.
 Moro, aui, are, to moue often.
 Motor, oris, m. g. he that moueth.
 Motus, a, um, moued.
 Motus, us, m. g. mounyng. Sometyne a commotion. Sometyne a motion or cause.
 Vano motu iactans brachia, swyngyng his armes fondely.
 Feroci motu quatens caput, shaakyng his head fiercelly.
 Motus animi, id est perturbatio.
 Afferre motum reipublice, To trouble the commune weale.
 Auditiconsilij mei motus, ye haue herd the causes of my counsaile and purpose.
 Moueo, moui, ere, to moue, to stirre, to remoue, to put awaie, to departe from a place, to entice, to allure, to prouoke. also to change or alter.
 Mouere calculos in vtraque parte, To make difficultie in the one part of the other, to moue doubtes on bothe partes.
 Mouere animum, to stirre or allure the mynd.
 Mouere castra, to remoue the campe.
 Mouere tragœdias, to make a great sturre or busynesse.
 Mouere camerinam, To styre thynges whiche shall bee to his owne displeasure that begyneth it.
 Mouere heredes, to put the heyres out of possession.
 Mouere nuptias, to trouble the wedding.
 Mouere stomachum, to cause one to bee beset with angre, also to prouoke to vomite.
 Ego istac moueo, I care muche therfore, or do passe muche therpon, spoken in mockage.
 Mouere aliquem a sententia, To make one chaunge his opinion.
 Mouere senatu, vel de senatu, to put one out of the senate, or to depyue hym of that authoritee.
 Mouere aluum, or ventrem, to make one solusble or disposed to the stoule. Likewise Mouere urinam, to make to pee.
 Mouere te ocyus, Bestyre the apace or quickly.

Postquam Canusio mouerat, After he remoued from Lanusium.
 Ego me de Cumano moui, I remoued or departed from Cumaniun.
 Moue abs te moram, id est festina.
 Mouere bellum, or arma, to reple by mento warre.
 Dolore mouere, to ake, to put to payne.
 Fletum mouere, to make to wepe.
 Indignationem mouere, to make one greatly displeased or veray angry.
 Loco mouentur ossa, bones bee put out of place.
 Mouere se ad motum fortuna, To chaunge as fortune chaungeth.
 Mouere mentionem de re aliqua, to speake of make mention of a thyng.
 Risum mouere, to make to laughe.
 Sudorem mouere, to make to sweate.
 Nusquam te vestigio moueris, moue not a fote out of the place thou standest in.
 Mouere cerebrum, to trouble the witte.
 Si vllam litteram moueris, If ye put awaye onely one letter.
 Mouere expectationem, to make desyous.
 Mouere aliquem possessione, to put one out of possession.
 Mouere suspicionem alicui, to make one suspicious.
 Motiuncula, a, f. g. a littell motion or stirryng.
 Mox, anone, forthwith, by and by, shortly after, after a whyle. Sometyne for Deinde, as Proxime laudatur Syriacum, mox Gallicum, Quam mox, howe soone.
 Moyse, or Moses, signifieth drawen up or taken up from the water. It was the name of a noble prophete, sonne of Amram, of the tribe of Levi, who brought the Israelites from the bondage of Pharaon kynge of Egypte, with moche wonderfull myracles, and gouerned them with exceeding wysedome & patience. He dyed afore the incarnation of Christe. 1462 yeres, beyng of the age of .120. yeres, his eyen begynne neuer dymmed, nor his teethe louse.

MVceo, mucui, mucere, to be filthy or be nued, palled, or deade, as wyne whiche hath lost his verdure.
 Mucisco, scere, idem quod Mucuo.
 Mucidos, a, um, filthy, vinewed, palled.
 Panis mucidus, vinewed bread.
 Mucor, oris, m. g. filthe, vinewe, such as is on breade or meate longe kept, hopelesse.
 Mucro, onis, m. ge. the poynte of a twoorde or knyfe. Sometyne it is taken for a twoorde. also the sharpe topp of herbe leaues, or any other thyng.
 Retundere mucronem, To make the poynte blunte. In mucronem desinere, to haue a sharpe poynt or topp.

Mucro

Mucro defensionis, the chiefe poynte of ones defence, that toucheth the matiere nearest.
 Mucronatus, a, um, poynted.
 Mucronata folia, leaues that haue sharpe toppes.
 Mucronor, aris, to be sharpe poynted.
 Mucus, i, m. ge. the spittle that cometh out of the nose, snuill.
 Mucosus, a, um, snattye, or snuelled, full of snuill.
 Mugil, ilis, vel Mugilis, lis, m. g. a sea fysh, of all shaled fyshes moche swifte, of colour white, theyr bee of the Grekes called Cestrei & Plotæ. They commonly be named Cephal. Of themr bee sundry kyndes, as it shall appere in their places. It is an vnfaciable fysh, & hath a great beale, and therfore except he bee empty, he abyrdeth his head, weenyng that all his bodie is al to hydde. They are so desyous eche of the kyndes of the other, that whan fyshers haue taken the males, and tyed them by a lyne, and leat them down into the sea: all the females, whan they perceyue the males, dooe gather together, and comyng to themr are taken in the nettes. Likewise doth the male kynde, and theyr followe the female kynde: about Flarbon in France, where it is taken, theyr call it a Muge.
 Muginor, aris, ari, to mutmur, to trille and go sharpely about a thyng.
 Mugio, giui, ire, to bellowe lyke a cowe or bull. Sometyne it signifieth the noyse of thunder or great wyndes.
 Solum mugit, the grounde groweth.
 Mugus, us, m. ge. bellowyng of kyne or other noyse lyke.
 Mugus nemorum, the roynyng and noyse that wooddes make with the blusteryng and blowyng of the wynde.
 Mugonia, a gate at Rome, wherby sattell dyd enter into the citee.
 Mula, a, f. ge. a mule gotten of an horse stallion, and a female asse, as Columella writeth. In Syria (as Aristotile writeth) mules do both eat and byng forth fotes. There hath ben of them founden at Athens, which were 80. yeres olde, as that authour writeth. It is also the name of an herbe lyke to Scolopendrium, so translated by Theodoros Gaza, where the Greke word is Hemionos, whiche Diosc. callid Asplenon, loke there.
 Mularis, re, perceptyng to a mule.
 Mulcedo, inis, f. g. a gentill or sweete handlyng or intreatyng.
 Mulceo, si, ere, to pacifie, to appease, to mitigate, to swage, to make sweete, to annoynt, to possyde, to please, to delite.
 Mulcere fluctus, to make quiete the waues of the sea.
 Mulciber, ciberis, one of the names of Vulcan, called god of fyre. It is sometyne taken for the fyre.

 Mulcta, re, for. g. a penaltie, a condemnation, a fine cessed. loke Multa.
 Multam dicere, To geue an intunation, to set a payne, to amerce, or to condempne to paye a forfayte.
 Multam irrogare, idem: loke Multa.
 Multam committere, to forfayte, to rentre in the payne, to incurre the payne.
 Multam remittere, to pardon, to release or remitte the penaltie.
 Multo, aui, are, to punyssh be the pource, to amerce. loke Multo.
 Multra, a, f. ge. the mylkyng, the paille wherof into it is mylke. Sometyne the mylke selfe.
 Multrale, lis, and Mylstrum, i, neu. g. a mylkyng paille.
 Multus, us, m. g. mylkyng.
 Mulgeo, si, or mulxi, gere, to mylke or stroke.
 Mulgere hircos, spoken prouerbielly of a thyng veray absurd and contrary to reason.
 Mulgo, aui, are, to mylke.
 Muliebria, bium, n. gen. plu. naturall euacuacions, which women haue, called theyr floures. It is also vsed for lecherie, vncleanlynesse.
 Muliebris, liebre, perceptyng to womyn, was manlyhe, fearefull, timorous, vnconstant, was uerynge.
 Muliebre folliculum, dicebant vuluam.
 Muliebris animus, a fearefull, vnconstant or waueryng mynde.
 Muliebris sententia, an vnconstant opinion, that is quickly chaunged.
 Muliebris fides, slippery credence.
 Muliebritas, tatis, f. ge. delicatensse, tendernes.
 Muliebritas, womanly, delicately, tenderly, effeminately.
 Mulier, mulieris, for. ge. a woman, vpropely she that is no virgin, and by translation, a weak and effeminate persone.
 Mulier, is sometyne vsed for a wyfe.
 Mulier, pro ea vel illa dicitur.
 Mulicula, le, f. g. a diminutive of Mulier.
 Mulieratus, a, um, that foloweth or dotheth on women. also that whiche is dooen or prepared by women.
 Mulieraria manus, womans helpe, or rather a company of womanly or effeminate persons.
 Muliero, aui, are, to effeminate or make lyke a woman.
 Mulierofitas, aris, for. gen. the vice of louyng many women.
 Mulierofus, a, um, of or belongyng to women.
 Mulierofus, si, m. g. a great louer of women.
 Multo, onis, m. ge. a depuer of mules, a muletour. It is also a certayne kynde of gnattes.
 Mulionius, a, um, that belongeth to a mulletor.
 Mulius, i, m. ge. idem quod Mulio, after Cales pine. But Acron in that place of Horace readeth Milius.
 Mulleus, ei, m. ge. a kynde of thowes of purple colour, whiche the henges of Alba ware, and afterwarde, the noble men of Rome.

Mullulus, i, a diminutive of Mullus.
Mullus, i, m. gen. a fythe of a meane quantitee, haupnge two barbes or wartes on the nether syppre, the colour towards greene, with some pealome lynce, whiche some haue thought to be called a mullette. In greke it is called Trigle.
Among the auncient Romayns it was in tuche estimation, that in the tyme of Claudius the emperour, Plinius Celer, one that had been Confull, paid for one of the saide fishes. viii.
thousande Sesterios, whiche after the rate of this present tyme, is of our mony. li. li. xiii. s.
iii. d. or after Constables accompte. 40. pound sterlinge, with vs the worde is used for a bare byll, and so it semeth by the description to be.
Mulleus, a, um, sweete as honny.
Mulleus sapor, a sweete and pleasaunt taste.
Mullum, i, n. g. wyne and honny sodden together,
sweete wyne, bastard of muscadell.
Mullus, a, um, any lycour myxt with honny, also sweete, delectable.
Mulla loquit, to speake fayre and pleasaunt woordes, to flatter one.
Mulla mea, my sweetpynge.
Multa, re, f. g. a penaltie, a fine, a mercement or forfaite, looke Mulcta.
Mulum perere, to seme one to haue hym paye
the penaltie or forfaite.
Irrogare mulam, to cōdemne one to paye the penaltie, forfaite, or amercement.
Multatius, a, um, perterpnyng to a forfaite or payne assayed.
Multatus, a, um, condemned to paye the forfaite.
Multatio, ōnis, f. g. a condemnynge to paye a certain penaltie, a punyng by the purse.
Multingulus, a, um, that hath many corners.
Multisima pars, a parte representyng an infinite quantitee.
Multibarbus, a, um, he that hath muche heare on his bearde.
Multibibus, a, um, he that dyppeth muche.
Multicauius, a, um, full of holes.
Multicaulus, le, haupng many stalkes.
Multicanus, a, um, that is very holowe.
Multicolor, ōnis, com. g. of dyuers colours.
Multifacio, feci, facere, to make muche of, to esteem muche.
Multifarium, an aduerbe, many wates, in many facions.
Multifarie, idem.
Multifarius, a, um, dyuers in maners and conditions.
Multifer, ra, rum, bearyng abundantly, or bea-ryng many thynges.
Multifidus, a, um, haupng many flittes, cliftes or creufes, diuided in many partes, full of scotches.
Multiforabilis, le, with many holes.
Multiforis, re, and Multiforus, a, um, that hath dyuers holes.

Multiformis, me, of many facions or figures,
Multiformiter, in diuers facions, diuersely.
Multigenis, re, of dyuers hynodes.
Multigenus, a, um, idem.
Multiugis, ge, and Multiugus, a, um, diuers, manysolde, of many sortys.
Multiuges litera, letters intreacyng of diuers matters.
Multiloquus, a, um, full of speche, that hath many woordes.
Multimodus, a, um, of diuers sortys, facions, or maners.
Multinūmus, a, um, haupng muche money, or that wherewith one getteth muche monie.
Multipartitus, a, um, being diuided into many partes.
Multipes, multipedis, and Multipeda, re, f. g.
haupng many feete.
Multiplex, liciis, om. g. manyfold, diuers sortys.
Multiplex animus, a variable or chaungcable
mynde.
Multiplicabilis, le, that may bee multiplied or augmented.
Multiplicatio, ōnis, f. g. multiplieng or aug-mentyng.
Multiplicatus, a, um, multiplied, augmented.
Multipliciter, diuersely or manyfoldly.
Multiplico, aui, are, to multiplie or to make muche more, to augment.
Aes alienum multiplicare, to venge more and more in debte.
Multiplicare gloriam, to encrease or augment ones glory.
Multipotens, entis, om. g. of great power, that can doo muche.
Multiscius, a, um, knowyng muche.
Multisonorus, a, um, that maketh a great noise or sowne.
Multisonus, a, um, haupng a great sound, or many soundes.
Multitū, ōrum, neu. g. plu. garmentes made of fine thredes or syllic, whiche properly women did vse.
Multiuagus, a, um, wanderyng muche abrode.
Multitudo, inis, ſcēm. gen. a multitude or great numbre.
Multiuidus, he that seeth muche.
Multiuolus, a, um, that willetyng or desyeth many and dyuers thynges.
Multo, & Multo, aui, are, to punyng, to put nyng by the purse, to condemne, to put to,
to intreate yll, to disorder, to bere, to put to payn.
Exilio aliquem multare, to condemne to bannyshment.
Morte multare, to punyng by deathe, to put to death.
Multare verberibus, to beate.
Multari virgis, to be whipped.
Multari paria, to exile, to bannynge.
Multare bonis omnibus, to putte one besyde

all that euer he hath, to condemne hym to lese all his goodes.
Male multabo ipsum, I will punyng the hym quarly.
Multara consilia a fortuna, when fortune turneth ones purposes, to his great displeasure.
Multare matrimonio, to deuore or disolue matrimonic.
Multo, iugand to aduerbes & prepositions doeth
augment the vertue or vehemencie of them.
Multo aliter, and Multo secus, far otherwyse.
Multo ante, longe before.
Multo ante ponere, to preferre a great deale.
Multo praestat, it is muche better.
Multo minoris vendidit, he solde it for moche
the lesse.
Is quastus nunc est multo vberimus, by so dowynge (as the worlde goeth nowe) a man maie geat a meruailous good luyng, or now a daies, that is the verite chiefe and principall wate to geat monie enough.
Multopere, for Magnopere.
Mulum, an aduerbe, signifieth muche. Sometyme a longe season.
Non ita multum, not so greatly, not so longe
tyme.
Mulum fleuit, he dyd wepe bitterly, a great whyle.
Mulum tacuit, he helde his peace a great whyle.
Salve multum, God speede hertly, god geue you an hundred good moowes.
Sulpitio vebare multum, you were verite fast
militar with Sulpitius.
Multus, a, um, muche, many.
Multus in opere, oftentymes in busynesse, or verite muche occupied.
Multus sermo ad multum diem, muche communicacion a great parte of the daie.
Multa nocte, late in the nyght.
Multo mane, in the moornyng hetyme.
Multus in admiratione, greatly esteemed or feste by.
Multus in eo fuit, he spake muche of that matter, or he was verite busy in that thyng.
Mula, for Multum, muche.
Mulus modis, dyuers waies, also greatly,
erectly.
Non enim tuum multum est, in his locis, ye be muche spoken of in these quarters.
De multa nocte profectus est, he departed fourth late in the nyght.
Multis partibus maiorem esse, to bee muche greater.
Multi sudoris est, it is a verite paynfull matter, or he must take great payne and trauaile in it.
Multissimus, is sometyme used for the super-latiue.
Multus, sometyme for Multiplex.
Minus multi, fewer persons.

Muluca, a ryper of Mauritania.
Mulus, i, m. g. a mule, also a certayne fythe.
Muli mariani, horses, wheron fardelles were trussed and borne by men.
Muli mariani, a proverbe referred vnto them,
whiche bee obedient vnto euery cōmandement, bee it neuer so greivous. It may also be applied vnto them, which be involved in perpetual and intolerable labours and busynesse.
Muli mutuum scabunt, Mules doo gnaw one another, A proverbe, applied to persones yll and defamed, when one of them comens with the other.
Munda, a citee of Spayne.
Mundanus, a, um, worldly, or of the worlde.
Munditer, cleanly.
Mundities, re, & Munditia, re, f. g. cleantynesse,
Mundifico, aui, are, to cleanse.
Mundo, aui, are, to wyppre, to make cleane.
Mundulus, a, um, to curpous in trympnyng it
selfe.
Mundus, i, ma. ge. the worlde, a womans whole arraye or ornaments.
Mundus, a, um, cleane, neate.
Munerālis, le, perterpnyng to gyftes.
Munerarius, ri, m. g. he that at his owne charge maketh paynme vnto the people, with men taught of purpose, to fyghte hande to hande vnto the pyrrance.
Munero, aui, are, to rewarde.
Munero, aris, aris, idem.
Mungo, xi, gere, to make cleane, properly the nose.
Munia, ōrum, n. g. plu. offices due to bee doon of any state or condicion of men by the lawe.
Munia regis obire, To take on hym the charge and office of a thyng.
Belli pacisque munia, offices or charges, that men beare other in warre or peace.
Municeps, nicipis, com. ge. a citizen or burgeisse entoyng the libertees of the towne. Amonge the Romans properly they that were receyued and made free of the citee.
Municipālis, le, pryncially or pecularly belongyng to one citee.
Municipale ius, the priuate law of euery particular citee.
Municipalia magistratū, ciuile offices in euery
citee or towne.
Municipatim, towne by towne.
Municipium, n, n. gen. euery citee or towne, ha-uyng the same libertees that the citee of Rome had. A citee or towne incorporeate, haupng their propre officers and lawes.
Munifex, nificis, om. gene. that hath or dooth take the charge of office, committed to hym to do, that is in office.
Munifice, largely, bountifullly, liberally.
Munificentia, re, f. g. liberalitee in geuyng of rewardes, largenesse, bountee.
Munificus, a, um, liberall, bountefulle, free of gift.
Muni-

Munificentior, more liberall. Munificentissimus, most liberall. In the olde tyme Munifici, were taken for them, whiche consented to that, whiche their friends dyd or spake.

Munimen, inis, & munimentum, i, n. g. a fortification of a towne or castell.

Munio, iui, ire, to fortifie, to prepare, to repayre.

Munire a frigore, to arme hym, or make defence agaynst the colde.

Munire viam, to make the way of such a forte that no man may passe. Sometime to make a waye, that one maye passe easily, also to make a causeway.

Aditum munire, to make a way to a thyng or persone.

Hortum munire, to enclose his garden.

Munis, he that beareth the charges, whiche the people shoulde dooe.

Munitio, onis, f. g. a fortreffe or stronge holde for the warres.

Munito, aui, aie, the frequentative of Munio.

Munitor, onis, m. g. he that dooth fortifie.

Munitus, a, um, made stronge to defende, fortified, fenced.

Munus, muneris, n. g. a gyfte, a present, a charge, a dutie, or office, a gratuite or benefite, a frendely pleasure shewed to a man.

Munera, common plaies or gaye spghtes for the people to beholde, to reioyce them, prepared by officers of cities, as in Rome sundry plaies, swoorde platers called Gladiatores, hunting of wyld beastes. Also now in the cite of London, the watches and spghtes on Whitsommer nyght.

Munus vitæ, Cicero.

Omni munere vitæ, in all assayes, wherewith a man in his lyfe dooth meddle.

Corrumpere aliquem muneribus, to corrupt with gyftes.

Tuum munus est, it is your parte or office.

Ad omne officium munus instruere, to instruct and teache what one shuld doo in every thyng, or what ones office or dutie is to dooe in all thynges.

Munus promissi conficere, To dooe that one hath promysed.

Deferre munus, to apoint an office or charge to one.

Munus fungi, defungi, perfungi, explere, exequi, administrare, efficere, to dooe the office or dutie that one is charged with.

Munusculum, i, n. g. a lyttell gyfte or present, a small charge or office.

Munychia, onum, the solemnities of Pallas.

Munychia, an hyl to warde Cherronefus.

Munychyates, a cite in Arabia Petraea, where Mahumetes sepulchre is, called nowe Medina Talnabi.

Murana, a, f. g. a lampre.

Mura'nula, a, f. g. a small chayne, whiche women dooe weare.

Muralis, le, pertaining to a walle or bulwarke.

Muralis corona, a garlande given unto hym, which first scaled the walles and entered, in the siege of a towne or cite.

Ictus muralis, a stroke that one hath from one that standeth on the walles.

Muralis herba, an herbe called Peritoe or Peritoe, idem quod Helxine.

Machina muralis, engins to ouerthrowe and beate downe walles.

Muratus, a, um, walled.

Murcen, a, the goddess of flouthe.

Murcidus, a, um, without aduishment, flouth full, foolyshe.

Murciolum, li, n. g. the seede of that, whiche is called Lentiscus.

Murcus, ei, m. g. a flouthfull or flouthyng persone, which doeth cure of his thombe, because he will not go to warre.

Murex, muricis, m. g. a shell fysh, of whom cometh the spoure, whiche maketh purple colour. Sometime it significeth the same colour. Also an herbe, whiche groweth in a pyte, wher no sunne shyneth. Murex, is also the sharpnes of a stone or rolie.

Murgentina vina, a certayne kynde of wines.

Murgino, an, are, to tary, to be flouthfull.

Murgis, a, volome of the sea in Spayne.

Murgiana regis, a countreie in the south partes of Spayne.

Murgis, onis, m. g. an ybell or flouthfull persone.

Muria, a, f. g. a manner of sauce, whiche they made in old tyme of the fatte of certayn fyshes, and especially of Tunge. Also water, wher salt is sodden, byne.

Stilla muria, a droppe of byne.

Muriaticus, a, um, being longe in byne.

Muricatum, lyke the shelle of the fysh called Murex.

Muricatus, a, um, crooked lyke the shelle of the fysh Murex.

Murican gressus, id est formidolosi, pauendi, where one goeth fearefully, as if he went on caltrappes or thoznes.

Murices, cum, f. g. are caltrappes lyke theye upon pythes so iugned, that being throwen, one standeth alwaye vppright, used in batayle for horsmen.

Muricida, a mouse hyller, a ratte hyller. Also an herbe, whiche the Germanes call woulf woult, but we may call it rather Whoutbagne.

Murics, ei, a byne made with salt sodden in water. Also a cake of salt, wherewith the byrgins Mestales dyd sacrifice.

Murilégulus, li, m. g. he that gathereth the fyshes called Murices.

Murina, or Myrina, a, f. g. a wyne mixt with spyes, lyke pporas.

Murinus, a, um, belonging to a mouse.

Murinus, a, um, of Murina, hangng a foote (as) not like to pporas or wyne, made with spyes.

Murmilonica scuta, targettes, wherewith men fought vpon walles.

Murmur, murmuris, n. g. the noise of rennyng water, and thereof every other lyke noise.

Murmuratio, onis, f. g. a grutchyng or brulz yng in the mynde with noyse, a murmuring or making a noyse lyke the water, a repynge in speaking softly.

Murmurillum, i, n. g. a littell noyse or huskyng.

Murmurillo, aui, are, to mutter or speake softly to ones selfe.

Murmuro, aui, are, to murmure or make noyse lyke to water, to mutter, to repine, to gaintay.

Intestina murmurant, id est crepant, the beasles crooleth.

Murmuro, aris, aris, the deponent, was used of olde wyters for Murmuro.

Murra, a, f. g. a stone of dyuers colours, cleere as Christall, havyng spottes purple and white.

Murheus, & Murhinus, a, um, of that stone called Murra, wherof pottes, tables, and other bestelles were made: there bee of them diuers sent from Arnice.

Muroela, a cite of Dannonia.

Murrahus, an auncient kyng of the Latines, after whom all his successours wer so called.

Muria, one of the names of Venus.

Murtius, an hyl at Rome called also Auentinus.

Murus, i, m. g. a walle, a bulwarke. And by translation, a defence, or munition that saueyth a man from daunger.

Mus, muris, m. g. a mouse or ratte.

Mus araneus, a kynde of myce called a shrew, whiche if it go ouer a beastes backe, he shall bee lame in the thyng, if it do bite any beast, it swelth by to the hert, and the beast dieth.

Mus vrbani, a mouse of the cite or towne.

Musa, a, f. g. a sweete songe.

Musa, arum, Muses, whiche were maydens, whom poetes feyned to bee the daughters of Jupiter and Memorie, and that they were ladies and gouernours of poetrie and Musike. They were in numbre nine, or after some but the. Som call them geures of eloquence, and doo name them goddesses. It is sometime taken for poetrie or study of humanitee.

Musa manufactureres, studies more gentyll or delectable.

A musis auersus, he that hath forsaken the studye of eloquence, or that is vnapt to leynge or study.

Delectare se cum musis, to deelyte hym selfe with study and learyng.

Musica, Musica, & Musica, bee warhes countynghly peyned, that in some places they seme to bee embored out, in some place grauen, although it be all playne.

Musca, ei, n. g. an house, wherinto men leas and in all sciences used to repayre, and to discpute, and may bee well used for a college, or house of learned men. It is also an house dedicated to the Muses, such one was first made by the kynges of Egypte, called Ptolomei, in Alexandria.

Muscaus, a, um, of the Muses.

Muscaus, the name of the auncient poetes, one in the tyme of Ophius, whiche went with Jascon to the wyning of the Assle of golde. Another of Chebes the sonne of Champia, before the battayle of Troie. The third of Cephelus in the tyme of Eumenes, and Attalus kynges of Bergamum.

Musca, a, f. g. a flye.

Muscaria, a, f. g. a bushe.

Muscarum, n. neu. g. a flappe to dyne swarthynges. It is also the topp of fenell, dyll, and other lyke herbes, wherin the seedes be.

Muscarius, a, um, pertaining to flyes.

Araneus muscarius, a spider that taketh flyes.

Musceton, ti, n. g. a certayn rose that springeth of a stakke with many small braunches, and hath leaues lyke to an olue tree.

Muscerda, a, f. g. mouse dunge.

Musculus, a beaste which beareth muske, a muske catte.

Muscinus, a, um, of a flye.

Muscio, onis, f. g. a catte.

Muscor, aris, aris, to be couered with mosse.

Muscus, a, um, mosse, couered with mosse.

Muscipula, a, f. g. a trappe, wherewith myce or rattes bee taken.

Muscula, a, f. g. a small flye.

Musculofus, a, um, harde or styffe with muscles or bawnes of harde fleshe and synewes compacte together.

Musculus, i, m. g. a lyttell mouse. Sometime an engine of warre, wherby they are defended, whiche dooe appoche the walles of a place besieged, to fill the ditches. It is also a littell fysh, whiche gudgeth the whale, that he do not renne vpon rocks. Also a certayne piece of harde fleshe compacte with sinewes in the bodye, whiche dooe enclose the spirituall membes.

Musculus, i, m. g. mosse, which groweth in welles and other moyst places. Sometime on trees, specially in colde countreies.

Musculus marinus, a mosse growing in the sea wher coall doth springe.

Musculus demeter, he moweth before the mesdow be growen, he is to haste.

Musca, orum, n. g. plu. loke Musca.

Musica, a, or Musice, ces, f. g. musyke. It was used in olde tyme for studie of humanitee and liberall knowlage, and especial poetrie.

Artem tractare musicam, to wyte comedies.

Musica, orum, n. g. plu. musyke.

Musice, delectably, or in an harmony, also perfectly, that nothyng lacketh.

Musica, a, um, pertaining to musike.

Musicum studium, the studye in makinge of comedies.

Musculus, i, m. g. a musician.

Mushon, simonis, m. g. a littell nagge, asse, or mogle.

Mushones, sheepe with heary woolle.

Musitabundus, a, um, that speaketh to hym selfe priuily, or muttering betwene his teeth.

Musitandus, a, um, to bee secretly considered and not spoken of vttered abroad.

Mussito, aui, are, to speake or talke alone, a frequentatiue of Musso, looke there.

Musso, aui, are, to mutter betwene the teethe, as they doe that dare not speake for feare, to murmur, to reppne, to grounce, and complayne with soft noise, to talke softly and secretly, to kepe silence. also to doubt.

Non decet mussare bonos, Good men shulde not kepe silence: or it is not meete that honest men should holde their peace.

Tace, mussa, holde thy peace, kepe silence, not a worde but mum.

Mussar dicere, he is in doubt whether it bee best to tell it or no.

Mustace, ces, fee. ge. a tree haupng leaues lyke a laurell, but greater and weaker.

Mustaceus, ii, m. g. Mustaceum, ei, n. g. a cake or paste made to comfote the stomake.

Mustarius, a, um, belonging to must or new wyne.

Mustax, a hynd of laurell, with a great leafe.

Mustela, la, for. g. a beaste called a weasel. also a fysh lyke to a lampreie, or as it seemeth by Polynie, a lampreie it selfe.

Mustela, a mans name, whom Cicero fauoured much.

Mustelinus, a, um, of a weasel.

Colore mustelino est, he is tawnye lyke a weasel.

Musteus, a, um, sweete as must or new wyne. also freshe, newe.

Liber musteus, a booke lately made, that is yet freshe and newe.

Caseus musteus, soft cheese.

Poma mustea, apples sweete lyke newe wyne.

Mustulenus, a, um, idem quod Musteus.

Musticola, a shoemaker laste, whereby he shapeth a shoe, or an instrument made with two rules, betwene the whiche the shoe is putte, while the sole is in sawyng.

Mustum, i, neu. gene. newe wyne, newe ale, or warte, newe beere, or any thyng that is newe and freshe.

Mustus, a, um, newe, yong, late made, freshe.

Mutabilis, le, changeable, mutable, vnconstant.

Mutabilitas, atis, for. ge. changeableness, altering, waucyng, inconstancie.

Mutatio, onis, f. g. a change. also an exchange.

Mutatio sedis, chaungeyng of ones dwelling place, banishment.

Mutatus, a, um, chaunged, altered.

Quantum mutatus ab illo Heclore? &amp;c, howe latre vnyke that Hector? &amp;c.

Muticus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Mutica spica, an care of corne without a beate.

Mutillatus, a, um, minished in som thing, or where som thyng is cut of, maimed, made vnperfect.

Mutili, horned beastes of nature, lackyng huynges, as oxen, goates, &amp;c.

Mutalo, aui, are, to cut of, to minyssh, to take awaye, to maim, to make lame or vnperfect.

Mutulus, i, m. g. looke Mutulus.

Mutulus, a, um, lackyng some principall parte, mutilate, lame, maimed, vnperfect.

Mutina, a, for. m. g. A citee in Italy, called in the vulgar tongue Modona, whiche is now vnder the subiection of the duke of Ferrare, where was the great batayle betwene Augustus and Brutus.

Mutinensis, se, of Mutina.

Mutinensis color, a naturall colour, as wolles or clothe neuer dyed.

Mutio, iui, ire, to speake softly, or with an vnperfect voyce, to mutter.

Mutito, aui, are, to seate one another. also to exercise or dooe a thyng often.

Mutius, was a noble familie of the ancient Romans, in the whiche one was called Mutius Scauola, who at the tyme that Horatius kyng of Tuscanes layd siege to Rome, cam in a beggers apparayle into the campe of Horatius, and intending to haue slayn the kyng, drew his secretary. wherefore he was taken and brought to a great fyre to bee bourned, into the whiche he willingly thrust his hand that had sayd to slaie the kyng, and suffered it to bee bourned to ashes, affirmyng that besydes hym, there were thre hunderde that had bowed to make lyke attempte. Wherewith the kyng being abashed, &amp; fearyng their inuincible courage, made peace with the Romanes, taking pledges of them: and reisyng his siege, departed without molesting of them euer after.

Muto, aui, are, to chaunge, to translate, to batter or exchange one thyng for another, to translate from one place to another, to chaunge from one nature or colour to another.

Haud muto factum, I doo not repent me.

Ego quod dixi haud mutabo, I wyl not vnsaie that I haue ones said.

Fidem mutare, not to kepe promyse.

Id mutauit, he hath chaunged his mynde in that.

Sedem &amp; locum mutare, to forsake his countrey or habitation, &amp; go dwel in a strange place.

Solum mutare, idem.

Mutare consilium, to chaunge his purpose.

Mutare mores, to chaunge his conditions.

Mutare aliquid cum aliquo, to make an exchange with one for any thyng.

Mutare alia re aliam, to chaunge one thyng for another.

Mutare merces, to batter, to chaunge wares for wares.

Mutare gaudium maiore, to tourne foy and merythe into sadnesse.

Exilium patria sede mutauerat, he banished hym selfe voluntarily, he willingly went into exile.

Mutare se in formam alterius, to disguise ones selfe and make hym lyke another.

Mutari in mare, to become of the male kinde.

Vestem cum aliquo mutare, to change cotes or garmentes with one.

Mutare sedem ex sede, to go or fle from place to place.

Si queam mutare, If I coulde amende the faulte or make it otherwyse.

Mutari ciuitate, to be made free of one citee, &amp; lose the ryght of another that he had before.

Mutatio, onis, the priuie membre of a man.

Mutatio, onis, f. g. a boyowng.

Mutatio, onis, a, um, boyowed.

Mutulus, i, n. ge. a staie cut out of stone or tymber in buyldyng, to beare vp the summer or other lyke thyng. In masonry it is called a corbell, in tymber worke, a bragget, shouderpyng or such lyke.

Mutians, antis, om. g. despyng to boyowe.

Mutius, who was also called Priapus.

Mutio, together, or one another.

Mutuo diligebant, they loued one another.

Mutuo, aui, are, to lende, sometime to boyowe.

Mutuo, aris, ari, to boyowe, to take of another.

Mutuari in sumptum, to boyowe moneye, to bestowe in busynesse.

Mutuo, mutually, one to another.

Mutus, a, um, that can not speake, dumbe.

Mutum dices, Thou shalt perceyue me to be a dumbe man, and not to speake a worde.

Mutus illic, he was dumbe by and by, and had not a worde to saie.

Magistratus mutus, the lawe.

Mutuum, i, n. g. a lone, that whiche is boyowed.

Mutuo appendere, to lende.

Mutuum rogare, to aske agayne that whiche was lent, or desyre one to lende vs.

Mutuum in amicitia, mutuall affection and loue in frendshipp.

Mutuus, a, um, lende or boyowed, mutuall one for another.

Argentum nusquam inuenio mutuum, I can boyowe moneie no where.

Mutuus amor, mutuall loue, where one loueth another equally.

Mutuas pecunias sumere, to boyowe money.

Mutua carne inter se vescuntur, The one eateth the fleshe of the other.

Mutua inter se fiducia negligentiores sunt, by trustyng the one in the other, they be more negligent.

Operas mutuas tradere, to helpe one another.

Terror mutuus, when bothe the parties feare

one another.

Mutuis vulneribus se considere, to wounde one the other veray sore.

Mutuum mecum facit, he doeth for me, as I dooe for hym.

Mutua sunt a me, I wyl to hym as he wylleth to me, or I dooe by hym as he dooeth by me, or I woulde hym as good wyl as he woulde me.

M ANTE Y.

Mya, a, f. g. a shell fysh in the sea called Bosphorus, whiche byngeth foorth the littell redde stones, and rounde. it signifies also a flye. it is also a chyldes playe called Hodman blinde, whiche some call Myia.

My facere, to doubt, to be halfe aserde.

Myagros, gri, m. g. a certayne herbe, haupnge a stalke lyke fenell, the iuyce wherof is good for sores in the mouth.

Myagrus, called also Myodes, the god of flies.

Mychale, the name of a sozeresse in Jude.

Mycana, a, &amp; Mycena, a, &amp; Mycene, enes, a citee in the parte of Grecia called Peloponnesus, and a littell region, where Agamemnon reigned, called nowe Morca.

Myceneus, a, um, of Mycena.

Mycerinus, the sonne of Cheops kyng of Egypte.

Mychon, the name of a famous peppter.

Mycopros, misse dunge.

Mycone, es, &amp; Myconus, ni, one of the ples called Cyclades.

Myconii people of that ple, whiche be naturall balde, and of them balde men bee called Myconii.

Mydas, a wooye bredyng in beanes.

Mydia, an ple named also Delos.

Mydon, soone of Atymnis, slayne by Antilocus, at the siege of Troie.

Mydriasis, sis, f. g. a lycenelle of the eyes, where no colour of the eyes is chaunged, but maketh the eyes muche broder, all be it it taketh away the sight, or maketh a man to see the lesse: and the thyngs which are seeme, to seeme lesse than they are.

Mydusa, ea quæ Anchusa.

Mygala, la, f. g. a fiede mouse, with a longe snoute, called a shewe.

Mygale, les, f. g. a ratte.

Mygdonia, a parte of Macedonia, on the sea syde, where Niobe was touned into a stone.

Aristotle sayeth, that it is a part of Phrygia, topnyng to Lydia. Solinus sayth it was called Bebrycia, and after Bithynia.

Mygonides, the son or nephew of Mygdonus.

Mygdonis, idis, for. ge. the daughter or neece of Mygdonus.

Mygdonus, the brother of Orcius.

Myla, a certayne towne.

Myle,

MYa, a, f. g. a shell fysh in the sea called Bosphorus, whiche byngeth foorth the littell redde stones, and rounde. it signifies also a flye. it is also a chyldes playe called Hodman blinde, whiche some call Myia.

My facere, to doubt, to be halfe aserde.

Myagros, gri, m. g. a certayne herbe, haupnge a stalke lyke fenell, the iuyce wherof is good for sores in the mouth.

Myagrus, called also Myodes, the god of flies.

Mychale, the name of a sozeresse in Jude.

Mycana, a, & Mycena, a, & Mycene, enes, a citee in the parte of Grecia called Peloponnesus, and a littell region, where Agamemnon reigned, called nowe Morca.

Myceneus, a, um, of Mycena.

Mycerinus, the sonne of Cheops kyng of Egypte.

Mychon, the name of a famous peppter.

Mycopros, misse dunge.

Mycone, es, & Myconus, ni, one of the ples called Cyclades.

Myconii people of that ple, whiche be naturall balde, and of them balde men bee called Myconii.

Mydas, a wooye bredyng in beanes.

Mydia, an ple named also Delos.

Mydon, soone of Atymnis, slayne by Antilocus, at the siege of Troie.

Mydriasis, sis, f. g. a lycenelle of the eyes, where no colour of the eyes is chaunged, but maketh the eyes muche broder, all be it it taketh away the sight, or maketh a man to see the lesse: and the thyngs which are seeme, to seeme lesse than they are.

Mydusa, ea quæ Anchusa.

Mygala, la, f. g. a fiede mouse, with a longe snoute, called a shewe.

Mygale, les, f. g. a ratte.

Mygdonia, a parte of Macedonia, on the sea syde, where Niobe was touned into a stone.

Aristotle sayeth, that it is a part of Phrygia, topnyng to Lydia. Solinus sayth it was called Bebrycia, and after Bithynia.

Mygonides, the son or nephew of Mygdonus.

Mygdonis, idis, for. ge. the daughter or neece of Mygdonus.

Mygdonus, the brother of Orcius.

Myla, a certayne towne.

Myla, α, f. g. an herbe, with a rote lyke an ointment on.
Mylachris, idem quod Mylaccos.
Myle, idem quod moly.
Myle, es. f. g. a roote of docke or wylde sorrell, whiche beynge sodde, is good against the tothache.
Mylochos, a butterfly, whiche is in mylles.
Mylos, a myll.
Mympur, a tournesie spindell or pygne, whereon he tourneth or warketh any thyng.
Myoctonos, the roote of Aconitum, whiche is good to kille nise, called also luparia.
Myoparo, onis, a kynde of myppes used in the sea called Mare Tirrhenum, a fopst or other small myppe, that pyrates and robbers dyd commonly vse.
Myophilos, ni, m. g. a hyller of myse.
Myopia, poreblyndenesse.
Myops, opis, he that can not see, but that he holdeth nere his eyes, poreblynde.
Myipsei, a people of Thrace, whiche yelded to Darius.
Myosota, or rather Myosis, loke alsine.
Myra, a citee in Lycia.
Myrapidia, orum, a kynde of little pearres, very pleasant & odoriferous, and therefore be called Muscata, or Moscharula.
Myriarches, a capitayne of .x. thousand men.
Myriades, many tymes ten thousande.
Myrias, adis, the numbze of ten thousande.
Myrica, α, or Myrice, es. f. g. called of the latynes Tamarix, of the apothecaries Tamariscus, a littell bushe called in Italy Tamarico, in English Tamariske.
Myrina, a queene of Amazons.
Myrinus, ni, m. g. the male kynde of a lampreie, whiche hath a toothe out of his mouth.
Myriophyllum, li, n. g. an herbe called Appl fopst.
Myristica nux, a nutmygge.
Myrlea, a towne of Bythinia.
Myrmetias, a precious stone, haupng litle knottes lyke waxes.
Myrmecides, a cunning carter of smal thingnes.
Myrmecites, m. g. a stone, wherein is the fygure of an emote.
Myrmecium, ch, n. g. a kynde of spiders lyke an emote, haupng a blacke bealy with whyte spottes, also a littell rough warte.
Myrmicoles, a lyte beast that deuoureth emots.
Myrmidones, the people called also Hellenes.
Myrmillon, the name of a stage plaier.
Myrmillones, were twoorde players, where the one prouoked the other to battayle.
Myrobalanum, ni, n. g. a frute growynge in India, lyke vnto plummes or damysns, wherof bee dyuers kyndes, whiche dooe easly purge all superfluous humours, and also comforteth nature, in so muche that a man whiche eateth theym, beynge condite, shall not loke oldlie,

Myrobrecharij, or Myrobrechi, they whiche doo make sweete oymntentes, or rather they, whiche bee oymnted or perfumed with sweete oyles.
Myron, onis, the name of an excellent carter, also olde oyle.
Myropola, α, m. g. a seller of oymntentes, or sweete oyles.
Myropolium, ij, a place where oymntentes are solde.
Myrothesium, ij, neu. ge. a bope of sweete oymntments.
Myrrha, α, f. g. a sweete gumme called Myrr.
Myrrhis, an herbe called mockcheruell, also an herbe lyke to hemlocke.
Myrrha, the daughter of king Cingra, whiche laded hir owne father filthly.
Merrheus, & Myrrhinus, α, um, of myrr.
Myrrinum, vinum, wyne condite with myrr.
Myrsenium, ni, n. g. a kynde of fenell, haupng greater leaues, and a sharpe taste.
Myrsinites, an herbe of the kynde of spurge, also a precious stone, haupng the colour of honie, and sauour of Myrr.
Myrsine, myrrus syluestris.
Myrteria, spurge.
Myrsinus, a citee in Beloponcus.
Myrsam, a towne in the parte of Greece, called Peloponcus.
Myrsus, the father of Landaules.
Myrtatus, α, um, or myrtidanus, α, um, that is made of Myrtels.
Myrtetum, ij, ne. ge. a place where myrtel trees be set.
Myrtus, α, um, & Myrtinus, of myrtels.
Myrtulus, a chariot man of king Oenomaus.
Myrtidion, the herbe called Geranium.
Myrtices, a kind of oyle condite with myrtell.
Myrtapetalum, li, n. g. the herbe called also Polygonatum, because it hath many knottes.
Myrtoselinos, the herbe named moule rate.
Myrtoum mare, a poizon of the sea, whiche is betwene the sea called Aegeum & Ionium.
Myrtus, i, f. g. a littell tree, bearyng bearies of sweete odour, a myrtle tree, or a myrt tree.
Mys, ios, the name of a cunning grauer, also a shell fy the of the sea, called Mus aquatilis, & Mus marinus.
Myssa, a countreie toward Greece lande, whiche is diuided into two partes, higher and the lower. the higher hath on the north Dania: on the east, Dalmatine: on the south Macrones on the east Thrace: this is nowe called Seruaia. The lower Myssa hath on the west Daciam: on the north Sarmacie: on the east the sea Eufrat: on the south Thrace. this is nowe called Valachie and Bulgarie. Ptolomeus wyth of two countreies called Myssa, the more and the lasse, and bothe in Asia, beyonde Bythinia, not farre from Ida.
Myss, certayne people.
Myssorum postremus habetur, prouerbielle he is he is neglected and contemned: he is cast at the caries arse.

Nesta, α, m. ge. he that learneth or is experte in mysteries of religion.
Nestagagus, gi, m. g. the chiefe interpreter of mysteries and ceremonies.
Nestrium, ij, neu. gene. a mysterie, a thyng secrette of hydde in wooddes or ceremonies, or a ceremonie, wherein some secrette thyng is vnderstande.
Nesticus, α, um, mysticall.
Nestilus, a cokes name in Marshall.
Nestris, stris, m. g. a fyste called a sea moule.
Nestus, a certayne fythe.
Nestologia, α, f. g. a declaration or exposition of fables.
Nythos, a fable.
Nythridates, loke Mithridates.
Nyrios, a kynde of meate used of the bylandish men in Healie.
Nylos, a kynde of bege tree, of the abundaunce wherof the countreie Myssia was named.
Nyxaria, that whiche the apothecaries call Sebesten.
Nyx, α, f. g. the fyth that cometh out of ones nose, snupell.
Nyxon, onis, m. ge. snottie, he that hath a snupell nose, also a certayne fythe.
Nyxos, xi, m. g. a snuffe of a candell.
Nyxos, a priest of Diana, glorious, and a stout talker.

NABATHAEA, a part of Arabia felix, lyngge betwene the Persian sea, and the redde sea.

Naxa, the hande mayde of Cleopatra, that wyllynge died with hir maistresse.

Nabathiei, people inhabyng the countreie called Arabia felix, vcrate continent, and in preparpynge and keepynge their commodities, ryghte prudent, as Strabo wyrteth, in whom ye may reade moze abundantly of thep maners, not muche expedient to be declared in this place.

Nabis, a beast in Ethiopo, haupng an head lyke a camell, a necke lyke an horse, and fette lyke an ore.

Nabius, a ryper in Spayne.

Nabium, ij, neu. gen. an instrument of musike, muche lyke an herpe, and hath a moze sweete and pleasant sowne, called also Psalterium.
Nabrisa, or after some Nabrisa, a citee in Spayne.

Nabuchodonosor, the ninth kyng of Babylon, or the thypde kyng of Caldeis, named of Beztolus, Nabogodrosus, of the hebyues Nabu- gadnasar. he by the occasion of his great and wonderfull dominions, felle into such a pride, that he woulde haue his ymage honoured for god. wherfore Almighty god, sodenly transtourmed hym in to an horrible monster, had upng the head of an ore, the fette of a beare, the taylor of a lyon, and dyd eate hye as a beast. And after he had in that fourme dooen penance by the continuall prayers of Daniell the prophete, god beynge moued with meite, restored hym to his pryncimate fourme, and afterwarde he lyued well, and commaunded that the veray god of heauen should be onely honoured. He was befoze the incarnation of Christe. 633. yeres. He reigned .xlviij. yeres.

Naccæ, fullers of clothe.

Nactus, α, um, the participle of Nanciscor, signifyng gotten or obteyned.
 Inde nactus est laude incomparabilem, theret by he hath gotten payre incomparable.

Næ, truly, or nowe in good saythe: also for valde or nimis, verate greatly.

Næ illi vehementer errant, & truly they be farre out of the waie, or in a wrong opinion.

Næ ego multo lubentius emerim diuoriorum Tarracina, flowe in good faith, I had liefer haue bought at Tarracina an house to lodge in.

Næ ille facili me victur patre, In saythe he shall haue me a gentyll father.

Næ iste haud mecum sentit, He and I be of farre contrary appetites, or he is nothing of my mynde or opinion.

Næra, a womans name.

Nænia, α, or Nænia, arum, f. g. plur. a lamentable songe, songe at the deathe or buriall of a man. Somtyme the songe that the nourse dooeth wantonly syng, whan she bandedeth hir chyld.

Nænia, was also taken for a goddesse.

Nænius, a poete.

Nænianus, α, um, of Nænius.

Næuus, i, m. gen. a molle or other lyke naturall marke in the body.

Næguia, called nowe Narnia, a citee in Italye.
Næguata, a citee in Irelande.

Næides, elles or fapies, hauntyng ryuers and fountaynes.

Naim, a citee of Galilee.

Næis, næidis, a riuer in the cast, whiche renneth out of the mountayne of Taurus, into the sea called Pontus. Also a nymphe of the water.

Nam, a coniunction causall, sette most commonly in the fyfte parte of a sentence, and somtyme doeth not so muche shew the cause of the thyng, as the begynnynge or entyrpynge into the matter. Nam, in the seconde or other place, signifyng for. Somtyme it is putte for Autem, follynge onely the sentence, without any other signification.

Namquid, and Namquis, for Sed quid, and Sed

sed quis, or Quid autem, or quis autem.
Mam quid ira? And why so I praye the?
Nam quando in bonum verteris vitia, id est
quando autem.
Nam est longe aliter in versibus, Cruely or certaynly it is. &c.

Namitiz, people of Nautes.

Nanciscor, nactus sum, nancisci, to geat, to ob-teyne, to fynde.

Cum plus otij nactus ero, when I shall haue more leysure.

Nancisci aliquem otiosum, To fynde one at leysure, or without busynesse.

Spem maximam nactus est, he hath conceiued a verie good hope.

Sinihil nanciscor mali, If I geat no ylle, or if I chaunce to haue no ill by the matter.

Pisces ex sententia nactus sum, I haue gotten suche fysh as I woulde haue.

Nancior, for Nactus erit.

Nanque, sette afoze other woordes, signifieth truely, put after, it betokeneth for. Sometyme for verum, or Sed.

Nanum, a littell bzyde vessell, called also Scitulus barbatus.

Nanium, a littell woman.

Nanus, a, um, a dwarfe, or a verie littell persone of thyng.

Nannetes, a towne in littell Britayne, called Nautes.

Nascaphium, idem quod Nascaphium.
looke there.

Napari, people in Ethiope.

Napari, people of the Ile of Lesbos.

Napea, Goddesses of floures and wooddes, or rather elles, hauntyng wooddes.

Naphtha, a, f. g. a certayne kynde of maunde or chalybe clape, somewhat liquide, (as Strabo writeth) wherunto yf fyre bee putte, it kenda-leth in suche wyse, that yf a littell water bee caste thereon, it boureneth more feruentely, and maie bee extincted only with great abundance of water, or elles with vinegger, alume & byr-deyme. There is wonderfull plentie thereof founded by Babylon in the countreie called Ec-barnis, as Plutarchus writeth in the lyfe of great Alexander.

Napina, a garden of naunces.

Napiza, people of Scythia.

Napus, pi, a Raucwe, or as other call it, turnepe, long rape, or nauet gentle, it is a kynde of Rapes. It is soone boyled, and nouryeth but littell. The grekes doo call it Bunias.

Nar, a ryuer whiche renneth into Epyer. Ther is an other ryuer of that name in Germany, whiche cometh out of the great ryuer of Danu-bius, or Donowe.

Narane, a ryuer in Dalmatia, aboute an hundred myles from Epidaurus.

Narbas, a towne in Spayne.

Narbo Martius, called commonly Narbona, a estee in Fraunce.

Narbonensis prouincia, a parte of Gallia, be-lyng on the east, the mountaynes Alpes, on the south Mare Gallicu, on the west the mountagnes Pirenei, on the north the mountaynes Iura: It conteyneth the countreies called Suaoue, Dolphyne, Prouance, and Laguedoc.

It was in the old tyme called Gallia Brachia.

Narcaphium, looke Nascaphium.

Narcissinus, a, um, of Narcissus.

Narcissites, a precious stone, whiche hath veyne lyke yug.

Narcissus, the sonne of the ryuer Zephirus, whiche was turned into the floure called Narcissus.

It is also a certayne ryuer.

Narcissus, fsi, m. ge. an herbe & floure, haun-tyng the leaues nexte the ground lyke to Daffadyl, or bzyder lyke to a lytche, the stalks bare and grene. In the toppes therof is a floure white of purple, the seede in a thyn skynne, blacke, grene and long, the roote beyng rounde. It is called white Laus tibi, or white daffodill.

Narcoticus, a, um, stupefactiue, or maynynge a membrye insensibill.

Nardinus, nardina, um, of Nardus, smellyng of hauntyng the taste of Nardus.

Nardina pyra, certayne sweete pears.

Nardus, i, f. g. a plant, wherof Plinie remem-breth nyne kyndes, but Spica Nardi, is of Gas-lene and Plinie supposed to come out of Ind-die, whiche some men thynke we lache, it is called Spikenard. That whiche we haue, cometh out of Syria.

Nardus gallica, some suppose to be lauander, or that whiche is called Spike.

Narica, ca, f. ge. a certayne littell fysh, whiche swimmeth verie swyftely.

Naris, ris, f. g. the nosegaylle.

Emuncta naris homo, a witty man that hath a fine iudgement in thyngs.

Obesca naris homo, he that smelleth nothyng,
he that hath a grosse iudgement in matieres.

Indulgere naribus, to moche, to scope.

Narius, a ryuer in Umbria.

Naritia, an Ile in the sea Aegeum.

Narna, or Narnia, a towne in Italy. also a cite of Umbria.

Narnia, or Narnienses, people of Narnia.

Narniensis ager, the countreie about Narnia,
where the grounde with rayne waxeth duske,
and in drie weather durte.

Narona, a ryuer of Dalmatia, called nowe Narenta.

Narrabilis, le, that maie bee shewed, declared,
tolde, or spoken.

Narratio, onis, f. ge. a narracion of reposit of a thyng, a shewyng, a declaration, a tellyng, an expresyng.

Narratiuncula, le, f. g. a littell narracion.

Narrator, oris, masc. gen. he that sheweth of tellety.

Nar

Narratus, us, m. g. a shewyng, a declaration, a tellyng.

Narratus, a, um, shewed, tolde, declared.

Narro, au, are, to shewe, to telle, to reposit, to declare, to expresse, also to laie.

Narrare stomachum, to speake what he thyn-keth, to vter his stomake.

Narrato omnem rem ordire, Shewe hym all the matier in order as it is.

Bonum ingenium narras adolescentis, B, pour sayng the yong man is of a good and gentyll nature.

Quid narras? what sayest thou? a maner of admiracion and meruaillyng as one shuld say,

It is a wonderfull thyng that ye tell.

Opino narras? Saie you I thynke.

Narro tibi, I saie to you.

Quas mulieres narras? Of what womē speake you? of what women be they that ye speake of.

Narles, a mynes name, an Eunuch of the Em-perour Titianus, whiche was a valpante and prudent capitayn.

Nates, people of Italy, called also Interamnates.

Nathecium, ci, n. g. a place apte or conuenient to hepe typpes or medicines in.

Narthex, hecis, m. ge. the herbe called Ferula,
looke there.

Natium, a towne of the people called Locren-ses where is greate plentie of excellent and good pitch.

Natones, people dwellynge in the myddell of the landes of Libya amonge whome is founde the precious stone called a Carbuncle.

Nasamonites, us, m. gen a stone of colour sans guine, with littell blacke veynes.

Nasamorus, & Nasamoniacus, a, um, of the people Nasamonites.

Nascaphum, a verie precious and odoriferous woodde, brought out of Indie, wherof they make verie pleasant parfumes.

Nascor, niferis, fci, to be boyne, in herbes or trees it signifieth to fyryng or growe.

Nasitar ventus, The wynde riseth or begyn-neth to blowe.

Nasim pedes, to be boyne th fete forward.

Natus ex tanta familia, descended of so riche and noble a familie.

Peneiope natus, Penelope was his mother.

Depellere natus, hauntye an harlotte to his mother. Ego profecto egregie ad miseriam natus sum, Truly I am nobably boyne to misfery, wretchednesse, misfortune, or aduerstie.

Ex me atque ex hoc natus es, I am thy mother, and this man is thy father.

Nasista vxore, to be boyne in lausfull wedd-locke. Natus sum genere, of a noble lineage.

Natus male volente genio, boyne in an yll howe.

Natus animo leni, he that is of nature gentyll and ray to be pleased.

Natus laudi, boyne to praise and renoume.

Annos ad quinquaginta natus, well nate spf-ty peres olde.

Copiosissime nasci, to fyryng or growe verie plentyfully.

Nascuntur fascicula discidia. &c. they fyryng
ryse or bee ingendred.

Vnde iste error natus sit, wherof this error
dyd come ryse or fyryng.

Ne plus mali nasceretur, That no more myls these shoulde ryse of the matier.

Nata est sententia, the opinion dydde ryse or fyryng. Nata herba ad spem farnicis, The grass dyd growe or fyryng to the tyme of hys haruest.

Nascens, entis, om g. growyng. fyryngyng.

Nasica, the surname of a noble Romayn called Scipio.

Nasterna, a vessel with habde, & a wide mouth.

Natum, a cite in Fraunce called Nante.

Nasta, a, f. g. a wele or bowenet, wherwith fysh is taken.

Nastus, si, f. g. a certayne tree, the woodde wher-of is of purple colour, and groweth plentyfully
in the yle of Medera.

Nastes, the brother of Amphimachus, whiche came to helpe the Troians.

Nastio, the which see better in the euenyng then at nowne: and can see nothyng but that is harde at their eyes.

Nastipades, a kynde of spice cakes.

Nastocopi, the which make those cakes.

Nastophagi, the which eate those cakes.

Nasturtium, n, an herbe called Cresses, whiche was amonge the persians in suche estimacion, that the yong men, when they wente on huntyng, dyd eate none other meate, supposyng that thereby, they fyryng were made more quicke and liuely.

Nasus, i, m. g. a nose. Sometyme it is putte for sharpenesse or quickenesse in speche. wherfore we say of hym that can preyly taunt or moche one so that weth it can be perceiued, Hic na-sus habet.

Naso suspendere, to moche couerly.

Nasus collisus, a nose as flatte as a cake beasten to ones face.

Nasutulus, a, um, a diminutive of Nasutus.

Nasute, wittly, mochyngly.

Nasutula, a shrewde wenche.

Nasutus, ti, m. g. he that hath a great nose. also he that can taunt or moche wittly. Sometyme it signifieth hym that hath a great instrument

Natales, natalium, pl. the rocke or familie, wher-of one cometh, parentage.

Natalibus clarus, noble of bloudd.

Obscuri natales, base bloudd.

Natalibus restituere, to make a gentylman, and to geue to hym armes.

Natalia dare, to make a feast at the daye of ones byrthe.

Natalis, le, and Natalitius, a, um, percepyng to byrthe,

Berth, as, Natalis dies, the day of the birth of nativitee. Natalis, is somtyme springing of growing. Natalis, is the seide, wherof any thyng springeth is ingendred.

Natālis, lis, m. g. Natale, lis, and Natalitium, tij, n. g. the date of ones byrthe.

Celebrare natalem suum, to kepe solemne the day of ones byrthe. Urbis natalis, the daye on the which the cite was fyrst builded.

Natalia praeclata, diuinations of astronomers, concerning ones nativitee.

Natales diuersarum gentium, the origynall of beginning of dyuers nations and countreys.

Natūlis, le, that swimmeth or can swimme.

Natātile, lis, n. g. a ponde or other place, where geese, ducks, or fyshes dooe swimme.

Natātius, a, um, that whiche dooeth swimme.

Natātor, ōris, m. g. he that swimmeth.

Natātorium, tij, neut. gener. a place made to swimme in.

Natābulum, idem.

Natātio, ōnis, f. g. swimming.

Natātus, us, m. g. a swimming.

Natans, anus, and Nans, antis, om. ge. swimming.

Nates, tis, plu. ha. nates, natum, a buttocke.

Natex, nātis, for. ge. of Plinie called Nerita, is a fysh, hauynge a shell, great, rounde and smooth, sayng that there bee on it like to redde seedes of popie.

Natūatio, was used for negotiatio.

Natūatores, trauaplers about many thynges, or busy and fedicious persons.

Natio, is the name of a goddesse.

Natio, ōnis, f. gen. the people of a countreie (as Festus wyrteth) whiche had their begynnyng in the same place, wher they dwell, and came not out of other countreies. it somtyme signifieth a feloweshipp, compaigne, or sorte of men, beyng in an order.

Natio candidatorum, the ordynarie felowshipp of them, whiche do sue for great offices.

Natio me hominis impulit, &c. The mans countreie caused or forced me. &c.

Natiuitas, tātis, for. g. byrthe, nativitee.

Natiuus, a, um, naturall, that is naturall ingendred in a thyng.

Natiuus color, naturall colour.

Natiuus sal, salte growen in the place where it is founden.

Natiuum malum, naturall mischief.

Natiua verba, woordes not driued fro other.

Natiui dei, goddis, whiche haue begynnyng and endyng.

Natūso, a, puer in the countreie of Venice.

Nato, aui, are, to swimme often. Somtyme it signifieth to go, to sail, to be rowed in a barge or galep. Somtyme to trouble or shake. Somtyme to grow or shoot forth a litle vnder the erth, as the rootes of some trees and herbes doo.

Natrix, tris, m. & f. ge. idem quod hydrus, a water snake. also an herbe, the roote wherof smelleth lyke a gote.

Natura, a, f. g. nature. It was of some gentiles taken for god, creatour of all thynges. Seneca lib. 4. de beneficiis: what other thyng is Natura than god or reton diuine, sowen in all the worlde, and the partes thereof. Arist. phis. 1. Nature is the beginning and cause of mouyng and rest in that thyng, where it is by it self, and not by any other thyng happenyng. Somtyme it signifieth manieres, condicions, and fashion. also naturall inclination or affection. Somtyme the priue membe of mankynd or beest.

Natura satisfacere, to dye.

Natura cedere, or concedere, idem.

Natura suae rationem habere, to haue regard vnto his condicions.

Si ex rerum natura exemeris, if you take from amonge men.

E natura rerum euellere, to destroy bitwyl.

In rerum naturam cadere, To chaunce somtyme, to come somtyme to passe.

Huius rei sibi naturam faciat, Zeat hym by the some and exercise byng this into his nature, or make this thyng as it were naturall to hym.

Sequi naturam ducem, to folow nature as a captain and leader in ones doynges.

Natura, in the ablative for Naturaliter.

Natura insitum est, we haue it of nature, it is naturall in vs.

Naturalis, le, naturall, accordyng to nature, of nature. Naturales filij, naturall chyldren, lawfully begotten.

Desyderia naturalia, pro cupiditate couend.

Naturalia, plu. tantum, priue membes.

Naturale, sing. is somtyme redde in the same signification.

Naturaliter, naturall, of nature, accordyng to nature.

Natu, onely in the ablative case is ioyned with these adiectiues, Magnus, Paruus, Grandis, Magno natu homines, auncient men.

Minor natu, the yonger.

Quanto tuus est animus natu grauior, The moze sage, graue, and discrete that your wyls dome is by reason of age and long experyence.

Natu maior, the elder.

Natu maiores, elders.

Natu grandis, olde of auncient.

Natu annos sedecim, sictene yeres olde.

Natus, a, um, bozne, growen, brought forth. looke nascor.

Natus, ti, m. g. a son. somtyme it signifieth a colt.

Nata, tr, f. g. a daughter.

Natālis, le, perteynyng to myss, or that is born with mysses.

Bellum nauale, warre on the sea.

Naualis corona, boke Corona.

Naualis materia, all thynges necessarie to make mysses of.

Sonj nauales, rowers in mysses.

Gloria

Gloria naualis, glory and renoume for victorie and noblesse on the sea.

Nauale, lis, n. ge. the docke where mysses are laide by or made, at Venice the arccuale.

Naualia, a citee in Germany.

Nauarchus, cli, m. ge. the patron or mayster of mysses, a pilot, a conductor of mysses.

Nauarchis, chidis, f. ge. the patrons myss, the admirall myss.

Nauis, n. ge. indeclinable, a shalle or pille of a nutte, the skynne or partition in the middes of a wall nutte, euery littell thyng of no value, a thyng of naught.

Nauis esse, to bee woorth nothyng.

Nauisacio, feci, facere, to sette naught by.

Naucleriacus, & Nauclerius, a, um, perteynyng to the maister of a myss.

Nauclerus, ri, and Nauclarius, rij, m. g. a myss maister.

Naucratis, a citee in Egypte, the inhabitantes wherof be called Naucratitae.

Naufragium, gij, n. g. wycke on the sea. Somtyme it signifieth losse of detriment.

Naufragium facere, to lose a myss by tēpest: & by translation, to haue great losse of gooddes.

Naufragia rei familiaris, great losse of gooddes.

Hac vna ex hoc naufragio tabula me delat, This onely appde, healepe of succour in this great calamite dweth comforte and delpte me.

Naufragus, gi, m. gen. he that escapeth on lyue after the myss is lost. it is somtyme taken for one fallen in pouertee.

Naufragus patrimonio, one that by his owne fault is fallen in pouertee.

Naufragus, a, um, perteynyng to mysswycke.

Nauis, a, f. g. a holowe tree lyke a myss, occuspied whan grapes be gathered.

Nauisagus, a, um, idem quod naufragus.

Nauicula, a, f. g. a litle myss.

Nauicella, a diminutive of nauicula.

Nauicularius, rij, m. g. he that lettereth mysses to hys. somtyme a pylote, a myss mayster.

Nauiculātor, oris, idem.

Nauiculator, aris, ari, to gouerne a myss. Somtyme to go on the water in a myss or bote.

Nauicularia, a, for. gen. the arte of gouernyng a myss or rowyng.

Nauiculariam facere, to fraight a myss, to sette mysses to hye for carryng of marchandise.

Nauigabilis, le, where a myss may passe, nauigable.

Nauigatio, ōnis, f. ge. exercise in goeyng on the water, saylyng.

Nauiger, uigera, gerum, whiche will beare a briffell.

Mare nauigerum, The sea that will beare a bestelle.

Nauigium, gij, n. g. all sortes of vessels to saile or rowe in. somtyme for saylyng, also the carrying or yeddyng of a myss.

Nauigia speculatoria, brigantines or mysses of espiall.

Infatuare nauigia anchoris, to cast anchors, to staie the myss with toooyng of anchors.

Instruere nauigia armamentis, to fournysh the mysses with abillmentes or takelyng.

Vectoria nauigia, mysses to transpote and conueigh men from place to place, passengers.

Nauigium interit, the myss was lost.

Nauigiolum, li, n. g. a littell bark.

Nauigo, aui, are, to go or bee caried on the water in a vessell, to saile.

Nauigare in portu, to be in suretee, to be out of daungier.

Nauigaur, the impersonall.

Nauis, uis, f. g. a myss.

Nauem deprimere, to downe a myss.

Nauis pompatica, a myss made with chambers and bankettyng parlours, onely to solace with, it is also called Nauithalmus.

Rector nauis, a myss mayster.

Moderamen nauis, the gubdyng or gouernyng of a myss.

Actuaria naues, loke Actuarius.

Longa naues, great mysses or galleys, goyng bothe with oyes and sayles.

Naues oneraria, great mysses made for burdeyn or cariage, suche as hulkes be, that vse onely the sayle and not oyes.

Aerata & Rostrata naues, mysses or galleys, that haue theyr stemmes armed with brasse.

Piscatoria naues, fysher botes.

Pratoria nauis, the admiralles myss.

Vulnerata nauis, a myss stricken, perced, or bouged with ordinaunce.

Constrata, and tectata naues, covered mysses.

Deferti nauis, to bee caried, or saile on the sea in a myss.

Appellere nauem, loke Appello.

Conscendere naues, to take myssyng.

Descendere ad naues, To goe downe to the rode where mysses lye.

Naues construere, fabricare, edificare, facere, to make or buyde mysses.

Moliri naues ab terra, To byng the mysses from lande to take the sea.

Subducere naues, to byng the mysses in to the haue.

Reficere naues, to repaire mysses hurte by tempest or battayle.

Vna nauis est bonorum omnium, by translation, All good and honeste citisens bee of one consent and wyll together.

Nauita, tr, idem quod Nauis.

Nauitas, aris, f. g. diligenter, sterpyng, quicknesse.

Nauiter, for gnauiter, diligently, with dextertie, valpantly.

Nauithalmus, a myss or barge, that noble men vse for pleasure, with gorgeous chambers and other ornaments.

Naula, la, for. gen. an instrument of musike, called also Psalterium.

 Naulum, a diminutive of Naula.
 Naulium, a towne in Lombardie.
 Naulum, li, n. g. the fraite or fate paid for passage over the water.
 Naumachia, a, f. ge. a battayle on the water, or the place where the battayle is.
 Naumachiam committere, To fyghte with thyppes on the sea.
 Naumachiarius, rij, m. gen. he that dooeth battayle on the water.
 Naumachiarius, a, um, perteynyng to that foym of battayle.
 Naumachiarius pons, a byrge, on whiche they passe into the thyppes to fyghte.
 Nauo, aui, are, to emplotte with all his power, to dooe, ayde, healte, or endeuoure with all diligence.
 Nauare operam, to dooe all his endeuour, to helpe with all his power.
 Vt nostram in te beneuolentiam nauare possimus, That we maie dooe all our endeuour, to shewe what good will we beare you, or that we maie declare our beneuolence & louyng mynde toward you.
 Naupactus, a towne of Achaia, taken fro the Athenians by the Turkes, called nowe Lepantium.
 Naupagus, gi, m. g. a thypwright or carpenter.
 Nauplium, pli, a fyphe lyke a cuttell.
 Nauplius, Idalmides father.
 Naupliades, the sonne or nephew of Nauplius.
 Naupontus, a ryuer in Diauonie.
 Nauscit, whan a beane openeth it selfe in the earth to spryng.
 Nausea, a, f. gen. disposition or weyll to vomite. Sometyme abhoyring of thynges.
 Nauseam discutere, to put awaie the disposition of vomityng.
 Nauseam facere, to prouoke to vomite.
 Inhibere nauseam, to stoppe vomityng.
 Nauseator, oris, m. gen. one that vomiteth. also one that lotheth or disdeigneth a thyng.
 Nauseola, a diminutive of Nausea.
 Nauseolus, a, um, that whiche prouoketh one to vomite.
 Nauseo, aui, are, to haue an appetite to vomite. Sometime to abiect or abhoyre a thyng, to despyse, to contemne, to lothe.
 Nauseabundus, a, um, disposed to vomite.
 Nausicae, es, and Nausicaa, a, f. g. the daughter of Alcinous kynge of Theaces, who fyndyng Odysseus, after that he had escaped drownyng, brought hym to his fathers palaice.
 Nausithous, the sonne of Neptuneus, and father of Alcimus.
 Naustibulum, li, n. g. a hyue lyke a thyppe.
 Nauta, or Nauita, a, com. g. a thyppe man.
 Nautea, tea, f. g. the ordure, which issueth out of the pumpe of a thypp. also curriours bleche. also a certayne herbe, which curriours doe vse, some make it for Anagyris,

Nauticus, ci, m. g. a thyppe maister.
 Nauticus, a, um, belonging to thyppes or thyppemen. Nauticus panis, bisbette.
 Nautilus, li, of some called Pampilus, a certayne shell fythe, of the foyme of a boate, and dooeth swymme the bealge bywarde.
 Nautilia, the craffe of thyppmen.
 Nauus, a, um, quyeke, actiue, balpant, that dooeth a thyng sodaynly, without muche delay, diligent.
 Nauus & Ignauus, contrary.
 Nauus & indolentius homo, a diligent and peynesfull man.
 Naxium, ij, n. ge. a kynde of wheatestones in the yle of Xyppes.
 Naxius, a, um, of Naxos.
 Naxos, an yle in the sea called Iegcum, one of the Cyclades, not farre from Paros, renowned for the white marble there growyng.
 Nazareus, a man dedicate onely to the seruice of God, or that had a speciall vow for a tyme.
 Nazareth, a littell towne in Galilea.
 Nazara, a citee in Cappadocia, called also Sasaria.

NE, an aduerbe, signifying forbyddyng, or dissuadyng, and is ioygned sometyme to the imperative, sometyme to the substantiue, sometyme to the optatiue mode.
 Ne, beyng an aduerbe of forbyddyng, maie indifferently bee ioygned with a verbe of the substantiue mode, or els of the imperative. Non maie neuer bee ioygned with the imperative.
 Tunc cede malis, geue thou no place to aduersitee. Sometyme it is a coniunction copulatiue, and signifieth And, or neyther. Sometyme it is causall, as Vide ne pereas, Take heede that thou doo not lose thy selfe: or beware that thou cast not awaie thy selfe.
 Ne multa, to make shoyte, without many wordes, or in fewe wordes.
 Ne plura, it sufficeth, it is enough.
 Ne longum faciam, to make shoyte, to be shoyt.
 Ne sim saluus, si aliter scribo ac senio, I praye god I bee dead, yf I wyte otherwyle than I thynke.
 Ne viuam, and Ne valeam, idem.
 Est ne hic Crito sobrinus Chrisidis? Is not this Crito, cousyn germaine to Chrisidis?
 Honestum ne factu sit an turpe dubitant, they doubt, whether it be honest to doo or no.
 Neue hoc, neue illud, neyther this, nor that.
 Ne dicam, I will not saie, or I dare not say.
 This clause (Ne dicam) if it folowe a substantiue, the adiectiue is put in the accusatiue case: but if it be put betwene a substantiue and an adiectiue, the one and the other shalbe the nominatiue case.
 Homo imprudens, ne dicam stultum, not stultus, tus, because the substantiue (Homo) goeth before.

 Crudeles, ne dicam impius, & sceleratus Castor, not sceleratum Castorem, for as muche as the substantiue Castor foloweth. In other cases is none ambiguitie. For alway the adiectiue and the substantiue muste accorde; as, Non faceres hac magistro conscio, ne dicam presente, not presentem.
 Mihi qui ne datur, that the maie not be geuen to me, or that I maie not haue hie.
 Vtne ducas, for vt non ducas.
 Ne hoc quidem tacebit Permeno, Harmeno will not hepe this secreete neyther.
 Ne quid nimis, nothyng excedyng, or nothyng too too.
 Ne dicam grauius, That I maye saie no worse of it.
 Ne mi quidem, applied to hym that dare not speake one word.
 Ne, an aduerbe rationall for Ergo. Verg. Meum incepto desistere victam? what shall I than beeyng vanquished or put by, trasse from myne enterprise? or leaue of my pourse as wayne?
 Ne amicus nihil tribuamus, epulamur, to the intent that our frendes shall not thynke, that we will doo nothyng for their sakes, we dooe eat and barkette.
 Ne, sometyme signifieth demaundyng, as, Datur ne illa hodie Pamphilo nuptum? But shall she be married to daie vnto Pamphilus? Egone? who I?
 Ne, an ple betwene Lemnos and Hellespont.
 Neades, beastes in the yle Samos, as Aelianus writeth: of whiche the bones be so bigge, that they be kept for a meeuale: and their voyce so strong, that they shake the earth.
 Necta, a womans name, mother of Phaetusa, and Lampetia.
 Necthus, a ryuer in Calaber.
 Neales, a famous pyneter.
 Neapolis, a noble citee of Campania, sette on the borders of the sea, called Mare Mediterraneum, and was fyrst called Parthenope. Of this citee the countreye of Campania, Apulia, and Calabria, be nowe called Regnum Neapolitanum, the realme of Naples. There is also a citee of this name in Arike, an other in Laria.
 Nearchus, a yong man of excellent fauour and brauttee.
 Nabis, a ryuer in Spayne.
 Nephrides, the thynne of redde here and salow.
 Nephion, herba ceruina, vel elaphoboscus.
 Diofco.
 Nephrides, the genitours of beastes.
 Nephites, singu. num. a pious stone dedicate to Liber.
 Nebula, a, f. g. a littell white cloude.
 Quasi per nebulam audire, i. leuiter, no attentē,

Erroris nebula, the cloude of error.
 Diluit nebulas Titan, the sonne purteth away cloudes.
 Nebulo, lonis, m. gen. a kinawe, a vilt felowe of no estimation.
 Nebulosus, a, um, cloudie.
 Nebulosus ager, a countreie haupnge oftentimes cloudes ouer it, whereby it is temperate. Caelum nebulosum, a cloudie weather.
 Nec, noz, neyther, oftentymes for Non.
 Nec opinatio, by aduenture, sodaynly, otherwise than was thought.
 Quae nec opinanti accidit, whiche chance to me not thynkyng, or nothyng doubtyng of the matter.
 Nec opinata res eos perculit, The thyng wherof they doubted not, or thought not on, astonied them.
 Nec iniuria, not without a cause.
 Nec ita multo post, not vtriae long after.
 Nec mirum, and no meruaile at all.
 Nec sicut vulgus, and not as the commune sorte of the people.
 Nec caput nec pedes habet, It is a confute matter, it hath neyther head nor taple, nor beeyng noz endyng.
 Nec vniul, nec omnia sunt, quae dicit, It is somewhat that he saith, all though it be not all: or, I can not say, but that it is somewhat that he saith, and yet it is not all.
 Nec eo minus, and yet neuerthelcfe.
 Nec quicquam aliud quam fleturum, And that he woulde doo nothyng but wepe.
 Perfolui gratia non potest, nec malo patri, a man can not recompence or shewe pleasure for pleasure, no not to an yll father.
 Necatus, a, um, flayne.
 Necarus veneno, poysoned.
 Necarus fame, famptied.
 Nec dum, not yet.
 Necessarie, idem quod necessario.
 Necessario, necessarily, of necessitee, nedefully, of force, inuitably, without redemption, without choise.
 Nec non, also.
 Necessse & necessum, of force, that must nedes bee, necessarily.
 Sed necesse est, but it must nedes be.
 Necessse fuit facere, I myghte not choose but doo it, nedes I must haue dooen it.
 Necesse habere, to haue nedes.
 Necessarius, rij, m. gene. a kynseman, a betraie nere frende.
 Necessarius, a, um, necessary, nedefull, inuitable.
 Necessitas, tatis, f. g. nedes, necessitee, an alliance or bonde of amitie, nere frendeshipp.
 Necessitates, necessary and vrgent businesses or affayres.
 Astringi & cogi necessitate, to bee constrayned or forced of necessitee.
 Necessitati parendum est, vel necessitas in-exorabilis, Necessitate hath no lawe, or nedes must that nedes will be.

 Datur necessitati venia, he that coulde not choose must nedes be pardoned.
 Ea quæ habent aliquam necessitatem, suche thynges as must nedes, or as be necessary.
 Necessitatem imponere, iniungere, asserre, to constreigne.
 Necessitate coactus, feci, I was forced or constreigned of necessity to doo it.
 Reliquis tribus virtutibus necessitates propositæ sunt. &c. The other three vertues be forced of necessity, or must nedes. &c.
 Necessitudo, dinis, f. g. idem quod necessitas.
 Facere necessitudinem alicui, to constreigne one. Facere necessitudinem alicui cum aliquo, to make acquynted or familiar.
 Necessitudinibus publicis unpletus, lette or troubled with the vrgent affayres or necessities busynesses of the commune weale.
 Adiungere ad suam necessitudinem bonos viros, to associate to him in familiaritee and frendshipp good and honest men.
 Coniungere necessitudinem cum aliquo, to become acquynted and familiar with one.
 Omnibus necessitudinibus circumuentus, bounden or in daunger to one for a thousande pleasures that he hath shewed hym.
 Recipere aliquem in necessitudinem, to receyue or numbze one among his frendes and familiars.
 Intercedit alicui necessitudo cum aliquo, he is familiar, or well acquynted with hym.
 Necessitudo est mihi cum illo, he and I bee familiar, or I haue good acquyntaunce with hym. Necessitudinem habui constitutam, I was acquynted or familiar.
 Nouas necessitudines adiungere, to get new frendes and acquyntance.
 Nos summa necessitudine attingunt, They are verie familiar with vs, or they bee oure nere frendes.
 Necessitudinem colere, to cherish and maine teyne acquyntance, or frendshipp.
 Necum, auncient writers vsed for Nec cum.
 Nec ne, or not.
 Neco, necum, necatum, and necui, necum, nec care, to flea, to hpl.
 Necos, a hynde of Egypte.
 Necromantes, tis, m. g. a necromancer, he that calleth by dauned spirites.
 Necromanticus, idem.
 Necromantia, æ, f. g. necromancy.
 Necropolis, a citie of Egypte.
 Nectar, nectaris, n. g. a pleasaunt lycour, which the poetes feigned to be the drynke of goddis sometyme it signifyeth immortalitee.
 Nectareus, a, um, immortall, diuine, sweete, pleasant.
 Nectarea herba, an herbe, called also Inula Campana, Elcampane.

Nectarites, a drynke made with the same herbe.
 Necto, nexui, and nexi, nectere, to knyte, to wynde or wynde laces of other lyke thynges.
 Nectere aliquid ex duabus rebus, to make one thyng of twayne.
 Nectere causas, to make excuses.
 Nectere aliud ex alio, to hange one thyng by an other.
 Nectere dolum alicui, to inuent a meancour, or to mocke one.
 Necti, the pastime of Necto, when the dristour was deliuered to his creditour in bondage. Coronam nectere alicui, to make a garlande for one.
 Moras nectere, to make delays.
 Nectus, a, um, of Neco, hpled without weapon, as with famine, colde, and suche lyke.
 Necubi, left in any place. sometyme in no place.
 Necubi regum desiderium esset, That they shuld not be despyus of hynges in any place: or that they shoulde not lacke or want a hynde in any place.
 Videndum necubi aqua consistat, They must see ware, that the water doe not stand or rste in any place.
 Necunde, left from any place.
 Circumspectans necunde impetus in frumentarios fieret, looking rounde about, that they shoulde not invade or breake upon the sowers from any place.
 Necya, æ, f. ge. a funicall cerimonie at the graues of deade men.
 Necyomania, diuination by calling by of dead spirites.
 Necydalus, li, m. gen. a certayne wyrm, of the whiche the fylke worme cometh, or whiche in the space of fyre wekes is turned in to the fylke worme, called Bombyx.
 Nedum, not onely, and is vsed two waies, either when bothe clauses bee reduced to one verbe: as Funderem pro te sanguinem, nedum pecuniam, I wolde spende for the not onely my money, but also my bloude: or elles when eche clause hath his propre verbe. as, Funderem pro te sanguinem, nedum pecuniam ubi crederem, I wolde not onely lende you money, but also thedde my bloude for you, or put my lyfe in daunger for your sake.
 Ne crederem tibi obolum, nedum vnam meam, I wolde not trust the with one halfe pte up, muche lesse with my lyfe.
 Nedum morbum remouisti, sed etiam grauedinem, Thou hast not onely put away the sykenesse. &c.
 Nefandus, a, um, horrible, not to be named.
 Nefarius, a, um, cursed, unwoorthye to lye, wycked, myscheuous.
 Nefans, antis, om. ge. idem quod Nefandus.
 Nefarie, wyckedly, naughtly, myscheuously.
 Nefarium, ri, n. g. a wycked or detestable acte.
 Nefas indeclin. neu. gene. a thyng detestable, a wickd wicked acte, a cursed dedde.

 Nefas habetur, it is compted a heinous thyng.
 Nefastus, a, um, unlucky, unhapp.
 Nefastus, sometyme for Nefarius.
 Nefasti dies, daies, in the which it was not les full to speake three woordes, Do, dico, addico, daies, on the whiche it was vnlesfull to pleade in the lawe.
 Nefrendes, um, com. g. pigges weaned, called wotes, after some weathers, after others, pong infants.
 Negabundus, a, um, that denyeth.
 Negatio, onis, f. g. a denyng, a nay.
 Negans, antis, denyng, sayng nay.
 Negantia, æ, f. g. idem quod negatio.
 Negatius, a, um, that denieth.
 Negatus, a, um, denied.
 Negito, auis, are, to deny.
 Neglectum, carelessly.
 Neglectus, us, m. g. small regarde, contempt.
 Neutiqua hæc res neglectui est mihi, I made in no wise neglecte this affaire or busynesse: or I must in no wise be negligent in this matier, or I made in no wise forget this matier.
 Negligens, a, um, not regarded, contemned, not paid vpon, pll looked to.
 Negligentia, æ, f. g. negligence, rechelesse, neglectum, carelessly.
 Negligentia fortunæ, contempte of fortune, and thynges casual.
 Negligens, entis, om. g. negligente, rechelesse, that passeth on nothyng.
 Negligentem feceris, ye shall make hym rechelesse, or in suche case, that he will passe on nothyng.
 Negligens sui, negligent or rechelesse in thynges perrepyng to hym selfe.
 Negligenter, negligently, rechelessely. sometyme contemptuously.
 Negligo, glexi, gligere, to neglect or haue lptz till regarde to a thyng, to be rechelesse in doynge a thyng, to contemne, not to passe vpon, to lke pll to a thyng.
 Periculum fortunarum & capitis negligere, not to feare to putte all his gooddes and lyfe in daunger.
 Non negligere aliquod negotium, not to be rechelesse in dooyng a thyng.
 Minus alicuius negligere, not to passe on or nes menapnges or thcatnynges.
 Nego, auis, are, to deny, to refuse, to say nay.
 Negato esse iuram, saie she will not go.
 Negaris scpe esse domi, They saie often tymes that thou arte not at home.
 Quin te ducturum neges, but that ye wyl resuse to mary hir.
 Negat quævis virum bonum, nisi sapientem, they saie that no man is good, but only a wyse man.
 Negotans, le, perrepyng to marchandise, or occupation.
 Negotatio, onis, f. g. occupying of marchandise.

bise, byng and scilpyng.
 Negotiator, onis, m. gen. a marchant man, an occupier, a factour.
 Negotior, aris, ari, to exercise marchandise in strange countreies. also to be in busynesse.
 Negotiari animas dicuntur medici, To geat their lyping by kylling of men.
 Negotiosus, a, um, haupng muche busynesse in body or mynde, full of busynesse.
 Res negotiosa, a busy and peynfull mattier.
 Negotiosi eramus nos nostris negotiis, we were busily occupied in our affayres.
 Negotiosa & molesta provincia, full of peyn and trauaple.
 Negotium, ij, n. gen. busynesse, affayre, charge, care, trouble.
 Dare negotium, to geue in charge.
 Sui negotij benegerens, he that doeth wel his busynesse, or that exploteth well his affaires.
 Plurimum in eo negotij habui, I trauapled muche in it, I had muche a dooe with it.
 Negotium magnum est nauigare, atque id mense quintili, it is muche a dooe to saile there, specially in the month of July.
 Negotium facessere, exhibere, confiare, facere, to trouble or bere one, to putte to busynesse, to put in daungier by accusyng or laiyng some thyng to his charge.
 Est mihi negotium, I haue somewhat to doo.
 Ita negotium est, the matier to requireth.
 Nullo negotio, without peyne, easly.
 Nil est negotij, it is lpyhtly dooen.
 Sed quid negotij, quamobrem succenses mihi? what is the matier why thou art angre with me?
 Obiectum est mihi negotij, I am in trouble.
 Offerre se negotiis alienis, to meddle in other mens mattices without any commaundement.
 Negotij sum plenus, I haue as muche to do as I can tourne me to.
 Id sibi negotij credidit solum dari, he thoughte he shoulde haue had none other busynesse but this. Humana negotia, woorthely affayres.
 Mirabar, quid hic negotij esset tibi, I meruayled what busynesse thou haddest here, or what thou haddest here to doe.
 Quasi negotij nihil sit, as though there were nothyng to doe.
 Pompeio cum Casare est negotium, Pompeie hath busynesse with Cesar, or hath some what to do with Cesar.
 Negotia reipublicæ, the affayres of the comune weale.
 Negotium meum non est, It is no busynesse or matier of myne.
 Negotiorum curator, a solicitor, or a factour.
 Negotiolum, li, n. g. a litle busynesse or matier.
 Neliades, patronymicum of Neliæus, as it were of the progenie of Neliæus.
 Neliæus, the father of duke Nestor.
 Neliæus, and Neliæus, a, um, of Neliæus.

Nemanus, a cite of Marbon, called common ly Rines.

Nem, sometyne, also excepte.

Nemca, a woodde in Grece, where Hercules slew. iii. horrible hons.

Nemeus, a, um, of Nemea.

Nemertes, a faprie of the sea.

Nemesis, the name of a goddesse, whom the paynyms supposed to be the punyther of greuous offenders, some call hir fortune. Suidas saith, that Nemesis, is iustice, complaynt, reproche,
enuy, fortune. Cras. Nemesis, is a goddesse, the reuenger of insolencie and arrogancie: she is called Adrastia of Adrasto, the kynge, that first constituted to hir a temple.

Nemeti, people of a citee in Germanye, called Spyres.

Nemetobriga, a towne in Spayne called Valdenebro.

Nemo, neminis, com. g. no man, or no woman, no bodie.

Nemo iron, euery body.

Nemo homo, for nemo omnino, none at all.

Nemo vnus, no one man.

Nemo est hominum, qui inuicem minus, there is no man alque, or no man in the worlde, that feareth lesse.

Nemo omnium, no man lyving, no man in the worlde. Also not one of them all.

Nemo hoc nescit, euery man knoweth this, or all the worlde knoweth this.

Non nemo, many, come, certayne persones, sometyne euery man.

Nemo hercle quisquam, in fayeth no man in the worlde.

Contigit tibi, quod haud scio an nemini, id est, vli.

Nemo diuū, for nullus diuorum.

Nemini, Cato vsed in the gentiue case.

Nemo, is spoken of women.

Hoc scio vnum, neminem peperisse hic, I know this one thing, that no body is brought a bedde here.

Nemorālis, le, perteynyng to a wood or groue.

Nemorensis, se, idem.

Nemorensis rex, the chiefe prieste of Diana.

Nemoriagus, a, um, that wandreth in a wood or groue.

Nemorōsus, a, um, full of wooddes.

Cupressu nemorosus, full of cypres trees, or haupng many cypres trees.

Nempe, an aduerbe of confirming, and is some-tyme vsed with an interrogation, sometyne without, for because, truly, sometyne it signifieth for.

Nempe negas ad beate viuendum satis esse virtutem? Doo ye deny that that vertue. &c. or, ye dooe denie than, that vertue is sufficient to perfect felicity, doo ye not without interrogation: as, Nempe omnia hæc verba huc redeunt, All these woordes in deede come to this poynt.

Recta via illuc. G. Nempe ad Pamphilum, that is to Pamphila: or ye meane I am sure to Pamphilus house.

Nempe, in antwerpyng: Expedies? D. Certo Pamphile. P. Nempe vt modo, yea indide as thou dydest whyle ere.

Neemias, a Jewe, cupbearer to Artaxerxes, king of Persia, a man of great learning and holysnesse, who wyng in great fauour with the said kynge, obteyned both licence and abyde to redifie the citee of Iherusalem, afore the inarnation of Chryste. 447. yerres.

Nemrod, is interpreted rebelle, or gouernour slepyng: he was the sonne of Chus, sonne of Cham, the seconde sonne of Noe. he is of some writen Nimrod, of some Ambrath. He was also called Saturnus Babylonicus, and was the first that toke on hym to reigne ouer men, and attempted to buyld the great towys of Babylon, intending to haue reysed it aboue the cloudes, thynkyng thereby to haue escaped, if any floudde shoulde euerflowe haue happened, he was before the incarnation of Chryste. 270.
yerres, after the creation of the worlde. 178.
yerres.

Nemus, nemoris, a woodde seruyng for pleas-sure, a groue.

Nenunt, was vsed of olde wryters for Nisi, estiam, nempe.

Nenum, was of olde tyme vsed for Non.

Nco, neui, ere, to spyne.

Neobóle, the daughter of Lyncambis.

Neocles, a philosopher of Athens.

Neodunum, a citee in Fraunce in the countrey of Lyons, called Leondull.

Neogamus, newly wedded, a hyde groome.

Neomagus, a towne in France called Nemure.
It was also a citee in Britania, whiche som men suppose to bee Chester.

Neomenia, a, fce. ge. the moone whyle she is in chaungeyng and lackyng light, the tyme of the new moone.

Neophytus, ti, m. gen. a man newly entred into any profession, a new man. Also a tree or herbe newe sprongen vp.

Neoproleus, mi, masc. gene. a ponge of netes soulbiour, a knyght newly made, it was the surname of Pyrrhus, whiche was the sonne of Achilles.

Neotericus, ci, m. g. one of late tyme.

Nepa, a, or Nepes, pis, a croppion: herof Crasmus doubtieth, looke the prouerbe, Imitator Nepam. Also the first kynd of the herbe called aconitum.

Nepenthes, n. g. a drynke confectioned of made by Helene, wyfe of Menelaus, whiche causeth theym that dranke therof, to forget all sorowes.
Some suppose it to be made with the herbe called Bojage, in lakin Buglossa. wherof that herbe is of some men to called.

Ni-

Nepeta, or Népita, a citee in Tuscan. it is also an herbe called Calamint, but therof be two sortes: the one more, with leaues somewhat hore, whiche I suppose to be Nep: the other lesse, haupng leaues lyke peny roial, but som-what greater: whiche of some men is called wyde peny roial, and groweth in plattye groundes. Dioscorides semeth to make thre kynides of Nepeta.

Nephelia, drum, n. ge. plur. the feastes of sobye men, where no wyne is vsed, but only meathe.

Néphele, les, a greke word, signifieth a cloude.
it was also the name of a woman, mother of Helles, whiche gaue the name to the sea called Hellepontus.

Nepheles, small spottes in the eyes.

Nepheleus, a, um, of Néphele.

Nephritis, phriudis, f. g. a sickenesse and grecke in the raynes.

Nephriticus, a, um, that hath peyn in the raynes.

Nepos, nepōis, m. gene. the sonnes sonne, or daughters sonne, a nephew. sometyne it is taken for a nece, it also signifieth a riotous person, a ruffian.

Nepōtes, signifieth all the succession folowynge sonnes and daughters.

Sororis nepos, id est nepos ex sorore.

Nepos in suo patrimonio, he that riotously spendeth or wasteth his heritage.

Nepotes in vite, The ponge branches that sprynge euery yere out of the vine, and are cut awaie.

Nepotinus, a, um, of a nephew, or of a ruffian, or riotous spender.

Nepōtor, aris, ari, to lyue or spende riotously, to lyue lyke a ruffian.

Nepotius, us, masc. gene. riot or superfluous dispenfes.

Nepōtulus, li, m. g. a diminutue of Nepos.

Nepis, tis, f. ge. the sonnes daughter or daughters daughter, a nece.

Nepitūnus, a, um, of Neptune.

Nepitūnus, ni, m. g. the god of the sea.

Neptunalia, drum, neu. gene. plur. feastes of Neptune.

Nepunine, nes, the daughter or nece of Neptu-tune.

Nepus, sluttyshe.

Nequa, lest by any waies or place.

Nequalia, detrimentes.

Nequam, a noune vnderclined, an ill man, one that is lecherous and an ill lyuer of his body.
also he that is good for nothyng, a naughtye vntyft, vngracious, vntyft.

Tanto nequior, the lesse grace is in the.

Frugi, and Nequam, contrary.

Eiusdem agilitatis homo frugi, melius quam nequam faciet, If there be two men of sembla-ble agilitie or wythynesse & bestyrryng of them selues, an honest felowe shall dooe any thyng that he is set vnto better than shall an vntyft felowe or a naughtye packe.

Nequam & cessator, an vngracious vntyft and loyterer.

Nunquam vidi hominem nequiorē, I neuer sawe a more vngracious knaue or a more vnty-ft person.

Nequam vitis, id est, inuitilis.

Nequam, sometyne for Nequiter.

Néquando, at no tyme, lest at any tyme.

Nequaquam, no, not, in no wyse.

Neque, a conjunction, neither.

Neque enim hoc possum negare, and withs-out doabt I can not deny this.

Neque tu haud dicas tibi nō prædictum, safe not, but that ye were tolde of it before.

Nequedum, nor yet.

Neque quicquam quam, for tantum, nothyngs els or onely.

Neque scietus eo, and yet neuer the lesse.

Neque vt opinor, sine tuo. &c. And as I thynke not without. &c.

Neque id quidem faciet, And I knowe sures-ly, they wyl not graunte that neither.

Nequeo, quini, nequitum, nequire, I can not.
Nequeo quin fleam, I can not chole but wepe.

Nequitur, the impersonall.

Nequis, nequa, nequod, vel nequid, lest any boddy, or lest any persone.

Nequissimus, toozst of all, moste vngracious, or vntyft.

Nequicquam, in wayne, also no.

Nequino, aui, arc, to deny. also to playe the wanton.

Nequinum, a citee in Italy now called Nerua.

Nequinunt, olde wryters vsed for Nequeunt, they maie not.

Nequis, lest that any man, or that no man.

Nequitia, a, fce. m. ge. vntyftnesse, where one is geuen to all volupuousnesse and lecherie, naughtynesse, vngraciousnesse, negligence,
lewdnesse. also craft, gyle.

Quantum fenestram ad nequitiam patefecer-is? Howe great a gappe shulde you breake ope vnto naughtynesse? or howe great occasio shoulde you geue hym to lyue lewdly and naughtly?

Frugalitas, and Nequitia, contrary.

Néquiter, vntyftly, vngraciously, lewdly, naughtly.

Nequiter & frugaliter, contrarie.

Nequitas, was vsed of olde wryters for nequiter.

Nereides, faeries of the sea.

Nereus, a god of the sea. and sometyne it is put for the sea.

Nerine, nes, the daughter or nece of Nereus.

Nerio, nerienis, the wyfe of Mars.

Neris, idem quod Nardus montana.

Nerite, a kynde of shell fyshes.

Neritos, an ple in the myddell sea. also an hyl in the ple Athaca.

Neritius, a, um, of Neritos, Apelles was so called.

Nerium,

Nerium, n, neut. gener. a tree or shrub, whiche hath leaues lyke an almonde, whiche some doo call Oleander, some Rosagine, some rose laur. It is also a promontorie or elbowe of lande in Galicia, lying into the west sea, not farre from Compostella.

Nero, called also Domitius, an emperour, sonne of Gn. Domitius Nero, adopted into the empire by Claudius, who married his mother Agrippina: although he were broughte up by the reuerende and wise Seneca, yet by the inevitable corruption of his nature, he became horrible vicious, in so muche as he caused hym selfe to be gelded, and cutte in the foyme of a woman, and so to bee abused, and by his crueltie made his owne mother to bee slayne, and the citie of Rome to be burned, he in the meane tyme playing on a harpe, and spyngge the destruction of Troie. Finally he being hated of all men, was slayne in a rauce, wherinto he fledde, whan he was but. xxii. yeres olde, and had reigned. xiiii. yeres. in the. lviij. yere after the incarnation of Christe.

Nerua, a, f. g. an harpe or lute string.

Neruiceus, a, um, of spynewes.

Nerun, people inhabiting in Courney and the countreie adioynynge.

Nerunum, uij, idem quod Nerua.

Nerulani, people nigh to Rome.

Nerulonenses, people in Campania.

Nerulum, a towne in Lucania.

Neruosus, a, um, haupng great sinewes or many sinewes. It also signifyeth strongly, strongly made in body.

Neruosus orator, an oratour that hath a pithy and earnest style.

Neruositas, atis, fœm. g. the haupng of sinewes or strengthe.

Neruosus, strongly, pithily, vehemently.

Neruos, uij, m. gen. a sinewe, and by translacon force or strengthe. also a fetter or gyue, wherewith the legges are tyed. also the string of an instrument or bowe.

Neruos intendere, and Contendere omnes neruos, or contendere omnibus neruis in re aliqua, To endeavour with all force and myght, to imploye all diligence possible.

Nerui reipublice, prouision for defence of the countreie, strengthe and puissance of the common weale, that is to say, strong men, treasure, shippes &c.

Nerui belli, monete and men of armes.

Sine neruis, without pyth & strengthe, weake.

Neruis virtutis incidere, To make vertue weake and feeble.

Incidere neruos virtutis, To make vertue feeble or feeble.

Corripere aliquem in neruum, to cast one in to prison, or in to fetters.

Adducere arcum, or neruum, to draw abowe.

Erumpit sagitta neruo pulsante, the arrowe fleeth out of the bowe.

Sagittam aptare neruo, to sette his arrowe in his bowe.

Concordia neruorum, the tune or agreement of the strings of an instrument.

Percutere vel pulsare neruos, to stryke the strings.

Neruulus, a diminutive of Neruus.

Nerua, called also Cocceius (a Gentile) was a good and noble emperour. In the begynning of his reigne, he set at libertie all chailden men, whiche were accused or banished: He so muche excelled in liberalitee toward poore men, that he thereby lackynge treasure, caused his apparle, plate, and ryche stuffe to bee sold for his necessitee, and ordeyned, that the chyldren of poore men shoulde be kept with the common treasure, and determynd nothing by hym self, but onely by the consent of excellent wyse men: yet not withstanding his sinceritee and vertuous lyfe, he lacked not traitours, whom he dyd tolerate wonderfully, and at the last dyed of the age of. lxxi. yeres, whan he had reigned one yere and iiii. monethes, after the incarnation of Christe. 9. yeres.

Nesca, a countreie in the yle of Sicilie, toingynge to Sicilia.

Nescio, nesciui, nescire, not to knowe, to bee ignorant.

Nescio alios, me scio quidem. &c. as for other men I knowe not, for myne owne parte, I am eyght sure, that &c.

Nescio quid circumspectat, He looketh about hym what so euer the matter is.

Latius est nescio quid, he is more what so euer the matter is.

Si sapias, quod scis, nescis, yf thou bee wyse, thou wylt holde thy peace, or kepe it as secret as though thou knewest nothing of the matter.

Irasci nesciunt, they can not, or they will not be angry.

Latine nescit, he is ignorant in the latin tong, he can not speake latine.

Hic nescit, nisi fœnus fabulari, he can talke or speake of nothing but of vsurie.

Nescio quid mihi animus præfagit mali, I can not telle howe my mynde geueth me, that some yle or misfortune will chaunce ere it be longe.

Ut quo se veritat, nesciat, id est, nesciet, that he shall not wote whither to turne hym.

Nescitur, the impersonall, it is not known.

Nescius, a, um, that is not known, or doothly not knowe.

Nesi, people of Scythia in Europe.

Nesia, a nymphe of the sea.

Nesium, or Nesis, an yle by Campania.

Nessorophium, phi, n. ge. a place where daunces be kept to be made fatte.

Nessus, a Centaure, whiche rauished Deianira Hercules wyfe, who beinge wounded to death, gaue gaue to Deianira a popson, wherewith Hercules being washed, and putte on hym, his body dyd rotte with moste horrible peynes, which he not susteynyng, dyd enter into a great fyre, and leat hym selfe be burned.

Nestor, nestoris, a duke of Grece, whiche came to the siege of Troie, who in geuyng counsell was reputed moste excellent, and lyeud (as he hym selfe saith) the mens ages.

Nestorides, the sonne or nephew of Nestor.

Nestorius, a great heretike, bishop of Constantinople, the pere of our Lozde. 419. who denyed Christ to be god. Of him the herethikes holdyng that opinion, were called Nestoriani.

Nessus, a ryuer of Thrace.

Nerides, a kynd of oliues.

Neu, for neue, or non.

Neu lachryma soror, wepe not syster. Some tyme it signifyeth no, whan it is doubled.

Neufe, neu Pompeium absentem imperatorem aduersarius ad supplicium tradant, obsecrat, He despyred them, that they woulde not betraye neyther hym nor Pompeie the captiue being absent, vnto their enemies to bee put to cruell deathe.

Neuceria, a citie in Umbria, a parte of Italy.

Neue, or not, not yet.

Neumate, for Negare.

Neuola, a ryuer.

Néolo, neuis, neuult, for Nolo, nonuis.

Neuri, people of Scythia, of whom it is written, that in sommer they were turned to wolues.

Neuricus, a, um, that hath greke of the sinues.

Neurobata, ta, ma gene. a walker on cordes or ropes.

Neustria, Normandy.

Néuter, tra, trum, trissyllabum, after Priscian, none of them, neither the one nor the other, neither of the two. The latyne writers vse not to saie, Néuter neutri, but rather néuter alteri: Not properly, vterq; vtriq; but vterque alteri.

Neuter viri inuider, the one dooth not enuye the other.

Néuter anguis, id est nec mas, nec fœmina.

Néuna alteri officit, neither doth hurte other.

Neuter alterum diligit, neyther of them lozeth other.

Néutrum ab altero separo. I dooe diuide or separate neither of them from other.

Neutrális, le, that is a neuter, and belongeth to neither of the partes.

Neuro, aduerbium, neither to the one parte, nor to the other.

Neurobi, idem.

Neuriquam, in no wyfe, in no condiction.

Neuus, uij, m. ge. a mole, or other lyke marke in the body or visage.

Nex, nécis, fœ. ge. violente deathe with weapon or other force.

Artifices necis, inueners of straunge deathes and tormentes.

Conciuit sibi ipsi necem, he killed hym selfe. Dedere aliquem neci, to kill, to put to deeth. Eripere necem alicui, to saue ones lyfe. Neci datus, slayne.

Néxilis, le, anythyng that maye be knyt.

Nexi, were free men, whiche bonde them selfe to sette, to be therfore acquitted of their dettes.

Nexo, aui, are, or Nexo, nexui, nexere, to knyt often.

Nexus, a, um, knytte or bounden.

Nexa solutus, discharged of bonde.

Nexa res pignori, a thyng laied to mortgage.

Nexum as, monete that one is bound to paye or deliuer.

Nexum inire, to be wrypped in bondes, to be come seruaunt or bondeman to his creditoure for faute of paiement.

Nexus, us, m. ge. a bonde, an obligation, wherewith one is obliged to doo a thyng, a notte, a tynge.

Nexu vincti, they that are bounde to serue for theyr debt.

NI, pf not, but pf, excepte, lest that. Ni, was used of olde writers for Non, also for Ne.

Ni teneant curfus, for Ne teneant.

Mirum ni domi est, It is meruayle but that he is at home, or if he be not at home.

Ni metum patrem, pf I dyd not feare my father, or if it were not that I am afraide of my father.

Nixthos, a ryuer in Sicilie.

Nicæarchus, a famous painter.

Nicandrus, or Nicander, a famous poete, which wrote of popsons.

Nicanor, nicanoris, a grammarian of Alexandria in the tyme of Adrian the emperour.

Nicator, nicatoris, m. ge. a vanquisher. it was the surname of Seleucus.

Nicea, and Nicia, a citie in Bithynia, where was holden the holy counsaill agaynst Arius. In the whiche was present the noble Emperour Constantinus Magnus. There is an other cite of that name in Fraunce.

Nicedula, idem quod Cicindela.

Nicerotianum, ni, n. gen. a sweete and pleasant oymnt.

Nicephus, a greke physician and a great magician, about the pere of our lozde. 650.

Niceria, orum, n. g. plu. rewardes for victorie, as rynges, colars of golde, or garlandes, some doo write it Niceretia.

Nicetes, a sophister in the tyme of Alexander, excellently learned.

Nicias, a noble man of Athens. it is also the name of certayne other.

Nico, one of the Tarentines that conspyred agaynst gagnt Anniball.

 Nicocreon, a tyran of Epyres.
 Nicolaites, were heretikes, whiche tooke that name of Nicolas, one of the vii. deacons in the tyme of the apostles, who being blamed of them for his ialousy, broughte his wyfe, who was saynt, amonge all the disciples, saynge, that who so woulde, shoulde vse hyr, thynkyng thereby to purge hym selfe of ialousye: wherof other xlii. men takinge occasion, beleued, that euery man mought secretly vse euery woman that he listeth, which heresy (as reason woulde) was condemned immediately, but it is to bee feared, that it is not clerely extincte.
 Nicolai, used of Augustus for great dates.
 Nicolaus, a mans name.
 Nicomachus, the name of dyuers men.
 Nicomedes, a kynge of Bithynia.
 Nicomedia, a noble citee in Bithynia, where Constantinus magnus the emperour dyed. it is now called of the turkes Nicor.
 Nicophanes, a cunning printer.
 Nicopolis, a citee in Epyre, where Octavian vanquished Antonic and Cleopatra.
 Nicotrata, called also Carmentis, was mother vnto Euander, kynge of Latines, and a prophete.
 Nicotratius, a famous oratour of Macedony.
 There was also a poete and a mynstrel of the same name, also an excellent player of comedies.
 Nicromantia, loke Necromantia.
 Nictatio, onis, f. g. a wyngyng of twynklyng with the eyes.
 Nicto, rere, to bent or open as a hounde of spaynell doeth, when he hath the sent of the game.
 Nicto, aut, are, to wyne, to twynkle with the eyes.
 Nictor, aris, ari. idem. also to endeavour or stre with any parte of the body.
 Nidamentum, i. neu. gen. a place where byrdes make their nestes.
 Nideo, dère, to thpyne, to geue a sauour.
 Nidifico, aut, are, to buyde a nest.
 Nidificus, a, um, that maketh a nest.
 Nidor, oris, m. g. the sauour of a thynge bourned or roasted. sometyme grynnyng or shewyng of the teethe. sometyme byghynesse.
 Nidulor, aris, ari, to make a neste. also to spt a broode on egges.
 Nidulus, li, m. g. a littell neste.
 Nidas, i. m. g. a neste. sometyme the byrdes that be in the neste, also a vessell lyke a neste. Also boxes or chestes, wherein grossers or mercers doo put their wares, be called Nidi.
 Distrahere aues nidis, to pull byrdes out of their nestes.
 Loquaces nidi, thyrpyng pong byrdes.
 Construere nidum, to make a nest.
 Nigella, lx, f. m. gen. an herbe, that beareth a blacke seede of good sauour, whiche profiteth agaynst rumes, Nigellus, a, um, browne of coloure, sometyme blacke.

 Niger, gra, um, blacke. sometyme it signifyeth purple. sometyme darke: by translation dead, also hurtefull, perillous, yll, naughty.
 Nigra vena, id est, Median.
 Nigrum marrubium, idem quod ballote.
 Nigrum papauer, gith.
 Nigidius singulus, an auncient Romayne, whiche was a philosopher, of the secte of Pythagoras, and wrote wonderfull subtilly, about the tyme of our lord. xlviii. he dyed in creple.
 Nignia, a certayne herbe, which taketh away the scarres of woundes.
 Nigir, a tyuer of Libya.
 Nigra, idem quod anemone.
 Nigrans, antis, that is blacke, or darke.
 Nigredo, grédis, f. g. blackenesse.
 Nigreo, & nigresco, nigui, ère, and scire, to become blacke.
 Nigrefacio, gréfacis, féci, facere, to make blacke.
 Nigresco, fieri, to be made blacke.
 Nigrico, ani, are, to be somewhat blacke.
 Nigrinus, a mans name in Luciane.
 Nigris, a fountayne in Ethiopie, which some suppose to bee the head of the famous tyuer Nilus.
 Nigrities, ei, Nigritia, æ, and Nigritudo, ad dinis, f. g. blackenesse.
 Nigro, ani, are, to make blacke, or to be blacke.
 Nigror, oris, m. g. blackenesse.
 Nihil, n. g. indeclin. nothyng or nought.
 Nihil cum fidibus raculo: Nihil cum amas racino sui, The dawne hath naught to doo with a late, nor the sow with oyle of maioram.
 A prouerbe applyed to hym, whiche presumpeth of his wyfte, meddlerly with thynges that he can not thyll of.
 Nihil ad nostram hanc, nothyng in comparisoun of this mayden that I speake of.
 Nihil ad te, it perceynerth nothyng to the, or it maketh no inacture to the.
 Nihil ad hanc rem est, it belongeth nothyng to this purpose.
 Literarum admodum nihil sciebat, he was nothyng lerned, or he was vtterly vnlearned.
 Nihil admodum territus, feared nothyng at all.
 Nihil agere, To labour in vayne, to lose ones labour.
 Nihil præterquam vigilatum est, they dyd not thynge but wathe.
 Nihil audio, id est non audio.
 Nihil mihi cum illo fuit, I had nothyng to doo wit hym.
 Nihil est, it is an easy thyng, also there is no hope at all.
 Nihil est quod, there is no neede, there is no cause why.
 Nihil est quod dicas mihi, alium quaerebam, I shall nothyng auayle the to saye vnto me, I soughte an other man.
 Ego quid agas nihil intelligo, I can not perceyue whereabout thou goest.

 Nihil est æque quod faciam lubens, there is nothyng in the worlde, that I would doo so gladly.
 Nihil interest dactylus sit an creticus, it maketh no matter.
 Nihil moror, I passe nothyng vpon, I dooe nothyng esteeme.
 Nihil mihi potius fuit quam. &c. I desired nothyng more than. &c.
 Nihil quam, for nihil aliud quam. &c.
 Nihil scio, for Nescio, I can not tell.
 Nihil rerum omnium est, There is nothyng in the worlde.
 Nihil dum, nothyng yet.
 Mea nihil refert, dum postar modo, I passe not what I doo, so that I maye haue it.
 Nihil festinare, to make no haste.
 Nihilum, li, n. g. idem quod Nihil.
 Redigi ad nihilum, to be brought to nothyng to bee brought to veray pooze estate.
 Nilum, for Nihilum.
 Nihili, of no price or value.
 Cui minus nihilo est, whiche hath lesse than nothyng.
 Isti nihil sum aliter ac fui, I am none other wyse towarde hym, than I haue been afore tyme.
 Non hoc de nihilo est, this is not for naught.
 Nihilo magis, neuer the more, neuer the rather.
 Nihili melior, no better.
 Nihilo minus, neuer the lesse, not withstans dyng.
 Quæ nihilo minus, vt ego absim confici possunt, whiche maye well enough be dispatchyd, all though I bee not there.
 Nihilifacio, féci, facere, to sette naughte by, to esteeme nothyng.
 Nihilipendo, di, dère, idem.
 Nil, nothyng. sometyme for non.
 Niligenus, a, um, engendred, or bredde in, or of Nilus.
 Nilon, li, n. g. a stone lyke a Copace, but that is more dustye.
 Nilosis, niloridis, f. g. of Nilus.
 Nilus, a famous and great tyuer, rennyng thowrough Ethiopie and Egypte, & is supposed to be one of the tyuers of Paradyse, called in holy scripture Echon. All be it to me it seemeth unlykely, for as muche as in Genesis it is written, that Echon enuyronneth all Bethiopia, where is no mention made, that it passeth thowrough Egypte, all be it, that Egypte and the tyuer of Nilus were more nygh to Moyses, when he wrote the Genesim, than Bethiopia was. And also Nilus was famous for the vertue of the water thereof, whiche ouerflowynge the countreye of Egypte, made the grounde wonderfulle fertile manye yeeres after, so that without labourynge, the earthe broughte forth abundaunce of sundry graynes & plants tes, delectable, and profitabie. Also beastes of sundry kyndes, without other fourme of generation, especially when the tyuer came to the depeneth of xl. cubites. likewise when it exceeded not. viii. cubites, there succeeded muche famine and scarltice.

 Nilus, is sometyme vsed for a dyeth or mote, lyke as Euripus is.
 Niliacus, & Niloticus, a, um, perteynyng to the riuier Nilus.
 Nimbatus, a, um, opnted with swete oyles.
 Nimbifer, ferri, the byngger of stormes.
 Nimblis, an ple in the sea called Ionium.
 Nimbus, i. m. ge. a great showre of rayne, a for deyne storme of rayne or hayle, a great blaste of wynde, a tempest of wether, by translation, a sodayne and great fall. also a vessell, out of the whiche wyne is drawen, or as some haue it a certayne pottle, for wine, or water, or to kepe perfumes. sometyme a cloude, wherein the gods dis descended downe.
 Cinxerunt athera nimbi, the cloudes be sett rounde about, as it is commonly befoze a great storme.
 Crepitant nimbi culminibus multa grandine, there is a great storme of hayle.
 Densi funduntur ab æthere nimbi, a great shoure of rayne doth powze downe.
 Nimbosus, a, um, stormy, tempestuous.
 Nimirum, pwpys, surely, in faith, certainly, but doubredly. sometyme it signifyeth Scilicet, that is to say. sometyme At, sometyme it is addyd to an answer.
 Vter melior dicetur orator? nimirum qui homo quoque melior, Whiche shall be sayed to be the better oratour? euen he that is also the better man.
 Nimirum hi homines frigent, In faith these men be blanke, or out of courage.
 Nimis & Nimum, doo signifie excess in much, or lytell.
 Nimis magnus, to great.
 Nimis parvus, to lytell.
 Nimis bonus, to good.
 Nimis malus, to yll.
 Nimis cito, to soone.
 Nimis diu, to longe, or verate longe.
 Nimis male memo, I feare greatly, or I am verate greatly ascarded.
 Nimis cupio, and Nimis velim, I woulde verate sayne.
 Nimis pulcher, verate sayne.
 Nimitas, aris, f. g. superfluitee, excess, great abundaunce.
 Nime, and Nimio, aduerbes, signifyng to muche, excessiue.
 Nimijs, a, um, to muche, excessiue.
 Nimijs animi, he that hath to great a courage.
 In dando nimijs, to liberall, prodigall.
 Nimum quam delectabiliter, very pleasantly.
 Nimum istoc abisti, Thou wentest to farre that

that waie.

Illud non nimium probo, I dooe not allowe that greatly.

Nimium lubenter, with a ryght good wyll, verate gladly.

Ego te nimio plus diligo, I loue the muche better.

Nimio satius est, It is muche better.

Nimius, and Modicus, contrarpe.

Nimio peré, an aduerbe signifying, to excede ynge.

Ninguis, guis, for. g. was vsed of olde wyters for Nix.

Ningo, or Ninguo, ninxi, ere, to snowe.

Ninguidus, a, um, where there is muche snowe.

Ningulus, la, lum, vsed of olde wyters, for Necyllus.

Niniue, seu Nisibis, a citee in Assyria, buylde by Ninus, in compasse thre dayes iourneye. There was an other citee of that name, in the corner of Iudæa toward Arabia.

Ninus, a citee of Assyria, called also Ninus, and Niniue.

Ninus, kyng of Assyria, and sonne of Belus, was the fyrst that made warre. he conquered vnto Indre, and vauquysshed Zoroastes kyng of Bactria, whiche fyrst inuented art magike, and also caused fyre money to be currant. He had to his wyfe Semiramis he reigned. In yeres, before the incarnation of Christ 2055. yeres.

Niobe, bes, daughter of Cætalus kyng of Thypgia, wyfe of Amphion, a woman of muche wysedome, who brought forth seuen sonnes, and as many daughters of excellent beantece, whereof the vauited and preferred hie selfe before Latona, mother of Apollo, and Diana, whereof Latona beynge angrie, commaunded Apollo to slea all the sonnes, and Diana, all the daughters. For whiche deede Niobe (thorough discomfourt and heuynesse) losse hir speche, and remayned without meuyng. Wherefore the postes feigned, that she was transformed into a stone vpon the sepulchre of hir chyldren.

Niphaus, a mans name.

Niphates, a ryuer of the great Armenie.

Nireus biffyllabum, the sonne of Laropus, the moste beautifull of all the Greekes that came to Troie.

Niptum, i, n. g. a lauer, bathe, or bayne.

Nis, of olde tyme was vsed for nobis.

Nisa, a womans name in Virgill.

Nissa, a citee in Lidia. also the name of diuers men.

Nisæe, a nymph or fayrie.

Niseus, a place in Media, where was a good breede of fayre hoxes.

Niseus, a, um, of Nisus.

Nisi, except, but, but p<sup>r</sup>, sayng, yf not.

Nisi me animus fallit, If I bee not deceiued in myne owne mynde.

Nisi tu caues, yf thou take not hede.

Nisi quod, sayng that.

Hanc nisi mors mihi adimet nemo, These shall no man take hie from me but death.

Nisi quid parer aliud vclit, Excepte perchaunce your fathers mynde bee to haue it otherwyse.

Nisus, a kyng, of whom it is written, that he had one golden heare, the whiche caused hym alwaies to bee victorious. But his daughter called Mirrha, at the request of one, with whose loue she was taken, stole awaye the said heare, wherby hir father was vanquished and slain.

it is also a kynd of haukes.

Nisus, a, um, the participle of Nitor.

Nisus, us, m. ge. endeavour, inforcement, labour to doo a thyng.

Nisyros, an yle ngyh to Grece.

Nitédula, lx, f. ge. a glowe worme that shyneth in the nyght. also a kynde of small myre.

Nitela, x, or nitella, for. g. cleerenesse, gaynesse, byghthenesse, also the small glisterynge thynges in duste or sande, a toothe pickar. Sometime is signifieth elegancy in speche.

Nitens, entis, shynng, beautifull, gay.

Nitico, tui, ere, to be neate or cleane in body, gaymentes or other thynges, to be beautifull and gaye. also to shyne.

Nitescio, scere, idem.

Nitibundus, a, um, endeavouryng, trustyng, trustyng to a thyng.

Conspiratu tacito nitibundi, puttng their confidence or trust eche in other with one assent or agreement.

Nitide, cleanly, gorgeously, gayly.

Nitido, aui, are, to make byghthe or cleane, to make nette or tynne.

Nitidifcule, the diminutive of Nitide.

Nitidus, a, um, cleere, neate, gaye.

Sol nitidus, the byghthe and cleere sunne.

Verba nitida, eloquent and goodly wordes.

Nitriobriges, people of Narbon in Fraunce, now called Mount pellic.

Nitor, niteris, niti, to endeavour, to enforce or labour to doo a thyng, to leane to, to put trust and confidence in a thyng, to bee byssie, or to resist agaynst a thyng, to take pryng, to trouble.

Nititur hasta, he leaneth to or on his speare.

Nitialis, to dye.

Nititur in coniectura, it resteth in coniecture.

Niri paritugo, to take as muche preyne the one as the other.

Niri pro aliquo, to take ones parte, or to labour in defendyng his cause.

Niri gradu, to walke.

Maiores consilio & autoritate niri, To good uerue hym selfe by the counsell and authoritee of his elders, to leane to the counsaile.

Niri ad gloriam immortalem, to endeavour to geat a name for euer.

Cuius in vita nitetur salus ciuitatis, In whose lyfe consisted the good state or wealth of

of the citee.

Nuens aduersus populum, Mouldeynge or thetynng agaynst the people.

Nitor, oris, m. g. cleannesse, byghthenesse, gaynesse.

Nitaria, x, the place where Nitrum groweth.

Nitatus, a, um, myrte with Nitrum.

Nitria, a countreie in Begyp, and the name of it. cetera about Memphis.

Nitrosus, a, um, where Nitrum is, or of the nature of Nitrum.

Nitrum, i, n. g. a kynd of salte, whiche some suppose it to be p, whych is called salte peter: but it is not true, for Dioscorides writeth, that Nitrum is of a lyght ruddy colour or whyte, has ynng holes lyke vnto a sponge, and was put in to the potte with herbes, wherby they were made more tender and apte to be eaten. And I had some geuen to me, whiche was of a carnation colour, and not glisterng, lyke our salte peter.

Rubentis nitri spuma. Ouid.

Niualis, niuale, perteynyng to snowe.

Aquaniualis, that cometh of snowe.

Osculum niuale, a colde kyss.

Niuale calum, rayny weether.

Niualia loca, snowy places.

Niualis dies, a daye in the whych it snoweth.

Niualis, a, um, of or belongyng to snowe.

Vas or colum niuarium, a colander or a bolle with a clothe sette on the bottome to streygne theore thorough, a sicboll.

Saccus niuarius, a kynde of fyne strayners, as it were an yppocras bagge.

Niuius, a, um, made colde with snowe.

Niueus, a, um, lyke snowe, snowy, of snowe.

Niuosus, a, um, full of snowe.

Nix, iuis, f. g. snowe.

Nixor, aris, ari, idem quod Nitor, niteris,

Nixurio, nixuri, ire, to attempt or endeavour to dooe a thyng.

Nixus, a, um, bozne or brought forth into the world, trustyng to, leanyng to, staied by.

Nixus, us, m. g. the bythe of a chyld. also endeavour.

Nixus, i, a sterre or planet in the firmament.

N<sup>O</sup>, aui, are, to swyrme.

Nare contra aquam, to swym agaynst the streame.

Nobilis, le, noble, famous, excellent in any thyng good or ill, well known.

His nunquam nobilis fui, id est cognitus.

Nobili loco natus, descended of a noble stocke, a gentill man bozne.

Nobiles, gentill men.

Ad multa nobile fel, a gall verate excellent in medicine for many thynges.

Scelece nobiles, men famous and known amonge all other for theyr mischief.

Nobile facinus, a notable and famous acte, muche spoken of.

Nobilitas, aris, nobilitate, estimation, noblenesse of bythe, excellencie, and woozthynesse, byuite and renoume.

Nobilitatus, a, um, ennobled, made famous or notable, whether it be good or ill.

Nobilitatem phalaridis crudelitas.

Nobilitate, nobly.

Nobilito, aui, are, to make noble, to promote to dignitee, to byng to renoume, to byng to notable infamie by any thyng.

Flagitiis aliquem nobilitare, to be the cause that one doeth feare ill, by which he cometh to notable infamie.

Nocco, cui, cere, to hurte, to endomage.

Nihil nocuerit, si cum Balbo eris loquutus, It shal be no harm, if you talke somewhat with Balbus of the matier.

Nocere noxam, to doe hurt or damage to one, that must be satisfied or made amendis for.

Nocetur, the impersonall.

Nocens, entis, he that hath doon a trespasse or iniurie, that hurte or endomage.

Nochelim, idem quod ballote.

Nocenter, hurtfully.

Nocius, a, um, hurtfull, noyous.

Noctesco, scere, to waxe nyght, or be darke.

Noctescit, the impersonall.

Noctifer, tiser, um, that byngeth nyght, the euengng sterre is so called.

Noctifuga, the thyng that may not susteine nyght.

Noctiluca, a name, wherby the moone is called, also a lytell beast, whych shyneth by nyght.

Noctiuagus, a, um, that wandreth by nyght.

Noctu for Nocte, in the nyght, or by nyght.

Noctua, x, f. g. an owle.

Noctuas Athenas, supple, portas, or mittis, Owles to Athens, a prouerbe, where one sendeth to a man any thyng, wherof he that receyueh it hath plentie.

Nocturnus, a, um, perteynyng to nyght.

Nocuus, a, um, that whiche dooeth hurte.

Nodatio, onis, f. g. knottynesse.

Nodia, a certayne herbe, which curriours do vse, called also Mularis.

Nodinus, a god, whome the auncient Romans woozthpypped.

Nodo, aui, ari, to knytte, to tye knottes.

Nodofus, a, um, knotty, full of difficultee.

Nodulus, a diminutive of nodus.

Nodus, i, m. g. a knotte, a knurle, a soynte, a difficultee, an intricate matier, also a thyng of men in battayle.

Nodus Herculeus, Hercules knotte, a p<sup>r</sup>uerbe applied to a thyng, which by no meanes maye be loused.

Nodum in scirpo querere, to seke a knot in a rushe. A p<sup>r</sup>ouerb, where one maketh a thing difficult or doubtfull: whiche is verge playne to to be vnderstande, or is scrupulouse in a thyng without cause.

Atheni nodi, chaynes of brasse.

Corporis nodi, the ioyntes of the body.

Articulorum nodi, the knottes where the ioyntes are fastened and knitte.

Nodum soluere, to dissolue a harde doubt of intricate matter.

Dum hic nodus expeditur, whyles this matter is dispatched.

Cælestis nodus, was of auncient wyters, taken for the signe Pisces.

Noe, signifieth rest or cessange from labour. It was the name of an holy patriarche, the son of Lamech, whom onely (with his wyfe and iii. sonnes) god elected to be preserued from the vniuersall floude, whiche almyghty god sent ouer the world, for the horrible synnes of men than lyving. Noe (of the age of 600. yeres) by the commaundement of god made a great vessel, called in holy scripture an arke, whiche conteyned in lengthe. CCC. cubites (as saint Augustin saith) geometrical, every cubite containinge. vi. comune cubites, which is. ix. fete, so it was in length. 2700. fete, in bredth. 50. cubites, whiche was. 450. fete. In depeneth. 30. cubites, whiche was. 270. fete, wherein wer also saued of al kindes of beastes and foules, male and female. And after the floud ceased, the arke remayned vpon an hill in Armenia called Cordeli. Noe liued after the floud. 350. yeres: after the creation of the worlde. 2007. yeres. and before the incarnation of Christe. 1855. yeres. He was of the gentiles called Ianus, and comytine Vortumnus.

Noëgeum, gei, n. ge. a white naphyn, or rather a white thynne garment welled with purple lyke to an aulbe.

Noële, werres, whiche be in the chekes of swine or goates.

Noëma, a sentence.

Noëmagus, a citie of Harbon in France, called Nion.

Noënon, of olde tyme vsed for non.

Noes, a riuer in Thracia, which renneth into the ryuer called Danubius or Ister.

Nola, a towne in Italy.

Nolani, people of that towne.

Nolo, lui, nolle, to nill or to be vnwilling.

Nolo offensum, I am affrayde to displease or anger hym.

Nollem dixisse, I wolde not haue saied it.

Non nolle, for velle.

Nonæ, arum, f. g. plu. peynfull sores.

Nomades, people in Scythia, whiche is in Europa, whiche feedyng cattall only, haue none other habitation, but where the cattall dooeth. I suppose they be the Tartarians, next to Polonia and Russ.

Nomarcha, cha, masc. gene. he that hath preeminence in the administration of lawes, a Magistrate.

or other lyke.

Nomarchia, & Nomi, certayn officers of magistrates in Egypt.

Nomas, adis, a shepherdes name.

Nomen, inis, n. gen. a name, geuen vnto chyldren, as Iohis, or Thomas, sometyme it signifieth honoure, authoritee, or great blood. somes tyme byrte of renoume, somes tyme cause. It is also a title, article, or Item of ones accomptes, rekenynges, or other wytyng. It is ofte taken for the debt or debtoure.

Et nomine, for that cause.

Multis nominibus, for many causes.

Hoc vno nomine, for that onely cause.

Nomen soluere, to paie debte.

Nomen transferre, to bozowe of one man to paie an other.

Nominibus honestis, for an honest consideration, vnder an honest pretence.

Asciscere aliquem sibi in nomen, to name one after his owne name.

Ad nomen respondere, to answer when he is called.

Nomen habet Fabius, he is called Fabius.

Imponere nomen alicui, to geue one a name.

Inclamaré nomine, to call one alowde by his name. Magna nomina, for Magni nominis homines. Meo nomine, for my sake.

Stringere nomen alicuius, to speake or wyte of one to his rebuke.

Nomina facere, to lende to many men.

Pecuniam sibi esse in nominibus ait, he saith he hath money owyng hym.

Nomina exigere, to aske dettes, or sue debetours.

In nominibus habere, to haue money owyng.

Transcribere nomina in alios, to transfere the debte from hym selfe, and set it on an other mans heade.

Nomina idonea, sure debtours.

Nomina expedire, to paie debtes truly.

Nomina explicare, to discharge debtes.

Nomina expungere, idem, to put his name out of his creditours booke.

Nomenclatio, ónis, f. g. the numbyng of names and surnames, offices, titles and dignities.

Nomenclatura, æ, f. g. idem.

Nomenclator, óris, or Nomenclator, óris, m. ge. to whom it belonged to know by heart the names, orders, offices, craftes, and faculties of all persons, which serued most commonly among the Romayns, to instruct them of suche as they shulde sollicite to graunt their voyces in election of officers, a beddyll.

Nomentana via, the waie out of Rome, leadyng to Nomentum.

Nomentum, a town in Italy not farre fro Rome.

Nominatim, by name, namely, expressely.

Nominatim appellare aliquem, to call one by his name.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nominatio, ónis, f. g. a nameyng or appointment, nomination.

Nonacrius, and Nonacrinus, a, um, of that place, or of Arcadie.

Nonæ, arum, f. g. plur. in Marche, May, June and October, be the vi. daies, whiche dooe followe the first day. in other monthes, it be the iii. daies that folow the first day of the month.

Nonagies, foure score and ten tymes.

Nonageni, na, gena, plu. tantum, nyntie.

Nonaginta, foure score and ten.

Nonagécuplex, plicis, om. g. foure score and ten double.

Nonagécuplus, foure score & ten tymes so much.

Nonagenarius, a, um, that is fourescore and ten yeres olde.

Nonagésimus, a, um, the fourescore and tenth, the nyntieth.

Nonaginti, or nongenti, æ, a, nyne hundred.

Nonarius, a, um, of nyne.

Nonæ meretricis, commune harlottes, whiche vsed at. ix. of the clocke to offer thephes felues, or to open theyr houses, to lette men come to theym.

Nonaria, æ, f. gen. eadem herba, quæ astagalus.

Nonea, æ, f. anchusa.

Nonum, not yet.

Nonne, an aduerbe of aspyng or demaundyng.

Nonne oportuit præscisse me ante, had it not ben mete that I shuld haue knowen it before?

Nonne ita est? is it not so?

Non nihil, somewhat, a litle.

Non nihilo æstimare, to sette somewhat by, to esteeme somwhat.

Nonnullus, a, um, some man, some woman, some thyng.

Nonnunquam, sometyme, otherwhyles.

Nonus, a, um, the nyntie.

Nonusis, the wright of nyne pownde.

Nophrin, looke ballote.

Norba Cæsaria, a towne in Portugall called communely Alcantara.

Noricum, a countrey in Germany, it is boundded on the west with the ryuer Rhenus, & Vins deliria: on the north with Dunaw: on the east with Pannonia super: on the south with the alpes: this and Vindelina be as partes of Bavarie.

Noricus, a, um, of the countrey Noricum.

Norma, æ, f. g. a rule or square.

Ad eorum normam, after theyr rule, or as theyr doo measure.

Dirigere vitam ad normam rationis, to order the lyfe accordyng to reason.

Normalis, le, epythe to the rule, made by the square or rule.

Normania, Normandy in France.

Normani, Normans.

Normatus, a, um, idem quod Normalis.

Nórmula, æ, f. g. a litle rule.

Noruegia, æ, f. g. a countrey beyonde Densmarke, called Norwaie.

Nos, we or vs.
Noscitabundus, a, um, knowyng.
Nosco, aui, are, to knowe muche, to consider or regarde to the intente to knowe.
Nosco, noui, scire, to knowe.
Age, noui animum tuum, So to, I know thy nature, mynde, or phantasy well enough.
Noui de facie, I knowe hym by sight.
Quasi non nouimus nos inter nos, As though we dyd not knowe one an other.
Noui aequo omnia tecum, I knowe altoget-ther as well as thou.
Noui locum ubi sit, I knowe the place well where it is.
Nosmet, & nosmetipsi, our selues.
Nosmet ipsi inter nos, amonge or betweene
 our selues.
Nosocomion, mij, n. g. an hospitall for sicke
 men.
Noster, a, um, ours, of our familie or house.
Noster est, he is kynne to vs.
Nostrum, for nostrum.
Nostra, sometime for Mea.
Nostra omnis lis est, we haue wonne, or we haue ouercome in the suite.
Haud similis virgo est virginum nostrarum;
 This mayde is not lyke, or after the fashion of the maydes of our citee.
Nostrum omnium adolescentia, for Nostra omnium. &c.
Nostrape culpa, by or throughe our owne defaulte.
Nostras, aui, om. g. of our countrey or household.
Nora, a, f. g. a note, a marke, a token, a signe, a defamacion, infamie, a slanderous name or report to ones dishonour. also a reprehencion or correction of any wrytyng, sometime wrytyng.
Noxa, be also cyphers, notes, abbreviations, suche as men vse wrytyng in haste.
Noxis scribere, to write with cyphers and abbreuiacions.
Variis affectus notis, defamed with dyuers thynges. Instruit secretis notis, He gaue or tolde hym priue tokens.
Apponere notam, to sette a marke.
Commendare aliquem alicui de meliore nota, to comend one as an honest man verie earnestly and effectuously.
Instruit secretis notis, per quas. &c. he telleth them certayne pryue tokens and markes. &c.
Nota amoris, signes or tokens of loue.
Eiusdem notæ, of the same sorte.
Secunda notæ, of the meane sorte, not exceptis lente.
Notæ salutis, tokens of healtie in one that is sicke.
Notæ eximere, to acquite or discharge of res-pecte or dishonour.
Natam inurere, to defame.
Ad carnem non ad notam te inuito, I badde
 the to supper, and not to reprove or defame me.

Notabilis, le, notable, a thyng to bee noted or marked, as agreeable matter, and worthy memozy, bothe in the good parte and in the ill. as so manifest. sometime to be reprehended.
Notabiliter, notably, evidently.
Notarius, rij, m. g. a clerke that wryteth instrumentes of pleas.
Notatio, onis, f. g. consideration, aduisement, markyng, obseruyng.
Notatus, a, um, marked, noted, obserued.
Notescio, scire, to be knowen or made knowen.
Nothia, quoniam to bastarde.
Nothus, a, um, bastarde, not lawfull.
Notifico, aui, are, to notifie or make to be know-en.
Notion, the herbe called Semper uiuum.
Notio, onis, & notitia, a, f. g. knowledge, understandyng, acquyntance.
Habere notionem alicuius rei, To haue the knowlage or understandyng of a thyng.
Inter nos nuper admodum notitia est, it is a verie littell whyle agoe sens we haue bene acquainted togyther.
Notium, a towne in Aeolia, also a promontorie in Ireland called commonly Cabo de Mar.
Noto, aui, are, to note, to marke, to reprove, to reprehend, sometime to accuse. also to perswade, to obserue, to put in wrytyng. sometime Ignosminia afficere, to defame, or put to rebuke.
Notare vitium, to reprove vice.
Animo notare, to marke in ones mynde.
Notare aliquid ab alio, to decerne one thyng from a other. Notare & animaduertere.
Notare res propriis appellationibus, to geue to thynges theyr propre names.
Notarunt hoc annales, This is written in chronicles.
Notari ignominia, to be accused or defamed.
Vt notamus in musicis, as we perswade and obscure in flies.
Notoria, a hynde of accusyng, or a reproche of
 men.
Notorius, a, um, an adiectiue.
Notus, a, um, knowen, notable, famous, acquainted. Notum facere, to geue knowlage.
Notus, ti, the southerne wynde.
Nouacula, a, f. g. a barbores rasour. sometime any other knyfe.
Noualis, lis, f. g. of nouale, lis, n. g. land sown euery other yere, or lande newly eared to be sown, and sometime grounde fyrr eared or broken to be sown.
Noua mænia, a citee of Sarmatia, called commonly Weissenburge.
Nouatum Chersonesum, a place in the weste parte of Scotlande, call'd Lokermouth.
Nouarianus, a pylet of Roome, and sometime chapelyne to sapient Lyprian, began an heresie called Catharon, whiche was, that they whiche had renounced the faith, should not be receiued to penance.

Nouat

Nouatus, a, um, made newe.
Nouator, onis, m. g. and Nouatrix, icis. f. g. one that maketh a thyng newe.
Nouelletum, i, n. g. a late growen vine.
Nouello, aui, are, to tyll newe grounde, or sette newe vines.
Nouellus, li, a mannes name in Rome, whiche wold drinke vp. in. of the measures called Con-gu, and was therfore furnamed Tricongius.
Nouellus, a, um, verie newe or yong growen.
Nouem, omni. g. vnderclined, nine.
November, bris, m. g. the month of November.
Nouenarius, a, um, of nyne.
Nouenarius numerus, the numbre of 9.
Nouendialis, le, of. ix. daies space.
Nouendiale sacrum, the tetterment the nyth day after the buryng.
Nouendium, ij, n. g. the space of nyne dayes.
Noueni, a, a, plu. idem quod Nouem.
Nouennia, plu. a citee in Thracia.
Nouerca, a, f. g. a stepmother.
Nouercalis, le, of a stepmother.
Nouercale odium, the accustomed hate that stepmothers are wonte to beare to theyr husbandes children.
Nouercari, to doe lyke a stepmother.
Nouodunum, p name of diuers citees in France.
Nouisime, at the last, synally.
Nouisimus, a, um, at the last, the hyndermost,
 the lowest or basest.
Nouus, aui, f. g. newenelle, or strangenelle. also to newe comyng vp of ones selfe without noble auncestrie.
Florida nouitas mundi, the beautifull spring
 tyme.
Nouiter, newly or lately.
Nouicius, a, um, newe begonne, newe come.
Nouiti, a citee of Spaine called comonly Noya.
Nouit, a ruler in Britayn, commonly called Elot Nouo, aui, are, to make newe, to renue. also to change or alter the state or condition of a thyng, to make a thyng otherwyse than it was before.
Arguunt nouare, to cast vp the ground ageyne that hath ones been eared.
Nouocomenis, a citee in Nouum Comum.
Nouum Comum, a citee in Lumbardy.
Nouuncium, ij, n. g. a weight of. ix. ounces, of a measure of nyne pynches.
Nouus, a, um, newe, freche comen, strange, not seene afore, of a newe sorte.
Noui homines, men late come to woo, thyng and honour.
Ede quid portes noui, Telle what newes thou bryngest.
Noue res, chaunge and alteration of the woyle.
Nouatum retum cupidit, mē desirous to haue a chaunge of the woyle.
Maritus nouus, one new married, a bydegrome.
Noua nupta, a byde.
Nouo modo, strangely, after a newe sorte.

Nouus furor, a foderne furie.
Nox, octis, f. g. nyght sometime slepe, also death.
Noctis aui, an oule.
Hoc noctis, for hac parte noctis.
Nox interpesta, the deepe of the nyght whan
 all is at slyence.
Adulta nox, nydnyghte, or the later parte of the nyght.
Illustris nox syderibus, a fayre cleare nyght with sterres.
Nox concubia, the tyme of nyght, whan eue-ry man is layed to sleape, mydnyght.
Noctes arica, the titell of a booke, whiche Aus-lus Gellius made, to called, because he wryte it at Athens in wynter tyme.
Aquare noctis ludum, to play all night long.
Appetit nox, the night draweth ou.
Locare noctes, meretricum est.
Negare noctem, whan harlotses wyl not admit theyr louers.
Dare noctem, contrarie.
Peragere noctem infomnem, not to sleape all nyght longe.
Poscere and rogare noctem, amatorum est.
Animi nox, blyndnes, ignorance.
Nox rei publica, trouble or aduersite of the commune weale.
Dormienda est nox vna perpetua, we muste ones die.
Noctes & dies, continually, alwaies, nyght and daie.
Sic ut noctesque & dies, he lyeth routyng &
 snytynge all daie and all nyght.
De nocte, in the night tyme.
Multa nocte profectus est, he wente forth the late in the nyght.
Noxa, a, for. gen. the offence, or the punishment and petie for the offence, a fault, also hurt, danmage.
Decernere noxam, to adiudge one to be punisshed for his offences.
Noxa damnatus, condemned to be punished.
Extra noxam esse, to be nothyng culpable or faultie, to be gyltlesse or blamelesse.
Nihil his noxa futurum, That they shoulde haue no harme for it.
Ea res a noxa circulacionum defendit, That thyng dooth saue it that it be not hurt of the weuple, speaking of cothe.
Noxa eximere, to acquite one of trespassse.
Noxis vel noxis solutus, acquitted of felony or trespassse.
Penes te est noxa, the offence is in the, the fault is in the, or thou art in the faulte.
Noxam auertere ab aliquo, to discharge one of trespassse, to put the faulte from one.
Noxa dedere, & ob noxam, to render a man or beast, whiche hath donen harme, in retribuce therof, and to be punished at his pleas-sure, to whom the offence was don.
Sine noxa luce bibuntur, in the day a man may drink

Aaa ij

dygnite of them without any harme at all.

Noxam contrahere, to fall into spleasur, or to take harme.

Noxam concipere, idem.

Noxam facere, to doo harme.

Noxam nocere, idem.

Sine noxa, without hurte or harme.

Omni noxa vacare, they hurt nothing.

Noxalis, le, belongynge to an offence, faute, or punishment.

Noxalis actio, was an action agaynst the lord for an offence doen by his villayne, in the which yf the plaintife dydde recouer, it shoulde be a sufficient discharge and recompence of the lord, if he dydde deliuer his villayne to the plaintife.

Noxia, a, f. g. the offence or faute, the trespass.

Noxia esse dicuntur res, whan one is blamed or repproued for them, or susteyneth hurte by them.

Nec eis noxia futurum, and that they shoulde not be blamed.

In noxia esse, to be in the faute, to haue done amysse.

Vnam hanc noxiam mitte, pardone me this one offence or trespass.

Noxiis vacuum esse, to bee in no faute.

Noxia carco, I am not in the faute, I am blamelesse.

Noxiosus, a, um, full of hurte, veray hurtfull.

Noxius, mis, among olde wyters was used for Noxa.

Noxius, a, um, harmefull, dooynge displeasure, founde gyltie.

N ANTE V.

Nubes, bis, f. g. a cloude, by translation, aduersitee. also any thyng, where with the knowlage of matters is hidde.

Nubes peditum, a great compaigne of foote men.

Nubes pulueris, a great duste reysed by with goynge of men lyke a cloude.

Coguntur in celo nubes, the cloudes gather together.

Nubecula, a, f. g. a littell cloude. It signifieth also heynesse or sadnesse of countenance.

Nubifer, a, um, that byngeth cloudes.

Nubifugus, a, um, that dyueth awaye cloudes. also that eschueeth cloudes.

Nubigena, a, m. g. one ingendred of a cloude.

The Centaures be called Nubigenæ, because they were begotten of a cloude in the fourme of luno.

Nubilar, aris, and Nubilarium, rij, an house, wherinto corne is caried for feare of rapne.

Nubilus, le, mariable.

Nubilo, aui, arc, to make cloudye or darke, to make obscure.

Nubilor, aris, ari, deponent, idem quod Nubilo.

N ANTE V.

Nubilosus, a, um, full of cloudes.

Nubilus, a, um, cloudy, obscure, darke. also by up, sadde.

Tempora nubila, tyme of aduersitee.

Nubilum, li, n. g. a cloude.

Nubilum inducere, To make the weather cloudye.

Nubilo, pro in nubilo tempore.

Ventus agit nubila, The wynde dyueth the cloudes.

Depellere & detergere nubila celo, to make the weather cleere, and dyue away the cloudes.

Nubius, a, here, to couer, to bee wedded, or to vnicke, properly on the womannes parte, but for tyme of the man. And some wyse, that it is spoken onely of those men, whose wyues are their maisters. also to bee ioygned unto.

Nubere in familiam claram, to be married to one of a noble house or familie.

Vxor nubere nolo meæ, I wyl not be married to my wyfe, meanyng to freche hie.

Dare nuprum viro, To marie his daughter to one.

Nubere dicuntur arbores, to bee ioygned to bynes.

Nubitur, the impersonall.

Nucamentum, i, n. g. a thyng hangynge downe of nutte trees, lyke a rattes taple, and the lyke is in diuers other trees, as it were compaite of thyn scales.

Nuceria, a towne in Campania.

Nucleus, a, um, of a nutte.

Nucifrangibulum, i, n. g. a nuttcracker. Plautus useth it for a tooth.

Nuciperfica, a kinde of fruite beie common in France, whiche they call Peseferois, we call them pethes.

Nucuprimum, a plumme graffed on the stocke of a nutte tree.

Nucleus, clei, a kernel, also a stone of garlyke.

Concidere nucleum denubus, to knock a nutt.

Nucleum amissi, I haue lost the kernell, used prouerbielly, whan one hath lost that, where in profite consisteth.

Nucleus ferris, scale.

Nucula & Nucella, a lyttell nutte.

Nudatus, a, um, made naked or bare, vncovered, made voyde.

Nudata castra, the campe leste without men.

Nudatus defensoribus murus, the walle aban doned, and without men to defende it.

Nudipedalia, ceremonies dooen barefooted.

Nuditas, aris, f. g. nakednesse, barenesse, pouertee, wante of any thyng. Sometime playnesse without obscuritee or dissimulation.

Nudius quartus, fourc daies agone.

Nudius sextus, cui talentum mutuū dedi, It is now sixe daies sens I lent hym a talent.

Nudius tertius, the daye before yesterdaie, the thyrde daie before, and is alwaies ioygned with the pterperfecte tens.

Nudo,

N ANTE V.

Nudo, aui, arc, to streppe naked, to make naked or bare, to vncover, to make voyde. Sometime to disclose or open.

Nudatur arbor foliis, the tree is bare without leaues.

Nudare gladios, to drawe swordes.

Nudare vada, to leaue veray littell water in the ryuers.

Nudare scelus aliquod, To disclose or open a mischeuous acte.

Nudare facta alicuius, to tell or disclose what thynges one hath dooen.

Nudus, a, um, naked, bare, vncovered, voyde, sometime vnburied or dead.

Ensis nudus, a wooorde redy drawen, a naked sword.

Nuda senecta, id est inops.

Domus nuda & inanis, an emptye and bare house, without any prouision of householde stuffe.

Nudus a propinquis, without helpe of frendes or kynsefolkes.

Nuda a magistratibus respublica, The common weale cleane destitute and without magistrates and officers.

Nuda vibs praefidio, a cite not fortified with a garrison, or that hath no garrison or men to defende it.

Nudo vestimenta detrahere, to take raimeēt from a naked man, prouerbielly used to take or seche a thyng of a man that he hath not, to take a thyng from a barearste man.

Nugæ, arum, f. g. plu. fables, triffes,

Nugalis, le, petyngng to triffes.

Nugamentum, i, n. g. a triffe.

Nugator, oris, m. g. a triffier.

Nugarorius, a, um, triffyng, or that triffeth.

Nugar, acis, om. g. that triffeth.

Nugiger, or Nugigerulus, a, um, that beareth aboute or telleth tales, fables, vayne thynges or triffes.

Nugitendus, a seller of triffes and fables, he that telleth triffes to women.

Nugor, aris, ari, to triffe, to dalge.

Nulatenus, in no wise.

Nullus, a, um, none. Sometime it signifieth non. sometime of no price, value or profite, vayne.

Nulli consilij, for nullius consilij.

Nullibi, no where.

Nulla negotio, easly.

Nullorum hominum homo, lyke no man.

Si non quærit, nullus dixeris, If he doo not enquire tell not.

Nullus sum, I am vndooen, I were as good be dead.

Nullus dum, no man vntill this date, neuer man.

Nulla est igitur hæc amicitia, Therefore this frendshipp is vayne, or nothing worthe, or not worthe to bee called frendshipp.

Is nullus venit, he cometh not.

Nulla fide esse, vnwoorthye to be trusted, not to be trusted or belened, false, of no credite.

N ANTE V.

Nullis litteris vir, a man bitterly vnriced.

Nulla loco deesse alicui, to healte one in all thynges.

Nulla fine, without ende.

Nulla ordine, without order.

Nullam in partem, for nullo pacto.

Nullius, for neutrius.

Nulla modo, nullo pacto, nulla ratione, by no means.

Num, for An. It is properly to bee used, where the answer must bee made by Non: and An, where the answer must bee made by Ita, etiam, or any other woorde of affirmyng.

Num cogitat quid dicat, doeth he regarde or consider what he saith?

Num censet faceret, would he doo it thyngs you, or thyngs you that he would doo it?

Num ego te spoliaui, Wyl I robbe the?

Numnam for num, or vtrum.

Numnam tu hic relictus custos, Arte thou leste here to watche vs?

Numnam perimus, at we not all vndooen?

Numnam ego perij, Am not I vndooen for euer?

Numa, the seconde kynge of the Romayns nexte after Romulus. He was chosen by the people and senate of Rome, of a poore gentylman, dwellynge in a towne of the Sabines called Cures, for his excellent vertues and letynge, beynge of the discipline of Pythagoras. He by his policie and ceremonies, broughte the Romans (who during the tyme of Romulus were continually occupied in warres) in suche a wonderfull quietnesse and honeste fourme of lyuynge, that the cuntreyes enuyronnyng them, by the space of xl. yeres, dyd neuer moue warre agaynst them.

Numana, a towne in Italy.

Numantia, a cite in Spayne about Biskaye, whiche was of suche valiantnesse, that beeyng besieged of the Romayns. xlii. yeres continually, yet they dyd not onely resyst, haupnge but iii. thousande men to defende it, but also banguished xl. thousand Romayns. At the last it was destroyed by the last Scipio, after he had besieged it a longe tyme. For whan they had longe susteyned famine, and myghte not illue forth to fight in battayle: they burned theim selues and all their goodes.

Numarius, a, um, of or belongynge to moneye.

Res numaria, a money matter.

Iudicium numarium, a iudgement corrupted with moneye.

Iudices numarii, iudges corrupted with money. Difficultas numaria, scarcitee or lacke of moneye.

Num rata difficultas rei numarie eum tenet, Hath he so great neede or scarcitee of moneye?

Res numaria tenet eum, he is in neede of moneye.

Numatio, oris, f. g. the haupnge of a great abundance of moneye.

Numātus, a, um, wel monied, ryche of money.
Numisium numatum, a purse full of money.
Numella, a, and sometyne Numelius, li, a tumbrell, wherin men be sette, haupng therein their handes and legges. Also a hynde of colars of shales, to the dogges, hoxses, oxen or other beastes.

Numen, nūminis, n. ge. the power, wyll, maiestee, or vertue of god. Sometyne it signifyeth god, sometyne apparaple.

Nuinina diuum, id est oracula.
Manifesto numine, id est manifesto deorum iudicio.

Numeratio, ōnis, f. g. numbynge.
Numerabilis, le, that whiche maie be numbyed.

Numerālis, le, pertynyng to numbye.

Numerārius, a, um, that is of numbyes.

Numerātus, a, um, numbyed.

Numerato, promptly, at hande, by numbye.

In numerato habere ingenium, to haue a wit apte and redie vnto euery thyng.

In numerato, in redie money.

Claudius Isidorus testamento suo dixit, quāuis multa ciuili bello perdidisset, tamen inuenire seruorum quatuor millia, iuga bouum tria millia sexcenta, reliqui pecoris ducenta quinquaginta milia; in numerato, pōdo sexcenta milia. Claude Isidore, reheved in his testament, not withstandynge that he had losse muche in the civile warres, yet dydde he leaue four thousand bondemen, thye thousand and fyre hundred pokes of oxen, of other cattālle ii hundred and fyfte thousande; and in redie money, fyre hundred thousande pounce.

Nūmero, aui, are, to numbye or tell, to accompt, to reken in oydre. It is sometyne used for Habere, or Censere, to esteeme, to iudge, to thinke, to coumpre.

Numerare pecuniam, to paye lende or delquere money out of hande.

Numerare alicui, idem.

Prope collega Timarchidi numerabatur, he was almoste taken or coumpred to be felowe in office with Timarchidus.

Nullo loco numerare rem aliquam, to sette noyng by a thyng, to esteeme or reken it no thyng woorth.

Numerare in bonis, To reken amonge good thynges, to thynke it good.

Neque in rebus, neque in prauis numerabat, he dyd esteeme it noether good nor ill.

Inter auctos numerare, to reken one his frēd.

Nūmero, the aduerbe, very sone, by and by.

Nūmero dictis, id est facile ac compendio, or after some Cito & celeriter.

Nūmero huc aduenis, thou comest hither by sone way, or to quickly.

Nūmerose, in great numbye. also by measure.

Nūmerosus, a, um, great in numbye.

Opus numerosas poscit manus, The woork requireth many handes, or the helpe of many men.

Nūmerus, i, m. g. numbye. Sometyne quantite, especially in grapne, or thynges measured. It is also harmony, measure, and order in syllables. Sometyne company assembled, specially of the worst sorte of people. It is sometyne hounour, estimation.

Numeris omnibus absolutus, perfecte at all popnetes.

Numeri, be sometyne taken for verses, meter. Magnus numerus frumenti, a great quantite of corne.

Maximus vini numerus fuit, there was muche wyne, or a great quantite of wyne.

Ex eorum numero aliquis, one of them, one of their part or company.

Quo numero fuisti, in what estate or estimation were you?

Nullo numero homo, a vilayne or byleperson, nothyng woorth, not woorth to be coumpred a man.

Nūmero abundare, To bee to many or veray many.

Hunc ad tuum numerum adscribito, Rechen take or coumpre hym among your frendes.

Distribuere in numeros, to diuide into bades.

Nūmero eximere, to thowse, to sette apart, to exempt, to note as excellent or singular.

Habui numerum sedulo, I remembred well howe many it was.

Habere aliquem in numero suo, To esteeme and repute a man to be one of his frendes.

Aliquo numero haberi, or esse, to be some what esteemed or set by.

Vt in aliquo numero esse possis, that you may haue mo felowes lyk your selfe.

Aliquem numerum obinebat, he was reputed or taken for one, or he desired to bee in some estimation.

Dicimus milites, non dum relatos in numerum, whan they be chosen, but not yet bylled and appoynted to their capitaine and bande.

Quo in numero Chalcis accipitur, among the whiche Chalcis is numbyed.

Quo in numero ego sum, of the whiche numbye I am one.

Quine liberi quidem hominis numero sit, whiche is not woorth to be accepted a free man.

Deorum numero esse alicui, to bee esteemed and reputed a god.

Cum is tibi parentis numero esset, where as you esteemed hym euen as your father.

Ludere in numerum, to daunce by measure.

Numicius, a riuer not far from Lavinium.

Numicus, a ryuer in Italie by the cite Lavinium, in the whiche Aeneas was drowned.

Numida, a man or woman of Numidia.

Numidia, a countrey betweene Carthage and Auritaniam in Africa, and now is called Barbaria, where Masissa dydde sometyne requyreth many handes, or the helpe of many marble. the chiefe cite there was named Circa, whiche was veray stronge, and so puissant of men, that in the tyme of Sirabo, it myghte arme ten thousande hoysmen, & twentie thousande footemen.

Numisiana vitis, & Numisiana vna, a kynde of vyues and grapes, reade in Columella, Libro 3. cap. 2.

Numisina, mismatis, n. g. money.

Nūmitor, ōris, father vnto Rhea, whiche was the mother of Romulus.

Nūmularius, rñ, m. g. he that keepeth a banche of money.

Nūmulus, li, m. g. a little ptece of copne.

Nummārius, ij, m. ge. and Nummatus, looke Nummarius.

Nummārius, a, um, looke Numarius.

Numus, i, m. g. money or copne. Some do wyte it with double, M. it is also a braten or syluer copne amonge the Romaynes, called Sestertius, or Sestertius nummus, aboute the value of i. d. ob. or an olde sterlyng peny, when eight grotes made an ounce.

Numus argenteus, as Leonardus Portius wyteth, was that whiche was also called Denarius Romanus, and weighed a dram, and the thirde part of a dram, which was foure scruples.

Numus aureus, although it were altered sundrie tymes, yet the same Portius deeth gather of the first chapiter of the .xviii. booke of Plinie, and of Suetonius, in the tpe of Otho, and Plurarchus, in the tpe of Galba, that at that tyme, nummus aureus was in value .xii. nummi argentei, and in that wyse it agreed with the Venetian ducate, which was woorth .xii. of our grotes, whā eight of them made an ounce. Nummus adulterinus, counterefeite or forged money.

Quadrages nummum, one hundred thousand crownes 20000. li. sterlyng.

Nunc, nowe, nowe at the last, At this present, at this tyme. also now and neuer before: some tyme it is used for Autem, as,

Bona facile mutantur in peius, nunc quando in bonum verteris vitia: for quando autem, or Sed quando.

Nunc aliud specta, nowe marke an other thyng: or yet moze ouer consyder an other thyng. for Nunc is here taken for Iam, which is often used for Præterea, Insuper, Ad hæc, furthermoze besydes all this.

Nunc temporis, now a daie.

Nunc iam, euen now. also nowe at the length.

Nunc est, interficium perpetue possum, Now at this present tyme so it is, that I could be contente to die.

Nunc illud est, quod si omnes omnia consista. &c. Nowe is the matter come into suche case or state, that yf &c.

Nunc ipsum, pro ipso momento & puncto temporis.

Nunc primū audio quid illo factum sit, Now is the fyrste tyme that euer I herd what is becom of hym.

Nunc primum, for primo, fyrst and soymost.

Nunc denique, What now so late? nowe so longe after.

Nunc vero, but nowe.

Nunc iam sum expeditus, nowe at the last I am dispatched.

Nuncubi, pro nunquid & alicubi.

Nuncubi meam benignitatem sensisti in te claudier, Dydest thou euer perceyue, that I dyd not vse my selfe lyberally towards thee?

Nūncius, like Nuntius.

Nuncupatio, ōnis, f. g. a pronouncing, a telling, a recitynge, a namynge, a declaration of a wyll.

Nuncupo, aui, are, to name or to calle a thyng by some name, to pronounce and tel expressely, to make expresse mencio, to recite, to rehearse, to declare his wyll by mouth, concernynge the apoyntynge of his heire and legacies before witnesses.

Nuncupata voluntas, a testament or will made by mouth, and not in wytyng.

Nuncupare votum, to make a solemne vowe.

Nuncupatum lingua, men of olde tyme called that, whiche was with the mouth and expresse woordes promysed.

Nundina, a, a goddesse of the Romaynes.

Nūndina, ārum, f. g. plur. sayres, martres, mathees, they were amonge the olde Romaynes kept euery nygthe dape, wherunto all people resorted, and than all lawes, whiche were new made, were proclaimed.

Nundinālis, le, pertynyng to sayres.

Nundinatio, ōnis, f. g. bypnyng and sellynge. Iuris nundinatio, bypnyng and sellynge of lawes or iustice for byres.

Nundinārius, a, um, longynge or seeyng to sayres. Oppidum nundinarium, the towne where the sayre is kepte.

Nundinator, ōris, m. g. he that goeth to sayres or markettes to bye and sell.

Nūndinor, āris, āri, to bye and selle openly, as they doo in sayres.

Nunquam, neuer, or it is impossible. Sometyne for Non.

Nunquam hoc vno die efficiatur opus, It is impossible that this enterpryse may be brought to passe in one daie.

Nunquam non, alwaie.

Nunquam post illa, neuer sens that.

Nunquam quicquam, nothyng in the worlde.

Nunquam fui vquam, I was neuer in any place.

Nunquando for Num aliquando.

Nunquid, nunquid, nunquid, is there any? Nunquid ego sum? Is it I?

Nunquid vis? wyll you any thyng with me? wyll you any thyng commaund me? wyll ye cō-

Aaa iij maundo

maunde me any service?

Nunquid praterea, is there any thyng els?
Nunquidnam amplius tibi cum illa fuit Char-rine? haddest thou any thyng els to dooe with hir? Nunquid dubitas? Dooest thou doubt any thyng? or dooest thou not thynke verily?
Rogo nunquid velit, I aske hym whether he woulde commaunde me any service.
Nunquid horum probat? Dooest he allowe any of these thynges?

Nuntia, a, f. g. a woman messenger, or a thyng that bryngeth tydynges?

Nuntiatio, onis, f. ge. a reposte, a shewyng, a declaryng.

Nuntio, aui, are, to shewe tydynges or newes, to reposte, to tell.

Voluptatem magnam nuntias, thou shewest thynges that be verie plesant.

Salutem nuntiare, to sende or bzing commendations by letters or by mouth.

Nuntiator domum, tydynges are brought home. Ita Roman nuntiatum est, suche ne-wes were brought to Rome.

Nuntiare monstra, to tell straunge and won-derfull thynges.

Nuntium, n, n. g. a message. Valla faith: this woorde is not red in any probate authour.

Remittere nuntium vxori, to repudiate and put away his wyfe.

Nuntius, ij, m. g. a messenger or message, tydyng-ges, newes.

Nuntij afferuntur, newes or tydynges are broughte.

Perferre nuntium, to bryng woorde or tydyng-ges. De Quinto fratre nuntij nobis tristis venerunt, There came or was brought to vs
heauy tydynges of my brother Quintus.

Accipere nuntium, to here woorde or tydyng-ges.

Virtuti nuntium remisisti, thou haste caste of or forsaken vertue.

Nuo, ui, ere, propprely to nodde with the head, to signifie by noddynge. it was vsed of olde writers for Volo.

Nuper, late, not longe agone.

Nuperadmodum, verie late, but a whyte agon.

Nuperrime, verie lately.

Nuperus, a, um, late dooen or happened.

Nupta, a, f. g. a woman that is married.

Nuptiarum, plur. a wedding.

Nuptialis, le, pertaining to wedding.

Nupturire, to couete marriage.

Nuptus, a, um, wedded.

Nuptus, i, m. g. the man that is married.

Nous nuptus, the byde groom.

Nuptus, us, m. g. marriage, wedding.

Nuptui collocare, to geue his daughter to be married.

Nursa, a citee of the Sabines, not farre from Rome, sette on the hill of Ambria.

Nursini, people of that citee.

Nurus, us, f. g. the sonnes wyfe.

Nuscitiosi, idem quod luscitiosi.

Nusquam, an aduerbe, no where, or in no place,
also nowhyther, or to no place.

Ille autem bonus vir nusquam apparer, that honest man can be seene in no place.

Te nusquam mittam, I wylle sende the nos whyther.

Nusquam pedem, he shall not goe one foote further.

Nusquam gentium, no where.

Nusquam non, euery where.

Nutans, antis, om. g. noddynge, enclynge or wagging downward, as though it wold fall.

Nutatio, onis, f. g. noddynge, as a mans head doeth, whan he sitteth slepyng.

Nuto, aui, are, to becken or shake the head. Some tyme to leane and bee rebdy to falle in decaye.

Some tyme to doubt which parte to take, or to leane vnto.

Nutat ne Loquar, he beckett hympon me, that I should not speake.

Victoria nutat, victorie inclineth now to one parte, now to an other, or wauereth betwene bothe partes.

Nutricatio, onis, f. g. nouryng.

Nutricatus, us, m. g. nouriture.

Nutrico, aui, are, and Nutricor, aris, ari, idem quod nutrio.

Nutricula, a, f. g. a nouryce.

Nutricula casa, the nurcery, the place where the chyld is nourished.

Nutrimen, inis, and Nutrimen, i, n. g. nous ryngment.

Nutrimen, orum, n. g. plur. pro nutricatione,
the same.

Nutrio, iui, ire, to nouryng.

Nutrire vinum, to conserue and kepe wyne.

Nutritio, orum, n. g. plur. the nurces wages.

Nutritus, the nurces husbnde.

Nutritus, a, um, pertaining to nouryng.

Nutritor, oris, m. g. he that nouryng.

Nutritus, a, um, nourished.

Nutritus, us, m. g. nouryng, or nouriture.

Nutrix, icis, f. g. a nourice. Also a place where men dooe sow trees or herbes, to the intent that whan they haue taken roote, they wylle remoue theim, and sette them in a garden or orcharde.

Nutus, us, m. g. the signe that one maketh with his eyes or head, declaryng his intent, a becke, some tyme it significth the wyll or pleasure of
one. also the declining or bending of a thyng downwarde.

Nutu & renutu, with a becke towarde and frowarde.

Demonstrare aliquid nutu, to signifie any thyng with bekyng or noddynge.

Expeditus ad nutum alicuius, ready at ones
becke or pleasure.

Nux, ucis, f. g. a nutte.

Nux

Nux auellana, a splberde, or hasell nutte.

Nux iuglans, a walnutte.

Nux muscata, uel myristica, a nutmygge, hot and dry in the seconde degree.

Nux pinea, a pyne appull.

Nucem conficere, to knacke a nutte.

Nuces relinquere, to leaue chyldren matters and geue hym selfe to earnest affaires.

Nux graeca, an almond.

Nux mollusca, a peach.

NYctalops, opis, om. ge. he that seeth in the daie tyme well, in the euenynge very littell, at nyghte nothyng at all. he is all so called Luciosus.

Nyctalopia, a, f. g. that disease of the eyes.

Nyctalopa, an herbe called also Nyctegreton, of fyy colour, and shyneth by nyghte. Some thynke it to be that, whiche is called Lunaria, geete at the fyrt sight of it be afraid, and therfore it is called Chenamychon.

Nyctegreton, lwe Nyctalopa.

Nycteis, idos, the daughter of nete of Nicteus.
Nyctelus, the surname of Bacchus, because his sacrifices were dooen in the nyght.

Natex Nyctelius, wyne.

Nycterus, icridis, f. g. a ceremouse or bakke, whiche hath so smalle teete, that he seemeth to haue none. Cherephon, the philospher was so called, for his excedyng leanness, that he gat with ouermuche study.

Nycterus, the herbe called also Anagallis.

Nycteus, dissyllabum, a kyng, the father of Antiope.

Nyctiorax, oracis, m. g. a nyght crowe.

Nyctileia, sacrifices by nyght.

Nyctimene, the daughter of Nycteus, who after he had lye with hyr father, was turned into an owle.

Nyctoris, or after some Nitocris, a queene of Babylon, after Semiramis.

Nymphia, a, f. g. dooeth signifie the byde or spouse newe married, a nymphe or fayrie.

Nymphæ, maydes of the sea, elves. Somtymes the mufes. also ponge bees before they do flie.

Nymphærena, a certayn pzeious stone.

Nymphæa, the herbe called filix femina.

Nymphæa, called also of the apothecaries Nes-nuphar, an herbe and flower called the water lily, or water roses.

Nymphæum, phæi, n. g. an estwe or bayne, a waschyng place.

Nymphæum, a promontory or hille of Proconessus, out of the whiche atwaite issueth fyre.

Nymphæus, arguer in Jtaly by Melite.

Nympholepti, idem quod Lymphæi.

Nymphus, the byde groom.

Nysa, a citee of Arabie, where Bacchus was nourished. also a mountayne and a citee in India, builded by Liber pater. One Nysa is in Bacotia, an other in Caria, and certayn othes places.

Nysa, a citee in India at the foote of the mountayne Heron.

Nyscius, a, um, of Nysa.

Nyseus, dissyllab. the name of Bacchus.

Nysia, a certayne kynde of pyge.

Nysias, siadis, a woman of Nysa.

Nysigena, one bozne in Nysa.

Nysia, a, f. g. a barre or rayle, from whiche teth nees fetch their race.

Nysus, the frende of Euriculus, verate swifte in rennyng.

AN INTERIEtion, vber in wondryng.

Sometyme with a vocalue case, sometyme a nominatue case, sometyme an accusatue case, some-tyme in exclamacion, some-tyme in lamentyng, some-tyme in wishyng.

O me perditum, alas I am vndoorn. Some-tyme in scoynyng.

O præclaram sapientiam, O the goodly wiseddome. Sometyme with reioyng.

O factum bene, O that is well dooen. Some-tyme it is the voice of hym that is suddenly strit-ted, or speaketh to one that he saw not before.

Quis hic loquitur? Misit salue. O salue pamaphile, who talketh here? Misit god saue you.

O Pamphilus welcome.

O, for vinam.

O tantum libat mecum tibi sordida rura has bitare, Would god it myghte please the to inshabite or dwell in the homely felde with me.

Oatarica, a spaume of fyre salted.

Oaxis, a rupter in the ple of Landie.

Oaxus, a citee in Landie.

OB, for. Sometyme for Ante, beefore. In composition for Circum, as Obambulare.

Dum ob rem, so that it be for my profyte.

Ob oculos, beefore myne eyes. Ob tacendum, for vt taceat, that he should not tell.

Precium ob stultitiam fero, I am serued lyke a foolle. or I am serued well enough for my foolishnesse.

Precium ob asinos, id est asinorum, the pyce of the asses, money for the asses.

Ob dictum, for a woorde speakyng.

Quasi ob industriam, as it were of purpose, or for the wones.

Oppositum pignori ob decem minas, layde to mozt

to mortgage for ten pounde.

Qui lamam ob oculum habebat, whiche had a clothe befoze his eie.

Mihi fecisti ob nullam noxiam, ye dyd it to me without a cause, or for nothyng that I was gyltye of faulty in.

Obacerbo, aui, are, to make one angry.

Obacero, aui, are, to lette a man that he can not tell out his tale.

Oberatus, a, um, bounden by earnest money, indebted.

Obambulatio, onis, f. g. a walkyng about, a walkyng agaynst one.

Obambulo, aui, are, to walke agaynst an other. also to walke together or with an other. also to walke about. sometyne to go to mete.

Obarmo, aui, are, idem quod armo.

Obaresco, scere, to dye all aboute.

Obaro, obaras, aui, are, to care aboute.

Obater, atra, um, somewhat blacke, in maner darke or blacke.

Obaudio, diui, dire, to heare hardely or vntwyllyngly. sometyne to heare.

Obba, a, fce. g. a bottell.

Obbibio, obbibis, obbibis, ere, to drynke.

Obcacatus stultitia, blynded with folp.

Obcaco, aui, are, to blynd, to make darke or obscure. Obcacare fossas, to couer dyches.

Obcacari tenebris, to be made darke or obscure.

Obcalleo, looke Occalco.

Obdo, didi, dere, to thrust agaynst, to put to.

Obdere forem, to shut or sparre the doore or gate.

Pessulum ostio obdo, I bolted or sparred the doore.

Obdere ceramauribus, to stoppe the eares with ware.

Obdormio, iui, ire, to sleape fast or soundly.

Obdormire crapulam, to sleape tyll he be eates soones sobrie, to digest his surfet with slepe.

Obdormisco, scere, to nappe, to fall on sleape.

Obduco, xi, ere, to lare out, to couer a thyng all ouer. sometyne to vncouer or open. also to bypnyng agaynst or ouerthwarre a place, to bypnyng aboute. also for Inducere, as Obducere torporem, to induce or cause a dulnesse or stopyng of the members.

Obducere cicatrice, to couer a wounde with skynne, to close vp a wounde.

Obducere vultum, to lower, to loke sowzely.

Callum obducere, to make harde or thicke skynned, and prouerbielly, to cause to suffer with lesse payne or graue.

Obducere callum dolori, to cause one to suffer of lesse payne without grieve, or moze easly.

Tenebras obducere, to darken, to obscure, to make lesse known, famous, or notable.

Et ciuis obducta calabat lumina prunar, id est superducta, couered, hylled.

Crustam obducere, to growe to an harde skin or cruste.

Rubiginem obducere, to make rusty.

Frontem obducere, to frowne, to lowre, to looke sowzely.

Diem obdixi, I dyd spende or lenger out that date with walkyng about.

Obduxio, onis, f. g. a couerpyng.

Obduxio capitis, the folpnyng or wrappynge vp of the head in a clothe or other thyng.

Obducto, aui, are, the frequentative of obduco.

Obductus, a, um, couered, hylled.

Obductus nube, couered or closed in a cloude.

Obductum rubigine ferrum, piron all eaten ouer with rustynesse.

Sira obductus, couered ouer and ouer with hozynesse or duste.

Obdulcesco, scere, to be swete aboute.

Obdureo, iiii, ere, to bee harde.

Obdurefco, scere, to be hardened, to become harde.

Obduro, aui, are, to make harde.

Obediens, enis, om. g. that obeyeth, obedient.

Obediens dicto, he that doorth that whiche he is commaunded to dooe.

Obedienter, obediently.

Obediencia, a, f. g. obedience.

Obedio, obedis, iui, ire, to obeye.

Parere & obedire.

Obtemperare & obedire.

Obedibo, was of olde tyme vsed for Obediam.

Si ad verba nobis obediunt, If theyr dooe as saydng to the wordes that we doo speake.

Obedo, obedis, obedi, obedere, to consume or eate all aboute.

Obeliscus, i, m. g. a great square stone lyke a butte, waxing smaller and smaller vnto the top of a great heghthe, made playne by a warke man. There were of them dyuers in Rome.

Obelus, obeli, m. g. a spytte, or byoche. Also a longe strike in wytyngne lyke to a spytte, for a note or diuersitee.

Obeo, iui, ire, to go to, to go aboute, to bee at hande, to be assistent or present, to mete with one, to dye, to dooe or exercise.

Obire mortem, Obire diem, Obire diem extremum, to dye. Obire vadi monium, to ap- perre and be present at the day appoynted.

Obeunt tres noctes, id est pratercunt, thre nyghtes passe.

Id obire non potui, id est peragere, I coude not attchieue it or go throug with it.

Obire morbo, to dye of a spekenesse.

Comitia obire, to be presente at, or to goe to the assemblies of the people.

Diem aliquem obire, to be assistent or present in a place, at a day appoynted, or accustomed.

Obui legatus Aegyptium, he was ambassadour in Egypt, or he begng ambassadour went about all Egypt.

Morte obiit repentina, the dyed sodenly.

Munus consulis obire, to doo and exercise the author

authoritee of a consult.

Omnia per se obire, to doo all hym selfe with- out helpe of any other.

Obire domos amicorum, To goe all about from one frendes house to an other.

Obire opus rusticum, to labour in the fiede.

Prælia obire, to fyght.

Siciliam totam obui, I went ouer all Sicile.

Vires obire, to go about from citee to citee.

Obire, sometyne for Circundare, to couer or compasse rounde about.

Obire legationem, to go in ambassade.

Obire prouinciam, to go about the prouince, whither one is sent, as lieutenant or gouer- nour.

Obire bellum, to goe to battayle, to make warre.

Quia tot simul bella obire nequirent, Bec- cause they coude not susteyne the trauagly of so many and dyuers warres at one tyme, or goe to and bee presente at so many warres to- gether.

Obire hereditatem, to take possession of ians- des, wherein a man hath a state of inheritaunce.

Obire cernas cum aliquo, to go to bankettes with one hyther and thither.

Obire oculis, to looke here and there about.

Obire pedibus regiones, to goe into dyuers countreis on foote.

Obiquito, aui, are, to ryde about.

Obuero, aui, are, to wander about, to ren about from place to place sometyne to flee about: also to erre or myffe.

Obesco, aui, are, to fede fatte, to cramme.

Obesitas, aui, f. g. fatnesse, grossenes.

Obefo, aui, are, to make fatte, to cramme.

Obelus, a, um, in Argile, is fatte. In Nevius in his first tragicall, Ipitell, slender. It is most com- monly taken for grosse or fatte of bodie, quere, corp.

Obelobis, com. g. an obiecte or lette, a sparre or boie of a doore.

Obstinat, obstinately.

Obstinate, a, um, stubborn, styffe, earnestly bent or impud.

Obstino, aui, are, to harden ones selfe, to haue an en- tyng, to be earnestly purposed.

Netum obstinare, to be so styffe or so hard bent.

Obstare viam, obstinately to go forwarde with his purpose, what let so euer there bee.

Obstinare animum, to be stubborn and ob- stinate sometyne in the good parte to b. nde. &c. to beade ones mind earnestly on a thyng.

Obstatio, iui, ne, to vntwyllyng in ones care, also to tell a thyng often, to chaffe.

Obstare, ha, li, herere, to c. me or styffe.

Obstare, scere, to growe up as herbes doo.

Obiaceo, obiacet, aui, ere, to be about or as- gaynst, also to lye befoze, to lye in the way.

Obiectulum, i, neu ge that whiche is sette or thowen befoze one, to make hym asfayde, or to lette hym that he shall not passe.

Obiectatio, onis, f. g. a reprochyng, a sayng to ones charge, a castyng in the teethe.

Obiecto, aui, are, to obiecte or often impute of laye to ones charge, also to cast out.

Corpora bello obiectant, they put theyr bod- dies in the daunger of warre.

Obiectum, i, neu ge. any thyng that is befoze a mans eyes and may bee sene.

Obiectus, a, um, thowen, layde, or set agaynst, put befoze, shewen to, layd to ones charge, cast in ones teethe, cast of layde forth in harmes way, redie to dangier.

Obiectus, us, m. gen. the sayng of a settyng of a thyng befoze ones eyes, or agaynst one.

Obicere, obicis, cci, ere, to lay or throw agaynst, or to lare befoze one, to lare to ones charge, to cast in ones teethe, to laye to ones reproche, also to cause to remembre, to bring in mynde, to cast out in harme or perils wape.

Obicere mentem alicui, To put in to a mans head, or to bypnyng one in a fantasie, to put into ones mynde to doo a thyng.

Obicere moram, to make one to tary, to let.

Obicere prauaricationem, to laye a mattice to ones charge.

Obicere religionem, to make one to be scrup- ulous, or to make conscience in a matter.

Obicere solitudinem, to make one carefull or penitue.

Obicere spem, to put one in hope.

Obicere terrorem, to make one asfede.

Obicere caput periculis, To put hym selfe in daunger to be slayne.

Obicere cibum canibus, to cast meate to the dogges.

Obicere furorem alicui, to put one in a mad- nesse or fury.

Latinum obicere alicui, to shewe to one for- degnly ioyefull and mery tydynges.

Metum animo alicuius obicere, to put one in a feare, to make hym asfede.

Salutem suam pro aliquo obicere, To putte ones selfe in daunger for a man.

Obici ad omnes casus, to be sette in dangier of all chaunces.

Obeius, unis, of Obeo, obui, goyng or com- passyng rounde about.

Obigare, to streere or meue befoze.

Obianis, ne, verate vacant and emptie.

Obiunt, they dye.

Obiratus, a, um, betraie angry, greatly moued.

Obiter, by the way, incidently, beside the pur- pose, in the meane ty me, p. cially.

Obitus, obita, um, bypnyng.

Obitus, obitus, m. ge. the bypnyng or decess of a man: sometyne the compyng of one. The aund- rent wyters make Obitum, for the act: it or to myng to one by chaunce.

Obitus lunæ, the goyng downe of the moone.

Stellam autem orbis obitus.

Obiure

Obiurgatio, ónis, fœm. gener. chidinge, rebuking, blamynge.
 Obiurgator, óris, m. f. gene. he that chydeth or rebuketh.
 Obiurgatorius, a, um, that belongeth to chiding or rebukynge.
 Obiurgatoria litteræ, letters of rebuke.
 Obiurgito, aui, are, to chide muche or often.
 Obiurgo, aui, are, to chide of rebuke, to repte hendre shapely, to blame.
 Obiuro, aui, are, to bynde by an othe.
 Oblamētia, æ, fœm. gene. the herbe called also vitis nigra.
 Oblanguo, langui, languere, to languyshe.
 Oblaudo, laudi, f. d. ere, to hurte soze.
 Oblatio, ónis, f. gen. an offeringe. Also an ayde or subsidie.
 Oblator, óris, m. ge. he that barketh or maketh exclamation agaynst one.
 Oblatro, oblatras, aui, are, to bark against one.
 Oblatum, i, n. g. a thyng offered.
 Oblatus, a, um, offered, profered.
 Oblata facultate, when occasion or oportunitie was geuen.
 Oblectatio, ónis, Oblectamen, raminis, Oblectamentum, ti, recreation, case, delecte, pleas sure.
 Oblectatio oiii, the frute of pleasure of vacant tyme.
 Oblecto, aui, are, to delecte, to recreate, to take pleasure in a thyng, to put all his felicitye and delecte in a thyng.
 Falso gaudio oblectare, To make gladde in hayne, to bring one in foolis paradise.
 Me te oblectes, Let all your delite, pleasure, and felicitye bee in me onely.
 Vbi te oblectasti tam diu? Where haue you made mery, passed your tyme, or solaced your selfe all this longe whyle?
 Oblecta te cum Cicerone, recreate and delecte your selfe with Cicero our derely beloued.
 In eo me oblecto, in that I put my chief delecte and pleasure.
 Oblectio, oblectis, niui, nire, idem quod lenio.
 Oblicio, to take recreation or pleasure.
 Oblido, lisi, dere, to hurte soze, to styde, to kyll, to beate euen to the verie death.
 Obligatio, ónis, f. g. an obligation or bonde.
 Obligatus, a, um, obliged, bound round about.
 Obligo, obligas, aui, are, to bynde, to bynde round about, or ouer and ouer, to make bounden to hym by shewing some stendly pleasure.
 Obligare se furti, to committe felony. somtyme to confesse felony.
 Obligare aliquem scelere, to charge ones conscience with a mischeuous and naughty acte.
 Populum Roman. scelere obligasset, Thou haddest made the Romayns partners of thy mischeuous act.
 Is periculum iudicii præstare debet, qui se ne obligauerit, he that soigneth him selfe with an othe in any bonde, muste abyde the losse party of the iudgement or condemnation.

 Obligare sacramento, to charge one with an othe.
 Obligari periculo iusiurandi, to be charged with an othe.
 Obligari sponsione, to be charged by his promise or couenaunt.
 Obligare crus fractum, to bynde or wape by a broken legge.
 Verbo se obligare, to bynde hym selfe by a word of his mouth.
 Obligatio, obligatus, iui, ire, to eate delicate meates greedily, or rauenously, and to consume gooddes in feasting and banquetting.
 Oblimo, aui, are, to couer with mudde or taffe clare. And by translation to bynde, and as it were to stoppe or daube by.
 Oblimare rem, To spende his gooddes upon tousely.
 Oblino, oblinis, lini, liui, leui, ere, to imbue or make foule, to smere or make foule rounde about.
 Oblinio, oblinis, niui, ire, to noynte or smere ouer and ouer.
 Se externis moribus oblinire, To dishoneste him selfe with the yll maneres of folye countreys.
 Oblique, awry, ouerthwartly.
 Oblique perstringere, to taunt or chide.
 Obliquitas, atis, f. g. crookednesse.
 Obliquo, aui, are, to crooke, to make to go or to stande awry.
 Obliquare oculos, to lere.
 Obliquus, a, um, contrary to streight, crooked, awry, that standeth ouerthwart.
 Obliqua via, a crose pathe goyng ouer an othe waye.
 Flexi in obliquum, bent ouerthwart.
 Oblisus, a, um, soze hurte or dashed.
 Obliteratio, ónis, fœ. ge. a scrapping or blotting out of a word.
 Obliteratus, a, um, scraped out or blotted.
 Oblitero, aui, are, to scrape out or put out of remembrance, to abolythe.
 Obliterare famam rei alicuius, To putte the bruit or fame of any thyng out of memory, to make it to bee forgotten, and not to be spoken of.
 Offensionem oblitterare, to put an offence of displeasure out of ones mynde.
 Oblitescere, scere, to be byd, to be byd or couered.
 Oblitus, a, um, forgotten, or that hath forgotten.
 Prorsus oblitus sum mei, I haue quite and cleane forgotten my selfe.
 Non sum ego oblitus officium meum, I haue not forgotten my charge or office.
 Oblitus, oblitus, um, imbyed, despyled, smered, annoynted all about.
 Parricidio oblitus, shamefully distempred or shonked with some detestable murder.

Oblit

Oblivio, ónis, f. g. forgetfulness.
 Oblivioni dare, to forget.
 Capite me oblivio, I haue forgotten.
 Conterere voluntaria oblivione, To forgette willingly, and putte quite and cleane out of remembrance.
 In oblivione iacuit, he was quite and cleane out of memory, and nothyng spoken of.
 Oblivionem cibi surrepere aiunt, They saye that he forgetteth to eate his meate.
 Venire in oblivionem, to be forgotten.
 Ab oblivione vindicare, To make that one shall neuer be forgotten.
 Oblivians oblivioni, goyng about to call to remembrance, or byng to mynde.
 Oblivione delere & obluere, to forgette.
 Obliviosus, a, um, forgetfull, oblivious. somtyme that causeth to forget.
 Obliviscor, scris, sci, to forget.
 Oblivium, i, n. g. idem quod oblivio.
 Obloco, oblocas, aui, are, idem quod Loco.
 Oblocutio, ónis, f. g. p. l. report.
 Oblongus, a, um, verie longe.
 Obloror, eris, obloqui, to speake agaynst, to saie contrary, to reporte p. l., to curse.
 Obloquitur, óris, m. ge. an p. l. reporter or detractour.
 Oblucor, aris, ari, to erre.
 Obluctor, aris, ari, to waste, strive or struggle agaynst.
 Obludo, si, ere, to plate with one.
 Obmanens, abyng longe.
 Obmolitor, iris, iri, to sette some thyng with great labour agaynst the place, whereby one must nedes passe.
 Obmordeo, di, ere, to byte.
 Obmouere, olde wyters used for Admouere.
 Obmurmuro, aui, are, to murmur agaynst.
 Obmutesco, inutui, scere, as we commonly saie, I holde my peace, I speake not, I holde my tongue, I haue not a word to say.
 Obmutescere dicitur res aliqua, not to be in vse.
 Obnato, obnatas, aui, are, to swym agaynst.
 Obnatus, a, um, growyng or spryngg about.
 Obnexo, xui, ectere, to knyt fast.
 Obnoxio, ónis, f. g. a fast knittynge.
 Obnexus, a, um, fast knitte.
 Obniger, gra, um, blacke, somewhat blacke, or after some, verie blacke.
 Obnitor, niteris, ti, to resist with al ones power, to stride agaynst with all his myght, to endevour with all force to lette a thyng.
 Obnix, an aduerbe, significyng with all his myght or power, or firmly, as muche as one can.
 Manus pedibusq; obnixè omnia facit, He dooeth all thynges with hande and foote, as muche as in hym lyeth.
 Obnixus, a, um, that earnestly resisteth or stryvet agaynst, or labourerth to withstande.
 Obnixus opibus, id est attentius ad rem, wholly bent to great and hepe monie.

Obnoxius, a, um, bounden, subiect, apt, in dangier, obedient, in the power of the ennemy.
 Somtyme it significth gylty or faultie, that hath deserued to be punyshed.
 Sum tibi obnoxius, I am bounden or subiect unto the.
 Obnoxius pœnæ, subiecte to punishment deserued.
 Obnoxius morbis, subiecte to sicknesses.
 Periculis obnoxius, subiect to perils. &c.
 Minari interdum ferro, nisi sibi obnoxia foret, and therted hir somtyme with his weappon, if she wolde not be obedient to his requestes.
 Obnoxium feris, to cast out to wylde beastes, in daunger to be hurt of wylde beastes.
 Obnoxium ingenium, a dishonest wyl.
 Obnoxia curæ arua, felices necessary to be husbanded and tended.
 Ego me obnoxium esse fateor, I grant that I am faultie.
 Procellis obnoxia, in daunger of stormes, of that quickely taketh harme by stormes.
 Obnoxius legibus, in daunger of the lawes by reason of some offence dooen.
 Obnoxia munera & officia, amonge the ancient wyters wer taken for those offices, the ministracion of the whiche was vile and dishonest, whiche also signified libertie or nobilitie of birth.
 Obnoxius gratia iudex, the iudge whiche regardeth fauour or pleasynge of the one part, & iudge that regardeth ones complaynt, and thes with fauour, fauourable.
 Obnoxia corpora, bodies diseased, and not in helthe, sickly bodies.
 Obnoxius iniuriis, to whom one maie soone doe wronge.
 Obnoxia nulli animati olera, herbes that no beast will hurte or eate.
 Obnoxius crimini, he that is charged with an offence.
 Obnoxie, fearefully, ipke a subiecte of state.
 Non obnoxie, evidently, playnly.
 Obnubilo, aui, are, to make darke with cloudes, to make cloudie. also to make heuy and sadde in countenance.
 Obnubilus, a, um, cloudy or darke.
 Obnubo, nupsi, nubere, to hyde, to couer ouer and ouer, to couer the head or body.
 Obnuntiatio, ónis, fœm. g. a declaration of the diuinours called Augures, to the chief officers of Rome, that any thyng shoulde not bee enterprised or dooen, that was purposed, by reason of certayne signes or tokens, whiche the said diuinours perceived by the sight or voyce of byrdes, whiche was contrary to the purpose that they went about.
 Obnuntio, aui, are, to tell or shewe p. l. tidynge, and thynges displeasent or unlucky, to denge, to resist agaynst a thyng purposed.

Obno

Obolco, oboles, olui, and oleui, lère, to spynke. somtyme for Subolere, to perceiue or smel out. Obolauisti allium, thou diddest stynke of garlicke.

Obolus, oboli, m. g. a weight containing thre Siliquas, or carattes, and is halfe a scruple. it was also a copie of syluer, but that varied according to the countreie, where they were current: as Obolus Atticus, Romanus, Hebraicus, it is now commonly used for an half penny. Obolus terra, is the .577. parte of iugerum, that is true foote in breadth, and ten in length: whiche containeth .50. foote square.

Obolus, amonge the Atheniens was eight of the coines called Chalci, and euery Chalcus was halfe quadrans, so that Obolus contained iii. quadrantes, and was in value somewhat lesse then our halfpenny sterling, as some haue iudged, but I thinke it to be more by a little, for Drachma contained, 6. Obolos, and Denarius, being of the same value, contained .iii. sesteratios, euery sesteratius is in value a sterling pence, when eight grotes made an ownee.

Oborior, oboriris, or oboreris, oboriri, to be aggn to spynge or come forth, to ryse.

Obortus, a. um, begun or spronge, risen vp. Rumor obortus, tydings spronge. Tanta letitia oborta est mihi, so great ioy of gladnesse is chaunced and come to me. Aduentu suorum lacrymarum sunt obortæ, whā his acquaintance or friendes came, he burst out in weeping, or the teares trickled downe his chekes.

Risus obortus est, he burst out in laughynge.

Obrado, rasi, radere, to shauc agaynst the heare.

Obraucatus, a. um, made hoarse.

Ob rem, for the purpose.

Obrépo, repis, répere, to come pryncipally, to steale in, to come inwaies or vnlooked for, to creepe vpon one ere he be ware. Somtyme to deceiue one. Obrepere ad honores, to come or attaine to honour by crafty dissimulation, vnder the colour of learnynge, wisdom, or honestie.

Obrépit somnus, slepe cometh vpon hym vnwares, and by translation, he is deceiued or erreth.

Obrepit senectus, olde age creepeth vpon a man ere he be ware.

Obrepsit dies decessionis, that daie that I muste nedes departe on, came vpon me soone than I thought.

Obrépio, ónis, form. gen. the getting or obtaynynge of a thyng by crafty dissimulation or falsehood.

Obreptitia literæ, letters obtained by the sayde meanes.

Obrepto, aui, are, for frequenter obrépo.

Obrétió, obrétis, obrétié, to take in the net, to bypynge or drawe the net about a thyng.

Obrideo, risi, dère, to laugh at one, to mocke one.

Obrigeo, óriges, gui, gère, and Obrigesco, scere, to be or waxe thicke or harde for colde. Obrion, one of the ples called fortunare. Obris, a rpuer. Obrizum, or Obrizum, zi, ne. gen. pure or fyne golde.

Obriso, a mocke.

Obródo, rósi, ródere, to gnaw about.

Obrogo, obrogas, aui, are, to theke or intercept a man in his speech. Obrigare legem, to derogate one lawe by an other.

Obrumpo, rupi, rumpere, for Rumpo.

Obruo, obrui, ruere, to ouerthrow, to confound, to couer cleane ouer and ouer with earth or other thyngs, to hyde in the grounde. also to cloy, to pester.

Obruere sale, to couer with salt, to powder.

Obruere voluptatibus dolorem, to putte or dylue away sorowe with haunting much pleasure and pastyme.

Obrui are alieno, to owe very much, or be in great debt, to be ouer charged with debte.

Obruere memoriã alicuius, to put one cleane out of remembraunce.

Obrui magnitudine negotii, to be ouer charged with the importance of the affayre or businesse. Obruit eum obliuione vetustas, it is so longe tyme passed, that he is cleane out of remembraunce, or vterly forgotten.

Obluione obruere facta sua, to cause his actes to be forgotten.

Obruere risu testem, to make the witnesse to be so laughed at, that he durst not speake any more. Obruitur vulgi sermo hominum interitu, the speche of people is lost when men be dead.

Obruere lapidibus, to stone to death.

Obruere se vino, to ouercharge hym selfe with wyne, to dzyrke to muche, to be dzyrke.

Obrutus, obruta, um, ouer thowen, couered, puffed.

Obrutus in terra, buried or hydde in the grounde.

Obrutus aquis, drowned.

Obrutum sim vetustatis, it is lost or perished for age: or it is so longe agone, that it is now out of remembraunce.

Obrutus niuibus, couered with snowe.

Obruta itinera (trage, the wayes were full of men slayne or killed).

Obrutania fulmina, lpyghtnynges, whiche so dauntly happen, thowynge downe and bournynge thyngs, before they be looked for.

Obrutus, he was stonyed.

Obruiui, obseuiui, uire, to be woodde agaynst one.

Obfatio, aui, are, to sell to muche with a thyng, to make one to haue his full of a thyng.

Obfatio, aui, are, to offere to salute one.

Obfatum, olde writers used for halowed.

Obfeno, aui, are, to bypynge or cause pill lucke.

Obfeno, a. um, that signifieth of declared

some

some some some some some

some

some pill lucke or misfortune to folowe, that bringeth pill lucke.

Obfeno, lyke a rebalde, without shame, sylthynly, vnchastly, baudely.

Obfeno, aui, f. g. villange in actes, rebauldly, sylthynesse.

Obfeno, a. um, abhominable, all thyng whiche is to be eschewed, dishonest, vnseane, filthy, wanton, baudy, vnchaste.

Obfeno, ónis, f. g. darkynge, dimmyng.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

Obfeno, a. um, made darke of vnknownen.

well, to make a thyng better than it seemeth to be. Obscundato in loco, be ruled, or folowe the appete of a man at some tyme.

Obscundanter, obediently.

Obsesio, obses, obses, or sepis, and sepis, sepire, to inclose about with an hedge.

Obspire iter ad honores, to let or stop that men can not come to honor or promotion.

Obspire viam adipiscendi aliquid, to let that one can not attaine a thyng.

Obsequela, la, f. g. obedience, diligence, endeuoir.

Obsequencia, a, f. g. obsequence.

Obsequens, entis, om. g. obedient, pliant, redy to doo as one would haue hym.

Obsequenter, obediently.

Obsequensime, with great obedience.

Obsequia, thyngs done to the pleasure or appetite of hym that they be doon for.

Obsequibilis, le, diligent, ready to dooe that, whiche is commaunded.

Obsequiosus, a. um, that dooeth willingly pleasure and seruice, seruicable, that attendeth or standeth waiting ready at hande.

Obsequium, quii, n. g. redynesse to doo all that is commaunded, obedience, humble seruice, somtyme it signifieth flattery.

Obsequium & indulgentia corporis, the sufferynge of the body to haue all pleasures that it despyeth, sensualitee.

Obsequium ventris, pleasure of the bealy in feedynge, delicate feedynge.

Obsequium animo sumere, to take his pleasure, to lye as he wyll hym selfe.

Obsequor, cris, obsequi, to folowe an other mans pleasure, to do as an other wyll haue hym, to be pliant, to be redy to do seruice, to please.

Obsequere animo, take thy pleasure, make good chere.

Obsequi animo suo, to lye as he wyll hym selfe, to take pleasure and make mery.

Gracilis habitudo corporis artuum momenta to obsequitur, the slender state of the body is pliable or lythy, to the nybleness of the togethes of lymmes.

Obsequi alicui in omnibus, to do as one would haue hym in all thynges.

Nos senes æquum est senibus obsequi, It is meete for vs olde folkes to dooe pleasure eche for other, or reason wolde, that we olde men shulde helpe one an other.

Obsequor, is somtyme used with an accusatiue case. as, Ea quæ obsequi non oportet, to plante. Somtyme for Circundare, to compass in or about.

Agrum vineis obsequere, to plant his grounde or fildes with vines.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

Obfero, obferas, aui, are, to looke or shew a doze.

be had in reuerence.

Obseruans, anis, one that reuerenceth.

Obseruantissimus omnium officiorū, he that dooeth espie and obserue all occasions possible to doo pleasure for his frende.

Obseruātia, a, f. g. reuerence, honoz, obseruāce.

Obseruātia, someyme for Obseruatiōe.

Obseruātio, ōnis, f. g. awaite, obseruynge, mares hyng, someyme for Obseruātia, reuerence, honoure.

Obseruatiōi operam dare, to obserue, to marke, to take good hede.

Obseruo, aui, are, to awaite diligently with the eyes, & also the mynde, to warche, to obserue, to marke, to honoure, to take good hede, to haue in reuerence, to loue, to fauour with a longynge reuerence.

Factus ictum obseruare, to kepe or obserue.

Me semper ab ineunte adolescentia obseruauit, he hath had me alway in reuerence.

Obseruare ianuam, to kepe the gate.

Scripturam alicuius obseruare, to repprehende or fynde faulte with that one hath writtē.

Obseruato, aui, are, the frequen actiue of obseruo.

Obfes, obfidis, com. gen. an hostage or pledge in warres.

Cauere obfidibus, to take hostages or pledges for the performance of the cōuenants.

Obfessio, ōnis, f. g. a siege.

Obfessor, ōnis, m. g. that laicly siege.

Obfessus, a, um, besieged.

Obfessi, they that are besieged, whiche can not pisse out of the place where they be.

Obsidia, arum, f. g. plur. lying in awaite to take away any thyng casually.

Obsidianus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Obsidianum vitrum, a kynde of glasse, whiche is pure blacke.

Obsidionalis, le, belongynge to a siege.

Obsidionalis corona, a garlande geuē to him, whiche besieged a towne or fortreffe, besieged with enemies, whiche was of grasse.

Obsideo, obfides, fessit, sidere, to besiege, to compass about, to inuade, also to possesse, to occupy.

Tempus and Locum obfiderē, to occupy the tyme or place that an other man shulde.

Armatus exercitus regiam obfedit, the hoste stode all about the parrice redy armed.

Stuprum obfiderē, to warche or espie an occasiō to commit aduoutrie with one.

Domi certum est obfiderē, vsque donec res diern, I haue surely purposed to abyde at home till he come agayne.

Obsidio, ōnis, f. g. a siege layed to a towne or castell.

Cingere and Claudere obsidione, to besiege.

Obsidione eximere, to reise the siege.

Obsidior, āris, ari, to lye in a waite to take one.

Obsidium, dii, n. g. a siege laide about a towne or fortreffe.

Facere obsidium, to besiege.

Solucere obsidium, to reise the siege.

Obsido, sedi, sidere, idem quod obfideo.

Obsigillo, aui, are, to hyde, to seale vp.

Obsignātor, ōris, m. g. he that putteth his seale or signe to a dedde or instrument.

Obsigno, aui, are, to close letters and seale them, also to signe them.

Obsignare testamenta, to put his hand of seale to testaments or wylles.

Litteras obsignare, to seale vp letters.

Obsignatus, a, um, sealed vp.

Obsipo, aui, are, to thowpe or caste, as when men of the countrey do saie, Obsipa pullis escam caste meate to the chickens.

Obsisto, stiti, sistere, to resist, to withstande, to repugne, also to gaine saie.

Obsistere obuiam, to meete with one.

Obsisti illi non potest, no man can let hym withstande hym.

Iniuria obsistere, to let or withstande iniurias or trees.

Obsitus, obfita, tum, wrapped, set about with branches or trees.

Obsitus annis & pannis, verp olde, and wrapped in ragges.

Obsitus squalore vestis, ill & stutty shyl clad.

Obsitus auro, verate aged.

Obsita tenebris loca, verate darke places.

Obsolētio, factus, tum, fieri, to be out of vse, also to desile, dystyne, or dishonour.

Obsoleo, obsoles, obfolui, and obfolui, lere, to waxe olde, to growe out of vse, to decay, to leese the grace.

In homine turpissimo obsolebant dignitatis insignia, lost they grace.

Laus alicuius obsolescit, decalseth, weareth away.

Virtus obsolescit, decalseth.

Obsoleco, scere, to decaye, to waxe olde, to be out of vse.

Obtolet, obdely, barely.

Obfolute, a, um, decayed, old, out of vse, woyn as a garment when it is bare.

Color obfoluteus, an yll colour.

Dextra obfolute sanguine, id est maculata, bloudy.

Vestis obfolute, a garment woyn verp nare, thered bare.

Obfoluteus vestitus, pooze apparate.

Obfonium, looke Opsonium.

Obfōnor, and Obfōno, aui, are, loke Opsonor.

Obfōnos, obfona, um, that whiche hath an yll soune.

Obfōnito, looke opsonito.

Obfōnatio, fealtynge or banketynge.

Obfōnator, & Obfōnatix, looke Opsonator.

Obfōno, obfōnas, aui, are, to soune yll.

Obforbeo, bui, & obforpsi, bere, to sup vp all.

Obforbo, forpsi, bere, idem.

Obfordeo, dui, forderē, to bee fyllth, weare, or stutthe. Nonius declarseth it to waxe olde, so become ylle.

Obfide

Obstaculum, li, n. g. an obstacle or impediment.

Obstetrico, aui, are, to doo the office of a mydwyfe.

Obstetrix, tricis, f. g. a mydwyfe.

Obstinare, obstinately, firmly, stubburnly.

Obstināus, a, um, obstinate, fyrm, or stable, stubburne.

Obstinatio, ōnis, f. g. obstinacy, stiffenesse in opinion, stubburnesse.

Obstino, obstinās, aui, are, to be obstinate, to perseuere firme in one sentence or purpose, to be stubburne.

Obstipo, aui, are, to stoppe chynkes.

Obstipare verticem, to lay the heade a side on the shulder, as men doe when they muse.

Obstipus, a, um, wype necked downe towarde the shulder, holding downe the heade towarde the shulder.

Obsto, stiti, stare, to withstand, to let, to hynder.

Paululum negotij mihi obstat, a lyttell busynesse dooeth lette me.

Egone id patiā meā voluptari obstare? shuld I suffre that thing to withstande or hynder my ioy or pleasure?

Obstatur, the impersonall.

Obstrepo, obstrepsis, repui, ere, to cry out on one or make a noyse, to stere & make a noyse or rustling with the fete or otherwise against one.

Laudalicius obstreperē, to be agaynst ones praise.

Obstrictus, a, um, faste bounde, tyed harde.

Obstrictus, us, m. g. a strict or hard wyngynge.

Obstrigillo, aui, are, to resist or repugne against, to speake in detraction of one.

Obstringo, strinxi, stringere, to hynde faste, to tye harde, to wrappe in bandes.

Obstringere fidem, to make a feithful promise.

Obstringere se scelere, to cōmpt som naughty tye acte.

Obstringere se parricidio, to murder his fader or mother.

Obstringere se perulio, to cōmitte perulie.

Obstringere sibi aliquem munere, to make one bounden to hym for some frendly pleasure.

Obstringere se hereditati, to claym and take possession of ones heritage.

Inuicando obstringere aliquem, to hynde one with an othe.

Aere alieno amicos suos obstringere, to buyng his frendes in debte.

Religione obstringere, to charge ones conscience.

Prædibus se obstringere, to hynde hym selfe with suretees.

Obstrido, si, dere, to hyde, to stoppe a mannes throte, that he can not eate meate, to dystyne a thyng deepe and hyde it in the grounde.

Obstrudulentum, hui, g. a stoppyng.

Obstructio, ōnis, idem.

Obstructus, a, um, stopped, shutte.

Obstruo, obstruis, struxi, struere, to shutte, to stoppe vp.

Vndas obstruit molibus, he stoppeth the wader with piles, or dammes.

Obstruere luminibus, to lette that a man can not loked out of his wyndowes, or to stoppe vp his lyghtes.

Obstruere aures, to stoppe vp ones eares, to make deaffe.

Obstupidus, a, um, astonied, abashed.

Obstupefactio, pefacis, feci, facere, to abashe or make abashed or astonied.

Obstupeo, obstupes, obstupui, and obstupefco, scere, to be abashed, to be astonied, to be dismayde.

Obsum, obfui, obesse, to hurte or hynder, to encrease damage.

Obfuo, obfui, obfuere, to sow round about.

Obfurdesco, furdui, deficere, to be as wax deaffe, also for Nolo audire.

Nescio quomodo obfurdescimus, I can not tell howe, we be verate lothe to here.

Obtego, obtegis, obtexi, obtegere, idem quod Tego, to kepe close, to hyde, to couer.

Obtegere fe corpore alicuius, to hyde hym behynde some body.

Obtemperatio, ōnis, f. g. obeyssaunce.

Obtempero, aui, are, to obey or bee at cōmaunds demēt.

Obtendo, obtendi, obtendere, to lay an excuse, to couer ouer, to make a pretence.

Rationem turpitudini obtendere, to couer or excuse a dishonest acte with some colour or reason.

Obtendere velum ante lectum, to drawe the courtayne before the bedde.

Obtendiculum, li, n. g. a colourable answer.

Obtentus, a, um, couered, that hath a courtyn or veile drawn before it.

Obtentus, us, m. ge. a pretence or colour, a drawynge of a courtayne before a thyng.

Obtentu philosophia, vnder the colour or pretence of philosophie.

Sub eius obtentu cognominis, vnder the colour or shadowe of that surname.

Obtento, aui, are, the frequentatiue of obtineo.

Obtrero, obtritis, obtrui, obtrere, to treade or thrust downe, to suffocate, to buyse, to hurte with yll wordes, to dispraise.

Obtrerebat laudes eius, it dydde diminishe his praises.

Ab elephantis obtriti sunt, they were trode downe with the elephantes.

Calumniam obtrere, to confounde a false accusation.

Iura obtrere, to destroy and abolythe lawes.

Obtestatio, ōnis, f. g. an humble desyre, properly not to doe a thyng. also a takynge of god or some othe thyng to wyrtesse.

Obtestor, āris, ari, humbly to beseeche, to desyre, to desyre for goddis sake, or for the remembraunce of some thyng, whiche is of hym that is desyre.

Ebb

syed,

spzcd, thankfully herde.
 Obreco, tēxui, ere, to weaue rounde about.
 Obiluratio, ōnis, f. g. Muttynge.
 Obilūro, aui, are, to shutte, to stoppe.
 Os obilurare, to stoppe ones mouth, or make that he speake no more.
 Obiluramentum, ti, n. g. a stoppel, a thyng that stoppeth vp. also the head of a ponde.
 Oblicentia, æ, fœm. gene. silence; holdynge of ones peace.
 Obliceo, oblices, cui, cere, to kepe silence, not to speake, to holde ones peace as though he were dumme, to kepe in such thynges as we be ashamed of.
 Lachrymans oblicet, he wepeth, and will not speake a woord.
 Quid oblicuiſti? why standest thou dumme?
 Oblineo, oblines, oblinui, nēre, to obteyne, to geat, to archue, to holde, to retygn stpl, some tyme to haue.
 Sustam animi firmitudinem oblines, salui sumus, If thou haſte that firmeneſſe of courage, we be safe.
 Oblinere litem, to get the thyng that he sued for, to recouer his suite by iudgement.
 Oblinere primum locum, to bee the chief or principall.
 Oblinere ordinem suum, to keepe the order and place that he is in.
 Oblinere & repelli, contrary.
 Admirationem oblinere, to be in admiration.
 Causam oblinere, to ouercome in the suite.
 Dignitatem oblinere, To kepe stpl his honoz and dignitie.
 Oblinet fama, the more common rumour is.
 Oblinere ius suum, to obteyne that rēght and lawe doeth geue hym.
 Prouerbiū locum oblinet, it is now vsed or taken for a prouerbe.
 Prouinciam oblinere, To obteyne the gouernance of a prouince.
 Regnum in Sequanis oblinuit, he retygned ouer the people called Sequani.
 Oblinetur, the imperfonall.
 Oblinet magnum locum in medicaminibus hæc herba, this herbe is greatly vsed or esteemed in physike.
 Pracipuum oblinent nobilitatem, They bee more spoken of, or more esteemed than all other.
 Pauræ nomen oblinent, they haue the name of theyr countreie.
 Oblinere nomen sapientis, to bee reputed a wyſe man.
 Noxiam veneni oblinet, It is hurtfull lyke venome or poppon.
 Oblinet vim medicamenti, It hath the force or strength of medicine.
 Oblinet vitam per illum, It is by that mans benefite that he lyueth.
 Oblinere vibem aliquam armis, to kepe and holde a towne by force and violence.

Obtingit, tingebat, obtingit, obtingere, to hapen, to chaunce.
 Asia Quinto fratri obtingit, the gouernance of Asia ſel or was allotted to my brother Quintus.
 Istuc tibi ex ſententia tua obtingiſſe laetor, I am gladd that this chaunced to you, euen as your owne herde woulde deſyre.
 Obtorpeo, obtorpui, obtorpere, and Obtorpeſco, ſcere, to be vtraie ſlowe or dull, to ſeint for feare.
 Obtorpet manus, my hande is a ſlope.
 Obtorqueo, torſi, obtorquere, to wyng, wyrd, or wythe about.
 Obtorus, a, um, wretched or wretched.
 Obtreſto, aui, are, to report yll, to depraue, to diſpreſſe, to haue in deſpite, to backbite, to ſclaunder, to ſpeake yll of.
 Obtreſtator, ōris, m. g. an yll repoſter, or backbiter, a ſclaunderer.
 Obtreſtatio, ōnis, fœ. g. yll repoſt, diſpreſſyng, backbitynge, ſclaunder.
 Obtreſtatus, us, m. g. idem.
 Obtrigo, aui, are, to bynd by an othe, after Laſepine.
 Obtritus, us, m. g. wearyng, ſoulyng, byuſyng, treading of a thyng vnder ſoete.
 Obtritus, a, um, woyned out, byuſed, ſtamped, trodden in pieces.
 Obtrūdo, trūſi, trūdere, to thruſt downe, to put to with force, to offe or geue to one agaynſt his will.
 Obtrudit fores, he truſte to the doze.
 Obtrudere vxorem, to geue a man a wyſe as agaynſt his will or appetite.
 Obtruncatio, ōnis, f. ge. a cutting of the topp of a thyng, a becheadynge.
 Obtrunco, aui, are, to ſlea. also to ſtrike of a mannes head.
 Obtrūſus, a, um, thruſt or put to by force.
 Obtrūcor, ōris, eri, to beholde ſtedfaſtly.
 Obtrūtus, us, m. g. idem quod obtrūſus.
 Obundo, obundi, dere, to ſtrike, to breake, to make dull or blunte, to hurt a man with ſpces kyng, to make weery, to inculcate or repete a thyng often, to beate into ones eares with ofte repetyng, to annoy with many wordes.
 Aciem oculorum obundere, to hurt the ſight, to make the eyes dymme.
 Audium obundere, to hurte the hearynge, to make one thicke of hearynge.
 Obundere ingenium, to make the wit dull.
 Vocem obundere, To hurte the voyce with ſtrengynge.
 Obuor, tueris, obuūſus, or obuūſus ſum, obui, to beholde, to regarde diligently.
 Obuorbo, aui, are, to trouble, to trouble all, to diſturbe, to intercept or let ones tale.
 Obuūro, aui, are, idem quod obuūro.
 Obuūſe, dully, blunty, without ſpice of lyfe.
 Obuūſus, a, um, dulle, blunte.
 Aures obuūſe, eares thicke or dull of hearing.

Vires obuūſe, weakened, decayed.
 Obuūſus, us, m. ge. a looke of regarde, a ſtedfaſt beholding.
 Obuūſio, obuūſis, giui, gire, to crie out as a child doth.
 Obuūſio, aui, are, to enuiſonne or cōpaſſe about with a byche or trencher.
 Obuūſicator, ōris, maſ. gene. he that tounerth one out of the rēght waie, or letteth him that he maie not paſſe.
 Obuūſico, aui, are, to ſtoppe or leat one of his paſſage.
 Obuūſio, aui, are, to peruerſe.
 Obuenio, obuenis, uēui, nire, to come agaynſt, to mete with. also to happen, to chaunce to, to chaunce by lotte.
 Hæreditate obuenire, to come to one by ſuccēſſion.
 Qui primus mihi obueniſſet, whiche had ſpzt mette with me.
 Obuenio, ōnis, f. g. reuenues, rentes.
 Obuūſatio, ōnis, fœ. gen. comynge and goynge to a place.
 Obuerſo, aui, are, the frequentatiue of obuerto.
 Obuerſor, ōris, ari, to be preſente or befoze the eyes, to come in remembraunce, to haunt & go muche to a place, to bee ſo euidēt to the mynd, as though it were befoze the eyes.
 Sed mihi ante oculos obuērſabatur reipublicæ dignitas, que me ad ſe rapuit, but befoze myne eyes came the eſtate of the publike weale, whiche plucked me vnto it.
 Obuerſar oculis.
 Obuerto, ti, tere, to tounre agaynſt or backe.
 Obuertere ſigna in hoſtem, To tounre the ſtandertes agaynſt the enemies.
 Obuiam, an aduerbe, whiche ſignifieth befoze in the waie.
 Obuiam ire, to go agaynſt one, to preuente.
 Obuiam mittere, To ſende men to meete with one in the waie.
 Obuiam ſit, he mette with me.
 Obuiam ire periculis, to preuent daungier.
 Si nihil obuiam eſt, yf there bee nothyng in the waie to lette.
 Obuiam ire conatibus, To preuente that one endeuoreth or goeth about.
 Se mihi obuiam dedit, he mette or encountred me.
 Obuiio, aui, re, to meete with one.
 Obuius, obuiia, um, that which meeteth with one.
 Obuius & diuerſo, they that mete a man.
 Obuia vibs inimicis, the ctee eaſy to bee taken with enemies.
 Obuius & expoſitus homo, one that admits tith eery m in to common and calthe with him, a ſtraite gentill and familiar perſon.
 Obuius, looke Obuius.
 Obuiro, aui, are, to ſhadowe ouer and ouer, to make darke with ſhadowe. Sometyne to deſtende, to ſaue or kepe from daungier.

Obumbratus amnis, covered or shadowed with trees.
 Obuncus, a, um, vtraie crooked.
 Obundo, aui, are, to renne or ſlowe agaynſt.
 Obuūlo, aui, are, to ſlee agaynſt.
 Obuūlo, uolui, uere, to wyap together, to folde round about. Sometyne to couer or hyde.
 Obuios ſacro, the auncient Romaynes vsed for obſecro, I beſeeche you.
 Obuūſus, a, um, bourned round about.
 O ANTE C.
 Occalee, a citee of Scotia.
 Occa, cæ, fœ. gen. an harrow or dragge, whiche hath yron teeth, wherewith cloddes are broken.
 Occatio, ōnis, f. g. a breakynge of cloddes, harrowynge.
 Occatorius, a, um, belongynge to harrowynge.
 Occator, ōris, m. g. he that harroweth.
 Occarco, aui, are, to make blynde, to enuegle.
 Occalleo, lui, lere, and occallesco, ſcere, to war or be hard ſleſhed or bjauned, like as a boze is.
 Occallatus, a, um, that is tounred into harde ſleth or bjaune.
 Occano, canui, canere, and Occino, occinui, occinere, to ſpyng agaynſt one, to laie in rebute.
 Occaſio, ōnis, f. g. occaſion, oportunitie of tyme, meete and conuenient tyme to dooe a thyng.
 Rara occaſio, not redy at hande.
 Ad excutiendum ignem non ſemper lapidis occaſio eſt, ther is not alway at hand a ſtone to ſtrike fier: or, ye can not alway haue in readines a ſtone.
 Amittre occaſionem, to leat ſlyppe occaſion or oportunitie.
 Imminere occaſioni, and captare occaſionē, to wayte an occaſion or oportunitie.
 Arripere occaſionem, To take an occaſion quickly when it is offered.
 Nunc eſt occaſio inimicum vlcisſi, Nowe there is good oportunitie to bee reuenged on myne ennemy.
 Post hæc occaſio calua, a prouerbe, take occaſion when it cometh, for he that will not when he may, when he will he ſhal haue nap. the tyde taryeth no man.
 Occaſio præmenda, a prouerbe, when the ſunne ſhineth make hay: the tyde muſt be taken when it cometh.
 Occaſiuncula, læ, f. g. a ſmall occaſion.
 Occaſo, ſere, to be loſte or vndooen.
 Occaſus, us, m. ge. death of man or beaſte. also the goeyng down of the ſunne, or ſuune glade, the fall or decaye of fortune, as well in men as other thynges.
 Occaſus reipublicæ, the decaye or falle of the commune welthe.
 Occatorium, rii, n. g. an harrowynge.
 Occedo, pro accedo.

Occentalsint, for conuicia fecerint, They shall gene rebukes of wordes of reproche.
Occento, aui, are, to cry out agaynst one, with rebukefull wordes.
Occentus, us, m. g. where one syngeth agaynst an other. It maie bee taken for a countre tesnoue, also a squaking.
Occentus foricis, the squaking of a ratte.
Oceppo, pro incepero, I shall begynne.
Occissimus, utterly vndoorn, cast awaye, or slayne, of all other most lost or desperate.
Occidens, entis, mascu. gener. the west of po-nent.
Occidens, entis, om. gene. declining, fallng,
 goyng downe.
Occidens sol, the sonne goyng downe.
Ocidentalis, le, of the west.
Occidio, onis, f. g. death, slaughter.
Occidione occidere, To kill euerie mothers sonne.
Occidioni eximere aliquem, To saue from kyllng.
Ad occidionem gens interimenda est, They must be killed euerie one.
Occido, cidi, dere, to slea or wound to death, to kyll, to tourment or molest one greuouself.
Occidere temp. & condere, contrary.
Occido, occidis, occidi, dere, to fall downe, to perissh utterly, to dye, to go downe, as the sunne doeth, and other sterres, to decaye.
Occidi, is a signification of sorrowfulnesse, as it were, I am vndoorn, or utterly lost.
Occidi, I am dead, I am loste.
Ferro occidit, he was slayne. &c.
Ante suos annos occidit, he died before his tyme.
Occidit memoria, The memoize of remembrance is loste.
Occidit spes nostra, our hope is lost.
In nihilum occidere, To come at the laste to nothing.
Occidunt herbae, cum euanescent.
Occiduum, i, n. gen. the place where the soonne gnyeth downe.
Occiduus, a, um, that goeth downe.
Sole iam fere occiduo, the sonne begng redie to goe downe.
Occilare, to beate or buffet.
Occino, occinis, nui, ere, to synge to an other, to synge agaynst.
Occipio, occipis, occa'pi, ere, to begyn.
Occiput, ipitis, & Occipitium, n. neu. gen. the hynder part of the head, the noddle or nape of the necke.
Occisso, onis, f. g. a slaughter or death of men,
 or cattalle.
Occisione occidere, to make a great slaughter, and leaue almost none on lyue, to kyll euerie mothers sonne.
Occisus, a, um, kyllled, slayne.
Occisa res est, The matter is dashed or marred.

Occitantur, for frequenter occiduntur, they be slayne here and there or in diuers places.
Oclámico, aui, are, to crye out.
Oclúdo, clusi, ere, to shutte fast.
Tabernacul ocludere, to shut vp shoppes.
Ocludere linguam, To stoppe a man from speakng, to make hym that he can not speke, or answere, to make hym haue neede a word to saie.
Oclúsus, oclusior, oclusissimus, fast shutte.
Oclusa contumeliis libido, stopped, restrained.
Occo, aui, are, to harrowe and breake cloddes and bakes in the cozne fildes. Also to coure with earthe.
Ocubo, ocubas, occubui, cubare, idem quod Occumbo.
Ocubare morte, to dye.
Oculo, oculus, ocului, lere, to hyde cleane that nothyng be sene of perceyued.
Sylua oculis feras.
Ocultare, idem quod occulte, ppyrly, but known, secretly.
Ocultatio, onis, f. g. an hydynge.
Ocultator, onis, mascu. gener. he that hy-deth.
Ocultatus, a, um, hyd, kept close or secreet.
Ocultus, ppyrly, secretly.
Neque id occulte fert, and he doth not hyde or dissimule it.
Oculto, aui, are, to hyde.
Ocultare se ab aliquo, to hyde hym selfe out of ones syght.
Ocultari & aperiri, contrary.
Ocultare apud se, To keepe close with hym
 selfe.
Ocultare consilium fugā, to keepe close. &c.
Ocultus, a, um, hyd, ppyrly, that is not known,
 verie secreet.
Oculca musica, stille musike.
Oculum habere aliquid, to keepe secreet, not to disclose.
Ex occulto, used pproverbially, ppyrly.
Oculis simae res, thynges verie secreet.
Oculus & inuolutus, promptus & apertus,
 contrary.
Monitus occulti, ppyrly warnynges.
Via occultae, ppyrly and unknown wayes.
Abdere se in occultum, to hyde hym selfe.
Occumbo, bui, bere, to be slayne, to be drably wounded, to dye.
Occumbere morti, mortem, and morte, to dye, to be slayne.
Occupans, anis, om. ge. that dooeth occupie of vse a thyng, the occupier.
Occupatio, onis, occupation, necessarie businesse, the holdyng or possesying of a place. Also a colour of rhetorike, where the playntiffe in ppeuentyng the wordes of the defendante, res-herself that, whiche he will laie for his excuse,
 and

and disponeth it, ppeuention, anticipation.
Distineri occupatione, To be soze troubled with busines.
Eripere tempus e summis occupationibus, to scale a tyme to doe a thyng, from his other breie brent busineses.
Implicatus occupationibus.
Expedit se omni occupatione.
Relaxare se occupationibus.
Occupatus, a, um, let in businesse, occupied, tasken vp, possessed.
Nisi quid magis es occupatus, operam mi-hida, If you haue no greater busines in hand.
Occupati animi beneficiis alicuius, the herites of men wonne and gotten with benefites and pleasures dooing.
Occupo, occupas, aui, are, to occupy, to geat or take before an other man, to doo before an other, to ppeuent, to vse in commune, to take or holde a thyng with force, to leat or emperche, to possesse. Sometyme to lende for a vantage, to let.
Occupare consilium, to synde aduise or counsaile.
Occupare locum, to take any place before an other, or kepe a place by force. Occupes prior adire, go to hym first.
Occupat Tullus in agrum Sabinum transire, Tullus ppeuentyng them, went first. &c.
Occupauerat animos fuga, They were of puspose or in mynde to flee.
Occupat animos terror, They are in a greatte feare.
Quem quisque occupare locum, The place
 whiche every man shall take for hym selfe.
Hac causa primos menses occupabit, This matter shall be handled or entreated of the first nonethes.
Diem fati occupare, to ppeuente his naturall
 death.
Amplexu occupare aliquem, to embrace one firste.
Ministerium carnificis occupare, to dooe the parte. &c.
Mors ipsum occupat, death came apou hym.
Occupare aliquem, to ppeuente one, and take hym before he doo a thyng.
Orum solis occupare, to ppeuent.
Occupare pecuniam alicui, or apud aliquem fanore, to lende money to one for vsury.
Occupare imperium, to vsurpe the crowne, rule, or gouernance of any realme.
Occurro, occurri, ere, to mete with, to come to mynde or remembrance, to offer hym selfe, to come in vce, to come in place, to come in the way to ppeuent in answerng that one myght obiecte. also to resiste, to renne, to be proffer-
 red.
Occurrit pernionibus herba haec, this herbe healeth byes on the heeles,

Occurrere malevolentia hominum, to ppe-uent or resist the ill will and malice of men.
Occurrit ex aduerso instructa acies, the army on the other part in good order of battaile marcheth forwarde against them.
Occurrete supplicibus fugientibus suis, to renand succour theyr compang, flyng and recu-lyng backe.
Occurram expectationi vestrae, I will an-swere to that you woulde haue me, before ye remaunde it.
Nisi varietas saterati occurrit, the varietee mas-keth that a man shall not haue his full of it, or loseth it.
Non occurrit animo, It cometh not to my mynde or remembrance.
Occursio, onis, f. g. the tennynge by & downe from one to an other, whan a man sueth of las-bouereth for an office or roume.
Occurro, aui, are, the frequentatiue of Occurro, to come often to remembrance, to mete oft or renne agaynst one.
Occurrere numinibus, id est adorare & sacrifi-ciis placare, to ppeuente the wrath of the gods dis with sacrifice, that they plage vs not.
Occursus, us, m. g. a tennynge agaynst one, a meetyng or encounteryng.
Oceanus, a, um, of the ocean sea.
Océanus, i, m. g. the broad sea, called the ocean sea, whiche compasseth the world, and addeth to his name, the name of the countreys, by whiche it passeth: as,
Oceanus Britannicus, the sea next to England and Scotlande.
Oceanus Indicus, the indian sea.
Ocellatus, a, um, that which hath eten, or holes
 lyke to eyes.
Ocellum, a citter in Spayne.
Ocellus, li, m. g. a littell eye.
Ocellus meus, my pigge's eye.
Ocha, x, f. g. a goose.
Ochesius, a duke of the people called Octoll.
Ochra, x, f. g. gene. ochre, whiche printers dooe vse.
Ochi, the herbe atriplex.
Ochion, idem quod coriandrum
Ochi, certayne trees, like to figge trees.
Ochros, an herbe, whiche Theophrastus doeth translate sometyme, ciceram, sometyme eruiam.
Ochus, a ryuer, whiche passeth through Scardis-nia, a countreie in Grece.
Ocinastrium, wylde basil, or basil mince. also the herbe acinos.
Ocimum, mi, n. g. basil.
Ocymoides, commonly called Iacia alba, and postularia, after Ruellius opinion, But other thinke it to be that, whiche is called Ben rus-brum.
Ociroe, a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.
Ocnus, he that builded Mantua. Also ocnus, signifieth slow in englishe.

Ocrea, z, f. g. a boote, a legges hatnes.
 Ocreatus, a, um, booted or harnefed on the legges.
 Ocrinum, saynt Mychaels mount in Loznewall.
 Ocris, olde wyters called a broken hyl harde to go by to.
 Oclor, looke otior.
 Occlusus, looke otiosus.
 Ocium, looke otium.
 Octangulus, a, um, eight cornered.
 Octapitarum promontorium, a place in Wales called saint Dauides.
 Octavia, the sister of Augustus, and wyfe of Antonius, whome he afterwarde forsooke. Another was daughter of Claudius the emperour, and wyfe to Nero, who caused her to be slayne.
 Octavianus, the name of Augustus, befoze he tooke on hym the Monarchie.
 Octavius, the name of Augustus father, and of dyuers other Romaines.
 Octauus, a, um, the eyght.
 Octies, eight tymes.
 Octingenarius, a, um, eyght hundred yeres olde, or that containeth the numbre of eyght hundred.
 Octingentesimus, a, um, the eyght hundredth.
 Octingenti, a, a, Octingenti, & octingenteni, eyght hundred.
 Octingentuplus, a, um, eyght hundred folde.
 Octipes, tipedis, om. g. haung eyght fete.
 Octo, eyght.
 October, bris, m. g. the moneth of October.
 Octoduri, Sepn and Walis in France.
 Octogenarius, a, um, of foure scoze in numbre, or foure scoze yeres olde.
 Octogenus, a, um, foure scoze.
 Octogesimus, a, um, the last of foure scoze.
 Octogies, foure scoze tymes.
 Octoginta, foure scoze.
 Octoiuges, eight couple.
 Octonus, a, um, the numbre of eight in sundry partes.
 Octophorum, ri, n. g. a letter bozne of bill men.
 Octuplicatus, a, um, eyght tymes double.
 Octuplus, octupla, um, eyght tymes as muche.
 Octusis, the weight of eight pownde.
 Oculatio, onis, f. g. the takinge away of superfluous buddes from a tree or vyne.
 Ocularus, a, um, full of eyes. also quicke spghited, circumspect, clypping a thyng thorowly.
 Ocularisimus locus, a place saype in spghite on all partes.
 Ocularus testis, a witnesse, whiche sawe the thyng.
 Oculus, a, um, full of eyes, wply, that seeth a thyng quickly.
 Oculisimus, he that seeth most clerely.
 Oculitus, aduerbium, euen aswell as ones eyes.
 Oculitus eam amat, he loueth hir as well as his owne eyes.
 Oculis, i, m. g. an eye. also a ponge budde of a tree.

Oculus captus, blynde.
 In oculis gestare, & in oculis esse & ferre, to loue one so muche that he can not be satisfied with beholding of hym.
 In oculis habere, to atende vpon one, or to be holde attentively of stedfastly.
 Vin' hodie facere quo tuo viro oculidolent? Wyt thou now do that, whiche shall make thy husbande lothe to see?
 Oculi eruditi, whan one knoweth whether a thyng be well dooen or no.
 Oculum exculpere, to scatche out ones eye.
 Oculis tollere, to begyn to be mery, to begyn to recupe.
 Intendere oculos, to set the eyes to beholde stedfastly.
 Oculis tenere, to make men to wonder at the excellent workemanship of a thyng.
 Hebetare oculos, to dull the spghit.
 Oculi emissi, eyes bolpyn out, and gasyng abrode. In oculis, id est, coram hominibus.
 Adjicere oculum alicui rei, to caste an eye, or to looke towarde a thyng, entending or countynge to haue it.
 Auertere oculos omnium in se, loke Auertio.
 Circumferre oculos, to looke rounde about.
 Conicere oculos in aliquem, to looke towardes one.
 Conrectari oculis, to be viewed or conspied. Somnium oculis expellere, to make that one can not sleape.
 Quorum in vultu habitant oculi mei, whom I alwaies beholde stedfastly.
 Oculis obuersari, to bee alwaies befoze ones eyes.
 Oculi, the blew spots in the feathers of a peacockes taylor.
 Oculis Christi, an herbe, whiche is also called Filius ante patrem.
 Oculis pichonis, the herbe storchas.
 Oculis iouis, the herbe Aizoum.
 Oculis caninis, the herbe called also canaria, houndes graspe.
 Ocyalus, a mans name in Homere.
 Ocymum, an herbe called Basil.
 Ocymum, a kynde of incense for brastres made of dyuers herbes or kindes of pulle, looke moze in Var. li. i. cap. 31. & in the annotations of Hieronimus, vpon Ios. li. 2. cap. 158.
 Ocyoides, looke Ocimoides.
 Ocyor, ocyssimus, swifte, quicke, light.
 Ocyete, one of the Harpeys.
 Ocyos, a nymphe.
 Ocyron, a ryuer in Arcadie.
 Ocyus, sooner, quickyer.
 Ocytime, verate quickly.
 Non ocyus quini, I coulde dooe it no sooner, or with no moze speede.
 Accipe a me ocyus, take of me quickly.
 Ocyssimus, a, um, most swifte.

Ode,

Ode, a songe.
 Odeum, ei, n. g. a place wherein singenge is exercised, an house of musike.
 Odacio, for Olfacio, to smell.
 Odi, odisti, odit, defectuum, I hate, haue hated, or dyd hate.
 Odi cum cane peius & angue, he hateth hym worse than a dogge or a serpente, as who sayth, moostly, without hope of reconcyng.
 Aperi odisse, to hate without dissimulation.
 Odinolentes, lytle ffishes, whiche cleaue to a ship, and maketh her to abyde, as though she lay at anchor. Vide Remora.
 Odiose, with hate, displeasantly, spitefully, with ill will.
 Odiosus, a, um, that is hated, displeasunt, hated, full, troublous, tedious, malapert, that molesteth or greuet.
 Odies, one of the sons of Arion, the Centaure.
 Odium, odii, n. g. hate, displeasure, tediousnesse, rancour, ill will.
 Odium, id est fastidium, tedium. Neque agri, neq; vrbis me odium ynquam percipit, I am neuer though wery neither of the countrey, nor yet of the citee.
 Odio esse, to be hated.
 Odium capere alicuius rei, to be offended or discontent with any thyng, to begyn to hate a thyng.
 Odium concitare, to procure hate or displeasure, to raise hatred or malice agaynst one.
 In odio omnibus esse, to be hated of all the world.
 Odio esse apud omnes, idem.
 Struere odium in aliquem, to make one to be hated or haue ill will.
 Hostili odio esse in aliquem, to hate one as his deadly enemy.
 Obscurum odium, private hatred.
 Odium mitigatur, deponitur, tenetur, sedatur. Odium studiorum facere, to make one hate study.
 Negotium quando odium ceperat, If he chaunged to be wery of his great labour and business.
 Suscipere odium alicuius in re aliqua, to be hated of one for a thyng.
 Quibus infinitum sit odium, whiche haue infinite hatred.
 Nunquam tuo odio vinces me, thou shalt neuer ouercome me with thy tedious importuntee.
 Odium, a mans name in Homere.
 Odeporicon, ei, n. g. an Itinerarie, wherein is written the distance of one place from an other, or a lyke thyng, as the restes of princes, are assigninge theyr iourneies.
 Odonides, an herbe growyn in meadowes, haung in the stalk many litle knottes, a purple flower, leaues somewhat longer then penny roisall: it is holisome against the toothache.
 Odo, vel odos, oris, m. g. saour, sent, and by translation, perceyving, vnderstandynge, or feeling of a thyng.
 Fœdus odor, a soule stynnyng saour.
 Grauis odor oris, a stronge breathe.
 Odores, plu. is of Columella taken for sweete gummes and spices, perfumes, sweete and pleasaunt smells.
 Expirare odorem dicitur res aliqua, to haue a saour.
 Differtum corpus odoribus, embaymed.
 Odores aliquo legum recreatus.
 Odoramen, ramus, and Odoramentum, i, n. gen. euerie thyng that saoueth well, also a saour, a perfume.
 Odorarius, rij, m. g. a maker or seller of thynge that smell sweete, a maker of perfumes.
 Odorarius, a, um, that belongeth to scete saoures.
 Odoratio, onis, f. g. a saourynge or smellynge.
 Odorator, oris, m. g. he that smellith or senteth out, also an hounde made to the suite.
 Odoratus, us, m. g. the smellynge or sent. Comes tyne for Odoratio.
 Odoratus, a, um, that whiche is perfumed, some tyme that whiche dooth saour, odoriferous or smellynge soote.
 Minime odorati flores, That haue small saour or none.
 Odoratae radices herba, that hath a veri soote roste.
 Vinum odoratum, odoriferous, haung a very pleasant saour.
 Odorifer, a, um, odoriferous or soote in saour.
 Odoriferus, a, um, idem.
 Odoriferus, qui, m. g. an hounde or spannell that hunteth by sent.
 Odoro, ari, are, to make to smell well, to make to haue a good saour, to perfume.
 Odoro, aris, ari, to smell, to perceyue.
 Odorare hanc quam ego habeo pallam, quid olet, smell to this gowne or robe that I haue. &c.
 Cibum odoratis, thou smellst meate.
 Odorari vestigiis, to draw as an hound dooth, to smell or scat by the tracke.
 Tu sagacius odorabere, thou shalt perceiue it better than I.
 Cupio odorari diligentius, quid futurum sit, I desyre to smell out, or to haue some vnderstandynge howe the matter will go.
 Degustare & odorari aliquem, To seele and vnderstand howe one is mynded or disposed.
 Festine odorari, to smell out thynges quickly.
 Odorus, a, um, that whiche sendeth forth saour, or hath a good saour.
 Odora canum vis, the qualitee or power whiche the dogges haue to take the sent.
 Odryce, people of Thrace.
 Odrysus, a, um, of that people, or of Thrace.
 Odyssea, a, f. g. a worke of Homere concernynge the great and perillous traualles of Ulysses.
 Odytes, loke Odites.

O E, idem quod forbus.
Oea, a citee of Africke.
Oeagrus, a ryuer in the countreie of Thracia. also the father of Ophius the poete.
Oeanthe, a citee. also the flower of a byne.
Oebades, kynge Darus housekeeper, by whose power he attayned to the kynge dome of Persia.
Oebalis, the countrey in Grece, called also Laconia.
Oebalides, patronim. masc. pro gentili, a man of Laconia.
Oebalis, lidis, patron. fem.
Oebalius, a, um, of Oebalia.
Oebalus, a kynge of Laconia.
Oechalia, a parte of Laconia, and a citee of the same name.
Oeci, places where women doo syt and worke either with sylke or woull.
Oecirines, a man of Argvve.
Oeconomia, a, f. g. the orderynge and proupyng of thynges concernynge householde. also an order in wrytyng, wherby euery thyng is set in his propre place.
Oeconómica, órum, n. g. plur. pertainynge to householde.
Oeconómicus, i, m. ge. he that can order and gouerne an house.
Oecos, id est domus.
Oeconómus, i, m. g. a guarde of householde.
Oecuménicus, a, um, vniuersall, pertainynge to all the worlde.
Oecumenicum consilium, a generall counsaile, wherein thynges are vniuersally treated concernynge all countreies.
Oedasticus, ci, he that is cunnyng in the knowlage of weightes and measures.
Oedema, an impostume or botche, comen of a fleumathike matter, in the whiche is no creke.
Oedipodionides, the daughter or nere of Desdipus.
Oedipodionius, ia, um, belongynge to Oedipus.
Oedipus, was by his father Laius, kynge of Thebes, delucred to his shepheard to kille. But he, pityng the chyld, made holes in his feete, and dyd hange hym on a bough, and bring to founde of Phorbas kynge of Corinthe, was brought to the queene, who lackynge chyl dren, brought hym by for hire sonne. Afterward in a charymisse vnnwyttyng, he slewe his owne father, & assoluyng the subryll riddles and questions of Sphinx the monster, he obtayned the kynge dome of Thebes, and the queene called Iocasta, whiche was his mother, by whom he had ii. sonnes, Polixenes and Ethioeles. But whan he knewe that he had slayne his father, and wedded his owne mother, for sorowe he scratched out his owne eyes.
Oemaus, the sonne of Mars, father of Hippodamia.
Oenantharion, the oyle called Oenanthinum.
Oenanthe, thies, f. g. the flower of a wyde byne, growing in hedges, called Labrusca. But Dioscorides lib. iii. saith, that it is an herbe, bearing a leafe like a pershepe, a white flower, a bygge stalk, an handbreadth high, fede like a cage, a great roote with many rounde brades. This herbe is also called Filipendula, and Saxifraga rubra. lib. v. he saith, .har it is the flower of a wyde vine. Doore after he saith, that it is the grasse of a wyde vine. Theodororus Gaza dooeth translate it Viridora.

Oenanthinus, a, um, made of þ herbe Oenanthe.

Oenanthinum oleum, an oyle made of the brayre of the wyde vine, or oiles of the herbe Oenanthe.

Oenanthia, a citee of Sarmatia, called nowe Sancta Sophia.

Oenas, a certaine birde of the biggenes of a culuer, whiche Gaza translateth, Vuago.

Oeneus, dissyllabum, the father of Hercules & Deianira the laste wyfe of Hercules, he was kynge of Calidonia.

Oeneus, and Oeneius, a, um, of Oeneus.

Oenides, the sonne or nephewe of Oeneus.

Oenigena, poredyng of wyne.

Oenitertia, was a certayne sacrifice at Athens, made by ponge men, newly bearded, whiche was doone before they dyd cut the haire that was longe, whiche sacrifice was in this wyse. A certayne measure of wyne was broughte into the temple of Hercules, wherof the ponge men drank a littell, and gaue the residue to all other that were present.

Oenocheus, a mountaine in Asike.

Oenochonus, a spure rennyng into Thessaly.

Oenocrotali, certayne rauensous birdes, of whiche Aelianus writeth, verie lyke to swannes, but that they haue a litle bench theyr mouth a gorge, in to whiche they swallowe theyr meate greedely, and after chaw it agayne.

Oenone, the concubine of Paris, before that he rauished Helene. also the herbe argemone.

Oenophorus, i, m g. a scruaunt that bypnyeth wyne to the boorde.

Oenophorum, i, a wyne pottle, flagon or bottle.

Oenopia, an yle called also Ogina. also a certayne rote.

Oenopides, an astronomer of Athens.

Oenopola, a, m. g. a taurner or vintner.

Oenopolium, ii, n. g. a wyne taurne.

Oenops, a mans name in Homere.

Oenothera, an herbe.

Oenotria, a countreie in Italy. some write, that Italy it selfe was so called of Oenotrus, an Itrelian.

Oenotrides, two ples nrygh to Calabria.

Oenotrius, and Oenotrus, a, um, of Oenotria.

Oenuria, an herbe, wherof if dogges and crows doe eate, it maketh them drunke.

Oestrum, i, n. g. madnesse or wood fury. also a flye that maketh a great noyse, whan he flyeth, some suppose it to be a dorre like to a bee, but that that he is blacke and greater . It semeth to be the fly called a blyse or hoise fly, by reason that it doth to ver cattal in sommer tyme.

Ocelypyn, i, n. g. the flythe oyle that is in woull that is in the flankes of a shepe, or about his nerke, whiche oyle is sodden out, and vsed for in decline.

Oeta, a mountayne betwene Thessalia and Maccedonia, where is the sepulchre of Hercules.

Oeta, the father of Medea, wyfe of Jason.

Oethini, people nere to Pontus.

Oetofcyros, in the Scythian tungue, the name of Apollo.

Oerus, the brother of Ephialtes the gygant.

O ANTE F.

O Ffa, x, form. gen. a puddyng. also a dyshe made with fatte brothe, harde cheese, pepper, and cynamome, or other lyke ynhar . Sometyme it is taken for a mozell, a gobbet, a piece of fleshe, as a steake or collop, or any lyke ptece, euery lytell ptece lyke paste or doue.

Ossa penita, a piece of fleshe cutte of, with the taple, the rumpe.

Ossa adipis, gobbetts of fleshe.

Formantur ossa, quibus aues saginantur, little rounde pteces to cramme capons.

Ossa & massa promiscue vtiur Columella .

Pulsis ossa, a litle gobbet or mozell of fleshe in potage.

Ossarius, & ossaria, a maker of luche tunkettes.

Ossatum, in osselles.

Ossector, oris. m. g. a dyer.

Ossella, x, for. g. a steake, a collop, a littell mozz felle or gobbet of fleshe mynced . also a portage made with pteces of fleshe, as stewed broth or forced gruell.

Ossella porcina, a collop of bacon.

Ossella bouina, a steake, or litle piece of brofe.

Offendiculum, i, n. ge. an impediment, a lette,
an obstacle, and by translation, a doubt.

Offendens, enus, om. n. g. that offendeth or dis-pleaseth. Sometyme for Offensus.

Offendimentum, idem quo i offendix.

Offendix, icis, for. g. a rband or lace, wherewith a bonet or hat is lnytte fast to the head : or rather the knot of a lace that fastneth the hatte to ones heade.

Offendo, di, ere, to mete with, to fall into, to fynde by chauce, to strepe or lye any thyng bware, to offende, to hurte, to empayre, to dw amuse, to displeafe.

Offendere apud aliquem, to doe a thyng which liketh not hym that seeth it down.

Latus offendere, to hurte his syde, or hit his syde against a thyng.

Offendimus eam mediocriter vestitam, we founde hir in pwee apparale.

Offendere scopulum, to hitte by chauce as gāynst a rocke.

 Offendere ad stipitem, to hurte hym selfe as gāynst a stumpe.
 Offendere aliquem, To displease, to discontent.
 Offendere alicui animum, idem.
 Offendere apud iudices, to pleade pl and not to please the iudges.
 Offendere aliquid in re aliqua, to fynde a faute in a thyng.
 Si in me aliquid offendistis, if you haue found any faute in me.
 Si quis est in quo offenderis, yf there be one in whom thou haste been deceyued, or whiche hath deceyued thyn expectation.
 Si quo in vitio eius offendimur, yf there be any faute in hym, whiche doeth displease vs.
 Offendebatur, he was greuously displeased.
 Minus offensor, I am the lesse angrie.
 Offendere in arrogantiam, to be arrogante, to offende in arrogancie and pryde.
 Offendit me loci celebritas, I can not away with the great haunt of people that resozteth to the place.
 Offendere valetudinem, to impayze or hurt
 the helth of the body.
 Si tantulum offensurum sit, If one chaunce to faile or doo amisse be it neuer to tpeell.
 Offensa, a, fœm. ge. an offence or displeasure,
 also blame.
 Offensa pro discordia, is otherwhyle vsurped of Salust.
 Offensam subire, to be in displeasure of one,
 to haue ones displeasure or yll wyll.
 Quom offensam vereretur, whan he was loth to displease.
 Mereri offensam, to doo a thyng wherewith one is offended.
 Sine gustus offensa; without displeasing of the tast.
 Nec offensa minus habent, neyther be those thynges lesse displeasing.
 In offensa esse apud aliquem, to haue displeased
 one, to haue ones displeasure.
 Offensaculum, li, n. g. that whiche is layed in a mans waie, wherat he stumbleth.
 Offensans, auis, that which hurteyth or letteth.
 Offensator, ôris, m. ge. he that flackereth in redyng, as though he were not perfecte in reasdyng, or readeth otherwise than it is wyten.
 Offensator equus, a stumbling horse.
 Offensio, onis, hurte or harme. sometyme displeasure or hatredte, that men beare towards
 one. sometyme the faute of hym that displeas-eth, discontentyng.
 Accipere and Sumere offensionem, To take displeasure agaynst one for any thyng.
 Deponere & omittre offensionem, contrary.
 In offensionem cadere, To come in ones displeasure.
 Nihil ex eo offensionis habiturum te, That you

pou shall be nothyng displeased or discontented therewith.

Offensiones belli, fautes in battayle.

Offensiones, incumbraunces, inconueniences, stoppes, lettes.

Offensio esse, to doo displeasure or harme, to greue, to molest. Betweene Offensio, and Offensa, semeth to bee this diuersitee, that Offensa, is in hym that offendeth or greueth. Offensio, in hym that is greued or offended.

Nam quod negas te dubitare, quin magna in offensa sim apud Pompeium hoc tempore, no video causam, cur ita sit hoc quidem tempore, Where ye doo not doubt, but that nowe at this tyme, I am in Pompeius great displeasure, Ife no cause why it shoulde be so at this present tyme.

Nec tantum intelligebam esse ei offensionis, quantum litera tua declarant, And I perceue not, that he was so muche displeased as your lettres make mention.

Offensionem subleuare.

Vna illa subleuanda offensio est, That one greue or offence is to be eased or holpen.

Offensionem oblitere, To pardon or forget an offence or displeasure.

Offensiones lenire. O multas & graues offensiones, quas quidem tu das operam vt lenias, Oh howe many and greuous displeasures bee dooen, whiche ye go about to mitigate or excuse.

Offensionem deponere.

Cum tantum litera mea poterunt, vt ijs letis, omnem offensionem suspicionis, quam habueras de Lisione, deponeres, Sene my letters myghte dooe so muche, that whan ye had redde them, ye dyd laie aparte all displeasures, whiche ye had agaynst Liso, engendred of suspicion.

Offensio pedis, stumblng.

Offensio & beneuolentia, contrari.

Coniectare vultu offensionem, to gesse that one is displeased by his countenance.

Offensione turpitudinis moueri, to take displeasure with a dishonest acte.

Inuidiam atque offensionem suscipere apud populum, to renne in the hatred and ill will of the people.

Offensionem negligentia vitare, to beware that he be not esteemed and reckned negligent.

Offensio totius ordinis, myscontentynge or displeasynge the whole order or compang.

Offensuicula, a, fcm. gen. a smalle offence or displeasure.

Offenso, aui, are, to hytte ofte or to let, to thraist agaynst a thyng, a thyng that displeaseth.

Offensum; i, n. ge. the faute in myscontentynge the audience.

Scio nihil vnquam fuisse tam infame, tam turpe, tam deniq omnibus generibus, ordinibus, etatibus offensum, quam huc statum qui nunc est, Knowe this for a surtee, that there was neuer thyng so reprochfull, so dishonourably so displeasunt to all sortes, degrees, and men of euery age, as this present state that nowe is.

Offensus, us, m. g. idem quod Offensa.

Offensus, a, um, hurte, annoied, displeased, offended. Sometime for iniurius, odious.

Offensus alicui, myscontente or angry with one.

Offensor, displeased, angry, somewhat moued. Pes offensus in porta, when one stumbleth. Pede offenso procumbere, to stumble and take a fall.

Offensio, fieri, ire, to stiffe or fyll.

Offero, obtruli, offerre, to offer or presente, to geue wyllynghly, to promyse.

Offerre auxilium, to promyse ayde.

Offerre cimen, to putte in a complaignt ad gaynst one.

Offerre incendium, to fyre a thyng.

Domus ardebat in palatio, non fortuito, sed oblato incendio, Wh house in the palace dyd bouene, not by any chance, but by fyre thurst in by some man.

Offerre mendiciatam, To hyngge one into pouertee.

Offerre religionem, to make one haue a streppl or doubt in conscience.

Si se in via obuiam obtulerit, occisum iri iam ab ipso Milone video, If he mete with Whito in the waye, I perceue he will slea hym.

Si nihil offeret se, quod sit probabilitati illi contrarium, If there appere nothyng contrary to that apparence of truthe.

Offerre se alicui, to present hym selfe to one, or to come befoze one.

Offerre spem, to put one in hope.

Offerre stuprum, To assaye by meanes to despyle a woman married or vnmarrid, to commit auoutrye.

Offerre moram, to lette.

Offerre se obuiam, to mete with one.

Offerre vitium virgini, to desloure a biergin.

Optime te mihi offers, you mete with me as well as can bee.

Osculum offerre, to proffer to hyple.

Offerre beneficium, to proffer to dooe one a pleasure or good tourne.

Offerre caput periculis, to putte his lyfte in daungier.

In discrimen vitam suam offerre, idem.

Negotiis alienis se offerre, to proffer hym selfe or meddle in other mens matters.

Oblatam mihi causam gaudeo, I am gladd that I haue an occasion.

Offerre se ad mortem pro patria, to offer hym selfe to dye for his countreie.

Se alacrem offerre, To come to one with a mery there.

Offerre se sceleris, aut dementie alicuius, id est

est opponere, to withstand, to resist.

Offerre iniuriam, to doo the fyfte iniury or wronge.

Offerre mortem hostibus, to slea his enemies.

In omnia suam offerens operam, proferynge to ayde them in all thynges.

Offerre iurandum, whan one proffeth to sweare for the profe of that he hath said.

Offermentum, strepes.

Ni offermentum habueris plures in tergo tu o, quam vlla naus longa clauos, tum ego ero mendacissimus, And yf thou haue not mo strepes on the kynn of thy backe, than a galy hath nayles: I shall be the falsest lye that euer was.

Offermentum, i, n. g. a thyng offered to god.

Officialis, le, pertaining to offices or duties.

Officialis, an officer, or rather a minister to a magistrare or officer.

Officina, a, f. g. a warthhouse, a shop. Sometime pro ipsa operatione, vel fabricatione, the mannyng or woorkemanshypp.

Officina nequitiae, & diuersorium flagitiorum.

Ex eadem officina venit, it was of the same mans dooynge.

Officiator, oris, m. g. Utitur? vseth for faber.

Officio, officis, feci, ficere, to hurt, sometime to doo, also to dye clothe.

Herba officinarum frugibus, the weedes hurte the coyne.

Officere luminibus, to stoppe the lyghtes.

Neuter alteri officiat, Leat not the one hurte the other.

Officiose, diligently, seruicablye, with a good will, redpyle.

Officius, a, um, frendely or seruicable, that is good to please, or that dooeth his dutie well.

Officius dolor, a greue that procedeth of a glad cause or reason.

Officium, ij, n. g. office, dutie of ones behauiour in hyngge towards euery man, that one is bounde to doo by reason and honestie, & a thyng that ought to be done. It is sometime taken for honoure dooen to one, and it may bee vset for that whiche we doo call homage dooen in suche forme as our law dooth appoynt it. It is also taken for benefite, pleasure, seruite and a good tourne.

Officium vfurpare, to doo his dutie.

In officio esse, to dooe his dutie, to applye diligently his office or roume, to dooe that one ought to doo.

Multaque & magna inter nos officia paria & mutua intercedunt, Betweene vs haue been sondry and great pleasures of lyhe importance dooen one to an other.

Officium promereri, to doo pleasure.

Non conuenit enim, cum ego ad promerendum officium tam fuerim expeditus, vos ad referendam gratiam esse tardiores, It is not reason, that lens I was so ready to doo ydd pleasure, ye shoulde be so slacke to do lyhe wylle for me.

Officio fungi, to dooe his indelible or dutie, to applye his office.

Officium praeferre, Officium conferre, idem quod officium promereri, to do seruice, to do a good turne or honest pleasure.

In officio continere, to kepe hym his frende.

Officij causa prosequi aliquem, to kepe company with one, to doo hym honoure or weorshypp.

Officia mutua, mutuall pleasures that frendes shewe one to an other.

Officium facere, to doo ones dutie.

Suprema officia, funerall obsequies.

Supremis in matrem officij deesse, not to hyng his mother tolemely to the earth.

Summo officio praeferus homo, a man of right honest behauiour, a man that doeth in all thynges accordyng to honestie and reason.

Suprema officia celebrare, to keepe the funtall obsequies.

Colere officium, to endeuore to doe with diligence all thynges that honestie requireth.

Delegatum alicui officium, an office or charge appoynted to one.

Deferere officium, not to dooe that he shoulde do, to be slacke in doing his office and dutie.

Detrectare officium, to refuse to do his dutie.

Officij duxit, he thought it parte of his dutie.

Neque pes, neque mens satis suum officium facit, neither my feete nor my wit serueth me be rate well.

Fungi supremo in aliquem officio, to hyngge one honourably to the earthe.

Meminis officium suum, he remembereth well what he hath to doo.

Perfoluere officium receptum alicui, to doo that pleasure for one that he hath promysed and undertaken.

Nunc tuum est officium, now it is thy parte.

Hominis sanctus officium, doynge the office and part of an honest and frendly man.

Intermittere officium, to let slyp some part of that one shoulde doo.

Quanto semper in meis rebus officio fuisti, How great pleasure and seruice you haue dooen me alwaies in myne affayres.

Officiorum impensam facere, to dooe many pleasures for one.

Officij amplecti aliquem, to shewe many pleasures and muche frendly seruice to one.

Officij prosequi, to dooe dyuers good pleasures for a man.

Officium tribuere, to doo a good tourne.

Non deero officio, I wyl not sayle to dooe my dutie, or to doo that I ought to doo.

Mea officia ei non defuisse, tu es testis, You are sufficient witnesse that I haue not sayled to doo for hym suche honest pleasures, or suche frendly seruice as I coulde doo.

Offigo, affigis, offixi, offigere, to fasten and take surety.
Offirmo, aui, are, to abyde in one purpose or opinion, to be obstinate. Ioke Offirmo.
Offecto, xi, tere, to tourne a thyngge contraye, or aboute.
Offoco, aui, are, to choke, to strangle, to styde.
Offringo, gi, ere, to breake with a plough, land eared before, to breake contrary wyse.
Offucia, x, f. g. and offucia, arum, for. g. plur. cautels, crafty waies to deceiue, baine shewes of apparances of thynges.
Offuco, aui, are, to put water or other lyoure into a mans mouth, to sucke downe, as they vse to sucke men, whiche for feblenesse can not of them selues take any sustenance.
Offula, offula, f. g. a littell morsell or gobbet of breade or of meate, as a siche, a collop.
Offundo, fudi, ere, to poure aboute, to make darke or blynde, to staine, to caste in or bypunge in. Offundere errorem alicui, to abuse or deceyue one.
Obscurare & tenebras offundere.
Noxem & tenebras offundere rebus, To make thynges darke, obscure, and harde to perceyue.
Offulco, aui, are, to make blacke or darke, to shadowe or make duske.
Offusus, a, um, poured about or vpon.
Offusus terror oculis auribusque, feare was bothe at his eyes and eares.
Offusa animis caligo, theyr myndes were made blynde.

O ANTE G.

Ogdas, adis, the numbze of eight.
Ogdolapis, a tyuer, whiche cometh out of the hylls called Alpes, and renneth to Rome.
Ogdous, a kyng of Egypt, whiche fyrst buylded the citee of Memphis.
Oggannio, iui, ire, to prate, to bzaule, to speake with chiding.
Oggero, oggeris, fsi, ere, to cast in or sette.
Oculos oggerere, to cast or set the eyes on one.
Oggrassari, to go.
Ogygea, an yle betwene Phenicia and Syria, where Calpe dwelled, whiche deteined with hir Alcyon.
Ogyges, he that fyrst buylded the citee of Thebes.
Ogygidæ, Thebans.
Ogygius, a, um, made or founde by Ogyges.
Ogyris, an yle in Syria.

O ANTE H

OHe, an exclamacion, signifiynge that he, whiche speaketh that woorde, is factate and weerie of that whiche he seeth or heareth.

Oh, an interiection, signifiynge a cry, when one meeteth with his friende, whom of long tyme he hath not seene. Sometime it is used in merueyng with a conceipt, sometime in affirming some tyme in comfortyng. Sometime in reioysing.
Oho, an interiection of incruailpynge, or of knowyng a thyng with ioy and gladnesse.

O ANTE I.

Icles, the sonne of Antiphatas.
Oileus, a kyng of Aoriss, father to Jig.
Oilides, the sonne of Oileus.
Oinomeli, wyne and honny sodden together.
Ois, the scruis tree.

O ANTE L.

Lbia, a citee of Bardon called Eres.
Olcachites, the bosome of the sea in the prouince called Zeugitana.
Olea, x, f. g. the fruit of an oliue, or an olive tree.
Atrondere oleas, to prune or cune oliuettres.
Inspergere oleam sale, to cast salte vpon the oil when it is eaten.
Oleaceus, a, um, oyle, lyke vnto oyle.
Oleacum, a colour whiche is mixte with greene, blacke, pelowe, and whie.
Oleago, the herbe chamelæa.
Oleagineus, a, um, idem quod Oleaginus.
Oleaginus, a, um, of an olyue tree, or of the colour of an olyue.
Olearis, re, and Olearius, a, um, pteynng to oyle.
Olearia cella, a celloure for oyle, a place where oyle is made.
Olearius, rij, m. g. a maker or seller of oyle.
Olearius, one of the ples called Cyclades.
Oleatellus, a diminutiue of Oleaster.
Oleaster, i, f. g. a wyld olyue.
Oleastreffe, a kynde of blacke leade.
Oleastrinum, ni, n. g. oyle made of wyld olyues.
Oleatrum, a towne of Spayne.
Oleatus, a, um, infected with oyle.
Oleitas, tatis, f. g. the tyme of gatherynge of olyues.
Olecranon, ni, n. g. the elbow.
Oleomel, a thyngge lyke honny, that dweth out of a tree.
Olenus, ni, a mans name.
Olenus, a citee of Arcadia, where the gote, with whose mylke Jupiter was nourished, was brought vp, and therefore the signe of heres (whiche was supplid to bee the same gote) is named Olenia.
Olenius, a, um, of Olenus.
Olentica, thynges, whiche haue an yll sauour.
Oleo, leui, olèum, or olui, olui, ère, to sauour, to haue sauour, to smell. Sometime to stinke.
Olent illa supercilia maliciam, these browes of shyne, or that sturdy looke, dooe signifie, that thou thou art malicious.

Aurum huic olet, this felowe smelleth that I haue money.
Iucunde olere, To haue a sweete sauoure, to smelle pleasantly.
Bene olere, to haue a good sauour, to smelle well.
Male olere, to synke, to sauour yll.
Rosa refens a longinquo olet, a rose newly gathered, is smelled a farre of.
Hircum olere, to synke lyke a gote.
Mirham olet, it sauoureth of myrrer.
Nihil olebant, they had no sauour at all.
Oleofus, a, um, full of oyle, all oyle.
Oleaceus, a, um, lyke to pot herbes, or of pot herbes.
Olesco, scere, to growe.
Oleare, to corrupte or make synnyng. Leg. xij. tabul.
Ne quis aquam oletario dolo malo, vbi publice salit Si quis oletarit, Sestertiorum decem millium multa esto, No man by crasse cozzypt water, where it synnyngeth to a comon vse, he that dweth cozzypt it, shall forsaite ten thousand Sestertius, whiche doo amount of our money to. xlv. li. xiii. s. viii. d.
Oletum, i, n. ge. a place where olyues do grow. also the dunge or ordure of a man, properly it is a draught or lakes.
Oleum, olei, n. g. oyle.
Oleo tranquillior, more mylde or quiete than oyle. Se the proverbe in Chil. Eras.
Oleum cibarium, meate oyle.
Oleum & operam perdere, to lose labour and cosse.
Oleum, is used for exercise or practise of consuetudine of fyghtyng.
Olfacto, olfactis, feci, ere, to smell, to sauour or smell out, to understande, to perceyue.
Olfactrix, icis, for. gen. that maketh a sauour or smelle.
Olfacto, aui, are, to smell muche or often.
Olfactorium, rij, n. g. a poscie or nose gate.
Olfactus, us, m. g. the sense of smellyng.
Oluba, a towne of Spayne, called communely, Olit.
Olibantum, ti, n. g. a measure of wyne.
Olicana, a towne in Englande, called Byzheby.
Olidas, olida, um, that which hath great sauour, epyther god or had, most communely synnyng.
Oligarchia, x, f. g. the state of a comune weale, where a fewe persons be in authoritee.
Oligarchici, they which woulde haue a fewe persons beare rule.
Oligochloron, idem quod capparitis.
Oligoron, idem quod Apocynon.
Olim, sometime, in tyme past, tyme out of mynd, in tyme to come, nowe late, longe tyme past, ones it is also spoken of the tyme present, cuen. sometime for Aliquando, or quandoq; as, Anticus quidam olim nau fracta, &c. a good while sens.

Vt pueris olim dant crustula blandi doctores. &c.
Hac olim meminisse iunabit, It shall delyste vs, or doo vs good in tyme to come to remembze these thynges.
Olina, the herbe Ebulus.
Olitor, oris, m. g. a gardener or seller of herbes and rootes.
Olitorius, a, um, pteynng to a potte garden or potte herbes.
Oliua, x, f. g. an olyue tree. Sometime the fruite of olyues.
Oliuarius, a, um, pteynng to an olyue tree.
Oliueta, the tyme of gatherynge of olyue bearies, after Calentine.
Oliuetum, i, neu. gen. a place where olyue trees do growe.
Oliuifer, oliuifera, rum, that beareth olyues.
Olinina, x, f. g. plentie of olyues, also reuenues whiche doo come of olyues.
Oliuitas, atis, the fruite of olyues, the gatherynge tyme of olyues.
Oliuo, aui, are, to gather olyues.
Oliuum, i, n. g. oyle olyue.
Olla, x, for. gen. a potte, also a faute in an oliue tree.
Olla fictilis, an earthen potte.
Ollaris, re, of a potte, or that is kept in a potte.
Ollares, grapes conserved in pottes.
Ollaria, x, f. ge. a kynd of mixt bzaile or coppet.
Olli, for illi.
Ollie, for illic.
Ollus, olla, ollum, for ille, illa, illud.
Ollus, a mans name that was a great marker of other mens fautes.
Ollula, la, f. g. a littell potte.
Oloconitis, an herbe mentioned in Hippocr. whiche some thinke to be that, whiche is called Myle, or moly.
Olocimus color, a diuerse colour.
Olochrisum, the herbe Semperuiuum.
Olocyron, chamæpytis.
Olophyton, capparitis.
Olophernes, chiefe constable to the great Nabuz godonosor kyng of Assyrians, a valyaunt capitayne, not withstanding ( beyng ouer charged with wyne, and to muche trustyng in the beaus tee and pleasaunt speche of the hebrewew lady Judith ) he was by hir slayne in his bed, & had his head stricken of, and broughte to his enemies, before the incarnation of Christ yeres.
Ololygones, crokyng frogges.
Olor, oris, m. g. a swanne.
Olorinus, a, um, of a swanne: as Cantus oloris nus, the synnyng of a swanne.
Olus, oleris, n. ge. herbes, whiche serue for potteage, potte herbes, and figuratiuely it is used for poyze fare.
Olusacrum, tri, n. g. an herbe called Alfander.
Oluscum, li, n. g. small herbes.

Olympia, a citie betwene the hilles of Ossa, and Olympus.

Olympia, drum, solemne plaies & games kepte in Grece to the honour of Jupiter Olympius, or after some in the honour of Hercules.

Olympiacus, a, um, perteynyng to that playes of hyl.

Olympias, piadis, the space of fiue yerres, wher by the olde grekes dyd accompte, as we dooe nowe, by the yerres of our lorde, as the fyrste Olympias, the second, the thirde. Olympias, is also the name of Alexanders mother, and a wynde blowyng in Eubodia. Clareanus writeth, that Olympias is the space of iiii. yerres, and that they, which take and write other wise, are deceyued.

Olympicus, a, um, of Olympus.

Olympicum certamen, was a game of ppyce kept on the hyl of Olympus, by all the princis and citizes of Grece euery fift yere, in the honour of Hercules, who fyrste began it. In the whiche were all these maistries pzed. Rennyng on foote to a golle. also rennyng forth and backe agayne two furlonge. also wastlyng, fightyng with spyttes, rennyng with hoyses, and leappng from the one to the other, courtynge with chasporttes, rennyng with mares: but so as in the myddell of the course, he that dyd ryde, shulde leape downe, & holdyng fast the byddell, shulde make an ende of his course. There was also contention and victorie of poetes, rhetoricians, musicians, and subtille disputers. In the place dyd growe a wynde olyue tree, wherof garlands were made, and geuen to the victours, here vnto assembled: In the whiche tyme epythe warre was appoynted, or leagues concluded.

Olympionices, or Olympionics, he that hath had victorie in the games at Olympus.

Olympius, a, um, heavenly.

Olympus, a mountayne or hille in Grece, betwene Thessalia, and Macedonia, about the whiche appereth no cloude: & therfore among the poetes it is vsurped for heauen. Plutarchus in vita Aemilij, saith, that it is .x. furlongs in height.

Olynchi, wilde figges that be neuer ripe.

Olynthus, a citie nere Athens.

Olyra, ra, f. ge. a kynd of wheate, wherof they make bett white breade.

Olyras, a ryuer in Grece, by the place called Thermopylae.

Olyssippum, a citie in Portugall, nowe called Vlisbona, in englishe Lissaboyne.

Masum, si, n. g. a fat gut or chitterlyng.

Ombria, a stone, whiche some call notiam, and fallerly with lightenyng or chunderyng.

Ombrii, people nere to Illyricum.

Omen, ominis, n. gen. the lucke of some thyng to come, gathered of some woode or sayng before spoken. also a word or sentence soberly spoken, after the whiche some thyng happeneth to folowe accordyng therunto, about the expectacion of them whiche herde it, foretelling.

Optimis ominibus, with verie good lucke, in a verie good houre.

In omen accipere, To take or interpretate a thyng, as a token of godd lucke or happe.

Dextrum and sinistrum omen, contrarie.

Omentum, ti, neu. gen. the call or sewer, wherin all the bowelles are lapped, also the thyn thyn in the head, wherin the brayne is conteyned, of some called the ryme of the brayne, and of others geans Pia mater.

Omentatus, a, um, myrt with sewer.

Ominatús, a, um, unlucke.

Omino, ominas, au, are, was bled of olde wyrters for Ominor.

Ominor, aris, ar, to gesse what shall happen or folowe, to forspake, to speake a thyng luckly, or unluckly.

Bene ominari, to speake luckly.

Male ominari, to speake unluckly.

Ominator, oris, m. ge. he that telleth a mannes lucke or fortune good or ill.

Ominofus, a, um, lucky or unlucke, that portendeth good or ill lucke.

Omissus, a, um, left, not medled with.

Vbi te vidi animo esse omissio, whan I sawe that thou caredst for nothyng, or wast negligent.

Omissis iocis credo, in earnest I doe beleue.

Omissior ab re, he that is nothing solicitous to gather riches.

Omitto, omisi, omittere, to forbeare, to leaue, to neglect, to leat passe, to omit, to put away.

Omitte hunc, leat hym alone, pardon hym.

Omitte me, lette bee, lette me alone.

Omitte iracundiam, be angry no moze, leaue your anger, appease your selfe.

Omitte solitudinem, care not for it, put it awaye your carefullnesse.

Omitte timorem, bee not ascard.

Omitte de ea re dicere, speake no moze of that matter.

Id omitto, I will not speake therof.

Vt omitam de eo plus loqui, that I may let passe, and speake no moze of hym.

Omitte hunc, pardon this man & let hym go.

Omnifariam, all maner of waies, of euery kynde.

Omnifer, ra, rum, that beareth all thynges.

Omnifarius, a, um, sundry, dyuers.

Omnigenus, a, um, of euery kynde.

Omnimodus, a, um, all maner.

Omnimodis, all maner of waies.

Omnimode, idem.

Omnino, wholly, throughtly, all together, utterly, alwaies, synally, onely.

Om

Omnino in familia non erat, he in no maner of wyse was in the house.

Miserima est omnino ambitio, ambitio is utterly the most miserable thyng that can be.

Omnino omnis eruditiois experts, utterly without all learnyng.

Omnino leuitatis est, it is utterly a pointe of light behauiour.

Unum omnino sibi nequaquam parem, a man lyke to hym in nothyng, or nothyng to be compared to hym selfe.

Nihil omnino, nothyng at all.

Qui omnino nusquam reperiuntur, which be found in no place at all.

Omnino omnium horam incommodorum vna cautio est, to see thys, for all these incommodities there is no remedye at all but onely thys.

Quinque omnino fuerunt, id est tantummodo, there were fyue and no mo.

Omnino, for etiam, and Sed omnino, for Seditam.

Non modo tantam causam perorare, sed omnino verbum facere conari, not onely to plead so great and weightie a matter to the ende, but also in any wyse to endeuore to speake one woode.

Aut omnino cogitare, or in any wyse to think.

Omniparens, entis om. g. father or mother of all thynges.

Omniparens terra, the earth bringeth forth all thynges.

Omnipotens, entis, om. g. almyghty.

Omnis, ne, om. g. all in numbere. Sometyme for Tous.

Omnibus partibus, all maner of wayes, to all partes.

Omniratione, idem.

Causa omnis, id est, vniuersa, all the wholle matter.

Omnibus astatibus, id est, singulis, euery sonner.

Omne genus, & omnis generis, of all sortes.

Omnem tulit punctum, he touched euery point, spoken of hym, whiche omiteth nothing needfully or expedient.

Omnibus horis, euery houre.

Diferunt omni modo, they varye in all thynges.

Omnibus numeris, in all pointes.

In tamem, vt nostri omnibus partibus superis ores essent, but yet so that our men had the byper hande in all thynges.

Res omnibus numeris absoluta, a thyng persure in all pointes.

Sine omni periculo, withoute any daungier at all.

Omni quinquennio, the wholle fyue yerres space.

Eo tempore omni, all that tyme.

Omnies tres, all thre.

Ad omne tempus, for euer.

Omnibus precibus orabant, they desyred me very earnestly, or with very great intercession.

Omnivagus, a, um, wanderyng euery where.

Omnivorus, a, um, that deuoureth and eateth all kynde of thynges.

Onologia, conuenientia.

Omolata, two broade bones, goyng from the necke to the shulders on both sydes, called in last tyme scapula opera.

Omomelida, amamelida, vel apamelida, a kynd of very plesant peares without core, after a kynd of wildinges called Pomnis de bops.

Omphacinus, a, um, that is made of grapes, or other frutes not rype.

Omphacinum vinum, a Greene wine, not pleasant of sweete.

Omphacinum oleum, oyle made of olyues, not beynge rype.

Omphaciso, au, are, to wat slower.

Omphacium, cij, ne. ge. a lycour made of frutte that is not rype, as of grapes, and than it is called veruoyce. It is also of other frutes and flowers.

Omphagi, they whiche doo cate rawe fleshe.

Omphax, acis, a grape not fully rype.

Omphacomeli, a cyrupe made with the iuyce of Greene grapes and honye. They make it nowe aduices with the sayde iuyce and sugar, and doe call it Syrupus de agresta.

Omphale, a mayden, whiche was quene of Lydia, whom Hercules dyd serue, and she caused hym to spinne on a roche.

Omphalocarpus, i, idem quod Aparine, looke there.

Nager, onagri, m. g. a wilde asse.

Ona, sweete fygges.

Onchiston, a place in the marches of Chebes.

Onchos, chi, m. g. ore dunge.

Onerarius, a, um, that whiche scrueth for bourgeyne.

Onero, oneras, au, are, to charge, burdeyne, or lade.

Onerare populum, to put impositions or taxes on the people.

Annonam onerare, to make coyne decre.

Mensam onerare epulis, to set very many dyshes on the table.

Remittas iam me onerare iniurijs, ye would cease to ouerlade, charge, or cumbye me with unreasonable charge.

Maledictis onerare, to rate, to raile at, to geue many shrewde woordes.

Laudibus onerare, to geue great pryse, to praise exceedingly.

Mendacijs onerare, to helpe one shamefully.

Præceptis onerare, to charge with many thynges.

res

ges, to geue many instructions and commands dementes.
Promissis onerare, to promise one many thynges, to make many great promises to one.
Pugnis onerare, to buffet and thumpe one with his fistes.
Onerari imaginibus, whan the famous mozic of our auncestours doth in maner bynde or constrainge vs to doo honourably.
Onerare latitia, to make excedyng ioyous and gladd.
Oneratus, a, um, burdeined, laden, ouercharged.
Onerarius, a, um, that wheron burdeyn is layd.
Oneraria naues, shippes whiche serue for burdeyne, they maie bee taken for hulkes.
Onerolus, a, um, burdeynous, chargeable, bestrait heavy.
Onesicritus, a philosopher, and an historiographer of Aegina.
Onesimus, a learned man in the tyme of Constantine Magnus.
Oniropolos, he that interpreteth an other mans dreames, or visions: or he that expoundeth his owne dreames.
Oniscus, ci, m. g. a woozme, which bendeth him selfe lyke a bowe whan he goeth, whiche is red, and founde vnder trees, which haue lyeen longe on the grounde.
Oniscos, a fische, whiche is called also Acellus, or Galaria: it is also an instrument that surgious doe vse.
Onistis, the herbe Apocynon.
Onitis, a kinde of ornament: Ruellius doubteth, whether it be sticas Arabica.
Onixes, a kinde of marble.
Onobletum, an herbe like a tunge, medicinable for the flowers in women.
Onobrychis, a certayne herbe growyng by welles.
Onochelos, an herbe of the kinde of Anchusa, haung a purple flower, rough leaues, a roote in haruest tyme redde, at other seasons blacke.
Onoba, a citie of Spayne.
Onocardion, quasi asinus carduus, a kinde of tassiles.
Onoclea, the first kinde of Anchusa.
Onocentaurus, a beaste, halfe a man, halfe an asse.
Onocrotalus, li, m. g. a byrde lyke to a swanne, which puttyn his head into the water, brayeth lyke an asse.
Onophillon, the herbe Anchusa.
Onogyros, a rough and sharpe herbe holsum agaynst poison.
Onopetation, idem quod Onitis.
Onothero, idem quod Onothera.
Onomatopcia, a, f. g. a word made of sowne, or pronouncynge, as bleatynge of a shepe, lowyng of a cowe, hyssynge of an adder.
Ononis, nidis, f. g. an herbe full of pyckes, a leaf lyke rue, growing comonly amonge roze, it letteth the plough: and therefore is called, harrowe, or Canimocke: in Lambige there, a whypne.

Ononium, nij, n. g. a blynde nettell.
Onobalistura, a citie of Spayne.
Onocidice, a kinde of galle, that be great and holow, not of so good effecte as the lesse.
Onos, a kinde of Locusts, whiche is called Sus thus.
Onus, oneris, n. g. a burdeyn, a lode, a charge geuen to one, or that one taketh on hym.
Oneri esse, to be chargeous to one.
Onus deponere, to discharge one.
Onus imponere, to geue to one in charge.
Oneri preni, to be to muche charged, to be ouer charged.
Onere opprimi, to be once charged.
Onus suscipere, to take charge.
Onus tollere, to beare charge of burdeyn.
Onus sustinere, idem.
Considerare sub onere, to falle downe vnder ones burdeyn.
Onus ciborum reddere, to auoyde the excedmentes of nature.
Curium onus sustinco: Why doo I your duntie?
Nostrum est onus, The charge is ours.
Onustus, a, um, loded, charged, burdeyned.
Onustus vigo, ouercharged with wyne, duntie.
Onychipuncta, a precious stone, called also laspionix, white of colour, with redde strakes.
Onyx, onychis, m. & f. g. a whete stone lyke to a mans nape. also come bee founde in India, whiche are of dyuers colours, haung white spottes lyke vnto eies, it is supposed of some men to bee that, whiche is called Conchula India.
Onyx, is also the herbe Astragalus. also a kinde of precious marble, wherof cuppes were wont to be made.
Onychinus, a, um, made of the stone Onyx.
Onychitis, a kinde of Cadmia.

Oona, fies in the nozthe ocean, wher the inhabitantes doo lyeue with egges of foules.
Oopellum, a towne in England called Sheffeld.

Opa, the herbe Onobrychis.
Opacitas, atis, f. g. shadowe of trees or vmbryage.
Opaco, aui, are, to shadowe, to make darke, as it is in wooddes vnder trees.
Opacus, a, um, shadowed, or in the shadowe.
Opalum, li, a precious stone, haung the properties of dyuers stones.
Opella, diminutive of opera, Opera,

Opera, opera, f. g. warke, labour, diligence, payne, trauayle.
Opera, plural tantum, workmen, slaues hyred to doo a thyng, labourers, factours.
Opera est, for opus est, it is neede, it nedeth.
Operamea, tua, sua, by myne, thyne, or his meanes.
Operam perdere, to labour in vayne, to lese ones labour.
Operam ludere, idem.
Operam ponere, to take labour and payne as bout a thyng.
Operas reddere alicui, to paie one his hyre.
Orestes & Lycurgus vna opera mihi sunt fodaes, qua iste, Orestes and Lycurgus be as well my companions as he.
Haec censuam istarum esse operarum parum, I byd not thynke that my father medled with these matters.
Spero alicunde hodie me bona opera aut mala, tibi inuenturum esse auxilium argentiarii, I truste that ones to day I shall by good meanes of badde, fynde some monie to helpe the with.
Operam do, operam impendo, operam nauo, I dooe myne endeuore, I put to my diligence, I spende my labour.
Operam impendere & dependere, To take payne about a thyng.
Multam operam conferre, to bestow great labour and payne, to study or labour muche.
Operam dabat veteri domino, he serued his olde master.
Ego istuc ætatis non amori operam dabam, when I was of this age I byd not bestowe my tyme, or set my mynde on wanton loue.
Dare operam funeri, to bee at ones interment or buryng.
Liberis operam dare, to geat chylidren.
Dare operam alicui, To dooe one seruice, to helpe hym in his busynesse.
Dare operam praeceptor, id est, audire, to heare his mayster, to learne of hym.
Dare operam rebus diuinis, to bee at diuine seruice.
Dare operam tonsori, to bee shauen.
Dare operam alicui dicitur iudex, whan he heareth one attentuely, and maketh good expedition in his cause.
Operam dare iuris ciuilibus studio, to study the lawe cause.
Dare opera facere, to dooe a thyng of pouer pose, or for the nonces.
Si videam tibi operam esse, yf I may se you occupied, or if that ye haue any thyng to doo.
Non opera est sceledro, Sceledrus is ybell, and hath nothyng to dooe.
Opera experti, To proue by the effect that a thyng is so.
Quibus opera est trahere bellum, which haue beede, or to whom it is expedient to prolonge the warre.

Exigere plenam operam, To require a full taskie. Bene ponere operam, to bestowe his labour well.
Operam orationis compendi facito, speake the thyng in fewe wordes, telle it bryefely.
Cui opera vita erat, whiche lyued by his labour. Cur tu operam grauari mihi: why art thou lothe to healepe me: or why dooest thou grudge to helpe me?
Locare operam alicui, to labour for hyre or wages.
Opera succissua, the byre labour that one beest stoweth in thynges of no great necessitee.
Proferre operam, to promysse to helpe one.
Dare operam memoria alicuius, to kepe and preserue the memorie of a man.
Iam mihi videor nauasse operam, nowe me thynketh I haue obtayned my purpose.
Tradere operas mutuas, to helpe one an other, to dooe one for an other.
Eadem opera, with one labour or trauayle.
Opera Clodiana pontes occuparunt, The clients, hyred seruantes, or slaues of Clodius us, or those that Clodius had hyred, kept the byddges.
Operaprecium, cij, neut. gene. the rewarde or profyte of ones labour, a thyng profitable or expedient, necessary or conueniente, honeste, or ioyous, a thyng worthye to bee esteemed and sette by.
Audire est operaprecium, it is a word to heare.
Est operaprecium cognoscere, it is a thyng woorthye the knowlage.
Operaprecium est considerare, it is a thyng woorthye to be considered and marked.
Magna operaprecia mereri, To haue great wages in warfare.
Operaprecium est, It is a thyng woorthye the payne.
Quia vix operaprecium erat, because they shoulde haue had great trauayle, and little or no profyte, or because the thyng was scante woorth the payne that shoulde haue been taken about it.
Si nihil, quod est operaprecium, fecerant, yf they had doen nothyng that was of any value.
Operaria, a, f. g. the feminine.
Operarius, nij, m. g. a labourer, a workman.
Operarius, a, um, that whiche is dooen with labour, or pertyneth to labour or warke.
Homo operarius, a woorkman, a labourer, a craftes man.
Lapides operarij, stones that maye bee wrought on, and made fitte for buyldynge.
Pecus operarium, beastes used to tillage, cartiage, and other necessary busynesse.
Operatio, onis, f. g. woorthynge, sacrificynge.
Operatus, a, um, wroughte, sacrificed.
Eo tempore, quo corpus additum atq; operarum reipub, esset, during the tyme that the body shall be employed about serving the common weale.

 Operculo, aui, are, to cover a vessel.
 Operculum, li, n. g. a heueryng of lydde.
 Operimentum, ti, neu. gene. any thyng that couereth.
 Operio, operis, operui, operire, to couer of hyde, to shutte, to close.
 Ostium operuere, they shutte the dooze.
 Luctum operire, to dissemble and hyde ones mourning.
 Operior, riris, riri, to bee heuered or shutte.
 Operor, aris, ari, to woozke, to labour, to endeavour, to geue diligent studye to a thyng, to studie.
 Operari, is sometyme vsed to sacrifice with great reuerence.
 Operatio, onis, the woozke, or that, where about a man labourerth. also solemne sacrificyng.
 Operose, difficultely, with great labour and busynesse.
 Operositas, atis, f. g. trauaylyng.
 Operosus, a, um, busy, diligent in labouryng, laborious, paynfull. sometyme passiuely, that one labourerth on.
 Res operosa est, It is a mattier that requirerth muche payne: It is a harde and paynfull mattier.
 Facilis & operosus, contrary.
 Colonus operosus, laborious, paynfull.
 Operosa herba, of great efficacie and strength in wozyng.
 Agri operosi, that require great labour.
 Opero, aui, are, to couer often.
 Operitorium, rij, n. g. a coueryng.
 Operum, ti, n. g. a thyng couered.
 Operus, a, um, couered.
 Operu prada, id est onusti.
 In opero esse, to be couered or hydde, to bee inclosed, to kepe his house, & not com abrode.
 Esse opero capite, To weare a cappe or other thyng on ones head, to haue the head couered.
 Operus dedecore, shamefully diskeyned.
 Operis oculis aliquid facere, to doo a thyng bynde side.
 Non est ratiois operæ, The reason why is euident and playne.
 Operum, and apertum, contrary.
 Operaneus, a, um, dooen within doozes or bynder couer.
 Operanea sacra, sacrifices dooen within doozes, and not abrode.
 Operula, diminutive of opera.
 Ope, opum, opibus, looke Ops, opis.
 Ophelus, the sonne of Lyncurgus, slayne by a serpent.
 Ophicardelus, a precious stone of colour blacke, diuided with two white lines.
 Ophiaca, perteynyng to serpentes, they were bookes, whiche Alexander, & Ptolemy wrote, of the nature of serpentes.

 Ophidion, di, n. g. a fythe lyke a congre.
 Ophiglossum, si, neu. g. an herbe, called in English the serpentes tonge, or adders tonge.
 Ophigenium, nij, neu. ge. an herbe, called also Elaphoboscus, whiche hath strength agaynst serpentes.
 Ophiostemon, idem.
 Ophiogenes, people in Hellespont, which heale the styngenge of serpentes with touchyng the place.
 Ophion, one of Adamus companions.
 Ophioneus, the name of a soothsayer.
 Ophiophagi, people in Aethiopia, whiche doe eate serpentes.
 Ophiostaphilos, vitis alba, looke Impetoleuce.
 Ophiostaphyle, a shrubbe like the blacke berry tree, called in latine Serpentinus vva.
 Ophis, the herbe dracunculus.
 Ophiocorodon, di, wilde garlike, haung long blades lyke a bulrush, and hollow with in, & in the toppes of the stalkes purple flowers: the roote hath cloues like other garlike.
 Ophrys, a certayne herbe lyke to jagged colowz woztes, whiche maketh the heare blacke.
 Ophites, a kynde of marble, haung spottes like a serpent.
 Ophiucus, the name of Esculapius, because that he is ymagined to holde a serpent in his hande. Some write, that it is a signe in heauen, whiche some calle Marculus, other Esculapius.
 Ophiusa, an glande, called sometyme Rhodos.
 Ophthalmicus, ci, m. ge. a physician that cureth the disease in the eyes.
 Ophthalmia, a, f. gen. a spekenesse of the eyes, whiche inflameth the bones of the head, the knyttynges of the eyes, the thynne thynnes therof, and sinewes, and all the holowe part of the eye with the forehead and ballies of the cheskes: it cometh eyther of smoke or heate of the sonne, or duste, or by a falle, or a stroke, or sometyme of an humour, sanguine, cholericke, or of matike or melancolyke.
 Ophthalmos, an eye.
 Opici, they whiche vsed abhominable rebauis dyce.
 Opicus, opica, um, bucleane, dysonest,AMES lesse, baudy, fyllthy, vchaste.
 Opifer, opifera, rum, that byngeth helpe.
 Opifex, fisis, com. gener. a woymen, a craftes man.
 Verborum opifex, an inuenter and maker of woordes.
 Opificina, a, f. g. a woozkehouse.
 Opificium, cij, n. g. the warlike.
 Opigena, Juno was so called of women, because they supposed, that she holpe them in theyr trauayle.
 Opilio, onis, m. g. a shepherde.
 Opilo, a certayne birde.

Opi

Opimas, aris, riche, welthe.
 Opimatores, the prouiders of coyne for the armye.
 Opime, abundantly, richely, plentyfully.
 Opimias, aris, f. g. plentifulnesse.
 Opimo, aui, are, to make fatte or grosse.
 Opimus, a, um, fatte also riche, plentifull.
 Opimum seu opimianum vinum, wyne which might endure good two hundred yeres.
 Habitus corporis opimus, & gracilitas, contrary, grossenesse, boozynesse.
 Opimus ager, a fertile and fat soyle.
 Opimiboues, fatte oren.
 Opimum decus, great honour.
 Opima spolia, the spoyle, whiche by one chiefe captayne is taken from an other in battayle, as his rote armour or hauberk.
 Opima pradia, maiours profitable, of great riches.
 Opimabilis, le, that may be conceued in opinion.
 Opinatio, onis, f. g. thynkyng, supposyng.
 Opinatio, and Opiniatus, looke after Opinio.
 Opinio, onis, f. g. opinion, hope, iudgemente, fame, estimation, reputation, also suspicion.
 Vincam opinionem tuam, I will be more diligent than you thynke.
 In his locis opinio est, When thynke in these quarters, or the sayng or bruse of men is here in these partes.
 Summam opinionem obtinet, It is greatly esteemed.
 Magna est hominum opinio de te, men haue conceued a great opinion of you.
 Malam opinionem imbibit, he hath conceued an ill opinion, or he thynketh ill.
 Opini de te multum me fecellit, I am greatly deceiued in my opinion of you.
 Contra & prater opinionem, othertwyse than one thought or hoped.
 Opiniam opinionem, as euery man thinketh, by the opinion of all men.
 Opinione celerius, sooner then men thynke. When men doubte of anyng, we saie not, Hec est mea opinio, but Hec mea est sententia.
 Aferre opinionem, to make one to thinke.
 Quantam opinione auguror, As farre as I comette or guess. Opinionem comprehendere, to conceue an opinion.
 Remittere opinionem, to put away an opinion on that one hath conceued.
 Non fallam opinionem tuam, I will not deceiue your expectation of opinion that ye haue conceued of me.
 Ve meafert opinio, after my iudgemente or fantasie, as I deme or thynke.
 Laborare opinione arrogantia, to be suspected of arrogancie or pride.
 Opulent opinio hanc totam Græciam, All Greece was of this opinion.
 Concurrent multæ opinionones, many suspitions come together.

In eam opinionem venerat Cassius, men thought this of Cassius, or men had this opinion of Cassius.
 Adducere in opinionem rem aliquam, To byng a thyng in suspicion.
 Opinatio, oris, in. g. a supposer, he that heuere affirmeth any thyng, also the prouider of coyne for an armie.
 Opinatus, a, um, supposed.
 Opinor, aris, ari, to suppose, to haue opinion, to deme, to thynke, to iudge.
 Opipare, plentifully, abundantly, richely.
 Opiparus, a, um, abundant, freche or gay, rich, magnificent.
 Cœna opipara, a delicate, plentifull & sumptuous supper.
 Opis, pi, pem, ayde, helpe, succour.
 Nisi eum quantum dñ dant tibi opis, serues, castigas, mones, excepte thou awaite, chastice, and rebuke hym, with al the helpe that the goddis maie geue the, or with al the helpe that thou mayste haue of the goddis, or as farre as god will helpe the.
 Nihil opis est in illis, they can not helpe or succour the.
 Omni ope, with all his might.
 Confugere ad opem alicuius, to flee to one for helpe or succour.
 Egere ope, & indigere opis, to haue nede of helpe.
 Opis aliquid ferre, to helpe somewhat.
 Non opis est nostræ, It is not in our power.
 Summa ope niti, to endeavour with all force or diligence.
 Opem alicuius expectare, to looke for helpe of one.
 Opem petere, implorare, poscere, exposcere, orare, to besyche ayde or helpe.
 Opem, olde wyrtz vsed for opulencia, ita they.
 Opis, opis, a ladie, companion to Diana. Shee was also wyfe to Saturnus. And by hye is signified the earth amonge poetes. It is also a citee by the ryuer Tygris.
 Opisthographus, i, m. g. a booke written on the backe syde, or paper written on both sydes.
 Opisthotonicus, a, um, he that can not turne his necke.
 Opisthotonos, the croke or disease that letteth one to tourne his necke.
 Opisthophylaces, they whiche defende thebackes of them that fyght, theriere garde.
 Opiter, opiteris, or opiris, the whose father dyed before his grandfather.
 Opiterginus, a, um, of the towne of Carniers, called Opitergium.
 Opites, the name of a Grecian, whiche Hector slew.
 Opitulor, oris, m. g. a helper.
 Opitulor, aris, ari, to helpe, to succour, to ayde.
 Contra vanas species opitulatur, it helpeth Ccc ij 03

or is medicinable agaynst hayne phantasies of the braine
Opitulus, Iupiter, Iupiter the helper at neede.
Opium, pij, n. g. the iuyce of an herbe called blacke poppe. also Opius is he that sighteth in a dreame.
Opobalsamum, mi, n. g. balme naturall, which in a parte of Iudea, called Hiericonthe, stillet out of a little thorne.
Opocarpalum, i, n. g. the iuyce of Carpalum.
Opopanax, acis, the iuyce of an herbe called Panax.
Oporæ, all frutes, whiche be good to be eaten, & haue no harde pilling, or shale, as apples, peares, plummies, &c.
Opörice, ces, f. g. an excellent medicine made of frutes.
Opörinus, a, um, belongynge to Autumne.
Oporophylacium, ch, n. g. the keepynge of frutes.
Oporotheca, æ, fæ. g. a place wherin winter fruite is kepte.
Oportet, it behoueth, it is expedient or necessary. Nonne prius communicatum oportuit? Had it not beene merke that I should haue been tolde of the matter before, or that I should haue been made priue to it before? Factum oportuit, it should haue been dooen before this.
Oporter, is sometyme vsed personally, as, Hæc facta ab illo oportebant, this ought he to haue dooen.
Opos, succus.
Oppango, pēgi, pangere, to fasten or ioygne.
Oppedo, oppedis, ere, to farte agaynst one, to denie with a lowde voice, to dissent and be agaynst, to contemne.
Oppetior, riris, riri, depon. to tarpe, to abide for. Ego te opperiar domi, I wyll tarpe at home for the. Oppertus sum, I haue tarped for.
Oppeto, oppetis, tui, vel oppetij, tere, to dye, also to be flaine.
Oppetere mortem, to dye.
Oppetere febrem, to fall into a feuer.
Oppia, a virgine Vestale, whiche beyng conuict of whoyedome, was buried quicke.
Oppianus, a certaine poete.
Oppico, aui, are, to pitche or couer with pitche.
Oppidanus, i, m. g. a citie of townes man.
Oppidanus, a, um, that belongeth to a towne, or townes man.
Oppidatim, to towne by towne.
Oppido, an aduerbe, significyng verie muche, sometyme it significth forthwith, verily.
Paulum oppido inter se differunt, they diffre or vary verie little.
Dic me hic oppido esse inuitam, saye that I am here fore agaynst my wyll.
In angustum oppido meæ coguntur Copiæ, all the helpe that I haue is now giuen to a narrow streite.
Oppidulum, i, n. g. a littell towne.

Oppidum, i, n. g. a walled towne or citie.
Oppignero, aui, are, to laie in pledge, to laie to gage.
Oppignerare se, to lay hym selfe to pledge.
Oppilatio, onis f. g. a stopping, oppilation.
Oppilo, aui, are, to stoppe or thutte.
Oppleo, pleui, ere, to fill full.
Oppleuit luctus vrbem, The wholle citie mouened and lamented.
Oppletus, a, um, fylled vp.
Opploro, aui, are, to lament, to weepe.
Oppono, sui, ere, to laye or put agaynst, to oppose.
Opponere praesidium, to set a garrison to defende. Obicere & opponere.
Oppono auriculam, I lay myne care to hartken. Formidines opponere, id est obicere, to put in great feare.
Opponere milites ad portas, to set souldiours to defende the gates.
Opponere alicui insidias, to laie an ambuſhe by the waie where one shulde passe.
Opponere nomen alicuius ad rem aliquam faciendam, to threaten one with a mans name, yf he wyll not doe a thing that he is commaunded.
Opponere se inuidia, to put hym selfe in danger of the pill wyll, hatred, and displeasure of men. Opponere corpus pro patria, to put his lyfe in daungier for his countreie.
Opponere, & opponere pignori, To laye downe a paunc or gage agaynst one. also to lay to gaue.
Opponere causam, to laye an excuse, to laie a reason or cause.
Opportune, opportunitate, conueniently, as it ought to be, in due tyme and measure, in good season. Opportune aduenis, you come verie well.
Opportunitas, atis, fæ. m. g. oportunitie, conuenience of tyme and place, commoditie, prosperite, beuities.
Temporis opportunitas, meete and conuenient tyme.
Via opportunitas, id est facilitas, the easynesse of the way.
Opportunitate venire, to come in season, to come in good tyme.
Opportunus, a, um, that whiche is in due tyme, and as it ought to be, after our desyre, as we would haue it, meete for the purpose, conuenient, enclined, subiecte, in daungier.
Opportunus iniurie, fit or apt to take wrong.
Opportunus alicui vitio, aut morbo, id est, noxiis, procliuis, ready, inclined, subiecte, in danger. Magis opportunus, nec magis ex vii tuo neio est, there is no man moze meete for it, nor no man moze to your commoditie.
Tempus opportunum, tyme meete and conuenient. Locorum opportuna, meete places.
Oppositio, onis, f. g. contrarie setting or putting.
Opposito, onis, f. g. contrarie setting or putting.

Oppo.

Oppositus, a, um, the participle of Oppono, put or set agaynst, also gaged, laide to gage.
Villa opposita ad austrum, open to the south.
Villa opposita ad quindecim millia, layed to gage for the some &c.
Oppositus, us, m. gene. contrarietie in putting of scynges.
Laterum nostrorum oppositus & corporum pollicemur, we promise that we wyll put our bodies and lyues in icoperdy for the defence therof.
Oppressio, onis, f. gen. an oppression or violatynge, a doyng of wrong by violence.
Per oppressionem aliquid eripere, to take by violence, to take away a thyng by extorcion.
Oppressiuncula, æ, a diminutive of Oppressio.
Oppressor, oris, m. g. an oppressour, or he that dooth greue or harne one, he that dooth iniurie by violence, an extorcioner.
Oppressus, a, um, oppressed, violently wronged, taken sodainly or vnwares, thrust hard.
Oppressus a prædonibus captus est, beyng overlaid with theenes, he was taken.
Oppressa amicitia, frendshipp utterly broke of.
Oppressus doloribus, soze pained, in great sorrow and payne.
Opprimo, opprimis, pressi, ere, to oppresse, to kepe or shut in, to take sodainly, to rauyn a woman, to greue, to thurst hard. Also to present, to geat of one by force, to confesse a thing whether he wyll or no.
Opprimi ære alieno, to bee muche in dette, to be ouercharged with debt.
Opprimere animos formidine, to make men soze afraid.
Opprimere mentionem, to put a thyng to silence, to make that a thyng be not spoken of.
Opprimi inuidia, To be greuouely hated, to haue a verie pill name among menne for any thyng, to haue the pill wyll or displeasure of men.
Opprimere iudicio, to vndoone one by suite, or whan one in suite at the lawe by force & myght is put to the worse.
Opprimere orationem alicuius, to make one to speake no moze of a thyng, to make one leaue his communication and talke.
Oppressus graui somno, in a dead slepe.
Nox certamina cepta oppressit, the nyghte came on, & dyd lette the contentions that were begonne.
Opprimere occasionem, to cause the occasion to be losse.
Opprimere pede, to treade or thurst downe with ones fote.
Opprimi ruina, to be slayne with the fallynge downe of some thyng.
Opprimere bellum exortum, to cesse or quiete the warre that is begonne.
Os opprime, stoppe thy mouthe.
Opprimere aliquem, to take one vnwares,

Opprimere aliquem concilio, To ouercome one by wisdom, to go beyonde one in wyse and counsaile.
Opprimere dictum suum, to change his sentence, or deny that he hath spoken.
Opprimere ignem, to quench the fyre, and by translation, to quiet a busy & dangerous matter.
Opprimere ex improviso, to come vpon one sodainly.
Opprobamentum, i, n. ge. of olde wyters was used for Opprobrium.
Opprobriū, ij, n. g. a reproch, rebukefull speaking.
Opprobro, opprobrias, aui, are, to obiect agaynst one, to reproche, to cast in the nose.
Opprobriatio, onis, fæ. g. rebukefull speaking, reprochyng in wordes, castyn in ones teethe.
Oppugnatio, onis, fæ. g. an assaiege or assault agaynst a fortreſse.
Oppugnator, oris, m. g. he that letteth the prosperite of any other man, or goeth about to dooe hym displeasure.
Oppugnatus, a, um, assaulted.
Oppugno, aui, are, to assault, to oppugne, to fight agaynst, to reason agaynst a matter earnestly.
Oppugnare bona alicuius, To assaye meanes to make one lose his gooddes.
Oppugnare aliquem capite, & fortunis, To cause one to lose his lyfe and gooddes.
Oppugnare verbis commoda patriæ, to speke agaynst the profite of his countreie.
Oppugnare aliquem, to labour agaynst one by all meanes possible.
Oppugnare aliquem pecunia, to labour agaynst one with monie and bribes.
Oppugnare occulte rem aliquam, To be piteously agaynst a matter.
Ops, opis, f. ge. the sister and wife of Saturne, also it significth one that helpeth. Ancient wyters vled Ops for opulentum, ryche.
Opes, opum, ibus, the plural, rycheſse, also puissance or power, ayde, helpe.
Non humanis opibus, not with mans helpe.
Ingenij potius quam virium opibus, rather by the strength and vertue of the mynde, than by myght and power.
Expectare alterius opes, to loke for the helpe or power of other.
Opputo, opputas, aui, are, to cut of bowes, to prunte trees.
Oppunite, for Percutere, a worde out of vse.
Oppunia, ity pæ.
Opsago, the herbe Solanum somniferum.
Opſigamia, a iudgement or lawe in Lacedæmonia agaynst men that were not married, or were vnmarried.
Opſon, all thyng that is made with fyre to be eaten.
Opſonator, oris, m. g. a puruetour of vitayles, a prouider of sates, a cater, steward, or martriple.

Ccc ij      Opſo.

Opsonatus, us, m. ge. preparacion for dyner or supper. Opsonatio, idem.
Opsonito, aut, are, to prepare often for dyner or supper.
Opsonium, nij, n. gen. all thyng belongyng to a meate, except breade and drynke.
Opsono, aui, are, & opsonor, aris, ari, to prepare thynges necessary for dyner, supper, or banquet, to laye out monie for eaten.
Opsonato ampliter, bestowe large cost vpon prouision of meate.
Vix drachimis obsonatus es decem, thou dydest leant bestow fortye pence vpon meate.
Opstabilis, le, that whiche is to bee despyed or wished for.
Opstabiliter, pleasantly, delectably.
Opstatio, onis, f. g. opion or choyse.
Opstato, with despye, as one wolde wyshe.
Opstatio aduentis, you be welcom, you com euen as I wold haue you, I am glad you be come.
Opstatio, a, um, wished for, or despyed.
Opstium loquere, speake curteisly, speke not so rigorously.
Nihil opstius, there is nothyng that I despye more, or wold more fayne haue.
Opstati, they that be chosen to any honest degree or estate.
Opstata loquere, supple verba, thou speakest iopfull wordes, or as I wold haue the.
Opstatisimus nuntius, most pleasaunt and acceptable tydings that can be.
Præter opstium meum, Otherwyse than I wished or despyed.
Opsteron, ri, ferre.
Opstice, the science wherby the reason of spght is known.
Opsticus, optica, um, perspectiue, pertainyng to sight.
Opstimas, atis, com. g. a head man of a citie. also he that defendeth the part of nobilitie and ryche men.
Opstimates matronæ, The chief women in the citie.
Opstimatus, us, m. ge. the estate or condicion of head men of a towne or countreie.
Opstine, veraciter well.
Opstime est, it can not be better, it is as well as can bee.
Opstimus, optima, um, beste, or verate good.
Opstimo iure, of verate good ryght, or with good reason.
Tu opstinus es testis, no man can tell better than you.
Opstio, onis, f. g. a choyse or election.
Opstionem facere, permittere, & dare, to geue the choyce to one.
Si opstio esset, If I, thou, or he, myght choyse.
Opstio sit tua, Those you take the choyse.
Opstio, onis, m. ge. preast money, whiche could be ours doo receyue to prouide their necessities.
It was also to the capitayne in warres, a mint

nister to doo his commandement, and be as stent vnto hym.
Opstius, a, um, for Adoptiuis.
Opsto, aui, are, to despye, to couete, to choote, to haue liker.
Quoduis donum & pramium a me opstio, despye what gift or rewarde thou wilt of me.
Opstauit porius, he had liker, or despyed more.
Opstuler, richely, plentifully, abundantly.
Opstulencia, a, f. g. rychesse, abundance.
Opstulencia, atis, f. g. idem quod opstulencia.
Opstulento, aui, are, to make riche or plentiful.
Opstulento, a, um, ryches, abundant, plentiful.
Opstulento, scere, to make ryches.
Opstulus, opuli, f. g. a wyche hasyll tree, as some haue thought, but by the iudgement of other it is not that, but an other tree, whiche the frenchemen call Opier, and is the best tree to soigne vines vnto.
Opuncalo, he that syngeth lyke a shepherde.
Opuntia, a, f. g. gene. an herbe growyng by the citie Opus.
Opuntius, a, um, of the citie Opus.
Opus, unis, a citie in Locris.
Opus, operis, n. g. a worke, a buildyng, a labor, sometye for artificium, workmanship, sometye an act or dede. Munus opusq; tuum, thyng ad, thy dede. Eius opere, by his mean or diligence.
Opere maximo, with all meanes possible, in moste herty wyse.
Rex Seleucus me opere orauit maximo, vt sibi latrones cogerem, king Seleucus despyed me asmuche as he possible might, that I wold get hym souldiours to be about his person.
Thais maximo te orabat opere, vt cras redires, Thais desired the as hertly as she could that thou woldst come agayn to morow.
Græcos nimio opere delectant, they despye the Grekes excedyng muche: or the Grekes take excedyng great pleasure in them.
Tanto opere, for Tantopere. Opus omi, I worke that a man hath made at batant tymes.
Accelerare opus, to hasten forward the work.
Omni opere anniti, to endeavour with all force and labour.
Opus facere, to labour.
Inflare operi, to see that the wooye goe forwarde.
Opus, an adiectiue vndeclined, nedefull, expedient, necessary.
Nihil mihi opus est, It is not expedient for me, I haue no neede.
Dux nobis & auctor opus est, we haue neede of a capitayn or chiefe leader.
Quæ ad rem opus erant, whiche were expedient and necessary for the matter.
Puero opus est cibum, the chyldre haue neede of meate.
Opus est maturato, they must make speche.
Opus sunt milites, for opus est militibus.
Opus est, it is necessary or neede.

Si opus sit, if neede be.
Opus intestinum, loode Intestinum.
Opus est conuentio. Ita res subita est, referat mihi hoc homine conuentio opus est. The chauce is to sodayne, or the matter requirith such haste: that I must nedes speake with the man shortly or quickly.
Opus est facto, it muste needes bee dooen or executed.
Vosmet videte iam Laches & tu Pamphile, remissam opus sit nobis, an redactam domum, Rowe Laches and Pamphile, adusse your selues wel, whether it be necessary that we be sente home or brought home.
Opus sunt tibi, Thou hast neede of theim.
Vicum despondiderim des qui aurum ac vestem, atq; alia quæ opus sunt, comparet, that wha I haue assured hit, thou despyer wherewith to bye attyre, apparayle, and all other thynges nedefull.
Opsticulum, li, n. g. a littell wooyke.

Or, a, f. g. gen. the extreme parte of enterpynges, as the edge, the byzmye, the shyges, the hemye, the border, the rase bull that tyeth the shyppe, a coast, a countrey, or region, especially neere the sea syde. It is also a tyne of partition of the byzmyment.
Oraculorum, the byzmyes of suppes.
Oram soluere, to take the sea.
Quacunque in ora terrarum, in what region, countrey or coste of the worlde so euer they bee.
Australis ora, the southe coste.
Superis concessit ab oris, he dyed.
Oris vulneris, the ouer part of edges of a wounde, whiche be stitched.
Ora maritima, the sea syde, the sea coste.
Oraculum, i, n. g. the temple or place where answers were gyuen by ydolles. also the answers it selfe. Sometye a notable saynge of some wyse man.
Oraculum, & oraculo edidit deus, god sayed.
Orarium, rij, neu. ge. the vestement, wherein the priest doth saie masse.
Oras, a, f. g. a sphe called a gyll head.
Oratio, onis, an oracion, wordes, communicacion, talke, also a prajer.
Quod si sciret, esset alia oratio, if he knewe it, he woulde saie otherwyse.
Tum impudentissima eorum oratio est, than they wooydes be without all shame.
Orationis satis est, tace, we haue sufficiently talked of the matter, holde thy peace.
Omnis eius oratio est de summo bono, All his wooydes and sayngs is of the chiefe and principall goodnesse.
Oratione beneficis, liberall in wooydes.
Orationem tibi para, ymagyne what thou myghte saie.

Quid vult sibi hæc oratio? what meane these wordes? or to what intent doth he speake thus?
Oratiuncula, a, f. g. a littell oracion or prajer.
Orator, oris, m. g. an oratour, an ambassadour, a spokesman.
Oratoria, a, f. g. rhetorike.
Oratoriæ, lyke an oratour, or in fourme of rhetorike, eloquently.
Oratorius, a, um, pertainyng to an oratour.
Oratum, i, n. g. a requeste, a thyng despyed.
Oratus, us, m. g. a prayng, a requirng.
Oratus, a, um, intreated, despyed.
Oratio, onis, f. g. the depuyng of one of a thyng.
Oratus, a, um, that is destituted of any thyng.
Oratus filio, he that hath loste his soonne.
Oratus spe salutis, that hath no hope of helth or lyfe.
Orbelon, a place in Thracia, where Orpheus dyd dwell.
Orbiculatum, rounde lyke a circle.
Orbiculatus, a, um, made round, or in the forme of a circle.
Orbicular, li, m. g. a littell circle. also a pulley.
Orbiculus, orbica, um, rounde.
Orbis, lis, the circuite of a roufe, also the ryng of a cartte wheele.
Orbilius, a grammatian of Beneuentum in Lucros tyne.
Orbis, bis, f. g. ge. a circle, a rounde compasse, a rounde couer, a rounde trencher, a roundell to set dishes on for soilyng of the table cloth. Sometye the wooyde. also a continual couer of successe of thynges in the wooyde: a continuacion, order, and knytyn of thynges together in wytyng, an historie. also a region or countreie, a great compagne of men. sometye a pere.
Orbes, the holes of the cires sometye the eyes.
Orbis ablaquationis, the rounde pitte that is dygged about the roote of a vine or other tree.
In orbem, by course, rounde aboute, one after an other.
Vt idem in singulos annos orbis volueretur, that they might bee occupied in the same thynges perely.
In orbem ire, to go rounde aboute from one to an other.
Orbem facere, to gather rounde together in a battayle.
Orbis terræ, the wholle wooyde.
Lacteus orbis, the whyte cytle aboute the moone.
Orbis rotarum, the rounde circle or ryng of cartte wheeles.
Obliquus orbis, the Zodiake.
Sol hanc medium orbem, the soonne hath passed halfe his course.
Orbita, orbis, f. g. a whele, sometye the traile that the whele doeth make in the grounde. Sometye roundenesse or compasse.
Orbitas, atis, f. g. ge. the lacke of chyldren. Some epe the lacke of a father. also any lacke.

 Orbitas recti, lacke of a thyng to couer it,
 lacke of a house to dwell in.
 Orbitas luminis, lacke of syght.
 Orbitudo, inis, idem quod orbitas, an olde woorde.
 Orbitus, orbita, um, rounde as a circle.
 Orbo, au, are, to take from, to depprue one of a thyng that he setteth muche by.
 Orbare equitatu, to take his horsemen from
 hym.
 Orbus, a, um, properly blynde, sometyne lackyng any thyng.
 Luminibus orbus, blynde.
 Palmite orbi, bzaunches that haue no buddes
 Orbis auxili, destitute of helpe.
 Orba ab optimatibus concio, an assemble,
 wherin be no noble men.
 Orbus pater, he whose children be dead.
 Orbi, they which haue lost theyr chyldren. als o orphans that haue lost their parentes.
 Res publica orba consulis, the common weale destitute of a consull.
 Legatio orba, that hath lost the principall of theise ambassadour.
 Orca, a, f. g. a great monster of the sea. also a great vessel, as a but or vat, wherin Kynnyng wyne is put, an earthen pott with a narrowe mouth, a longe necke, and a great bealpe, into the whiche childerne practised for a game to cast nuttes. Also a bore, wherin dyce bee taken, and after throwen on the table: sometyne a roker, wherin womans painting is kept. also a vessel, wherin fygges bee kept, and a kynde of precious stones.
 Orca promontorium, the nozthe ende of Scotlande.
 Orclis, a towne in Spayne called communely Origuella.
 Orcliamus, thirty plades in the sea by Scotlande.
 Orcliamus, a kynde of Asyria, whiche buryed his daughter Lenciothea quicke, because she was rayuished of Apollo.
 Orchestra, a, f. g. a place, wherin the Senatours and honorable persons sat to beholde plays.
 It is sometyne taken for the session of the Se-natours and noble men.
 Orchis, or Orchites, is, f. m. gen. a kynde of oliues.
 Orchis, is also an herbe called Testiculus carnis, because the rootes be lyke dogges stones, & stiereth to lecherie. Some call it in Englysh gan-dergoose, some ragwozte. It is also a kynde of fythe.
 Orchis vel Orchas, a kynde of great oliues, moze mete to be eaten then to make oyle of.
 Orchoe, a cite of Babylon.
 Orchomenus, a, um, of Orchomenus.
 Orchomenus, a mountaine in Thessaly. Also a citie and a river in Bæotia.
 Orchofelinum, idem quod Orcofelinum.

Orcinus, a, um, of Orcus.
 Orcinus libertus, one that is manumpled of hym that dyeth.
 Orcomania, a beere, wherof dead corpes be.
 Oracula, a, f. g. a ruler, a diminutive of Orca.
 Orca tunica, the herbe Anemone.
 Orcus, a, f. g. a ruler of hell. also an other in Thessaly.
 It is sometyne taken for hell, or the darkeste of hell.
 Ordeaceus, a, um, of barley, looke Hordeaceus.
 Ordeffus, a, f. g. a ruler of Syria.
 Ordeum, looke Hordeum.
 Ordia, drum, n. g. plur. the first begynnynges of thynges.
 Ordinarius, a, um, wherin order is obserued, ordinarpe.
 Ordinaria semina, sede set of sown in an order. Ordinarius homo, a busy and noughpfe lowe, that is alway in suite.
 Ordinari lapides, harde stones, that bee not one vnyke an other, but of the same quantite & facion, and yet not cut or made by the rule.
 Ordinaria structura, a meane kynde of build-yng, where stones of lyke quantite and facion be laied together, but not wrought by the lyne and plumbe rule.
 Ordinate, ordinately, in order.
 Ordinatum, in order, one after an other.
 Ordinatio, onis, ordinaunce, appointyng. also administration.
 Ordinator, oris, m. g. he that ordereth or ap-pointeth, or setteth thynges in order as they shoulde be.
 Ordinatus, a, um, well appoynted, set in good order.
 Ordino, ordinas, au, are, to order or dispose, to aduance to any office or dignitee, to put in authorytee.
 Ordinare syllabarum literas, to spell.
 Ordinare improbas cogitationes, to conuert naughty imaginations in ones mynde.
 Ordior, iis, orsus, and orditus sum iis, to begyn to speake.
 Vnderectus ordiri possumus, where may we better begynne?
 Ordri & Terminare, contray.
 Alius ordiri, to repete the matter almost fro
 the begynnyng.
 Oriri telam, to begyn to weaue.
 Ordiamur a facillimis, let vs begyn at the easiest matter.
 Ordus, a, um, begun to be wouen or wrought.
 Ordo, inis, m. g. an order, a rowe, a ranke, a raunge, a rafe, a courte, the estate of men concernyng fortune and gooddes. sometyne the men of one estate or order, also the dignitee of men in one estate or degree.
 In ordinem redigere, to kepe one within his boundes, that he doo not excede his degree.
 Ordines seruare, to kepe the rafe.
 Ordine ponere, to set in aray. Ordo

Ordo longus, a great multitude.
 Ordines ducere, to be a capitayne.
 In ordinem cogere, to bynge vnder obey-saunce, to congregate them that be out of order.
 Ordines conturbare, to breake or scatter the ray: Prius ordine, that is first.
 Posterius ordine, that is laste.
 In ordinem disponere, to set in aray or order.
 Habere locos ex ordine, to haue the places by herte, in order as they stande.
 Pone ordine vites, plant the vines in order.
 In ordine referre, to shewe in order, and by couer, nowe one, nowe an other.
 Ordinem retexere, to begyn againe at the first afresh.
 Ordo senatorius, the estate and order of the Senatours.
 Ordo amplissimus, idem.
 Meus me ordo irriter, They that bee of my condicion or estate, maie well laughe me to scozne. Sepenumero multa verba in hoc or-dine feci, I haue often tymes spoken muche in this reuerent company of Senatours.
 Conueni hodie quandam mei ordinis, I spake to day with one of myne owne estate and hauoure.
 Ordinis inferioris amici, friendes that be of a lower estate than we be.
 Extra ordinem, out of order or course, not kepyng the accustomed proceste. also singularly, for certayne particular considerations.
 Ordo luci, hilles that doo diuide Scotland and England, they be now called Cheuirt.
 Ordo luci montes, the hilles called Cheuirt, betwene England and Scotland.
 Ordouicum, uici, a cite in Britaine, the people wherof were called Ordouices, whom Iulius Agricola subdued.
 Orea, a, f. ge. the hyt for an hoise.
 Oreades, nymphes of the mountaynes.
 Orebais, a cite of Persis.
 Oreon, an herbe growyng on hylls.
 Oreofelinum, nj, n. g. called also Syluestre Petrofelinum, and Apium montanum, a kynd of persely.
 Orestrophus, a dogges name in Jude.
 Orestes, the sonne of agamemnon and Clitemes-nestra.
 Orestus, a, um, of Orestes.
 Orestium the herbe Helenium.
 Orestis, orestitis, a parte of Macedonia.
 Orestis, people of Indie.
 Orenus, a ruler of Sicile.
 Oretio, or Oria, a towne of Spayne called Castaraua.
 Oreus, a name of Bacchus.
 Orexis, is, f. g. is most taken for vomite. albe it signifieth appetite to eate.
 Organa, all instrumentes of musike.
 Organarius, nj, m. g. a maker of instrumen-tes.

Organice, with a vice or instrument.
 Organici, they that play with instrumentes.
 Organicus, a, um, belongyng to instrumentes, or that is dooen with instrumentes.
 Organum, organi, n. g. an instrument pectis nyng to buildyng. also an ordinaunce of wate-
 res. also a certayne instrumnt to measure land with, sometyne it is vled for an harpe.
 Orge, a well in Marbone, wherin groweth a certaine herbe, which oren and hyne dooe so great ly despyre, that they thruste theyr heades wholsly vnder the water to get it.
 Orgia, drum, ne. ge. plu. ceremonies or songes pertainyng to infernall goddes, or to Bacchus.
 Orgyia, la, f. g. or as some write it Orgyia, a measure containyng fire foote. Suidas dooth write, that it is the space that is contained be-twene the handes stretched out, which I suppose is a fathome. Giza translateth it four cubites.
 Oria, a, f. g. a cyphers bote.
 Oribarius, a noble man, which was famylar with Iulianus the emperour: he wrote .72. booke of phisike.
 Oricalchum, i, n. g. latyn of copper metall.
 Oricius, a, um, of Oricos.
 Oricola, a, f. g. an herbe in the Isles Canarie, wherewith they vse to die clothe.
 Oricos, or Oricum, a cite of Egypte.
 Oriculatus, a, um, idem quod Auricularius.
 Oriculum for Auricula, a lyttell care.
 Oriens, entis, m. g. the east.
 Oriens, entis, om. g. ryngs, spryngyng, begins nnyng.
 Orificium, ij, n. g. the mouth of any thyng.
 Origanum, i, n. g. an herbe called oreganny, some name it wyde maioran.
 Originarius, a, um, that hath a thyng from his byrthe, or from the betay begynnyng, or that is bozne in any place.
 Origenes, called also Adamantius (bozne at Alexandria in Egypt) was sonne of one Leontdes the martyre, a man of moste excellent doctrine and vertue from his chyldhoode, who beyng on slepe, his father came into the chambr, and takyng away the clothes of slpy, kysed the breast of the infant, as a temple, hauing within it the holpe goste, and gaue thanks to god, that had geuen him sliche a sonne. whan his father was martyred, Origen beyng but a yong chyld, and yet despyroue of martyrdome, ranne amouge other that were ledde to bee slayne, and by all meanes proffred hym selfe to dye with them. But his mother (who loued hym moste tenderly) perceyving the matter, did firste lamentably encrease hym, to withdraue hym: but his desyre of martyrdome was the moze encreased thereby. Wherfore in the night, whan he was in his bed, she stole away his clothes: so that in the mornyng whan he would haue gone forth, he myght not come by them:

wherefore he was constrained to tary at home. Of the whiche deceipte of his mother, he complained to his father in prison, despying hym to perseute constantly in his good purpose. After the death of his father, he gaue hym selfe continually to the study of holy scripture, which he had taught before by his fathers instruction.
And yet, before he was .xx. yeres olde, he excelled all men of his tyme, as well in philosofy phie, as all other sciences. At the age of xviij.
yeres he expounded gentile authours openly, wherein he so entreated the holy scripture, that he converted many greacie learned men to the faith of Christ. His liuynge was so straight and vertuous, that he drew many vnto hym, and was amonge all men had in a wonderfull reuerence. He neuer ceased in all persecutions to comforte and confirme men in the embracynge of martyrdome, and dyd continuall-ly reade openly, and also wyte innumerable booke in the expounding of holy scripture. He wente into dyuers countreies to preache, and for his great fame Mammea, the mother of the noble Emperour Alexander Scaurus, sent for hym to Rome, and heard hym, and as some suppose, was by hym converted. wherof you maie reade in the booke, whiche I translated out of Eucolpius, and called it the ymage of gouernance. He obserued all the preceptes of the gospel moste strenghtly, in continuall fastynge & watchynge, haupynge but one garment, goynge alwaies barefoote, counsaillynge all his hearers to renounce all that they had,
and to geue it in almesse. Also he gelbed hym selfe, not onely to bee the more chaste, but also (because in the tyme of persecution, he taught the woorde of god, as well pryncipally as openly, to men & women) to leat the paynymis to speake dishonour of hym, and those that repaired to his sermons and lessons, whiche although he dyd secretly, yet god woulde not haue it hyd, so that it came to the care of Demetrius the by-shop of Alexandria, who spake wonderynge at the stomache and vertue of the man, prayng
the feruentnesse of his saythe, sayde vnto hym.
Howe sticke to thy doctryne and teachynge, sens thou hast lesse vnto thine aduersaries none occasion of suspition. But afterwarde the same Demetrius, stirred with enuy, laied it in reproche agaynst hym openly, spynge nothyng elles wherewith to dyspraise hym. He that well knowe moze of Dygen, let hym reade the vi. booke De historia ecclesiastica, and saint Hierome De scripto. ecclesi. 204. yeres.
Originalis, le, that whiche one hath from his bythe.

Origo, riginis, f. g. a begynnynge, hynde, cause,
a fountayne, a well springe.
Modicus originis, of a meane storke of kindred Clarus origine, of noble bloude.

Orinda, a byrd made of the graine called Orin-dium, whiche groweth in Ethiopia.
Orion, orionis, the soone of Neptuneus. Some feigned, that whan Copius had lodged Jup-ter, Mercurie, and Neptune, and had helld for theyn an oxe, he despyed them to grant hym a soone. Than those three pyssed in the byde of the oxe, of the whiche (becynge laped in the grownde) came Orion, as it were Vriou. For Ouros, in greke is brine. Whan Orion beyng an hunter, woulde haue desoured Diana, he was slagne with a scorpion, and translated as monge the sterres, and there is the signe called in latine Iugula.
Orior, oriris, vel oreris, riri, to be borne, to as-pise, to appere, to springe, to haue the begyn-nyng of any thyng, to begynne.
Oriri & procreari.
Facinus ex te oritur, thou arte the authour of this mischeuous acte, or this act hath his begyn-nyng of the.
Tibi a me nulla est orta iniuria, I neuer dyd
you any displeasure or iniurie.
Ab his sermo oritur, they begyn fyrt to speke.
Purant quicquid est ex te esse orium, They thynke all that euer hath ben doen to come firt of the, or that thou beganst it fyrt.
Oritur clamor, there arose a great thowt of cepe. Orusab omni turba stetus, all the company began to weepe.
Oritur fons, the well springeth of hath his begynnyng.
Orites, tis, mas. gen. a pzealous stone, of faction
rounde, and can not be hurte with fyre.
Orithia, a nymphe that encourageth men to ren-Orithia, the daughter of Erichon, hynde of Athens, whom Poseas lored & conueyed away with hym into Ethiopia. Another of this name was quene of Amazons.
Oriundus, a, um, comen by annexes out of same citee or countreie. Sometyme borne.
Nati Carthagine, sed oriundi a Syracusa, borne at Carthage, but by annexours descended from Syracusa in Sicile.
Oriundus ab Vlisse, descended of Vlisses bloud.
Cumis erant oriundi, They were borne at Cumis.
Meminerint sese vnde oriundi sint, let theyn remembre theyn selues of what lynage they are descended.
Orix, or Oryx, a certayne wyld beaste.
Oriza, x, f. g. a grayne called rize, which is most communely eaten in lente, with almonde mythe.
Orizelon, the herbe aiuga, or chamxipis Orizon oris, m. g. is the furthermost parte of the firmament, that mans eye can determyne.
Orménus, a citee of Magnecia.
Orminum, or Orminum, an herbe lyke to horehounde.
Orminum, or orminum hortense, clario.

Orini

Orminum sylvestre, The herbe called Ocle Christi.
Orminum Anticis corruda, wilde sperage.
Ornamenta, dweth sometyme signifie them that bee woorthie prayse.
Ornamentum, i, n. g. apparayle, an ornament, a garnysynge. also honour, dignitee, prayse, or commendacion, an honourable pleasure or benefit down to one.
Ornamento esse, to be an ornament, to commende, to sette forth, to garnyshe.
Ornate, resplendens, gorgeously, elegantly, with cos-lours and ornaments of rhetorike.
Ornatix, icis, Me that commendeth or setteth forth, or that garnyseth or apparayleth.
Ornatus, i, m. g. he that is in greacie dignitie or authoritie.
Ornatus, a, um, apparayled, trimmed, garnys-hed, instructed, furnysed, adourned, honourable, aduanced to hygh authoritee and dignitee, that is indued with great wysedom, ver-tue, and knowlage.
Ornatissimam de me sententiam dixit, He gaue me a veracie honourable reposte.
Ornatus esses ex tuis virtutibus, thou shouldest haue ben trymmed accordyng as thou art woorthie.
Ornata sunt cuncta, all thynges are ready prouyd and appoynted.
Ornatissimus fundus, lande veracie well husbanded and appoynted.
Ornatus, us, and sometyme Ornatus, i, appas-salle, trimmynge, deckynge.
Ornea, sacrifices dedicated vnto Iupiter.
Ornecoglosson, id est, auis Lingua, an herbe.
Orneus, one of the Centaures.
Ornios, the herbe Anemone.
Ornis, Ornios, vel Ornithos, a byrde, a henne.
Ornithia, nothyng wyndes.
Ornithotrophium, phij, neu. gen. a place where byrdes be nourtshed or brought vp.
Ornithoboscium, ij, n. ge. a house where pultry is kept, a coupe.
Ornithogallium, or Ornithigalon, an herbe ha-uyng a little tender stalk, a fore and halfe in height: loke for the residue in Diosco. li. 2. Plt.
li. 21. ca. 17. it is called dogges opyon.
Ornithon, onis, m. ge. a pte, wherewith byrdes be kepte.
Orno, aui, are, to garnyshe, to decke, to trym, to furnyshe, to apparayle, to make ready, to make fyre, to prepare, to make mete, to honour with some authoritee or dignitee, to do some honourable pleasure, also to prayse, to set forth, to commende, to verifyshe.
Ornate suffragio, to helpe one with his voyce or god reposte.
Iam ornabat fugam, he was euen now ready to renne away.
Munus nostrum ornato verbis quod poteris, prayse and set forth my gyfte with good wordes as muche as thou canst.

Laudibus ornare, to set out with great prayse.
Melius est prandium ornare domi, It is bette-ter that dyner be prepared or made readye at home.
Classes ornare, to furnyshe shippes.
Ornus, i, f. g. a wyld ashe with bode leaues.
Oro, aui, are, to praye, to demaunde, to speake openly and eloquentely as oratours dooe, to pleade.
Pro salute alicuius aliquem orare, to entreat
one for a mans lyfe.
Orabo nata vxorem, I will pray or intreate hym to geue his daughter to my sonne in ma-
riage.
Scin' qui, i, te orem scire? Canste thou tell, or wottest thou what I woulde despye to knowe of thee, or what I woulde despye the to tell mee?
Aequissimum orat, it is veracie good reason that he despyeth.
Orare iussit ut ad se venias, he commaunded me to despye you to come to hym.
Omnibus precibus oro, I despye you as here-tyk as I can possibly.
Causam orare, to pleade his cause.
Oratignoscas, he despyeth the to forgeue hym.
Oroandes, an hyl by the mountayn Imaus.
Oroatis, a ryuer in the bosom of the sea, called Percium, southward.
Oroba, a citee of Assyria.
Orobancha, ches, fcm. ge. an herbe growynge among beanes or peason, and destroyeth theim, loke Eruiangina, or Eruangina, some calle it Cynomorion, it is called in englishe chokes webe, vide Plin. li. 22. ca. 25.
Orobatis, a citee of Persia.
Oroba, the flower called the ptonie.
Orobia, x, fcm. gen. a kynd of frankincense in little graines.
Orobis, tis, f. ge. grene colour lyke to the blasdes of coyne.
Orobelen, idem.
Orobicum, idem quod orobum.
Orobum, a kynde of pulse coyne, I suppose it is tarses. loke before in Eruum.
Orodes, a kynde of Parthia, who vanquysed and slewe Crassus the Romayn.
Oroetes, a Persian, whiche dyd hange Polycra-tes, the tyran of Samia.
Oromalides, a kynd of apuls, called also Omo-lida.
Orontes, a ryuer by the citee of Antioche. also a Troian that came from Troie with Eneas.
Oronticus, a, um, of Orontes.
Oroselinum, ni, n. g. persely.
Orosius, a woorthiefull priest borne in Spayn, praght eloquent and experte in histories. He wrote vii. bookes agaynst them that saied, that the decaye of the common weale of Rome happened by the doctrine of Christe. He was sent by saint Augustin, to saint Hierom, who was than

than in Judea, to learne of hym the reason of the state of the soule.
Orphanus, orphani, m. gen. he that lacketh his father and mothers succour.
Orphanotrophium, phii, n. gen. a house where fatherlesse childzen be kept and brought up.
Orphanotrophus, he that is maister of heper of suche an house.
Orpheus, a Thracian bozne, sonne of Oeagrus, or as some write, of Apollo and Calliope, an auncient poete and harper most excellent. He (as the poetes surmyled) dyd with his musyke, deelyte wylde beastes and infernall spirites, and moued stones with his swete harmonie: wherby he recovered his wyfe Eurpydis out of hell. At the last he was slayne with lyghtnyng, or (as some write) tozned in pices by women.
Orpheus, a, um, of Opyheus, sometyme for Thracius.
Orphneus, one of Plutos hoxses.
Orrihopygium, gi, n. g. the rumpe of a byrde, or any other beaste.
Orion & Taurum eam vocant partem, quæ testiculos interiacer.
Orilochus, the sonne of the ryuer Alpheus.
Orisa, drum, n. ge. plu. enterpysses, begynnyns ges, thynges begunne.
Orisus, us, m. g. a begynnyns.
Orisus, a, um, begunne, that hath begunne.
Orithæ, the buildynges called also Menianæ: loke there.
Orithium carmen, a kynde of musike in verbe high tune, which Arion used when he cast hym selfe in to the sea.
Orithocoribanthij, people of Scythia in Asia.
Orithocolla, or stillosa, those beastes, which haue the craupe so in their scete, that they can not sette their hole hoxe vnto the grounde, but goe only on the toppe.
Orthodoxia, the right opynion or faith.
Orthopœia, the right forme of speakyns.
Orthodoxus, i, m. ge. a man of a right opynion, faith or belefe.
Orthogonius, a, um, that hath ryght corners.
Orthogonus, i, m. g. a ryght corner.
Orthographia, a, f. ge. the right forme of wrytyns. it is also a plat for buyldyns, wherin is peincted or set forth the figure of the whole worlde, with the reasons of the same.
Orthomastica, certayne fruite that be lyke teates.
Orthopnea, a, f. ge. a disease when a man can not fetche his breaethe, but holdynge his necke bryght.
Orthopnoicus, i, m. g. he that hath that sickness.
Orthos, id est, rectus.
Orthosia, a citee of Syria, called Tortosa.
Orthostadios, a garment, whiche was alwaies worne bygypt.
Orthostata, a course in buyldyns, where timbee or stone bee moztayled one within an other, or elles fastened together with yron or byason crampes or hookes.

Orthogoriscus, a certayn feth, whiche grameth, Orton, a citee of the Delignians, called commonly by Pietra de pirati.
Oriona, idem.
Ortopla, a citee in Dalmatia.
Ortus, ti, vide Hortus.
Orti peniles, garbeynes made on houses of pylours.
Ortus, a, um, bozne, sponge, begunne.
Ortus ex eodem loco, descended of the same estate or degree.
Ortus equestri loco, a gentill man bozne.
Tenui fortuna ortus, descended of a pooze. kynrede. Ortus, sometyme for Oriundus.
Ortus Corintho, haupng his auncesters descended of the Corinthes.
Ortus, us, m. g. the byrthe or natiuite, growyns by, spryngyns, rpyng. also the caste.
Ortus solis, the sonne rpyng.
Orygia, the name of an yle in the sea Aegeum, called also Delos, also the herbe plantago.
Dea Orygia, Diana.
Orygometra, a, f. m. g. the capitayn or leader among quaples, whiche is blacker and bygger than the other. It is called also of Aristotle, matrix.
Oryx, oryxis, f. g. a byrde called a quaple, also a certayne herbe.
Oryx, origis, a beaste of the kynd of gores, of the nature of this beaste reade Plin. li. 2. ca. 40. & li. 8. cap. 33. item Colum. li. 10.
Oryza, idem quod Oriza.

O S, oris, n. ge. the mouth. also the visage, sometyme the propozion of all the body. sometyme countenance. also presents ee, language. sometyme audaunce, boldnesse, hardnesse.
Omnes vno ore auctores fuere, All they with one accorde and consent, gaue me counsaile to dooe it.
Os ad malaudiendum præbere, to suffer one to rebuke hym to his face.
Per ora hominum ferri, To bee publyshed or spoken abroad.
Os distortuere, to sette his mouth awry, to mocke with the mouth, to make awry mouth of yll fauoured face.
Os in ore est omni populo, all the worlde speaketh of it.
Os ducere, to faction the mouth in spekyng, most commonly to curiously.
Os durum, a shamelesse person.
Os impudens videtur, he seemeth to haue an impudent loke or shamelesse face.
Os alicui ledere, to saie yll of one to his face.
Os hominis insignemque impudentiam cognoscite, Consider you the boldnesse and presumption sumption of this felowe.

Duarum & viginti gentium ore loquebatur, he spake xxi. languages.
Os portus, the entre of an haven.
Os sublinire, to mocke or deceiue craftylye with fayre promyses.
Abie in ora hominum, it is abroad in many mens mouthes, dyuers men speake of it.
Quem ex tuo ore admiror, whom I greatly esteeme through your commendation.
Sanguis effuderat ora, they blushed.
Tibi valde in ore soler esse, thou wast wote to speake veraye muche of hym.
Venire in ora hominum, to become famous and renowned.
Quo ore illum obiurgabis, How wylt thou be so bolde to rebuke hym?
Quod habent os, what audacitee or boldnesse haue they? or what presumption is in theym?
Incedunt per ora vestra, they go before your face.
In ore eius iugulatur, he is put to death before his face, or in his presence.
Sacculi os, the mouth of a bagge.
Ola, sometyme used for shales of nuts or oliues.
Os, ovis, n. g. aboue. Ossum idem.
Ossileonis, a certayne herbe, haupng a purple flower.
Asperare sagittas ossibus, to make the heades of their arrowes of bones.
Reponere os, to set aboue that is out of his place.
Osa, lawes concernyns deuotion.
Ostia, I prate the saue vs.
Ostium, for Odi, I hate.
Osa, a towne in Spayne called communely Guesca.
Ostheon, idem quod scrotum, loke there.
Ostendo, cedinis, f. g. panyng or gapyns.
Oscela, a citee in the Alpes, called now Secusa.
Osti, people in Italy.
Oscilla, littell ymages of ware to be offered.
Oscillo, ani, are, to bowe downe.
Oscillum, i, n. g. a littell mouth. sometyme a littell ymage or puppet.
Oscinis, oscinis, or oscen, scinis, f. g. a byrde that by his voyce signifie somewhat to come or happen.
Oscines, all synngyns byrdes.
Oscinam, oscini, n. g. a diuination by byrdes.
Oscis, the abhominable vse of carnall iustice.
Oscimbande, idem quod oscitanter.
Oscitans, aatis, om. gen. that gapeth as it were for lacke of slepe. also that careth for nothyng, sure, fearng nothyng, negligent.
Oscitante, fofely, without any courage, as yf one were almost on sleape. also negligently.
Oscitatio, onis, f. g. gapynge. also quietnesse from labour.
Oscitationes alicuius, bookes negligently wrytten.

Oscito, oscitas, ani, are, to gape as if one were for lacke of slepe. sometyme to open as if one were at the soonne rpyng.
Oscitor, aris, ari, idem.
Osculana pugna, battayle, wherin they which before had the victory, were vanquished.
Osculatio, onis, f. g. kysyns.
Osculor, aris, ari, to kysse, by translation to loue herely, to shewe great kyndnesse.
Osculum, osculi, n. g. a littell mouth, also a kysse.
Affigere oscula, to kysse.
Dare oscula manus, to kysse ones handes.
Ingeminare oscula, to kysse twyse or thysle one after an other.
Ostis, aris, or ostidis, the soonne of Jupiter and Stiope, fyrst kyns of Argues, after leapynge that realme to his brother, he wente into Aegypte, and there reigned and married Phis. Finally he was slayne by Typho his brother, and longe soughte for by Phis his wyfe, who at last fyndyns his body, buryed it in the yle Abatos, where the Aegyptians afterwarde fyndynge an ore, supposed that Ostis was become a god, and saynge that ore with theym to the citee of Memphis, honoured him for a god, & callinge hym Apis, they ordeined to hym certayne ceremonies. A littell whyle after, drowynng him in the ryuer, they soughte for an other lyke ore with waylynge and weepynge: whiche beyng founden, they cryed with muche gladnesse, and brought him to the citee. He was before the Incarnacion of Christe. 2012. peres.
Ostites, an herbe, which is also called Cynoccephalia, because it is lyke a dogges head.
Osimon, an herbe called also medion.
Ofor, oforis, m. g. he that hateth.
Ospreolion, idem quod orobanche.
Ossa, a high mountaine in Thessaly.
Osteus, a, um, of that bylle.
Osteus, a, um, bony, or of a bone, as harde as a bone.
Osticulatim, one bone from an other, in pices.
Osticulum, li, n. g. a littell bone.
Ostifragus, a, um, that breaketh bones.
Ostifraga, f. g. or Ostifragus, gi, m. g. a kynd of egles.
Ostilegium, gi, n. g. a gatheryns of bones.
Ostionoba, a citee of Portugale.
Ostuarium, a, f. g. a synne or lyke thyng, where bones of dead men are put, a charnell house.
Ostendo, di, dere, to shewe, to open, as a man, dooeth his wares to selle.
Ostendere se sine animum suum, to declare his courage, or what he intender to dooe.
Ostendere se virum, to proue him selfe a man to dooe valiantly.
Oportune te mihi ostendis, you meete with me in veray good season.
Bellum ostendere, to proclaim or denounce warre.

Os suum ostendere, to shewe his face.
 Multa peccata in hac re ostendis, thou shewest many offences, or thou comittest many fautes, in this one matter.
 Se optime ostendunt, they behaue them selues ryght honorably, or declare them selues to be verai honest men.
 Ostende qui vir fies, shewe what a man thou art. Se palam ostendere, to appere.
 Mihi per alium ostendit suam sententiam, he shewed me his munde vnder the colour & name of an other man.
 Ostendere spem, to put in hope.
 Ostendere metum, to thzeatten one with a thynge, wherof he is aferde.
Ostensus, a, um, shewed.
Ostentans, antis, vossynge, shewynge with ostentation.
Ostentatio, onis, f. g. boastynge, ostentacion, ad vauntynge, shewynge or tellynge of a thynge for vaine glorie.
Ostentator, oris, m. g. a boaster, a bragger, he that sheweth a thynge for ostentacion.
 Pecuniosus ostentator, he that braggeth of his money.
Ostentatus, a, um, shewed, proffered.
 Ostentata occasio, the occasion presente.
Ostento, anti, are, to shewe often also to boast or aduante, to shewe a thynge for vaine glorie and ostentacion.
 Ostentare periculum capitis, to menace one to hysc hym, or to cause hym to dye as a transgressour.
 Ostentare iugulum pro capite alterius, to offer to dye to saue the lyfe of an other man.
 Ostentare spem, to put in hope.
 Venditare & ostentare.
 Ostentare verbis, to promysse, to bragge.
Ostentum, ti, n. g. a thynge whiche happeneth seldome, and betokeneth, that some straunge thynge shall happen, As a blasynge steele, thunder on a fayre daie. Sometime it signifieth a thynge monstrous, or contrary to the common course of nature.
Ostentus, a, um, shewed.
Ostentus, us, m. g. a scorne, whan one in moode rage pointeth to one, a shewynge.
 Ostentui esse, to be pointed at, to be for a shewe.
Ostocollon, an herbe growynge much on stones and walles, physicians call it Polygonid, some talantion, the common softe symphiton. it is alwaie greene, and liueth without leaues.
Ostia, orum, the entrees of great cyuers. somez tyme hauens.
Ostia, a towne rygh to Rome.
Ostiatius, rij, m. g. a porter, a dooze keeper.
Ostiatum, from doze to dooze. sometyne one after an other, or one after an other by name.
Ostiensis, a, um, a littell haueu at Rome.
Ostiensis, se, of Ostia.

Ostiensis porta, a gate in Rome towards Ostia.
Ostigo, ostiginis, f. g. the scabbe, whiche happeneth to sheepe about thez mouths and lippes.
Ostiolum, li. n. g. a littell dooze.
Ostium, ij, n. g. a dooze or gate, an entree into a thynge.
Ostracis, or Ostracites, a certayne stone.
Ostracismus, m, m. g. a maner of exilge of men at Athens, whiche excelled other in power or authorite, whiche exile was don by deliqueryng of oyster shells, wherein the name of hym, whiche shoulde be exiled, was writen.
Ostracium, cij, or Ostracum, ci, n. g. a shell, it is sometyne vfed for the stone Onyx.
Ostrea, a, f. g. an oyster.
Ostreum, rei, n. g. idem.
Ostrearius, a, um, belonging to oysters.
 Ostrearius panis, browne breade, the whiche men are wonte to eate with oysters.
Ostreatus, arum, places where oysters be found.
Ostreatus, a, um, harde and rough lyke an oyster.
Ostrifer, strifera, um, that bringeth forth the iuyce, wherof purple colour is made.
Ostrinus, a, um, of purple colour.
Ostrina vestes, garmentes of purple colour.
Ostrogothi, caste Gothes.
Ostrum, tri, n. g. the iuyce of the lythe Murex, wherof purple colour is made. also purple or other lythe colour.
Ostya, vel ostrys, a certayne tree.
Ostium, looker Holium.
Ostus, a, um, that hath in hatred.
Ostus sum, ostus es, ostus est, I hate, thou hatest, he hateth.
Ostus, called also Linaria, of some Herba vialis, is supposed to be the wyde lyne, or wildeflaxe, or Barnewozze, some call it rode flaxe, some Binaric.

OTanes, a noble man of Persia, whiche conspired with Darius against the Persigian, that vsurped the kyngdom.
Othionna, some thynke it the iuyce of the herbe Chelidonia, reade Diosco. li. 2. ca. 202. & inibi commentarios.
Othone, an herbe, that groweth most in Syria, and hath leaues full of holes.
Othriades, a Macedonian.
Othris, a mountayne of Chetialy, where dwelled the people called Lapithae.
Othrisius, a, um, of Othris.
Othus, a ggeant.
Orior, aris, ari, to be ydell, at rest, or quiete, to be without trouble or busynesse.
 Ocior

Ose, ydell, at leysure, all by leysure, surely, without care.
Osiote ambulare, to walke all by leysure.
 In aurem vramuis osiote dormias, bzeake no slepe for the matter hardily, bee nothynge careful for the matter.
Osiote dormire, to slepe without care, or to sleape foundely.
Osiote negotium gerere, to go negligently about his busynesse.
Osius, a, um, ydell, sure, without care, eates lesse, quiete, at ease, without trouble, occupacion, or busynesse.
Osius dies, holy daie, a playng daie.
 Animo iam nunc osiote esse impero, Rowe I charge the, eate for nothynge, or I byd you set your herte at rest, quiete, or ease: or set your herte at quiete at my woorde.
Osiotares, a thynge that requireth no care or studie.
Osiote sententia, sentences, whiche haue no vertue or power to moue the audience: or that the audience dooeth not vnderstande or perceyue.
Osius studiorum, he that studieth nothynge.
Otiom otiosum, vacant tyme without busynesse.
Otiotus ab animo, quiete in mynde, without care or trouble.
Otiotus a metu, without feare.
 Otis, udis, f. g. a kynde of owles, or as Helianus saith, a birde like a partridge, so fatte, that they can not see much about the grownd: and therefor whan they heareth the dogges barkie, they hideth hir telfe amonge bushes.
Otium, tij, n. g. ydellnesse, vacation from labour. also leysure, rest, quietnesse, contrary to labour and busynesse.
Otendere otium, to mapnteyne quietnesse.
 Suppeditare otium studio, to passe the tyme in study, to geat leysure to study.
 In otio esse, to lytte at home and do nothynge, to be at leysure, to be without busynesse.
 Abundare otio, to haue muche leysure.
 Affluere otio, idem.
Otium operis, whan they labour no moze.
Otij plurimi res, the matter requireth muche leysure.
 Literatum otium, vacant tyme applied to study.
 Abui otio, to bestow his vacant tyme yll.
 Tibi est otium, yf ye haue leysure.
 Si plus on habuero, yf I haue moze leysure or vacant tyme.
 Facere consuetudinem otij, to byynge one in a custome to be ydell.
Otiens, the brother of Decuba.
Ous, ti, the birde called a hoze owle.

OValis, le, pertepnyng to triumphe or victoryng.
 Qualis corona, a garland of myrtels, geuen vnto hym, whiche had victorie without effusion of bloude.
Ouans, antis, om. g. reioyng, beyng ioyefull.
Ouatio, onis, of ouum, the tyme of laynge of egges.
Ouatio, onis, fcm. gen. a smalle triumphe of a prince or capitayne, whiche had victorie of his ennemys, without slaughter of men: or where battayle was not denounced, In the whiche triumphe the capitayne went on foote, or only byd ryde on a horse, with a garlande of myrtels on his head, and his souldiours spynge about hym.
Ouatus, us, m. gen. the thoutc or noys of theym that go in such a triumphe.
Ouatus, a, um, which is in similitude of an egge.
Ouiaria, a, f. g. a flocke of sheepe.
Ouiaricus, a, um, of or belonging to shepe.
Ouidius, surnamed Naso, bozne in Sulmo, brought vp in Rome, and diligently instructed in latine letters from his tender age, he gaue moste diligent study to the makynge of verses, from the whiche he was withdrawen by his father, and put to learne rhetoricke, wherein a whyle he muche profited, and was in the number of the beste orators of that tyme, and was aduanced to sundry authorites and made a senatour. Not withstanding he chiefly dedicates hym selfe to poetrie, wherein by nature he was excellent in facilitie and abundance of sentences. He was in good fauour with the emperour Augustus, of whom at the last he was exiled into Pontus, where he spent the rest of his lyfe in a towne called Tomos, amonge people moste barbarous, who not withstanding lamented his deathe, for his courtesy and gentle manners. The cause of his exile is vncertaine, sayng some suppose it was for abusing Julia, daughter of the emperour Augustus, although the pretence of the emperour was for the makynge of the booke of the crafte of loue, wherby yong myndes myght be stypped to wantonnesse. he was before the incarnation of Christ.
Ouicula, la, f. g. a littell sheepe.
Ouifera gallina, a broode henne.
Ouile, lis, n. g. a fold or shepe house, a shepe cote.
Ouiliones, idem qui opiliones.
Ouiluteum, the white of an egge.
Ouipera, those beastes, birdes, or fishes, that breede egges or spaume.
Ouillus, a, um, of a sheepe.
Ouinus, a, um, idem.
Ouis, uis, f. g. a shepe. Ouis, is sometyne red in the masculine gender.
 Quem lupo committere, a prouerbe, vfed whan any thynge is comitted to hym, for whose saule it had been expedient, to haue had an other other keeper.

O ANTE X.

Ouo, au, are, to reioyce with noyse of voyce in a multitude.
Ouum, ui, n. g. an egge.
Ouum ouo simile, one egge lyke an other, applyed vnto them, whiche be of lyke condicions of persone.
Ouo prognatus eodem, of one father and mother, or brought by vnder one master, or in one schoole.
Durum ouum, an harde egge.
Molle ouum, a soft egge.
Sorbile ouum, a reere rosted egge.
Albumen oui, the white of an egge.
Luteum oui, the yolke of an egge.
Incubare ouis, to sytte on broode.
Poner e oua, to laye egges.
Gignunt ouis pisces, fyshes byede spawme.
Ab ouo vsq; ad mala, prouerbi ally from the begynnyng to the endyng.

O ANTE X.

Oxalis, oxalidis, f. ge. a kynde of sozrell.
Oxeas, Hercules sonne by Megara.
Oxellum, a citee in Englande called Chester.
Oxigon, the dryegges of vineger.
Oxis, oxidis, a vessel for vineger.
Oxos, a kynde of purple made in Thentela.
Oxos, a ryuer of Asia, rennyng thorough the desertes of Syria, also Oxos, eos, neu. ge. is vineger.
Oxobapta, certayne purple garmentes of an excellent good dyng.
Oxoleon, oyle and vineger mixt together.
Oxyacantha, a barbery tree, called of some Berbaris, or Pipreges.
Oxybaphum, or Oxybaphus, idem quod Acetabulum.
Oxycteros, a kynde of redde tree.
Oxycratum, water and vineger sodden together, called also Posca.
Oxygala, la, f. ge. of Oxygalum, li, neut. ge. sower mylle.
Oxygarum, ri, n. ge. sharpe sauce, pike sauce.
Oxylhalme, a kynde of drinke made of salte and vineger.
Oxylapadium, thi, n. g. sozrell.
Oxyla, great sozrell.
Oxymeli, or Oximel, oxymelis, honny and vinyger sodden together.
Oxymoron, a sentence spoken with so muche affectation, that it seemeth folysh.
Oxyphoenix, nicis, the tree whiche beareth the fruite, called of the apothecaries Tamarindi.
Oxypora, oymmentes and emplaysters myxte with vineger, to the intent that the vertue of the other ingredience may the better penetrate.
Oxyporum, ri, n. ge. all sharpe saute made with vineger.

O ANTE Z.

Oxiporopola, la, m. ge. he that selleth meate sharpe sauce or souce.
Oxyrinchus, a citee in Egypte, so called of the fysh Oxyrinchus, forasmuche as the Egyptians wooshipped two fyshes for goddis, that is to saie Lepidodus, and Oxyrinchus. Also twoo byrdes, a hauke, and the byrde Zibis, also thye beastes, an ox, a dogge, and a catte, and some honoured a crocodile, and som Ichneumon, a littell beaste that kylleth the crocodiles in the said citee the fysh Oxyrinchus was specially wooshipped.
Oxygarum, id est, acutum garum.
Oxylepes, a kynde of breadde, geuen to them that be sicke of the feuer, or that haue the fluxe.
Oxymoron, a sentence spoken to with affectation, that it seemeth folysh.
Oxymysine, a mybbe lyke to the myrtle, but that it hath leaues rougher and sharper, and hath redde berries, lyke to cherries, this mybbe is also called Bruscus.
Oxyporum, a medicine that helpeth spedily, also the same that Oxygarum is.
Oxyporopola, they whiche sell meates condute in vineger.
Oxyringus, a fysh, whiche the Egyptians wooshipped as a god.
Oxys, id est, acetosus, acutus, velox, lyke Oxytriphillon.
Oxythanos, a kynde of Bulrushes.
Oxythaccharum, suger and vineger sodden together, of some men called Sympus acetosus simplex.
Oxytonon, wilde popie.
Oxytoxa, medicines to make a woman to byng forth hir byrthe quickly.
Oxytriphillon, an herbe, called sozrell de boyes, or Alleluia, Lethowme meate, or wodde sozrell.
Oxys, idem.

O ANTE Z.

Ozanna, a, f. m. gener. sores in the nose, whiche causeth a styngyng sauour in the nose.
Ozana, is also a kynde of the fysh, called Polypus.
Ozanus, an herbe, called also pseudonardus.
Oze, es, f. g. the styngyng of the byrthe.
Ozimon, an herbe called basyll.
Ozimum, ozimi, n. ge. a meate made of the inwardes of beastes.

P ANTE A.

ABVLARIS, re, pettepnyng to forrage of meate for beastes.
Pabulatio, onis, foragepnyng. Somtyme pasturpnyng of feeding of beastes.
Pabulator, oris, m. g. a forrageour.
Pabulatorius, a, um, pettepnyng to foragepnyng of beastes meate.
Pabulor, aris, ari, to go in foragepnyng. Somtyme to fede, to pasture.
Pabulari oleas, pro nutrire.
Pabulum, li, n. ge. forrage of meate for beastes, pasture, and by translation euery thyng that feedeth, maynteyneth or nourisheth.
Amoris pabulum, that maynteyneth or nourisheth loue.
Hybernium pabulum, winter stufte, to fede the cattel, as haye.
Pacalis, le, that byngeth or signifyeth peace.
Pacator, oris, m. g. that pacifieth, allwageth, or tamed, he that quieteth.
Pacatus, a, um, appeased, quieted.
Paciri, hylls in the litle Asia.
Pachorus, a kynde of Parthia, Rayne in Syria, after the death of Crassus.
Pachynus, a mountayne in Sicile, on the sea syde, or an elbowe of the lande there, whiche now is called Capo paciuio.
Pachyfos, a ryuer of Sicile.
Pacideianus, a twoorde player.
Pacifer, cifera, um, that byngeth or signifyeth peace.
Pacificatio, onis, f. m. g. an appeasyng, a swageng, a pleasyng, a peace makpnyng.
Pacifactor, oris, m. g. he that allwageth, pacifieth or maketh peace.
Pacifactorius, a, um, that dweth pacific.
Pacifico, au, arc, to pacifie, to make peace, to sette at one.
Pacificare, absolutely, to intreate of peace, to conclude or make peace.
Pacificatum veniant, they come to intreate of peace.
Pacificus, a, um, that maketh peace.
Pacinus, a, m. g. a mannes name.
Pacio, was of olde writers used for pactio.
Pacitor, sceris, sci, to make couenaunt, to bargayne, to patise, to indent.
Pacifi vitam ab hoste, To render hym to his enemy, his lyfe onely saued, or on condition to saue his lyfe.
Cum Xerxe nuptias filie eius pacificatur, he agreed to mary the daughter of Xerxes.
Pactus est duo millia, he couenaunted to geue two thousande.
Inducias aliquot dierum cum hoste pacisci, to make a trespasse with the enemy to endure for certayn daies.
Vitam pro laude pacisci, to be willing to dye,

P ANTE A.

to the end to gette praise.
Pactus est illum dimitti, he promysed, that he shulde be dismissed.
Cui pacta Launina, ante aduentum Aeneae fuerat, betrothed, spoused.
Pacisci filiam alicui.
Paco, au, arc, to mitigate, to appease, to accord, to please.
Pactilis, le, platted.
Pactilis corona, a platted garlande.
Pactio, onis, an accord, agreement, a treatise, a couenaunt.
Pactionem nuptialem facere, to agree vpon a mariage.
Obligare pactionibus, to bynde with couenaunts.
Pactitius, a, um, dooen vpon condition or agreement.
Cessatio pugnae pactitia, a trespasse.
Pactiolopes, excedpnyng ptheffe.
Pactolus, a ryuer in Lydia, haupnge golden grauell.
Pactor, oris, m. ge. he that maketh a couenaunt, or agreement.
Pactum, ti, neu. g. a couenaunt, a condencion, a bargayne, agreement.
Manere in pacto, to sticke to the bargayne or agreement.
Pactum transitionis, a saulfe conducte, to passe from one countreie to an other, a passeport.
Alio pacto, otherwyse.
Nullo pacto, in no wyse.
Eo pacto, in this maner of wyse, or by that meanes.
Hoc pacto, by this meanes.
Pactus, a, um, couenaunted, promysed.
Has tibi nos pactus legibus dare iussit, He commaunded vs to geue this money vpon a condition.
Pacuius, a famous writer of tragedies, bozne at Brundisium in Calabria, after soonne of Ennius the poet: he is commended of Quintilian for the grauitie of his sentences, the ponderousnesse of his wordes, and the authoritee of the personages, whiche are in his tragedies and comedies. That his stile seemeth somewhat rude, is to be ascribed to the tyme, and not to his faute: he liued vntil the age of 90. yere before the comyng of Christ.
Padus, a famous riuer in Italie, whiche is there named Po. Cato in originibus sciet, that the Etruscans called it Boiigon, the Ligurians Botigum. Plinius calleth it Bodincum, that is to saie, haupng no bottome, the Grekes call it Eridanus, It cometh out of the hyll called Vesulus, which is the highest part of the mountaynes called Alpes, and renneth by the marches of Liguria, and so passeth vnder the grounde, and ryseth eftsoones, in the countreie called Vibonensis, and carieth with hym xxx. other ryuers into the Venetian sea, named Ddd Adria.

Adriaticum.
Padua, a cite in Italy called Panie.
Padula, a ryuer, whiche some saye is an arm of the Po.
Pæan, pæanis, m. ge. an hymne in the prayse of Apollo. sometyne the same Apollo. It is now taken for an hymne, made to the laude of god or our lady.
Pæantius, a, um, of Apollo.
Pæantides, pæantides, precious stones, called also Gemonides.
Pædagógium, gij, n. g. lodgyng for seruantes and chyliden, a schole, among lawyers it is taken for a bondmans seruice.
Pædagógus, gi, m. ge. he that is appoynted to wayte on chyliden, to see them well ordered, a teacher of chyliden, a schoole master.
Pædagium, gij, n. g. a thing, wherein chyliden be caried. In Platarche it seemeth to be taken for a tender chylde or derelyng.
Pædareus, a mannes name.
Pædærites, stis, a louer of childerne in vnholdest wise.
Pædæstia, æ, f. g. a vicious loue of children.
Pæderos, ótis, mal. gene. a precious stone, called also Opalion, there appeareth in it the fyre byghness of the Carbuncle, the shynnyng purple colour of the amethyst, the grene sea of the emeraude, all shynnyng together with an incredible myxture. Pl. li. 37. ca. 6. There is also a bymble and herbe, wherof Plinie maketh mention. li. 19. ca. 8. and Dioscorides lib. 3. & 4. called Pæderos, some suppose it to be a kynde of Acanthus.
Pædia, æ, fæm. gene. erudition and institution in good artes, as Cellius teacheth: sometyne chylhode.
Pæ'dico, aui, are, to committe buggery.
Pæ'didi, felythp and fluttythp fellows.
Pædor, ótis, m. ge. fluttythpness, vncleanness, felythpness.
Pædomathes, they whiche learne in their chylhode.
Pædoribia, the teachyng of excrepyng of chyliden.
Pædoribes, bis, and Pædoriba, æ, masc. gen. a scholemaster.
Pægma, atis, n. g. loke Pegma.
Pæon, onis, a soire in meter.
Pæon, onis, an excellent physician.
Pæonia, an herbe, called Pæonie, of the whiche there is the male and the female, also a cuntrey in Europa, and is a part of Macedonia.
Pæstanius, a, um, of the citee Pæstum.
Pæstonium, a citee of Austrie, called commonly Betta.
Pæstum, a citee of Lucania, where is aboundaunce of Roses.
Pætus, ti, m. g. he that looketh as if his eyes were halfe closed, he that looketh a quintt bpwarde: or he that hath the one eye lesse than the other.

after come, he that hath vnconstant eyes, tolling and turning now hither now thither.
Paganalia, óium, n. g. plu. plough meynes help daies, as wakes be nowe a daies.
Paganicus, a, um, petynyng to villages.
Paganius, ni, m. g. a man of the countrey, of the village. it is also he that despyeth to be in the numbre of soulbours, and is not yet admitted: or rather euery man, that is not a soulbour, and by transdacion, he that is not perfect or counnyng in any science.
Pagala, a towne of Thessaly, whiche after was called Demetrias.
Pagaleus, and Pagalus, a, um, of Pagala.
Pagatim, village by village.
Pagina, na, f. ge. the fynde of a leafe in a booke. it is also the place in the tangle of a vine, where euery bryanche is fastned.
Pagella, læ, and Paginula, læ, f. g. a litle fynde of a leafe in a booke.
Pago, gis, pépigi, gere, pastus, to make countnaunt of contrate, to patte, to indent.
Pagonaton, the herbe Tussilago.
Pagrus, a certayne frethe water fysh, called also Pagurus.
Pagus, gi, m. gen. a village. also a dicion, lordshipp, or marches, hauyng diuers townes and villages.
Pagyris, the name of a ryuer and of a citee, of whiche the people are called Pagyrita.
Pala, æ, fæm. gen. a spade. also a yoke to put in brynde into the ouen. also a fan to make wynde, also the byndest parte of a ryng, wherein the stone is sette. sometyne a fyne panne or moule. also a certayne tree of excrepyng greatnes growyng in Indie.
Pala, wedges or peeces of fyne golde, or gaddes of mettall whan it is fined.
Palacra, æ, or Palaciana. fæ. g. a piece, ingotte, or wedge of golde.
Palæmon, palæmonis, a god of the sea, also the sonne of Phineas, kyng of Arcadie. also a grammarian in the tyme of Cybrius, and a shepheardes name in Virgile.
Palæphatus, an auienture wyter in the tyme of Araxerxes.
Palepharia papyrus, a boke cōtēnyng nothing but fabules and tales, of thynges vncredible.
Palepolis, a place not farre from Naples.
Palesta, tæ, the measure of the. iii. fengens loked together.
Palestina, a countrey in Syrie, lōgyng to Iasbie, called in holy scripture Philistin.
Palestra, æ, fæm. gen. a wastlyng place, also the exercise of wastlyng, or barriers. It is also the comelyness of meupnge and gesture, accordyng to the state or degre of the person, which sheweth it.
Palestrice, lyke a wastler.
Palestricum, idem quod Palestra.
Palestricus, ci, m. gene. a wastler, he that teacheth the wastlyng, or fygthng at the barriers. also one that teacheth gesturys, and comely mouyng of the body.

Palestricus, a, um, petynyng to wastlyng.
Palestria, æ, m. g. he that wastlyng, or fygthng at the barriers.
Palam, openly before men, that all men maye see it.
Palam facere, to reuile or byng to open knowlage.
Res palam est, the matter is openly known, or the thyng is manifest.
Palam populo, for coram populo.
Continuo palam est, by and by it is abyode, I kepe no counsayle.
Palam est pices audire, it is euidently known, that fshes dooe here.
Palam mentiri, to lye euidently, and manifestly.
Palam aduersarius, an open aduersary.
Palam and Obscure, contrary.
Alamedes, the sonne of Nauplius, kyng of the yle Eubodia, a valyaunt cappyayne of the Grekes, at the sieg of Troie, where by the faulse slemp of Illises, he was slaine of his people. it is written, that he founde certayne letters of Greke, by the order of a flight of cranes.
Alamedes, idem quod Palangæ.
Alaga, gæ, f. g. a lauer, or poster, wherewith they lye or beare rympber, also a roller to conuertyng thynges of great weight.
Alaga, aui, are, to beare on leauers or posters.
Alagum, men whiche dooe beare on leauers or posters thynges of great wyght.
Alaus, autis, om. g. rennyng or wandryng abyode, as they that be discomforted in bataille.
Alina, a, um, a countrey by Rome.
Alinaus, a, um, of Palatina.
Alatium, a citee builded on the hylle called Palaetinus.
Alina, a citee in Aragonia.
Alas, the daughter of Euandere.
Alathia, æ, f. g. a taste of spges.
Alaun, an aduerbe, signifiglyng scattered and wanderyng here and there.
Alatina officia, offices within a princes palatce or court.
Alatius mons, an hylt at Rome.
Alatium, ti, n. g. an hylt in Rome. also the palatce of an emperour of kyng.
Alatio, ótis, fæm. gene. a foundation made in a maule ground, or in the water, with pylles of timber.
Alatur, or palatual, a sacrifice doone at Rome on the hylle called Palatium.
Alatualis, a pyeste consecrated to the goddess, that had the tuition of the palatce in Rome.
Alatium, ti, n. g. the rouse of the mouth.
Subtile palatium, a fyne taste.
Torpens palatium, a dulle taste.

Exacuere palatum, to quicken the taste.
Lingua deest palato, he can not speake.
Exfurdant palatum vina feruida, hotte wyne hurte the taste.
Palatus, us, m. g. is red in Cicero, if the booke be not false.
Palea, æ, f. g. chaffe of coine. sometyne strawe: also a gristell, whiche hangeth downe from the necke of a cocke or tapon, a cockes bea rde.
Palea aris, the scum or offall of brasse, whan it is bourned or tried.
Palear, áris, ari, neut. gene. the dewe lappe of a todder beaste, hangyng downe vnder the throte.
Palearium, rij, neu. ge. a place wherein chaffe is kepte.
Paleatus, a, um, made, myxte, or couered with chaffe.
Pales, the goddess of shepherdes and pasture.
Palene, a citee, so called of Phyllena, the daughter of Siphon, and wyfe of Metus.
Palepaphos, a citee of Epyeste dedicate to Metus.
Palecamander, a ryuer in Troy.
Palfurius, an oratour.
Palicenus, a fountayne in Sicilia.
Palici, two bretherne, the sonnes of Jupiter, and the nymphe Thalia.
Palilia, or Parilia, orum, n. g. plur. shepherdes holy daies kepte in the honour of Pales.
Palilogia, reduplicatio, a figure.
Palimbacchus, a foote in meter, hauyng the two fyrst sillables longe, and the last shorte.
Palimpsesta, æ, f. g. pite the wyse sodde.
Palimpsestus, ti, masc. g. parchemente rased, that was before written in.
Palingenesia, æ, f. g. a regeneration or seconde nature.
Palinodia, æ, fæm. gene. a contrary songe, or retractyng of that whiche one hath spoken or written, nowe of some innce called a recantatyng.
Palinodiam canere, to retracte that which one hath spoken or written.
Palinurus, the master of the shyppe, wherein Æneas came into Italy. also an elbow of the land of Sicile into the sea.
Palidus, ri, m. g. a byper, whiche beareth a rod, wherein are three or foure blacke sedes. I suppose by the description bothe of Theophrastus, and Dioscorides, that it is the fyre or goxe, although in some one place it may be greater than in an other place. It may so be, that fyre is one kynde of Palurus: for authours set dyuers kyndes of it: but most commonly it is taken for a tree growyng muche in Africke, and hauyng a sweete berry or fruite, which they put in wine, to make it more pleasant. looke Ruellius, and the commentes on Diosc.
Palla, læ fæ. g. a womans gowne or robe. also a garmentes that fecche men vscd muche lyke a shoyte clothe with sleues.

 Trahere pallam, to trape his gowne on the grounde after hym.
 Pallace, laces, or Pallaca, cæ, form. gene. a consubpyne.
 Palladium, dij, neut. gener. the ymage of Pallas.
 Palladius, a mans name, whiche wote of husbandry, also of an other, whiche was excces dyng swyfte.
 Palladius, a, um, that longeth to Pallas.
 Pallancana, a sharpe oynion, wiche causeth the eyes to water.
 Pallantia, a towne in Spayne.
 Pallas, artis, the soonne of Euander. sometyme kynge of Latines. also a gyaunt.
 Pallas, adis, the daughter of Jupiter, called goddess of battaile, and also of wysedome.
 Pallene, a countreie by Macedonie, and a citee in Acaia.
 Pallens, entis, that is pale or wanne.
 Palleo, iui, lere, to be pale, sometyme to feare.
 Multo pallere colores, to wate pale & change colowres, as men that be sodenly taken in any dede.
 Pallresco, scere, to become wanne or pale.
 Palliastrium, tri, n. g. a course mantill or robe.
 Palliatus, a, um, cladde in a mantille, robe, or clothe.
 Palliata fabula, comedies or enterludes made in Grecia, & the personages therein were Grekes: as Togate fabule, were enterludes in Rome, and the personages Romans, so called because the hyermost habite of Grekes was called Pallium, of the Romaynes Toga.
 Pallidulus, a, um, somewhat pale.
 Pallidus, a, um, pale.
 Pallio, aui, are, to concele or hyde, to couer.
 Palliolatim amictus, cladde in a palle or robe.
 Palliolatus, a, um, cladde in a robe or mantill.
 Palliolum, li, n. g. a shoyte mantill, or a wollen whoodde, vscd in olde tyme to couer the head.
 Pallium, liq, n. g. a mantill, suche as knyghtes of the garter dooe weare, a longe robe, a garment that philosophiers vscd, a cope. sometyme a clothe.
 Tunica pallio propior, a prouerbe, whan a man wyll signifie, that he is moze bounde to one frende than to an other.
 Pallor, oris, m. g. a palenesse of coloure.
 Palma, æ, f. g. the palme of the hande. it is oft tymes taken for a hande. also a measure called a handbreadth. also a palme tree, or date tree, whiche is alwaie greene, and was wonte to be geuen to them that had woonne victorie. some tyme it signifieth the price or rewarde of victorie. also victorie it selfe. Palma, is also a great vine bzaunche, that beareth grapes.
 Plana faciem contudere palma, to clap one on the cheke or about the face with his hande.

 Huic equidem consilio palmam do, in faith I geue pyche and price to this diuise of counsaile.
 Palmam ferre, to haue the price of victorie, to be most excellent.
 Plurimarum palmarum homo, he that oft tymes hath had victorie.
 Palma, is sometyme vscd for a date.
 Palmam praripere, to take the price of honoy from an other.
 Palma Christi, called also Buchaides, an herbe of the kynde of Satyrion, but haungng rootes lyke the palme of ones hande.
 Palma, a towne of Spayne.
 Palmaris, re, that is geuen to one for victorie, or worthy a garlande for victorie.
 Palmare facinus, an act worthy palme of signe of victorie.
 Palmaria, an yle in the Tuscan sea.
 Palmarium, ij, n. g. the rewarde of signe of victorie, or a thyng worthy a garlande of signe of victorie.
 Palmarius, a, um, and Palmaris, re, of Palmus, that is the measure of .xii. fingers.
 Palmaria spacia, an handbreadth space.
 Palmaria, & palmaris vestis, a garment of baudekin, which the consull dyd weare in tyme of peace, and the victour in tyme of warre.
 Palmarius, a, um, woorthy the signe of token of victorie, woorthy to be crowned.
 Palmes, palmitis, m. g. the bzaunche, most commonly of a vine.
 Palmes pampinarius, the ponge bzaunche of a vine tree, that beareth no fruite, but only leaues.
 Palmes fructuarius, a bzaich that beareth fruite.
 Palmes focaneus, a bzaich that springeth out of the ciste and verie middes of two bolues that growe fortogether, and taketh parte of the nourishment of them both.
 Palmétum, i, n. g. the place wherein date trees dooe growe.
 Palmeus, a, um, of palme or date trees.
 Palmifer, a, um, that beareth palme or date trees.
 Palmipedalis, a measure of a foote, and an handbreadth, a foote and an halfe.
 Palmipedes aues, all byrdes that haue whole feete, as commonly all water foules haue.
 Palmipes, pedis, that hath a plague and flatte foote, fplate footed.
 Palmo, aui, are, to bynde together. also to doo any thyng with the palme of the hande.
 Palmosus, a, um, full of palme trees.
 Palmula, æ, fæ. g. the broad ende of an eye or sculle. also a date.
 Palmus, mi, mas. ge. a measure, Maior & minor. Maior, after Judeus, is .xii. fingers, after some a spanne. Minor, is foure fingers, or halfe a foote.
 Palmyra, a great castell or forte in the midd of Syria.

 Palmirena, a countreie in Syria.
 Palo, aui, are, to hedge or pale in. Also to wander.
 Palor, aris, ari, to goe a sunder here and there scattered.
 Palpatio, oris, f. g. flatterp.
 Palpator, oris, m. g. a flatterer.
 Palpebra, arum, form. gener. plur. the heates that doo growe on the eye lyddes, also the eye lyddes.
 Palpitatio, oris, f. g. pantyng, beatyng, mouyng of the stomache.
 Palpito, aui, are, to beate as the stomake doeth.
 Palpo, aui, are, & Palpor, aris, ari, to fele, stroke or touche softly, as a man dooth an hoxe or other fierse beast. By translation, to flatter, to deceiue with faire woordes.
 Palpones, flatterers.
 Palpum, i, n. g. a flatteryng.
 Obrudere palpum, to flatter, to deceiue with fayre woordes.
 Palum, a ruyce in Britayne.
 Paludamentum, i, n. ge. a cote armour. It was also a womans garment.
 Paludapium, the herbe called smallage.
 Paludatus, a, um, cladde in a cote armour.
 Paludifer, a, um, that causeth a ditch or marife.
 Paludofus, a, um, full of dyches or marfse groundes.
 Palumbarius, a certayne hauke that is long and blacke, and flyeth the most part by night.
 Palumbus, bis, m. & fæm. ge. a woodde culuer, a ringed doue.
 Palumbus, and Palumba, idem.
 Palumbinus, a, um, of a wood culuer.
 Palumbina caro, the fleshe of a wood culuer.
 Palus, li, m. g. a stake or poste.
 Palus, ludis, f. g. a fenne or marife.
 Paluster, stris, itre, perteynyng to a fenne or marfse.
 Locus palustris, a marife grounde.
 Pambasia, a perfect kyngedome or dominion, a kyngdome where one hath all in his power.
 Pamisus, one of the five principalle ryuers of Thessalia.
 Pampagi, people in Ethiopia, whiche doo eate of all maner of thynges.
 Paphlunia, a region in the lesse Asia, lyngge on the southe syde of the mountayne Caucasus, and marcheth on the realmes of Assygia, and Laria.
 Pampilius, a, um, of Pampylia.
 Pampilus, signifieth all loue, or a louer of all men, euery mans frende and louer. It was the name of Ariocles sonne Platos scholar. also a priest of Cesaria, whiche was martyred.
 Pampillum, a chariote.
 Pampilona, a citee in the realme of Nauette.
 Pampinaceus, a, um, that hath dyuers bzaunches.

Pampinarium, ij, n. ge. the tender bzaunche that groweth out of the body of the vine, which beareth nothing but leaues.
 Pampinarius, and Pampineus, a, um, of or perteynyng to a vine bzaunche.
 Pampinatio, oris, a cumpng of, of vine bzaunches, or pulling of of the superfluous leaues.
 Pampinator, oris, he that cutteth of the superfluous bzaunches or leaues of a vine.
 Pampinatus, a, um, the participle of Pampino.
 Pampino, aui, are, to cut of the small bzaunched of a vine, or to pull away the leaues, that the soonne maie come to the roote.
 Pampinula, an herbe called also Pimpinella.
 Pampinus, ni, fæm. or masc. gene. a vine leafe or grene bzaunche. also the bystles of the fysh Polipus.
 Pan, panis, called the god of shepherdes.
 Panaces, cis, n. g. and Panacia, æ, fæ. ge. idem quod Panax.
 Panatius, a stoike philosopher.
 Panatolium, an hyl of Aetolia, also the whole counsaile of the countreie of Aetolia.
 Panatolicus, a, um, of the counsaile of Aetolia.
 Panagios, totus sanctus.
 Panagron, gri, n. gen. a great sweepe nette that taketh all maner of fysh.
 Panareus, that containeth all vertues.
 Panarium, a disease that often bzedeth in mens fingers.
 Panaria ebrictas, Celsus writeth, that he hath redde for Arrogancia & licentia.
 Panariolum, li, n. g. a basket or panyer, wherein breadde is caried.
 Panarium, ij, neu. g. a pantrie where breadde is kept. also an hutch wherein breadde is kept, or a basket to carie breadde.
 Panathenaicum, a kynde of oynmentes.
 Panathenea, were among the Athenienses, certayne solemne ceremonies, wherof some were great, and kept euery fyfth yere, some were lesse, and they were perysh celebrat. They were sometyme called Athenaea.
 Panax, panacis, fæ. gen. an herbe, which hath a leafe lyke to a fygge tree. It hath also a longe stakke, mosse, and on the top a knappe, wherein are sweete seedes with a sharpe sent. It hath an yelow floure, and groweth in dyuers partes of Grecia.
 Pancarpia, garlandes made of diuers floures, or of all floures that may bee founde.
 Pancarpus, chamæleon niger.
 Panchæi, people in the desertes of Lybia, whiche eate serpentes.
 Panchain, a region in Arabia, called also Sabana.
 Panchæus, and Panchæus, a, um, of Panchain.
 Panchrestum, i, neu. ge. a medecine good for all maner diseases, a salve for euery soze.
 Panchros, chri, m. ge. a precious stone haungng almoste all colours.
 Pancratiaestes, tis, m. g. a man experte and excels garment that frenche men vsed muche lyke a shoyte cloke with sleues.

 Trahere pallam, to tragle his gowne on the ground after hym.
 Pallace, laces, or Pallaca, ex. form. gene. a consubeyne.
 Palladium, dij, neut. gener. the ymage of Pallas.
 Palladius, a mans name, whiche wrote of husbandry. also of an other, whiche was exceddyng swyfte.
 Palladius, a, um, that longeth to Pallas.
 Pallancana, a sharpe oynion, wiche causeth the eyes to water.
 Pallantia, a towne in Spayne.
 Pallas, antis, the soonne of Euander. sometyme kynge of Latines. also a gyant.
 Pallas, adis, the daughter of Jupiter, called goddess of battaile, and also of wysedome.
 Pallene, a countreie by Macedonie, and a citee in Thracia.
 Pallens, entis, that is pale or wanne.
 Palleo, lui, lere, to be pale, sometyme to feare.
 Multo pallere colores, to waxe pale & change colour, as men that be sodenly taken in any dede.
 Pallesco, scere, to become wanne or pale.
 Palliatrum, ni, n. g. a course mantill or robe.
 Palliatus, a, um, cladde in a mantille, robe, or cloke.
 Palliata fabula, comedies or enterludes made in Grecia, & the personages therein were Grekes: as Togate fabule, were enterludes in Rome, and the personages Romans, so called because the uppermost habite of Grekes was called Pallium, of the Romaynes Toga.
 Pallidulus, a, um, somewhat pale.
 Pallidus, a, um, pale.
 Pallio, au, are, to conceale or hyde, to couer.
 Palliolatim amictus, cladde in a palle or robe.
 Palliolatus, a, um, cladde in a robe or mantill.
 Palliolum, li, n. g. a shoyte mantill, or a wollen whoodde, vsed in olde tyme to couer the head.
 Pallium, li, n. g. a mantill, such as knyghtes of the garter dooe weare, a longe robe, a garment that philosophers vsed, a cope. sometyme a cloke.
 Tunica pallio propior, a prouerbe, whan a man wyll signifie, that he is moze bounde to one frende than to an other.
 Pallor, oris, m. g. a palenesse of colour.
 Palma, x, f. g. the palme of the hande. it is oft tymes taken for a hande. also a measure called a handbreadth. also a palme tree, or date tree, whiche is alwaie greene, and was wonte to be geuen to them that had woonne victorie. sometyme it signifieth the pryce or reward of victorie. also victorie it selfe. Palma, is also a great vine bzaunche, that beareth grapes.
 Plana faciem contudere palma, to clap one on the cheke or about the face with his hande.

 Huic equidem consilio palmam do, in faith I geue pryce and pryce to this diuise of counsaile.
 Palmam ferre, to haue the pryce of victorie, to be most excellent.
 Plurimarum palmarum homo, he that often tymes hath had victorie.
 Palma, is sometyme vsed for a date.
 Palmam praeipere, to take the pryce of honoy from an other.
 Palma Christi, called also Buchaides, an herbe of the hynde of Satyrion, but hauing roots lyke the palme of ones hande.
 Palma, a towne of Spayne.
 Palmaris, re, that is geuen to one for victorie, or worthy a garlande for victorie.
 Palmare facinus, an act worthy palme or signe of victorie.
 Palmaria, an yle in the Tuscan sea.
 Palmarium, ij, n. g. the reward or signe of victorie, or a thyng woorthy a garlande or signe of victorie.
 Palmarius, a, um, and Palmaris, re, of Palmus, that is the measure of .xii. fingers.
 Palmaria spacia, an handbreade space.
 Palmaria, & palmaris vestis, a garment of baudekin, which the consull dyd weare in tyme of peace, and the victour in tyme of warre.
 Palmarius, a, um, woorthy the signe or token of victorie, woorthy to be crowned.
 Palmes, palmis, m. g. the bzaunche, most comynely of a vine.
 Palmes pampinarius, the ponge bzaunche of a vine tree, that beareth no fruite, but only leaues.
 Palmes fructuarius, a bzaunche that beareth fruite.
 Palmes focaneus, a bzaunche that springeth out of the clefte and vnto the middes of two bowes that growe fortwyse, and taketh parte of the nourishment of them both.
 Palmetum, i, n. g. the place wherein date trees dooe growe.
 Palmeus, a, um, of palme or date trees.
 Palmifer, a, um, that beareth palme or date trees.
 Palmipedalis, a measure of a foote, and an handbreadth, a foote and an halfe.
 Palmipedes aues, all byrdes that haue whole feete, as commonly all water foules haue.
 Palmipes, pedis, that hath a playne and flatte foote, spale footed.
 Palmo, au, are, to bynde together. also to doo any thyng with the palme of the hande.
 Palmosus, a, um, full of palme trees.
 Palmula, x, f. g. the broad ende of an oye or sculle. also a date.
 Palmus, mi, mas. ge. a measure, Maior & minor. Maior, after Bubeus, is .xii. fingers, after some a spanne. Minor, is foure fingers, or halfe a foote.
 Palmyra, a great castell or forte in the middes

of Syria.
 Palmirena, a countreie in Syria.
 Palo, au, are, to hedge or pale in. Also to wander.
 Palor, aris, ari, to goe a funder here and there scattered.
 Palpitio, onis, f. g. flatterye.
 Palpator, oris, m. g. a flatterer.
 Palpebra, arum, form. gener. plur. the heates that doo growe on the eye liddes, also the eye liddes.
 Palpiratio, onis, f. g. pantyng, beatyng, mouyng of the stomacke.
 Palpito, au, are, to beate as the stomacke doeth.
 Palpo, au, are, & Palpor, aris, ari, to fele, stroke or touche softly. as a man dooeth an hoxe or other fierse beast. By translation, to flatter, to deceiue with faire wordes.
 Palpones, flatterers.
 Palpum, i, n. g. a flatteryng.
 Obrudere palpum, to flatter, to deceiue with faire wordes.
 Palium, a ryuer in Britayne.
 Paludamentum, i, n. g. a cote armour. It was also a womans garment.
 Paludapium, the herbe called smallage.
 Paludatus, a, um, cladde in a cote armour.
 Paludifer, a, um, that causeth a ditch or marife.
 Paludosus, a, um, fulle of dyches or marfles groundes.
 Palumbarius, a certayne hauke that is long and blacke, and speth the most part by night.
 Palumbus, bis, m. & form. ge. a woodde culuer, a ringed doue.
 Palumbus, and Palumba, idem.
 Palumbinus, a, um, of a wood culuer.
 Palumbina caro, the fleshe of a wood culuer.
 Palus, li, m. g. a stake or poste.
 Palus, ladis, f. g. a fenne or marife.
 Paluster, stris, stre, perteynyng to a fenne or marfles.
 Locus palustris, a marife grounde.
 Pambasia, a perfect kyngedome or dominion, a kyngdome where one hath all in his power.
 Pamisus, one of the fyue principalle ryuers of Chalcia.
 Pampalagi, people in Ethiopia, whiche doo cate of all maner of thynges.
 Pampylia, a region in the lesse Asia, lyng on the southe syde of the mountayne Taurus, and marcheth on the realmes of Hyppia, and Laria.
 Pampylus, a, um, of Pampylia.
 Pampylus, signifieth all loue, or a louer of all men, eury mans frende and louer. It was the name of Priocles sonne Plaros scholar. also a priest of Cefaria, whiche was martyred.
 Pampillum, a thariotte.
 Pampilona, a citee in the realme of Nauerre.
 Pampinacia, a, um, that hath dyuers bzaunches.

Pampinarium, ij, n. ge. the tender bzaunche that groweth out of the body of the vine, which beareth nothing but leaues.
 Pampinarius, and Pampineus, a, um, of or perteynyng to a vine bzaunche.
 Pampinatio, onis, a cutting of, of vine bzaunches, or pulling of of the superfluous leaues.
 Pampinator, oris, he that cutteth of the superfluous bzaunches or leaues of a vine.
 Pampinatus, a, um, the participle of Pampino.
 Pampino, au, are, to cut of the small bzaunches of a vine, or to pull away the leaues, that the soonne maie come to the roots.
 Pampinula, an herbe called also Pimpinella.
 Pampinus, ni, form. or masc. gene. a vine leafe or grene bzaunche. also the byssles of the fythe Polipus.
 Pan, panis, called the god of shepherdes.
 Panaces, cis, n. g. and Panacia, x, fa. ge. idem quod Panax.
 Panaxius, a stoike philosopher.
 Panaxolum, an hyl of Aetolia, also the whole countreie of the countreie of Aetolia.
 Panaxolus, a, um, of the counsaile of Aetolia.
 Panagios, totus sanctus.
 Panagron, gri, n. gen. a great sweete nette that taketh all maner of fythe.
 Panaretus, that containeth all beetues.
 Panarium, a disease that often bzedeth in mens fingers.
 Panaria ebrictas, Lolius writeth, that he hath redde for Arrogancia & licentia.
 Panariolum, li, n. g. a basket or payper, wherein bzaunche is caried.
 Panarium, ij, neu. g. a pantrie where bzaunche is kept. also an hutch wherein bzaunche is kept, or a basket to carie bzaunche.
 Panathenicum, a bynde of oymntentes.
 Panathenea, were among the Athenienses, certayne solemne ceremonies, wherof some were great, and kept eury fyfth yere, some were lesse, and they were petyrly celebrat. They were sometyme called Athenia.
 Panax, panacis, f. c. gen. an herbe, which hath a leafe lyke to a fygge tree. It hath also a longe stalk, moss, and on the top a knappe, wherein are sweete seedes with a sharpe sent. It hath an yelow floure, and groweth in dyuers partes of Grecia.
 Pancarpia, garlandes made of diuers floures, or of all floures that may bee founde.
 Pancarpus, chamalion niger.
 Panchai, people in the desertes of Libya, whiche ate serpentes.
 Panchaia, a region in Arabia, called also Sabaa.
 Panchaus, and Panchaicus, a, um, of Panchaia.
 Panchrestum, i, neu. ge. a medecine godd for all maner diseases, a salve for eury foze.
 Panchros, chri, m. ge. a precious stone haupng almoste all colours.
 Pancraustes, tis, m. g. a man experte and excelsent lent in dooynge of all thynges of actiuaite. Also he that is counnyng in the hynde of wyastlynge, called Pancratium.

Pancratice, myghtyly, strongely.

Pancratice valere, to bee in good helth & lusty. Pancratium, ii. neu. gen. exercise in all feates, as wastlyng, cunnynge, leappynge, castynge of the barre, and other lyke exercises of strength. it is properly a kynde of wastlyng, wherein one doeth his endeavour by all means bothe with hande and foote, to caste the other.

Pancratium, is sometyme taken for crooze.

Pancraum, is betwene fleshe and kernell lyng betwene the stomake and the lyuer.

Panda, a citee in India, where the great Alexander buylded the thydde citee of his name, the uttermost ende of his iourneie. also in the same place were altars builded by Bacchus, and after by Hercules, than by the queene Semiramis, last by Lysus.

Pandana porta, a gate of the citee of Rome, whiche was fyrst opened, and laste shutte, for all thynges to be brought into the citee.

Pandatio, ónis, fém. gene. a bootynge or croozlyng.

Pandatoria, an yle in the sea Tyrrhenum.

Pandecta, arum, f. ge. plur. compryhendynge all thynges. It is also the volume of the law ciuile, called the Digestes.

Pandiculatio, ónis, fém. g. a gaulpyng and strettyng ones selfe.

Pandicular, áris, ári, to gape and stretche one selfe, as they doo that come from slepe.

Pandion, ónis, the sonne of Erichus, kyng of Athens.

Pandionia, the countreie of Athens.

Pandionius, a, um, one of the cuntrey of Athens.

Pando, pandidi, ere, passum, to open, to sette abrode.

Viam pandere, to open the waie.

Pando, aui, are, to boowe downe, as one doeth vnder a burdeyn.

Pandochus, chei, mál. gene. an Inholder, an hostler.

Pandochium, ii. n. g. an Inne or commune lodgyng, an hostrye.

Pandocrator, tóris, omnipotent, almightie.

Pandosa, a citee in Italy, an other in Egipt.

Pandora, the mother of Deucalion, vnto whom sundry goddis gaue sundrye gyftes. Pallas gaue hir wisdome, Venus beautee, Apollo musike, Mercurius eloquence. And therefore she was called Pandora, whiche signifieth haueynge all gyftes. Hesiodus the poete writeth, that Jupiter sent hir into the world to deceyue mankynde.

Pandofius, a poole in Arcadie.

Pandus, a, um, clooked, boowed.

Panegyricus, a, um, that praiseth, that conteyneth prayse and commendation.

Panegiris, ris, fém. gene. a commune assemble of people, bee it a fayre, marke, or markette, by the feaste or sessions. also a place wher thoselike assemblies be.

Panegyrica oratio, & panegyricum carmen, That whiche was recited in prose or verse, as suche an assemble to the praise of any person.

Páneros, ri, m. g. a precious stone.

Paneus, a towne and a ryuer of Colchis.

Pangaus, an elbowe of Thracie.

Pango, pépigi, & panxi, ere, to sette, to plant, to ioyne one thyng to another, to fasten, to dyue in, to wyte, to spyng, to tell, to make.

Pangere clauum, to dyue in a nagle.

Pangere osculum, to kyss.

Inducias pangere, to make truce.

Pangere versus, to wyte verses.

Pangere pacem, to make peace.

Pangere societatem, to make alpance.

Panhormus, idem quod Panormus.

Panicula, a, f. ge. that whiche doth hang downe of some herbes or trees, longe and rounde, as on great oaks, also on peachie trees & pine apple trees, roses, and reedes. also any thyng that groweth out rounde and long, maie bee called Panicula.

Panicum, ci, n. ge. a fodder feare, wherby men bee distraught, or out of their wittes.

Panicum, i, n. ge. a grayne, which groweth lyke myll, and hath at the least tenn leaues, the stalk small with a redde pendant ful of coyes, some purple, some redde, some black or white. The Italians doo call it Melica, in Englyshe Panike.

Panis, is, m. g. breadde.

Panis, is sometyme vsed for Panus, loke there.

Panis districtus, grated breadde.

Panis porcinius, an herbe, called also Cyclaminus, Rapum terra, Vmbelicus terra, & Artamita.

Torta panis, a craknell or sunnell.

Primarius panis, whyte breadde.

Panis nauicus, byskat.

Panis secundarius, raunged breadde, or cheate breadde, or erribble breadde.

Panis, is sometyme vsed for vitaple, or coyne.

Pánifex, nificis, m. g. a baker.

Panificium, ii. n. g. the craft of bakynge.

Paniscus, a god of the wooddes.

Panneus, a, um, of woullen.

Pannicula, looke Panicula.

Panniculária, orum, n. g. thynges of small nature that one byngeth with hym that is committed to prizon, or put to death, passynge not the balde of fure crounce, as his raicment, and that he beareth about hym.

Pannicularius, a dyaper that sellethe clothe.

Pannicularis, li, m. g. a peere of clothe, a cloute, a ragge.

Pannonia, the countreie nowe called Hungaria, whiche toke that name of an other Hungaria nowe called Julia, a countreie in the northe parte parte of the world, not farre from the ryuer Canais, and is tributarye to the Dioscorites. The boundes of hungarye are now much larger than they were of olde tyme, and hath on the west Strike & Scame: On the south the parte of Blauony, that lyeth on the sea abynticum: on the east Serua, on the north Polonia and Moscowa. The countreie is ryght fertile of grayne, and ryche of golde and syluer: And as the inhabitants doo repute, there is a ryuer, wherein yf yron be ofentymes dyeped, it will be touned into copper. this noble realme is now distressed and vnder the captiuitie of the Turkes, which is soe to be feared all christendome shall repente. For it was sometyme reputed the puissant bulwarke of all christian realmes agaynst the intollerable violence of Saracyns and Turkes.

Pannonia superior, the countreie called Bustria and Suria in this countreie standeth Vienna. Pannonia inferior, hath on the north Dunaw and Seremany, on the west Pannonia superior: on the south liburnia, on the east larygas: this countreie is almoste wholly vnder the Hungaries.

Pannones, Hungarians called also Parones.

Pannofus, fa, sum, that weareth vnder apparaille.

Pannoleum, len, n. g. an handkercher.

Pannofus, a, um, idem quod pannosus.

Pannus, ni, m. g. clothe.

Panolithia, thria, f. g. utter destruction.

Panophorus, a, um, a name of Jupiter, signifyinge that he heareth all mens voices, or because he is worshipped of all men.

Panope, a citee of Phoris.

Panope, and Panopaea, a nymphe of the sea.

Panopha, a, f. g. all armour belongynge to a man of armes, cumplet harness.

Panormia, Panormitanus, and Panormius, one of Panormus.

Panormus, & Panormum, a citee of Sicile nowe called in Italian Palermo.

Pansa, a, com. ge. one that hath a broad foote, or that is fyllaie footed.

Panseauston, a precious stone, whiche taketh as way barrenes, called also Paneros.

Panescios, the full moone.

Pantes, a ryuer in Samos.

Pantocrasta, te, mál. ge. he that fyghteth with handes and feete, he that exerciseth all feates and games.

Pantagias, a ryuer in Sicile.

Pantagus, a poole of Idell in Italy.

Pantulus, he that contendeth in all maner of games.

Panther, the wyfe of Abadada, a Persiane.

Pantheon, a temple of all the goddis.

Panther, thér, is, m. g. and Panthera, a, f. g. a beast, haupynge on his shynne luttell round spots, some blew, and some white. It is said, that herdes of cattall doo murtherously delyte in the sweete saour that cometh from the mynde and in beholding of them. And therefore they lyng by the sweete age, where they haue theyr reioyce, theyr wyll all beastes come, fearynge nothyng but theyr fierie lookes, and therefore the panthers hydynge theyr heades, doo suffer the rest of theyr bodies to be looked on, that they may the more easely take theyr praye of the cattall byng dismayed. The people of Bizantia doth more often kill theyr wyll with a poison called Aconitum, than with weapen. But the Panthers feelinge their felices popponed, doo lye for the dunge of a man, whiche if they fynde and eate, they bee shortly deliquered. They bee so lyvely, that they lyue a great while after their bowelles be cleane out of theyr bodies. It is written, that the Panther wyll not touche hym, that is washed with the hyrdge, wherein a cooke is boyled. In the weste parte of Ethiopia, toward the sea, is a people called Agriophagi, whose kyng hath but one eye in his forehead, which lyue with catynge the flesh of Panthers and lyons.

Pantherinus, a, um, of a panther, or spotted lyke a panther, of diuers colours.

Pantheum, i, n. g. a nette, wherewith all maner of foules are taken: whiche nette is pitched on the grounde a great length, and couered with strawe or chaffe, that the birdes see it not, and sodenly by a corde cast vp, taketh al that is within the compasse.

Pantheilea, a queene of Amazones.

Panthoides, the name of Perthagoas, whiche said, that he was ones the sonne of Panthous the Troiane.

Panthous, or Panthus, a Troiane, the brother of Heuba.

Panticapes, a ryuer of Seythia.

Panticapeum, a towne not farre from the same place.

Pantices, a great beely. also the flure.

Pantocrator, ónis, m. g. almyghyte, vanquyer, myng all thynges.

Pantolabus, a flauc, that taketh all thynges.

Pantomatium, a towne by the sea syde in Candy.

Pantomimus, mi, m. g. a dislarde, that can feigne and counterfette euery mans gestures.

Pantrepes, a ryuer of Seythia.

Panurgia, a, f. g. subiltyce, craftynes, gyle, deccite.

Panurgus, gi, mál. ge. he that is practised in all thynges, a crafty and deceitfull fellowe, a wylly person, an olde beaten fox. also a rounde thyng growing out of a tree lyke a mushroom.

Panus, ni, m. g. a kernell in the harte or gypne of a man, or behynde the eare. It is also a weasels rolle, wheron the webbe of cloth is rolled or wounden.

Papa, an interfection of wordynge, wyll you see a wonderfull thyng.

Papa, in the tuge of Seythia significth Jupiter.

Papare, to calle dad as a childes dooth.
 Papas, a father, as children doo call dad.
 Papauer, paueris, n. g. and sometyme, m. g. an herbe called popie, or chesoul.
 Papaueris lachrimæ, that which they now call Opium, looke there.
 Papauer erraticum, red roine rose, or wilde popie.
 Papauer corniculatum, hozned popie, or yed lowe popie.
 Papauer fatium, garden popie.
 Papueratida, wilde popie.
 Papueratus, a, um, lyke poppy.
 Papuerata vestis, a garment not pure white but of the colour of poppy.
 Papuerus, a, um, of popie.
 Paphages, a kyng of Ambrosia.
 Paphago, paphagonia, one of Paphlagonia.
 Paphius, a, um, of Paphos.
 Paphlagonia, a countreie in the lesse Asia, longynge to Galacia, where dwelled the people called Menari, of whom came the Menecians. It is bounded on the east with the eguer called Haliis, tennynge out of the south betwene Syria and Paphlagonia.
 Paphos, a citie in the Ilande of Cypres, whiche was dedicate to Venus, wherof she was called Paphia.
 Paphus, he that builded the citie Paphon.
 Papia, a citie in Lumbardy, called Pauc.
 Papilio, onis, m. g. a butterflye. also a tente or pavilion.
 Papilla, æ, f. g. a littell wheate or pushe in the shynne of a man. also a cocke in the cundite, wherout water cometh. Wherouer the nipple or teate of a womans breste. sometyme it is taken for the brest.
 Papinianus, a famous lawper in the tyme of Des urrus the emperour.
 Papinius, a poete of Naples.
 Pappa, æ, f. g. pappe made with mylke and dos ur.
 Pappo, aui, arc, to eate, to call one father or dad wantonly.
 Pappus, a philosophier of Alexandria.
 Pappus, i, m. g. a grandfyr or grandfather. It is also an herbe called groundswell. also the floure of thistles, whiche lyke to fethers dooth flie awaie with the wynde. sometyme the mollesse of certayne herbes.
 Papula, æ, f. g. a whele or pushe.
 Papyrifer, rifiera, um, that beareth the rushe called Papyrus.
 Papyraceus, a, um, of paper, or of the saide rushe.
 Papyrius, the surname of a noble man.
 Papyropola, læ, m. g. idem quod charupratus.
 Papyrus, ri, f. g. seu Papyrum, i, n. g. a great rushe that groweth in the fennes and marish groundes in Egypte and Syria, ten cubites in heigh, wherof the fyfte paper was made, wherof men byd wyte, Now Papyrus is called paper, wherein men doo write or wyte of bynde booke.

 Par, aris, n. g. a payre, a couple.
 Par, aris, om. g. lyke, equal, mete, even, measurable, convenient. Par est, it is lyke, alio the mete or convenient. Par erat, of one age.
 Paribus animis, of lyke affection, with lyke good will or courage.
 Par ingenium nactus, he hath founde one of his owne faction, or lyke to him selfe.
 Par sapientia ad formam, as wyse as his faise or tallie.
 Par precium tanti laboris, the recompense of rewarde was such as was equall to so great a labour.
 Par idem, all one.
 Pares esse nostro exercitui non poterunt, they mought not to so stronge as our hoste, they were not able to resist our arme.
 Pares, matches, two, the one lyke the other.
 Par magis fuerat, it had ben more.
 Vi par erat, as reason was, as it was connectente.
 Pares cantare, lyke counnyng in musike of synnyng.
 Sūctque pares in amore, they loue one another equally, or lyke heartly.
 Pares cum paribus, matches together.
 Parem esse, to bee able to resist, fulkeine, to beare, or abyde a thyng.
 Par laboribus corpus, a body able to susteyne and awaie with labours and trauailes.
 Male merenti par erit, to hym that dooth yll, he will tender yll agayne.
 Vide in scribendo vi parum illis, See that you wyte as much or as often to me, as I doo to you.
 Paria facere, to make amendes, to requite, to doo one thyng for another. also to make a lyke help matche, to serue one as well agayne.
 Par impar, a game that chylderne vse, called uen of oddde.
 Parem vbi referam gratiam, wherein I may requite hym, or shewe hym lyke pleasure.
 Par pari datum, one for another.
 Par pari respondere, to answer the same woordes, to say as much as the other saied.
 Parisimus, the superlatiue, used sometyme of Plautus.
 Para, a greke preposition used sometyme for Apud, sometyme for Prater.
 Para, looke Parra.
 Parabates, a transfereffour.
 Parabasis, sis, f. g. preuarication, transgression.
 Parabilis, le, that may bee soone gotten, or will be soone redie.
 Victus parabilis, meate that maye be soone gotten.
 Parabola, læ, f. g. a comparison or resemblance, a parable.
 Parabolani, certayne ministers, which might be net departe from the thynges that they had charge of.

 Paracletis, sis, f. g. an exhortatio, a consolacion.
 Parachlamys, a garmente, that both souldiers, and also chyldren used in olde tyme to weare.
 Paracletus, i, m. g. an exhorter, a comforter or aduocate.
 Paraclytus, ti, m. g. a man infamed, yll reported of, one that hath an yll name.
 Paracensis, a harde and peinesfull warthyng of curyng of a wounde by sawyng and pyckynge of it.
 Paracensis, sis, f. g. a cure dooen with the Sursigians owne hande. or whan the heale of one that hath the dyoplie, hath an hole made in it, to leat out the water.
 Paracenterium, rij, n. g. the instrumente, wherewith that cure is dooen.
 Paracnemium, mij, n. g. the bittermoste bone in the Shank of the legge, called also Parastatum.
 Paracope, pes, f. g. the alienation of the mynde.
 Paracri, an herbe called also bunium.
 Paracelos, the great daisy with the knoppe in the myddes. It is of the apothecaries called Consolida media.
 Paradiastole, a dilatynge of a mattier by an interception, or a figure, whan thynges that be lyke are suerced by opposition of the contraries.
 Paradigma, digmatis, n. g. an etample.
 Paradisus, i, m. g. or after some, f. g. Paradise. It signifyeth a garden.
 Paradisus, a towne in Syria.
 Paradoxum, i, n. g. a sentence contrary to the opinion of the moze parte.
 Paradoxus, a, um, a thyng meruailous strange contrary to the moste commune opinion.
 Paradromis, midis, f. g. an open galerye, hettour, or walke.
 Paracensis, sis, f. g. a precept conteynynge an exhortacion or admonicion.
 Paraceticus, a, um, conteynynge such precepte or instruction.
 Parastaceni, people in the bittermoste borders of Media.
 Paratoniis, a great haven of Syrenaica. also a towne of the same name.
 Paragaudes, or Paragaudæ, a certayne kynde of wytes, peticores, or linnen vesture, that they used in olde tyme, vnder their other garment.
 Paragoge, ges, f. g. a figure, whā a letter or syllable is added to a woorde, as Dicier, for Dici.
 Paragogia, the place, through the whiche water tenneth.
 Paragraphe, es, f. g. a thyng written befoze a sentence, an annotation in the margent.
 Paragrapheus, a paragrase.
 Paralia, a kynde of pitche.
 Paralipomenon, leste out, vnspoken, or vnwritten, which ought to haue ben spoken or written.

Parallion, an herbe called also Esula.
 Parallius, a kynde of spurge.
 Paralleli, lynes in the sphere of the worlde equall by distant, wherby the soonne passynge, causeth variation in the houres of the daie.
 Parallelus, li, m. g. equally distant.
 Paralus, his name that first inuencid galpes.
 Paralytis, sis, f. g. a sythenesse called the palsy, wherein either all the bodye or one membre, or many membres be mortified, and be deppriued of feelyng and meuyng. It hapneth either of an apoplexie, stoppyng the rootes of the synewes, that they beynge deppriued of the synues anismall, whiche serueth for them, become losse: or elles of the rheumaticke humor, grosse and vndigested, which stoppeth the sayde places. Some tyme of a stroke or fal, wherby the ioyntes of the backe bone are loused, and the sinewes, which come from the necke or nape of the head, are stopped. Wherby the sinewes and the rootes of the myn hure with a bruis, indurcth the palsey, especially in an olde man.
 Herba paralytis, the litell white dayse with redde toppes.
 Paralytis interdum cicuta, interdum Delphinium.
 Paralyticus, a, um, that is taken with the palsey.
 Parangaria, looke Angaria.
 Parantes, a certayne precious stone.
 Paranympus, i, m. g. he that is the mediatour in matrimonye betwene the man and the woman. She that is on the womans parte, is called Pronuba.
 Parapechium, chij, n. g. a lyght cloke, also one of the bones in the arme, called also radius.
 Parapherna, drum, n. g. plur. al thynges that the woman bringeth to her husbnde besydes hyr dower, called also in latine Peculium.
 Paraphrasis, sis, f. g. an imitation of woordes, settyng out the sense or meanyng of the authour more playnely and largely.
 Paraphrastes, æ, m. g. he that dooth not translate woordes by woordes, but expreth the sentence of the authour more openly.
 Paraphrosync, a kynde of phrenesie or madnesse.
 Parapotamia, a countrey nere to Cypria.
 Pararium æs, was double wages gyuen to hostes men for haupynge two hostes.
 Pararius, ij, m. g. a broker.
 Parafanga, æ, f. g. a myle in Persia, conteynynge fiftye furlonges. Herodotus saith xxx.
 Parascue, es, f. g. a preparation. Also good freydre.
 Parastopesis, sis, f. g. a figure in speakhenge, whan we feigne that we will not speake, and yet couertly it is declared what we doo meane.
 Parasita, æ, f. g. the feminine of Parasitus.
 Parasitus, i, m. g. an haunter of other mennes tables vnalled for. Also he that to fyll his belly with meate and drynke, speaketh alway to the appes appetite of hym, with home he dynteth of suppeth, a parasite, a bealy friende, a flatterer.

Parasitor, aris, ari, to holde vp an other mans tale, for a dyner of supper, to play the parasite.
Parasitaster, tri, m. g. he that countrefaitheth hym that is called Parasitus.
Parastades, stones whiche dooe susteine bothe the sydes of a doze called the iambes.
Parastasis, f. g. assistance, profe by witness.
Parastata, certayne stones sette to or about a pillar, by lyknesse of whiche one of the bones in the shanke is named Parastata. the cundites also, by whiche the fede passeth from the kidneys of a man in generation, be called Parastata. also certayne vnder officers in the wyng of a bats tyle be so called.
Parathesis, apposition.
Paratela, the sum of thynges entituled.
Paratimos, a kynde of punishment used to poore men taken in aduourty. Ea pona erat euillio pilorum e naribus, & pudendis.
Parate, promptly, redyly.
Paratagedro, aui, are, to bragge of craike, to speake great of high woordes.
Paratum, i, n. g. prouision, a thyng made ready.
Paratus, a, um, ready, made ready.
Vir in quouis loco paratus, a man ready at al affaires, or readye to dooe what so euer a man woulde haue hym.
Paratus & promptus.
Paratus ad omnem aduentum, ready to abyde
what chance so euer will fall.
Paratus ad omnia, ready to doe any maner of
thyng.
Ab omni re sumus paratiores, we bee moze in a readynesse with all thynges.
Ab exercitu paratus, in a readynesse as touching our armie.
Animus opibusque paratus, Paratus omnia perpeti.
Animus paratus bello.
Paratus, us, m. g. prouision, preparation. some-tyme apparaple.
Principalis paratus, princely either prouision or apparaple.
Parazonium, n. g. a kynde of twoozes, a hantget, a woodknyfe.
Parca, ladies of destenie. also it signifieth the selfe destenie or disposition in prolongynge or short-nyng of lyfe. The names of the ladies be Clothos, Lachesis, Atropos.
Parce, scarcely, nygardedly, nyghely, fayne and fostely, sparngly, saupngly.
Parce ac duriter viuere, to lyue saupngly and hardely.
Parce parcus, a beate nygarded.
Parce vii verbis, to speake fewe woordes.
Parco, peperci, and passi, cere, to spare, to forgeue or pardon, to let or prohibite, to leaue, for beare or abstaine, to shewe fauour.

Pardere precio, to spare cost.
Sumptus ne parcas, spare for no coste.
Pardere valetudini, to take heede to thyne helth.
Pardere voci, not to speake loud.
Pardetur, impersonale.
Neque parceretur labori, they wylt fische for no labour. Parcere metu, to put awate feare.
Parcere gladio, to abstaine from murder.
Parce metu, be not so muche asfayde.
Aliquantulum tibi parce, spare of fauour your selfe somewhat.
Lamentis parere, to leaue weeping or walling.
Parce oves minimum procedere, Let not the sheepe go to farre, or kepe in the shepe that they go not to farre.
Parce credere, doe you not beleue hym.
Nihil promittere parcam, they spare for no promyse.
Vt a cadibus & incendiis parceretur, That they woulde abstaine from murder and fyre.
Supplicibus parere, to shewe fauour to them that make humble intercession.
Parcere and perdere, contrary.
Parcere & Spoliare, contrary.
Auxilio alicuius parere, not to vse ones help.
Paritas, aui, f. g. feugallite of moderation in lypnyng, sparyng, saupng.
Paritas animaduersionum, seidome punishment of chastysng.
Parcus, i, m. g. a nygarded, an herne.
Parcus, a, um, nygh of nygarded, scarce in expens-tes, sparyng, saupng. sometyme it signifieth seidome.
Parcus comitatu, he that hath a small trapne.
Parcus opera, an easy wacheman, he that is moze ydell than occupied.
Parsa parcus, he that executeth but little pas-nishment.
Parcissimus honorum, he that passeth not for honour and promotion.
Parcissimus estimator beneficiorum suorum, one that doth lytell esteeme the benefices that he doeth a man.
Pardalanches, the venemous herbe called Acanitum. also a certayne kynde of popson.
Pardalos, in, m. g. a precious stone.
Pardalum, in, n. g. a certayne sument, sande ryng lyke a panther.
Pardalus, i, m. g. a birde of dunne colour, whiche flyeth in flocks. Iudge our plouer to bee a kynde of thym.
Pardus, i, m. g. a lybarde.
Pardalis, the female.
Pardelasis, f. g. excursion, or handlyng of a matter that pertaineth not to the purpose.
Pardelatus, i, m. g. he that is newly issued out of his chyldes peres, and begynneth to haue the tokens of a man.
Pardetonia, the mother of Plato, the most noble philosophier.
Pardelon, the making longe of a woorde by the addynge

addynge of a syllable, or by addynge of a woide in a sentence, whiche seemeth to be superfluous.
encephalis, the hinder parte of the brayne called cerebellum.
Parens, entis, com. ge. a father, mother, or any other auncestor. sometyme it is used for hym that taketh muche care for an others welthe, and defendeth it.
Fieri parentem, to haue a chyldre bozne.
Magna parens, the earth.
Frugum parens, idem.
Parens cunctorum terra, the earth noztheth of byngeth forth all thynges.
Lyra parens, Mercurie.
Parens, entis, om. g. of Pareo, obedient.
Parentalia, orum, n. ge. feastes made at the buryng of auncestours.
Parentalis, le, of or perteynyng to auncestours.
Parentela, x, f. g. auncestrie.
Parentesis, sis, of seos, f. g. a sentence compresbended within an other sentence, without any detrimēt thereto, beeyng marked with one halfe circle at the begynnyng, and an other at the ende, in this wyse.
Nihil adeo principem decet (quod omnes quidem parentur) quantum iustitia, pruden-tia acque liberalitati aequaliter coniuncta, nothyng so well becometh a prync (whiche all men doo confesse) as iustice equally ioynced with wysdome and bounteousnesse.
Parenticida, x, m. gen. he that murdereth his father or mother.
Parento, aui, are, to celebrate the funeralsles of auncestours or frendes, to kepe diriges.
are itor, aui, ari, idem quod Parento.
Pareo, rui, ere, to appere, to be seene, to obey.
Eius paritum sententia non est, they dyd not accordyng to his sentence and iudgement.
Dicto parere, to be obedient, to do that one is commanded.
Promissis parere, To fufylle that one hath promysed.
Paret oppidum illud regi, that towne is vnsder subiection of the kyng.
Parere cupiditatibus, to folowe his wanton appetites.
Paretur, the impersonall.
Patergum, i, n. g. some thyng added to, beeyng nothyng of the matter, as whan a pepnetre dooth make an ymage, he addeth to trees or townes.
Paterga horologiorum, thynges made in dyals les for the ornamē: and settyng forth of theim.
Parens, sis, f. g. weakenyng or decayng of the strength of the bodie or minde.
Parethonum, n, n. g. a white colour that peins iters do late. it is founde in Egypt.
Paribit, for pariet, the wall byng forth a chyld.
Pareit, iudges assigned for capitall causes, as murder or felonie that requirith death.
Paricida, x, com. gen. he that hath slayne father or mother. also a murtherer that hath slayne any man.

Paricidalis, le, belongyng to murder of parents
tes. also cruel.
Paricidium, n, n. ge. murder of parentes, kyn-men or countrey men, woozhyng of mischief, and destruction of his countrey.
Paricidiosis, lyke a wicked murderer, that hath slayne his parentes.
Parienna, a towne in Germany called Freydeitz.
Parietis, rietis, m. g. a wall of an house.
Parietis loquens, thou speakest to the walle, whiche may be said of hym, whiche wylt not estesones reherse that, whiche he hereth spoken.
Parietis intergerinus, a wall standyng betwene
two neyghbours.
Parietis cratius, a wall made hurdle wyse, with rodde of other thynges ouerthwart.
Parietaria, an herbe called pelitorie of the wall.
Parietina, parietina, f. g. an olde wall half bzorken downe.
Paulia, orum, n. ge. plur. festiuall dayes, whiche the Romaynes kept, for preseruation of their cattall.
Parilis, le, equall.
Parilitas, aui, f. g. equalitee, similitude in quan-
titee or qualitee.
Pario, peperit, partum, & paritum parere, To byngge forth chyldren, the lyke thyng in beas-tes, to whelp, to farrowe, to hatche, to lay as an henne layeth egges, to calue, &c. sometyme to byngge forth the generally, to geat, to purchase, to bzede.
Parere sibi gratiam apud aliquem, To geat a mans fauour.
Tibi mille passus peperit moram, he hath caused the to tarye whyles thou moughtest haue rydden or gone a myle.
Parere perfugium pedibus, to saue hym selfe
by runnyng away.
Parere verba, to speake woordes not spoken before, to inuent newe woordes.
Terra parit fruges, The earth bynggeth forth
cozne.
Parere oua, in hennes to laye egges, in fyshes to bzede spaume.
Parere fastidium, To make one to lothe, or to disdeigne, to bzede a lothyng or lothsomnes.
Pariantur voluptates pecunia, pleasures are purchased or procured with mony.
Parere odium, to purchase hatred.
Immodica seueritas parit terrorem, Quere mucher yggour bzederh feare.
Canis peperit catulos, The bytche hath whelped.
Paretorium, a citee in Egypte, with a great hauen.
Parion, a citee in Hellespont.
Parippi, dogges among the Atheniens as swifte as hoxes.
Paris, idis, the sonne of Priamus king of Trois ans,

ans, whose historie is so commonly known, that I neede not to write it.

Parthalius (an excellent painter) contended with Zeus in cunning: Zeus brought forth a table, wherein he had so craftily painted grapes, that byrdes flew to them, and picked on them. Parthalius brought forth another table, wherein was painted onely a sheete, so finely wrought, that all men iudged it to bee a beaie sheete. Then Zeus required him to take awaie the sheete, and shewe forth his worke, wherat Parthalius laughed and iested at Zeus mesely. Then Zeus perceyving it, acknowledged his error, and granted the victorie vnto Parthalius, saying, Yesterday I deceyued byrdes, but to day thou haste deceyued me being a craftes man.

Pariter, together, likewise, equally, semblably. Gnatum pariter his vii decuit, It was mete that my sonne shoulde haue as muche parte of these thynges as I.

Pariter cum omni animante nascitur, It is geuen euery lyving thyng of nature in his byrthe. or it is naturally in euery lyving creature.

Crescunt pariter cum Luna, they encrease together with the mone, or they encrease as the mone doeth.

Vt pariter disperiantur bona parentis, That their fathers gooddes myght bee diuided equally. Or that the one myght haue as muche of their fathers gooddes as the other.

Trucidant feminas pariter ac viros, they slea as well women as men.

Pariter patribus ac plebi gratus, acceptable as well to the senatours as to the people.

Reliquit filium pariter moratun vt pater, he lefte a sonne that had the conditions of his father, or that was in maners lyke his father.

Mecum pariter moleste ferunt Siculi, the Sicilians be displeased with it as well as I.

Parithmia, be hernelis in the innermost parts of the rootes of the tongue, called also Tonsillae.

Parito, aut, are, to prepare often, the frequentatiue of Paro.

Paritura, a, f. g. bynggng forth.

Parium, a citee in Asia in the countree of Myfia.

Parus, a, um, of the yle Parus, from whence is brought marble stone called Parium marmor.

Parus lapis, a touchy stone.

Parma, a citee in Italy.

Parma, a, f. g. a littell rounde tergate, whiche swete men dyd vse.

Parmatus, a, um, that weareth suche a tergate of buckelar.

Parmenides, a philosophye, the disciple of Anaxagoras.

Parmenio, one of Alexanders capitaines.

Parmeno, a mans name in Cerence.

Parmenses, the inhabitants of Parma in Italy.

Parmiron, the herbe Sideritis,

Parmula, a, f. g. a buckelar, a diminutiue of Parma.

Parmularius, ij, m. g. he that maketh a buckelar, or he that useth a buckelar.

Parnacides, dis, f. g. apparaple belonging to maydens, a pety coate of lyght raiment belonging to wenches.

Parnasides, the nine muses of ladies of sciences.

Parnasius, a, um, of Parnasus.

Parnasus, or Parnassus, a mountayne in Greece, haupng two toppes, vnder the whiche the ix. muses dyd inhabe or dwell.

Parnes, nehis, m. g. or f. g. an hyll in the countreie of Athens.

Parnopes, locustes.

Parnus, one that for a boate, whiche he had lost, sued euery body that he mette, wherof rose this prouerbe.

Disceptare ob Parni scaphulam, To make great suite and busynesse for matreces of small value.

Paro, aut, are, to prepare, to geat, to purchase, to procure, to bye, to apparaple, to make redy, to dysse, to arap.

Parare fortunas magnas, to geat great substaunce and richesse.

Cupio aliquos parare amicos, I wolde fayne make, geat, or purchase some frendes.

Bellum parare alicui, or Contra alicquem, to make prouision and prepare for warre against one.

Parare prandium, To prouyde or make ready a dyner.

Parare exitium alteri, to procure or purchase ones death or destruction.

Fugam parare, to bee aboute to flee or renne awaye.

Parare necessitatem, to purchase frendes of acquaintance.

Se ad aliquid parare, to addresse, faction, or dispose hym selfe to a thyng.

Hic ego non paro me vt rideant, amonge suche men I doo not so order of fashion my selfe to make them to laugh at me.

Itane parasti te, Make thou so behaue of thy dered thy selfe.

Alios vin parantes occidit, Other whiche en deuoured to defend them selues with stronge hande, he slewe.

Parare iter in Macedoniam, To prepare hym selfe to go into Macedonie.

Paro, onis, m. g. a littell thyppe or bygantine.

Paroculi, orum, they that haue lyke eyes.

Parochus, chi, m. g. an officer that pounded for wood and salte for ambassadours. also it is nowe vsed for a prieste, whiche is a curate of parisse priest.

Parodus, a passage. De parodontibus, vide Celsum. lib. 6. ca. 13.

Parocia, a, f. g. a parisse.

Parocmia, a, f. g. a prouerbe accomodate to the

the matter and tyme.

Paracis, i, m. g. a paritheoner, or one of the same parisse.

Parameon, a fygure, where there be dyuers verses in a sentence almost lyke.

Paromologia, a, f. g. a fygure in rhetorike, wha we graunt a thing to our aduersary, and afterwards inferre a matter of greater weight and importance.

Paronomasia, a, f. g. a fygure in speaking, where one woorde is lyke an other, but in dyuers significations.

Nam inceptio est amentium laud amantium, This is an enterpryse of mad folles, and not of louers.

Paronchia, a, f. g. the rottennesse vnder the rootes of the nappes of a man or beast. also the herbe called Sedum maius.

Paropansada, people of Asia by the hyle Paropansus.

Paropansus, a mountayne togyngnge to Indie, and the countrey called Bactra. It is also the name of a great ryuer, that renneth thorough Sephia, not farre from the north ocean, and some dooe name it the dead sea, or frozen sea.

Paropsis, ropidis, f. g. a dysch, a porpyger, a porrage dysch.

Para, a, f. g. an vn lucky byrde.

Paros, ous, an yle in the sea called Aegeum.

Parous, ionidis, f. g. an impostume behynde the eare, whiche cometh of a matter distilling from the head into the bucces or hernelles of the eares, ingendred of an inflammation of the bodie and bloudde.

Paroxismus, mi, m. g. the fitt of a feure. it signifyeth a puckyng or stirryng vp.

Parahia, a countrey in Greece, called also Aracadia.

Parthasius, a, um, of that countreie.

Parthasis, idis, a wooman of Parthasias. Callisto was so named.

Parthasius, toke befoze after Paris.

Paricida, looke Paricida.

Paricidium, looke Paricidium.

Paras, aris, f. g. a parte, a porcion, a partie or lyde in contention, a faction. also charge, offence, durie.

Partes facere, to diuide in porcions.

Partes primas agere, to bee the chiefe personage pryncipally in an enterlude.

In parte aliqua habere apud aliquem, to be in some fauour, or to be an hanger on in one parte or other with a man.

Priores partes habere apud aliquem, to be in more reuerence or fauour with one, to haue the preeminence with one.

Priores partes tribuere alicui, To geue one the most prais, or prayse hym mozte.

Partes alicuius agere, to dooe an other mans office, or to doo that an other shoulde doo, or to plaie the parte that an other shoulde or hath plaied.

Partes mea sent, it is myne office or charge, it is my parte.

Partes defendas tuas, defende thine owne matter or cause.

Non sunt mea partes id facere, It belongeth not to me to doo it, or it is not for me to doo it.

Paras bona, the more parte.

Magna ex parte, for the more parte, almost all together.

Ex parte, partly.

In parte, idem.

In omnes partes, wholly. also in what maner so euer it bee.

In optimam partem accipere, to take a thyng in woorth or in good parte.

Paras, for Parum, partly.

Mittes pars victoria fiducia, paris ignominia a dolore, ad omnem letitiam audaciamque, procefferunt, The men of warre, partly by poynt of victorie, partly for feare of the reproche that they had taken, became at the laste to bee full of courage and mercy.

Paras, is of Plautus taken for the wyfe.

Satur, de me loquitur, & de parte mea, Now that his bealy is full, he talketh of me and my wyfe.

Partes primas, the chiefe parte.

Vtinam esset mihi pars aqua amoris tecum, woulde god thy loue and myne were lyke.

De parte Borix, from the north.

Parte vtraque audita, both the partes beeyng heard.

In his partibus, in these quarters.

Parte, sometime for Parum.

Plus media parte, more than halfe.

Mitiorum in partem interpretari, to interpret or take a thyng gently.

Pro vili parte, as muche as I can, with al my power.

Pro sua quisque parte, euery man for his part, or euery man as muche as in hym dyd lie, or euery man accordyng to his power.

Duras fratris partes practicas, my brother is in harde case by thy sayng.

Mea partes non desiderabuntur, I wyll not fayne to dooe myne office or durie of the beste that I can dooe, or you shall haue no cause to fynde faute with me.

Nec in alia parte terrarum, Neether in any of ther parte or coaste of the world.

Resina damnatur ex his partibus, The rosypne or gumme that cometh out of those partes, is not allowed.

Ab his qui Romanæ partis erant, of them that were of the Romanes parte.

Nullius philosophia partis ignarus, There is no parte of philosophy that he is not skilful in, or he is ignorant in no parte of philosophy.

Trahere aliquem in partes, to geat one to take parte with hym.

Parfimonía, α, f. g. moderate expence, sparing, saving.

¶ Sera parfimonia in fundo, It is to late to spare when the battell is at the bottome.

Sine parfimonia, largely, freely.

Parthanon, onis, father of Democritus kynge of Abdera.

Parthenia, the herbe Artemisia.

Parthenia, virginitee.

Parthenium, ij, n. g. an herbe, which by Dioscorides description, hath lyttell leaues lyke to Coriander, a floure with whyte leaues, and is in the myddell somewhat yelow, haung a great and yll sauour. also he geueth the same name to the herbe called Helkine, whiche is Derytoxe of the wal. The fyfte is of some apothecaries called Matricaria. Ruellius teppoueth theym that suppose Parthenium to be the herbe called Corula foetida, whiche is rather Buphrthalmos. For Corula hath leaues lyke to fenell, and so hath Buphrthalmos, and not lyke to Coriander. Some affirme, that one kinde of Parthenium is fenefue, called Matricaria, the seconde is tansy, the thirde ranomylle, the fourthe Corula foetida, the fyfte Buphrthalmos, that is to saye ore eye, whiche is lyke to Corula, and smyth not: The sixte Pericurtie, the seventh Peritoxie, the eghthe Motherwort. Some put Hyoscam for one kynde. but commonly it is receiued, that perthenium is fenefue albeit Fuchsius, and other, seemeth to take it for Ranyng mardewede, or Ranyng mathe.

Parthenius, a ryuer in Pontus and Bithynia. also the name of a poete.

Parthenius, a, um, of Parthenius.

Parthenope, the olde name of the cite of Naples. Also one of the mearemaydes, whiche drowned them selues, because they coude not allure Alcides.

Parthenopeus, a, um, of Parthenope.

Parthenoprus, a kynge of Arcadie, the sonne of Mars and Menalippa, whiche was slayne at the siege of Troie.

Parthia, a countreie in Asia, whiche hath on the south the redde sea, on the north, the sea called Hircan, on the east the people called Arii, on the west the realme called Media.

Parthi, people of that countrey.

Parthiarii, merchants that bring thynges out of Parthia.

Parthicus, a, um, of the countrey of Parthia.

Parthini, people of Macedonie.

Parthissus, a ryuer on the north of Germany.

Partiarius, rij, m. g. a partyng felowe or copertener, a fellow, a partner.

Particeps, icipis, com. g. he that taketh parte, a companion, a complice, a copartioner.

Particeps & experts, contrary.

Coniurationis particeps, one of the conspiracie.

Uli in periculis particeps, his companion in perilles and dangers.

Facere aliquem participem alicuius rei, to make one partner of a thyng.

Particeps conciliorum, he to whom one hath tolde or reueled his counsailes or purposes.

Particeps hereditatis despicenda, he that helpeth one to take a mannes inheritance wrongfully from hym.

Particeps vitij, vicious.

Meus particeps, my complice, my companion.

Sceleris in regem particeps.

Participo, au, are, to geue parte, to take parte, to make one partener, or of counsaile.

Participare lucrum, to bee partener of ones gynes or winnyng.

Seruum consilio participare, to tell his mynde or counsaile to his seruauit.

Prandia aliquem participare, to make one to dyne with hym.

Particula, α, f. g. a porcion, a parcell.

Facere particulas, to dyuide into smalle parcels.

Particularis, re, particulae.

Particularim, by partes, by members, particularly.

Particulones, coheyyes or coparteners, whiche haue inheritance together.

Partim, partly, in parte, sometyme parte.

Partim hominum venerunt, part of the men byd come.

Partio, onis, f. g. a byrth, an olde woode.

Partior, iris, iri, itum, and Partio, uis, ire, Co parte, to diuide.

Partite, aduerbium, diuided in peeces or partes.

Partitio, onis, f. g. a partition or diuision.

Partitor, oris, m. g. he that parteth or diuideth.

Partitudo, for partus, the byrth of a chyld.

Partitus, a, um, parted, diuided.

Fecit partita lecti, when a woman abandoneh her selfe to other besyde her housbande.

Partor, oris, m. g. he that hath gotten or ouerlaid.

Parturio, parturis, riui, ire, to labour as women dooe in trauaile of thylde, to trauaile with thylde.

Partus, a, um, gotten with labour, brought forth to the woide, borne.

Partus, us, m. g. the birth of a chyld. sometyme the chyld selfe.

Ferre partum, to be great.

Reddere par um, to be deliuered.

Adest mulieri partus, the woman is ready to trauaile with chyld, she is neare hym.

Appropinquat partus, idem.

Dare partu, id est parere.

Partus arboris etiam dicitur.

Abigere partum, to kyll the chyld in the mothers wombe, with medicines or otherwyse.

Parulis, a swelling in the gummies.

Parui

aruisacio, feci, facere, to sette lyttell by.

aruisatio, idem.

aruiduco, idem.

arupendo, idem.

aruitas, atis, f. g. the lyttelnesse.

arulis, rudidis, for. gen. a purse of swellinge in any parte of the gummies.

arum, lyttell.

Parum est, it is a small matter.

Parum decorum, not verie comely.

Si parum intellexisti, If thou dyddest not perfectly the matter well.

Parum diligenter aliquid facere, to doo a thyng somewhat negligently.

Parum diu, a lyttell whyle.

Parum felix, nothyng happy.

Parum consilietis, you regarde but lyttell, or take but lyttell heede to your profite.

Parum est ut in curiam venias, &c. It is no great matter to come into the court. &c.

Parum benefacere, to doo amisse.

Arumper, a lyttell whyle of tyme. also very lyttell. sometyme quickly, speedily.

Parumper operire me hic, targe for me here a lyttell whyle.

Parus, ri, a byrde, called a titmouse, wherof be three kindes, the one called Fringillago, the great titmouse, or the great ore eye: the other surnamed Monticola, the lesse titmouse: the thirde is called a nanne.

Paruulum, aduerbium: Paruulum differt, It is but a small diuersitee, it differeth lyttell of nothyng.

Paruulus, li, m. g. a lyttell chyld, a little babe.

Paruulus, a, um, verie lyttell, small, pteatie.

Pecunia paruula, a small summe of monie.

Tam ob paruulam rem, for so small a matter.

Paruula manus, a small companie or bande of men.

Parus, a, um, lyttell or small, of lyttell price or value.

Parua sunt foris arma, nisi est consilium domi, Armour is a small matter abroade, yf there be not good counsaile at home.

Parua consuetudo, little of small acquaintance.

Hic mihi paruam habet fidem, he doeth halfe mistrust me, he dooeth not well beleue me.

Parus & angustus locus, a strait and narrow place.

Precio paruo vendere, to sell at a low price.

Quae eximia videntur, parua ducere, To esteeme thynges that seeme to other excellent, to be of lyttell value.

Parui aestimo, I passe lyttell, I care not greatly for, I lyttell esteeme or sette by.

Parui pendere, to sette lyttell by, not to passe upon. Parui refert, it maketh no great matter.

In paruo, for Fere, almoste.

Paruo breuius quam, hoc est, fere, vel parum abest quin, there lacked but lyttell.

Parui odoris res, a thyng that hath but a weake sauour.

Paruissimus, the superlatiue, is used of Lucetius.

Parysatis, the daughter of kynge Cyrus.

Pascalis, le, that feedeth here and there abode.

Pascalis gallina.

Pasca, ca, f. g. of Pascha, pascatis, n. g. passing or shpping ouer, the feast of Easter.

Paschalis, le, perteyning to Easter.

Paschala, gammons of bacon.

Pasceolus, li, m. gene. a leather bagge: or after some, a lyttell purse or rper with a bagge or great purse.

Pascito, au, are, to fede often, to go to pasture.

Pasco, pau, pascere, to fede, to eate, neutrally, proppely in beastes, to go to pasture. also to kepe at pasture. also to geue meate to an other,

to nourse, to byng by, to augment: by traslacion, to deelyte, to please.

Pascere oculos, to contente or please the eyes with the beholding of a thyng, to deelyte the eyes. In priuato pascere, to goe or fede in seuerall grounde.

Pascere sues, to kepe or fede swyne.

Pascitur herba equis, the horse is fedde with grasse. Pascere animum, to deelyte the mynde.

Ego hic pascor bibliotheca Fausti, I am here delited, and as it were fedde and noursished with Faustus library.

Non olusculis nos soles pascere, we were not wont to fede vs with herbes.

Discordiis ciuium pasci, To bee delited with the debate and discorde of his countreie men.

Pascor, pascaris, pastus sum, pasci, to fede as beastes doen. sometyme to increase.

Pascuum, cui, n. g. and plu. pascua, orum, n. g. a pasture or place, where beastes fede.

Pascuus, a, um, that serueth to fede cattell.

Pascuus ager, a pasture, or a fiede, to fede beastes in.

Pasetes, a iugglers name.

Pasiphae, es, or Pasiphaa, α, the wyfe of Minos kynge of Crete, who haung companie with a bulle, brought forth the monster called Minotaurus, whiche was halfe a man, and halfe a bulle.

Pasiphaeus, a, um, of Pasiphae.

Pasitheles, a famous grauer bozne in Grece.

Pasithea, one of the graces.

Pasithoa, a nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.

Paspale, idem quod Milium.

Pasarina, the herbe Leucoion.

Passer, passeris, m. or f. g. a sparow. also a fyne called a playge, or after some a sole.

Paserculus, li, m. g. a lyttell sparowe.

Passernices, a kynde of stones founde in Italy.

Pasili, a lyttell grayne called batthes or fitches.

Pasim, here and there. sometyme it signifieth from all places, sometyme indifferently. also ouer ouer all. sometyme for Quomodolibet, euey man as he lysteth.

 Passim & ordinatim, contrary.
 Creditor ei passim, euey man belcucth hym, or he is beleued in euey place.
 Passio, a passion, grece.
 Passius, a, um, that whiche signifieth passion, or causeth passion or grece.
 Passui amatores, they whiche do loue all wo men indifferently.
 Passum, si, neu. g. a wyne made of grapes muche withered in the sunne. it is also a licour made with great reasons streped long in very good wyne vntill they swell, and than to be brusyd, and the lycour pressed out: and sometyme they put thereto some water, and than is it called Secundarium.
 Passus, a, um, of pando, spred abrode, or open.
 Capillus passus, his heare discheued about his eares.
 Passis manibus, with his handes open, or holdyng up his handes, as a man dooeth in bees sechynge.
 Racemi passii, pressed grapes, raisons.
 Passus, a, um, of pator, that hath suffered.
 Vuae passae, grapes.
 Passus, us, m. g. a pace, whiche dooeth conteyne fure fecte.
 Mille passus, a myle.
 Pastillum, li, n. ge. a kynde of round cakes used in sacrifice.
 Pastillus, li, m. g. a round piece of dough, or any other thyng like a lofe.
 Pastilli medicinales, pylls.
 Pastilli odoratorij, pomaunder balles, sweets washyng balles, muske balles.
 Pastillico, aui, are, to make pylls or lytle round balles, or to minister pylls.
 Pastinaca, ex, fce. ge. an herbe called carrettes, also a fythe.
 Pastinatio, onis, f. g. deluyng or dyggynge the grounde.
 Pastinator, oris, m. g. a delucer.
 Pastinatum, ti, n. g. a place that is delued.
 Pastinatus, us, m. g. deluyng.
 Pastino, aui, are, to deluce in a gardayne.
 Pastinum, ni, n. g. a dybble or setting stycke.
 Pastinum insinuare, to delue or dygge a ground to sette or plante in.
 Pastio, onis, fce. g. pasturyng or feedyng of cats, all, or the pasture for cattall.
 Pastomis, pastomidis, f. g. an instrument, whiche is sette on the nosegaylles of horses, that wyl not be ruled, called barnacles.
 Pastophori, certayne priestes in Egypt, perpeynng to Isis.
 Pastophorium, rij, neu. ge. the chaumbre of the Certen, or hym, whiche keepeth the temple, after some the hyde chaumbre: and therfore Mes nus is called Pastophoros.
 Pastor, oris, m. ge. a shepheard or heardeman, a pastour.

 Pastoralis, le, perpeynge to the shepheard or herde man.
 Pastorea bursa, an herbe, called shepards pouch, or shepards scarp.
 Pastorius, a, um, and Pastorius, a, um, idem.
 Pastoritiam vitam agere, to be a shepheard, to leade a shepherdes lyfe.
 Pastus, a, um, that hath eaten, fedde, nourished, also that hath ben eaten.
 Pastus, us, m. g. meate, feedyng, pasture, pasturynge or feedyng of beastes.
 Homines, quibus in pastu est, men whiche eat it.
 Parabelcon, the herbe Leontopetalon.
 Paragiaia, idem quod Paragium.
 Paragium, gi, neu. g. a cloke of clothe of golde, used to bee woyn on ryche garments.
 Paragiati, they whiche doo weare ryche clothes.
 Paragiari, the craftes men that make such clothes.
 Patara, a citee in the countrey of Lycia, where Apollo was chiefly honoured.
 Patavium, a citee in Italy called Padua, neygher vnto Venice, also a citee in Silyria, called nowe Polmen.
 Patavini, men of the citee of Padua.
 Patavinitas, the propriete of the language of them that dwell at Padua.
 Patefacio, refacio, feci, facere, to make open, to declare, to disclose, to discover, to reuele.
 Patefacere fenestram, viam, aditum, iter, inuam. &c. to open a waie, to make a gappe or wyndow, to geue an oracion of any thyng.
 Patefacere viam hostibus, to leat theyr ennesmes haue passage.
 Patefacere aures assentatoribus, to geue eare to flatterers.
 Patefacere odium suum in aliquem, to shewe and utter his malice and hatred agaynst one.
 Patefaciendum mihi esse arbitror, I thinke that I muste declare of reuele.
 Patefactio, onis, f. g. an openyng, a declaring, a reueyng.
 Patefactus, a, um, opened, declared, reueled, made manifest.
 Patefio, fieri, to bee disclosed or discovered, to bee opened.
 Patella, la, fce. m. ge. a lyttell panne or a shillet, or rather a potynger of dythe, as it appereth by Hapfius, and the places that he reciteth. It is also a faute in trees, that cometh of burnyng of the sunne, called also Clausus, and Fungus. It is also a littell vessel used in sacrifice.
 Dignum patella operculum, lyke master lyke man: shewes are well matched.
 Patellarius, a, um, belongyng to a potynger.
 Patena, loke Patina.
 Pateo, tui, tere, to be open, to be manifest, apperant, or euident, to be discovered, to be easy to cometo, to be in daunger, or subiect to daungier.
 Patet

Patet locus tria stadia, the place is foure furlonges in breadthe or lengthe.
 Patent omnibus ad visendum, euey man maie see them.
 Acutis morbis adolescentia magis patet, youthe is moze subiecte to sharpe or daungerous sythenesses.
 Postulo, vt tua domus mihi pateat semper, I require that your house maie bee open for me at all tymes.
 Huc tibi aditus patere non potest, you can not haue entraunce hither, and by translation you can not attayne to the vnderstanding of these thynges.
 Patere & obstrui, contrary.
 Patere & in promptu esse.
 Patent aures tuae querelis omnium, ye are ready to heere euey mans complaynt.
 Vt mihi tui libri pateant, that I mai come vnto your booke, or haue access into your library.
 His honoribus excludi, quae feruis pateant, to be kept from those promotions and dignities, that be often geuen to seruantes.
 Late patet, it scructh for many thynges, or it maie be used in many thynges.
 Fuge non patebat locus, they coulde not flee any waies, or they had no place to escape.
 Omnia mea tibi patent, id est, sunt in tua potestate, All that I haue is in your handes, or at your commaundment, to vse as ye wyl your selfe.
 Mille passuum in longitudine patere, to be a myle longe.
 Patent praestigiae, your discreytes or wyles bee disclosed and euident.
 Patens, entis, om. g. open, in daunger.
 Patens vulneri, in daunger to be hurie.
 Campi patentes, open fieldes.
 Longe lateq; patens locus, a place both long and wyde, a large place.
 Patentissimi oris dolium, a tunne with a verye wyde mouth.
 Patens vulneri equus, an horse that is in daunger to be wounded.
 Patentiore via, by a moze open waie.
 Patienter, openly, playnly, largely.
 Pater, tris, m. gene. a father or auncestour. Under this name is conceyued Auus, abauus, proauus, & arauus.
 Pateres, in poetes is sometyme taken for the statutes or great men of a citee.
 Paterpatraus, was he, to whom it perpeyned, when truce shoulde be taken, to receyue the orthes and appointment of bothe partes, and was therein chiefe and principall ambassadour.
 Pater patrimus, he that is a father, and hath his father lyuynge.
 Gradus pater, Mars.
 Patres conscripti, the senatours.
 Patres allecti, senatours for necessitee, chosen out of the order of gentylmen.
 Patra, a, fce. m. gene. a brode piece or bolle of golde or syluer.

 Paterfamilias, as, or a, in genit. the good man of the house.
 Paternus, a, um, perpeynng to a father.
 Paterniana, a towne of Spayne, called commonly by Pastrina.
 Patesco, scere, to be open, also to be opened.
 Patios, trouble or vexation of mynde, affliction, passion.
 Pathetica oratio, an oracion, mouyng the hearece to indignation or pittie.
 Patibilis, le, that maie be suffered.
 Patibulus, li, of some olde wyters was used for a bedde.
 Patibulum, li, n. gen. a wodden Locke of a doze, or a barre, wherewith the doze is made fast. also a place of touement, a gybbet, galowes, or crosse. also a certayne instrument that they used in gatheryng grapes.
 Patiens, entis, that can suffre, abyde, or endure.
 Patiens laboris, that can abyde trauayle and prynces. Nulli patiens reprehenduntur, quam qui. &c. None suffre moze patiently to bee rebuked or told their fault, than they whiche. &c.
 Patiens nauium Tyberis, Cybet may beare shyppes.
 Patiens operum, he that can indure to labour.
 Patiens veritatis, that whiche endureth long.
 Patienter, patiently, measurably, moderately.
 Patienter amare, to loue moderately, and with measure.
 Patientia, a, fce. g. patience, constançe in abydyng or induryng aduersitee or labour.
 Patientiam praestare, to suffre and leat passe.
 Rumpere patientiam, to breake patience, to breake out in an anger.
 Patillum, li, n. gen. a payre of tongues or other like instrument, wherewith colles are taken vp.
 Patina, na, fce. gen. a basen to washe in, a dyshe, wherin meate is caried, a vessel or panne, wherin they dyd bothe seethe meate, and byyng it to the table.
 Iam dudum animus est in patinis, my mynde is on my dyner, and hath been a good whyle.
 Patinarium, meate whiche is stewed vpon a chaffyng dyshe.
 Patinarius, rij, m. g. a glutton, one that deliteth to spill the bealy, or that myndeth nothyng but eatyng and drynyng.
 Patinarius, a, um, that is kepte betweene twoo dysches, or in a dyshe.
 Patior, pateris, pati, to suffre, to endure, to susteyne, to abyde, to forbeare.
 Pati a vita, to susteyn hungre, to lue poorly.
 Pati a gre, to be yll content.
 Pati a quo animo, to be well content.
 Pati foriter, to suffre patiently or valiantly.
 Pati iniquo animo, to be angry for a thyng.
 Indigne pati, to be discontent.
 Pati facile, not to bee discontent, to be verie well content.
 Ecc Patior

Patior non moleste, I am not discontent.
 Nullum patior esse diem, quin in foro dicam,
 I dooe leat no daie passe, but that I pleade
 some matter.
 Pati xuum, to endure well.
 Grauius accusas, quam patitur tua consuetu-do, ye doo accuse moze greuously than ye be wonte, or than your custome is.
 Nec villa segetum minus dilationem patitur,
 There is no coyne that repeth moze hastlye, or woulde moze sone be reaped.
 Pati febrem, to haue the feuer.
 Pati iacturas, to haue had losses.
 Pati impedimentum, to be lette.
 Pati imperium, to be vnder subiection.
 Pati supplicium, to be put to deathe.
 Pati solitudinem pro aliquo, to take thought for one.
 Pati poterunt oculi me cum Gabinio senten-tiam dicere? What I endure to spete with Ga-binus in iudgement?
 Paumur & silemus, we suffre or forbear, and saie nothyng.
 Ne istuc tam iniquo patiari animo, take not this to vnhyndely.
 Pati non possum, I can not abyde it.
 Non possum pati, quin tibi demulceam caput, I can not forbear, but that I must nedes stroke thy head.
 Abortum pati, to trauple before the tyme.
 Concubitus pati, fornicarum est.
 Consuetudo patitur, the custome of facion is.
 Quo ad patitur dignitas, as farre as you mate with your honour.
 Dilationem res non patitur, the matter can abyde no delate.
 Falcem pati dicuntur semina, to bee reaped or mowed.
 Exilium pati, to be banished.
 Famem pati, to susteyne hunger.
 Necem indignam pati, to bee cruelly putte to deathe.
 Pati repulsam, to bee put backe in a suite or request, not to obteyne.
 Patialiquem esse desertum, to forsake one.
 Patior, suffre thou.
 Patizites, a Persian, whiche made his brother Smerdes kynge of Persia, after the deathe of Cambyses.
 Pator, oris, m. g. an opening or gapping.
 Patra, trarum, a citee in Achaia.
 Patrator, oris, m. g. he that doeth a thyng.
 Patratus, a, um, done, committed, accomplished, brought to passe, achieved.
 Patria, x, f. g. ones countrey, a citee or towne where one was borne. Sometime the countrey or region, but vnproprie.
 Patrianus, a, um, of the citee Patra.
 Patriarcha, chx, m. gene. a prince or chiefe man of the fathers. It was also the name of dignitee of siue chiefe Archbishoppes, as of Rome,

Antioche, Alexandria, Hierusalem, and Constantinople.
 Patriarchatus, the dignitee of a Patriarche.
 Patriatus, a, um, the state or dignitee of Se-natours, or of them that descended of Se-natours.
 Patricida, x, m. g. he that killeth his father.
 Patricidium, dij, n. ge. the murder of a mannes
 father.
 Patrice, nobly, or lyke a noble man.
 Patricius, ch, m. ge. a senatours sonne, or comen of Senatours.
 Patricij Francie, the twelue peeres of France.
 Exire e patricijs, To be made one of the communitie.
 Patricius, a, um, belonging to the state of Se-natours, or them that be descended of the Se-natours.
 Patrimonialis, of or belonging to heritage.
 Patrimonium, nū, n. ge. gooddes comen by inheritaunce, patrimonie.
 Patrimonium dissipare, effundere, exhausti-re, to consume and spende awaie riotously all that his father lefte hym.
 Patrimus, or Patrima, he or she that hath his father lyuyng.
 Patrimus, a, um, of the father, or petyngng to the father.
 Patritus, a, um, that which hapneth to one by his father, that is of or belonging to a father.
 Patrita philosophia, that he hath of his father.
 Patritus, a, um, of ones countrey.
 Mos patrius, the custome of the countrey.
 Instituta patria, the ordynance of the countrey.
 Sermo patrius, his countrey speache.
 Patrius, a, um, of the countrey. also of opperteyngng to a father.
 Patria abliguerat bona, he had spent all his fathers gooddes in making good chere.
 Hoc patrium est, this is the poynte or office of a father, this is a fathers parte.
 Patrius, aui, are, to be like his father in maners,
 to be his fathers owne childe.
 Patro, aui, are, proprie dare operam liberis, also to doe, to committe, to perforce, to accomplythe, to achieve, to byngge to an ende.
 Parrare facinus, to committe a mischeuous dede.
 Promissa parrare, to perforce his promyses.
 Parratis consiliis, whan they had taken couns-saile or aduise: Or whan they hadde brought their purposes to passe.
 Necem parrare, to committe a murder.
 Victoriam parrare, to achieve & gear victorie.
 Potest bellum parrari, id est, debellari, The warre maie be achieved or brought to an ende.
 Pacem parrare, to make peace.
 Operibus parratis, whan they haue doone, atcheued, or made an ende of theyr woorkes.
 Parrare expugnationem, to wynn by assaut.
 Patrocinor, aris, ari, to defende them, whiche be poore, or be falsly accused, to suppoite, to beare out.

 Visceroso patrocinaretur, that he mighte
 suppoite and beare out a naughtie felowe.
 Patrocinium, nij, n. g. the defence of men begynin trouble and suite, suppoitation, bearynge out, maintenance, attorneishipp.
 Plurimorum patrocinans defenditur, many men speake in the defence of it.
 Suscipere patrocinium alicuius, to take vpon hym to defende or mainteine one.
 Patroclides, a mannes name.
 Patroclus, a noble man of the greekes, companton to Achilles.
 Patronus, ni, m. g. he that is aduocate on the de-fendantes parte, an attourney, a spokelman, he that defendeth one in trouble and perill.
 Sometime he that manumitteth or maketh free
 a seruant or bondeman.
 Temihi patronum cupio, I woulde sayne haue you to defende and helpe me.
 Patronus and Clients, contrarie.
 Patrona, x, f. g. the femine of Patronus.
 Patronymicum nomē, a name taken of an aun-cle: as Priamides the chyldren of Priamus.
 Patruelis, iis, com. g. a cousyn germaine, or ryght cousyn on the fathers syde, a brothers soonne or chyld.
 Patruelis, le, of or belonging to cousyn germans.
 Patruus, trui, m. g. the fathers brother, an vnccle by the fathers syde.
 Patruus magnus, my fathers vncle.
 Patruus maximus, my grandfather vncle.
 Patruus, a, um, belonging to an vncle.
 Pauagia, a ruere in Sicile.
 Paucius, the name of Janus, because that in the tyme of warre the doores of his temple stode open.
 Paucilo, aui, are, to be opened.
 Paulus, a, um, wyde open, that is alway open,
 bode, large.
 Paulus bos, an ox or a cowe, whose hoynes doo stonde wyde open.
 Paula arbor, a bode tree that hath a great compasse.
 Campi pauli, bode and wyde fieldes.
 Paua, x, f. g. a pygh henne.
 Paucies, feldome, fewe tymes, rare.
 Pauciloquium, quij, neu. gen. littell talke fewe
 woordes.
 Paucis, in fewe woordes.
 Paucitas, aui, f. g. fewenesse, fewe in nombre.
 Pauculus, a, um, veray fewe.
 Paucus, a, um, fewe.
 Ausculta paucis, harken a worde or two.
 Paucis diebus, within fewe daies.
 In paucis diebus, quam. &c. within fewe daies
 after, that &c.
 Paucis interpositis diebus, after two or thre daies. Pauci, was used of olde wyters for Boni: and Multi, for Mali.
 Conferre in pauca, to tell in fewe woordes,

Paucissimus, the superlatiue.
 Pauendus, a, um, dreadfull, terrible, to be feared
 Pauens, iis, fieri, to be made afearde.
 Pauens, iis, om. g. that feareth for a tyme, fearyng, dreadyng.
 Pauco, pauli, uere, to feare, to bee troubled in spirite.
 Ne paue, be not afearde.
 Nimis pauebam, ne peccaret, I was in a greet feare, or I feared soze, lest he woulde offende or do amisse.
 Pauera, x, f. g. wheate, whiche springeth not well out of the hote, whan it groweth in eare.
 Pauesco, fere, to be afearde.
 Paucula, la, f. g. a payng beetill, wherewith stones be diuen into the grounde, in the markyng of a pauement: or an instrument, wherwith the floze of a barne or other place, is made euen and playne.
 Pavidus, a, um, that alwaie feareth, fearefull, ty-morous.
 Metus pavidus, feare that maketh one tymor-rous.
 Puide, fearefully, timorously.
 Pausmento, aui, are, to make a pauement or a flooze.
 Pausmentum, ti, n. g. a pauement, a place pas-ued, a flooze.
 Pausimenta pœnica, stozes paved with marble of Numidia.
 Paulo, pauli, uire, to strike, to beate.
 Paulo, aui, are, to be soze afearde, to be soze troubled in body and mynde.
 Paulatim, littell and littell, leyslerly, by leysler.
 Paulisper, a veray littell whyle.
 Paulisper mane, tary a littell whyle.
 Paulo, a littell.
 Paulo ante, a littell before. also for Dudum, or Nuperrime, of late.
 Paulo ante vidimus, it is not longe sene we sawe it.
 Paulo magis assabre, somewhat counnyngely wrought, moze artificially made, than the common soze of thynges be.
 Tardior paulo, somewhat to slowe.
 Paulo post for paulo minus.
 Paulo post eum numerum, somewhat fewter, not all thyng so many.
 Paulo magis, for nimium: as, verbis vti paulo
 lo magis pricis.
 Paulo minus confyderatus, a littell ouer-seene, somewhat negligente, not circumspecte enough.
 Paulo minus, for Propemodum, or Ferē.
 Paulo minus octogesimo xxiis anno, At moste the fourth scoze yere of his age, or byng well nere foure scoze yeres olde.
 Paulo minus per quatuordecim annos perpessus, whan he had suffred hym well nere or almoste xiiii. yeres.
 Paulo minus priuatum egit, he behaued
 Ecc ij hym

hym selfe almost lyke a priuate person.

Paulo mox, id est, statim, by and by, a littell whyle after, shortly after.

Paulo nimum, a littell to muche.

Paulo pecunia conductus, byed with a small deale of money.

Paulominus, lyttell lasse.

Paulo prius, a littell earlie.

Paululum, a diminutive of Paulum, veray littell.

Paululum modo, neuer so littell.

Paululum erat contenta, she was then content with a veray lyttell.

Paululum abscede istoc, goe a littell aside this waie.

Paululum operirier, si vis, yf ye wylt tary neuer so lyttell.

Si paululum modo quid te fugerit, yf ye be overseene in any poynte, be it neuer so littell.

Paululus, a, um, lyttell, verate littell.

Homines paululi & graciles, men small in stature, and fewe in numbze.

Paulum, lyttell.

Paulum aliquid, a littell whyle, a littell space.

Paulum hostium impetus tardatus est, the violence of our enimies was somewhat stopped.

Paulum cu eius villa abessemus, whā we were but a littell waye from his ferme or manour.

Quasi vero paulum differat, as though there were but small difference.

A te paulum allatum est noui, you broughte some newes.

Paulum infra columnas magnitudine, somes what lesse then culuers.

Post paulum, a littell whyle after.

Abesse paulum, to be a littell waye of.

Admodum paulum, and Paulum oppido, veray littell.

Paulus, a, um, littell, smalle.

Paula pecunia, a littell money.

Paulo momento, with the least thyng in the world.

Paulo sumptu, with littell coste.

Paulus, a name of dyuers Romaines: one was most excellent, named Paulus Aemilius, son of Lucius Paulus. He ascendyng by all dignities unto Consul, was capytayne of the warres in Spayne, where he fought two battailes, wher in were slayne. 30000. Spaniardes, & wonne 250. walled townes, & not withstanding returned to Rome, not one groate the richer, for he was liberal and sumptuous, & not veray rich. Afterwarde he made warre against the Ligurians, whiche were about Feane, where hauyng with him but onely .8000. he put to flight, 30000. & brought them to subiection. Finally he foughte againste and vanquished Perseus kynge of Macedonia, and broughte hym and his chyldren prisoners to Rome, and tryumphed in this forme. The senators aparapled in white silke, sat in stages about the market place, to beholde the triumphe: all the temples were let open, and filled with flowers & scents perfumes: the triumph was diuided into .iii. daies. The first daie vntill sufficed to the beholding of images, aswell painted as wrought in stone & metall, by most excellent workmen, whiche were caried in .250. chariottes: The second daie was brought forth the harness & artillery of the Macedons, and the apparaple of horses, whiche was in such sorte, that it was in a manner terrible to the vanquishers to beholde. After folowed .3000. men, whiche bare siluer coppe in .350. vessels of siluer, euery vessel byyng in weight, .iii. talentes, whiche was .240. li. after .80. li. to euery talente, euery vessel was bozne of .iiii. men. After did beare great cupes and pottes of siluer. The thirde day the trumpettes came befoze blowing bloudy soundes. After them came .120. oxen, their hoynes gilted, and therbypon were set silkenes and garlandes, & were led with yonge men, girte and prepared to sacrifice them: & chyldren bare cuppes of golde & siluer, to serue to the sacrifice. After them folowed they that bare money of golde in golden vessels, euery of them weighinge thre talentes. also the numbze of the vessels were .240. Then folowed they that caried the pottes, whiche Aemilius had let make all of precious stones, weighinge ten talentes, whiche was .800. li. also they that bare all the plate of the kynge Antigonus, Selucus, Thersicus, & Perseus, whiche was innumerable. After came the chariot, wherin was Perseus harnesse, with his diademe set therbypon. Some after his two sonnes, and one daughter led, and with them a great numbze of nourices maistres & gouernours, wepyng and holding by the handes to the people. Wherof many were moued to teares, so that the triumph seemed to be myngled with gladnes for the victorie, with heuynesse for compassion. After his chyldren and seruantes folowed forthwith Perseus in a blacke garment, trembling and troubled in spirite: whom insued a great company of his counsaillours & officers, beholdinge hym sorrowfully with teares, whiche moze constrained the Romaines to wepe for pitee that they had of thes misery. After him were bozne .iiii. L. crownes of golde, whiche were gyuen to Aemilius by the cities of Grece for his vertue and prouesse. Then folowed Aemilius hym selfe, sitting in a chariot veray richly apparailled, hauing a robe of purple tynset, and bearing in his hande a brynche of laurelle, as a man besyde that honoure woorth to be looked on. Then after came the men of warre, whiche had ben with him, in order of suche bedes and companies as belonge to battaile, euery of them bearyng in his hande a brynche of laurelle, and singyng verses mixte with mery tauntes: Some singyng the praies of Aemilius, whom they becheilde, and wounded at for his excellent qualitees.

But nowe bechole, Aemilius beeyng in that state and condition, that nothing lacked in him that man couide wythe for: yet his lyfe was not without aduersities. He hauynge fower sonnes, of the whiche he hadde gyuen two in adopyon to Scipio Africanus, and Fabius Maximus: the other two he kepte at home with hym: The one of thes dyed byc dages befoze the triumphe, beeynge thretecn peeres olde: The other beeyng twelue yeres olde, dyed the thirde dage after the triumphe. The whiche crueltie of Fortune, all men lamented, that hadde broughte so greatte heauynesse to the house replete with suche gladnesse, reioyng, and noble renoume, and had meddled teares, sorowes, and lamentation with victory, top, and triumph. But therfore Aemilius neuer abated his courage, but callinge the people together, made to them a noble oracion, declaring that he was nothinge deceyued by fortune, for as muche as when she seemed to hym moste fauourable, he than moze feared her than any thyng elles: And although she had taken from hym good sonnes, whom he appoynted to succede hym, yet sens she had shewed hir extreme malice to hym & his bloud, he had good hope nowe, that the people of Rome shulde remayne prosperous without any perill. O noble herte, O valiant courage, worthy to be left in remembrance. He brought so muche golde and siluer into the Treasorie of the Romaines, that they needed no talke to be riche on the people. lxxx. yere after and about: yet he left in patrimonie vnneth .592. li. and in treasure littell or nothyng. This history I haue wrytten for the notable thynges therein contained, with the infuence of prosperitee, wherin all men are bynded, that desyre to haue it. One thyng would be remembred. Although Aemilius was a fauourer of the nobilitie, yet was he better beloued of the people, than was Scipio, who onely studied to serue their purposes. For his humantie equally myxt with grauntie, he was brought to the earth, not with sumptuous preparation, but with loue and fauour, not only of his country men, but also of his enimies. For as many of Liguria, Spayne, and Macedonia, as were than at Rome, they that were yonge and strong dyd beare the corpes, the old men folowed, callinge hym benefactour and obseruator of their cities and countreies.

Paulus, the apostle of Christ, bozne in Judea, in a towne called Giscalis, of the tribe of Beniamin, the towne beeyng taken by the Romaines, went with his parentes to Tarsum a citie of Cilicia, and dwelled there. But afterwarde he was sent by them to Jerusalem to learne the lawes, and was ther taught of one Gamaliel, a great learned man. He beeyng with other at the martyrdome of S. Steuen, receyued letters of the byshop, wyllyng hym to go to Damas-ascus, there to persecute them that beleied in Christ. And in the waie, he was by reuelacion chaunged, from a persecutor to a vessel of election. Afterwarde when he had conuerted Sergius Paulus (than beeyng Proconsull at Cypres) to the faith of Christ: by hym he was called Paulus, where befoze he was named Saelus. Finally he suffered martyrdome by bechryng, after the passion of Christ. xxxvii. yeres, and the .iiii. yere of the reigne of Nero. Hec Hieronymus & Sophronius. The testis due of his lyfe appereth in the actes of the apostles. His lernyng and mysticall wysedome, is well shewed in his epistles, in the whiche (as sainte Peter saith) be some thynges harde to be vnderstande, and that men vnlarned and inconstant dooe beytraue, lyke as they doo the other partes of scripture, to theyr owne perdition.

Paulus Samosatenus, an horrible heretike, byshop of Antioche, a man of excedyng pride and intolerable vanitie, about the yere of our lord 267. His heresy was, that Christ beganne of our lady, and toke his first begynnynge of the earth, and was a man onely of our commune nature: Whiche heresy was condemned by a generall councyle holden at Antioche, & Paulus excommunicate by all the counsaile, and an other byshop put in his place. And he by the commaundment of the emperour Aurelianus was of the people pulled out of the churche.

Paulo, onis, & Paulus, ui, m. g. a pectoche.

Paulonaceus, a, um, of or belonging to a pectoche.

Paulor, oris, m. g. extreme feare.

Paulor capiti nie, I was for afearde.

Incutere paulorem, to make afearde.

Lenire paulorem, to assuage ones feare.

Pauper, pauperis, com. g. or after some om. g. a poore man, poore.

Argentum & auri pauper, he that hath little money.

Pauper eloquentia, pro inopi & ieiuna.

Pauperies, ei, & Paupertas, ais, fem. gener. pouertee.

Duram pauperiem pati, To suffer greatte pouertee.

Leuare paupertatem alicuius, to ease or helpe one that is in pouertee.

Pauper, ra, rum, poore, is redde in Plautus.

Pauperculus, a, um, veray poore.

Paupero, aui, are, to make poore, an old woord.

Paupertinus, a, um, poore.

Paula, a, fem. gener. a pause, leysure, a tette, a stoppe.

Ego paulam feci, I made a pause, I stopped.

Frigida paula vita, death.

Paulianus, the generall capytayne of the Laces demonians in the great battaile agaynst Perses, and yet afterwarde he was condemned of treason.

Paularius, rij, m. g. one that geueth a signe whan Ecc iij xox we shuld pause or cesse in doing a thyng.

 Pausia, or Pausen, a, f. ge. a kynde of oylpes that yeld no oyle, except they be knocked or beaten.
 Pausiacus, a, um, of Pausias.
 Pausias, a noble painter.
 Pauso, aui, are, to pause, to reste.
 Pauxillatim, by littell and littell.
 Pauxillulus, a, um, a diminutiue of Pauxillus,
 very littell.
 Pauxillum, an aduerbe, veratle lyttell.
 Pauxillus, a, um, a diminutiue of Paulus, veratle lyttell.
 Pax, acis, fcm. g. peace, a quiete libertee. some-tyme for league. also pardon, forgeuenesse.
 Dum in faciem pacis veniretur, so that they would come in peaceable wise.
 Explorata pax, certayne and sure peace.
 Propterea pace aduenio, therefore I come to you in peaceable wyse.
 Agere aliquid cum pace, to doo a thyng peas-ably and quietly.
 Componere & consiliare pacem inter aliquos, To set men at one, to reconcile men that be at variaunce.
 Agere pacem siue de pace, to intreate of peace.
 Dimittere cum pace aliquem, to leat one des-part peaceably.
 Excutere pacem orbi, to set all the worlde on tumulte and warre.
 Eripere pacem alicui, to constreigne one to make warre.
 Aeternam pacem exercere, To lyue alwayes in peace.
 In spem pacis venire, to conceyue an hope to haue peace.
 Pacem & veniam petere a deo, to desyre pardon and forgeuenesse of god.
 Pace tua, and pace tua dixerim, with your fa-uour, sauyng your displeasure, with your leaue.
 Pax, re nobis verbis volo, God speede, I would speake two or thre wordes with you.
 Pax sit rebus, make no stirryng or busynesse.
 Pax sequestra, a truce betwene two hostes.
 Pax, aduerbially, signifieth Tantummodo, as Vnus est dies, dum argentum eripio, pax ni-hil amplius, I require but one daie to geat the money from the olde man, than no more.
 Paces, is vsed of Plautus and Horace, in the plurall numbre.
 Pax Iulia, a towne of Portugall, called commu-nely Badoioz, or Pacensis.
 Paxillus, li, m. g. a lyttell stake, a pale or poste.

Peccatum, i, n. ge. a syn, an offence, a fault,
 a trespassse.
 Recte factum & peccatum, contrary.
 Si est nostrum peccatum, yf it be our faulte,
 yf we haue offended.

In eo est peccatum ipsius, he is faultie in that,
 or therein it is that he hath offended.
 Peccatum animaduertere, to punishe.
 Peccatus, us, m. g. idem quod peccati, in Cic.
 Pecco, aui, are, to offende or synne, to faile in any thyng, to doe amysse, to committe a faulte, a faute.
 Peccatur, the impersonall.
 Dupliciter peccare, to commit a double offence.
 In matrona peccare, to committe auoutrye with a mannes wyfe.
 In istam partem peccato potius, Offende rather in this pointie.
 Si quid in te peccauit, if I haue committed any faulte towardes you.
 Si vnam peccauisses syllabam, yf thou haddest sayed one syllable.
 Nihil peccare, to offende nothing.
 Magna peccare, to committe great faultes.
 Magno tuo periculo peccabitur, It wyl be to your great peryll, yf any thyng be doon amysse: Or yf there chaunce any faulte to be committed.
 Peccatur, passiue dictum.
 Quo in genere multa peccantur, many thynges ges ar don amysse, or many faultes ar committed.
 Pecorarius, a, um, pertainyng to cattall.
 Pecorarius, ri, m. g. an herdman, also he that dooeth hye cattall.
 Pecorinus, and Pecoreus, a, um, of rother beas-tes, or of cattall.
 Pecorolus, a, um, full of cattall, or where bee many cattall.
 Pecten, pectinis, ma. gen. the flap of a weauers lome. also a combe, either to hembe the heade, or to dyesse hempe, or a payre of cardes to carde wull with all. it is also the place about the pri-uie mēbres, where heare groweth. it is also the stickes, wherewith a man strichly douleymere, whan he dweth place on them. also a fyne called Scalop. also the long grayn of a tree, by the which the wood cleaueth. also a rake with yron teethe, a dragge or harrowe, or a facion of sy-thes of hookes vsed to scape coyne.
 Veneris pecten, an herbe, the leaues wherof be lyke the teethe of a combe.
 Pectinatim, in the facion of a combe.
 Pectino, aui, are, to hembe. also to harrowe coyne whyles it is in grasse, or to rake coyne together, as they doe in haruyst.
 Pectius, pectita, um, hembed, harrowed, raked.
 Lana pectita, carded wull.
 Pecto, xui, or ext, tere, to hembe or trym heare, to carde wull, to sette an harpe or other lyke instrument, to stryke the doultimers of harpe.
 Pectere equum, to curry or hembe an horse.
 Pectere lanam, to carde woulle.
 Pectere vestes, to reple the woulle of clothe, to stryke of cotton garmentes.
 Pecton, a bynd of shomakers blache.
 Pectorale, lis, n. ge. a bycast plate.

Pecto

Pectoralis, le, pertainyng to the breast.
 Fascia pectoralis, a breast kerchiefe.
 Pectorium, rii, n. g. a certaine carre, sometyme used in fraunce.
 Pectorolus, a, um, that hath a great and brode breast.
 Pectuncululus, li, m. g. a littell scalop.
 Pectus, pectoris, n. g. the breast. sometyme the hert of courage.
 Toto pectore, with all my herte.
 Amicum pectus, a frendely stomake.
 Nisi apertum pectus ostendas, Excepte you shewe of open your whole stomake and mynde without dissimulation.
 Generosa pectora, noble stomakes Constanti pectore, with a constant herte and courage.
 Ab imo pectore dedit gemitum, he set a sigh or grone euen from the bottom of his herte.
 Obruta pectora gestamus, we be harde herted.
 laetare curas pectore, to bee disquieted in mynde with care of dyuers thynges.
 Corpus sine pectore, a body without courage or herte.
 Periura pectora, false and periured persons.
 Pectulculum, li, n. g. a littell breast.
 Pecua, indeclinabile, Pecua in plurali, cattall, beastes.
 Pecuaria, drum, n. g. plur. great stoze of cattall, herdes of beastes. Also amonge the Romans, all thynges wherof reuenues came.
 Pecuaria, a, f. g. the mane or science, to reple, gouerne and nouryshe the cattall, Graiers craft.
 also a place of pasture where cattalle goth.
 Pecuarii, ri, m. g. a byeder of cattall, a grafiar.
 Pecuarii, a, um, belongyng to cattall.
 Canis pecuarius, a shepcherdes or an herdes
 dogge, that kepeth the herde or stocke.
 Rem pecuariam facere, to byede cattall.
 Peculator, oris, m. g. he that stealeth a comune treasure, or the treasure of a prync.
 Peculator, us, m. g. robber of the commune treasure or of a prync.
 Peculiaris, re, propre or spectall, apperteynyng to one, peculiar. sometyme belongyng to seruuantes, seruile.
 Peculare edictum, a peculgar commaundes-ment, a proclamation concernyng one certaine tyme of persone.
 Peculiaris quedam ratio, a certayne peculgar consideration.
 Peculiariter, proprely, spectally, particulartye.
 Peculio, aui, are, to punishe by the purse, to take awaie a mans gooddes.
 Peculium, li, n. g. a diminutiue of Peculium.
 Peculium, li, neu. ge. substance, that recheffe, whiche is onely in money and cattall, a mannes propre gooddes, also all that a man hath woonne by his labour and traualle, or gather-red togyther by sauyng and sparyng. After some, money or ware, that the seruante hath by his masters licence to traphike with.

 Castrense peculium, gooddes that a man hath gotten in warres.
 Peculor, aris, ari, to steale a commune treasure, or any thyng from a prync.
 Pecunia, a, f. g. monie. It is taken of the olde ciuitians for all thynges that we call cattalle, or all gooddes mouable and unmouable.
 Pecuniam conficere, to make money, to leuie moneye. Annumerare pecuniam alicui, to pay one moneye.
 Pecuniarius, a, um, belongyng to money.
 Res pecuniaria, moneye.
 Pecuniolus, a, um, riche, that hath much moneye.
 Pecuniosus & Tenuis, contrary.
 Artes pecuniosas, craftes that get mony apace.
 Pecus, pecudis, f. g. all maner of cattall. some-tyme the multitude of stocke of cattall. some-tyme it is taken onely for shepe or goates, by tra-slation a naughty persone, not woorthy to bee called a man. Ennius vsed Pecus in the mas-line geider. Olde wyters vsed Pecuda, n. g. plu.
 Pecus, pecoris, n. g. idem quod pecus, cudis, also a stocke of shepe or dyoue of beastes. some-tyme a sheepe, and as it appereth by Plinie, it is proprely vsed for shepe.
 Peda, a, f. g. a step or token of a mans foote,
 Pedasus, Antenoris bastarde soonne.
 Pedalis, le, of a foote.
 Spacium pedale, a foote space.
 Pedalium, the herbe called Polygonon.
 Pedamen, nis, & Pedamentum, i, n. g. a stake or forke, wherby a vyne, hoppes, or other lyke thyng is susteyned or bozne vp, a prop or stay.
 Pedana, a countreie by Rome.
 Pedaneus, a, um, of the quantitee of a foote in length or distaunce.
 Pedanei iudices, inferioure Judges, whiche went on foote.
 Pedarij, were senatours, whiche dyd not shewe theyr opinion in wordes, but onely meynge theym selues towardes those persones, whiche had reasoned, whose sentences they dyd ap-proue, lyke as they do in the parlymente house.
 Gellius reciteth an other cause of this name,
 libro. 3. cap. 18. also certaine gentylmen, whiche came into the Senate house, and were not admitted by the Senours, to bee of the numbre, were called Pedarij.
 Pedasus, the soonne of Bucolion. also a citee by Pylos. also one of Achilles horses.
 Pedatim, where one foote goeth with the other,
 foote by foote.
 Pedatio, onis, f. g. the setting by of vines.
 Pedatum, i, n. g. a comyng to one agayne.
 Terrio pedato bellum nobis fecere, Hoc est tertio reuerfi.
 Pedecolus, full of lyre.
 Pedepressim, a footpace, softlye.
 Pedes, an aduerbe, signifieth on foote. see more hereof in Pes.

Ecc iij

Pedes

Pedes, editis, m. g. a foote man in battayle.
 Pedester, stri, m. g. he that goeth on foote, a footman.
 Pedestris, stre, on foote, that goeth on foote.
 Pedestris oratio, a numerous speaking or writing in the fourme of a verse or meter, although it be not a verse.
 Pedestria auguria, soothsayng, taken of foure footed beastes.
 Pedetentum, softly and sayre, by littell and littell, and prouerbially, softe fyre maketh sweete malte.
 Pedica, x, f. g. any thyng, wherewith the foote is tyed, a snare or gyune, a fetter, a payre of gyues or storkes.
 Pediculus, li, m. g. a little worme that bydeth betwene the skynne and the fleshe.
 Pedicularis, re, belonging to lye.
 Pedicularis morbus, the lousy sykenesse.
 Pedicularia herba, called also Staphis agria.
 Pediculatus, a, um, any thyng that hath a stalk, as the most parte of fruite.
 Pediculatus, & pedicofus, a, um, lousy, full of lye.
 Pediculus, li, m. g. a littell foote, a fyt, the stalk of an appall or pearce, or other fruite, or of the leafe of any herbe. also a louse.
 Pedio, dire, to stampe with the foote.
 Pediolus, li, m. g. a littell foote.
 Pedisequa, x, f. g. a woman seruaunt that wayteth alwaies on hir maystresse.
 Pedisequus, qui, m. g. a seruaunt that foloweth alway the master or maystresse.
 Peditatus, us, m. g. an hoste of footemen.
 Pedito, aui, are, of olde wyters was used to go. also to vnderfet vines or trees.
 Pedito, pediti, pedere, to farte, to leat a farte.
 Pedum, i, n. g. a shepe crooke.
 Pedusculus, i, m. g. a littell foote.
 Peganon, ni, n. g. the herbe called rue, or herbe grace.
 Pegasa, a towne of Thessalia.
 Pegasea, the hyppie of the Argonautes was so called.
 Pegaseus, and Pegaseius, of Pegasus, swyfte.
 Pegasicus sinus, a bosom of the sea in Thessaly.
 Pegasides, the Muses.
 Pegasus, i, m. g. an hoise, whiche was feigned to haue wynges. It is also a signe or numbze of sterres in heauen. It is also an instrument in an house, wherof garments and other thynges be hanged.
 Pegma, or Pecma, pecmatis, a stage, wheron pageantes be set, or wheron plate and iewels do stande to be looked on.
 Pegmates, they that play on suche stages.
 Peieratio, onis, f. g. perurie, a forswearing.
 Petero, aui, are, to forswear, not to do that one hath sworne to dooe.
 Peior, peius, warfe.
 Peius, an aduerbe, woofe, much more, more be hermente.

 Pelagia, a womans name of Antioche.
 Pelagia, x, f. g. a fytthe called also Purgura.
 Pelagium, ij, n. g. a lycour or iuyce that cometh of the fytthe called Pelagia.
 Pelagicus, and Pelagius, a, um, that is of the sea, or that lyurth in the sea.
 Pelagus, i, m. g. & n. g. the sea.
 Pelamis, lamidis, f. g. fytthe called Tuny, be fore it be a yere olde.
 Pelargus, i, m. g. called also Ciconia, a byrde called a fozke.
 Pelasgi, people whiche came out of Grece, and inhabited Italye, they bee also Arcadians.
 Pelasgia, a countrey in Grece called sometyms Thessalia.
 Pelasgius, adis, one of Pelasgia.
 Pelagicus, a, um, of Arcadie.
 Pelasgis, a countrey in Grece called Arcadie.
 Pelagus, i, a kynde of laurell or bay.
 Pelecanus, a birde called a Mouclard.
 Pelecinum, ni, n. g. a weede growynge amonge coyne.
 Pelethronij, the Lapythes were so called.
 Pelethronium, a towne of Thessaly.
 Peleus, the sonne of kyng Caius, and father of Achilles.
 Pelias, adis, of Achilles.
 Pelias, x, a kyng of Thessalie, vncle to Jason.
 Pelicanus, i, m. g. a byrde called a peliane, or Mouclard.
 Pelicus, a prince, of whom the people called Peligni, tooke the name.
 Pelides, the surname of Achilles.
 Peligni, people in Italye, whiche came out of Illiria.
 Pelignus, a, um, of that people.
 Pelion, li, n. g. an hyll in Thessaly.
 Pelus, and Peliacus, a, um, of Pelion.
 Pella, a kynde of herbes, called the blue herbe.
 Pella, a cite in Macedonie.
 Pellacia, x, f. g. fayne speche to decrete.
 Pellax, acis, om. g. that deceiveth with fayne woordes.
 Pellestus, a, um, meued, tempted, allured.
 Pellego, idem quod perlego.
 Pellene, a verye ancient cite of Aia.
 Pellex, pellicis, f. g. gen. she that is a wedded mannes harlotte.
 Pellicator, oris, masc. ge. a deceiver with fayne woordes.
 Pellicatus, us, m. g. the pte company that a wedded man leadeith with an other woman.
 Pelliceo, pellices, cui, cere, to obteyne with flatterynge woordes, almost neuer used.
 Pellicicus, a, um, of a skynne or hyde.
 Pellicio, pellicis, pellexi, cere, to disceiue with faire woordes, to moue a man pleasauntly to dooe a thyng, to allure or prouoke with fayne woordes.
 Pellicula, x, f. g. the skynne.

Curare

Curare pelliculam, to chetishe hym selfe nyrcly.
 Veterem pelliculam retines, Thou keepest thyne olde facion, thou art the olde man styll.
 Continere se in sua pellicula, id est intra suam sortem se continere.
 Pelliculo, aui, are, to couer or stop with a skyn.
 Pellio, onis, masc. ge. a thynner, he that maketh thynges of skynnes.
 Pellis, lis, f. g. a skynne, a fell, a hyde.
 Sub pellibus, id est in castris stantibus.
 Detrahere pellem alicui, to disclose or discouer ones mynde.
 Quiescere in propria pelle, to bee content with his owne condition or state.
 Ovis pellis, a shepes felle.
 Pelitus, a, um, cladde in skynnes.
 Pello, pelli, pellere, pulsum, to put out or expelle, to thurst, to streke, to dyue away, to make to recule, to styre or moue, to vexe or geue.
 Scipionis animum non mediocri cura pepulit, It brought Scipio not in a little care, or it dyd put Scipio to great care.
 Facile pellas ubi velis, pe maie easly thurst hym out of the doozes whan you will.
 Vbi lapidibus e foro pellerentur, whan they were beaten or dyuen out of the comon place with stones.
 Pellere in exilium, to banyshe.
 Pellere for Agligere, or Exagitare.
 Nulla me ipsum priuatum insignis pepulit in iuria, No notable inuirt or affliction hath toucht or geured me particularly.
 Pelli paria, to bee chased or dyuen out of his countrey. Laphewse Pelli regno, agro, ciuitate, domo, sedibus.
 Pellere exercitum, to dyue backe an armye, and make them recule.
 Animum pellic species vilitatis, the appetytance of profite or aduantage moueth the mynde.
 Pellere famem, to put away hunger.
 Pellere frigus, to put away colde, or to defende from colde.
 Stim pellere, to squenche thyfte.
 Longi sermone initium pepulisti, thou haste moued, stirred or begunne a great matter to common of.
 Pellos, or Pellus, li, the byrde, called also Ardea, or Ardeola, looke Pella.
 Pelluceo, luxi, ere, to shyne bryght, to shyne thozough.
 Pellucet oratio, the oracion is plaine and manifest.
 Pellucidé, cleerly.
 Pellucidus, and Pullucidulus, a, um, very cleere, cleere thozough.
 Pelluo, pelliui, pellutum, ere, to washe cleane.
 Pellicanus, looke Pelecanus.
 Pellucium, ij, n. g. of Pellucia, x, f. g. a bason, wherin mens feete be washed.

 Pelopeis, idis, and Pelopeias, the daughter of nece of Pelops.
 Pelopide, they that descended of Pelops.
 Pelopidas, a noble man of Lacedemonia.
 Pelopius, and pelopeius, a, um, of Pelops.
 Peloponnesius, and Peloponnesiacus, a, um, of Morea.
 Peloponnesus, a countrey in Grece, called now Morea, on the north it hath the gulph of Corinth, Isthmos, and the sea of Crete: on the weste and southe the sea Adriatique: on the east the sea of Crete: so that it is almoste cleane enuironed with the sea: in it were the famous kyngdomes of Micene, of Argue, Lacedemō, Arcadias, Sicionians. &c. it is now vnder the Turke.
 Pelops, pis, the sonne of Tantalus, banquished on horsebacke in rennyng Democritus, father of Hippodamia, and wedded hir.
 Peloris, loridis, f. g. a kynde of shell fytthe.
 Pelorus, ii, or Peloris, idis, m. g. an hyll in Sicilia on the sea syde.
 Pelta, x, f. g. gen. a target or bucklar lyke an halfe moone.
 Peltasta, x, m. g. one armed with a tergate lyke an halfe moone.
 Peltatus, a, um, that weareth suche bucklars.
 Pelufer, ri, m. g. idem quod Peltasta.
 Pelus, uis, f. g. a bason to washe ones feete in.
 Pelusiotæ, the inhabytautes of Pelusium.
 Pelusium, A cite in Egypte, and one of the mounthes of Nilus.
 Peminosus, a, um, stinkynge.
 Penarius, ri, m. g. and after Marro Panaria, x, f. g. after other Penarium, ri, n. g. a cellar or storhouse, a spence.
 Penarius, a, um, belonging to householde, prouision for householde, bytailes.
 Penaria cella, idem quod penarium, a storhouse of spence.
 Penates, the gentiles called goddis of mannes lyfe. They bee sometyme taken for the moste secreete partes of the house. The nominatiue case singular is after some Penas, after other Penatis.
 Penatiger, a, um, that beareth the householde gooddes.
 Penceadamus, mi, m. g. the wede called balde moncy, or hogge fenell.
 Pendens, entis, om. g. that hangerh.
 Vinum pendens, wyne yet in the grape.
 Pendeo, pendes, pependi, dère, pensum, to hange or be hanged, to depende. sometyme to be in peine. also to weigh or be of any weight, to be in doubte or vncertaine what to doo.
 Pendere animi, to be in doubte or feare. sometyme to longe or desyre to knowe.
 Pendere promissis, to trust promyses.
 Ego animi pendeo, quid illud sit negotij, I long to knowe what the matter is.

Pene

Pendet dragmas decem, it waiteth. x. Dramas mes.
 Pendet ab eius ore, hearkeneth diligently what he saith.
 Pendent opera interrupta, the woorkes re-maine imperfecte, or cease for a while.
 Pendererci, is saide of them that bee sued, and dooe tary a longe tyme ere they bee dyspat-ched.
 Pendere per pedes, to hange by the feete.
 Pendere de rupe, to hange on the rocke.
 Salus nostra pendet tua, our helthe dependeth on yours.
 Pendet respublica e Bruto, the commune wele dependeth on Brutus, or is chiefly susteyned by Brutus.
 Pendere ex arbitrio alterius, to be subiecte to an other mannes will and pleasure.
 Cui spes omnis & ratio pendet a fortuna, whiche hath all his hope and trust in fortune.
 Pendere ex laude, to couete or despye alwaies to haue praise.
 Rationes quæ ex coniecturis pendent, reasons whiche be gathered by coniecture.
 Pendere spe & expectatione obscura, to be in an vncertaine hope and expectation.
 Animus tibi pendet, thou art in doubt.
 Pendo, pendis, pependi, pendere, to ponder or wape, to poise, to consider, to esteeme or value, to examyne, to paie, to sufficeine or suffer.
 pendere penas magistro, to be beaten of the mayster.
 Pendere supplicia, to recompence an offense
 by death.
 Nunquam ostendisti quanti penderes, you neuer declared howe muche stoze ye dyd set by hym.
 Non leui coniectura res penditur, the matter is not weighed examyned or considered with lycht coniecture.
 Pendere pecuniam, stipendium, tributum,
 vectigal, to paie.
 Vsuram pendere, to paie monie ouer for vssury.
 Grates dignas pendere, to render woorthy thankes.
 Penditur, the impersonall.
 Pendulus, a, um, that hangeth.
 Penè, almoste, well nere.
 Penissimè, the superlatiue of penè, or after some of penitus.
 Penelope, es, or Penelopea, x, the daughter of Itearus, and wyfe of Odysseus, most chaste, wise, and constant aboue all the women of hir tyme, who in the .xx. yeres that hir housbande was absente, being sought vpo by dyuers towres, whiche (would she or no) abode in hir house,
 she myght neyther by fayre meanes nor menasces be induced to marie, or to consent to commit any folie.
 Penelope telam retexere, signifieth to doo and vndo, to take much labour in vaine.

 Penelopes, byrdes called also Melagrides, Penelous, one of the fyue capitaines of Scrota that came to Troie.
 Penes, with or at, in the power.
 Penes te est, it is in the, it is in thy power or possession.
 Penes hunc, with him, or in hym.
 Me penes est vnum, it is onely in my power.
 Seruorum cura penes dominos sit, Let the maysters care and prouyde for the seruantes.
 Exornate eos penes quos est, it garnisheth them in whom it is.
 Penes auctiores sit fides, I repute me to the authours, whether it bee true or no. Or as for the truthe of the matter, I referre you to the authours.
 Penes te culpa est, the fault is in the.
 Quem penes est virtus, In whom vertue is, Penes eum summa imperij est, he hath the chiefe rule or gouernance.
 Istæ penes vos spatia est id est apud vos,
 Is the spynge wench at your house.
 Penetrabilis, le, that may pene or be pene.
 Penetrabile, lis, n. g. the inner parte of the house.
 In ipsis penetrabilibus, in the inner partes.
 Penetrabilis, le, belongynge to the inner parte of the house, or dooen in the inner parte of the house.
 Penetrare sacrificium, a sacrifice doen in the inner parte of the house.
 Penetrabilis Germania, id est interior.
 Penetrabilis, an aduerbe, moze inner, that peneteth moze.
 Penetro, aui, are, to pene or enter.
 Atlantem penetrasse, to haue passed or gone
 ouer the mountaine Atlas.
 In maria penetrare, to enter the seas.
 Penetrare in urbem, to enter into the citee.
 Penetrare sub terras, to go vnder the ground.
 Ne penetrarem me vsquam, that I myght not enter or go into any place.
 Penetrare se in fugam, to ren away, to flee.
 Nunquam intra portam penetraui pedem, I neuer stepte a foote within the gate: or I neuer came within the gate.
 Quando id primum ad Romanos penetra-uerit, When that came fyrst amonge the Ro-manes.
 Penetrare in animos, to enter into menues myndes.
 Pencus, a ryuer in Grece, that diuideth the coun-treys of Elis and Achaia.
 Penicillum, i, n. ge. of Peniculum testorium, a plaisterers brushe.
 Penicillum, or Peniculum, is also a tente that is put into a wounde to kepe it open.
 Penicillus, li, a kynde of sponges, wherof such tentes are made.
 Penicillus, and Peniculus, li, m. g. of Penicillum & peniculum, li, n. g. any thyng that serueth

ueth to brushe, scoure, wype, or make cleane, a shoe cloute, a dyshe cloute. also a painters pensyle.
 Penicilamentum, i, neu. g. the hemme of a garment, the thyptes.
 Peninsula, x, f. ge. a place almost enuironned with water.
 Penis, is, m. ge. a tayle. also the secrete membe
 of a man.
 Penitus, a, um, sayled, haung a tayle.
 Penitus, inwarde, whereof cometh Penitior, and Penitissimus.
 Penitus, an aduerbe. sometyme of place, depely, farre in, thourghly. sometyme of qualitee, vt terly, to the uttermost, greatly, wholly, all together. Penitus me noscis, id est intus, & in cure, thourghly, euen to the bottom of myne herte.
 Bene penitus in istius familiaritatem se dedit, he became veracely familiarly acquainted with hym, or he made hym self veracely familiarly acquainted with hym.
 Penitus insita animis opinio, an opinton des-pely scitell in mens myndes.
 Penitus insitum odium, moztall hatred depely rooted in ones stomake.
 Mandare penitus animo, to commit a thyng surely to his remembraunce.
 Non dum penitus in republica versabar, I was not yet thourghly or all together occupied in affayres of the common weale.
 Hanc consuetudinem penitus amisimus, we haue utterly lost that facion or custom for cuer.
 Penitus alias auxerat oras, farre of, to other coastes or countreys.
 Penna, x, f. ge. a penne or quille. sometyme it is vfed for a wyng, not onely of byrdes, but also of fyes, bittles, and suche other.
 Pennæ renascuntur, By translacon spoken whan one recouereth the authoritee and dignitee that was taken from hym befoze.
 Caulis pennæ, the stalke of a fether, where on the downe groweth.
 pennarium, rij, n. g. a pennar.
 pennatus, a, um, that hath fethers.
 Pennatum telum, an arrowe or dart fethered.
 penniger, a, um, that beareth feathers.
 pennipes, pennipedis, that hath rough fethered feete, or that hath wynges on his feete.
 pennipotes, a byrde.
 pennula, x, f. ge. a littell fether.
 pena, x, that which is payde for a thyng bought,
 the paiement.
 pena, in the plurall numbze, threedes of flaxe or wouille whan it is spunne, whiche may be called yarne.
 pensans, antis, pondering, weighng.
 pensator, oris, m. g. a weper, an examiner.
 pensatus, a, um, pondered, weped, consyded, examyned.
 pensulare, with good examination,

Peniculator, oris, m. gen. he that examyneth or pondereth a thyng diligently.
 Pensiculo, aui, are, to ponder a thyng, idem quod pensito.
 Pensilis, le, that hangeth or standeth on hygh.
 Pensile horreum, a granice in the upper part of ones house, where corne is kept.
 Pensilis homo, a man hanged.
 Pensilis hortus, a gardeyn made vpon pillers, or vpon houses, or in wyndowes.
 Pensilis vrbis, a citee that is holow vnderneath, or that standeth on vaultes.
 Pensilis lectus, a hangynge bedde.
 Pensiles lichni, lampes or other lightes, han-gng in a house.
 Pensio, onis, f. g. a pention, or perely rent, that whiche one payeth for the vse of any thyng, a paiement.
 Pensior & hoc pensius, of moze pryce or value.
 Altera vtra sit conditio pensior, virginem an viduam habere: whiche thynke you the better bargayne, to haue the mayde, or the wydowes.
 Pensito, aui, are, to weigh, ponder, or consider often and diligently. also to paie often.
 Prædia quæ pensitant, fermes that paie cer-tayne quitte rentes, or other customes out of them.
 Pensiculo, aui, are, idem quod pensito.
 Pensitatio, onis, f. ge. a diligent weighng, consy-dering, or examynng. also a paiement.
 Pensitator, oris, m. g. a ponderer or weigher.
 Verborum pensitatores subtilissimi, the most subtil ponderers or examiners of woordes.
 Pensitatus, a, um, diligently thought on, weped, examined, pondered.
 Pensinacula, læ, f. g. a littell pention, paiement, or rente.
 Pensio, aui, are, to weigh and ponder diligently and ofte, to examine, to trye the weyght. also to esteeme a thyng, sometyme to bye. also to recompence.
 Pensare vicem alterius, To be or serue in the stede of an other.
 Veteribus benefactis noua pensantes malicia, recompensynge newe displeasures with old be-nefices or pleasures.
 Pensare singula, to ponder and consyder euery thyng by it selfe diligently.
 Pensare aliquid ex alio, to chaunge one for an other.
 Pensare argento, to cheape or bye for money.
 Quæ crimina vna laude pensat, whiche fautes he recompenseth with one thyng woorth the laude.
 Pensus, a, um, wepyghed, examined. sometyme it signifieth good and wyle.
 Pensum, si, n. g. of Pendo, the flaxe whiche is bounden on the distaffe, out of the whiche the threde is drawen. sometyme it signifieth the threde that is spunne, yarne. it is also the execution or ministracion of an office that is committed

mitted to one to doe, or that one taketh vpon hym to doe, a taske of woork.
 Carpere penum, to spyne of the distaffe.
 Trahere pensa, idem.
 Pensum absoluer, conficere, peragere, To woork out his taske that he is appoynted.
 Accurare penum, to apply his office, or that he is enioyned to.
 Pensum, si, n. g. of Pendo, that one hath weied, pondered, or considered in his mynde.
 Pensi habere, to consyder, to passe on, to care for. Pensi esse alicui, idem.
 Vobis quid facitis, minus pensi est, ye passe not, care not, or consyder not what ye doo.
 Neque dicere, neque facere quicquam pensi habet, He neyther passeth what he saith, nor what he dooth.
 Pentadactylus, a capitayne of fifty men.
 Pentadactylus, a broche or spire in five partes with one handil. it is also an herbe like a tree of some called Ricinus, of some Helioscopium.
 Pentadactylus, si, n. g. a hynde of tyle or byrke, five handfull broad.
 Pentapetes, cinquefoyle.
 Pentapharmacum conuinium, a dynner or supper, wherein are five sundry dytches of meate.
 reade Spartianum in vita Hadriani.
 Pentaphyllon, or Quinquifolium, an herbe called cinquefoyle, whiche hath five leaues. The phisicians of late tyme supposen it to be Cormentum, wherewith I am not satisfied.
 Pentapolis, a countrey betwene Palestina and Arabia, wherein were the citices of Sodome and Gomor, bourned by the vengeance of god for synne agaynst nature.
 Pentarchus, he that is capitayne of five men.
 Pentateuchus, chi, masc. gene. a volume of five booke. It is vsed for the five booke of Moyse.
 Pentathlum, si, n. gen. the exercise of five featres or games.
 Pentathlus, si, m. gen. he that exerciseth these. v. games, casting of the ball or trundle, rennyng, leappng, wastlyng and throwyng the darte.
 Pentecoste, tes, f. ge. the fiftieth. it is vsed for whysontyde.
 Pentelicerma, were littell ymages of Hercules made of marble, called Pendelicus, which was one of the most fayre stones that ymages might be made of.
 Pentheus, dissyl. the sonne of Erichon.
 Penthesilea, a queene of Amazons, whiche was slayne at the siege of Troye.
 Penthemimeris, a parte of a verse, where a sentence is synghed in the laste syllable of the thirde foete.
 Penthylus, the sonne of Demonous, which came to the ayde of Nereus, with xii. mysses, & was taken prisoner by the Grekes.
 Pentris mis, f. g. a galee that hath fyue oyes in euery seate.
 Pentorobon, an herbe called also Peonia, piony.

Pénula, le, f. g. a cloke woone whan it raineth.
 Pénulam scindere, vied prouerbially, to holde one so fast, to the end to make hym tary, that he teareth his cloke.
 Penula scorta, a cloke of leather, such as the Flemynghes doe vse, called commonly brodes.
 Penula gaulapina, a thycke felle cloke, to weare in the wynter.
 Penulárium, ri, n. g. a cloke bagge.
 Penulárus, a, um, cloked.
 Penúria, x, form. g. extreme necessitee, penury, lacke of thynges necessary.
 Penus, ni, or Penus, us, m. of se. g. and Penus, penoris, or penum, ni, n. ge. all kinde of his tapyles, meate and drynke, store and prouision of vitayles for householde.
 Penusimé, utterly.
 Peplion, an herbe called also Portulaca, wylde purselane.
 Peplos, an herbe, haupng small leaues, lyke rue, somewhat broder, the toppe rounde, spred on the grounde the length of ones hande, the seide beyng vnder the leaues lytel and rounde, lesse than wlyte poppy, some apothecaries name it Esula rotunda, in Englyshe as Iudge wertes werte.
 Peplus, pli, m. ge. or Peplum, pli, ne. ge. a herbe chiefe, or other lyke coueryng of the head.
 Pepo, ónis, m. gen. a kynde of Melons, called Dompones.
 Peplis, sis, f. g. concoction.
 Péptica, ex, f. g. a medicine, whiche maketh good concoction in a man, that the meate eaten maye digest well. also a saluie and ointment, whiche maketh impostumes ryse.
 Per, significantly by: sometyme in, with. also betwene, vnder the pretence of colour. Per, comes pouned with a nowne or aduerbe, significth Valde, as, Perpulchrum, verie fayre. Peropus est, it is nedefull in any wyse. Perdocte, verie learnedly. Compounded with a verbe, it betokeneth perfection, as, Perscribere, to write to the ende. Perpeti, to suffre to the vttermost.
 Per atatem, for or by reason of his age.
 Per atatem non pouit, he coulde not be was so yonge: or he coulde not be was so olde.
 Dum per atatem licet, whyle his age sees neth hym.
 Per fidem, per fortunas, per dextram te oro, I pray the for the loue of god.
 Caesar mihi ignoscit per literas, Cesare wytteth to me, that he hath pardoned me.
 Per maturitatem delusens, It is clouen by to muche ryppensse, or by reason that it was to rypp: or so rypp that it cleaueth.
 Per me licet, I am contente.
 Per multas atates, of a long tyme.
 Per metum, for feare.
 Per nebulam scire, to knowe the one halfe, or not certaynly.
 Per noctem lucet, it shyneth in the nyght, or by nyght nyght tyme.

 Per omnes dies, euery day, or day by day.
 Per otium, at leysure.
 Per potestatem, vnder colour of auctoritee.
 Obsecro, vt per pacem liceat te alloqui, I praye you leat me talke with you without displeasure, or I pray you here me patiently.
 Per fas & nefas, by right or by wronge, by one way or an other.
 Per se sibi quisque charus est, euery man of nature loueth hym selfe.
 Per silentium adesse xquo animo, to here with out speaking one woorde, to here quietly.
 Per silentium eo deducti, brought thither with out noyse.
 Per stadia duo, the space of two furlonge.
 Per speciem venandi vrbein egressi, they wet out of the towne, by making semblaunce to goe on huntynge, or as though they went on hunstynge.
 Per summum dedecus, with great shame or dishonour.
 Per te stetit, it lay in the.
 Volo, ne per me stetit credat, I would haue him thinke, that there was no fault or let in me.
 Per tempus, all at tyme, in tyme, in very good season.
 Per cornu faucibus infundito, poure it into his mowthe with an hozne.
 Per alium ostendere suam sententiam, to shew his mynde vnder the colour of name of an other man.
 Per tempora, in those dates, or durynge that tyme. Likewise Per hos annos, per hos dies.
 Per viginti annos, the space of .xx. yeres.
 Per causam, vnder the colour of pretence.
 Sed propera per deos, but make speede for goddes sake.
 Per ego te deos oro, I praye thee for goddes sake.
 Per fas & fidem decipere, to deceiue vnder the colour of religion and faithfull promise.
 Per gratiam abire, to departe with good wyll, or without displeasure.
 Per insidias, by treason.
 Per inuidiam depelli tribunatu, to be put by the Tribuneship for enuy.
 Per iram aliquid facere, to doo a thyng in ones anger, or whyle he is angry.
 Consulere aliquem per iudibrium, To aske counsaile of one in mockage.
 Per ludum & iocum, in iest, merrily, in game, in sporte and plaie.
 Per ludum & negligentiam peruenire ad aliquid, to attaine a thyng and neuer sue of labour for it.
 Per luxuriam effundere, to spende riotously, or to consume in riot and banketyng.
 Per me nulla est mora, I am ready, there is no let or hinderance in me.
 Per me percontatus sum, id est ex me ipso, of my selfe without motion of other.

 Nisi per necessitatem rem aperire noluérat, Wherlesse it were of necessitye, or of necessitye did not constrainge.
 Per nos, by our meanes.
 Per nos egebit, qui. &c. he shall lacke for vs, whiche. &c.
 Quasi per officium, as it were dooen for due reuerence and honour.
 Singuli per ordinem, euery one in oder.
 Per hanc ratiocinem ei datur, id est, hoc modo, in this wyse, after this facion.
 Cum ipsum Furnium, per se vidi libentissimé, tum, &c. for his owne sake, or for the loue that I beare to hym selfe.
 Per se aliquid posse, by it selfe without helpe of other.
 Per simulationem vel speciem amicitie aliquem prodere, to betray one vnder the colour of frendshipp.
 Per omne tempus, quo fuimus vna, All the whyle that we were together.
 Per ver, in the springe tyme.
 Per viam, id est, in itinere, goyng by the way.
 Per vices, id est vicissim, by course, one after an other.
 Per vices annorum, euery one his yere.
 Per visum, in a vision or dreame.
 Via secta per ambas, id est, inter, betwene bothe.
 Per enim magni aestimo, for Permagni. Per mihi mirum for Permirus.
 Pera, x, f. g. a scrippe or bagge, a satchell.
 Perabsurdus, a, um, verie absurde, verap foote lyke, contrary to reason, contrary to it selfe.
 Peracer, cris, cre, verie sharpe, eigre, or vche mente.
 Peracre iudicium, a verie quicke or good iudgement, a great iudgement.
 Peracerbus, a, um, verie eigre or sower, lyke fruite that is not rypp.
 Peracesco, cui, scere, to be verap eigre or sower by translation to be very displeasent.
 Peracidus, a, um, verap eigre or sower.
 Peracticum, ci, n. g. a kynde of gumme.
 Peractio, ónis, f. g. accomplishment or perfozmance.
 Peractus, a, um, accomplished, perfozmed, dooen to the ende.
 Peracuo, acui, acure, to make verap sharpe.
 Peracut, verap sharpe, verap wittily, ingeniously.
 Peracutus, a, um, very sharpe, also wittily, fynely, or quicke witted.
 Peracia, the vttermost parte of Judea, towards Arabia and Egypte.
 Peradifico, aui, are, to buylde vp, to make an ende of an house or building.
 Peraquatōres, they that leaue or gather head moneye.
 Peraque, verap equally, all alke, euen lyke, eirist

the one as muche as the other.

Per æque florere, to flourish equally.

Per æquo, aui, are, to make equall of lyke.

Per æquus, a, um, veray equall of iuste

Perago, peragis, egi, agere, to perforce, to make perforce, to consider, to drawe of cause to be drawn with force, to synpse. Sometime to thrust throughe. also to passe throughe, to vse, to dyue violently.

Peragere reum, to accuse one, and to sue hym to a condemnation.

Peragere omnia secum animo, to consider, to digest euery thyng in his mynde.

Peragere cibum, to digeste of concocte meate.

Peragere mortem, to dye.

Peragere res gestas, to write al that is doone.

Vbi sententiam meam vobis peregero, after that I haue shewed you throughe myne opinion.

Inceptum peragere, to synpse of byng to an ende that one hath enterprised.

Latus ense peregit, he thruste hym throughe the syde with a twoorde.

Mandata peragere, to doo of saie that he was commaunded.

Naum peregit in portum, he broughte the shyppe into the haven.

Noctes peragere insomnes, to lye whole nightes, and sleepe nothyng.

Partes suas peragere, to doo his office, dustie of charge.

Peragere laboris pensum, to woozhe out, of make up his taske that he is appointed to.

Peregit deinde postulat, afterwarde he demaunded of required those thynges, that he was sent for.

Tot volumina peregit, he red ouer of perbled so many volumes.

Peragito, aui, are, to shake, moue, of sterre vehemently ostentymes.

Péragro, péragras, gráui, are, to walke, go, of renne about a place.

Orator ita pérágrat per animos hominū, an oratour in his oracion doeth so touch the parties and affections of mens myndes.

Peragraré latebras suspicionum, to seeke all coniectures, wherof suspicion may happen.

Peragraré Ásiam, to wander ouer all Asia.

Fama peragrauit, the rumour of brute went abroade.

Peragraré animo, to compasse in the minde, to consider, to ymagine.

Peragrátus, a, um, gone aboute.

Peragrátio, ónis, f. g. a goyng aboute.

Peramans, antis, om. g. one that loueth heartely.

Peramanter, verp loungly, lyke an earnest and hertly spende.

Perámbulo, aui, are, to go throughe. Sometime to ryde throughe of about a countrey of fiede, to walke throughe of ouer and ouer.

Perámo, aui, are, to loue well, to loue throughe ly, of euen to the ende, to loue perfectly.

Peramplus, a, um, veray ample large of great, verp honourable and magnificent.

Peranguste, verate strictly and narrowly.

Perangustus, a, um, verp strictly of narrow.

Peranno, aui, are, to lye a yere to an ende.

Perantiquus, a, um, verp auncient.

Perappositus, a, um, verp apic, meste of litle for the purpose.

Perardeo, dere, to bourn out of throughe.

Perardius, a, um, verp difficult and harde.

Perargutus, a, um, verate subtle and ingenious, verate witty.

Perareo, rui, ere, to dye by, to be verp dye.

Peraresco, peráru, scere, to wake verate dye, of dye throughe and throughe.

Peraridus, a, um, verate dye of throughe dye.

Peraro, peraras, aui, are, to tpe all throughe, to care ouer and ouer, somtyme to write.

Peraratus, a, um, tyled ouer and ouer, of wyl ten throughe.

Perasper, a, um, verate rough.

Perastute, verate subtilly and craftily.

Perastutus, a, um, verate subtle and craftie.

Perattente, verate attentively.

Perattentus, a, um, verate attentue and diligend to heare.

Perbacchor, áris, ari, to be ostentymes diuine, to vse banherpynge and dyphynge verp muche, to passe the lyfe in dyphynge and maynge god there.

Perbeatus, a, um, verate happy and blessed, euen in heauen.

Perbelle, verate well, right well.

Perbellus, a, um, verate good, right good, right honeste.

Perbene, verate well.

Perbenigne, verate liberally, verate courteily and gentill, veray graciously.

Perbibo, peribis, peribi, bibere, to quaffe of dyneke all out. Somtyme for Bibere, to dyneke.

Perbitere, for praire, to go besyde.

Perblandus, a, um, veray pleasant and courtiers in woozdes.

Perbonus, a, um, veray good, ryght good.

Perbreuis, ue, verate shorte of byse.

Perbreuiter, veray shorly, verp bysely, in veray fewe woozdes.

Perca, a, f. g. a fische called a perche.

Percalefacio, lefacis, feci, facere, to make those rougher warme of hotte.

Percalleo, callui, lere, to be waken harde, to be so accustomed to a thyng, that he feelth no inope the payne of it.

Percallere vsum alicuius rei, to knowe perfectly the vse of any thyng.

Per candidus, a, um, veray white. also veray pleasant and gentill.

Per cantatrix, tris, f. g. a syngyng wyche. also an inhaunteresse.

Perceptus, a, um, verate subtilly of witty, verp ware and circumspecte.

percedere, to departe.

percelebro, aui, are, to publyshe in all places.

perceler, a, um, verate swyft, quicke, and speedy.

percello, perculi, and percussi, lere, to stryke and ouerthrowe, to moue, to stirre, to perce.

Perculit eum illud, that abated his courage, of strake hym to the herte.

Percellere pectus pauore, To trouble one greatly with feare, and make him soze abashed, to perce and strike one to the herte with feare.

Perculus animus & abiectus, his spirite was troubled, and his courage abated.

Percellere & euertere.

Perculit mihi animum, it wente euen to the verate herte of me.

Sic dolor aliquis perculerit, yf any grete of sorrowe do perce, payne, here, of come vpon the.

Perculit me, it delpyed me, it moued my spirites.

Quum vnam & alteram pestis perculerit, When the pestilence hath infected of attached one of two of them.

Perculeris iam tu me? wylt thou ouerthrowe me now?

Percellere, for Differre, as, Ad nouum hoc percellit annum, he deferreth this vnto an other yere.

recenseo, censui, ere, to recompt of reckon, to perse ouer, to numbre by.

Totum percensuit orbem, id est peragrauit.

percio, percies, ciui, ciere, to moue of stirre greatly.

percingo, cingis, gere, to gyde about.

percino, nere, to syng syl, to continue syngyng, to syng to the ende.

percipio, percipis, cipi, ere, to perceyue, to take of receyue, to comprehend, to learne, to vnderstande, to knowe.

